GHOSTIES AND GHOULIES...

...and long leggedy beasties won't bother Christopher Butler too much. Chris, the 4-year-old son of Randall and Sylvia Butler of Rockport, looks like he can hardly wait for Halloween to get here as he tries out the "tunnel" that will form part of one of the spook houses at the Rockport Elementary School Halloween Carnival next Friday night.

Sponsored by the Rockport Elementary PTA, the Carnival -- complete with hayride and magic show -- is aimed at providing safe Halloween fun for youngsters of all ages. Chris looks like he's ready for plenty of that...

United Fund $3000 Closer To Goal

Rockport's United Fund has moved another $3000 closer to its goal -- and the organization is still a week and a half away from its second meeting!

As of early Thursday, the United Fund reported some $8000 in its campaign treasury, more than one-third of the 1980 campaign goal of $20,103.

The campaign officially got underway on October 1 under direction of UF President Betty French, Campaign Chairman Betty Jean Ward and Co-chairman Vi Street.

The organization's next luncheon is noon Thursday, November 6, at Corky's Restaurant.

Meanwhile, some 2,500 letters soliciting contributions from individuals in Aransas County are expected to go into the mail in the near future. The letter mailouts are under charge of UF Secretary Lois Gurley.

More money than ever before has been earmarked for local agencies -- but United Fund officials point out that 100 percent of the money raised by United Fund is used to benefit Aransas County residents.

By "local agencies," United Fund officials mean those agencies that are chartered in Aransas County, such as Aransas County Medical Services Inc. and (See FUND, Page 12)

All Notaries Have Statewide Jurisdiction--Provided...

Under a new law approved by Texas voters last May, all notary publics in the state have statewide jurisdiction.

That's the simple part. From there, things get complicated.

A notary public licensed prior to January 1, 1980, must continue to use the seal of the county in which he or she was licensed, says Cindy McDonald, a spokesman with the Notary Public Division, Secretary of State's office in Austin.

A notary public who was licensed or whose license was renewed after January

1, 1980, can use either a county seal or a state seal -- but Mrs. Williams recommends purchase of the state seal "because everybody's going to that."

She emphasized that a notary public licensed before January 1 of this year must not use the state seal. However, when the notary's license is renewed, that person has the optional use of the county or the (See SEAL, Page 12)

Daylight Savings Time Ends

You can now recapture that hour of sleep you lost last April.

Sunday, October 26, is the magic day when you turn your clock back (Remember: "Spring forward, fall back") an hour.

Officially, the time change will occur at 2 a.m. Sunday, but no one's going to get upset if you fudge a bit and make the change a little earlier -- say, around 10 or 11 p.m. Saturday...

CONCENTRATION

That's what this photo could be titled. It's the winner of this week's Pet Pix contest, and it wins the $15 first prize for William P. Anderson of Corpus Christi. The judge had good words to say on the "catch-light" in the cat's eyes and the sense of mischief conveyed by the pose. The only critical comment was that there might have been a bit less foreground; everything else is a winner...The cat's name, by the way, is Rusty and he or she -- is six years old.

Public Invited To Clinic Open House Thursday

Aransas County residents are invited to an open house Open House at Enterprise Medical Clinic Thursday evening, October 30.

Dr. Curtis Kovacs said the purpose of the Open House -- set for 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. -- is threefold. "First," he said, "it gives us a chance to say 'thank you' to the community. Then it gives us a chance to meet people we wouldn't meet ordinarily."

It also gives people in the community an opportunity to view the clinic now that it's been open just a little more than a year, Kovacs said.

The clinic opened its doors for action in August, 1979, with one doctor -- Fred Warren -- on the staff. Since then, Dr. Kovacs has joined the staff and additional equipment and facilities have been made available to the public.

FOR THE FIREMEN

Chiefs of three of Aransas County's volunteer fire departments hold the checks they've just received from members of the Castaways organization recently. Checks were made out to all five volunteer units but the Rockport and Copano Cove fire chiefs weren't able to attend the presentation. From left are Leslie Cole, Fulton fire chief;

Castaway volunteer Doris Easter; Holiday Beach fire chief Charles Campbell; Castaway volunteer Kay Patterson; and Lon C. Conner, chief of the Lamar volunteer fire department. The Aransas County fire departments are just one of many area organizations that receive donations from the Castaways. (Pilot Photo by Pat Blair)

County Commissioner, Pct. 1

Bill Wilson, Republican

With the continued growth of population in Aransas County, increased and additional demands will be made to provide better and more effective services for all the people in the county.

This will result in larger budgets in the future, and any increase in expenditures will require more exacting management controls in order to assure maximum utilization of available funds with a minimum of additional cost to the taxpayer.

With rising costs due to inflation, I believe that every effort must be made to maintain maximum communications between all local governing bodies and, where possible, promote common services in order to present any duplications resulting in unnecessary expenditures of the taxpayers money.

The responsibility of the County Government should be to promote and support, within the law, an overall program in which current problems such as adequate drainage, sewage, potable water and aggressive road maintenance will be eliminated by putting together a comprehensive plan by which all precincts within the county will benefit on an equal basis.

The problems of adequate drainage, sewage and potable water are present in all precincts of Aransas County, and will grow fruther with continued population increases.

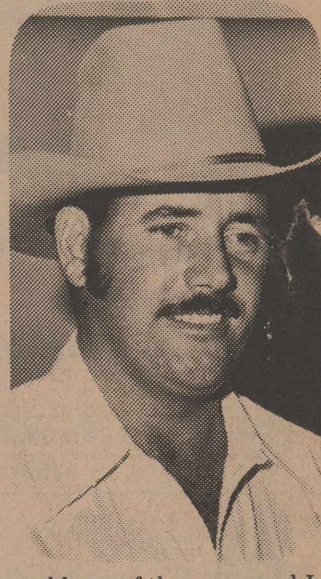

The County Commissioners must coordinate efforts to explore all avenues of the Federal Funding Programs which would reduce or eliminate these present county deficiencies at a minimum cost to the county, city and school district taxpayer.

In 1981, the expenditure projected for Road and Bridge Maintenance is the single largest item, representing almost 26 percent of the county budget.

In recent years a number of counties throughout the state of Texas have initiated a Unit Road System program and in all cases have reported benefits of more efficiency with no increase—and in some instances a decrease in operating cost.

With these advantages evident, there is no reason why Aransas County should not consider a similar program which would result in a more effective road building and maintenance program.

County Law Enforcement should be given every opportunity to develop, expand and maintain an even more efficient department—with salaries more realistically in line with responsibilities — through which it will provide greater protection to all the citizens of Aransas County.

John M. Lee, Democrat

To the Citizens of Precincts 1 and 1A: Your county government is important.

Vote for a county government based on logic and common sense.

I am 31 years of age. I was raised in the precinct and I've been in construction since I was 18.

I realize the unsolved problems of the area, and I want to fight to solve these problems. If I, John M. Lee, am elected county commissioner, Pct. 1-1A, and then receive a phone call from anyone in this precinct, I will come personally and discuss your problem with you.

Your support is most appreciated.

County Records Two Rural Traffic Deaths

Aransas County's rural traffic accident summary, issued by the Corpus Christi District office, reports two rural deaths in one automobile accident during the month of September.

Neighboring Refugio County had no fatal accidents and San Patricio County was reported to have three deaths in two accidents.

This county's report shoed one personal injury and nine property damage with a total of 12 for the month.

By comparison San Patricio County reported nine personal injury accidents and 35 personal damages. Refugio reported only seven personal damages and no personal injuries.

A comparison summary of accidents in the Corpus Christi District investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol for the year 1980 shows the number of fatal accidents increased by seven over the same period in 1979. There were 138 fatal accidents in 1980 as compared to 131 in the first nine months of 1979.

One hundred and eighty-four persons were killed in the district during the first nine months of 1980 and during the same period of 1979 there were 175 deaths.

County Agent News

By Mike Rothrock

How can you seed directly into the garden and get the plants to come up to a proper stand during the heat?

One obvious method would be to provide a better environment in which the seed can germinate and thereby grown into a healthy and vigorous seedling.

Believe it or not, this can be done in most areas of Texas by simply modifying the seeding area right in the garden.

A simple way to do this is to mark off the desired rows in the garden. In most areas of Texas, it is important that the soil be bedded prior to planting. This is especially true in fall gardens and in areas where excess rain occurs during the fall gardening season.

After the garden has been bedded and the rows marked off, take a hoe handle or stick and make a seed furrow. The seed furrow will vary in depth but is usually three-fourths to one inch deep.

Next comes a very important step. After the seed furrow has been made, take a watering can or water hose and apply water directly into the seed furrow.

Apply sufficient water to wet the loosened soil to a depth of two or three inches.

In some cases you might have to apply water several times rather than once.

Always plant more seed than needed. After the water has soaked in, scatter the seed evenly along the furrow. Soaking the seed in water overnight will help get the germination process started.

Instead of covering the seed with garden soil after it is sown, use a material such as compost, potting soil, peat moss or vermiculite.

By using a media like compost as a covering material, you will provide a better environment in which the seed can germinate and grow.

Problems associated with soil crusting and resulting poor aeration will be eliminated.

If you use a light-colored material, the germination area will be cooler. With a material like compost, depth of seeding is still important, but not critical. Small seed planted a little too deep will still come up.

In a few days, depending on the crop planted, the seed should germinate and begin to emerge. It is especially important at this time that you do not allow the soil to dry out.

Additional water should be applied as needed.

Once the plants have emerged, you might consider applying a protective shade or cover on the west side of the row to protect the plants from the intensive sun. This protection can be in the form of a board, cardboard or shade-type cloth.

Once the plants are an inch or two tall, they should be thinned to the proper stand.

From this time on, most crops will continue to grow and thrive and produce a highly productive crop of fall and winter vegetables.

The Editor:

You know and I know that there is something drastically wrong in these United States of America. Perhaps Congress and each of us have contributed to our nation's problems, but the man we elected as President four years ago must shoulder the great burden for the disaster we now face. His vacillation, lack of good judgement and inept staff have destroyed the morale of the American people, alienated the confidence of our friends and bolstered the hopes of our enemies. America has been belittled and ridiculed before the nations of the world. I have compiled from official government statistics the following table documenting the economic debacle during the first 3 1/2 years of Jimmy Carter's term.

Dear Editor,

I can no longer stand by and watch the media, especially the Caller-Times, defend the voting record of Senator Bill Patman. For 20 years Mr. Patman has voted on both sides of many issues. It is extremely hard to examine his voting record and determine what he stands for. To quote one of his former fellow legislators: "Bill Patman is an enigma". It is not Dr. Concklin's fault that the Senator's voting record is confusing. Dr. Concklin's ads merely point out specific votes of the Senator's on specific issues. It is humorous to note that Mr. Patman thinks Dr. Concklin's ads are dirty politics. Have we forgotten the ads the good Senator ran against Bob Barnes portraying Judge Barnes to be the hand picked puppet of the boys in the Corpus Christi Bank & Trust Tower.

The sad fact is, that in the run-off election the people outside of Nueces County voted against a Corpus Christi candidate rather than for Bill Patman. Judge Barnes was an innocent victim of a bitterness felt by the people in the northern part of the 14th district against any candidate from Corpus Christi. This bitterness was left over from the Joe Wyatt-John Young race. A lot of the blame for this divisiveness can be laid squarely at the feet of Edward Harte and John Young.

I urge all people in the northern part of the 14th district to put this bitterness aside and vote for C.L. Concklin. His conservative political philosophy closely parallels that of Congressman Joe Wyatt. Bill Patman does not like to be called a liberal, but any knowledgeable Austin-watcher can tell you that all 12 of the "Killer Bees" of which Mr. Patman was a part, were all known as liberals.

Once again I urge all Joe Wyatt supporters, all Bob Barnes supporters, all conservatives in the 14th district, to unite and cast a vote based on political principals rather than geography. Vote Concklin for Congress.

Respectfully submitted,
s/Richard E. Beck

Dear Editor:

Texans should beware of any promises Jimmy Carter makes in the last weeks before the election. I hope we learned our lesson from 1976 when he made a rash of promises prior to election day. One such promise was his pledge to Governor Briscoe that he would support the immediate deregulation of oil and gas prices. No sooner was the election over, when Jimmy Carter went back on his word and started fighting immediate deregulation.

It looks like Jimmy Carter's trying to pull another fast one on Texans, and we must not let him get away with another lie. I read with interest Mr. Carter's latest claim that he now intends to support an exemption from his Windfall Profits Tax for small royalty owners.

The fact of the matter is that Jimmy Carter has consistently opposed these exemptions for small royalty owners. I vividly remember the fight he put up in Congress last summer against these exemption, and then just a month later in August, he successfully fought to keep this exemption out of the Democratic Party platform.

On the other hand, the Republican Platform calls for the repeal of Jimmy Carter's Windfall Profits Tax as it applies to small royalty owners. Texans support this exemption, but were not going to depend on Jimmy Carter's hollow promises again to see that the exemption takes effect. That's why Ronald Reagan has won the support of the small royalty owners and that's why he's going to carry Texas.

Sincerely,
Gene Rogan

Dear Editor:

I have been a lifetime friend of Congressman Wright Patman, the father of Senator Bill Patman whom I have watched grow and become a man — who in my opinion, has always been honest and trustworthy and has saved this state millions of dollars that would have come out of your pocket had he not been there to put his vote in the right directions.

Aside from that — I could not vote for anyone who would broadcast on television half-truths and untrue accusations.

Mr. Patman's money was made honestly and he is not asking anyone for hand-outs.

Think about it.

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a letter to the editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, from Ken Flournoy, San Patricio County campaign chairman for Gene Matthews:

I read with interest, your editorial endorsement of the entire slate of Democrat candidates for the Texas House of Representatives (Caller-Times, Oct. 19). Due to your past history there were no surprises for either Party.

The reason given for the Caller-Times endorsement of Leroy Wieting over Gene Matthews was that Wieting is on the Redistricting Committee. To use this for the basis of your support leads me to believe that you are either politically naive or are deliberately misleading the electorate.

Since the FACTS seem to have escaped you earlier, let me list them for you.

FACT: Committee assignments for presently elected members of the House of Representatives will END when the next session begins in January, 1981. Committee placements will be made by the Speaker of the House at that time. There are absolutely no 'carry over' assignments from term to term. The Caller acknowledged this in an article by Susan Rauh in which she made reference to the Redistricting Committee, and I quote in part, "Makeup of the committee, which will be re-formed after the Legislature convenes..." (Caller, Oct. 19, pp 10D).

FACT: Although, while presently serving on the Redistricting Committee, Mr. Wieting has no assurance of assignment to that committee in the next session, unless he uses the one, and only ONE, priority selection he is awarded by seniority. In the past he has used the 'chip' for his place on Appropriations.

FACT: Redistricting Committee Chairman, Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, has stated that since the Census Bureau count has been widely disputed, it is extremely doubtful that the Legislature will have the compilation of date in time to address redistricting before the 1981 session ends. An article to that effect was published in the Caller a few weeks ago.

The redistricting question will then go to the Redistricting Board as it did in 1971. This Board is comprised of the Lt. Governor, Speaker of the House, Comptroller, Attorney General and Land Commissioner. Mr. Wieting is not a part of this distinguished group.

Since these are indeed FACTS it then appears that you were ill-informed when you used Mr. Wieting's position on the Redistricting Committee as your reason for endorsement.

One would think that after his 18 years as Representative from District 14, there would be something of magnitude in the area of accomplishment that would warrant support of his candidacy by the Caller-Times.

Sincerely,
s/Ken Flournoy,
Chairman

State Of The Region

Local governments in the Coastal Bend will be able to carry on Criminal Justice projects which are already underway for at least one more year.

Congress has not passed legislation which would provide new funds to the states to pay for Law Enforcement programs.

Gov. Bill Clements has put high priority on this program. The Criminal Justice Council in his office has notified Councils of Government that unbudgeted federal funds received in previous years will be allocated to finance existing projects until Oct. 1 of 1981. Earmarked for the Coastal Bend is $367,433.

At the same time, an anti-crime package has been prepared on instructions of Gov. Clements to present to the next session of the legislature.

One of the bills in this package would double the fee charged in court costs in criminal cases. This money would be used to pay for the same Criminal Justice program in Texas which has been financed by the federal government in previous years.

The bill would make state funds, which can now be used only to match federal funds, available to finance the crime fighting programs directly.

Included in the allocation for the coming year are the funds that allow the COG to plan for and provide technical assistance to local governments in crime fighting, and to continue the Regional Police Academy at Del Mar College—where basic training is provided to rookie law enforcement officers to certify them to meet state requirements and advanced training in special subject is held for veteran officers.

In the Governor's anti-crime package that is going to the legislature are proposed bills that would return money seized in drug cases to the law enforcement agency to use in future enforcement activity; allow certain uses of wire tapping in building drug cases; make oral confessions admissible in more court cases; define aggravated rape so that the charge can be used in specific instances; allow juries to be told the probable reduction of time to be served under parole laws; raise sexual abuse of a child from second degree to first degree felony; define shock probation so that it can only be used for a young, first offender and not misused in cases such as bribery of public officials.

Also proposed is a bill to establish a state-wide system of halfway houses that would help parolees return to the free world, make restitution to crime victims, and reduce recidivism.

Brown Says Liberalism 'Outdated'

"The era of liberalism ushered in by President John F. Kennedy in 1960 was the appropriate philosophy for the times, but government spending and intrusion has increased beyond all reason as a result," State Senatorial candidate Buster Brown told government students at Alvin Community College recently.

Brown, a former Democrat who is challenging liberal A.R. (Babe) Schwartz of Galveston for the District 17 Post told ACC students that in the 20 years since Schwartz entered the Senate in 1960, State spending has increased by 800 percent.

"The State payroll has increased by 400 percent," Brown said. "The question we have to ask ourselves as a society is: Are we getting our money's worth for all this expenditure?"

"Is the environment in better shape because of State Government? Is the quality of life in our state improving as a result of 20 years of bureaucratic growth? I say no," the Lake Jackson conservative emphasized.

"It is the era of prudence in government," said Brown, who is also a former teacher and prosecutor from Brazoria County.

Brown is challenging Schwartz, a leader of Senate liberals in Austin for the seat he has held since 1960.

Early in the campaign, many political observers gave Brown a marginal chance at best, but he has proven to be an effective fund raiser and campaigner and many now believe him to be leading in the hotly contested race.

Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher

Editor's note: The Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher on his grassy ranch comes up with some new proposals this week, perhaps.

Dear editor: I have been keeping notes on the number of ways TV commercials claim you can save gasoline.

One claim says if you'll buy its brand of oil you can save gasoline. Another says its tires will save gas. Another says its gasoline will save gas. Another says the shape of the car's hood will save gas. Another says its spark plugs will do the job.

Even the telephone company has a system for some big firms that'll save energy.

On the assumption that a certain percent of the population acts on these claims, I'm about to come out with an invention of mine that'll save gasoline. It's a gas-saving windshield wiper. Don't ask me how a windshield wiper can save gas — it's a trade secret. But if I can get a million car drivers to try it out at $10 apiece before the government gets around to testing it — you can see the high price of gasoline won't bother me.

On the subject of saving, I've figured out a way to make political promises of tax cuts come true. Like it is, there's an unbridged gap between pre-election tax cut promises and post-election forgetfulness.

The answer to this absent-mindedness is bonded promises. If we can let a man get out of jail on bond, why can't we require a candidate to get into office on one?

For example, if a candidate promises a 20 percent tax cut, bond him for 20 percent of his salary. For every month he fails to deliver, his bond is forfeited.

If a whole party comes out for a tax cut, bond it for the amount of promised cuts. That way we get a tax cut, whichever way the vote goes.

If we're going to let criminals out on bond, it seems only fair we let Congressmen in on the same terms.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Board Of Pardons And Paroles Supports Bill To Improve Agency

The Board of Pardons and Paroles has announced its support of a Bill to be introduced to the Legislature in 1981 designed to improve accountability, efficiency and responsibility in the administration of the Agency.

One of the primary provisions of the Bill will establish a statewide system of halfway houses to help parolees re-enter a free society.

The Bill provides for the Board to certify these halfway houses which will allow for close supervision of parolees, provide uniform programs and provide close monitoring of the operation of each house.

These halfway houses will provide additional services to parolees who otherwise would have a difficult time making the transition from controlled to uncontrolled living in society.

The Bill also provides that when a felony probation is revoked, the trial court in imposing final sentence will enter the amount of restitution that is due and must be paid to the victim.

If the prisoner is later granted parole, the Board will be required to impose as a part of the parole contract a condition whereby the victim is insured reimbursement for his loss.

To give the Board of Pardons and Paroles the management tools necessary for effective administration, the Bill will provide for the appointment, by the Board, of an Executive Director who would be responsible for the day-to-day conduct of the affairs of the Board.

Further, the Bill would provide that the Governor designate the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Board every two years.

The Bill also provides for the employment rather than the appointment of not less than six parole commissioners selected by a majority of the Board.

The Governor, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals would give up their authority to appoint parole commissioners.

The board could employ additional parole commissioners should that be necessary in the future.

INVISIBLE MAN?

When you're driving along and you see a pair of sneakers sitting all by themselves in the middle of the street, you just naturally start to wonder...Is it the Invisible Man watching traffic? Since it's so close to Halloween, do ghosts wear sneakers? Are there other articles of clothing lying around somewhere? Maybe the answer is simpler: maybe someone just finally got tired of wearing a pair of shoes that were too tight...Whatever the reason, this was what motorists could see at the intersection of Live Oak Street and Highway 35 South [Liberty] this past Wednesday morning. Honey Pot - Pourri

Editor's Note: The following column is by a student at Bee County College in Beeville and was recently published in the college newspaper, the "Path." We were so intrigued by Mr. Pena's search for life's meaning — and his ultimate discovery — that we wanted to share it with our readers.

THE HONEY POT—POURRI

By Roman Pena

I have decided to spend the rest of my fruitful years searching for the meaning of life.

What is life?

To find out life's meaning I had to talk to someone wise, intelligent, truthful and sincere.

I went to talk to Ralph, my next door neighbor's basset hound. He was sitting under a tree trying to find truth in contemplation.

"Ralph, O wise one, what is life?" I asked.

Ralph stared at me and then looked into the sky thoughtfully. Aahooo, Aahoooo, he chanted. He kept up his chant until suddenly he looked enlightened.

I was sure he had the answer.

Excitement was coursing through my veins and I had to go to the bathroom.

I couldn't wait any longer.

"Ralph, what is life? Tell me."

Ralph looked at me sadly and said with a sigh, "Ruff."

Not exactly the answer I was hoping for.

Dumb dog.

I hope he chokes on his can of liver flavored Alpo.

I didn't give up. I decided to talk to Pedro Abramsky, a Jewish-Catholic guru.

Pedro was sitting under a tree. He looked a lot like Ralph. The only difference was that Ralph was better looking and didn't smell.

"Guru, I come to ask what the meaning of life is," I said, twitching my nose.

"My son, why do you twitch your nose?"

I decided to be blunt.

"You smell."

"Ah, my son, you are not far from the meaning of life.

"No, you are not, for if one can smell, then one is alive and if one is alive then life is in him and if it is in him then he is not far from the meaning of life."

I went home and cried.

I was downright flabbergasted.

The dictionary was my last hope.

I know what life is.

I don't know why I never thought of it.

It was so obvious.

Life is FEMALE CHEERLEADERS.

It's true they are life.

The dictionary says that life is one that inspires or excites spirit and vigor.

Now who inspires and excites spirit and vigor?

Cheerleaders.

Isn't that great.

Just think, every Friday night I see life.

Every Saturday afternoon I see college life, and Sunday I see professional life and I see Monday night live.

Gosh.

I love life.

A federal grand jury in Houston has returned a 21-count indictment against four persons charged with a vending machine mail fraud scheme.

Indicted were James L. Brooks, 43, and Billy Sue (Susan) Brooks, 49, both of Dallas; Jack L. Hunter, 49, of Fort Smith, Arkansas; and Larry Don Johnson, 36, of Round Rock.

They were charged with mail fraud, wire fraud and conspiracy in connection with the sale of food vending machine distributorships under the trade name of "Red International" operating at 4801 Woodway Drive, Houston; 5839 Chapelwood Way and 8035 East R.L. Thornton Freeway in Dallas; and 625

North Michigan, Chicago, Illinois.

The indictment charges the defendants with greatly exaggerating the sales volume and income to be expected from the vending machine investments, and with guaranteeing returns on investments, in order to induce people to invest in the vending machine ventures.

The indictment charges the defendants with using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and with falsely obtaining money by representing to investors that "Red International" was a well-established company operating for a number of years, when, in fact, the company was created by the defendants early in 1978 with assumed name records being filed at Dallas April 4, 1978.

The indictment also charges "...that the defendants would cloak their scheme in an aura of legitimacy by the use and employment of literature and business forms embossed with an official-looking logo for "Red International."

The indictment further charges the defendants with describing and offering for sale high-quality vending machines, but actually delivering inferior-quality machines and, in some cases, not delivering any machines.

Postal Inspector in Charge W.R. Newsome said the indictment capped an eight-month investigation by U.S. Postal Inspectors from the Houston Field Office.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Samuel Longoria, who is handling the case for the Government, indicated arrests are expected shortly.

Dimmit County To Observed Centennial

Dimmit County will celebrate its 100th Birthday in a week filled with Centennial festivities October 25-November 2.

Dozens of major events will be held, including a sanctioned chili cook-off, 10,000-meter marathon, steer roping, arts and crafts show, official slingshot tournament and entertainment by nationally-recognized musicians and dance troupes.

The events will be staged in the multi-ethnic atmosphere of a rural Texas fair. The county courthouse, in downtown Carrizo Springs, will be surrounded by 50 booths vending an array of food and drink, and displaying crafts and special items for sale.

Contests, parades, carnivals, street dances, shows, museums, stunts and plenty of hometown food will highlight the largest event ever held in rural Texas.

Carrizo Springs is located at the junction of Highways

83 and 85, an easy 2½ hours southwest of San Antonio.

Accident Report

Philip J. Lasley, 45, of Waco was taken to Corpus Christi Memorial Hospital following an accident on Highway 35 North at Pirate Drive about 9:36 p.m. Saturday, October 11.

Police reported Ernest Wayne DeForest, 23, of Rockport had stopped and was waiting to turn into the What-A-Burger parking lot when his vehicle was struck by Lasley's.

Jose Alaniz, 34, of 735 South Mathis was ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way after his vehicle was in collision with a vehicle driven by Richard Henry Thompson, 28, of Port Aransas Friday afternoon.

Police said the accident occurred about 5:10 p.m. Friday at the intersection of Liberty and Austin when Alaniz, traveling east on Liberty, attempted a left turn onto Austin and struck Thompson who was west-bound on Liberty.

Robert Lee Hackney, 34, of Runge and Robert Eugene Gifford, 32, of Corpus Christi were in collision about 6:25 p.m. Sunday, October 12, at the intersection of Market and Austin.

Police said Hackney was attempting a left turn onto Austin and Gifford a right turn onto Market when the accident occurred.

Amador Elizardo Sanchez of Taft was pulling a flatbed trailer on the Rockport Beach Road when the trailer came loose and struck a parked car belonging to Christopher Bell of San Antonio.

No ticket was issued in the mishap which occurred about 5:25 p.m. Friday.

HOW TO PHOTOGRAPH YOUR PET (Fourth in a Better Pet Photography Series)
This article will pertain to the importance of shutter speed and planning to improve shutter speed.

The Importance of Shutter Speed
The length of time the shutter is open to allow light to expose the film is called the shutter speed. On a reflex camera, those speeds typically range from one to 1/2 second, 1/8, 1/15, 1/30, 1/60, 1/125 and on to 1/1000 second on some cameras. For animal photography, you will seldom use a speed less than 1/125 second.

The shutter speed determines how effectively a moving object can be "stopped" in motion — recorded sharply without blurs and streaks. When you are hand holding the camera and depressing the release, there is a slight movement of the camera. If your pet is anything but asleep, there will be some motion, and even in sleep an ear can twitch.

So to compensate for both your own and your pet's movement, a relatively fast shutter speed of 1/125 second will keep the finished picture in sharp focus. To "stop" kittens or puppies at play, you may have to shoot at 1/500 second or faster.

Try to think of the aperture as a valve which can be opened to admit a small stream or a wide stream of light. The shutter is the tool which determines how long that valve is open.

Obviously, the faster the shutter speed, the wider the aperture may have to be to allow sufficient light to expose the film properly. Fortunately, film is now manufactured in both color and black and white which is rated "slow" to very "fast." During daytime hours, you have a wide range of choice of aperture and shutter speed.

Read the instructions that come with your film. They will tell you what to expect of that film in different lighting situations.

"Planning" to Improve Shutter Speed

To "stop" your cat in mid-pounce, or your dog's dash across the yard, you will need a shutter speed of at least 1/500 second. Sometimes you may not have enough light, or the film in your camera may be too slow. The solution is easy. Move your camera (panning) at about the same speed as your subject is moving, and shoot at the fastest speed your camera and film will allow. You will "stop" the action of your pet. The background will be blurred. This will give an even greater illusion of speed and sharpness to the finished picture.

The next subject I will discuss will be lighting and tips on exposure.

RAYMOND OWENS

To Prec. 3 voters,

An election has already been held concerning the highway by-pass. The public voted almost 9 to 1 in favor. We are already in the process of acquiring land for right-of-ways. My opponent's endorsement of this project in a recent article in this paper, is certainly appreciated, although it is a little late.

Candidates can make many promises during election year. I can only promise to do my best and to continue working with all of our departments to keep Aransas County a fine place to live.

Horn of Plenty

This great land of ours has been blessed with the riches of the earth and with the freedoms and rights to enjoy them. But does the mere ownership of these goods guarantee our happiness?

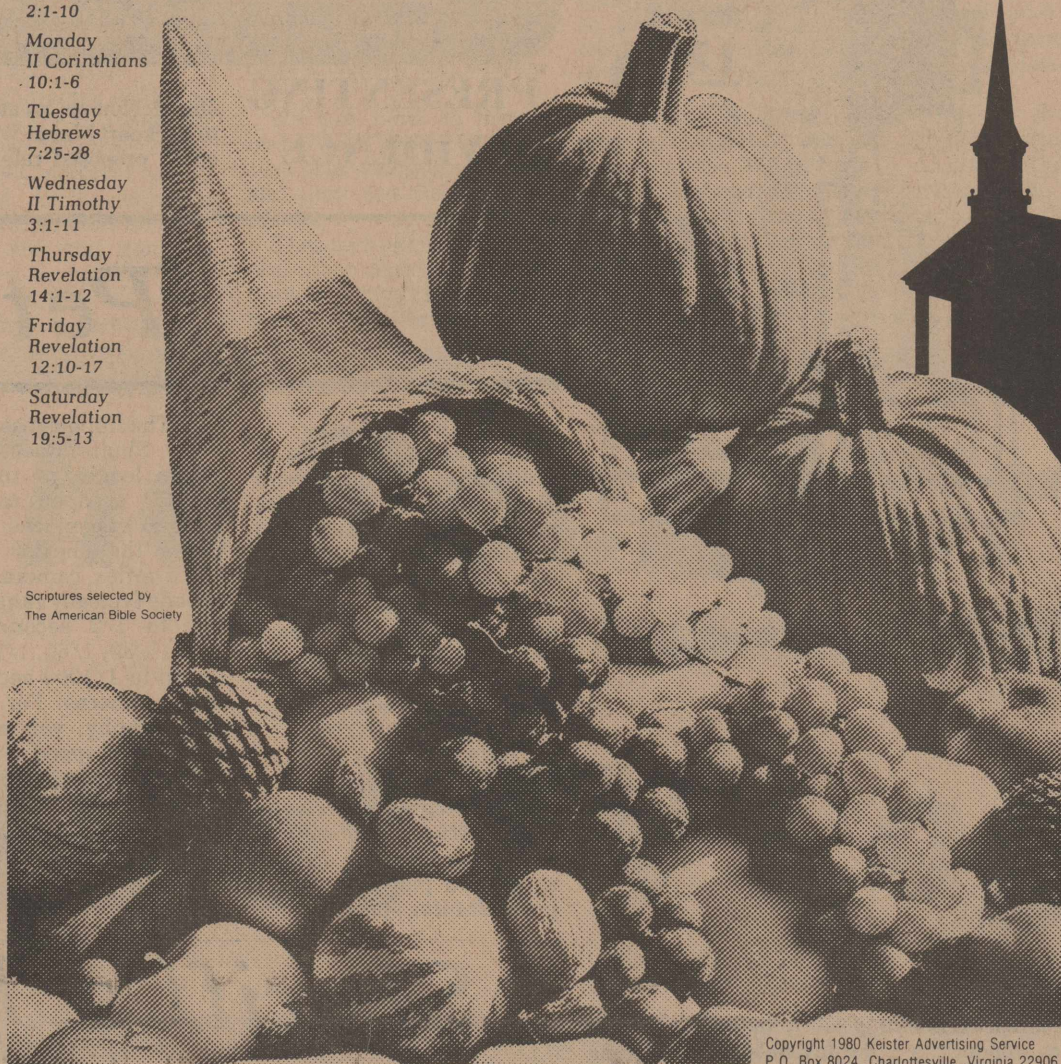

All of us have experienced a disappointment at finally possessing some much-desired article. After weeks and sometimes years of looking forward to it, we find that the actual ownership brings little pleasure.

Could the fault lie with the gift itself? No, apparently it is within ourselves. Our own attitudes, our own relationships, our own understanding have certainly much more to do with our final satisfaction.

How then are we to derive the greatest blessings from the goods which have been put at our disposal? The best place to begin is at your place of worship. Here, in a personal search for God and our own understanding of Him, we may achieve a spiritual harmony, which will bless our lives and those of our fellow men.

THE GOFORTHS

By Jim Campbell[s]

"Hi Daddy, I've washed the car and now I'm filling the gas tank."

The Shepherd's Staff

By Rev. Walter Clark
Pastor, St. Peter's Episcopal Church

Do you remember how as a child you would go to spend a night or weekend with a friend, and when it was over your friend's parents would call yours to say how polite and well mannered you were, and that you even helped with the dishes?

When the conversation was finished, your parents might say, "Are you sure they were talking about the right person?" Because at home your room was usually a mess; you fussed about doing the dishes; and your behavior was not always exemplary.

It's amazing how we respond when we feel loved and accepted. We knew instinctively that our friend's parents wanted and welcomed us, and so we responded by trying to please through acts of thoughtfulness and kindness which in general were not part of our repertoire.

This does not mean we were not loved at home, but it's a plain fact that when we lived day in and day out with our parents, we all began to take each other for granted.

We were loved all right, and our parents would have resented any expression to the contrary by an outsider. Even so the words and gestures of love and appreciation often were missing. We were simply expected to know we were loved, and that was supposed to be enough.

But it's not enough to have to assume we are loved and appreciated. The human spirit, with its drive to be creative and to oppose all that destroys, withers, decays, dries up when we are taken for granted like so many cogs in a wheel. We need to hear expressions of love, appreciation, and acceptance — and to know they are meant — in order to be our very best; in order to live in a world that undervalues the power of love.

Many who were restored to health of mind, body, and spirit by Jesus knew the power of the love and caring he extended to them. They, too, lived in a world that took them for granted, but in their need and their pain they sought out Jesus who heard their cry and felt their suffering deep within himself.

In their cry he heard their plea for help, and he touched them with his love and compassion in such a way that they were forever changed. Now they could do things previously thought impossible. Jesus knew the power of love, and he distributed it freely.

We, too, have been given this same power of God's love. All we have to do is lay claim to it by living steadfastly in it. What better place to start than right in the home with words and deeds that express gratitude and appreciation for those we love but may have come to take for granted?

Family-Oriented Fun

Cub Pack Looking For Members

It's a family-oriented program...a way for youngsters to share experiences with a group...and it's fun.

It's called "Cub Scouts" and Dr. Curtis Kovacs and his wife Susan are in the process of "trying to get Cub Scout Pack 340 going again."

The pack will be meeting Tuesday, October 28, at 7 p.m. at the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association Building on Airport Road.

Dr. Kovacs emphasized that it is open to any youngster age 8 through 10 years and urged parents to come with their children.

"We want the parents to become involved," he said. "It's a family-oriented program."

He added that a youngster can become active in the program any time during the year — all he has to do is be at least eight years old and come to a meeting.

Tuesday will be the last meeting in October. The next meeting will be November 25 and plans are for a "Family Night" complete with skits.

The Cub Scout program provides a chance for a youngster to participate in activities that promote his growth and development, Dr. Kovacs emphasized.

It fosters a sense of personal achievement within the youngster and prepares him to go on to the Boy Scouting program.

CPR Class Completed At Concern Center

The American Heart Association completed a cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class last week with registration and arrangements handled through the Concern Center.

Certified were Deborah Kullman, Vera Hodges and Maggie Ramos. John Behee was re-certified and Florence Samson was re-certified as instructor.

Ken Clark, a long-time instructor with the American Heart Association, has said he would like to make Rockport residents second to the Seattle-Tacoma, Washington area where seventy-five percent of the citizens have been certified in the CPR technique.

All persons who have had the training must be re-certified each year to be proficient in their performance.

Those interested in learning CPR or requiring re-certification are asked to call the Concern Center at 729-7722.

EMS Report

Aransas County's Emergency Medical Services responded to 21 calls during the week that began Monday, October 13.

This was 15 calls more than projected for the week.

The two ambulances logged 438.7 miles during the week and average response time was 4.36 minutes per call.

HAVE FUN!
By LEE BRYAN

A plump gentleman ate a fine meal at the Waldorf with obvious relish, topped it off with some rare Napoleon brandy, then summoned the headwaiter. "Do you recall," he asked pleasantly, "how a year ago I ate just such a repast in your excellent hotel and then, because I couldn't pay for it, you had me thrown into the gutter like a veritable bum?"

"I'm very sorry," began the contrite headwaiter.
"It's quite all right," said the guest soothingly, "but I'm afraid I'll have to trouble you again."

"When I was your age, young lady," her mother said sternly, "a nice girl didn't think of holding a man's hand."
"But Mother," the daughter protested, "nowadays a nice girl has to hold a man's hand."

A storekeeper in a small town was greeted by a neighbor who consoled him on the loss of some merchandise in a fire.
"Did you lose much?" he asked.
"Not as much as I would have a few days ago," answered the storekeeper. "I'd just marked most of my stock down 25%."

"I sense a scowl."

Renaissance Fest Features Woodnymph

She leaps, turns and bounds. Gracefully she moves through wood and crowd. Silent as the wind, but with gossamer wings, she leaves etched in our memories the things of which dreams are made. Everyone who sees her, never questions the legends or myths from which she comes.

But all know she is as real as the Sugar Plum Fairy, Santa Claus, the Easter Bunny and all fantasy.

Andrea Owens from Milwaukee, Wisconsin has played the Woodnymph for the 1979 and 1980 Texas Renaissance Festivals. She said, "I use dance steps and movements for leaping and jumping. A roommate I had was a dancer who helped me with balance and movement. Then I prepared myself through Ti Chee and skipping rope for about two hours each day. But I spend more time on building my costumes. The bead work and finding organic things to attach to my outfit takes over two months."

Andrea created the Woodnymph after doing a one-woman show where she played nine different characters in Racine, Wisconsin. After developing her character (Woodnymph) she worked on the Festival circuits. She took her character to the Renaissance Festivals in Florida, Chicago and Texas.

"My character works on instinct. I try to carry her from action to action, much like a deer, squirrel, rabbit or a bird. As the audience responses, so does she."

What are your thoughts when you are the Woodnymph?

"While I am acting, my mind is quiet. Maybe, because the character never speaks. But I like her very much. She is an exercise in concentration. But my real joy is to surprise people or make them smile or laugh."

The Sixth Annual Texas Renaissance Festival continues through November 1 and 2 on Saturdays and Sundays.

The Festival site is located 45 miles northwest of Houston on Highway 1774 between Magnolia and Plantersville.

Eyes And Answers

TINTED LENSES—OR NOT

Dear Dr. Pettet: You once wrote a column on using [or not] tinted lenses in spectacles in fine point eye work. I do fine work under dim illumination; I wear tinted lenses but have "sun grins" outside. Would you discuss the use of tinted lenses again?

Your doctor may find that you should have no tint in the spectacles you use. Too, he will likely prescribe colored lenses for outdoor use.

He may have an instrument with which to measure your sensitivity to light and show you the scientific results.

That test along with several other regular observations will give the optometrist solid information on your type of light reaction. Some of those observations are checking the pupil size and its contraction when light is shined into it; the appearance of the inside of the eye, especially if it is pale or otherwise discolored; and any tearing caused by the exposure to bright light.

Light, its quality and quantity, is necessary for life itself. For vision light is absolutely essential, but it may have to be controlled so that you may achieve comfort and maximum use of all its properties.

Eyes and Answers is a copyrighted public service feature of the Texas Optometric Association. Readers may address Dr. Pettet in care of this paper or the Texas Optometric Association, P.O. Box 4574, Austin, TX 78765.

THEY'RE OFF

Fleet-footed quarter horses harnessed to chariots of steam-bent hickory add to the excitement of the Renaissance Festival, an annual event from September through the first weekend of November just northwest of Houston between Magnolia and Plantersville. Chariot races are held twice daily at the Newmarket Track and are courtesy of the Star of Hope Ranch in Hockley. November 1 and 2 are the last days of the event, until next year...

Highland Lakes Arts, Crafts Trail Coming Next Month

Thirteen years ago, the Board of Directors, Highland Lakes Tourist Association, met to discuss possibilities for a new fall event as a sequel to the most popular Spring event, the Highland Lakes Bluebonnet Trail.

"What about highlighting the distinctive arts and crafts in the area," one commented, "with a similar trail as the Bluebonnet Trail."

With that comment, the first Highland Lakes Arts and Crafts Trail was organized with outdoor fairs in the communities of Austin, Marble Falls, Burnet, Buchanan Dam, Kingsland and Llano. Dates for this year are November 1-2.

The rules were simple: create the item to be displayed; live in the local area; and personally be present in the booth to meet the public.

Growth and interest in the event has mushroomed, with new arts and crafts organizations formed to organize better and to provide more varied displays.

From a simple beginning with 70 booths in Zilker Park, the Austin Artist Harvest has become the largest of the exhibits.

Marble Falls is also a large fair now utilizing the Marble Falls High School for their exhibit. The Burnet County Fair Barn is the location of the Burnet fair and the remainder of the cities, Buchanan Dam, Kingsland and Llano have permanent buildings to display their creations.

All fairs are free to the public.

Signals To Be Installed On Highway 35

CORPUS CHRISTI -- State Department of Highways and Public Transportation signal crews will soon complete signal improvements at the intersection of SH 35 with SH 361 and Loop 202 north of Gregory.

Designed to improve safety and traffic operations at the location, this installation will require SH 35 traffic to stop to allow SH 361 and Loop 202 traffic to enter SH 35.

These are "demand actuated signals" with operation determined by means of wire loops buried in the roadway pavement. The new signals should alleviate the stacking of traffic along SH 361 which results from employee shift changes at the Reynolds Metals and DuPont plants.

The solid-state electronic equipment, installed at a cost of approximately $25,000 will also feature an inter-connect with railroad signals.

This will result in the intersection going into a flashing sequence when a train enters the intersection.

Other safety measures incorporated into the improvement are advance warning flashers to advise motorists of the signals and modification of some of the intersection signing.

Work has been under the direction of District Signal Supervisor Dexter Turner with plan work done by District Traffic Engineer Glen Sullivan.

Police Report

Glenn Allen Dehn, 65, of Mabank was cited for failure to yield right-of-way after an accident on Highway 35 at Glass Avenue about 11:50 a.m. Tuesday, October 21.

Police said Dehn was pulling from the Robo Car Wash when his vehicle was in collision with a vehicle driven by William Wilson Denison, 26, of Aransas Pass.

IN APPRECIATION

Dave Crooks, left, retired from Rockport's First National Bank, presents a token of appreciation to Lois W. Odell and Helen McCague, representatives of the United Methodist Women, for that organization's help during First National's 90th anniversary celebration last week. The United Methodist Women, from First United Methodist Church here, provided cookies, punch and coffee daily during banking hours during the week-long anniversary celebration. Mrs. Odell is president and Mrs. McCague treasurer of the women's organization.

Absentee Election Indicates Good Voter Turnout November 4

If absentee balloting is any indication — and it usually is — Aransas County can look for a good voter turnout in the November 4 general elections. As of shortly before noon Thursday, October 23, some 169 absentee ballots had been cast in the office of Aransas County Clerk Ruby Hart.

"It's busy," was the comment of a deputy clerk who predicted a good turnout in the regular election based on absentee figures.

Absentee voting is in the county clerk's office in the Aransas County Courthouse from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, October 31, is the last day for county residents to cast absentee ballots.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday, November 4, for the regular election and will remain open until 7 p.m.

In addition to elections for the president and several statewide offices, Aransas County residents are voting on several local and district elections.

These include contested races for county commissioners in precincts 1-1A and 3. In Pct. 1-1A, the race is between Republican Bill Wilson and Democrat John M. Lee.

In Pct. 3, contenders are Republican W.B. "Pete" Sanders and incumbent Democrat Raymond Owens.

Also of local interest is the election for U.S. Representative, 14th District — which includes Aransas County. Republican C.L. Concklin and Democrat William N. (Bill) Patman are contenders in this race.

State legislative races are State Senator, District 17, Republican James E. (Buster) Brown versus Democratic incumbent A.R. (Babe) Schwartz; and State Representative, 41st District, Republican Gene Matthews of Rockport against incumbent Democrat Leroy Wieting.

Texas voters will also be faced with choice of voting for or against nine proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

These locally-chartered agencies are scheduled this year to receive 44 percent of the funds raised in the 1980 campaign. Cam Leonard, chairman of the UF Budget Committee, said this is an unusually large percentage to be retained "in any of the United Fund efforts."

But, Leonard continued, the money contributed to the other United Fund agencies — such as the Red Cross, Salvation Army and the Family Counseling Service — is also used to benefit Aransas County residents.

"All of the money stays in Aransas County," Leonard emphasized.

Other agencies that will receive funds from the UF campaign this year include the Aransas County Youth Council, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts (local and Palsano Chapter), the Council on Aging, Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation and the U.S.O.

Vi Street is co-chairman of this year's campaign and in charge of special gifts. Betty French is United Fund president.

STANLEY SPEAKS

The gifted soprano has appeared in many operatic roles, such as Antonia in Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman", Strauss' Sophie in "Der Rosenkavalier", Susanna in "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, Michaela in "Carmen" by Bizet, Nedda in "Pagliacci", by Leoncavallo, Cio-cio-san in Puccini's "Madama Butterfly" and The Mother in "Amahl and the Night Visitors".

Mrs. Dexter's repertoire includes Italian songs of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries, lieder of Brahms, Schubert, Schumann, Franz, Wolf, R. Strauss, Pfitzner, Spohr and others. Also French art songs of Faure, Duparc, Chausson, Poulenc, Berlioz, Debussy and Ravel.

There are also song cycles for soprano and orchestra, including "Scheherazade" by Ravel and American songs of the 20th century as well as American, English and Lithuanian folksongs.

SEAL

Another difference between notaries licensed before and those licensed — or whose licenses were renewed — after January 1 is in the residence requirement.

A notary licensed or renewed after January 1 is not required to live or work in the county in which the license was issued. For example, a notary public licensed in Aransas County on January 2, 1980, could move to Nueces County and still retain his or her license.

But a notary licensed before January 1 must remain in the county in which that license was issued in order to remain valid.

This means that a notary public licensed in Aransas County on December 31, 1979, must continue to live or work in this county.

If the notary moves to another county — and does not continue to operate a business in Aransas — he or she is invalidated and must apply for a new notary license.

Mrs. Williams emphasized that any validly-licensed notary has jurisdiction anywhere in Texas, no matter where the notary lives.

PAC Officers Elected

Officers were elected at the October 21 meeting of the Aransas County District Parent Advisory Council (PAC) at Rockport Elementary School.

Betty Foster was elected president and Sandra Renz is the new vice-president.

Others are Rose Johnson, secretary; Patricia Taylor, historian; Belinda Lyman, parliamentarian and Gayle Otto, reporter.

Mrs. Sara Miller explained how the criteria to best suit each child's needs were chosen and discussion was held on the guidelines for the Title I reading improvement program.

Parents interested in learning more about the Title I reading program are urged to contact any of the PAC officers.

Stanley said he saw "nothing wrong" with a proposed requirement that electric rates reflect the cost of providing service to each class of consumer, but he objected to a proposal to prohibit declining block rates.

This proposal would prevent the company from decreasing the unit cost of electricity as consumption increases. Stanley commented that "in any economics, the more you buy, the less your rates should be."

Central Power & Light was represented in the hearing by Tom J. Curlee Jr., director of the company's rates and regulatory affairs department, and by attorney Jim McKibben.

Curlee told the council that the power and light company presently structures its rates to reflect the cost of serving each class of customers — as the proposed rate standards would require — but the company does not use declining block rates.

He said the company also does not charge time-of-day rates — advocated under the 11 proposed standards — because of the prohibitive cost of installing the special metering equipment that would be required.

Time of day rates would be variable according to the time of day electricity is produced, with the largest rates being charged for the periods when it costs the most to provide service.

A similar proposal that electric costs be variable according to the season of the year is in effect now, Curlee said.

Curlee said several of the proposals, such as prohibiting the fuel adjustment clause, could not be done under current law.

Electric companies are required by law to charge the automatic fuel adjustment fee, Curlee emphasized.

Rockport Alderman Henry Bent said, "I'm satisfied that CP&L is following the rules. The question is whether the rules should be changed."

Heim questioned a remark made by Curlee that CP&L customers were billed according to their "fair share" and asked, "How can you tell what a 'fair share' for everybody would be?"

Curlee replied, "We (CP&L) are restricted by law. Whether you make $1000 a month or $1 million a month, you pay for the electricity you use. Every customer that uses 250 kilowatt hours of electricity pays the same rate — every customer that uses 1000 kilowatt hours pays the same."

Heim said he has been using about 250 kilowatt hours of electricity and his wife "can't live in the heat." Because of an injury, his income has been reduced, but he has to use the same amount of electricity.

"Why can't there be some consideration of this (by the electric company)?" he asked.

"It would be discrimination," Curlee replied. Then he asked, "What do you do at the grocery store? Or the gas station? We don't have the ability to determine what (income) you're making."

Stanley questioned the sales tax figures on electric bills and asked if the city of Rockport is getting its share of this.

Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk Jr. said the sales tax is collected by the State of Texas and the city's one percent share is then refunded to Rockport. Helen Braffett, assistant to the city secretary, also pointed out that the city receives a one percent gross receipts tax from the electric company.

Alderman Bent asked how the "cost of service" figure is derived since "I assume the cost of producing a kilowatt hour of electricity is the same regardless of the class of customer to be served."

Curlee said the cost of service is determined on the basis of how much of the electric plant is required to serve a particular class of customers (such as residential or heavy industry), how many transmission lines are needed, how many substations.

The cost of service, he said, is based on "the cost that they (the class of customer) impose on the system."

Proceeds of Wednesday's hearing were recorded both in the form of a transcript and on tape. A report on the hearing will be sent to the U.S. Department of Energy. The council has a year to make its final decisions and send the report.

Falk said copies of the official minutes of the meeting will be made available at City Hall.

Miles of nylon

In 1979 the U.S. hosiery industry used 1.4 million pounds of chemicals, 625,000 pounds of dyes and 6 billion miles of nylon fiber enough to reach 32 times to the sun and back.

Bill Patman

Because we need a Congressman who understands our way of life.

Bill Patman, a Jackson County farmer and rancher, understands the special needs of our rural communities. Through two decades in the Texas Senate, Bill worked hard for agriculture.

It was legislation authored by Bill Patman that created the Veterinary Diagnostic Lab at A&M. It saves Texas cattlemen and consumers $8 for every $1 invested, through better control of livestock disease. Bill has also given strong support to the Extension Service, and to increased funding for agricultural research. And it was Bill Patman's initiative that saved in our Texas Constitution the provision protecting family farms from future taxation based on the speculative, rather than the productive value of the land.

Agriculture is vitally important to our district and state. Texas is Number Two in the nation in agricultural production and Number Three in agricultural exports.

Yet only 2 of our 24 Texas Congressmen — and only 20 of all 435 members — claim personal knowledge of farming and ranching.

As a farmer and rancher himself, Bill Patman knows the problems we face. As our Congressman, he will fight to see that Washington bureaucrats deal with us more responsively.

Bill Patman says: "I'm proud to be a South Texas farmer and rancher. Agriculture forms the economic base of our area and contributes greatly to the American quality of life. I'll work hard in Congress to re-build respect for agriculture — and to insure that our farmers and ranchers get a better shake."
