Defense For Neal Myers Blames Cook

Attempt Made To Hang Responsibility Of Co-ed's Death On Woman

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Brown, fraternity house cook, testified as the state's star witness in Neal Myers' murder trial Wednesday after the defense, in its opening statement, indicated it would try to place on her shoulders the blame for Marian Mills' death.

Mrs. Brown asserted Myers brought the girl to her home on July 8th for an attempt to prevent matrimony. She said she consented reluctantly to allow him to bring the girl to her home, where the girl took a "quack" medical remedy. The cook related events leading up to the girl's death July 10th.

News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By George Duran Delivery

President Roosevelt's political lieutenants wouldn't admit it publicly in a thousand years but certain recent activities in the American Legion have them a wee bit worried.

Some of the range-finders think they have detected an anti-New Deal nest of menacing proportions within the Legion ranks. Naturally, of course, they want to strafe it into oblivion.

Democratic gunners—who happen to belong to the Legion—are counseling caution. They are trying earnestly to sell headquarters the idea that the veterans' vote can't be delivered by a national campaign and that it might be better to leave well enough alone.

Drought Years Cut Cotton Production

Howard county, until a year ago an increasingly productive cotton country, has dropped into a cotton slump due to the drought.

In 1930 the county gained 18,529 bales, increased to 29,471 in 1931, soared to 34,514 bales in 1932, but slumped off last year to 11,678 bales.

This year's crop, say observers, will probably be less than that of 1933. Recent rains, however, may have the effect of bringing a fair cotton yield out of extremely poor prospects.

Frank D. Waterman Honored

KANKAKEE, Ill. (UP)—The park board, in response to a request of thousands of citizens who signed their names to a petition, has changed the name of Electric Park to Waterman Park in honor of Frank D. Waterman, of New York, fountain pen manufacturer, who is a native of Kankakee. Waterman still is a benefactor of several local institutions.

Equalization Board Scores Old Means Of Assessing, Collecting Taxes, Suggests Modern System

Methods of assessing and equalizing taxes are old, antiquated, obsolete and inefficient and by their use the taxes justly due this city can not be collected in a fair and just manner.

Thus the city board of equalization expressed its opinion after having completed its work in adjusting valuations on taxable city property for 1934.

Addressing itself to the city commission, the board recommended that some modern method be used that would be more efficient and would give both the tax assessor and the future board of equalization more material as a basis upon which to work.

The equalization board did not have any particular methods in mind but would suggest . . . with the aid of the city manager and

GUARDSMEN SET UP CAMP IN TEXTILE STRIKE CENTER

The area surrounding the textile mills at Seneca, S. C., took on the appearance of a wartime army camp as two companies of national guardsmen were rushed to the scene to prevent disorder during the widespread strike of textile workers. The picture shows guardsmen heeding the call to "chow." (Associated Press Photo).

Nazi Revolution Is Over

Putsch Has Filled Hopes National Socialist Party To Build Up Nation, Says Adolph Hitler

NURNBERG (UP)—Adolph Hitler, dictator of Germany, declared Wednesday, "The national socialist revolution is ended. It has fulfilled all its hopes."

The statement was made at the annual convention of the Nazi party which he founded. Hitler said that the revolutions which took on a permanent character resulted only in anarchy and chaos and merely served the purposes of greedy politicians, and evolution had to come to bring about better conditions.

"For this purpose," Hitler said, "Nazi leadership possesses all the power. Who dare deny the national socialist movement is the absolute power in the land?"

With the revolution ended, he declared there was no better fitted body than the present Nazi party leadership for building up the nation.

City Plans Centennial

MOMENCE, Ill. (UP)—This city will observe the 100th anniversary of its settlement with a pageant of progress to be held Sept. 14, 15 and 16. The customs and costumes of a century ago down to the present time, as well as various historical events, will be features of the pageant.

Brought Fire Truck Home

RUTLAND, Vt. (UP)—"Tell Fred Savage to hurry right home and bring the fire truck with him," was Mrs. Savage's telephone message to fire headquarters. Her husband went home with the truck and extinguished a fire caused by leaking gas.

He Quit Poultry Business

BARRE, Vt. (UP)—Francis Ahern isn't in the poultry business any more. He had 20 hens at the beginning of the week, but at the end of the week he didn't have a single one. A thief stole seven, and a dog got all but three, and to make a lean job of it the thief returned and took the rest.

Jobbers Hold "Gabfest"

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (UP)—A weekly "garbage fest," a potluck picnic for boys and young men out of work, is a feature at Taylor Park here. The youths bring their own food and discuss the depression, how to get a job, the drought, President Roosevelt and other current events.

Relief Overhead For Administration Is Above State Average

AUSTIN—Administrative overhead in the $11,915 spent in Howard county for relief in April and May was 24 per cent, as compared with 18 per cent for the state, Auditor George B. Simpson reported to the legislature.

The relief administration reported that for July, 961 cases, representing 4420 persons, were on relief in the county and that total expenditures for July were $9323.

No More Arguments Over Fire

HARWICH, Mass. (UP)—There will be no more arguments about lighting the kitchen fire at George Humphrey's home. A quarrel over who should light it caused Humphrey to lose his temper. He kicked his wife so hard that her false teeth fell out. The court convicted him of assault and battery and gave him a suspended sentence.

Army Aviator Killed Near Mertzon, Tex.

Pilot Fatally Injured When Ship, Enroute To Midland, Crashes

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Richard Allen Brunt, army flier, was injured fatally when his plane crashed near Mertzon, 25 miles southwest of here Wednesday.

His was one of 20 planes that left Kelly Field, San Antonio, Wednesday on a flight to Midland.

Brunt was a West Point graduate.

First Managers Of Clovis Hotel Together Again

The manager and assistant manager of Hotel Clovis, (New Mexico) when it opened October 31, 1931, are teamed again.

Lee H. Hubby, assistant manager and auditor of Hotel Clovis, has accepted that position with the Settles hotel, bringing him together with Ray Cantrell, Settles manager, who was the first Hotel Clovis manager.

Hubby got his start in the hotel business in Brownwood where he worked in off hours while attending Howard Payne. Receiving his degree from that institution in 1927, he went to Fort Worth.

From there he went to Clovis where he was associated with the Clovis National Bank for three years in 1928-29-30. When Hotel Clovis opened in 1931, he was appointed assistant manager and auditor.

Hubby continued in that position until transferred here to succeed Harry Morris, who resigned to accept the management of the Roberts hotel in San Angelo.

Auto Stolen Here Taken By Dickens Escape, Say Cops

Virgil Stalcup, escaped desperado, is the man who stole a car from Pat Tatum of the Kirby Petroleum Co. Friday, officers said here Wednesday.

An automobile presumably taken in a hi-jacking last week in Amarillo was found deserted Sunday on the Tom Good ranch 6 miles northeast of Vealmoor.

Dual wheels of the Amarillo car had been exchanged for standard wheels of the car stolen from Tatum.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Wolf said there was conclusive proof that Stalcup had wrecked the car in which he had ridden from Amarillo and caught a ride to town where he stole of the same model and make.

Stalcup broke jail at Dickens recently. He was being held there facing a burglary charge. He has a long police record and served time in the state prison, Wolf said.

Housing Director To Address Group Here Thursday

Bankers, county judges, chamber of commerce secretaries from a large area of West Texas are expected to be here Thursday 4 p. m. for a district meeting to be addressed by R. A. Stuart, Federal Housing Administration director for West Texas.

Stuart is to explain workings of the plan by which the federal government will guarantee loans made in line with the housing program. Financing is to be done through banks.

The meeting will be held in the municipal auditorium. C. T. Watson, Chamber of Commerce manager, in charge of local arrangements, said.

Moore Bonds Bought By State, Bring Par

Bonds voted for the Moore school district brought par.

The State of Texas bought the bonds and payment of $4,000 was received here Wednesday plus accrued interest of $422.

There were no bonding attorney fees since the bonds were drawn up by County Judge H. R. Debenport without cost.

Work on the building is nearing completion and will be available for use by opening time. It will afford additional classroom space and a spacious auditorium for the school.

J. S. Nabors was awarded the contract for constructing the improvements.

Tahiti Monument Honors Loti

PARIS (UP)—A monument to the exotic French author, Pierre Loti, has just been erected in Tahiti, commemorating his visit there in 1879. Heading the French committee was Andre Ropiteau, who was largely instrumental in raising funds for the monument. At its unveiling, a native Tahitian girl impersonated Rarahu, celebrated heroine of Loti's masterpiece, "The Marriage of Loti," which first appeared in 1880 under the title of "Rarahu." Loti died in 1923.

Firemen Stole Statue's Fingers

CHICAGO (UP)—In front of a South Side fire station stands a statue of Christopher Columbus, dedicated to firemen who lost their lives in a fire in 1891. The bronze fingers of the right hand are missing. It is said, because of a fireman's thirst. He drilled off the fingers and sold them to a junkman for enough money to buy three drinks.

Cowboy Reunion Is Successful In First Year

Big Spring's first annual Cowboy Reunion ended Tuesday evening—an unqualified success.

Large crowds, exceeding the expectations of those who staged the rodeo, attended the reunion in its four performances on the grounds north of Washington Place.

To Raymond Berry Hill of Snyder went a $150 saddle for the best two day time in calf roping and belling. Clyde Acton of Roscoe was close behind him to take second honors and a pair of shop made boots. A Stetson hat went to Shorty Bigbee of Garden City third place winner for the two days.

But to Jess Slaughter, president; Tom Good, treasurer; J. I. Hudson, secretary; Ira Driver, manager; M. M. Edwards, assistant manager, went credit for an unprecedented success in inaugurating an annual event for Big Spring.

It was conservatively estimated that total attendance for the four performances was far in excess of 10,000. Tuesday afternoon, when the smallest crowd was on hand, all available parking space was taken. When the final show was staged Tuesday evening the arena was lined solidly with cars and the bleachers were packed again.

J. L. Hudson, secretary, said a preliminary check up led to the impression the rodeo had been a financial success also.

Winners in the second day events were:

Calf roping—Fred Barrick, Comstock, 17.5 seconds; Charlie Creighton, Big Spring, 20 seconds; C. B. Barrick, Byers, 21 seconds; and Earl Moore, Olden, 22.3-5 seconds.

Steer Riding—Shorty Rutledge, Odessa; Jack Winnett, Fort Sumner, New Mexico; Louis Blair, Dunbar, Texas.

Wild Cow Milking—C. Burke, Dungee, 23.2; Hiram Harris, Rankin, 28.8; F. Kirschhaber, Clyde, 30.4; Sam Roberts, Eldorado, 32.5.

Calf Belling—C. Burke, Dunbar, 9.2; George Teague, 11; C. B. Barrick, 11.8; Walter Poage, Rankin, 13.

Bronc Riding—Guy Dodgin, Roscoe and Shorty Rutledge, Odessa, tied for first and Red Parker of San Angelo took third.

A pair of bridle boots was given for the fastest time in the show and was won by Fred Barrick of Comstock, Texas, with 17.2 seconds. A pair of spurs went to Shorty Rutledge of Odessa for being the best bronc rider.

Saddle and boots given as awards were donated by O. W. Jolly of Midland, Albert M. Fisher of Big Spring gave the Stetson hat, and R. J. Andrews of San Angelo, the spurs and a bridle bit.

V.F.W., at considerable expense, decorated the downtown district extensively with flags, draperies, and bunting in honor of the occasion. The local V.F.W. chapter, despite the fact that several dollars worth of equipment was ripped from its storerooms, extended the service without charge.

Throughout the four shows, crowds were kept in an uproar by John Lindsey, Byers rodeo clown who cut hilarious capers with his educated mule. Antics of the pair, were repeatedly applauded. Ollie Cox, owner of the rodeo stock, also gave a splendid exhibition with his educated horse.

Wild Brahma cattle, from the Double Heart ranch, were used for the occasion and they displayed more fight than any set of rodeo stock seen in this area in more than a decade. The horses, brought here from Eldorado, were as fine a bunching crew as seen here in years.

The reunion was organized here less than a month ago. An association was formed and a charter granted with twenty members composed of R. V. Middleton, T. J. Good, Harry Lees, J. Y. Robb, Jess Slaughter, Kirby Miller, C. W.

President To Select Board Of Mediation

Committee To 'Go As Far As Possible' To Meet President's Wishes

By Associated Press
President Roosevelt moved Wednesday to appoint a mediation board of three members to inquire into the general strike in the textile industry.

The personnel of the board was unannounced as yet. The president was contemplating no other federal interference in the strike situation. At the same time, employers representatives announced a meeting to plan a defense against the alleged intimidation of workers remaining on their jobs. Reports from both the South and East indicated the number of strikers was increasing. Additional shutdowns were reported from many sections.

The Houston Textile Company mill entered its second day of enforced idleness, with striking employes continuing to picket the entrance and keeping anyone from working. Other mills in Texas were unaffected by the strike.

Independent surveys indicated that at least 250,000 out of 650,000 workers were idle in twenty-two states.

House Given Nine Million Bond Measure

Provides Only For Relief Bond Issuance; Board Abolition Omitted

AUSTIN (UP)—A bill to issue $9,500,000 state relief bonds to match federal grants was submitted in the house of representatives Wednesday by a special sub-committee.

Representative Harold Kayton, committee chairman, said the bill as written provided only for the issuance of bonds. Amendments to change the personnel of the relief commission and define policies a decision.

It was anticipated a hundred amendments would be offered from the floor.

Methodists To Hold Fellowship Night

First Methodist church will hold Fellowship Night Friday beginning 7:30 p. m. in the church building.

A special program has been arranged for the occasion and all members are being urged to attend with their families.

A meeting of the stewards will precede the general church program.

In addition to other features planned, "bank opening" will be held when all persons with "mite" boxes will place the contents in the church treasury.

Committee Approves Bill To Remit Tax Penalty, Interest

AUSTIN.—The house revenue and taxation committee Wednesday approved a bill to remit penalties and interest on taxes of all political subdivisions that were delinquent last August 1.

Average Temperature, More Than Normal Rainfall Makes August Excellent Weather Month Here

Big Spring, and surrounding territory, benefited during August from average temperature and better, much better, than average precipitation, the monthly meteorological summary released by J. A. Cummings, weather bureau manager, shows.

Average temperature for the month was 82.8 and compared favorably with figures of former years. Highest for the month was 100 degrees on August 13, and lowest was reached at 63 degrees on August 25.

Total precipitation more or less general over the county for the first time since early spring, amounted to 3.41 inches. It was 1.47 inches above the normal for August and compared with 5.99 for August a year ago.

August, a normally dry month, has twice saved the day in Howard county within as many years. A glance at the rapidly growing pastures and ranges will prove its benefits here this year. A bumper feed crop proves that it was in 1933.

There were 19 clear days during August, 9 partly cloudy, and three cloudy. Precipitation fell on three different days.

Methodism Completes 100 Years of Good
 In San Antonio the past weekend Methodists of this state observed the 100th anniversary of the start of that faith in Texas.
 Rapid progress has been made in those 100 years. Churches have sprung up in countless communities. Schools have been established. Hospitals have been put into operation.
 What is of vastly more benefit in the wholesome influence radiated from the institution in its advance with civilization.
 Lots of people will stop to argue whether this belief is the only way in the end, or whether that doctrine is the only one. They seldom stop to consider the immeasurable good comes out of all of the groups.
 Regardless of doctrine or creed, every grateful Texan should have nothing but praise to the Methodist church for its service to humanity and to the state in its first century of activity in Texas.

Soft Ball Batting Averages Compiled

Teams Making Weak Start

Average In New League Expected To Stay Rather Low
 Batting averages compiled in the new softball league shows several of the teams making a weak start with the hickory.
 Only two players are on the 1000 mark, and they have been up only twice.
 As a whole, the Anderson team is connecting at a fair clip, having played two games. Most of the other teams are dragging a little.
 Batting averages are expected to stay rather low, as the teams are evenly matched.

 PHILADELPHIA—The Giants picked the ninth inning Tuesday as the time to score the runs that won them both games of a double-header from the Phillies, 3 to 2 and 6 to 5.
 The double victory increased New York's lead over the idle Cubs and Cardinals, who are tied for second place, to seven games, with 24 to go for the Giants and 26 for their rivals before the season ends. The Phils' two losses, incidentally, left them only one game ahead of the cellar-dwelling Cincinnati Reds.
 The climax of the second game provided a thrill for the crowd of 7,000. Trailing from the first inning, the Giants went into the ninth one run behind. Harry Danning opened with a single and George Watkins ran for him. Then Joe Moore stepped up and belted one of Sylvester Johnson's pitches over the right field wall, securing the winning run behind Watkins' tying counter.

Southwestern Conference Teams To Stage Some Hard Struggles
 By JACK BISCO
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 DALLAS, Texas, (UP)—Football lovers are going to witness some tougher-than-usual battles in the Southwestern Conference this year.
 On paper it appears that Arkansas, which was deprived of the official conference championship last year because of participation of an ineligible player in one game, and Southern Methodist University will be the teams the others will have to beat.
 Nineteen Lettermen
 Arkansas has 19 lettermen returning, 17 of them seniors. The line will average 200 pounds, and to end. Speed will be the biggest asset in the backfield. Ralph LaForge, 150-pound halfback, and Oliver Criswell, 193, will be the Vick key men. LaForge is a speedy, tricky brokenfield runner. Criswell is the best fullback Arkansas has had in the past six years.
 Southern Methodist's 23 returning lettermen include Robert Wilson, 147-pound junior, who was the outstanding back in the conference last year. He will be the spark plug of the 1934 season.
 Harry Shuford, 180-pound junior fullback, will bear watching. He is a good kicker, passes some, and is good at backing up the line. Coach Ray Morrison is depending upon Shuford to provide the goal line punches, the lack of which has been S. M. U.'s most glaring weakness in recent years. Shelley Burt, 175-pound halfback, probably will star as a passer. The Methodists will have a veteran line averaging about 185 pounds.
 T. C. U. Have Ragged Team
 Texas Christian University, with 10 lettermen returning, will depend largely upon Darrell Lester, center, and Jimmy Lawrence, halfback. The Christians will have a rugged team, with probably no other outstanding stars. Coach Dutch Meyer and Line Coach Raymond Wolfe have long been noted for their ability to produce a strong club in every department out of a rough assortment of material.
 Baylor University will have trouble replacing its great pair of ends Jim Petty and Frank James, who went the way of all seniors last year. The attack will be built around Capt. Joe Jack Pearce, a consistent runner and a flashy passer. With a relatively easy schedule, if Baylor can find a couple of good replacements, it may be the thick of the fight throughout the season.
 Texas University Not Strong
 The University of Texas, in general, does not look strong. However, Jack Coates, 200-pound center, Jack Gray, end, and Bohn Hilliard, halfback, represent a three-man powerhouse. Hilliard, without question one of the greatest players in the current conference personnel, nursed an injured ankle most of last year.
 There probably will be no outstanding players on the Texas A. & M. club, where teamwork will be the watchword. A. & M. might prove the dark horse.
 Rice Institute will be possessed of what many critics hail as the best backfield in the conference with the return to eligibility of John McCauley and Bill Wallace, halfback seniors, but probably will not go far because of a woeful lack of reserve linemen.

Ralph LaForge, 150-pound halfback, and Oliver Criswell, 193, will be the Vick key men. LaForge is a speedy, tricky brokenfield runner. Criswell is the best fullback Arkansas has had in the past six years.
 Southern Methodist's 23 returning lettermen include Robert Wilson, 147-pound junior, who was the outstanding back in the conference last year. He will be the spark plug of the 1934 season.
 Harry Shuford, 180-pound junior fullback, will bear watching. He is a good kicker, passes some, and is good at backing up the line. Coach Ray Morrison is depending upon Shuford to provide the goal line punches, the lack of which has been S. M. U.'s most glaring weakness in recent years. Shelley Burt, 175-pound halfback, probably will star as a passer. The Methodists will have a veteran line averaging about 185 pounds.
 T. C. U. Have Ragged Team
 Texas Christian University, with 10 lettermen returning, will depend largely upon Darrell Lester, center, and Jimmy Lawrence, halfback. The Christians will have a rugged team, with probably no other outstanding stars. Coach Dutch Meyer and Line Coach Raymond Wolfe have long been noted for their ability to produce a strong club in every department out of a rough assortment of material.
 Baylor University will have trouble replacing its great pair of ends Jim Petty and Frank James, who went the way of all seniors last year. The attack will be built around Capt. Joe Jack Pearce, a consistent runner and a flashy passer. With a relatively easy schedule, if Baylor can find a couple of good replacements, it may be the thick of the fight throughout the season.
 Texas University Not Strong
 The University of Texas, in general, does not look strong. However, Jack Coates, 200-pound center, Jack Gray, end, and Bohn Hilliard, halfback, represent a three-man powerhouse. Hilliard, without question one of the greatest players in the current conference personnel, nursed an injured ankle most of last year.
 There probably will be no outstanding players on the Texas A. & M. club, where teamwork will be the watchword. A. & M. might prove the dark horse.
 Rice Institute will be possessed of what many critics hail as the best backfield in the conference with the return to eligibility of John McCauley and Bill Wallace, halfback seniors, but probably will not go far because of a woeful lack of reserve linemen.

 DALLAS, Texas, (UP)—Football lovers are going to witness some tougher-than-usual battles in the Southwestern Conference this year.
 On paper it appears that Arkansas, which was deprived of the official conference championship last year because of participation of an ineligible player in one game, and Southern Methodist University will be the teams the others will have to beat.

 Arkansas has 19 lettermen returning, 17 of them seniors. The line will average 200 pounds, and to end. Speed will be the biggest asset in the backfield. Teams Making Weak Start

Average In New League Expected To Stay Rather Low
 Batting averages compiled in the new softball league shows several of the teams making a weak start with the hickory.
 Only two players are on the 1000 mark, and they have been up only twice.
 As a whole, the Anderson team is connecting at a fair clip, having played two games. Most of the other teams are dragging a little.
 Batting averages are expected to stay rather low, as the teams are evenly matched.

SPORT LINES

By TOM BEASLEY

The Cosden Pipeliners and Kneec Action Chevys teams are due to mix up in a practice affair on the City Park diamond tonight at 8:30.

Apparently the El Paso high school's attempt to do some swamping with local school officials in regard to game dates has fizzled. The Border City mentors woke up a little late and wanted to do some shifting—having the Steers play Bowie at Big Spring instead of at El Paso, but the local officials refused to change. Principal Gentry wired the Austin High School coach at El Paso that he was satisfied the way things now stand, and has had no further word from him.

The department understands that little "Mickey Mouse" Salome, backfield ace on Pat Murphy's El Paso team last year, may attend McMurry at Abilene this fall. If McMurry coaches turn down the chance of getting Salome they will be giving up one of the finest little football players in the country. Salome is small, weighing only 145 pounds, but he's got everything a coach ever dreamed of and more too.

Word from the Concho grid camp would indicate that the Bobcats are looking better every day—still green and a little awkward but improving rapidly.

Local football fans are not as jipped up over the Steers' chances as they were a few weeks ago. They are afraid of that "over-confidence" bugaboo.

Big Spring High School officials have secured a "Grid Graph"—a machine on which can be recorded a play by play account of games. The contraption will be used when the Steers play away from home and to get Southwest Conference games.

Little is known about "Big Jim" Cantrell's Colorado Wolf team this year. Cantrell is keeping his work under cover and putting out nothing. Maybe he'll give a line at the committee meeting here Friday.

Sweetwater, it will be remembered, did not have a representative present at the schedule mapping party. They have raised no kick, however. If they did it wouldn't do any good.

Hunters who have been up around Seminole report the pick-up's mighty slim.

department paid a visit a few days ago to one of the prettiest golf courses in the country—Cloudcroft. The course, a nine-hole lay-out shaped like a Y, is supposed to be the highest in the world. It's beautiful to look at but not much to play. You shoot up one way and then play back down the same fairway. If many are playing it keeps you dodging balls. It rains so much at Cloudcroft that tents have been put along the fairways so that players can get out of the rain.

The roar of a land falls in Kentucky, when plunges 66 feet, can be heard from a distance of 12 miles at times.

The department of agriculture is breeding disease-resistant tomatoes because of the great increase in tomato juice drinking.

Julian Trivette, 13, of Winston-Salem, N. C., has built a house high in a tree in the backyard of his parents' home where he sleeps and does his own cooking.

Farmers in conference on North Carolina State college recently advocated tax exemption for home-stands valued at $1,000 or less.

TIGER ISLAND

By Gouverneur Morris

SYNOPSIS: The plan of Captain Wong Bo and Flint, his rascal operator, to sink the "Holden" for the insurance is temporarily delayed when Angus McLeod, the owner of the ship's wild animalcage, is taken ashore at the little Dutch port of Sinbao with acute appendicitis. Harvey Bowers, big game hunter, volunteers to take the animal on to Singapore and finds an animal trainer or "cird" to a stranded circus to help him. But he puts his me, why she likes me; if she doesn't, she doesn't."

"Well, said she, "that's fair enough, and there's nothing doing. Get your clothes on, Helen. We're going to Singapore."
While she was helping Helen into a little red coat, edged with gold braid, Bowers remarked that she hadn't told him her name.
"Ivy Green," she said.
"That's not your real name, is it?"
"No," said she, "of course not. What's yours?"
"Harvey Bowers," she repeated.
"Well, well, well, now what do you know about that!"
But she did not say what was to be known about that until she had finished dressing the monkey. Then she began to elucidate, and there was a look in her eyes which he did not in the least like.
"Harvey Bowers," she said, "the killer!"
Anger and contempt seemed to be pattering in her brain.
"Do you know what I think of big-game hunters?" she asked.
"No, No, I don't," said Bowers hastily. "and I'm sure I don't want to."
But she had made up her mind mouth spread into a sudden beguiling grin with dimples at the corners.

"When my head aches," he said, "you'll give me aspirin? When I am maudlin, you'll slap me?"
"That's the idea," said she.
"And what will you do for me when I am homesick?"
"Do you really want to know?" she asked. "Well, if you really get homesick, I'll try to make you think well of yourself. I'll say: 'Mr. Bowers, it is just barely possible that deep down, you're a tiny bit more chivalrous and decent than people think you are.'"
She changed the subject hastily. "Can you get all this stuff to the ship for me?" she asked.
"It will be taken care of," he said. "I have only got a taxi outside, and what's left of a chauffeur. That will do for our transport. We'll send a bullock-cart for the trunks and things. Are you going as is?"
"I'd like to change," she said. "I wouldn't be ten minutes if it weren't for the boots."
"What's the matter with the boots?"
"Somebody," she said, "ran off with my bootjack. I think it was probably the legless man. My boots are too big, they're too tight."
"Well," said Bowers, "if you'll sit down on that trunk, and excuse my back—"
She seated herself on the trunk, and Bowers, turning his back, took one of her small booted feet in his two hands, and braced his wrists against his knees.
"Now, then," he said, "you may fire when ready, Gridley."
Ivy Green chuckled and pushed steadily with her other foot against the nearest portion of the big-game hunter's anatomy, and one boot came off with a kind of gulping sound. A few seconds later the other had followed suit.
"When you are ready," said Bowers, "give me a call. I'll be waiting outside."
Within ten minutes she had given him the call, and he had returned to the tent. He thought her vastly improved by the change to a pleated white skirt and a simple white blouse with a broad rolling collar, open at the throat. She had seen ve. quick.

The gauzy animal trainer's uniform had disappeared. The trunks and hand-luggage were shut and locked. To Helen, her mistress' change of garments and the clacking sounds of trunk and valise, locks meant but one thing—travel. Going places! Excitement! Adventure! She was all for leaving the little procession out of the tent, and pranced gayly toward the flap by which Bowers had just entered. But a voice, playfully stern, checked her in mid-prance. "Helen! Your suitcase!"
He'd rushed back to where the little red suitcase stood beside the little tin trunk, clasped it firmly in her hand and followed her mistress and the strange gentleman out of the tent.
The three walked, so soberly as if there had been nothing at all unusual in their combination, through the wreckage of the circus toward the taxi. Ivy waved goodbye to Big Bertha, who was still absorbed in her book.
As they entered the taxi, the chauffeur slipped his photograph of Big Bertha into his pocket, smirking the while. The deceptively vehicle jarred into action, and started back for Sinbao.

out that the Legion rolls number only about 800,000 of the 4,000,000 soldiers who served in the World War. These Legionnaires come from every section of the country and their viewpoints are as diverse as their native landscapes. Only on an issue directly involving veterans' welfare is there a chance of delivering a majority of them at the polls. Finally, attention is called to the obvious ease with which a Legionnaire can be persuaded to vote to "uphold the Constitution". He did it when he joined the Army and automatically would do it again. When that same Legionnaire is called upon to decide whether or not President Roosevelt is upholding the Constitution the vote will not be so automatic, say the New Deal reassurers.

PLAYMATES

Dick Wagner And His Dog, Pooch.

Dick Wagner, aged six, has a playmate, aged two that already weighs as much as Dick expects to when he becomes a man. He is the Great Dane shown in the picture. Dick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wagner, both of whom are employed by the firm of Hall and Bennett. Mr. Wagner is connected with the clinic. Mrs. Wagner is superintendent of nurses at the Big Spring Hospital. Pooch is an abbreviated name given this dog because his real name was too much of a mouthful for a little boy to say. It is in full, Don Alonso D'Laage. Pooch's ancestors are Spanish; his parents came from the kennels of Francis X. Bushman in Hollywood, Calif. The great movie actor of bygone days. When Dick was four and Pooch was a few weeks old and both were considerably shorter than they are now, they slept together on the same bed, Pooch at the foot. That kept up until they were too long to sleep comfortably—that is in Mrs. Wagner's eyes. Pooch and Dick are willing to accommodate themselves to any inconvenience, in order to be together. What they are going to do this fall, since Dick has started to Miss Roger's kindergarten and Pooch can't go, is a problem yet to be solved. Everybody says that Pooch is as dignified as he appears to be in this picture. He is strong and fiercely protective, especially after sundown when he will not allow strangers on the place. His favorite sport is killing coyotes but toward all the Wagners he is gentleness itself.

What's New In Shoes This Fall

By RITA FERRIS (Associated Press Fashion Editor) PARIS (AP)—Lines are creeping upward in new winter shoes for 1934-35. The low cut court pump and the strapped shoe have been thrust into a back seat by the latest designers, and models which inch higher and higher over the instep, approaching the styles worn in the days of the French revolution, are being shown. Even boots which cover the ankle bone have been designed.

Hoops And Wooden Buckles Other footnotes recalling the tempestuous days of the eighteenth century appear. Hoops instead of eyelets are used for the laces which fasten a number, and wide wooden buckles, enamelled to match the color of the shoe and studded with copper nail heads or colored stones, ornament others. The favorite fall footwear for town as yet is the shoe which molds up over the instep as It's time to take down the screens MOST of us hate to see Summer go. We miss the freedom that comes from being out-of-doors. We dread being bottled up in heated houses—wearing heavy clothes—fighting colds and all the impositions of Winter. Since we have to live indoors, let's be gay and make indoors attractive. A new rug will brighten the living-room and the one it displaces can go upstairs to cheer up a bedroom. Some colored curtains will accentuate the pale winter sun. A new kitchen range or sink will take the gloom out of that much-used workshop. Some comfortable chairs will help you relax during the long evenings. A little money will go a long way today in renovizing your home. Just watch the advertisements in this newspaper—there are amazing bargains in furniture, lamps, curtains, rugs and kitchen equipment. You're always more certain to get full value for your money when you buy products advertised by dependable merchants and manufacturers.

Wilson Thinks Venue Change In His Favor

Confessed Slayer of Mrs. DeBolt Says He Is Pleased Trial Site Shifted

EL PASO—Arthur C. Wilson is jubilant over the transfer of his trial for the slaying of Mrs. Irene DeBolt from Culberson to El Paso county.

Judge W. D. Howe's ordering venue changed from Van Horn to El Paso was a victory for Wilson, who lost his first legal skirmish when he was ordered extradited from Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, to face trial in Texas.

"I don't know why, but I feel that the transfer of my trial to El Paso is a break for me. It seems that my luck is still with me," he said.

Wilson was smiling when visited in the county jail shortly after return from the second trip to Van Horn within a week. "I am glad that the squabble over where my trial will be held is ended. But I can scarcely understand why all the fuss about it. However, I am glad that the trial will be held here. At least the jail in El Paso is more comfortable than that one at Van Horn."

"What I am more interested in now, is when my trial will be held. I understand that the case will be set when court opens here about Sept. 17," he said.

Wilson inquired at length over procedure to be followed at his trial and seemed puzzled when the theory was advanced that jury selection would require two days.

"Will I be allowed in the courtroom while a jury is being drawn?" he inquired.

Assured that the defendant was always on hand, Wilson said that he would enjoy the courtroom session as a change from jail life.

State Highway Patrolman Hardy Matthews of Van Horn almost qualified as a second Barney Oldfield, making Sheriff Albert Anderson's driving tame and colorless, Wilson said.

"Matthews makes the most of his time on curves and seems to slide around them on two wheels. His idea of smoothing out a bumpy road is to step on the gas. I am always glad when Sheriff Anderson gets behind the wheel. When Anderson was driving, I had time to look at the scenery. I am getting so that I almost know the way to Van Horn now," Wilson said.

The Buffs pounded Jack Jakucki for five runs in the first inning to gain sufficient margin for an opening victory of 7-1. Henry "Cotton" Pippen chucked a 4-0 shutout in a seven-inning final.

SAN ANTONIO —San Antonio and Beaumont here Tuesday night, the game ended with a 3-3 deadlock because of a 10:30 time limit to allow both teams to catch trains. Joe Hare pitched nine innings, allowing seven hits, before passing out for a pinch batter and Vic Frazier finished. Earl Caldwell went the route for the Missions. The game will probably be played in Beaumont late this week, because of the close of the Texas league race.
