Proposed Pay Hike Claimed Not Adequate

Workers Also Say Company Is Not Facing A Loss

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 20. — The CIO United Auto Workers formally turned back the Ford Motor company's offer of a 12.4 per cent wage increase today on grounds that it was "totally inadequate" and threatened to "shackle" the union.

Ford's offer, amounting to 15 cents an hour and highest proposal from management thus far in the union's wage battle with the auto industry was further termed a "mockery" by the union, which objected to several Ford provisions.

Too Much Inflation

The auto union, which seeks an industry-wide 30 per cent wage increase, said the Ford offer was "inextricably tied in with other subjects—including a Ford demand that the union seek no further wage increase for two years even if OPA permits higher car prices.

"As you know," the union's reply said, "the union has fought very hard against price increases because we already have too much inflation and any further rise in prices threatens a breakdown of our economy.

"We obviously cannot undertake to shackle our membership so that they are bound not to seek relief in such an eventuality."

Increase Not Enough

The UAW-CIO, which speaks for approximately 100,000 Ford hourly paid workers, said the Ford offer would fail to "contribute sufficiently to the increase in purchasing power that is required if we are to avoid a disastrous breakdown of American economy."

The union also objected on grounds the proferred raise would not come in the form of a "blanket" increase.

"A great many workers might receive little or nothing at all," the union's reply to Ford said.

The union, which has demanded from Ford and other auto manufacturers a 30 per cent wage increase, took issue with a company statement that it faced a loss of $35,000,000 in 1946 even without an OPA car price increase.

"We do not believe that the company faces loss of $35,000,000 in 1946, "the UAW-CIO negotia-

British-American Naval Pact Signed For Attack Upon Truk

New Secrets Of Pre-War Days Are Aired In Hearing; Deadline Was Set For Japs

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — A Senate-House committee heard today that a British-American naval agreement—signed by Pacific fleet commanders Dec. 6, 1941—envisioned a U. S. attack against Truk if the Japanese went to war.

The agreement, signed by Admiral Thomas C. Hart, commander of the U. S. Asiatic fleet and Admiral Tom S. V. Phillips of the British Far Eastern fleet, went into the records of the committee investigating the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

It was read by William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, after Admiral R. K. Turner had testified the U. S. high command refused to approve previous proposed Allied war plans in the Pacific because the British fixed a "deadline" the Japanese shouldn't cross.

This deadline was a fixed spot the British felt was a first line of defense and any overt move by Japan to go beyond it would mean aggression to them.

The inquiry also brought out today a sharp disagreement among top Navy officers over whose job it was in 1941 to inform fleet commanders of international developments before the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

EXTENSION IS GRANTED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Congress today authorized a 41-day extension of its joint investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The extension, moving the deadline from Jan. 3 to Feb. 15, became effective after the House concurred in a Senate-approved resolution.

Agreement Reached

Turner told the committee that the joint operations plan signed by Hart and Phillips arrived at the Navy department here at 11 p. m., Dec. 6 and was not decoded until eight or nine hours later.

Hart and Phillips had agreed, subject to the approval of their governments and later by the Australians and the Dutch, for joint use of Singapore and Manila as naval bases.

The British were to base their battle fleet on Singapore, with four battleships, the Prince of Wales, Repulse, Revenge and Royal Sovereign. The United States was to supply four destroyers and the Dutch six.

Hart said that offensive opera-

Russia Asking Coastal Belt

(By The United Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 20. — The problem of Turkey was injected into the forefront of Big Three deliberations today when the Soviet official press prominently published a demand that Turkey turn over to Russia a strategic 5,500-square mile Black Sea coastal belt adjacent to the Soviet oil port of Batum.

The Soviet demand included the important Turkish port of Trabzon and a slice of coast about 110 miles long and roughly 50 miles deep extending south from the Russo-Turkish frontier on the Black sea.

Has Official Blessing

Simultaneous publication of the demand in all four of Moscow's major newspapers left no doubt that it had Soviet official blessing.

It was submitted as Generalissimo Stalin, deeply tanned and in excellent health, took a personal hand in the deliberations of the Big Three foreign ministers.

The Black sea belt lies just north of the Turkish provinces of Kars and Erzeum. The Soviet press has for some months been giving prominence to demands by Armenian nationalists that these two Turkish provinces be incorporated into Soviet Armenia.

Is First Mention

Today's demand for the coastal belt was the first mention of the area by Russia.

There was no comment on the new Soviet territorial demand from Secretary of States James F. Byrnes or Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. However, the text of the Soviet proposal as published in the Moscow press was quickly translated and placed before them for their study.

79th Congress Ends Session

Long Tally Of Things Undone Will Be Left

Solons To Leave Tonight To Come Back Jan. 14

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — The 79th Congress, which spanned the transition from war to peace and from President Roosevelt to President Truman, today ends the session it started last January 4.

Barring a last-minute upset in plans, it leaves the capital tonight to return January 14.

It leaves behind a record of stubbornness toward the man who last April moved from the vice-president's rostrum in the Senate to the White House office vacated by the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Has Made Voice Heard

It hasn't taken kindly, and certainly not eargerly, to many of the suggestions Harry S. Truman has made in almost a dozen special messages.

Although its tally of "things undone" is a long one, the 79th Congress made its voice heard 'round the world by the things it did.

It ratified the United Nations charter; it overwhelmingly enacted a law to give living effect to this country's participation in UNO; it appropriated new money to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration; it extended the lend-lease program and the reciprocal trade agreements act, and it wrote into law the Bretton Woods international monetary agreements.

In doing those things it followed the recommendations of both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman.

On Domestic Front

On the domestic front it:

Appropriated approximately $62,000,000,000 while a two-front war was in progress and then, after the last shots had been fired, took back some $52,000,000,000 of current and past year allotments that hadn't been used.

Extended the draft law until next May 15.

Raised the national debt limit to $300,000,000,000.

Extended price controls until the middle of 1946.

Rewrote the servicemen's G.I. Bill of Rights.

Cut income taxes and ordered repeal of the excess profits tax Jan. 1, 1946.

Approved Reorganization

Approved a governmental reorganization plan in response to a request from President Truman.

Simplified administration of surplus property disposal in accord with another presidential entreaty.

Compromised with the President on return of employment service

Midgets Will Wed Tonight

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (U.P.)—About the most solemn person in the capital city today is Waylon H. Galloway, while possibly the gayest and most excited is Rose Mary Copeland.

Both 45 inches tall, they are to be married at 7 o'clock tonight in the second (but biggest) wedding ceremony every held in the gracious Texas Senate chamber. Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and other state officials will attend. It will be the second midget wedding in Austin this year.

Feels Funny Inside

Waylon, 21, is just a couple of days out of the sick bed.

"I don't know whether I'm still sick now or not, but I never felt so funny on the inside," Waylon told Secretary of State Claude Isbell in whose office he works as a messenger. Waylon was a page in the last senate session.

But Rose Mary wasn't unnerved by any of the adulation she's received since arriving from Burbank, Calif., early Tuesday. She's been busy meeting state officials and Waylon's other friends.

She Is Thrilled

"It doesn't bother me a bit—isn't it wonderful?" the 22-year-old bride exclaimed. She was more than thrilled because she accepted Waylon's proposal via mail, though they'd not seen each other since school days three years ago in Vinita, Okla. Rose Mary went to Burbank five months ago to try for a movie career.

Rose Mary brought her white taffeta wedding dress from California. She's been shopping for accessories since arriving here.

Waylon has a wedding suit, too. It's dark blue, double-breasted. He'll wear a stiff-fronted white

Wreck Saves Youths From Gas Poisoning

HOUSTON, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—An auto accident was credited today with saving the lives of two youths.

Paul Wade and Jimmie Longshore were riding in a car which struck a parked auto last night. Wade was thrown against the windshield, breaking it.

When pulled from the car both complained of burning eyes and headaches. They said they couldn't remember any details of the accident.

At a hospital doctors discovered they were suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning. Upon investigation police found their car had a hole in the exhaust pipe through which the fumes passed into the car.

The gas had overcome the boys, police said, and the hole made in the windshield when Wade bumped it probably saved their lives.

New Queen Of The Skies Being Built In Fort Worth Factory

FORT WORTH, Dec. 20. (U.P.)—Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation's big plant out on the flats west of Fort Worth today was humming with activity reminiscent of the busy days of the war.

A new sky queen is being built in the near mile-long main Convair assembly plant—the B-36, biggest of all U. S. warbirds.

B-32 In Scrap Heap

In combat scarcely long enough to tarnish her factory finish, the new-but-already-old B-32 has been relegated to the scrap heap of the obsolete.

In her place, made by the same builders, will arise a new super-bomber, a six-engine flying mammoth.

Just how many of the sky giants have been ordered made at the $43,000,00 Consolidated plant was not revealed, but Roland G. Mayer, plant manager, said it would require three years to complete the order with the present employment schedule.

Workers To Be Kept

Right now there are 6,700 workers and soon there will be 7,500 with that peak to be maintained for at least three years.

Work on the B-36 actually began in earnest by V-J day. A top

People Have Money In Their Pockets And "Want The Best"

Gift Buying Hits Highest Level In History

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. — A buying public convinced that the best is none too good for the first peacetime Christmas in five years is boosting gift buying to the highest levels in history.

The average Christmas shopper is buying with abandon, retailers said, and is making his purchases at whatever price he has to pay.

The tendency toward more expensive gifts cannot be accounted for entirely by the lack of lower-priced items, retail store executives said.

A sharp increase in cash business in the higher-priced stores is attributed to an abundance of money in people's pockets and the fact that "they want the best and are buying it while they can."

New sales peaks are reported from all parts of the country.

Shopping has presented a real problem with shortages cutting deeply into many traditional gift lines. But lists have been revised, budgets have been upped and the rush for goods continues.

Women's handbags, better jewelry, men's lounge clothes, cosmetics, clothing of all kinds with emphasis on vacation apparel and evening wear, women's accessories and luxury furs all have had a big share in the Christmas business.

Demand For Mink Coats

An exclusive fur shop reported a great demand for mink coats from $6,000 up. Evening gowns costing $150 and more are so popular some stores cannot supply enough.

Interest in the moderate-priced stores is centered on their higher-priced merchandise, several reported. Handbags from $45 to $75 plus 20 per cent tax are "selling like hot cakes." Evening bags at $35 to $50, mink and sable scarves at $75 to $135 a skin, and toys in

General Marshall Arrives On Mission To End China Strife

Immediate Cessation Of Hostilities Is Being Sought By Chinese Communists

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20—General George C. Marshall arrived today on his mission to end internal strife in China—and as he stepped from his plane, Chinese Communists asked the government to agree to an immediate, unconditional cessation of hostilities, Lu Ting-Yi, Communist peace-parley delegate, told the Associated Press.

Marshall is expected to meet with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Nanking tomorrow to discuss the situation. The meeting will be their first since the Cairo conference.

To Seek Audience

Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa, at Chungking, reported the Communist move toward a cease-fire agreement, and said Lu also informed him that Red Leader Chou En-Lai would seek an audience to present the Communist case to Marshall.

The American special envoy stepped briskly from a C-54 transport plane from Manila at Shanghai's Kiangwan airfield this afternoon and proceeded to the Cathay hotel for conferences with Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer U. S. commander in China.

In Chungking yesterday, Central government and Communist leaders alike were reported ready to "go the limit" in making peace concessions to impress General Marshall. The date of the forthcoming peace parley between the two parties has not been announced.

To Fly Together

Marshall and Chiang are expected to fly together to Chungking later in the week for long conferences. Chiang, who has expressed pleasure over Marshall's temporary appointment to succeed Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley, arrived in Nanking yesterday to await the U. S. envoy.

From Yenan, Communist stronghold in Manchuria, Associated Press Correspondent John Roderick quoted a party spokesman as expressing "sincere hopes to reach a compromise with the

Fake Attack By Gestapo Aired

NUERNBERG, Dec. 20. (AP)—The first full story of the spark that set off World war II—a fake attack on a German radio station staged by Gestapo agents dressed in Polish army uniforms — was unfolded today before the international military tribunal.

As the war crimes trial was recessed for the Christmas holidays, American prosecutors submitted a Gestapo official's story of the raid, naming the assassinated hangman, Reinhard Heydrich, as the man who engineered the coup which Hitler used as the excuse for the Polish invasion — crying to the world that Germany had been attacked first.

Told In Affidavit

The story was told in the affidavit of Alfred Naujocks who said he led a company of Gestapo agents dressed in Polish uniforms in a raid on the German radio station at Gleiwitz on Aug. 31, 1939, the day before the invasion. The raiders broadcast incendiary remarks in Polish and then left the bullet-riddled bodies of drugged German concentration camp prisoners, also dressed in Polish uniforms, as "evidence," Naujocks said.

The affidavit was presented near the end of the session, when the TYLER, Dec. 20. (AP)—The first of the 36th (Texas) division have returned to Texas and are being processed here today. They arrived in two trains early this morning.

One train carrying 116 enlisted men and seven officers arrived at 5:10 a. m. The other, carrying 243 enlisted men and 16 officers, arrived at 8:30.

All of the men aboard the trains are not 36th division veterans, but officials said the bulk of them were.

The men were being processed this morning, and all except those who will remain at Camp Fannin for medical treatment should be home by Christmas.

Selective Service Orders Halt In Draft Of Fathers

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. —Demobilization took a welcome pre-Christmas leap today as the Army and Navy cut critical scores to make another 837,000 personnel eligible for discharge within the next two months.

The holiday season also brought good news on the draft front as selective service halted induction of all fathers. The draft now will be limited to single and childless married men aged 18-25, although fathers with fewer than three children will be permitted to volunteer.

Many Families United

Christmas this year will find many an American family united for the first time since Pearl Harbor. Since V-E day last May, 6,000,000 men and women have been released from service. Discharges are now running around 1,500,000 a month and are being stepped up.

The halt of the father draft was hailed on Capitol Hill. Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R.-W. Va.), who had been sponsoring legislation to halt the father draft, termed the action "very gratifying." He said he hoped "the Army will go farther and take care of those fathers now in the service."

The new Army-Navy discharge quota will be obtained by Army cuts of three to five points for enlisted men and women and most officers (55 to 50 for the enlisted personnel and 73 to 70 for male officers, other than those in the medical corps) effective Dec. 31, and by Navy cuts of one to eight points for all personnel effective

Vets Move Eastward As Rail Tieup Eased

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (AP) — About 125,000 restless Pacific veterans, stranded at West Coast ports for lack of sufficient transportation, are scheduled to begin heading eastward by rail today at the rate of 25,000 a day.

New arrivals, however, will replenish the backlog and some 90,000 men will have to spend Christmas day at the ports, Army and Navy officials explained.

Twelfth Naval district headquarters said a new and substantially increased allotment of railway equipment will give some relief.

San Francisco yesterday had 50,243 service men awaiting transportation, and insufficient housing for them.

Denver, key transportation point for rail movements eastward, reported the transport system further jammed by families going westward to join the returning men.

A case of smallpox aboard the Gruney, due to dock today at Portland, will delay unloading of 1861 men.

Ceilings On Citrus Products Suspended

WASHINGTON Dec. 20. (AP)—Price ceilings on canned citrus juices and other processed citrus products will be suspended for an indefinite period beginning Dec. 24.

Carrying out previously announced intentions in a formal order, OPA said it does not expect that the suspension will increase the average prices of these products.

It said that because of an abundant supply of citrus fruits available from this year's crop, processors will put up the largest pack of processed citrus in history. In addition, the agency said, government set-asides have been discontinued and federal requirements from this year's marketings represents only a small percentage of the amount taken in recent years.

MacArthur Threatens To Quit If Russians Allowed In Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. (U.P.) — The American Broadcasting company said today that Russian troops will not participate in the occupation of Japan as a result of a disagreement between General Douglas MacArthur and the Soviets over which of the home islands the Russians would occupy

Larry Tighe, ABC correspondent, said in a broadcast from Tokyo, the break came after Gen. MacArthur reportedly told the State department yesterday that if he was not left alone, and if Russia was allowed any further participation in occupation affairs, he would resign.

"Over a long period of time MacArthur and the Russians have been dickering over the problem of the Russian occupation of Japan," Tighe said.

"First the Russians wanted to bring an Army over here. MacArthur flatly said 'No'. He would permit them to bring only one division.

"Finally, the Russians agreed, but insisted that they be allowed to occupy Hokkaido, the northernmost of the main Japanese islands.

"MacArthur again said 'No', with the implication that if the Russians ever got into Hokkaido

New Blizzard Blankets Wide Section Today

Warmer Weather Is Forecast In Plains Region

(By The United Press)

Scores of eastern communities were snowbound today as winter gripped most of the nation. At least 72 persns were known dead.

Suffering threatened to become acute as the eastern seaboard fought a swirling blizzard with wornout snow plows and undermanned crews.

Blanketed In Snow

The northeast quarter of the nation was blanketed in snow from the Atlantic coast to the wheat fields of Kansas and from the Canadian border as far south as Virginia.

At least two men in the New York City area dropped dead as they struggled through the knee deep snow. The snow there was expected to end before noon after falling steadily for more than 24 hours.

Fresh snow fall wiped out efforts to dig out the Buffalo, N. Y., railroad yards where a shipping bottleneck threatened to stop shipments of fuel and food to populous coastal areas. A state of emergency had been declared in Buffalo, and an embargo placed on all incoming rail shipments.

Planes Are Grounded

Planes were grounded in most areas east of Chicago. Trains were running late. Roads were clogged as far south as the Carolinas. Long distance telephone calls from New York to Florida and Oregon were delayed as much as two to four hours by the storm.

The storms delayed troop arrivals on both coasts. Ships were halted outside San Francisco harbor because of the jam of troops waiting for rail transportation tied up east of the Rocky mountains. Transports were unable to enter New York harbor because of the blinding blizzard.

Forced To Walk

Near Osceola, Ark., three hunting companions forced weary, youthful William Chiles at gunpoint to keep walking to keep from freezing to death when he fell into the Mississippi river while they were lost in the fog shrouded marshes.

Second Death March Bared

MANILA, Dec. 20. (AP)—A second "death march" in the precipitous mountains of northern Luzon, in which exhausted and emaciated American prisoners of war were pushed over cliffs, was charged today against Japanese Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma.

More than 100 sick prisoners were made to act as "pack animals" for hauling Japanese arms and supplies into the rugged country to fight guerrillas, said the formal charges.

Lt. Col. Frank E. Meek of Caldwell, Idaho, chief prosecutor in Homma's trial slated for January 3, announced the additional specifications.

To Offer Evidence

Meek said he would introduce evidence to show that Homma actually witnessed the first "death march" from Bataan, while lolling in an automobile. Homma is accused of responsibility for atrocities involving the death of 67,000 American and Filipino war prisoners.

A 12-page deposition from Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, just received in Manila, will show that Homma was "utterly unscrupulous" in his dealings with the American commander, Meek added.

Woman Writes Letter To Son, Hangs Self

HOUSTON, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—Rosie Schuere, 48, wrote a long letter to her soldier son, overseas three years, who would not be home for Christmas and then walked to the corn bin on her farm and hanged herself officers said today.

Mrs. Schuere had been despondent because of her son's long tour of duty overseas, her family reported.

An appeal was made through the Red Cross a few months ago when she became ill asking for her son's immediate return. After an Army rejection of the plea, she gave up hope of his return and last night ended her life, police said.

Court Hears Of POW Shooting

MONTEREY, Calif., Dec. 20 (AP) —Two witnesses testified at the general court martial of Cpl. James O. Provost of Lafayette, La., at Fort Ord today that he fatally shot a German prisoner of war December 3 after shouting: "You—, when I tell you to go somewhere or do something you do it!"

Members of the court were told at the outset that the charge was "premeditated, deliberate homicide" and were asked to declare themselves if they had any prejudices against the death penalty.

Witnesses who said they saw the shooting of Richard A. Mangold were Buy L. Murphy and Frank S. Waddack, both civilian employes at Fort Ord.

They testified Provost was pointing his rifle at Mangold and occasionally prodding him. The German had his hands in the air and appeared to be "extremely frightened."

The German, the witnesses continued, ran to them and Provost chased him away. The German then tried to run back into the building and, according to the witnesses, Provost fired five shots, two hitting the prisoner, who fell at the club doorway.

Both witnesses testified that Provost was angry and red in the face.

After the shooting, when Provost and Waddak were in the club telephoning a report, the soldier, the witness testified, said:

"Tried To Steal Rifle"

"I'm tired of taking this crap off these fellows."

Waddak said Provost told him that he had been reading a newspaper in the club just before the incident and the German, apparently thinking he was dozing, attempted to "slip up and steal his rifle."

Provost, a member of the Prisoner of War section of the Fort Ord service command, is married and the father of a small child, his family living at Seaside, near Fort Ord. His wife and child were in court today.

Truman Signs UNRRA Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP) — President Truman today signed legislation authorizing an additional appropriation of $1,350,000,000 for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

None of the money in the new authorization has been appropriated, but a large portion of it may be included in a pendin gdeficiency supply bill slated for final congressional action this week.

MEDAL AWARDED

TOKYO, Dec. 20. (AP) — The Navy's distinguished service medal was awarded today to Maj. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce, Temple, Tex., commander of the 77th infantry division. The award was made for "determined initiative and indomitable courage in the fierce drive toward the recapture of Guam" in 1944.

OPA Advisor Asks More Holiday Sugar

HOUSTON, Dec. 20 (U.P.) — After a rejection of his first appeal Joe Weingarten, Houston grocer and advisor to the OPA, today appealed to President Truman again to validate sugar stamp 39 before Christmas.

An original request to Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, was turned down after which Weingarten turned his guns on the President. Through the Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson the President replied that putting the stamp, scheduled for use after Jan. 1, in use before Christmas would create a "tight situation" in sugar in the next few months.

In his second appeal telegraphed to the President last night Weingarten said:

"This won't take a bit more sugar out of the stockpile. It will only let folks use the sugar stamp a little earlier, when they need it most, and it will make millions and millions of housewives glad as nothing else will."

He closed the wire with:

"You will never have done a kinder or more sensible thing and one that will please so many people and hurt no one."

Job Referrals Here Only 90 In Week

According to the weekly U. S. Employment Service report, released for the week ending Wednesday, there were only 90 persons referred to local jobs by the USES, showing a sharp decline from figures that have ranged up to and above 300.

There were 52 men and 38 women sent from the USES office, 1114 Tenth, during the period to prospective jobs and only 53 of this group were hired, including 37 men and 16 women, the survey shows.

There were 179 job openings listed on the labor market report with 149 persons registered as wanting jobs, the latter figure including 111 veterans.

Veteran contacts at the office totaled 281, also a decline from the past figures.

Principal demand for labor came for services, (cooks, maides, waitresses, etc.), with 79 needed; 44 skilled workers were sought; 37 clerical and sales workers; 10 unskilled workers; and nine semi-skilled were requested by local employers.

TWICE REPORTED DEAD

BASIN, Wyo. (U.P.)—Like the old Mark Twain saying, reports of the death of Harry Rosenberry were doubly exaggerated. Rosenberry, son of Mrs. Myrtle Rosenberry, former Basin resident, first was reported killed in the Philippines. Memorial services were held for him in Basin. Next came another report that he had been killed in action. The latest report is that he has been liberated from a Japanese prison camp and is on his way home.

Probe Board Ponders Union's Right To Inspect GM Profits

By FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The question today before the President's fact-finding board in the General Motors wage dispute is whether a labor union can force an employer to open his books to prove his ability or lack of ability to meet demands for higher pay.

The issue is a new one and may seem academic, but it has thrown 175,000 employes of the giant motor concern into idleness for a month. And it is the reason why men are walking cold and snowy picket lines in the nearly one hundred locations where General Motors used to make automobiles or parts for them.

It is cold and snowy in Washington, too, but it is warm in the hotels lodging the dozen spokesmen for the corporation and the score who are here for the CIO United Automobile workers. And it is warm in the government hall where the arguments are going on—possibly warmer because of the arguments.

Reuther Voices Demands

Red-haired Walter Reuther, sparkplug of the strike against General Motors, is here to emphasize his demand for the corporation's "arithmetic". He wants its figures on wartime profits and financial reserves, how many cars it expects to make next year, what it sells them for, how much income it expects, how much profit it anticipates, and how much of the profit should be diverted from stockholders to the workers. If that doesn't justify a 30 per cent boost in basic pay, how much should it be, he wants to know.

Gray-haired Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, will cite the corporation argument, which in part is:

"While the union has accused us of many things it has never claimed that we have made our profits by paying low wages . . . and while paying high wages, General Motors has a record of making good earnings . . . General Motors has sold its products at competitive prices, based upon competitive values, has paid competitive prices for all goods purchased and all services rendered and has paid high wages.

"Profits A Fair Return"

"The profits it has earned under these circumstances have been a fair and proper return to those who have invested their savings in General Motors. Such profits have no relationship to wages. Therefore, General Motors holds that 'ability to pay' is not an economic factor in wage determination."

Mr. Wilson appears here as champion of the traditional system of adjusting wage questions—through bargaining toward a compromise. Mr. Reuther injects the new idea of basing wages on the employer's profits, past and potential. Mr. Reuther's idea departs from the doctrine of older labor leaders—Samuel Gompers and others—that wages should not be tied to anything, such as cost-of-living figures or corporation profits, because if they are so tied they would have to go up and down with changes in the business cycle.

The old-line labor idea was that wages must always go up and never down.

Lloyd K. Garrison, chairman of the presidential board in the GM wage dispute, recognized the implications of the decision about whether to set up a new wage standard by going into the books of employers.

Good Government Involved

"We want to make that decision with deliberation," he said, "and with a full recognition of its importance. . . . Good government is involved."

Mr. Garrison was asked to enlarge upon the importance of the issue, and he said he did not wish to do so because any statement might be regarded as "possibly seeming to take sides."

Mr. Garrison could not recall any previous situation in which a government board had gone into an employer's ability to pay wage demands. He said his board had a "completely open mind" on whether the policy should be adopted in this case.

In the background stands Congress, and one branch of it, the House, is conservative. If any fact-finding board attempts to bring a new element into the labor-management picture, like looking at employers' books, some elements in Congress would call it socialistic, and would balk at giving the fact-finding boards the statutory backing they now lack.

Decision Reversed On Lubbock Traffic Case

AUSTIN, Dec. 20 (AP)—A court of Criminal Appeals reversal of a trial court judgment which assessed a fine for failure of a driver to display a driver's license upon demand will be studied in view of its effect upon the present license law, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the department of public safety, indicated today.

The trial court fined C. R. Barber of Lubbock $200 for failure to display an automobile operator's license upon demand of a peace officer. The appeal court in reversing the judgment, ruled that the state statute under which Barber was "apparently" fined reads that every "licensee" shall have his license in his possession at all times.

Judge Lloyd W. Davidson's opinion said it was necessary to allege and prove that the accused was a licensee since the statute applies specifically to a licensee. Barber was not proved a licensee.

In another decision the Court of Criminal Appeals today overruled a motion for rehearing the appeal of Alfred Homer Keeton, convicted of rape in Lubbock county.

Keeton had been given a 25-year sentence in trial court. On his first appeal, the intermediate court found no reversible error and affirmed the conviction.

Wainwright In Favor Of Long Occupation

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 20. (AP)—"We should keep a large army of occupation in both Germany and Japan for 15 or 20 years," Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright said here today.

The hero of Bataan arrived here at 11:15 a. m. for a visit.

Asked what was the thing that caused him the most worry while he was in various Jap prisons, he said: "I worried a good deal about the outcome of the war."

"I never had any doubt that we would win in the end," he said, "but the question was whether I would live that long.

Of proposed Army and Navy merger he said: "I'm for it 100 per cent. It would mean a lot for the problem of economy and supply."

Condition Of Crash Victim Is Critical

The condition of Mrs. Glenn Thrush of route 1, Lubbock, who was injured in a two-car collision Wednesday afternoon near the city limits on the Idalou highway, was said to be "critical" by attendants at West Texas hospital today.

Merger Plans Being Fought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP) — Opposing congressional lines in the battle of the merger showed no signs of cracking today despite President Truman's flat request that Army, Navy and Air Forces be unified under a single civilian secretary.

First members of the House and Senate military committees to comment were for the plan, as they have been all along. Members of the naval committees were still against it.

Quick Action Favored

Only committee member deviating from this lineup was Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House military group. He already had joined with Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) of the House naval committee in proposing a separate Air Force with cabinet representation instead of a merger of the services.

Senator Hill (D-Ala), a military committee member and author of one unification bill, declared "I favor closing hearings at once and starting to work on legislation. There are no material differences between the president's basic plan and the bills on which we have held hearings."

Vinson loosed a bitter blast against the White House proposal.

"It would concentrate the greatest military power in the world today in the hands of one man, a man not responsible to the electorate or Congress, a military chief of staff of the combined forces that includes the national guard of the sovereign states," the naval committee chairman said in a statement.

"The hand of this supreme chief of staff would be on the latch string of every home in the nation, and, by his control of the largest item in the national budget, it would rest also on every purse string."

Turkeys Costly In China, Yanks Find

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20 (AP)—Army quartermaster troops searched most of China for Christmas turkeys—reaching at last, via landing barges, an island 100 miles south of Shanghai.

Rumors proved true. Turkeys indeed were plentiful—but word of inflation had preceded the G. I.'s. Residents asked $4 a pound, in good U. S. money, for their birds.

A wonderful bird is the pelican
There is a well-known little verse about the pelican and his gift for gobbling up more than he can swallow.
A parallel is the UAW-CIO demand for higher wages from General Motors.
For General Motors' wages are already high.
In fact, in the last peacetime year, the income of the average GM worker fell in the top third of all incomes in the United States.
We believe in high wages! But we also believe that when wages are already high, the question arises whether further cost reductions that management can bring about may not well be used to lower prices or improve products.
Lowering prices or improving products benefits everybody. Customers get more for their money. The company's business grows. And the growing business is able to employ more and more people.
Wider employment serves the national welfare—and should be a primary objective of all of us.
Unfortunately, many people are too apt to place their own interests above the national welfare.

Yule Holidays Are Extended

Beginning Saturday, Dec. 22, most government offices here will take advantage of Christmas falling on Tuesday to take short vacations until Wednesday, Dec. 26, a survey reveals.

A recent directive limited federal workers to 40 hours per week, closing most local offices on Saturday, thus enabling workers to take a four-day holiday at Christmas time.

Two Days For New Years

Most offices also announced their intentions of closing both Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 for New Year's observance. Two Saturdays, Dec. 29 and Jan 5, however, will find the offices open, as is not the custom, to make up for the extra holidays.

The Post Office and the U. S. Army recruiting station will close on Dec. 25 and Jan. 1 only.

The U. S. Navy and Marine recruiting offices, not closed on Saturdays, will observe two-day holidays on Monday and Tuesday of both holidays.

Dec. 24, 25, 31 and Jan. 1 will find closed the U. S. Employment Service, the Agriculture Adjustment Agency, the Farm Security administration, the Social Security board, the Office of Price administration area rent office, the Veteran's administration and the Income Tax offices.

Compensation Opening

The FSA will remain open Saturday, Dec. 22, and Dec. 29 to compensate for the two Mondays lost by vacation.

The other offices will open the two Saturdays following Christmas day, Dec. 29 and Jan. 5. The Veteran's office in the Lubbock National Bank building is usually open on Saturday but will close on the one before Christmas unless directive stating otherwise is received.

R. E. Key, area rent director, said his office would be closed as usual on Saturday, except Dec. 29 and Jan. 5, and announced new office hours of 9 a. m., to 4 p. m.

Inquest Shows Foul Play In Man's Death

CARRIZOZO N. M., Dec. 20. (AP) A coroner's jury today attributed to foul play the death of John H. Shankland, discharged soldier from Fort Bliss, Tex., whose body was found along the Southern Pacific railroad 44 miles west of here.

Sheriff Nick Vega reported testimony showed Shankland fell or was pushed from the train on which he was en route to Ohio. The inquest was held at Tularosa.

Movie Greats Are On Hand For First Showing Of Picture

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20.—Three to four thousand fans gathered at the Carthay Circle theater last night to watch the swells arrive for "Leave Her to Heaven." With six searchlights brightening the sky it was one of the biggest premieres since the war . . . Tyrone Power received the biggest ovation. He looked handsome in his new civilian suit . . . Cornell Wilde won the second loudest applause . . . Bebe Daniels also received a big hand from remembering fans . . . Two steady twosomes: Platinum Lana Turner and Robert Hutton; June Haver and Victor Mature . . . A young duo: Roddy McDowell and Jane Powell . . . John Payne and his expectant wife, Gloria De Haven . . . Ella Raines and Lawyer Gregg Bautzer.

"Leave Her to Heaven" (20th-Fox—110 minutes) is movie melodrama with an impact. Fairly faithful to the Ben Ames Williams book, it details the life of a woman who is capable of anything, including murder. Gene Tierney plays the title role and is even more impressive than in "Laura."

Reports indicate Priscilla Lane might return to the screen . . . Russell Hayden is out of the Navy . . . Ann Richards birthday is today so she'll compromise and celebrate it and Christmas on the 23rd . . . Brian Donlevy is tired of having his pictures backlogged at Paramount and won't re-sign. He may produce his own . . . Venessa Brown, 17-year-old ex-quiz kiddie, draws a role in "Margie" with Jeanne Crain . . . Ginger Rogers and hubby, Jack Briggs, just out of the Marines, were holding hands at Ciro's.

LSU Eleven Sends Ball To Sick Fan

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 20 (AP)—Five-year-old Billy Bonifay, recovering from lockjaw in a hospital here, today received a special gift from his special heroes—an autographed football from members of the Louisiana State university football team.

Son of Lt. Col. Bonifay of Tyler, Texas, LSU graduate in 1937, Billy developed lockjaw after a car accident Oct. 14 as he was returning to Tyler with his parents after the LSU-Texas A. and M. game.

Spokesman for the team in the presentation was Gene Knight, ace Tiger fullback. Billy's comment, from a wheelchair, was a king-size grin.

OPA Tries To Retain Price Controls As Inflation Curb

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—OPA is fighting a critical two-front war: To keep price controls and to battle what it considers inflation psychology.

Top OPA men, and other government officials, have done a lot of talking before Congress and business groups.

They seem to be saying the same thing over and over. They are.

This is what they're shooting at, and the reasoning behind the shooting:

Under the law, price control ends next June 30. Congress can extend it for another six months or year beyond that date, or let it die June 30.

Or Congress can kill price control anytime between now and June 30.

Want End Of Control

Some of the most powerful business groups want price control ended in February. Those groups have great weight in Congress.

But the idea that price control might end in February creates a psychology of inflation. In this way:

Business men, if they believe price control will end in February, will be inclined to hold back until then goods they'd have released now.

The reason: Now they must sell at OPA prices. With price control off in February, they could charge anything.

Some business men now are writing contracts which say in effect:

This is the price of the goods now. But if it's delivered after price control is gone, the price will be higher.

Market, Real Estate Up

The inflationary mood of the country—in cases where there is no price control—can be seen in the spurting prices on the stock market and in real estate. Both are being used for speculation.

OPA boss Chester Bowles' chief economic advisor, Richard V. Gilbert, recently told a New York business group: "The inflationary psychology is just beginning to take hold.

"It has not yet reached unmanageable proportions. But every day that passes sees it grow. The evidence is plain. Inflation is being talked about and talked up in clubs, parlor cars, and wherever business men congregate."

National Groups Voice Wants

The National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) wants price control ended by Feb. 15. The National Retail Dry Goods association wants almost all price control ended by Feb. 1. The National Association of Real Estate boards wants rent controls ended as "rapidly as possible" and no price controls at all on building materials or new homes.

Bowles told the NAM at its convention that its recommendation to end price control two months from now was "reckless in the extreme."

Bowles has price controls on building materials, intends to keep them. He has control of rents. He wants to keep that, with housing critically scarce and no real relief in sight for a year or more.

He has no price controls on sale of home but thinks there should be. So does President Truman.

Should Vote Extension

What OPA people want—although only Gilbert so far has said so—is this:

Congress, in order to destroy the inflationary psychology, should vote now to extend price control from June 30, 1946, to June 30, 1947.

(Ordinarily, Congress wouldn't get around to consider an extension of OPA price control powers until close to June 30. There's no indication that it will extend them at all, much less act now to extend them).

House Joins Senate In Palestine Plea

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP) — The House approved today a Senate-passed resolution calling on the government to "use its good offices" with Great Britain to permit free entry of Jews into Palestine.

Action was on a voice vote, after members refused, 133 to 36, to send the measure back to committee.

The legislation represents an expression of congressional opinion, and is not binding on the President.

Passage came despite member arguments that the bill:

(1) "Is a slap at the President, State department, and Great Britain"; (2) Would provoke trouble with Arabs in the Far East; and (3) Would promote anti-Semitism by aiding creation of a Jewish state in Palestine.

Shanghai Is City Of Beauty As Night Hides Dirt, Misery

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20 (AP)—This is goodbye to Shanghai, a wise child that was born with whiskers.

It is almost dawn. The lights along the waterfront gleam like a rhinestone necklace on the sweaty throat of an ebony dancer on a darkened stage.

Red and white beams from afar mark the positions of American warships riding in the muddy Whangpoo.

Night has hidden the squalor and misery of Shanghai.

By day this combination Babylon, Sodom and Wall Street of modern Asia is a festering wound that has never healed. But now it is solely beauty.

Foreign Bells Ring

Electric-lit windows beam in the tall concrete towers built by foreign wealth, and foreign bells such as no Chinese temple ever knew mark the passing hour.

A jeep rolls incongruously through a patch of light. A rickshaw coolie, padding in bare feet on the cold street, stares at the jeep with the dull hatred which muscled life must feel for the machine.

The historic Bund is almost deserted. It is one of the world's promenade streets.

Now each night there are fewer white men and fewer white men's ships in the harbor, and the Chinese are giving the Bund a new name as China flows back to her own.

Noises Are Stilled

The throb of trade and the chatter of money changers is stilled now. Wicked, weary Shanghai has sunk into rest of a sort. The girl who peddles blackjacks and the man who sells lewd pictures under the girders of Soochow creek bridge have gone home to their families.

Children and adults, lie like sleeping cattle on the small boats jammed bow to stern in Soochow creek.

Crowded among hens in small boxes inboard, the roosters of each boat bugle at one another in anticipation of another of the millions of mornings that have dawned in China without change. Now they actually herald a new day, and no man can say, for no man knows, where its sun will set.

Communists In China Free Marine Fliers

TIENTSIN, China, Dec. 20 (AP) —Six Marine fliers who were held in Chinese Communist custody more than a month made their way into this U. S. Marine headquarters today after the Communists had escorted them much of the way.

All six were in good physical condition.

Taken before Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey, commander of the Marine Third Amphibious force, they beamed "this is the best Christmas present we could get."

One Dies, One Hurt In Crossing Wrecks

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 20 (AP) — One man was killed and another seriously injured in two separate grade crossing accidents involving Missouri Pacific trains here yesterday.

Lorenzo Dell Kincaid, whose papers gave his resident as Burnet, Texas, was instantly killed today when a train was in collision with his trucks.

C. S. Peacock, 55, is in a hospital suffering severe bruises, lacerations about the head and shock as a result of a similar accident in the northwest section of the city.

Congress To End Session

offices to the states by ordering their return around next April 1 instead of retaining them under federal control until mid-1947 as Mr. Truman wanted.

Voted its 435 House members annual expense allowances of $2,500 each, which the Senate declined to approve for itself.

Action Is Deferred

But Congress put off until next year action on:

The multi-billion British loan proposal.

Pensions and pay raises for Congressmen.

Universal military training.

Merger of the armed services.

So-called "full employment" legislation.

Creation of fact-finding machinery to handle major labor disputes.

Liberalization of unemployment compensation rates.

Establishment of a permanent fair employment practice committee.

Increases in current statutory minimum wages.

Disposal of war-created merchant shipping surpluses, and

Legislation setting up domestic control over atomic energy.

Bid Flatly Rejected

The lawmakers flatly rejected the President's bid for new labor legislation by Christmas; months earlier they refused to enact a work-or-fight law despite White House insistence; and they didn't get out of committees a Truman request for repeal of the Johnson act restricting loans to foreign nations in default on their debts.

The House passed but the Senate shelved a proposal that both branches of Congress, rather than two-thirds of the Senate only, ratify treaties.

The same fate befell a suggestion of Mr. Truman that the Speaker of the House rather than the Secretary of State become President should both the President and vice president die.

The House refused to go along with the Senate and with the President on unemployment compensation law revisions; and it toned down sharply the so-called full-employment bill the Senate passed. A final verdict was left until next year.

Class By Itself

In investigations, the 79th Congress was in a class by itself. Through committees it undertook more or less extensive inquiries into the Pearl Harbor attack, the State department program in China, food, the financial transactions of Elliott Roosevelt, and the operation of veterans' hospitals.

On the very first day of the session the House made permanent its committee on un-American activities.

The legislators weren't backwards in the matter of travel, either. The summer vacation cut short by Japan's surrender found scores of them visiting and investigating in scattered corners of the globe.

Only a few odds-and-ends remained to be tied together before the final gavel falls today. A Senate-House dispute over a dam in the Dakotas is holding up a $2,400,000,000 deficiency supply bill containing $750,000,000 for UNRRA, and a minor Senate amendment needs House approval before a bill extending the second war powers act goes to the White House.

Senate confirmation also is pending for Mr. Truman's slate of UNO delegates, headed by former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, jr., and including Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late President.

Scores Lowered

on three dates—Jan. 1, Jan. 15 and Feb. 2.

Here are the details of the new Navy point scores:

Vice Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval personnel, said the point reductions mean that about one-half of the 3,000,000 reservists subject to demobilization will have been returned to civilian life by Feb. 1. The percentage will increase to two-thirds by April 1.

Score To Be Cut

The present score of 38 for most enlisted men will be cut to 36 on Jan. 1, to 35 on Jan. 15 and to 34 on Feb. 2. The score for most male officers, now 44, will be cut by one point in each instance to 41 on Feb. 2.

The score for Wave personnel will be reduced from 30 to 29 on Jan. 1 and to 28 on Feb. 2 for officers and from 24 to 23 on Jan. 1 and to 22 on Feb. 2 for enlisted personnel. The score for nurses will be cut from 32 to 29 points on Jan. 1.

Other point changes:

Male doctors — Cut from 53 to 51 on Jan. 1 and to 50 on Feb. 2.

Mailmen — An eight-point cut from 44 to 36 for male personnel and a three-point cut from 29 to 26 for female personnel on Feb. 2 with no reduction before that time.

Punch operators and shore patrol specialists, physical therapy personnel, hospital corpsmen and other specialists will become eligible for discharge under the point system for the first time on Jan. 1. Their scores were set at 23 to 44 points with reductions of from one to three points on Feb. 2.

Gift Buying

the $25 to $75 brackets are among things the average customer is buying without blinking an eye, stores said.

Supplies Running Short

One reported men's lounge clothes at $50, $75 and $100 are popular and more men's jewelry than usual is in demand at $35 and up.

Most retailers said predictions that store shelves would be bare by Dec. 25 are exaggerations, but added that in certain lines, such as hosiery, lingerie, men's clothing and accessories and other textiles, goods will be near rock bottom by the end of the gift-buying rush.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Cotton futures charted an irregular course today in routine trading featured by considerable switching operations prior to the year-end. Scattered hedge selling and liquidation depressed prices as much as 40 cents a bale in early dealings but the market displayed rallying tendencies on mill buying and local covering which met only limited offerings. Foreign buying of cotton here was reported active although details were not available.

The Bureau of Census reported cotton ginnings to December 13 at 7,733,761 bales, a decrease of approximately 2,799,000 bales from the last year. Ginnings for the first half of December, however, were moderately better than a similar period of 1944.

Dismissal Of Murder Charge Is Refused

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 20. (UP)—Denouncing the defendant as an "exhibitionist," a district judge refused today to dismiss a murder charge against Mrs. Rose Carlan in the death of her "kidnaped" baby son Ronnie, but admitted her to bail so she could spend the Christmas season with her family.

"Since the medical examiner's report is not complete, I have no alternative but to continue this case and place her under bail," Judge John W. MacLeod said. He continued the case until Jan. 10 and set bail at $2,500, which Defense Counsel Francis E. Kelly said probably would be raised.

Truman Is Unable To Come To Texas

AUSTIN, Dec. 20 (UP)—President Truman has telegraphed Gov. Coke R. Stevenson his regret that he will be unable to attend and be principal speaker at ceremonies planned here Feb. 19 on the centennial anniversary of the end of the Republic of Texas.

A reproduction of the exercises that took place in Austin when the Lone Star was run down from the flagstaff on the Texas capitol and the Stars and Stripes run up has been planned on the approximate site of the old capitol where the transfer of government took place.

The President said that he would be unable to make a trip to Texas at the time.

Poison Bullets Used By Nazis

NUERNBERG, Dec. 20. (AP)—Nazi elite guard (SS) surgeons fired poisoned bullets into concentration camp prisoners and carefully recorded the symptoms accompanying slow death for the victims, according to German documents disclosed today at the war crimes trial of a score of Hitler's highest leaders.

Details of the notorious activities of the black-shirted elite guard were unfolded before the international military tribunal by American prosecutors to support their charges that the SS and five other once-powerful Nazi organizations should be convicted as criminal groups.

Three Of Five Dead

The poisoned bullet experiments resulted in the deaths of three out of five prisoners selected, SS records disclosed.

The prosecution also recounted the experiments, previously reported at the Dachau war crimes trial, in which women prisoners were used to rewarm frozen men with the heat of their naked bodies.

The scientists eventually reported that the experimehts, conducted for the Air Force and Navy, disclosed that the practice of rewarming with women's bodies was inferior to "rapid rewarming" by artificial means.

As the court session headed toward a Christmas fortnight adjournment late today, only 20 of the 22 accused Nazi leaders were in the prisoners box.

Concerned For Life

Security Police Chief Ernst Kaltenbrunner, suffering from a recurrence of a cranial hemorrhage, was reported in somewhat improved condition but Army hospital physicians were still concerned for his life. The 22nd defendant, Martin Bormann, is still missing and is being tried in absentia.

Human beings used in the deadly experiments by the SS should be selected from the "mentally sick," according to an order of Heinrich Himmler, chief of the SS and gestapo, read to the court. "Bedridden prisoners are to be drafted for desirable work which they can perform in bed," Himmler decreed.

By Himmler's command, women prisoners were used to beat other women's camp inmates and similar policy was followed in men's camps.

SS men, according to another Himmler order, were enjoined to sire children—legitimate or otherwise at every opportunity.

Kuomintang party.

The spokesman for the powerful Red central committee recalled there had been many American diplomats and Army officers who had been "extremely fair in their dealings with Communists and, by their impartial reports, had made invaluable contributions toward the growth of Sino-American friendship."

He expressed belief President Truman and General Marshall were aware of "the fact there had been others who had been less helpful."

In flag-bedecked Shanghai, General Wedemeyer and Walter Robertson, acting U. S. minister to Chungking, met General Marshall.

Sailor Thumbs Ride Home For Christmas

HOUSTON, Dec. 20 (UP) — By waiving his thumb sailor Jimmy Krekos broke his transportation bottleneck on the West Coast.

Krekos had enough leave from his ship in San Diego, Calif., to spend Christmas with his family in Houston but was told he couldn't get a seat on a train or plane.

So he walked to the highway outside of San Diego and started thumbing. The first driver stopped and asked:

"Where are you going, sailor?"

"Houston, Texas."

"Fine. I'm heading for San Antonio. Can you drive?"

Jimmy could and 26 hours later he was in San Antonio. Six hours later he was home.

Intended Victim Gets Mad And Invites Robber To Fight Him

HOUSTON, Dec. 20. (UP)—Ben Bader, 64-year-old butcher, isn't very big but he looked plenty tough today to a couple of would-be robbers.

When Bader opened his store at 5 a.m. he was met by a youth dressed in a dark suit, large cowboy hat and with a black handkerchief tied over his nose.

"Step inside" said the would-be bandit, pointing a blue steel automatic at Bader's stomach.

That made Bader mad. "Just start shootin'," he replied. "I'm not giving you anything." Then as he thought it over he got madder and madder. "And if you'll just step into the street I'll whip you fair and square."

Bader made a pass for the gun and the bandit yelled to a companion who stepped out of a nearby alley. Then both fled.

Bader declined to say how much money was in his cash register. "That would be an open invitation for someone else."

Waylon saw the Swensens married here in June.

For the double-ring ceremony tonight, an altar of ferns and chryanthemums has been improvised in the Senate chamber. It will be flanked by elevated candelabra holding white tapers. Dr. W. R. White of the First Baptist church will officiate.

And after the ceremony there'll be an informal reception—when the Galloways will cut a three-tiered wedding cake—in one of the Senate committee rooms. The other wedding in the Senate chamber was that of a former senator.

Rose Mary will wear a blue going-away suit. Isbell and other friends have engaged the bridal suite in a local hotel for the honeymoon. Later the couple will visit relatives at Canton and at Wills Point where Waylon was born. Then Waylon about Jan. 2 will resume his state duties and Mrs. Galloway will begin housekeeping.

tribunal recessed the trial until Jan. 2 over the protest of Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, who said another week will be needed after the holiday to complete the American case against the 22 Nazi leaders and six organizations on trial.

Criminals Were Used

Naujocks, in his affidavit, said the fake attack with a company of disguised Gestapo men "should make it appear that Polish soldiers were attacking German troops."

"Mueller (another Gestapo official) stated he had 12 or 13 condemned criminals who were to be dressed in Polish uniforms and left dead on the ground of the scene of the incident to show they had been killed while attacking.

"We seized the radio station as ordered, broadcast a speech of three or four minutes over the emergency transmitter, fired some pistol shots and left," Naujocks said.

"MacArthur's answer to that amounted to 'all right, don't send an occupation force. We don't need it anyway."

Tighe concluded by saying that he was informed that the Russians now have 60 divisions massed on the Russo - Manchurian border where they only had 38 divisions when the war ended.

Turner, former chief of Navy war plans, told the committee there were "two objectionable features" to the previously proposed plans for Allied action against the Japanese, which were developed at a Singapore conference April 19, 1941.

"First," he said, "there were political implications, a deadline in the south China sea and the Gulf of Siam; second, it was not very realistic."

More Men's Suits To Be Produced In 1946

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP) — Retailers can expect more men's suits to be produced in 1946 than in any pre-war year, Jerome I. Udell, president of Max Udell, Sons & Co., clothing manufacturers, said today.

He added, however, that the supply will not be large enough to satisfy all customers, let alone replenish inventories.

Prizes Given To Club Boys

Special tribute to 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members was paid at today's weekly luncheon program of the Kiwanis club in Lubbock hotel, and recognition given for "the excellent work each individual has done to encourage food production in wartime."

The club had sponsored the Kiwanis Club Junior Boys Food for Victory program and had offered cash prizes to each of the five boys who presented best achievement records.

Prizes Are Awarded

First prize of $25 was presented by T. B. Zellner to Merwyn Igo of Lubbock route 4; second prize of $20 to Oly Ray Hitt of route 4; third prize of $15 to James Carrol Overman of Lorenzo Star route (Overman could not attend because of illness); fourth prize to Andrew Moreman and fifth prize of $5 to Billy Doyl Huffaker, both of Lubbock route 5.

Honorable mention was given to John Mc Alexander of Lubbock route 4, James Mitchell of Lubbock route 5, John Kveton of Abernathy route 1, Wesley Blair of Ropesville route 1, Delmont Linker and John T. Linker, both of Lubbock route 5.

Scores Are Close

Total scores for each boy were "very close" to the first place winner's, it was announced.

Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, spoke on possible changes in governmental structure and functions.

L. M. Hargrove of Frenship school, who directed most of the work for the boys in the food program, was asked to speak briefly.

A Christmas tree decorated the East ballroom, and a present was awarded to Miss Ona Potter of the hotel staff for her assistance in planning service for the club through 1945. She also received an unscheduled kiss from Club Secretary W. C. Rylander. W. C. Wood, club president, also announced an "intangible gift, the club's recognition of valuable assistance of Avalanche-Journal publications in publicizing program activities of our club."

Tate Fry played the piano. Rev. H. G. Gantz said an invocation. Joe Baldridge was recognized as a new member of the club.

DAYTON, O., Dec. 20. (UP) — Two C-97 planes took off here today on the first of two round trips to bring stranded veterans of the Pacific war, now on the west coast, to their homes by Christmas. The planes are the transport models of the famed B-29 bombers.

Six-Footers-Or-Over Name President, 6-8

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 20 (UP)—The 'ower Club of Philadelphia may not be the world's largest, but it is definitely one of the tallest groups holding meetings.

Recently the club elected 31 feet and 10 inches of officers, filling only five vacancies. The sole qualification for membership is a height of not less than six feet and the new president, Bronnie Salowskas, is eight inches over the required minimum. His wife, whom he met at the Tower Club, is six feet, three inches tall.

The other officers elected are equally tall. The vice president, Edward Justice, is six feet eight; the corresponding secretary, Doris van Arstdalen, is six feet one; the recording secretary, Miss Jeanne Riley, is exactly six feet; and the treasurer, Joseph Hager, is six feet five inches tall.

Plenty Of Holiday Spirits In Houston

HOUSTON, Dec. 20. (UP)—There are plenty of holiday "spirits" in Houston liquor stores this season, but don't look for Scotch or bottled-in-bond Bourbon, liquor dealers said today.

Those two items are even more scarce than last year, they said. But there is a good supply of blended whiskey.

Gin, too, is plentiful, they said. And there is still a surplus of rum. While wines are found in considerable volume, good brandy is still on the seldom-to-be-had list.

Dealers reported the heaviest buying in years.

Mrs. Roxie Phillips Found Unconscious

Mrs. Roxie Phillips, about 39, was taken in Bryan McDonald and Sons ambulance late this morning to St. Mary's hospital after she was discovered by a neighbor lying on the floor of her 3104 Ave. H residence.

Hospital physicians said Mrs. Phillips was unconscious and that her condition just before 2 o'clock had not been "completely diagnosed." She was suffering of exposure, it was explained.

Mrs. W. A. Lewis, who lives next door and who had attended Mrs. Phillips several times when Mrs. Phillips was ill, became alarmed at not seeing her neighbor since sometime Wednesday, so went over to investigate. It was 10:10 oclock. She could see Mrs. Phillips through a window, lying on the floor between the kitchen and a bedroom. Mrs. Lewis called Sheriff Grady Harrist and the sheriff and his men burst into the residence.

Moscow Meeting May Decide Spain's Future Government

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

Spain, whose present government is a professed headache to the major powers, may undergo a change soon.

The current meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers in Moscow is expected to discuss the subject. An agreement among them would have an important effect on the form of government Spain must have if she is to be admitted to membership in the United Nations.

It is clear that the government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco will have to go. That is implicit in the Potsdam agreement and in subsequent declarations by Russia, Great Britain, France and the United States.

Barred At Potsdam

The Potsdam agreement barred the Franco government from a place in the new society of nations. It said:

"The three governments (United States, Britain and Russia) feel bound to make it clear that they for their part would not favor any application for membership put forward by the present Spanish government, which, having been founded with the support of the Axis powers, does not, in view of its origins, its nature, its record and its close association with the agressor states, possess the qualification necessary to justify such membership."

That was last Aug. 2. A little later, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain proclaimed his opposition to Franco. President Truman said on Aug. 23, "We do not like Franco or his government." On Dec. 5, Bevin told the House of Commons, "Our attitude has not changed. We detest the regime."

France Proposes Support

Within the last few days, France sent a note to Great Britain and the United States proposing joint action to support a new government in Spain, without specifying what form of government France favored. Diplomatic sources have intimated that, as Spain's neighbor, France would like a republican regime.

Three factions are jockeying for power in Spain. One is the monarchists, to whom Franco is reported anxious to bequeath his government. The second is the republicans, represented by the government-in-exile formed in Mexico City, with Diego Martinez Barrio as president and Jose Giral as premier. The third is the communists.

The communists are not considered strong enough to form a government by peaceful means, although some conservative British quarters fear they might attempt a revolution. Otherwise, they certainly would demand a voice in any republican government, and would be left out in the cold only in case the monarchy is restored.

Monarchy May Be Aim

A return of the monarchy, with the Bourbon pretender Don Juan heading it under a regency, is reputed to be Franco's ambition. There is a suspicion in foreign capitals that Franco, although he would retire from office, might remain the power behind the throne.

The republicans, anxious to prevent such an outcome, are working hard to have the big powers break off relations with the Franco regime, which would make its status unrecognized and prevent Franco from turning over power legally to the monarchists. The republicans claim to be the legitimate government because they had a majority in the last parliament elected by popular vote before the Franco revolution.

The Spanish internal struggle certainly promises interesting developments within the next few months. The outside powers for the time being are watching on the sidelines, without attempting to intervene, having in mind the bitter experience of the civil war.

It may be that the Moscow conference will work out a plan to referee, although not to intervene militarily, if it offers hope of averting another armed conflict in Spain.

Suspect In Robbery Case Free On Bond

Release of Fred Pair, 58, of Bledsoe, on bond of $10,000 was announced Wednesday afternoon at county jail, where Pair had been held in connection with a federal charge of being an accessary to robbery Sept. 5 of Morton First State bank. The bond had been set by Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner.

Pair's bond was reduced from the $25,000 set at time of his arrest several weeks ago. A former Dickens county deputy sheriff, Pair was one of four charged in the $17,000 robbery, the others being Matt Kimes, who died in a Little Rock, Ark., hospital after being hit by a poultry truck, Ollie Oliver Melton, 38, and Olaf Alvin (Chick) Rogers, 38. Pair was the only one held at Lubbock.

Minnesota Chosen Flop Of The Year

Collapse Of Golden Gophers Far Ahead In Annual Associated Press Ballotjng

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—The University of Minnesota football team, which started off like a house on fire, then lost five in a row, today was named the "flop of the year" in the annual Associated Press yearend poll.

The collapse of the Golden Gophers was far and away the biggest disappointment singled out by the sports writers participating in the voting. It polled a total of 112 points compared to the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, whose failure to again win the National league Pennant, put them in second place at 32 points.

But Tide Turned

With Bernie Bierman back on the coaching job, Minnesota started off like a pre-war powerhouse in brushing aside Missouri, 34-0, Nebraska 61-7, Fort Warren 14-0 and Northwestern 30-7.

The tide turned on October 17 when Ohio State came up with a 20-7 victory. Michigan and Indiana followed through with 26-0 and 49-0 triumphs and Iowa, the "weak sister" of the Western conference, startled everyone by coring a 20-19 victory. Wisconsin then plastered a 26-12 defeat on the Gophers.

The biggest disappointments of 1945 (first place votes in parenthesis) with points awarded on basis of three for each first place vote, two for second and one for third. Only those with 10 or more points listed:

Goose Creek Scents Schoolboy Title; Ganders Likely To Be Tough After Chips Are Down

GOOSE CREEK, Dec. 20 (AP) — The Robert E. Lee Ganders scent a Texas schoolboy football championship but it's not just a wake - up - in - the - morning situation. They've been feeling that way about it ever since a night in 1944 when they lost a game to the title-bound Port Arthur Yellow Jackets.

Port Arthur scored one touchdown with only three seconds to go in the first half and counted another on a rain-drenched field after a quick-kick backfired into the end zone. So the Ganders got together and began planning the 1945 season. And the so-called mysteriously fine showing and darkhorse rating in the Interscholastic league playoffs have hometown fans in Goose Creek, Baytown and Pelly laughing up their sleeves.

Reports Are Untrue

The Ganders are credited with staging a grand comeback to win the district 14-AA crown and hand Milby of Houston and Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio decisive drubbings to reach the semi-finals Saturday against the Waco Tigers.

Reports that the team was torn by dissension in mid-season were linked with Coach Dan Stallworth's action in suspending four boys for breaking training rules.

The reports are as far removed from the truth as were the rumors widespread.

The Ganders started with a rush, winning from St. Thomas of Houston, Thomas Jefferson (the first time) and John Reagan of Houston. They hit the skids at Lufkin because Jack Kraft, their silky ball-handling quarterback in the T-formation, broke his right thumb two days before the game. At that, they were beaten only 7-6 and once lost the ball on the one-yard line when a sub quarterback fumbled on first down.

Rivalry Is Keen

They breezed over Conroe but had a hard time with Orange's fine team in opening district play still without Kraft. They moved in on Port Arthur the next week. Rivalry in this game is of the Rice-Texas variety. Kraft played end and never got his hands on the ball. His generalship was even faulty because of the handicap of having to call plays from an end position. The Ganders lost 6-2. In this tilt a Goose Creek player fumbled on first down on the one-yard line.

Kraft came back to quarterback after Port Arthur and the Ganders started clicking again. Critics in this section believe that if the Gander quarterback had not been hurt Lee would be the toast of the state today and heralded as a miracle team instead of a dark-horse, Cinderella, rags-to-riches eleven.

All-Around Class

The Ganders have all-around class. They had it in spring training when they set out to win the state championship or try to be there when somebody else won it.

They now are sound from tip to top though their attack lacks color and the backs do not have the burning speed for which the Ganders were famous during the George Walmsley era.

Dan Stallworth coached teams have a five-year record few schools in Texas can touch. The San Antonio victory last week was the fiftieth in five years against six losses and a tie. This year's 10-2 record has actually hurt their won-lost average.

Torres Wins Again In Wrestling Show

A winner for the second week in a row, the Chicago speedster, Ted Torres, captured the top honors in the main event of the weekly grunt and groan show at the Lubbock Horse and Mule arena by pinning Tom Felis, a newcomer to the local ring, last night.

Torres brought his favorite hold into use to subdue the newcomer to the local mat, after the two had gained the main event nod in the opening rassel-royal by being the survivors among the six starters.

Torres took the first fall of the match in 11 minutes with his wagon wheel roll hold. Felis brought into play a series of knee bumps to win the second fall in 21 minutes, and even the match.

After eight minutes of the third fall, Felis again fell victim to the wagon wheel roll, and Torres was the winner.

Milt Olsen gained the decision over Charley Trijo in the semi-final of the card. The first fall lasted ten minutes, with Olsen winning it with a series of drop kicks and a jack knife. Trijo employed the same drop kick method to even the match in 21 minutes by taking the second fall.

Olsen returned to the ring, meaning business, and it took him only two minutes to smother Trijo with a series of knee jacks and a body pin.

Ivan Jones won the opening preliminary by a default, gained because Joe Parker, the other new comer to the show, was unable to come back after the rassel-royal.

Parker was the first of the six eliminated, and was thrown into the ropes, his right leg catching between the ropes and hitting against the ring post. He snapped a tendon in his leg and was advised by a doctor at the ringside to forfeit the match.

Large Crowds To See Games

Flu Is Plaguing School Elevens

BY ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Colds and influenza continued today to hamper workouts for the four schoolboy elevens who will vie for a states finals berth Saturday at Fort Worth and Houston, but barring complications all four will be at near top strength for the semi-final clashes.

All signs pointed toward capacity crowds of more than 52,000 for the Waco-Goose Creek game at Houston's Rice stadium and the Highland Park-Wichita Falls tilt at Fort Worth's Farrington field.

Stadium Sold Out

The Fort Worth stadium sold out within a few hours Tuesday, and demand was reported heavy for the pasteboards at Waco and Goose Creek yesterday. Tickets did not go on sale at Houston until today.

Despite the illnesses plaguing the teams, nothing has altered the observers' opinions that rates the Highland Park-Wichita Falls game a toss-up and makes Waco a slight favorite over the downstate Goose Creek eleven.

Highland Park was reported to be assured of the services of Teddy Bristol, speedy starting halfback who missed the North Side of Fort Worth game last week because of a cold and a hand injury.

Rusty Russell, another flashy back, was in uniform today after being out with a cold early in the week, and tackle Bob Tenison and end Leo Fikes were expected to suit up today after nursing heavy colds.

All To Be Ready

Light colds also bothered the Wichita Falls crew, but none of the Coyotes figured to miss the game. In their favor was the return to action of Lane West, a starting end, who missed all but one play of the Amarillo game and all of the Odessa tilt because of an injury.

Waco's speedly Ben Sallee was the only major casualty in the Tiger camp as he remained confined to bed with the flu, but other members of the squad were suffering from colds.

Starting tackle Gene Jennings was the only definite loss to the Goose Creek team, although Ted Hunt, star halfback, Jack Kraft, back, and Tom Peacock, fullback, were having respiratory ailments.

Chicago Cubs Take 1945 Fielding Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Just as they took batting honors with Phil Cavarretta and pitching ribbons with Hank Borowy, the Chicago Cubs also won the 1945 National league fielding title, official league averages released today disclosed.

The Cubs, turning in only 121 errors in 155 games, compiled a team fielding mark of .980, three points better than the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cincinnati Reds were third with .976 followed by New York with .973, Pittsburgh with .971, Boston with .969 and Brooklyn and Philadelphia tied at .962.

Despite their team title, however, the Cubs won only two individual fielding titles, Stan Hack topping the third basemen with an average of .975 and Andy Pafko turned in the best outfield mark, .995.

Past Year Packed With Great Sports Headlines; Racing Is Chosen Top Story For 1945

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. —Figured on the basis of fan interest, the outstanding sports story of 1945 appeared in retrospect today to be racing's blackout and subsequent green light shortly after V-E day with the World series and Kentucky derby pressing for annual honors.

Although the year almost was half spent before sports came out of the shadows, it was packed with headlines that averaged one a month on the sensational side, both expected and unexpected. The top 12 were:

Came Roaring Back

1. Horse racing. The sport of kings was blacked out Jan. 3 for an indefinite period, with the last races at Tropical park and the fairgrounds. Then it came roaring back on May 12, shortly after victory in Europe, with the anxious bettors jamming the mutuels to the unprecedented tune of eight days of $4,000,000 betting and one day of $5,000,000 wagering at Belmont.

2. The World series and the Detroit Tigers. They won the pennant on the last day of the season on Hank Greenberg's four-run homer. And although baseball wasn't what it used to be, there was plenty of interest as Tiger power and pitching won the seventh game of the World series from the Chicago Cubs.

3. The Kentucky derby, set back to June 9. It was the same colorful career as ever when Hoop Jr. splashed through the mud to win by six lengths. A success saga America likes, as a horse bought for $10,200 hit a $65,000 jackpot.

Still Wears Smile

4. Senator Albert Benjamin (Happy) Chandler. Named to replace the late Kenesaw M Landis as baseball commissioner. The sledding has been rough, but Happy still wears that fixed smile which worked so well on Kentucky voters.

5. Gunder Haag. The Swedish swifty lowered the mile record to an amazing 4:01.4 to rekindle the four-minute mile controversy. Hit the headlines again when he ran into expense account handicaps which threatened his records.

6. Sale of the New York Yankees. The $10,000,000 baseball dynasty founded by Col. Jake Ruppert finally was peddled to a three-man combine — Col. L. S. MacPhail, Dan Topping and Del Webb.

7. Byron Nelson's winning streak. The tough Texan won 19 major golf turnaments, banked a record $66,528, and stretched his record string of in - the - money tournaments to 102.

8. The Hambletonian. Titan Hanover, the new greyhound, barred from the betting as he scampered off with two straight heats in the barnyard classic.

Horse of The Year

9. Busher, horse of the year. Second filly to win the honor as she became the seventh ranking money winner in turf history.

10. Signing of Jackie Robinson. First negro signed to an organized baseball contract as he was inked by Montreal.

11. The Brooklyn college basketball scandal. Five members of the team were accused of accepting a bribe to throw a game with the repercussions heard across the country.

12. Dodgers win pennant! Of course they didn't but think what a story it would have been. For Dodger hopefuls: "Wait until next year."

SHERMAN PLANS PARK

SHERMAN, Tex., Dec. 20 (AP) — Sherman, which has become a member of the East Texas League, will construct a $10,000 ball park between Sherman and Denison, according to Arthur Willingham, owner of the local club. The grandstand will seat between 2,500 and 3,500 and the field will be lighted.

Texas Aggie Cagers Reported Improving

(By The United Press)

Coach Marty Karow's improved Texas Aggies snowed under Sam Houston State Teachers college, 50-27, at College Station Wednesday night.

Top scorer for the Cadets was Jamie Dawson, who registered for 22 points, while Peck Vass ran a close second with 21. Several of Vass' markers were from midcourt.

The Aggies led at the half, 19-16, but lost no time in the third period widening their lead to leave no doubt about the outcome.

Conference teams were not slated for action Thursday, but Friday will catch four of them working.

At Chicago, Texas Christian will battle the Loyola university Ramblers. Texas will play Bergstrom field at Austin; Southern Methodist will go to Denton for another tilt with North Texas State Teachers college, and Rice will play East Texas State Teachers college at Houston.

T.C.U. is booked into Peoria, Ill., Saturday night for a game with Bradley Tech's Braves, while in Texas, Rice will play East Texas in the second of a two-game set at Houston.

The U. S. felt hat industry uses up 8,000,000 pounds of fur a year.

THE Plainsman returned to Lubbock via Continental Airlines from El Paso to Hobbs the other day, not only to save time but also to get a pre-view of the sort of service and equipment South Plains people may expect from Continental, after February 15, when that line starts operating between El Paso and Tulsa, via Lubbock.

We'd never been on a Continental plane before and had an idea that Continental was sort of like Essair—a rather small outfit using small planes, etc. Fact is, a lot of Lubbockites have somewhat the same idea, so we hasten to report that such is not the case.

Continental uses exactly the same planes as Braniff, American and most, if not all, of the larger lines and carries an identical crew, composed of a captain (pilot) first officer(co-pilot) and hostess.

In fact, Continental's service as we saw it was identical with that of Braniff, American, Transcontinental-Western, Eastern, United and the other one or two major lines we have chanced to travel in the past.

Continental's new route is going to put Lubbock within about two hours and 15 minutes of both Tulsa and El Paso, the distance to each point from here being almost the same by air.

The route will have stops at Carlsbad, Hobbs, Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City and therefore will afford connections not only with the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, but with all other parts of the U. S., Mexico, Central and South America, as well.

Outside of the Braniff connection to Fort Worth and Dallas, where so many South Plains people have frequent business, our guess is the Continental connection will be of primary importance to the people of this area.

WE took the morning flight out of El Paso and it was exactly one hour and 47 minutes after leaving the Border City airport that the plane sat down at Hobbs—and the hour and 47 minutes included a stop of something over 10 minutes at Carlsbad. Flying time from Hobbs to Lubbock should be about 30 minutes.

We planned to fly both ways to El Paso, but the down trip caught us in bad weather—snow, visibility zero and little ceiling—so we stayed with the old reliable Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches which run in spite of hell or high water and do a nine hour job between here and El Paso, which is very good indeed.

However, for people in a hurry, the Tulsa-El Paso connection via Lubbock by Continental is going to be very helpful under decent weather conditions.

Incidentally, the flight from El Paso to Hobbs was as smooth as glass, save for about five minutes over the mountains as we skirted towering Signal Peak, in the Guadalupes, highest point in Texas. We heard the hostess tell a passenger with a jumpy stomach that flights along there are always a little rough due to the terrain but the roughness always wears off in a few minutes.

On current Continental routines, which will be changed when Lubbock and Tulsa enter the picture, the planes turn to Roswell from Hobbs, then go on to Albuquerque and Denver. After the El Paso-Lubbock-Tulsa line starts functioning, we'll have two ways of flying to Albuquerque and Denver and on to the Pacific Northwest. We can go Braniff, via Amarillo; or we can go Continental, via Hobbs.

BY golly, there's no getting away from the fact that July 4, 1924, is bound to have been the Independence Day upon which snow fell in this area and—for that matter—in most of Northwest Texas.

Letters from Mrs. W. R. Slaton, of Seminole; F. L. Jones, Lubbock Route 6; Mrs. Glen M. Wages, Lubbock; Thomas Cox, Route 2, Portles, N. M.; Mrs. M. E. Lowe, Littlefield, and Mrs. W. J. Ross, Route 5, Floydada, all add weight to previous testimony that July 4, 1924, was a "ring-tailed tooter" from the standpoint of unseasonal cold.

Mrs. Ross, who was born and reared in Crosby county and who has been living in Floyd county only three or four years, remembers an earlier July 4th when it was also unseasonably cold. As Mrs. Ross now figures it, that was 1915 or 1916—which may be the date Attorney Robert A. Sowder, of Lubbock, had in mind when his remark to The Plainsman started all this business. Mrs. Ross says she remembers that a few flakes of snow fell on that day as she and members of her family were preparing to go to a Farmer community singing convention in Crosby county with "dinner on the ground" on that Independence Day.

Mrs. Ross says her family, composed of oldtimers in this area, will have a big reunion this Christmas and while they're all together she's going to get some more opinion on the subject.

Speaking of letters, we have received one from a distressed mother in Tryonville, Pa., who is seeking some trace of her foster son from whom she has not heard since September 23, as he prepared to leave Germany for the U. S. after Army service there.

We can't quite make out the name the lady signed to her letter, or the last name of the foster son. It is either "Markby," "Marlsley," or "Markley" the son's first name is Guy, his middle initial E.

The lady believes her foster son may have come to this area after his release from service, since he worked with a construction crew somewhere in West Texas before entering the Army. Anyone knowing the young man's whereabouts should tell him to get in touch with his mother.

A HANDFUL of personal friends of Col. Howell M. Estes, jr., had lunch with him an hour or so before he took off on the first leg of his journey to his new station in Weisbaden, Germany. Climax of the occasion was the presentation to the colonel of a beautiful wrist watch.

Naturally there was some kidding going on—men always hide their true feelings with kidding, you know—and as Colonel Estes put on his new watch and put the old one in the case in which the new one was purchased, somebody had a bright idea.

"Tell you what, Howell," the friend suggested. "You keep this old watch until you become commanding general of the Army Air Forces and then give it to the West Texas Museum, out at Texas Tech, for permanent display. It'd be really something to show the watch of the former commanding officer at LAAF who rose to the top spot in the Air Forces."

"That's a deal," returned the colonel. "This old watch will go to the Tech museum when I get to be c. g. of the AAF—always assuming that Robert Ripley doesn't put in a bid for it first!"

MILLETT

Look—couldn't we have an entirely old-fashioned Christmas this year — our first since the war's end?

Why not let old Santa forget about airplanes and rocket ships and go back to the old peaceful way of traveling by sleigh and reindeer?

And instead of piling tanks and machine guns under the Christmas tree, can't we go back to dolls and cowboy suits and such magical toys as music boxes?

After all, if Dad is back home this year his presents are going to be different—nothing in blue or khaki color for him. Nothin in cans. Dad is again going to get loud neckties, gadgets for a home instead of for a foxhole, equipment for his civilian hobbies.

And Mom—at least many Moms—will not be getting exotic gifts from far-away places What she will find under the Christmas tree this year are the same sort of things she used to find, bought right on Main Street.

THE old-fashioned Christmas is going to look good to us grown-ups—so why shouldn't we give it to the kids, too?

For just one day at least, why don't we all try to forget about rocket planes and atomic bombs and go back to the kind of Christmas we used to know? Now that the war is over why try to keep Santa abreast of the times?

NATIONS ARE LIKE WOMEN!

Though Secretary of State Byrnes has inferred that the Moscow meeting is largely a matter of "small potatoes, no big stuff," the conference nevertheless will help show whether the chief nations which fought the Axis in 1939-45 will continue to stick together—as far as they are sticking together now—or may become openly hostile.

The record as presented by history shows that Allies during a war can very quickly become foes after the war. For that matter, wartime foes can very quickly become postwar allies. Today we see the British using Japanese troops to put down a revolt of the Indonesians.

During the Napoleonic wars all the great European powers except England were at times fighting with the French dictator, and at times fighting against him. After Waterloo, all the nations which helped to vanquish France eagerly courted her as a diplomatic ally at the Congress of Vienna.

In 1864, Prussia had Austria as an ally against Denmark, but in 1866 fought a war against Austria. In 1866, many German states which had helped Austria fight Prussia in 1864 aided Prussia in its fight against France. In 1913, several of the Balkan states which had fought alongside Bulgaria against Turkey were joined by Turkey in fighting Bulgaria.

When war broke out in 1914, Italy was classed as a diplomatic ally of Germany; less than a year later, Italy joined the war on the side against Germany. In World war II, Italy was Germany's ally, and so was Japan, another of Germany's foes in 1914-1918.

In 1914-17, Russia was the firm ally of Great Britain and France. After the Communists came in and perforce took Russia out of the war, Great Britain, France and Japan were virtually at war with Russia for several years.

So, it can be seen that nations are a great deal like women; they are subject to sudden reversals of opinion.

Douglas Sold New Plane To Japanese

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — On July 10, 1938, this column sent out to its subscribing newspapers a sensational disclosure that "the Douglas Aircraft company has recently sold its latest Flying Fortress, the DC-4, to Japan, together with certain blueprints whereby Japan can duplicate the plane. Carrying four motors, this is one of the finest bombers ever constructed."

The column also pointed out that this sale was being made despite Secretary of State Hull's "appeal to American airplane manufacturers to cease selling planes to Japan."

But during the time which elapsed between the date the column was distributed to newspapers and the date of publication, Donald Douglas, head of Douglas aircraft, made an emphatic denial, and, on advice of attorneys, the story was killed.

Since then, like so many other denials, it has become a matter of official record that Douglas did sell the DC-4, plus blueprints, to Japan.

Since then, also, a war has been fought with Japan, during which thousands of American lives were lost and during which the DC-4 built by the Japs on the basis of blueprints sold them by Douglas, played a part in the loss of those lives.

Since then, finally, Jap files in the USA have been seized and it is now possible to give more details of the cooperation between Douglas Aircraft and Japan during the years before Pearl Harbor.

ULTRA SECRECY WANTED

THIS writer now has before him the original bill of sale, the cablegrams between Tokyo, New York and Los Angeles, and other correspondence regarding the shipment of the DC-4 by Douglas to Japan — despite Donald Douglas' earlier emphatic denial.

The deal was handled largely by V. E. Bertrandias, then vice-president of Douglas, later made a major general in the U. S. Army. It was obvious, not only from Donald Douglas's denial, but from other precautions that neither the Japs nor Douglas wanted this sale to be publicized in the American press.

In the first place, the sale was camouflaged as one made to "Japan Airways Ltd." This gave it the outward appearance of a commercial transaction, though, of course, Japan Airways Ltd was controlled by the Japanese government and commercial planes later can be adapted for military purposes.

Doubtless also, Douglas didn't want to be in the public position of selling an important brand new bomber to a potential enemy of the USA, especially at a time when the Japs had been unmercifully bombing innocent civilians in China, and when Cordell Hull had appealed to American plane manufacturers not to sell to Japan.

Most tell-tale evidence of how anxious the Japs and Douglas were to camouflage the sale is illustrated by a letter addressed to Douglas Vice President Bertrandias from S. Akabane, New York representative of Nakajima Aircraft, which, with Mitsui, were interested in the deal. The letter was dated Aug. 14, 1939, just after the Douglas people, following one year of absolute secrecy, finally decided that with the obtaining of an export license the news had to leak out. Here is the letter showing how pleased the Japs were at the skillful way Douglas handled the news leak:

"Major V. E. Bertrandias,
Douglas Aircraft Co.,
Santa Monica, Cal.

"Dear Mr. Bertrandias:

"Looking over the Saturday edition of the New York Times, I could not help but write this letter to compliment you for the most excellent way of disclosing the sale. Those 'in the know' will not object to the transaction as they are limited to those in our trade, while laymen probably don't know what the ship is anyway when mentioned singly by your designation as in the paper. Since the State department's announcement is so casual and incidental, I doubt that anybody would take sufficient notice and single out your company.

"I have purposely waited until today to scrutinize the papers for any possible reaction, but so far nothing has been mentioned of the sale.

"It was an excellent way of handling the difficult matter in a delicate situation and I wish to share the feeling of relief if you ever felt one. Hope you had similar luck with your local papers!

"Sincerely yours,
"S. Akabane,
"Nakajima Aircraft Company."

ARMY-DOUGLAS COOPERATION

DOUGLAS could not, of course, have sold the DC-4 without permission from the U.S. Army and Navy. Not only was this permission given, but relations between Douglas and Air Forces were such that Donald Douglas's daughter later married the son of Gen. "Hap" Arnold, chief of the Air Forces, while the Air Forces promoted V. E. Bertrandias to be a major general.

When Bertrandias' name came before the Senate military affairs committee for promotion, the Justice department showed senators part of the secret file on his pre-Pearl Harbor activities in an effort to block his nomination. But Army pressure was too strong. He was made a major general anyway.

This columnist's disclosure of July 10, 1938, made one error. The price which the Japs were supposed to have paid for the DC-4 was given as $1,000,000. This was a mistake. Douglas gave them a much better bargain, namely $706,720, F.A.S. San Pedro. (This later was increased by the addition of spare parts.)

* * *

THE JAPS boasted gleefully about this bargain price. A Jap paper of Nov. 14, 1939, carries a picture of the DC-4 under the caption "formerly America's biggest, now Japan's."

"Built more than a year ago at a cost of $40,000,000," the paper continued, "the giant plane was sold to Japan Airways for $750,000, complete with plans for its assembly."

Another Japanese newspaper account significantly stated: "Japan Airways has not yet decided what to do with its flying bargain." However, it didn't take them long to decide. It was converted to one of the most useful planes the Japs had in the entire war.

The newspaper also stated: "The transactions for purchase of the plane were completed last summer before the 'moral embargo' on aircraft shipments to Japan was announced by Secretary of State Hull."

"Last summer" meant the summer of 1938. It was in that same summer, July 10, 1938, that this columnist attempted to reveal the sale of the DC-4, but was lied to by Donald Douglas. It was on June 11, 1938, that Cordell Hull asked U. S. aircraft manufacturers to stop shipments to Japan—a plea that he repeated on July 1. In the year that passed before the DC-4 actually was shipped, any airplane manufacturer who really wanted to could have called off the deal.

NOTE—The State department had no legal power to prevent the sale of airplanes, only moral suasion. Therefore, when Douglas applied for an export license for the DC-4, it was granted.

"Try And Stop Me"
By Bennett Cerf

S. N. Behrman, whose plays contain some of the wittiest and most polished dialogue in the American theatre, has been called "the Boswell of the overprivileged" by Irving Drutman, "a man who writes like a silk herring" by Fanny Brice.

Not for Behrman are the problems of the lowly proletariat; in The Second Man, Biography, etc., he has probed the neuroses of the well-heeled, putting wittier dialogue into their mouths than ever was heard at Newport. Ina Claire, who often appears in his plays, once heard that she had only three weeks to learn a new Behrman part. "Three weeks!" she echoed in horror. "I can't even learn what some of Sam's lines mean in three weeks!"

Behrman is now a famous personage in Hollywood. The first script that he wrote there, however, failed to win the approval of the tycoon who had hired him. "It stinks," he pronounced flatly. "Ah, said Behrman, "a master of inuendo." His greatest admirer while she was on the coast was Greta Garbo. One day when he had finished his current stint, he interrupted Garbo on her set to say goodbye. She embraced him passionately and cried, "Come back soon, my darling!" He was just closing his luggage when she burst wildly into his room. "You're going to New York!" she accused. "Sure," said Sam. "Why do you think we had that great farewell scene?" "Oh darling," she sobbed, "I thought you were just going down to the beach for a swim."

Yanks Work In Good Old Booster Tradition To Land UNO

Friendly Siege By U. S. Startles London

BY MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Londoners who thought that the siege of their city had been lifted with the end of the war were slightly mistaken The ancient city has just undergone a new siege by Americans working in the good old booster tradition to get the United Nations organization located in the home town—any one of a dozen home towns.

This friendly siege seems rather to have startled London. In the long interval of the war, when only visitors on official errands crossed the Atlantic, the British seem to have forgotten what the American go-getter was like.

CHILDS

There was even at the outset a move to keep the booster committees at home. The British Foreign office sent word to Lord Halifax instructing him not to grant visas to large delegations from America seeking the site of UNO. The Foreign office pointed out that hotel accomodations in bombed London were very scarce, to say nothing of food that Americans would consider adequate.

REPLIED TACTFULLY

The reply Lord Halifax sent back was a model of diplomatic tact but it was nevertheless firm. In effect he said:

"During my term of service in Washington I have endeavored to be an obedient ambassador. But in this instance I must beg leave to disobey you. It is important that no restrictions be put on the entry of Americans on this errand."

In his nearly five years in this country Ambassador Halifax has learned to know Americans very well. He is proud of the fact that he has spoken or at least made a public appearance in all of the 48 states except two, Rhode Island and North Dakota. He knows very well what hometown patriotism is like and what the indignation of a mayor or governor would be if he found himself denied the right to go to London in person with his plea.

PHILADELPHIA, Boston, San Francisco, Denver, Chicago and Atlantic City all sent delegations, but smaller communities also turned up with civic zeal. Sault Ste. Marie in Michigan, on the International Boundary with Canada, wanted the site. One proposal was to locate it near Thomas Jefferson's home at Monticello, Virginia. Miami, Fla., put in an application that stressed all of Florida's charms.

Not to be outdone, California submitted at least three sites, including the beautiful Monterey Peninsula. Hawaii made application and so did Indiana.

One of the most active lobbies has pressed the claims of the Black Hills in South Dakota. This was backed by the governors of Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. As a clinching argument, the inducement of steak at least twice a day was held out.

BOOSTERS FETE DELEGATES

The city boosters wooed the UNO delegates in London by every possible means. There were rounds of cocktail parties in the Dorchester, Claridge's and Grosvenor House.

Some of the European delegates found this deluge of cordiality a little hard to understand. It was difficult to believe that any part of the earth was still so untouched, so fortunate, so well supplied with food, as to want strangers to come there.

Apparently, with the support of Soviet Russia, the United States is to get the site of UNO. But it is quite possible to understand the doubts that the British and some Europeans have.

IN SPITE of the airplane, we are still a long way from the grim realities of Europe where the peace will be won or lost. There is a danger that delegates meeting in a Shangri-La atmosphere would be lulled to indifference or unconcern.

No matter how much one might resist it, the physical environment does have an influence. It might prove hard for the UNO delegates to get down to work in a resort atmosphere. They would always be playing hookey on the beach.

At least one thing is certain and that is that the UNO will have no doubt of the warmth of its welcome. Our booster delegations in England have made that perfectly clear.

WHAT RATIONING?

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., (AP)—Food rationing? Shucks, it wasn't any problem at all, Restauranteur Gus Bruskas told the OPA.

Bruskas said his cafe had 181,603 red points on hand when meat rationing was ended, and that he voluntarily surrendered 500,000 surplus blue points in the past year.

LUCKY NUMBER

CARLSBAD, N. M., (AP)—For 18 years Charles White hauled water to his camp at the entrance to Carlsbad Caverns—up to 25,000 gallons daily at a cost of half a cent a gallon. Without success, he drilled 12 wells.

Now, White reports with relief, it's all over. On his 13th try he struck water.

SMALL TALK

CHICAGO, (AP) — Daniel Cercone, attendant at a service station, was being robbed by a man who pointed a .45 caliber automatic at him.

William McNeil, a part-time employe at the station, passed and called to Cercone: "Hi, Dan."

"Hi, Bill," said Cercone.

Cercone said the bandit became so flustered he drove away in his car without paying for 10 gallons of gasoline.

HOT SPOT

KOEHLER, N. M., (AP)—Steve Smith, a carpenter in this coal mining community, lifted a scuttle of coal and opened his heater to bank the fire for the night.

Out of the heater flew a sparrow, unharmed. Smith opened the door and it flew away into the night

OPTIMISTIC

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Wilson R. Morrison, 39-year-old discharged sailor, says he has conducted a "systematic" quest for a place to live in 10 days. His search, he said, netted him four hot leads and hundreds of new acquaintances among real estate men and plumbers.

Did he find a house? Well, no, not yet. But he's enthusiastic. "I've just about got a good place cinched—as soon as the people in it move out," he said.

"The only trouble is . . . they don't know when they're leaving."

Rats cooperate in stealing food—two doing a job that one cannot pull off alone.

Texas Facing Flu Epidemic

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (AP)—Danger of an influenza epidemic, stimulated by below-freezing weather, appears to be spreading throughout Texas, Dr. George W. Cox, director of the state department of health, warned today in the face of 11,259 newly reported cases of flu in Texas during the past week.

Besides flu cases, 395 cases of pneumonia were reported, Dr. Cox said.

School Is Closed

More than 70 cases of flu at the Texas school for the deaf resulted in the school's closing yesterday one day earlier than planned for the holidays.

Dr. Cox warned all persons to avoid chilling, to avoid crowds, and to avoid contact as much as possible with known flu cases.

On the basis of 10 unreported flu cases to one reported case, Dr. Cox estimated 110,000 actual new cases for the past week.

tors said in statement through Richard T. Leonard, Ford director for the union.

"We believe the company will have one of its most profitable years because for the first time in many years the company is assured of capacity operation and a market for all it can possibly produce," they said.

As the union replied to Ford, it was passing the 30th day of its strike against General Motors Corp. in support of the 30 per cent wage increase demand.

Meeting Is Adjourned

The meeting of Ford and union negotiators adjourned shortly after the union answer was presented. It lasted approximately 15 minutes.

The Ford Motor Co. of Canada today readied its big Windsor, Ont., plant to resume production following termination of the longest and most widespread strike in the history of the Canadian industry.

Ninety-nine days after the strike of 10,000 Ford workers began, the CIO United Automobile Workers announced last night members had voted to accept a dominion government proposal for negotiation and, if necessary, arbitration.

To Recall Employes

The company, which previously had agreed to abide by the plan, announced it would call its employes back as soon as possible.

The government proposal, similar to one rejected by a narrow margin several weeks ago, provides for ten days of negotiations after work is resumed. Any issues still unsolved after that time would be submitted to an arbitrator.

Major issues are the union's demands for a closed shop and dues checkoff.

Negotiations between the union and Kaiser-Frazer corporation, which is planning to manufacture cars in the war-built Willow Run bomber plant, had been scheduled to resume today but were postponed to Dec. 27.

Further Court Action

While interest in the month-old General Motors strike centered on President Truman's fact-finding board hearing in Washington, further court action was taken on GM's charge of illegal picketing at struck plants.

A circuit court panel of three judges at nearby Pontiac denied a restraining order against pickets and another at Flint withheld a ruling on the same issue. Temporary injunctions limiting picketing activities have been granted in Cleveland, Chicago, Trenton, N. J., Lansing, Mich., and Indianapolis, Ind.

secret plane until now, the Army has revealed some specifications.

For instance, the huge plane could fly nonstop to Tokyo from New York and call it only a routine flight.

The tip of the rudder on the tail will tower 46 feet, seven inches above ground. The wheels will be nearly 10 feet in diameter and one tire will weigh some 1,500 pounds—seven eighths of a ton.

Weighs 250,000 Pounds

The entire plane will weigh 250,000 pounds almost twice the weight of World War II Superfortress B-29.

The Fort Worth Convair plant is the only one in the nation big enough to build the huge ship. Already work is well advanced on the experimental model of the new plane. Fixtures and tooling for wing sections of the production model already have been installed in the south end of the 4,000-foot long main assembly plant. Later the entire factory will be occupied again and filled with the biggest bombers in history.

Fireman Saves Four In Blaze

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—John Hoffmayer, 31, a fireman, saved three children and a mother when they leaped from the window of their blazing second story apartment safely into his arms.

Hoffmayer had just returned home from work yesterday when he saw flames pouring out of the house next door. He knew his wife, away on a shopping trip, had left their child, John, jr., 4, with Mrs. Frances Doyle, mother of two children, who occupied the top floor of the burning building.

Smashes Glass With Hands

Rushing to a window on the ground floor apartment, where no one was at home, Hoffmayer smashed the glass with his hands, cutting them severely. Driven off by smoke and flames, he ran to the front of the building and called to Mrs. Doyle to drop the children.

Down came his son, John, jr., then the Doyle children, Mary, 2, and Walter, 5, and then Mrs. Doyle, 41—all landing safely in Hoffmayers bloody hands.

The children suffered only slight bruises and Mrs. Doyle shock.

Officer Who Led Men In Assaults Honored

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP) — First Lt. James E. Robinson, jr., field artillery forward observer who rallied and led a commanderless infantry company through two assaults in the second of which he was mortally wounded, has been awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously, the War department announced today. The medal will be presented to his widow, Mrs. Vina E. Robinson of Waco, Texas.

Lieut. Robinson, who served in the artillery of the 63rd division, took command of an infantry company when its commander and most of its key enlisted personnel had been killed by German fire near Untergreisheim, Germany, on April 6, 1945.

While leading the attacks the slight, 130-pound officer carried and operated his 79-pound radio himself so that the remaining men of the company would be free to handle their own arms and equipment.

He killed ten of the enemy who threatened to halt the first assault, and led his men in a successful mopping-up of the area.

Ordered to take the town of Kressbach, he rallied the group and spear-headed the successful assault. Wounded in the throat, he walked two miles to an aid station, where he died soon after.
