

Rockport Elementary School Teachers Present Views On Issues

Dear Editor: A group of concerned faculty members of Rockport Elementary School met Wednesday afternoon to discuss the charges made against the staff of Rockport Elementary School by the (cage rattling) Committee for Better Schools. We as educators wish to go on record as taking intense exception to the statement concerning punishment of whole classes for the offenses of a few of its members. The implication is that most or all Rockport Elementary teachers employ this punishment. This is a blatant untruth. Considering the fact that our students scored above the state average on the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills Test, which was administered by testing personnel other than classroom teachers and scored by the Texas Education Agency, we question the validity of the statement that "all they (the children) do in school is color."

In regard to the following statement made concerning her son: "He hasn't been in a situation that the Texas Education Association would call satisfactory," we question the authority of Mrs. Lee to speak on behalf of the Texas Education Agency. Concerning the purported punishment of children for speaking in the cafeteria, we firmly believe that no child has ever been punished for simply talking in the cafeteria and certainly no child has been prevented from finishing his lunch for this or any other reason. Talking is allowed in the cafeteria so long as the noise level remains within a reasonable range. Even when an unacceptable level is reached, the children are given three warnings before talking is stopped. The chief reasons for punishment encountered in the cafeteria during the lunch hour are throwing food, shouting, spitting, blowing food through straws, tipping chairs, bending utensils, and mixing and playing with food on trays. Children are very rarely sent to stand by the wall, and only for very bad behavior and severe disobedience. Some negative aspects to the cafeteria situation are aggravated by the crowded conditions. Deprecators of Rockport Elementary's faculty, would you prefer that no disciplinary action be taken, and that your child should have to sit next to someone behaving in the aforementioned manner? In Mrs. Buttler's portion of the article, she stated that her child's teacher told her (Mrs. Buttler) that she had been instructed by "Principal Ratliff" never to punish her (Mrs. Buttler's) child again. This is not what transpired. "Principal Ratliff" instructed the teacher not to make the child write sentences. Instead, the child was to be sent to "Principal Ratliff's" office to be dealt with by him. The point we are making here is that any child who is seen misbehaving by a staff member is punished in an appropriate manner. We would like to emphasize that we are not against the plan to group students academically if such a plan can be proved practical. There are, of course, several considerations other than academic ones which must, by law, be served. Those who would demean our educational efforts have apparently not apprised themselves of the method by which our students are presently grouped. Clearly, anyone with even a cursory knowledge of the process involved could hardly refer to it as "randomly and haphazardly" done. While constructive criticism is always acceptable, vitriolic and unsubstantiated accusations leveled at members of our profession by persons promulgating a

Calvin Cathey Sr., Jr. Arraigned On Oil Theft Conspiracy Charges

LONGVIEW (Spl.) — Calvin Cathey Sr. and Calvin Cathey Jr., both of Aransas Pass have been arraigned in court in Gregg County on charges of involvement in an East Texas oil theft conspiracy.

Both men pleaded "not guilty" in their arraignment in the 188th District Court of Judge Marcus Vasocu Friday, April 10. No date has been set for trial. A former Rockport man, Bob Young, is awaiting extradition from Oklahoma after being arrested there for his involvement in the East Texas oil theft. Young is expected to be arraigned after he is returned to Texas. The three men are among 16 named in two indictments returned by a Gregg County grand jury in March, charging the 16 defendants with "a conspiracy to form a combine for profit, to commit the offense of theft over $10,000." The defendants are alleged to have stolen an unknown amount of crude oil from the East Texas Oil Field in Gregg County, either from a well or oil storage tank, and delivered it by truck to refineries

'New' Fulton Council Members Sworn In

FULTON — The four members of Fulton's city council elected in the April 4 city elections officially took office Tuesday night, April 14, during the council's regular monthly meeting. Taking office for the first time was Isabel Gutierrez, elected to the council seat formerly held by Dominga Benevidez. Mrs. Benevidez did not seek re-election. Also sworn in Tuesday were Pat Loflin, Katherine McLester and Elgin Dietz who will serve the remainder of Ray Patterson's unexpired term. Dietz will be up for re-election in April, 1982. In other business Tuesday night, the Fulton council voted to commit half of the city's available funds — approximately $500 — toward the purchase of a new truck for the Fulton Volunteer Fire Department. The truck is being purchased for the fire department by Aransas County, but county officials have indicated they want the title to the vehicle to be in the City of Fulton's name. However, according to Fulton Fire Chief Jimmy Hattenbach, the title cannot be turned over to the city of Fulton unless Fulton officials contribute some funds to its purchase. Fulton officials were unable to contribute more toward the truck's purchase because most of the city's funds are tied up in certificates of deposit or other forms of savings accounts. Council officials also voted to purchase and install stop and yield signs for the city through a State Highway Department program that will refund the cost of the signs to the city.

Items are made by blind persons throughout the state and are available through the Texas Lighthouse for the Blind. Profits from sales benefit the Lighthouse as well as the various philanthropic projects of the Lions Club. (Pilot Photo by Pat Blair)

Council Satisfied That Voting Discrepancy Was 'A Mistake'

By Pat Blair

Rockport's city council appears satisfied that a voting discrepancy in the city's April 4 elections — in which a city resident voted twice — was the result of a mistake.

The matter was made public in the council in Wednesday night's, April 15, special meeting to canvass the April 4 election results.

At that time, council members were told that Bill Walston, a resident of Ward 2, had voted twice in the city elections — once, absentee, on March 9, and again on the regular April 4 election day.

City Attorney Allen C. Lee said following an investigation into the matter he was "personally satisfied" that the double vote was the result of a mistake. He also said he had talked to County Attorney Jim Anderson about the matter.

Anderson said Thursday morning that "he (Allen) mentioned it to me, but at the moment, nothing (official) has come to my office."

Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk Jr. said Wednesday night the discrepancy did not alter the outcome of the Ward 2 election in which incumbent Burt Mills defeated challenger Brad Steiner by a vote of 176 to 60.

Falk said the matter was brought to his and Lee's attention by Helen Braffett, assistant to City Secretary Herman Johnson.

Acting Police Chief Joe Hinojosa was then asked to conduct an investigation into the matter, and in a letter to the council — which Falk read Wednesday night — Hinojosa said after talking with Walston, "It is my opinion that Mr. Walston did not knowingly or intentionally vote twice in the subject election."

Hinojosa also included a letter written by Walston to him on April 7. The letter, which Falk read to the council, was as follows: "Dear Captain Hinojosa:

In connection with your investigation of the circumstances surrounding my voting in the recent city election the following statement is voluntarily submitted: "On March 9, 1981 I drove my daughter, Charlotte Walston, to the School Administration office and to City Hall in order for her to vote absentee in the then forthcoming elections. At the time

Hearing Set On City Sewer Expansion

A public hearing on Rockport's proposed plan to enlarge its existing sanitary sewer facilities has been set for 7:30 p.m. May 21.

The meeting will be the last public hearing under the study that began more than a year ago of the need and feasibility for such an expansion.

Rockports officials have proposed to increase the city's sanitary sewer facilities from their existing one million gallons per day capacity to two million gallons. Such an expansion is necessary, officials say, to handle the increased demand on the system that is personal vendetta are deplored. We also resent the implication that intimidation is used by the administration to keep us from speaking out about conditions that distress us. "Please don't use my name; I don't want to lose my job", is not an attitude shared by the members of our group.

We take this opportunity to thank our principal, William J. Ratliff, for always acting with the best interest of the students in mind, listening to whatever the members of his staff have to say (no matter how trivial it might be or how busy he may be); and for seeing to it that his staff is supplied with adequate equipment. Most of all we appreciate his always standing behind us and making every effort to be fair with everyone. Thank you, Bill Ratliff — outstanding principal, fine citizen of the community, and good friend.

A GROUP OF CONCERNED TEACHERS
ROCKPORT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Dear Editor,
As the substitute teacher involved in Mrs. Buttler's complaint to the school board (as printed in the Pilot), I would like to correct some distortions of the facts and quotes presented.

Mr. Buttler did make a complaint to me in the form of a letter. I was requested not to include his child in "group punishment" which he did not deserve. Furthermore, if his child was directly involved in a behavior problem, I was told to deal with him individually in some manner other than "nonsense" sentences. I immediately presented the letter to Mr. Ratliff, informing him that the Buttler child was in fact involved in disruptive behavior, as was the rest of the class. I corrected Mr. Buttler's referral to "sentences", explaining that I had given the class an extra-long assignment of that week's spelling lesson — not "nonsense" sentences — in a successful attempt to establish order in the classroom and settle the children down to a lesson in an environment conducive to learning. Mr. Ratliff did not instruct me "never to punish the child again" as he was reported to have done. In fact, he told me to send the child to him so that he could deal with the child should a behavior problem again occur.

I do not practice — nor do I condone — "sentence" writing as a method of group punishment, nor do I feel the statement that said method is the "usual group punishment" fair to the regular classroom teachers in general. I do not believe that a child, who is not guilty of disruptive behavior, should be subjected to group punishment; however, in the instance cited, I was honestly not able to single out a child that I felt was behaving in the proper manner — attentive to the lesson at hand.

I, too, am a "concerned parent" of five children, all of whom have attended, are attending, and will attend Rockport Elementary.

I have dealt with Mr. Ratliff as a parent and have found him cooperative and fair in every way. As principal of a school with over 700 students, he has coped with a Mammoth task which not many of us would like to shoulder, without the aid of an assistant — and he has done his job well.

I am proud to say that we again have a PTA at Rockport Elementary, and I invite all concerned parents and teachers to join and attend our meetings. Give your PTA, your classroom teacher and your administration your support.

Sincerely,
s/Margie Lewis

Dear Perry,
The Committee for Better Schools appreciates your support of our efforts to encourage the school district to incorporate some changes in their student grouping policies. We felt that the school board, as a whole was receptive to changes, and that the board is genuinely concerned with any problems encountered by students and parents in the schools.

We would, however, like to clear up some misunderstandings concerning our intent. The proposal was aimed at changing district policy concerning the planning for all students as individuals, and was not aimed at any particular school campus or any teachers as individuals or as a whole. We realize that the teachers in the schools teach according to guides provided by the superintendent, who administers according to policy as determined by the school board. It is for this reason that the proposal was presented to the school board in an effort to change district policy, so that it may eventually be incorporated into our children's classrooms.

It is true that as parents we feel that many of our students are not receiving adequate educations as prescribed by Texas Education Agency policy. It is our feeling that many of our students are being overlooked due to the narrow policies concerning curriculum and instruction that are employed by our superintendent and supported by our school board. The present policy advocates that all students be exposed to the same curriculum and educational experiences regardless of their past experiences, previous learning, learning ability, and over-all needs. The administration defends this position, stating that if any one student should receive special consideration then the district would have to provide the same opportunity for all students — service they feel is unmanageable and unnecessary.

It is just this point that we, as a group, are challenging. The proposal is an effort to encourage the school board to mandate policy which would require the district to plan for each child according to his/her individual needs, as opposed to our present narrow system which recognizes the child only as a member of an average group.

There was no intent on the part of the Committee for Better Schools to become involved in personal grievances, to center attention on a particular situation, or to become involved in any way with personalities within the school district.

We regret deeply that other issues have become identified with this proposal. We regret that teachers within the district feel threatened by our action, since our deepest concerns are for working with our schools and helping our teachers improve the situations within which they must cope daily. We profoundly regret that Mr. Ratliff's resignation was coupled with this action by our committee since they are unrelated in any way.

We encourage those individuals who have become involved in this issue to read the proposal as presented to the school board and as printed in the Rockport Pilot. We encourage discussion of these issues and welcome any interest in our school system.

Sincerely,
s/Nelda Day Lee

Dear Editor,
It is extremely unfortunate that Bill Ratliff's resignation has come at a time when it could in any way be associated with any of the grievances aired at last Monday's School Board meeting.

There is nothing but admiration and affection for Bill Ratliff on the part of the parents who attended that meeting. It could be no other way, considering this man's record—the many improvements he has brought about in Rockport Elementary through the years and the obvious personal interest and concern he has always shown for his students, faculty and parents.

No school is perfect and certainly there are always going to be problems that warrant discussion from time to time — such as the case Monday evening.

I would urge parents to get involved personally in the education their children are receiving. The proposals regarding ability grouping and expanded curriculum presented Monday night are long overdue and deserve expedient consideration and action on the part of our School Board and of our entire community.

Sincerely,
s/Mrs. George K. Taggart III

Dear Editor,
As a result of the School Board Meeting this week, even more lines of communication have been opened, between the teachers and the parents as well as the board and parents.

Through this communication, we must keep our mutual goals foremost for the students. Those goals include better, less crowded facilities, improved discipline and conduct codes, and expanded and accelerated curriculum.

We realize our teachers must work within the guidelines set by the School Board, and it is those guidelines and policies we are seeking to broaden. We stand behind our teachers 100%, and sincerely regret hurt feelings on anyone's part, whether teacher or parent.

We must work together. Our children are the ones who will benefit most directly, however everyone stands to gain from communications and working together.

Sincerely,
s/Gayle C. Atchley

Dear Editor,
Following Monday night's school board meeting, I was very encouraged by our board's response and promise to instigate some positive changes in our schools. I thank them for listening and for the time they give on behalf of our children.

The teachers my children have had at Rockport Elementary have always been very supportive and wonderful. I feel we have had a good rapport and have been striving for one objective — what is best for my children.

The criticisms aired at Monday night's meeting and in particular those concerning Rockport Elementary, must not be misconstrued in any way by the public to be criticism of our teachers. Our teachers have always done the very best job possible despite over-crowded conditions and other obstacles that they continually encounter.

It is our desire as parents to work hand in hand with teachers and administration to help bring about the needed and necessary changes in the most satisfactory and expedient way possible.

Sincerely,
s/Mrs. Cy Richards

'POOR' LAWYERS ACTIONS AIDED

Representative Barbara A. Mikulski (Md.)...I have always been a strong supporter of the Legal Services Corporation (LSC). This is not a program of some radical do-gooders.

"Ours is a society based on law, and on equal access to the law. Doing away with the Legal Services Corporation will deprive one segment of society of this equal access..."

Representative Ted Weiss (N.Y.)...The right of every citizen to equal justice will be severely curtailed under the Reagan-Stockman plan and our society will be the poorer for it. I urge the House to reject this ill-considered effort to eliminate the legal services program..."

Representative Jim Jeffries (Kansas)...Once again the future of the Legal Services Corporation is in question. The President has targeted it for abolishment and it deserves just that.

This proposal does not disregard the legal needs of the poor.

"But it is now apparent that those needs could be better met by the State, localities, and private bar associations than they are being met by the present LSC...It is time to write the epitaph for this unrestrainable agency and I heartily support the President's attempt to do so."

Representative Robert H. Michel (Ill.)...The legal services program, allegedly a program to help the poor, has quite often turned out to be a front for radicals and intellectuals bent upon using the tax dollars of Americans to foster causes those Americans detest.

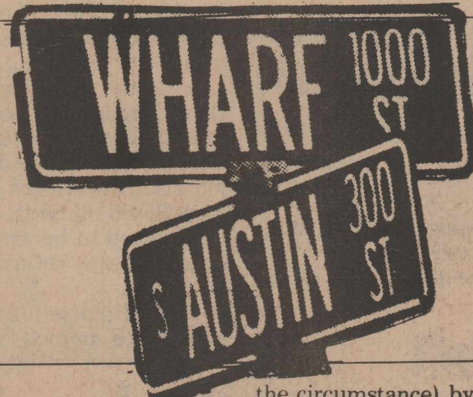

"I insert in the Record an article on the abuses of legal services by two distinguished lawyers, Thomas A. Bolan and Roy M. Cohn from the New York Post. (An excerpt) 'We think at once of a hapless indigent with an injury or threatened with financial extinction. An examination of the Legal Services Corp. shows that its main efforts have been directed to anything but help for such individuals. Its primary function has been to serve and encourage public interest litigations of the (Ralph) Nader type and Gay Rights type.'"

CRUMP'S GRASS
ROOTS COMMENT
We quote from FORTUNE magazine: "The existing program was doing a lot more than just giving the poor their day in court. It was also relentlessly functioning as an instrument of 'movement' causes."

"The 5,500-odd lawyers working at the 320 groups funded by LSC were out there opposing capital punishment, challenging competency testing, resisting cutbacks in property taxes, demanding more federally funded abortions. It's really hard to see why it should be supported by the taxpayers."

Hearings should be scheduled to update the original intent of LSC.

IT DEPENDS UPON HOW one looks at it: it is surprising and not so surprising that public school educators, perhaps especially the National Education Association protests a study that indicates students learn more in private schools.

Actually there is no question about the reliability of the study. That youngsters learn more in private schools is so evident that the time and money spent on the survey seems a bit foolish. Teachers, especially those who complain about lack of discipline in public schools and the general modus operandi should be cheering the report.

How is a teacher expected to transfer to the student the best of his or her knowledge to an often over-crowded classroom when discipline cannot be enforced? How many teachers have suffered or been threatened with physical violence, not just from recalcitrant pupils but from their parents as well?

Why is it that so many good and competent teachers depart the public educational field to teach in private schools or for other lines of endeavor? Pay is not the only answer.

Free public education, one of the greatest concepts born of this democracy, is hindered, hampered and thwarted by everything from busing to the practice of advancing children from grade to grade, regardless of qualification. As a consequence of the last, higher institutions of learning suffer because it has become evident that they feel obligated to lower standards in order to enroll the ill-prepared.

In any public school across the nation, school boards, administrators are hindered (an extremely mild word for the circumstance) by rulings that stem from state and the national government. In Texas and south Texas particularly, to what extent is the educational process demoralized and academically damaged by the constant furor over bi-lingual instruction? Laws extant and proposed on that subject are easily seen as harmful to both the native English-speaking student as well as the student who wishes to achieve despite English not being his first language.

THE OTHER DAY I WAS WRYLly AMUSED BY THE PROPOSAL FROM A U.S. senator who advocates making English the "official language" of the United States. Some, but mostly those with at least a few gray hairs will interject at this point that they've always thought that English is and has been the national language. No more need to make it official here than to declare French to be the official language of France, etc. In any event the proposal amused me, cheered me too, because it came from a man born in Canada of Japanese ancestry, an immigrant, if you will.

HAVING THE GOOD fortune to have seen most of the world I have little desire to remake the rounds for fear of disillusionment. To that China is an exception, although certainly not because of any suspicion that it has become superior to other countries I have known.

This sentiment was strengthened some days ago when I spent a delightful two hours with perhaps the first newspaperman I knew in Texas. Presently executive director for the Department of Public Information at the University of Houston and currently president of the Houston Press Club, Farris Block, a few months ago headed a delegation of seven news people on a trip to the People's Republic of China.

Before the visit was over I became pretty well convinced that Farris had learned more about the new China in two weeks than I learned in innumerable visits that stretched over two decades. Intelligent, articulate and sensitive, he appreciated the people, their history, philosophy and art. On each of those subjects he spoke with newly acquired knowledge and with sensitivity.

On the subject of language he told me, English and Japanese are the most popular as foreign languages, lately most especially English, which might be said to nowadays be universally taught, to the extent that major portions of television are devoted to instruction in English over the network. Fancy a foreign language rating No. 1 on the American networks!

I am reminded of an observation made ere not long ago; that Chinese and Russian might be the most valuable languages for Americans to know in this age. Trouble of course with Chinese is that there are so many dialects. Imagine spending several years learning Cantonese and then being posted by the State Department to Shanghai. Departmental logic, believe me.

Years ago I had a very good friend. Well into his middle years he had spent nearly thirty in Russia and Turkey and spoke both languages fluently. Suddenly, five years from retirement he was appointed consul general in Rangoon. Accept my word for it; not an exceptional circumstance.

Efforts Underway For Area Rape Crisis Center

Spearheaded by Esther Decker, herself a victim of rape, a movement is underway to establish a local rape crisis center that would serve rape victims.

"It's still in the working stages," according to Renee Stansell at Coastal Bend Hospital where a special program was set up last November to treat rape victims.

Coastal Bend Hospital does not operate a rape crisis center as such, she explained. However, the hospital is set up to do the type of examination and treatment of the rape victim that both aids the victim and assures that the evidence of the crime will be admissible in a court of law.

Telephone number at the hospital is 758-5387, and anyone who needs information and/or assistance can call Mrs. Stansell.

The nearest "crisis center" is the Crisis Intervention Center in Corpus Christi, 883-6244, where volunteers are available 24 hours a day to assist rape victims and their families.

The 24-hour hotline is staffed by trained volunteers to assist victims of rape, attempted rape and sexual abuse.

These volunteers also supply factual information in answer to any questions a rape victim may have and, if needed and wanted, will accompany a rape victim to the hospital or police.

Crisis Intervention volunteers also accompany the victim through the court process if the case is prosecuted.

The problem, says Esther Decker, is that Corpus Christi is too far away to provide the needed assistance to rape victims here.

What is needed, she said, is a local crisis center that will provide this type of service.

Recently, Esther and a group of supporters presented a proposal for such a center to members of the Aransas County Ministerial Alliance.

Rev. John Bradshaw, one of those at the meeting, said "no specific plans were made. We don't think the Ministerial Association is the group to do this."

Mrs. Stansell said she will bring up the matter of an area rape crisis center at the next meeting of the Coastal Bend Hospital Auxiliary.

In the meantime, Mrs. Decker is making herself available to any organization interested in supporting a rape crisis center.

Any such organization is asked to contact her to set up a meeting.

A Pleasant City

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA — Although this capital city is only 10 degrees north of the equator and hence could be defined as a tropical city, its location on the high mountain-ringed Central Plateau at 3,900 feet above sea level gives it a much more temperate climate with the average annual temperature being around 72 degrees Fahrenheit.

Because of its pleasant climate and central location in this second-smallest nation in Central America (slightly smaller than West Virginia), San Jose is the largest city, with about 800,000 out of the some two million inhabitants.

Costa Rica has become known as the most democratic country in Central America with four-year presidential terms with re-election prohibited although separate terms can be filled by the same man, as it was by Jose Figueres, the man who re-wrote the Constitution, and re-organized the government when he abolished the army. (Speaking of elections, I was interested to learn that all citizens who are eligible to vote are fined if they don't vote. Is there something there we could learn?)

The monetary unit of Costa Rica is the colon which, until last fall, was officially pegged at 8.60 per U.S. dollar. This small country, as all countries of the world, is suffering from inflation and, as one of its attempts at keeping up with things, last fall allowed the colon to "float."

There is no longer a constant exchange rate. Some weeks before we arrived here we had been told that the current rate was 14 per dollar. While we were at Casa Mar, I understand, the rate jumped to 18. By the time we arrived at our centrally located hotel in the capital, however, the rate had dropped back to slightly over 12 at the Banco Central, with somewhat less at our hotel.

San Jose is divided into quadrants by north-south Calle Central and east-west Avenida Central, with odd-numbered avenues north of Avenida Central and even south. The Calles are even west of Calle Central and odd east of it.

While it may take some getting used to, it is a very logical system (even though many Calles and Avenidas also have names!) and addresses in the telephone books tell one precisely what block a building is on.

For instance, the National Theater, a miniature of the Paris Opera House, and considered the country's jewel, is listed as on Avenida 2, Calles 3/5.

So far, San Jose does not have a bad smog problem, but when all those parking decks are completed and occupied, it may be this currently pleasant city may, like too many others, have a bad inversion situation at this altitude.

Pet Talks

By Dr. Hap Lutz

Dr. Lutz is a graduate of Baltimore City College and Texas A&M University. He specializes in small and exotic animal practice.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dear Dr. Lutz, We recently purchased a two-month-old Dalmatian. The dog is not housebroken. My husband and I work, and we have to leave him in the house for 10 hours five days a week. Is there anything we can do to teach him to hold his business until we get home?—Working Parents.

Dear W.P., The student can't learn if the "teacher" isn't in the classroom to teach. I suggest you cover the floor with newspaper in a small area such as the bathroom. Close the door.

You might put the puppy in the garage if you have one, or a small fenced-in spot. If you expect to housebreak him, you must find time to work with him.

COA Revises Van Schedule

The Council on Aging has revised its van schedule. The new schedule is as follows:

Mondays — visits to local doctors and dentists.

Tuesdays — Corpus Christi doctor appointments between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. only.

Wednesdays — grocery shopping only.

Thursdays — errands such as prescriptions, utility bills, bank and post office.

Friday — Corpus Christi doctor appointments between noon and 2 p.m. only.

inflation or whatever. I don't think they would scare us like that if it weren't true, do you?

Sewing saves, that we know. But what if you do NOT sew? How can you save?

One way is to have someone do it for you, of course, or you can take a look at what you have and work out some changes.

That blazer you bought several years ago — still good fabric, still a good fit, but the lapels are much too wide and "pointy". Those lapels can be modernized. Sure they can. Separate lining and facing edge from neckline to hem. Turn lapels wrong side out (if there is topstitching on lapels, you will need to remove this first).

Use a curved ruler or a pattern showing a narrower lapel and draw onto the wrong side of the fabric the new shape you want. Check for accuracy and balance.

Baste along this new line. Trim, leaving a rather large seam allowance. Turn lapels right side as best you can. Check again. Now, do the final stitching. Trim seam allowances to one-fourth inch. Press seams open. Turn lapels right side out. Redo topstitching. Restitch lining to facing.

Nursing Home News

The Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center had some very entertaining social activities and a lot of interested friends and volunteers out last week.

We cherish each person who gives of their time and talents to come out and make our home a good one. We thank you all!

Monday afternoon the Aransas Pass Rebekah Lodge 143 were out for their monthly bingo party Tuesday morning.

Marvyn Wicks and her mother were over to mend the clothing for our residents. We are very grateful for this service which is done monthly by the ladies of the Rockport Presbyterian Church.

Wednesday morning Delma Rodgers was out to do her weekly visiting and run small errands for our residents.

Wednesday afternoon, Gary Bennett, minister of the Aransas Pass Church of Christ, was out to conduct the Bible study. Brother Gary is showing films of the Bible at this time and so many of our residents are really enjoying them.

We wish to give our sincerest thanks to the Ingleside Woman's Club for all the bags of homemade cookies which they brought over for our residents. This is a very nice and much-appreciated thing for you ladies to do.

We had a very unselfish gesture made by the family of one of our residents, Mrs. Louise Dodd. Mrs. Dodd consented to let use her piano in our south side dining room and her son-in-law Mr. Ballard Johnson and his men brought it out to us. Also a big thanks to Sallie Flint for her interest in our nursing home.

A big thanks goes to Lottie Bagwell for the nice foam pillows she made and brought out for our residents to make use of. Also thanks to Mr. Hayden Elsberry for donating the foam rubber with which to make these pillows.

We are always glad when anyone in our area finds a way in which they can be of service to our residents.

Thursday afternoon the Aransas Pass Rebekahs 307 were out for their monthly bingo game. Friday morning, Frankie Edward and Mary Gunn were on hand to conduct our paint class.

Saturday morning, Father James Hamilton was out to give Holy Communion to our Catholic residents.

Sunday morning worship services were led by our own Reverend Al Bankert.

Sunday afternoon the Ingleside Church of Christ was over to have their "Group Singing" program.

Also we were very happy to have our young group and their sponsors from the Primera Mission Bautista of Aransas Pass.

We had our reality orientation and exercise classes each morning and our social and coffee time each morning and afternoon.

Walston, Appleton Exchange Vows

Princess — Her Easter Bonnet

Twenty-five years ago Dad placed this snapshot in Baby Book - Volume Two. His own firm hand wrote the caption. PRINCESS — HER EASTER BONNET.

While Dad often poked fun at women's hats and had a sort of patient tolerance of the whole fashion bit, Easter was a day he took very seriously.

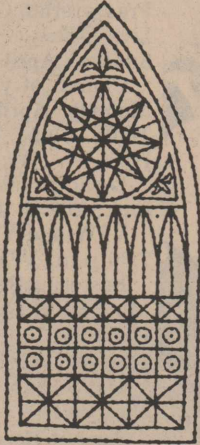

As I grew up he used to reason with me. "Princess," he'd say, "if Christ never rose from the dead — well those disciples sure fooled a hundred generations."

"But you and I believe he did arise. And that makes Easter the greatest day of all time. You can't really celebrate it, therefore, by what you put on your head. You can only celebrate it, Princess, by what you put in your heart."

With Mother and our two children. Bob and I will be in church next week . . . renewing in our own hearts that firm belief in eternal Life that Dad always cherished.

The Shepherd's Staff

By John Bradshaw, Pastor
First Presbyterian Church

The last act of Thornton Wilder's play, "Our Town", takes place in the graveyard of Grover's Corner. Emily, having died at age 26, asks and is given the chance to wind back the clock to relive one day of her life. She picks her 12th birthday. Everything's the same except she knows what others don't know: that it's just for one day.

Only Emily is aware of the preciousness of each passing moment. Her mother is preoccupied over the stove. Her father comes in from a business trip. It is almost more than she can bear, and though they can't hear her, she cries out: "Mama, just look at me one minute as though you really saw me — Mama!"

"Fourteen years have gone by. I'm dead. But just for a moment now we're all together. Mama, just for a moment we're happy. Let's look at one another."

But no one hears her, and she can't go on with it. She breaks down sobbing. The twelfth birthday fades and she's back in the graveyard.

"I can't. I can't go on. It goes so fast. We don't have time to look at one another." Then, looking toward the Stage Manger, she asks abruptly through her tears: "Do any human beings ever realize life while they live it — every, every minute?"

Easter time is a time to dwell with some concrete examples of true resurrection: the married couple who find that their relationship, once fulfilling and personally invigorating, has slowly dried up to the point where it is little more than external show and lifeless routine.

Then, out of this debilitating situation arises a new relationship which is more emotionally satisfying, more deeply creative and even electrifying. This is resurrection.

Or take the person who finds that life has lost its color and joy. He or she may continue to perform successfully in their chosen vocation, but living itself has become distasteful and empty. Yet in the midst of what seems to be despair, a richer, more stimulating life emerges. That is resurrection.

Such movements from death to life are mysterious. They are from God. All people have had these death/life experiences, but not all can recognize them as such.

The Eastertime of 50 days is that space in the Church's life when its members are asked to look into these experiences, to be present to the resurrection in their Christian living . . . to "realize life while they live it — every, every minute."

School Board Holds First Meeting Since Election

By Becky Werhan

The Aransas County School Board of Trustees met Monday, April 13, and, in addition to hearing from a large group of parents as described in Wednesday's Pilot, reorganized the Board after the recent trustees election, voting on officers and swearing in members Ottie Mundine, Polly Bracht and Jerry Brundrett.

Mundine was again voted in as president of the board and Joe Meyer was elected to the vice presidential spot. Polly Bracht was re-elected as secretary/treasurer.

After hearing from the large group of visitors, the Board appointed to the Board of Equalization W.C. Underwood, J.S. Slocum, Tom Rogers and William Everett.

The group then considered several bids on office furniture for the new Administration building and called for a special meeting, set for Thursday, April 30, to open the large bids for the overall building program funded by last September's $3.5 million bond election.

The project may conceivably be "bid out" to as many as four contractors or may be handled by one firm, depending on the least expensive method of completion for the taxpayers.

The board approved a plan for the county to remove the old tennis court slabs and haul them away to be used along the beach line.

In executive session, the Board announced the resignation of William Ratliff, principal of Rockport Elementary. Mr. Ratliff had tendered his resignation "sometime in March," said Superintendent Joe Randow, in order to take early retirement. Ratliff will be replaced by Norman Spears, who will be assisted by Karen Richter. Ratliff had not had an assistant in his tenure as principal at the school.

Other resignations accepted during the executive session were Elsie Barton, high school librarian who is planning on retirement, Phillip Baldwin, teacher at Rockport-Fulton High School, also retiring.

Others resigning were Peggy Loflin, James Mouring, Arthur Kopczynsky and Antonio Garcia.

New employees approved at the meeting were Judy Seaberry, Plan A Counselor and Ronald Ormand, Industrial Arts Instructor at the Junior High School.

Court OKs Console For Sheriffs' Office

By Becky Werhan

The Aransas County Commissioner's Court, meeting Monday, April 13, unanimously approved plans to enlarge the communications facilities of the Sheriff's Department and move the dispatch station office when that space is vacated later this summer.

Sheriff Bob Hewes presented the court with plans including the implementation of a two-dispatcher console to replace the present one-dispatcher unit; the installation of new seven-line telephones for deputies and possibly some new furniture.

Hewes explained the need for the new dispatch console, saying that, "If we install it now it will be cheaper than doing it later." Hewes cited emergency conditions that necessitate the need for the new console and expanded phone service. "We figure we had 4,000 phone calls right after the last storm," said Hewes.

He stated, "We built the jail in 1956 with growth in mind and it has worked out fine. We can probably keep on using it for the next 25 years. We've kept that in mind in choosing this console, so that it will serve us a long time."

The new unit and the moving of other equipment will cost approximately $5,000, according to Hewes.

In other action, the court heard from R.L. Kaiser, head of the Palm Harbor Property Owner's Association, who asked the court for assistance in regard to maintaining the street light system in Palm Harbor. Said Kaiser, "We've proved self-sufficiency — we've installed fire plugs, done cleanup and other things, but now membership is low and there's no more give."

Kaiser cited the fact that the light system in Palm Harbor was a great deterrent to crime in the area and Sheriff Hewes agreed with him.

Said Hewes, "It's probably the main factor in keeping the vandalism rate so low out there. It helps us out a lot."

The court could not act on Kaiser's request, as there are no statutes providing for county assistance in such a situation. Said Commissioner John Lee, "There are a lot of people who pay for their own street lights."

Other members of the court agreed and the suggestion was made that the property owners in Palm Harbor might double up and share a light to keep expenses down.

"It's not within the realm of any county department," said Judge John Wendell.

The court heard a report on the dumping problem in Peninsula Oaks and other sites in the county presented by "Uncle" John Leslie, who showed the court photographs taken in the subdivision. Leslie spoke of a discarded mattress at the entrance of Peninsula Oaks and also of the "dumpground" at the dead end of Fifth Street and Highway 35, calling that site a "junkyard of massive proportions." He also noted trash at the lake located at the end of Griffith Street.

"There must be two acres of trash — ten truck fulls of every kind of garbage you can imagine," said Leslie, who concluded his statement by calling for a conveniently situated dumping ground more readily accessible than those now offered county residents.

In final action the Court approved the request of new Airport Board member Tony Thorne to personally supervise the cleanup of areas of scrub brush at the county airport that were cited in a recent letter to the board from the Texas Aeronautical Commission as interfering with the safe operation of the facilities. The areas in question — made up mostly of mesquite and huisache trees — lie near runway 1432. Under the supervision of Thorne, they will be bulldozed and cut down, thus assuring maximum visibility. The shoulder areas of runway 1432 will also be improved at the same time.

Voting Error Not Intentional

I did not intend to vote myself, however, after a discussion about my possibly being out of the city because of my mother's pending hospitalization, I decided on the spur of the moment that it might be best if I voted also.

"Since that time I have been involved in trips to San Antonio to visit my mother who is still in the hospital. I have also been working around the clock with the repainting and carpeting of my home and making preparations for my forthcoming marriage on April 15.

"I have also been involved in various business matters in Dallas and a quite heavy work load in my law practice, all of which have had a tendency to cause me to forget some of the things I have done unless I keep a written memorandum. Unfortunately I failed to write down that I had voted.

"There is just no way I would have intentionally or knowingly voted twice in the subject election and the only reason I voted on April 4 was because I just did not remember that I had voted on March 9, 1981.

"I regret the inconvenience that this mistake has caused your department and I sincerely apologize for putting so many people to the extra work of investigating my dumb actions. I am pleased however that my votes could not have changed the outcome of the election with the resulting grief caused thereby.

I have this date written a letter to the Mayor explaining my actions and I trust that everyone will understand what happened under the circumstances.

Verv truly yours,
s/W.G. Walston"

Mayor Falk also read the similar letter that he received from Walston on the matter.

The council voted to accept the election canvass, reporting "288 valid and legal votes" and include for the record that there was one discrepancy reported.

Also noted in the election canvass were 50 votes cast in Rockport's Ward 1 with 43 of those votes going to W.B. Allen and seven to write-ins.

Concerning the voting discrepancy, Falk noted that the council cannot take action in the matter but can only "call it to the attention of the proper authority" — which, he said, had been done.

In other action in Wednesday's half-hour emergency session, the council voted a clarification of a recent decision to grant four percent merit raises to certain city employees.

The council Wednesday voted that a four percent merit raise, or $50, whichever is greater, will be granted only to employees recommended by their supervisors.

Patman Tours CC Grain Elevator Explosion Site

Congressman Bill Patman, U.S. Representative for the 14th District, said this week that his office stands ready to assist the Port of Corpus Christi in determining what federal programs may be available to help ease the losses suffered by last week's grain elevator explosion in Corpus Christi.

The public grain elevator, operated by the Port of Corpus Christi, was the site of a major explosion Tuesday, April 7. Five men were killed, 33 were injured and one remains missing.

Patman flew from Washington to Corpus Christi within 48 hours after the explosion, to personally tour the disaster site. After a briefing by officials at the Port of Corpus Christi, he surveyed the damages by helicopter and by ground tour.

"This is a sad and tragic situation," he said. "There have been more than 80 grain facility explosions in the United States during the past two years. Twenty persons have died and more than 100 have been injured."

Patman said his office will work with port officials after the various investigations are complete to see what is possible in the way of assistance. The Washington lawmaker said the full damages of the explosion must be assessed before any definitive action can be taken in the nation's capital. He said that when the needs are defined, his office will be open and ready to help.

Patman spent more than two hours surveying the rubble left by the massive explosion. He said the aftermath reminded him of a war zone.

Patman was especially concerned for the families of the men killed and injured in the explosion. "The personal loss is always the most tragic," he said.

The Congressman commended the staffs of the Corpus Christi hospitals that so efficiently treated the more than 30 injured persons following the mid-afternoon explosion. "The hospitals' quick and organized response to the disaster is no doubt responsible for saving lives," he said. "The residents of Corpus Christi are proud of medical facilities that function so well in a time of crisis."

city's sewer facilities from their existing one million gallons per day capacity to two million gallons. Such an expansion is necessary, officials say, to handle the increased demand on the system that is anticipated in the next five years.

The feasibility study has been funded in part by a Step 1 federal grant administered through the Environmental Protection Agency.

Following completion of the study phase (Step 1) of the project, the city will apply for a Step 2 federal grant to help pay for designing the proposed facility.

City officials then hope to obtain a Step 3 grant under the program to help pay for the costs of actual construction.

Under all three grants, the federal government pays for 75 percent of the costs and the city pays the remaining 25 percent.

The hearing.

The May 21 hearing will effectively conclude the Step 1 phase of the project, and results of the hearing along with results of prior hearings and facility plans will be sent to the EPA, according to Rockport's Public Works Director J.C. Gurley.

Rockport Sales Tax Up 22 Per Cent

March sales boosted Rockport's sales tax returns to more than $74,000 for the first three months of 1981 — an increase of 22 percent over rebates for the same period last year.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said the city received a rebate of $5,851.14 for March, 1981, compared to $5,496.56 for the month in 1980.

The city has received a total of $74,263.85 so far this year, almost $14,000 ahead of the $60,388.70 in returns for the first three months of 1980.

The city of Fulton received $1,413.84 in rebate from March sales, bringing Fulton's 1981 sales tax collections to date to $8,530.10.

Fulton began collecting the one percent city sales tax for the first time in March of last year, and this year's March rebate was nearly double the $782.51 collected for the month in 1980.

County Agent News

against weeds and grass that comes up from seed each year. Any weeds that do come through the mulch can be spotted easily and removed from the garden.

Good mulching materials in this area are compost, straw, leaves, hay, sawdust, wood shavings, bark, newspaper and plastic sheeting. (Add or delete according to availability of materials in your specific county.)

Organic mulches are, by far, the most common but remember that they should not be applied too early in the spring. If you mulch a gold garden soil, it warms up slower, delaying the maturity of most vegetables. One benefit when using organic mulches is that at the end of the season, they can be turned under to improve the physical condition of your garden soil.

Black plastic film has been used as a garden mulch for a long time. It is probably the most popular synthetic material available. It will result in a warmer soil early in the season and will greatly reduce the weed population.

However, if weeds are not a problem, it is an excellent mulching material. Several sheets of newspapers laid flat over the top of the garden row will also help control most weeds.

However, like organic mulches, newspapers can cause delayed maturity of many garden vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers and squash if applied too early.

A third method which I feel has limited value for garden weed control is herbicides. While such chemicals work well in single crop situations, it's difficult to use them in a garden when a wide assortment of vegetables may occupy a fairly small space.

I personally feel that herbicides are difficult to use in most garden situations and should not be used by the average home gardener.

However, if you are determined to use chemicals for garden weed control, remember that some herbicides may work with some crops but may damage others. Be sure to follow the exact application rate and use only the correct amount.

If you have a relatively large garden, it's possible to use herbicides satisfactorily by grouping vegetables for their tolerance to certain chemicals and diligently follow all label precautions.

However, your best bet for satisfactory weed control is to sharpen your trusty hoe and to practice the age-old and time-tested art of mulching.

Enough on this subject. Next time I'll discuss a real mystery to most gardeners — how to tell when to water.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Pirates Nail Cotton Pickers 4-5

By Bob Crawford

In a battle of the long ball, just good old-fashioned baseball finally was the deciding factor in the Rockport-Fulton Pirates' 5-4 victory over Robstown Tuesday night in Rockport. The Pirates got men on base in the final inning and scored them for the victory. Earlier in the game, the long ball played a big part as the Pickers got two runs in the top of the first when Myron Muckholt drilled a home run with a man aboard to stake Robstown to a 2-0 lead. The Pirates cut the lead in half in the bottom of the first when Eric Commander hit a pitch out of the park for his first homer of the year. The Pickers picked up a single tally in the fourth to increase their lead to 3-1. That margin was again cut in the bottom of the inning when Mark Goodin slammed a solo shot for a homer, his first of the year.

Robstown got an insurance run from Buckholt in the fifth on another home run. Leading 4-2 going into the bottom of the seventh, Robstown was just three outs away from the win. Rockport's Rudy Zavala led off the inning with a single, stole second, and then scored on an error. After Bill Jennings and Commander went down on outs, Dennis Hull walked to keep the inning going. Tim Redden came off the bench to pick up a pinch single, leaving two alive for the Pirates. Goodin blasted a ball that bounced out of the park for a ground-rule double, allowing only one of the runners to score. Pee Wee Solis, who went the distance on the mound for the Pirates, won the game with a single, scoring Redden.

Soccer Association Closes Spring Season

The Rockport-Fulton Soccer Association completed its Spring season last Sunday, April 12 with the final games in the three divisions being played and division All-Stars being announced. In the Pee Wee division, the Aztecs took the championship 3-1 over the Barracudas. The Barracudas' one point was the first point scored against the feisty Aztecs in 2 years of play. In the Junior Division, the Cosmos were the champions, defeating the Hurricanes, 2-1 after going into overtime and then finally resorting to a tense shoot-out finish. In the game between the Coaches and the Senior Division All Stars, there was a tie, 3-3. All Star Players for the Spring season were announced Sunday also. They were: In the Pee Wee Division:

The Aztecs' players were Charlie Lozano, Robert Robertson, William Gonzales and Luis Cavazos. The Chief's players were Russel Crawford, Roland Rios and Jason Phillips. The Rowdie's players were Kenneth Ratliff and James Martin. The Barracuda's players were Eric Flores, John Valdez and Jason Erkert. The Kick's players were Edward Brundrett, Bubba Kellough and Byron Hailey. In the Junior Division: The Hurricane's players were Gene Garcia, Charlie Arjona, Johnny Hernandez, Joe Cuellar and Robert Schoen. The Striker's players were Brad Bechtol, David Landrum and Richard Martin. The Cosmo's players were Bobby Richter, Erin Williams and Ricky Zuniga. The Tornado's players were Lee Cavazos, Josh McQuortor, Thong Nguyen and Kevin Biggs. The alternates were Lisa Daun, Ben Frieble and Rachel Flores. There was a large crowd on hand for Sunday's championship and the association officials have asked to thank all the "nice ladies" who helped prepare and serve at the awards picnic following the games. Also thanked by the coaches were: Poneve Builders, for the benches provided; M.J. Wells Construction, H.E.B. "and supporters and friends that helped a great deal," as well as RFSA sponsors, C.Y.O., Moonshell, Shoe Treasures, Cosby Paint Contractors, Sipe Real Estate, Lazy Acres Drive Inn, Number 2, Peco's Spanish Kitchen, Trucking Inc. of Sinton, Tejas Metals of Corpus Christi, Sound Marine Center Radio Shack, Fancy Footwork Sports Shop in Portland, and Island Surf n' Sunwear. 'OCEANS' OWNERS

'Oceans Of Seafood' Opens On Hwy 35

Harold Hubbell, one of the owners of the new seafood store "Oceans of Seafood", boasts, "The fish we sell today slept in the bay last night," and it's not much of an exaggeration. Hubbell and David Wells, who recently opened up the seafood market, located on Highway 35 North in Holiday Beach, both make fishing trips daily to replenish their stock while Harold's wife JoAnne "minds the store." A complete line of fish is offered at "Oceans" including deep sea red snapper filets, blacktip shark and fresh tuna. Shrimp and oysters are sold also, as is crabmeat. One of the specialties of the new business is supplying large quantity freezer orders and Wells and Hubbell will even arrange air freight delivery for customers who need their orders shipped. The store also sells boxed bait for the fisherman and Wells says that the fishing advice for anyone who wants to stop in and talk is absolutely free — "But for those who don't catch fish we offer a wide variety of seafood at a competitive cost." For customers interested in a different or new way to prepare their seafood, the well-known cookbook "Oceans of Cooking," written by Wells' wife Barbara, is on sale at the store also.

The Original Knight SOLUNAR TABLES
When To Fish Or Hunt

The schedule of solunar periods for the following week as printed below has been taken from the original Knight Solunar Tables. Plan your day so that you will be fishing good territory, hunting good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each has to offer. The tables are not a guarantee that you will catch fish or see game during the period, however.

The major periods begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods are somewhat shorter in duration.

Our civilized taste buds are so attuned to steaks, pork chops, and chicken that few of us realize that in other parts of the world other meats are favored. Because the moors of Scotland abound with rabbits, this wild game finds its way into European meat markets and sells readily. Very tasty. Cajuns living deep in the swamps of Louisiana have been chawing on gator tail for decades, but now this meat is available in restaurants both here and in Florida as well. A real delicacy. Try some. Two years ago I attended a Braniff Outdoor Council meeting in Tierra del Fuego and discovered that lamb was the only meat on the menu. Talk about gourmet lamb dishes. Chefs there know how to put them together. In many parts of the U.S. you can buy buffalo meat. It's leaner than beef, and tender when cooked right. A real treat. Hoofed North American game such as moose, elk, deer, and antelope are all good, with the former two being my favorite. These meats do not taste like beef, and neither should they. In an Indian village on the Amazon I ate monkey stew and found it appetizing. On another occasion I tried parrot, and was not quite so well impressed. I suspect that these natives eat parrots out of necessity and not choice. Beaver is good, so is possum, coon, and groundhog. Our American Indians used to eat puppies. Horse meat is favored in some parts of the world. Rattlesnake meat is a delicacy, and so is the tail of the iguana. Wild feral hog is better than pork, and so is javelina. Like I said, there's more to dining than steaks and fried chicken. Do some experimenting and see for yourself.
