Basic Changes For Antlerless Permits

Basis for issuance of doe permits to landowners has been significantly changed for the 1975 hunting season and Mitchell County landowners are included among those affected.

According to a map now available at the courthouse, antlerless deer permits will be issued Nov. 5 and 6 on this formula: only one permit per 156 acres and those landowners must own or control acreage in the southeastern portion of the county.

No permits will be issued to the western, northern or eastern portions.

The outline of the area is roughly between Hwy. 163 and the intersection of Hwy. 208 with Fm 2319, the southeastern part of the county limited by these boundaries.

A map provided by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. is printed here showing the outlines.

In years past, landowners were issued unlimited numbers of antlerless deer tags which gave the landowner complete control over the number of deer harvested on his land, no matter if he had 10 acres or 10,000.

This year, however, wildlife officials at the Parks and Wildlife Department say the taking of antlerless deer will be by permits, instead of tags, and that the rate of issuance of these permits will be based on estimated deer numbers and carrying capacity of the areas for which they are issued.

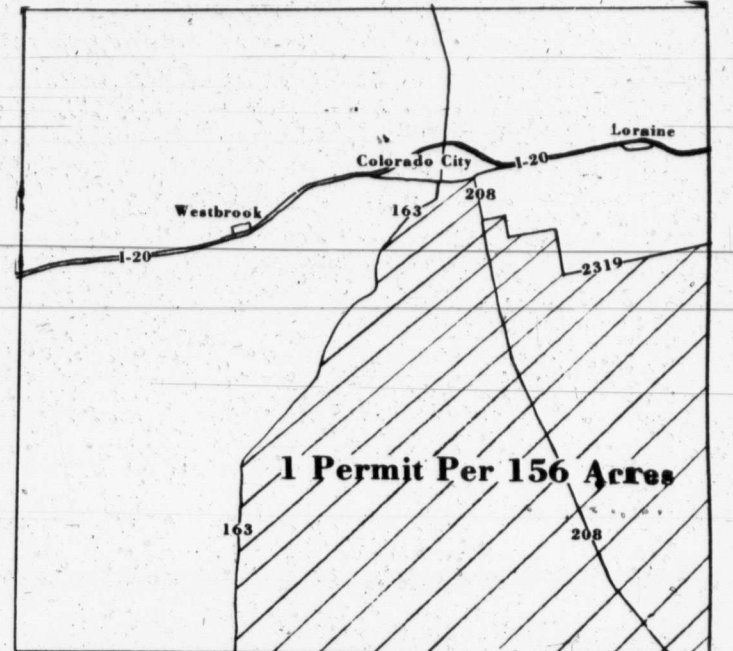

The important distinction between "tags" and "permits" is that in the case of the latter a landowner must either own or control acreage equal to the minimum rate of issuance. If, for instance, the rate is set at one permit per 50 acres, the owner must own or control at least 50 acres before a permit will be issued by P&WD.

Obviously this will prevent some landowners of small tracts from obtaining antlerless deer permits but there is a sound management basis for the new system. Much of Texas' rural land is being subdivided into ever smaller tracts, thus increasing the hunting pressure on existing deer herds. Permits will still be utilized in the same way as tags; that is, according to the law one permit is only good for the taking of one antlerless deer.

The permit must be filled out and attached to the deer immediately upon possession and remain attached until the carcass has been finally processed.

DOE PERMIT MAP for Mitchell County is printed here for the benefit of landowners. Antlerless permits will be issued at Mitchell County courthouse Nov. 5 and 6. Rates of issuance this year are based on estimated deer numbers and carrying capacity of the area shown.

First Aid Course Set

Rogers said that about 14 students have already enrolled in the course but there is room for 20. Persons interested in taking the course are asked to phone either Jon Shamburger at the Kindercare Center, 728-5897, or Bonnie Burt, Red Cross Volunteer, 728-5012, in the Barber Bldg.

Rogers said there is no fee charged for taking the course, the only cost being purchase of a $2.50 book.

THREE TEXAS ELECTRIC Service Co. employees in Colorado City were inducted into TESCO's Quarter Century Club in ceremonies at Colorado City's Civic Center Wednesday night by Company President W. G. Favorite Songs Theme For Garden Club Show

A special attraction of this year's Flower Show, sponsored annually by the Colorado City Garden Club, will be a watercolor exhibit by Warren Cullar, Assistant Professor of Art at Western Texas College in Snyder.

Theme of the show, "America Sings," will be carried out by interior decorations, artistic arrangements and horticulture exhibits, with Cullar's watercolors of the Southwest adding to the Bicentennial motif of the show.

Exhibitors will receive Bicentennial certificates commemorating their participation in a function officially sanctioned by the Mitchell County Bicentennial Committee.

Chairman of this year's show is Mrs. Bruce Johnson, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Robert Chambers. Mrs. Chambers is club president.

All club members will assist in some part of the show and urge everyone in the community to attend Thursday during the 4-7 p.m. hospitality time the show is open to the public in Colorado City Civic Center.

No admission is charged and refreshments will be served by Mrs. E. M. Owen and Mrs. Johnson.

A special section which is unusually popular this year is the addition of vegetables to the horticulture exhibits and a number of hanging baskets are expected to be entered.

Entrees will be made Wednesday afternoon in the dried materials classification, either artistic or horticulture as well as container plants and baskets. Fresh materials will be entered Thursday morning. Show organizers will set up entries and classifications from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. when a luncheon has been arranged for club members and judges.

Judging will be from 2-4 p.m. and awards will be made. The show is open to the public from 4-7 p.m. following the presentation of awards.

During the public viewing, Cullar's paintings will be on display.

A native Texan, Cullar earned his Bachelor of Arts from Abilene Christian College and a Master of Fine Arts from the Institute of Arts, San Miguel de Allende, Guanajuato, Mexico.

He is presently teaching the WTC extension course, "Painting Problems and Techniques," in Colorado City. In addition to teaching, Cullar has had numerous one-man shows and conducted watercolor workshops and demonstrations throughout Texas. He is a member of the Southwest Watercolor Society and the Texas Watercolor Society.

Cullar says he likes to paint from personal experience and so he travels to a different locale each summer for new subjects.

Currently, he is working on a one-man show of paintings of Egypt from last summer's trip. He was chosen by the Texas Junior College Teachers' Association to be one of a sixteen-man team to produce slide-tape programs about contemporary Egypt. The show will be in Dallas in March.

First love for Cullar, however, is the Southwest and scenes from familiar places throughout the Southwest area will be featured in the show he has prepared for the Garden Club's Flower Show.

Election Proposals Difficult To Decide

Ballot for the Nov. 4 special election on revising the Texas Constitution contains only spaces to mark for or against the eight propositions and no explanation of any of the proposals.

The voters of Texas have the opportunity to vote on a revised constitution for the first time in 100 years. The proposed revision of the constitution is submitted in the form of eight separate amendments, each of which revises a particular portion of the constitution and may be individually adopted or rejected by voters. The Bill of Rights is retained in full, unaltered except for the technical amendments required because of changes in other parts of the constitution.

A brief review of the first four propositions on the ballot follows:

Proposition No. 1, The constitutional amendment revising the Separation of Powers, Legislative, and Executive Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

PCA Office Closed Monday

Sweetwater Production Credit Association office in Colorado City will be closed Monday in observance of Veteran's Day.

Eddie Mitchell, local office manager, said the office will be open as usual Tuesday.

The articles of this proposition contain similar provisions now in effect with the following exceptions: it calls for annual sessions of the Legislature and provides for a salary commission to recommend maximum compensation and allowance for members of the legislature. This is perhaps the most controversial proposition in the election, as opponents of the proposal say it will increase the legislature's powers too much and proponents say it will increase the effectiveness of the legislative body, eliminating time-consuming study of matters best handled locally.

It provides for regular annual sessions of the legislature not to exceed 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years. Regular sessions now provided for in the present Constitution are limited to 140 days duration every two years.

It also contains provisions concerning organization and procedure of the legislature. Organizational sessions would be permitted prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions. Preliminary organizational sessions are not allowed under the present Constitution.

Presently, legislators' salaries are fixed at $7,200 per year and are allowed $30 per diem and travel expenses.

The new provision would allow a salary commission to recommend maximum compensation and allowance for legislators.

Article IV of the proposition calls for the governor to appoint chairmen of state governmental agencies and authorizes the governor to remove appointed officers of agencies for stated reasons, subject to senate refusal by a majority vote. This proposal has been criticized by opponents as giving the governor too much "political" power but those favoring the article say it would make the agencies more efficient and eliminate "do-nothing" agency personnel.

Proposition No. 2, The constitutional amendment revising the Judiciary Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

New provisions under this proposition establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, courts of appeals, district courts and circuit courts. It also merges the court of criminal appeals and the supreme court into a single court of last resort and authorizes the supreme court to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads.

It allows the state to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances and allows the legislature to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

It continues the present system of county courts and requires only one justice court per county. The present constitution requires four justice of the peace courts per county.

Proposition No. 3, The constitutional amendment revising the Voting and Election Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

This proposition retains

Final score was Anson 12, Wolves 0.

It was an evenly played game with the Wolves brutal defense not giving up any of the points that Anson got. Anson's scores came in the following manner.

In the last two minutes of the first quarter, the Tigers Tony Watts returned a Wolves punt 60 yards for a score with Watts kicking the extra point.

With some 6:18 left in the final quarter, Anson's punter kicked to the Wolves 1/2-yard line and on the next play the Wolves Bill Everett was tackled in the end zone for a safety on a controversial call.

With only seconds left in the game, Watts kicked a 54-yard field goal to put Anson ahead 12-0. The field goal was set up by a Wolves fumble.

The first part of the first and fourth quarters and all of the second and third periods were brutally defensive periods.

A number of Anson players left the game with injuries incurred because of the hard hitting. However, none of the Wolves were injured.

The Wolves played with a lot of desire and deserved to win, said Colorado High Coach Mike Farda. However, the Wolves offense never could get on the board.

The Wolves mounted two good drives, one stopped by penalties and one drive came up short on Anson's 9-yard line in the second quarter. The Wolves spent most of the second half in the shadow of their own goal posts as the Anson punter consistently put the Wolves in a hole. The Wolves could never get across the midfield stripe in the second half.

Farda said that players with a good game on defense included Bill Everett, Ruben Ornelas, Jackie Ellis, Andy Chalker, Kenneth Lain and Wayne McKee. Those playing good on offense, according to the coach were Ellis, McKee, Chalker, Jim Jordan and Gary Hulme.

Next week, the Wolves will play Winters in Wolf Stadium.

Scores of other District 6-AA games were Ballinger 7-0 over Coahoma and Stamford over Winters, 31-14.

It's Time To "Fall Back"

When you went to bed Saturday night, if you set your clock back one hour, you'll be on the right time pattern when you wake up Sunday morning.

Another way to do it is forget Saturday night and set it back Sunday morning when you get up, but somehow, that's confusing and seems to start you off on the wrong foot for this fall return to Central Standard Time.

"Spring up and Fall back" is a convenient way to remember which way to move the clock hands and now it's back to standard.

At least the fall move back is not quite as embarrassing for those who forget to change because being an hour early for church is all right—it's when you're an hour late that it's hard to explain.

ROCKWELL "GET TOGETHER" in Colorado City over the weekend brought about 40 people from a wide West Texas area, as well as from Houston and New Mexico, to the local Rockwell Bros. & Co. lumberyard, host for the event. Pictured here during a tour of the city which included historical sites and the museum are Henry Rockwell of Houston, in the foreground, and at back from left, Charles Dunn of Breckenridge, Tom Vernon of Big Spring and Fred Smith of Hamlin as they register at the museum stop.

OUR HOMELAND IS IN HEAVEN

Father John Busch
Priest

St. Ann's Catholic Church

Colorado City

St. Paul tells us in his letter to the Philippians (3:20) "For us, our Homeland is in heaven" and he goes on to say: "The Lord Jesus Christ...will transfigure these wretched bodies of ours into copies of His glorious Body." And so the Apostle urges us to live always, as one who will, one day, have a glorious resurrection.

We have become accustomed, in our day, to so many great and almost unbelievable advances in science and medicine. The study of the atom, the discovery of the "miracle drugs," the wonderful operations performed by our medical teams! Thanks to science and medicine, human life can be prolonged by the transplantation of human organs, even human hearts!

What science has not been able to tell us yet is how to raise the dead back to life. But St. Paul tells us that Jesus Christ will give a new form to this lowly body of ours, making it into an image of His Own glorified Body. And as one of the articles of our faith, we profess in the Apostles' Creed, "I believe in the resurrection of the dead."

And this is the great truth that Our Lord tries to impress upon us — that son that you lost and buried in the cemetery will, one day, rise up from the dead; that mother, that wife, those model Christians whom you now mourn, will rise from the dead!

We were created to be citizens of heaven. Our faith tells us that we shall rise, that our buried bodies shall rise from the grave; that our parents, brothers, sisters and relatives now resting in the cemetery shall rise from the dead. They will rise to die no more, to an eternal life, a life without end!

All of which should indicate to us that this life we now have is not the true life; that this life is just a trial, the other the reward; this, the exile, the other the true homeland; this, the valley of tears, the other the contentment of face-to-face presence with God.

This understanding makes a definite demand upon us: we must live, then, as one preparing to die and then rise up to eternal life, in the full knowledge that whatever we sow here, we shall inevitably reap there; we must work and struggle here in order to rest there; we must bargain here to lay up treasure there. And that is why St. Paul urged those of his time — and we should take heed: "Join the others who follow my example, and observe the behavior of those who conduct themselves according to the pattern you have in us. For alas, many go about in a manner which shows them to be enemies of the Cross of Christ...These people will end up in disaster! Their only God is their stomach; their "glory" is their very shamefulness. I mean those people whose only concern is things of this world."

Let's not try to fool ourselves, or excuse ourselves, saying that in this modern world it is impossible to lead a life in conformity with the teachings of Christ — that times change, and customs change — that what was right for our parents is no longer necessarily right for us! Eternal truths do not change. We should try to adapt ourselves and our surroundings to the eternal truths — not mutilate these truths to fit our own capricious and idiosyncrasies!

God never promised us that it would be easy — only that with His help we can do it!

God has not promised
Skies always blue, Flower-strewn pathways
All our life through.
God has not promised
Sun without rain, Joy without sorrow
Peace without pain.
But God HAS promised
Strength for the day, Rest from the labor,
Light for the way,
Grace for the trials, Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy, Undying love.

Grants Aid Local Law Enforcement

Mitchell County law enforcement agencies will continue to receive financial aid and moral support from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's office through approval of two grants totaling $42,226 to the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

Governor Dolph Briscoe has announced approval of the grants for continuation of regional law enforcement improvement projects.

A $25,316 grant, to be split among 21 law enforcement agencies including the Mitchell County Sheriff's Office and the Colorado City Police Department, is for continuation of the WCTCOG law enforcement teletype network. The network provides rapid access to computerized criminal information at state and national levels, notably the National Crime Information Center information bank which sends back answers to queries almost instantaneously.

Increased conviction and clearance rates, and rapid identification of stolen property are anticipated results of the project's continuation.

A second grant of $16,910 will continue the WCTCOG law enforcement training academy. Two 240-hour basic training courses, and at least 10 special courses, will be offered to law enforcement officers from the 19-county WCTCOG area, including Mitchell County. As of now, all law officers in the Sheriff's Office and Police Department have completed the basic course, with many going on to advanced training.

Texas A&M Police Training Division conducts the basic courses, while special courses are to be taught by local instructors.

October is the anniversary month for the Governor's Criminal Justice Division, as it was established Oct. 18, 1968 by executive order. Since its creation was authorized to administer the state's block grant from the federal government, federal funding has grown from the original grant of $1.1 million in 1969 to an estimated average of $40 million during each of the past three years.

The program has meant several improvements in Mitchell County agencies—already mentioned the improved radio communications and law officer training program. In addition, both Sheriff's Office and Police Dept. here have received crime detection kits of fingerprint and photographic equipment.

Another effect of the aid program has been streamlining of court operations and reduction of time between arrest and trial.

Kenneth Crow, who works with District Attorney Frank Ginzler in Nolan, Fisher and Mitchell Counties, has aided immeasurably in special investigation and case preparation.

Currently in the mill is an application through Ginzler's office for an Assistant District Attorney, an office which Ginzler says is working well in a number of offices similar to the Mitchell County District Attorney's situation.

Gov. Briscoe said that local jails in Texas are becoming more humane, more in line with court orders, and more susceptible to inmate rehabilitation through the CJD, but in Mitchell County it's the commissioners court which has taken the initiative and responsibility to oversee the construction, renovation and maintenance of one of the finest jail facilities anywhere in Texas for a city and county the size of Mitchell County, and in many cases, far superior to facilities of cities of much larger size.

Gov. Briscoe also cited increased citizen involvement as a major factor in improvement of crime prevention, and in that area, Mitchell County perhaps ranks at the top—the recent Law Enforcement Appreciation Day which involved the whole county in a salute to law enforcement agencies in the county a supreme example of citizen involvement.

Organizers of the event had no place to go to look for guidelines for holding such an occasion because none had ever been staged on such a large scale.

One other area should be mentioned in an overall look at ways law enforcement has been improved in the county and aided by the CJD and that is specialized training programs for Texas Justices of the Peace and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

ty, to name a few that are applicable to Mitchell County.

With the improvements outlined here that reach the local agencies, Gov. Briscoe has said that they are "accomplishments that will enhance Texas' system of fighting crime for many years to come."

NEW PASTOR at Central Baptist Church, the Rev. John Ford, is pictured here with his family, from left, 10-year old Rhonda Faye, 3-year old Jonna, Mrs. Ford, Ford and 5-year old Robert Trey. He began his duties at the church Sept. 24, moving here from Hurst. This will be his first full-time ministry but he has worked a number of years with home missions in Nigeria and Ghana. He has attended numerous seminars in the Fort Worth area.

10,000 CASES SOLD

Liquor Business Causes Cash Registers To Ring

BY DARRELL WOOLWINE
Reporter Staff Writer

Over 10,000 cases of beer have been sold in Sweetwater in the last week. Legal sale of alcoholic beverages began Oct. 9, eight days ago. Seventeen licenses and permits for sale of off premises consumption of wine, beer, and liquor have been approved, but not all the stores have opened for business.

And some opened this week.

It has been said the illegal bootleggers in town had been doing a booming business over the past several years. With their doubled prices, someone should have raked in a good little piggy bank full of green to hold them through the winter. That is if they were having any kind of booming business as the legal retailers have been the last week.

Citizens who fought the wet-dry issue in the recent election, hoping to keep the city "dry?", predicted increased driving while intoxicated, public intoxication, streets brawls and other incidents which could be connected with the legalized sale of alcoholic beverages.

A check with the local law enforcement officials indicates no rise in arrests and charges resulting in drinking the "evil spirits."

Some businesses indicate a slackening off of beer purchases after the first few days, and this is probably to be expected. Anything new draws a crowd and promotes business. But all indications point to continued success by the local retailers.

Kenneth L. Bonner of Ken's Drive Inn answered "Excellent," when asked how business had been the first week. He has purchased 1,500 cases of beer and has sold 1,300 cases. He added that business had been real good, but it had leveled off a little since the first few days.

Beer trucks have been spotted every day since they first began delivering. One distributor commented that it was almost impossible to keep the stores stocked.

Don Smith of Hillcrest Grocery said his beer business began with a bang but had leveled off a little. He sold 300 cases the first three days. "We're still handling milk, bread and eggs," laughed Smith.

Sweetwater Poultry and Eggs didn't open their sales until noon Monday. "so we missed out on the first flow," said B. Burklow. He estimates that his company is selling 200-400 cases a day. "Business is better all around. I can see where my business will really be helped when we get lined out," commented Burklow.

Colonial Food No. 39 stated their net sales figures have increased 50 per cent in the last week. Waymon Berryhill, manager, said "As of Monday, we had bought $4,500 worth of retail beer." That was three days of business.

Rawlins Gulf and Grocery opened Friday and stated that sales have been pretty good. Because of their Interstate location, they report a lot of out of town business, even without a sign stating they have beer for sale.

Harry's Fruit Market didn't open until Tuesday afternoon but reports pretty good business. "I received my license late and everybody else got ahead of me," commented Harry Bender. "I can already see an increase in over-all business," Bender stated. "I think it's going to help everybody."

We believe by legalizing the sale of all alcoholic beverages for off premises consumption only would benefit our area. We have a very fine recreational area here and more and more of Texas is attracting tourists from out of state—and Colorado City would benefit more by having legal sales of all alcoholic beverages to offer them. This would also appeal to Texans who come here to enjoy our nearby lakes and State Park for vacationing.

Your vote and influence can make this possible. Vote "for" the sale of all alcoholic beverages for off premises consumption only on November 4 in Precinct Three.

Plans Told For New City Steakhouse

In an announcement made through the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce, Gary Ridley of Ridley Packing Company in Sweetwater outlined his firm's plans to build a new steakhouse in the city.

Construction will begin in about 30 days, with completion anticipated in the early spring. The restaurant will be located on South Georgia St. near the intersection of Interstate 20 and Lamar St.

Utilizing a predominant Western-style decor, the building will occupy approximately 4,000 square feet and will provide seating for 195 persons. It will specialize in char-broiled steak and will also offer shrimp, ham, chicken and pork items.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

Junior High

Teams Win

Loraine's Junior High football team fielded two teams against Roby Thursday night in games played in Roby and the Loraine teams won both games.

B-Team game was 20-6
and A-Team won 24-14.
Loraine coach Ken Lightfoot said both teams played good defense and had good line blocking for scoring on offense.

Leading off, the B-Team scored twice on passes from Bobby Sanchez to Junior Briseno. Sanchez then kept and carried over for a TD,
Briseno-carrying in the 2-point conversion.

Lightfoot said defensive standouts were Gregg Oliver, Wayne Ring and Tommy Mosher.

In the A-Team game,
Tony Williams from his tailback post scored all TDs behind blocking of Wayne
Rose and David Finley. Curtis
Haden carried over for two extra points and the defensive line charge tackled a Roby player behind the end line for a two-point safety.

Offensive players deserving mention were Junior Martinez, Tino Galvan and Casey Merket, the coach said, while defensive standouts were Finley, Galvan and David Barrera.

7th Grade 18, Anson 0

Colorado Middle School's 7th grade football team captured their first win of the season against Anson Thursday night in a game played before a hometown crowd in Wolf Stadium.

The final score was 18-0 as the young Wolves had their best offensive game of the season and Coach Steve Van Hoozer said they played the best defense yet.

The entire offensive line blocking was outstanding for a beginning team, he said, and the running backs had a good night.

Carlos Olivarez led the defense with 10 tackles as the defenders held the Tigers deep in their own territory most of the game.

Doug Johnson's spectacular runback of the opening kickoff for 95 yards into the end zone was nullified by a clipping penalty but the run sparked the offense and they scored in the first quarter on a one-yard run by Jay Green.

Two passes connected in the second quarter for scores, one a 20-yarder from Kirk Evans to Yancy Spivey and one a 15-yard completion from Arthur Reyes to Jay Green.

Terry Creswell recovered a Tiger fumble and made two good tackles on the punting team, Van Hoozer said.

The team gained 125 yards and made seven first downs during the game. They meet Winters at 6 p.m. next Thursday in Wolf Stadium.

8th Grade 12, Anson 0

The 8th grade football team for Colorado Middle School took a 12-0 win over Anson in Wolf Stadium Thursday night.

A total of 234 yards on offense were all rushing yards and garnered 12 first downs for the team. They lost two fumbles but recovered three.

The score was 0-0 at the half and coach Rick Robinson said the team really didn't get going until the second half when they came back to score twice, both on pitchouts. Ruben Garcia took the first one in from about 35 yards out, the attempted kick no good on a bad snap.

Rudy Garcia got the nod on the same play a little later and carried in from 20 yards out. Again the conversion attempt was no good as the team tried a run but the score held at 12-0 with fine defensive play, Robinson said.

Offensively, Robinson said that Clay Sawyer at tackle turned in an outstanding performance for the night.

Defensively, he named Sawyer, James Edwards, Britt Chaney, Squeaky Hanks, Rudy Garcia and linebackers Russell Noel and Lupe Luera. Raul Gomez recovered one fumble and Rudy Garcia captured two for the Wolves as Lupe Luera intercepted a pass.

Robinson said that special mention should go to both Steve Schauwecker and Rod Reeves for coming into the game in the fourth period on defense, positions they do not normally play.

The next game for the 8th grade team is Thursday in Wolf Stadium as they meet Winters in a 7:30 game.

Westbrook 62,

Old Glory 61

Westbrook Wildcats defeated Old Glory Friday night by 62-61 in a game Coach Dale Byrd said was the best they ever played.

The Wildcats led at the end of the first period by 12-10, were ahead at half by 31-26 but trailed at the close of the third period 48-39 after an Old Glory scoring surge.

With two minutes left in the game, Old Glory held a 7 point lead; with 1:15 minutes to go, the score was 58-57, Old Glory. Westbrook scored with 20 seconds left, making the score 60-59 but Old Glory came back with 10 seconds to go and made it 61-60. Westbrook scored in the final four seconds, 62-61, and with one second on the clock, Old Glory took a time out, got possession and shot, almost making the basket.

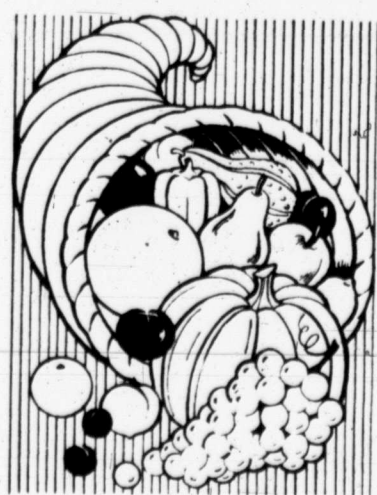

Leading the scoring was Bobby Matlock with 25 points, followed by Glenn Rich, 17; Daryl Rich, 10; Jim Anderson, 4; Steve Rollins, 4 and Don Duran, 2.

The win gives the Wildcats a 2-2 season record and they face Abilene Christian High School in Westbrook Tuesday, games starting at 6:30.

The girls lost their game with Old Glory by 82-30.
