Withdrawal and Filing Marks City Race

Filing of one candidate for City Council and withdrawal of another from that race marked the end of the period in which those seeking office can file and have their names on the ballot for the April 4 election.

Sam Adams, now serving on the council, filed for re-election to that place. Howard Holton, the other member whose term expires, filed earlier, as did Ralph Owens, who is running for the first time.

Carroll Daves, who filed as a candidate, has withdrawn from the race, according to Russell Yates, city secretary.

Voters will select two council members from the three candidates.

There was no change in the race for mayor during the last week, with Mayor Hiram Cudd seeking re-election and John Coleman and Raymond Terry also running for the office.

Absentee voting will begin Tuesday, March 14, 20 days before the election, and those wishing to cast absentee ballots may do so at the City Hall.

Donors Give 113 Pints of Blood to Red Cross

Collingsworth blood donors gave 113 pints of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile Friday, March 3, in its first visit of recent years to Wellington.

This is more than the bloodmobile had collected altogether in its four stops just prior to coming to Wellington, its directors told Police Chief Donald Nunnelley, chairman of the blood drive.

"We are indeed grateful for the response of the people of this county," Chief Nunnelley declared. "All of those who put their name on the schedule to come came, except three and they notified us of their reasons for being unable to come," he continued.

But much of the blood was given by drop-ins, people who worked time into their schedules to give the 45 minutes required to make a donation. Long lines of waiting donors built up several times during the day, but only a few came and were unable to wait the time necessary to process them, the workers reported.

Teen-agers as well as adults worked to make the bloodmobile visit successful, Chief Nunnelley pointed out.

Much of the preliminary work was handled by St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Jeff Wilson. These women, along with the Junior Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Nunnelley, were in charge of the clerical work and assisting the Red Cross nursing and technical staff during the day.

Wellington Future Farmers, directed by Don Lacy, unloaded and loaded the heavy equipment. A large group of seniors, having parental consent, were excused from classes to make blood donations.

Students Polish Spelling for County Bee March 14

The 1967 Collingsworth County Spelling Bee will be held on Tuesday, March 14 in the county courtroom, Don Van Pelt, director, has announced.

The first word will be given out at 10 a.m. and the bee will continue until a winner has been declared.

Mrs. Bob McAlister, speech teacher in Wellington high school will be the pronouncer. Judges will be announced at the time of the contest.

There will be contestants from all four of the county's schools, Mr. Van Pelt said.

The winner of the senior division will represent the county in the regional spelling bee in Amarillo on Saturday, April 22.

This year, he said, it is sponsored jointly by the Amarillo News and West Texas State University. Winner of that event participates in the national spelling bee at Washington in May.

The junior winner here will attend the Amarillo event and will attend the dinner of champions, but will not participate in a contest of any type.

This year for the first time, money prizes will go to the county winners. First place winner in the senior division will receive $15 and the second place winner $10, while the prizes in the junior division will be $7.50 and $5. Ribbons and pins will be given all contestants.

These prizes fall within the amount allowed under Interscholastic League rules, Mr. Van Pelt said.

School eliminations are being held this week.

The senior division includes students in the seventh and eighth grades who have not passed their 16th birthday. The junior division is for children in the sixth grade and below, however, if any student in these grades wishes to compete in the senior division, he may do so. A seventh or eighth grader cannot compete in the junior division, however.

"We encourage the public to attend," said Mr. Van Pelt. "You will see boys and girls performing in a field that is most important to both their school work and beyond."

Wellington merchants furnished money for the prizes, and these were listed by Mr. Van Pelt as Singley Mill, Howard Holton, Farmers Co-op Gin, Warrick Feed Store, Clark Chevrolet, City State Bank, Wellington State Bank, City Grocery, Sullivan Hardware and Saied's Department Store.

Game time is 7 p.m.

There will be a small admission charge and all proceeds will go into an athletic fund.

The public is urged to attend.

Most of the seniors were members of this years Eagle and Eaglette teams, while many of their opponents once represented Samnorwood on the court.

The three incumbents had filed earlier, and they are Tiny Taylor, Eddie Slay and David Baumgardner.

Quail voters will select three trustees from a slate of six candidates. Those who have filed are N. E. Childers, C. H. Long and Elvis Pitts, the incumbents, and B. J. Patterson, J. R. Kennedy and Richard Peters.

Three candidates in the Samnorwood district are unopposed. They are J. H. Oldham and J. H. Christner, running for re-election, and Austin Cantrell. Sam Carter, whose term expires, did not seek re-election.

Guard Unit in Divisions Due for Streamlining

Wellington's Battery A is among the National Guard units which would be affected by the proposed streamlining of the Army National Guard and Reserve forces.

Affected are the 15 low-priority divisions, which includes the 49th Armored ,of which Battery A is a part.

Capt. James Chappell, battery commanding officer, said he has received no official word of the proposed changes. This week the battery will complete Exercise Talon Shield, a test of readiness.

The aim is toward a streamlined Army National Guard and Reserve force of eight divisions and 16 independent brigades, all of which would be at full combat strength or close to that level.

Banquet Will Honor "That Skyrocket Band"

Jim Williams, Dalhart high school principal and a popular former West Texas band director, will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet honoring the Wellington high school band Friday, March 10.

Approximately 250 Wellington citizens, band members and their friends are expected to attend the event, which will be held in Bura Handley Community Center, starting at 8 p.m.

As entertainment and by popular request, the film will be shown of the Wellington band as it participated in the Interscholastic League Marching Band Contest in Canyon earlier this year, said Band Director James Larson.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale by members of the band.

Although Mr. Williams has not announced the subject of his talk, it will be related to musical values and its importance to the high school curriculum, according to Mr. Larson.

Before entering school administrative work, Mr. Williams was a band director for 11 years, two at Brownfield Junior High, three at Big Lake and six at Lamesa.

He holds bachelors and masters degrees from Texas Tech and presently is working toward his doctor of philosophy degree.

Mrs. Williams and their three daughters will accompany him here.

"We feel honored to have a speaker of Mr. Williams' caliber," said the Wellington band director. "We urge Wellington people to come out, both to hear what he has to say and to pay tribute to our band members for their hard work and achievement."

Beauty, Favorite

More Honors Come to Nancy Sanford at MU

New honors rest gracefully on the petite shoulders of Nancy Sanford, now a freshman in Midwestern University, Wichita Falls.

At the end of two days of balloting for class favorites and school beauties, it was learned that Nancy had been chosen for both honors, as a representative of the freshman class in each category.

Class favorites were voted on by the individual classes. Chosen with her by the freshmen was Bill Sidebottom.

The entire student body chose the beauties, and Nancy was one of two freshmen selected. Altogether, eight beauties were chosen.

No sooner were these honors announced than the Wellington miss was notified by Viola Grady, dean of women of Midwestern, that she was nominated for Outstanding Freshman Woman.

"We feel, of course, that the Women's Recognition Banquet sponsored each year by the Association of Women Students is an outstanding function and that a nomination for one of the awards is a noteworthy achievement," Den Grady said.

Earlier this year, Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford, was named a princess to the Homecoming Queen (freshmen are not eligible for the queen honors). Gamma Phi Beta then named her its best pledge and her name is engraved on the permanent pledge paddle in the chapter room.

Nancy was graduated from Wellington high school in 1966.

School Will Not Dismiss Friday

Wellington schools will not dismiss Friday for the annual meeting of District IX, Texas State Teachers Association in Amarillo, Supt. J. L. Harper said this week.

This was done as part of the plan to close school a week early in the spring so the remodeling of the high school and junior high buildings can get under way.

Most of the other schools of the county will dismiss classes Friday so that teachers can attend the TSTA meeting.

Three Criminal Cases Heard in District Court

With the trial of three cases from the criminal docket, Judge Charles Reynolds on Wednesday finished the February session of 100th District Court in Collingsworth County.

The next session will be in early April, he said.

According to the records of the county-district clerk's office, the three cases were:

Buster DeWitt Woods pled guilty to the passing of a forged instrument and was sentenced to two years in the state prison.

Mark Webb, charged with embezzlement, pled guilty and received a four year sentence, which was probated upon the condition that he make restitution of the money allegedly taken and fulfill other conditions which are usually set up with probationary sentences.

A motion by Dayne Klincoe for a change of venue was overruled by Judge Reynolds and the case was set for trial on Tuesday, April 4.

Rabid Calf Is Detected

The Texas State Department of Health's Bureau of Laboratories at Austin has notified Shamrock health authorities that a calf in the north part of Collingsworth County has died of rabies.

Dr. Carter Holcomb, county health officer, said he was notified of the finding by Dr. Byron Range, Shamrock veterinarian.

He was told also there has been human exposure to the disease and the person is now receiving medical care.

It is believed the calf contracted rabies from skunks which lived in a nearby area.

Dr. Holcomb emphasized that there is no epidemic, but he warned that both rural and townspeople should be careful. Several skunks have been seen well within the city limits of Wellington since Christmas.

Skunks are prime carriers of rabies, he reminded.

Arnett Holds Annual Easter Program Mar. 16

The Arnett school will hold its annual Easter program, the major entertainment of the school year, on Thursday, March 16 at 8 p.m. at the school.

Arrangements were announced this week by Bob Copeland, superintendent.

Approximately 25 small children will be featured in the Tiny Tot Revue. This is not a contest, but an event which gives the youngsters a chance to show their Easter frocks and suits to their friends.

The climax will come with the coronation of Mr. and Miss Arnett of 1967, Marilyn Clay and Bob Bigfoot. They were chosen a few weeks ago.

Maurice Moore, music instructor in the school, is in charge of the progam, which will be largely musical in content.

District Scout Events Slated

March events for Comanche District Boy Scout leaders were announced this week by Dave Agnew, Scout executive.

The Boy Scout and Cub leaders roundtable will be held at the Greenbelt Electric Co-op, Inc., Thursday, March 9, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This is for Cub leaders and Den Mothers, Boy Scout leaders, and committeemen.

The discussion will cover activities at the new Boy Scout camp near Wheeler and the Spring Camporee exposition.

The district committee meeting will be held at Greenbelt Electric Co-op Tuesday, March 21, with all district officers, chairmen and institutional representatives present.

April events were listed by Mr. Agnew also. The Scout leaders' roundtable will be April 13 in the fellowship hall of First Christian Church, and the district committee meeting will be at Greenbelt Electric Co-op April 18.

FIRST ALARMS

The first alarm clocks were invented in the middle ages for use in monasteries; priests used them to wake themselves up for nightly prayers.

Charles A. Lindbergh made the first solo flight across the Atlantic May 20-21, 1927.

Future Teachers Attend Meeting

Eight Future Teachers from Wellington and their chaperones left for the state meeting in San Antonio on Thursday afternoon. They drove to Brady, Texas, where they spent the night.

Stops between Brady and San Antonio included Fredericksburg, Stonewall, and the L.B.J. Ranch and Johnson City.

In Stonewall they visited a button factory. This proved to be an interesting experience.

At the L.B.J. they saw the Johnson family cemetery and the birthplace of President Johnson; while at Johnson City they made a tour of the President's boyhood home.

After checking in at the Hotel Crockett the group attended the first general assembly of the conference, and put their scrapbook on display.

Dinner that night was eaten at La Casa Rio, a beautiful Mexican Cafe on the banks of the lovely San Antonio River. The setting, food and music made for a perfect evening.

Representatives attended the second general meeting at the civic auditorium at eight that evening. This was followed by a dance which part of the group attended. Others went to see "Dr. Zhivago."

The sponsors' breakfast was held in the Gunter Hotel on Saturday morning. Mr. John Lovelady, a TSTA state representative for Future Teachers, recommended that some means be worked out for using capable FTA members as teachers' aides. The choir of Breckenridge High of San Antonio rendered several wonderful numbers.

Workshops of various types were held for the delegates between 9:00 and 11:30.

After lunch, the group visited the following points of interest: The Alamo, the San Jose Mission, the Governor's Palace, the Buckhorn Museum, and Breckenridge Park.

They returned to the banks of the San Antonio River to eat Italian food before attending the closing session of the convention.

The following people returned to Wellington Sunday afternoon: Patti Lacy, Joye Hudspeth, Harry Patterson, Rhonda Kersten, Susan Coffee, Mitzie Hartman, Bunny Sherman, Sidney McGill, Mrs. John Coffe, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGill, and Mrs. Bernice Welch.

Group Attends Annual Ag Aviation Meet

A group representing Wellington's ag aviation business attended the 16th annual Texas Agricultural Aviation conference and pest control short course Feb. 26-28 at A&M University.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morrow, Cliff Hartman, and Duggie Jameson. Morrow is vice president of District 5, Texas Aerial Applicators Association.

Morrow called this one of the best conferences in the last five years.

A discussion of an air cushion machine, Ag-Gem Concept, by W. B. Nixon and T. E. Sweeney of Princeton University's Aerospace and Mechanical Sciences Department was a conference highlight. Ag-Gem is short for agricultural ground effect machine, a man and load carrying device which hovers above the ground on a cushion of air.

Feb. 27 discussions covered "Planning and Controlling Your Business," safe handling of agricultural chemicals, "Helicopter Spray Patterns" and agricultural aviation accident analysis.

A panel discussion of pesticides, dessicants, defoliants, and fertilizers in the afternoon, and a banquet that night completed the Monday session.

The discussions were continued through Tuesday.

Foy Young of Memphis was elected a conference director from District 5.

"Even though you are not in this business, we'd like for more people to attend these conferences. It will give you a better knowledge and understanding of agricultural spraying as a business," said Morrow.

The Cape of Cairo Railroad was completed in 1918.

Every one of us is a Builder. Some of us build bridges, some build houses; others build great fortunes or police records, electronic brains or lawn furniture...but each and every one of us is a Community Builder.

Because...every penny we spend to satisfy our daily needs helps to build the economy of the trade area in which it is spent...making that community a happier, more prosperous place for its citizens to live, to work, and to shop.

Which makes it profitable and wise to do our trading...our Community Building...where we get the benefit of the inevitable results of it...in the economic area where we have our own lives and talents invested...and where our children are being trained for life.

"Advance of New American Student Styles" was presented by Mrs. E. L. Bartlett. She said that marijuana has taken the place of alcohol on college campuses in the Northeast, the West Coast, New Orleans and Southern Texas, as quoted from a reputable magazine.

Youth organizations that make strong young adults were discussed by Mrs. J. B. King, who told of the Indian heritage of Camp Fire and Horizon Girls, which were 57 years old on March 17; Mrs. B. M. Bacon Drippings

Don't throw away bacon drippings! Save those flavor drops for cooking and seasoning.

To keep the drippings in the best condition, pour into small jars so that the bottom layers won't become rancid. Date or number the jars and store them in the refrigerator. Use the oldest fat first.

One pound of bacon will yield somewhere from one to one and a half cups of drippings. There are a number of ways in which to use this excellent energy food. It's an ideal seasoning for vegetables. Use it as a basic for soups and white sauces. It adds flavor to scalloped dishes, soups and creamed mixtures.

Drippings are excellent for "buttering" crumbs for casseroles. Light muffins, coffee cakes, gingerbread, spice cakes and rich cookies can use bacon drippings to advantage.

In baking with drippings, use one fourth less than for other specified shortenings because its shortening power is greater than other fats.

Home Economic Briefs

→Never wash eggs before storing them, advises a nutrition specialist. Washing removes the natural protection coating which keeps air and foreign odors from entering the shell.

→Different brands of self-polishing wax have different formulas. Even the brand changes from time to time as improvements are made. Because of these differences, never combine partially used cans of these waxes.

→The main reason that wool shrinks in washing is because of the way the fibers are constructed. Each fiber has scales on it similar to shingles on a roof. When wet, these scales swell. Then when they are rubbed together, even during gentle washing, the scales interlock. This holds the fiber closer together and fiber shrinks.

→Hang brooms and brushes when storing if possible. This will allow them to return to their original state and keep the bristles from spreading.

Houses by the Pound

One leading magazine reports that you can now buy factory-produced houses of aluminum which may be erected over a week end "with no more tools than a pop-rivet gun." A dozen different models ranging from one to three bedrooms are produced by a Pennsylvania manufacturer. The houses range from 2,000 pounds up to 6,000 pounds and all the consumer pays is $1.00 a pound, without equipment.

Saving Steps

There's a lot less muscular effort expended in a modern kitchen than in an older one.

Today's housewife walks only 1,800 feet a day to do her chores, whereas grandmaw had to cover 5,400 feet daily.

New Inventions

A home-use weight computer that compliments or reprimands a dieter is just one of over 10,000 new products and inventions shown at a recent exhibition in New York. The dietetic computer tells the dieter how much she can eat during a single day. When the computer evaluates her performance it either praises or scolds her. An attachment on the machine automatically locks the refrigerator if she eats too much.

Worth McCauley

Retires from One Career to Another

(Editor's Note: Worth McCauley, reared in Wellington, traveled far in his legal work before he returned to Texas, to take up a new career on the Gulf Coast. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George McCauley, who a number of years ago operated a dry goods store where Sullivan Hardware is now located.)

By JACK AMERINE
The Houston Chronicle

Mention Clear Lake and it means astronauts to most people. But to the astronauts it means people like Worth McCauley.

At an age when many men retire, McCauley ended a colorful international law career by opening a small law office in lakeside Nassau Bay, in a year he has quickly become an energetic and beloved community worker.

"I think I'm as retired now as I'll ever be—maybe just down from a loud roar to a dull roar," the silver-haired grandfather of eight says with a smile and a soft but firm voice. "It makes me feel as young as they are to be among the active people here.

"I watched this community for several years and I decided it had the greatest potential of any place I know. It has the finest cooperation and community spirit I've ever seen."

Memoirs Published

Born in the Texas Panhandle, McCauley married his college sweetheart in Oklahoma and graduated from law school there in 1931. He and his wife Elizabeth have two daughters, both in Oklahoma.

In World War II he served in the Judge Advocate Section and he remained in Bavaria as a judge until 1953, publishing his memoirs ("600,000 Cases Later") in a law journal article.

Returning to Texas, he entered an oil company partnership with his geologist brothers Jerry and Dan. It is still a going firm.

Starting new in an apartment in Clear Lake City, just Elizabeth and him, he was an instant hit with little theatre goers in roles at the Clear Creek Country Theatre and now he's vice president. He's also a trustee and elder of Clear Lake Presbyterian Church and chairman of Freeman Memorial Library.

Heads Pollution Panel

He recently was named chairman of the Clear Lake Chamber of Commerce pollution committee.

"I felt the chamber had its job cut out for it, it would be a major factor in seeing the area develop," he says. "And I wanted to be a part of it."

"I have no background with polluted water, but I've spent every spare moment the last two months reading up on what has been done and what has been planned. I'm trying to educate myself to know what the problem is.

"When you know the problem and the contributing factors, you're a long way toward the solution."

Ag Improvement Program Set by A&M Service

COLLEGE STATION. — A state-wide effort which could add an estimated $300 million annually to the agricultural income of Texas is now under way.

For several months specialists of the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service have been preparing production and management guidelines to be used in a three-point educational program. The educational effort is aimed at increasing farmer and rancher income; increasing their production efficiency and gearing production to produce the quality of products demanded by the market.

John E. Hutchison, director of the Extension Service, in announcing the program said the guidelines combine all of the best practices available from research and from proven demonstrations on the production of crops and livestock. A $300 million increase in agricultural income can be achieved, and is in fact conservative, if producers will put the suggested guidelines into practice, and weather conditions are favorable, he added.

The guidelines, for the most part, include the "what and when to do" for the most efficient production and cover 20 important crop and livestock enterprises, Hutchison said.

He said the state's county agricultural agents took the specialist prepared guides, and working with the county program building committees and sub-committees, adapted them into county programs of action.

NOT A LOCAL but a pleasant addition to the local scenery is Belgian Louise Chantal, 19, vacationing at stylish St. Tropez on the French Riviera.

The finalized guidelines will be reproduced and copies distributed to all producers of economically important crop and livestock enterprises in each county. The crop production guidelines will be distributed first, he added.

Hutchison concluded that this was an effort to make sure that all producers of economically important crops and livestock have available for easy reference the best production guidelines known. This program can greatly increase agricultural income in the state, increase net income to producers, and maintain and improve the competitive position of Tex as producers, the director concluded.

There are 70 different varieties of bananas.

Possibilities for Expanded Grain Sorghum Market Increasing

It is likely that grain sorghum will grow in importance to the Collingsworth farm economy within the next five years.

In the past, the best land on most of our farms has been put in cotton, which is irrigated and fertilized. Now comes the recognition that this part of the southwest may become the livestock feeding center of the nation. Big new feed lots are going in, built by Panhandle livestock men, and major feeders from the middle west.

With each of these feeding from a few hundred to 30,000 and 40,000 cattle per year, this will mean but one thing: all the grain sorghum that can be produced in this area will have a ready market. Only government controls provide a limiting factor.

Production per acre here is not up to that of some areas on the plains, but research on irrigation fertilization and improved varieties are boosting yields.

Now there is an interest in another use. Research is underway on the use of grain sorghums as low-cost food for the hungry of have-not nations. One major United States cereal company already has on the market in Central America a low cost but nutritious food made from grain sorghum. It is being well accepted.

This crop which is so adapted to Collingsworth County grows in importance.

Dilemma of the Dropout

Every community in this nation has a special stake in its youth.

Our future depends on the wisdom and knowledge of today's young men and women. The complex problems of the modern world demand trained minds and creative thinking.

The only way to prepare our young people for the tasks that confront them is to see to it that they get a good education.

An estimated 900,000 young people will not return to or will drop out of school this year unless we do something about it. President Johnson is asking the nation's support to keep our youth in school so that they will be equipped for the future. He said "We are determined that the economic and social conditions which threaten the futures of our young people shall be overcome."

We can ill afford to suffer the terrible loss of our human resources by failing to see to it that our youth are educated.

The important national issue of continued education deserves support. —The Harvard (Ill.) Herald

"Secretary of Labor Wirtz has come up with the crying need for a method by which it can be assured that dropouts who don't want to go to school can reap the maximum benefit from this great and glorious society called USA . . . Calling for 'a rational, equitable and effective' policy for youth, Wortz would establish community 'Opportunity Boards' where youths would be REQUIRED TO REGISTER ON REACHING THE AGE OF 18 OR QUITTING SCHOOL . . . The aim of the community 'Opportunity Board' would be as follows: 1. To provide badly needed "human inventory' (Translated: A large group of live bodies). To arrange for every American boy and girl 'to proceed along the course—education, employment, training, or service—that he or she wants or OUGHT to take' . . . The choice of words seems to imply that if they don't want to take the course they OUGHT to take, they then would be compelled to take the course they OUGHT to take . . . Cradle to the grave maintenance of people by their government is abhorrant . . . and always has been. Each program enacted for the so-called welfare of the people has drawn a net tighter and tighter 'round the citizens by giving him something and then taking some of his freedom away in exchange."

"In the opinion of many European economist, unless the United States balances its payments soon a run on the dollar is possible at any time. With the war in Viet Nam expanding, this isn't an easy time to balance payments. Yet firm action is needed, and has been needed for a year or more, to stop the loss of U. S. Gold, bolster the reputation of the dollar and the pound. It is a hard decision to make, and the temptation which intrigues the Administration is to wait a little longer before a hard remedy is effected." —Heflin, Ala., News

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN.—Three pieces of major legislation passed by the House now have landed on the Senate's doorstep. These include:

—Local option authority for financially-distressed Texas cities to levy a 1% sales tax. (Vote 85-63)

—A stiff code of ethics for legislators and other state officials and employees. (Vote 140-6)

—Repeal of "emergency purchase" provisions to put teeth in Sunday closing laws. (Vote 132-14)

Before passing the city sales tax bill, sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin, the House spent nearly three hours of continuous debate and waded through more than 30 attempts at amendment.

Advocates predict a majority vote in the Senate, too. But no action is expected across the rotunda until after rules suspension eases with passage of the session's 60-day mark.

Code of ethics bill, by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, made its third trip through the House. Substantially the same bill has been approved by representatives in two prior session but died in the Senate. Same fate is anticipated this time for what advocates term "one of the strictest codes in the United States."

Measure would require lawmakers to disclose personal interest in legislation, force legislators and state officials and employees to reveal substantial interests in private businesses and require identification of relatives on the state payroll.

Surprisingly, the strengthened Sunday closing law introduced by Rep. Willis J. Whatley of Houston, cleared the House in seven minutes. Only one comment was made. Also, smooth sailing is anticipated in the Senate. (What this law will do to tourist spending has never been mentioned.)

TIME OUT

First big break in one of the session's closest fought contests — over whether Texas should go on Daylight Saving Time — came when the Senate affairs committee approved the exemption bill.

Theatre owners, restaurant operators and farmers backed the bill, by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, to continue Texas on Central Standard Time (After April 1 the new federal Uniform Time Act goes into effect everywhere except where state legislatures vote otherwise. Only one state, South Dakota, so far has passed an exemption act).

Panel was unimpressed with arguments of television broadcasters, railroad and airline spokesmen that the state must stay in time with the rest of the nation.

Same bill, heard in House state affairs committee, was referred to subcommittee and has not yet emerged.

MIGRANT LIVING

House Public Health Committee—considering a bill to set up state standards for Texas farm-worker housing — heard testimony last week from state officials of the insanitary living conditions of the 162,000 migrant farm workers in the state.

Committee sent the bill along to a sub-committee, after such officials as Col. Egon Tausch of the migrant section of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission gave case studies of migrant conditions and pointed out that cases of infant dysentery often range as high as 30% among the children of farm workers.

FEED LOT BILL MOVES

A feed lot license bill was approved by the House agriculture committee. Sponsor is Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury.

It sets standards of sanitation in livestock feeding operations under authority of the Texas Animal Health Commission and fixes these annual licensing fees: $25 for lots that feed under 1,000 head; $100 for 1,000 to 3,000 head; $150 for 3,000 to 10,000 head; and $200 for over 10,000 head. Licenses are optional for lots feeding under 1,000.

Under amendments, the Commission would have to act in 30 days on license applications.

Water Pollution Control Board and Air Control Board regulations would prevail in "matters falling within their jurisdiction."

Committee also approved a bill to raise fines and penalties (up to $200 per head) for improperly transporting animals from fever tick quarantine areas.

LOCAL OFFICIALS' PAY

County auditors and precinct officials would make substantial monetary gains under a pair of bills being sponsored in the House by Reps. Vernon Beckham of Denison and Dick Cory of Victoria.

Beckham's bill would let county commissioners courts pay mileage reimbursement to county auditors for travel in their line of duty. House Committee on Counties referred that measure to a sub-committee for further consideration.

Cory's bill would allow commissioners courts to raise the salaries of justices of the peace and constables up to 20% over what they now earn. Committee favorably reported this one back to the House floor where it is now awaiting action.

VET LABORATORY

Bill to create a Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory for Texas farmers and ranchers at Texas A&M University has been sent to the Governor for his signature.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria and Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado, sponsors of the bill, said the laboratory will be located on property which will be given to the state by the A&M Board of Regents. Purpose of the laboratory is to give speedy and accurate analyses of samples from possibly diseased animals to help local veterinarians diagnose and treat the animals.

MOVIE REGULATION

Every incorporated city and town in Texas would be required to set up a "Motion Picture Classification Board" to preview every movie to be shown in that city and classify it as "suitable" or "not suitable" for persons under age 18 by a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Cordell Hull of Fort Worth.

Hull said that cities now have the authority for such regulation, but his bill would make the board mandatory and would provide guidelines for classifying movies. Board would be composed of nine members appointed by the city's governing body for two years.

TEACHING OF SPANISH

Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview has introduced a bill requiring public schools to offer courses in Spanish to students in the second, third and fourth grades.

Wayne's bill, now in the House Education Committee, would require that within five years after passage of the bill, every elementary school in the state begin teaching Spanish to students in at least those three grades.

Department of Public Safety is reminded Texas motorists that only six weeks remain before the April 15 deadline on the 1967 vehicle inspection stickers.

Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio has proposed constitutional amendments to make Texas either "all wet" or "all dry" for liquor sale.

Peace Corps Tests Set

Wellington area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 1:30 a.m. on Saturday, March 18, at Room 322 in the postoffice in Amarillo.

The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

Arnett to Honor Athletes

Residents of the Arnett community will hold their annual athletic supper, Friday, March 10, in which they honor the basketball teams of Arnett School and their coaches.

This is an annual event in which all arrangements are made by people of the community.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where a New York citizen stabbed his wife and five children, but on account of his civil rights he got turned loose to go kill some more people if he feels the urge.

Court didn't rule that he had a civil right to dispose of his family in this manner; it just happened that he confessed before the police could tell him about his rights.

Which shows we are making fantastic progress. Formerly, confession was only good for the soul, but now it is also good for getting away with murder.

I see where some small cities with crime problems are getting up citizen patrols to help their police keep an eye on the place at night and discourage burglars and robbers.

People who are alarmed by armed citizens but unalarmed by armed criminals, are calling this move a resurrection of the vigilantes.

Could be. But crime was more hazardous for the criminal and less so for good behavers in the days when the vigilantes rode, even if they did maybe hang or shoot a few people who didn't need it very bad.

I see where the National Student Association recently found out the Central Intelligence Agency sneaked $3 or $4 million into the NSA treasury over the past 15 years.

And some of the student leaders feel so defiled by contact with these federal funds that they are studying about giving $5,000 or $10,000 of it back.

It would be real nice for the taxpayer class if some other groups and individuals, foreign and domestic, would go into hysterics whenever about to get polluted by public money.

Reports are that 25 to 50 of our biggest crime centers will be protected from atomic attack, but it would cost more than they are worth to protect the others.

Which news reminds that the people experts say it causes riotous, arsonary and anti-authority conduct in folks to make them feel unwanted and underprivileged.

Being discriminated against could also make the non-chosen cities feel unwanted. Washington may find that dealing with individual beatniks and cop-clobberers is a snap compared to the problems of handling psychedelinquent cities.

What people are saying about...

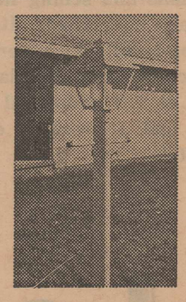

A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST

"Carried away with it!" say Nataleé and Dianna, daughters of the J. D. Locklears of Eden, Texas. Natha and "Sud" Locklear echo their daughters' approval of total-electric Gold Medallion living. Mrs. Locklear's special pride is her total-electric work room complete with home laundry, ironer, sewing machine and professional type hair dryer. She also praises the comfort of electric heat. "I didn't know electric heat would be so warm. We have no need for blankets any more," she says.

"Sud" is amazed at the low cost of operation. The 2,057 square feet of electric comfort includes electric baseboard heaters, 5 electric window air conditioners, total-electric kitchen, water heater, home freezer, washer and yard light outside. "The children run in and out all the time, and our average monthly cost is $37.63."

The Locklears use West Texas Utilities Equal Payment Plan. "That way you know what you're going to pay every month."

PROPAGANDA, ASSASSINATION, AND DANGER!

Persons agitating AGAINST the conclusion that Lee Harvey Oswald, a Communist, killed President John F. Kennedy, either out of a Communist-instilled personal hatred or acting on orders from the international Communist apparatus, seem determined to continue their propaganda barrage in 1967.

The American people, therefore, need to be reminded of some important facts about Oswald, and Communism. especially since powerful forces are today seeking to create a climate in which international Communist bandits may appear as "good guys".

Latest shot in the "Who Killed President Kennedy?" barrage is a new film for television, "Rush to Judgment," produced by Mark Lane, author of a book bearing the same title. In the Manchester book, which has been given unprecedented worldwide publicity by the Kennedy family's actions, and in most of the other "post mortems" on the assassination, the implication intended, it seems clear, is that President Kennedy may have fallen victim of a "Right Wing" plot or a fantastic American political coup d'etat in Dallas.

Indeed some of the implications clearly project the idea that persons "who wanted Vice President Lyndon Johnson to be President" were somehow involved in the assassination.

A key member of President Kennedy's White House "family" is quoted as saying Mr. Kennedy wouldn't have been assassinated had "Adlai Stevenson been Vice President."

This implication goes far; it points a finger of accusation—away from Lee Harvey Oswald, Communist; away from all Communist guilt.

The most powerful accusation involving World Communism comes directly from the lips of Oswald himself. As this column is written, I have just heard Oswald's voice affirming his Communism and agitating on behalf of his Communist compatriot and hero-of-the-moment, Dictator Castro of Cuba. The voice is on a tape recording of Oswald being interviewed on Radio Station WDSU, New Orleans, a few weeks before President Kennedy was shot dead.

Facts brought out in two Oswald radio interviews: Oswald was the militant, activist Secretary of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. He was distributing anti - American, pro-Castro propaganda. He identified himself as a Communist ("Marxist"). He had returned recently from Russia, where he had tried to renounce his American citizenship.

President Kennedy at this time had incurred the particular hatred of Castro and all other Communists by his plan (aborted in the Bay of Pigs fiasco) to overthrow Castro and wipe out the Communist fortress in Cuba. The official Cuban publication, Verde Olivo, showed President Kennedy wearing a Nazi Swastika armband and giving directions to a Cuban refuge leader in Florida who was pictured as a worm.

Here are excerpts of the Oswald broadcast: (Bill Slater, WDSU): "Mr. Oswald, you say apparently that Cuba is not dominated by Russia and yet you apparently by your own past actions have shown that you have an affinity for Russia and perhaps Communism . . . Are you, or have you been a Communist?" Oswald: "Well, I had answered that, er, prior to this program . . . "

Slater: "Are you a Marxist?"

Oswald: "Yes, I am a Marxist." Oswald said that in reading Karl Marx's call for revolution, he felt "like a religious man opening the Bible for the first time."

Edward S. Butler, Executive Vice President of the Information Council of the Americas, was present during the Oswald interviews. After the assassination, he made an exhaustive investigation of Oswald's life and his acceptance of Communism. Mr. Butler said:

"Propaganda made Oswald the man he was. Communist propaganda inflamed the mind of the man who—evidence indicates—pulled the trigger, to fire the bullet, that killed the President of the United States."

Mr. Butler said: "President Kennedy's death has proved that words—which can be shot around the world faster than any missile—words are the ultimate weapon.

What makes these new word weapons so powerful is that they can reach into the midst of any country, manipulate its own people, and invisibly motivate the minds of men who have the power to press buttons and pull triggers."

We must not be gullible to propaganda; but must dig out the truth, the facts, if we are to keep our nation from being victimized by masters of the Big Lie and actors in the Great Deception.

Seale Works as DPS Dispatcher

Doug Seale began work on March 1 as a civilian inservice trainee radio dispatcher for the Department of Public Safety at Childress.

He, Mrs. Seale and their small daughter have moved to Childress.

The Childress station is one of a network of DPS stations which blanket Texas. In this area they are located at Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Amarillo and Childress, and each is staffed by a chief radio operator and three dispatchers, who work on rotating 8-hour shifts.

Information sent from this area to DPS headquarters at Austin is radioed to Wichita Falls or Amarillo and then sent by teletype.

Seale has been farming near Wellington, while Mrs. Seale has worked as a beautician in local shops.

Two Register for Selective Service

Two Wellington youths were registered with the Selective Service during February, according to Bill Hatch, Collingsworth County registrar for Local Board 20.

They were Henry Willis Wells and Sidney Coy McGill.

6-Weeks Remain for Vehicle Safety Stickers

AUSTIN.—The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reminded motorists today that only six weeks remain before enforcement begins on the 1967 vehicle inspection stickers.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., the DPS director, said that the law allows for no extension of the April 15 deadline and urged drivers to have their vehicles inspected before the last minute lines begin forming.

Garrison reminded that some two and a quarter million vehicles in Texas remain to be inspected in order to comply with state law. This amounts to approximately 14 vehicles per working day for each of the 5,500 official inspection stations.

"Undoubtedly," Garrison stated, "many motorists will wait until the last day and it may be very difficult to find an inspection station that is not swamped with late-comers.

"In order to secure an orderly flow of the remaining uninspected vehicles through the inspection stations we would urge each motorist to have the inspection attended to as soon as possible. This can easily be taken care of during a routine visit to an authorized neighborhood inspection station."

Mrs. W. M. Horton Returns to City

Mrs. W. M. Horton is now at her home after spending the winter with daughters in Odessa, followed by a week in St. Joseph's Hospital immediately after she returned to Wellington.

She stayed in the home of Mrs. Charles Russell and visited her other daughter, Mrs. T. D. Conley from Nov. 19 to Feb. 11. The two brought her home, and also visited J. T. Horton in Amarillo.

With her while she was hospitalized and for two weeks afterward was a sister, Mrs. F. A. Rush, of Vernon.

Fremasonry was introduced into the American Colonies before 1730.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

The big news since my last report is the refusal by the House to seat Adam Clayton Powell. In an extraordinarily long session, from noon to eight p.m. the issue was hotly debated. The vote to exclude Powell was 317-116.

In my opinion the entire Congress of the United States was on trial. This was evident from the many letters I received condemning all congressmen, not just the New Yorker. The question raised by many of the 116 who voted to let Powell keep his seat was "why single one man out for punishment and let other members get away with the same thing?"

Personally, I will vote to exclude any member who is guilty of so flagrantly violating the trust placed in him by the people and the Congress.

In connection with my activities as a member of the Committee on Agriculture, I was in the majority when the committee recently adopted a resolution asking the other members of Congress to help in passing legislation to exempt farm workers from new minimum wage laws which went into effect on Feb. 1. Legislation is now being prepared which would allow this exemption until farm income reaches 100 percent of parity.

Three days of hearings were recently completed on a resolution to increase food aid to India. During the hearing I went on record in favor of the government purchasing any wheat or any other grain to be shipped to India under this program at a price which will assure the American farmer 100 percent of parity. I also reminded the committee that no other segment of the American economy is asked to produce more and more of their product for the world market at a cost of 26 percent higher than the price they receive for their product. We have a moral obligation to share our food, but we have an obligation to ourselves to make certain our commitments do not outpace our productivity.

On March 2, I was in the majority of 372 House members who voted for an additional 4.5 billion dollars for the war in Viet Nam. This money will be used between now and the end of the present fiscal year, June 30, to purchase aircraft, missiles, and combat vehicles for our forces in Viet Nam, as well as for additional military construction in that country.

During the debate on the additional appropriation the House defeated an amendment which would have put Congress on record against further bombing of North Viet Nam. The "doves" continue to call for a halt to this bombing in hopes the Communists will agree to peace talks. As I have stated many times, and the President restated at a recent White House briefing I attended, we have halted the bombing three times and all it has accomplished is giving the North Vietnamese time to bring up reinforcements to kill more of our men.

Dr. Coy Dies at Albuquerque

Dr. John W. Coy, 54, of Las Cruces, N.M., died Feb. 15 in an Albuquerque, N.M. hospital. He had been ill since April, 1966, and hospitalized since August.

Dr. Coy was the husband of the former Miss Jim Mae Clark and through the years he had visited here many times in the home of her mother, Mrs. J. B. Clark.

Dr. Coy was assigned to the White Sands Missile Range, near Las Cruces, for 10 years. In December 1965 he was promoted to senior operations research analyst and transferred to Sandia Base at Albuquerque. His family planned to join him at the end of the school term, but he became ill before the move was made.

Born at Mena, Ark., Jan. 15, 1913, he moved with his parents, the late Patrick B. and Catharine Barker Coy, to Amarillo when he was a child and grew up there.

While attending Amarillo Junior College, he met his future wife and they were married July 28, 1935.

Eleven years ago he received a PhD degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and shortly afterward the family moved to Las Cruces.

Funeral services were conducted at University Presbyterian Church in Las Cruces with the Rev. Harry H. Meiners officiating. Burial was in Llano Cemetery, Amarillo.

Surviving Dr. Coy are his wife, two daughters and a son, Ellen, Katherine and John Wyatt, all of Las Cruces; two sisters and a brother, Dr. Rebecca Patterson of Pittsburg, Kan., Miss Edna Coy of Amarillo and Paul Coy of Champaign, Ill.

He will begin work in Andrews March 13.

Weed Killing Chemical Types Are Outlined

Weed killing chemicals, or herbicides, are classified according to their effects upon plants, says Sammy Helmers, county agricultural agent. The types are contact killers, growth regulators and soil sterilants. Contact killers and growth regulators include selective herbicides which kill weeds without harming cultivated crops.

A contact herbicide will kill susceptible weeds sprayed with the chemical. It is toxic to living plant cells and has acute effects, thereby killing the weed quickly or soon after the treatment, points out Helmers. Contact herbicides control annual weeds but only "burn off" the tops of perennials. Some effective contact herbicides are naphtha oils, paraquat, DSMA and MSMA.

Growth regulators (hormone type) are absorbed by either the roots or above-ground parts and move through the susceptible weed. Chronic effects are produced and symptoms of treatment may not show up for a week or more after the spraying. However, warns Helmers, an overdose on leaves may kill the immediate cells quickly and prevent effective translocation. Therefore, to kill underground parts of perennial weeds by leaf treatment, the growth regulator should be applied at low rates and repeated every 2 or 3 weeks as needed. The old axiom, "if a little is good, more will be better," is not true with growth regulators.

Such growth regulators as 2, 4-D, 2, 4, 5-T and silvex are used for weed control in lawns, pastures and rice. Certain growth regulators are controlled by law in Texas so this office should be contacted before using, advises Helmers.

Soil sterilants prevent the growth of green plants when present in the soil. They can be used to sterilize soil from four months to more than 2 years. Sterilants such as monuron, prometone and picloram are useful near industrial areas, on highway rights-of-way and on cropland in fallow.

A helpful publication on the use of herbicides, B-1029, "Suggestins for Weed Control with Chemicals" is available at the county agent's office.

Book Honors Sam Fore, Jr., Country Editor

AUSTIN.—The late Sam Fore Jr. of Floresville was more than a successful country editor—he was a good country editor whose heart belonged to his family, his church, his community and his newspaper.

That is the basis of a short biography entitled "Sam Fore, Jr.—Community Newspaper Editor" written by Miss Emily Lamon and printed as a University of Texas Journalism Department public affairs reporting publication.

The book is the 14th in the reporting series, made possible by the E. L. Kurth Award for Research in Journalism presented by the Southland Paper Mills, Inc., and named in memory of the firm's first president.

Miss Lamon, who received her master's degree from the University in January, 1966, is now associated with the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. Her thesis was an expanded biography of Mr. Fore, who died last Christmas Eve while Miss Lamon's book was in press.

Miss Lamon, who also has a bachelor's degree from UT, said Mr. Fore described himself as "a country editor with everything that name implies."

"In his 50 years as editor and publisher of the Floresville Chronicle-Journal," she wrote, "he has fulfilled all prerequisites for the editor of a good country weekly."

A man who weighed almost 300 pounds, Mr. Fore once was described by another country editor as a "combination country editor, political listening post, coach of powerful civic hall team, and partaker of large second helpings of all barbecue south of San Antonio."

Although he held only one political job in his life—that of city clerk—for more than 50 years, he was president of civil clubs, press associations and fraternal organizations.

"Yet always he has given first consideration to being an editor," Miss Lamon wrote.

While his life ranged far beyond the boundaries of Floresville, Mr. Fore would tell anyone that it was concentrated in his town. He believed firmly in what he called the mission of the press:

"If I couldn't say things good, I couldn't say anything. I didn't try to step up strife and discord. It is as important to know what to leave out as what to put in. I never put anything sensational into the paper. That's not for this town."

"His ideas are strong — he never voted against a bond issue, never voted for liquor, and never scratched a Democrat on an election ticket," Miss Lamon reported. "Yet his paper is not a campaign sheet for anything but community improvement."

Among his close personal friends was President Lyndon Johnson. Mr. Fore was one of 12 Democrats who put up $100 each to launch the President's first political campaign for Congress.

"Sam Fore comes close to being THE country editor—and for his community he is," Miss Lamon said, adding:

"He is not, however, the only one. There are many men like Sam Fore throughout the nation. The life of Sam Fore is just one good example of what a man with love and concern for others can do through the columns of a small-town newspaper."

Easter Seal Society Offers Rehabilitation to Disabled

"Do you know a handicapped person who needs help and is not getting it?" is the question being asked by Jack Neeley, who is Collingsworth county's Easter Seal representative and the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

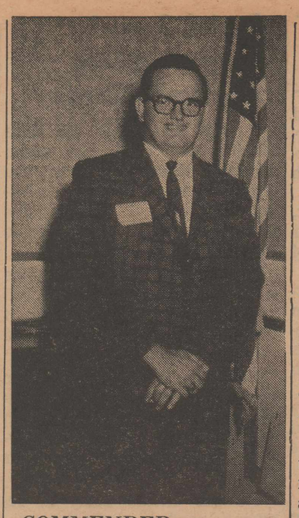

The Easter Seal Society offers rehabilitation services to help disabled persons and their families to find and make the most effective use of resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more purposeful lives, Mr. Neeley said.

This is accomplished through direct treatment, services, education, research, and cooperative efforts with all other health agencies, private, state and federal. The Easter Seal Society does not duplicate services, but strives to fill all unmet needs of the disabled, he added.

The Easter Seal Society is carrying out its 37th annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance a program of rehabilitation services for handicapped children and adults. The Texas Easter Seal Society helps support 23 treatment facilities where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. Physical therapy and speech and hearing programs are offered to help the disabled make their lives fuller, despite their handicaps.

Mr. Neeley urged every person in Collingsworth County to increase their support of the Texas Easter Seal Society and its program of services to the crippled children and adults.

He added that anyone who could benefit from rehabilitation services should contact him at the Wellington State Bank to request services for the Easter Seal Society.

Scout Canadian Canoe Tour Set in June

A Boy Scout Canadian canoe expedition will be arranged for boys of the Adobe Walls Council from June 27 through July 11, Dave Agnew, Comanche District Scout executive, has announced.

Wednesday, March 15 is the deadline for boys to make reservations, he said. The cost of the trip is $150 per boy and a deposit of $30 must be made with the reservation.

"The boys will scuff the stones of the same portages and skim swiftly along the same chain of lakes as the Sioux and Chippewa Indians and the Voyageurs of more than 300 years ago," said Agnew. This is in the Superior National Forest on the U. S. side and Quetico Provencial Park on the Canadian side. It includes roughly 4,000 square miles commonly used by Scouts making canoe trips out of the Charles L. Sommers Wilderness Canoe Base. The base itself is 22 miles northeast of Ely, Minn.

The boys will travel to the canoe base by air-conditioned chartered bus. The expedition will be composed of 30 boys and three adult leaders. Tom Willis of Borger will lead the group.

Any registered Scout or Explorer who is at least 14 years of age by June 1 may make the trip.

The fee of $150 does not include the cost of gear and spending money.

Boys interested may contact the Adobe Walls Council, P.O. Box 2479, Pampa, Texas 79065.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Last week Louise and I attended a different kind of convention—different for us at least. It was the spring convention and exhibit of the National Stationery and Office Equipment Association. At times we were out of our class as far as office supplies are concerned. One day we ate lunch with a young man of 35 years, take or give a few, who was one of the owners of a large office supply business in Wichita, Kansas. He said Boeing Aircraft of Seattle, Washington asked them to bid on a year's supply of calendar pads. His bid was $38,000.00. And then there was the typewriter dealer from a medium sized town in Louisiana located between two colleges whose sales were $348,000 last year.

★ ★ ★

We also ran into Bud Adams who once operated an office supply business in Altus and is known by many people in Wellington. His best years in Altus were not quite those of the man from Louisiana. We put in two days of hard work. In the mornings we attended speeches and lectures and from 12 to 5 o'clock and sometimes later we visited the booths and inspected the exhibits. The only break for our feet was 30 minutes for sandwiches and coffee.

★ ★ ★

One morning we listened to a panel of editors from Nation's Business. From them we heard that the U.S. is doing much better internationally than any of our people realize. I believe it was Sterling Slappey who declared the United States is doing much better than Russia and he mentioned some twenty widely separated nations such as Chile, Brazil, Iraan, Malaysia, etc., in which we had been doing so badly after the end of World War II and in which our relations have improved immensely. There won't be a Munich in the Far East, he said.

★ ★ ★

The question of the present turmoil in China was brought up from the floor. The collapse of Red China is a distinct possibility in the near future. There is civil war in China; but it is not continuous and at no time has the whole vast nation of 700 million been involved. There will be no war between Russia and Red China although frequent outbursts of shooting have occurred on the 3,000 mile border, and soldiers and civilians have been killed. There will be more incidents; but no war between these two giants.

From another speaker I learned that the population of China, which is now guessed at 700 million, will be 1 billion, 400 million in the year 2,000 A.D. And from Marjorie Lyon of The National Cash Register Company we learned that NCR would have a machine to count the Chinese or something accurately in one-millionth of a second or some such incredible feat as that. She did have the entire King James version of The Bible reduced to a 2 x 2 film and she could show a page with a microscopic projector. She also told of the lazar light ray that would make corrections on a page of the tiny film.

More information gleaned from the NSOEA: One half of all the people who ever lived are living today. 90% of all scientists are living today. I am willing to believe that first statement. I doubt the second concerning the scientists with all my mind and all my emotion and with every cell in my body. In the first place such a pragmatic statement shows the inadequacy of words. Who is to say that the man in his cave who first tasted burned meat and knew it tasted better was not a scientist of his time? Was not the man who noted that a round stone would move more easily than a square stone a scientist of his time? Was not the men who watched a seed sprout to learn that he could grow it near home instead of hunting far afield a scientist of his time? Certainly they were scientists of a sort—they observed phenomena to learn truth and there is no telling their numbers in the millions o fyears gone by since the earth was without form and void and darkness was upon the face of the deep.

It has been a long time since the "Ever Loving" and this writer were in college and exposed to a whole herd of new discoveries even if there were no new ideas among them. It was only natural that we were glad to spend the afternoons studying filing cabinets, tables and chairs. All of these items have a pleasing connection with rest. As usual we had a good feeling when we turned the car toward home.

New Camp Described

Cubs, Parents, Hold Blue and Gold Banquet

Cub Scouts honored their parents and friends at the annual Blue and Gold Banquet Thursday evening, March 1 in Bura Handley Community Center.

Each Den had an exhibit showing work the boys have done during the year.

The guest speaker was Patrolman Chester Fant, safety officer for the Department of Public Safety stationed at Quanah.

He first showed a film illustrating the right and wrong ways of handling firearms.

The boys were allowed to examine and handle guns in an exhibit he had set us, which included pistols, rifles, shotguns, submachine guns, tear gas guns, and other types of firearms.

Dave Agnew, Comanche District Boy Scout executive, spoke briefly on the new Boy Scout camp site which the Adobe Walls Council bought recently between Wheeler and Mobeetie.

This 480-acre tract already has a 12.5-acre lake and three ponds. Camp Kiowa near Canadian will be used one or two more seasons, then all camping activities will be transferred to the new camp, he said.

Mr. Agnew invited all friends of camping to visit the new camp and urged the Cub dens and other Scouting units to each take a shrub or tree to be planted. Plates will identify the donors.

Mack Bush, Cubmaster, was master of ceremonies and he and Mr. Agnew distributed badges and arrow points, which is a part of all monthly Pack meetings.

Rockettes Lose Bid for AA Bi-District Crown

Wellington Rockettes lost their bid for the bi-district AA championship in a breath-taking overtime game with the Spearman Lynxettes Tuesday night, Feb. 28.

More than 1,000 fans from both schools saw the overtime start with a 50-50 tie, then Spearman added four points while the Rockettes were unable to score and the game ended 54-50.

Wellington jumped to a 9-2 lead early in the game, but Spearman rebounded to pass the Rockettes and lead 14-12 at the end of the first period.

Spearman again was leading 30-24 at half time and the lead was further extended to 43-37 by the end of the third period.

With the Lynxettes leading 50 to 41 and only four minutes to play, the Rockettes scored 9 consecutive points, the last five on two field goals and a free shot by Mary Lou Holton to tie the game.

Barbara Wilde hit two free throws early in the overtime to put her team in the lead. Then a field goal finished the scoring.

The game by quarters:

Farmers Union Members Go to National Meet

More than 100 members of Texas Farmers Union will be in Oklahoma City March 12-15 for the annual convention of the National Farmers Union. An attendance of over 2,000 is expected for the four-day meet at the Sheraton-Oklahoma Hotel.

Texas delegates Joe Rankin of Ralls and Robert Cathey of Dublin will join the delegates from other state Farmers Union organizations across the nation to debate and adopt a national program for the 250,000 member nationwide general farm organization. The alternate delegates from Texas are Forest Creamer of Paducah and W. R. (Buck) Breeding of Wellington.

Several leading political figures, including Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Senator Robert Kennedy, and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, will address the convention.

The Vice President will address the group on Monday at 2 p.m.

The convention begins Sunday night, March 12, and closes with the annual banquet on Wednesday evening, March 15.

Other major speakers include Senator George McGovern of South Dakota, Oklahoma Senator A. S. (Mike) Monroney, Representative Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Howard Bertsch, administrator of the Farmers Home Administration.

Two new features aimed at increased delegate involvement in convention business have been added to this year's program.

One is a panel discussion on Monday afternoon featuring NFU's Washington representatives, Reuben Johnson, Angus McDonald and Blue Carstenson will make brief presentations in their legislative areas, then field questions from the audience.

The other is a series of commodity sessions, with delegates divided according to areas of major interest. These would include sessions on cotton, rice, feed grains, dairy, livestock, wheat, peanuts, and other commodities.

Men in Service

Lt. Dennis Cudd, who arrived recently in Viet Nam, is participating in Operation Junction City against the North Vietnamese.

A paratroop platoon leader, his group jumped into War Zone C at the beginning of that action.

Lt. Cudd has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Cudd, that while on patrol recently shrapnel pierced his right index finger and thumb and cut his pistol belt.

His wife, the former Judy Crawford, is attending West Texas State University while her husband is overseas.

HIGHWAYS ONLY ACCESS

More than 1,800 Texas communities depend solely on highway transportation. A traveler or shipment to other cities might arrive at a terminal by sea, rail or air, but the trip to the ultimate destination is over the highways.

Social Security Helps Replace Medicare Cards

If you lose your Medicare identification card, the social security office will help you secure a replacement, according to Travis C. Brigge, district manager of the Amarillo social security office.

Briggs said that his office would need to know your full name, your claim number if you have it, birth date and mailing address.

Hospitals needs the card to verify that a patient is enrolled in the Medicare program and to use in requesting payment from Medicare for their services to the patient.

No one should delay in securing needed medical attention because their card is lost or misplaced, as the hospitals can secure the claim number from the social security office in an emergency.

The Amarillo social security office is located at 1006 S. Adams, telephone DRake 6-5151, and is open Monday through Fridays from 8:15 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Thursday evenings the office is open until 7:30 p.m.

A representative of the Amarillo office will be in Wellington at the courthouse from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. on March 14, March 21 and March 28.

Mr. Izzard is a graduate of the University of Illinois with a major in radio, journalism and advertising.

Guests of the Rotary Club on Tuesday will be wives of members and Kiwanians and their wives.

Trio Attends FU Banquet

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Phipps and W. R. Breeding were in Tulia recently to attend the annual Swisher County Farmers Union banquet.

Jay Naman, Texas FU president, was the speaker.

Recently Mr. Breeding, director for District 1, attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Farmers Union in Austin.

Three resolutions were passed concerning proposals before the state legislature. One asked that any proposal for a "super board" or coordinating board for agriculture be "scrutinized" by Texas agriculture leadership. Another opposed a "city sales tax" and the third supported the continuation and acceleration of new farm to market road construction.

Donors Give

A majority of the Samnorwood Lions Club members who came within the age liimts of donors came in groups to give blood.

Wellington Jaycees had announced earlier that all who could would give.

The blood given here was forwarded to the Red Cross Blood Center in Wichita, Kansas, to be distributed to affiliated blood banks throughout the area the Wichita Center serves.

This is the way St. Joseph's Hospital receives blood for its bank.

Any blood that is not used is returned to the center and converted into plasma and other blood by-products which are again used by hospitals. No drop of blood is wasted.

The date for the next visit of the bloodmobile has not been set, Chief Nunnelley said, but there will be two or three visits each year as long as the hospital is participating in the program.

Guard Unit

sions whose strength now averages about 50 percent of combat level, probably will be absorbed in bringing the high priority force to full level. It has been common knowledge here that this unit was of low priority.

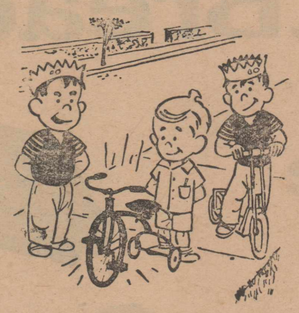

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara holds that it would take many months to bring these low priority divisions to combat readiness.

At present there are three National Guard divisions and six independent infantry brigades supposed to be in shape to deploy within eight weeks of call to active duty.

In addition there are five National Guard divsions which are about 80 percent strength and would take longer to prepare for battle.

The 15 low priority divisions, including the 49th Armored, have equipment which is earmarked for the frontline National Guard and Reserve units and which would be stripped from them in case of emergency.
