Beasley To Resign As County Clerk

W. E. Beasley, county-district clerk for the past 12 years, submitted his resignation this week to Aransas County commissioners, effective May 1.

The commissioners accepted his resignation and appointed Mrs. Ruby Hart, chief deputy clerk, to succeed him and serve out his term until the next general election in November 1972.

In other actions, the commissioners:

—Canvassed returns of the April 3 county trustee election and approved the following results: Roscoe Johnson, member from county at large, 649 votes; Gilbert Hill, member from Precinct 2, 199 votes; Arthur Bracht, member from Precinct 3, 249 votes.

—Approved the following fee reports for March: Sheriff Bob Hewes, $292; County Clerk Beasley, $1,679.35; Justice of Peace Lawrence Miller, $888.50; Justice of Peace J. Paul Rogers, $341.25.

—A petition was presented to the Court by R. L. Irwin, asking the Court to open Ocean Drive, Palm Harbor. After due discussion it was agreed to employ an attorney to establish status of Ocean Drive and if advice of said attorney is favorable, County Commissioners may proceed with opening same.

—Captain Weeks and Sgt. Hollis with the Department of Public Safety met with the court in regard to radar unit that county had previously agreed to place in the 1972 budget for use by the Highway Patrol. Captain Weeks emphasized the fact that same would be the property of Aransas County and County would have to maintain said unit.

—A letter was read from Hobart Huson in regard to the completion of the county line between Aransas County and Nueces County. Judge John D. Wendell stated that he had talked with Mr. Green, Nueces County Surveyor, and that the plat had been completed and forwarded to Mr. Huson for his approval.

—The Judge informed the court that the Board of Equalization for setting the oil valuation would be May 31st at 8 a.m.

—Charles Schindler requested that the county erect a building at the airport to be used for mechanical overhaul, painting and washing planes. Request was denied as such a building was not economically feasible at this time.

—The buildings at the radar site were discussed. It was unanimously agreed that the rental for Stanley Roofing Company be increased to $472 per month and that he be requested to use first building on left.

—George Strickhausen requested a 2" pipe line easement in Copano Heights Subdivision, Units 1 and 2, and Leroy Ploch requested an easement in Precinct No. 1. After due consideration, same were approved in open court.

—Came on for consideration application of George Strickhausen for water line easement in Coleman-Fulton Pasture Company Outlots. After due discussion it was agreed that said easement be approved after Geo. Strickhausen had dedicated to Aransas County 10 feet of the South portion of Coleman-Fulton Outlots 53, 54, 55, 56, 57 and 58, for the purpose of road easement.

—Came on for consideration the air conditioning at the administration building at the airport. The Judge stated that the old air conditioner could be repaired for approximately $300 and a new unit could be purchased for $1450. After due consideration it was agreed to purchase the new unit.

—Elva Mullinax, Fire Marshall requested that he be appointed County Fire Marshall with $15 to $20 car expense. After due consideration the Court denied request as this is not a budgeted item.

—The Commissioners Court

Water Restrictions At Cemetery

Due to the drought and water situation, the Rockport Cemetery Association reports that watering water at the cemetery must be stopped.

From now on until rain comes, no sprinklers will be permitted to operate unattended. People may hand-water lots with hose, using water for 10 or 15 minutes.

Sprinklers have been left on all day, some overnight and some over a weekend. Officials state that this must stop, or water will be cut off completely.

The water will be on each morning from 7 a.m. to noon. Everyone is urged to cooperate in this matter.

Rabies Vaccination For Dogs and Cats

Owners of dogs and cats are urged to have their pets receive rabies vaccination shots Saturday, April 17 between 1 and 4 p.m. at the present fire station in the old county barn behind Port Little's office. The charge is $3.

The rabies vaccination clinic will also be held in the Fulton Fire Station Saturday, April 24, from 1 to 4 p.m.

It is reported that after May 17 the charge for having a dog or cat receive a rabies vaccination shot will be higher.

Following the Rockport clinic, the city dog catcher will intensify his efforts to make sure that all dogs in the city limits are wearing tags signifying they have received their shots.

Announce Mail Schedule Changes

Effective Saturday, May 1, the following changes will be inaugurated concerning receipt and dispatch of mail at the Rockport and Fulton Post Offices:

Both incoming and outgoing mail will be reduced from the present two trips daily to one trip daily. The effect of this reduction in the number of trips from and to the Corpus Christi Sectional Center will not delay any mail delivered to street addresses in the city or mail delivered to the Star Routes. The only changes in service on incoming mail will be that out-of-town mail will be boxed in the mornings.

The elimination of the 10:30 a.m. outgoing mail will not result in any delay of mail formerly leaving at that time since that mail does not leave Corpus Christi until late evening along with the 5:10 p.m. outgoing mail at the present time.

Customers, especially business firms, are urged to mail early and periodically throughout the day and not wait until late in the day to deposit their mail. Late mailings collectively produce such a large volume that there is insufficient time for cancelling, sorting, tying, and sacking prior to departure of the mail truck at 5:10 p.m. Mail deposited after 4:55 p.m. will not be dispatched until the following day.

Navy Man Dies In Cycle Crash

Carlton U. Crunk, 21, of Rockport, who was stationed at Chase Field Naval Air Station near Beeville, died in a Corpus Christi hospital Monday from injuries received when the motorcycle on which he was riding overturned about 1 a.m. on Farm Road 1781, about three miles north of Rockport.

Driver of the motorcycle, Ronald S. Milliam, 24, of Beeville, was treated for injuries at Memorial Medical Center and released. Milliam also is attached to Chase Field.

Highway Patrol investigators said Milliam lost control of the cycle and ran off the road.

SPAGHETTI DINNER SET FOR APRIL 25

An Italian spaghetti dinner will be served at the Paws and Taws Square Dance building Sunday, April 25 by the Paws and Taws. The donations will be $1.25 for adults and 75c for children under 12, all you can eat. The serving time will be from 4 to 7 p.m. Everyone welcome. The date for this has been changed because of other community activities.

The money from this project will be used for taxes, insurance and up-keep for the building. Bring the whole family for an evening of fun and food!

The school district has had an unanticipated pupil increase of more than 13 per cent in the elementary schools of the system. The elementary schools are extremely overcrowded and more pupils are assigned to a large number of classrooms than practical for proper educational opportunities for all.

This unanticipated pupil growth has made it necessary for the school district to provide additional classrooms for the 1971-72 school term. Studies have been made over the last few months of low cost buildings to provide needed classrooms.

Proposals from several builders have been submitted and as a result of this, a low bid has been awarded to the Southwest Building System, a subsidiary of the Armco Steel

Alpha-Omega Players To Perform April 18

The Ecumenical Youth Fellowship of the Methodist, Presbyterian, and Catholic churches presents Mark Twain's wisdom and gentle humor in "The Diary of Adam and Eve" to be performed by the nationally acclaimed Alpha-Omega Players on April 18 at the VFW Hall at 8 p.m.

The play, adapted from a short story by Mark Twain, combines music, humor, and nostalgia to provide a new insight into the lives of the first man and the first woman.

There will be a reception at the VFW Hall following the performance to let the public meet and talk with the actors. It is an experience no one should miss. Remember April 18, 8 p.m.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

IT BEATS TYING THOSE KNOTS

Under the constant reminder that change is nature's law, the prudent citizen grits his teeth and prepares himself for anything. It is only a matter of time until the ignorant take the universities and their learned faculties humbly take seats down front in the lecture hall, confessing their ignorance and in penance for sins past displaying a commendable eagerness to learn more from those who know nothing.

Even so, the tidy mind is scarcely prepared for the news that the Boy Scouts of America have under sober consideration a plan to admit teen-age girls to the ranks. This would be in the Explorer program, the most advanced in the scouting curriculum (there would be girl Explorers, too) someone having found that in this mixed company the boys "tend to stay longer and show more continued interest."

Undoubtedly, they do. As a finding of fact, the discovery is beyond reproach. But the question, of course, is a "continuing interest" in what, or to put it another way, is this scouting? — Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail.

WAIT TEN WEEKS BEFORE WRITING IRS ABOUT REFUND

Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer either has his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue in Austin, said today.

Millions of tax returns are handled every filing season at the IRS Service Center which serves the eight-state Southwest Region. The volume of processing operations there makes it practically impossible for IRS to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing is complete.

For this reason, a taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should wait 10 weeks before writing IRS. By waiting this length of time, most payers will find their inquiry unnecessary.

If it should become necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and Social Security number, Phinney stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hill, San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Scheumack, Houston, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Ledbetter and family.

Presbyterian Circle Holds Meeting

Circle 2, Women of the First Presbyterian Church, met at the home of Mrs. C. G. Melton on April 8. Refreshments were enjoyed by the group during a social hour prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Louis Ragot, chairman, conducted the business meeting. A total of 52 cards had been sent and 38 visits made since the last meeting. Approval was given to making contributions to two needy families in our community, one of which is to be continued as a monthly project for the circle.

Mrs. Edward Setterbo moderated the Bible study on "Salvation." Mrs. Bob Young gave the "Emphasis" and Mrs. Clifford Cox led the "Least Coin" offering. The next meeting will be May 13 at the home of Mrs. Harold Shirey.

Mr. and Mrs. Raulie Irwin of Bryan spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLead and Mr. and Mrs. Raulie Irwin.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

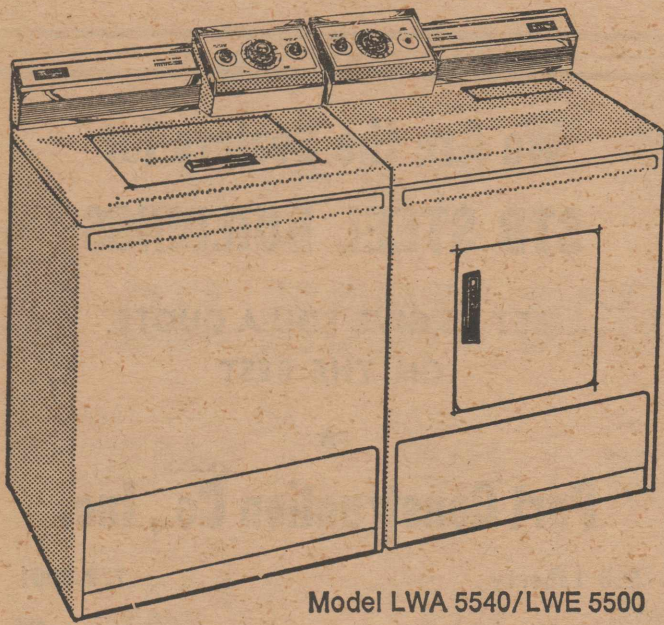

There is much confusion about Tongues (Glossa) today as to its use in the church of our Lord. According to St. Paul, tongues-speaking, so prevalent in the early church would cease when that which is perfect (the completion of the New Testament) is come; 1 Corinthians 13:10.

Not only should tongues be "done away", but prophetic utterances, and supernatural inspiration as well.

The very design of speaking in tongues was to prove apostolic infallibility. It (tongues) was a sign of Divine inspiration, and with the giving of the New Testament tongues-speaking had no place, and ceased. There are no inspired men today, and there are no Bible tongues today; 1 Corinthians 13:8. All inspiration is complete; Jude 3.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS FOR STUDENTS

One out of 12 students in college today received social security benefits, according to H. M. Cleveland, district manager of the social security office in Corpus Christi. This protection was established through contributions made by the student's deceased, disabled, or retired parent. Benefits can be paid after age 18 and up to age 22 as long as the student is unmarried and attends school full time.

Social security checks for a child normally stop the month before his 18th birthday. But checks can be continued for a full-time student if the Social Security Administration is notified two or three months before he reaches age 18. If the notification is not received timely, some delay in payments will probably occur.

Cleveland encourages anyone who has questions to call or write their nearest social security office. In Corpus Christi the office is located at 1802 South Staples Street, and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 883-5511. Ask for extension 251.

Tom Shults was taken to Thomas-Spann Clinic and Hospital in Corpus Christi Tuesday night for observation and treatment of a heart condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Herbolt and son, Mike, of Kerrville, spent the Easter weekend with Mrs. Herbolt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinsey.

Golden-Cheeked Warblers Have Limited Range

AUSTIN — Golden-cheeked warblers perform a variation of the migratory theme.

While other migratory birds flee the first cold spells in the north toward sun and fun in Texas, the golden-cheeked warblers leave Texas for a winter among the pine and oak-covered mountains of Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

They leave behind the juniper covered hills of the Edwards Plateau, the only place in the world where golden-cheeked warblers can nest and rear their young.

The golden-cheeked warbler is a small bird which, as an adult, is only five inches long. It gets its name from the deep yellow on its cheeks and the side of its neck. This yellow is accentuated by a jet black crown, upperparts, throat, neck, upper breast and heavy streaking along the flanks. The black wings have two distinct white bars.

The female has a duller appearance, and while the male is bold and nearly always singing, the female is almost songless, emitting only an occasional chirp or "tick, tick" when danger threatens. The female is shy and seldom seen.

Texas to Nicaragua is the limited range of the golden-cheeked warbler although a couple of errant birds have shown up in the Virgin Islands and near St. Petersburg, Fla.

They arrive in the Texas Hill country in early March, the mature males preceding the females by about five days. They come to the same breeding grounds as the year before and select their territory. Then, perched on a high limb overlooking this territory, they sing their four-note songs.

One pair of golden-cheeked warblers will claim this territory and exclude others of their species. But at the same time, they live in a harmonious association with other species such as the morning dove, yellow-bellied cuckoo, chuck-will's-widow, Carolina chickadee, tufted, Bedwick's wren and the cardinal.

When the females arrive, the males set about selecting a mate. During this time, as many as three males may fight over one female. As these disputes are settled, the females start searching for suitable nesting sites.

Golden-cheeked warblers prefer to nest in ashe juniper, but nests have been found in oaks, black walnuts and elms. Constructed in the forks of perpendicular branches from five or six feet to about 20 feet from the ground, the nests are works of art. They are built entirely of strips of juniper bark, held together with cobwebs and lined with a few plant fibers and feathers.

It is thought that the construction of the nests is the reason why the golden-cheeked warbler is entirely dependent on the stands of ashe juniper. Unlike the other three types of juniper which overlap the range of the bird, the bark of the ashe juniper comes off in strips, and it is with these strips that the golden-cheeked warbler builds the outside of her nest. Without this type of bark, the nest, it is believed, could not be made.

Three or four, and occasionally as many as five eggs are laid in the nest. The eggs are whitish with small blotches of lilac, gray and pink.

While the female sits on the nest, the male perches nearby singing and having nothing to do with the hatching. He does, however, assist in feeding and caring for the young, and as these duties become more demanding, the amount of singing lessens.

In 10 to 12 days after hatching, the fledglings begin to show a buffy yellow at the base of the lower mandible and on the cheeks, and by the time it is time to fly south, they have their winter plumage.

The golden-cheeked warbler is a very active bird, constantly hopping from limb to limb and flying from tree to tree in search of insects which comprise his entire diet. He sings his song continuously as he hunts.

When the eggs and young are threatened by a snake or other predator, both the male and the female take part in "injury feigning." They will spread their tails, flutter their wings and even hop down through the branches, giving the impression that they are falling — all in an effort to draw the danger away from the nest.

Among the many enemies and threats small birds must deal with, the most serious in the golden-cheeked warbler's case is the brown-headed cowbird.

Cowbirds do not build nests of their own, but lay their eggs in the nests of other birds, thereby escaping the hatching responsibility and the chore of feeding their young.

Being bigger than the young golden-cheeked warbler, the cowbird fledgling has a distinct advantage over them when it comes to competing for food brought by parents. They may even peck the young golden-cheeked warblers to death.

A 1963 study of 19 golden warbler nests revealed 16 of them to be parasitized by cowbirds, and only 23 percent of these nests fledged successfully.

Another serious threat to the golden-cheeked warbler is its vanishing habitat. Large acreages of ashe juniper are being cleared each year to make grazing land. In 1966 there were an estimated 19 million acres of cedar-covered hills. Now, less than 10 million acres remain. These figures include land with juniper growths other than ashe juniper and therefore unsuitable for golden-cheeked warbler habitat.

So, in reality, suitable habitat is limited.

An estimated 15,000 to 17,000 golden-cheeked warblers remain in a 32-county area. Sightings have been recorded in 40 counties.

The Texas Hill Country with its virgin cedar brakes offers the best chance to see these rare little birds. But as the cedar brakes disappear, so will the golden-cheeked warbler.

If sold for the value of its chemical elements, the human body would be worth about 98 cents.

Art Guild Gatherings

By JAN WENDELL

The children's classes on Saturday morning are going full speed ahead. We are averaging about 20 children each Saturday morning and there are some children still sketching in charcoal who are about ready to get really messy and use pastels. Some of the students from last summer are already into paints and progressing quite well.

The hours for the children's classes have been shortened—now they will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m.

Frances Ramirez, who is a 9 year old art student and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blas Ramirez, was not able to come to class last Saturday morning and she really was disappointed in not being able to attend. However, Mrs. Ramirez called us this week and explained Frances's absence. It seems that on March 21st there was a Cerebral Palsy Telethon sponsored by Channel 10 in Corpus Christi.

Frances decided to participate and see how well she could do for this charity.

Well, Frances collected $100 all by herself and was one of the top winners in the whole area for amount collected. And—the reason that she was not at class Saturday morning was that she was at Channel 10 taping a show with the other winners for the 10 p.m. News, April 11th. Frances also received a beautiful wrist watch as her prize. Congratulations, Frances!

The next meeting of the Art Association will be a social get-together and dinner at the Sandollar, Wednesday, April 28 at 7:30. If you have not gotten your newsletter, about it, please call our Social chairman, Lois Mosier, at 729-5026.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

One of the fastest growing causes of adult disability in this country is emphysema, a disease affecting the lungs.

Causes and effects of emphysema were known, but the disease received greater emphasis in 1964, says the Texas State Department of Health. A report that year by the U. S. Surgeon General's Advisory Committee on Smoking and Health incriminated cigarette smoking as a contributing cause of the disease. It was found that for cigarette smokers the death rate from chronic bronchitis and emphysema was six times greater than for non-smokers. Emphysema and bronchitis are closely related although they may develop independently. Emphysema often develops from chronic bronchitis.

Deaths due to emphysema have increased about five times in the past 10 years. Frequently the victims live in areas where air pollution is a constant problem.

Emphysema is described as an impairment of the bellows action of the lungs. In the course of the disease, the walls of the millions of tiny air sacs (called alveoli) within the lungs are gradually destroyed. As the air spaces become larger, the victims find it increasingly difficult to expel all the air inhaled, and becomes trapped in the lungs. As the disease progresses increasingly large amounts of air are trapped in the lungs, causing the lungs to become enlarged. At the same time, they become less efficient in exchanging oxygen for carbon dioxide.

Frequent respiratory infections, increasing breathlessness, a feeling of tightness in the chest, general weakness and a tendency to tire easily are signs of the disease.

Eventually, emphysema destroys the elasticity of the lungs—the ability to expand and contract. As interference continues, an increased burden is imposed on the heart which must work harder to pump blood through the damaged lungs. Under such strain, the heart may enlarge and eventually give out.

Emphysema doesn't strike suddenly but comes on gradually, sometimes after several seasons of bad colds, each accompanied by a severe cough and often with chronic bronchitis. The cough may become chronic.

There is no known cure of emphysema, but with early treatment under a doctor's care most patients can get some relief from their attacks of breathlessness. Treatment can enable many to live comfortably for a long time.

Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary Meets

The Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary met April 13 at the home of Mrs. Velma Malchar, with 10 members present.

Meeting was called to order, minutes read from the last two meetings. Plans were discussed for the second quarterly meeting of the South Central District Firemen and Fire Marshalls Association convention to be held in Robstown on Sunday, April 18. The ladies will enter a racing team.

Also discussed was the dance the Auxiliary is sponsoring at Lillian's Danceland May 1, with music by the Western Aires. Tickets are $2 per person and may be purchased from any Auxiliary member.

The next social meeting will be April 27. Mrs. Emma Ramirez of "Emma's Flowers" will be guest speaker on flower arrangements. She will make an arrangement, then donate it to the Auxiliary for their treasure chest. Visitors are welcome.

Qualifications for today's modern pharmacist call for five years of studies at an accredited college, plus a year of practical experience after graduation.

A pharmaceutical firm reportedly has developed a 20-second pregnancy test for use in doctors' offices. Among its advantages is that it gives the possible mother-to-be some added time to knit little things.

Years before tranquilizers were first introduced, the famous Canadian physician Sir William Osler wrote, "The desire to take medicine is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals."

A panel of medical experts in Great Britain predicts that by 1990, 70% of cancers will be controllable.

A dozen Nobel Prizes in medicine or chemistry have gone in recent years to researchers associated with drug manufacturers.

"April, when the redwing blackbird sings."
—Thompson

And haven't they sung, if that is what it should be called, and their plumage is beautiful.

The past ten days have been good for the study of migratory birds, warblers, tanagers, kingbirds, orioles, vireos, titmice, all in a hurry to get to their nesting grounds after a winter in the south.

The shorebirds also are arriving, least and spotted sandpipers, dunlins, ruddy turnstones in fine black and white plumage and orange and red legs. Skimmers not so thick as they pair off to breed on the sandbars and small islands.

The majority of gulls that sun at this season are the breeding laughing gulls. Please, please don't call them sea gulls. Each species has its own name. Look closely at color of legs and bills. Herring gulls' bills are light. The ring bill has just that—a ring on the bill. Just look.

Aren't the flowers beautiful now? Yellow cosmos and thelesperma, white prickly poppy, purple prickly thistle, delicate blue-eyed grass, pale blue widows tears, spiderwort, lavender. Then the brilliant red stalks of coral bean whose seed are as pretty as the blossom and from which it gets its name.

Texas prickly cactus from which Mexicans can make candies. Enjoy the small shrubs, agarita and huisache with such fragrance. Nature spreads a beautiful carpet all around us. When mesquite begins to leaf and scissortails arrive, friends it's spring in Texas. Just look, look, look.

The Kinsey Report

The Rockport area received some high praise recently from a writer named Frank Oliver in a feature story in a San Antonio newspaper. Here's what he wrote:

"Down along the far Texas coast in the Rockport, Fulton, Lamar area where shimmering bays kiss wind-sculptured shores, treasure lies in copious quantity for all to share. Here nestled in the lee of the endless offshore silver sands, a venerated sun and warm, gentle breezes caress a fertile and friendly land broken by hidden bays, bayous and secret coves. Here the Creator has fashioned one of His loveliest works. And here Texans are exulting in the discovery of a sea chest of vacation excitement and adventure that is unique in the nation.

Interestingly enough, the ooh's and aah's of revelation stimulated by today's accelerated tourism are but reflections of a time gone by. Back in the 1880's and 90's the Texas coast was one of the favorite vacation spots in the United States. Several trains a day brought thousands of vacationers to these protected waters to loaf lavishly and try out their 'waterwings'. Resort hotels lined the waterfront and excursion boats were jammed. Prominent was the plush Aransas Hotel at Rockport that covered a city block and offered the finest in hospitality including dinner orchestra and over the water theatre.

"While a few remnants of the past remain as curiosities, the Toast of the Coast boasts a far better fare for the traveler today. Excellent hotels, motels, restaurants and several plush resorts extend a hand of hospitality unequalled along the coast. And the season never closes. All activities are year 'round except hunting, which is in seasons and some of the best in Texas. Nearby Goose Island State Park and Aransas National Wildlife Refuge are musts to see. And if you are lucky, vast uninhabited St. Joseph's Island still contains the bulk of Jean Lafitte's buried treasure!

Come squish YOUR toes in the warm sand, Texan. You'll long remember a part of Texas that care forgot."

PALM VILLAGE

Arlo and Mary Hansen announce that they are again owners and operators of Palm Village Resort and look forward to welcoming their many friends in numerous states.

CITY ON THE RISE. Sydney, Australia, is reaching toward the sky. Booming population, business and land prices in the Down Under metropolis are spurring construction of ever-taller buildings.

STANLEY ATTENDS EVINRUDE MEETING

Gordon Stanley, owner of Marineland, has returned from Milwaukee, Wis., where he attended a meeting as a member of the Evinrude Motors Dealer Council.

The 25-member Dealer Council meets semi-annually with company officials. It serves as an advisory body to the company in such areas as new product ideas, promotional suggestions and the evaluation of various company-dealer relationships.

On the agenda were discussions on boat show participation, advertising, service policies and new products.

This column of questions on Federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—The IRS says it will figure the tax for more people this year. Who can take advantage of the offer?

A—Up to 30 million taxpayers may have IRS compute their tax. To qualify, income should be less than $20,000 and consist only of wages or salaries, tips, dividends, interest, pensions or annuities. The taxpayer must also take the standard deduction.

Previously, IRS could only compute the tax for those with less than $5,000 of income, primarily from salaries and wages. These limits disqualified many low and middle income taxpayers as well as retirees living on pensions or annuities.

This computation is not done in local offices. If you want IRS to compute your tax, just follow the instructions for entries on the return and mail it, with attachments, to the IRS Service Center for your area.

Besides computing the tax, the IRS will also compute retirement income credit for those entitled to it. This computation has proved confusing to many taxpayers in the past.

Q—Can I make the arithmetic a bit easier on my tax return by rounding off some of the figures?

A—Yes, you can. Money items appearing on your tax return may be rounded off to whole dollars. This means that amounts under 50 cents are eliminated and amounts from 50 to 99 cents are increased to the next dollar.

Q—My teenage son earned enough money in 1970 to owe tax. Does that mean I will lose my exemption for him?

A—Not necessarily. As long as your son is a full-time student at least five months of the year or was under 19 at year end, the amount of his earnings will not affect his dependency status. However, the other dependency tests, support for instance, must be met.

Q—What tax rate should I use when I report my maid's wages for the fourth quarter?

A—The combined rate is 9.6 percent, 4.8 percent each for employer and employee, and should be used when filing your Form 942, "Quarterly Report on Household Employees," for the months of October, November and December. The deadline for filing and paying the tax is Feb. 1, 1971.

Note that the rate goes up effective Jan. 1, 1971 from 4.8 per cent to 5.2 for both employers and employees.

Q—I have income from a farm I own as well as from a part-time job. Do I come under the filing provisions for farmers?

A—You do if at least two-thirds of your gross income is from your farm operations. If that is the case and you do not file a declaration of estimated income tax by Jan. 15, you should file your tax return and pay the entire tax due by March 1 to avoid a penalty.

Other taxpayers not qualifying as farmers, ranchers or fishermen have until Feb. 1 to file their final returns and pay the tax due, in place of paying the last quarterly estimated tax installment or filing and paying an estimated tax declaration due Jan. 15.

Taxpayers who do not have to file declarations, such as those whose withholding equals or exceeds their tax due, have until April 15 to file their returns.

TO MY SON DAVID

I'm writing this open letter to you, son, hoping somehow you will hear of it or see it. It's to let you know I love you and trust in you. And I pray to God that you will believe in me when I say that I've grieved for you every day since you've been gone.

I have complete faith in you to trust me to protect and love you as you have longed for so much. If you're afraid to come home first, then come to the boat and we'll talk. But most of all son, I love you and care for your happiness.

Just come talk to me, please. And I'll always be here for you to talk to. I'll be returning to the boat on Wednesday, April 14, so you can figure out my schedule from there.

I love you, son,
Dad

Lightning on the Links

Claps of distant thunder failed to dampen Freddie's determination to finish his round of golf. But when the rain began to fall, he took hasty refuge in a weather shelter near the thirteenth tee.

Moments later, a bolt of lightning struck the shelter and knocked Freddie flat. For the resulting injuries, he filed a damage suit against the management of the club.

"I realize the lightning itself was an act of God," he told the court. "But they invited trouble when they put that shelter where they did. They put it right out in the open, on high ground. No wonder it was struck by lightning."

However, the court decided

POLLUTION PROBLEMS are by no means strictly American, as this cartoon by popular Argentine artist Carlos Basurto shows. Caption translates: "Yes, I quit diving eight months ago but with this Buenos Aires ('Good' in Spanish) air I'll never take off my suit." The air has become so polluted in the Argentine capital that many now refer to it not so jokingly as "Malos Aires" ("Bad Air").

that Freddie had no case. Even if the shelter's location was less than ideal, said the court, the chance of such a freak accident was still too remote to pin the blame on the management.

"Lightning," said the court, "is inconsistent (and) inscrutable. It is no respecter of persons, places or occasions."

When a golfer pays his fee, he is entitled to reasonably safe conditions on the course. But, as Freddie's case illustrates, he does not get a guarantee of absolute safety.

Nor can he blame the management for an injury that might well be the fault of another golfer.

Thus, the management was held not liable when a golfer sat down on a bench and it tipped over. His argument was that the bench had been placed negligently on uneven ground. But the court said there was no way of telling whether the bench had been put there by employees of the club or by some other golfer.

On the other hand, the management can indeed be held responsible for failing to ward off foreseeable accidents. In another case, a golfer walking through the parking lot was knocked down by a wayward tee shot. As it happened, balls flew that way with considerable frequency. Yet, no fence had been erected as a safeguard.

This time, the club had to pay substantial damages to the victim. The judge said it was not hard for the management to put up a fence — and not hard to foresee accidents if it didn't.
