State Ranked Owls Beaten By Mustangs

By Freddy Stockdale

Olton combined a traditionally aggressive defense with a big play offense and the Mustangs waltzed away with a 23-0 win over AA state-ranked Hale Center here last Friday night.

The weather was perfect and so was the play of the Mustangs' defense, who dominated the line of scrimmage and completely shut down a potentially potent Hale Center offense. The Owls' highly-touted tailback Gordon Compton never had a chance to show off his running ability as all 11 of Olton's defensive starters swarmed around the football like a pack of junkyard dogs around a choice steak.

On the other side of the coin, the Mustangs' offensive play was a pleasant surprise for head coach Larry Shackelford. In 1979, the inability of the offense to put points on the board was a major factor in Olton's disappointing 2-8 season. However, last Friday night the Mustangs proved they could take advantage of turnovers and come up with the big plays when they needed them.

As it turned out, one big play would have sufficed — thanks to the defense. It was a nice way to open the 1980 campaign for the Mustangs, who took a 1-0 record into Friday's battle against the Abernathy Antelopes. Hale Center fell to 0-1.

The two teams played 1-2-3 punt for the first 8½ minutes of play as neither team could develop anything remotely resembling a drive. At that point, it looked like the team that got the breaks would win.

Olton finally got the breaks, but the first one was a heartbreaker. With 3:55 left in the first quarter, Hale Center fullback Joe Carrera popped through the middle of the Mustang defensive line for an 8 yards to the Owls' 45. After the play, everyone got up — except Olton senior Jesse Garza. He knew instantly by the way his bones were rearranged that he had suffered a broken leg. He also knew that his football career at Olton High School was over.

Although the injury to Garza didn't light a roaring fire under the Mustangs, it did seem to produce a spark that made a noticeable difference in their play. They quickly took control of the game and never gave it back.

After surviving a brief scare when the Owls just missed connecting on a pass that would have ended in a sure touchdown, the Mustangs got another break — the good kind — when Hale Center's Carrera coughed up the ball at his own 35. The Mustangs recovered and were suddenly in scoring position with 8:51 left in the first half.

On first down Olton QB Gregg Smith took the snap from center, drifted back into his protective pocket and threw the ball down the right sideline. It was right on the money as a wide open Henry Perez grabbed it at the 16.

The effort went for naught, however, because three plays later Smith fumbled at the 20, and Hale Center was spared for the moment.

Apparently Freddy Palacios decided that if Smith could complete a pass then so could he, and he came out throwing. Facing third and 9 at his own 36, Palacios shuffled back into his own pocket and rifled the ball downfield. Just as Smith's pass fell safely in the arms of a blue shirt, so did Palacios. Roy Luera swiped the pass and rambled to Hale Center's 8-yard line before being stopped. The Mustangs were right back in scoring position.

Three plays later Danny Garcia dove over from the 1-yard line for the first score of the night. Kenny Smith added the extra-point and the surprising Mustangs were ahead 7-0 with 3:18 left in the half.

On the ensuing kickoff, Hale Center's Carrera made his way to the Owl 40, but fumbled the ball into the arms of Olton's Perez. However, the Mustangs were unable to take advantage of the miscue and were content to take their 7-0 lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

A painfully-long third quarter was completely dominated by Olton. The offense scored two touchdowns, while the defense left the Owls every way but alone, not once allowing the visitors the luxury of decent field position.

The Mustangs' first score in the quarter happened so quick that anyone taking time to blink would have missed it. Ol' Reliable himself, Danny Garcia, shot like a rocket through a gap in the Hale Center line, and before the secondary could react Garcia was standing in the end zone, some 58 yards from where he began his journey.

Kenny Smith's PAT was perfect and the Mustangs had increased their lead to 14-0 with 8:36 left in the quarter.

Exactly 2:06 later Gregg Smith threw to Roy Luera for 45 yards and another touchdown for the jubilant Mustangs. The PAT was blocked, but Olton was now 20 points ahead and the Owls were faced with a deficit that only a Roger Staubach could overcome.

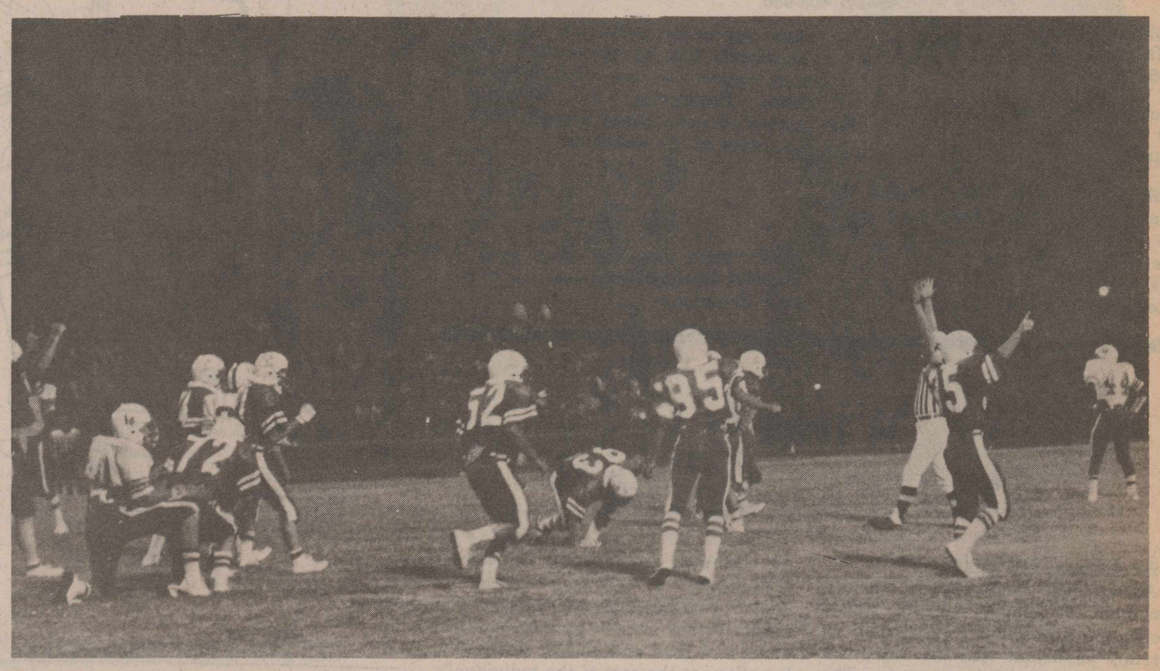

Palacios came out throwing again and continued his nasty habit of throwing to blue shirts. This time Junior Casares was on the receiving end. Casares returned the ball to the Owls' 45 where Olton took over with 5:30 left in the third period.

Danny Garcia promptly gave a repeat performance of his earlier score with a spectacular 45-yard jaunt that would have given the Mustangs a commanding 26-0 lead, but a clipping call wiped out the play and the score remained 20-0.

The Mustang offense was unable to score any more touchdowns but it didn't really matter because the defense made sure the Owls never threatened.

Kenny Smith added a 25-yard field goal with 2:49 left in the game to make the score 23-0, and by that time the only thing the Mustangs had left to worry about, besides cramps, was being beaten to death by estatic cheerleaders and teammates.

Olton will take on the Lockney Longhorns Friday at 8:00 p.m. in Lockney.

Stopover Fatal For Rattlesnake

Ignoring the "no vacancy" sign, James Spurlin, proprietor of Olton Courts, found an unwelcome guest waiting at his back door Tuesday morning...in the form of a rattlesnake.

Spurlin's first effort to dissuade the objectionable guest with a stick was unsuccessful. Reaching for a substantial pipe, he ended all threat of danger from the interloper.

Spurlin reported counting "five rattlers and a button", signifying the status of the offender. With a sigh of relief he says he hopes that "this one is the only one that will dare to invade the city limits."

'Constitution Week' Chairman Urges Reading Of Document

The week of Sept. 17-23 has been designated as "Constitution Week" by proclamation of the President of the United States.

Mrs. W.T. Hankins has accepted the chairmanship of "Constitution Week" committee for the Mary McCoy Bains Chapter of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution. It is an endeavor to make everyone aware of the constitution during the week observance.

Mrs. Hankins arranged for Lamb County Judge Joyner to sign a proclamation stating that the week be observed and she was also a visitor at the local schools this week making the fifth grade history students aware of the upcoming observance, urging them to learn as much as possible about the constitution.

Citizenship Day marks the beginning of the observance with a flag display in front of all the local businesses, Wednesday, Sept. 17.

"We all need to get a copy of the constitution and acquaint ourselves with all its articles. Our freedoms are outlined in this important document and we need to be aware of all of the freedoms which we take for granted," Mrs. Hankins stated. "I urge everyone that possibly can to make an effort to read the constitution during this week of observance."

SIGNING PROCLAMATION is Lamb County Judge Joyner signed a proclamation declaring the week of Sept. 17-23 as "Constitution Week". Mrs. W.T. Hankins is serving as chairman of the committee of The Daughters of The American Revolution Program.

The Smiths have eight grandchildren.

City Council Holds Meeting

City council members met Tuesday evening in regular session. Routine business was conducted.

Leon Noack was appointed to serve on the equalization board in the spot previously appointed to Russell Strain. Strain's appointment to the council last month prohibits his serving on the equalization board. Elmo Bryant and Jess Parker were named alternates.

Council approved a decision to send city police chief Clive Sartain to a police teletype school in Amarillo and employed Alvin Jones as night patrolman.

In a recent meeting of the council, an okay was given for Olton Equipment to tie onto the city water main on the southeast corner of Section 36. Stipulation noted that Olton Equipment would install and maintain connections.

Council members also voted to purchase three three-yard and three one and a half yard dumpsters to add to the city's sanitation services.

Janie Orosco Wins Contest In First Week's Competition

A full slate of high school games greeted pigskin predictors as they toiled over last week's contest in the annual Enterprise guessing game.

Eight contestants missed five games each so the tie-breaker game - Mustangs versus Owls - was used to determine the weekly winners. Janie Orosco was nearest the actual 23-0 score with a prediction of 20-14. Missing by 17 points, she claims first place money.

Mike Hodges and Johnny Hodges proved that sometimes father might not know best as the younger Hodges came nearer to the Mustangs' first victory. Mike was 20 points off with 13-10 while his dad missed by 22 on a 13-12 prediction. They claim second and third place monies.

Others missing five games and their tie-breaker predictions were David LaDuke, 24 points, 13-14; W.E. Thomas, 25, 12-14; Alan Williams, 31, 17-25; Gary Davis, 32, 9-18 and Kevin Workman, 35, 12-24.

The eight contestants now share a hold of the season lead. Contestant with the most correct predictions at the end of the season will win a grand prize of $50.

Although one week has been counted - a second by the time this issue is read - contestants may still enter and still are possible winners of that grand prize. Standings are subject to change each week and careless mistakes have often plagued leaders (some have forgotten to circle winners, others have left off their names, there have even been contestants who "forgot" to deposit their entries).

The contestant who gives up is assured of not being the grand prize winner so all should keep entering even though trailing by several points.

Anyone can be a weekly winner, too, even one entering for the first time.

It's easy to enter. Select a winner in each of the games appearing in the ads of sponsoring merchants on the contest page in The Olton Enterprise. Circle the corresponding number on the entry blank provided there. Predict a score in the tie-breaker game - which also counts as a game. Fill in the entry blank with name and address and deposit it with any sponsoring merchants before 4 p.m. Friday.

Names of the winners appearing on the contest page are not correct. See this story for the real winners.

What Is 'Free Enterprise'?

By Anthony Harrigan

At a time when the American economy is being placed under increasing government control, it is terribly important that the American people understand free enterprise. The free enterprise system has been the source of the economic well-being of the United States. Unfortunately, this system is in danger of being frustrated, undermined and regulated to death.

Free enterprise is a synonym for capitalism, the private ownership of the means of production and distribution. This system of private ownership of land, stores, factories, banks, and other business facilities has given the United States immense strength. And the American people have enjoyed the highest standard of living in the world.

In a free enterprise system, an individual has the right to sell or exchange his property and/or labor for the best bargain he can make. Government intervention is hurtful, retarding the free play of the market economy. Under free enterprise, private property also means that everyone is free to retain the fruits of his labor and put them to any lawful use he sees fit. Believers in free enterprise reject the socialist idea that people can engage in only those activities which have the approval of government agencies and planning boards.

One of the biggest threats to free enterprise today is the notion that government intervention in the economy is beneficial. But government can't create wealth. It can only disburse funds accumulated by private citizens. Bureaucratic planners haven't a clearer view of community and national needs than thousands of individual businessmen and companies in daily contact with the public.

Socialism - the opposite of free enterprise - is a proven failure. In the post-World War II years, socialism virtually wrecked the British nation. On the other hand, West Germany, which chose the capitalist route to economic rebuilding, today enjoys vast new wealth. Despite the failures of government management of the economy, powerful forces in the United States urge more such intervention and thereby attempt to undermine the free enterprise system.

Free enterprise also is based on the principle that only a working society can survive. People must help support their community and nation. They can't lead a drone existence, dependent on the work and savings of others. Yet many liberal politicians ignore the rights and needs of productive working people and lavish benefits on the lazy and those who don't know the meaning of thrift. The free enterprise system, in order to work, must be free of both government coercion and economic restrictions imposed by monopolistic labor unions. Every citizen must have the right to work without obtaining the approval of a union boss.

Under the free enterprise system, government guarantees the citizen opportunity to work and save. It doesn't guarantee an annual wage. The authoritarian state guarantees the individual food and shelter and other benefits - at the cost of the individual's freedom. The free society says that a free man should want to be self-reliant and help maintain the society of which he is a part.

The choice between a free and authoritarian society is always before us. Citizens can take the free enterprise route or the socialist route. The latter leads to a loss of freedom and poorer material conditions of life. In political terms, the choice is between a constitutional form of representative government and a totalitarian or managed form of society.

No doubt there always will be people who shirk acceptance of freedom and responsibility, who prefer dependence to self-reliance. They will want Big Government to fix wages, provide public housing, furnish free medical care, and provide other benefits. Such people, in effect, reject full freedom.

Hopefully, the American people will remain true to their heritage and retain the free enterprise system. Free enterprise has brought a good life to the people of the United States. It is a system that works.

Editorial

Constitution Defines Rights

Most everyone is familiar with the "preamble" of the constitution, but it is surprising how many people are not really acquainted with the articles of the constitution. If ever in the entire history of the United States, the time for studying the constitution to find out what our freedoms really are....is now.

During the week of Sept. 17-23, a special week set aside as "Constitution Week", The Daughters of the American Revolution urges every city to study the Constitution and become more fully aware of its meaning. Know your rights and responsibilities.

If our Nation is to remain strong and vital, it must maintain the spirit of liberty expressed in our Constitution. If we fail to guard that spirit, and become more indifferent to the worth of our freedom, we will have lost the right to freedom.

One hundred and ninety-three years ago, strong-willed men gathered in Philadelphia to mend and remold a divided land. The Articles of Confederation which had gone into effect in 1781 had failed and the task of creating a new national government was an immense task.

The ideals upon which this document is based are reinforced each day by the success of the system to which it gave birth. But the system cannot function without an enlightened public.

Do you know your rights, freedoms and duties under the supreme law of our land?

Read your Constitution.

Girl Scouts To Organize

An organizational meeting for Girl Scouts has been set for Tuesday, Sept. 16 at 3:30 p.m. in the Scout House across from First Baptist Church.

from the desk of the Chamber Maid

The week of September 17-23 has been proclaimed constitution week. This is a project sponsored by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and its purpose is to focus attention on our constitution and our country's history as well as to rekindle patriotism in the American people.

The Chamber of Commerce is asking all merchants to fly the American Flag all week as evidence of our patriotism and our belief in our country. If you do not have a flag, there are several in the Chamber office, you are welcome to borrow. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could have 100% participation in this worthy cause? Of course, we encourage all who are not merchants to fly a flag that week. After all, if we love our country, let's let people know about it.

Friday, Oct. 17 has been designated "Hi, Neighbor Day". This is an event sponsored every year by the Woman's Division of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce. It always falls on the opening day of the Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival.

There will be a free luncheon which will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Plainview. This has always been a delicious meal and it alone is worth the admission price! Then there will be entertainment and lots of free door prizes.

The luncheon lasts from 11:30 to 1:00 p.m. and this leaves plenty of time to visit the Arts and Crafts Festival and that is a delight in itself. The only requirement for all this fun is that you must have a reservation for the luncheon - so, if you want to go, please call the Chamber Office before Oct. 14. Remember, you can always catch me at the office between 9 and 10 a.m. Other times - maybe. I do have an extension of the Chamber phone at home so you do run a chance of getting me in the afternoon if that is the only time you can think of it. The number is 285-2292.

Thought for the day: "If Patrick Henry thought that taxation without representation was bad, he should have seen how bad it is, with representation."

INSUR-MATION

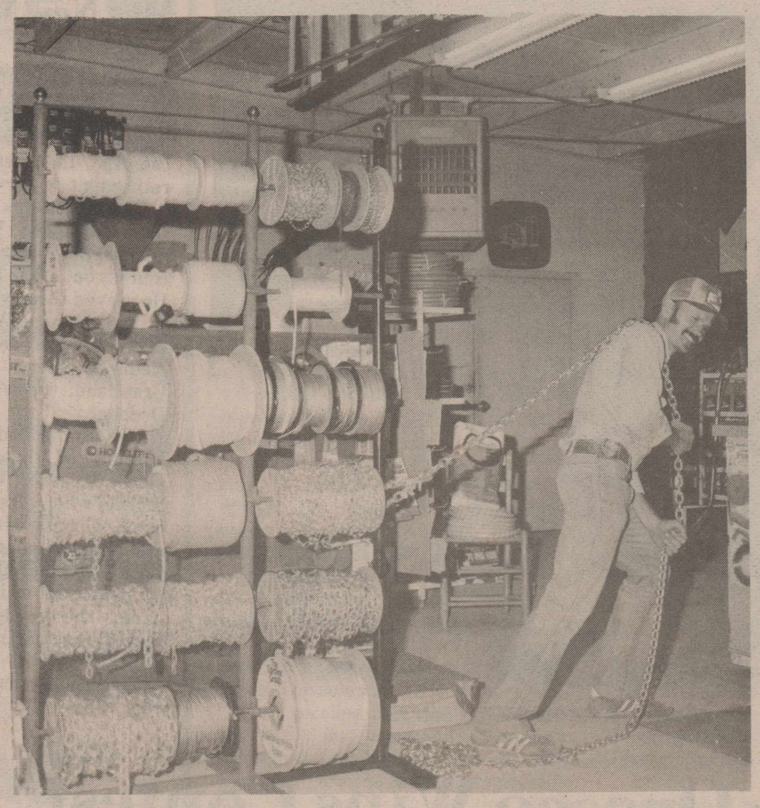

Can you suggest ways I can save on my home and auto insurance?

Yes. • When buying a car investigate insurance costs. Big, high-powered cars will generally require more expensive insurance and particular cars may require higher insurance because it costs more to repair. • Raising the deductible will lower premiums. In many cases, doubling the deductible may save as much as 20 - 30% (or more depending on the type coverage and amount of deductible). • Paying premiums annually can often lower the cost of insurance by as much as 5 - 10%. • Comprehensive record keeping may help you collect on everything to which you're entitled. • Choose a good, knowledgeable agent who will take the time to consider your situation and let you know options, possibly saving you money and giving you peace of mind.

MRS. THELMA WILLIAMS

Recipe Revue

By Mozelle Trotter

Making a garden is not just work for Thelma Williams. A resident of Olton since 1971, she loves working outdoors in her garden or with flowers.

This summer's heat wave and drouth combined to spell doom to Thelma's garden and thus cut down on the canning she also enjoys. Thelma is sharing a recipe for tomato relish for those persons who do have gardens. She says it's "very good" but notes that she does not use as much hot peppers as called for in the recipe. Persons may vary that amount according to taste.

Thelma also likes growing pot plants, thus bringing her gardening indoors. Pretty plants on her front porch await a move to the indoors when frost threatens.

Keeping her grandchildren is right at the top of Thelma's list of favorite things. She proudly boasts 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Thelma grew up at Rosebud near Waco. When Tom Williams left his home at Lovelady, he came to Rosebud to work and there met Thelma. They made their home there until 1935 when they moved to the Spade community.

For ten years, Thelma and Tom worked for Spade schools - Tom as custodian and Thelma in the school lunchroom. Moving then to Littlefield, Tom again worked at the school.

Tom also worked for a time as night patrolman for the city. He died in April of 1978.

Thelma and Tom have four sons. Raymond, the eldest, lives in Carthage and is father of three children. Weldon also has three children and lives in Rochester, Minn., Kenneth and Bobby make their homes in Olton.

Ellon Yoakum

one of our friendly employees

The friendly smile of Ellon Yoakum from her position at the Teller's window has won many friends in the three and one half years that she has been an employee at Olton State Bank.

Moving here from Silverton in October, 1976, she began her work with the Bank the following January. Her former experience included a post as proof operator at a bank in Killeen and another as bookkeeper in a Tulia bank.

Here she has served as bookkeeper, relief proof operator, relief in notes and savings department and more recently as Teller.

Always anxious to improve her knowledge and skills, Ellon has studied Principles of Banking at Texas Tech; has attended three seminars covering the Savings Bond program, Public Relations and a Teller's seminar. She is presently taking a five week course in Selling Bank Services at Texas Tech, offered through American Institute of Banking.

She is the wife of Bill Yoakum, an assistant vice-president and Field Manager of a credit association in Olton. He is currently president of Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and Lion Boss. Ellon curtails her social activities in order to be free to help him with any outside duties that she can.

The Yoakums are parents of a daughter, Terry, who is nine years of age and in fourth grade.

Ellon is member of First Baptist Church. She mentions hobbies of reading, painting, assorted crafts and sewing, but says frankly that she has little time for any of them.

Ellon is one of the many friendly staff members at Olton State Bank, that is ready to help you. We invite you to make use of our many banking services.

Generic, Brand Name Drugs Discussed At Lions Luncheon

Don Pettke of Lubbock, sales representative for a leading pharmacuetical company, was guest speaker Tuesday at the luncheon meeting of Olton Lions Club.

Pettke shared information on brand name drugs versus generic drugs. Generic drugs are chemically the same as those carrying brand names.

Citing reasons for the large difference in costs of the two drug forms, Pettke said a major company will do the research and testing required in getting a drug on the market. The "overnight" companies may manufacture and sell generic drugs without the expense incurred by years of research and testing.

"New drugs," he explained, "are regulated by FDA in four phases. Companies must do research and develop each drug through four phases. First, there is testing with lower life form animals; second, higher life form (such as chimpanzees). These steps take one to two years. Then comes testing with human subjects for three to four years. Finally there is the step for actual approval by FDA."

"For every drug approved by FDA, about six do not get approved. It is not unusual for a major company to spend 20 to 30 million dollars getting one drug approved."

Pettke said that after a patent has expired companies which manufacture generic drugs may put their products on the market for much less than the brand name drug. He stated that he feels their price is excessive since raw materials are inexpensive and the generic drug company has no investment in the drug's development.

Generic drugs, he explained, are "chemically the same but completely different on the outside. They have different inert filler. The actual drug structure can make a world of difference for the patient."

Forty-five states have open substitution laws which enable pharmacists to substitute generic drugs for the brand name drugs written on prescriptions. Texas does not have the open substitution law but there is legislation at present which could allow that by 1982.

Pettke said there is probably more "red tape" regarding drug manufacturing than in any other field but he believes, that is appreciated by physicians and pharmacists. He said most believe that open substitution laws will lead to a national health program.

Oltonites' Granddaughter Teaching Florida Bible Course

An Olton couple's granddaughter, Twyla Brickman, initiated a new Bible study course for persons living in her home town, Jupiter, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Elkins boast with grandparental pride as they speak of two granddaughters and two grandsons. Tywla is the daughter of their daughter, Vonneta.

The Bible study Twyla will begin teaching next week in Jupiter, is based on "The Philosophy of Christian Womanhood." Twyla attended a similar course herself in Tucson, Ariz. before moving to Florida.

Mrs. Brickman says the course she took in Arizona helped work out problems in her own marriage.

"Because I enjoyed it so much and found it to be beneficial, I decided to investigate the possibility of bringing the program to Florida."

Designed to "give people someone to talk to," the nine-weeks course offers a biblical approach to the institution of marriage.

Mrs. Brickman said some 26 women from age 18 to 60 were enrolled in the first study course held last spring. A similar course "The Challenges of Christian Manhood," has been offered interested men in the Jupiter area. Both courses are offered through the Believer's Bible Fellowship of Jupiter of which her husband is pastor.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 35 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Legislature to permit banks to establish and operate unmanned teller machines within the county or city where the banks are located and to share the use of teller machines on a basis consistent with anti-trust laws, if it finds such operation will serve the convenience of the public. The Legislature has already passed enabling legislation (H.B. 1510) for this proposed amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to authorize banks to use unmanned teller machines within the county or the city of their domicile on a shared basis to serve the public convenience."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 97 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant the State and the accused the right to an interlocutory appeal from the following trial court rulings in criminal cases: pretrial rulings on the constitutionality of a statute; on a motion to quash, dismiss, or set aside an indictment; and on a motion to suppress evidence.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing appeal of certain pretrial rulings of a trial court in a criminal case by either the state or the accused."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 98 proposes a constitutional amendment that would require a single appraisal of all property subject to ad valorem taxation and would provide for a single board of equalization within each county. The constitutional requirement that the county commissioners court sit as a board of equalization would be eliminated, and elected officials of the county or governing body of the taxing unit would be prohibited from serving as members of the board of equalization.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment requiring a single appraisal and a single board of equalization within each county for ad valorem tax purposes."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to authorize the conduct of bingo games by certain specified groups for charitable purposes, subject to the limitations that operation of the games must be approved in local option elections and that all proceeds must be spent in Texas.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize bingo games on a local option election basis if the games are conducted by a church, synagogue, religious society, volunteer fire department, nonprofit veterans organization, fraternal organization, or nonprofit organization supporting medical research or treatment programs and if the proceeds are to be spent in Texas for charitable purposes of the organizations."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 86 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to authorize the Governor to exercise fiscal control over the expenditure of certain appropriated funds, subject to any conditions and limitations provided by law and subject to the approval of a budget execution committee that would be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Chairman and Vice-chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Chairman and Vice-chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to grant the governor power to exercise fiscal control over the expenditure of appropriated funds as provided by law."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Governor who appointed a previously confirmed official to remove that official from office subject to the advice and consent of the Senate; and if the Legislature is not in session, to call a special session of the Senate which may last no longer than 2 days for consideration of the removal.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the governor to remove appointed officers with the advice and consent of the senate."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 121 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize counties with a population of 5000 or less to construct and maintain private roads if they impose a reasonable charge for the work. The Legislature by general law may limit this authority. Revenue received from private road work may be used only for the construction, including right-of-way acquisition, or maintenance of public roads.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing counties with a population of 5000 or less to perform private road work."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 36 proposes a constitutional amendment that would change the jurisdiction and authority of the State's appellate courts. The amendment would change the name of the Courts of Civil Appeals to Courts of Appeal and provide that these courts have intermediate appellate jurisdiction over both criminal and civil cases. The amendment would change titles for the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court to Justices and would require members of the Supreme Court to be attorneys licensed in this state while holding office.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to change the name of the Courts of Civil Appeals and the names and qualifications of the justices of the Supreme Court and to prescribe the jurisdiction and authority of the appellate courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment which defines separate property owned by either spouse as all property, both real and personal, of a spouse owned or claimed before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent. Persons about to marry and spouses, without the intent to defraud pre-existing creditors, may by written instrument from time to time partition between themselves all or part of their property. Spouses may exchange a community interest in property owned or to be acquired for a community interest in other community property. The amendment would allow spouses to agree in writing that income or property arising from any separate property is to be separate property rather than as community property as it would be in the absence of an agreement. The amendment proposes that a gift from one spouse to another is presumed to include all income or property deriving from such gift.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing spouses to agree that income or property arising from separate property is to be separate property."

Producers who have been in the cattle business for any time at all know there's nothing harder to predict than the cattle market. Now that reporting systems for the total number of cows on pasture and cattle in feedlots are much more accurate it seems things would get easier. But then, you have a few other factors which come into play. High interest rates may change the projection of new cattle coming into feedlots. Prices of other meats may be drastically lowered because of oversupply. Also, consumers may get a big dose of misinformation on nutrition from beef. Inflation may shoot up beyond expectations causing family food budgets to be sharply scrutinized. Any one of these factors could make earlier projections worthless at any given time, but when they all happen in the same year it can drive all the predictors right back to coin flipping. What do you think? Heads or tails?

NEWS For Homebuyers

Population growth and inflation have combined to skyrocket the cost of real estate in recent years: the cost of a new home has more than doubled over the past six years. Land is more valuable and construction costs are higher than ever.

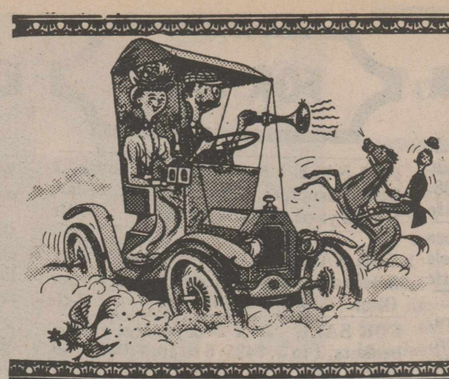

It's hard to believe that only 120 years ago a homesteader could own 160 acres of land after five years of occupancy and cultivation. By the turn of the century the cost for a new home had reached $4,500. And 90 percent of that cost was for construction. Quite a difference from today.

Now, the average price of a new home is $75,000, while the portion spent on land has risen from ten to 25 percent of the total cost.

The 1980's will probably see more than 16 million new households formed, creating unprecedented demand for housing. For example, in Hawaii, where land is already scarce, Oceanic Properties, the real estate subsidiary of Castle & Cooke, Inc., reports that the median price of a home is already over $120,000.

Castle & Cooke predicts that by the turn of the next century, we'll have to share the land and use the space we have more efficiently in all of the 50 states.

Reminiscing

By Lily May Silcott

Olton Study Club was born in 1931 in the hearts of a few young teachers, fresh from college and a little bored with quiet life in a country town, and a few young matrons, well-burdened with the problems of child rearing and homemaking....during a depressed economy. Entertainment and social activities were either limited or non-existent.

Even so....entertainment was not the prime factor in the hearts of the charter members, although it became a fringe benefit. The chief reason for its being is incorporated in the name of the organization...."Study".

The young members were all possessed with a desire to learn. The teachers wanted to keep their mental faculties alert and add to their store of knowledge. The young mothers wanted not to become obsessed with the monotony of daily household tasks to the point of stagnation. In a determined effort to form an organization that would be a continuing means of adult education, the initial group chose a motto that has endured and inspired for almost 50 years: "Study gives strength to the mind, conversation grace."

For some time membership was limited to 15 persons, for most of the homes in which they met would not accomodate larger gatherings. As years passed and interest grew the number was increased to 20 members.

In 1933 Olton Study Club affiliated with the Federation of Women's Clubs. As a member of Seventh District, the club became very much involved in all endeavors of the parent organization. The fledgling club made every effort to improve its programs and its methods of conducting. Parliamentary procedure became very important under the tutelage of Mrs. H.F. Goedeke of Lubbock, an authority in Roberts Rules of Order.

Great importance was placed upon attending the annual district convention. At least one club representative was sent to each such event, even during War years when travel was difficult and car-pooling with nearby towns was the only means of making the trip.

Having the proper clothing to wear to these important meetings was an individual responsibility that was taken quite seriously. One member recalls being sent to a Wichita Falls meeting when she had no 'proper' coat to wear, but she was able to borrow an acceptable garment from a friend.

Having the latest in headwear was also very important at that point in time. Local representatives of all small towns made special effort to wear the latest fashion in hats....only to find at the convention that the platform personalities had a new hat for every session. Convention reports to the home club members...always included a brief run-down on the various striking hats observed.

But membership in the Federation also meant other things. Among them assistance with affairs at State headquarters, and with projects of Art and Music...contributions to the finer things of life.

It also meant yearbooks made to such size and specification as was handed down by the larger organization. This meant the inclusion of several stated programs during the year, all of which widened the concept of the local clubwomen. One, however, a Texas Day Program, emphasized year after year found a less favorable response in the hearts of a few loyal Oklahomans.

The goals of Federation helped the club to promote health and safety within the community, help with worthy charities and take a keener interest in civic and political affairs.

Reminiscing over coffee this week, at the beginning of a new club year...current members tried to remember some of the various things this club has accomplished through the years. The compilation was impressive.

They recalled that when called upon for aid in community projects, members readily answered....they were even used to assist in registering men for the draft at the war's beginning.

A little later, during early years of World War II the theme "The Home Front" was adopted. Programs were dispensed with, and members spent the alloted time for club hours...and more....at the Red Cross Center, rolling bandages for the war effort.

Another big community service on the part of Olton Study Club was its organized alliance with the Red Cross during a well remembered tornado disaster, in which members assisted in registering the needs and dispensing aid to victims of the storm.

In later years they became a part of an organized civil defense plan, sponsoring and studying first aid methods.

One of the first big efforts at community service was the establishing of a small lending library when....before the advent of television...books and reading material were greatly in demand. Several years of determined effort went into securing a small building, purchasing as many books as possible each year, with members donating the time and effort needed to maintain open hours for the public. When the project became too expensive for the small group, the books were offered first to the school librarian to select all usable material, the remainder was presented to the County library. Members of the club later lent all possible assistance to the securing of the present day Bookmobile.

It was then that the club turned its attention to the young girls of the community by offering sponsorship of Girl Scouts of America on 'the local level. In the years that followed, Olton Study Club furnished several staunch leaders for troops, built the Girl Scout House (which they still maintain) and assisted in the organization of Caprock Council of Girl Scouts in this area.

On the lighter side, the club has always entered into community endeavors such as the once yearly produced, "Stunt Night," and participation in Homecoming parades. One member recalls that the club won first place two consecutive years with its elaborately decorated floats. One year club members livened up a homecoming game by appearing in "basketball bloomers" of a bygone era to do a little cheerleading for unsuspecting fans.

Members have not been above a little prank-playing. Some still smile wryly when they remember one war-year Christmas when one member openly suggested that her one-dollar exchange gift be sugar...(then rationed and painfully hard to obtain). The lovely exchange gift package had all the earmarks...it looked like sugar.... but proved to be White Sands from New Mexico.

At the next gift exchange, the donor of the first package was recipient of an elaborately packaged hat box...containing three winsome, but drippy, little puppies with bow ties carrying the names "Sandie", "Sugar" and "Revenge".

Some years ago, Olton Study Club joined Olton Garden Club in the maintenance of Woman's Club House in the city. These larger quarters make possible larger group attendance. As a yearly project these two clubs have sponsored a Community Turkey Dinner late each fall.

With the passing of time and change in interests, the general concensus of members has been toward a more leisurely way of life. Membership in the Federation was dropped in favor of a do-as-you-please club style. The same charities have been continued, and sponsorship of Girl Scouts.

But the word "study" was not dropped from the name, nor from the designated intention of the group. The varied programs have included everything from Greek myths to modern social and economic problems, with a generous sampling of literature and patriotic lore. Adult learning has continued to be a rewarding benefit of membership in Olton Study Club.

Another recognized benefit for all members has been the close fellowship that is enjoyed. Dismissal through summer months makes each member eager for the beginning of the new club year in September.

Almost fifty years of age, Olton Study Club is beginning a new year of study with great interest. With this focus in mind, it extends a general invitation to any woman of any age, who harbors a continuing desire for knowledge, to discuss membership with any of its current members.
