Work Permits Sought From Engineer Corps

Mrs. Juanita Wagley of Rockport has filed for an application from the U.S. Corps of Engineers to construct a concrete bulkhead 820 feet long on Copano Bay near Lone Tree Point.

The bulkhead to be built fronting Copano Bay Ridge subdivision about five miles northwest of Rockport, is being constructed to reclaim eroding shoreline, according to the application.

An area in front of the proposed bulkhead would be dredged with the material being used as fill behind the wall.

Texas Water Quality Board approval is also necessary.

Corps of Engineers applications also include a request from Barrett H. Fournier, of San Antonio. He is seeking permission to construct a timber and pile private fishing pier in Aransas Bay about two miles southwest of Rockport.

In other applications filed with the corps, American Petroleum Pipe Line Co. is seeking permission to relocate two existing pipelines below the bed of Aransas Pass.

Building permits in the City of Rockport for the month of July totaled $53,630.

The permits included one new residence at an estimated cost of $35,080, three new garages at a total cost of $5,050, and three remodeling requests at a cost of $13,500.

From City Council

'Outside' Well Gets Favorable Reception

The prospects of a 11,000-foot oil well being drilled here came a step closer to reality Monday night when the Rockport City Council set a final public hearing on the matter.

In doing so, the council authorized the city attorney to prepare all the necessary legal instruments between the city and Houston Oil and Minerals Corp.

The well site is actually located 250 feet outside the city limits (just off Rockport beach); however, the hole will be drilled directionally to the 11,000 foot depth. As a result, the bottom of the well will be 2,000 feet inside the city limits.

The Navigation Board and Canal Commission gave tentative approval to the well being drilled, contingent to city okay and the oil company meeting certain navigational lighting requirements.

City Secretary Herman Johnson said this will be the second well ever drilled in the city, the first being unsuccessful.

The well will be located in State Tract 169.

The public hearing on the matter has been set for 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 23, just prior to the council's budget hearing slated for that same evening.

The council was presented a general outline of the budget for 1976-77 and it is estimated at $1,127,000, which is up from the current year's budget of $930,000.

It was noted that general inflation, cost increase and probable wage increase for city employees attribute to the higher budget.

In other action, the council authorized Johnson to go to Austin and meet with officials from the Parks and Wildlife Department about funding of the Memorial Park improvements.

The state agency has previously agreed to underwrite one-half of the cost of building one new ball field, lighting the tennis court and erecting a fence on the eastern and northern boundaries of the park.

The estimated total cost of the project is $18,500.

In discussion of the park, the council set Sept. 1 as the final date for allowing the lights to be used on the Pony League field at Memorial.

In other items:
* A sanitary sewer tap-on fee of $70 was established for 63 lots in Key Allegro.

* A resolution was adopted opposing federal regulation of the Texas Municipal League retirement program. This program is made available to city employees.

* Johnson was formally approved as oil and gas inspector for the city.

* Five Star Investment Corp. was authorized to provide water and sewer service to a tract of land 275 feet north of St. Clair Shopping Center.

* Approval was given to some 37 owners in Key Allegro to serve them with sewer service at such time as the sewer line is constructed according to city specifications and turned over to the city at no cost.

The line construction will be the expense of the property owners. These particular lots are along Whooping Crane and Aloha.

Navigation Board Gives Drilling OK

The Board of Navigation and Canal Commission reported considerable activity at its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday, including the approval of a drilling permit for Houston Oil and Minerals Corp.

The application, which was for State Tract 169 Well No. 2 is subject to the company receiving permission from the City of Rockport and satisfying the board's lighting requirements so that a navigational hazard will not be created.

In addition, the board approved plans that were presented by the chamber of commerce proposing five more feet to an expansion program of 20' x 26' which is planned for the C of C offices.

Attorney S. Reese Rozzell, representing Jack Sanders, requested the board's consent to an option addendum adding Sea Oak Development Corp. to the chain of assignment to Berwick Bay Oil Company.

Chairman David Maguglin noted that the law states that any storage tank for diesel fuel, gasoline or oil in excess of 550 gallon capacity must have fire wall protection.

Commissioner R.W. Landrum made a motion to consent to the request subject to Berwick Bay Oil Company's construction of a fire wall prior to the use of the storage tanks. The board agreed.

Rozzell also requested the board's consent to extend the sub-lease of Cove Harbor Lots #80-#93 to IMCO Services and adding Sea Oak Development Corporation to the chain of assignment. It was agreed to by the board.

In other business, the board (1) Consented to a lease assignment of Boat Slips #83 and #84 executed by Alton Kinsel, Jr. to Ankele Investments with approval of John Warden and (2) Requested the City Council pass an ordinance lowering the speed limit on the Rockport Beach road to 20 MPH.

Present was Chairman Maguglin and Commissioners Richard J. Fox, Hal B. McKnight, R.W. Landrum; Attorney David Connery and Harbormaster Bernie DeForest, Commissioner Jimmy Anders was absent.

Guests attending the meeting were Allen Owings, S. Reese Rozzell, Walter Stanush and Jimmy Ankele.

Minutes of regular meeting July 6, 1976 were read and approved. Treasurer's report was reviewed and placed on file. Monthly bills were approved and checks signed.

Coastal Management Hearings Underway

AUSTIN--Public hearings are now underway on the proposed recommendations of the Texas Coastal Management Program, a three-year study to develop a process for improved coastal management.

Continuing through Sept. 1, the first hearing was held in Brownsville Monday. The second public airing of the program was slated for Corpus Christi Wednesday. Other nearby hearings are scheduled for Aug. 13 at Victoria and Aug. 16 in Bay City.

Other meetings are set for Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Dallas, San Antonio and Austin.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, designated by Governor Dolph Briscoe to chair the management evaluation program, will preside at the hearings.

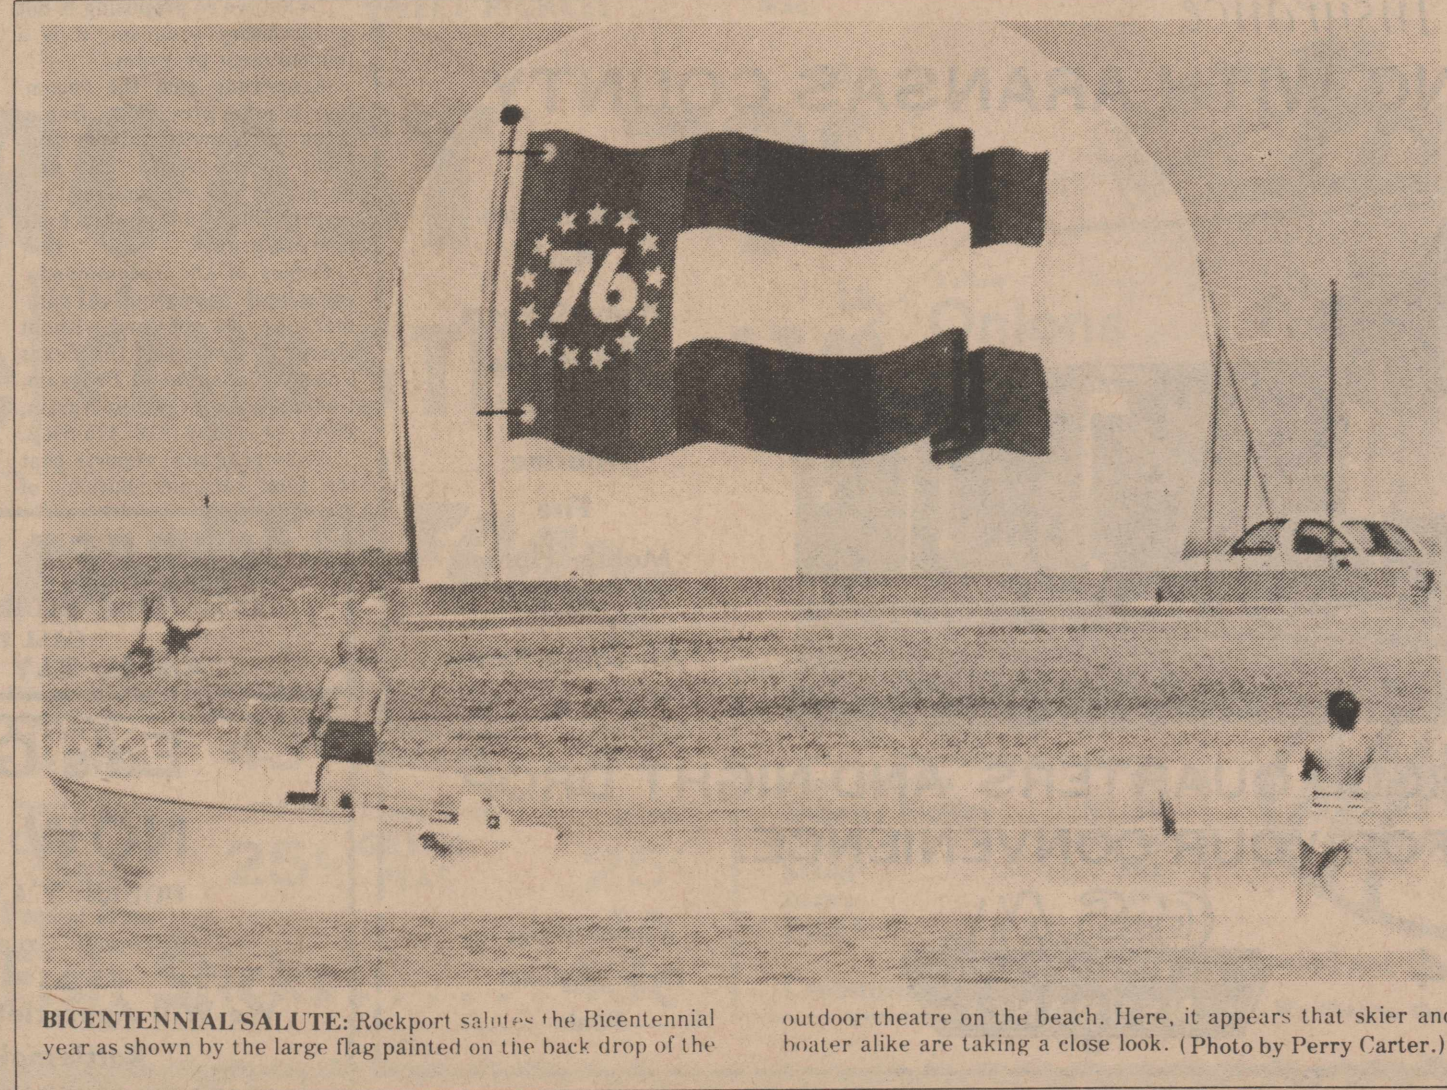

"Our recommendations propose a workable method to protect the valuable renewable resource capabilities of the Texas coast," Armstrong said. "It is the goal of this program to help ensure a continuing balance of environmental quality and economic development on the coast."

The four main recommendations of the three-year study, according to Armstrong, are:

-The Interagency Council on Natural Resources and the Environment (ICNRE) should be restructured to serve as a policy-level council for reviewing, proposing, and coordinating the state's coastal policies. Armstrong pointed out that this should make coastal management more accountable to the public, the governor, and the legislature and should also direct existing funds to the most important coastal needs.

-An organized information system should be housed in the Governor's Office. According to the commissioner, this system would provide the basis for better decisions about the use of coastal resources and improve agency coordination.

Helping Hands Cluster Meet

The Helping Hands Cluster met recently with 11 members present. Mrs. Wesley Muecke, chairman, reported that several "ditty" bags and some clothing and magazines had been delivered to the juvenile shelter. Much discussion followed the regular meeting about the Harvest Festival scheduled for November. The ladies of the church are invited to attend the next meeting on August 17 with "busy" ideas for making things for the various corners of the festival such as the herb garden or the yum yum tree. The meeting is a combined regular and workshop time sponsored by the Helping Hands Cluster. Mrs. Lee Roy Young brought the morning devotional and Mrs. John Knoche served refreshments.

Hearings

--A process should be established for assessing in advance the probable economic, environmental, and social effects of specific activities planned for particular coastal locations. State agencies should be required to consider the concerns of other state and federal agencies in reviewing coastal activities.

--The management process should focus on coastal waters and their closely associated shorelines. Only a fraction of each coastal county will be included in the proposed management area.

--An important feature of the recommendations, according to Armstrong, is that they urge more efficient use of existing funds and personnel.

Armstrong explained the program's approach to coastal management.

"Some people may be surprised that the Coastal Management Program isn't recommending a lot of new legislation to regulate coastal resource use," he said. "And some may even think we can't have much of a management program without it. But we think that what we're recommending will be much more valuable in the long run."

"New laws don't always solve the problems they're intended to solve," Armstrong said. "It's how the laws are put into practice that matters. We have all the regulation we need on the coast. The proposed management program is designed to spotlight agency actions--to make them more visible to the people who are affected by them. The public will be able to see who makes the decisions and how, and, consequently, agency decision-makers will be more accountable to the public, the governor, and the legislature. The proposed program will also ensure that the decision-makers have the best possible information to base their decisions on."

"What we're proposing is not a regulatory program; it is a management program."

Armstrong said the recommendations provide a framework for growth and development on the coast. "The proposals do not recommend 'no-growth,' but an approach to how we grow."

Copies of the recommendations and an executive summary may be obtained without charge by contacting the Texas Coastal Management Program, General Land Office, Austin, 78701, or calling (512) 475-6902.

Armstrong also reports that the final recommendations of the Texas Coastal Management Program will be prepared after the series of 10 public hearings and presented to the governor and legislature in January, 1977.

What are the ingredients which cause tornadoes? Do they sometimes occur in clear weather, in a cloudless sky? Does dry or moist air prove more conducive to tornado development?

If the day is clear, especially clear with dry air, you need worry little about tornadoes--as long as this condition holds.

The weather condition which should give cause for concern is one in which squalls or thunderstorms are frequent--especially when the approach of a cold front is expected. If the air is moist and conditions unsettled, in spring or early summer, these weather signs should be seriously heeded as possible breeders of a tornado, or tornadoes.

Tornadoes--contrary to the popular belief--sometimes occur out of season. Several have already occurred in 1976. Because stronger updrafts occur in daylight, tornadoes most often develop then, but they can and do form at night, too.

Presbyterian Camp Participants

Presbyterian Day Camp Is Concluded

Bishop Elliott Conference Center was the site for the Presbyterian Day Camp last week. The theme of the camp was "Who Am I, What Can I Do and What Is My Role and Respensibility in God's World". The theme was approached by four different activities, including Bible, nature, arts and crafts and recreation. The Bible study was led by Vicki Moon and Margaret Schultz. The nature discussion was led by Lenore Beck, Judy Meyer and Mary Lou Tiner. The Arts and Crafts section was led by Veronica Camehl, and recreation was led by Janet Langham and Bobby Jackson.

A typical schedule for the camp had each child participating in each of the four study sections, plus lunch, group singing directed by Kathy Rogers, worship service led by Linda Smith and swimming with Life Guard Cheryl Vermilion.

The adults were assisted by teenagers whose duties ran from babysitting to pool watching. The teen staff included Julie Hiller, Luanne Little, Mike Branum, Jim Fowler, Dawn Whitfill, Jill Oliver, Margaret Kovich, Shawn Bateman and Helen Pearson. John and Dorothy Leslie were responsible for ordering and gathering supplies for the teachers.

The camp was directed by Gail Roaten. She was responsible for organizing, recruiting teachers, registration and camp administration.

This past week's activities at Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center were started last Tuesday afternoon when the Ingleside Rebekahs were over for their game day.

On Wednesday, Jean Windham was conducting her painting class for the residents, and on Thursday Brother Alton Pruitt and other members of the Pentecostal Church of God were out for the weekly devotional program.

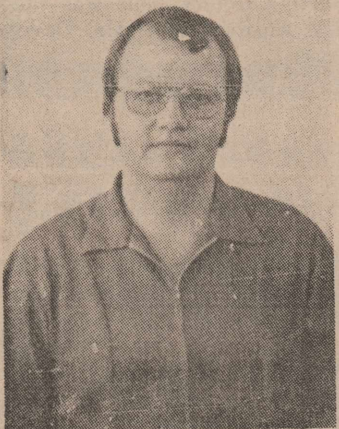

Irma Owens and Josephine Barber, two residents, led the weekly exercise class Friday morning in the absence of the director.

Another "first" was recorded Friday afternoon when Brother Blake Gaines from the Aransas Pass Church of God visited and started a Bible study. It will be held twice each month.

Holy communion was held for the Catholic residents on Saturday and on Sunday the regular church services were conducted by Rev. Al Bankert. Sunday afternoon group singing was under the direction of Ingleside Church of Christ, a monthly activity by that group.

A big "thanks" was issued to the ladies of Ingleside Church of Christ for making and stuff-

Fishermen Being Urged To Report Tagged Shrimp

With the reopening of Gulf shrimping season July 16, state fisheries officials who have the best interest of the brown shrimp at heart hope recoveries of some 11,450 tagged shrimp will increase.

Roy Johnson, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department coastal fisheries biologist, said two groups of browns were tagged with small green discs back in early June.

"Purpose of the tagging operation," said Johnson, "was to trace migration of brown shrimp in Texas bays and the Gulf of Mexico."

Shrimping for browns in the Gulf has been closed since mid-May to allow immature shrimp to migrate from bay nursery grounds to open waters of the Gulf.

According to Johnson, only

LaBahia Downs Announces New Fall Racing

La Bahia Downs, after several years of not running a fall race meet, has announced plans for an October race meet. The meet, scheduled for Oct. 9-24, will offer an exciting schedule of stake races. The stakes and features scheduled will include the Goliad Futurity at 350 yds, with an estimated purse of $25,000. Trials are to be run Oct. 10 with the Finals on Oct. 17; also, the La Bahia Derby, at 400 yds, with an estimated purse of $10,000. The Derby's trials will be run Oct. 9 with the Finals on Oct. 17. A new fall feature will include the Spirit of '76 Feature at 330 yds, with an estimated purse of $15,000. The Feature trials will be run on Oct. 16 and the Finals on Oct. 24.

The Fall Meet will offer for the first time at La Bahia Downs, races for Paints, Appaloosas, and Thoroughbreds. The Paint Feature, at 350 yds, has an estimated gross purse of $3,500. The race limited to the first ten entries, will be run on Oct. 16.

High School Volleyball Tryouts Slated

All girls interested in trying out for the Rockport-Fulton High School girls' volleyball teams should come to the high school gym at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 19. Tryouts will take place on Aug. 19, 20 and 21.

Please wear appropriate attire. Prior to tryouts please pick up a physical form from the high school principal's office. This form is to be filled out by a doctor for each student trying out and is required.

13 tagged shrimp have been recovered so far. He hopes the majority of the commercially important shellfish moved into the Gulf and will be recovered during the summer shrimping season.

"The tagging program was a cooperative venture with the National Marine Fisheries Service and Texas A&M University's Extension Program," said Johnson. "We tagged some 1,950 browns in the Upper Laguna Madre with the help of personnel from the Central Power and Light Company at Flour Bluff."

"Another 9,500 were tagged in Aransas Bay."

One of the recovered shrimp traveled 16 miles in its 18 days of freedom. It was tagged in the Upper Laguna and moved northeast into the Corpus Christi Ship Channel.

"Although we are unable to offer rewards for returns of tagged shrimp," said Johnson, "it is in the best interest of both sport and commercial shrimpers to help in the project. They will be contributing to the management of a resource which was worth $58.6 million in fiscal year 1975."

Shrimpers are urged to report where they landed tagged shrimp, tag number, date of landing, their name and address.

Information may be forwarded to any Parks and Wildlife Department office on the Texas Coast.

Freshwater Fishing Worth $650 Million

Based on economic impact, freshwater fishing in Texas is more than just leisure, it's big business.

Information collected by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department estimates fishermen spent up to $650 million on fishing trips in the state in 1975. That total includes expenditures for gas, bait, lodging and food, boats and fishing tackle.

P&WD inland fisheries officials arrived at the figure by estimating that each angler spends some $10 per day on freshwater fishing. In 1975, approximately 3.2 million freshwater anglers totaled some 65 million man-days of fishing in Texas.

Up to $350 million was spent in fishing the state's many reservoirs. The remaining $300 million was spent by stream and farm pond fishermen.

Sharks, Dorado Marks Certified

Saltwater fishing off the Texas coast is hitting its peak during the summer as the Parks and Wildlife Department continues to receive applications for recognition of state record marine fish.

Latest two certified by the P&WD are a lemon shark and dorado.

Charles Mudd of San Antonio caught the 447-pound lemon shark while fishing off the South Padre Island jetties July 1.

Using the tail of a jackfish as bait, Mudd caught the shark on 130-pound-test line. It measured nine feet seven inches with a 60-inch girth.

Farther offshore, out of Freeport, Cathryn Normand of Brazoria caught a state record dorado which weighed 57 pounds. She landed the fish June 30; it was five feet one inch long and measured two feet 6 1/2 inches in girth.

Normand also used 130-pound-test line to land her record dorado.

Jimmy Crusier, center, and Victor Contreras go through one of the several conditioning and agility drills.

wants the ball extended for a handoff. The Pirates open against Aransas Pass there Sept. 3. The Pirates will scrimmage Ingleside here on Aug. 20 at 6:30 p.m.

"Rockport Day" Set For Aug. 15 In Astrodome

When Rockport area baseball fans visit the Astrodome for their "Day" Aug. 15, they'll find a few surprises in store.

The biggest one is the Astros. The Domesmen have played inspired, sound baseball this year. Many people give the credit to manager Bill Virdon, in his first Houston season.

Virdon certainly deserves lots of credit. But experienced baseball people will tell you managers don't win that many games. Ballgames are won with players, and for the first time in quite a while, the Astros have come up with some quality people.

Before the season started, Houston was an overwhelming choice to repeat as NL West doormat. Experts cited lack of pitching and consistent power hitting as prime causes.

The Astros surprised everybody winning nine of their first 15 games and actually leading the division early.

But, critics were quick to point out, a season lasts a lot longer than 15 games—147 games longer.

But the experts have been proven wrong, at least so far. The Orange has managed to stay near the .500 mark all year and have battled upstart San Diego for third in the West.

Some observers have been bold enough to predict the Astros might even catch Los Angeles and make a run at second.

Start with veteran Larry Dierker. The one-time teenage phenom has seen arm trouble reduce his fastball to a shadow of its former self. But Larry, with lots of big league experience behind him, is a crafty master.

He works the strike zone well, and pitches more with his head than his arm.

His no-hitter last month is good testimony.

Big J.R. Richard has been the mainstay. J.R. leads the Astros in ERA, and is among the NL leaders in strikeouts and ERA. His only troubles have been control and lack of hitting support.

The biggest surprises have come from young hurlers like Joaquin Andujar, Gene Pentz, Bo McLaughlin and Dan Larson. All rookies, they have displayed remarkable cool and ability. For the first time in years, it looks like the Astros have some good, young arms.

Supporting the starting cast has been the National League's premier reliever, Ken Forsch. Kenny, who had his problems as a starter, has found his niche in the bullpen and will contend strongly for fireman of year honors.

The offense hasn't been as productive as Virdon would like, but the talent is there. Bob Watson and Cesar Cedeno are having their usual good years, while newcomer Leon Roberts and holdover Jose Cruz are hitting far above expectations.

So are young infielders Enos Cabell and Rob Andrews, the pair Houston got from Baltimore in the Lee May trade.

Cabell has done an adequate job at third, while Andrews got plugged a big hole at second. The defense overall is better although it still has a way to go.

All in all, the Astros are a vastly improved team. Area fans will enjoy watching Bill Virdon's new-look team. And for the first time in a while, they might have a good chance of seeing the Astros win.

Local Youths Attend Camp

Erin Laine Falk and Julie Hiller of Rockport, attended Trinity University's third annual Tennis Camp in San Antonio.

The tennis camp, last of four sessions, offered boys and girls ages 8-17 an exposure to Trinity's champion-building tennis program. The camps were directed by Trinity head tennis coach, four-time NCAA all-American Bob McKinley.

Museum Gives Four Books To County Library

The Aransas County Public Library announced today the receipt of four books, a gift of the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art and the Texas Commission on the Arts & Humanities (TCAH). The four-volume set of books—containing three with Bicentennial titles and one relating directly to Texas artistic heritage—will be distributed to 375 public and regional libraries throughout the state.

"We hope," said Maurice Coats, executive director of TCAH, "that the books will be circulated among the students and young people who visit the libraries."

Included in the museum package are: "The Image of America in Caricature and Cartoon," "The Face of Liberty," "The Stripes and Stars," and "The Artist was a Young Man."

"The Face of Liberty" contains biographies of portrait painters and their sitters. The book also describes the American Revolution as a conjunction of historical and creative influences.

"The Stripes and Stars" is the evolution of the American flag. Mitchell Wilder, director of the Amon Carter Museum, writes in the acknowledgement of this book: "Anyone could, and did, design a flag of his own choosing. The story of this metamorphosis of design is a fascinating revelation in the light of today's adherence to codes and practices involving use of and respect due to the flag."

All four books are published by the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art.

Council On Aging Has Monthly Meet

Neal Gage, director of the Aransas County Council on Aging, reported to the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors in session Monday morning, Aug. 9, that the organization was exceptionally busy during the month of July. Fifty-nine people called for and received transportation, 40 of them being to doctors out of Rockport and 19 here to the welfare dept., grocery store, and local doctors. Gage reported that there are now 18 people on the Dial-A-Care program and that they are checked by telephone seven days a week. A total of 796 calls were made during July. A total of calls were received at the office for information and referral to other agencies, help was given to several in filling out insurance and food stamp applications, clothing was provided for one needy person, and 17 home visits were made. It was reported Neva Sorenson had carried magazines to the nursing homes and jail. The Dept. of Public Welfare contract for transportation for welfare patients has been renewed, it was noted.

A need for a small refrigerator for a needy couple has been received.

The following were present: Gage, John Leslie, Neva Sorenson, Genevieve Taylor, Jim Biggs, Evelyn Townsend and Mrs. Felix Tijerina. Mrs. Myrtle DeForest, representing the Eastern Star, was welcomed as a new member and a volunteer on the transportation list.

The following volunteers have done transportation work this past month: Louise Zeiser, Jim Behee, Anna Meerheid, Austin Copeland, George and Bernice Parker, William McNickle and Neva Sorenson.

Jim Bibbs, treasurer, was awarded a certificate of appreciation by the board of directors for his "faithful and continuing service in taking care of the financial phase of the organization."

Mary Guerrero is now a part-time employee and spends two days each week visiting the elderly, especially in the Latin-American population of the county, and has been well received and is to be congratulated on her work.

W. G. Campbell's Honored On Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Campbell, former residents of Childress, now residing in Rockport, observed sixty years of marriage on Sunday, July 25, in the Fellowship Hall of the Church of Christ in Childress. Hosting the occasion were the five children and families: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace L. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. George Cothier (Patsy) of Childress, Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Dewey (Marguerite) of Harbor City, Calif., Mrs. (Anne) Moran and Mrs. (Betty) Gough, both of Fresno, Calif.

Walter Glenn Campbell of Margonville, Ga., and Myrtle Dolly York of Albany, Ky., were wed in a simple single-ring ceremony on July 23, 1916 in Seymour, Texas, with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee in attendance.

The ceremony was performed by the Church of Christ minister in Seymour at that time. They moved to Childress in 1917 where they made their home until Mr. Campbell's retirement in 1962 from his produce business of many years.

The couple at that time moved to Rockport where they have resided for the past 14 years. They are both active members of the Church of Christ in Rockport.

All of their seven children were born and reared in Childress. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have two (2) sons, Winston and W.G., buried in Childress. Both died in early childhood.

Guests were registered by Miss Kim Henderson, great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. The registry table was centered with a silver bowl containing appropriate scrolls tied with ribbons and presented to each guest as they entered.

The reception table was laid with carpet length white peau de soie under embroidered organza and had a gathered skirt. Pastel blue bows were appropriately placed at each corner of the serving table. Enhancing the table were two silver candelabra holding six white tapers representing the 60 years of marriage of the honored couple. Centered between the tapers was a tall floral arrangement of daisies and carnations in varied pastels with gypsophila.

The three-tiered cake of white was decorated with white roses, bells and lovebirds, and the tiers were divided by white columns and the cake was bordered in green fern and white daisies.

Serving the punch and cake were Miss Nancy Campbell and Mrs. Eugene Henderson, both granddaughters of the Campbells. At the coffee service was Mrs. Roy Smoot. Assisting in the hostess duties were Mrs. Sherrill Creamer, Weldon Hayes, Robert Carter, Rayford Holtman, Howard Preston and Paul Leach.

Also of special interest was an anniversary card written and signed by President and Mrs. Gerald Ford congratulating the Campbells on their sixty years of marriage. The official presidential seal adorned the message of congratulations.

Mrs. Campbell was attired in a gown of pastel pink embossed nylon over taffeta featuring a portrait neckline and empire waist. The long full sleeves were gathered at the wrist. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Mr. Campbell wore a brown dress suit. His boutonniere was a white

Additional relatives among the houseparty were: Mrs. May Martin, sister to Mr. Campbell, of Lakeland, Florida, David Smothermon, grandson of the Campbells, of Childress, Eugene Henderson and Scott

SS Benefits Reach $4.7 Million To County Residents

Social Security benefits were being paid to 2,067 residents of Aransas County at the rate of $355,852 a month at the start of 1976, A.L. Finck, Jr., social security district manager in Corpus Christi reports.

These figures do not include SSI (Supplemental Security Income) payments, Finck pointed out. Nor does the rate include the 6.4 per cent increase effective June, 1976.

By projecting the 1975 monthly growth rate to June, 1976 and applying the 6.4 per cent increase, Finck comes up with a total of 2,146 Aransas County residents who received checks July 3 totalling $397,295 a month, a rate which would be over $4.7 million a year.

Of the 2,067 beneficiaries, 1,113 or 53.8 per cent, are retired workers. There are also 155 disabled workers receiving benefits on their own records. Survivors benefits were received by 412 children, widows, widowers, and dependent parents; 387 dependents of retired and disabled workers received benefits.

Outdoors 'n Things

BY L. D. NUCKLES

The question of what to do with the cooling waters that are used by electric generating plants in the fresh waters of our state is an ever-increasing problem for Texas Parks and Wildlife biologists.

The biologists have found that these warm waters create an environment that is very conducive to the spawning and growth of many forage fish—that is—fish that are eaten by other fish as a regular part of their diet. When the water stays warm the year round, as it does in these lakes, the production of such fish as the gizzard shad is absolutely fantastic. Of course, the game or predator fish continue to take food at a very high rate in this warmed water, but our native fish just can't keep pace with shad and small sunfish production.

This is, of course, also true of our native game fish in most of our normal, unheated reservoirs.

Biologists have come to the conclusion that a biological control is probably the only thing that has any chance of success in either instance. By biological control they mean the introduction of exotic fish that eat shad and other unwanted fish and will forage for food in the open waters of a lake—something Texas black bass will not do.

Our native black bass are basically stream fish who do not really adapt too well to large lakes. They feed right around the shoreline, an area that is quickly deserted by the untold millions of young shad. In East Texas there are some lakes where the blacks seem to be learning to school up and work the shad in more-or-less open water but they still can't be classified as an open water predator.

The biologists are having some success in most of our normal reservoirs by stocking striped bass, walleyes, white bass/striped bass hybrids, muskies, northern pike, musky/northern pike hybrids, the Florida strain of black bass, smallmouth black bass and even such salt water species as redfish, trout and flounder. They hope to establish fishable populations of these great game fish to make better fishing as well as establish biological control of such rough fish as shad, stunted sunfish, carp, river carpsuckers and buffalo. If they can do this it will make black bass fishing better.

With an eye on heated reservoirs they are doing some experimental work with some tropical fish. Before such fish are stocked in any Texas waters the biologists will make absolutely certain that they will not be able to harm the native fish. They hope that such fish as the peacock bass of South America and the Nile perch of Africa can be introduced successfully in our heated lakes, but they must first be absolutely sure that any of these fish that accidentally escaped into our normal streams and lakes could not survive the colder water.

If they could do this with the Nile perch we might wind up with a fish that can and will gobble up tremendous poundages of rough fish, hit a lure like a black bass, even looks a lot like a black bass, but weights up to 300 pounds.

Salt water game fish are also being used in some of these warmer lakes. We know that we cannot get into serious trouble with these fish, because they absolutely can't spawn in fresh water. They would never be able to take over from our native fish or overstock any waters. They do, however, eat tremendous numbers of forage fish and grow very rapidly—about twice as fast at they would in salt water.

With all the research being done by TP&WD biologists fishing is just bound to be better in the future—and it's pretty good right now.

Playday Rodeo Scheduled Here Aug. 14

The Aransas County Riding Assn. will sponsor a playday rodeo for local and area people on Saturday, Aug. 14, at the ACRA Arena, according to ACRA president Frank Miller. Trophies and ribbons will be given to the winners in the different events.

The ACRA sponsors a rodeo on the fourth Sunday of each month. Halter classes receive trophies for first place and ribbons from second through sixth place, according to Miller.

Entry fees are $2 for all events except in the roping, tie-down and break-away events which call for a $3 entry fee.

The monthly rodeos will end on Sunday, Sept. 26, when a buckle will be presented to the high point winner.

The ACRA will sponsor a rodeo on Oct. 9 and 10 along with the Rockport SeaFair. Miller reported that they will hold a professional rodeo.

Students Urged To Register at Live Oak School

Students who were not enrolled in the Live Oak Elementary School or who did not attend Public School Kindergarten during the 1975-76 school year and plan to attend the school this year are urged to register at the principal's office between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Aug. 9 through Aug. 20. The announcement was made by Principal James F. Gillis.

Students entering school for the first time should bring birth certificates and immunization records, according to Gillis. Students who attended other schools should bring their report cards or transcripts of school work from their former school.

Gillis added that students who attended Live Oak Elementary last year do not need to register.

Aransas County Has 3 Screwworm Cases For Year

While the number of screwworm cases continue to increase in South Texas, Aransas County has reported only three cases all year and none were reported for the month of July.

Area reports for the six months ending in July shows the following cases: Bee, 207; Calhoun, 3; Karnes, 123; Kennedy, 197; Lavaca, 3; Refugio, 15; Nueces, 28; and San Patricio, 13.

A total of 1,815 screwworm cases were reported in 30 counties of the 31 South Texas county region, says Dr. Robert Miller, veterinarian in charge of sterile fly distribution for the Screwworm Eradication Program.

The Program is operated by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).

Noting the seasonal increase in screwworm cases in ears injured by bites of the Gulf Coast ear tick, Miller urges animal owners to spray their stock regularly with such USDA approved insecticides as CoRal and Korlan.

Graduate Courses Set At TAMU Center

The Texas A&M University Agricultural Education Dept. is offering an off-campus, fall semester residence credit graduate course—"Youth Leadership Programs"—for persons in the Corpus Christi area. The course, listed as Agricultural Education 607, carries three semester hours of graduate level credit.

Dr. Herman Brown, associate professor and course instructor, said the offering should interest Extension Service personnel, vocational agriculture and home economics teachers, YWCA and YMCA workers, Scout leaders, boys and girls club workers and others who would like to develop and conduct youth leadership programs.

He said the course can be used in master's or doctoral programs, and in the block of semester hours allotted to "specialization area" for the professional certification program in vocational agriculture approved at A&M.

Registration is at 5 p.m. Aug. 25 at the A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Corpus Christi.

Brown said prerequisites are a bachelor's degree or previous admission to Texas A&M's Graduate College. Application forms will be available at registration.

If not already admitted to A&M, applicants are urged to bring a bachelor's degree transcript, or have the college from which they graduated send a transcript to L.M. Dean, Registrar's Office, Coke Building, A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Brown said there will be 12 evening classes from 5-9 p.m. A final schedule of meeting times will be set after consulting class members at the first session Aug. 25.

He said the cost for registration and ID card is $75.77, payable to the Fiscal Office, Texas A&M University. Hazelwood Act exemptions will apply to eligible Texas veterans.

Junior High Registration Now Underway

Rockport-Fulton Junior High School Principal Pat Smith reminded students who will attend the sixth, seventh and eighth grades during the next year and did not complete the 1975-76 school year in Aransas County Schools are asked to register at the school office prior to Aug. 23. Office hours are 8 a.m. until 12 and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., Smith added.

New students must bring report cards, immunization records, etc. from the last school attended. Smith pointed out that those students that have not paid last year's textbook fines and fees and library fines and fees are asked to pay these charges in order that they may be issued textbooks and have library use this year.

Students who attended the junior high, Fulton Elementary or Rockport Elementary last year have been registered and need not come to the junior high school until opening day of school, Smith concluded.

The Jim Boney view the rose garden in their back yard.

The J.H. Boney's Receive Yard-Of-The-Month Award

The Yard-of-the-Month Award for August was presented to Mr. and Mrs. J.H.

Boney. They live in Peninsula Oaks on Griffith Drive. The Boney's moved here from Canada two years ago. They do all their own yard work.

A cluster of oak trees and many young trees such as a cottonwood, a wild olive tree, an ash tree, a rain tree, a mulberry tree, an ornamental pear tree, a bald cypress tree, and an Australian pine landscape the front yard. Greeting you as you enter the front door are two sago palms.

In the flowerbeds are orange and gold marigolds, Indian hawthorn, wandering jew, natal plum, a bottlebrush (green variety), and an empress palm. Orange honeysuckle flows on both sides of the fence. Monkey grass borders the flowerbeds.

The main point of interest in the backyard is the birdbath and flowering beds surrounding it. Some of the plants surrounding the birdbath include periwinkles, pinks, moss roses, chrysanthemums, marigolds, copper plants, geraniums, pepper plants and celosias.

There are many hanging baskets filled with Swedish ivy, petunias, purple jew, airplane plants and begonias.

In the backyard there are also bougainvilleas, holly, honeysuckle, coral vine, gardenias, impatiens, crepe myrtle, oleanders, pampas grass, poinsettias and mock orange trees.

The Yard-of-the-Month is sponsored by the Rockport Home and Garden Club. Anyone is eligible for this award. Nominations may be submitted to Mrs. Tom Rogers, 729-6515 or Mrs. Don Meek, 729-6178.

Stretch Food Dollars With A Fall Garden

by D.P. Pawlik
County Extension Agent
San Patricio & Aransas Cos.

A fall garden can provide vegetables that are less costly, fresher and often more nutritious than those you can buy, believes Dan Pawlik, County Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Many vegetables that do not grow satisfactorily during the late spring and summer are better adapted for fall and early winter production in all but the colder areas of Texas.

By starting with transplants now, warm season vegetables such as tomatoes, eggplant and pepper can be grown with reasonable success for harvest, especially when the plants are protected from the first killing frosts.

If you still have live tomato plants left from the spring that show signs of growth, rejuvenate them rather than starting from transplants. Cut off all old stems above the new growth. Keep the plants watered and fertilize them with about one tablespoon of balanced fertilizer per plant once a week for three or four weeks.

August and early September is the time to make the last planting of summer squash and cucumbers for slicing and pickling, notes Pawlik.

Green beans planted during August or early September usually produce the best quality for freezing and canning, since the harvest occurs during cooler weather when the fiber content is low.

Additional information on fall vegetable gardening is available from the County Extension Office.

IRS Exam Deadline Is Aug. 15

The Internal Revenue Service has announced an Aug. 15 deadline for applications to take the Special Enrollment Examination. The test qualifies persons who are neither CPAs nor attorneys to represent clients before the nation's tax agency.

For southern Texas applicants, the examination will be administered Sept. 27 and 28 in Austin and Houston.

Application forms and additional information about the examinations available from the Chief, Training Branch, Internal Revenue Service, 300 East 8th St. Rm 401, Austin, Tex. 78701.

Applications should be mailed to the Director, Audit Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C. 20224, Attention: CP-A-C-M-SEE. A $25 fee payable to the IRS along with a photo of the applicant should be included with the application.

New Students To Register At High School

New students planning to attend Rockport-Fulton High School in grades nine through 12 should register at the principal's office as soon as possible, according to Principal Chester Barre. The registration for these students began Tuesday, Aug. 3, and will be completed on Aug. 13.

Office hours for registration are 8 a.m. until 12 noon and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., Barre informed the Pilot.

New students who did not attend any of the Aransas County Public Schools should bring report cards, book card, and health records indicating proof of immunization for tetanus, diphtheria and polio in the last ten years, Barre added.

Student schedules will be available for distribution to all students on Wednesday, Aug. 18. The schedules will be handed out at the high school principal's office.

Barre urged all students who owe for school obligations from previous years to pay these obligations by Aug. 13 so that textbooks can be issued and library facilities may be used.

PHILLIP WILKINS of Corpus Christi, a 15-year-old nephew of Mrs. Nora Roth of Fulton landed this six ft., nine inch 111 lb. alligator gar off the public fishing pier on the Fulton Beach Harbor, Aug. 4. Fish With Tropic Flavor Beat The Heat Summer cooks who don't want to heat up their kitchen will like a quick fish recipe with a tang of the tropics. The seafood marketing section of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department recommends fillets coated with coconut, served with a cool, delightful garnish of fresh fruits.

For this recipe use fresh fillets of your favorite Gulf fin fish and enjoy a treat that is high in protein and low in saturated fats and calories. Cooking time is minimal, and the garnish is appetizing and nutritious.

A lemon butter sauce tops the fillets. Because most foods served in the tropics typically are fresh and uncooked, you can prepare a platter of sliced tomatoes, cucumbers and other relishes instead of a cooked vegetable. The need for a salad then is eliminated and only hot rolls are added. For dessert, sherbet or ice cream are a compatible finale.

Crispy Coconut Fried Fillets

2 pounds fresh fish fillets, cut in serving-size portions
 1/4 cup fine cornflake crumbs
 1/4 cup finely chopped flaked

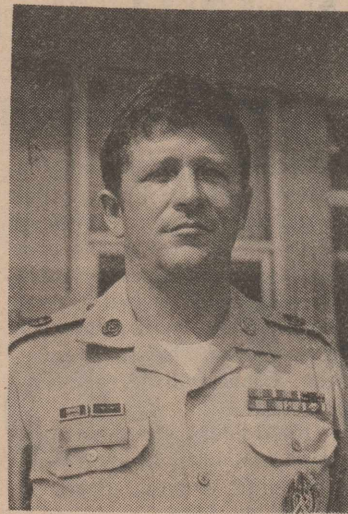

coconut
 1 egg, beaten
 1 teaspoon salt oil for frying
 lemon butter sauce
 summer fruits for garnishing

Combine crumbs and coconut and mix well. Beat together egg, one tablespoon water and salt. Dip fillets into egg mixture. Drain and coat evenly with crumb mixture. Fry in single layers in large frying pan over moderate heat for five minutes each side, turning carefully, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve with lemon butter sauce. Garnish with summer fruits. Makes six servings.

Lemon Butter Sauce
 1/2 cup margarine
 3 tablespoons lemon juice
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 1 1/2 teaspoon sugar
 1/8 teaspoon pepper

In a small saucepan, melt margarine and add remaining ingredients. Place over low heat and warm throughout. Serve over fish. Makes 3/4 cup sauce.

Theory is all right for the books, but it takes practical expression of ideas to make life better.

Governor Proclaims Sept. 25 Hunting, Fishing Day

Sept. 25 has been set aside by Gov. Dolph Briscoe as "Texas Hunting and Fishing Day" in recognition of the contributions state outdoorsmen make to conservation.

In his proclamation, Gov. Briscoe cited Texas hunters and fishermen for their support of game restoration and law enforcement through the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses. "...game animals such as deer, quail and turkeys now exist in greater numbers than ever during this century and...millions of acres of freshwater lakes now contain great populations of both native as well as introduced varieties of fishes," stated the Governor's proclamation.

Briscoe urged all citizens to "join with hunters-anglers-conservationists in renewing our appreciation for and dedication to proper use of natural resources now and for future generations."

LEARNING NEWS CENTER

by Dave Crooks

A progress report on several community activities in which a number of Rotarians are involved was given by Dr. Jerry Shaw at a luncheon meeting of the local civic club Aug. 4 at Sandollar Restaurant.

He said the ABC Learning Center on which an ecumenical group of concerned parents has been working for several months is scheduled to begin classes for 3 and 4-year old preschool children Sept. 7 in the convent building of Sacred Heart Catholic Church on North Church St.

He also reported Rockport City Council of which he is a member is busy preparing a final budget for the year following a prolonged public controversy involving city personnel.

The emergency medical service project for Aransas County is moving ahead, although slowly, Dr. Shaw said. The King Foundation which offered a $35,000 grant to finance a specialized ambulance has approved a report on plans for this vehicle. Also, Aransas County Commissioners Court and Rockport City Council are expected to have a joint meeting soon to determine how much financial support the two bodies can provide for the proposed emergency service.

Tax exempt status has been granted Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., the sponsoring organization, so contributions to the project are now legally deductible, Dr. Shaw said.

Final event of Rockport's Bicentennial celebration probably will be participation in the second annual SeaFair, Oct. 9 and 10, according to Dr. Shaw who is chairman of Rockport Bicentennial Commission. He added that the commission's program started July 4, 1975, and most of its events were completed as of July 4 of this year.

The major project of the Commission was acquisition and restoration of historic Fulton Mansion which the state has purchased and is now in the process of seeking original furnishings or furnishings from the same period. A caretaker now lives on the grounds and it is reported the start on restoration of the building is awaiting

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Among the subjects he studied were seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

A former student of Rockport-Fulton High School, he joined the Navy in April 1976.

YOU CAN CONTROL YOUR ELECTRICITY BILL ...by using air conditioning wisely.

Central Power and Light Company knows that you are concerned about the increasing cost of electricity. But you can keep your bill in line — and your home comfortable at the same time — if you'll follow these suggestions:

Set the thermostat at 78 degrees. Each degree you set below that could cost you as much as 14% more.

Clean or replace your filters at least once a month — and preferably every two weeks.

Make sure your house has adequate insulation. A well insulated house in South Texas will have a minimum of R-19 in the ceiling and R-11 in the walls. (R refers to the heat resistance qualities of a given insulating material; the values are marked on the cartons.)

Stop air leaks by installing weather stripping around doors and windows.
