Unexpected large turnout witnessed

Voters flock to polls

By LUIS RIOS

Voters county-wide turned out in almost record numbers to elect 21 City, School Board and Hospital Board candidates for Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook during election day Saturday.

The Westbrook Independent School District Board of Trustees race saw two write-in candidates win seats as two incumbents were notched out in what was termed as the much heated race in the small community.

Listed are the unofficial results of the various races. These results will be canvassed by the different entities at a later date.

Westbrook City Council

C. H. "Ham" Hamilton and J. C. Hall, Jr., claimed the two available seats in Saturday's election. Only two votes separated the two candidates.

Hall was the top vote getter claiming 145 votes and Hamilton was a scant second with 143.

The two men ousted incumbents Jeff Merket and Roland "Rick" Rickard from the council. Merket received 102 votes and Rickard tallied 104 votes.

Colorado ISD

In a primarily write-in election in Westbrook Saturday, Westbrook voters elected A. G. Board mayor, Charles Ranne and Don Burnett as council members.

Board claimed 48 of the 106 votes cast. Ranne took 30 votes and Burnett had 26 votes. A Westbrook spokesman said there was a large voter turnout for the city election as well as the school board election.

CISD Board of Trustees president S. L. "Mac" Morris and local businessman J. C. Britton were elected to the CISD Board in an extremely close election Saturday.

Britton was the top vote getter with 321 votes and Morris claimed 275 votes of the 5,777 votes cast in the election. The votes included 23 absentee votes cast before the Saturday election.

Britton and Morris were elected for a three year term. Other candidates receiving votes were Ann Gregory 261 and Kathy Bassham with 240 votes.

Colorado City Council

Mayor Pro-tem J. M. Jesse Munoz and council member Robert Hoback were elected to serve another term in the city council election.

The new member addition to the council will be former City Secretary and City Manager Brenda Tarter. She will resume the seat that was left vacant by council member Julian Mendoza who decided not to run for an additional term.

Hoback, who is employed by Colorado City Feed and Seed, carried the majority of the votes

Loraine ISD

LISD Board of Trustees president and Loraine banker Ronald Bruce, incumbent Royce Beights and new member Linton Ray Webb claimed the top three spots in Saturday's election.

Bruce won the majority of the votes with 286. Webb was second with 253 and Beights claimed 203 votes. The fourth candidate, David Alvarez, had 181 votes to his credit.

Westbrook ISD

In probably the most heated and controversial race in Mitchell County so far this election year, Westbrook citizens elected Sam Oden, William Conaway and Warren Zant to the WISD Board of Trustees.

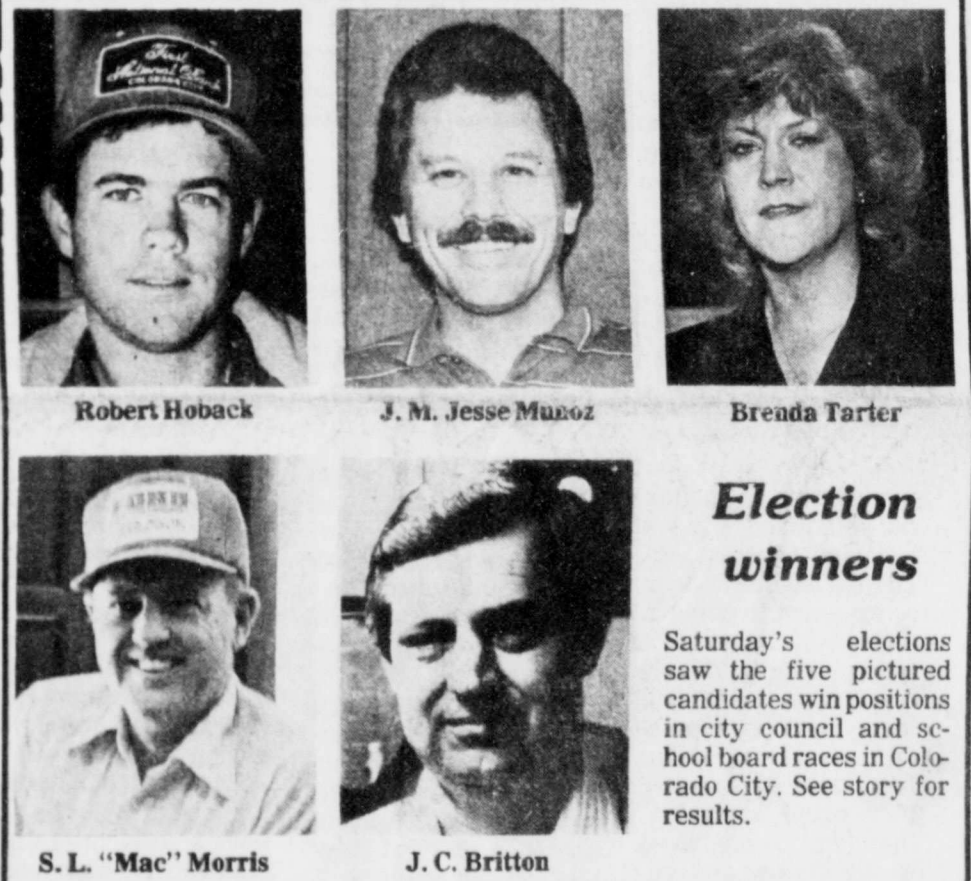

Oden and Conaway were two write-in candidates and were late entries in the election. Their names were not included on the ballots but despite that they were able to claim the two top spots.

Ousted from the WISD Board of Trustees were Don Burnett, who won a seat on the city council, and Kenneth Beasley, who received only 40 votes from the 207 votes that were cast.

Oden took 124 votes, Conaway claimed 119 and Zant, the only incumbent that was re-elected, took 76 votes.

Other candidates receiving votes were Burnett 67, Wayne Pierce 52, Bruce Rich 52, Don Henderson 47 and Beasley 40.

The race was made controversial and heated after the firing of Westbrook girls' coach Keith Bundas where Westbrook citizens questioned the boards actions.

Cheese and butter sign-up successful

Mitchell County volunteers signed-up and approved 655 applicants for the federally funded cheese and butter program through Thursday afternoon, said County Cheese and Butter administrator Beeman Dockrey.

"I am very pleased with the response from the public," Dockrey said. "I'm very pleased with the turnout also.

The program objective is to reach everyone that is eligible."

The largest number of applicants approved for the cheese and butter program were processed at the Civic Center where 409 applicants received the go-ahead to receive the cheese and butter.

Loraine Senior Citizens' Center director Darlene Hamrick and her staff registered 85 persons. Barbara Gray, Vicki Rees and the Wallace Center staff registered 81 persons at the center through Thursday, Dockrey said.

Mrs. A. G. Anderson along with the many Golden Age Club Volunteers from Westbrook registered 80 applicants at the club building.

Dockrey said he greatly appreciated all the tremendous help by the volunteers in Mitchell County.

He offered his thanks to the volunteers at the Civic Center and special thanks to Veteran's Administration representative Bertie Kidd and local American G.I. Forum chairman Juan Salazar for their help.

The cheese and butter will be distributed Thursday afternoon, April 12, by the various organizations and clubs that signed up the applicants, Dockrey said.

A special sign-up has been scheduled for this Sunday at the C. C. Thompson Room from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. for persons who were not able to sign-up Thursday. The sign-up will be coordinated by the Manuel G. Martinez chapter of the American G.I. Forum. Anyone who did not register is encouraged to come by and sign-up, said chapter chairman Juan Salazar.

Dockrey also offered his thanks to the city, County Judge Bill Carter, the County Commissioners' Court, the Civic Center personnel and all the volunteers county-wide.

County receives tax allocation

Mitchell County received $13,264.86 in city sales and use tax for sales made in February, according to a report from the office of Comptroller of Public Accounts Bob Bullock.

Colorado City again represented the lion's share of the revenue totalling $12,358.02 for the one month period. The city tax was up 3.66 percent from the same period last year, according to the report.

Westbrook received $906.84 for the one month period giving it a yearly total of $2,809.01. Colorado City's total for 1984 is $76,466.81. C-City received $10,505.00 for the February period last year.

Loraine did not receive any allocation for the February period, according to Bullock's report.

Mitchell County's total allocation has shown an increase of almost $10,000 for the two-month period last year.

Bullock sent checks totaling $46.3 million in local sales tax payments to the 985 cities that levy the one-percent city sales tax.

"These receipts are up more than 16 percent over last year," Bullock said. "This is just exactly where I estimated they would be when I gave the Legislature its estimate of revenues last year."

Local library observes National Library Week

Knowledge is the dynamo that powers personal achievement in careers, school, sports or any pursuit, say America's libraries.

That's why the Mitchell County Public Library is joining the American Library Association to tell the nation that "Knowledge is Real Power" during the 27th annual National Library Week, April 8-14.

"Libraries have always made information readily available to citizens," Nancy Mayo, Librarian of the Mitchell County Public Library said. "Now that we have entered the 'Information Age,' people are discovering that to get ahead it is even more important to be well-informed and have access to current news."

"A perfect example is our Olympic athletes. They know that being well-informed about their events and keeping up-to-date on new techniques is as important as their physical abilities. You can be sure they and their coaches made good use of information resources during their training," Mrs. Mayo added.

The Mitchell County Public Library is highlighting National Library Week by sponsoring a "forgiveness" week. No fines will be charged for overdue books regardless of how overdue they are. So if you have been spring cleaning and you found a book that you checked out last year and have been too ashamed to bring it in—this is your week.

Also, some of the school children in Mitchell County have been drawing pictures of what they think of when they think about a library. These will be displayed by the library and various local businesses during the week.

Visit your public library during National Library Week and discover some of the "powers" that are offered.

European director visits city before S'wtr audition

By LUIS RIOS

European director and producer George Sluizer's world has no disguise and no illusions.

Instead his imagination creates more than one world for him in both his films and documentaries.

The Paris-born Dutchman is a man of many diverse worlds. He speaks eight languages. Languages which helped him cope and deal with the different shooting locations for his many films.

Sluizer along with Mrs. Pam Steakley of Sweetwater were in Colorado City for an interview with the RECORD and KVMC radio station Wednesday morning.

Sluizer, who has 23 films to his credit, is considered by his colleagues a highly-skilled editor, producer and director.

This 51-year-old world traveler and observer is currently working on his next feature movie, Red Desert Penitentiary, which will be filmed in Sweetwater.

He said he will be working with professionals and amateurs alike during the filming of this movie. Sluizer had just recently finished a documentary on the Annual Rattlesnake Roundup in Sweetwater.

Sluizer said he sees this endeavor as a partnership effort with the community. Most of the funds will be returned to the community, he said.

Working with amateurs will give professionals a chance to go back to their base, Sluizer said. This is the cultural aspect of working with a partnership between professionals and amateurs, he said.

The concept of the whole world is a stage was taken literally by Sluizer who has made films in such far away places as the Middle East and Latin America.

And although he said he considers it a big gamble to make the film, Sluizer said as an adventurer it is what he enjoys. Sluizer said he has made several films with non-professionals intermingled with professionals before.

"Amateur theater is healthy but not always successful," Sluizer said.

This summer Sluizer hopes to film Red Desert Penitentiary (by author Tim Krabbe). The film is a satire about freedom and justice and illusion, set of course, in Texas.

"The film is about illusion and reality," Sluizer said. "It is where fantasy meets reality."

The storyline is about a film crew (non-Texan) who comes in from the outside to a small West Texas town to make a movie, he said. The main characters in essence are actors who play cowboys. He said the film will hopefully be released in 1985. All the shooting will be done in July.

In his documentaries, Sluizer said he lets the people tell him a story; but in his fictional films it is his imagination that translates the story.

"The documentaries feed my imagination for my other films," he said. "All my experiences crystallize and transform themselves into a story."

Sluizer brings a long list of credits and awards with him to Sweetwater. One of his films was nominated for an Academy Award. He has worked in making short movies, and also writing screenplays.

Sluizer has served as an instructor at the Netherlands Film Academy, as a member of the Council of Arts (Ministry of Culture) from 1974-1980, and as a member of the Filmmakers Society of the Netherlands GNS.

Tax amnesty: Payoff or ripoff?

In Arizona, an FBI agent said he was sorry and wouldn't do it again. In North Dakota, a priest turned himself in and asked forgiveness. And in Massachusetts, it was an 80-year-old electrician who hadn't filed a state income tax return since 1941.

They were responding to an offer of amnesty for people who owe back taxes. At least two dozen states have granted amnesty or are considering such an offer, and federal officials have begun to investigate the possibility of an amnesty for federal taxes as well.

Here's how the proposal might work: During a short period, any person who owed back taxes and had not been notified by the IRS that he was being investigated could write "AMNESTY" on his return and be exempt from criminal penalties and from civil penalties other than interest. The IRS would be prohibited from sharing information on "AMNESTY" returns with other law enforcement agencies. And there would be a generous installment plan for payment of back taxes.

The one-time amnesty idea apparently originated in Arizona and spread across the country. In North Dakota, one of the persons taking advantage of the plan was a Korean War veteran who had not paid taxes in 30 years. In Missouri, an insurance company told state officials that it owed $750,000. Different types of amnesty programs were also put into effect in Alabama, Arkansas and Portsmouth, Ohio.

The most spectacular result was in Massachusetts, which is sometimes called "Taxachusetts." State officials expected to net $3 to $5 million from its 90-day grace period; the actual figure was about $60 million! Payments ranged from eight cents to more than $1 million owed by a Fortune 500 company.

Tax amnesty programs have been proposed by state legislators in Connecticut, Virginia and New Jersey. The governor of Minnesota has endorsed it and the governor of Iowa is considering it. Illinois State Senate President Philip Rock (a liberal Democrat running for the U.S. Senate) and New York City Mayor Ed Koch support the idea.

At the federal level, a national tax amnesty has been endorsed by conservative Congressman Phil Crane (R-Illinois), House Speaker 'Tip' O'Neill (D-Massachusetts), and the National Taxpayers Union.

Some officials, including Treasury Secretary Donald Reagan, object to the idea of a tax amnesty because it might appear to reward tax evaders. But so far, other than the corporations already mentioned, few big-time tax evaders have sought amnesty. The average payment in North Dakota was only $100—which indicates that most of the participants were average people, not master criminals.

Many of those who take advantage of the program are people who simply put off paying their taxes until it was too late and they were afraid to come forward. Most of them would never have been caught; in many cases, the statute of limitations had expired. And some were surprised to discover that the government owed them money.

As 'Tip' O'Neill said, "(T)here are probably millions of citizens across the nation who would take advantage of the opportunity to settle their accounts with the federal government, thereby increasing federal revenues and clearing their consciences at the same time."

Yet the IRS opposes a one-time tax amnesty. There are legitimate arguments against it, but let me suggest one reason the bureaucrats will probably never support the idea—

Between 10 and 25 percent of all the economic activity in the United States now takes place "off the books."

Working people are paying taxes at rates that were set 20 years ago for the rich, and as the government burden increases day by day, more people are forced to choose between providing a decent life for their families and paying their taxes on time. Wage-earners are disgusted over the skyrocketing cost of social programs and over tax loopholes available only to a few. As the American Bar Association recently warned, "we are approaching the point at which (tax evasion) becomes socially acceptable and therefore uncontrollable."

I believe the bureaucrats at the IRS don't want to admit how large the "underground economy" is. They don't want us to know—because if we knew how many people were breaking the law, we might change it and stop making criminals out of people who are otherwise decent and law-abiding.

LLOYD BENTSON

Taking the care out of Medicare

She was a 70-year-old woman from Big Spring, Texas.

She was dying and her doctor wanted to release her from the hospital to spend her last days among family and friends at home.

She still required medical treatment once a day, but that should have been no problem since home health care is permitted to elderly patients whose bills are paid by Medicare.

From a fiscal point of view, in fact, releasing the woman from the hospital was the only sensible thing to do, with her hospital costs running $300 a day as opposed to $50 for care at home.

Unfortunately, senselessly, rules regarding home health care under Medicare have become increasingly restrictive over the past two years.

This woman was forced to spend her last days in the hospital, where she died last August. Her Medicare benefits, eaten away at a $300 a day clip, ran out after a time and her husband had to pay out up to $30,000 in medical bills.

Not only are Medicare home health care rules increasingly restrictive, they are inconsistent as well.

Had this woman lived somewhere other than Texas she might well have been eligible for treatment at home. The rules for the Health Care Financing Administration region that includes Texas did not permit her to have home health care visits every day, while rules in other regions would have.

This is a serious problem and it threatens to get worse. As the new Prospective Payment System—under which hospitals may only charge Medicare a flat fee for a specific illness—goes into effect, people who provide home health care report an increasing number of sicker patients being released from hospitals to their care.

I recently introduced the Home Health Care Protection Act in the Senate. It is intended to help ensure that patients covered by Medicare receive the services they need from qualified professionals in a setting which their physicians feel is most appropriate.

The bill does not attempt to expand home care services beyond what was originally intended.

My legislation specifically allows Medicare reimbursement for up to 60 days of home care. The Home Care Protection Act will guarantee, chapter and verse, that people on Medicare receive those benefits that Congress intended all along for them to receive.

ATAC plan geared for crime victim

Nearly one million Texans will be victims of crime this year.

Saying that crime is an issue of major concern to all Texans, Richard Collins, President of the Texas Foundation for Conservative Studies announced the formation of a new, independent project of the Foundation called ATAC (Associated Texans Against Crime) at news conferences in Houston and Dallas.

State Senator J. E. "Buster" Brown of Lake Jackson will serve as ATAC's Chairman. Brown is a former prosecuting attorney and Vice Chairman of the Texas Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

"ATAC is an ambitious project. We are going to try to make all Texans aware of the problems and find ways to make our criminal justice system work for the innocent, victims and society," Collins said.

ATAC will hold public hearings across the state to find out how police, judges, legal experts and crime victims believe the Texas criminal justice system can be improved.

"We feel that through ATAC we have a unique opportunity to study the criminal justice system from the perspectives of victims and law enforcement officials, rather than just from the criminal perspective," Collins said.

ATAC's goals are:

I. to increase public awareness of the problem of crime;

II. to identify and support changes that should be made in our criminal justice system;

III. to support recognition of the rights of victims of crime;

IV. to develop and promote programs which increase citizen involvement in crime prevention.

Teresa Castillo

Cook's Corner

Cooking part of Castillo heritage

When Teresa Castillo was growing up, her father always wanted some kind of a meat for supper.

So naturally, they had meat and all the trimmings to go with it.

Mrs. Castillo said her mother was a good cook, so she learned how to cook from her mother.

She does like to cook and learn how to prepare new recipes.

Her favorite thing to cook is candy. "At Christmas especially, I always cook Divinity. My brother likes it so much that I have to fix him a container just for himself."

Mrs. Castillo has been married to her husband, Tom for 30 years. They have one son, Rudy who lives in Colorado City.

"When I got married, I did not know how to cook. My family usually ate anything I fixed. Tom and Rudy told me that they would eat anything I fixed as long as there were tortillas on the table."

She doesn't cook as much for meals like she used to, but when she does, her son and daughter-in-law benefit, because she invites them over to eat.

Today, Mrs. Castillo is sharing three of her recipes with RECORD readers.

Lindsey completes training; retains AAFP membership

Dr. George C. Lindsey of Colorado City has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for the members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for the family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

"Spring Fling" scheduled for local Older Texans

By DEBBIE CHRISTIAN

Older Texans looking for a change of pace can take a three day "Spring Fling" this year to stretch their minds and dollars.

Each spring, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service sponsors a three-day camp filled with activities and learning opportunities for people over 55.

The cost, including lodging and meals, is $69.50 for each camper.

Camping sessions will be held April 10-12, 17-20, 24-27, May 1-4, and 8-11 at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood in Brownwood, Texas. Twenty-four from Mitchell County will be attending the May 8-11 session. Those planning to attend are Ruth Blair, Bernice Hallmark, Rosa Hamrick, Lola Fay Bennett, Elnora and Ivan Barber, Lucille Owens and Wilma Womack.

Other campers are Guy and Mary Hackleman, Juanita Schafer, Floy Law, Olmon and Louise Sweat, Nellie Haley and Versie McMillan. Also joining this group of Mitchell Countians are Doc Alvis, R. J. and Mary Lloyd, Carroll and Barbara Gray, Stanley and Jessie Merket and Jerry Graves.

Campers will have the opportunity to hear feature presentations on gardening, lamb cuts and cookery, health in the later years, estate planning, and improving your memory.

At camp "learning centers" participants can learn how to do miniature oil painting, stained glass and woodworking through "hands-on" experiences. Some of the camp sessions will offer additional learning centers on wind chimes, chair caning, homemade games and picture framing.

Card and table games, tennis, horseshoes, and volleyball will be available at all times. Campers will also enjoy social activities such as sing songs and dances, omelets by the lake, and a 1908 box social.

There's still room for campers. If you would like more information and registration details contact the Extension Office at 728-3111.

Edwards recommendation accepted for Project

The Baptist Women Night Group for the First Baptist Church in Colorado City accepted a recommendation by Jean Edwards for a mission project during a meeting April 2.

The group met at the home of Jessie Mae Merket at 1439 Watson. Refreshments included finger sandwiches, million-dollar cake, coffee and tea.

Billie Roenfeldt presided over the meeting.

The mission project will entail packing Bibles and labeling them for mailing for the organization "Bibles For The World," in Wheaton, Illinois. The group voted to accept this as a project at their next meeting in May.

The prayer calendar was presented by Marguerite Turner with Charlene Hubbard leading in prayer for the missionaries.

Everyone was urged to attend the Prayer Retreat at Circle 6 Ranch in Stanton April 27 and 28. The program for the evening was presented on the Cooperative Program by Mary Lloyd. She was assisted by Mrs. Dearen, Bodine, Harrison, Roenfeldt, Morris and Merket.

The group told of many ways the Southern Baptists work together through the plan, yet each church in independent and maintains its freedom by making its own decisions.

The percentage of money given through the local churches is around 8.73 percent. The ladies attending were Betsy Aycock, Margaret Bodine, Virginia Dearen, Jean Edwards, Billie Harrison, Charlene Hubbard, Naomi Jordan, Mary Lloyd, Jessie Merket, Catharine Morris, Joy Piland, Billie Roenfeldt and Marguerite Turner.

Charles Casey Calvary Baptist Church HURRY! HE IS COMING

During my college days I worked in a bakery in Abilene. I remember one afternoon when the telephone rang and one of the ladies answered it. She put the phone down like it was hot and shouted, "He's coming?" I wondered what in the world was going on. Everyone was told to put on a clean apron. The ladies checked their hair nets and the men checked their caps. Everyone was running around like chickens with their heads cut off. I wondered who was coming to create such excitement.

A man entered the bakery and began to look all around for health hazards. He was the state inspector for the Board of Health. After he left everyone breathed a sigh of relief and went back to work. The bakeries in town always watched out for the others. The first one to see the inspector would call the others to warn them.

The Bible speaks of the return of Christ hundreds of times. When He returns He will be as a thief in the night, because no one will be expecting Him. He will come without warning. He will come literally as He went away. He will be visible in that every eye shall see Him. There won't be any telephone calls to get us ready. The only warning we receive is through His word. We must be prepared to meet the Lord or be prepared to accept the penalty that will be due.

When Jesus comes each of us will give an account of ourself before God. God will not accept our excuses nor will He give us time for repentance. Today is the day to prepare ourselves for His coming.

Remember, He is coming!

Emergency loan applications available at FmHA office

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by this summer's drought and extremely high temperatures are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Colorado City, FmHA County Supervisor, David P. Marion said Friday.

Mitchell County is one of 84 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the drought.

Marion said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses, or the operating loan needed to continue in business, or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate on the first $100,000 borrowed is five percent; interest rate is eight percent on the balance over that amount. For farmers who can obtain commercial credit but who choose to borrow from FmHA, the interest rate is 13.75 percent.

As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30-percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan, Marion said. Farmers participating in the PIK or federal crop insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from these programs in determining their loss.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until October 3, 1984, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly carry over into the new farming season, Marion said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens, and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office located in the G-Kell Building on Highway 208 is open from 9-5 Monday through Friday.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Bright Plants Add Color To Those Shady Corners

Finding annuals and perennials that will flower and bloom profusely in the sunny parts of your yard is not difficult. It does not always seem quite as easy, however, to find plants that will add color to the partly sunny and downright shady areas of your yard.

The following are a few plants, some with colorful flowers and some with colorful foliage, that will add beauty and accent to those shady areas.

Begonias: This is perhaps the best flowering plant in Texas for color in the shade. There are hundreds of different varieties, with flower colors including pink, red, and white. Leaf colors include bronze and green. The plants are generally small, neat, and tidy. Each plant is covered with small colorful blooms all season long. Height ranges from 6 to 15 inches. Begonias succeed in shade or part shade.

Caladium: These plants are grown for their spectacular foliage, which runs from red and pink to white and green. Flowers should be removed immediately as they form. Plant the bulbs in midspring, once the soil has warmed considerably. Caladiums grow from 12 to 20 inches high in shade or part shade. The light-colored types stand sunlight better. Avoid high-nitrogen fertilizer to prevent excessive greening of foliage.

Coleus: This is another plant grown for its foliage, which runs from red, yellow, white, pink, and orange to violet and green. Any flowers should be removed immediately. Height varies from 12 to 30 inches. Coleus does well in the shade or part shade and provides good color from spring through fall.

Impatiens: This flowering plant offers brilliant, intensely-colored flowers for shady places. Flower colors include reds, oranges, pinks, white, purples, and other intense colors. The plants spread and are best used in mass plantings. Height varies from 6 to 24 inches. Give impatiens adequate moisture and watch for spider mites in the heat of summer.

Four O'Clock: This fragrant-scented flower blooms in the late afternoon. Colors include red, pink, white, and yellow. Plants grow 2 to 3 feet tall and will reseed themselves. Four O'Clocks grow in shade or part shade, and will even grow in sunny locations if watered adequately.

WHS play takes awards

For two years in a row, Westbrook High School One Act play has taken top honors in the UIL One Act Play competition. In 1983, it was "The Six Wives of Henry VIII: Anne Boleyn" and in 1984 it has been scenes from "The Miracle Worker."

Selected as Best Actor at the competition was junior Donald Burnett. Shanna Inman and Teresa Browne were named to the All Star Cast, with Joe Bass selected to the Honorable Mention All Star Cast. Adjudicator for the Zone Contest was Mr. Joseph Harris, Technical Theatre Director for McMurry College in Abilene.

"The Miracle Worker" took top honors at the East Zone One Act Play competition held March 20. The story of Helen Keller and Annie Sullivan, with each family member realizing what it takes to be a family unit. Helen's teacher, Annie, the mediator. After winning the most crucial contest in One Act Play competition, Westbrook High advanced to District competition, held at Grady High School March 23, 1984. Again, placing in the alternate position to Regional competition, Westbrook took the top honors individually: Shanna Inman captured Best Actress. Teresa Browne was on the All Star cast, and Donald Burnett and Gayla Cook were placed on the Honorable Mention All Star Cast.

Leslie Anderson, director for the production and Speech teacher for Westbrook said, "This play required a great deal of concentration, both from the actor and from me. We spent a great deal of time blindfolded and practicing our Alabama accents, and for most of my cast being rookies, I think we did a superb job. Perhaps the most fascinating aspect of the show was choreographing the fight and spitting scenes between Helen and Annie."

"The Miracle Worker" cast included: Donald Burnett as Captain Keller, Evon Bradshaw

as Kate Keller, Gayla Cook portrayed Viney, Annie Sullivan was played by Teresa Browne, Helen Keller was Shanna Inman and Joe Bass portrayed James Keller, Helen's brother.

Crew included Elena Lopez, Lydia Vigil and Gracie Fuentes.

"We are very proud and pleased of each one in the cast and are really looking for greater things in the future," Anderson noted.

Westbrook students top Coahoma literary meet

"Following in the footsteps" could very well be the battle cry for several Westbrook elementary students as they excel in UIL literary events.

Westbrook High School swept the District 6A Meet in Midland Greenwood last weekend qualifying 10 students for the Regional Meet in Levelland April 13.

The Westbrook students participated in the Coahoma Invitational Literary Meet March 24. The grades entered in the competition were first grade through sixth grade.

The intense competition included schools from Class A through Class 3A. Class A Westbrook claimed second place in the Sweepstakes category.

Placing in the various categories were: Oral Reading, grade 5, Glenda Wallace, second place; Oral Reading, grade 6, Scooter Hines, second place; Story Telling, grades 2 and 3, Guy Baker, first place; Ready Writing, grades 5 and 6, Jason Morris, second place; Picture Memory, grades 4 and 5, Team of Sherry Putman, Shanna Burnett and Janet Peterson, fourth place; Music Memory, grades 4 and 5, Team of Nancy Martinez, Callan Turnage, Mark Strawcutter and Karri Baker, fourth place; and Calculator, grades 5 and 6, Jason Morris, first place and Scooter Hines, fourth place.

Boxing team does well in tournament

By TONY FRANCO
The Mitchell County Boxing Team, which will host the West Texas ABF-UBF Junior Olympic Tournament May 11 and 12, returned from a Wichita Falls tournament held last Friday and Saturday with two champions and two runners-up.

Taking first place honors were Jeremy Strawcutter, who fought in the 65 pound division, and Steve Smith, who gained a default in the championship fight.

Leonardo Rico in the 112 pound class and Gabriel Gaona in the 105 pound division were the two Mitchell County Boxing Team fighters to finish as runners-up.

In Friday's preliminary bouts, 112 pounder Gabriel Fuentes and 85 pounder J. J. Ellett both lost their fights and failed to reach Saturday's rounds.

"The boys' performance was good," said Coach Vince Gaona.

"Gabriel (Fuentes) and J. J. did real good in the ring for the first time."

With teams from Texas and several from Oklahoma, the Wichita Falls tourney drew more experienced boxers—yet the Colorado City squad, according to Gaona, "still did good."

With 37 titles to be up for grabs, winners of the West Texas Junior Olympics will advance to Corpus Christi June 1, 2 and 3.

RULES — There are three parts to THE WORD CAGE: (1) clues and (2) quiz, which lead to (3) the final answer, the MYSTERY WORD. The clues and quiz are hidden in the grid — up, down, across, backward or diagonally. First circle the clue words (we've found the first word for you). You may find the same letter in more than one word, so circle each letter clearly. Next, circle the quiz words; the first letter and number of letters are given for each. When you have circled all the clue and quiz words, the remaining uncircled letters will spell out the answer to this week's WORD CAGE.

Your Stars Above

BY EVE EWING

ARIES (3-21/4-19) Rein in that impulse for action. It may be right, but it deserves more study than you have given it. Don't let idealism lead you astray — again.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20) Your patient nature will see you through a trying situation, but don't confuse patience with stubbornness. Give a little for satisfactory results.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20) Strive for self-expression, but not at the expense of others. Your eloquence puts you at the top of the class. Use it wisely and you can't lose. You need to develop more self-discipline.

CANCER (6-21/7-22) Home and family should dominate your thoughts this week. Don't let yourself be side-tracked. Support from an influential source is near at hand.

LEO (7-23/8-22) Your natural leadership qualities are in danger of being overwhelmed by a tendency to procrastination. If you want to maintain your lead, quit finding excuses for inaction and move — Now!

VIRGO (8-23/9-22) An over-critical tongue springs from your perfectionism, and threatens a fragile relationship. Find the compassion to remain silent no matter the provocation. Everyone is entitled to a mistake or two.

LIBRA (9-23/10-23) You are happiest and most productive when functioning in a partnership, whether in marriage or business. Choose wisely now and harmony in all things is bound to follow.

SCORPIO (10-24/11-22) You require a sense of purpose and find great joy in giving pleasure to others. Balance a passionate nature with a tendency toward obstinacy to achieve your desires.

SAGITTARIUS (11-23/12-21) Seeking challenges and exploring new opportunities with enthusiasm marks you as a darling of the Gods. Take care of a minor health problem to ensure the continuation of your place in the sun.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19) Reserve is often mistaken for indifference and masks an inner passion. Don't be afraid to trust others. Your good sense will guide you through the pitfalls of most situations if you accept the challenge.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-19) Idealistic and out-going, your fascination with the eccentric and oddball frequently brings criticism from those less gifted. Ignore it. You have more fun than your critics and that's the problem.

PISCES (2-20/3-20) Your dreamy nature may lead you into dangerous illusions. You seek life's spiritual values and fret at the limitations of a material world. Exercise caution in choosing a partner.

Senior Update

BY VIVIANNE BODEAU

Because this is Easter month we are continuing with the line of thought that we began in our last column. Easter is a time for renewing our life and its meanings. A time of hope and belief.

Believe in your future. You are alive today and you can be more alive tomorrow. Maybe in a different way but more alive.

We know of a person who is slowly dying of terminal cancer but she has developed a new way of living. She has discarded all the little things that took her time and is concentrating on giving as much of herself and her talents as she can to others. She actually glows with her new found happiness in giving. And she has hope too because each day new discoveries in treating cancer are being discovered.

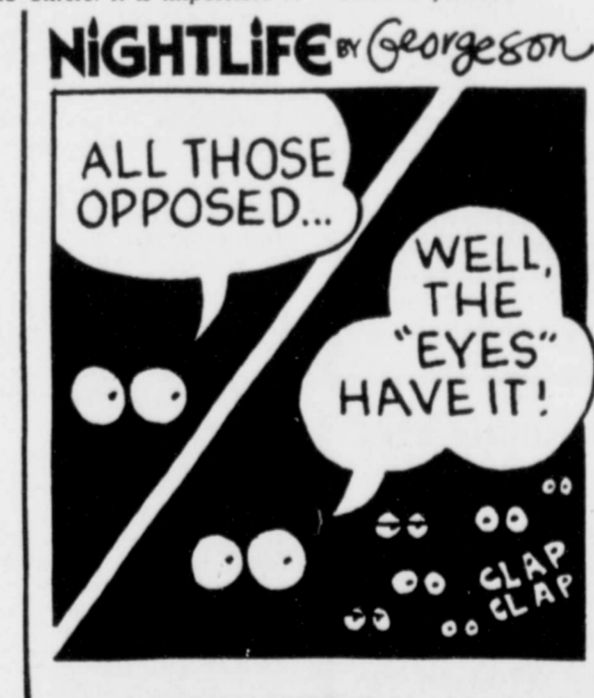

We know another person who was always active in business. He is unable to find a job. Recently he has turned his skills to teaching young people without remuneration. He is being so successful at it that it now looks as though a fund will be created to pay him. But even without pay he has found a purpose in life.

To love and to be loved is important. Renew your commitments in love to family and to others. It is impossible to love without an increase in power, regardless of the response. Loving is another way of fighting despondency and of transforming old age limitations into new capacities, into new interests and new goals.

This can also be a time for renewing your efforts to change things you do not like in government or in institutions. Alone, or in a group effort, you can advance your theories and beliefs about senior needs and the world in general. Attending meetings or being in attendance at a course or workshop can inspire you to all kinds of leadership in causes.

We know a man who always said, "Nothing can be done to help advance the causes of seniors." He recently attended a workshop of a senior lobby group. He came away so enthused that he cannot stop talking about all that can be done if only people unite.

Older people have so much wisdom and experience to offer they should always share these and help direct the future of the country. Don't think of yourself as useless just because you are older. Think positively instead that you are a valuable person and a unique person. Renew your belief in yourself.
