Monday update

Police Kill Abductor

DENTON (AP)-Denton police officers early today shot to death a man who earlier had abducted and wounded a North Texas State University policewoman, authorities said.

A .30 caliber M1 carbine and a .32 caliber pistol, as well as the officer's .38 caliber revolver were discovered at the scene. The car was later determined to be stolen from Dallas and the license tags had been stolen from Waxahachie, Denton police said. The dead man was not identified at once.

Mardi Gras Countdown

NEW ORLEANS (AP)-Relieved by cancellation of a planned garbage collectors strike, the city today began a Mardi Gras countdown with a series of talks to appease demands of a defiant police union.

The talks between city officials and the Police Association of New Orleans are aimed at formalizing major concessions made Saturday by Mayor Ernest Morial to end a 30-hour strike by the Teamsters affiliated.

Silver Star Derails

McINTOSH, Ga. (AP)-Two persons remained hospitalized today after a New York-to-Florida Amtrak passenger train jumped the tracks, sending 38 persons to the hospital.

Amtrak spokesman Jim Bryant said the Silver Star was traveling at about 80 miles an hour early Sunday when a loose wheel sent 13 cars of the 15-car train skidding from the elevated track bed.

None of the derailed cars overturned, and most of the 450 passengers were uninjured, he said.

Helicopters Stand By

WASHINGTON (AP)-U.S. Marines and helicopters have been sent to a staging base near Iran, but officials say they are optimistic the calming words of Iran's dominant religious leader will make it unnecessary to rush help to Americans in Tehran.

Defense officials stressed Sunday "we are simply preparing for contingencies" in sending a reinforced platoon of 69 Marines and six Air Force helicopters to a staging base in Turkey.

Talks Begin Feb. 21

WASHINGTON (AP)-The next round of Israeli-Egyptian peace treaty talks will begin Feb. 21 at Camp David, Md. It could be the last American attempt at driving the two sides into removing obstacles to completing their historic agreement.

Acceptances to invitations have been received from Egyptian Prime Minister Mustafa Khalil and Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan.

Refinery Explodes

WHITING, Ind. (AP)-A half-dozen explosions shook this small industrial town early today as a mammoth fire engulfed a Standard Oil Co. refinery, spewing flames 100 feet into the air and forcing about 1,500 nearby residents from their homes, police said.

No injuries were immediately reported, but police said communications with the sprawling facility were servered by the blaze.

Superman Fans Dies

NEW YORK (AP)-A 4-year-old Brooklyn boy who had been trying to "fly" around the house after seeing the movie "Superman" has died of injuries suffered when he fell from a seventh-floor window.

The boy, Charles Green, had been in a coma since slipping from his grandmother's apartment in Brooklyn on Feb. 2. He died early Sunday at Kings County Hospital.

Death Cell Manuscript

NEW DEHLI, India (AP)-A manuscript smuggled from the death row cell of former Pakistani Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto says if he is executed, Pakistan will be the loser.

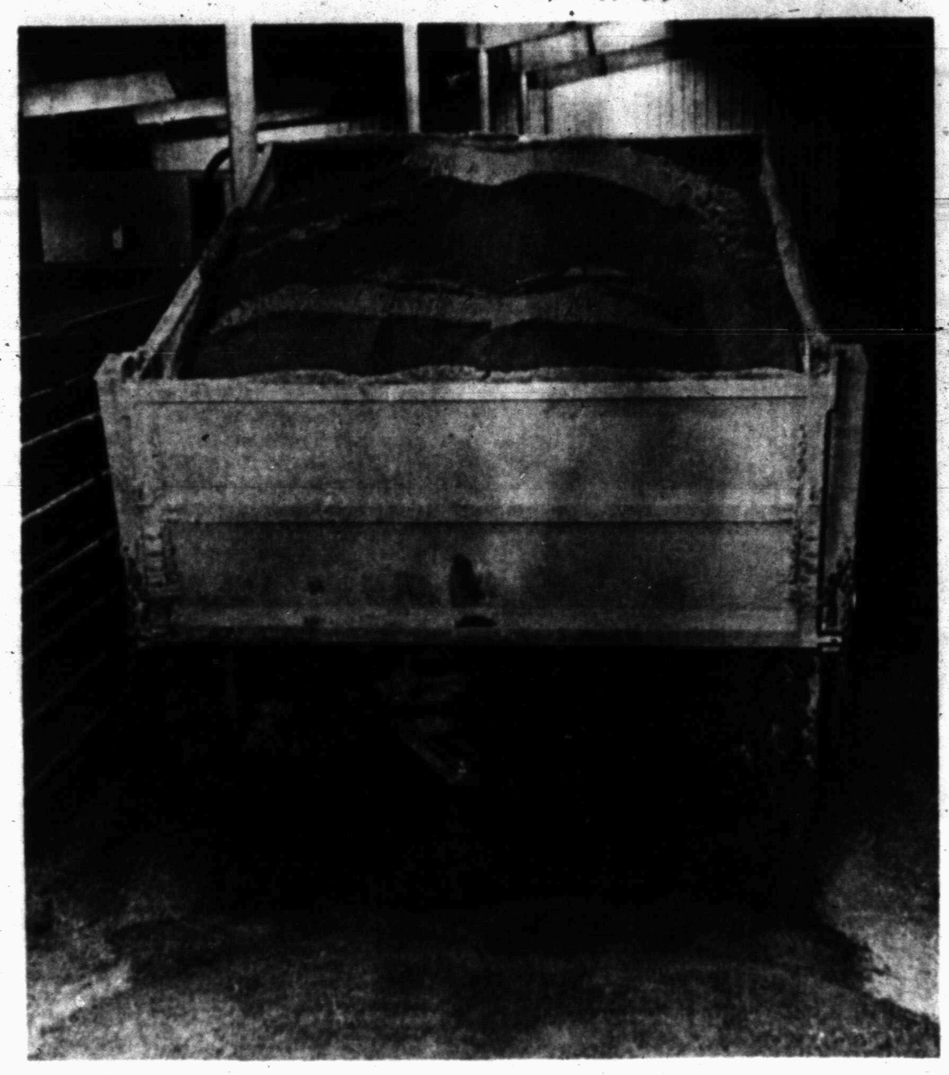

"More than my life is at stake. Make no mistake about it, the future of Pakistan is at stake," wrote the condemned leader.

"I was born to make a nation, to serve a people, I was not born to wither away in a death cell."

Cameras In Court

ATLANTA (AP)-Cameras in the courtroom, a concept condemned by the American Bar Association for 42 years, is being re-examined this week by ABA policy-makers who are expected to endorse the practice.

The association's House of Delegates was scheduled to open two days of deliberations today with a vote on a proposed amendment to the ABA's ethics standards that would allow film and tape coverage of trial proceedings.

PREPARING FOR SHOWS–Fresh sand was going into the arena of the agriculture-livestock exhibit building on the coliseum grounds over the weekend in preparation for a week of junior livestock shows. Snyder Future Farmers of America were to hold their annual project show today, while Hermleigh and Ira FFA youths will exhibit their animals in community-sponsored shows Tuesday. The Scurry County Junior Livestock Show, which will draw entries from throughout the county, will get underway Wednesday and continue through Saturday. (SDN Staff Photo)

Beginning This Afternoon...

Livestock Shows Hold Spotlight This Week

Livestock will be in the spotlight this week in Snyder as the three public schools in the county hold their annual Future Farmers of America exhibitions, followed by the county show for junior feeders.

Snyder FFA led off today with its annual project show, with judging set to begin at 1 p.m.

Tomorrow, the Hermleigh FFA show will be held in the early afternoon, followed by the Ira show at 5 p.m.

These will be followed Wednesday by the annual Scurry County Junior Livestock Association show which will bring in entries from throughout the county, both FFA and 4-H. All of the shows will be held in the livestock building on the coliseum grounds.

The Scurry County Junior Livestock Association will hold its annual supper and business meeting at 6:30 this evening in the Towle Park Barn. The association will elect two directors, with terms of John Reed and Don Gray expiring.

All members of the association are invited to attend the meeting tonight, along with the youngsters who will represent 4-H and FFA units with entries in the county show. Reed is the current president of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Associaton, while Robbie Robinson is the vice president and Gray is the secretary-treasurer. The other directors are Jimmy Roemisch and Sonny Harrell.

Dr. Charles Church will be the superintendent for the steer show, while Bo Robinson is superintendent for hogs and Bob Traylor is superintendent for sheep.

Hogs will be judged beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday, while lamb judging will begin at 1:30 p.m. Friday and steers at 7 p.m. Friday. The annual auction sales beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday will coclude the county show.

Board Ponders Food Contract

Snyder School Trustees are scheduled to take a look at a proposal for contracting food service in local schools and consider contracts for more administrative personnel at their meeting tonight.

The meeting, set for 7:30 p.m. in the school administration building, was moved up from Tuesday night because Supt. Bill J. Hood and board members Max von Roeder, Bill J. Voss and Vera McSpadden are scheduled to leave Tuesday to represent Snyder Public Schools at the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators.

A Dallas firm has submitted some preliminary data on a possible food service plan. The information will be presented to the board for a decision as to whether bids shall be sought.

Administrative contracts up for consideration tonight are the assistant superintendent, administration and personnel; the assistant superintendent, business; the assistant superintendent, instruction; the athletic director; the tax assessor-collector; the maintenance director, and the director of food services. All are now working under contracts extending through June 30, 1980.

Also up for consideration tonight is a proposed school calendar for the 1979-80 school year.

Policy revisions will be presented to comply with federal law on retirement age of personnel.

A report on the elementary and secondary fall testing program will be presented by Dr. Thomas Scannicchio, assistant superintendent, instruction.

Calendar Tops Agenda For College Board

Scurry County Junior College District Trustees are scheduled to adopt a calendar for Western Texas College for 1980-82 and consider some policy revisions at their meeting this evening.

The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. in the board room in the WTC administration building.

Policy changes up for consideration deal with the mandatory retirement age for both professional and auxiliary personnel.

Also on the agenda is the transfer of Phase II construction funds to the apartment complex fund.

Reports are scheduled on enrollment, adult vocational education, the WTC Scholarship Foundation and future facility needs.

Horse Crushes Boy

HOUSTON (AP)—Patrick Van Remoortel, 15, was crushed to death Sunday when his horse tripped during a riding school exhibition at Dewalt in Fort Bend County.

About 150 relatives had been watching students at the school when the horse failed to clear a hurdle, flipped over and crushed the boy's head and chest.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Saturday, 61 degrees; low, 27 degrees; High Sunday, 72 degrees; low, 23 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. today, 34 degrees; precipitation, none; total precipitation for 1979 to date, 1.12.

Carter Ready To Work With Iran

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter today said he has been in touch with the new rulers of Iran and "we stand ready to work with them."

Carter said the administration has been in contact with designated Prime Minister Mehdi Bazargan and that the new Iranian government was "very helpful in insuring the safety of Americans."

The president told a nationally broadcast news conference that "I see continued hope for very productive and peaceful cooperation with the new government of Iran."

Meeting reporters hours after followers of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini took control of the government of Iran, Carter said "our objective has been and is a stable and independent Iran which maintains good relations with America."

As for the affect of the takeover on U.S. oil supplies, Carter said the situation "is not a crisis, but it certainly could get worse."

If Iranian production, which once accounted for 900,000 barrels a day of U.S. oil imports, is not resumed shortly, he said, the situation "would require additional measures."

The administration is considering such conservation measures as forcing gasoline stations to close on Sunday and regulating heating and cooling levels in public and commercial buildings.

Carter said events in Iran have made it more important that Americans comply with voluntary conservation measures designed to save oil.

The president said "There is no immediate danger" to the United States from the current loss of 500,000 barrels of Iranian oil daily, but the world oil stocks are steadily being reduced. He supported Energy Secretary James Schlesinger's appeal for voluntary energy conservation.

Carter said public cooperation "early and on a broadscale basis" could insure that interruption of oil supplies because of the Iranian cutoff would be brief.

"The situation is not crucial now, it's not a crisis, but it certainly could get worse," Carter said.

Floods Kill 125

WASHINGTON (AP)-The government says 125 persons died in floods in the United States last year compared with an average of about 200 in recent years. But the 1978 figure for property damage from floods was over $1 billion, slightly above the recent average, the National Weather Service reported Sunday.

Ask Us

Q--How much is the filing fee for a school board candidate and what is a school board member's salary?

A--Zero all around. There is no fee for a candidate to file and a board member does not draw a salary.

Ranks Continue Violent Habits

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)-Iran's new revolutionary government reported today that all resistance to it by Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's armed forces has ended, but it was having trouble controlling its own supporters.

Thousands of armed youths roamed Tehran threatening symbols of the monarchy and its foreign allies as Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini appealed to his followers for order and the surrender of thousands of looted weapons.

Two generals were reported slain. Khomeini condemned "arson, destruction and cruelty" and said those indulging in such "savage acts" were "disobeying Allah's orders and are traitors to the Islamic movement."

The "provisional operational staff of the revolution" in a broadcast on Radio Tehran said "all Iranian armed forces have laid down their arms and declared their total solidarity with the revolution. There is not the slightest resistance by the armed forces."

The announcement called on the revolution's supporters "to stop surrounding barracks and government centers and not to use their weapons, except against the enemy."

An army spokesman said Gen. Abdul-Ali Badrei, a former commander of the Imperial Guard, was shot and killed as he tried to talk with a group of insurgents who surrounded the guard's barracks.

Gen. Bokrat Jafarian, the military governor of Khuzestan Province, was killed when his helicopter was shot down near Ahwaz, the spokesman said. He said he did not know who fired on the aircraft.

Meanwhile, the new government's armed guerillas, rushed to threatened sites all over the capital, trying to maintain order and ward off attacks.

They took up positions around the 13-story Intercontinental Hotel, headquarters of most of the Western press, to protect it from a crowd threatening to burn it.

Radio Tehran said another crowd was marching on the shah's Niavaran Palace "bent on burning and destroying it." The broadcast said since the revolution had triumphed, the palace was "part of the wealth and riches of the nation" and should not be harmed.

Armed youths converged on Sultanabad Barracks, on the northern side of Tehran, in response to a false report that the Imperial Guard and American military advisers were attacking supporters of the revolution there.

There were no Americans at the base. The Iranian troops there put up no resistance, and guerrilla units obedient to the provisional government kept the crowd from looting the post.

Balanced Budget Plan Gets Help From Texans

WASHINGTON (AP)-Freshman Rep. Phil Gramm learned that brevity has its advantages with fellow congressmen. The former Texas A&M economics professor was one of nine House members to introduce a resolution calling for a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution.

Gramm gained 11 cosponsors - including five Texans - for his effort that would prohibit federal deficit spending except during war or national emergency.

Gramm's resolution is 22 lines long, by far the shortest of the nine similar resolutions sent to the House Judiciary Committee for consideration.

"The concept of requiring the federal government to live within its means is a simple one... and should be short and to the point," said Gramm.

The five Texas co-sponsors are Democrats Martin Frost, Joe Wyatt, Marvin Leath and Kent Hance and Republican Jim Collins.

Democrat Jim Mattox of Dallas was named by House Budget Committee Chairman Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., to head the committee's task force on National Defense and International Affairs.

Mattox will be walking a tightrope between House members wanting a strong defense at any cost and those more concerned with trimming the federal deficit.

"My objective," said Mattox, "is to make sure that we have a lean, tight and tough defense budget."

new bonds coming

Back in 1960, Charles de Gaulle erased the highly visible evidence of a half century of French inflation.

He introduced a "heavy franc" equal to 100 of the debased old francs, then worth something like 500 to the dollar. The heavy franc quickly became the franc and the net effect of de Gaulle's fiscal sleight of hand was simply to move the decimal point two places to the left in the French currency. It was a painless monetary reform since Frenchmen were not out any real cash and rapidly adjusted to the more convenient lower denominations.

Poorly as it has been doing of late, the dollar is not a candidate for such a drastic overhauling - yet. Another pillar of the American financial system, however, is about to undergo major restructuring.

The most familiar issues of U.S. savings bonds, E and H, will be discontinued in 1980, to be replaced by new Series EE and HH. The new bonds will incorporate several changes. Purchase price of Series EE, for example, will be half a bond's face amount rather than the current 75 percent. But since the new bonds will mature in 11 years, nine months, rather than five years as at present, the interest rate remains the same - 6 percent over the life of the bond.

Something else will not remain the same, however - the denomination of the series. The lowest-priced bond henceforth will be $50; the long-familiar $25 is being retired. Also, the Treasury is raising the existing $7,500 annual purchase limitation to $15,000. There could be no clearer official recognition that the dollar isn't what it once was - to put it mildly.

Savings bonds have been something of a fiscal phenomenon for more than four decades. First offered in 1935, they really caught on with the public during World War II - the war bond program which served a double purpose. It helped fund vastly expanded federal budgets, and, by absorbing excess purchasing power on a home front short of civilian goods, curbed inflationary tendencies.

It was a different economic game after the war, however. In some quarters the bonds were seen as having an inflationary effect to the extent that the continuing public loan propped up budget deficits. Also, the 6 percent return tended to lag behind both inflation rates and interest available through banks and other savings institutions.

None of this affected the popularity of savings bonds, however. The public has continued to buy them in quantity - just short of $8 billion worth in 1978 - and they are today the most widely held of all financial paper.

The question now is whether the public is going to continue to go for the new series in such a big way. According to the Treasury, the changes being effected will strengthen the entire bond program. Obviously, from the Treasury's point of view. By more than doubling the turnover period, it will enjoy longer use of the bond-buyer's money at considerably less administrative detail and expense.

But there does not appear to be any provision for strengthening of the buyer's financial situation. The only real change is that for many low-denomination purchasers the bonds will now cost more, and they will be tying up their money for almost 12 years rather than five. And unless there is a sharp and early drop in the inflation rate - estimates for the current year are 8 percent and up - the continuing 6 percent interest rate means a net loss.

An argument might be made in such a situation that the bonds are actually having an anti-inflationary effect, but only by deliberately reducing the value of the public's investment.

Charles de Gaulle, where are you when we need you?

A Piece of the Rock

by erma bombeck

Telephone books are like dictionaries -- if you know the answer before you look it up, you can eventually reaffirm what you thought you knew but weren't sure.

But if you're searching for something you don't already know, your fingers could walk themselves to death.

The trouble with me is I never learned how to speak Yellow Pages. It's a language of the 20th century, born of frustration, nurtured by obscurity, and dedicated to the theory that by the time you find it, you no longer need it.

In the language of Yellow Pages, a rug is a "carpet," curtains are "draperies," milk is "a dairy product" and cars are "industrial automotives."

A plumber is a "plumbing contractor," an electrician is an "Electrical contractor" and hi-fi's are listed under Sound Systems and equipment.

Roaches are listed under Pest Control, exterminating and fumigating, a taco is under Mexican Food Products, a tailpipe under Mufflers and Exhaust Systems, and a pencil is under Advertising Specialists.

One of the most frustrating encounters in the Yellow Pages is trying to find a doctor, who is listed under Physicians, who are subdivided into M.D.s and D.O.s, who are also listed under Physicians and Surgeons, group, associate and corporate practice, and who aren't in anyway and whose phone is being answered by a doctor's answering service...See Physicians and Surgeons Exchange.

You should begin to worry about yourself when you begin to think like the Yellow Pages. Recently, I wanted to call a flea market and caught myself just in time. Flea market would definitely not be under F, but probably under something like Swap Meets. I turned to the W's and read, "See Flea Market."

I don't know what the answer is with the growth of private enterprise and the need to consolidate them under a general heading. But just for kicks I turned to "Survival Kits" and was hit with, "See First Aid Supplies, Sporting Goods heading."

I know this. No one will ever convince me that when Alexander Graham Bell was sitting in his Boston boardinghouse March 10, 1876, with battery acid burning his leg and shouted his first frantic message into the transmitter, "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you!" it was the despair of looking under HELP in the Yellow Pages and finding, "See batteries: Dry cell, wholesale, retail, charging and maintenance," that did it.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An armada of trucks, vans and campers line the curb for an entire city block on a downtown street here. The legends on the trucks' cabs identify their owners as "Cinema Art Transportation" or "B&A Studio Rentals."

All of the vehicles bear California license plates. Signs identify their homes as "Burbank, Calif." or "Hollywood." In a massive "Eleganza II" camper, film star Peter Sellers hides from autograph seekers behind drawn curtains.

On the sidewalk across the street from the headquarters of the federal Drug Enforcement Administration, dozens of electricians, grips, sound men and other technicians bustle around cameras mounted on massive dollies.

On this chilly February afternoon, Hollywood has come to Washington. Lorimar International is filming a major motion picture, "Being There," to be distributed by United Artists.

That street scene has been duplicated dozens of times in recent years, with this capital serving as a setting for films ranging from "Topaz" and "Vanished" to "Billy Jack Goes to Washington."

Much of "The Exorcist" was filmed in fashionable Georgetown. Parts of "The President's Analyst," "Black Sunday," "Airport," Sylvester Stallone's "F.I.S.T." and a host of others also were shot here.

The Watergate scandal spawned "All the President's Men," the saga of two Washington journalists, as well as two films adapted from books written by former White House aides - John Ehrlichman's "The Company" (filmed as the television series "Washington: Behind Closed Doors") and Charles Colson's "Born Again."

The world premier of this season's most highly promoted new release, "Superman," was held not in Los Angeles or New York but at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts on the banks of the Potomac River.

Gossip columns once devoted exclusively to the antics of "Hollywood stars" now have been expanded to chronicle the private lives of this city's politicians.

Shirley MacLaine, Sellers' co-star in "Being There," was a delegate to the 1972 Democratic National Convention. Stars such as John Wayne (on the right) and Jane Fonda (on the left) have become highly visible participants in national debates on major political issues ranging from the war in Vietnam to the Panama Canal treaties.

The Democratic party's most generous contributors and active fund-raisers include Lew Wasserman, board chairman of MCA; Steve Ross, board chairman of Warner Brothers, and Arthur Krim, former board chairman of United Artists.

In the race for the 1980 Republican presidential nomination, the man to beat is Ronald Reagan, star of "Cattle Queen of Montana," "Million Dollar Baby," "Hellcats of the Navy" and 48 other feature films before he turned politician in the mid-1960s.

"Washington," says Frank Mankiewicz, "is the Hollywood of the 1970s."

Mankiewicz ought to know. He grew up in a film family (his father, Herman, was the author of "Citizen Kane" and his uncle Joseph was a noted screen writer and director) but has been actively involved in politics for more than a decade.

"Television has turned public officials into celebrities," says John Horton, a motion picture representative here who confirms his industry's growing fascination with this city and its politicians. "Washington even has its own star system."

But Mankiewicz argues convincingly that "it's all very ominous for those who care about government, because politicians-turned-celebrities are held to no higher standards than we apply to show-business folks."

Rep. Toby Moffett, a thoughtful young Connecticut Democrat, observes that "the line between this job (being a member of Congress) and show business is a very fine line."

That line is becoming less distinct with each passing day as more and more politicians embrace a cynical philosophy that measures success or failure by "show biz" standards. None of us will benefit from "The Governance of America" in the form of a movie or weekly television series.

PISCES (Feb 20-March 20) Investigate fully before involving yourself in any collective enterprises today. A quite-revealing discovery could provide some valuable information.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If there's a big job that needs doing today, you're the one others can rely upon to do it. You'll tackle it without fear or hesitation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Any extra effort you now expend in doing something for someone will not go unnoticed. In fact, the acclaim might be overwhelming.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your creative potential today should be directed toward fulfilling a personal goal you always considered beyond reach. Your changes for success are excellent.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) An idea you've been kicking around for some time can work today if you're bold enough to take immediate action. Don't hesitate.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Although you're willing to work hard for what you want today, benefits are not likely from your efforts alone. Associate with strong allies who can help.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Things you do for yourself today might be difficult to accomplish. However, the rewards are so large you should expend your best efforts in this area.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You may have to forego an inclination to take things easy today and step quickly to protect your interests when you see others fumbling.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In a situation where you thought you couldn't come up with the answer, you'll recognize that the facts were there all the time. Now you can solve the problem.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Appreciable progress can be made today on an old hope that's been stuck on dead center, if you devote your mental capabilities to it now.

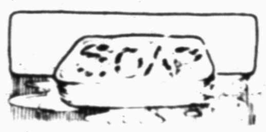

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Devote as much time as possible today to an ambitious plan of yours. Rewards will be equal to effort expended.

Knocked For A Loophole

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune N Y News Synd Inc

DEAR ABBY: Referring to the letter from a Florida CPA: He amended your advice to the woman who asked about the seriousness of her husband's practice of pocketing part of his daily income.

The CPA quotes you as saying it was indeed a serious offense, and her husband could be fined or jailed or both. Then he goes on to say that you, Dear Abby, didn't go far enough — you should have advised her that if she and her husband signed a joint federal tax return, she is equally guilty of fraud, and therefore subject to the same penalty.

Your comment: "Leave it to a CPA to catch the omission."

Well, the CPA is correct up to a point, however he didn't go far enough either! Had he read Section 6013 (e) of the Internal Revenue Code, he would know that the spouse is relieved of liability under certain conditions.

On omitted income, it reads: "The other spouse establishes that in signing the return he or she did not know of, and had no reason to know of, such omission."

C.J.S.: TAX CONSULTANT
VENTURA, CALIF.

DEAR C.J.S.: Leave it to a California tax consultant to find a loophole that was overlooked by a CPA.

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote to complain about barbers who charge bald-headed men and those with full heads of hair the same price for haircuts. She thought the baldies should pay half price.

You replied, "So how much should the barber charge the man with long hair that requires twice as much time for a haircut? Sorry, it all evens out. Anyone who feels that the trimming he's getting isn't worth the trimming he's getting should stay out of barber shops."

Gotcha, Abby! At my barber shop, in addition to the already inflated prices, they charge a minimum of $2 extra for long hair. And no discounts for baldies.

M.B.M.

DEAR M.B.M.: Your barber shop sounds like a clip joint.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has developed the habit of taking long naps (from one to three hours) almost every night when he gets home from work.

I think he is anti-social and uses these naps to avoid people.

He usually wakes up about the time most normal people are ready for bed. Then he stays up and reads, eats, watches TV, etc. He goes to sleep for the night about 1 o'clock and sleeps like a baby until it's time to get up for work. On weekends he sleeps most of the day and all night, too.

I told him I thought he ought to see a doctor, but he says there's nothing wrong with him. We're both in our early 50s.

Do you think he's just being anti-social? Or is there something wrong with a person who can't seem to get enough sleep?

SLEEPER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband appears to be sleeping far too much for a normal, healthy person. Insist that he see a physician for a thorough examination.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

INBRED GLAMOUR from Don Sophisticates by Charlotte Ford marks this striking white silk crepe de chine dress. It's further enhanced with slender asymmetrical piping in red that extends to the back of the dress.

Bottled Water Sales Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Estimated sales of American bottled water topped $224 million in 1978, up from $200 million in 1977, reports the American Bottled Water Association, made up of approximately 200 member companies that account for 90 percent of American bottled water sales.

Such sales, which totaled $128 million in 1968, have been climbing at a yearly rate of 10 to 12 percent for the past several years, according to ABWA. California alone accounts for more than half of all national sales; Florida, Illinois, New York and Texas make up more than one third of the market.

Oswald: "Waldemar von Zedtwitz, one of the greatest players in the early days of contract is 82 and while his eyesight has almost failed, it does not keep him from playing an occasional hand of bridge."

Alan: "Does he still play at all well?"

Oswald: "I played a few hands against him on a recent visit to Honolulu. He held the South hand and reached six hearts on the bidding shown in the box."

Alan: "He didn't bother with any modern gadgets in an effort to get to seven, but it is just as well that he didn't."

Oswald: "Waldy is usually a slow player and the bidding took quite a while. Waldy explained that he considered trying for seven, but decided against it because his heart suit was too weak. The really interesting feature of the hand is that after winning the first trick in his own hand he immediately played his ace of hearts."

Alan: "The perfect safety play to guarantee the contract against all card combinations. Obviously, his dummy play has not suffered from old age."

Can't make father quit

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 12 years old and I am writing to you about my dad. A couple of weeks ago I found out my father has emphysema from cigarette smoking. The doctor told him to stop smoking. Otherwise, he's eventually going to die. Now my father is only 30 years old and I am frightened of what is going to happen to him. I've told him not to smoke, but he won't listen. What should I do?

DEAR READER — I wish there was a good answer to your question. People are responsible for their own health. Doctors can't make a smoker stop smoking cigarettes and, unfortunately, neither can the person's family.

The individual has to decide himself that he wants to stop smoking. You might be a very significant factor in helping your father to decide to do this. Why don't you just tell him that it's important to you that he live a long life, that you'd like for him to be around when you grow up and have children of your own. Tell him you don't want to grow up without a father. If he knows you love him and that it's important to you, it may be just the push he needs to help him kick the habit.

I am also sending you The Health Letter number 2-6, Tobacco, Cigarettes, Cigars and Pipes. It will give you some more information on what cigarettes do to people. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed, envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Your father's health problem should be a good warning to you. Smoking parents are often the biggest reason children smoke. I'm sure your father wouldn't like for you to grow up and develop emphysema and other complications from cigarette smoking.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there anything a woman can do to make her breasts larger? My husband and I went to three doctors and all they did was laugh and tell my husband that I was pretty and very healthy. Do the breast developers advertised really work? Are they safe to use?

DEAR READER — It's no laughing matter, but don't expect much help from those highly advertised products that you have seen. They don't actually increase the size of the breasts. Some of the exercises that go along with such plans develop and strengthen the muscles behind the breast, and it is the enlargement of those muscles, not the breast itself, that may improve a woman's appearance.

Good posture helps too. Keeping the shoulders back and the chest forward improves the bustline. Of course, if a woman gains weight, she may add a little fat tissue to the breast and this makes some changes too. Unfortunately, the addition of fat isn't limited to the breast and the net results may not be so pleasing.

It depends upon how severe the problem is. If a woman has a real problem, she may be helped with implants. They are about the only real thing that will actually enlarge a breast. Implants, of course, are done by plastic surgeons who do cosmetic surgery. If it is really that important to you, why not consult such a physician about what he has available for your particular case.

Meanwhile, do the kinds of exercises that strengthen the muscles between your shoulder blades, develop good posture and at least take some pleasure in being told you're pretty.

Rig Count Off Again

Drilling activity declined again last week in Permian Basin oil fields, according to Reed Drilling Equipment's weekly survey.

The count last week showed only 220 drilling rigs making hole in the basin, compared to 232 the week before. A year ago at this time 330 active units were counted.

Eddy County, N.M., led again with 31 active units. Pecos County was the West Texas leader with 18.

Scurry County had two rigs running last week, the same as the week before. The county for other area counties, with last week and the week before, in order: Borden 3 and 3, Dawson 3 and 3, Garza 4 and 4, Howard 5 and 5, Kent 0 and 2, Mitchell 1 and 2, Nolan 0 and 1.

Many Elderly Pay Excess In Taxes

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Millions of elderly Americans pay more federal income tax than the law requires, and older people preparing their returns may need special help to cope with the Internal Revenue Service rules and regulations.

Overpayments often stem from a lack of understanding. Many men and women over 65 file returns when they don't need to; others fail to take credits they are entitled to.

The "Tax Aide" program run jointly by the American Association of Retired Persons and the National Retired Teachers Association is designed to clear up some of the confusion.

"Tax Aide" is a free counseling service available at more than 3,000 locations throughout the country. The advice is provided by 8,500 retirees, trained by the Internal Revenue Service in the areas of tax law which apply to people over 65.

Most of the "Tax Aide" counseling is done at places like senior citizen centers, libraries, shopping malls and churches; a few of the volunteers even make house calls.

For the location of the center nearest you, write to: Tax-Aide Program, Dept. NK; NRTA-AARP, 1909 K St. NW., Washington, D.C., 20049.

According to the retirement groups, authorities calculate that at least half of the nine million people over 65 who file federal income tax returns in a typical year pay more than they are required to.

Where do people go wrong?

The first chance to slip up comes when you decide whether to file a return. With a few exceptions, you are NOT required to file a federal income tax return if:

You are single, over 65 and had a taxable income, beyond Social Security and other exempt benefits, of less than $3,700.

You are married, filing a joint return, either you or your spouse is over 65 and, together, you had a taxable income of under $5,450.

You are married, filing a joint return, both you and your spouse are over 65 and your joint taxable income is less than $5,700.

You may want to file a return even if you don't have to. If, for example, you are entitled to a refund for tax withheld from salary or pension benefits, you will have to file a return to get your money.

Tax credits are another potential source of confusion. Every taxpayer is entitled to a General Tax Credit for each person claimed as an exemption on his or her return. If you are over 65, you get an extra exemption for age and, under tax law changes which took effect on 1977 returns, an extra credit.

There is also a Special Credit for the Elderly which offers savings of up to $562.50 in some cases. You must file a separate form, Schedule R, and your income cannot exceed fixed limits. Ask the IRS or a private counselor to find out whether you qualify.

Dampen Tonight's Longhorn-A&M Affair...

Mustangs Trip Aggie Cagemen

By The Associated Press

Monday night's match between Texas A&M and Texas had been billed as the winner-take-all battle to clinch the Southwest Conference basketball crown.

But the predictions have softened in the wake of the sluggish Aggies' 67-63 defeat at the hands of Texas Tech Saturday night.

And the idle Longhorns, nurturing a 10-2 record, are rested and confident going into the clash in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

The Aggies and the Red Raiders share 9-4 season standings and trail Arkansas by a game in the race for second place honors.

The number one and two teams in regular season play draw a bye into the semifinals for the SWC postseason tournament March 1-3 in Houston. The third place team goes into quarterfinals and the fourth-through-sixth place teams will host the first round of playoffs Feb. 24.

In other Saturday games, Arkansas smashed TCU 108-65 in a regionally televised afternoon game, Houston edged by Rice 75-72 and Baylor star Vinnie Johnson hit a baseline jumper with 15 seconds on the clock to win a 74-73 squeaker for the Bears over SMU.

Commenting on A&M's inability to work around a tough Tech defense, Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf said his team may be tired.

"It's another case of us playing a great second half after we get too far behind," Metcalf said of Saturday's game. "I believe we will be all right. When we hear that Aggie spirit in G. Rollie White Monday night I believe the tiredness will leave our legs. We should play a heck of a game."

A&M's 6-11 freshman center Rudy Woods was held to a frustrating 6 points against the Red Raiders.

"Rudy learned a lesson against Texas Tech: you've got to do it every day," Metcalf said of his usual high scorer. "I know Rudy. He will be ready against the Longhorns."

While the Longhorns should be rested from a light schedule, the Aggies may be remembering their last meeting when Texas crunched A&M at the Super Drum.

"I think we're going to be there, in the playoffs," Metcalf said.

Bellard To Coach At MSU

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Former Texas A&M Coach Emory Bellard has been selected as the new head football coach at Mississippi State University, sources said today.

Mississippi State University scheduled a news conference this afternoon to announce the school's new coach but a spokesman declined to confirm Bellard's selection.

"He's the new coach and there's no doubt about that," one source said. "They will make the choice known at the news conference."

Bellard, who resigned as athletic director and head football coach at Texas A&M in midseason of 1978, will replace Bob Tyler as head coach. Tyler resigned on Jan. 22, one week after being relieved as the Bulldog athletic director.

Sources said Mississippi State President James D. McComas had asked the state College Board Sunday afternoon to approve Bellard's selection. The sources said Bellard received unanimous approval in a telephone poll of board members.

Contacted Sunday at his home in College Station, Bellard said "Things will take their normal course," and that he did not want to "pre-empt" any announcement by Mississippi State.

Bellard, who devised the famed Wishbone offense in 1968, met with athletic officials, alumni and football players during a visit to the Mississippi State campus in Starkville last week.

Carl Maddox, the school's new athletic director, and members of a search committee had visited with Bellard in Texas on Feb. 5.

Sources said Bellard was expected to receive a four-year salary of $45,000 a year. They said funds from other sources, including a television show, could bring his total salary to twice that amount.

Tigers Gear For One More

SAN ANGELO--Coach Jack Stephenson's varsity Tigers will be looking for that pot of gold at the rainbow's end here Tuesday.

Fortunately, what the Tigers are seeking is more among the realm of possibility.

The Tigers, riding a 26-5 record for the season, ranked No. 4 in the state and holding a 6-1 district mark, can throw everything out the window. It all comes down to tomorrow's 8 p.m. game here against Lake View, 4-3.

A victory for the Snyder bunch would put them in the District 3-3A playoffs between Feb. 15-17. A loss would make them spectators while Lamesa, providing it defeats a weak Brownfield team Tuesday, would take the loop championship.

Lake View, 2-1 in round-two play, is led by a high-scoring brother duo of Charles and Dwain Clemons. The Clemons' have averaged 14.3 points per game each in loop play. Teammate Keith Pool has averaged 13.2.

Snyder is led, point-wise, by Sid Everton's 14.9 district average. Greg Hinton holds a 12.0 figure, followed by Richard Crayton at 10.3 and Brad Richardson at 9.0. Those four will probably get the start for Snyder, aided by either David Jackson or Mike Hicks.

A 6:15 p.m. junior varsity game will precede the contest.

Westerners Entertain New Mexico Tonight

Western Texas College's Westerners -- ranked eighth in the nation among junior college basketball teams - host New Mexico Junior College tonight in an important conference battle.

The Westerners, chalking wins over Clarendon College and Odessa last week, head into the 8 p.m. game at Scurry County Coliseum with a 10-2 conference record. NMJC, which split last week with a victory over Frank Phillips and a loss to Amarillo, is currently in the third place position in the conference with an 8-4 mark.

New Mexico Military sits second with a 9-3 record.

Tonight's battle is an important one for both WTC and NMJC which begin to hone edges for the upcoming Regional Tournament on March 7-10. The top three teams from the Western Athletic Conference will automatically proceed to the tournament, held in Big Spring's Dorothy Garrett Coliseum this year. The fourth and fifth place finishers go into playoffs to determine if they will find seeding in the tourney.

Odessa, 7-4, and Midland, 7-5, currently hold those spots, but South Plains, Amarillo and Frank Phillips have six losses each, and could make a move if any of the trio stumble.

With six games remaining, including tonight's affair, the current standings have plenty of chance for juggling, something both WTC and NMJC will be trying to avoid this evening.

WTC defeated the Hobbs, N.M. based college on Dec. 11, 100-83, but the opponent - coming on strong with a flurry of wins in mid-season - promises to provide stronger competition this time.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Dribbler Sign-Up To Begin Today

Boys interested in playing Little Dribbler basketball may begin registering from 3-7 p.m. today at the Scurry County Boy's Club.

Registration, which requires proof of age, an accompaning parent or guardian and a $3 fee, will continue through Friday.

Boys elgible for play are those who were nine years of age before Sept. 1, 1978 and not 12 before that date. These are boys who were 9-11 when school started last fall.

The boys will be divided into a Junior League (9) and a Major League (10-12).

Frosh Girls Nab 3rd In Midland Meet

MIDLAND -- Snyder freshman girls basketball team garnered third place at the Midland Christian Tournament here over the weekend.

Snyder whipped Trinity 66-47 in the first round, fell to Greenwood 32-23 in the second, and popped Amarillo Christian 54-20 for third place.

Tracey O'Day and Kelly Jones were named to the all-tourney team.

The team, 16-4 and under the direction of Coach Lynda Jackson, will play its final season game tonight, hosting Lamesa at 5.

Ira Pups Secure District Ttile

HOBBS--Ira girls, playing with the type of overpowering defense that bought their upperclassmen counterparts a championship last week, grabbed the 10-B junior high title here over the weekend, going undefeated in loop play.

The Bulldogs, who posted a perfect 8-0 record in district round-robin and tournament play, nailed Hobbs in the finals of the district tourney 30-12.

Calling his girls' effort "the best I've seen from a junior high team all season," Mickey Rundell's charges held the Panthers to only six points until late in the contest, and limited Hobbs' fine young athlete Mary Ellen Cave to just 4 points.

The girls defeated Roby in semi-final play 21-14.

Ira boys were defeated in semi-final action by Roby, which fired 33 second-half points to pop the 'Dogs 45-23.

Roby, the tournament winner, and Highland, winner of the round-robin, will meet at a later date to decide the boys' district champion.

The tournament concludes all other junior high basketball play for the season. Tonight, Ira varsity teams will travel to Highland for games beginning at 7 o'clock.

Green Takes Hawaiian

HONOLULU-Hubert Green squirted a 3-under-par 69 through rain squalls to successfully defend his Hawaiian Open golf tournament title by 3 strokes with a 267 total, 21 shots under par.

Snyder Nets Third In Tennis Tourney

BIG SPRING--Jon Smith, Connie Weber and Donna McGee aided Snyder to a third place finish in the Big Spring Invitational Tennis Tournament held here over the weekend.

Smith took the B singles championship, extending his win streak to the last eight matches, while Weber and McGee grabbed the A Division title in girls doubles. The girls have won their last 10 outings.

Tuesday the boys will travel to Lamesa for a district match. The Snyder girls play Lamesa on Thursday. The groups will be split due to a U.I.L. rule which states that no matches may be played until after school hours, thus forcing play on two dates because of the time element.

Also Thursday, Snyder's boys and six girls not participating in the district match will host Colorado City. Friday and Saturday the varsity team will participate in the Texas TTCA Regional Tournament in Andrews, meeting Andrews in Friday's opening round.

The Tigers grabbed third place here with a 59, one point behind second place finisher Fort Stockton with a 60. Big Spring took first with 66 points.

Others included Midland Lee 57, Seminole 50, Odessa 50, Big Spring JV 8 and Odessa Ector 3.

Added Push Ousts Thompson

PARKER, Ariz. (AP)— Although Mickey Thompson finished first, Marty Letner was declared the four wheel vehicle winner Sunday in the Parker 400 off-road race.

Thompson, of Wilmington, Calif., was in sight of the finish line when he blew an engine. Pushing his roadster by hand, he finished four minutes ahead, but rules say a vehicle must be under power when it finishes and race officials disqualified him after a conference.

Letner, of Downey, Calif., covered the course in 5 hours, 39 minutes in a Volkswagen Chenowth.

The overall winner was the motorcycle team of Scott Harden of Las Vegas and Brent Wallingsford of Yorba Linda, Calif.

Vandalism, Three Mishaps Reported

Two criminal mischief incidents and three traffic accidents were investigated by city police during the weekend. One of the criminal mischiefs occurred at the police station.

It was a 19-year-old man, reports indicate, who tore the commode off the wall of his cell approximately 40 minutes after he had been booked into the facility on a public intoxication charge. The incident was logged in reports at 3 a.m. Sunday.

The other criminal mischief report was filed by David Hensley who told officers two tires on a vehicle he owns had been slashed, causing an estimated $130 damage. The damage was reported at 9:15 a.m. Sunday at 2604 Ave. K.

The first of the three weekend traffic accidents took place Saturday at 5:50 p.m. It involved a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Robert Garcia Jr. and a 1975 Mercedes driven by Norman Wayne Brown of Sheppard Air Force Base. It occurred at the intersection of College Ave. and 43rd St.

The next mishap occurred at 30th St. and Ave. J about 5:30 p.m. Sunday. There, reports show, a 1977 AMC driven by Dolores Flores Rios was in collision with a 1975 Chevrolet driven by Solome Guerrero Barrera.

The final mishap of the weekend was in the 4300 block of College Ave. A 1976 Chevrolet driven by Marshall King Wilson and a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Gregory James Sullenger collided at 6:40 p.m. Sunday.

Minor damage was reported in all the collisions.

Vocational Bookkeeping Class Meets

A Vocational Education course in Basic Bookkeeping will begin meeting tonight at Western Texas College.

Mrs. Mary Killam from Snyder High School will be instructor for the course. Classes will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on Mondays through May 28. Fees will be $20 and students are to furnish a textbook costing $10.95.

Persons who wish to enroll in the course are to call 573-8511, extension 240.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ADMISSIONS: Armahdo Lopez, Rt. 3; Melody Pickering, 2101 40th; Hazel Chesser, Rt. 1, Mullin; Martha Gambol, 1800 28th; Barbara Burgess, 1500 27th; Retha Orr, 706 N. 5th; Lamesa; Zelma Wilson, 5400 Cedar Creek.

DISMISSALS: Sonya Galyean, Elvira Ramos, Lenora Brannon.

Scuba Diving Course For Youngsters

A Scuba diving course open to students as young as 12 will be offered from March 5-16 at Western Texas College.

Classes will meet from 6-9 p.m. five nights per week for the two-week period with Lee Burke and Jerry Bell as instructors. The course is open to both male and female students, and students will pay fees of $75 each. Each student will need to furnish personal equipment and the instructors will furnish the air tanks, etc.

Persons wishing to reserve space in the class are to call the Community Services office at 573-8511, extension 240. The class will be limited to 15 persons.

Suspects In Theft Held

Ray Dean Shaver and Robert Emmett Moore III, two suspects indicted last week for the alleged theft or more than $3,000 worth of oilfield equipment, have been arrested and are now being held in the Scurry County Jail.

Moore was found in Morgan City, La., and Shaver was located in Pearland, said sheriff's deputies who investigated the case. Deputies left Friday to pick the suspects up and returned to Snyder with them Sunday.

The two are alleged to have stolen some equipment from Mabee Petroleum Co. of Ira Jan. 24. The material was subsequently recovered.

Bond for the pair was set at $5,000 each.

Firemen Called

A small fire in the mobile home of Lisa Harper was doused Sunday evening.

The report was called in at 6:05 p.m., firefighters said. Damage was confined to a small area in the kitchen.

Depository Picked

Scurry County Commissioners selected West Texas State Bank to serve as depository for county funds this year following the opening of bids.

Labor Group Dubs Home Loan Hike Plan Ripoff

AUSTIN (AP) - Proposals to raise the maximum legal interest permitted on home loans by 2 percent are a "disastrous ripoff of Texas home buyers," claims the Texas AFL-CIO.

The labor organization scheduled a rally at the Capitol today to dramatize its opposition to bills that would raise the maximum amount of interest allowable on home loans from the present 10 percent to 12 percent.

"Stop the billion-dollar lobby," is the theme of the AFL-CIO's campaign against the proposals.

State AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard asserted at a Friday news conference that savings and loan associations have, in effect, gone on strike by withholding loan money until the Legislature raises the interest rate.

He said the legislative sponsors of the bill - Sen. Bill Meier, D-Euless, and Rep. Jerry Donaldson, D-Gatesville - each have received campaign contributions from supporters of the bill.

He said Meier received $21,300 in 1978 and Donaldson approximately $1,700.

Mr. Hubbard is attempting to stir up the politics of this measure rather than debate the obvious merits it has, especially to the many thousands of workers he purportedly represents that will lose their jobs if this bill doesn't pass," countered Ed Meier.

Asked if higher rates might lead to more loans and more jobs, Hubbard said, "It's not true if history repeats itself."

Lending institutions, which often borrow the money they lend to homebuyers, contend that in periods of "tight money," they cannot profitably lend money at the current ceiling rate of 10 percent. There is no indication, however, loan rates would rise to 12 percent.

A Democratic-Republican election controversy also was surfacing, with arguments over a 1980 presidential primary and proposals to move party primary elections from May and June to July and August or later.

Four bills pending in the House Elections Committee would set party elections later than present law, which calls for the first primary the first Saturday in May, followed by runoffs four weeks later.

Sen. Jack Ogg, D-Houston, plans to introduce a presidential primary bill Tuesday that was drafted for Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a Democrat. It is opposed, at least in part, by Republican Gov. Bill Clements.
