Cotton Growers Of Texas Favor Slash

MASS MEETING TO BE HERE TOMORROW

COTTON SITUATION TO BE DISCUSSED BY LOCAL FARMERS

Complying with Governor Ross Sterling's request for immediate determination of the sentiment of Texas cotton growers toward proposed legislation which would phohibit cotton planting in 1932, F. C. Adams, spokesman for a committee of farmers, has called a mass meeting of farmers for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the courthouse here.

The assembly will review the situation in cotton circles and attempt to formulate relief plans. Every farmer in Lubbock and adjoining counties is invited to attend the meeting, Adams said.

Pink L. Parrish, state senator, of Lubbock, and G. E. Lockhart, state representative, of Lubbock, are to be asked to be present. Leaders in plans for the mass session indicated they hoped for an attendance of 2,000 or more farmers.

Mr. Adams presented a petition from a group of farmers which stated:

"Recognizing the imminent need of quick action in securing necessary relief on the cotton situation, and since our governor has requested our sentiment on this question and in order to get concerted action, we request all farmers interested in this question to assemble in a mass meeting in Lubbock, Wednesday, August 26, at two p. m., at the county courthouse."

POLICE BEGIN CRIME DRIVE

SCORES ARRESTED AS NEW YORK STARTS GANG ROUNDUP

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—In a drive against crime, the police today started a roundup of suspicious characters and known gunmen. Scores were arrested.

Police vacations were cancelled. Every available detective and policeman went on duty, either in squad cars or on foot. Police cruising cars were being equipped with radio.

Mass Meeting Held

Twenty thousand persons crowded Madison Square Garden last evening in an anti-crime mass meeting. Hours before the meeting began fire officials ordered the doors closed. First plans were for a meeting in Central park. Thousands went to the park unaware of a change.

Prohibition and crooked politics were blamed by speakers for gang outbreaks.

Samuel Seabury, counsel to the legislative committee investigating city government, wrote:

"The rule of the gangster and racketeer flourishes through a corruptalliance with those who exercise political power with plunder as its only objective."

HOOVER GIVEN WICKERSHAM SOLUTION

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ATTACK ON CRIME MADE BY GROUP

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—President Hoover had before him today more than 60 concrete suggestions for a simultaneous attack from all sides on the nation's crime problem.

Each bore the seal of the Wickersham commission and represented the $500,000, two-year effort of that body to build up legal machinery to compete with modern criminality.

New Laws Required

At least 12 of the three-score recommendations would require legislative action and one a possible constitutional amendment.

With this completed work resting on the White House bookshelf, it was said authoritatively President Hoover already is evolving a plan for strengthening federal law enforcement activity. Gangster, racketeer and professional criminal would fall within the scope of this plan, which will be influenced undoubtedly by the mass of data laid before him by the commission he appointed.

Should the president confine himself entirely within the range of the Wickersham recommendations, some of the possibilities would be these:

Would Gain Economy

Economy would be gained in the administration of criminal justice through the expenditure of more money, since the annual expenditure to this end of around $347,000,000 "is of less economic importance than the losses inflicted by the criminal."

Congress would begin the consideration of a revised code of criminal procedure, seeking to remedy a commission finding of "far too many loopholes of escape for the guilty person" and too many "technicalities favorable to the accused" existing in the present code.

SENTIMENT IS FOR CUT IN ACREAGES

MASS MEETINGS HELD IN MANY SECTIONS OF STATE MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Sentiment for reduced cotton acreage appeared to be winning ground in Texas today. Cotton growers in many sections held mass meetings yesterday and passed resolutions urging Governor Ross S. Sterling to seek legislative relief for the most serious crisis they ever faced.

Cotton farmers, business men and legislators attacked the problem of over-production and the lowest prices in many years.

A group of bankers had agreed to meet in Dallas today to devise a plan of their own to cope with the situation, in the event the governor did not call a special legislative session.

Opinions Asked

Governor Sterling had called for expressions of opinion, saying he would convene the special if it was demanded and if he was assured the lawmakers would agree on some plan of control.

Reduction of cotton acreage seemed generally desired, although speakers at most of the meetings opposed the "cotton holiday" in 1932 proposed by Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

Resolutions requesting a special legislative session to enact cotton acreage reduction laws were adopted by farmers of Dawson county meeting at Lamesa, by Caldwell county farmers assembled at Lockhart, by Williamson county cotton growers at Georgetown, by Travis county farmers meeting at Austin, and by more

MACDONALD IS EITHER HERO OR "GOAT"

TAKES UP REINS OF NEW NON-PARTISAN GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—J. Ramsay MacDonald, twice socialist prime minister of Great Britain, took up the reins of non-partisan government today with the realization that either he had committed political suicide or that history would number him among the empire's great statesmen.

In some circles it was said that by going into the wilderness with a handful of followers in a desperate efort to sell the nation's financial house in order he had incurred the bitter animosity of the immensely powerful Trades Union congress and probably had won the hostility of a considerable section of the labor party executive.

It was freely commented by these observers that whatever else might happen, Mr. MacDonald never again would be the head of a labor government or even an outstanding figure among labor politicians. In advocating a slash in the dole, it was said, he had by one step cut himself off from the labor executive and from the great mass of labor trade unionism, representing the very lifeblood of the party.

On the contrary, there were those who said that by sacrificing his political ambitions for what he believed to be the ultimate good of the nation he had established himself in the hearts of the people as the man of the hour and that posterity would rank him with Gladstone and Disraeli.

OWSLEY FLAYS STERLING

MARTIAL RULE IS ATTACKED AT MEETING

GOVERNOR DENOUNCED BY FORMER LEGION COMMANDER

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—Bitter denunciation of Governor Ross S. Sterling's martial law order in the East Texas oil field filled an address Col. Alvin Owsley, former American Legion national commander, made here last night before a crowd gathered in Wooldridge park.

Owsley charged there was no necessity for martial law in the field and scouted the governor's assertion in the martial law proclamation that a "state of insurrection and riot" made necessary the suspension of civil law and the imposition of military rule.

Deficit Cited

He blamed the governor for calling out troops "when the state faces a deficit of four or five million dollars" and further protested the presence of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, "general counsel for the Texas company," as commandant of troops in the oil field.

"If the army of Texas was necessary to fix the price of oil, then we need an army to go out, draw bayonets and turn machine guns on farmers of the state to raise the price of cotton, corn, oats, wheat and hogs."

Royalties Injected

Speaker criticized Governor Sterling and his associates for accepting advance royalties from the Humble Oil & Refining company on properties in the Moss Dome field which W. S. Farish, president of the Humble company, testified before the legislative oil investigating committee amounted to approximately $400,000.

C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls followed Owsley as speaker, attacking Governor Sterling for asking the legislature to create an appointive oil and gas commission.

He predicted the militia would be kept in East Texas until a certain major oil company "gets its pipeline completed."

SOLON ATTACKS CIGARET AND PEDDLERS TAX

DALLAS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Representative Jack Keller declared today he had never seen two more unnecessary laws than those those on cigarets and peddlers. Keller volunteered his legal services free to any Dallas Peddler arrested for not paying the tax and unable to employ an attorney.

He blamed "big business" for passage of the cigaret tax, in the hope that certain industries would avoid being taxed.

"Texas, before passage of the three-cent cigaret tax, was already paying the United States government $18,000,000 yearly on cigarets," Keller said. "Surely this is enough tax on one commodity. The state tax will affect more than 60 per cent of the population."

Keller said the peddlers represent the most humble, honest toilers in the state. He could see no reason for their being taxed for the privilege of earning a living.

LIMITED KNOWLEDGE OF PILOTING USED TO MAKE ESCAPE

(By The Associated Press)

LONE PINE, Calif., Aug. 25.—A father who stole an airplane and used his limited knowledge of piloting to fly away with his two small children whom he had forcibly taken from his estranged wife was believed hiding in the Inyo mountains today after effecting a safe landing in a dry lake bed.

The father, Henry Billingsley, 40, left two notes in the abandoned airplane demanding immunity from prosecution and that his wife agree to return to him. The notes were found last night after the plane was recovered, virtually undamaged in the lake bed, four miles from here.

Billingsley got possession of the plane at Bishop, Calif., yesterday by taking the children to the airport there for a ride. He seized the controls and roared away while the pilot who was to have taken him aloft stood nearby.

Threats Made

Previously he had called at the home of his estranged wife and removed the boys, calling back that he intended to take them up in an airplane and "kill everybody." Fliers at Bishop said Billingsley had handled the controls of a plane only twice before, and never had flown alone.

USE OF WOMEN TO HELP DRY AGENTS GATHER EVIDENCE IS TO BE PROBED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The prohibition bureau has undertaken two separate investigations into the use of women by federal dry agents in obtaining evidence against liquor law violators.

Prohibition Director Woodcock announced yesterday he would carefully investigate charges made by Representative March, Democrat, Illinois, that dry agents in East St. Louis were associating and using lewd women to gather evidence.

An inquiry is to be made also, he said, into reported statements by Andrew McCampbell, prohibition administrator in New York that "ladies must and will be used" and not women of ill repute in enforcing the prohibition law there. McCampbell was quoted as saying also he was opposed to using women as "stool pigeons" and "decoys" but that employment of "ladies" to gain entrance for his agents in making raids was necessary.

Declaring that he was "absolutely opposed to the use of women in any way in enforcing this law," Director Woodcock said "no federal funds will be used to pay women informers if I can help it." He added their use "is out of the picture" and that he was sure McCampbell had not intended to run counter to suggestions from officials here.

LINDBERGHS PLEASE NEMURO NATIVES BY SHOWING LIKENESS FOR RAW FISH

(By The Associated Press)

NEMURO, Japan, Aug. 25.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, resting here in preparation for the conclusion tomorrow of their flight to Tokyo, found time today for sightseeing and gained friendship of the native inhabitants by expressing a likeness for Sashimi or raw fish.

Sashimi was served Monday at a dinner given in their honor by Mayor Andos. It is eaten dipped in black soya bean sauce with plenty of finely grated horseradish.

When the program for their entertainment was arranged two weeks ago, it was believed they would stay here only one day and plans were made accordingly. With that program over, the Lindberghs had today to themselves.

In the morning, Colonel Lindbergh tuned up the plane's motor in preparation for the hop tomorrow to Tokyo while Mrs. Lindbergh took a three-mile automobile ride and visited the Ochiishi radio station at the invitation of Takeji Katahira, chief of the station.

She compared notes with the radio operators with whom she had been communicating more or less since the hop from Nome, Alaska.

OIL MEN LOOK TO HEARING FOR HELP

FORAN URGES DAILY PRODUCTION UNDER 250,000 BARRELS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—E. V. Foran, technical advisor of the central proration committee, today recommended to the Texas railroad commission that daily production in the East Texas field be held to between 225,000 and 250,000 barrels.

Foran testified that 325,000 barrels daily would be too much and would too rapidly deplete the reservoir pressure and other oil producing energies of the field.

Dangers Cited

The danger of water encroachment from an allowable above his figure was stressed by Foran, who testified that disorderly development and withdrawals had caused premature showing of water in numerous parts of the field.

He was the only witness at the hearing.

Foran said he believed it was necessary to set an allowable for the entire field rather than an allowable for each well since the producing energy of the field was vitally affected by each well's operations.

"The greatest ultimate recovery can be obtained from the field only by restricting the output from the entire area to conserve the energy and obtain a minimum of waste," Foran said.

Oil men looked to the commission meeting here today, hopeful its newly-granted power would prove strong enough to harness the East Texas oil field, a new and unruly giant which smashed the nation's petroleum market.

Has New Powers

The commission was empowered by a recently enacted conservation law to control physical waste. It's new proration orders can consider only that phase, without regard to price considerations.

Although crude prices have bounded upward to a top of 68 cents a barrel since Governor Ross S. Sterling placed the East Texas field under martial law more than a week ago, oil men were fearful lest a

CHINA TO AID ITS VICTIMS

MILLIONS SUFFERING IN FLOODED AREAS OF THE NATION

BY GLENN BABB

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25 (AP)—The government moved today to aid the tens of millions of flood victims in central China.

T. V. Soong, chairman of the flood relief committee and minister of finance, said the government is contemplating cash purchases of foodstuffs, in addition to credit purchases, to the extent of about $50,000,000 Mexican ($10,000,000 gold.) He declared the government must assume the responsibility for about $60,000,000 Mexican for immediate relief requirements.

The Associated Press learned that the Chinese government intends to address a new request to Washington, seeking more liberal terms in connection with the proposed sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China by the United States farm board.

Meanwhile Hankow, center of the flood area, entered its second stage of privation today when the meat supply failed. Since the vegetable supply was exhausted several days ago, the populace has been depending on grain.

Cannon Cables An Answer To Critics

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, jr., in a cable today from London, charged the senate's inquiry into his 1928 anti-Smith campaign activities was a "purely personal attack by a vindictive Virginia Democrat and a Boston congressman under Roman Catholic domination" and not an attempt to frame remedial legislation.

The message was sent to the senate campaign funds committee as it prepared to resume its inquiry into the Southern Methodist churchman's use of $65,300 in Virginia in 1928 against Alfred E. Smith.

Frock Must Match The Hat's Mood

(Costume from Bonwit Teller)

BY JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

Hats really are at the very top of the fashion picture th's year. It is necessary for a frock to have a perfect understanding of the hat's mood if the two are going to form a harmonious ensemble.

This Empress Eugenie hat of black felt, with its audacious tilt and luxurious ostrich plume, is designed for the opera, matinee, afternoon bridge parties, or tea. A black velvet frock is p[illegible] as the type of dress most in keeping with the spirit of the hat. The neckline, which is square, uses a generous four-inch band of white ermine as a decorative feature. There is a suggestion of the Empire influence at the waist, which is belted with fine wooden buttons, woven in a pattern and tied at the back. The hips are molded and the skirt is full and flowing.

Miss Bacon will be honored Wednesday afternoon at a 1 o'clock bridge luncheon to be given by Miss Sylva Wilson and Mrs. J. O. Ballinger in the latter's home at 2113 9th street.

NOT THE young men and women sent to college, but those who go are going to contribute most to human welfare. That youth who has a burning zeal to go through college and the necessary mentality and qualities of character to think through a college program and beyond it through a vocational program, and has the stuff in him to stick by those programs, is the one who will profit most from higher education. Some there are with good minds, from homes favored by the necessary economic means, who also have acquired habits of work and have a driving purpose and a sense of responsibility. These get from college about the best it has to offer. They go to college; they are not sent. I fancy that for them there is more real character development than for those who by dint of poverty always had to struggle.

I know something about struggle for a college education. I suppose I carried on because I did not know any better. The habits of self-denial and hard work I had developed from early childhood. Of course, I owe a great deal to my parents for these habits, maybe everything. I have a notion that I would have got more from college had I not been forced to make quite so great sacrifice. There is a deal of satisfaction from earning one's way through college with it is a feeling of victory. But there is a stage of struggle beyond which come lessening returns.

I did not have enough fun and play at college. I did not get enough socially. If I had, while at college, done less for money, and had instead, extended my college period over more years, taking one or two years off to earn the necessary money, the results might have been better. Of course I do not know. Having set out ot earn, I might have failed to return to college to finish the work.

For those students waiting on tables, caring for furnaces, and doing countless other jobs while at college, I naturally have a vast deal of respect. Some, however, feel themselves forced to do too much. They have undertaken the program without knowing what is ahead and, having once launched upon it, carry on, neglecting their health or their studies, or social life, or all of them. They may be always tired. Some break down under the strain. A few colleges and universities are now wisely limiting the number of credit hours a student may do, much regular outside work is allowed to take.

That student who has worked out a program safe for his mental and social health, acquiring good habits of work, sending his money wisely making reasonable self-sacrifices, keeping in close touch with his family who also has been sacrificing with him, gets as a rule a high degree of personal satisfaction. Whether at college or at home that program is best when all work together, none leaning too heavily upon any other family member. Think them of the pleasures to the home-folk who care most. I can think of no richer joys to parents than those which come from seeing their sons and daughters going through college or fitting themselves for life in a way that is worthy of the sacrifices and ambitions of these parents.

A word about the student at college who sets himself too high standards of school achievements. He might be very healthy and happy as an average student whereas to try to climb to the level of the upper 10 or 20 per cent of his class might cost him far too much. What is left when health is lost?

Show Trims Chic

Larly fall will usher in a variety of interesting trims for shoes.

The upper shoe is of kid and has the strap lowered to give the new open-ankle effect, and a single strip of python trims the side.

The opera pump in the center is in dark green kid and shows the tendency for a higher throat cut. The side and throat trim is in bright green mirror finish k'd.

Below is a walking oxford in brown kid with an interesting effect achieved by eyelets which reveal a lining of lighter shade.

Out-Of-Town Folk Guests For Affair

Misses Dorlene and Leola Wofford entertained Monday evening with a swimming party and picnic at Silver Falls lake, near Crosbyton, complimenting their guest, Doris Braudt, of Plainview. The party met at the home of the hostesses, 2003 9th street, and went from there to the lake. Upon their return in the evening, they attended a picture show.

Mothers of the hostesses and honoree, Mrs. F. E. Wofford and Mrs. Hattie Braudt of Plainview, accompanied the party to Crosbyton.

Other guests included Elsie Rankin and Sandriea Kiker of Plainview, Rumpell and Marguerite Norwood of Fort Worth, Constance Rivenour and Chilloune Ramesdell of Amarillo, Elaine Sewell of Los Angeles, Calif., Hugh Robertson, Carrie Davis and David Braudt of Plainview, Tommie Chatham and Billy Barnes of Fort Worth, Reggie Stiles, Delma Melver and Bill Crawford of Amarillo, Berry and Bob Conaway of Plainview.

AIRSHIP TESTS FUEL

WASHINGTON. — The world's largets non-rigid airship has been constructed for the Navy and will probably be used in testing fuel gas as motive power some time in 1931. The ship, the "ZRS-4," has cost about $150,000. It contains 320,000 cubic feet of lifting gas. It measures 220 feet in length and 54 feet in diameter. It is 71 feet in height.

Surplus coffee holdings in Brazil this year are so large that thousands of pounds are being burned for fuel.

McDowell Society Meets Tomorrow

Young people who were to have met this evening for the organization of a McDowell music club, are to meet on Wednesday evening, instead, Mrs. L. J. Von Tungeln announced this morning. The meeting will be at 8 o'clock Wednesday on the mezzanine floor of Hotel Lubbock.

The McDowell club is to be a junior music society composed of high school and college people. Mrs. J. C. Powell will be sponsor and Mrs. Von Tungeln, as president of the Lubbock Music club, is assisting in the organization. Meetings will be conducted monthly at Hotel Lubbock, according to pre-organization arrangements.

SANTA FE PLANS DELIVERY SYSTEM

The Santa Fe railway expects to begin shipper-to-door delivery on South Plains by October 1, it is reported in railroad circles although no official announcement has fixed the date.

On the Slaton division between 75 and 80 towns will be affected by the new order. All "l.c.l. shipments" or package shipments will be delivered free within a radius of 300 miles of the point of origin.

Whether the order will include inter-state as well as intra-state shipments, is not known, railroad men state. Lubbock receives inter-state shipments from both Oklahoma and New Mexico within the 300 mile radius.

The Santa Fe is one of a score of southwestern railroads that asked the Interstate Commerce commission several months ago to be permitted to put the store-door delivery service into operation. Under the plan railroads will pick up from shippers' docks or warehouses and deliver to the receiver, free of charge, packages for towns 300 miles or less from the point of origin. For packages shipped distances in excess of 300 miles a charge of ten cents is authorized.

WEST TEXAS MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION TO BACK FIGHT FOR LOWER GAS RATES

MIDLAND, Aug. 25. (Special). —The West Texas Municipal association probably will move to force natural gas rates downward if the 46 municipalities granted partial reductions by the West Texas Gas company are not satisfied with the rate cuts, Mayor Leon Goodman of Midland said Monday. He is president of the association.

Goodman said he had written members of the association of his purpose to back litigation in the event the new schedule of rates does not meet with general approval.

"We can accept the new rate structure, which will settle the question for the present, or we can litigate," he said. "Should the majority of the members find this new schedule unsatisfactory, I will without further delay, start litigation to reduce the rate to at least 50 cents a thousand feet.

"If litigation is started the expense will be prorated among all members served by the West Texas Municipal association who join in this action on the basis of population," Goodman explained.

The president accented the necessity of the towns advising him immediately on what they desired. He stated that the rate was not sufficiently reduced to be of material benefit, but the reduction at least brings the gas question to a definite issue.

One reply to Goodman's query had been received. It was from Abernathy. That town is not satisfied with the reduction, the president of the regional association said.

The new winter rate announced by the West Texas Gas company provides for a charge of 67 1-2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the first 6,000 feet, the same as the old rate. Above 6,000 cubic feet to 50,000 cubic feet, the rate is 57 1-2 cents per 1,000 feet, a reduction of 10 cents.

It is estimated that 10,000 persons die in the world every day.

LUBBOCK HUBBERS MEET LEVELLAND UNDER LIGHTS TONIGHT

SPYING ON SPORTS
BY COLLIER PARRIS

Congratulations to Fred Stanton and best wishes. He has taken over the management of the Lubbock Hubbers and henceforth will be known as the Hubber boss. Already Fred has done more than any other man in town toward keeping the club together and partially satisfied. His lunch counter, always open to the Hubber eaters, has not profited but Fred the man has.

Under the new management, the Hubbers will continue to play from three to five games weekly, and admission prices will be slashed, players will be paid and games with outstanding teams will be scheduled. This does not mean that clubs will come from long distances. The best semi-pro clubs of the state are in this immediate sector. Levelland, for instance, winner of the recent Wolfforth tournament and winner over Lubbock last week, will be here tonight for a go-round with the Hubbers, the game starting at 8:30 o'clock. Lamesa probably will come Wednesday night and the Tahoka boys are thought to be coming for a series Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Dirty Waller will remain in charge of the team's activities on the field, and a better man is hard to find for the job. Dirty has had just too much to do, too big a responsibility in the past. Now that he is out from under it he can direct the team more gracefully and we'll bet our bottom dime that you see some better baseball for the remainder of the season.

Weldon "Art Shires" Chapman, Lubbock High school head mentor and one of the best in the southwest, returned from his deep sea fishing trip this weekend and yesterday afternoon saw some potential Westerners in uniform cavorting over Fair Park field, and there you are. The football season is on! Daily, maybe twice daily, from now on Chappo will have his boys out on the field and the Lubbock High school grid mill will be in its 1931 grind. Power to the new coach and to his boys. We're going to have a fair football team, and we're not trying to hide anything under clouds of gloom. It won't be a world beater but along about December 1 we'll tell you what kind of a team it really is.

Few, if any, baseball victories have given the doctor of this department more pleasure than that scored by Dirty Waller's second stringers Sunday afternoon. We have the laugh, a big haw-haw, on two groups of ball players and two reasons for feeling happy.

As everybody who saw Sunday's game and a number who didn't know, the backbone of the Hubber club skipped out Sunday morning for Brownfield where they allied with the Brownfield club in a semi-pro tournament. They left Manager Waller high and dry and with a tough assignment facing him in the afternoon. "Too bad," the boys must have said as they checked out. "Dirty'll get the pants beat off him this afternoon because WE'RE not there."

So said Ed Hambright, the Rudy Valee of the Hubber club; "Evo" Marshall, slugging outfielder; Shorty France, sensational shortstopper; "Blue-Eyes" Graham, who had been previously slated to pitch Sunday's game here, and Pope, lanky first baseman. And leaving their manager holding the sack they pulled out. Red Gaither, one of the most valuable men on the club, was vacationing in New Mexico.

But Manager Waller took a plucky bunch of rookies and spanked Vernon 9 to 2 Sunday afternoon, so the horse-laugh is on the self-styled aces who sold their services to an out of town club, and on Vernon itself, who just knew it would win Sunday's game. And that victory pulled this department out of a hole, too, and don't think we don't appreciate it.

Big Galey was there Sunday and he played his usual masterful game. There is no doubt about Galey's being the most valuable man of the Hubber club. He's the greatest hustler on the team, one of the best hitters and a champ behind the platter. Anything we can do for the big boy we're glad to do, and we admire his steady pluck and speed. For a big man he gets around like a dart and seldom does a foul ball hit the dirt between the plate and the grandstand. It's dangerous to take second when Galey is behind the bat.

Lubbock might have lost that Sunday game if the regulars had been here, then again the Hubbers might have beaten the Cardinals so badly that a fan would not have been left in the stands. Vernon is capable of playing better ball than was displayed here Sunday, though we doubt if the brand of baseball in the lower Panhandle hardly stands up to that of this section. The thrill of Sunday's game was in seeing the underdogs come out to win a game battle.

FIFTY WESTERNER HOPEFULS REPORT

LOCALS AFTER REVENGE FOR TROUNCING

CLUB UNDER CONTROL OF FRED STANTON; ADMISSION CUT

The Lubbock Hubbers, under new management, will meet the Levelland Bearcats tonight at Merrill Park in the first game of the week. Tomorrow night they clash with the Lamesa Loboes and a series with the Tahoka Bulldogs has been tentatively scheduled for Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Hubber club went under new management yesterday when, at the request of H. D. (Dirty) Waller, former skipper, Fred Stanton, local cafe man, took over the official reins. Stanton will have charge of the business department and will look to the scheduling of games, the paying of players and the safeguarding of the team against disbandment. The new manager plans to inaugurate several changes in the Hubber custom, and tonight will see at least one of the changes in vogue. Admission prices have been slashed and for men tonight the admission rate will be 35 cents and 25 cents for women.

The Bearcats of Levelland, champions of the Wolfforth tournament and one of the stronger clubs of this section, defeated Lubbock last week and come back with the intention of making it two in a row over the locals. The regular Hubber lineup has been promised as the home defense tonight, those players who deserted last Sunday to play in the Brownfield tournament having served notice of their intention to return here to play Levelland. Greer Dickey probably will get the pitching assignment.

Dirty Waller will remain in charge of the team's activities on the field, though he will be relieved of the responsibilities of handling the affairs. He will continue to play when needed and will devote his time to directing the teamwork on the field.

TO SETTLE TURF SUPREMACY SOON

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—The question of supremacy of the turf is slated to be settled Sept. 5 at Saratoga Springs when Sun Beau, the world's leading money winner, and Mate and Twenty Grand, the two ranking three-year-olds of the year, clash in the fifty-first running of the Saratoga cup.

The mile and six-furlong test over the Spa oval will carry more honor than riches but it should furnish a definite line on the three outstanding horses of the year. Mate and Twenty Grand, which have met a trio of three-year-old specials with the former holding the advantage, will have an eight-pound pull in weights but Sun Beau oft times has proved he can carry plenty of pounds.

Willis Sharpe Kilmer, owner of Sun Beau, has a special desire to see his six-year-old campaigner, winner of more than $332,000, gallop down past the judge's stand in front of the two three-year-olds and any other horses that may decide to test the big three.

GOOD SHOOTING FEATURES MEET

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 25 (AP)—The North American clay target championship was scheduled today in the second day's firing of the thirty-second annual Grand American championship and handicap tournament of the Amateur Trapshooting association.

Brilliant shooting featured the classic's opening yesterday, in which 506 marksmen competed for six class championships of North America.

Carl Maust of Lincoln Park, Mich., shattered 199 of 200 targets to win the class AA title yesterday against competition from the nation's crack shots.

With a score equally as good as in the class AA firings, Fred Harlow of Newark, O., Grand American champion in 1908, won the class A championship with 199 out of 200 birds.

Clarence F. Booher, Dayton, O., won the class B event with 196, and J. W. Paddock of Rock Island, Ill., bested the field in the class C firing.

MOORE RE-SIGNED

FORT WORTH, Aug. 25 (AP)—Eddie Moore, veteran Fort Worth center fielder released several weeks ago, was re-signed Monday afternoon by the Panthers.

An English biologist has discovered that tear fluid is an exceedingly powerful destroyer of bacteria.

PACIFIC ACES PROVE VALUE

MAHAFFEY AND GOMEZ LOOKING GOOD FOR YANKEES AND A'S

BY EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer

A spindley left-hander and a tall right hand sharpshooter, both from the Pacific coast league, are proving better and better arguments, as the season wears on, in favor of the fancy prices the west coast youngsters command in the major league baseball market.

Consider the left-hander, Vernon Gomez, late of the San Francisco Seals, polished a bit last season in St. Paul, and now ace of the Yankee pitching staff. In a year when the Yank hurling eccentricities have sent peppery Joe McCarty home to mope over his victuals, Comez has been the savior of many a good evening meal.

Wins His Sixteenth

Yesterday he turned in his 16th victory of the season, and 8 to 5 conquest of Chicago that ran the Yankee winning streak to six, a new high for the team this season.

The right-hander, Leroy Mahaffey of Connie Mack's staff, turned in an even more stylish performance to win his fourteenth victory of the season against only two defeats. The 129 graduate from Portland, Ore., limited the St. Louis Browns to five hits and won 5 to 1.

Detroit pulled up out of the American league cellar and the White Sox were plunked to the bottom of the list as the Tigers nosed out Washington in a free hitting struggle, 6 to 5. The Tigers reached the height of sixth place when the Boston Red Sox crumbled under Cleveland's pounding, 11 to 7, and fell back a notch ahead of Chicago.

Cubs Down Giants

Rain obliterated all but the battle of the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs for second place in the National league. The Cubs piled on Clarence Mitchell for five runs in the fourth inning of the first game and picked up three more to win for Bob Smith, 8 to 4.

In the second game Bill Terry hit his second homer, this time in the ninth inning with the score tied one-one, and he broke up a pitching tussle between Guy Bush and Freddy Fitzsimmons to give the Giants a 2 to 1 victory.

INDIANS NOW ROAD CLUB

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The San Antonio Indians, Texas league tail-enders and drawing poorly, have been made a road club for the rest of the season. The league today aproved transfer of the remaining home games on the Tribe's schedule, the Labor Day doubleheader to Galveston, and the three closing contests, September 11, 12 and 13, to Houston.

CAN HE HIT?

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Comiskey park home of the Chicago White Sox, has been a rich pasture for Babe Ruth during the first three games of the Yankees' series in Chicago.

A compose "box score" of the Babe's hitting is:

	AB	R	H	BB	Pct
Mr. Ruth	11	5	8	5	.727

The collection also includes homers number 35, 36 and 37.

LUBBOCK HIGH TRAINING IS UNDER WAY

COACH CHAPMAN PUTS PROSPECTIVE STARS THROUGH WORKOUT

Head Coach Weldon Chapman returned from a vacation Sunday in time to get the rumor around that Monday morning would see football equipment issued to prospective 1931 Lubbock High school Westerners. The result was a turnout of more than 50 husky young men who donned the Black and Gold to cavort over the Fair Park gridiron for more than two hours of light drill and fundamental plays.

The football season, so far as Coach Chapman and Lubbock High school are concerned, is on.

To Practice Daily

Practice for the 1931 Westerners will be held each day from now on, Chapman said yesterday, with perhaps two workouts daily after the boys are limbered up. Chapman will not conduct a training camp out of town this summer but will direct all training activities on the Fair Park field.

A number of spectators were on hand yesterday to see the Westerners go through their initial workout. Coach Chapman has not suggested the rules to be followed in regard to visitors but it is likely that when serious business is under way no visitors will be permitted within the sacred precincts.

Prospects Not Bad

After looking over his prospects yesterday in uniform, Chapman observed that "they don't look so hot now, but with a little wearing down and some good practice we should be able to tell more about them. With the men left over from last year, and several likely looking prospects coming up from the Pioneer ranks, not to speak of some who have not heretofore played with Lubbock, things could look a whole lot gloomier."

PLAN BOXING AND WRESTLING HERE

With the completion of a gymnasium and ringside and the booking of two professional wrestlers as a main event, the first serious move toward the establishing of boxing and wrestling as regular entertainment in Lubbock has been made.

Joe Blinn, local business man, and the Lubbock Community Chest have conspired to open a gymnasium and promote amateur boxing and wrestling and professional wrestling. An arena has been constructed at 401 Avenue H, on the Amarillo highway across the avenue H underpass, and beginning today Manager Blinn will receive registrations by local boxers who wish to receive free training and appear in a public ring.

The first card open to the public, following an elimination tournament, will be held on the night of September 4, according to present plans, and on that night a professional wrestling match between Tony Gardini, 200-pound heavy from Roswell, N. M., will clash with Chief Mike Stine, an Oklahoma Indian, in the feature.

All local amateurs are requested to register at the gymnasium as early as possible in order to enter an elimination tournament. All weight divisions will be grouped and finalists in each group will take part on the program early next month.

Fifteen New Head Coaches In East

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Fifteen new head football coaches take up their jobs in the eastern sector alone this year, faced with unusual difficulties accruing from a year of athletic unrest.

The turnover, representing approximately 20 per cent of the 71 colleges and universities canvassed by the Associated Press, is the largest on record in the east. It is conspicuous for the reason that the shifts involve such outstanding institutions as Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Navy, West Virginia and Rutgers. Thirteen head coaches, who took hold of their jobs in 1930, hold over for a second term.

Only four of the 71 eastern head coaches for 1931 have served more than ten years.

To Resume Doubles Tennis Meet Today

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP)—Opening matches of the national doubles tennis championship tournament, postponed on account of rain, were expected to get under way today.

Four national team championships and a woman's invitation competition will be decided during the week.

Between downpours yesterday Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, and Bruce Barnes, Austin, Texas, won a first set from Fred and Don Nixon, Provo, Utah, and ran up a three-love lead in the second.

Chapman-Reynolds Foot Race Today

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—That 100-yard foot race between Ben Chapman of the New York Yankees, leading base stealer of the major leagues, and Carl Reynolds, fleet White Sox outfielder, was up for decision today.

Chapman, who got Babe Ruth "out of the barrel" several weeks ago after the Babe had lost several wagers on other Yankee players in sprint races, and Reynolds, whom the White Sox believe is the fastest man in the American league, yesterday signed an agreement with Secretary Harry Grabiner of the Sox, to meet just before today's game at Comiskey park.

Ruth lost money betting on other Yanks, but backed Chapman to beat Allen "Dusty" Cooke, until then regarded as the fastest man on the Yankee squad and came away with a profit.

STRONG FIELD IN WOMEN'S TOURNEY

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug 25 (AP)—Mrs. George Tyson, the queen of western golf, found herself closely hemmed in by a smart field today, as she began defense of her western women's golf championship.

Her first rival in the match play battle was Mary Elizabeth Ford, a rising young star from Kansas City, whom she was expected to overcome.

Among the serious contenders wedged in the upper bracket were Mrs. O .S. Hill of Kansas City, 1929 champion ,Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Los Angeles 1929 finalist and Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, one of the nation's front ranking stars.

One of the most formidable rivals for the crown now worn by Mrs. Tyson, however, headed the lower bracket—Mrs. Leona Pressler, of San Gabriel, Calif., who captured the championship medal yesterday with a par 79.

TWENTY-FIFTH GAME COPPED BY "DIZZY"

FOUR CLUBS REST ON MONDAY; SPORTS LOSE TO BUCS

(By The Associated Press)

Yesterday was a light day in the Texas league. Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Beaumont enjoyed a day of rest because of doubleheaders Sunday.

However, Jerome "Dizzy" Dean of the Houston Buffaloes won his 25th game this season by beating Wichita Falls 1 to 0. Ash Hillin opposed Dean and hurled brilliant baseball. He limited the league leaders to four hits. Dean allowed six hits, but the league's leading hurler in games won, was airtight in the pinches.

It required eleven innings for Galveston to beat Shreveport 2 to 1. On a play at home plate, Winegarner of Shreveport and April of Galveston collided. Both suffered scalp wounds that forced their removal from the game. Although knocked unconscious, April held to the ball to retire Winegarner which prevented the tying run.

SEVENTEEN THOUSAND FANS SEE JACK DEMPSEY KNOCK OUT TWO OPPONENTS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25 (AP)—A crowd of 17,864 fight fans paid $27,295.50 here last night to see Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, knock out two of four opponents in an exhibition appearance.

Still carrying a little extra flesh, Dempsey nevertheless showed speed and the power was not gone from his left.

He used his right to drop Big Bill Hartwell, Boston negro, for nine counts, and the left to the side of Hartwell's head to finish the first opponent in a total of a little more than one minute in the ring.

Denny Lenhart of Portland stayed two rounds with the Manassa mauler.

Having disposed of but three opponents in four rounds, whereas four had been provided, Dempsey agreed to go two more rounds with Bob Mariels of Portland, the fourth. Mariels stayed for both stanzas, although Dempsey staggered him once.

Tennis Tournament In Third Rounds

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Southwest Texas tennis tournament moved into the third rounds today with Earl Taylor of Austin and Gilbert Denman of San Antonio slated for the feature singles bout.

Taylor did not participate in singles play yesterday, but teamed well with Quinn Connelley of Houston to triumph over Lieutenants Land and Easton of San Antonio, in the doubles division, 6-0, 6-2.

The Taylor-Connelley team is seeded number one.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY — THROUGH THE CAMERA'S EYE

Maddened Bull Turns The Tables On His Tormentor

This exceptional action picture of a bull-fight in Madrid, Spain, shows how the bull reversed the usual procedure by charging the picador's horse and tossing the picador to the arena. It wasn't planned to happen that way but even a harassed bull may sometimes do the unexpected. Note as the picador falls he is dropping his pike, which he was using to irritate the bull.

She May Wed

Threatened with deportation because she has overstayed her residence permit, Janina Smolinska, above, who was "Miss Poland" in the 1928 international beauty contest, is seeking permission to go to Europe to marry an American citizen, then to return to the United States legally.

First Movie Studio On Coast Stages Comeback

Film history was made in this old building, the Essanay plant, at Niles, near Oakland, first real movie studio in California. In the old days the place was managed by "Broncho Billy" Anderson, of cowboy flicker fame, and among the actors were Charlie Chaplin and Ben Turpin. Relegated to oblivion for several decades, the studio is to be reopened as an auxiliary unit for studios in Los Angeles. It probably will be used as a base for western pictures, as several large cattle ranches are about five minutes ride from the studio. Turpin is at left, Chaplin right, Anderson center.

Brought ashore in a state of collapse, Lady Mountbatten was not revived for some time.

Another Record

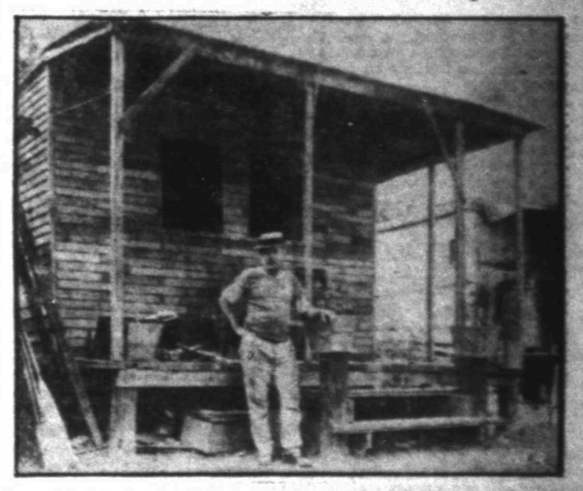

Another record's been chalked up for the towering Empire State Building, New York. Besides being the world's tallest building, it's the greatest lightning rod in existence. Three times during a severe electrical storm did lightning strike the mooring mast, 1,250 feet above the ground, and envelop it in flames for an instant. This picture illustrates how the building looked when struck.

Coxey Wins at Last

Gen. J. S. Coxey, famed throughout the nation as the leader of "Coxey's army" of unemployed, is on the verge of political success at the age of 76. He defeated five other aspirants for the Republican mayoralty nomination at Massillon, O., the first election he has ever won. The nomination is regarded tantamount to election.

He is out on a $15,000 bail pending appeal of the sentence of four years in the federal penitentiary, at Atlanta, and a fine of $11,000 for violating the prohibition law and owning and operating a still. Federal Judge Richard J. Hopkins of Topeka, Kas., left, an ardent prohibitionist, in sentencing Diamond, right, pointed out to the government prosecutors that he also was guilty under the Jones 5 and 10 law and had committed various other violations of the law. Below is a view of the Atlanta penitentiary.

Thought For Today

Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, withersoever thy face is set.—Ezekiel 21:16.

The power of uncontrollable decision is of the most delicate and dangerous nature.—James A. Bayard.

Civilization

It sometimes almost seems as if the present depression is simply part of the price we have to pay for the privilege of our civilization.

This thought is called to mind by a passage in Stuart Chase's recent book, "Mexico."

Mr. Chase tells of visiting a seaport in Yucatan. Business men there told him that conditions were terrible. Goods weren't moving, merchants were going broke, trade was at a standstill—the depression," in short, was at its zenith.

Then Mr. Chase asked them if there was not a great deal of distress in the villages and towns back of the seaport. To his amazement, he learned that the great mass of the inhabitants did not know there was a depression. No one was hungry; no one lacked shelter; no one needed charity; no one had lost his job. Only the small commercial class in the seaport suffered. The great majority was doing very well indeed.

This, of course, was because the villages and towns were self-supporting. People raised their own food, built their own houses and spun the cloth for their own clothes. In good times and in bad they lived their lives and ignored the rest of the world. Stock market crashes and industrial depressions meant less to them than the weather on the far side of Mars.

North of the Rio Grande we are at the other extreme. Not a city or town is self-supporting. We are all specialists, and each depends on the work of his fellows. When the automobile maker in Detroit fails to prosper his bad luck is shared presently by the Dakota farmer and the Alabama mill hand. We stand or fall together because of the complexity of our society.

Yet it is this very complexity which has given our civilization its brightest distinction. Our vision of mankind's release from drudgery, our advantages in science, our new speed of movement and communication, the thousand and one little conviences that make life easier—all come from it. Mr. Chase's Mexicans, who are unaffected by depressions, have to do without these things.

Probably few of us would trade our civilization for that of the Mexican villages. But the present depression is the price we pay for what we have.

Imagination

The fact that 150,000 people were eager to stand in the sweltering heat of an almost suffocating August afternoon to watch the christening of the dirigible Akron indicates that lighter-than-air transportation has caught the imagination of Americans in a remarkable manner.

To the airplane belong grace, speed, dash and thrills. The dirigible is in another class. It gives the peculiar sense of satisfaction and excitement that comes only from sheer size. Larger in bulk than most steamships, this new air liner is a striking example of the technical skill of which man is capable.

When the time comes for the Akron to go flying about the country it is obvious that she will draw enormous crowds wherever she goes. Whatever her worth as a ship of war, she will at least provide the naval aviation service with advertisement worth many times her construction.

Now that Gloria Swanson is free of her third husband, she may marry again. And so fourth.

A taxi cab company is giving vacations to its "safe" drivers. Mighty be a good idea to give them razors, too.

When that Tammany chief testified for the horse doctor, he was probably figuring they'd need him for the Democratic mule in 1932.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a temper is something that improves as long as you keep it.

Everyone knows that men are 'misters' and women are 'mysteries.'

IN A stirring editorial appearing in its Sunday edition, the Abilene Reporter-News urges West Texas youngsters to remain in West Texas for their higher education. Naturally, the editorial deals principally with Abilene's three fine church colleges, but with the idea as a whole as a basis for comment. The Plainsman cannot but agree.

* * *

West Texas offers the young knowledge-seeker just about everything he or she desires. Amarillo has its city Junior college; Plainview its Wayland (Baptist); Canyon its State Teachers college; El Paso the State School of Mines. Alpine the Sul Ross State Teachers college; Abilene boasts Simmons university, (Baptist); Abilene Christian college (Church of Christ) and McMurry college (Methodist). Then, too, Fort Worth, on the edge of West Texas, pulls for Texas Christian university (Christian) and Texas Womens college (Methodist) Brownwood also has two colleges. Howard Payne (Baptist) and Daniel Baker, formerly Presbyterian, but now independent.

ALL are fine institutions. One can truthfully say so without feeling that sectional pride demands it. In any of the colleges mentioned a serious-minded young man or young woman can get just what he or she wants—at a cost much lower than demanded at the average institution of higher learning. In the opinion of The Plainsman, no West Texas youngster need go outside the confines of his home territory to fit himself for later life.

But there is something else to be considered as the prospective student scans college catalogues and that's where Texas Technological college, Lubbock's entry in the West Texas collegiate lists, comes in for its share of attention. That something else is: "What sort of prestige goes with the degree from the school of my choice?"

TECH is the youngest, in point of years, of all the West Texas colleges. But from an enrollment standpoint it is largest and there are few who will deny that its potentialities are far greater than any of the others. A degree from Tech may not strike undue admiration as yet, for the school has not yet been established long enough to gain strong nation-wide reputation. But in the years to come a degree from Texas Tech is going to mean a great deal—simply because the institution fills a decided need among Southwestern educational institutions.

To the young man and young woman who has not yet decided where to seek a higher learning—to the mother and father who are likewise pondering this serious question—The Plainsman offers a bit of counsel:

"Keep the youngsters in West Texas," that counsel reads, "but be sure their West Texas college carries with it the strength of reputation equal to its curriculum."

What will a degree from that college mean to a graduate of 1935—what will it mean in 10, 20, 30 years from now?"

This column believes that under these conditions Texas Tech has the inside track with college students and their parents all over West Texas.

That Man on Avenue Q says when you get something for nothing there's generally something wrong with the something.

The best thing about a vacation is coming home again.

STURGIS HURLEY, the local lumber peddler, called The Plainsman yesterday. He had picked up a good story, which is hereby repeated for the benefit of all cash customers:

A reporer rushed into the newspaper office and called to the editor.

"Hey, Bill," he shouted, "I've got something swell this time."

"Wassa matter," the jaded editor inquired, "did a man bite a dog?"

"No", returned the reporter, "but it's just as good. A bull threw a Congressman."

When Mr. Shakespeare's handy man Hamlet remarked "and all the ills that human flesh is heir to", he was talking about shaving. If there is a white man's burden it's the essential practice of dragging a razor across the jowl every morning or every night, depending upon the habits of the individual.

* * *

JUST what mere man has done to Mother Nature to make her decree a face that naturally sprouts vegetation is a matter of question, but the fact remains that whiskers are something any male can attain without a great deal of ambition.

The nation's need of a good five cent cigar has long ago been answered. What we need now is a magic preparation that puts whiskers two inches under merely by applying it to the human map.

Advertisements sound good and are admittedly efficient when it comes to selling razors, razor-blades, shaving creams and lotions. But when you start to follow 'em to the letter it's the color of another horse.

"MAN works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done" is still being spouted but it doesn't mean anything. When man's work is over—or before he can begin it—he has to whack the stubble off his chin—an operation which rarely, if ever, bothers the female of the species.

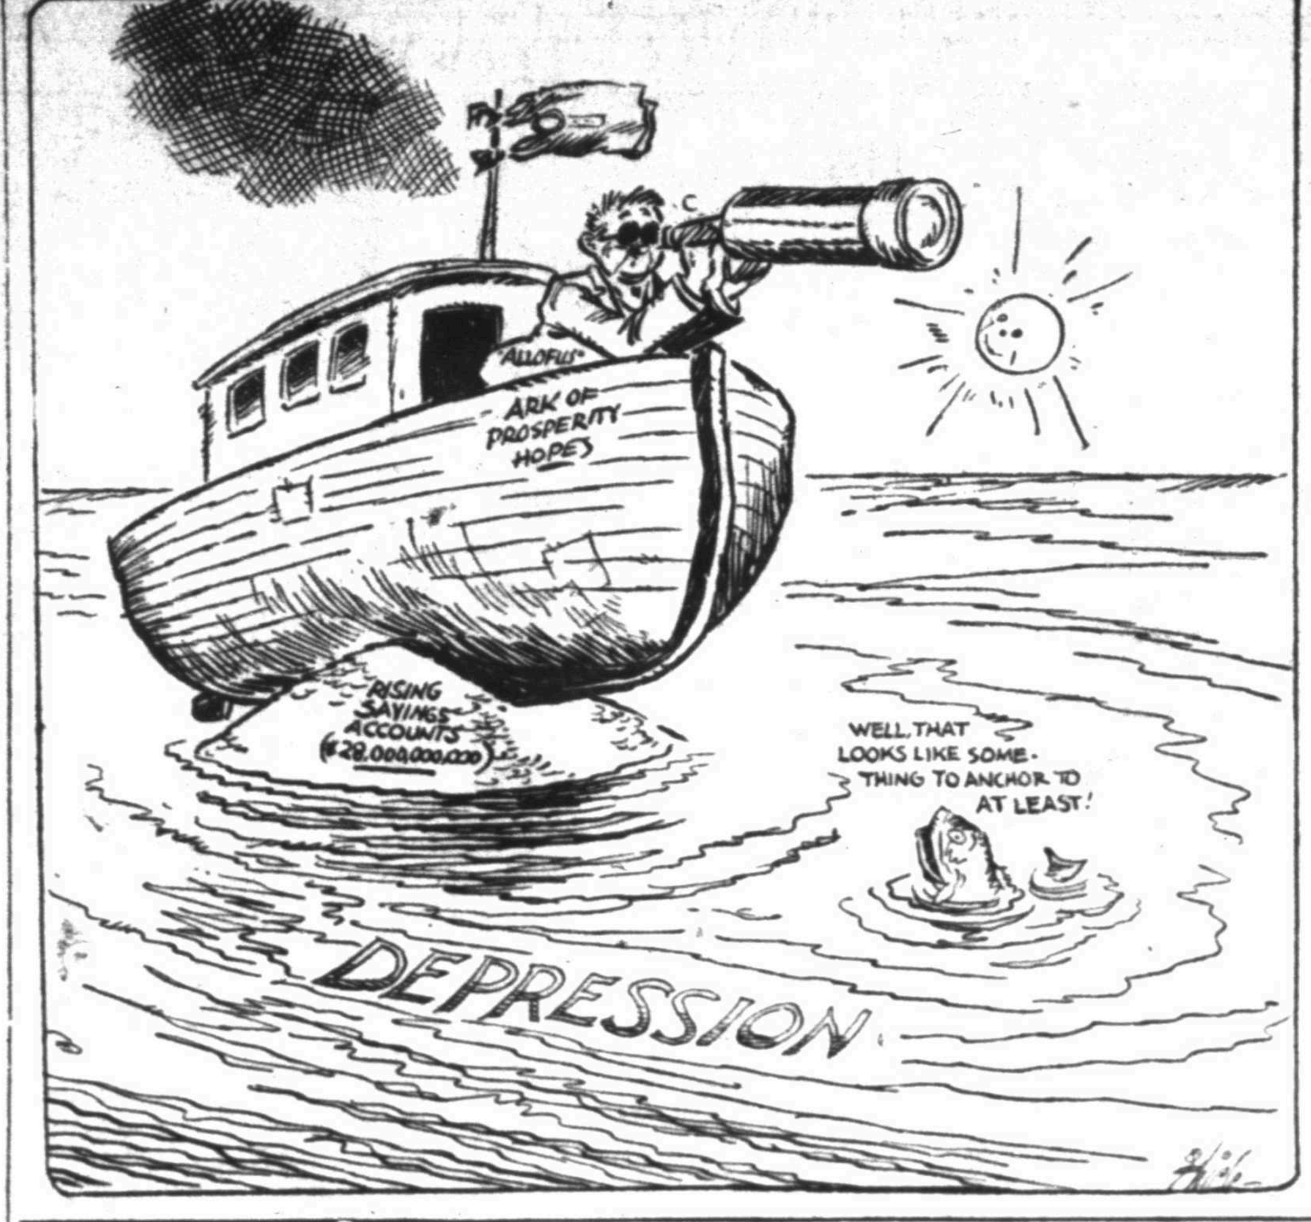

They fete doctors for discovering new serums; surgeons are lauded when they discover a new method of taking the human body apart to see what makes it tick. But the adulation given these gentlemen and Colonel Lindbergh will fade into insignificance before that awaiting the tonsorialist who concocts or invents a method of doing away with whiskers altogether.

So mote it be!

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

If Jobs Of Married Women, Children Were Given To Men There Would Be Just As Much Starvation As At Present

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—If all children under 16 and all married women were kept from working there would be a great number of jobs available for able-bodied men who are now unemployed.

DUTCHER

But there would be as much starvation and perhaps more. Federal studies have demonstrated that job-holding wives and children is largely a matter of economic necessity. Most of them work because people must eat.

You don't hear much any more of proposals to take married women out of business and industry, perhaps partly because Miss Mary Anderson, the chief of the Woman's Bureau, has swatted the idea so often and so vigorously.

A national campaign has begun to keep young people in school who might otherwise be going to work this fall, however, and to keep in school every child under 16 years of age. This campaign, which has support from nearly all the national educational groups, is sponsored by the Hoover Emergency Committee on Employment and probably will do some little good, just as most of the committee's efforts have had some slight measure of success despite the tremendous scope of the unemployment problem.

What the committee runs up against, as usual, is the fact that it has no authority to do anything except to whoop and holler for such non-controversial steps as it believes may create a few more jobs here and there. It can't strike a blow at the commonly deplored situation which finds more than a million child wage earners of 15 years and younger and more than 6,000,000 adults unable to find work.

Both the White House Conference on Child Health, and Protection and the Children's Bureau agree that child labor is largely a question of poverty and urge first of all a solution of such problems as adult unemployment, farm economics and a living wage. Most child workers are from families of unskilled or other low paid workers or from farm families which have a more or less desperate struggle for existence.

Unable itself to tackle such problems, the White House conference has recommended such minor measures as mother's aid, scholarships and special educational facilities to encourage children to remain in school.

Widows' children form a small percentage of child workers and the conference urges adequate state aid laws for widows and dependent children which will allow the latter to stay in school until at least the age of 16. Mothers' aid laws in most states don't allow enough money to maintain an adequate standard of living, the conference decided. Scholarship funds, publicly or privately or jointly created are suggested to enable children and young persons to remain in school who would otherwise have to go to work. Causes connected with school have motivated a large proportion of children who have left to go to work, various studies have shown, especially in the cases of mentally inferior children. The conference says special provisions should be made for dull children which will keep a large number in school and off the labor market at a period in the lives of such children when they must need special preparation for adult life.

Only Montana and Ohio now have laws specifically prohibiting employment of children under 16, which the conference says should be the working age minimum except as for agricultural work in respect to which it recommends that no child under 16 be permitted to work during hours when public schools are in session. Only Utah and Wyoming have no minimum working age, but most states set the age at 14 years.

About 60 per cent of the wage earners of 15 years and under, according to available figures, are employed on farms.

HAY FEVER

WHY DO some people have hay fever and not others?

They, themselves, must wonder. Sitting on the porch some summer night, breathing the same atmosphere, here are several companions laughing and talking and having a good time with no apparent discomfort, not even using a handkerchief—while the poor sufferer manages to extract out of the same air a substance so irritating that it burns the eyes and makes the nose run so that four or five handkerchiefs are used up in the course of the evening. You can't blame them for feeling aggrevated.

Dr. Clendening

The reaction is due to a general state of certain cells of the body. This state has been called Allergy, although hyper sensitiveness is a better and more understandable name for it.

Exactly what change occurs in the cells nobody knows. Nobody can even conceive of it as clearly as a state of immunity can be imagined. With immunity to any disease after the body has gone through an attack of the disease the body cells are forever able to manufacture an antidote to the germs of the disease in the future. But in the state of hypersensitiveness the cells have been rendered more liable to irritation and injury by the certain substance.

Many different substances cause this hypersensitive state. Some people are sensitive to certain foods. Others to animal emanations—they get asthma when near a horse or a cat. Hay fever is the outstanding example but not the only example of sensitiveness to plant substances. Another example is primrose eczema, or dermatitis. I knew a woman patient who had tried everything to get rid of an eczema on the hands and face. Every time she left home on a trip it disappeared. Every time she returned home the eczema returned. It was only cured when a skin specialist went to attend her at home instead of in his office and found her bedroom full of primroses in pots. He chucked them all out the window and his patient never had eczema again.

In the case of hay fever the pollen grains of the ragweed create a sensitiveness in the cells of the conjunctiva of the eye and of the mucosa of the nose. If you collect some pollen grains from a ragweed plant in the pollenating season by shaking the head of the plant over a sheet of paper, and save them until winter, you can give a victim an attack of hay fever in the dead of winter by opening up your sheet of paper and giving him a whiff. I have done this often. It is a way of making a diagnosis of what plant causes the hay fever in this particular patient.

The state of allergy, or hypersensitiveness, is transmitted by heredity. I know many families where the father and children are victims, but the mother entirely free. And sisters and brothers are very likely to have it together. The trait may skip an entire generation as all hereditary traits do.

SAFER PLANES

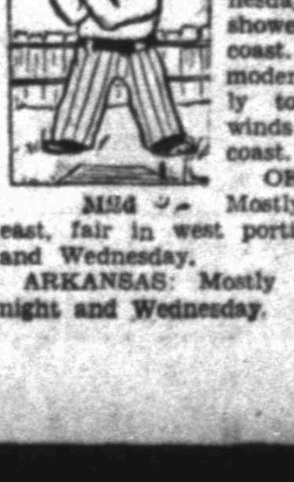

WASHINGTON.—If forced parachute jumps can be taken as an indication of the safety of planes, aircraft are now twice as safe as they were last year. During the first half of 1931 only 34 forced parachute jumps were necessary. During the first half of 1930, 65 such leaps were made.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—Young David Selznick has come to Broadway looking for theater outlets for the independently produced pictures he will make with Lewis Milestone, the ace director of the moment.

And the oldtimers around the Astor tables chuckle as they recall his father, Lewis Selznick, one of a few persons around whom all early movie history must be written. It was the elder Selznick, who had been running one of those bargain jewelry shops, who launched Clara Kimball Young on her career, and who is credited with giving birth to the star system as it was later developed by Adolph Zukor, and others.

At any rate, one of the Broadway legends has it that when Selznick began to make big money in this amazing new amusement industry, he got a bit swanky and appeared at the Astor with a Japanese valet. But certain East Side gastronomic delights could not be traded by him for Astor food—or any other swank hotel food, for that matter.

It was whispered that he had taught the valet to pickle herring in the traditional fashion, and that he used to go to his room to eat it. Having come as an immigrant from Russia, he would also have his tea made in a samovar and privately served.

One of the most refreshing American stories is that of Selznick! How much is true and how much legend might be hard to prove at this date, but old-time Broadwayites swear to most of them.

His message to the Czar of Russia upon the occasion of the czar's abdication has become a classic in cinema circles. Selznick's family had felt the heel of the "little father's military attaches. Selznick himself had come from Russia to escape the intolerable state of affairs. And now a man of affairs and wealth in this new country, he picked up a paper and read that the czar had left the throne. Whereupon he sat down and cabled a message that went something like this: "Your police were not nice to me when I was a boy in Kiev . . . Now can offer you a good job acting in pictures . . . Name your own salary."

It was about half a dozen years ago that the "old man," after years of movie pioneering, ran upon the rocks of over-production and began to fade out of the picture business. But he had two sons who had been cradled on movies. In fact it was an argument about the status of Myron that once was reported to have broken up his partnership with Zukor.

Young David, who has made salaries amounting to a hundred thousand a year and more as a supervising director, has cut loose and gone independent because he believes that talking pictures and old mass production methods will not get along together.

Like his father, he [illegible] to start with [illegible] And he will make only a few pictures.

This idea seems to be spreading. Only a short time ago Cecil B. De Mille, headed on a [illegible], told me that talking pictures would be turned out as stage dramas are turned out, that one producer would have but a few each year and give them time and special attention. De Mille believed that the mass product was on its way out.

David Wark Griffith, another pioneer, now produces independently in a small New York studio.

And the notion seems to be spreading.

Fiction is turning to idealism. And just when the kids were getting a working knowledge of racketeering.

In one Ohio town it's against the law to get shaved on Sunday. Probably wouldn't tolerate murders either.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

TECH STUDENTS RAP 'LETUS HAVIT' IN HIS RECENT LETTER ON LOW HUNG TREES, ETC.

Dear Plainsman: We consider the letter written to you by "Letus Havit" and published in the Daily Journal, August 18, under the heading "The Plainsman Gets Some Mail", as a reflection upon the student body of Texas Tech.

It is not representative of the Students of the college. In fact, it is hard for the average student to believe that anyone attending Texas Tech could exhibit such moral depravity and disregard for the feelings of the home-makers, who are not only beautifying their homes but their city as well.

We do not intend to uphold the property owners for letting the trees grow low over the sidewalks but the fact that they do, does not justify their being called "morons," "imbeciles" and "blooming idiots."

The student body is largely composed of honest and serious-minded men and women who are here for the good they can obtain from college education. They should not be judged by the frivolity and raving of the few who do not take college life seriously.

However, in a group as large as that of our student body there are always a few of the lower type. We feel that a good many people of Lubbock judge us all by the degrading acts and statements of the few who are not representative of the student body.

We ask you and the citizens of Lubbock not to judge the wheat by the small amount of chaff on the surface.

Yours respectfully,
W. N. W. and H. B. R.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The grandstand was a sight to behold. 'Twas just as packed as it could be. "This ought to be a good race," predicted Clowny, with a grin. "I see the jockeys down below. Out to their mounts they'll shortly go. There's one, now, standing on a scale. I guess he's weighing in."

At last they heard a bugle sound and all the horses gathered 'round the front of where the Tinies sat. "They're frisky," Scouty cried. "Each boy has a task, I'm sure. It's their pride if the race is poor. How trim and pretty horses are. Not one of them is fat."

Then Clowny said, "Of course they're not. A fat horse running would look hot. And, anyway, he couldn't make much speed around the track. The race is shortly going to start and then just watch the horses dart. They'll circle all around the track and speed up coming back."

All of a sudden, off they tore and at it made the big crowd roar. "It's nip and tuck," cried Coppy. "They are all right in a bunch. But, mid the clatter and the din, I'll bet I'll guess who's going to win. That jockey with the blue shirt. Kindly bear in mind my hunch."

Around the track the horses went. Two dropped behind. Their strength was spent. The others traveled neck and neck three-quarters of the way. And then two horses picked up speed and very promptly took the lead. At last the blue-shirt jockey won. The whole crowd cried, "Hurray!"

Of course the winning horse was stopped and on his neck some flowers were dropped. Then Clowny from the grandstand ran and, to the jockey cried, "Please let me sit astride your horse." The jockey answered, "Why, of course. Hop on his back, young fellow. You shall have a little ride."

(The Tinymites visit a furniture factory in the next story.)

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, 12 to 16 points lower in response to lower Liverpool cables which evidently caused liquidation or reselling by some of yesterday's buyers.

Liverpool and the continent were credited with selling here during the early trading, while there was some selling by the south and commission houses, but the offerings were fairly well taken by covering or trade buying at the initial decline. This demand was sufficient to give the market a generally steady tone during the early trading and after selling off to 7.14, December was holding around 7.16 at 10:30 o'clock with active months showing net losses of 12 to 14 points.

Liverpool cables reported hedging, local and Bombay liquidation in that market and said there was an improved cloth demand from both the near and far east.

The market was quiet later in the morning and prices held within a narrow range. Liverpool was credited with buying some cotton here during the morning on the narrow differences between New York and that market, but there was scattered selling or liquidation and the tone was no better than steady. At midday, December was selling around 7.15 and March 7.43 or 13 to 16 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25 (AP) — The cotton market had rather a tame opening today. Liverpool cables were considerably lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 11 to 12 points. The market eased off a little further after the start on selling by recent buyers and October dropped to 6.93 and December to 7.15, or 13 points below yesterday's close. This early drop attracted some trade buying and covering and prices rallied three points from the lows.

The market ruled very quiet all morning, there being little disposition to trade. After easing to 6.93 for October and 7.122 for December or 14 to 16 points under yesterday's close, prices rallied slightly towards mid-session, recovering 6 points of the decline mainly on shorts covering and then ruling quiet and steady at net declines of 12 points from yesterday's close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Wheat showed but little change at the start on trade today but all deliveries of corn sold at new low levels for the season. Aggressive buying was lacking in wheat, but fair support came into the market for the September delivery at yesterday's bottom figures. Scattered liquidation sent corn downward. Short covering and commission house buying brought about a moderate rally from the extreme low.

Wheat opened unchanged to 3-8 cent off and held steady. Corn started unchanged to 1-4 off and dropped more before recovering.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bullish efforts to start a rally in the share market, on the theory it was oversold, were thwarted by fresh heaviness of the tobacco issues today.

After acting uncertainly early, the market advanced a point or more here and there as several pool favorites were taken in blocks of 1000 shares or more, but most of the upturn was lost by midday.

The American Tobacco and Liggett and Myers issues, and Reynolds B lost 1 to 2 points. American Can and Eastman lost a point, and McKeesport lost about 3. Advances of a point or so in U. S. Steel, Johns Manville, American Telephone, Westinghouse, Case, and Allied Chemical and Actions were considerably modified.

Call money renewed unchanged at 1 1-2 per cent.

COTTON CO-OP PLANS MADE

LARGER HANDLING OF CROP EXPECTED BY ORGANIZATION

A marked increase in size of the cotton crop is expected and the Texas Cotton Cooperative association will be prepared to handle it, C. M. Davis, district manager, said Monday on returning from Dallas. He attended a meeting of district managers, branch office managers, and other members of the association's staff there.

"I believe district No. 1 will produce better than half a million bales this year and we are going way over our 100,000 bale mark," Mr. Davis said. "We have the best prospects I have ever seen up in this territory. From all reports I received at Dallas we will be in much better shape this year than ever before. Last year the Lubbock district handled 80,000 bales."

Managers Attend

The Dallas meeting was attended by six district managers, seven or eight field men and 15 or 2 classers and branch office managers, Mr. Davis said. The general policy for the year was discussed and the new basis sheet prepared and issued.

"The advance this year will be one cent a pound less than the market price," Mr. Davis said, in a discussion of the meeting's accomplishments. "This one cent will cover all handling charges, the one per cent reserve, the entire overhead and a margin.

"Cotton will go into the seasonal pool. I think the one cent that is withheld will be about 15 per cent of the price. Last year we advanced 90 per cent and this year it will be about 85 per cent."

The one cent will average $5 a bale, he explained. This will include $2.50 for carrying charges and overhead, a reserve of 40 to 50 cents and a margin of $2 or slightly better, per bale.

"Cotton which was taken off the market last year in the seasonal pool of the T. C. C. A., and upon which 90 per cent of the market value was advanced to the growers, equaling in most instances the street prices, is still being carried for the growers account and will be carried until it can be sold at a reasonable price," Mr. Davis said. "This cotton has been financed until higher price levels are reached.

"Some of the nation's greatest economists, including the Standard Statistical service, estimated that the stabilization operations of the federal farm board last year increased the total value of the American cotton crop at least $125,000,000 while some experts estimated the increased valuation as much as $2 0,000,000."

KIDNAPING

landing showed how Billingsley escaped. Sheriff Tom Hutchinson expressed the belief Billingsley was met by an accomplice and that they took the children to a deserted Cabin in the Inyo foothills.

The abductor's actions and his notes led the sheriff to express belief he was deranged.

Billingsley is sought on charges of kidnaping, stealing an airplane, and disobeying a court order restraining him from molesting the children.

Saunders Funeral At Amarillo Today

Funeral rites for Fred W. Saunders, 57, Fort Worth & Denver City railway passenger conductor who died here Monday morning, were to be read at Amarillo this afternoon unless postponed to await arrival of relatives from California.

The arrangements had not been completed when the body was received at Amarillo, Monday night. It was taken there by Bynum-Morgan Funeral home. Saunders lived at Amarillo until he came to Lubbock about a month ago. His address here was 1704 Avenue O, where his wife and a daughter also lived.

Finance Committee Of Scouts To Meet

The South Plains Area Boy Scout council finance committee will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon at headquarters at City hall here, D. T. Jennings, area executive, said.

J. Ed McLaughlin, Ralls banker, is chairman of the finance committee, which will outline a budget for recommendation to the executive committee of the council.

Appeal To Capone In Kidnaping Case

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Reports were circulated today that Alphonse Capone had been appealed to by friends of John J. Lynch, kidnaped gambler, to use his influence to effect Lynch's release. Both Chicago morning newspapers said news of the appeal had reached Chicago detectives.

Lynch disappeared Thursday between his Chicago office and his home at Lake Geneva, Wis., and his abductors were reported by his friends to have demanded $250,000 for his release. Marty Guilfoyle, a friend of the missing man said last night that his offer of $50,000 to the kidnapers had been rejected.

The bride's gown was of natural color lace and net, the long veil was of net held in place by a halo of lace and the mits were of the same lace. The bride's maids were dressed in blue and pink embroidered or plain organdy with quaint old fashioned hats of the same material. The matron of honor was in white organdy embroidered all over in silver, with hat to match.

tween "criminals and corrupt politicians," extending their power over the police forces in many metropolitan areas, would be acted against.

Legislation or a constitutional amendment would be adopted to allow judges and prosecutors to follow the commission suggestions that they be allowed to comment "on the failure of the accused to testify," aimed at reducing the reported usage of third degree methods to obtain testimony.

For Speedy Trials

In addition, if the commission suggestions are followed, more money will be expended upon prosecution; more adequate compensation will be given witnesses and jurors; docket procedure will be improved to provide more speedy trials; waivers of jury trials will be encouraged and the functions of the grand jury curtailed.

Bellflower was slain here Aug 15. At the time of his death he was under $10,000 bond in connection with the slaying of Melvin Walker's father, S. E. Walker, at Shamrock, March 4.

The state placed but one witness, S. F. Cole, farmer, on the stand yesterday and then rested its case. Cole testified he saw Walker turn Bellflower's prostrate body over on its back and fire shots into his breast.

Jail Breakers Are Captured In Texas

SAN AUGUSTINE, Aug. 25. (AP)—Failure of Wayne Castor and E. G. Elkins, Jasper jail breakers, to catch a speeding freight train from which they had alighted resulted in their apprehension in the outskirts of San Augustine last night.

Castor, who had been indicted by the grand jury in connection with the robbery of the Kirbyville state bank, and Elkins, under a two-year sentence on a forgery charge, tore a bar from the top of their cell in the Jasper county jail early Sunday, and escaped.

EAST TEXAS AWAITS PEACE IN OIL "WAR"

KILGORE, Aug. 25. (AP)—The military district comprising the vast, shut down East Texas oil field was a bit worn under the weight of its troubles and looked eagerly toward peace negotiations at Austin today.

In Kilgore, headquarters for militiamen enforcing martial law in area residents still feared incendiarists but operators were heartened by better prices and were beginning to hope for early reopening of their wells.

Post Higher Prices

Meanwhile, the Magnolia Petroleum company and the Sun company had posted prices as high as 68 cents per barrel on East Texas crude. Storage had been gradually consumed by pipeline and railroad shipments and according to the best obtainable unofficial estimate, it was believed not to exceed 2,500,000 barrels, of which 500,000 was reported placed with the Shell company for transfer to Illinois refineries.

The militia's job was far from ended. The staff of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters was co-operating with civil authorities in an effort to put a stop to arson attempts which since Sunday afternoon had been occurring at intervals over the city.

Suspects Held

A number of suspects still were held in jail and score of vagrants had been arrested in a "clean-up" movement. Most of them were compelled to leave town.

General Wolters described the incendiarist activities as the work of "reds" and expressed renewed determination not to permit any mass meeting, such as that proposed in Tyler by persons protesting against martial law.

Three-Foot Cut Is Made In Highway 7

The cut in state highway No. 7 south of Post between Post and Justiceburg averages three feet or slightly more, according to Joe H. Caldwell, maintenance engineer, whose department made the cut.

"The road has been widened to about 40 feet," he added. "I came over it on my way home from Waco. Soon as we get some rain, I think we can get it in first class shape."

The hill is to be worked over some more and another cut will be made later in the year, it is planned.

At the same time a two and a half foot cut was made on the caprock on highway 83 west of Post. A low place was filled up and the road widened several feet.

There will be more work done on this cut as soon as possible.

Air Pilot And Girl Student Drowned

DALLAS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Reuben D. Newton, 26, crack pilot for American Airways, and Miss Marian Louise Craig, 16, senior student at Whitewright High school, were drowned last night while boating at White Rock lake, a Dallas resort.

Miss Craig's body was recovered before midnight, but searchers had been unable to locate Newton's body. Airplanes and motorboats were used today in the hunt.

The couple had been picnicing with relatives and went for a ride in a row boat. Apparently there were no witnesses to the accident.

ers, it was learned Monday. One is to reach an agreement among farmers that no cotton will be planted at all on the South Plains next year, another calls for a reduction of fifty per cent reduction clauses of from ten to thirty per cent.

D. F. Eaton, county agent, said he had been approached by the group of farmers wanting the meeting and declared that he would aid in every way possible in conducting the meeting.

Eaton Will Aid

"I believe it is a problem the farmers should work out themselves," Mr. Eaton said, "and I want to aid all I can."

Several speakers are to be heard in the meeting, it was announced.

The meeting is scheduled for the district courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse but should the attendance be larger, it will be held on the lawn, it was said.

FAVOR REDUCTION

DALLAS, Aug. 25—(Special)—Unanimously favoring cotton acreage reduction, more than 300 farmers attending a Texas Cotton Cooperative association meeting at El Campo telegraphed Governor Ross Sterling their sentiment, Dallas headquarters of the association reported today.

The El Campo office of the cooperative agency is swamped with cotton going into a seasonal pool and the service of an additional government licensed classer are required.

LONG CALLS SOLONS TO PASS COTTON LAW

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 25. (AP)—Governor Huey Long has called Louisiana's legislators to meet here tonight to pass a cotton raising prohibition statute and thereby become the first state to try to raise the staple's price.

Several hours after Governor Ross Sterling of Texas, the largest cotton raising state, had advised Governor Long that Louisiana should "wash the baby first," Governor Long began summoning members of the legislature to meet at ten o'clock tonight for passage of the "no-cotton in 1932 plan" and prepared his formal issuance of the six-day session call.

Offers Solution

He told the south through telegrams broadcast that the section, because of the low price of cotton and the big surplus of the crop, stood at the brink of prosperity or decay and said southwide adoption of his plan advanced in last week's cotton conference here would save the south by bringing "20 cent cotton."

While Texas leaders were discussing the calling of a special session in that state for remedial cotton legislation and listening to the plan of J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, on limiting the cotton acreage to one-third of the acreage in cultivation, Governor Long urged the south to accept the New Orleans cotton conference plan unamended and set about to have Louisiana take the first step in that direction.

"Governor Ross Sterling of Texas," said Long, "says that since this plan to prohibit planting is our baby we should wash it first. Fine! Louisiana will wash this baby from head to foot, dress it up and it soon will land on Governor Sterling's desk and say 'da da' to Texas."

STERLING PONDERS

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling continued to ponder today over the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature to enact cotton acreage reduction legislation.

He gave no indication when he would reach a decision, biding his time and viewing closely the stacks of telegrams and letters that poured into his office in answer to his questionnaire asking cotton farmers and members of the legislature to express themselves on the plan of state control of cotton acreage.

TO DISTRIBUTE FREE CANS

LUBBOCK COUNTY TO CONSERVE FOOD FOR WINTER

Stimulating conservation of Lubbock county's surplus food products for distribution among the poor next winter, County Commissioners court Monday voted to furnish cans for preserving foodstuffs for delivery of half the canned products to the county.

The county's share will be distributed free on arrival of winter to persons who otherwise would not have sufficient food, County Judge E. L. Pitts said.

To Deliver One-Half

"These cans may be obtained by residents in the different precincts from their respective commissioners," Judge Pitts said. "One-half of the canned products are to be delivered to the commissioner from whom the cans are obtained."

Those accepting the commissioners' court's offer will be required to do their canning under the direction of Miss Ruth Stockton, county home demonstration agent, through the assistance of home demonstration clubs and other key women designated by Miss Stockton, the judge said.

Changes Are Made

The county commissioners, from whom the cans may be obtained, are: Precinct No. 1, C. A. Burrus; precinct No. 2, J. T. Pinkston; precinct No. 3, W. L. Brashear; precinct No. 4, L. C. Dunton.

Slight changes in the boundaries of the four precincts were made yesterday by the court. Under the new arrangement highway No. 9 will be the dividing line and will separate precincts No. 1 and No. 2, south of Lubbock, and precincts No. 3 and No. 4, north of Lubbock. The old line varied as much as a half mile from the highway.

The new boundary will form a definite mark and will prevent the necessity of taking heavy road machinery used in the different precincts across the highway, Judge Pitts explained. The new arrangement will affect very few voters, he said.

REVIVAL CONTINUES

MURRAY PLANS FOR RELIEF

CO-OP CHIEF WOULD RELEASE BALE TO EACH FARMER

ABILENE, Aug. 25. (Special).—Instead of attempting to formulate a solution of the precarious economic condition prevailing, R. J. Murray, general manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, has proposed a way to immediate relief for cotton farmers and business men of the South, the Abilene Morning News said today.

The plan suggested by Murray will give every farmer at least $50 to spend on clothing for his family.

Release One Bale

"There are 2,000,000 cotton farmers in the United States, so why could not an arrangement be worked out to release one bale of cotton per family, or grower, from all mortgages or other debts claimed, provided the grower uses the amount—10 cents a pound or $50 a bale—in exchange for merchandise.?" the News asks.

"Instead of giving cash on such exchange, the merchant could give the farmer $50 in trade. The government could issue script to the merchant, at the rate of four cents a pound on such transactions, which could be used by the merchant in paying all kinds of federal taxes. In this way the farmer gets 10 cents a pound in trade for his cotton, which in reality costs the merchant only six cents a pound, as the four cents would come from the government.

Movement Predicted

"Murray states he believes this plan would start a buying movement which would loosen channels of trade from the consumer to the retail merchant, from merchant to jobber, from jobber to manufacturer, and from the manufacturer to the spinner. It would create a demand for cotton goods and therefore, a demand for more cotton.

"Stocks on the merchant's shelves are depleted; so are they on the shelves of every other distributor, from the spinner on down. Fifty dollars a bale for each of the 2,000,000 cotton farmers would immediately place $100,000,000 in circulation in the South. This would be felt throughout the world."

SOUTH PLAINS IS IN HOG PROGRAM

In placing breeding hogs on Texas farms having an abundance of feed, the Fort Worth stock yards has included the South Plains on its program, W. W. Rice of the stock yards said. Rice is assistant to Col. E. E. French, in charge of promotion work, and has been discussing plans with county agents and others several weeks.

"Since the first of the year the Fort Worth Stock Yards has placed nine car loads of brood sows," Mr. Rice said. "These have been placed at meat prices, which have been recently around nine cents a pound.

"Usually we have been getting out hogs for breeding purposes in Iowa. This year we were unable to do that and had to go up into South Dakota for the hogs.

"Because the buyers all over the country are bidding for farm animals, the price has run up considerably. Competition has been very heavy and good animals are hard to get."

Chief reason for the sale of hogs by South Dakota farmers and others in that section, is the fact that their crops have been destroyed by grasshoppers. Farmers are unable to feed their stock and they have been forced to sell.

Spotted Poland Chinas and Hampshires are the chief breeds that are being shipped to this section at this time. Mr. Rice said that he hoped to be able to place several car loads of animals on the South Plains through his organization.

Paving Equipment Arrives In Lubbock

Equipment for use in laying a slab on state highway No. 9 southward from Lubbock arrived here from Plainview last weekend. Joe H. Caldwell, state maintenance engineer, said. Womack, Herring & Rollins, Sherman firm having the contract for the No. 9 project, owns the machinery.

The material was unloaded on the Fort Worth and Denver spur and is being sent to the contractor's material yard.

"A work order has been issued by the state highway department, with the date of the contract to start August 30," Mr. Caldwell said. "I believe the company will get started before that time."

Womack, Herring and Rollins had the slab job on highway 28 west from Plainview to the Lamb county line. The last concrete there was poured last Monday. The company also had the grading and drainage job on No. 7 northwest of Lubbock through Shallowater to the Hockley county line.

Additional Credits Sought By Schools

Additional credits of affiliation with the state department of education will be asked by four and possibly six high schools in Lubbock county. Several schools possibly will attain enough credits for complete affiliation.

Districts that will ask for more credits are: County Line, Canyon, Becton and Shallowater. Hurlwood and Acuff may ask credits on their work.

The county has four schools with complete affiliation of 16 or more credits, Idalou, Lubbock, Shallowater and Slaton. In addition, Becton, Canyon and County Line have credits.

PLAN JUBILEE AFFAIR HERE

PEDDLERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING ON SEPTEMBER 19

Following a meeting at chamber of commerce offices, a general steering committee directing arrangements announced Monday that the ninth annual Peddlers Jubilee would be held here Saturday, September 19.

Several hundred "Knights of the Grip," who make the Panhandle territory, are expected to participate in the celebration, R. C. Smith, chairman of the committee, said. More than 250 "peddlers" attended the jubilee last year.

Parade Scheduled

Tentative arrangements call for a parade in the afternoon of the jubilee day and a banquet program that night at a local hotel. New members will be initiated into the secret organization, R. O. R. E., at the banquet. Further details of the program are to be worked out at a meeting of the committee early next week, Smith said.

POPULATION 90 PER CENT NATIVE BORN AND WHITE

Lubbock's population is 90 per cent native born white, the federal bureau of the census reported from records compiled in the 1930 census. Texas' population is 72 per cent native born white, and 73 per cent white.

The report shows that of Lubbock's 20,520 residents, 18,609 are native whites; 87 are foreign born whites, 1,100 negroes and 723 Mexicans.

In 1920 when the population was 4,051, more than 96 per cent, or 3,922 persons, were native born whites. There were 63 negroes in that county and 37 Mexicans.

The foreign born whites are less than one half of one per cent, while the negro population is five and one third per cent and the Mexican, three and a half per cent.

According to the bureau of the census, of Texas' population of 5,824,715, there are 103.8 males to 100 females. Figures are: males, 2,965,994; females, 2,858,721.

In 1930 there were: 4,283,491 whites; 854,964 negroes; 683,681 Mexicans and 2,570 of other races. Among these were: Indians, 1,001; Chinese, 703; Japanese, 519 and Filipinos, 288.

Gain in population by races for the decade 1930-20 shows the whites gained 9.3 per cent; the negroes 15.3.

Four cities in the state; El Paso, Del Rio, Laredo and San Benito have greater Mexican than white population. Nineteen countries also have more Mexicans than whites.

The general strike of textile workers in Roubaix-Tourcoing, France, this year involved 117,000 workers. Municipal bathing beaches have been established along the Rio de la Plata river in Argentina.
