Eisenhower Enroute Home 'For New Job'

War Hero Believed Slated To Take Marshall's Role Late In December

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 9.—U. S. headquarters announced today Gen. Eisenhower would leave "within a few hours" to testify before congressional committees in Washington and authoritative sources predicted his trip was a prelude to an assignment to succeed Gen. George C. Marshall as Army chief of staff, perhaps late in December.

The official announcement said Eisenhower would return to Europe Nov. 23 after testifying in the capital and appearing in Boston and Chicago.

Rumors Long Current

But rumors have long been current that Eisenhower would become chief of staff, and they have been given credence by the slow exodus of officers of his command into War department positions where they could carry out his policies. It was said unofficially that Eisenhower would stay in Europe only a short time after Nov. 23 to wind up his command in Germany and Austria.

It was learned that Eisenhower's trip home had been requested by the War department. He is expected to advocate to Congress the consolidation of armed forces into a national department of defense. He was one of the original and most outspoken advocates of unification of the armed services into one striking force as the chief lesson of this war.

(In Boston the governor's office said Eisenhower would arrive by plane there at 1 p. m. Monday, weather permitting, and that the governor planned a reception and state dinner for him at 7 p. m. that evening.)

The headquarters announcement said:

"Weather permitting, Gen. Eisenhower is leaving within a few hours for a short trip to the United States to appear before committees of Congress. He will stop briefly in Boston on his way to Washington, and will later appear before the American Legion convention at Chicago to accept the distinguished service medal of that organization.

"He expects to be back in this theater by Nov. 23, so that he may keep immediately thereafter engagements in Scotland and England."

Eisenhower also is expected to report to President Truman on the status of military government in Germany.

If Eisenhower becomes chief of staff, sources here expect he will be succeeded as commander in Germany by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, former U. S. commander in the Mediterranean theater.

Higgins To Liquidate Three Plants Due To Labor Trouble

(By The Associated Press)

Stockholders of Higgins Industries, Inc., New Orleans, yesterday backed up their president's stand on labor relations by voting to liquidate the boat-building company because of a strike.

Other prime labor developments:

1. The CIO United Automobile Workers rejected General Motors' proposed compromise of the union's 30 per cent wage rate increase demands.

2. The Navy announced return to private control of three Ohio oil refineries seized as the result of strikes.

The Higgins' stockholders action yesterday resulted from the announcement of Andrew J. Higgins, president of the big gulf boat-building works, that he was closing his three plants "for keeps" in the midst of a walkout of 2,000 AFL workers who protested his refusal to negotiate a new contract.

Abandonment of operations, Higgins said, would mean scrapping of $40,000,000 worth of orders and a program for employment of some 30,000 persons at payrolls running into millions annually.

Unanimous Action

The Higgins stockholders announced they unanimously had voted to "place the company and all of its subsibiaries in voluntary liquidation out of court." Higgins and Morris Gottesman, secretary-treasurer of the firm, were named co-liquidators.

"The liquidators will, if it is possible for them to do so, complete all contracts on hand."

Ohio refineries which the Navy said it would return to private operation at 12:01 a. m. today were Standard Oil company of Ohio at Lima; the Canton refining division of the Cntral Pipeline company, Canton, and the Sun Oil company, Toledo.

Taken With 50 Others

These and 50 others were taken over by the Navy on Oct. 5 by presidential order after CIO oil workers struck for a 30 per cent wage rate increase. The three companies asked for release on the ground that there was no labor dispute at present.

Standard employes were not represented by any union, the Sun oil has an independent union, and the Central Pipeline company negotiated an agreement with the CIO union since the Navy takeover.

During the CIO strike the Standard plant was picketed, and picketing was threatened at the Sun Oil plant, halting production.

In turning down the General Motors' offer, CIO-UAW assailed the proposal as "pure economic poison."

Union's Contention

Acceptance of an eight to ten per cent increase, the union contended, would result in "chronic mass unemployment, scarcity in the midst of over-production," and "a return within three years to the three or four day work week and a six months working year for those who get jobs at all."

The UAW-General Motors wage negotiation continued to highlight the national labor picture where elsewhere there were few developments. Some new strikes started in Philadelphia and Albany, N. Y., but the national total of persons off the job because of labor troubles hovered around the 275,000 mark where it has been the last few days.

Ford Employes Vote To Strike

DETROIT, Nov. 9. (AP)—More than 90 per cent of the Ford Motor Co. employes voting in a National Labor Relations board election favored striking to support their 30 per cent wage increase demands, the NRLB announced tonight.

The vote was 42,235 for a strike and 3,951 against, with 372 ballots voided.

Over Three-Day Period

The strike vote, the third conducted by the NLRB among CIO United Auto Workers members in plants of the automobile industry's "big three" was taken over a three-day period.

General Motors corporation and Chrysler Corp. employes already have voted overwhelmingly in favor of strikes to back their wage boost demands.

The UAW-CIO petitioned for the strike elections when it presented its wage increase demands to the auto industry. Union leaders emphasized, however, that the strike vote did not necessarily mean a strike would be called. They said every effort would be made to settle the dispute peacefully.

Talks On Bus Strike Are Still Deadlocked

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9. (AP)—For the second day, the conference attempting to settle the four-day - old Southwestern Greyhound bus strike dismissed this morning with participants reporting "no results whatever."

The conferees left their closed room one hour and forty minutes after negotiations were started. It was announced that the discussions would be resumed at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Approximately 2,000 drivers, ticket and baggage agents of the Southwest Greyhound lines are on strike because of a wage dispute. The workers are members of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America, AFL.

Five Germans To Be Hanged For Slayings

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 9 (AP)—Five Germans will be hanged at 1 p. m. tomorrow (7 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) for murdering six U. S. fliers who bailed out of a disabled plane Aug. 26, 1944.

They were convicted by a United States military court recently. Gen. Eisenhower confirmed the capital penalties, his headquarters announced today.

NEW NURSE CORPS HEAD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Appointment of Lt. Comdr. Nelly Jane Lewitt as superintendent of the Navy Nurse corps, succeeding Capt. Sue S. Dauser, was announced today by Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, surgeon-general of the Navy.

Major Shoal Is Cleared By Labor Parley

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. — The labor-management conference was said today to have cleared the collective bargaining shoals on which the postwar parley of 1919 foundered.

Dr. George W. Taylor, conference secretary, gave this word to reporters as employer and worker delegates, behind closed committee doors, sought agreement on basic labor relations issues.

All Committtees Agree

Dr. Taylor, former War Labor board chairman, said that in all of the six conference committees it was "fair to say" that there was full acceptance of the collective bargaining principle.

Twenty six years ago the conference that followed World war I broke up in angry disagreement because it could not adopt a resolution stating that workers are entitled to be represented by unions or persons of their own choosing.

While such a right now is written into the Wagner labor relations act, Taylor seemed to view this general acceptance of the principle as a wholesome indication for the current sessions.

However, the committee set up to study collective bargaining declarations which could be endorsed by the conference has made no report thus far, and Dr. Taylor said it was "still analyzing" procedures.

Wildcat Strikes

A committee on existing collective agreements studying wildcat and "quickie" strikes, Taylor said, appeared to be in agreement that if there is to be a no-thrike, no-lockout clause in contracts, there must be some quick terminal point in grieveance procedure. A provision for deciding grieveances based on contract interpretations is needed, Taylor said.

"A great number of strikes occur under existing agreements," said the conference secretary, "but we can't say there won't be strikes unless there is somebody to say this is how such and such a clause is to be determined in the contract. It is pretty generally agreed that we must have no-strike, no-lockout clauses, that it is almost standard now."

Jurisdictional Questions

The committee on representation and jurisdictional questions was engaged in analyzing National Labor Relations board procedures and exploring the possible improvement of machinery for the settlement of jurisdictional disputes by the unions themselves.

A committee looking into ways to strengthen the conciliation service is hearing conciliation commissioners and others.

Other labor developments:

After a conference between OPA Administrator Chester Bowles and Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel corporation, an OPA spokesman said Bowles had promised to make a decision on steel price increases as soon as possible.

President Signs Slash In Taxes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Federal tax cuts for everybody in 1946 are now an assured fact.

The White House announced today that President Truman has signed the bill lopping an estimated $5,920,000,000 off the total of taxes that will be paid by individuals and corporations next year.

It will be the first general tax reduction since 1929, when President Hoover signed a "Christmas present" slash. Congressional sponsors of the cuts argued that they would stimulate business to such an extent that the treasury actually may not suffer a loss in revenue. The total cut is nearly $1,000,000,000 larger than that recommended by the government.

Provisions Of Plan

The legislation was signed by Mr. Truman Thursday night. Here is what it will do:

For individuals—ends income tax paying entirely for 12,000,000 persons who now pay only the three per cent normal tax levied on all net income above $500; assures 10 per cent or more reductions for persons making up to $50,000 a year, with smaller percentage cuts for those making more than $50,000; repeals the $5 a year use tax on automobiles, trucks and boats; holds at one per cent for 1946 the social security tax assessed against employes' pay checks and employers' payrolls.

For corporations—repeals the wartime excess profits tax of 85.5 per cent.

Relief For Veterans

For veterans—forgives all tax levies on the wartime service pay of enlisted men and gives others three years in which to settle taxes imposed on their wartime pay.

The estimate of a total $5,920,000,000 reduction is reached through these items: Individual cuts $2,644,000,000; corporation relief $3,136,000,000; repeal of automobile use tax $140,000,000. Withholding of individual income taxes from employes' paychecks will be continued. Anticipating approval of the legislation, the treasury already has sent some of its 1946 tax forms to the printer.

Angry Words Fly As Service Chiefs Air Views On Merger

Navy Dischargees Said On KP For Ship's Civilians

HONOLULU, Nov. 9. (AP)—The Stars and Stripes said today 1,300 Navy enlisted men home-bound for discharge aboard the Monterey were being required to take turns washing dishes for themselves and for 1,500 civilians aboard the Army-operated ship.

The Army newspaper quoted Lt. Col. J. P. McGuinness, troop commander on the Monterey, as confirming the report that the high-point military personnel was required to do K. P. duty.

"I personally am very much against service men having to do K. P. duty for civilian passengers," the Stars and Stripes quoted the colonel as saying.

Five Hurt In Car Collision

Five persons were injured, one critically and two seriously, in the headon collision of two automobiles about 8:45 o'clock last night on the highway about five miles east of Idalou.

They were H. H. Palmer, 47, Mrs. Palmer, 39, Joyce Palmer, 17, all of 5408 Beeman street, Dallas; Spurgeon Majure, 22, of Matador, and W. C. Young, jr., of Freeport.

Palmer Pinned By Wheel

Palmer, considered the most seriously injured, was pinned beneath the steering wheel some time before he could be taken from his car, it was reported. He suffered fractures of both legs, chest injuries and numerous cuts and abrasions. Mrs. Palmer had a fractured right leg, a bad laceration of the scalp and cuts on her face. Joyce Palmer suffered a deep cut on the leg and numerous other cuts and abrasions. Young may have a fractured ankle and suffered cuts, abrasions and shock. These four were in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Majure suffered fractures of both legs, a broken jaw and other injuries. He was in West Texas hospital.

Palmer Driving

Investigating Texas highway patrolmen, J. R. Whitmire and T. A. Rowland, said the Palmers were in a coach going east and Palmer was the driver. Young and Majure were in the other coach going west. Which was driving had not been determined last night. The patrolmen said their investigation was not complete.

Both cars were demolished.

Bucharest Tensely Quiet After Riots

BUCHAREST, Romania, Nov. 9 (AP)—Bucharest was tensely quiet today after Thursday's royal square riots which the Soviet-sponsored government of Premier Petru Groza immediately blamed on an "anarchial movement" directed by Romania's National Peasant and Liberal parties.

An official check of hospitals and morgues showed that thirteen were killed and 80 wounded in the six-hour long fighting climaxed when Romanian troops machinegunned the crowd.

A ministry of interior communique declared the Liberal and Peasant parties had for "weeks prepared a movement of disorder" culminating in the strife yesterday between Communists and supporters of young King Mihai.

Jap Liberals Plan Election

TOKYO, Nov. 9. (AP)—Japan's new liberal party plunged today into the empire's first peace-time election campaign with a platform calling for a "democratic system" under Emperor Hirohito.

Assembling in Tokyo for the inaugural rally, party members served notive they would battle the Communist program to "overthrow the emperor and establish dictatorship."

A few Communists filtered into the park where several thousand persons were attending the rally and heckled the speakers, but there were no disorders, members reported.

Agree To Cooperate

Ichiro Hatoyma, the party's president and a former member of the house of representatives, told correspondents the Liberals had agreed to co-operate with the Socialists after the election.

The party placed in the field a list of 150 candidates pledged to the principles of living up to the Potsdam declaration for a peaceful Japan.

Among the candidates is Hachiro Arita, a foreign minister before the war, who will stand for the Diet from the Niigata district in the forthcoming election, which probably will be called in January.

Challenged By Party

The position of the Liberal party, with 50 members in the present Diet, was challenged by the new Minponto (Peoples) party which claims 250 Diet members, Kyodo news agency reported.

While the Japanese were sampling their new political freedom, reparations experts were beginning a preliminary survey of the nation's economy to determine how it could pay for the ravages of its lost war.

Edwin W. Pauley, U. S. representative on the War Reparations commission, was en route here by plane while members of his staff opened discussions at supreme headquarters.

He said before leaving San Francisco that Japan's economy "will be reduced to a bare minimum"

Wild Slaughter Charged To Japs

MANILA, Nov. 9. (AP)—Witnesses in somber procession testified today that Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's soldiers slaughtered 1,000 men, women and children on southern Luzon last March.

When the story of horror and death was done the military commission hearing war crimes charges against the Japanese general recessed for the week-end to allow the voluminous transcript to be brought up to date.

Much of the populations of the town of Cuenca and nearby villages in the southern province of Batangas perished at the hands of the frenzied Japanese, who knew by then the war was lost, the witnesses said.

Sad Stories Similar

Their sad stories of how their villagers died had a sameness about them, except that some estimated the death toll higher or lower for it was hard to tell among the corpses how many had fallen.

They said the Japanese would come to the villages, order the people outside, bind them with wire, and then go to work shooting or bayoneting men, women and children.

A Filipino girl said she was tied to a mango tree with 16 others and was bayoneted twice. Then the Japanese threw a grenade and she was wounded by 15 fragments.

New C.I.O. Asks Injunction, Warns Press On Use Of Name

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9 (AP)—The organization called "Congress of Industrial Organizations, Inc.", formed by members of Fight for Free Enterprise, today filed suit against the Oil Workers International union, CIO, asking an injunction against the OWIU from using the initials "CIO".

The new organization sent notices to other CIO unions in Texas, warning them against use of such initials, and also warnings to both newspapers and radios not to use "CIO" in connection with what it called "self-styled" CIO organizations.

The new Texas CIO organization was incorporated a week ago when Phil Hopkins of San Antonio and other officials of Fight for Free Enterprise, admitted foe of the national CIO labor group, obtained a state charter under the name of "Congress of Industrial Organizations, Inc."

The warnings and notices were written on the new CIO stationary. It carries a line reading "for general industrial improvement in the state of Texas". Boxed in black is "CIO-Texas". Under it is the name, "Congress of Industrial Organizations, Inc., a Texas corporation" and the address in the Bedell building here.

Newspapers and radio stations were further warned not to accept advertising from the out-of-state CIO (labor) group for publication or broadcasting under that name.

Hopkins said that if CIO affiliates in Texas continue to use the CIO initials after today's warning, suits for injunction and damages would follow.

The unions notified, Hopkins said, include the United Automobile Workers, Textile Workers of America, American Communications association, United Steel Workers of America, Texas Fruit and Vegetable Workers union and others.

Today's suit against the oil workers was filed in 57th district court, Bexar county, shortly after noon, Hopkins said.

"Any impression that this Texas CIO is a 'dummy' organization is erroneous," Hopkins said. "We expect to make it a dominant force in Texas industry, working in the interest of both labor and capital."

World Would Be "Safe For Common Man'

Attlee Enroute For Atomic Energy Talks

By TOM WILLIAMS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 9—Prime Minister Attlee flew tonight toward Washington for atomic energy talks which he hoped would help achieve a world "safe for the common man" and banish fear of the atomic bomb.

Speaking at a lord mayor's luncheon, Attlee said he would discuss world affairs with President Truman and Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King "in the light, the terrible light, of the discovery of atomic energy."

"I go to the consideration of these high matters not downcast or depressed," he said, "but in a spirit of high endeavor to try to serve my fellow men."

London newspapers speculated that Premier Stalin might join Truman and Attlee for Big Three conferences in Washington, but a spokesman at No. 10 Downing street said "as far as we know here, there is nothing in that report at all." Moscow dispatches showed that Russia was keenly interested in the British-American-Canadian atomic energy talks.

Attlee left an airport near London at 6:30 p. m. (12:30 p. m., CST) in a Skymaster plane, followed by another plane carrying Sir John Anderson, chairman of the British atomic energy committee.

In Washington, Congressional leaders arranged for Attlee to address a joint session of the House and Senate at 11:30 a. m., CST, Tuesday.

"I want a world which will be safe for the common man," Attlee declared at the luncheon.

"London learned its lesson. Only by the world learning the same lesson can civilization endure. The foundation of world order must be laid in the hearts of men.

"I go to America . . . with just this in view. I want to exchange ideas with the President and the prime minister of Canada to see how best we can lift from the ordinary man and woman this spectre of fear that haunts him today.

"I want to consider with them how best our common ideals of peace, freedom, tolerance and economic prosperity for all people can be realized."

Turning to foreign policy, Attlee said "I think that you will wish

Victory Homecoming At Tech Today To Honor Servicemen

By GEM BOB CALLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

Joyous reunion of more than 3,000 Texas Tech ex-students, many of whom will be returning to the campus for the first time in more than three yeares to participate in victorious celebrations, will take place on the campus today in observance of 20th annual homecoming.

The occasion, sponsored by the Tech Alumni association, honors servicemen and veterans.

Climaxing activities, all of which will be held in the gym beginning at 10 o'clock this morning, is the Tech-Texas Christian university game which will be played at 2:30 p.m., Tech stadium. Temporary bleachers, which will seat between 500 and 600 fans, have been constructed across the south end zone of the field to help take care of an estimated 11,000 spectators.

Pep Rally Opens Program

Celebrations of this "victory" homecoming started off with a bang last night when a pep rally was held at the gym. The rally was not broadcast over KFYO radio station, as is customary each year, but Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock County agent who has charge of arrangements with George Langford, chairman of the homecoming committee, outlined today's homecoming activities and welcomed homecomers on an early Friday evening broadcast.

A spirit of jubilance prevailed at the rally. Troy Caldwell of Seymour, president of the student body, introduced Dr. Wm. M. Whyburn, Tech president, welcomed visitors and acted as master of ceremonies.

Former Students Speak

Ex-student Elmer Tarbox, former Red Raider of Cotton Bowl fame, and Arch Lamb, former yell leader and prominent in alumni activities, addressed the group. Coach Dell Morgan spoke on behalf of the team and Otis Turner, co-captain, promised students and visitors the Raiders would be "in there fighting" today.

Charles Fuggitt, another former student and cheer leader, and Lamb led students in a college yell. The Matador band played traditional fight songs and the Saddle Tramps, spirit organization on the campus, were in charge of pep rally arrangements.

Meeting At 10 O'Clock

Immediately following the rally, the group was led by Red White, head yell leader, outside the gym to join hands and circle a huge bonfire. College yells rang clear, the band played and impromptu speeches were made by visitors, students, faculty members, and Red Raiders.

Today's activities, beginning at 10 o'clock when Tech classes are dismissed for students and faculty members to assemble in the gym

Milder Weather Is Forecast For Today

Lubbock and the South Plains area appeared headed for milder weather today, with the forecast calling for temperatures somewhat higher than yesterday when the mercury ranged in the 30's most of the day. The official low was 32 degrees at the Texas Experiment sub-station east of Lubbock for the 24-hour period ending at 6 p. m. Rainfall was .27 inches for the same period.

At 11 o'clock last night, the dispatcher for the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad at Slaton reported misty weather there, but clear skies at Canyon. No rain had fallen at Plainview, his report showed.

Four football games scheduled yesterday were postponed on account of weather. These tilts were Crosbyton at Ralls, Floydada at Matador, Spur at Paducah and Denver City at Post. Enough sleet to cover the ground fell at Post early Friday, but quickly changed to rain, it was reported.

Former Army Leader In Germany Dies

LUENEBURG, Germany, Nov. 9 (AP)—Field Marshal August von Mackensen, the last member of Germany's famed triumvirate of the first World war, died last night at his estate near Celle.

The bony old cavalry leader, who served with Von Hindenburg and Von Ludendorff in making modern Germany military history, would have been 96 years old on Dec. 9.

He had not been on active duty since 1920, but he remained an implacable foe of Russia and openly supported Adolf Hitler in his rise to power and his military aggressions.

Protest Filed By Forrestal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The Army-Navy quarrel over proposals to merge the armed forces grew so hot today that the Secretary of the Navy protested directly to the Secretary of War over testimony given by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

Doolittle had told the Senate Military Affairs committee that "our B-29 boys are resting uneasily in their graves" because of naval commanders' claims about the part their forces played in the Pacific victory.

Forrestal's Appeal

Quickly, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal dispatched a letter to Secretary of War Patterson urging that an "honest difference of principle" not be allowed to "degenerate into an exchange of personalities."

He said he questioned whether "death in any particular line of duty — and the resultant grief at home — should be appealed to in order to advance any individual point of view."

The Army is backing plans to consolidate the War and Navy departments, and the Navy is opposing them.

During the Senate committee hearing this morning on the merger plans, Senator Hill (D-Ala) asked Doolittle if he would comment about two recent statements Hill attributed to top ranking Navy admirals: One by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz crediting sea power with forcing the Japanese surrender; the other by Admiral Marc Mitscher saying Navy carrier-based craft won the air war with Japan.

Won By Teamwork

"Admiral Nimitz and Admiral Mitscher are great commanders," said the general who led the first bombing on Japan. "But this war was won by teamwork. Each of the three agencies did its best. No single agency alone was responsible. I do feel very strongly it was not seapower that compelled Japan to sue for peace. And that it was not carrier strength that won the air war.

"Our B-29 boys are resting uneasily in their graves as a result of these two comments."

Forrestal wrote Patterson:

"For some time," I have been concerned about the tone of the testimony which Army and Navy officers have been giving before the Senate Military Affairs committee on the merger of the War and Navy departments and this morning an incident occurred

Blunt Warning Issued By Reds

CHUNGKING, Nov. 9. (AP) — Chinese Communists issued a blunt "stay out" warning to Nationalist troops waiting omniously by the thousands on Manchuria's southern border, along the historic great wall near American-guarded Chinwangtao.

The Reds cancelled abruptly a scheduled afternoon peace talk in Chungking and said they would oppose entry of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops into Manchuria or any other "liberated areas."

JAVA STILL TENSE

BATAVIA, Nov. 9. (AP)—British reinforcements took up new positions in tension-gripped Soerabaja tonight, and prepared for a showdown battle if the Indonesians refuse to obey an ultimatum to surrender their army by 6 p. m. tomorrow.

British planes showered leaflets on the naval base, outlining the exact procedure for unconditional surrender by the Indonesians. A Dutch monitor at Soerabaja, however, said Nationalist leaders were exhorting their followers by radio to battle to the last.

Over Million Men Involved

The government, they charged, is using 49 armies aggregating 127 divisions—nearly 1,000,000 men—for "this civil war," plus 350,000 puppet troops. Forty-nine of the government decisions are supplied wholly or partly with American equipment, they asserted.

Drop Is Forecast In Corn Crop Prospects

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Agriculture department reported today its preliminary estimate of this year's corn crop is 3,073,996,000 bushels.

The estimate was based on the department's Nov. 1 canvass and compares with a forecast of 3,078,126,000 bushels a month ago. Last year production was 3,228,361,000, a record. The average for the ten years, 1934-43, was 2,433,060,000.

The nation's wheat crop was estimated at 1,149,825,000 bushels, also the largest of record and unchanged from last month's official estimate. Wheat production last year totaled 1,078,647,000 bushels.

Estimates on oats, barley, rye, flaxseed and other minor crops were likewise unchanged from a month ago.

Gala Fete Set At Tech Today

with visitors, will center around alumni. Dr. Whyburn, Gordon and Langford will greet alumni guests assembled at the gym.

Luncheon Is Planned

Particularly anxious that all alumni make plans to report to the gym at 10 a. m. and remain there until game time, Gordon cordially welcomes all ex-students. He said the occasion afforded opportunity for Tech to extend their honored guests, servicemen and veterans, "a special hearty hello and warm tribute."

Senior students, who will act as hosts for the day, will help register guests and pin on identification tags.

Plans have been made by the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma coaches and the Lubbock Bus company, who will again be hosts to alumni at their annual luncheon in the gym, to serve 650 alumni at noon. Buddy Arnett's orchestra will play from 11 to 12:30 p. m.

TCU Exes To Meet

In conjunction with the reception at Tech gym for ex-Techsans, a short rally will be held for Texas Christian university exes from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock in the Hilton hotel. J. A. Raley will head the TCU delegation and Leo "Dutch Meyer", TCU head coach, will speak briefly.

Mr. and Mrs. Hop Halsey will represent Tech alumni and other former Techsans will assist in the rally. Approximately 35 guests are expected for the gathering, sponsored by the Tech Alumni association.

Alumni will be entertained by campus clubs and organizations, following the game. Scheduled events include a dinner for former residents of Casa Linda from 7 to 8 p. m. at the Tech social center. Las Chaparritas will honor alumni at a tea from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Clyde Smith, 1915 Twenty-ninth.

Dance Set Tonight

A tea for former members of Sans Souci will be given from 5:30 to 7 p. m. at the Hilton hotel. Women's Recreational association will hold open house at the gym from 5:30 to 7 p. m. Members and alumni of DFD will meet from 6 to 7:30 p. m. at the Yellow House Tea room for a tea. Open house for all ex-students will be held from 5 to 6 p. m. at the Methodist Student center, 2301 Tenth.

Concluding the day's events, an informal dance will be held from 9 until 12 midnight at the gym and Buddy Arnett's orchestra will play. Special invitations to the dance have been extended members of the 1946 senior class and veterans on the campus.

In welcoming everyone back "home", Dr. Whyburn said, "We are delighted to have you with us and hope that while you live again a portion of your college life, you will also join with us in our efforts to have Tech realize the full potential development which lies ahead of us."

by stripping her of her war potential and asserted he would investigate reports that Russia had been removing industrial machinery from Manchuria as reparations.

Pauley asserted Russia was entitled to little if any indemnity for her part in the Pacific war and that the industries Japan built up in Manchuria should go to China as reparations.

Japanese sources here claimed the Russians had landed light forces on the small islands of Kunashiri, Shikotan, Shitosu, Saisto and Taraku off the eastern coast of Hokkaido, northernmost of Japan's home islands.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

22 Killed In Crash; Five Victims Found

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 9 (AP)—Five bodies had been recovered from bay waters near here today, scene of the collision of two Navy planes which cost the lives of 22 men last night.

Two long-range patrol seaplanes, skimming about 200 feet above the surface of the bay in the dark collided and sank.

Crash boats and hospital ships rushed to the scene and rescue operations were started in the man-made brilliance of flares and searchlights.

Six survivors were picked up. One died at the Naval hospital, and the condition of the other five was reported serious but favorable today.

The name of the man who died at the hospital was given as Lt. (jg) Loyd Franklin Cox, 28, of West Frankfort, Ill. His wife lives in Corpus Christi.

Chinese Trouble

wangtao, are facing "strong Communist forces" along the great wall 10 miles to the north—ready for the main round of China's undeclared war, Associated Press correspondent Richard Bergholz reported from the scene.

Semi-official sources in Chungking confirmed his report, conceding that the government likely will make its major drive to Manchuria by moving eastward from the Chinwangtao are along the Peiping-Mukden (Manchuria) railroad. Nationalists hope to reach Manchuria this month to replace withdrawing Russian occupation forces.

Airplanes Massed

A Chinese Red Spokesman asserted that many airplanes were massed at Peiping, ready to carry government troops to Changchun, Manchurian capital. He inferred that Reds had no way of blocking airborne movements, but added that ifany passage of ground forces through liberated areas were attempted it would instantly be challenged.

The Communists addressed a vigorous protest to President Truman against American "armed intervention in Chinese internal affairs," and asserted that weapons which America made to defeat Japan "have through the hands of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer (U. S. commander in China) become weapons for slaughtering the Chinese people."

American transportation of Nationalist troops to Red-liberated areas, the Communist spokesman here declared, "will only prolong the civil war." Cicil war, he said, began "Sept. 17, when the national military council distributed anti-bandit handbooks."

which finally prompts me to write you this letter.

Doolittle Testimony

"During his testimony this morning, Lt. Gen. Doolittle, referring to statements made by Admirals Nimitz and Mitscher about the role of sea power in the Pacific, said: 'Our B-29 boys are probably resting uneasily in their graves as a result of these statements.' Gen. Doolittle also referred to arguments advanced by witnesses before the committee as 'hypocrisy.' As civilian head of the naval service I should not let charges against high ranking naval officers of hypocrisy of partisanship to the point of callousness go unnoticed. But to avoid adding to the undesirable heat which it seems to me has already entered these deliberations, I refrain from making any direct reply. Moreover, the Navy air-sea rescue record speaks for itself of our concern for the B-29 crews.

Impugning Of Faith

"I question whether we should allow the discussion of a proposal on which our departments are divided to lead us into impugning the good faith of people who disagree with us, and I question especially whether death in any particular line of duty — and the resultant grief at home — should be appealed to in order to advance any individual point of view. The fact that an officer of Gen. Doolittle's caliber and admitted high qualities could be led to accuse responsible commanders of any service of disregard for the sacrifices made by the men of another service illustrates precisely the general drift of events which gives me such deep concern.

"As I have said before, it seems to me we might avoid such injurious acrimony by elevating this whole deliberation to the level of a special inquiry by a presidential commission on the national security. Such a commission on one aspect of national security — the import of new weapons — was proposed by the joint chiefs of staff in their memorandum to us of Oct. 24. In any event, I hope you will join with me in seeking to keep the discussion of the proposal now before Congress free from personalities which may leave lasting scars. I particularly want to caution all members of the naval service who may discuss this question publicly or privately against questioning the good faith and humanity of people who disagree with them: For that reason I am making this letter public."

Doolittle, in his testimony, urged an American airforce ready for instant action in any part of the world. e asserted that battleships are now obsolete and carriers are becoming so.

Two fires were extinguished by firemen Friday, one in 2000-block East Ave. E, caused by a stove, and one at 2503 Twenty-third caused when a curtain caught fire from a stove.

Mrs. W. H. Evans, 2805 Twenty-third, reported to police Friday theft of two boxes of costume and antique jewelry valued at several hundred dollars from her residence. Roy T. West, 2505 Twentieth, reported theft of his bicycle.

Sheriff Earl Booth of Farwell notified the sheriff's office here of theft of eight tires there Thursday night. He described one of the suspects and the car they were believed to be in.

Robert Douglas, about 28, a negro, was placed under $500 bond Friday when he pleaded innocent of a county court charge of aggravated assault on his wife Marion. In the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, Vansetta Brown, a negro woman, was found guilty of simple assault on Marion and fined $1 and costs. She waived a jury and pleaded innocent befor Justice Robertson.

OPA Men Sentenced In Conspiracy Case

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9 (AP)—J. Warner Zimmer, former district OPA rationing executive here, and T. C. Whitley, former examiner for the OPA in the Temple area, charged with conspiracy to violate the Second War Powers act, entered pleas of guilty in U. S. District court today.

They were sentenced to six months in Texarkana federal penitentiary unless fines of $3,500 and $2,000, respectively, are paid by next Tuesday.

Zimmer was charged with obtaining, by "false representation," an automobile last Feb. 19 from Texas Motors, a Fort Worth automobile concern, and delivering it to Whitley, who, in turn, delivered the car to Mayor W. Guy Draper of Temple, who paid him a sum in cash, alleged to have been an "over-ceiling" price. Mayor Draper was no-billed by a federal grand jury.

State's Cotton Crop Shows New Decrease

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP)—Texas' 1945 cotton crop is getting smaller.

The United States Department of agriculture today forecast production of 1,880,000 bales based on conditions as of Nov. 1. This compares with the 2,646,000 bales produced last year, and with the 10-year average production of 3,112,000 bales annually.

Rains, which began falling over most of the state late in September, continued throughout the first two weeks of October, seriously reducing the rate of harvest and resulting in loss both in quality and quantity of production. Although conditions were somewhat improved during the last half of the month, intermittent rains and heavy dews continued to interfere with harvesting operations in the northeastern and north central counties.

Pampa Wins On Penetrations In 0-0 Tie With Westerners

Lubbock's Line Shines In Gaining Tie; Pampa Wins Decision, 4 To 1

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche Sports Editor

To steal a page from the grid fame of Baylor, Lubbock today is taking off their hats to "That Good Old Lubbock Line" after the surprising Lubbock Westerners toppled the vaunted Pampa Harvesters from the undefeated, untied list of teams in Texas in a blazing scoreless duel Friday afternoon at Tech stadium.

It was the difference in the two lines that told the story, but it was unheralded Bill Washington who sparked the Pampa drive that rolled up four penetrations to one for Lubbock, and on this basis, the Harvesters continue unbeaten in District 1-AA grid circles, tied for the top rung with Amarillo and Plainview, who meet today at Plainview to drop one from the charmed circle.

Westerner Defense Tops

It was the first time this year that the Westerners have failed to score, in spite of a record of being four times beaten during the season, but it was also the first time this year that the vaunted Randall Clay has been stopped as he was yesterday afternoon in the shadows of the goal posts.

It was an even ball game all the way, and the figures on the game bear out this fact. Pampa led in penetrations only, and that was what counted. Lubbock rolled up 11 first downs to eight for Pampa. Lubbock gained a net of 137 yards rushing to 135 for Pampa. Lubbock lost 15 rushing and Pampa 17. Lubbock gained 47 yards passing and Pampa 40, a difference of nine yards running and passing.

Lubbock Threatens In Second

Pampa rolled to a penetration in each of the four quarters, but when the chips were down, the Lubbock line threw back everything that Clay and company could hurl at them. Lubbock's lone threat came in the second quarter.

Pampa launched the first penetration drive from its own 45. Neef picked up four, then Washington flashed down to the Lubbock 40 before he was stopped. Clay lumbered through for five, and Washington picked up two more. Clay was then smothered for a three yard loss. Johnson then whipped a pass to Lonnie Williams, who roamed to the 26 before he was roped in. Pampa drew a five yard penalty, then Washington smashed through to the 25. Clay was stopped for no gain, then Lubbock drew a penalty to put the ball on the 20.

Harvesters Open Up

Washington lugged it over the line, and down to the Lubbock 18. Clay was held to a yard, Washington added another yard, then Clay fumbled, but Pampa recovered on the 11 yard line. A fourth down pass failed, and the ball went over to Lubbock.

Early in the second quarter, Pampa took over on a short kick on the Lubbock 37 yard line. Two running plays and a pass moved to the 31. At that point, Randall Clay bulled his way through in the fashion that has spread his fame through the state, and was finally hauled in on the Lubbock 19. Two penalties threw Pampa back to the 30, and a long pass was intercepted by Brewer on the Lubbock nine, and he ran it back to the Westerner 26.

Westerner Drive Halted

At that point, the Westerners started rolling. Two plays gained a net one yard rushing, then John Paul Jones' short over the line pass to Schmidt gained 13 yards to the 40. The same play worked for six more. Brewer then knifed through to the 50. Rampy circled left end, and went down to the Pampa 36.

Brewer was smeared for a five yard loss. After one pass was incomplete, Jones hit Gerald Davis with another short toss, and Davis went to the 30. Brewer then smashed into the line to pick up a first down on the 25. Three plays later, Jones hit Schmidt again with a bullet pass to reach the Pampa 18. Brewer was stopped on the 16, and the ball went over.

Pampa Moves To Ten

Just before the third quarter ended, Pampa took over on a kick on its 48, and on the first play Bill Washington came around his own right end, running behind a wall of blockers, and it was Lubbock's safety man, George Brewer, who roped him in on the Lubbock 19, a brilliant 33 yard gallop that was the longest of the day. Washington was hurt on the play, and had to leave the game.

Clay smashed down to the 13 as the quarter ended. Neef inched it down to the 12, and Clay battered to the ten. On the fourth down try, lacking only inches, the Lubbock line met Clay head on, and he lost inches, the ball going over on the ten.

Late Rally Fails

Later in the final period, Pampa came to life again, and a 23 yard pass play from Johnson to Clay moved Pampa down to the Lubbock 41. Neef twice and Clay once made it a first down on the 30. Little Jim Wilson then went wide to his right, and again behind beautiful blocking, he roared down to the Westerner 19. Clay lost a yard, then gained it back, as the Lubbock line again began tearing into the vaunted Pampa T.

A pass failed, then Johnson faded back for another. Little Dick Schmidt hit him hard, hooked his arm, and the ball fell back of him, and Gerald Davis fell on it on the Lubbock 30, and that was the ball game.

Sikes, Pierce, Foster Star

Little L. D. Pierce, 130 pounds of concentrated dynamite, and big O. C. Foster were the two boys who paced the Lubbock line. These two were outstanding in a line that played championship football for a day, and threw the monkey wrench into the Pampa model T.

Backing them up was little Noel "Twinkle Toes" Sikes, who played a grand defensive game, and time after time broke down the Pampa attack with smashing tackles and brilliant pass defense. He was closely backed up by George Brewer.

For the second year in a row, it was Jimmy Terrel in the Pampa line that played at the head of a fighting Pampa forward wall, and played four brilliant quarters—most of them in the Lubbock backfield. Lonnie Williams, an unknown wingman of the Pampa club, showed everybody some of the best schoolboy end play seen in Tech stadium this season, and battled Terrel all the way for Pampa honors.

The figures show Washington's great part in Pampa's penetration victory, netting 70 yards in 12 carries, compared to Clay's 43 yards on 18 carries. George Brewer bulled and twisted to 84 of Lubbock's 137 yards, and was the outstanding backfield man on the field.

Irish And Army In Top Tussle

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. — That gleaming ray so often referred to as the football spotlight swings definitely eastward tomorrow to shine squarely on New York's Yankee Stadium, where Army and Notre Dame collide in the top football game of the day—probably of the season.

But while the center of the bright beam catches the eagerly-awaited struggle between the country's two best teams for the mythical national championship, its edges will be splashed on Philadelphia and Baltimore, sites of two other headline attractions.

Columbia Meets Penn

At Baltimore, the Navy team which held Notre Dame to a 6-6 deadlock in last week's number one fray will stake its undefeated record against a Michigan eleven that rolled over Illinois and Minnesota in its two most recent outings, and at Philadelphia the unbeaten, untied Columbia Lions bang into Pennsylvania, which has lost only to Navy.

Something like 207,000 spectators will witness this trio of top-flight tilts, including 76,000 fortunate souls who have reservations for the Army-Notre Dame fuss.

Ohio State Plays Pitt

Elsewhere in the East, Temple hauls its perfect record against Penn State, Yale tries for its 500th victory against Brown at New Haven, Colgate invades Cornell, Dartmouth goes to Princeton, Boston College to Villanova and Kings Point to Harvard.

In the Midwest, unbeaten but once-tied Indiana moves in against Minnesota, next-to-last obstacle in the Hoosiers' path to their first championship of the western conference—a prize that has eluded them throughout the 49-year history of the league.

Other Big Ten contests send Northwestern to Wisconsin and Iowa to Illinois, while Ohio State goes to Pittsburgh and Purdue entertains Miami of Ohio in non-conference tilts.

Aggies Tangle With Tulsa

What promises to be one of the day's thrillers will be played within the Missouri valley conference at Stillwater, Okla., where all-victorious Oklahoma A. and M. meets once-beaten Tulsa with the valley title and a bowl bid almost certain to await the winner.

Big Six contests send Iowa State to Oklahoma and Nebraska to Kansas at Marquette and Great Lakes at Michigan State.

Four Southeastern conference battles are on the day's card—Tennessee and Mississippi at Memphis, Mississippi State at Louisiana State, Georgia Tech at Tulane and Georgia at Florida. Alabama's bowl-bound conference leaders are idle.

Other Games On Menu

North Carolina State will be at Duke, Virginia Tech at Clemson, North Carolina at William and Mary and Virginia Military at Maryland in Southern conference games. Other top tilts in the south will be Southwest Louisiana at Auburn, Chattanooga at Vanderbilt, Kentucky at West Virginia and Richmond at Virginia.

Pacific coast conference teams also are arrayed against each other—California at Southern California, Oregon State at Washington and Oregon at Washington State.

In the Mountain area it will be Colorado A. and M. at Denver, Brigham Young at Utah State and Utah at New Mexico.

Deadline Is Set For Tech-TCU Tickets

Pick Up Reserved Seats By 10 O'Clock

"Pick up your reserve tickets for the Texas Tech-Texas Christian grid game this afternoon by 10 o'clock this morning."

This appeal was made by Athletic Director Morley Jennings after a check of the tickets revealed that several reservations have not been picked up as yet. A great many people made reservations by mail, telephone and otherwise, and some of these have not been picked up.

They can not be held any longer than 10 o'clock today, and after that hour, those not claimed will be sold to others, Jennings said.

Crucial 1-AA Game Set In Plainview

Sandies, Plainview In Top Tilt Today

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 9 (Special) —The threat of dripping skies zoomed the stock of the Amarillo Golden Sandies here tonight, on the eve of the crucial grid classic between the invading Sandie horde and the pass minded Plainview Bulldogs, scheduled for 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

In spite of the fact that the Bulldogs are undefeated and untied, one of the seven remaining in the state, and have the state's best defensive record of allowing only 14 points, they are, oddly enough, the underdog tomorrow.

Rain Handicaps Bulldogs

The promise of rain, and a slippery ball for the pass pitching chores of Jack Williams, adds more to the rating of the Sandies as favorites in the game this weekend.

Amarillo's high scoring Sandies have been beaten only once this year, a loss to Odessa, at Odessa, where the Bronchos are still riding high in the state's list of undefeated, untied teams.

In conference play, both teams are unbeaten, and are riding high, along with the Pampa Harvesters, who eked out a win on penetrations over the Lubbock Westerners today, after being toppled from the state's perfect list with a scoreless tie.

Top Class A Games In Area Postponed

Winter winds, sleet and rain struck over West Texas last night, and wiped out the grid schedule in District 4-A, and caused postponement of the Class A feature of the week, the Denver City Mustang battle at Post.

Denver City, undefeated in District 6-A, and with only two more games to play, will return to Post Monday afternoon, playing the Antelopes at 2:30 o'clock. The game was postponed early and at the same time, next week's battle with Seminole, scheduled for Friday, has been reset for 2:30 o'clock Saturday.

In District 4-A, three games were postponed last night, and wiped out the entire schedule.

Spur moved its game at Paducah up to tonight. Ralls and Crosbyton, scheduled at Ralls, will play at a later date, possibly Nov. 30. The Floydada at Matador game was also postponed, but no new date was announced.

Seminole Cops 31-7 Game Over Sundown

SUNDOWN, Nov. 9 (Special)—Seminole's Indians rolled over Sundown for an easy 31 to 7 grid victory here tonight before a record throng of more than 3,500 fans.

The defeat shoved Sundown out of the District 6-A championship race and practically handed the title to Denver City's tough Mustangs. The defeat was Sundown's second conference setback, while Denver City is still undefeated and untied.

Seminole opened the scoring in the first few minutes of play with Fullback Blair plunging two yards to climax a 60-yard downfield drive. He also kicked the point. Late in the same period, Right Halfback Walker took a Sundown punt and raced back down the sidelines 45 yards to paydirt. The attempted kick for point was blocked.

In the second quarter, Blair plunged over from the five to climax a 50-yard drive. The point was blocked and the half ended 19 to 0.

Early in the third, Walker rambled 15 yards to climax a long drive. The point was blocked. Late in the third stanza Blair passed to Right End Patton 35 yards over the goal for the fifth Seminole tally. Again the point was blocked, and the count stood 31 to 0.

Late in the fourth frame, John Ethridge, Sundown quarterback, passed to End Teddy Benson for 25 yards, Benson stepping the other five paces to paydirt. Ethridge kicked the point to end scoring for the night.

OLIVER HOLDS LEAD

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 9 (AP)—Chunky Eddie (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del., climbing back among golf's tournament contenders after a four-year stretch in the Army, scored a two-under-par 68 here today to take the first round lead in the $5,000 Durham open.

Abilene Drops Lamesa, 45-6

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 9. — Abilene's speed merchant backfield burned the breezes here tonight before a small crowd as the Eagles trounced Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes 45 to 6. Intermittent showers fell during the afternoon and the visitors roared to victory in cold and damp football weather.

H. D. Terry sped 9, 52 and 43 yards for three touchdowns to lead the Eagle scoring parade.

Abilene started slowly, Billy Murphy breaking through center for 16 yards to tally in the first quarter. Then the victors really rolled in the second stanza to pile up 26 more points. They counted 6 points in each of the last two quarters after rolling up a 33 to 0 margin at half-time. Hendley, Eagle end, kicked three extra points.

Score In Second

Murphey passed to King, Eagle quarterback, for 7 yards and a six-pointer, and Ted Hardin, another fancy player in the Eagle backfield, went 50 yards for second period scores.

King went over from the Tornado 5 in the fourth period for Abilene's final touchdown after the Eagles had recovered a Lamesa fumble on the 18.

Nieman Scores For Lamesa

Orvil Nieman, Tornado halfback, broke through the line and dashed 58 yards for Lamesa's only score in the fourth period.

Tate Green, Reilly and McCombs led the Eagle line, and Patterson, Bizzell and Clard headed the futile defense of the home club.

Abilene chalked up 12 first downs to Lamesa's two, and amassed 345 yards rushing to 117 for Lamesa. The winners attempted 10 passes and completed four for 55 yards, Lamesa attempting 11, completed none, although intercepting two. Abilene punted four times for 130 yards, Lamesa seven times for 247 yards.

O'Donnell Eagles Eke Out Tahoka Bulldogs

O'DONNELL, Nov. 9 (Special) —Doing all the scoring on hard slashing running plays, the O'Donnell Eagles nosed out the scrapping Tahoka Bulldogs here tonight, 12 to 6, in a game that was played in bad weather that held down the turnout of fans. It was a 6-A conference tilt.

O'Donnell grabbed the lead in the first quarter, when Joe Harris knifed over center for a yard and a touchdown. Tahoka bounded back in the second period with a drive that reached pay dirt on a two yard plunge through the line. Larron Davis pushed over the winning marker for O'Donnell in the third period, slashing over the double stripe from five yards but on an offtackle play.

TCU Heavy Favorite To Win Homecoming Tilt With Tech

Joslin Ready To Pass For Frogs; Sellout Seen; Game Set At 2:30

Forecasts for continued cold and showers appears to have had no effect on the chances for a crowd of 11,000 to bulge the bounds of Tech stadium this afternoon by the 2:30 o'clock game time, and a full house is ready to greet the Texas Tech Red Raiders and Texas Christian Horned Frogs at Tech's Homecoming day game.

Coach Dutch Meyer, and his staff of co-workers from the Fort Worth school, rolled into Lubbock late Friday afternoon, and settled down at the Hilton hotel to await game time this afternoon.

Main Handicap For TCU

"There is no need to have a drouth on the South Plains," moaned the crafty Dutch when he hit town yesterday, and viewed the dripping clouds. "All they need to do is give me a good passer, and book the Horned Frogs to play Texas Tech in Lubbock."

Dutch was still thinking about the year that he brought his pass minded Frogs to Lubbock to play the Red Raiders, back when Slinging Sammy Baugh was doing the pitching act, and were beaten on a wet field by the uprising Raiders.

Joslin Big Threat

Today, the Horned Frogs will take the field with Leon Joslin, a pass minded youngster from Waxahachie, stepping upon the pitching mound for the Frogs, and again Dutch viewed dripping clouds.

Two regulars, and one second stringer, who sees plenty of action when able to go, were left in Fort Worth when the Frogs came to Lubbock. Capt. Merle Gibson, an end, and Normal Morrill, a guard, were the two regulars left behind. George Mitcham, a second string back, was the third injured player left at home.

Tech Still Injury Ridden

But the Frogs offset this with three additional newcomers, Billy Hearn and Fred Taylor, a pair of ends, and Gus Bierman, a back, who will be available for duty today. Bierman, however, is the most likely to play.

The Red Raiders are crippled, and patched up, and will enter the game as a decided underdog this afternoon.

Top attraction of the afternoon is expected to be the duel between Leon Joslin, leading passer of the Southwest Conference, and Tech's Walt Schlinkman, top ground gainer of Southwest college football.

Schlinkman To Start

Schlinkman, still nursing injuries and heavily taped, will start the ball game. That is the most encouraging fact that the Tech fans have been able to glean from the gloom that has been hanging over the Tech campus all week.

It will be the last appearance on the home field for the Red Raiders, the season's final two games taking the local club to Oklahoma and New Mexico to play on the next two week-ends.

Five Starters Injured

There appeared to be no change in the probable starters for the Red Raiders, with at least five of the starters nursing injuries, and another just getting out of the sick bed. Montague, starting at the halfback post, has been ill with flu for several days, and still may not be able to go. If he is not able to play, Bennie Tidwell will take over the post.

Gene Hardey, Cecil Norris and Schlinkman are all named as starters, but all are crippled with injuries. Bernie Winkler at tackle and Otis Turner at center, both veterans, have been slowed all week with illness, but will start today.

Bleacher seats on the field, and standing room tickets will be sold at the north gate today, Morley Jennings, athletic director at Texas Tech, announced last night.

Levelland Rolls Over Morton Club, 19-0

MORTON, Nov. 9 (Special) — The Levelland Lobos roller over the Morton grid eleven here tonight bfore a crowd of 1,200, pushing over three touchdowns for a 19 to 0 victory.

Levelland scored twice in the second quarter, striking once on a pass, and the other coming on a short 30 yard drive after recovering a Morton fumble. Billy Pearcy plunged over the touchdown.

The Lobos closed the scoring in the fourth period, reaching pay dirt on another pass play.

Morton threatened in the closing minutes of the game, driving to the Lobos four before the attack bogged down.

GRECO WINS DECISION

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The betting price was 12 to 5 against Johnny Greco in Madison Square Garden tonight, and the Canadian veteran walked right out and won himself an easy eight-round decision over young Tony Janiro, who almost knocked him out the last time they met. Greco scaled 145, Janiro 144.

Salute To The Marines

Corps Observing Anniversary

ONE hundred and seventy years ago today, the First Continental Congress passed an act authorizing organization of two battalions of marines, men capable of fighting on both the land and the sea, to aid in the defense of the colonies. From then, down to the end of World war II, the term "marine" has come to signify all that is highest in military efficiency and soldierly virtue.

From the time of their gallant battle on John Paul Jones' frigate Bon Homme Richard in the Revolutionary war to the occupation of Japan, the Marines have established a glorious reputation as fighting men, and have come to fight in the air as well as on the land and sea.

In this century, men of the corps wrote the two most glorious chapters in our history. In World war I, enemy and Allies alike were moved to open admiration for the fighting ability of Marines at Chateau Theirry, Belleau Wood, Soissons, Saint Miehl and Argonne.

In World war II, the nation's determination and courage was lifted in those first dark hours of the treacherous Japanese attack by the valiant Marine defense of Wake island. Members of the corps later fought in the stubborn defense of the Philippines. The Leathernecks were called on to make our first offensive move of the war in the never-forgotten battle of Guadalcanal, and until the surrender of Japan some three years later, the heroism of the Marines who fought and died throughout the war brought forth the full and open realization of all Americans that the Marine corps is one of the "fighting-est" organizations in the world.

We might all do well to pause today and offer thanks to God for the United States Marines!

CIO Gets Setback In Detroit

THE CIO got its ears pinned back in Detroit the other day, and those who do care for the CIO's dictatorial methods and thirst for power can be thankful for that. For Mayor Edward J. Jefferies' fourth term victory over Richard Truman Frankensteen, vice president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), the largest union in the country, probably cut off a new tentacle of CIO ambition.

American labor, unlike that of Britain, has never had a political arm of its own. It has always supported its friends instead of running its own candidates. Labor leaders have sometimes campaigned on the Socialist ticket, but the Socialist party has never been a serious factor in U. S. politics. Frankensteen, a college graduate and the pride of Detroit labor, had the backing of the Democratic organization and the active support of CIO's rambunctious Political Action committee.

Labor in this country has always admired the political success of its British counterpart. Since the Laborites took over the British government, American unionists have been particularly impressed. The Detroit contest provided the first test of their newly-born desire to get off the sidelines and directly into the game.

If Frankensteen had won, the CIO, spearheaded by the strong-arm PAC, probably would have begun setting up its candidates for next year's congressional races. Perhaps its start would have been modest at first, with a few candidacies here and there in strong, pro-labor districts.

If is is possible to make U. S. politics any uglier, candidates spawned and nutured in the CIO brand of philosophy might be able to turn the trick.

However, the Detroit defeat will probably serve to squelch, for the nonce, at least, any ambition for public office that the CIO might entertain.

History Serves A Warning

THERE is a moral for the United States in the history of the tiny Mediterranean, kingdom of Phoenicia which for three years after 1000 B. C. waxed fat and prosperous as the kingpin of world commerce.

Phoenicia manufactured many things the world needed and transported them and the goods of other nations in the most formidable array of merchant ships in her day.

The Phoenicians were daring and imaginative mariners. They had every trade route mapped and their ships were familiar sights in all the world's ports. Phoenicia's craft put in at English cities, at the ports along the Black sea and in the strange harbors of India.

She founded and built Carthage. She lived in peace with her neighbors until around 700 B. C. Then her merchant fleet began to ebb away, eventually was wiped from the seas.

Phoenicia made the mistake of not matching her merchant ships with a powerful navy.

MY PORTRAIT IS PAINTED
XXV

Pepita and I rushed over to the Avenue Malakoff. The doctor and his two assistants were sitting outside the "clinique" in the courtyard, afaraid to enter. Inside, through the glass door, I could see Botafogo peacefully sleeping on the top of his cage with a considerable bulge in his body—which I concluded was the Angora cat of Madame de Noailles.

A group of excited women with small animals they had brought for treatment were gathered outside the entrance of the stables, all discussing with volubility and gestures the horrible situation; nothing would induce them to enter while the snake was there. "Quoi faire, Madame?" wailed Dr. Regnier. "C'est la ruine pour moi!"—meaning that the behavior of Botafogo was ruining his business.

We found, after managing to get the man to pull himself together, that there was a small laboratory at the end of his apartment where we could easily put Botafogo for the moment. He would probably sleep anyhow while digesting the cat, and in the meantime I would manage in some way to get another place for him. I got Botafogo into the small room easily enough, for he was drugged with sleep and the Angora cat, and we locked him up. Then Do. Regnier, who was shuddering at the prospect of breaking the news to his client about the loss of her pet (who had been in the family way, poor thing), revived sufficiently to tell me I would, of course, not only have to pay for the death of the cat and her unborn bittens, but also would have to arrive at some compensation for the loss of his clients, since no one would enter his place while Botafogo was there. I could see a fine bill for expenses looming and departed to send a wire to Violette Murat, begging her to reply if she could recommend me to some of the directors of the Jardin d'Acclimation, so I could get them to accept my snake. In the meantime newspaper reporters had gone in a body to Dr. Regnier's and photographed the sleeping Botafogo from all angles. Then they interviewed the aristocratic and decrepit owner of the Angora cat, sitting in her apartment surrounded by collections of ribbons she had won in cat shows. They took pictures of my garden, the laburnum tree, and the balcony. The evening papers were plastered with my photograph and carried columns with the story, while the telephone rang incessantly.

Violette came up to Paris at once and introduced me to the directors of the zoo, officials of the Board of Health, and even the great Chiappe, chief of police in Paris—resulting in the arrival of a car from the zoo for Botafogo the next day, where he was allotted a magnificent, air-conditioned, germ-proof cage, with scientific menus prepared especially for him, and a large brass tablet over the cage with my name on it.

The opening night of the Champs-Elysees was for a grand gala, and the boxes were crowded with celebrities. Rolf de Mare had adopted the charming fashion, originally used by Diaghilev in the old Chatelet Theater, of placing all the beautiful women in the front-row boxes of the balcony.

De Mare gave me an exquisite set of lights and a syclorama of silver lame that was simply lovely. Morgan had worked for a week on the staircase to enlarge it, and the steps now reached from the top of the stage almost to the footlights. Rainbow colors glowed through the crystal steps on my white ostrich-feather costume.

Nina brought Kies van Dongen, the painter a la mode, to my dressing room that night. He had, of course, heard and read all about the Botafogo incident and like everybody else wanted to meet me. He was with his beautiful gray-haired wife, Jasme, and they invited me to one of their famous receptions a day or so later. The parties given by the van Dongens were brilliant highlights of the Paris season. His home on the Rue Juliette-Lambert had an enormous ballroom and a dining room with walls made of black marble on which van Dongen had painted figures of green centaurs. The table and furniture were of the same black stone, and the effect was astonishing. The first time I went there, the fete was in honor of the Aga Khan, and many of the favorite artists in Paris entertained. Walls of the ballroom were hung with portraits of celebrated artists and society women, so when van Dongen asked me to sit for him, it was a great compliment which I was naturally very flattered to accept.

He nearly always painted by artificial light and used one of the oddest implements to apply his color—an ordinary feather duster with a long bamboo handle, used by maids to dust cornices and picture frames. While he painted, he often wore a long gray overcoat and a basket, like a straw hat, over his eyes. I enjoyed sitting for him, although it was very tiring because he used powerful reflectors to light the color of the costume he had chosen to paint me in.

The portrait was shown at the Paris Salon the following year, and critics raved about it. This was all magnificent publicity for me, since van Dongen was then at the zenith of his fame, and I have always been deeply grateful to him.

Forster Returns To El Paso After Visit

Brig. Gen. George Forster, commanding general of Fort Bliss, left Friday by plane for El Paso after a brief visit in Lubbock for the purpose of presenting posthumously the Congressional Medal of Honor to Pfc. Herman C. Wallace. Gen. Forster visited the West Texas Army recruiting headquarters while in Lubbock.

Forster, in regards to recruiting of peace-time soldiers, said, "the regular Army has never before offered such distinct advantages to enlistees as are now being offered under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment act of 1945 and the G.I. Bill of Rights. Discharged veterans and other eligible men between the ages of 17 and 34 will be wise to investigate the educational and financial benefits offered men who enlist or reenlist in the regular Army."

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

I AM not telling you any state secret when I say that all is not as it should be between Russia and ourselves. All sorts of reasons have been given, but the most plausible to me is we don't understand each other. And that is the trouble not only between the United States and Russia but between so many individuals as well.

BRANDEIS

Human beings, whether singly or as a nation, are primarily interested in themselves.

There is really nothing to criticize about that. After all, what does anything mean to you as long as it does not affect you personally?

Egotistical, yes, but human.

Whatever happens today is of vital interest to you.

The helicopter—you may ride in one some day.

Television—you can hardly wait for that set.

A new drug—it may cure one of your illnesses.

The atomic bomb—it may destroy your home.

But the things that happened before you, and that will happen after you, are history—history some of which you have read and can read and some of which you will never know.

Russia is far away. She speaks a different language from ours, she has different racial characteristics, different living conditions, different ideologies and different customs.

Some of their seem silly to us, many of ours seem silly to them.

America has been provincial. We have been so busy with our own growth that we haven't taken the time or the trouble to study the problems of other nations or to understand them.

SUSPICION is usually the result of misunderstanding.

Remember always that all nations are made up of human beings, and that, fundamentally, all human beings are alike.

I forget the source, but I was impressed by the saying "All God's Chillun Got Wings." Unfortunately, too many of "God's Chillun" have had their wings clipped and cannot raise from the ground.

Let us help each other by understanding each other.

Many years ago, when I was a cub reporter, my city editor sent me to interview a great statesman. When I hesitated, he said:

"Don't picture him in a frock coat and silk hat. Picture him in a nightshirt and slippers."

Maybe Stalin, too, wears a nightshirt.

HST's Aides In Battle

Two Wings Of Party Hit Head-On

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

A VICIOUS tug of war for position in formulation of the Truman administration's whole economic and wage-price program has developed between the liberals and conservatives in his official family. It threatens to become a far more disastrous squabble than the many internecine struggles which troubled Franklin Roosevelt.

The President's attempts to satisfy both groups and their supporters throughout the country, account for his reluctance to sponsor more definite policies in this field, and for the further fact that so far he has pleased neither faction. Although the dispute is now confined to the rows between labor and management, it threatens to spill over into other areas, including the dominion of foreign affairs.

ANTICS: Anchor men in the tug of war are Henry Wallace, runner-up to Mr. Truman at the Chicago convention, and the President's old-time banking friend from St. Louis, Reconversion Director John W. Snyder. Inasmuch as the latter is the protege of Henry's ancient rival, Jesse H. Jones, the present feud is really Round Two in the Wallace-Jones struggle in Washington.

TUCKER

The radicals charge that Snyder, as a conservative financier wants immediate termination of federal controls on prices of everything from food to homes. They allege that he double-crossed Chester Bowles by removing ceilings on home-building costs at the very moment when the Price Administrator was insisting that they be retained.

Snyder, according to his critics on the left, is responsible for Mr. Truman's failure to take a positive stand for a definite and stated wage increase in his recent broadcast. The Chief Executive disappointed liberal and labor groups when he refrained from specifying in his pronouncement the increase he thought industry could pay without saddling the extra cost on consumers.

SENSIBLE: The Wallacers go so far as to say Mr. Snyder withheld vital data on this subject from his old friend in the White House.

They point out that the Reconversion director's economic staff — and they saw that this information leaked to the press before the Presidential broadcast — had named 24 per cent as the amount which industry could pay without boosting retail prices. They were bitter when the Chief Executive did not advance this figure as a compromise in the CIO's general demand for a 30 per cent advance.

The fact is that Mr. Truman had complete information on the Snyder report. He also recognized that it contained many understandable margins of error and mere estimates based on incomplete data. So, he did not want to freeze or obstruct forthcoming wage negotiations by giving labor a 15 or 20 or 24 per cent objective.

He preferred to let the two parties engage in collective bargaining based on a fuller disclosure of the facts. He advanced what he regarded as a sensible, middle-of-the-road course.

RESPONSE: The Truman-Snyder omission brought an immediate response from the Wallace camp, which implied a criticism of the President and his Reconversion director. Snyder, incidentally, is a Roosevelt appointee.

The Secretary of Commerce released his own calculations on prospective profits, wages and prices in the automobile industry, although the problems of the heavy manufacturers do not fall within his jurisdiction.

Superficial reports of the Wallace findings said that they proved the contention that the auto makers could raise wages by 25 per cent in 1946 and 1947, sell cars at the 1942 levels and still make even greater profits than they did in the prewar years. They did nothing of the kind.

But Wallace's voluntary intervention aggravated the disputes in a way which Mr. Truman and Snyder had tried to avoid. It threw fuel on the flames.

The CIO seized on the report as proof of the economic justice and soundness of their demands. Industry decided to fight rather than negotiate. The result may be a disastrous strike in an industry which employs more than five million people, directly and indirectly.

HYPOTHESIS: The Wallace report, however, bristles with unverifiable assumptions and wistful expectations when it is read carefully. It is packed with slide-rule hypotheses of the kind which President Truman carefully avoided in trying to frame a national policy that would send people back to work instead of to the picket or bread lines.

The key conclusion in the Wallace document rests on four premises which his own language concedes to be questionable. Here is the give away sentence:

"Even with a 25 per cent wage increase and some increase in material costs, profits three times larger than in the 1936-1939 period can be expected on sales two-and-a-half times as large" in 1947 and 1948 on the basis of 1942 prices.

THREAT: Secretary Wallace's quixotic tilting in this disturbed arena is a threat to the eventual success of the labor-management negotiations which opened Monday under the auspices of President Truman. Wallace is co-chairman with Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach.

The latter agrees with the Truman-Snyder theory that these delicate questions must be worked out through laborious bargaining. He does not believe that they can be solved overnight by the Wallace formula. Quite as liberal in his views as the Secretary of Commerce, he prefers to make haste slowly.

But the division in Mr. Truman's family plays into the hands of recalcitrants on both sides. Labor will cite the Wallace figures, while management will point to the President's more deliberate and rational policy. And the victims of this latest brawl at the capital will be the workers and the consumers.

FRIENDLY PRESIDENT
By Jack Stinnett

REGARDLESS of what happens from now on in the career of President Truman, one preface can always be written: He's as American as apple pie a la mode.

There's a story (that may or may not be true) that soon after he took office, a former Senate colleague asked: "Well, Harry, now that you're President of the United States, how are you going to behave?"

The new Chief of State didn't hesitate, but brushed it off as if it were a foolish question, with: "Why, just the same as when I was judge out in Jackson county."

As our soldiers have spread over the face of the globe, the lines most frequently written about them has had to do with their "friendliness."

I doubt if there ever has been a President who has carried that American trait so whole-heartedly into the White House.

POLITICS, handshaking and baby-kissing are supposed to be just like cheese, rye bread and beer. But with President Truman, it's not politics; it's second nature. He likes people and he wants people to like him. In spite of the fact that there have been no official receptions since he has taken office, I'm quite sure that no President has ever shaken so many hands in so short a time.

Walk into his office for an appointment or an interview and he's on his feet immediately, hand out. The chances are that when you leave, he will walk to the door, one arm around your shoulder, pumping with the other a farewell handshake.

President Truman is a lodge man, too. Many politicians use the fraternal orders as rungs in the ladder to election. The President belongs because he's a born belonger. He is (if I've been told rightly) the only 33rd degree Mason ever to occupy the White House. The fact that he has loyalty to every organization he has ever belonged to is important.

Secretary Backs Labor And Progressives

Wallace Again Seeks Spotlight

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Henry Wallace must have felt more natural and more in character than in a long time when he stood before the labor-management conference here and aligned himself with the CIO in projecting the controversial wage increase issue boldly before that group.

STOKES

He spoke officially as Secretary of Commerce. But figuratively he again was assuming the mantle of leadership of the labor and progressive forces which tried to renominate him for vice president last year.

If that coup had succeeded—and it came very close—he would have been president now.

Though as Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Wallace has withdrawn somewhat into the wings, he still is vitally interested in the cause which he espoused courageously and eloquently at the Chicago convention. That goal is to keep the Democratic party a progressive party and not let it slide back into what President Roosevelt once described as a state of tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee, standing for nothing.

Boosts Wage Increase

He seized the occasion of his speech before the labor-management conference to assert his continued leadership among labor and progressive elements within the party by backing up the contention of Philip Murray, CIO president, that the big issue before the nation today, in any consideration of industry-labor problems, is an increase in wages.

This gesture was plain and unmistakable.

His appearance before the labor-management group was surrounded with none of the dramatics of his speech before the Democratic convention last year when he threw the challenge into the teeth of party conservatives, in particular the southerners who are so powerful in national conventions and in Congress. Some thought he killed his chances of renomination with that one speech, though of course National Chairman Bob Hannegan—and Franklin D. Roosevelt, too—had something to do with that.

CERTAINLY, Mr. Wallace knows the price of frankness in politics.

His address to the labor-management conference was not dramatic. It was a quiet occasion, with only a comparatively few but important people present. But, unless tense circumstances than at Chicago, he did inject himself into another controversy.

For it was the purpose of most conference leaders to keep out the wage increase issue and to restrict the meeting to ways and means of improving collective bargaining machinery. Mr. Wallace merely raised the issue. He did not insist, as did Mr. Murray, that it be included in the conference.

HST More Conservative

It is no secret that what might be called the Wallace wing of the party, not nearly so numerous in official places as it once was, is not well satisfied with the way things are going. President Truman and his administration are on record for many of its objectives. But there is a lack of the spirit of aggressiveness that once was so manifest here.

Crusading officials have been supplanted by less ardent men, more conservative, more inclined to accept rebuffs from Congress, less inclined to create issues. This applies, too, to the men in the White House.

MR. WALLACE, himself, cannot be too happy with the general situation. But there is not a great deal he can do about it. He has chosen to remain on the inside to do what he can to keep the party progressive.

Barring the unforseen, his path in the 1948 nomination seems effectively blocked. For the party naturally must renominate President Truman, and Mr. Hannegan seems to have this in mind constantly.

But Mr. Wallace can be an effective force with his labor and progressive following. His injecting the wage increase issue at the labor-management conference is the sort of agitation and activity open to him.

Lumber Dealers Open Fight Against OPA

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (U.P.)—Used lumber dealers today began their knock-down fight with O. P. A. by stopping the sale of all used lumber.

The stoppage was called in protest of recent O. P. A. ceiling prices, and Immanuel Olshan, secretary of the Associated Wreckers committee, said it might spread to other Texas cities and to Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

"The O. P. A. set our ceilings from 30 to 50 per cent lower than the 1942 price levels without so much as notifying us," Olshan said. "We cannot sell used lumber at that figure and stay in business."

Over 1,500 Chinese Are Believed Killed

HONG KONG, Nov. 9 (AP)—Between 1,500 and 1,600 Chinese were believed today to have lost their lives when the Chinese river steamer Hai Chu struck a mine near the mouth of the Cnjoon river yesterday and sank within a few minutes.

Survivors said they believed only 300 or 400 survived out of approximately 1,700 soldiers and 100 civilians who were aboard.

POWER GROUP ADVANCES

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Buyers shifted to utilities and specialties in today's stock market, pushing these to peaks for nearly nine years with gains of fractions to more than three points, while many industrial leaders were thrown for further losses.

The power goup, which will benefit substantially from elimination of excess profits taxes, was buoyed partly by the President's signing of the revenue measure. Steels and motors still were depressed by labor controversies. Rails generally stumbled over profit cashing.

Transfers tapered to 1,830,000 shares from 1,960,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 74.7 of 1,002 issues registering, against 1,023 the day before, 418 advanced and 373 declined.

In the "new high" class were American Power and Light, Standard Gas $4 preferred, American Water Works, Columbia Gas, Commonwealth and Southern, United Corp., American Distilling, Eureka Vacuum and Silver King.

On the outside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Sears Roebuck and Eastman Kodak. Bonds were mixed.

Young Husband Says He Shot Man In Rage

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9 (AP)—Leon Benon, 17, testified at his murder trial today he agreed that his 16-year-old wife should go to Texas with William Owens, 29, but that when she started packing for the trip he flared into a rage and shot and killed Owens.

"When I saw her put away her wedding dress and the party dress I had bought her for our first wedding anniversary, it was too much," the young husband declared. "I grabbed my .22 rifle which I had ready for a hunting trip and confronted Owens in the living room."

Medal Of Honor Hero Visits Amarillo Home

AMARILLO, Nov. 9 (AP) — One of the war's spectacular winners of the Congressional Medal of Honor, Lieut. John Cary "Red" Morgan, is visiting his old home in Amarillo.

Born at Vernon, Morgan lived at Wichita Falls and Amarillo, went to school at Roswell, New Mexico, and the University of Texas, joined the Canadian Air corps and was transferred to the U. S. Air Force in 1943. He won the Medal of Honor in a raid over Hanover in July 1943. Later he was shot down over Berlin and spent 14 months in a German prison camp.

Flying As Co-Pilot

On the day of his heroic action, Morgan was flying co-pilot of a B-17. Two hours from the target, German fighters attacked and a mm shell smashed into the cockpit, almost decapitating the pilot. Another shell shredded a gunner's arm.

While Morgan held the pilot's body away from the controls with one arm, he flew the ship with the other. Unable to leave the protective formation, he continued to the target.

Morgan decided to have the wounded gunner bail out in the hope that he would be picked up and cared for by a German doctor. The crew dropped the gunner from 25,000 feet, and for months Morgan brooded over his fate.

Dropped His Bombs

Despite German fighters, flak, a wrecked oxygen system which caused four gunners to pass out, other disabled men and the mortally wounded pilot, Morgan flew the bomber over the target, dropped the bombs, returned to England and landed safely. The pilot died a few minutes later.

On a later raid Morgan was shot down over Berlin on March 6, 1944. The wounded gunner who had been dropped from the bomber on the spectacular raid of 1943 landed safely, recovered from his wounds and was repatriated to England where he married his English sweetheart.

Mrs. Taylor Endorsed As Officer In GFWC

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP)—Directors of the Texas Federation of Womens' clubs today endorsed Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville for secretary of the General Federation.

Mrs. Taylor has been General Federation treasurer for two years. She served three years as president of the Texas Federation.

Four appointments to board vacancies were approved by the Texas directors as follows:

Mrs. J. W. Trapp of Brownwood, chairman of the higher education committee; Mrs. T. M. West of San Antonio, chairman of the war veterans committee; Miss Margaret Berry of Galveston, extension secretary for Junior clubs; Mrs. Claude Hudspeth, San Antonio, elections and credentials committee.

Attlee Enroute

me to express to President Truman our high approval of his recent speech, and our cordial acceptance of the 12 points which he laid down as the guiding principles to American policy.

"In particular we welcome the assurance of the continued active participation of the United States in world affairs."

Attlee asserted that in his view "we must look to the United Nations and their close unity of purpose, especially that between Great Britain, the United States of America and Russia, as the foundation of peace."

Domestic Future

Regarding Britain's domestic future, Attlee said: "We must be forward looking, seeking new subjects for our economic activity, new markets for our goods, and new methods of production."

Great Britain, he added, regards a large and rapid increase in foreign trade "as an objective of prime importance. It has been much in our minds throughout the financial talks in Washington."

Meanwhile a Moscow dispatch quoted political observers in the Soviet capital as saying they believed leaders of the United States and Britain might suggest a sharing of the secret of atomic energy if not the atomic bomb.

Mrs. James Roosevelt Gives Birth To Son

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9. (AP)—Mrs. James Roosevelt, daughter-in-law of the late President, gave birth to an eight pound, 12 ounce son today. She is the wife of Col. James Roosevelt of the Marine corps.

The baby, their first child, will be named James. Mrs. Roosevelt is the former Romelle Schneider, who was the nurse in attendance upon Col. Roosevelt during an illness in the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., in 1938. She married Roosevelt in Beverly Hills in 1941.

Attempt Made To Get Money Into Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 9 (AP)—Large scale attempts to sneak money out of former Japanese-occupied territories to Japan have been detected and the funds frozen, Allied headquarters disclosed today.

Largest case of its kind uncovered thus far, headquarters said, was the effort by the household of a Koreen prince to transfer 5,500,000 yen ($366,666) from Korea to the Osaka branch of the Imperial bank of Japan.

Discharged Veteran Found Fatally Shot

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 9. (U.P.)—Thomas W. Collier, 28, discharged veteran, was found shot and fatally wounded three miles west of Vivian, La., late Thursday afternoon.

Collier died enroute to Shreveport in an ambulance. Dr. Willis Butler, Caddo parish cornoer, said notes found on the dead man's person indicated suicide.

Public Wants Labor-Management Peace On Any Reasonable Basis

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—The American public is anxious to see some solution to current strife come out of the labor-management conferences in the nation's capital.

In fact, the majority of people throughout the country are apparently at the point where they are willing to accept almost any reasonable proposal aimed at improving labor management relations. Surveys just completed by the Institute across the nation underline this fact. For example, a majority of voters are found favoring the idea of:

1. A law requiring employers and unions to take their differences to a government arbitrator before a strike could be called in any industry.

2. A special court to which labor and management would be compelled to turn when a strike was threatened and whose decision would be accepted as final by both sides. This is along lines of a suggestion by Senior Federal United States District Court Judge James C. Knox.

3. Citizens boards on a community or area scale to try to solve labor-management disputes. The idea here is to reduce to a minimum the role of the government. Personnel of the boards, according to one suggestion, would come from chambers of commerce, local labor unions, panels of the American Arbitration Association, state commissions of labor and civic and educational groups.

Solution Still Missing

None of these three proposals necessarily provides the solution to labor-management difficulties, but replies to questioning on them reflects the extent to which the public is willing to go to bring an end to the current run of strikes and dissension, of which the average American is becoming weary.

The questions, asked in a series of separate surveys, with tabulations of replies:

"Would you favor a law requiring employers and unions to take their differences to a government arbitrator before a strike could be called in any industry?"

Yes	79%
No	11
No Opinion	10

"It has been suggested that the government create special courts to handle labor disputes. When a strike is threatened, unions and employers would go before a special labor court to state their case and the decision of the court would be final. Would you favor or oppose setting up a special labor court?"

Favor	70%
Oppose	16
No Opinion	14

"It has been suggested that to settle some labor disputes, communities set up their own boards of persons from civic groups, industry and labor, to help the government settle these differences. Do you think this would be a good idea or a poor one?"

Good Idea	60%
Poor Idea	20
No Opinion	20

Man Given Sentence For Shooting Girl

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (U.P.)—Dan Quinn, 63-year-old peg-legged hamburger clerk, today received a 35-year penitentiary sentence for shooting 13-year-old Beverly Ann Suit who resisted his advances.

The feeble, crippled man, pleaded guilty and waived a jury before District Judge Langston G. King.

Beverly Ann displayed a black eye which she said was received in a fight with Quinn two months ago and testified that a bullet he fired into her right side was not removed by doctors until six weeks after the shooting.

A part-time employee of Quinn, Beverly Ann said he took her into his room at the rear of his hamburger stand and, after she resisted his advances, pounded her with a hammer.

People hearing her screams in a barber shop next door were unable to break into the locked bedroom, she testified. "I kept fighting even after I was shot and finally managed to break to the backdoor and ran into the barber shop."

B-29 Fliers' Graves Are Found In Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 9 (AP)—The crudely marked graves of 14 executed B-29 fliers, hidden in undergrowth, have been discovered in Osaka, the U. S. Sixth army disclosed today.

Nine of the 14 have been identified tentatively by means of names cut on pieces of plank stuck into the graves but they are being withheld until next of kin have been notified.

The grim discovery resulted from a letter sent General MacArthur's headquarters by a Korean who told of 18 fliers being shot down June 5-6 during a raid on Osaka.

The 18 were brought in as prisoners and held in the basement of the prefecture building where two died a few days later from wounds.

Other Koreans held in the same prison told army investigators that the remaining 16 were marched daily from phison cells to be questioned by the brutal "thought police." On returning to the cells, the fliers showed signs of beatings.

This routine continued until Aug. 6 when 14 of the group were taken from the cells blindfolded and deprived of their shoes.

The Koreans said the fliers never returned.
