New Prexy For University Is Said Elected

Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick Of Columbia Reported Chosen; Regents Offer Denials

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 2.—A report that Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, 46-year-old professor in Columbia university, New York, would be the next president of the University of Texas circulated here tonight.

The report said the board of regents of the university had tendered the presidency to Dr. Gulick and that his acceptance was expected.

No Confirmation Given

It was not confirmed in an official source.

Regents of the university for more than a year have been searching for a man to succeed the late Dr. H. Y. Benedict and it has been known that Dr. Gulick was high in the list of outstanding educators being considered.

Others frequently mentioned included Dr. Homer P. Rainey, director of the American Youth commission and former president of Bucknell university, and Dr. T. V. Smith, professor in the University of Chicago and recently elected to the national house of representatives from Illinois.

Randall Denies Report

Dr. Edward Randall of Galveston, chairman of the board of regents and also of the committee of the regents on selection of a president, when told the report of the offer to Gulick, said:

"I think you are mistaken about that."

He said the time had not come for him to talk but it might come in the next week.

"The committee is not yet ready to report to the entire board who we recommend for the presidency," Dr. Randall said. "The board would have to accept our recommendation before it could be announced. The committee may meet soon."

Committee Is Named

The committee, in addition to Randall consists of Parten of Houston, Dr. K. H. Aynesworth of Waco and Leslie Waggoner of Dallas.

H. J. Lutcher Stark of Orange, another regent, said in substance he knew nothing about the reported tender.

"I seriously doubt if anything final could have been done without my knowing about it," he said. "The committee may have sent out feelers to one or more persons.

"The last thing we want is for an announcement to be made that someone has been tendered the place and then to have that person decline it. We won't want any Cotton Bowl on our hands."

Drastic Revision In Bridge Scoring Is Being Studied

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2. (AP)—A proposal to revise drastically in 1940 the present bridge scoring system drew mixed approval and critical comment tonight from expert players at the American Contract Bridge league's national tournament.

The proposal came from the game's national laws committee. William E. McKenney of New York, commission chairman and executive secretary of the league, said the new features would be tested at various local bridge clubs to determine if they should be adopted for play in the home and at tournaments.

The commission, with Ely Culbertson concurring, would eliminate the present "major" and "minor" suit game differences, and would create a sub-slam with an undetermined bonus at the five level.

Woman Dies While Watching Her Grandson Play Football

DALLAS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mrs. Virginia Lipscomb, former teacher and principal in the Dallas schools, died of a heart attack this afternoon while watching her grandson, Kleber Lipscomb Waters and his Highland Park high school football teammates play Gainesville at Highland Park stadium.

The grandson was not informed of her death until the game was over.

Mrs. Lipscomb was connected with Dallas schools for 36 years. Her husband, William Lipscomb, also was a school principal here at the time of death.

RETAIL LEADER DIES

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP)—John E. Phillips 53, comptroller of the Fair store and past president of the Associated Retail Men of Texas, died today in a hospital at Wichita Falls. Phillips was stricken with a brain hemorrhage September 9 at his home here.

Co-Ed Officers Of Texas Tech ROTC Unit Are Chosen

Son Held For Slaying Of Father; Says That He Was 'Too Drunk To Remember'

(By The Associated Press)

BAINBRIDGE, O., Dec. 2.—A son who asserted he was "too drunk to remember" was accused tonight by Prosecutor Lester S. Reid of slaying his pastor-father, Dr. Russell H. Bready, 62.

The well-known Methodist Episcopal minister, once mayor protem of Pontiac, Mich., was found shot in the head in a vacant lot two blocks from his parsonage shortly before dawn today.

Twenty-nine-year-old Robert Bready, held at Chillicothe, related, Prosecutor Reid said, that he recalled his father walking him about the streets trying to "sober him up." He remembered nothing more.

"I've definitely decided to charge him with homicide, but the degree has not been determined," Reid said. He added that charge would be filed tomorrow.

Reconstructing the tragedy, Reid expressed belief Dr. Bready returned from a lodge installation, found his son drunk and a scuffle ensued.

Under a pillow in the parsonage Marshal Earl Edington of Bainbridge found an automatic pistol which, an autopsy disclosed, was the type from which was fired the bullet that killed Dr. Bready.

Mrs. Bready died last July.

Prison Officials Brand Gas Chamber As Inhumane After Two Men Go To Death

(By The Associated Press)

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Dec. 2 — The lethal gas chamber, operated by disapproving prison officials, was used in California for the first time today to execute two of five "hard boiled" convicts sentenced to death for murder in attempting to escape from Folsom prison.

Albert Kessell, 29, and Robert L. Cannon, 30, walked composedly into the chamber after smoking cigars and taking "shots" of whisky; were bound to metal chairs and enveloped in a thick cloud of extremely poisonous gas for more than 15 minutes.

Hanging Is Simpler

"Hanging," said Dr. L. L. Stanley, veteran prison physician, "is simpler and quicker."

Warden Court Smith, witness of 100 hangings, and opponent of capital punishment, said nothing but he previously had referred to the process as "terrible."

"The whole thing is inhumane," said the Rev. George O'Meara, Catholic chaplain of the prison. "The suffering, judging from the men's faces, was intense. I never want to watch anything like it again."

The priest has witnessed 58 executions.

She Can Laugh At Death Now

(By The Associated Press)

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Dec. 2—The family of Mrs. Marie Hill, 50, doesn't know it yet, but Mrs. Hill is very much alive after a harrowing experience in an Ohio river flood.

"I'm glad it wasn't true," she laughed today, in denying a report she had died at Gallipolis, O., during an epidemic in the wake of an Ohio river flood last spring.

Was Another Woman

Returning to Lockport, after an absence of nearly a year, Mrs. Hill explained that another woman of the same name, who had occupied a cot next to hers in a contagious hospital, had died.

News of the Lockport woman's supposed death was contained in a letter received last July 12 by her former employer, Mrs. William Frane, a rooming house proprietor here. The letter was signed by Mrs. Hill's son, Harold. Mrs. Hill left here last winter to reside with him in Gallipolis.

Mrs. Frane said she was "nearly overcome with astonishment" when Mrs. Hill walked in today to spend a

Co-Eds See Nothing Unethical In Stealing Another's Man

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 2. (AP)—Toledo university co-eds see nothing unethical in stealing a girl friend's beau, the campus newspaper poll disclosed today. Some said they would even use a gun to get their man.

Of course a few of the girls didn't think the boys worth stealing in the first place.

WOMAN IS KILLED

WACO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Bowers of Dallas was killed and Mrs. Cleve McMillen, wife of a Dallas diamond broker, was injured today when the automobile in which they were riding went out of control near Bremond.

Austin Man Is Killed When His Truck Is Overturned

BURNET, Dec. 2. (AP)—Charles W. Jones, 25, of Austin, was killed today when his truck loaded with granite blocks overturned near here.

His chest was crushed and both legs broken.

In a statement, a few minutes before his death, he said the steering device on the truck went out of order, causing the truck to run off a culvert.

Aunt Mary Craves Possum For Birthday—She May Get One

DALLAS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Aunt Mary Reynolds, ex-slave, craves possum for her 106th birthday dinner next week.

So the Willing Workers club, an organization of women, will go on a possum hunt tomorrow night.

The club devotes its efforts to the county convalescent home, where Aunt Mary is an inmate.

Farm Boys Are To Get Prizes

Lubbock today will be the center of interest for over 100 farm boys of the county who are to gather here to receive awards for their participation in the Lions club one variety cotton contest.

Two hundred dollars in prizes will be awarded eight boys. The club is contributing half and the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill the other.

Parade Is Planned

Boys with their cotton are to assemble at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds at 8:30 o'clock. There will be a parade through town to the textile engineering building at Texas Technological college, where cotton will be classed.

Buyers from town are expected to bid for the list, which is expected to exceed 225 bales, after government classers have put their records on the bales. Auction sale is to start about 11 o'clock.

Barbecue At Noon

At noon in the livestock pavilion, a barbecue will be given the boys and their dads, by the club. M. E. Heard, chairman of the club committee, is to preside. Dean A. H.

Financier Denies He Used Chorus Girls In Attempt To Sway Congressmen At Parties

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—William P. Buckner, 31, Wall street financier and self-proclaimed friend of Loretta Young, Hollywood movie star, denied today he used New York chorus girls in an attempt to sway congressmen at lavish parties in Washington, D. C.

The dashing young broker, released in $2,000 bail on mail fraud charges accusing him of mulcting investors out of $100,000 in the manipulation of Philippines railway bonds, anxiously telephoned Miss Young in Hollywood to "reassure her," he said, following his arrest last night.

Tipped by Scotland Yard, federal agents seized Buckner as he stepped off the liner Queen Mary last night.

"It would be nice to be able to say I am engaged to Loretta Young," he told newspapermen, countering reports he had styled himself the movie star's fiance, "but it is not so."

He said the charges against

Webster Leads Strong Attack In Bi-District

Time And Place For Battle Against Breckenridge To Be Decided At Snyder

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

CITY PARK STADIUM, Vernon, Dec. 2—Personally escorted by Captain Walter "Jumbo" Webster, the Lubbock Westerners established themselves quite firmly in the Texas schoolboy grid race by thumping the Vernon Lions, 26 to 6 in a colorful bi-district game here this afternoon.

Aided and abetted by a light but tough forward wall and the bone-cracking blocking of his backfield mates, Captain Webster picked up

TO DECIDE TODAY

Lubbock High school officials are to meet representatives of Breckenridge High school at noon today in Snyder to decide upon a time and place for the quarter-final game between the two schools. Making the trip from Lubbock will be Superintendent W. B. Irvin, Principal R. W. Matthews, Coach Weldon Chapman, and Business Manager E. J. Lowrey.

where he left off a week ago against Amarillo and sparked the Lubbocks to as decisive a victory as they have won all season. While not exactly the underdogs, the Westerners actually rated no better than even with Vernon before today's game.

Strikes In Opening Quarter

Webster struck first in the opening quarter. He satchelled a punt on his 20-yard line, tucked it to his bosom like a love letter, and ambled 80 yards for a touchdown. Carefully he stiff-armed the first two would-be tacklers, picked up speed in mid-field, and fairly ran through the remaining obstacles to cross the goal line ten yards ahead of his nearest pursuer.

He struck again late in the second period, after the Westerners had thwarted a fine Vernon attack near the goal line, flipped a 15-yard pass to Ernest Winter, end replacement, who took it across the goal line.

Twice in the fourth quarter Webster enhanced his All-State chances by power-housing through the heavy, stubborn Vernon line for touchdowns.

Score On Lubbock Mistake

By their own power, the Lions were unable to set up a touchdown play; a Lubbock mistake in the third period gave Vernon the ball on the Westerner 1-yard line, and from there Southall went over for Vernon's lone counter. Lubbock had been guilty of interference with a pass receiver, and a pass which might not have otherwise been completed was ruled complete on the 1-yard line.

But the Westerners made few other mistakes. True, they fumbled at inopportune times, but they made up for these breaks by turning a stiff defense into the Lions' faces.

Lose Two To Westerners

Up and down the Pease river just above its mouth, they consider the 1938 Vernon team just about the best ever to represent the Wilbarger county seat. The team has lost but two games this season—and both of them were to Lubbock. The Westerners took a 7-0 decision in Lubbock Oct. 14.

Quarterback Harold Parsons continued his good job of field generaling calling 'em like a coach might direct were he on the field.

It was the second bi-district victory in history for a Lubbock team, the first coming in 1931, when the historic "iron man" squad, composed chiefly of a dozen players, upset the dope and won four games in something like ten days. Quanah was the bi-district victim, after a general merry mix-up in District 1. But the Westerners were "petered" after the Quanah game, and failed to advance past the quarter-finals, losing to Abilene.

Today's team had some iron, too, and you could hear it clank every time Webster hit the line, or Johnston, Parsons or Jackson plowed through or around, or when Linesmen Pytell, Pipes, Farris, Sanders, Nash, Hill, Sewalt and Foster made contact with a Lion.

The current Westerner team, however, has capable reserves for several key positions, and these helped out no end—Ernest Winter at end, Farris and Sewalt at tackle, for instance.

Today's victory entitled the West-

High-Stepping Majorette To Lead Colorful Texas Tech Band In Big Cotton Bowl

By ELVIRA SMITH

COTTON Bowl fans will witness more than a mighty gridiron fight Jan. 2!

Red Raiders, scarlet-suited bandsters, attractive co-eds, and jittery Lubbockites will fade into a momentary background when one girl appears.

High-stepping, baton-twirling Ruth Clark, drum majorette of the Matador band, will entertain—and how!

Dressed In Red And Black

The 18-year-old blonde co-ed will prance benind Lee Hackler, drum major of the band. Her red and black costume will show-up favorably with bandsmen's bright uniforms.

The comely majorette naturally is interested in football. Brother Earl Clark, T. C. U. gridder, sees to that. Another brother is Lester Clark, Texas legislator. She likes dancing and swimming, otherwise sports interest her slightly. She is a pledge of Las Vivaraches club, social organization of Tech.

Breckenridge liked her, too. When in high school she studied dancing and was popular in all activities. Among other honors, she was cheeen Buckaroo queen, senior beauty, most popular post-graduate, most popular girl, and pep squad leader.

She Is Unpretentious

Ruth prefers blue. She does not like anything gaudy, especially bright nail polish and huge rings. She is 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 120 pounds.

Watches Taken At Abernathy

(Special To The Avalanche)

ABERNATHY, Dec. 2.—Watches and jewelry valued at approximately $250 were taken here in a burglary of Pirson Pharmacy Thursday night or early this morning, according to officers.

Two boys were suspected and descriptions of them and their car were broadcast to officers of the South Plains by police radio in Lubbock.

List Of Stolen Articles

Listed as having been stolen were: Five watches, seven jewels, priced at $15.95 each; one watch, seven jewels, $24; a watch, seven jewels, $16; a dozen dollar watches; six wrist watches valued at $5.95 each; four watches, valued at $2.75 each; and four necklaces, valued at $3.50 each.

Officers said one of the boys was about 6 feet tall, wearing blue overalls with a patch on the leg and a mechanic's cap. The other was about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall wearing striped overalls.

They were believed to be in an old model black coach. They also were suspected of having taken tires and a wheel off an Abernathy car.

NACOGDOCHES, Dec. 2. (AP) — James W. Kirksey, 80, Spanish war veteran, died here tonight from injuries received when an automobile struck him as he walked along the highway.

Two sons, Frits and James, escaped injury.

Dee Brown, operator of a dance hall, said he was blinded by the light of an approaching car before his car struck the elderly man.

Hot Charges In Case Refuted

Castor Oil And Whippings To Punish Children In School For Deaf Said Employed

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 — In a hearing marked by flaring tempers and the flying fingers of a sign language interpreter, Superintendent T. M. Scott of the state school for the deaf in Austin today denied charges he was an incompetent administrator.

Assertions that Scott used castor oil and "severe whippings" on students for infractions of school rules, punished them for using the sign language, fed them forcibly and locked them up at 7 p. m. so supervisors could get off duty were made before a house of representatives committee by the Texas Association of the Deaf through Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill, who said he was acting as the association's attorney without fee.

Punished In Various Ways

Scott said the children were punished in various ways, including standing still for periods of time, walking a beat, raking leaves, and that occasionally one was whipped by an instructor when the instructor thought it needed drastic punishment.

"I don't favor whipping them," he said.

The superintendent testified he knew of no instances where castor oil was administered as punishment. He said he believed it was used considerably as a medicant.

The committee consisted of Reps. Leland Johnson of Waxahachie, chairman, Lonnie Smith of Fort Worth and Cecil Rhodes of Hearne.

Qualified For Position

Scott testified that while he was not an educator, he felt he was fully qualified for the position, that he had no knowledge of teaching methods for the deaf but that the school employed capable instructors for that part of the training given students.

The superintendent claimed the sign language was not taught in 90 per cent of deaf schools throughout the nation and that lip reading and oral speech had been substituted as improved methods years ago.

Floyd M. Bailey, employed as a stenographer at the school until 1929, testified he had been indicted for embezzling $6,500 from student's funds, had been tried and pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $125 on five misdemeanor charges.

Bothered His Conscience

"I voluntarily confessed after it bothered my conscience," Bailey added.

Smith testified he was not under bond at the time he took the money.

"Then Scott failed to exercise rea-

Private Funeral Services To Be Held For Crash Victims

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—Bereaved parents of the victims of Utah's "Black Thursday" school bus disaster that took 23 lives decided tonight to hold private funerals rather than have mass rites in historic Mormon tabernacle.

Most of the 22 high school students killed yesterday when a mile-a-minute freight, speeding through a snowstorm, rocketed into the bus, were children of Latter-Day Saints farmers.

Bus Driver Parrold H. Silcox, the one man who might have been able to explain the crash, was the 23rd victim.

Young Prison Inmate Given 60 Years After Stabbing

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 2. (AP)—A 22-year-old penitentiary inmate, already serving a 20-year murder term, was sentenced in district court today to an additional 60 years when he pleaded guilty to a prison yard stabbing.

William Rainwater admitted the fatal stabbing of Panteleon Lovato, in the yard yesterday, before District Judge David Chavez, jr., and was immediately sentenced on a second degree murder charge.

Widely Known Amarillo Woman Dies Of Injuries In Crash

BORGER, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mrs. W. T. Coble, 56, widely known Amarillo ranchwoman and civic leader, died here tonight of injuries received Wednesday in an automobile accident.

J. S. Hudson, a cattle buyer from Ashland, Kan., also injured in the accident, remained in a grave condition.

The wife of Tom Coble, who for many years has been active in the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, Mrs. Coble was born Sept. 23, 1882, at Henrietta. The Cobles were married in Amarillo in 1905.

They were owners of the old Turkey Track ranch, embracing 100 sections.

Miss Marilynn Fry Of Floydada Is Honored At Annual Military Dance

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

No man can succeed in business when he uses a pair of shoes for a paper weight on his desk.

When some people do favors for you they never let you forget it.

THE TALL GIRL

Ohio born and reared, Rose Bampton is called the Metropolitan Opera's "All-American Star." She is one of the country's outstanding sopranos and is noted for her poise. Many Lubbockites remember her concert given here two years ago under the auspices of the Tech Artists course.

Recently Miss Bampton wrote a little article singing the praises of good carriage. We present it here today:

"IT has always seemed to me that American women attach too little importance to their carriage, in spite of the tremendous amount of time and money they spend on cosmetics and clothes. Maybe it's because we're always in such a hurry here, but the prevailing stance seems to be one slanting forward from the waist, with bad shoulders, and a back line that would spoil even the most expensive dress.

Rose Bampton

"I often think that we simply shy away from the words "carriage" and "posture" because we unconsciously associate them with the dreary hours of exercise we had to go through in gymnasium in school. I know I myself used to hate to be told to STAND UP STRAIGHT, mostly because I am five feet nine inches and a stoop seemed the simplest way of getting around the matter.

"But some time ago I was fortunate enough to be able to study with the great American dancer, Martha Graham, and it was from her that I learned the joy of an erect carriage and complete control of one's movements. A well-coordinated, free-swinging walk is the result of complete physical poise and relaxation. You can make an "entrance" every time you enter a room if you really know how to walk."

AND from Martha Graham, too, I learned to value my extra inches. The main thing a tall girl must have is self-confidence, for there is nothing worse than the awkward carriage of the upper part of the body which comes from an effort to pretend you're really only five feet five. Glory in your height, dress to make the most of it, carry yourself with poise and grace and you'll never regret a single inch, I found.

"However, tall or short, physical poise and balance are all important to any woman. Never neglect a chance for exercise to keep yourself supple and limber. Learn to use your hands effectively, to carry your head high and erect but quite relaxed. Above all, don't hold your shoulders so stiffly backward that there is an exaggerated hollow in the center of your back. This kind of hollow, commonly known as a sway back, makes the stomach protrude and the hips seem inches larger than they are."

AN UNBAKED COOKIE

NOW is the best time of the year for eating good things. What do you care if you gain a few pounds? You can lose them in January worrying over the white sales, the Christmas bill and taxes. We ran across this recipe for refrigerator fudge cookies recently and thought some busy house wife would welcome it since there is no baking.

This recipe makes 4 dozen squares: Combine 2 squares of unsweetened chocolate, which have been shaved, with 1 cup evaporated milk and heat over low flame until chocolate is melted. Add 2 cups sugar and 1-4 teaspoon salt, stirring until dissolved. Cook this mixture until it reaches the soft ball stage (228 degrees.) Remove from flame and add 1 tablespoon butter. Cool slightly and then add 24 marshmallows, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 3 cups graham cracker crumbs and 1 cup walnut meats. Mix well and press in well greased shallow pans. Chill 8 or 12 hours, or overnight, and cut in squares. These cookies will remain sweet and just-the-right consistency for several days.

ROTC Insignia Is Decorative Note

BY RUBY NELL SMITH

Choosing the insignia of the "Torch and Castle" as the setting for their presentation, R. O. T. C. members of Texas Technological college entertained with the third annual military ball Friday evening from 9 until 12 o'clock at the Lubbock hotel.

The insignia of the "Torch and Castle" which is a gold castle and a flaming torch, served as the background for the presentation of co-ed officers. Red, white and blue streamers were extended from the edge of the symbolic setting to the walls and black and white military silhouettes hung around the ballroom.

Miss Fry Honored

Miss Marilynn Fry of Floydada, in a white flannel dress with a red-lined cape and topped by a white overseas cap, was presented as the honorary cadet major. She was escorted by Major Rufus Ryan. Following the presentation of the cadet major was the introduction of the three cadet captains. They were Emmarie Gibbs, Louise Thornton and Othrene Autry, Wearing all-white uniforms, they were escorted by Captains Amatus Chamberlain, Noel Bryant and Clarence Smyes.

Members of the corps wore full dress uniforms to the affair, which was a program dance. Ned Bradley and his orchestra played for dancing.

Last year Nancy Anderson was honorary cadet major. Lois Marie Daniel and Sylvia Smith were company captains.

Pete Cawthon To Participate In Style Radio Broadcast In Late December

Maybe fashion and football uniforms aren't so unrelated as they might appear.

A football player clad in a colorful uniform pleasing to the eye might show more action on the field than a drably clad player. Miss Gail Northe, fashion editor of the Texas State network, and Coach Pete W. Cawthon of Texas Technological college agreed at a luncheon at which Miss Northe was an honor guest Friday.

The scarlet satin uniforms of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, for instance, might have a psychological effect on the players.

Miss Northe plans to go further into the subject of fashion and football late in December in a broadcast over the Texas State network originating from WRR, Dallas affiliate of the network, after the Red Raiders arrive there to play in the Cotton bowl Jan. 2. She has invited Coach Cawthon to participate.

Tentative plans that the broadcast might originate from Lubbock next Monday were abandoned.

Have Police Escort

Bill Mabray and Lewis Kittrell of the city police department escorted Miss Northe, Charles A. (Buck) Rowe, Texas governor of the Texas aeronautics association, and Truett Kimzey, technical director of the network, into the city after the trio arrived here by airplane about noon Friday. The three are to leave at 7 o'clock this morning for Fort Worth.

The visit to Lubbock ended a tour of 22 Texas cities. The tour was designed to present Miss Northe to the radio public.

The luncheon, at the Hilton hotel, was attended by Bruce Sowell and Quanah Parker of KFYO, Dick Shinkle of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Coach Cawthon, the visitors, and a newspaper representative.

Miss Northe participated in a broadcast late Friday afternoon.

Lloyd A. Wicks, Ralls attorney, was a Lubbock business visitor Friday.

Misses Maurine Cunningham, Mary Peek, Brides-Elect, Are Honored

Two December brides-elect, Misses Maurine Cunningham and Mary Peek, were honored at receptions given Thursday night.

As a courtesy to Miss Cunningham, Senior High school teacher who made her home with the C. E. Maedgens for two years, Mrs. Maedgen entertained in their residence at 1811 Broadway. Eighty guests called.

Miss Velma McCandless greeted callers at the door and introduced them to Miss Lula Mae Cravens who presented them to a line made up of Mrs. Maedgen, Miss Cunningham and Mrs. Dora Cunningham of Snyder, the bride-elect's mother.

At Bride's Book

Miss Mary Lou Roberson presided at a bride's book, where, after guests registered, they were directed to the dining room by Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter.

Mrs. Mary W. Doak presided at the beautifully appointed table. A lace cloth covered the candle-lighted table and the centerpiece was an aquaflorium of Talisman roses.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. S. E. Cone, Misses Claudine Cook, Ruth Overton, Mary Jo Ryan and Mary Ellis Maedgen.

Miss Cunningham returned Friday to her home in Snyder where her marriage to Herman Aweas of Salem, Ill., is to take place at Christmas.

Two Are Hostesses

Miss Mary Peek, bride-elect of Cecil Overby was honored with a surprise party and shower given in the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway, by Mesdames Jack McManigal and D. E. Sellers.

Mrs. McManigal read a story revealing the courtship of the couple, concluding with announcement of their engagement November 24.

As gifts were presented Miss Julia Pollard sang "To Mary With Love."

The bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Mary A. Peek, poured tea.

SERVE Idaho Russets daily. Every potato recipe turns out a shining success with Idahos, for Idahos grow in fertile volcanic Idaho fields where days are sunny, nights are cool. The result—

IDAHO RUSSETS, when baked, are flaky, mealy. Mashed, they are creamy, fluffy. Fried, they are crisp, tender. All ways they have heartier, fuller flavor.

DAILY—Millions insist on Idahos. They are perfect, smooth, shallow eyed. There's less waste—more goodness in every pound.

Idaho Russet POTATOES

Stuffed Idaho Potato
Scrub, dry, Idaho Russets. Bake in quick (450°) oven until tender when pinched, (about 50 min.). Cut thin slice one side, scoop out potato—mash with butter, hot milk, seasoning. Fill potato shell with creamed tuna, oysters, fish, chipped beef, veal, chicken, or cubed beef cubes in beef gravy. Pile on mashed potatoes and toast under broiler a moment. Serve.

Chef of Idaho Soup
Slice thin 6 Idaho Sweet Spanish Onions. Saute in 3 tablespoons butter until clear and yellow. Add 1 qt. milk, cook in top of double boiler 1½ hr. Cook 2½ cups diced Idaho Russet Potatoes in salted water until tender (about 10 min.). Blend 2 tablespoons butter with 2½ tablespoons flour over flame; add to milk. Add potatoes; cook all until soft and thick. Season to taste and serve.

New Streamlined Infantry Regiment For U. S. Army Is Being Given Approval

Hard-Hitting Unit Planned

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP) — A new streamlined infantry regiment, smaller but far more mobile and harder hitting than either its World war counterpart or the regiment of today, has received war department approval.

Moving by motor truck and armed with semi-automatic rifles, it is intended to become a major unit in the high speed army on wheels which is being developed to keep pace with current trends.

Details Made Public

While officials made public details of these plans today, Secretary Woodring reported to President Roosevelt that national defense requirements may hasten construction of a third and possibly larger set of lock for the Panama canal.

His report followed closely his recommendation to Mr. Roosevelt that the canal be made "impregnable."

Current surveys, which will be speeded up, contemplate new facilities costing $150,000,000 or more, to be ready about 1960. Begun in 1936, the surveys were ordered by congress to meet expected increased demands from merchant craft and warships of larger size and from a greater flow of traffic.

To Undergo Tests

Officials who told of the new infantry plans said three of the new regiments will undergo field tests for a year in Texas as a part of a projected smaller infantry division.

At full war strength, the new unit has but 2,411 officers and men, contrasted with the World war's 3,742 and the present 3,009.

Whereas the 1917-18 regiment was armed with 3,200 Springfield, single-shot rifles, and the existing regiment has 1,852 such weapons, the new organization will have 1,492 semi-automatic rifles giving triple fire power. It also will have heavier and more numerous machine guns and auxiliary weapons.

The horse and mule have been marked for eventual complete discard.

(General Malin Craig, chief of staff, said fighting in Spain and China confirms "the testimony of history that the infantry is the core and the essential substance of an army.")

More Than 100 Horses Begin Their Trek To Fort Sill

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 2 (AP)—More than 100 horses began the long trek to Fort Sill, Okla., today as first steps were taken to carry out the war department's plan to mechanize all units of the second division at Fort Sam Houston.

The horses, at least 100 of which have been with the twelfth field artillery for 10 years, will be reassigned to duty at Fort Sill. It will require two weeks for them to reach their new quarters.

A brief ceremony was held under the direction of Col. M. B. Bailes, commander of the regiment, as the 106 horses in the first group to be sent away, left Fort Sam Houston.

One hundred more horses will be sent to Fort Frances E. Warren, Wyoming, and a similar number to Fort Bragg, N. C.

NEW PHONE OPERATOR

Rudy Vallee Gets Tired Of His Heckler And Then Shoves The Guy Off Of Chair

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2 (AP)—Band Leader Rudy Vallee stood a heckler in a hotel night club as long as he could. And then he left his stand and, several eye-witnesses said today, "just shoved the guy off his chair."

The man who said too loudly last night he didn't care for Vallee's music was identified by an executive of the Ambassador hotel as Benjamin Starlight of New York.

Celebrities On Hand

Among those who witnessed the shoving were Gov. and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, who were sitting near Starlight's table, and several motion picture personalities, including Edward Arnold, Loretta Young, Binnie Barnes, Mary Brian, Henry Wilcoxon and Gordon Oliver.

"It was especially embarrassing to Vallee because he was trying out a new number before members of an advertising agency," said a hotel spokesman. "The number requires absolute silence and Vallee didn't get it."

A large section of the audience arose and applauded Vallee after he shoved Starlight off his chair, a spectator said. Starlight then left the club.

Tire mileages have increased 76 per cent in the last ten years.

Stock Breeders Given Pay Day

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP) — It was pay day today for the nation's top flight livestock breeders as the 39th International Livestock exposition entered its closing stages.

When the big show ends tomorrow night, Manager B. H. Heide estimated, exhibitors of the finest cattle, horses, sheep and swine on the continent will have collected about $1,000,000 in sale money for the blue-blooded animals.

High Cash Prizes

In addition the stock men and the expert growers of wheat, corn, oats and other grains in the 20th annual grain and hay show took away approximately $100,000 in cash prizes—plus their royal purple and blue ribbons.

Swine and sheep figured importantly in today's sales, with the grand champion barrow of the show, the grand champion wether and other individual animal winners of the exposition's highest awards up on the auction block.

The reserve champion steer of the junior feeding contest sold at $1 a pound. It was an Aberdeen-Angus named "Popeye" owned by Edna Mae Brown, 18, of Miami, Okla., weighed 1,344 pounds and was bought by a Chicago restaurant. Last year the juniors' reserve champion sold for only 51 cents a pound.

Sale of "Popeye" started auctioning of 300 prize animals cared for and entered in the junior event by the nation's 4-H club boys and girls. The juniors' champion steer this year, "Mercer," an Aberdeen-Angus owned by Irene Brown, 14, Aledo, Ill., also became grand champion steer of the show and sold yesterday at $3.35 a pound.

Inter-City Aviation Meet Is To Be Held On Wednesday

An inter-city aviation meeting at San Angelo, scheduled for Monday, was postponed until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to information Friday from the chamber of commerce here.

Purpose of the meeting is to make preparations for a brief to be presented to the Civil Aeronautics authorities asking an air-mail route from Denver, Colo., to San Antonio by way of Pueblo, Amarillo, Lubbock, Big Spring, and San Angelo.

C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, will head the delegation from here.

Family Of London Workingman Is Invited To Spend Christmas With The Windsors

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The London Star said today the Duke and Duchess of Windsor had arranged to entertain the family of a London workingman on Christmas day at their chateau at Cap D'Antibes, on the French Riviera.

The workingman has accepted the invitation for himself, his wife, son and daughter, but his name is being kept secret.

The idea came from the duke, "who is anxious to spend the holiday in the company of one of the ordinary people of his country."

"The duchess," it said, "immediately suggested the children because she wanted a children's party and Christmas tree."

The newspaper described the family as "staggered" by the invitation but said it accepted immediately.

Today's reported invitation appeared to represent an effort to show he still was on the side of the workingman, at a time when he was believed to be contemplating a brief return to England.

Luckless Texas Longhorns To Be Entertained By Governor

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 (AP)—Turkey with all the trimmings will grace the mansion table Monday when Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred give their annual dinner for the University of Texas football team and coaches.

The governor said today this year's banquet would honor the "spirit the team displayed through the season" and "one of the three or four great coaches in the nation."

The Longhorns this year lost all their games except the traditional clash with Texas A. and M. Thanksgiving.

MOVED TO LUBBOCK

LITTLEFIELD.—V. N. Burleson, employe of the West Texas Gas Co. office here, has been moved to Lubbock by the company. His family has already gone.

She Had Perfect Right To Have Pains In Stomach After Eating Marbles

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mary Genova, 19, had a perfect right to complain of severe pains in her stomach, doctors decided, after x-rays revealed 31 full-sized marbles.

Mary explained she and a friend each had swallowed a number of marbles on a "dare" from neighborhood youths whose sled they wished to borrow.

Mary's girl friend has reported no ill effects.

Both enjoyed the sled ride very much, Mary added as an afterthought.

Youth Is Shot And Killed On His Way To Attend Church

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 2. (AP) — Earl Matthews, 14-year-old high school student, was shot and killed today shortly after he left home to attend mass and communion.

Carroll C. Coffeen, 65, year-old apartment manager, told police in a written statement: "I shot him because I feared he was going to hold me up."

The youth was killed at the rear of a duplex which is across the street from the Guardian Angel church which he had planned to attend.

The youth's mother said he probably was late for the 6 o'clock mass and was loitering near the church, waiting for the next mass at 7 o'clock.

Prison Employe Gets Dismissal

SUGARLAND, Dec. 2 (AP)—A state prison farm brick plant foreman was dismissed by General Manager O. J. S. Ellingson today in the midst of a legislative committee's investigation of the system.

L. T. Findley, manager of the brick plant at the Harlem farm, was relieved of his duties after a heated argument between him and Ellingson over the costs of making brick. Later, Ellingson said he would let a prison board committee decide finally whether Findley should be retained.

Protest Is Lodged

Representative Jo Ed Winfree of Houston, chairman of the committee, protested the dismissal action.

"Now the investigation is ruined," he said. "No one will tell me what I want to know. They'll all be afraid."

C. W. Butler of Crockett, a member of the prison board, said "that man got fired for telling the truth." Just prior to the flareup, Findley had been telling the legislators headed by Winfree reasons for a 17 per cent loss sustained on all brick manufactured.

Nine Balloting Places Are Chosen For Cotton Voting

County AAA committee Friday afternoon selected nine places at which ballots are to be cast next Saturday in a cotton marketing quota election.

Voting will be at Slaton, Roosevelt, Idalou, Becton, Monroe, Shallowater, Wolfforth, Cooper and Lubbock.

GIVEN FIVE YEARS

EASTLAND, Dec. 2. (AP) — Mrs. Jackson Peters, 54, was convicted and sentenced to serve five years in prison by a district court jury today which found her guilty on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Marcus Pierce. Mrs. Pierce, 37, was slain at Nimrod several months ago.

Miss Marilynn Fry Of Floydada Is Honored At Annual Military Dance

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

No man can succeed in business when he uses a pair of shoes for a paper weight on his desk.

When some people do favors for you they never let you forget it.

THE TALL GIRL

Ohio born and reared, Rose Bampton is called the Metropolitan Opera's "All-American Star." She is one of the country's outstanding sopranos and is noted for her poise. Many Lubbockites remember her concert given here two years ago under the auspices of the Tech Artists course.

Recently Miss Bampton wrote a little article singing the praises of good carriage. We present it here today:

"IT has always seemed to me that American women attach too little importance to their carriage, in spite of the tremendous amount of time and money they spend on cosmetics and clothes. Maybe it's because we're always in such a hurry here, but the prevailing stance seems to be one slanting forward from the waist, with bad shoulders, and a back line that would spoil even the most expensive dress.

Rose Bampton

"I often think that we simply shy away from the words "carriage" and "posture" because we unconsciously associate them with the dreary hours of exercise we had to go through in gymnasium in school. I know I myself used to hate to be told to STAND UP STRAIGHT, mostly because I am five feet nine inches and a stoop seemed the simplest way of getting around the matter.

"But some time ago I was fortunate enough to be able to study with the great American dancer, Martha Graham, and it was from her that I learned the joy of an erect carriage and complete control of one's movements. A well-coordinated, free-swinging walk is the result of complete physical poise and relaxation. You can make an "entrance" every time you enter a room if you really know how to walk."

AND from Martha Graham, too, I learned to value my extra inches. The main thing a tall girl must have is self-confidence, for there is nothing worse than the awkward carriage of the upper part of the body which comes from an effort to pretend you're really only five feet five. Glory in your height; dress to make the most of it, carry yourself with poise and grace and you'll never regret a single inch, I found.

"However, tall or short, physical poise and balance are all important to any woman. Never neglect a chance for exercise to keep yourself supple and limber. Learn to use your hands effectively, to carry your head high and erect but quite relaxed. Above all, don't hold your shoulders so stiffly backward that there is an exaggerated hollow in the center of your back. This kind of hollow, commonly known as 'sway back,' makes the stomach protrude and the hips seem inches larger than they are."

AN UNBAKED COOKIE

NOW is the best time of the year for eating good things. What do you care if you gain a few pounds? You can lose them in January worrying over the white sales, the Christmas bill and taxes. We ran across this recipe for refrigerator fudge cookies recently and thought some busy house wife would welcome it since there is no baking.

This recipe makes 4 dozen squares: Combine 2 squares of unsweetened chocolate, which have been shaved, with 1 cup evaporated milk and heat over low flame until chocolate is melted. Add 2 cups sugar and 1-4 teaspoon salt, stirring until dissolved. Cook this mixture until it reaches the soft ball stage (228 degrees.) Remove from flame and add 1 tablespoon butter. Cool slightly and then add 24 marshmallows, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 3 cups graham cracker crumbs and 1 cup walnut meats. Mix well and press in well greased shallow pans. Chill 8 or 12 hours, or overnight, and cut in squares. These cookies will remain sweet and just-the-right consistency for several days.

ROTC Insignia Is Decorative Note

BY RUBY NELL SMITH

Choosing the insignia of the "Torch and Castle" as the setting for their presentation, R. O. T. C. members of Texas Technological college entertained with the third annual military ball Friday evening from 9 until 12 o'clock at the Lubbock hotel.

The insignia of the "Torch and Castle" which is a gold castle and a flaming torch served as the background for the presentation of co-ed officers. Red, white and blue streamers were extended from the edge of the symbolic setting to the walls and black and white military silhouettes hung around the ballroom.

Miss Fry Honored

Miss Marilynn Fry of Floydada, in a white flannel dress with a red-lined cape and topped by a white overseas cap, was presented as the honorary cadet major. She was escorted by Major Rufus Ryan. Following the presentation of the cadet major was the introduction of the three cadet captains. They were Emmarie Gibbs, Louise Thornton and Othrene Autry. Wearing all-white uniforms, they were escorted by Captains Amatus Chamberlain, Noel Bryant and Clarence Smyes.

Members of the corps wore full dress uniforms to the affair, which was a program dance. Ned Bradley and his orchestra played for dancing.

Last year Nancy Anderson was honorary cadet major. Lois Marie Daniel and Sylvia Smith were company captains.

These Are Guests

Pete Cawthon To Participate In Style Radio Broadcast In Late December

Maybe fashion and football uniforms aren't so unrelated as they might appear.

A football player clad in a colorful uniform pleasing to the eye might show more action on the field than a drably clad player. Miss Gail Northe, fashion editor of the Texas State network, and Coach Pete W. Cawthon of Texas Technological college agreed at a luncheon at which Miss Northe was an honor guest Friday.

The scarlet satin uniforms of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, for instance, might have a psychological effect on the players.

Miss Northe plans to go further into the subject of fashion and football late in December in a broadcast over the Texas State network originating from WRR, Dallas affiliate of the network, after the Red Raiders arrive there to play in the Cotton bowl Jan. 2. She has invited Coach Cawthon to participate.

Tentative plans that the broadcast might originate from Lubbock next Monday were abandoned.

Have Police Escort

Bill Mabray and Lewis Kittrell of the city police department escorted Miss Northe, Charles A. (Buck) Rowe, Texas governor of the Texas aeronautics association, and Truett Kimzey, technical director of the network, into the city after the trio arrived here by airplane about noon Friday. The three are to leave at 7 o'clock this morning for Fort Worth.

The visit to Lubbock ended a tour of 22 Texas cities. The tour was designed to present Miss Northe to the radio public.

The luncheon, at the Hilton hotel, was attended by Bruce Collier and Quanah Parker of KFYO, Dick Shinkle of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Coach Cawthon, the visitors, and a newspaper representative.

Miss Northe participated in a broadcast late Friday afternoon.

Misses Maurine Cunningham, Mary Peek, Brides-Elect, Are Honored

Two December brides-elect, Misses Maurine Cunningham and Mary Peek, were honored at receptions given Thursday night.

As a courtesy to Miss Cunningham, Senior High school teacher who made her home with the C. E. Maedgens for two years, Mrs. Maedgen entertained in their residence at 1811 Broadway. Eighty guests called.

Miss Velma McCandless greeted callers at the door and introduced them to Miss Lula Mae Cravens who presented them to a line made up of Mrs. Maedgen, Miss Cunningham and Mrs. Dora Cunningham of Snyder, the bride-elect's mother.

At Bride's Book

Miss Mary Lou Roberson presided at a bride's book, where, after guests registered, they were directed to the dining room by Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter.

Mrs. Mary W. Doak presided at the beautifully appointed table. A lace cloth covered the candle-lighted table and the centerpiece was an aquaflorium of Talisman roses.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. S. E. Cone, Misses Claudine Cook, Ruth Overton, Mary Jo Ryan and Mary Ellis Maedgen.

Miss Cunningham returned Friday to her home in Snyder where her marriage to Herman Aweas of Salem, Ill., is to take place at Christmas.

Two Are Hostesses

Miss Mary Peek, bride-elect of Cecil Overby was honored with a surprise party and shower given in the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway, by Mesdames Jack McManigal and D. E. Sellers.

Mrs. McManigal read a story revealing the courtship of the couple, concluding with announcement of their engagement November 24.

As gifts were presented Miss Julia Pollard sang "To Mary With Love."

The bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Mary A. Peek, poured tea.

Guests and those sending gifts were Misses Pollard, Claudine Peek, Ida Rule Duff, Bernice Beard, Mary Grace Ellison, Maude Dee Skeen, Moselle Norris, Sybil Cole, Lucile McCreary, Helen Neal, Marion Rogers, Jimmie Faye Compton, Myrtle Dunn, Mesdames C. # New Streamlined Infantry Regiment For U.S. Army Is Being Given Approval

Hard-Hitting Unit Planned

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP) — A new streamlined infantry regiment, smaller but far more mobile and harder hitting than either its World war counterpart or the regiment of today, has received war department approval.

Moving by motor truck and armed with semi-automatic rifles, it is intended to become a major unit in the high speed army on wheels which is being developed to keep pace with current trends.

Details Made Public

While officials made public details of these plans today, Secretary Woodring reported to President Roosevelt that national defense requirements may hasten construction of a third and possibly larger set of lock for the Panama canal.

His report followed closely his recommendation to Mr. Roosevelt that the canal be made "impregnable."

Current surveys, which will be speeded up, contemplate new facilities costing $150,000,000 or more, to be ready about 1960. Begun in 1936, the surveys were ordered by congress to meet expected increased demands from merchant craft and warships of larger size and from a greater flow of traffic.

To Undergo Tests

Officials who told of the new infantry plans said three of the new regiments will undergo field tests for a year in Texas as a part of a projected smaller infantry division.

At full war strength, the new unit has but 2,411 officers and men, contrasted with the World war's 3,742 and the present 3,009.

Whereas the 1917-18 regiment was armed with 3,200 Springfield, single-shot rifles, and the existing regiment has 1,852 such weapons, the new organization will have 1,492 semi-automatic rifles, giving triple fire power. It also will have heavier and more numerous machine guns and auxiliary weapons.

The horse and mule have been marked for eventual complete discard.

(General Malin Craig, chief of staff, said fighting in Spain and China confirms "the testimony of history that the infantry is the core and the essential substance of an army.")

More Than 100 Horses Begin Their Trek To Fort Sill

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 2 (AP)—More than 100 horses began the long trek to Fort Sill, Okla., today as first steps were taken to carry out the war department's plan to mechanize all units of the second division at Fort Sam Houston.

The horses, at least 100 of which have been with the twelfth field artillery for 10 years, will be reassigned to duty at Fort Sill. It will require two weeks for them to reach their new quarters.

A brief ceremony was held under the direction of Col. M. B. Bailes, commander of the regiment, as the 106 horses in the first group to be sent away, left Fort Sam Houston.

One hundred more horses will be sent to Fort Frances E. Warren, Wyoming, and a similar number to Fort Bragg, N. C.

Rudy Vallee Gets Tired Of His Heckler And Then Shoves The Guy Off Of Chair

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2. (AP)—Band Leader Rudy Vallee stood a heckler in a hotel night club as long as he could. And then he left his stand and, several eye-witnesses said today, "just shoved the guy off his chair."

The man who said too loudly last night he didn't care for Vallee's music was identified by an executive of the Ambassador hotel as Benjamin Starlight of New York.

Celebrities On Hand

Among those who witnessed the shoving were Gov. and Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, who were sitting near Starlight's table, and several motion picture personalities, including Edward Arnold, Loretta Young, Binnie Barnes, Mary Brian, Henry Wilcoxon and Gordon Oliver.

"It was especially embarrassing to Vallee because he was trying out a new number before members of an advertising agency," said a hotel spokesman. "The number requires absolute silence and Vallee didn't get it."

A large section of the audience arose and applauded Vallee after he shoved Starlight off his chair, a spectator said. Starlight then left the club.

Tire mileages have increased 76 per cent in the last ten years.

Stock Breeders Given Pay Day

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP) — It was pay day today for the nation's top flight livestock breeders as the 39th International Livestock exposition entered its closing stages.

When the big show ends tomorrow night, Manager B. H. Heide estimated, exhibitors of the finest cattle, horses, sheep and swine on the continent will have collected about $1,000,000 in sale money for the blue-blooded animals.

High Cash Prizes

In addition the stock men and the expert growers of wheat, corn, oats and other grains in the 20th annual grain and hay show took away approximately $100,000 in cash prizes—plus their royal purple and blue ribbons.

Swine and sheep figured importantly in today's sales, with the grand champion barrow of the show, the grand champion wether and other individual animal winners of the exposition's highest awards up on the auction block.

The reserve champion steer of the junior feeding contest sold at $1 a pound. It was an Aberdeen Angus named "Popeye" owned by Edna Mae Brown, 18, of Miami, Okla., weighed 1,344 pounds and was bought by a Chicago restaurant. Last year the juniors' reserve champion sold for only 51 cents a pound.

Sale of "Popeye" started auctioning of 300 prize animals cared for and entered in the junior event by the nation's 4-H club boys and girls. The juniors' champion steer this year, "Mercer," an Aberdeen-Angus owned by Irene Brown, 14, Aledo, Ill., also became grand champion steer of the show and sold yesterday at $3.35 a pound.

Inter-City Aviation Meet Is To Be Held On Wednesday

An inter-city aviation meeting at San Angelo, scheduled for Monday, was postponed until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to information Friday from the chamber of commerce here.

Purpose of the meeting is to make preparations for a brief to be presented to the Civil Aeronautics authorities asking an air-mail route from Denver, Colo., to San Antonio by way of Pueblo, Amarillo, Lubbock, Big Spring, and San Angelo.

C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, will head the delegation from here.

Family Of London Workingman Is Invited To Spend Christmas With The Windsors

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The London Star said today the Duke and Duchess of Windsor had arranged to entertain the family of a London workingman on Christmas day at their chateau at Cap D'Antibes, on the French Riviera.

The workingman has accepted the invitation for himself, his wife, son and daughter, but his name is being kept secret.

The idea came from the duke, "who is anxious to spend the holiday in the company of one of the ordinary people of his country."

"The duchess," it said, "immediately suggested the children because she wanted a children's party and Christmas tree."

The newspaper described the family as "staggered" by the invitation but said it accepted immediately.

Today's reported invitation appeared to represent an effort to show he still was on the side of the workingman at a time when he was believed to be contemplating a brief return to England.

Luckless Texas Longhorns To Be Entertained By Governor

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 (AP)—Turkey with all the trimmings will grace the mansion table Monday when Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred give their annual dinner for the University of Texas football team and coaches.

The governor said today this year's banquet would honor the "spirit the team displayed through the season" and "one of the three or four great coaches in the nation."

The Longhorns this year lost all their games except the traditional clash with Texas A. and M. Thanksgiving.

MOVED TO LUBBOCK

She Had Perfect Right To Have Pains In Stomach After Eating Marbles

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mary Genova, 19, had a perfect right to complain of severe pains in her stomach, doctors decided, after x-rays revealed 31 full-sized marbles.

Mary explained she and a friend each had swallowed a number of marbles on a dare from neighborhood youths whose sled they wished to borrow.

Mary's girl friend has reported no ill effects.

Both enjoyed the sled ride very much, Mary added as an afterthought.

Youth Is Shot And Killed On His Way To Attend Church

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 2. (AP) — Earl Matthews, 14-year-old high school student, was shot and killed today shortly after he left home to attend mass and communion.

Carroll C. Coffeen, 65 year-old apartment manager, told police in a written statement he shot him because I feared he was going to hold me up."

The youth was killed at the rear of a duplex which is across the street from the Guardian Angel church which he had planned to attend.

The youth's mother said he probably was late for the 6 o'clock mass and was loitering near the church, waiting for the next mass at 7 o'clock.

Prison Employe Gets Dismissal

SUGARLAND, Dec. 2 (AP). A state prison farm brick plant foreman was dismissed by General Manager O. J. S. Ellingson today in the midst of a legislative committee's investigation of the system.

L. T. Findley, manager of the brick plant at the Harlem farm, was relieved of his duties after a heated argument between him and Ellingson over the costs of making brick. Later, Ellingson said he would let a prison board committee decide finally whether Findley should be retained.

Protest Is Lodged

Representative Jo Ed Winfree of Houston, chairman of the committee, protested the dismissal action.

"Now the investigation is ruined," he said. "No one will tell me what I want to know. They'll all be afraid."

C. W. Butler of Crockett, a member of the prison board, said "that man got fired for telling the truth." Just prior to the flareup, Findley had been telling the legislators headed by Winfree reasons for a 17 per cent loss sustained on all brick manufactured.

Nine Balloting Places Are Chosen For Cotton Voting

County AAA committee Friday afternoon selected nine places at which ballots are to be cast next Saturday in a cotton marketing quota election.

Voting will be at Slaton, Roosevelt, Idalou, Becton, Monroe, Shallowater, Wolfforth, Cooper and Lubbock.

GIVEN FIVE YEARS

EASTLAND, Dec. 2. (AP) — Mrs. Jackson Peters, 34, was convicted and sentenced to serve five years in prison by a district court jury today which found her guilty on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Marcus Pierce, Mrs. Pierce, 37, was slain at Nimrod several months ago.

Texas Tech's Choice For Cotton Bowl Meets Editorial Favor Of Writers

Congratulations Are Extended Red Raiders

Recognition sought for years by Texas Tech for its gridiron exploits seems destined to come its way since the Red Raiders were selected to represent the Southwest in the Cotton Bowl classic at Dallas Jan. 2.

State newspapers, many of which have subscribed to the Tech cause for years, are energizing their efforts editorially. They agree that the choice by Cotton Bowl officials is the "tonic" necessary to turn the heads of Southwest conference members.

Basically, their points of argument are the same. They vary only in wording.

Looked Upon Favorably

Facts presented in common by newspapers over Texas are looked upon favorably here and generally it is believed that pressure can not be withstood more than two years by conference fathers. Feverish clamor by the press assures that Tech will not be forgotten in future conferences even if "black balls" fall.

Congratulatory tenor of all comment is assurance that faith has been placed in the Red Raiders and that no one is disappointed that Tech will have a chance to show its colorful array in the Cotton bowl.

San Antonio Scribe Comments

Harold Scherwitz, sports editor of the San Antonio Light has this to say:

"The annual agitation to put Texas Tech in the Southwest football conference, replacing Arkansas, is in order now that Tech has been selected to carry the Southwestern banner in the Cotton bowl game at Dallas. And why shouldn't the Lubbock outfit be a member of the conference? Arkansas doesn't even have to be ousted if it doesn't want to leave of its own accord and join up with closer neighbors, such as the Big Six crowd. But Tech certainly has proved itself worthy of a conference berth from a football standpoint. Besides, the school, with almost 4,000 students, has become the third largest in the state, and is growing rapidly.

"Conference rules have been governing Tech's athletics for some time, the schedules have been representative, the athletic department has been well and successfully managed; in fact, the time is ripe to cut off the foolishness and let the Red Raiders into the big loop. Fear not, they'll hold their own. In fact, if the charter members drop their guard, Tech is as apt as not to grab the top honors. Those who have seen Pete Cawthon's team this year testify that it probably could lick anybody in the conference except T. C. U. An undefeated, untied record against far-from-puny opposition lends weight to such an observation.

"Whether they have had assurance at Tech that they may expect conference admission soon we don't know, but Coach Pete, who dearly loves to win and who hates like all get-out to lose, and all his swashbuckling coterie have shed their old fiery attitude toward the game, Pete now actually pats his boys on the back and shakes them by the hand when they come out of a ball game. There was a time, they say, when he punched 'em in the jaw. 'Out where the West begins' has moved on well beyond Lubbock. The boys even LIKE Pete. Tech as a whole, and all the townspeople—make that read 'all West Texas'— positively worship him. In our book, anyway, he's one of the smartest coaches to come down the pike, not only in teaching his players football but in handling the general public. Those Monday quarterback sessions of his, to which the populace in general is invited and at which Pete explains this and that and shows football movies, prove he knows his fan public."

Flint Dupre, staff sports writer of the Dallas Dispatch-Journal chimes in with:

"Altho the Cotton Bowl association negotiated for an Oklahoma-Tennessee game here Jan. 2 and was prepared to bill that contest as the only bowl game between teams with unblemished records, we believe the selection of Texas Tech as the host club was the more logical one. For one thing, it will give the Cotton Bowl a Texas team, which is highly important in many respects. For another thing, it will give a fine West Texas machine its just dues, because Texas Tech certainly has an enviable record and deserves to play before a happy and large throng of football admirers Jan. 2.

Fans Will Like Raiders

"We saw Texas Tech come from behind to defeat New Mexico in the last 32 seconds recently, and can vouch for Pete Cawthon's undefeated Raiders. Something tells us Dallas fans are going to fall in love with Jodie Marek, Gene Barrett, Tarbox, Ramsey, McKnight and some of the other Raiders. The fans are going to like the big 180-piece band, led by the man who made the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy famous. They're going to like Coach Cawthon and his southern accent, and Dutchy Smith, his courteous assistant.

"And most of all they're going to like those West Texans who accompany the team here. They have a special wire for Fort Worth and

Westerners Triumph; Four Others Advance In Chase

erners to meet Breckenridge, who today walloped Bowie of El Paso, 40 to 0, in a quarter-final game next week. On paper, the Westerners are favored to sail into the semi-finals two weeks from now.

Although Lubbock's win over Amarillo was the crowning achievement of a season's work well done, the Westerners demonstrated today they have power and ability, plus spirit and the will to win. For the first time this season, Coach Weldon Chapman was worried about the ball game. He is not pessimistic by nature, and always concedes his own team a chance to win. He had few hopes of winning the Vernon game.

"The boys don't seem to be feeling right about this game," he said less than two hours before the kick-off. "They were pointed for the Amarillo game, but not for this one. The season was over when we beat Amarillo, and I'm afraid the old spirit will be missing when this game starts today."

Ability Not Missing

The spirit might have been missing, but not the native ability and power. Although outweighed something fierce, especially in the line, Lubbock for the second time this season overpowered and outbattled the Lions. In an Oct. 14 game at Lubbock, the underdog Westerners came forth to cop a 7-0 victory. That was enough in itself, but today was the crowning achievement; the Amarillo game to the contrary. The lads showed they could take it and dish it out, be there heated rivalry or not.

Vernon, it must be admitted, was crippled today by loss of Hap Rogers, regular halfback. But a lad named Maxon took his place and looked very good indeed. Vernon sports writers declared Maxon capably filled Rogers' place, which makes it just about even in the long run.

Rumors Are Stifled

Rumors that Southall would be out of the game were quickly stifled when he appeared in person to throw passes and make yardage to the constant threat of the Lubbock offense and defense.

A capacity crowd of 8,000 persons witnessed the game today, and football spirit in the stands was never greater. A thousand or more Lubbock rooters paid homage to the Westerners by riding a special train, several special busses, and hundreds of personal automobiles to the game. From 10 o'clock this morning until long after game time, Lubbock fairly dominated the scene—in hotel lobbies, on the streets, all over town. The Lubbock High school band, full strong, captivated the big crowd in a between - halves performance. The special train, equipped with Arch Underwood's "wildcat whistle," notified arrival and departure with ear-ringing blasts, heard for ten miles. Mr. Underwood's privately owned car, brightly painted, ornately appointed and outwardly adorned by classical lettering, brought society as well as fans to the game.

Lion Attack Stopped

Getting back to the game, neither side was able to make progress in the first quarter—until Webster took off on his 80-yard run. There was a double exchange of punts, and Harold Parsons recovered Jack Judd's fumble to stop a Vernon attack on the Lubbock 35-yard line. Lubbock went to the Vernon 31 before giving up the ball. Judd got off a nice punt, 48-yarder, which Webster took on his 20. A few seconds later he was over the goal line. The quarter ended with the score 6 to 0 in Lubbock's favor, Sewalt having failed to kick the extra point, and with Vernon in possession on its own 41.

The Lion attack was stifled inside the 45, and Vernon punted. Jackson fumbled the reception and a Vernon lad recovered on Lubbock's 32. A couple of passes were incomplete, but a third was complete, Southall to Crooks. And be it said here that this boy Crooks is something of a football player. He took it on the 18. Pat Farris stopped a third down assault, a pass over the goal line was incomplete, and Lubbock took over, on its 20. Webster and Johnston failed to make progress, and Webster kicked out to Vernon's 35. Vernon approached Lubbock's 4-yard line on passes and end runs, but could not score, with first down from there.

Surprise Is Staged

Lubbock gained on an exchange of punts, took charge of the game on its own 36. Johnston ran 11 yards for first down. Webster, on two plays, gained 12 more. Johnston passed to Jackson for 27 yards. Webster was held at the line, but he took Johnston's place at passing to surprise the opposition with a touchdown heave to Ernest Winter, who had replaced Foster. Sewalt's kick was good, and Lubbock led 13-0 at halftime.

Lubbock got a break on the kick-off opening the second half, when Judd fumbled and Johnston recovered. It was Lubbock's ball on the Lion 31, and Johnston and Webster carried to the 6-yard line. The Vernon line tightened, and there was no score. Instead, Bob Wright got off a quick kick that went over the Lubbock goal line, and put the Westerners quite in a hole. Before they could pull out, Vernon had scored a touchdown. Southall completed a pass to Crooks for 20 yards, to Lubbock's 18. The touchdown was postponed several plays, the Lubbock break coming when Webster fumbled and Botkins recovered

(By The Associated Press)

Tyler, Highland Park (Dallas), Lubbock, Breckenridge and Corpus Christi led the way into the quarter-finals of the Texas schoolboy football race Friday with impressive victories that saw two of the last three undefeated, untied teams humbled.

Tyler's Lions, outstanding favorites for the championship came from behind to beat Lufkin 18-6. The latter, like Tyler, entered the game with a perfect record.

Gainesville's unbeaten, untied Leopards fell before the power of Highland Park's Golden Avalanche, 26-0.

Lubbock's Westerners, favored in the upper bracket of the league race to reach the finals, smashed Vernon 46-6 and became the opponent next week for Breckenridge's "dark horse" Buckaroos who swarmed over Bowie (El Paso) 40-0.

Corpus Christi ran roughshod over Pharr-San Juan-Alamo Friday night at Corpus Christi, 59 to 0.

Three games are scheduled Saturday, Temple playing Kerrville at Austin, John Reagan (Houston) going to Port Arthur and Masonic Home (Fort Worth) engaging Sunset at Dallas.

Highland Park Is Winner Over Gainesville, 26-0

DALLAS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Sparked by Dick Dwelle, one of the season's finest backs, the Highland Park Golden Avalanche rolled over undefeated, untied Gainesville here today 26-0 in an Interscholastic league bi-district game.

Capitalizing on two fumbles by the Leopards, the Highlanders marched to two touchdowns in the first period, added another in the second and the final in the fourth.

The Highlanders ran up a total of 188 yards from scrimmage and 61 passing while Gainesville had only 65 yards from scrimmage and 68 in the air. First downs were 12 for the Scotties and 7 for Gainesville.

Munnell, Germany, Maher and Bishop made the touchdowns and Dwelle added two points after touchdowns.

Gainesville's Bill McCollum was stopped most of the game but got loose on one run for 20 yards.

Tyler Comeback Defeats Lufkin Panthers, 18-6

TYLER, Dec. 2. (AP)—Trailing by a touchdown at the half, the hard-charging Tyler Lions struck once in the third quarter and twice in the final to defeat the Lufkin Panthers, 18-6 in a bi-district Interscholastic league game here today.

The victory left Tyler the only undefeated, untied team in the race, Gainesville having fallen before Highland Park (Dallas). Until today Lufkin had a "perfect" record.

The victory gave Tyler the right to meet the Temple-Kerrville winner in the quarter-finals.

The game was played on a rain-swept field, a cloudburst striking just before game time. Intermittent showers fell during the contest. A crowd of 9,000 saw the game.

Perfectly timed Tyler passes which were lateralled for large gains figured in Tyler's win. An intercepted pass on the Lufkin 12-yard line, in the closing minutes accounted for the final score.

Vols And Ole Miss Set For Meeting

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 2. (AP)—A forecast of "probable rain and colder" was issued today for tomorrow's football game between the Orange Bowl-Bound University of Tennessee and the Mississippi Rebels.

The Volunteers arrived here this morning after an overnight train journey from Knoxville. Major Bob Neyland scheduled a warm-up drill for later in the day.

Coach Harry Mehre and the Rebels will come in from nearby Oxford by bus tomorrow morning.

The park commission, in charge of Crump stadium, reported a capacity crowd of 19,082 was practically assured, fair weather or foul. Hotel managements said they were swamped with reservation requests.

New Deal Opens Hardwood Season With Twin Victory

New Deal cagers opened the season Friday night with a double victory over O'Donnell in the New Deal gymnasium.

The New Deal boys triumphed over the visitors, 29 to 27, in an overtime contest, through fine marksmanship of Harvey and Hyslip. Former netted 13 points, Hyslip 8. Burleson also had 13 for O'Donnell.

Akins, with 13 points and Oats with 12, paced New Deal's girls to victory over O'Donnell, 40-15. Henderson tallied 8 markers for the losers. James and Beaty were outstanding guards for the winners.

BOWL APPROVAL GIVEN

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Big Seven conference approved 1939 football schedules, granted Utah university permission to compete in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, and abolished the old limited scouting rule today.

Elmer Tarbox Honored Last Night In Radio Broadcast

By GERALD SPRAGUE
Avalanche Sports Writer

Elmer Tarbox officially accepted a gold trophy from Gov. James V. Allred Friday night in a pep rally in Texas Technological college gymnasium. Governor Allred made the presentation from the governor's mansion in Austin over the Texas State network to Tarbox, who heard the speech through KFYO, and then accepted it through the same medium.

In presenting the trophy the governor said: "I congratulate Elmer Tarbox on winning this beautiful trophy, and also his coach, P. W. Cawthon, who enabled him to win it." He also saluted the football teams of Texas Tech and Texas Christian university and spoke well of the records made by all Texas football teams.

Tarbox Accepts Trophy

Tarbox accepted by saying: "Words cannot express my appreciation for the honor and beautiful trophy given me as All-Star player of Texas. I know I couldn't have gotten it without support of the Tech student body, city of Lubbock, and people of West Texas. I especially appreciate the aid of the citizens of my home town, Higgins, for their ardent support in helping me get this award Texas Tech will represent the Southwest and all Texas in the Cotton bowl at Dallas Jan. 2, and I am going to live up to my title in that game."

Because of inclement weather conditions, the special plane chartered to bring the trophy here was forced down at Abilene. The trophy, however, was rushed to Lubbock by bus and arrived at 8:30 o'clock. When opened it was found to be slightly damaged in shipping. Bill Fields, TSN sports commentator, who was supposed to bring the trophy here remained in Abilene.

Cawthon Voices Appreciation

Coach Cawthon said: "We appreciate the Cotton bowl bid and we are not going to let Dallas down. You will see the fightingest team in Texas representing the Southwest."

As the band played the Matador song the program over the TSN was closed.

A short pep rally was staged after the broadcast with yells and music by the Tech band. James Huffman, president of Tech student body, urged all students to follow the squad to Dallas and show the people down there what kind of spirit we have at our school. Frank Guzick, Red Raider captain, made a brief talk saying "We have one great game to be played and it will be played in the Cotton bowl."

Another program gave recognition to Tech Friday night when J. Curtis Sanford, director-general of the Cotton bowl, discussed the bowl game and the two teams. Sanford gave the roster of the Tech squad among other items. This program came from Dallas over WFAA at 8:15 to 8:30 o'clock.

Cubs Passed Out Of Picture By Rotan, 12-0

By T. J. HARRIS
Avalanche Staff Sports Writer

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 2.—Rotan's versatile Yellowhammers adopted Brownfield's pet offensive weapon here today and passed the Cubs out of the bi-district picture, 12-0, before a record crowd.

Angus Smith, Rotan quarterback, stood on the Cubs' 35 yard line twice and pegged aerial bullets into the waiting arms of Howard Swann, sticky-fingered fullback. Both times Swann tucked the ball under his arm and galloped over the double stripes without a hand touching him. That was the scoring, and most of the ball game.

Scores In Second Period

Neither team had threatened in the first quarter but early in the second period T. Rowdan, Cub right end, attempted to kick from his own 17 only to see the ball bound out of bounds on the Cub 24. Two plays later Smith passed to Swann who was open near the 20. Walter Fleming's attempt at conversion bounded off the goal posts.

After receiving the kick-off on his 10, Pete Brown, Cub quarterback, and Wade Hill, left halfback, alternated at carrying the sphere all the way to Rotan's 45. Rowdan punted to the Hammers' 30. After picking up only 5 yards in three plays Smith booted a beautiful 56 yard punt that sailed out on the Cub nine.

Punts Pave Way

Brown attempting to kick out of the hole for the Cubs saw his punt bound out of bounds on the 30. Two plays later Smith and Swann reenacted their first touchdown trick just to show the fans that it was not luck! The Brownfield line surged through to block Fleming's try for point.

The rest of the game was all Rotan's. The big District 6-B champions outplayed the smaller Cubs to a standstill, massing 173 yards from scrimmage to 73 for Coach Noorcaster's boys. Smith tossed six passes and had four of them completed for a total of 73 yards. The mammoth quarterback carried the ball over half the time and was outstanding on the defense. It was he who made the difference between a close contest and an easy victory for the Yellowhammers. For the Cubs Brown, whose passes did not click today, and Wade Hill, left half, were outstanding.

McMURRY IS WINNER

ABILENE, Dec. 2. (AP)—Beaten in each of their eight previous starts this season, the McMurry Indians closed their campaign this afternoon with a 20-6 victory over Austin college. Freshman Bill Emerson's passing brought the Braves nearly 200 yards profit and two touchdowns.

Cunningham's Fastest Mile Gets Committee Approval

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Glenn Cunningham's startling feat of running the mile in 4 minutes 4.4 seconds was recommended today for acceptance as an American record by the record committee of the National Amateur Athletic union.

Tomorrow or Sunday it will be submitted to the general convention for final approval as the fastest mile ever run by man.

Its acceptance is regarded as a mere formality, since few performances that meet with no objection in committee deliberations are opposed by the convention as a whole.

Replaces Own Record

When approved, Cunningham's time will replace his own standard of 4:06.4, set in 1934. The world record, however, remains at 4:06.4 as set by England's Sydney Wooderson, for Cunningham ran his race indoors, in the Dartmouth college gymnasium on March 3, 1938, and indoor performances are not recognized by the International Amateur Athletic federation, which passes on world records.

The record committee withheld approval of only one application pending further investigation. That was Ben Johnson's clocking of 6 seconds flat for 60 yards, turned in last February 5. Objection to the former Columbia university speedster's effort was based on a claim he had beaten the gun.

The 1939 boxing championships went to the Pacific coast, for the first time in its history.

Nebraska Gets Track Meet

San Francisco, seeking attractions for its world's fair, lost out in the bidding for the men's outdoor track and field championships, which it had sought through Fresno State college. This meet went to the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, with New York retaining the indoor championships, the Connecticut association drawing the women's outdoor track and field, and Denver gaining the men's basketball tournament for the fifth straight year.

Early in the day the track and field committee, for the second year in succession, defeated a motion to supplant the metric system now in vogue in the nation championships with the linear system of measurement.

McShain Shows Folks Title Form In Slamming Watkins In Rough Wrestling Tilt

"Gentleman" McShain has undoubtedly been seeing a lot of Elmer Tarbox's friends lately!

The light heavyweight champion of the world came through like a "champion" should last night to knock Sailor "Tex" Watkins silly in two out of three falls.

Swinging fists and undercover tactics were the order of things in the main event between the two ill-tempered souls, but it took the semi-final to show the packed house what scientific wrestling really was.

"Alligator Clutch" Again

In the middle-match Joe Banaski toyed around with bad man John Nemanic for 24 minutes before applying his famous and seemingly unbreakable "alligator clutch." When Banaski had enough of Nemanic's boasting things were settled very quickly. But back to the main bout.

McShain and the Sailor had been tossing each other all over the Auditorium for some time before Referee "Big Train" Clements decided it was about time to do something about the "illegal" methods being employed. The "gentleman" then started mixing it up with the referee only to find himself in the clutches of Watkins and heading into a ring post. There was no round trip ticket with the ride—McShain was out and Watkins had won the first fall.

Sailor Tries Same Trick

The ex-cowboy from Post tried the same trick in the next fall only to find he had lost his cargo and was heading for the post himself. "Gentleman" McShain let go a few "swats" with "the wrist and arm," he told Clements, and fell on Watkins with a body smother to take the second fall in 14 minutes.

Both wrestlers were "obviously" tired as they started the third setto. The Gob and "Gentleman" started lifting each other from the floor "with the wrists and arms," "not fists," the second the starting bell sounded. And in 9 minutes the champion had another victory to hang on his beautiful light heavyweight belt. But the match was not a title affair.

In the curtain raiser Scotty Williams and Gus Johnson huffed and puffed and tried to blow each other from the ring for 20 minutes and a draw match.

Preceding the matches the championship belt now officially held by McShain was shown to the house from the center of the ring.

Record Round Gives Walper Open Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 2. (AP)—Leo Walper, maestro at a Washington driving range but seldom in golf's big money, captured the first round lead in the $5,000 Augusta Open golf tournament today with a 67 that shaved par by four strokes.

Although he tied the Forest Hills tournament record set two years ago by Ralph Guldahl, he wound up far from a comfortable lead as 20 "big shots" and "unknowns" shelled par from all angles.

Sam Byrd ended the first heat of the 72-hole test with a 68 that gave the Philadelphia pro and former Yankee outfielder second place.

Only a stroke behind were Phil Perkins, Willoughby, Ohio; Jimmy Hines, Great Neck, L. I.; Mike Turnesa, Fairview, N. Y., and E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Oak Park, Ill.

Davey O'Brien Is Chosen Outstanding 1938 Player

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian university quarterback, received a total of 519 points in the voting for the 1938 Heisman trophy awarded as the outstanding football player of the season. The final tabulation of the vote by sports writers, announced today by the Downtown A. C., showed Marshall Goldberg of Pittsberg second with 294 points.

Trojans Tackle Notre Dame

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2—Notre Dame's football forces, determined to march on to the nation's mythical 1938 grid championship, continued to reign slight favorites over the cardinal and gold of Southern California tonight as indications pointed to a record-breaking crowd for tomorrow's thirteenth annual struggle between the two elevens.

Hailed as the greatest team since the Rockne-coached machine of 1930, the Irish rolled into Los Angeles to find the town in a near-frenzy of excitement and confidence high—but not too high—in the Trojans of U. S. C., the Rose Bowl candidates of the far west.

Irish Lead On Odds

Memorial coliseum, probably will be teeming with 100,000 or more grid fans at kickoff time tomorrow afternoon (4 p. m. CST).

Tonight Notre Dame was on the long end of 8-5 betting odds, and takers seemed easily located. The home-town contingent has faith that its Trojans will stop the Irish winning streak of eight games.

Coach Elmer Layden announced he would start the same eleven that went in against Minnesota and Northwestern, which means Steve Sitko, Bob Saggau, Lou Zontini and Joe Thesing in the backfield.

S. C.'s regular crew will go into immediate action with one notable exception among the backs. Bob Hoffman, the best blocker and defensive man on the squad, gives way to a wobbly knee and Joe Shell at the left halfback position.

Sooners Ready For Washington State

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 2. (AP)—Oklahoma's undefeated Sooners—with a spot in the Orange bowl reserved, and the Big Six title in their pockets—make their last home appearance of 1938 at 2 p. m. tomorrow against Washington State.

Topheavy with nine consecutive victories and dogged by an injury jinx for the first time this year, the Sooners are ready to shoot the works against the first Pacific Coast team ever to perform in Oklahoma.

Only twice in nine starts have the Cougars of Washington State finished on the big end of the score this year, but the Sooners have heeded reports that Orin "Babe" Hollingbery, crafty tutor of the Westerners, has plotted and attained more upsets than any mentor on the coast.

The Sooners will be without Howard "Red Dog" McCarty, elusive halfback who suffered a broken leg in a game with the Oklahoma Aggies last week. Gene Corrotto, senior first string halfback, may be held out because of a shoulder injury.

Scarlet Fever Is Threat To Lobos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 2. (AP)—An outbreak of scarlet fever in a men's dormitory threatened the University of New Mexico Lobos today with the loss of one regular player and three reserves for their Jan. 2 football game with the University of Utah in the El Paso Sun Bowl.

The players, along with several others, were placed under observation after Charles Wacthel, freshman guard, and Eloy Gutierrez, sophomore track man, were taken to a hospital isolation ward with scarlet fever. Eugene Snook, first string guard, and Sam Fritz, substitute tackle, both were said to have been exposed.

School authorities said all would be quarantined for two weeks if they displayed symptoms of the disease.

EAGLES BEAT KANSANS

DENTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The North Texas State Teachers college overwhelmed the Kansas State Teachers of Pittsburg today, 28-0, in the first intersectional game the local team ever has played.

Mustangs, Owls End Season In "Dead" Game

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Dec. 2—A game of football, just for the sake of the game and nothing more, will be played here tomorrow afternoon by Southern Methodist university and Rice institute.

Neither team has a bowl date on January 2 and no matter how the game turns out, it will not affect either's standing in the Southwest conference — Southern Methodist has a cinch on second place and Rice, defending champions, has clinched the fourth berth.

Nevertheless, the game will be played at 2:30 p. m. and some 15,000 fans are expected in the horseshoe stadium Rice institute built last spring.

Rice, crippled by injuries to stars, will go into tomorrow's game sorely lame. Added to the injury jinx that has plagued the current Cotton Bowl champions, old man influenza moved in on the team this week and laid four good players low.

Southern Methodist moved into town tonight a little bruised by its game last week with Texas Christian university and minus the services of Captain Charlie Sprague, big end.

Most fans gave Southern Methodist the edge but reckoned the Rice grid machine might go in high gear for one game this season and since this is the last football game of the season for both clubs the fur may fly before the sun goes down.

Ernie Lain, and Ollie Cordill, Rice's two junior backfield stars, are sure to see a lot of work, but among those not expected to play are Bob Brandon, end; Reinhardt Stanzel, tackle; and Ox Taylor and Hugo Stevens, backs, all out with influenza.

Increased German Exports Are Asked In Exchange For The Release Of Jews

Plan Outlined By Newspaper

BERLIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—A prominent nazi editor disclosed today plans were being studied for making Jewish emigration possible in return for increased German exports.

Although he declined to outline specific details, the editor said the project had advanced to the point where Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, director of the four-year economic plan, could announce it soon.

Idea Is Explained

The editor, who is close to Goering's group, explained the idea behind the scheme as follows:

"Jews need foreign exchange to get out. We haven't any. Hence other nations must supply it. These nations, however, will insist that Germany should repay these sums from possessions left behind by German Jews.

"There is only one way we can repay—through goods. Therefore the problem of ridding ourselves of Jews and for Jews to make emigration possible comes to this:

Can Have All The Jews

"How great a quantity of additional German goods are foreign nations prepared to buy from Germany? They can have all 650,000 Jews and half-Jews if they will give us enough export orders."

Iron fences enclosing Jewish burial plots were being torn down to increase the German supply of scrap iron and newspapers took up a campaign against persons who sympathize with Jews.

In Ulm, placards reading "judgeknecht" ("Jews' hireling") were affixed to stores and homes of persons whom the Ulm newspaper called "noxious enemies of the common weal."

Placed In Flames

The organ of Brandenburg and Berlin brown-uniformed SA members said the poorer Berlin Jews would be placed in the homes of "Jewish villa owners in the western suburbs so that many beautiful, cheap apartments may become available to German aryans."

High nazi circles rejected ideas that an order forcing Jews to remain home tomorrow between noon and 8 p. m. would be used to arrest more wealthy Jews.

Tomorrow is the day of national solidarity when nazis collect money for the winter relief fund.

"The purpose of the order is merely to show Jews their place," one prominent nazi said. "We don't want the day marred by having to see a single Jewish face."

Tech Majorette

must be "tall, dark and handsome."

Here is one girl who intends to follow the work for which she trains. This business administration student aspires to do secretarial work in the capitol city.

All For Red Raiders

"We'll win, no matter whom we play," she said, her green eyes sparkling, when the big game was mentioned.

"I just picked it up, and I've never marched with a band," she replied when asked if she had ever been with a band previously. It seems that once she saw a band marching, and was fascinated by the baton-twirling. Her aunt bought her one, and she practiced. This ability and grace attained from her dancing make her excellent majorette material.

Approximately 100 band members will make the trip to the bowl with the Red Raiders. New and colorful formations are being planned, but no definite ones have been decided upon yet, said Hackler.

Several states and 100 Texas cities have contributed musicians for Tech's band, and can they toot!

sonable judgment by not putting you under bond?"

"If you put it that way, I guess so," was the reply.

Under questioning of Smith, Scott admitted the school's printing department was used to print into booklet form a series of newspaper articles by Alonzo Nasson of the Dallas News who had made a study of the school's methods.

"You used state equipment and money to mail those pamphlets, which highly praised your administration, to members of the legislature and others?" Hardin asked.

"I did," replied Scott.

Several Lubbock Airplanes To Join Convoy At Dallas

Several airplanes will leave Lubbock the afternoon of Jan. 1 for Dallas to join a convoy to go to Miami, Fla., for the 11th annual All-American Air races, Clent Breedlove, Municipal airport manager, said Friday.

Planning to take Taylorcrafts are S. H. Morgan, Bill Bivins, Bobby Ragsdale, and Breedlove, each with a passenger. Several will take Cubs.

The convoy will leave Dallas the morning of Jan. 2.

CY YOUNG GETS JOB

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. (AP)—Denton T. Young, 72, of Peoli, O.—better known to old-time baseball fans as "Cy" Young—was appointed third assistant sergeant-at-arms by Ohio's new senate today. Young pitched in the major leagues 22 years.

Raiders Commended

its citizens as they steam thru that town. For years Fort Worth has been trying to annex West Texas, and now the Horned Frogs have dumped that entire community into Dallas' lap. Irony is the word.

No Apology Necessary

"Come to think of it, Ben Critz has been wanting to shake hands with West Texas for years, and what would be a more proper setting than the Cotton Bowl! We don't think the Cotton Bowl officials have to apologize for Texas Tech. Personally, we wouldn't give a hoot or two howls to see Oklahoma play in the bowl, remembering their performance against Texas earlier in the season. Come on, Raiders, and give your opponent some of that good old West Texas hospitality!

"What of Texas Tech's unblemished record? Saturday the Raiders defeated Marquette, 21 to 2, and TCU trimmed the same club only 21 to 0. SMU lost to Marquette. Texas Tech took in its stride the following opponents: Montana State, Wyoming, Duquesne, Oklahoma City, Montana, Texas School of Mines, Loyola of New Orleans, Gonzaga, New Mexico and Marquette. The Raiders scored 274 points to 35, with half of the opponents being unable to tally.

Officials Needn't Hide

"Isn't Texas Tech the same school which knocked off TCU in 1936, the year the Frogs finished second in the conference, trimmed Santa Clara on the coast and beat Marquette in the Cotton Bowl? Isn't Texas Tech the same school which gave the conference teams so much trouble they quit putting the Raiders on their schedules? Nope, we don't think the Cotton Bowl officials have to go and hide because Texas Tech is the host club in the game here."

In an editorial, Victorious Texas Tech, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram puts it this way:

"Preparations for playing in the Cotton Bowl have signaled the completion of a victorious season, congratulations are in order to the undefeated Red Raiders of Texas Technological College. No list of the football greats of 1938, whether of individual stars or of teams as a whole, can exclude the high-spirited and versatile organization developed at the big West Texas institution. The roll of undefeated major college elevens is small enough to allow for glory for all. Few if any of them have a more impressive record than the Red Raiders.

Fort Worth Divides Interest

"Fort Worth divides its interests between the classic combat at New Orleans, where its own T. C. U. eleven will meet Carnegie Tech, and that at Dallas, where Texas Tech will play. It is one of the pleasant consequences of the "bowl" arrangements which gives to Texas Tech the recognition and the opportunity of registering its strength in competition with what we hope will be one of the great elevens of some other section.

"This recognition of the Red Raiders is all the more welcome at this time for its service in emphasizing the efforts of the Lubbock institution to gain admission to the Southwest Conference, where its football prowess will have adequate play among the other major colleges of the State. For some years influential friends, joined by The Star-Telegram, have urged this step on the conference as its annual meeting is held. It will be satisfying all around if Texas Tech's victorious season of 1938 helps to bring about the event which alone can serve the ends of justice both to Tech and to the present members of the Southwest Conference."

Charter Presages Birth Of Pro Football In South

AUSTIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—The secretary of state today granted a charter to the Southern Sports association, presaging, some observers believed, the birth of full-fledged professional football in the south.

Directors of the corporation which listed capital stock of $6,000 fully subscribed with $3,000 paid in included Benny Strickland, former Austin High school grid coach who has long devoted efforts toward organizing a pro loop in the south.

Political And Social Peace Is Being Sought In France

PARIS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Threatened by colonial ambitions of both Italy and Germany, Premier Daladier today sought the internal political and social peace he considered essential to defense of the world's second largest colonial empire.

(French-Italian relations, strained during the Italo-Ethiopian war and since by the Spanish civil war, were jolted anew today by an authoritative fascist editor's declaration that Italy was "ready to march—even against France—if it is necessary.")

Lubbock Wins

for Vernon on the Lubbock 10.

A Vernon penalty set the score back, but then came the interference on a 17-yard pass, giving Vernon the ball and first down on the Lubbock 1-yard line. Southall carried over. Bill Wright's try for point was partially blocked.

As the quarter drew near a close, Lubbock started a drive from its 20-yard line and was on the Vernon 12-yard line at the finish. Webster and Johnston were doing the work, featured by a 27-yard jaunt by Johnston.

The drive failed however, at that point, Vernon taking over on the 12.

A few minutes later, Webster caught a punt on his 38, returned it 22 yards. He lost on the next play, but it didn't count, since a penalty was inflicted against Vernon. Webster made a first down on the 21 with a 10 yard dash. A couple of passes were incomplete, then Webster took charge, passed to Winters for a first down on the 7. He took the ball three times and had a touchdown, through the middle of the Vernon line.

Leete Jackson recovered a Vernon fumble on the Lubbock 40 soon afterwards, and the Westerners drove to a touchdown, Jackson and Webster doing honors and piling up first downs. Webster made a first on the 15, and Vernon drew a penalty to the 1-yard line. Webster carried it over for the touchdown, and Jack Lovin booted the extra point. Coach Chapman sent in a new team to play the last three minutes of the game. Neither side made a definite threat, but the Lubbock reserves were remarked for holding the Vernon regulars in mid-field as the game drew to a final gun.

Breckenridge Runs Over Bowie High

BRECKENRIDGE, Dec. 2. (AP)—Powerhouse plays, with Ramsey as chief engineer, drove the Breckenridge Buckaroos to a 40-0 victory over Bowie High school of El Paso today.

About 3,500 persons saw the Buckaroos take the bi-district championship and enter the quarter-finals of the state schoolboy race.

Bowie ran up 11 first downs but never seriously threatened to score. Ramsey of Breckenridge bucked over four touchdowns to take individual honors.

New Mexico Aggies Triumph Over Drake University

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Dec. 2. (AP)—A deadly aerial attack which netted two touchdowns in the final quarter gave the New Mexico State college Aggies a 20-16 football victory here today over Drake university.

The lead changed hands four times in the final period, as little Eddie Miller, ace Aggie quarterback, tossed passes which overcame Drake's powerful ground attack.

SCORE RUNS HIGH

GREENVILLE, Dec. 2. (AP)—What is probably the highest score of the Texas schoolboy football season was rolled up here today as the Royse City Bulldogs, champions of District 17-B, bowled over Leonard High, winners of District 18-B, 92-0.

GATORS MEET TEMPLE

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 2. (AP)—The strong defense of Florida's Gators will be pitted against the razzle-dazzle deception of Temple university here tomorrow.

Taber Plan Of Refinancing To Be Considered In Roads Meet

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Taber plan for refinancing all outstanding county highway bonds in Texas and the organization's legislative program for 1939 are to be considered at a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Good Roads association here Saturday.

President Lowry Martin of Corsicana announced today that Chairman R. L. Bobbitt of the Texas Highway commission or someone designated by him, will explain the details of the Taber plan which involves the refunding of some $200,000,000 in bonds at lower rates of interest.

Former Federal Judge Dies At His Home In California

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 2. (AP)—Former Federal Judge William N. Norris, 92, counsel for the United States board of war claims following the World war, died at his home here today.

He successfully defended the government in Germany's $340,000,000 suit over merchant ships confiscated during the war.

Aviation Plans Are Discussed

New possibilities of aviation, in war—as well as in peace-time, were stressed Friday night when 27 persons attended a dinner in the Chimayo room of Hilton hotel and heard Buck Rowe, Texas governor of the National Aeronautics association, suggest ways and means of obtaining a Lubbock charter in that organization.

Robert H. Bean, Lubbock attorney and holder of a private flying license, acted as temporary chairman and named a nominating committee of Ab Holt, M. F. Dagley, Clent Breedlove and P. T. West to offer recommendations to be acted on at the next meeting of the group.

Others Speak Briefly

Miss Gail Northe, fashion editor of Texas State network, and E. V. Pettis of the Civil Aeronautics authority also attended and spoke briefly.

Miss Northe, whose proposed West Texas itinerary was hampered that afternoon by poor flying conditions, and Pettis cited the value of talking aviation with one's friends and with enlisting in the ranks of the NAA the "rank and file," not necessarily the flying contingent.

Attending also were: Art Chase, L. D. Thomas, Marcus Owens, Buck Phillips and Mrs. Phillips, Dr. Olan Key, R. Dick Shinkle, Dr. S. C. Arnett, jr., Robert Ragsdale, Arthur Young, jr., A. F. Holt, E. G. White, A. D. Glick, Mrs. Aulyne Breedlove, Byron Brown, jr., C. B. King of Tahoka, Arthur Pierce, Harold Humphries and Dr. Ben B. Hutchinson.

Most Are Pilots

All with exception of the women and Shinkle, associated with the chamber of commerce, are pilots or have student permits. Chase, Dagley, Pettis, Rowe and Breedlove, Municipal airport manager, are commercial licerise holders.

Thirty-five persons have paid dues, as compared with 25 necessary for obtaining a charter in the NAA, said Breedlove.

The charter probably will be presented at a meeting not far distant, at which time a nationally-known NAA speaker may appear here.

Suspects In Littlefield Theft Are Arrested In City Friday

Three of five Mexicans suspected at Littlefield of theft and possibly burglary were arrested here at 5:55 o'clock Friday afternoon by Roy Sanford and H. B. Brown of the Lubbock police department.

The Mexicans held here gave their ages as 29 to 32. Authorities here through communications with Lamb county officers, learned that Littlefield officials would be here today to question the suspects.

Officers here had received pickup orders on four Mexican men and one Mexican woman. All three arrested were men.

Alvin R. Allison Speaks At Southwest Ward Meeting

Alvin R. Allison of Levelland Hockley county judge and state representative-elect, spoke on farm legislation at a meeting of farmers at the Southwest Ward school Friday night, according to R. L. Burdette, vocational agricultural teacher in Lubbock public schools.

M. G. Pederson and W. E. Street of the Texas Technological college faculty, and R. L. Hooten were introduced and spoke briefly.

New Record For Flight To Mexico City Is Hung Up

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—Capt. Francisco Sarabia, dean of Mexican fliers, set his single motored monoplane down here today to establish a new non-stop flight record from Burbank, Calif, to Mexico City.

Captain Sarabia completed the trip in 6 hours 31 minutes to better by one hour 41 minutes the previous record set by Andy Anderson of Los Angeles.

WAS NOT SURPRISED

HILLSDALE, Mich., Dec. 2. (AP)—Mrs. Ivan Nichols, mother of day-old triplets—two boys and a girl—said today she wasn't unduly surprised. She has given birth to three sets of twins. Fourteen of her 15 children are living.

EMPLOYES HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Broome, 1916 Main street, were hosts with a venison dinner for employes of the Broome Optical company Thursday night. Games were enjoyed later in the evening. Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames P. H. Polk, J. W. Broome, jr., Gray Lancaster, Miss Emmajean Douglas, Coy Dean and Ruell Carter.

FOR MRS. SARTER

Mrs. Winfred Sarter was honored Thursday afternoon when Mesdames Charles Lamb and E. Tyner entertained with a party shower at 212 Avenue U. Guests were Mesdames R. C. Pearson, Thomas Durham, C. R. Moose, J. T. Gillespie, John Prichard, R. Lamb, W. R. Graves, Glen Padon, E. E. Sarter, C. R. McDonald, M. B. Baker and Tol Smith.

C. F. Busk reported a sale of 27 head of cattle in Kansas City Thursday. Fifteen steer calves, averaging 402 pounds, brought $2.25 a hundred pounds and 12 485 pound heifer calves brought $7.50 a hundred.

An invitation to attend a civic club luncheon at Amarillo in January will be extended to Clifford B. Jones, new president of Texas Technological college. He will speak at an installation of club officers.

E. Esten Day, deputy state superintendent, and Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent, inspected Lubbock county rural schools Friday. Those visited were Frenship, Shallowater, New Deal, and Roosevelt. Home economics girls in New Deal served lunch to Griggs and Day. Miss Velda Beth Gulledge is their teacher.

Construction work will begin Monday on the Seagraves grade school, according to Haynes and Strange, architects.

O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture supervisor of this area, and Ray L. Chappelle, head professor of agricultural education at Texas Technological college, are to return Monday from St. Louis, Mo., where they are attending a meeting of the American Vocational association.

Officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Friday night announced they had a "few copies" of the Dallas Journal-Dispatch at their offices and will be distributed to persons calling for them. The copies were sent to the chamber by the Dallas paper for free distribution. The papers contain information relative to Texas Technological college's selection for the football game at the Cotton bowl Jan. 2 and reaction of Dallas persons to the selection.

A man who several months ago escaped jail from Post was arrested here early Friday by George Stringer, special officer with a commission from the sheriff's office. Later he was transferred to Post by authorities from there. A companion of the escaped prisoner was held in the county jail here for further investigation.

A "rash" of highway law violations is finding its way to file dockets in lower courts, said Walter Davies, justice of peace. The last 11 cases on his misdemeanor docket were for such violations, seven of them for excessive speed.

Grid-minded fans also are air-minded, according to Art Chase and M. F. Dagley, transport pilots at Municipal airport. Both will have four-place cabin planes loaded on several trips to the Dallas Cotton Bowl game, Jan. 2, they said. Chase will leave Sunday for Dallas to supervise a complete overhaul of the Warner engine of the Cessna monoplane he will fly, and Dagley will receive shipment of a new J-5 engine for his Waco biplane. Evidence of the way motors are overhauled under the exacting eye of government inspectors, "they magnaflux them, corresponding to x-raying of the human anatomy," said Chase. He will be gone 10 days. Dagley will re-treat covering of his ship, giving it a new color scheme, as well.

New officers for Tasker H. Bliss camp of Spanish-American war veterans are to be selected Sunday afternoon at the American Legion home here. Meeting begins at 2 o'clock. Percy B. Ralls, of Ralls is commander.

S. H. McAlister, prominent Aber-nathy business man, was taken to the Lubbock sanitarium Friday morning for observation of an ailment that may require surgery, friends reported. He is the uncle of Estelle McAlister, 1402 Fourteenth street.

None was injured in a minor au-tomobile accident Friday at Twenty-first street and Avenue V, according to reports by investigating police. According to the report, John Hopgood, 17, of 2101 Twenty-second street was driving south on Avenue V in a new coach and H. R. Schneider, 60, of 2006 Avenue R was going east on Twenty-first street when the cars were in collision. Lewis Kittrell, police traffic sergeant, investigated.

A resident of the 2400-block Tex-as avenue reported to police Friday a stray turkey was found in his garden. He told officers he would attempt to catch the turkey and put it in a coop, according to a police memorandum.

Members of the Dokeys, fun or-ganization of the Knights of Pythias, met on the third floor of the Lubbock county courthouse Friday night to make plans for a ceremonial here next week. Victor H. Lindsey, grand vizier, was in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, is to return, today from Chicago, where he presided at a national meeting of Block and Bridle clubs and attended several other meetings.

Board Meeting Will Be Held

Lubbock county wildlife planning board will be organized at an initial meeting here Dec. 10, according to letters from Charles E. Friley, jr., Abilene, manager of the board in the Lubbock region.

The letters were to C. C. Jobson, county farm agent, and Dick Shinkle, publicity manager for the chamber of commerce, who were advised of their appointments as members.

Initial Membership 22

Initial membership of the county board, they were informed, will be 22, but the organization will be expanded as rapidly as possible. Invitation to attend the meeting, for which hour and place are yet to be set, will include every person interested in the conservation of the state's wild life.

The idea of the county organizations, it was explained, originated with William J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission.

Boards In Every County

His plan, if carried to completion, would mean boards in every county in the state. Counties, in turn, will be grouped into districts and districts into regions.

Purposes were explained as being to provide media through which the crystallized efforts of those who believe in game conservation can strive for the preservation of the state's wild life. Through such agencies, in Tucker's opinion as outlined here, public support could be enlisted against those who violate game laws and in behalf of legislation which might be needed to insure that wildlife of today may have a chance to survive.

Lubbock-Amarillo Grid Game To Be Shown At Broadway

W. G. McMillan, city commissioner, had 400 feet of Lubbock-Amarillo grid film in the "can," shot Thanksgiving day when Lubbock won the district championship from Amarillo, 29-19. The film is in color.

McMillan announced that the completed film, with sound accompaniment and explanation, will be shown at the Broadway theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

To film the game, the city commissioner perched in a makeshift crow's nest at the top of one of the lofty light poles at the 50-yard line of Texas Technological college stadium. He remained there nearly three hours.

The completed film, he reported, starts with the kickoff and includes every important play in a game ranked among the most sensational in the 19 years history of the Texas Interscholastic league.

Tulane Professor To Lecture At Texas Tech On Dec. 16

Prof. Marion Dean Ross of the school of architecture at Tulane university will lecture at Texas Technological college Dec. 16 under auspices of the department of architecture and allied arts.

Members of the Art institute are to be invited.

The subject will be "Mexican Architecture, 1520-1820." Slides will illustrate the lecture. Prof. Ross is making a lecture tour of colleges of the country.

Negro Scout Plans Talked On Friday

Plans were discussed for the remainder of the year at a negro district committee meeting for colored Boy Scouts Friday night at Dunbar High school at which C. H. Lyons was chairman, according to Earl M. McClure, South Plains Boy Scout council executive.

Plans were laid for the investiture of scouts into two troops at a meeting Dec. 20, when a troop of white scouts will be invited to conduct investiture services for them.

"Troops 18 and 19 are doing exceptionally well," reported Oscar M. Lyles, district committeman.

C. R. Sedberry, scoutmaster of troop 19 reported 19 members in that troop. Perry Jackson, scoutmaster of troop 18 reported eight members in his troop, and expressed a need for more members.

The two troops were organized last month, McClure said.

The next negro district committee meeting was set for Dec. 20, preceding tenderfoot investiture.

Farm Boys

Leidigh of the division of agriculture of the college and K. N. Clapp, Anderson, Clayton & Co., agent, are among those who will speak briefly.

In the afternoon awards are to be made. Fifteen years is the dividing age between two groups. First place in each group will receive $50; second, $25; third, $15 and fourth, $10.

Boys are to repay the club for the seed they secured last spring, either in cash or seed, preferably the former. Rates of payment in cash have been announced.

Continuation Is Planned

The club prefers the cash, as they plan continuation next year with new seed. They want the boys to sell seed to their fathers and other farmers, so as to have more acreage in quality seed planted next year.

Awards will be on the basis of the most lint cotton per acre. Paymaster, Rogers Acala, Ferguson 406 and D. P. & L. were the four seeds planted.

One hundred and fifty boys were entered in the contest, 50 of them 4-H club boys and the other vocational agriculture boys. Many of the boys were hailed or dusted out and about 110 completed their tests.

few days before returning to her job in a Gallipolis hospital.

Given Up For Dead

Paralyzed and stricken blind during the epidemic, Mrs. Hill related that she was given up for dead. An undertaker, however, found a "spark of life," and took her to a quarantine hospital.

There, she explained, a nurse transposed the charts on her bed and that of the woman in the adjoining cot. An erroneous report of Mrs. Hill's death was made to her son.

She recovered after a long illness, and finally got a job in the hospital, Mrs. Hill said. Meanwhile, the son went to West Virginia without learning of the mistake; and a younger son, William, went to a CCC camp in Montana. She does not know the address of either one.

Mrs. Hill said she also has a daughter, Mary, whom she last heard from in Newark, N. J.

Cotton Displays In Dallas Hotels Are Being Sought

Letters to colleges and cotton mills in Texas inviting them to contribute to displays representative of the cotton industry in Dallas hotel lobbies the week opening Dec. 26 were mailed Friday by M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering at Texas Technological college and recently appointed chairman of the technical and scientific division of the cotton industries committee of Dallas.

A committee appointed at Tech by Heard met Friday afternoon with the executive committee to discuss Tech participation in the exhibit. No definite plans have been made. Members of the committee appointed by Heard are Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Cecil Horne, Earl T. Duke, and Mrs. Edna Lyles. Executive committee members are Dr. James M. Gordon, W. T. Gaston, and Dr. Harry L. Kent.

him were "absurd."

"As for girls being employed by me and my associates in order to influence legislation in Washington — ridiculous!" he said.

Assistant U. S. Attorney William P. Maloney said Buckner had established a "beauty lobby" in Washington to put through the redemption of defaulted Philippines railway bonds, and had flown five chorines from the Paradise night club in New York to a hotel party in the national capital in August, 1937.

Castor Bean Possibilities

FROM an outstanding authority on the subject, as related in a news item in The Morning Avalanche the other day, came the suggestion that the South Plains may be adapted to the production of the castor bean.

Not being an authority on the castor bean, we frankly do not know whether that is true. Probably the overwhelming majority of the population is similarly uninformed. Possibly the idea may be repugnant to the younger generation because it is from this bean that castor oil is derived.

However, when suggestions of that nature are made, one is inclined to wonder just how many people will appreciate their potential value. How many will think and then realize that one suggestion of that nature may prove to be worth more in actual dollars and cents than would be the announcement, say, that a new and needed office building is to be erected or that a million dollar plant is to be established here?

This does not suggest that castor beans may prove a valuable crop on the Plains. Perhaps it may be true. Possibly not. The point is that if castor beans or any other farm product not now grown on the South Plains is brought here and prospers because someone has suggested it, the prosperity of the area has been increased. When such suggestions are made, the least that can be done is to try them out. The effort will cost little. The returns may be tremendous.

In the case of the castor bean, the plant already is being tested. But there doubtless are dozens and dozens of other products of the soil not know now on the South Plains which would flourish if only we learn of them.

Thus our people should, and do, welcome and appreciate suggestions of the kind.

Uncertainty Existing

THE fact that nearly 2,000 complaints charging violations of the federal wage-hour law which went into effect hardly a month ago have been filed is not in the least surprising.

The fact that several dozen among them raise points seemingly clear cut as to the constitutionality of the law is no more than was expected.

Seldom, if ever, in our history has any measure been enacted of so many ramifications; which proposes such radical departure from the established order of things as they have prevailed; concerning which honest and able opinion has been so confused and so much at variance.

From among the cases, some undoubtedly will eventually reach the supreme court of the United States. Until that is done, and until the highest court has rendered its final decision, a state of uncertainty will prevail among industries by thousands, among workers by millions.

Thus it is best for all that this litigation, which will be long and hard fought, be started on its way with the least possible delay. It will hasten the time when employers and employes will know exactly where they stand, and can adjust themselves accordingly.

With Our Contemporaries

"In our opinion Hitler is writing his own doom," E. I. Hill observes in the Lynn County News, Tahoka. "If the German people keep on following his leadership and keep on permitting themselves to be dominated by such a monster, they soon will have written their doom."

* * * *

"If the hitch-hikers are to expect many more accommodations from the public, they will have to form an association through which they can guarantee good behavior of the men seeking rides," W. J. Hale observed in the Yoakum County Review.

The One-Minute Sermon

The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forsake us:

That he may incline our hearts unto him, to walk in all his ways and to keep his commandments, and his statutes, and his judgments, which he commanded our fathers.

And let these my words, wherewith I have made supplication before the Lord, be nigh unto the Lord our God, day and night, that he maintain the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Israel at all times, as the matter shall require:

That all the people of the earth may know that the Lord is God, and that there is none else.

Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord, our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.—I. Kings 8; 57 through 61.

JUDY ALCOTT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

DWIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.

JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.

MARVEL HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday: Jack proposes to Judy, who rejects him. Violently then, he leaves her, telling her he's stood by long enough!

CHAPTER VIII

In the days that followed, Judy Alcott tried to forget Jack Hanley's face, tried to forget the impassioned way he had begged her to marry him. The shock of discovering that he was in love with her had set in motion the many memories she wanted to bury.

While she trod the painful territory of these memories, she couldn't rid herself of Dwight's face. She saw his eyes and his smile and she felt again the touch of his hands. She couldn't forget the way they had kissed, and over and over again she saw the deck of the Texarkana, and heard his voice the night he told her he was going to marry Marvel.

She tried to keep herself busy. She did little errands for her mother, she played bridge with Diane Bell and the group of navy wives on the station. She drove into town occasionally and slipped into a movie house, to forget her own problems in the problems of the shadows on the screen. But she never wholly forgot.

The marriage of Dwight and Marvel was coming closer. In common decency, she would have to go. But she hated the thought. There had been a few parties given for the bride on the station, and at each, Marvel had scored no better than she had the night at Alcotts'.

Judy had not seen Jack since the night he asked her to marry him. She was curiously eager to see him, disturbed because he did not call or come. Yet with another part of her, she was glad. She had to fight this thing out. She did not love him. She knew, desperately, that it was still Dwight she loved. She hungered for him, despite the certain knowledge that he was Marvel's. She knew, as she felt her heart pounding with longing for Dwight's arms around her again, that she'd do anything—anything!—to have him back.

She was wandering about the house one morning, thinking the same futile things over and over, when the phone. Her heart leaped. Maybe it was Jack! She would see him. She had not treated him well. Even though she could not marry him, their friendship had meant a great deal, and she missed him.

But it was not Jack's voice that answered her "Hello." It was Diane Bell. She said crisply, "I'm going downtown shopping and I thought you'd like to come." She did not say that Judy had been down in the dumps lately and needed to be revived, but it was there in her voice.

"Shopping?" Judy said uncertainly. "I—there's really nothing I need."

"Get on your best bib and tucker," ordered Diane. "We're going to buy baby pants and a new hat for me. We'll have lunch in the Paradise. Now, come on."

So Judy said, "All right. Be ready in half an hour."

She took a bath and dressed carefully. Diane was right. She ought to get out more, do things, have her attention distracted. She wondered a little shamedly just how much Diane knew. It was Diane who said, "I naturally matched you up with the best bet on the lot, Jack Hanley."

When she was dressed, she looked at herself in the mirror. Her face seemed thinner than before. But it was still heart shaped and comely. And her eyes, blue under the long lashes, were cool. They looked back at her, and if she had not known the turmoil buried in their depths, she would not have seen it. Her mouth was soft and richly red, curved tenderly. She smiled at herself. She was pretty enough, all right. But she could not hold a candle to Marvel's insistent, flamboyant beauty.

She drove her car to Diane's bungalow. Diane was standing on the porch. "I've got Mrs. Cook's nurse watching the baby. Isn't it swell of her to send her over when I want to go out?" Mrs. Cook, the wife of a commander, had three children of school age. Diane said, "The girl loves little babies, and those kids over there are too big to be cuddled."

It was a sunny morning, warm, but not too warm for comfort. Judy felt her spirits lift a little as they rode into town. Perhaps she did need to get out more. She felt a little surge of gratitude toward Diane. She said, smiling, "I'm going to be painfully honest about every hat you try on, Di."

They parked the car, and walked into one shop after another. Diane confessed, "I really hoped to find something luscious — reduced to about two ninety-five."

But they found nothing that suited them, and so at 12 o'clock they bought the diapers for little Billy and a knit gown. "Now, let's eat!"

The Paradise was one of the nicest restaurants in town. It had a cool, dim spaciousness, and the hum of cultured voices greeted them as they walked in from the street. There was a trim hostess who came forward and said brightly, "Two? This way please."

Diane murmured, "One dollar for lunch. If I'd go hungry, that would be an extra dollar I could spend on the hat."

"This is my treat," said Judy.

"Not on your life."

They sat down at the little table already set with silver. A rosebud nodded from a slim little vase in the center of the table, and the hostess put long white menu cards into their hands.

After they had ordered — Diane was taking chicken salad and peas, and Judy wanted braised calf liver with onions——they settled back in their chairs and looked around the big restaurant. The women at other tables were all smartly dressed, poised. The waitresses hurried back and forth with trays, and the hostess led two people to a table directly opposite theirs.

Diane said, "Suppose you tell me why you've suddenly buried yourself? You weren't at the dinner for Captain Lane, you've hardly played bridge—I never see you!"

Judy said carelessly, "Just resting. I'm sort of fed up on gaity."

"You're sort of crazy!" Diane said. She leaned forward. "Listen, nitwit, you're not eating your heart out over that good-looking good-for-nothing, are you?"

"I don't know what you mean," said Judy.

* * *

Diane jeered. "It's none of my business, but you're one of my best friends, Judy. I don't like to see you going over the bumps without doing anything to stop you. And Bill tells me Jack Hanley's staying aboard these days, moping. Said he mentioned something about thinking of requesting a transfer to Pensacola."

"Pensacola?" Judy echoed swiftly. She was astonished at her own dismay. "Why does he want to do that?"

"Maybe to get away from here," said Diane flatly. "You quarreled with him?"

"No," Judy said carefully. "Not exactly."

Diane pushed the pepper and salt shakers around peevishly. "You're so blamed sunk in pitying yourself because Dwight Campbell's marrying somebody else, you don't even notice Jack Hanley enough to quarrel with him!"

Judy sat very still. She had known there was very little she could hide from Diane's shrewd gaze, but she hadn't thought she was as transparent as that.

Suddenly Diane stiffened. "Look!" she whispered. "Over there—in that table right across—isn't that Marvel Hastings?"

Judy did not move her gaze at once, but in a little while she let her eyes turn in the direction which Diane had indicated. And there, sitting at the table across from a dark young man, was Marvel. Marvel in a smart patent leather hat that shone against the brightness of her hair. Marvel in a sheer black dress, with a beautiful clip at her throat. And Marvel was laughing into the man's eyes, and her hand, on the table, was close to his. He was bending forward, talking earnestly. There was coquetry in Marvel's glance, and a poised, triumphant assurance.

"They're merely making light conversation!" Diane said. "All you have to do is look at them and see that."

Judy felt a hard knot in her breast, and she said. "It's probably harmless and innocent. One of her friends from Los Angeles."

But she knew, watching Marvel's face, that it was more than that. And she knew that Diane knew it. Where was Dwight? Why was Marvel lunching with this man, flirting with him, when she was engaged to Dwight?

Big New Year's Celebration Being Planned At Disney

DISNEY, Okla., Dec. 2 (AP)—Disney, Grand River dam boom town, plans a big New Year's eve celebration—and already has the cash.

A literal peck of money was collected for presentation to the prettiest girl at Disney's first anniversary party. Came the girls—every one preened and primped her prettiest.

All the men looked—once, twice, thrice—and refused even to attempt to pick a winner.

The peck of money, they voted, will pay for the New Year's party.

Entries must be made before Dec. 15 and the decorations in place by that time.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HOW Tom Dewey permitted certain ultra-conservative backers to euchre him out of a prospective victory for New York governor, and possibly out of a sure presidential nomination in 1940, is the most sensational and significant story of present day politics. His chagrined sponsors are trying to cover it up lest it hurt him and them two years hence.

First the young Mr. Dewey antagonized Mayor LaGuardia by breaking his contract to remain on the job as district attorney. Next he permitted his closest Republican advisers—National Committeeman Simpson and State Chairman Murray—to serve public notice that they wanted him to win without the assistance of "crackpots, radicals, New Dealers, etc." This was a direct slap at the influential Mayor—notice that they did not want him to issue an endorsement of his district attorney.

Mayor LaGuardia sent sizzling letters to Messrs. Simpson and Murray, asking them pointblank if they wanted a return to Hanna-McKinley days. The Mayor got no reply to either message—they were probably too hot to handle. Though not openly endorsing Governor Lehman, the "little flower" indicated that he was in the Albany man's cornet. Had he delivered speeches for Dewey in Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, Schenectady and New York—and he might have—he might have overturned the slim, 68,000 majority by which the Governor won.

ERROR: Mr. Dewey's personal behavior was even more amazing than his handlers' snubbing of the mayor. It reveals that the D. A. still has a lot to learn about national politics.

When Mr. Dewey first cherished the idea of running for governor, he consulted none other than Herbert Lehman himself! The Republican hopeful explained that he would like to be governor, but that he didn't feel up to beating Mr. Lehman, so he asked the latter whether his intentions to retire were honorable. The governor assured him that his decision to quit was irrevocable, and it was on that promise from the enemy that the district attorney agreed to become a candidate. It looked like a cinch, for everybody agreed that Dewey could defeat anybody except Lehman.

Then the D. A. delivered a speech—a fatal speech. He charged that the Governor, though himself an honorable man, had permitted political criminals—Albany and Tammany leaders—to use him as a political facade. He assailed the governor as a stooge for the underworld. Infuriated by such an accusation, Mr. Lehman withdrew his refusal to run out of a desire for vindication. Otherwise, Tom Dewey might be New York governor-elect now and a "natural" for 1940.

ISSUE: The next Congress will deliver a flank attack on the Hull trade agreements that is designed to put the secretary of state on the spot. A powerful bloc will take advantage of a comparatively obscure provision of each treaty which he has negotiated with foreign governments.

The clause provides for devision of specific items whenever, as a result of concessions, foreign importations become excessive and threaten to jeopardize a rival American industry. In private talks Mr. Hull's spokesman have promised to show their good faith by invoking this provision whenever necessary. On several major articles, imports under the Hull system have pyramided until, in the opinion of influential Congressional groups, they endanger domestic industries. Increases in imports range from less than 1 per cent to 20 per cent of the production in the United States.

So far every attempt to obtain revision of these specific agreements has failed, despite the treaty guarantees. The state department takes the positions that to overhaul one or two paragraphs would force reconsideration of the whole treaty. But on this issue the boys are determined to make Mr. Hull prove his good faith—and his skill—as a Yankee tradesman.

TEAM: A very confidential White House canvass of New Deal forces in the senate discloses that the administration will fall far short of mustering a majority on most major issues. The most they can count on is 31, and F. D. R.'s scouts decorate several of those with heavy question marks.

The lineup will always vary, depending on the issue before the chamber, but on extremely controversial questions—W. P. A. funds, N. L. R. B. revision, brain trusters' legislation—it looks as if the President will have about 18 less than a majority. Here are the men whom presidential retrievers think they can round up in an emergency: Leader Barkley, Pittman, Wagner, Mead, Green, Maloney (?), Smathers, Guffey, Hughes, Reynolds, Russell (?), Overton, Ellender, Andrews, Pepper (?), Stewart, Minton, Norris, Downey, Bone, Schwellenbach, Chavez, Caraway, Hayden, Sheppard (?), Lee, Thomas (Utah), LaFollette, Bilbo, Hill, Murray.

F. D. R.'s scouts—Messrs. Keenan, Corcoran, Cohen—have checked and rechecked this list, but they can't pack it. Ironically, it omits the names of almost every old and famous Democrat—Pat Harrison, Carter Glass, Harry Byrd, J. Hamilton Lewis, Joseph O'Mahoney, David I. Walsh, F. D. R.'s team consists mostly of five-termers, second-stringers, unknown and unpredictables.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

INFORMED New Yorkers learn that the Tennessee Valley authority and its New Deal backers are quite hot and bothered about Wendell L. Willkie's proposal that the Securities and Exchange commission be designated to determine the price at which Tennessee Electric Power's properties should be sold to the government.

Mr. Willkie had made this suggestion previously, but A. V. A. ignored it. He repeated it with emphasis before the Congressional Committee investigating the agency, adding his pledge to accept the S. E. C.'s decision as binding if T. V. A. would do the same. This puts the T. V. A.'s friends on the defensive. Since the S. E. C. is a New Deal agency, they can't very well claim that it would be biased in favor of the "power trust." On the other hand, they know that S. E. C. chairman William O. Douglas is one of the administration advisers who sincerely favors a genuine peace between the government and the utilities. It's reasonable to assume that his commission's idea of a fair price for the properties would be considerably higher than T. V. A.'s offer.

T. V. A.-er David Lilienthal and his supporters are anxious to avoid such an implied reflection on their own fairness by another federal body. Also they want to keep full control of the purchase negotiations themselves. So T. V. A.'s lawyers are scurrying around for material to background a contention that the law forbids "outside arbitration" of T. V. A. affairs. Watch for an announcement to this effect in the near future.

CAREFUL: Astute financial observers spot a curious situation in the Far East. Hong Kong exchange is normally very sensitive. Yet it has remained remarkably steady since the Japanese capture of Canton, despite the fact that Hong Kong's economic usefulness is shattered by the cutting off of its trade up the river. At the same time, insiders have noted recently a perceptible diminution of Japanese exports to Australia, South America, and even to India.

Admittedly they cannot prove it, but some banking sources take the view that Britain may have swapped sub rosa acceptance of Japanese domination in China for an equally sub rosa agreement by Japan to curtail "dumping"-practices that have hurt British trade in other parts of the world.

Here's an added bit of circumstantial evidence. Despite her bluster about "Asia for the Asiatics," Japan is well aware that she cannot adequately exploit the resources of the conquered Chinese territory without the help of Occidental capital and credit. She hasn't the proverbial Chinaman's chance of raising them in this country. Her one hope is Britain—so she will presumably be careful not to tread too hard on John Bull's toes.

Dr. Paul White of Harvard university describes the heart as one of the toughest organs in the human body. The learned doctor should quit reading the front pages for a time and try the funnies.

Those problem cherry trees in Washington might be made into cherry wood pipes. Then the President could put his troubles in the pipes and smoke them.

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—Rep. Clinton Kersey of Bridgeport advocates steps to curb what he asserts is the dumping of Oklahoma coal in Texas at less than the cost of production prices.

In Austin recently he said he might urge the legislature which meets in January to levy a retaliatory tax on such coal.

Oklahoma, he said, taxes out-of-state coal $1.20 a ton, and as a result, Oklahoma mines are able to sell in that state for a good profit and dispose of their surplus in states like Texas which do not tax imported coal.

Coal mines in his district had been forced to shut down because of loss of markets, Kersey said, adding he could see no way for them to continue operation except with the aid of a retaliatory tax.

Ships In Own Forest

An oak forest is being shipped into Austin by H. J. Lutcher Stark of Orange, wealthy lumberman and regent of the University of Texas.

Four carloads of oak trees so large a crane was used to unload them arrived recently from Orange for re-planting at Stark's new estate in Austin and more are to come. Between 1,400 and 1,500 trees and shrubs will have a place in the landscaping.

NEITHER of two first primary opponents who supported him in the run-off will be assistants to Gerald C. Mann when he becomes attorney-general.

R. W. (Bob) Calvert declined to accept an assistant attorney-generalship with the statement he would continue practice of law in his home town of Hillsboro.

Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin, who also could have been an assistant attorney-general if he had wished, has returned to his duties as Travis county district judge. It is understood he plans resuming practice on expiration of his term on the bench.

Lewis B. Goodrich of Shamrock, also eliminated in the first primary, supported Walter F. Woodul of Houston in the runoff.

Henry Museum Popular

More than 26,000 persons, including 9,000 in Austin, visited the O. Henry Memorial museum here in the first 10 months of this year.

In October visitors included 251 from 70 Texas towns, 79 from Austin, 10 from Missouri and one from The Hague, Holland. There also were registrants from eight other states.

The museum is a small frame house in which O. Henry (William Sidney Porter) lived for a time when he was a resident of Austin.

Located in a city park, it contains some furniture used by the Porter farmily and various household articles of the period.

REP. EMMETT MORSE of Houston, sole remaining candidate for the speakership of the next House of Representatives, drifted into the press on the second floor of the capitol.

"I know a couple of persons who are looking for jobs," called a press correspondent.

"I'll trade you a couple," Morse countered.

"Why, you don't mean there are lots of people looking for jobs with the legislature?" another correspondent cried.

Morse grinned.

"Say," he said, "from now on I'm in favor of civil service."

New Machine Gun Demonstrated

State police recently saw a demonstration of a machine gun operated by electricity from a motorcycle. It is the invention of C. A. Stockholm.

Mounted on the handlebars of a motorcycle, the gun is intended to permit the rider to fire at a fugitive without releasing his hold on the handgrips. A firing button may be operated with the right forefinger.

The gun will shoot at the rate of 480 rounds a minute, when used as an automatic, or it can be fired in single shots. It can be aimed by elevating or moving from side to side.

At present motorcycle officers must rely on their pistols, which hold only six cartridges.

GRADY LANE, Dickens county agent, thinks one Dickens county farmer "has something there."

A speaker complained it was hard to get farmers to join certain farm organizations. "It is hard to get money from farmers," he had said.

"Seems to me it's not so hard," interjected a member of his audience. "If it was we'd all have a little money. As it is we have to put out all the money from this year's crop and are broke. Seems to me it's pretty easy to get the money from us farmers."

Traffic violators in Hamburg, Germany, must attend a special school in which a miniature model of the city's streets is used to illustrate the lectures of the police traffic expert.

TARZAN THE FEARLESS 96 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the executioner struck, Tarzan ducked, thrust out an arm, and toppled the fellow from the platform. Then with his own knife he slashed the rope. The end of the pivoted plank flew up—dropping Jeff Biggers and Kagundo into the belly of the Tree-God.

Thus did Jeff pay the price of his treachery, and thus was Kagundo punished for his evil ways. And above the cries of the dying pair the ape-man's voice boomed out: "So die the enemies of Tarzan; and so will die all who oppose me. Now will you obey me?"

To the tribesmen, Kagundo's death was proof of Tarzan's supremacy, and they bowed to his will. Nor was any hand lifted against him when he led his friends safely from the village, and started them on the first stage of their happy homeward journey.

Presently Tarzan halted. Throwing back his head, he voiced the piercing victory cry of the apes. Thus did he proclaim that once again the mighty Jungle Lord had done battle with the evil forces of the wilderness—and won!

LEADERS KNOCKED DOWN

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Selling forces snipped at the stock market today and knocked down leaders fractions to more than 2 points.

A modest recovery move got underway just before the close and most final prices were above the lows of the day. A handful of specialties emerged with moderate improvement.

The extension of yesterday's decline was attributed partly to further apprehension over foreign affairs, but mainly to the continuation of year-end adjustments of speculative and investment accounts for income tax purposes.

Transfers totalled only 817,390 shares compared with 861,610 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .3 of a point at 50.4.

Continental Motors was the liveliest stock of the session, 59,200 shares changing hands. It ended up ¾ of a point at 2¾, a new year's high. Gains of as much as a point were retained by Canada Dry, National Biscuit, Greyhound, Electric Auto-Lite, Monsanto Chemical and Air Reduction.

On the downside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, International Harvester, Boeing, North American, Anaconda, Johns-Manville, Du Pont and Allied Chemical.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Wall street selling and local liquidation depressed cotton prices here today and at the close of the market was barely steady at net losses of 15 to 18 points.

Unfavorable foreign markets and official statements that farm law revision may be resorted to in an effort to stimulate foreign demand for American cotton, were the principal factors behind the selling movement.

The bulk of the offerings was encountered in late trading when prices reached the lows of the day. The close was at the bottom with Dec. contracts at 8.64, Jan. at 8.45, March at 8.39, May at 8.20, July at 7.96, Oct. at 7.64, Dec. (new) at 7.66-bid, and March (1940) at 7.71.

Spot cotton followed futures on the downgrade and middling closed quiet, 17 points lower at 8.40 on sales of 579 bales.

Local selling was based on the theory that any legislation to encourage domestic cotton to compete on foreign markets would result in lower prices.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Cotton futures broke away from the recent deadlock with a drop of 12 to 17 points today under increased southern selling and liquidation. March eased from 8.43@8.39 and finished at 8.30.

Easier Liverpool cables were partly offset by trade and local buying in early trading. Aside from fairly active trade price fixing in near months on a scale down the market lacked support and prices gave way later under hedging and New Orleans selling. Pressure increases during the afternoon as tired longs liquidated. Failure of the market to work higher despite the tight spot cotton situation, and owing to the poor export movement and limited demand for cotton goods, discouraged holders of long contracts, analysts said.

Spot interests felt that today's decline would stimulate the movement of cotton into the government loan program.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 14 points lower at 8.47 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.62 cents a pound.

Lubbock . .

The prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock. Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company. Following prices being bid by Lubbock grain dealers. Cotton—Carlock and Carlock. All prices subject to change during day.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—An advancing tendency shown at times in the Chicago wheat market today failed to hold well, and slight net losses were witnessed at the last.

Selling resulted from talk of excessive world supplies and of approaching competition from the southern hemisphere's new crops.

At the close Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to ¾ lower compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 62⅞@63, May 66¼@66¼, corn ⅜ to ¾ down, Dec. 47⅛, May 50¾@50⅞, oats unchanged to ⅜ up, rye ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, and provisions varying from 7 cents setback to a gain of 2 cents.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2 (AP)—Demand was good for wheat here today.

Quail May Be Hunted In Terry, Gaines And Yoakum Counties

Quail may be hunted in Gaines, Terry and Yoakum counties this year, with a bag limit of 12 and a total of 36 a week, Martin Donley, deputy game warden, announced Friday.

"Many people have asked whether the quail shooting was closed or not," he said. "It has been, but this year it is open.

"Hunters should do three things: get a hunting license, plug their gun to only three shells and if hunting on a experimental game preserve, get a written permission."

Season opened Thursday and closed Jan. 16, 1939. There are "lots of quail" in the three counties, said the deputy.

Donley asks that hunters, as far as possible, count the quail and other birds they see, note the location and report to him at 1502 Avenue J. The state department is trying to make a count of bird life as far as possible.

Man Has Idea And All He Needs Is The Money To Set Up Great Business Here, He Tells C. C.

It was just another one of those letters the chamber of commerce receives, although perhaps more extreme than most of the absurd business "opportunities" which are apt to be included in any delivery of mail.

This particular letter was from another Texas town. The writer of the missive wants to establish a livestock auction yard, a produce house or any of two or three other businesses here.

All he wants is the money to go into the business. He'll supply the idea.

As he explained, "It's a great chance for your city."

Prison Sentences Are Given Four German Spies

Punishment For Quartet Light

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—With a grim reference to punishment for espionage in Germany, Federal Judge John C. Knox today imposed prison sentences of from two to six years on three men and a woman accused of selling United States military information to nazi Germans.

"Had these defendants been apprehended within the confines of Germany," said Judge Knox sternly, "their fate would have been much more fearful. As it is, the agents of a totalitarian state are receiving the mercy of a democracy."

Axe Is Not Mentioned

Then, without mentioning the headman's axe directly, he added, "we have no sawdust sprinkled on our prison yards."

Red-haired Johanna Hofmann, 26, former hairdresser on the German lines Europa, who was accused of acting as a messenger for agents working in this country, was sentenced to four years.

The severest sentence, six years, was imposed on Otto Herman Voss, 38, airplane mechanic, accused of turning over aircraft information to German agents.

Erich Glaser, 28, former United States army private, who was stationed at Mitchell Field, Long Island, and Guenther Gustav Rumrich, 32, United States army deserter, were sentenced to two years each.

Miss Hofmann, Voss and Glaser were convicted early this week after a trial lasting six weeks. Rumrich, Chicago-born son of Austrian parents, pleaded guilty at the beginning of the trial and testified for the government.

Counsel for the first three made the customary motion for a new trial, which was denied.

Youngster Has Had Plenty Of Experiences In Short Time; And He Thinks It Fine

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—More things have happened to 9-year-old William Dilingham 3rd since September than happen to the year-old William Dillingham 3rd since September than happen to the average American in a lifetime of actuality, dreams and nightmares.

Accompanied by his father—an amateur explorer—and two friends, this freckled-faced, red-headed, boy has gone through the following:

A boat trip to Ecuador.
A climb up 15,000 foot Mount Pinchincha.
Panning gold.
Being shot at by Indians.
A 1,950-mile airplane trip home unaccompanied by parents, relatives or friends.

And how did William feel about it?

"My name is Bill," he said with marked sophistication, "and it was all right."

Prominent Texans Will Have A Hand In Making Up O'Daniel Inauguration Suit

Prominent Texans will have a hand in making up the inauguration day suit to be worn by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

This became assured Friday morning with announcement that Lone Star Wool and Mohair mills of New Braunfels will sponsor a Texas Technological college exhibit at the annual convention of the Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raisers association in San Antonio Dec. 7, 8 and 9.

Announcement that the invitation had been accepted came from M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering of Texas Technological college, after a long distance telephone conversation with Harry Wagenfuer of New Braunfels.

Wagenfuer is director of New Braunfels Textile mills, where several Tech graduates are employed. He also is an executive of the Lone Star mills which was brought into existence largely as the result of a survey made by Texas Tech showing the need for wool scouring mills in Texas.

Nature of the exhibit, which will be in the Gunter hotel, will be designed to demonstrate the handling of the wool from the raw material until the time it goes into the completed cloth, Heard said.

That's where the governor's inauguration suit comes in.

Announcement was made some time ago, it was explained, that Tech had offered to make the suit for the governor-elect. It will be of Texas produced materials, made by Texans. The governor promptly accepted the offer.

The cloth woven in San Antonio will be included in the suit, according to present plans. Prominent men of that city and of the sheep and goat raisers association will be given opportunity to operate the machinery in the weaving of a bit of that cloth.

Maisen Chosen ABC President

Election of a president and a talk on juvenile delinquency by Judge E. L. Pitts, juvenile judge here, featured yesterday's meeting of the American Business club in the Hilton hotel at noon.

J. E. Maisen, vice president the past year, was chosen as president as a result of a tie vote with H. B. Bryan the Friday before, when other officers were named. Both men were asked by President William Collins to make election talks and each urged election of the other.

Dr. M. M. Ewing, Hugh Anderson and Clarence Wiginton were the election committee. Anderson and M. T. Hill were co-chairmen for the day, the former presiding.

Club Members Praised

Judge Pitts praised members of the club for their work in assuming voluntarily the work as "big brothers" of juvenile wards of the court. "There is a very definite need here in Lubbock for this particular move," he added.

Pointing out that statistics indicate 200,000 boys and girls now in school will be in the penitentiary in a few short years, Judge Pitts said "I am wondering what our quota here will be." There is "more crime in this particular section of the country than in other sectors," he added.

Figures Are Quoted

Judge Pitts quoted figures on the percentages of crime per 100,000 population for both Texas and the nation, showing Texas to be above the national figures. "That which causes juvenile delinquency is a breeding place for crime," he said.

A statement recently made by State Superintendent L. A. Woods on the cost of crime in Texas as compared with the cost of education and state government was given. "If criminals in Texas took a six months vacation, there would be enough saved to carry on our educational work," he said.

"Ninety per cent of the cases before me are from disrupted homes," the judge said. "Some are suffering from malnutrition, from homes where they do not have enough to eat and where it is impossible for the earners to get enough to buy clothing and enough to eat."

At the close of the talk J. A. Fortenberry, city commissioner, said there was a movement on foot to name a probation officer for the city and county, to work with the juvenile judge in handling wards of the court.

Contract Written In Spanish Is Filed Here On Friday

A contract written in Spanish and in longhand Friday was filed at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

The contract was between Carmen M. de Correa, S. Correa, and G. Rivera and Gabriel Esparza and involved real estate.

Officials of the office said the document would have to be recorded in Spanish.

Studebaker Firm Is To Open Saturday

Texas Motors, Inc., will open formally this morning at 1012 Thirteenth street as local agents and area distributors for Studebaker automobiles.

C. H. Gober, Lubbock auto salesman, is manager and associated in the agency are Marshall Mason of Post and J. C. Davis of Lubbock.

Flowers For Ladies

"We will have four models to show Saturday," said Gober. "We will have a complete line of Studebakers, the commander and the president. Flowers will be given women visitors Saturday."

As distributor, the agency has 15 counties on the South Plains. Local agents will be appointed over the territory from time to time.

Jimmie Self Sales Manager

Jimmie Self, well known among local car salesmen, will be manager of the force, with H. A. McCelvey, A. T. Block, John Turlington and R. C. Shields.

Jess Pugley is to be manager of the service department. He and an assistant have completed two courses in servicing the 1939 models, said Gober. A complete line of parts and accessories for all models of Studebakers will be carried at all times.

Trained News Hound Is Back On Job; Johnny Is Happy

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2 (AP)—"Butch," trained fox terrior "news hound," was back on the job today and Newsboy Johnny (Noisy) Kilfoy shouted his headlines a little more jubilantly.

Butch, and the money changer he carries strapped to his harness so customers can make their own change, disappeared Monday.

"Two sorry people," who tied an apologetic note to his harness and sent him back, money changer and all, were forgiven.
