Bryant indicted
..hearing set Tuesday

On the charge of official oppression, the Mitchell County Grand Jury returned three indictments on Thursday in the case of Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant, 39, of Colorado City.

These indictments are in response to allegations that Bryant has sexually harassed three of his female employees.

One indictment on the charge of official misconduct was also returned in the case of Bryant, in response to allegations that he has allowed his daughter, 12, to drive his patrol car.

Official oppression is a Type A misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum sentence of one year in jail and/or a fine of $2,000 per count.

Official misconduct is a Type B misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum of six months in jail and/or a fine of $1,000 per count.

Bryant was arrested at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday by Texas Ranger John Billings, and was subsequently bonded out on personal recognizance.

A hearing is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Tuesday, June 25 to determine whether Bryant should be temporarily relieved of duty pending his upcoming trial, tentatively scheduled for sometime in the fall. Retired visiting judge Ray L. McKim will preside at that hearing.

According to County Attorney Clay Strange, District Attorney Frank Conard will join him, at that hearing, in urging that temporary relief from duty be granted.

In other action the grand jury returned one DWI indictment and one re-indictment on Roberto Franco Arispe, 25, of Colorado City.

Commissioners hear redistricting proposal

A public hearing of the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court was held on Wednesday night in the District Courtroom, for the purpose of considering the reapportionment of county precincts.

Commissioners have hired the Austin firm of Bickerstaff, Heath & Smiley to make the initial assessment which will determine a plan for the county's proposed redistricting, and at Wednesday night's meeting, Greg Hudson, a representative of that firm, presented a tentative proposal as to how that redistricting might be accomplished.

The tentative proposal met State Justice Department guidelines regarding the total maximum deviation of population between precincts. Guidelines say that deviation cannot be more than 10%, and the proposal's maximum deviation was 6.89%

Ideal precinct population, based on total county population, would be 2,004 persons. The proposal gave Precinct One 1,999 persons; Precinct Two 2,076 persons; Precinct Three 2,003 persons; and Precinct Four 1,938 persons.

Some citizens attending the hearing pointed out, however, that the percentages of Hispanics within each district were too low for the minority group realistically to be able to elect a candidate for county commissioner.

Hudson reiterated the fact that the proposal had been intended only as an example of how such a proposal could be drawn. The purpose of the meeting, he explained, was to field suggestions from concerned citizens and county officials, and to use those suggestions to reach the perfect solution.

He suggested that a committee be formed, made up of county officials and representatives of the civilian community. The purpose of the committee, he explained, will be to visit his firm's offices in Austin and work with a specialized computer to draw up the perfect redistricting plan.

In order for the Hispanic population in one precinct to be able to elect a candidate, he explained, the ideal percentage of that population would be 65%.

He explained that the computer could be programmed to draw the

"Texas Stories"...a love story

Thursday night, I spent time with a couple, obviously quite smitten with one another, who selflessly showcased each other's best qualities and characteristics in my presence, and in the presence of all the others who were with me in Colorado City's Historic Opera House.

The couple loves each other so much that they want to ensure that they present each other in such a favorable light that everyone else will feel the same.

Tumbleweed Smith loves Texas, and Texas, obviously, loves Tumbleweed Smith right back. There is no way that an audience can watch the two of them together, as we did on Thursday night during the premiere of "Texas Stories," and not end up feeling the same way.

"Texas Stories," expertly directed by Tim Haynes, is billed as Tumbleweed Smith's one-man play, but Texas itself is the other player up there on the stage. Its people, its pictures, its places, and its sounds form the personality Tumbleweed loves so much, and which he makes his audience love so much.

They're perfect together, Tumbleweed and Texas, and when the play comes to its close, the audience knows it has witnessed a match made in heaven.

Through the years, Tumbleweed Smith has interviewed Texans in every part of the state...Texans in all walks of life. His radio show, "The Sound of Texas," has showcased them, one Texan at a time, for more than twenty years.

Thursday's premiere performance was a distillation of some of the best of those shows, but it wasn't enough. It was just an appetizer. We didn't want it ever to end.

Tumbleweed can only satisfy our hunger completely if he puts together "Texas Stories Two," "Texas Stories Three," and so on forever.

Take the show on the road, Tumbleweed. Take this warm, funny, original show, which you were thoughtful enough to share with us before anyone else, and show it all over the United States! Everyone will love it, and people will learn to love Texas even more than they do now.

Then come home and start on the sequel. We'll keep the Opera House ready and waiting for you, along with the wonderful set...your back porch, rocking chair, windmill, water tower and outhouse, nestled in the tumbleweeds...which looks so much like the sort of place a true Texan is supposed to live, and where you look so much at home.

Shana and Hubert Bassinger

Fish farm keeps Bassingers jumping

In travelling Mitchell County, one is likely to find stretches of cotton farms or pasture land with cattle huddled around a stock tank ... cotton and cattle, two of the crops mentioned in the Texas Almanac for the county.

But there is another crop not mentioned in the statistics of agriculture for this western section of Texas. This crop also demands more bodies of water than the average farm or business in the region. Forty-three bodies of water, ponds if you will, to be exact, that are not ordinary containers of drinking water for cattle. Instead they provide a place for birth, life (growth) and romantic adventure for thousands and thousands of fish.

One of the least known crops/businesses out of Colorado City in Mitchell County is the raising and transporting of goldfish, albino catfish and several kinds of tropical fish.

Hubert Bassinger and his wife, Shana, and two employees, Severo Flores and his uncle Mario Flores, take care of the "farm" and its operation. Hubert and Shana live in Colorado City, but the Floreses live on the 40 acres of land with its 26 acres of ponds. Five irrigation wells supply the water for the clay-based ponds. Sixteen of the ponds can be covered in colder weather to protect sensitive tropical fish.

Hubert's life has always been tied to fish and the businesses surrounding that creature. While growing up on his dad's farm, located northwest of the city on the Colorado River, he helped his father catch and sell mennows to Fort Worth retail bait dealers. Under persuasion from the dealers, Gus Bassinger and his son began to put the minnows in a holding tank. This endeavor occurred around 1945.

From that initial introduction to the bait business, Gus bought a bait house in front of the refinery in 1950. This business represented a prime spot for Colorado City Lake users. Even though Hubert was still in high school, he was able to help Gus by catching the minnows to be sold. Then, after his graduation in 1954, Hubert got a pickup and started selling to bait stores serving area lakes such as Lake J.B. Thomas, Lake Sweetwater and the Abilene Lakes. He started wholesaling bait to retail people. When catching bait out of the rivers became difficult, he started building ponds to raise bait for a year-round supply. After a good year in 1972, he bought his present farm, built a few ponds and started a

Car wash to benefit mill

Russell Long and Daniel Emerson of Custom Car Care on Highway 80 East in Colorado City have announced that they will donate all proceeds from their car washes all day Saturday, July 6, to the benefit of Texas Yarns and Fibers.

They are also challenging other businesses and individuals to find a way to raise funds for that enterprise, a cotton fibers mill which Maggie Compton plans to begin building in Mitchell County as soon as sufficient funds are available.

To make a contribution to this worthwhile cause, come have your car washed on Saturday, July 6. The basic cost for a great car wash is $7.50.

Long and Emerson are requesting volunteers to help with the volume of car washings they hope this fund-raising endeavor will attract.

If you would like to volunteer, get your shorts or bathing suits ready and call the Colorado City Record for further information.

Chris Phillips, 16, of Loraine captured first place honors last weekend in the West Texas P.G.A. Junior Tournament held at the Sweetwater Country Club. Phillips fired an even par round of 71 to top the field of 45 West Texas Junior Golfers. The West Texas P.G.A. Junior Tour will be hosted Tuesday by Wolf Creek Golf Course. The public is invited to go out and watch some good golf.

FISH

little larger operation. He had little technical information except to put the fish in a pond, hope they grew and sell what came out of it.

A breakthrough came when the government put a school in Stuttgart, Arkansas to train would-be fish growers the fine art of the business. Hubert was able to attend the sessions, talk to biologists and collect papers on the latest findings. He was still selling bait, though. And bait sold mostly in summer months.

There had been some experimentation toward a year-round profit, like raising shrimp and other unlikely West Texas aquatics. During this time, he had conversations with people who raised goldfish and began that project in 1978. He sold his bait business that same year.

Hubert has found that he has to raise the goldfish in volume due to the small sale price on them, three cents each. He began to stock his ponds with the goldfish airshipped from fish farms in Florida. Three hundred to five hundred were initially put each 35-90 foot pond. At the present time, he tries to average 300,000 to 500,000 goldfish per pond. When the ponds are stocked with lots of eggs, growth is controlled. If Hubert wants so many to come off in September or October, he will feed the pond. If he wants the ponds to come off next winter, he won't feed the pond.

When Hubert decided to add tropicals to his business, he experimented with a small pond to see if the special fish could take the water and the climate. His experiment went for two years, and then he built five ponds in 1988/89. Now, having increased to sixteen ponds, he covers them with plastic in the winter so that the sum will warm them in the cold weather. His newest tropical is the Brazilian catfish, a spotted variety sold under the name of Pleco.

Also in his inventory of tropicals are swordtails, platys, several varieties of mollies, and a special fish imported from Japan, the koa (coy) carp. So popular is this fish in Japan that auctions are arranged, and champions sell from $3,000 to $5,000. Nontropicals include the goldfish varieties, albino catfish from Arkansas and feeder fish. He sells the fish while they are only several inches long, and some like the albino catfish may grow to 16 inches long. (Bassinger likes to point out the paternal features of the male catfish who entices his female love into a gallon size barrel to lay her eggs. Once the eggs are laid, the male runs the female out and then he sits there in the barrel guarding the eggs. if disturbed, he will bite the toe or hand in the way.)

At the farm a day's routine consists of checking the ponds for frogs' eggs and bugs. Frogs' eggs grow into tadpoles which eat tiny fish eggs and then grow up to be frogs. Pretty soon frogs outpopulate fish. To stop the cycle the frogs' eggs are thrown out when they are discovered. Some of the water bugs also eat the fish eggs and tiny fish, too. They, too, are seined from the ponds. Other predators of the fish are some ducks and snakes. (The frogs, bullfrogs which grow to 15 inches, sometimes take care of the snakes! Hubert caught one which when opened had an 18-inch snake inside.)

Bassinger's Fish Farm ships between 125-130 corrugated boxes of fish per week. The fish are packed in a plastic bag with 10 pounds of water, oxygen, and sealed for shipping. The bag is placed between Styrofoam liners in the box. Each box will hold 1,000 goldfish and 300 tropicals. (Ice has to be packed with the tropicals.) Once a week the company transports the boxes via a covered, refrigerated truck to the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport in the Metroplex. Over 100,000 goldfish are shipped per week. They go to pet shops and on to aquariums as do the tropicals. The albino catfish usually go to stock farm tanks and ponds. Fish are shipped to neighboring states as well as to Cleveland, Ohio. The people in Texas make up the bulk of his customers.

All in all Hubert and Shana love their work and are pleased with the success of their "spread". Their children, Raymond, who has a pet shop in College Station and Jana, with a horticulture degree and working toward her master's at A&M University show that they share their parents' interest in nature.

Hard times have come, such as a period between 1982 and 1986 when they almost lost the whole crop due to a spreading disease. But, when they look at experiments that have worked and the knowledge that they bring pleasure to many kinds of people, they feel the "highs" outdistance the "lows".

boundaries of just such a precinct, based on population data, along with voter tabulation district data.

Without such a computer program, he said, it would be very difficult to determine the boundaries of such a precinct, owing to the fact that the Hispanic and Anglo populations in Mitchell County are so well mingled.

Hudson said that the project of redistricting faced a short time limit, owing to upcoming January elections, and to the fact that the Justice Department can conceivably take up to 120 days to approve a plan.

He said that he hopes that the committee will be able to arrive at a satisfactory redistricting plan within two or three weeks. The plan will then be presented to county commissioners for their approval.

Responding to a question about the fact that final determination has not yet been made as to actual 1990 census counts, Hudson said that counties were being advised to go ahead with their redistricting plans nevertheless, based on the figures as they stand now.

Hudson said it would be easier to fine tune an already-drawn plan than to wait to begin a plan until final figures are available.

Members of the redistricting committee will be chosen at the next meeting of the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court, which will take place on Tuesday, June 25 at 9 a.m.

McPhaul, Rogers married May 25th

Mrs. Ronald Gene Rogers

Julie Renee McPhaul and Ronald Gene Rogers, both of Canyon, were married at 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 25 at Calvary Baptist Church in Colorado City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat McPhaul of Colorado City, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rogers of Gainesville.

Tori Powell and Cindi McElroy, both of Lubbock, friends of the bride, were in charge of the registry table, which was covered with a white cloth and featured a picture of the bride and groom. A black feather pen carried out the bride's color scheme of black and white.

The lovely wedding programs were distributed to the guests by Jody Mann from Stephenville and Georgette Martin from Houston.

Within the church a golden arch, and arch candelabras holding white tapers, were draped with English Ivy and flanked by brass pots of lily plants. White lilies and white doves accented the ivy.

On the bridal aisle were lilies and ivy, and large white bows, each with a small black bow in the center.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle gown featuring a fitted bodice with satin flower medallions and scalloped sweet heart neckline with short sleeves. A full, graceful tulle skirt with a chapel length oval train fell from the drop vee waistline.

White gloves and a flower wreath veil of tulle finger tip illusion completed her ensemble.

Her bouquet was a flowering crescent arm bouquet of lilies, baby's breath, stephanotis and English ivy tied with a large white bow with a smaller black bow accenting the center. Black and white streamers cascaded from the bouquet.

The groom wore a black cutaway tuxedo with tails, accented with white vest and bow tie. His boutonniere was of flowering honeysuckle with greenery.

Hayley Thurman, cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a black and white tea length dress and carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

Melissa Bennett, a friend of the bride, served as candle lighter. She wore a long waisted black dress adorned with white bows around the bottom ruffles.

Stephanie McPhaul, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a black and white low waisted dress with black and white double ruffle short sleeves.

Ring bearer Chase McPhaul, the bride's nephew, wore a black tuxedo like those of the ushers, as did train carriers Calen and Zachary McPhaul, also nephews of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece black and white tea length dress; and the mother of the groom wore a black and white dress.

Gene Rogers, father of the groom, was the best man, and wore a black tuxedo with a boutonniere similar to the groom's.

The ushers, Rich Gum from Grapevine, Paul Schofield from Gainesville, and Tim Schoendorf of Denton, all friends of the groom, wore black tuxedos.

A black tuxedo was also worn by the father of the bride, who gave her away.

Music was provided by Mary Margaret Cox, who played the organ; Sue McKinney, who played the piano; Gloria Deeds, who sang "Somewhere in the World" during the seating of the couple's mothers and grandparents; and the Reverend Lee Deeds, who performed

Before being seated, each mother lit a single candle of the Unity Candle. The groom escorted his mother to her seat.

The Reverend Lee Deeds, music director and associate pastor of First Baptist Church of Gainesville read letters from the bride and groom expressing their thanks and appreciation to family and friends for their love and support.

Deeds is a family friend of the groom.

The traditional "Wedding March" was played during the procession of the bride. At the altar, the bride and groom lit the Unity Candle, then kneeled at the prayer bench as "The Lord's Prayer" was sung.

The reception was held in the Calvary Baptist Church parlor.

The bride's table featured punch and cake. It was adorned with a white opened Bible, silver candelabra holding white tapers, and a three-tiered cake with clouds of white baby's breath and silk lilies.

Flowers and baby's breath encircled the cake, which was topped with a miniature bridal bouquet garland.

Ashley Weaver of Lubbock, Holly Tarter of Alpine, and Rhonda Barker of Austin were in charge of the bride's table.

The groom's table featured coffee and a tiered tray of fresh fruit.

Stacy Lee and Tracy Lee, both of Carlton, were in charge of the groom's table.

Carol Miller was the bride's assistant.

For a honeymoon trip to Cancun, Mexico, the bride wore a two-piece black and white dotted dress.

Out of town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Thurman from Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor from Knott; and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Huey from Gainesville.

Guests traveled from Lewisville, Carrollton, Grapevine, Denton, Sulphur Springs, Houston, Krum, and Lake Kiowa.

On the night before the wedding, a yard party, hosted by Ricky and Tracey McPhaul, was given for family and friends.

Renfro, Wright united

Samantha Ruth Renfro and Kerry Dee Wright were united in marriage Saturday, June 22, at 2:00 p.m. at Crestview Baptist Church in Midland with Dr. Larry Ashlock officiating the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Renfro of Lubbock. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Wright of Colorado City.

The bride wore a white satin gown with reembroidered lace, pearls, and sequins originally designed by Marys of Houston. The gown was accented with a satin bustle in the back with bows and flower accents. The gown had a softly scalloped V neckline in front and back. The short sleeves were gathered with three satin tiers.

A fitted Basque bodice with lace and pearl appliques allowed the full ballgown skirt to float gracefully to the floor and sweep into a beautiful flowing cathedral train. The skirt as well as the train were edged with scalloped lace and sequin appliques.

Mrs. Kerry Dee Wright

The bride chose a double pouff veil of English illusion that fell from a contour bandeau fashioned of dainty silk petals, crystals, and seed pearls which gave a crown effect. The puff veil was sprinkled with bridal seed pearls.

The bride carried a lavender and lilac spray bouquet with mini carnations in white and purple, mini alstromer, agapanthus, and pittosporum greenery with accents of lavender scallop lace ribbon.

Following tradition, the bride wore her late grandmother's gold bracelet. Something new was her wedding gown. For something borrowed she wore the pearl necklace which her mother wore in her own wedding. Something blue was the traditional blue garter.

Maid of honor was Lyn Renfro of Bedford, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cindy Thomason of Midland and Kelly Graham of Lubbock. They wore matching multi floral print dresses complimenting the bride's color scheme. The tea length dresses were complemented with tinted-to-match pumps. The dresses were designed with a soft sweetheart neckline and accented with a bow at the waist. The fitted bodice was accented with Basque waistline and a softly gathered skirt. The attendants carried a mixture of white flowers in a nosegay.

Best man was Randy Wright of Lubbock, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Lance Maxwell of San Angelo and Heath Blassingame of Colorado City. They wore black tuxedos with tails. The groomsmen complemented the color scheme with lavender cummerbunds and bow ties. On their lapels the men wore white roses with baby's breath and greenery.

Ushers for the ceremony were Greg Koontz of Oklahoma City, cousin of the bride, and Ronnie Craig of Midland, friend of the couple.

Flower girl was Alexis Proffitt of Dimmitt, niece of the groom. She wore a multi floral print dress that matched the bridesmaids' dresses. She carried a white petite heart shaped basket filled with lilac, white bows and rose petals.

Ring bearer was Kevin Wright of Lubbock, nephew of the groom. He carried a pillow that was cross-stitched by the bride.

Organist was Richard Atchley of Midland. Music for the ceremony was provided by the bride and groom. They sang "Household of Faith" as a duet to one another.

The groom had prerecorded the song "I Will Be Here" and it was played during the lighting of the unity candle.

The altar was decorated with an arch candelabra, two seven-branch candelabras, six topiary trees with lilac ribbon and greenery and a unity candle.

Registering the guests was Cristy Ferguson of Amarillo, cousin of the bride. Guests were provided an order of service, and later, rice bags by Kristy and Katy Wright of Lubbock, twin nieces of the groom, and Littny Koontz of Amarillo, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony in the parlor of the church. Serving at the bride's table were Misty Willingham of Amarillo, cousin of the bride; Ann Abily of Seagraves; and Nannette Nelson of Midland. Serving at the groom's table were Paula Proffitt of Dimmitt, sister of the groom; Sherry Wright of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the groom; and Belinda Blassingame of Colorado City.

The bride is a graduate of Seagraves High School and Texas Tech University. She is employed by Midland ISD and is currently teaching second grade at George Bush Elementary. The groom is a graduate of Colorado High School and Texas Tech University. He is an accountant for Morrison Reinert and Co.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Midland.

The rehearsal dinner was held June 21 at the Holiday Inn Country Villa in Midland hosted by the groom's parents.

A bridal luncheon was given June 8 in the home of Mrs. Pat Renfro, mother of the bride.

Postal customers invited

As part of the Postal Service's 20th birthday celebration Colorado City Postmaster, Mal Price, invites all of his customers to come and see how their mail gets delivered.

"We're having an open house as part of the celebration honoring the Postal Service's 20th birthday," says Price.

"An open house is an excellent way for people to get a behind-the-scenes view of how their mail gets processed and delivered," Price continued.

The Colorado City Post Office has seven, delivery employees that deliver about 9,000 pieces of mail to 2,696 addresses daily.

"The Postal system has changed more in the last 20 years, since the creation of the Postal Service, than in any other time in history, and I would like to have the community share in the celebration," Price says.

The Colorado City Post Office is located at 116 W. 3rd St. The open house will begin at 1:00 p.m. and end at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, June 28th.

Senior League tournament underway

The Senior League Championship Tournament began Monday with Breckenridge demolishing Clyde 12-6 automatically placing Breckenridge in the championship game. Merkel also earned a victory Monday defeating Clyde 9-5.

The C-City Twins, coached by Rick Robinson and Stanley Moore, proved to be contenders in the tournament as they edged past the Albany A's on the 18th. The Twins' starting line-up on Tuesday consisted of Brad Hartman-catcher, Juan Ybarra-pitcher, Adam Ybarra-first base, Joe Sanchez-second base, Corey Woddell-short stop, Zach Findley-third base, Josh Hostine-right field, Dusty Robinson-left field, and Michael Moore-center field. Other players are Chad Morgan, Ryan Costabile, Cody Guess, Kyle Chambers, and Cole Lindsey .

The Twins took an early one point lead over the A's in the first inning. The A's quickly got the opportunity to catch up though as two of the Twins grounded out to second and another was struck by a hit to bring the A's up to bat. Albany took this opportunity to bring in a runner and tie the game 1-1.

The third inning ended with the A's leading 2-1. The Twins retaliated in the fourth inning as Zach Findley knocked in Juan Ybarra to tie the game 2-2 .

Neither team scored in the fifth, but Twins player Corey Woddell, finding the spotlight, caught a hard hit fly ball on a jump and, with the help of teammate Adam Ybarra, completed a double play to retire the side.

The teams' momentum held over into the sixth inning as Zach Findley crossed the plate putting the team in the lead by one (3-2). In the bottom of the sixth, Zach Findley and Adam Ybarra took care of the A's first batter, while Dusty Robinson and Juan Ybarra both caught pop flies to hold the A's at 2.

The A's held the Twins at 3, allowing no runs in the top of the seventh inning, but the Twins returned the favor to defeat the A's with a final score of 3-2.

The A's scored 2 runs on 4 hits and had 2 errors, while the Twins scored 3 runs on 5 hits with 3 errors.

Juan Ybarra, the winning lefty pitcher, played an excellent game striking out a total of five batters.

Due to their win, the C-City Twins faced Merkel on Wednesday the 19th to determine who would advance to play Brekenridge in the championship game.

The game was incredibly close until the bottom of the sixth inning.

The second inning ended with the teams tied at 1-1. Merkel then took the lead in the third inning (1-2) only to have it snatched away in the fourth leaving the Twins ahead 3-2. A confident Merkel team brought in four runs in the fifth inning to change the score to 3-6 in their favor. Once again the Twins regained control of the scoreboard in the sixth inning, scoring four runs to bring them ahead 7-6. Merkel came out in the bottom of the 6th determined to put the Twins out of the running. They did so by successfully scoring a combined 10 runs in the sixth and seventh innings while holding the Twins at 7. The final score was 7-16 in Merkel's favor.

Zach Findley pitched until the 6th, then was relieved by Michael Moore.

Led by Zach Findley, Juan Ybarra, and Corey Woddell , the team deserves a great deal of credit for two well played games.
