TOM ED BENTON

New School Tax Collector

Tom Ed Benton and his family have recently moved to Hart from Ralls. They are temporarily living in a trailer house west of the school. Benton is new business manager at the school.

He was tax assessor-collector for the White River Water District for the past three years. His wife, Jimmie, assisted him in this work.

The couple has one married daughter, Mrs. B. L. Anderson Jr. of Ralls. They are members of the Church of Christ.

Benton, a 1928 graduate of Ralls High School, attended Texas Christian University, where he majored in business administration. He was in the retail business for 10 years and in the drug business for 12 years.

"Me and My Shadow", a three-act comedy by Vincent Barrett, will be presented by the Hart senior class Friday, April 17 at 8 p.m. in the Hart School Gym.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Eddie Nicholson is directing the play which supports a nine-member cast.

Harrington, a young attorney, played by Kenneth Fincher, has problems with a mother-in-law, played by Betty Gaylon. Arlene portrayed by Connie Bowden, is Harrington's wife. She plans to attend a lecture in neighboring city but hates to leave her husband alone so she gets an old college buddy, Dr. Bruce Douglas, played by James Mitchell, to spend the night with her husband.

On the way home after taking Arlene to the bus station, Harrington saves the life of a young girl (Shadow), played by Estella Rubalcaba, from being run over by a train. She is unconscious and Harrington takes her home to see if Dr. Bruce can aid her.

When Shadow regains consciousness, she declares herself the slave of Harrington and that he will be her master always since he saved her life. The men try to show the girl where this line of reasoning is wrong, but in spite of repeated efforts to rid themselves of her she appears again and again.

The mother-in-law arrives unexpectedly and along with a terrible nosy neighbor, played by Linda Cole, things get mighty complicated.

The East India girl Harrington saved was thrown on the tracks deliberately. The would be murderer, played by Joe Rubalcaba, makes an attempt to kidnap Shadow but in the dark seizes the mother-in-law instead.

Then Arlene comes home and things really happen. Susan, the Harrington maid played by Joan Clark, further complicates the situation and one funny incident tops another.

The sudden and surprising conclusion is brought about by the mother-in-law who is instrumental in the capture of the would-be-murderer.

Also in the play will be Dennis McLain portraying an elder county sheriff named Hickson.

FHA Girls Observe Week Of Activities

Members of the Hart High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America joined more than one-half million FHA girls in the observance of National FHA Week, April 5 through 11.

The local FHA Chapter attended the Baptist Church Sunday morning. In the afternoon, the girls had lunch in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church.

Monday was regular day of classes and further plans were made for latter part of the week.

Tuesday was slave day. The boys and girls bid on the high school FHA girls for their slaves. Money went to the FHA chapter. Slaves had to carry books and do other jobs of this nature.

Wednesday, the girls brought an apple to their teacher. A kangaroo court was held and anyone found guilty "not being nice to teachers" was subject to the following fines and penalties; wear purple and white, roll an egg down the sidewalk in a straight line, push a penny down the sidewalk with your nose, write 10 times "I will be nice to my teachers from this day forth", on a one-inch square of paper, make; make

"love" to a broom, do hopscotch to a record of "Hopscotch", imitate the Beatles, have a frog race outside the building, make up a two minute bedtime story and tell the story to the group in the home economics cottage.

Thursday's activities included a covered dish luncheon in the homemaking cottage. Thursday was also red and white day. F.H.A. girls dressed in red and white, colors of FHA.

Thursday guests were the chapter mothers, Mrs. Ena Bowden, Mrs. Burrell and Mrs. Dee Kendrick.

Friday was observed as Kid Day. FHA girls wore the clothing of young children.

Miss Jonnie Price is home-making teacher.

JOHN B. CONNALLY Democratic Candidate For Governor

John B. Connally's achievements both in private business and in high positions of trust in state and national government is an unique success story.

Born near Floresville, Texas, he was one of seven children of John B. and Lela Wright Connally, typical pioneer farmers.

Connally attended public schools in Floresville and San Antonio. Following high school graduation, he entered the University of Texas, where he worked at odd jobs to help finance his education.

It was on the campus of the University that Connally's leadership and interest in government began to materialize. He was elected president of the student body in 1938, and held other positions of honor.

At the University he met Ida Nell Brill of Austin, a campus beauty and UT Sweetheart. They were married on Dec. 21, 1940. The Connallys have three children: John B. III, Sharon, and Mark. They are members of the Methodist Church.

In 1941, Connally received his law degree from the University of Texas. Following graduation, he took a position as secretary for Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson.

Later in the year, while on Congressman Johnson's staff, Connally joined the Naval Reserve. Months before Pearl Harbor he volunteered for active duty.

Following military service, during which he received citations for action in the Pacific, including the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star, Connally returned to Austin.

After several years as a business executive and practicing lawyer, Connally returned to Washington to serve for a period as administrative assistant to the then Senator Johnson. Later, he returned to Austin to practice law.

On Dec. 27, 1960, Connally was appointed Secretary of the Navy by President-elect John F. Kennedy. After a year in the Kennedy administration, Connally resigned to run for the governorship of Texas... a race he won. Today he is a candidate for nomination to a second term, subject to the May 2 Democratic primary.

Governor Connally was accompanying President Kennedy on his tour of Texas when the Chief Executive was assassinated in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963. Connally was critically wounded by one of the three shots fired, and required extended hospitalization and convalescence in recovering from the wounds.

DON YARBOROUGH
Democratic Candidate For Governor

Ever since he was a youngster in the depression 30's, Don Yarborough has felt that a man should devote his life to doing things for others.

Yarborough ran for lieutenant governor in 1960, and for governor in 1962. Now he is a gubernatorial candidate again... in the Democratic primary.

He grew up in Houston, where he was graduated from San Jacinto High School at the age of 17. He then enlisted in the Marine Corps and served in World War II. At the age of 20 he was one of the youngest company commanders in Marine Corps history.

When Don Yarborough came home from the war he enrolled in the University of Texas and worked part-time to help pay his way. He majored in history and government and went on to get his law degree in 1950. While on campus he won the National Intercollegiate Debate Championship.

He re-entered the Marine Corps to serve during the Korean War. On his return to Houston he founded his own law firm and took an active part in numerous civic enterprises.

In 1955, he served as one of the youngest presidents in the history of the Houston Junior Chamber of Commerce. During Yarborough's year as president the organization grew into the largest chapter in the nation.

A member of Trinity Episcopal Church, Yarborough was on the board of directors of Big Brothers and of Holly Hall (home for the aged). He served as chairman of the economics committee of the Houston Bar Association; and United Fund co-division chairman.

In 1959, Life magazine selected him as one of the 100 outstanding young men and women in the nation.

Don, 38, and his wife, the former Kay Kay Edwards, live in Houston. They have two children, Inez, 3, and Frances, 18 months.

Plant Nutrients Are Discussed

The manner in which plants obtain nutrients from the soil is controversial. Several theories and ideas prevail.

The soil solution theory suggests that plant nutrients which are in solution in the soil are carried into the plant as water enters the root system. The nitrate ion is a good example of this theory. It stays in the soil solution and apparently enters the plant as moisture is taken up.

The contact or exchange theory is somewhat more complicated. The root comes into contact with the soil particle. Since both the soil and the root have negatively charged surfaces, positive ions are exchanged between the root and soil. An example is the potassium ion. Hydrogen from the root is exchanged with potassium in the soil. Once on the root surface, the potassium moves into the plant.

The selective absorption theory is closely related to the contact theory. This assumes that the plant can select the plant nutrients it absorbs. To illustrate, visualize a conveyor system between the root and soil particle and soil solution. The conveyor has different types of sites or systems for each element. Perhaps a small slot for the small potassium ion or a large slot for the large calcium ion. If the site for a particular element is empty, the conveyor would move out of the root into the soil and pick up that element, then move back into the root. If the plant needs that nutrient for proper nutrition, it will be pulled off the conveyor and used--if it is not needed, it will stay on the conveyor until needed. The plant actually selectively absorbs the nutrients it needs.

It has been fairly well proven that all three of these systems are operative in plant nutrient uptake. The system at work depends on the type of nutrient, its electrical charge, the type of plant and the exchange capacity of both the soil and the plant root.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas---Only the upper 15 per cent of Texas high school graduates ought to be taken in the state's top universities, the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has been told.

A sub-committee also informed the panel that some type of higher education must be made available to all and that there is an urgent need for general upgrading of the college system. Enrollments must be built up, dropouts reduced and standards steadily improved, the study group heard at a meeting last week.

COURT SPEAKS--State Supreme Court upheld lower court decisions that approval of $65,000,000 Millican Dam on the Navasota River is final.

Grimes and Brazos County landowners challenged feasibility of the big federal project. Cities of Bryan, College Station and Navasota asked dismissal of the suit.

High Court also held an East Texas oilman, Austin Stewart can keep on operating two slanted oil wells that bottom under his own property. Decision overturned a district court order which had knocked out a Railroad Commission order permitting Stewart to produce from the wells.

Supreme Court upheld the right of an irrigation district to levy flat-rate assessments against land--regardless of the exact benefit it will obtain from irrigation--when it affirmed a San Antonio appeals court decision on a Maverick County case.

A resident of that county sued the Maverick County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 contending that a $5.25-per-acre assessment on irrigable lands and a $2 per acre assessment on lands which could be irrigated by gravity was illegal.

He said his land is rolling and did not benefit as much as level land owned by others in the district, but the trial court, appellate court and the Supreme Court ruled in favor of the water district's right to flat-rate assessment.

JUVENILE PROGRAM IMPROVING--Texas Youth Council reports that there has been a sharp and welcome drop in the number of repeaters among juvenile offenders sent to Gatesville, Gainesville and Crockett correctional schools.

In the fall of 1961, the rate of returnees was 45 per cent. Then the 1961 Legislature appropriated funds for expansion and improvement of school facilities and for five council parole officers. By August, 1963, the return rate was down to 29 per cent and youth council spokesmen say they hope to hold this since the parole personnel was increased to 20 last month.

The Rev. Clint Kersey, council parole supervisor, said, "We believe that by an increased stay, we can keep them in school. Then when they are paroled, they are better able to adjust and hold a job, and that cuts the chance of return."

SCREWORM APPROPRIATION ASKED--Gov. Connally has requested a $5,500,000 congressional appropriation for continued protection against the screwworm menace.

A two-year program has eradicated the screwworm from Texas, Connally told congressional leaders, and feasibility of a barrier along the Mexican border to prevent re-infestation is proved.

livestock producers and sportsmen have financed over half the $12,000,000 program to date, Connally said, it now is an international matter and should be financed by the U.S. without local matching requirements.

The state, producers and sportsmen would continue to provide inspection, survey and other services in the U.S.

OIL FIELD BRINE--The Texas Water Pollution Control Board scheduled a hearing for July 1 at 9 a.m. on its order prohibiting the surface disposal of oil field brine in Area II on the Ogallala formation--the Middle High Plains. All area II permit holders are to appear at the hearing and show cause why their permits should not be amended to conform to the no-pit order.

A May 27 hearing has been set for Ogallala area I--the Panhandle area--and a hearing on area IV will be held on August 5.

THE JUDICIARY--All gubernatorial candidates have been asked by a State Bar committee to pledge that, if elected, each will consult the bar committee on judicial appointees.

Vernon B. Hill of Mission wrote all candidates that his committee would propose no nominees, but would rate each considered for judicial appointees either exceptionally well qualified, well qualified, qualified, or not qualified.

He said a similar procedure is followed by the President of the U.S. and the Attorney General and the American Bar in appointments to the federal judiciary.

State Bar also has named a committee to consult with newspapermen and law officers about the problem of publicity on lawsuits and trials.

Talbot Rain of Dallas is chairman, with former District Judge Joe Frazier Brown of San Antonio and Joe H. Reynolds of Houston members.

Apparently, the group will seek to work out some sort of joint code for policing publicity.

"AIRPORT" OFF-LIMITS--The airstrip at the LBJ Ranch, a single, 6,300-foot runway located 12 miles west of Johnson City, has been declared off-limits to all civil and military aircraft, "except those on official business with prior permission to use the airport."

An order published by the Texas Aeronautics Commission for the Federal Aeronautics Agency said aircraft also must avoid flying within one nautical mile of the presidential residence.

LEASE CALL--The State is offering 369,786 acres of public lands for lease to oil and gas producers. Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has called for sealed bids on 608 tracts to be submitted by 10 a.m. on May 5.

Sadler predicted the leases will increase the Permanent School Fund by several million dollars.

How About Free Hours?

What would you do if someone made you a present of 2,973 hours of free time?

If you are wondering where in your busy life you would find that many hours to do with as you wish, the answer is simpler than you might expect. A recent study shows that an automatic electric clothes dryer actually saves 2,973 hours over clothes line drying.

Of course, it took some expert calculating to come up with that figure and in the course of the survey some other interesting facts were revealed--one of the most interesting being the weather. It seems that in most localities, U.S. Weather Bureau figures show that the number of days in a year unsuitable for clothesline drying because of rain, low temperatures and other reasons outnumber the good days almost two to one.

Grain Sorghum Meeting Held

The election of an executive committee, earmarking of funds for stepped-up research on water use, sorghum midge control, and continued promotion of foreign markets high lighted the annual meeting of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Sixty directors, officers and county leaders attending the one-day session in Amarillo Thursday, April 9.

Pat Northcutt, a farmer-rancher of Silverton, was elected as a new member of the executive committee as vice-president for research and education. The group set Feb. 25 and 26, 1965 as the dates for the association's next regular biennial Research and Utilization Conference. Those held in 1959, 1961 and 1963 have attracted over 300 sorghum research and industry people from some 30 states and several foreign countries.

The board under leadership of President Elbert Harp of Abernathy authorized $7,500 for sorghum midge research in cooperation with Texas A&M University Entomology Department on a matching fund basis. Funds for active membership in the High Plains Water Institute to study and promote water conservation were also designated. GSPA will also continue its membership in the U. S. Feed and Grain Council through which it conducts grain sorghum foreign market development programs.

JIM LANGDON--A WINNER!

Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon is a 49-year-old native Texan with a winning record in public office. When John Connally appointed him to the Railroad Commission, the Governor said:

"I have for several weeks been attempting to find a man I consider to have outstanding ability, integrity and honor... I am happy we have found that man -- Judge Jim C. Langdon."

Jim Langdon has fully lived up to Governor Connally's expectations. He has conducted his office in the spirit of Governor Jim Hogg, who had the Commission set up in 1891 to look after the public interest in railroad and freight rates. It now regulates also truck and bus rates and the production of oil and gas. Judge Langdon will continue to keep transportation rates in line and see to it that our oil reserves are protected against waste and greed. This will help keep down Texas gasoline prices, already among the lowest in the nation.

Jim Langdon was elected District Judge twice and re-elected Chief Justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals.

ON THE OTHER HAND--

Jim Langdon's Opponent Is a 10-Time Loser!

Jesse Owens, 69-year-old attorney, is still running for office after 38 years and TEN DEFEATS. He has lost the following races:

- 1926--Defeated for Sheriff of Foard County by L. D. Campbell.
- 1930--Defeated for District Attorney by John Meyers.
- 1932--Defeated for District Attorney by Ed Gossett.
- 1940--Defeated for District Attorney by T. Gene Rogers.
- 1946--Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by Tom L. Beauchamp.
- 1952--Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by K. K. Woodley.
- 1956--Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by W. A. Morrison.
- 1958--Defeated for District Judge by Tom Davis.
- 1960--Defeated for Court of Civil Appeals by James Denton.
- 1962--Defeated for Texas Supreme Court by Meade F. Griffin.

A Winner All the Way--

Jim C. Langdon
