Senator's Stand Gets Approval Of Colleagues

Kentuckian Given Strong Boost As Party Leader

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 — A unanimous Democratic vote returned Senator Barkley today to the Senate leadership he resigned in a sensational rebuff to President Roosevelt's tax veto, and the veteran Kentuckian announced he would continue in the important party post.

Stamping, in effect, their approval on Barkley's bitter denunciation of Mr. Roosevelt's tax message, Democratic senators roared their acceptance of his resignation and just as enthusiastically re-elected him leader—a leader greatly enhanced in congressional, if not also party, prestige.

The President, to whom Barkley directed his stinging rebuke in an extraordinary speech yesterday climaxed by his resignation, had joined in asking Barkley to continue, in a telegram saying "your differing with me does not affect my confidence in your leadership nor in any degree lessen my respect and affection for you personally."

Expresses Affection For FDR

After the dramatic party conference, from which Barkley walked sternly after handing in his resignation, the Kentuckian, too, expressed to reporters his "deepest personal affection" for Mr. Roosevelt.

The conference, by unanimous votes, immediately accepted the resignation, then re-elected him leader.

Barkley's acceptance followed in his office, when six senators advised him formally of the overwhelming vote of confidence. They reported that Barkley was so moved during his acceptance of the honor that his voice broke and tears came into his eyes.

Serious Challenge To President

Thus was enacted the second chapter in a political drama which raised a serious Democratic challenge to President Roosevelt's leadership in the 1944 election year.

Roosevelt Not Discussed

Senator McKellar of Tennessee said the party caucus behind closed doors that Mr. Roosevelt was not discussed at all, nor was there any talk of "any extraneous subjects whatsoever."

Barkley said he would reply, probably later today, to President

Leon Phillips Trial Started

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 24. (AP)—Fred Lowe, state witness and self-identified pay-off man in a parole conspiracy case against former Governor Leon C. Phillips, testified in Phillips trial today about his part in the $8,000 shakedown of a convict's wife.

Lowe, who has told of cutting Phillips in for $500 of his own $1,500 share of the money, said he broached to the former governor the subject of obtaining clemency for the prisoner, Dr. J. W. Eisiminger, a life-termer.

The witness declared he told Phillips that $1,000 had been offered by W. A. Strong, a former legislator who was employed by Mrs. Eisiminger to try to get her husband released early in 1942.

It was suggested in talking with Phillips that the money might be used to hire an attorney, the witness said. Such a procedure is not unusual.

Lowe testified he knew nothing of a contract that the convict's wife had made with Strong to pay $8,000 cash for a pardon, and that

Shangri-La Aircraft Carrier Launched

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Feb. 24 (AP)—Bearing a name symbolizing America's determination to blast Tokyo into oblivion, the huge aircraft carrier Shangri-La plunged into the Elizabeth river today on her first lap toward a date with destiny.

Christened by the wife of Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, whose Army fliers bombed Tokyo in April, 1942, the new warship sped down her building ways to the cheers of more than 75,000 spectators.

U.S. Heavies Blast Germany

German Forces Evacuate Dno

White Russian Town Also Lost

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 24—The Berlin radio today announced the Nazi evacuation of Dno, last important base east of the Baltic gateway city of Pskov.

A Moscow communique had announced previously that German and Red army troops were engaged in bitter hand-to-hand street battles for the German-fortified city.

Rogachev, White Russian Dnieper town above Gomel, also has been evacuated by Nazi forces falling back before the Red army, the Berlin radio said.

Moscow Remains Silent

Moscow has remained silent recently on the White Russian offensive, which the Germans announced yesterday had broken the Nazis' lines northeast of Rogachev, resulting in heavy fighting.

Pskov itself, 64 miles west of Dno, was threatened from two other directions by Soviet forces driving down from Strugi Krashoye, 44 miles to the northeast, and from the frozen marsh and forest country to the northwest, where troops of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army last were reported 25 miles away.

Strugi Krashoye and 30 other localities were captured yesterday by Govorov's left wing, the Moscow bulletin said. Gen. K. A. Meretskov's Volkhov army smashed westward along the Staraya Russa-Pskov railway for 10 miles to breach the defenses of Dno, liberating more than 150 hamlets on the way.

2,500 Nazis Killed

More than 2,500 Germans were killed on the north Russian front, Moscow declared, adding that "many German officers and men were taken prisoner."

West and northwest of Krivoi Rog, iron mine center in the Dnieper bend far to the south, troops of Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian army wiped out 6,000 Germans and captured several Nazi-held communities as they pushed on toward the Bug river.

Here, it appeared, Nazi Marshal

Death Takes Mrs. Laura McCrummen

Mrs. Laura E. McCrummen, 82, died at 1:40 a.m. today at her residence, 1816 Avenue Q, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. McCrummen was born in New Salem, Rusk county, in August 1861, and was married on April 6, 1881 to the late M. C. McCrummen who died in 1929. The McCrummens moved to Lubbock from Paris, Tex. in 1902.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. M. E. Warren of Lubbock; two sons, Claxton McCrummen of Lubbock and Frazier McCrummen of El Monte, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Alice Wade of Fort Worth; twelve grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at Calvary Baptist church with Rev. C. J. McCarty officiating. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Active pallbearers will be J. A. Nunley, Ed. McNeill, Grady Caudle, H. F. Stubbs, R. O. Stubbs and E. E. Agnew.

Honorary pallbearers will include R. L. Hastings, H. A. Davidson, J. C. Davis, E. J. Ford, W. E. Posey, George R. Bean, E. L. Klett, F. E. Duncan, J. D. Dean, J. A Wilson and H. R. Sprowls.

Growing Peril Is Facing Jap Positions; Heavy U. S. Carrier Attack Hits Mariana Islands

BY MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor

The sweeping offensive of American forces carrying their assault ever closer to Japan's home waters pointed up today the growing peril of the enemy's positions in the Pacific.

A heavy U. S. carrier attack hit the Mariana islands, 1300 miles south of Tokyo, for the first time even as American fighting men won still another base in Eniwetok, western Marshalls, to extend operations against the core of Japanese island defenses.

The western end of New Britain "is now completely in our hands," General Douglas MacArthur announced, in a further development which contributed to the crumbling Nipponese strength in the Southwest Pacific.

Tojo Facing Opposition

A movement to "overthrow Premier Tojo is spreading through Japan," the Chinese central news agency said today quoting reports attributed to Japanese in Shanghai.

Several hundred planes attacked Saipan and Tinian islands, at the southern tip of the 15-odd Marianas, Tuesday in a raid probably made by the same carrier task force which ploughed into Japan's naval stronghold of Truk Feb. 16 and 17.

Saipan, chief of the group, is 120 miles north of Guam, American possession captured by the Japanese early in the war.

Adm. Mitscher In Command

Both the Truk and Marianas assaults were commanded by Rear Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, skipper of the carrier Hornet when B-24 Army Army bombers took off for the 1942 raid on Tokyo.

Radio silence again delayed communication of details of the Marianas attack, but the naval units may have sailed there in search of the heavy Japanese warships which slipped out of Truk's lagoon sometime before the American planes came on the scene. The Japanese lost 19 other ships at Truk, as well as 201 planes.

Army and Navy fliers kept up the sustained offensive with strikes at enemy bases in the Central Pacific Monday and Tuesday while American soldiers and Marines completed the conquest of Eniwetok to gain the second foothold in the Marshalls. Kwajalein was occupied completely Feb. 6.

Parry Last To Fall

Parry island was the last to fall at Eniwetok, 380 miles west of Kwajalein. The Japanese had an estimated 3000 troops on the entire atoll, but Pacific fleet headquarters reported only 28 or more

Finland Has Entered Most Critical Period

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Finland apparently entered its most critical period of the war today with the departure from Stockholm of Dr. Juho K. Passikivi, peace envoy.

The immediate issue confronting the Helsinki government, assuming peace terms have been arranged with Russia, is whether it can save the country from the fate of Italy—prevent its becoming a battleground for German and Allied armies.

On the other hand, if peace negotiations at Stockholm failed, the issue is how long Finland can stave off the smashing Red army attacks expected to follow up the recent Helsinki air raids.

If the negotiations at Stockholm were conclusive, it is believed here that the next few days should see the tale told—either in Finnish efforts to rid the country of Germans or in new Russian blows at Finland.

Dewey Would Accept Draft Nomination For Presidency

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York will accept a draft nomination for the presidency but he will not alter in any way his determination not to become an active candidate before the Republican convention in June.

That was the interpretation placed today by intimates of the governor on his action in telegraphing his "strongest disapproval" of the course taken by 24 candidates in filing petitions at Madison for election as supporters of Dewey in the April 4 Wisconsin primary.

Dewey apparently sealed the door against any exit from the position he has taken that he is not seeking the nomination, but is not saying beforehand what he would do if it came to him.

Willing To Take Chance

His friends made it plain, however, that the 42-year-old governor is willing—if the convention is willing—to take his chances on what he and most other Republicans believe will be a battle to defeat President Roosevelt for a fourth term.

Dewey, who previously had con-

Col. Olsen To Be Transferred

Col. Norman B. Olsen, commanding officer at South Plains Army Air field, has received advance notice by telephone from Central Flying Training command headquarters at Randolph field that he is to be transferred to another assignment, it was revealed here today.

Col. Olsen, commanding officer at SPAAF since it was officially activated on Sept. 15, 1942, is leaving Sunday for temporary assignment at Liberal, Kas., but expects to be there only briefly to await further orders.

Successor Coming Friday

Mrs. Olsen and their young son, Martin, a Junior high student, are to go to San Antonio, Mrs. Olsen's former home where young Olsen will be placed in school. She will join Col. Olsen later.

Col. Olsen will be succeeded by Col. James A. De Marco, 37, former director of training at Waco Army Air field, Waco. Col. De Marco is due to arrive here Friday to confer with Col. Olsen.

Col. Olsen, came to Lubbock as a lieutenant-colonel, June 1, 1942, from Randolph field where he was director of training from 1939 to 1942. He was executive officer under Col. James W. Andrew, first commanding officer at SPAAF, while the field was under construction and was named commanding officer shortly before the field was activated. Col. Olsen has served at Kelly field, San Antonio; March field, Calif., Selfridge field, Mich.; and at Allbrook

Fifth Crippling Assault Dealt

Aviation Centers Targets Of Yanks

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Feb. 24 — Powerful forces of American heavy bombers blasted German aircraft and ball bearing plants at Gotha and Schweinfurt today in their fifth destructive assault on Nazi aviation centers in five days.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle sent his Eighth Air force bombers against Gotha and Schweinfurt deep in central Germany and other Nazi targets to maintain the terrific tempo of the United States aerial offensive which has hit the Reich every day since Sunday.

Again the attack was directed at the fountainheads of the German air force as the campaign to break down Nazi aerial resistance went on at an unprecedented clip.

Ball Bearing Plant Hit

The primary targets were the ball bearing plant at Schweinfurt, which was crippled by an Eighth Air force bombardment last October, and the aircraft plants at Gotha, 70 miles to the northeast, where great war machines turn out Dornier bombers, gliders, and component aircraft parts.

United States, British and Allied fighters escorted the attacking bombers which were described in a headquarters announcement as comprised of "strong forces."

"The bombing marked the fourth day of the record-breaking air offensive against the German fighter aircraft industry and related plants," the announcement said.

Sandwiched between te Eighth Air force's four major attacks was the attack yesterday on aviation plants at Steyr, Austria, by Liberator bombers of the 15th Air force in Italy, which thus maintained the unbroken string of daily attacks.

Southwest Of Berlin

Gotha is 150 miles southwest of Berlin and 80 miles southwest of Leipzig. Schweinfurt is another 70 miles south and slightly west.

Confirmation of the attack followed a Berlin radio report that strong American bomber fleets attacked northwestern and central Germany and were engaged by hundreds of Nazi fighters in a violent air battle.

Later the DNB news agency broadcast the following dispatch

Bronze Star Newest American Decoration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — The Bronze Star, newest American decoration for action against the enemy, was introduced to the public today, along with the specification that the only place it cannot be won is in an airplane.

Obviously aimed at boosting the morale of the mud-sloggers who have been wondering where the airmen got all their medals, the new decoration does the job properly—it takes precedence over the Air Medal, and also over the Purple Heart.

It can be awarded, Acting Secretary of War Patterson disclosed at a press conference, to anyone in the Army, Navy, Marine corps or Coast Guard who distinguishes himself "by heroic or meritorious achievement or service, not involving participation in aerial flight."

It can be won in combat, or with actions in direct support of combat operations, and—says the Army—"it is expected that members of the Army ground forces, particularly infantrymen, may lead the eligibility lists." Airmen may win the Bronze Star, too—but not in the air.

Sixty-Eight Marooned In Los Angeles Snow

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24 (AP) — Sixty-eight persons were reported isolated today by mountain snow so thick that parked automobiles disappeared and resort visitors had to tunnel out of cabins.

Elsewhere in the Los Angeles area, the ending of a four-day storm found occupants returning to flood-dampened homes, railroad and highway crews restoring communications, schools reopened and workmen removing 750 wind-toppled trees and truckloads of palm fronds.

A group of rangers and others carrying provisions started on snowshoes to the aid of 68 persons stranded in the Charlton Flats area of the nearby San Gabriel mountains.

Sen. Barkley Looms As Presidential Choice

Kentuckian Said Strongest Presidential Possibility Outside Of White House

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Senator Alben W. Barkley emerged today probably the most potent Democratic presidential possibility outside the White House as a fighting-mad Congress rallied behind him in his sensational break with President Roosevelt.

With Allied capitals around the world looking on, a domestic drama of far-reaching implications rose to crescendo pitch as members of the nation's dominant party took sides in the most serious challenge thus far to Mr. Roosevelt's leadership.

Mr. Roosevelt himself, moving swiftly to head off a revolt that promised, in the eyes of some observers, to elevate Barkley to the foremost ranks of presidential possibilities this year, expressed a hope that the Kentuckian's resignation would not be accepted. He urged Barkley, in a telegram addressed "Dear Alben," not to resign.

Party Dissension Flames

Party dissension flamed high in the House, too, as that body voted overwhelminly to override the President's veto of a $2,300,000,000 new tax bill—the issue which led Barkley to announce, in an impassioned speech on the Senate floor yesterday, that he was through carrying "the flag of Franklin D Roosevelt."

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee, another erstwhile Roosevelt stalwart, declared the veto message marked the point "where I part company with the President of the United States."

The President had contended the tax bill was inadequate for wartime needs.

Misstatements Charged

Barkley, declaring the President was guilty of misstatements and of making a "deliberate and calculated assault upon the honesty and integrity" of Congress, said:

"Other members may do as they please. I do not propose to take this unjustifiable assault lying down."

He urged Congress to override the veto.

In a telegram dispatched to Barkley's home a few hours later, President Roosevelt said he regretted that "you thought I had in my message attacked the integrity of yourself and other members of the Congress."

"Such you must know was not my intention," he added.

Possible Rallying Center

Barkley's oration, immediately focused attention on him as a possible rallying center for various dissident elements of the party, although some leaders took the opposing view that it would tend to solidify the party by "clearing

All GOP Senators For Overriding Veto

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (AP) — Republican senators were described as unanimously in favor of overriding President Roosevelt's tax bill veto after an informal canvas today in a conference called to choose officers of the Senate minority.

Senator McNary of Oregon was reelected without opposition as minority floor leader and Senator White of Maine, who has been acting leader in McNary's absence due to illness, was elected formally to that post.

The Republicans named Senator Vandenberg of Michigan as conference vice chairman, Senator Wherry of Nebraska as party whip and authorized appointment of a nine-member steering committee in the first full reorganization of the minority since 1936.

Chairman Vandenberg said discussion showed "sentiment was unanimous in favor of overriding the veto" which yesterday led to the resignation of Senator Barkley of Kentucky as majority leader.

Nimitz Is Honored At Texas Dinner

FREDERICKSBURG, Feb. 24. (AP)—The 59th birthday of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, was observed here today by his native city as dispatches told of new forays by the fleet into Japanese territory.

The Lions club gave a dinner in honor of its most distinguished member and greetings were cabled to the admiral.

Fighting Flares On Beachhead

Artillery Beats Off Nazi Attack

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 24.—Fighting again flared on the Anzio front, with artillery gunners breaking up German groups preparing to attack in front of Ameican troops west of Cisterna and Allied troops repulsing Nazi attempts to infiltrate their lines southwest of Farroceto, Allied headquarters announced today.

While four-engined bombers were ranging into Austria and attacking an important German aircraft assembly plant at Steyr, the tactical air force swung over the coast of Italy and Yugoslavia, showering bombs on enemy shipping from which the enemy has been feeding supplies into the Italian battle areas.

Six Liberators Lost

The air command announced that six Liberators were lost in the Steyr attack. The bomber crews shot down 32 enemy fighters and escorting Lightnings accounted for another.

Patrol actions and sharp exchanges of artillery fire continued on the main Fifth army front in the Cassino area. Allied shells apparently hit German munitions or gasoline dumps in the mountains northwest of Cassino. Explosions were observed in three places.

Although sharp fighting occurred at some points on the beachhead and enemy movements suggested Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring was regrouping his forces for a third try at driving the Allies into the sea, the German high command did not commit any sizable forces to action yesterday and no ground changed hands.

Nazis Bomb Beachhead

German planes continued to bomb and shoot up beachhead troops until noon, but rain in the afternoon kept them on the ground. Heavy cannonading resounded from both lines throughout the day.

British forces of the Eighth army beat off a small-scale German attack in the region of Guardiagrele, about 20 miles inland

U. S. Casualties In War Total 157,865

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (AP)—American casualties in the war now total 157,865, of which 36,005 are dead.

Undersecretary of War Patterson reported today that U. S. Army casualties from Dec. 7, 1941 to February 7, 1944 totaled 118,128, divided as follows: Killed 19,499; wounded 45,545; missing 26,339; prisoners of war 26,745.

Casualties in the sea services —Navy, Marines and Coast Guard —based on reports up to today have amounted to 39,737, as follows: Killed 16,506; wounded 9,322; missing 9,491; prisoners 4,418.

Patterson said that of the 45,545 soldiers wounded, 24,289 have returned to duty.

Of the total prisoners, he said, 1,664 have been officially reported by the enemy to have died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied areas. He commented that "it is known that the actual number must, in sad reality, be much larger."

Socialized Medicine Assailed By San Antonio Doctor Here

Although the Wagner bill, a step to control all medical practice in the United States, is thought by many to be a public health project, only one-fourth of the $12,000,000,000 (billion) annual cost would be used for medical care, Dr. Robert A. Miller of San Antonio said at a combined luncheon of four service clubs today noon in the Lubbock hotel. The clubs represented were Junior Chamber of Commerce, Optimist club, American Business clubs, and the host, Kiwanis club.

Dr. Miller, who spoke yesterday on the same subject, Socialized Medicine, at the luncheon of the Rotary and Lions clubs, said the American doctor has advanced far without the aid of government subsidy and that the mortality and morbidity of our armed forces is lower today than in any war in history.

He said that if this bill is passed it would be just another step toward regimentation and scientific medical care would be under political control and service would deteriorate. In speaking of the twelve billion dollar cost of the bill per year, he compared it with the thirteen billion dollar cost of

Vote Is 299-95 To Enact New Revenue Bill

Senate Expected To Duplicate Action Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 — In strident rebellion against President Roosevelt's tax views, the House today voted 299 to 95 to pass the $2,300,000,000 new revenue bill over his veto.

Ninety-nine Democrats and one minor party member joined 199 Republicans in voting to override. Three Republicans, three minor

TEXANS' VOTES GIVEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — The following is the way Texans voted when the House today overrode President Roosevelt's veto of the tax bill:

To sustain: Patton.

To override: Beckworth, Dies, Fisher, Gossett, Luther A. Johnson, Kleberg, Lanham, Mahon, Mansfield, Russell, Thomas, Thomason, Went and Worley.

Paired to override: Kilday.

Paired to sustain: Lyndon B. Johnson and Patman.

party members and 89 Democrats voted to sustain the chief executive.

The Senate is expected to duplicate the House action tomorrow, putting the tax bill on the statute books, "the President's objections notwithstanding."

A rebellion in Democratic ranks that reeled political Washington back on its heels preceded the House action. Involved were Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky, and Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the ways and means committee, both of whom called for action overriding the President.

The House galleries were filled an hour before the motion to override came to a roll call, and crowds gathered in the halls of the capitol to catch even a small glimpse of the proceedings.

Doughton "Parts Company"

The 80-year-old Doughton declared he had "parted company" with the President on the veto issue, saying Mr. Roosevelt's message reflected "on the judgment and integrity of the Congress of the United States," and that the executive "has told us in effect that if you'll accept my dictation and abdicate your responsibility, I'll approve what you do."

Mr. Roosevelt's Washington birthday veto message described the tax bill as a measure for the relief of "the greedy."

This was the second time within a year the President had been overridden in the House. The Smith-Connally anti-strike bill became law last June over the President's veto, the House voting 244 to 108 to override.

Two Vetoes Sustained

Mr. Roosevelt has been successful during that time in having two vetoes sustained. Both of these vetoes prevented the outlawing of food subsidies as a part of the wartime stabilization program.

Today's House action was one of the worst legislative setbacks the President has suffered since he took office 11 years ago.

Immediately after the overriding vote, Representative Knutson (R-Minn) Republican leader of the ways and means committee, issued a statement calling for "a complete shakeup of the policy-making personnel in the Treasury department."

In a joint statement yesterday,

Suspect Being Held In Holdup-Kidnapings

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—A suspect was held today after the second holdup-kidnaping in San Antonio within 48 hours.

A youth commandeered a public service bus early today, robbed Drive J. B. Trimble of $24 and abducted the driver and a passenger and forced them to drive him six miles outside the city on the Houston highway.

The suspect was picked up as he walked along the road towards the city.

Trimble said the bandit thrust something shiny against his back, ordered the passenger, E. Joe Lozano, to take the wheel. Lozano called police who captured the youth and recovered the money.

James Matheny, manager of a liquor store robbed of $400 two days ago by a bandit who kidnaped the store owner and two women, failed to identify the suspect.

Allies Might Take Pointers From Tojo

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

This column has found nothing good to say about General Hideki Tojo, Japan's militaristic premier, but it strikes me that we must give him grudging credit for the great horse-sense he has displayed in taking his people into confidence at once in the matter of Nippon's disaster at Truk.

Indeed it must be admitted reluctantly that, just as the Allied nations probably could learn some useful tricks from the devil himself, so in this instance they could get a pointer from Tojo. The general didn't wait for weeks or months before disclosing the seriousness of the defeat to his public.

Gave Blunt Report

He told them Japan had suffered "losses greater than the enemy's" in fact he bluntly stated that she had lost 18 ships (we claimed 19 as a certainty). He said that "the war situation is truly grave," that events "by no means permit optimism," and that "the empire is literally standing at the crossroads of a rise or fall."

Of course, Japan's head gangster is wholly selfish in this exposing the facts. He needs the support of all Japan, for he knows that armies and navies are helpless unless the public is back of them. Winning wars is a complete partnership.

Japanese Vice Admiral Ogasawara made the quip that "most probably if it had been America they would have kept it secret for a year." Well, "military necessity" or what not has impelled the authorities on many occasions to keep back important information for long periods in some cases, and presumably that's what he was tilting at.

Wrong View Toward Public

In short, there's a disposition in some official quarters — and this is true on both sides of the Atlantic — to view their publics as lacking understanding. The man in the street hasn't the stability to withstand adverse news, and he is likely to get over-optimistic if he receives good reports.

Personally in traveling about out country I've found the general public mighty understanding and quite capable of thinking for itself. Anyway, the rank and file feel that this war is their show and they want full participation in it. News is the prime essential.

In a general way the American public understands the position, but many people are telling me that they lack the "feel" of the thing, and most of them say they think they've been "shields" too much from distressing news. They ask for that full partnership.

NAZIS MAY BLAST DIKES

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—German occupation authorities in the Netherlands are prepared to counter any Allied invasion in that quarter by blasting open the country's famous dikes and flooding vast lowland areas, Dutch sources disclosed today.

City Churches Plan For Day Of Prayer

Several of the city churches are planning for the special observance of a day of prayer for Texas Technological college and schools and colleges throughout the United States.

At the First Presbyterian church, faculty members and students of Texas Tech will sit together during the morning worship at 11 o'clock Sunday and will join in a united prayer for students and teachers in war-stressed campuses.

At the Asbury Methodist church, the student membership has been asked to attend the periods of prayer to be held all day Friday at the church.

The First Christian church Youth Fellowship plans to emphasize this day of prayer for colleges in their Vesper meeting Sunday, led by Joyce McMurry.

St. John's Methodist church has prepared a special period of prayer for their church school hour, Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Emphasis is being made in all churches upon attendance at the morning worship.

Acidity--Heartburn --Pain After Eating

Try Drinking Hot Water Right After Meals

Never have you found such fast relief. It's new—it's different. Neutracid is the formula of a well known west coast physician for use whenever excess stomach acid causes gas, sour stomach or heartburn without any upsetting reaction — Neutracid contains no bicarbonate of soda—and is very agreeable to take.

Here's all you do: Stir one teaspoonful in half a glass of hot water and drink. If distressed after eating, take right after meals, and for good measure take another teaspoonful at bed-time and see what a difference it makes in the morning. Stomach sweet—appetite keener—you feel as if you really want to go to work. Mark Halsey and all good druggists have NEUTRACID—the new and remarkable formula for excess stomach acid. Adv.

Barkley Break Recalls Others

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 — If Senator Alben W. Barkley's biting blast at President Roosevelt means a clean break, it puts the Kentuckian in some distinguished company.

Over a lifetime of precedent-smashing politics, Mr. Roosevelt has had some rough-and-tumble scraps with his own associates.

The list is long of those who wouldn't make peace, or didn't get the chance—Al Smith, John L. Lewis, James A. Farley, John Nance Garner, General Hugh Johnson . . . ad infinitum.

Up to this point, Mr. Roosevelt, politically speaking, has had the last word. It usually has meant relative obscurity for those who crossed swords with the squire of Hyde Park.

Al Smith Was First

First classic tiff to electrify the Roosevelt camp involved former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Roosevelt's predecessor both in the New York capital and as Democratic presidential nominee. Smith figured he lost in 1928 on a fluke and wanted another crack in '32 but Roosevelt blocked it.

Two of Roosevelt's earliest associates in depression-sagging Washington soon broke with him over domestic policies. Raymond Moley, an original "brain-truster" is a columnist now, having followed the same course pursued by the late General Hugh Johnson—the NRA administrator.

Two mighty figures in the Roosevelt political scheme of things departed ostensibly over the third term issue. John L. Lewis, creator of the CIO, denounced FDR in the '40 campaign and backed Willkie. The other resignation was that of James A. Farley, about which books have been written.

Farley Opposed Third Term

Farley didn't want to have anything to do with a third term and made no bones about it; there are plenty of people who think that was because Farley himself wanted to run. In any case, he took a walk and just about that time Vice President Garner strolled along with him.

Garner and Farley never had dissolved that close comradeship which carried them into the camp opposite Roosevelt in 1940. They have conferred this year and frankly admitted it was over "politics."

Mr. Roosevelt has retained the friendship of those who served in his cabinet with one exception, Harry Woodring who was dropped as secretary of war. Woodring today is leading a Democratic movement to balk a fourth term nomination.

German Plants Hit

suggesting that bombers also had attacked Germany from Italian bases:

"It is just learned that the Americans carried out another attempt to halt the German air defenses by coordinated operations. While U. S. bombers were engaged by strong German fighter formations over central Germany, U. S. bomber formations entered southern Germany under fighter protection.

Violent Combats Reported

"German air defenses in both south and north entered into full action. In both areas violent air combats took place. No details are available so far."

The Eighth Air force attack, after a day of idleness enforced by bad weather, was a many-pronged operation with the heaviest blows aimed at Schweinfurt and Gotha.

Gotha was attacked Sunday for the first time. It is the site of an assembly plant for component parts of Messerschmitt 110's, the twin-engined rocket-firing fighters which lately have been operating as aerial artillery in support of single-engined fighters.

Schweinfurt, where a majority of the ball and roller bearings for the German war machine and air force once were manufactured, was the scene of the Eighth Air force's greatest battle. On Oct. 14, in a Schweinfurt raid, 60 Fortresses were lost and 97 German challengers downed. The town also was attacked on Sept. 17 when 36 forts were lost in the first shuttle raid ending in the Mediterranean theater.

Escorted By U. S. Fighters

The German DNB news agency, in a broadcast dispatch, said the "major" American bomber forces striking into northwestern and central Germany by daylight were escorted by United States fighters.

"Extensive" air battles were raging at the time of the broadcast, it said, with German fighter planes swarming up in force to counter the big scale penetration by the massed raiding formations.

"Atmospheric conditions on the whole are favorable," DNB said.

"According to reports now available, a considerable number of bombers were downed before reaching their targets."

Meanwhile it was known that American and British bombers had renewed their attack on Dutch air fields and the French invasion coast by daylight after a light RAF night raid on western Germany and a powerful attack on Austrian aircraft factories yesterday by American bombers based in Italy.

"Task Force" To Be Organized To Aid Food Production Battle

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP) — The nation's agricultural army will have its own "task force" in the 1944 food production battle, a WFA expert said today.

Col. Philip G. Bruton, War Food administration director of labor, said the plan is to establish and maintain a mobile force of about 200,000 able bodied interstate and foreign workers who can be shifted on short notice to save threatened crops in critical labor shortage areas.

Small, Emergency Unit

The "task force" would constitute only a small, emergency unit of the labor force of 12,000,000 persons who will be required at the peak of the nation's harvest if production of another record crop to meet war demands is accomplished, he said.

WFA officials, meeting with extension directors and farm labor supervisors from 12 Midwest states in the third of four regional conferences, said 4,000,000 of the total would be temporary or seasonal workers, including 800,000 women and 1,200,000 children, recruited from cities, towns and villages in the U. S. crop corps community mobilization program.

News Briefs

A Slaton negro, John Green, 39, was fined $100 and costs in Dawson county court Wednesday, a day after he had been fined $200 and costs in Lubbock county court. All assessements were for liquor law violation.

A special program is being arranged for the fifth anniversary of the fourth Sunday community sing in Foursquare church, Eighth street and Avenue Q, Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock, according to P. O. Brock, chairman. The Slaton quartet and the Campbell qfartet from Levelland are expected, he said.

Theft of a tire and wheel from Oscar White's automobile was reported to police from 1507 Avenue N; a tool kit was reported stolen from Mrs. Henry Tubbs of 802 Avenue N.

Funeral services were conducted in Asbury Methodist church this afternoon for Mrs. Laura Craddick of 2334 Avenue H, who died Tuesday night. Rev. C. A. Bickley officiated. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery with Sanders Funeral home in charge.

Whereabouts of Mia Slavenska, Yugoslavian ballet dancer and her dance ensemble, scheduled to appear Wednesday night at the Lubbock High school auditorium, had not been learned this morning, according to reports.

Tom Kemp of Hobbs, N. M. has returned to his home after spending a few days here visiting his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wanda Kemp, who is ill at her home, 1942 Avenue N.

Three candidates will present themselves at 6:30 o'clock tonight for the Master's degree, it was announced by Hugh J. McClellan, secretary of Yellowhouse lodge 841, AF&AM. Burl Ham is worshipful master.

Second Lt. William D. Bonner, 616 Avenue K, Lubbock, was among nine officers and enlisted men of the Marine corps still missing after a crash of two Navy patrol bombers over the Neuse river near Cherry Point, N. C., according to an Associated Press dispatch Wednesday night. One body reported recovered was that of Pfc. Bruno John Wachala of Cleveland, Ohio. Lt. Bonner, son of Mrs. J. W. Philips, 616 Avenue K, was known here as "Billy Philips," the youngster having used his step-father's name. He attended Lubbock High school and Texas Tech and Coffeyville Junior college, Coffeyville, Kas. When he enlisted in the Marines, he had to use his name William D. Bonner, which never had been legally changed. He had been in the Marines about 18 months.

Blalock Justifies Barkley's Actions

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Texas' Democratic national committeeman, Col. Myron G. Blalock of Marshall says that what Sen. Alben Barkley said and did with reference to the President's veto message on the income tax bill was justified, and expressed the hope Barkley's colleagues would re-elect him majority leader.

"I think more of Senator Barkley than ever before, because he's demonstrated his capacity for leadership," Blalock, here to help in a drive to obtain $106,000 in Texas for the national Democratic party, said last night.

"I am glad to see Congress asserting itself. However, I hope Barkley's colleagues will re-elect him majority leader and that he will get back in the harness. The President's phrase makers went entirely too far," he said.

The Marshall resident said he considered the effect of the episode would be salutory on the Democratic party.

Crooners' Ties Bring In Money At Auction

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—The Ellington field Army air forces orchestra today added another to the growing collection of "Sinatra stories."

At a bond rally here, Corp. Freddy Barr, baritone soloist, auctioned a "deluxe" red, blue and yellow necktie donated by "the voice," Frank Sinatra. It sold for $300 in war bonds.

Barr then removed his own G. I. tie, a light-tan 16-cent number, and offered it at auction. A young woman bid $3,000 for it.

The Army Nurse corps was authorized and became a part of the Army in 1901.

Dewey Too Optimistic On Synthetic Rubber

PORT NECHES, Feb. 24 (U.P.) — Col. Bradley Dewey, the national rubber administrator, pleaded guilty today to over-optimism in his early estimates of the nation's capacity to produce synthetic rubber.

"But I have no apologies to make," he added hastily, and the picture he painted for the future of the synthetic rubber industry in this nation was not pessimistic.

He was principal speaker yesterday as the Neches Butane company's plant to refine butadiene, largest of its kind in the world, was formally added to the war-born industry.

Dewey and his party left here by airplane today for San Antonio. The group also will inspect industrial installations at Corpus Christi during the day.

War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson and Vice-Chairman Charles E. Wilson were scheduled to join the Dewey party at Houston tomorrow for a two-day inspection tour of industrial installations in the Houston and Galveston areas.

Japs' Peril Mounts

Nipponese were taken prisoner. American casualties are believed to have run low.

American planes bombed Ponape and Kusaie in the Carolines and unidentified atolls in the Marshalls. Another attack was aimed at Nauru island, west of the U. S.-held Gilberts. Not a plane was lost in all the raids.

Marines from the north coast of New Britain effected a juncture with Sixth army troops from Arawe on the south to gain full control of the western portion of the 800-mile long island with the battered enemy fortress of Rabaul at the northeastern tip.

7,000 Japs Killed

General MacArthur estimated that approximately 7,000 Japanese troops had been killed in the fighting following the American invasion of Cape Gloucester Dec. 26 and Arawe Dec. 15.

Solomons-based planes plastered Raubal's Lakunai and Rapopo airdromes with 130 tons on Monday, and for the second successive day the Japanese failed to intercept the attack.

Two enemy freighter-transports and an escort vessel were sunk by aerial bombers off Cape Matanalem near Kavieng, New Ireland. A 1000-ton Japanese freighter was destroyed near Nubia on the northeastern New Guinea coast.

Grand Jury At Olton Recesses

(Special To The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 24. — District Attorney Harold M. LaFont said this morning a Lamb county grand jury charged with investigation of the Hunt slayings would be reassembled Saturday in Olton.

At that time there will be "several other witnesses" to be heard, he said.

Today's announcement was consistent with earlier statements that "approximately 30 witnesses" would be heard "then the grand jury is adjourned probably two days before again being assembled to hear more witneses."

Three Indictments

Three bills of indictment — none of them relating to the Hunt case —have been voted by the grand jury, of which C. E. Bley is foreman. Defendants, all negroes, pleaded guilty before Judge C. D. Russell and were sentenced to serve two years each in the penitentiary — two for burglary and one for receiving and concealing stolen property.

Trial of other criminal indictments, if any, will be next week, Judge Russell had ordered.

Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hunt were slain and their bodies bound in the bedroom of their Littlefield residence the morning of Oct. 26—18 months after an assault to murder to Dr. Hunt on a lonely highway near Littlefield.

The court of criminal appeals "may decide next week" the appeal of Dr. W. R. Newton, Cameron physician, from a 7-year conviction in connection with the assault, the Associated Press announced from Austin Wednesday. Mrs. Newton is similarly charged, and venue in her case was changed on the court's motion to Plainview. There has been no definite trial setting, however.

Personal Aid Division For Soldiers Opened

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — The War department announced today the establishment of a personal affairs division of the Army Service forces to help military personnel with information and advice on personal and family problems.

The new unit, says the Army, is "concerned solely with dispensing information aimed at a solution, through proper channels, of problems pertaining to emergency financial aid, allowances, arrears in pay, war bonds, gratuity pay, insurance, pensions, legal assistance, employment, vocational rehabilitation, hospitalization, housing facilities and personal effects."

Craving For Whisky Gets Man In Trouble

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—A craving for practically non-existent whisky almost carried a Dallas businessman too far.

Tired when a liquor store manager told him he had no whisky in stock, the man pulled a gun and demanded bourbon—or else.

He got the police instead, since someone had reported a burglary in progress.

He got off with an admonition, however, since he was pronounced sober.

Farmer Draft Changes Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (AP) — With at least half of the 1,700,000 farm workers facing possible induction under new selective service regulations, Senate farm committee members and four major farm organizations today began a movement for modification of the revised draft rules.

"No one is trying to protect farmers from the draft," said Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), "but we are concerned about food production."

The movement to relax the regulations has been endorsed by the American Farm Bureau federation, the National Grange, the National Council of Farmer cooperatives and the National Cooperative Milk Producers federation.

16 Units Required

Originally, a farm worker, in order to be entitled to draft deferment was required to produce eight war units — a measure of production computed by selective service. Under the new rules he must produce 16 units, and Bankhead estimates that with 69 per cent of the workers having produced less than 16 units in 1943, and allowing for some deferments on other bases, about half of the 1,700,000 now-deferred workers face induction.

The farm committee announced it was inviting Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, to testify Friday as to the effect of the new rules on the 1944 farm labor supply.

Nazis Evacuate Dno

Fritz von Mannstein might elect to make a stand against the Soviet drive on the approaches to Rumania.

While Moscow gave no details of fighting on other sectors of the long front, a German communique admitted yesterday that the Russians had broken through Nazi lines northeast of Rogachev, on the upper Dnieper river above Gomel, and that "heavy fighting" was "still going on."

SPAATZ VISITS ITALY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 24 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, chief of American strategic bombing of Germany, in a special trip to the Mediterranean, visited the Liberator crews who bombed Steyr yesterday and explained how the Italy-based offensive was coordinated with attacks from England.

Retail Store Sales Still On "Up-Grade"

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (U.P.)—Sales in Texas retail stores were still on the "up-grade" through January, 1944, compared with January, 1943, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

Fewer credit sales were made and more collections from credit were reflected. A 9.7 per cent increase in sales was noted for the state as a whole. Greatest rise was 44.2 per cent at Cleburne.

Army Society In Lubbock

Luncheons, bridge parties and business hours were held Wednesday by wives of officers and soldiers stationed at the air bases near Lubbock.

At the Lubbock Army Wives society, Mrs. Ralph E. Holmes spoke to the members urging them to go to the Red Cross on LAWS day which has been changed from Tuesday mornings to Tuesday afternoons. Those who want to go at other times may fill out a card at the Red Cross and the LAWS will receive credit for their going.

Mrs. B. H. Carmer directed games of bunko.

The society planned a luncheon to be given in honor of Mrs. Holmes, March 8 at the Lubbock hotel. Reservations may not be made later than March 7. Plates are $1 each.

Officers will be elected next Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the U. S. O.

Wives of cadets at Lubbock Army Air field met at the U. S. O. for luncheon and bridge.

Fifty-five women whose husbands are in classes 44C and D attended.

The George Washington theme was carried out in decorations at the South Plains Ladies Bridge club which met at 1 p. m. at the Officers club. Mrs. J. A. Colahan made high score. Seventy attended.

Do You Want A Real Medicine For That Cough

or Bronchial Irritation Caused by a Cold

You'll know you've got hold of the right thing when you take your first dose of Bron-chu-line Emulsion.

It's no insipid sweet sugary concoction but it's one with a real kick. As a matter of fact it feels great going down — gives instant relief — soothes a hacking racking cough almost while you are swallowing it.

Unmistakable satisfaction is guaranteed or money back, so get a bottle of Bron-chu-line today from—Mark Halsey Drug Co.—or any progressive druggist.—Adv.

Mona Louise Pierce Engaged To Lt. Homer James Avery

Mrs. George R. Pierce was hostess with a luncheon at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the Hilton hotel Chimayo room to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Mona Louise Pierce, to Lt. Homer James Avery, who is stationed at Del Rio Army Air base.

The marriage is to take place in the post chapel at Del Rio next Wednesday.

The luncheon table reflected a bridal theme, being centered by an arrangement of Dutch iris and yellow jonquils and lighted with white candles. Match covers were lettered with the names of the betrothed couple and their wedding date.

The luncheon guests were Mesdames William Eisenberg, Harold Akins, I. C. Enochs, T. B. Duggan, J. H. Stiles, J. Frank Ford, Bill Morrison, Newton Walton, Wesley Read, George A. Simmons, jr., Alfred Strehli, Parker F. Prouty, Misses Martha Kuykendall, Nancy Stiles, Mary Menon Stangel, Jean Renner, Dorothy Underwood, Betty Rhea Caldwell, Margaret Cammack and Mallory Kelly of Lamesa.

Miss Pierce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce of 3124 Twenty-first street.

J. E. Garrison, 1402 Main street, has returned from a ten-days business visit to San Antonio, San Benito and Eagle Pass. He also went to Corpus Christi to visit his daughters, Misses LaVerne and Louise Garrison.

WPB Officials To Inspect Texas Plants

BEAUMONT, Feb. 24 (AP)—War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson and WPB's Vice-Chairman Charles E. Wilson were expected to reach here by plane tonight from Washington to inspect Texas war plants.

Their Texas schedule calls for an inspection of the Beaumont area tomorrow morning, a trip to Houston in the afternoon, visits to Baytown Saturday afternoon and to Texas City and Weslaco Sunday.

The two men plan to spend Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights in Houston and to leave Monday morning for Washington.

Nelson had planned originally to meet in Dallas Saturday with southwestern civic and industrial leaders but his itinerary was changed. In Washington, he said he might stop over briefly in Dallas either on his way to Beaumont or on the return journey.

Supper Honors Bride-To-Be

In honor of Miss Ruth Castle who is to marry S/Sgt. H. G. Burchett, jr., March 5 at Miami Beach, Fla., a spaghetti supper was given at the home of Mrs. Bill Davis Wednesday evening.

The table was covered with a multi-colored cloth, and the centerpiece was composed of fresh garden vegetables and fruit. To carry out the motif of "Be Comfortable," the guests wore sport clothes. Personal letters to be opened by the bride-elect daily after her arrival in Florida were written by each person.

Gifts were brought by Misses Jo Nell Williams, Gene Anita Stephenson, Evelyn Jones, Nita Proctor, Mildred Boone, LaRue Hall, Mesdames C. W. Webb, jr., Lucy Gene Skinner and Winnie Wheat.

Hostess were Mrs. Davis, Misses Frances Price and Ruth Gillespie.

Lubbock To Play In Childress Tonight

Locals Underdogs For Second Game

The Lubbock Westerners will be the underdog tonight at the Childress high school gym as they resume the bi-district playoff with the super-charged Bobcats at 8 o'clock. The team left shortly after noon for Childress.

If the Westerners win tonight, they will spend the night in Childress and both clubs will come back to Lubbock Friday night for the deciding game on the program.

Cope Is Out

The Westerner squad will leave Lubbock without their scoring leader, Bill Cope, who went out of the game in the fourth quarter Tuesday night with a badly sprained ankle. The doctor Wednesday ordered Cope to stay off the ankle for about two weeks, Coach Dixie White reported.

The Bobcats lost the opener here, 39 to 23, and again face the task of winning two in a row to gain the top honors and the trip to Austin for the state tournament March 2, 3 and 4. They did this feat against Amarillo after taking just as bad a beating in the opener to win the top honors in the District 1-AA race.

Lubbock Starters

Coach White said Wednesday night that he planned to take a squad of 12 boys to Childress for the game tonight. He indicated that his starting lineup would find R. M. Moyers and Jerry Crawford at forwards, Marion Manderson at center, Burl Gene Moore and George Brewer at guards.

Homer Lawson and Billy Walker will be the first line reserves, and both are very likely to see action in the game tonight. Others that will make the trip, and very likely see action, will be Bueron Lindsey, Ted Forsythe, Charles Pressley, Roland Laxon and Cliff Dean.

The loss of Cope will be a serious blow to the hopes of the Westerners, but it is the hopes of Coach White that the team can bring the series back to Lubbock for another game.

Regional Class A Basketball Meet Opens At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 24—A colorful field of basketball teams from four Class A districts meet here today to decide a champion to represent Region 1 in the state tournament in Austin early in March. Two teams from each district play in the tournament with winners and runnerups selected from three districts, while District 2 played its schedule in two sections with winners in both sections represented.

The defending champion and runnerup are both back on the scene this season, and will face each other in the first round in the second game of the program this afternoon. Lakeview, from District 2A was the winner last year, beating Levelland, District 4A, in the finals.

One team that will be closely watched in the tournament here will be the undefeated Matador Bullfighters, who have racked up 26 straight wins for the season, and will play the feature game tonight, meeting the powerful Dimmitt club from District 1A at 9 o'clock tonight.

The opening game on the program pits Friona and Floydada at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Levelland and Lakeview game will be at 3 o'clock. The night session will be started by Phillips and Sudan at 8 o'clock with the Matador-Dimmitt game as the finale.

Semi-finals and finals in the championship and consolation brackets will be held Friday. The winner of the tournament will represent Northwest Texas in the state tournament in Austin, March 2, 3 and 4.

FIELD TRIALS SET

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 24 (AP)—The annual spring trials of the North Texas Field Trial association will be held on the 30,000 acre Buster Hapgood ranch in Clay county, March 5, 6 and 7, W. J. Burt, president of the association, announced today.

Childress To Play SPAAF

Army Fives Clash Here Tonight

The seasons peak basketball turnout is expected tonight at the South Plains Army Air field recreation hall to see if the high scoring Winged Commandos can overcome the vaunted Childress Army Air field Fliers and avenge a two point loss suffered at Childress last Saturday.

The Childress team edged out the point-a-minute SPAAF team Saturday night, 37 to 35. Tonight the Fliers will be out to do what no other team has been able to accomplish all season against the Commandoes, that is sweep two in a row. SPAAF lost to the Tech Engineers early in the season, but later took three over the Army lads, swamped Midland Army Air Field, 64 to 49 on the SPAAF hardwood, but lost in Midland.

SPAAF fans are pinning their hopes on Leason "Pete" McCloud, former All American, returning to scoring form tonight with his hot one-handed sharpshooting to decision the visitors. McCloud was held to 11 points last Saturday while a team mate, John Kline, was hitting the net for 14 points to lead scoring for the night.

Only five men managed to hit the basket against the Fliers last week but tonight it may be a different story, the Commandoes having a habit of getting hot on their own grounds.

Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, athletic officer at SPAAF, likely will start McCloud and Kline at forward, Doug Wakeland at center, Charles Conley and Ed Kalfain at guards, with Bob Edwards, Bernie Stock, Dwight Toedter, Ray Cagni and Dick Hargreaves standing by as subs.

For Childress, the big threats may be Jim Staples, a Stow, Ohio, star who has had no college experience, and J. D. Norton, former SMU ace, and Edgar Tutwiler, Princeton standout. Staples was the lad who decided the issue at Childress Saturday and paced the Fliers scoring.

In tonight's game McCloud will be out to push his scoring total nearer the 300 mark. He has 264 points thus far, Kline in second place with 165. The Commandos have amassed 631 points in winning 11 of 14 games.

Honus Wagner Is 70 Years Old Today

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 24 (AP)—Honus Wagner, oldest active man in a major league baseball uniform, observes his 70th birthday today—but with only 33 candles on his cake.

"This is my 33rd year in National league uniform," smiles the bandy-legged "Flying Dutchman" of baseball's rough-and-ready era. "Besides I don't feel 70 anyway. I feel more like 33."

Volleyball Matches Set At Hunt School

The volleyball court at the George M. Hunt school will be the scene of the first battle between grade school teams in the stepup program for school recreation adopted here recently.

The Hunt Pioneers will battle the Roscoe Wilson Wranglers in the first of the series of volleyball matches, according to E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools.

U. S. Marines were at Pensacola and took part in the ceremonies when Forida joined the Union in 1821.

Forty And Fit, Pepper Martin Is Going Back To Cardinals

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 24 (AP)—John Leonard Martin, alias "Pepper"—the culprit of many a stolen base, is going back to the old gang of his, the St. Louis Cardinals.

Martin, "the wild horse of the Osage" who held a lifetime batting average of .297 when he quit the big leagues in 1940, disclosed his plans to climb into a Cardinal uniform again after a series of confefences with President Sam Breadon.

He said that, although he'll be 40 next week, he figures there are still a few good games left in his creaking joints.

Beginning of spring training next month won't catch him behind with his work down on the farm in Oklahoma, either, Pepper said. He has everything in shape to leave and is raring to go.

Managed Rochester Last Year

Last year Pepper was manager of the Rochester, N. Y., club of the International league, a St. Louis farm, and hit .280 during 60 games. The Red Wings finished fifth.

Before that, in 1941 and 1942, he was boss of the Sacramento club in the Pacific Coast league. His crew won the championship the first year.

Pepper ended his big league career with the Cards in 1940 after his eleventh consecutive season. He was a veteran of three World Series engagements with the Redbirds, playing in 15 series games and coming out with an average at the plate of .418. He also took part in three all-star games with the National league team.

Martin gained the major share of his fame, however, as one of the all-time great purloiners of the sack. He led the National league in stolen bases in 1933, 1934 and 1936.

Tennis Workouts To Begin Here Friday

A preview of spring will be given Friday afternoon and Saturday at the Dupre tennis courts when the Lubbock tennis players turn out for the first intra-squad matches of the season with six veterans returning in the boys division and two in the girls division.

Heading the boys will be David Hester, Billy Walker, Delbert Cooper and Jerry LaMond, last year's veterans. The two seasoned performers among the girls will be Francys Peters and Juanice Bagwell.

Most of those who will take to the courts Friday afternoon will be shooting for places on the boys teams with Joe Dean Payne, Walter Bumpass, Louis Hawkins, Hardy Matthews, David Mohley, Robert King and Hubert Hawkins listed in addition to the four veterans. Only two other girls are listed for the tryout meet this week. They are Betty Nance and Betty Thomas.

There will be singles and doubles matches, with the purpose of the practice meet being to see which division each member is the more suited as well as to give them the first workout of the year under game conditions.

356th Squadron Wins Over Medical Unit

The 356th Squadron cagers nosed out the Medical Detachment in a close 21 to 18 battle last night the South Plains Army Air field gym to assure them of a tie for first place in the SPAAF Squadron league.

The ball game was close all the way with the winners going under the wire with a spurt just before the end of the game to gain the victory in the crucial series. Both teams were tied for the lead prior to this game.

Cotton paced the winners with nine points, but top honors of the night went to Hargraves of the Medics, who poured 14 of his team's 18 points through the hoop, but his efforts were not enough to overcome the winners.

Girls' Cage Tourney Opens At Sundown

SUNDOWN, Feb. 24. — Girls basketball takes the spotlight here today as play starts in the three-day District 18 tournament with Wellman and Whiteface teams opening the four-game schedule of the night at 6 o'clock.

Muleshoe and Ropes play at 7 o'clock, Springlake and Meadow clash at 8 o'clock and Union plays Sundown at 9 o'clock in the nightcap.

Teams from Bula, Cotton Center, Idalou and Cooper each drew byes and will not play until Friday night.

Friday's quarterfinal round will pit Bula against the Wellman-Whiteface winner at 6 o'clock; Cotton Center against the Muleshoe-Ropes winner; Idalou against the Springlake-Meadow winner, and Cooper against the Union-Sundown winner, playing in that order.

Semi-finalists will resume play Saturday afternoon with games at 2 and 3 o'clock with losers playing for third place at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night and the championship final carded for 9:30 o'clock.

Suitable awards will be given the champions.

Sharing the spotlight as favorites, and both in the lower bracket, will be strong teams from Meadow and Union. Should these two teams go true to form in the early rounds, they would meet each other in the 3 o'clock semi-final game on Saturday.

SHEPPARD FIELD WINS

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Byers independent basketball team dropped a 37-49 game here last night to the Sheppard Field Eagles, an enlisted men's team, who turned in their 13th win in 15 starts.

The Sahara Desert is large enough to blanket the United States.

Class B Cage Meet Slated In Canyon

CANYON, Feb. 24. — The Class B regional tournament will get underway Friday morning at the West Texas State Teachers college gym with a field of 11 teams battling for the right to enter the state tournament at Austin March 2, 3 and 4. Games on Friday will cut the field to four semi-finalists for play in the big finale Saturday.

Two of the most powerful teams of the tournament clash in the opener Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the battle that brings together Ropesville and New Deal. Both teams have stacked up impressive records in their area this season.

Stratford, another favorite of the tournament will face a test at 11 o'clock in Higgins in the second game of the tournament. The remaining first round game on the schedule will bring together Klondike and Goodnight in the first afternoon game, scheduled for 2 o'clock.

This will reduce the field to the quarter-finals which get under way at 3 o'clock Friday with Abernathy meeting the ever powerful Carey Cardinals. At 4 o'clock, Sundown will clash with the winner of the Ropesville-New Deal game.

The lower bracket quarter-finals will be played Friday night with Jayton meeting the winner of the Stratford-Higgins game at 8 o'clock and Whitharral meeting the Klondike-Goodnight winner at 9 o'clock.

The two afternoon winners clash in the semi-finals at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and the winners from Friday night play at 11 o'clock. The championship finals will be played Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Cowhands, Cowboys Play Slaton Tonight

The Lubbock Cowhands will hang up their basketball togs after tonight's clash with the Slaton High school A team at the Westerner gym. The game will be the second of a double feature with Coach Curtis Barrett's Cowboys tangling with the Slaton juniors in the opener at 8 o'clock.

Earlier this month, the Lubbock teams split a twin bill at Slaton with the Slaton Juniors nosing out Coach Wimberley's Cowboys, 15 to 11, while the Cowhands won their game, 34 to 21.

Tonight, Coach Barrett's Cowboys will be seeking to avenge their Cowboy brothers, while the Cowhands will be trying to make it two in a row over the Slaton cagers.

It will be the last game of the season for the Cowhands, but just what future plans will be followed by the Cowboy cagers has been unannounced, and they may see more cage action.

What The People Of Lubbock Are Saying About M.G.M.'s New Triumph!

A poignant human story one will remember for a long time. I shall remember it as well for the humor and pathos so well blended to stir one from tears to laughter.
W. KARY MATHIS

Splendid picture—just enough humor to balance the pathos. Carries a wonderful moral lesson and in such a way that anyone can see it with enjoyment and pleasure.
Representative of City Parent-Teacher's Council

Interesting picture. It proves that a child needs love more than anything else.
MRS. MAEDGEN

An interesting child picture that every grown up should see.
MRS. T. R. PRIDEAUX

LOST ANGEL is an especially good show—one that should be seen by the old and young alike. For we all need to find the magic of love as Alpha found it . . . need to find it now more than ever in these times of distress.
MRS. M. K. SIMPSON

splendid! a "Don't Miss It" picture! What a fine world this would be if we could see the "Magic" in it.
MRS. VYLE RATISSEAU

A wonderfully portrayed story and only Margaret O'Brien could reveal this delightful personality.
MRS. E. W. WRIGHT

One of the best pictures I've seen. It has the finest appeal —the love of a child. It has plenty of clean wholesome humor. It emphasizes basic character values. It is beautiful as to artistic filming. The artists who take the roles are excellent.
MRS. H. F. GODEKE

A sweet story. Good acting. Shows that love means more in a child's life for real happiness than anything else.
MRS. J. H. HANKINS

Not only a picture for enjoyment but one that makes some of us who are so eager for well informed and scientifically reared children that we are prone to shut out real life those things that seem trivial and yet are so necessary to our balance for living. It's ONE everyone should see.
MRS. CLAYTON CARTER

I think this is the most interesting and influencing picture I have seen in years. It proves what deep love can do for the human race. Why not have a few more REAL SHOWS instead of so much killing fighting and war pictures? A picture like this will up lift one.
MRS. O. W. McGUIRE

This is the picture every parent and child should see. Also it shows in these troubled times just what we are fighting for—our youth and next generation.
MRS. THOMAS C. SCOTT

LOST ANGEL is an excellent picture for both young and old.
MRS. FOY JOHNSON

LOST ANGEL is one of the most wonderful pictures I've ever seen. It's incredible how such a small character can keep an audience as spell bound as can Margaret O'Brien.
VADA M. PAGE

LOST ANGEL is one of the most wonderful pictures I've had the pleasure to see. Thanks.
MRS. WEBB DUVAL

It was one of the most beautifully acted pictures ever witnessed. Just goes to show how empty life is or would and can be without LOVE.
MRS. A. P. SPENSE

I believe it is one of the greatest pictures I've seen. I certainly enjoyed it very much. It's a picture the entire family would like.
MRS. O. B. TAYLOR

This picture has good wholesome entertainment for the whole family, young and old.
MRS. O. G. ANDREWS

It is wonderful from start to finish. It's grand for young and old too.

Sweden Protests To Russia On Bombing

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 24 (AP) — The Swedish foreign office announced that a protest would be made to Russia today in regard to bombs dropped on Stockholm Tuesday night, although Moscow already has declared officially they did not come from Soviet aircraft.

The foreign office followed an assertion by the official Swedish telegraph agency that Russian markings were found on the bomb fragments.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

IF a guy had the voice and personal charm of Franklin Roosevelt; the dash and "color" of Douglas MacArthur; the dogged determination of Lt. Tom Harmon; the cool judgment of George C. Marshall; the devil-may-care attitude of Lord Louis Mountbatten; the physique of Victor Mature; the oratorical powers of Winston Churchill, AND the dignity of those guys pictured in the magazine whiskey advertisements, wouldn't he be some man!

Times change, and with them the feelings and attitudes of the people.

Forty years ago, Russia and Japan were locked in a war and, believe it or not, Mister Ripley, the sympathies of 90 per cent of Americans were with the Japs!

(Any doubting Thomases can prove this statement for themselves by looking up old files in an American newspaper published in 1904.)

IN the mail the other day came a long letter from Pvt. Paul White, Tech graduate who did newspaper work in Lubbock and Port Arthur, and who worked in the Dallas office of the Office of War Information before going into uniform.

In the letter, he gave us a lot of interesting information about life in England as it affects the many young Americans who are there waiting for General Eisenhower to give the invasion "high sign." But, it seemed to us, that the most important thing had to do with Private White's report of the attitude of our young men who soon will be plunged into what promises to be the greatest armed struggle of all time.

Winding up his message, he says this, (with the notation that it represents the thoughts of all the overseas soldiers he knows):

"You can tell the folks back home that morale is excellent and everyone is anxious to get this job done and get home again to our families and our American way of life.

"It takes this kind of service (overseas) to make all of us more conscious of the true value of American living. We all swear by our great country and long to walk down her broad streets again.

"They can keep the confetti and the flags and the bands and the speech-making. We just want our folks to keep the front door open!"

There's a sermon there in those few lines.

COME next Saturday night, the bigwigs of the Democratic party in Texas—plus a few innocent onlookers who aren't sure whether they're still party men, or not—will gather in Dallas for the annual Jackson Day dinner.

Present, unless all signs fail, will be Bob Hannegan, the newly elected chairman of the Democratic National committee, and a couple or three senators from other states.

Nothing important will be done at the gathering. Nothing will be said that hasn't been said 1,000 times before at similar gatherings throughout the land.

But a good detective, if allowed to watch, unnoticed—and with the personal and political backgrounds of all present in mind—should be able to leave the party with a pretty good idea of how Texas Democrats will get along together during this election year; about which branch of the party will wield the "big stick;" and to forecast how much argument there will be among the Texas delegation to the national convention in Chicago next June, before Texas' strength finally is thrown to Franklin Roosevelt.

As things look now, the New Dealers are very much in command in the high councils of Texas Democrats.

Unless the conservative element shows much more strength than it is suspected of having, the pro-Roosevelt wing will stay in the saddle, will ride the Lone Star donkey deftly and smoothly into the Roosevelt camp at the very first opening at Chicago.

Therefore, the thing to watch at Dallas Saturday night is not how the Texas politicos are lining up, but, instead, what are the indications that the two factions will co-operate with a minimum of wrangling.

OUR smart detective, unobtrusively listening and counting noses, will first note how many conservatives are there; with whom they are sitting and, more important, the attitude of the Rooseveltians toward them.

If the New Deal crowd, which is holding the reins, graciously gives the "antis" a favored spot or two on the program; and if the "antis" thus favored graciously respond without a show of rancor, look for a peaceful election year as far as national politics go in Texas.

But if only a few "antis" show up and they are in dour spirits; if the exuberant New Dealers snub the dissenters, our detective may look for fun at scattered county conventions and at the national pow-wow in June.

Nothing else of any import may be expected to crop out at the Dallas dinner.

But in the "smoke filled rooms" before and after the dinner—where talks are held "off the record" and those "in on the know" are carefully chosen—that's something else.

Especially if Bob Hannegan is there, as he's supposed to be, the "business" will be transacted before the dinner and will directly point the banquet attitudes of both conservative and New Deal wings of the state organization.

If everybody's happy at the dinner, and the boys get along like so many bugs in a rug, you can bet that Hannegan, or somebody else with the power to do so, has put the word out that:

1. Mr. Roosevelt will continue his political meanderings to the right of center;

2. The "boys" can come back into the fold, forgiven for such past derelictions as the defeat of Lyndon Johnson and the later full-term election of Wilbert Lee O'Daniel; and,

3. The Roosevelt running mate in 1944 will be someone far more suitable to "old line" Democrats than left-wing Henry Wallace.

Watch the papers after the dinner and draw your own tip-off!

Blood Runs Cold

YESTERDAY: The murder story is front paged in the newspapers because Joan's father also died a violent death. Mary Ann tells Christine that Adrianne is terribly upset about something.

Chapter 22
Tim Lathrop

Mrs. Evans, attired in a flagrantly red and very unbecoming coolie coat, was at the top of the stairway glaring down at the very flushed and perspiring Sergeant Long. He was limping up to the second floor swearing at the top of his lungs. It seems that he had come back from the hospital and was on his way to Joan's room to poke around a little more. At the top of the stairs he caught his heel on the brass rim of the step and fell the whole flight.

I was surprised that he hadn't broken his neck, because he was a very heavy man. His ankle was wrenched badly, though, but that didn't prevent him from buttonholing a man who was coming up the stairway. I had to look twice and then I wouldn't have recognized Mr. Whitefield if it hadn't been for the heavy coat. He was the sort of man you could meet every day and never recognize.

"Just a minute there." He caught Whitefield by the arm as he came up to the hall. "There's something I'd like to ask you."

"Why, Sergeant," the man said with mock politeness as he took off his hat, "you told me I could go out this evening."

"I know that," the Sergeant growled. "What I want to know is, why didn't you tell me about that quarrel Miss Wells had in the hall with that man Kincaid? She left your apartment to see him."

"I tell you I don't know about any quarrel," Whitefield said. "What goes on here is none of my business." He swung past the Sergeant and proceeded up to the third floor.

Apparently the Sergeant's ankle was bothering him, so he didn't stop the artist. I propelled the officer into my room. Mrs. Evans departed with a disapproving snort after asking why he hadn't arrested Mr. Kimball and why wasn't there a police guard outside of her door, since she would undoubtedly be the next one to go.

"And if you haven't arrested Mr. Kimball," she called back as she waddled off, "I'd like to know what the delay is all about."

The Sergeant closed the door none too quietly. "That woman is going to drive me out of my mind. She acted so funny about her work when I asked her. Do you know what it is? She sells corsets, goes from door to door!"

I wanted to laugh, but I was afraid he'd arrest me for making game of the law. Mary Ann, however, perched on the arm of a chair by the fireplace, giggled and the Sergeant, as susceptible as Dirck to red hair, smiled grudgingly.

"Lathrop and Kolff will be here pretty soon," he said as I brought out some adhesive for his foot.

I was surprised that Tim Lathrop could leave the hospital. "Did you find out how it happened?"

He grimaced as he tried to pull his heavy shoe off his swollen foot, and didn't reply immediately. After a moment of grunting as he bound his ankle he said, "Ah! I know is he was pulled out of the water at the foot of Forty-second Street and the East River.

"It seems a policeman saw a car driven by a woman going toward the wharf," he went on. "Then a minute later he heard a loud splash. He hurried down, but couldn't see anything. It's a dead-end street and runs directly into the river, so he knew the car was submerged. He leaned over the edge of the wharf and lighted the water with his flash. A man was struggling to the surface." The Sergeant paused while he pulled on his sock and shoe. "It was Lathrop," he said finally, "but he was unconscious and when the officer got him out he couldn't leave him that way to search for the woman. He signalled for help and when the police car came they found the woman's body, but she was pretty nearly done for. They don't expect her to live. I saw her for a minute, but I couldn't question her."

I shivered. It was horrible to think of those people almost drowning last night when it was so bitter cold.

'Open!'

"It's got me all mixed up, I can tell you that," The Sergeant continued almost as though he were thinking aloud. "I could have sworn that Lathrop was trying to get rid of his wife, but now it looks as though she was trying to drown herself and him, too, since she was driving the car. She was one of those neurotic women. And even though they weren't living together she was still jealous of him and hated Joan Kent."

"Then she couldn't have known that Joan was dead," I suggested, "because if it was jealousy there wouldn't have been any reason for her to try to drown him with Joan out of the way."

"H'm," he said. "That's right." He lighted a cigar and smoked in silence for a moment. Then he leaned forward. "But here's something. Maybe she killed Joan and then was afraid she might get caught. So she decided to kill herself and her husband, too."

I shook my head. It didn't sound logical to me.

"Oh, Sergeant, I forgot to tell you something," Mary Ann said excitedly. "Last night a friend of mine, a girl, dropped in. She lives in the next block. She rang the bell downstairs and when there was no answer, tried the street door and it was open."

"Open!" The Sergeant sat up. "I thought it was always kept locked."

Mary Ann nodded. "It is, or at least it's supposed to be. And when I came home after twelve it was locked. Anyway, Kitty came upstairs and left a note for me, but forgot all about it until this evening, so I called her?"

"Did she know anyhing?"

"I asked her and she said that when she was walking down the hall on this floor she saw a woman come out of Joan Kent's apartment."

"What time did you say that was?"

"A little before eleven. She'd been to the movies and dropped in on her way home, so she was pretty certain about the time. The main picture was over about twenty-five of eleven."

The Sergeant groaned and leaned back in the chair. "I don't suppose she could describe the woman."

"She couldn't remember much about her except that she was tall and dark."

"That sounds like Mrs. Lathrop," the Sergeant said moodily, "but it sounds like two million other women in New York, too. She was here before eleven, I think, and was found after midnight in the river. In the meantime her husband was here, but he didn't stay very long."

He leaned forward and his eyes were resting thoughtfully on the fire. "What could she have been doing in the meantime and where did she and her husband meet up?" he mused.

Then he jerked his head up and said in a harsh voice. "With that street door open, anyone could have come in and done it."

A Handsome Man

Suddenly the room seemed hot and close with the pungent scent of wood burning. And I had a queer frightening sensation when I realized that last night the street door had been unlocked. Mary Ann was staring at the Sergeant, her hands clenched in her lap.

"Do you — do you suppose—?" The words choked in her throat. She looked frightened.

She didn't have time to finish whatever it was she was trying to say, because Dirck leaned in the open doorway then, and asked if he could come in. There was a man standing behind him in the hall.

"Sure, come in." The Sergeant got up and limped around, trying his foot gingerly. "Hello, Lathrop."

For some reason I'd pictured Tim Lathrop as thin and pallid, a little down at the heel, with a flowing tie and hair. It was quite

SURE JUSTICE FOR WAR CRIMINALS

Extremely disturbing to many people in the United Nations will be the reports that the post-war prosecutions of Axis war criminals seem in danger of bogging down in a maze of legal technicalities.

There is the danger that many of the charges will be thrown out of court without ever getting to trial because of fine questions of law. Thus, there is the possibility that those who committed Nazi and Japanese crimes will escape because they merely carried out the orders of someone higher up; and that those higher up may escape because they did not actually execute their own orders.

Unfortunately, courts have functioned in such a way in this—and perhaps other—countries that the possibilities mentioned above cannot be ignored. Some credence must be placed in them.

But it does not require vision to predict that there might be "hell to pay" if war criminals began escaping penalties because of technicalities. Masses of the people might stand for such outrages upon justice. For our part, we don't believe they would.

The logical expectation is that they are going to expect—and demand, if necessary—a quick and sure determination of guilt or innocence. There won't be much patience with technicalities which tend to obscure or impede that end. Any court which does allow itself to become enmeshed with such technicalities is liable to find itself out on its well-known ear—along with the technicalities.

TALES of the Town: There's a tiny antique shop in midtown where the skyscrapers hug the tenements — not far from the sector known as Dead End . . . The owner is an auction fan. He attends nearly all of them and buys at bargain fees . . . He then peddles the odds and ends for a good profit in his two-by-four shop . . . At one of the auctions he picked up a pair of candlesticks for only $75 . . . "You're lucky," said the auctioneer. "These candlesticks are worth lots more than you bid. Besides the estate from which they came always considered them very lucky pieces" . . . The auctioneer hadn't exaggerated . . . Shortly after the new owner displayed them, he realized a handsome profit . . . A newly-wedded pair bought them for $400.

WINCHELL

Seven hundred and thirty days tumbled from the calendar before the married couple returned with the candlesticks . . . They had acquired a new home, they said . . . And while the candlesticks were very nice, they didn't fit in with the new decorative scheme . . . "Would you buy them back?" she asked. "You said they were lucky and they are — for you. Sell them back to you for half!"

The antique man bought them . . . He put them back in the window, and lucky they were for him indeed . . . An hour later a woman said: "I've been admiring these candlesticks — how much?" . . . "Well, this is war time, you know," he told her, "and they are difficult to find these days. Let you have them for $500" . . . She agreed . . . And paid him in cash . . . "I'm going shopping," she added. "Would you please send them?" . . . "Yes, madam," he replied, "and you will find they are very lucky" . . . The purchaser was Patricia Lonergan . . . Her youthful husband goes on trial for her slaying soon — the weapons being the lucky candlesticks.

These are the times when the little fellow and most salesgirls no longer fawn on customers . . . In one shop the other day, for instance, a woman was trying on frocks . . . The salesgirl hovered over her effusively . . . "Oh, modom," she exclaimed, "you look simply lovely in it. You look like Greta Garbo. In fact, when you walked in I said to myself that you look just like Garbo!" . . . Then, turning to another salesgirl, she said: "Look, May. Who does this lady look like?"

"Lizzie Dilling!" replied May.

You needn't believe it, if you don't want to . . . But it happened . . . It actually did . . . I know . . . Because I happen to know the Statue . . . A friend of ours took a walk in the park the other day . . . He found a magic wand next to the statue of a beautiful nude woman . . . Our friend picked up the wand — tapped the statue with it — and the gal came to life — just the way it happens in the Mary Martin show . . . With a wolfish gleam in his orbs, our friend said to her: "You've been stone for so long. What's the first thing you'd like to do?"

"I'd like," replied the statue, "to sit on a pigeon."

The legend that Japs destroy themselves rather than surrender was hemmed-and-hawed at by some war reporters yesterday . . . One, however, was sure the episodes in the movies were not exaggerated . . . That the average Jap does kill himself when captured — if he gets the chance . . . And takes with him as many of his captors as possible . . . In Dutch Harbor not more than two months ago the Navy came across one Jap, who had been hiding for a long time after the Navy won the spot . . . The Americans took him to a shack nearby for questioning . . . He was stripped to make sure he wasn't secreting any weapons . . . All he was left with — was his male "G-String" to keep things respectable . . . Then he was escorted to a corner of the hut while the officers prepared their papers before questioning him . . . Once their backs turned — the Jap (who apparently hid it in that "G-String") flung a grenade . . . The only survivor was a sailor, who had just left on an errand . . . Five officers died with the Jap.

OUR Allied counter-esoionage agents are like this fellow, which is why the Intelligence Services have accomplished so much to date . . . One naturalized American, who proved himself worthy of trust, won an assignment to Norway on a special mission . . . The British put him ashore in a town where his family dwelled . . . He hadn't seen them since the Nazis invaded Norway — but his orders were so strict — he was warned he couldn't reveal his movements even to his kin . . . And so to make sure they wouldn't unintentionally tip off any of the underground workers — the disguised agent passed his house and saw his grandmother sitting at the window sewing . . . He took a quick glance . . . And then kept going.

Newspapermen last night were recalling anecdotes revolving around William Allen White . . . Once, they recalled, the great Republican editor was attending a Democratic National Convention . . . A Senator, smiling, announced: "In looking over the delegates I fail to recognize any clergymen, and so I shall call upon my good friend, William Allen White, to open the convention with a prayer."

Mr. White arose. Stabbing the Senator with a glare, he sarcasmed: "You will have to excuse me. I'm a little out of my element, and the fact is, I prefer the Lord does not know I am here!"

In the foyer of the Barberry Room the other night Raymond Paige took this snapshot . . . A corporal noticing a colonel losing one of his eagles — meekly offered to pin it back . . . "Thanks," grumped the colonel, "the damb thing, catch on everything."

"Gee, sir," was the reply, "I wish I had your troubles!"

Waiting For Orders To Come Up Is Tense Task —

Pyle Describes Alert For Night March

By ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

IN ITALY, Feb. 24 (By Wireless) —Our company was alerted for its night march just before suppertime. We got the word about 4 in the afternoon, and we ate at 4:30. Word was passed around to collect 24 hours' field rations at suppertime and a full supply of ammunition.

ERNIE PYLE

After supper, the men rolled their one blanket inside their one shelter half while there was still light. Early darkness had come before 5:30. It was chilly. A misty rain began to fall. The men just lay or sat in their foxholes under the doubtful shelter of the olive trees.

Full darkness came over the olive grove, the artillery raged and flashed around half the horizon, and the concussion crashed and ran across the sky along the sounding board of the low clouds. We of our little company were swallowed in a great blackness.

We were connected to the war by one field telephone which ran to the battalion command post a quarter mile away. Nobody knew when the marching order would come. We just had to sit there and wait.

There were only two places to get out of the rain. Both were pig sheds dug into the side of a bank by an Italian farmer and stacked over with straw.

Lieut. Jack Sheehy, the company commander, and four enlisted men and I crawled into one and dragged the phone in after us. A few sergeants went into the other.

We lay down on the ground there in the pig shed. We had on our heavy coats but the chill came through like anything. The lieutenant had an extra blanket which he carried unrolled when not actually in battle, so he spread it out and he and I both sat under it. We huddled against each other and became a little warmer.

The lieutenant said, "I used to read your column back home, and I never supposed we'd ever meet. Imagine us lying together here on the ground in Italy."

Then we talked a little while in low tones, but pretty soon somebody started to snore and before long all of us were asleep although it still was only 7 o'clock.

EVERY now and then the lieutenant would phone battalion to see if any orders had come yet. Finally he was told the line to regiment was out.

Linemen were out in the darkness feeling with their hands, tracing the entire length of the line trying to find the break. Around 9 o'clock it was open again. Still no marching orders came.

A dark form appeared fairly silhouetted in the open end of the shed and asked if Lieutenant Sheehy was there. The lieutenant answered yes.

"Can the men unroll their blankets?" the form asked. "They're wet and cold."

The lieutenant thought a moment and then he said, "No, better not. We should get the word to go any minute now, certainly within half an hour. They better keep them rolled." The form said, "Yes, sir," and merged back into the darkness.

By 10 everybody in the shed had awakened from their nap. Our grove was deathly still, as though no one existed in it, for the night was full of distant warfare.

Now and then we'd get clear under the blanket and light a cigarette and hide it under the blanket when we puffed it. Over on the far hillside where the Germans were we could see a distant light. We finally decided it was probably a lamp in some unwitting Italian farmhouse.

FOR a little while there was a sudden splurge of flares in the distance. The first was orange and then came some in green, and then a white and then more orange ones. Our soldiers couldn't tell whether they were German or ours.

Between flashes of artillery we could hear quite loud blasts of machine guns. Even I can distinguish between a German machine gun and ours for theirs is much faster.

Machine guns are rarely fired except in flashes, so the barrel won't get too hot, but once some jerry just held the trigger down and let her roll for about fifteen seconds. "Boy, he'll have to put on a new barrel after that one," a soldier said.

THE time dragged on and we grew colder and stiffer. At last, nearly at midnight, the phone rang in the stillness of our pigshed. It was the order to go.

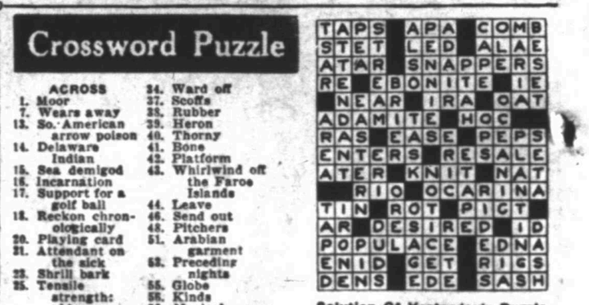

One of the boys said, "It's going to be a bitch of a thing to move. The ground is slick and you can't see your hand in front of you."

One sergeant went out to start the word for the company to assemble. Another disconnected the field telephone and carried it under his arm. Everybody wrestled into the harness of his heavy packs.

"Assemble down by the kitchen tent," the lieutenant told the first sergeant. "Platoons will form in this order — headquarters, third, first, second, and heavy weapons. Let's go."

The first sergeant moved off. I moved after him. The first two steps were fine. On the third step I went down into a ditch and said a bad word. That's the way it was with everybody all the rest of the night.

Nazi Night Raiders Set Fires In London

LONDON, Feb. 24. (AP)—Smoke from fires set by German night raiders still rose over London today as Nazi reconnaissance planes flew boldly over the city and touched off the first bona fide day alert the capital has experienced in many months.

Appearance of the German scouts, apparently checking damage done in the fourth sharp raid on London in six nights, underscored an RAF commentator's warning that the luftwaffe has shifted strong bomber formations to France and presumably is ready to continue the current series of streamlined attacks.

Anti-aircraft guns roared into action as two enemy planes were spotted streaking over the capital at high altitude shortly after the breakfast hour. It was the first real daylight alert since last July 9.

Thousands of incendiaries and many high explosive bombs were showered down on the capital last night, causing dozens of deaths and widespread damage. At least four of the raiders, most of which attacked from a great height, were reported downed.

News Briefs

Fire that originated in the kitchen of the Joe Hess residence at 2111 Fourteenth street had been extinguished before 1:55 o'clock, 12 minutes after it had been reported to firemen of Central station, neighbors reported.

An automobile stolen Nov. 25 from C. B. Conditt, who owned a used-car lot, was marked recovered today, said Earl Horton of KGZW, police shortwave radio station. It had been abandoned at Fourteenth street and Avenue L.

from the Adriatic on a highway southeast of Ortona. Other patrols inflicted casualties on the Germans near Arielli.

In sweeps across the Adriatic, planes of the tactic airforce wove a close-knit pattern of bombs along the length of the Yugoslav coast, covering Zara harbor, the harbor near Marina, a landing field near Knin, a motor convoy north of Split and shipping in the Drvenick channel. Spitfires attacked Corfu off the Greek coast.

Altogether seven Allied planes were lost from this theater yesterday and 36 German planes were shot down.

Farmer, Acquitted Of Relative's Murder

ORANGE, Feb. 24 (AP) — Earl Hollis, prominent Orange county farmer, stood acquitted today of a charge he had murdered his brother-in-law, Ovie (Frenchie) Thibodeaux, a pipeline company employe.

A district court jury deliberated only 23 minutes before freeing Hollis after hearing testimony that Thibodeaux had threatened the defendant's life on numerous occasions.

FURTHER HEARING SET

AUSTIN, Feb. 24. (AP)—The insurance commission announced a further hearing March 15 on automobile insurance matters at the conclusion of an initial hearing yesterday pertaining to rates on vehicles, bodily injury and damage liability and the revision of manual rules. No decisions were announced immediately.

Barkley Re-Elected

Roosevelt's telegram urging him to accept re-election as leader, and said he would make his reply public.

Asked if he would continue to attend White House conferences of legislative leaders, he replied: "Of course I will, if I'm invited to attend them."

Silent On The Term

"What do you care to say about the fourth term?" he was asked next.

"Not a thing," Barkley responded.

Senator McKellar said President Roosevelt's telegraphed message to Barkley was "not read and not mentioned" in the caucus, which also adopted a resolution of high praise for Barkley's service and attainments.

When a reporter asked McKellar whether Barkley should now be regarded as spokesman for Senate Democrats rather than for the White House, Barkley whispered to the Tennessean: "You don't have to answer that," and McKellar replied:

"I'd rather not answer it. Every one can have his own views."

Emerging from Barkley's office where they went as members of a committee appointed to notify the Kentuckian of his unanimous re-election by the Democratic conference, Senators Clark (D-Mo) and Tydings (D-Md) told reporters:

"Yes, he's agreed to accept."

Earlier, Barkley had formally submitted his resignation in a speech to the caucus which he told reporters was "strictly in the family."

Fourth Term Part Denied

Denying that there were any fourth-term implications in his historic break with President Roosevelt yesterday over the tax bill veto, Barkley asserted:

"I've always had and still have the deepest personal affection for the President. He stands right along personally and officially with Woodrow Wilson who has been my ideal of a president for the last generation."

Barkley's prestige as a front-rank figure in his party was boomed as Democratic senators roared out their endorsement of him in a resounding vote of confidence.

Barkley's colleagues backed him to the man in his open break with President Roosevelt over the tax bill veto.

Earlier, Barkley had emerged, grim-faced from the conference chamber, announcing bluntly to a crowd of reporters.

"I have resigned."

Sen. McKellar Presides

He added that he had asked Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) to preside over the conference.

Emerging from the guarded doors of the conference room, the Democratic senators reported that by a unanimous vote they had accepted his resignation, then re-elected him unanimously.

Barkley's dogged insistence on resigning the post he has held for seven years—nearly twice as long as any other occupant — was taken as an indication of the gravity of his break with President Roosevelt over the chief executive's tax bill veto.

Barkley told the Senate yesterday he was quitting to save his "self respect."

Cheered By Senators

Cheers and rebel yells broke out among Democratic senators today as Barkley, who broke with President Roosevelt over the tax bill veto, walked into a party conference which was fully primed to re-elect him majority leader.

Thirteen minutes late for the 10:30 a.m. (EWT) conference, Senator Barkley walked solemnly down the hall to the tumultuous reception.

"Nothing to say," he told reporters.

To a man, the assembled Democrats arose and gave him a rousing ovation before the door was closed for the executive session.

Marihuana Ring Is Believed Broken

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 24 (AP) — Capture of 8,000 grams of marihuana, two men and discovery of a link between dope-selling gangs and the juvenile delinquents was reported today by Sheriff Owen Kilday.

Raids yesterday netted two suspects, one 22 years old and the other 26 years old, six quart jars, a half gallon can and a cigar box containing the narcotic, together with 21 cigarettes and a large quantity of cigarette papers, Kilday said.

The sheriff said a 17-year-old boy is being sought as the link to the juvenile trade.

Policy Of Good Will Toward Rome Asked

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Rome is faced with a "growing menace" but can be saved from damage or destruction if the Allied and Axis powers adopt a policy of good will toward the eternal city, Pope Pius XII declared last night, according to the Vatican radio.

On Tuesday the Vatican radio quoted the pope as suggesting that the belligerents save Rome from destruction by an agreement similar to those which spared Cairo and Athens.

ENEMY SHIPS SCATTERED

LONDON, Feb. 24. (AP)—British light naval forces blew up one German E-boat and scattered other groups of enemy forces attempting to attack a small Allied convoy off the east coast of England yesterday, the Admiralty announced today.

GEN. KUEHN KILLED

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 24. (AP) — Gen. Fritz Kuehn, a German commander of armored forces, was killed in an elevator during the Allied raid on Berlin on Feb. 16, Aftonbladet's Berlin correspondent reported today.

Demo Fund Campaign Will End Saturday

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP) — State Democratic leaders here say that the response to a month-long campaign to raise $106,000 in Texas for the Democratic party has been "generous," but add no definite figures are available because reports from some districts are incomplete.

The campaign will be climaxed here with a dinner Saturday night, when Democrats from over the state gather to hear an address by Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the national Democrtaic committee.

Hannegan, with Ambrose O'Connell, national committee vice chairman, and Ed Pauley, committee treasurer, was expected here at noon today.

Former governors of Texas and the governors of Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas have been invited to the banquet. Gov. Coke Stevenson of Texas, former Gov. Pat Neff of Waco, Gov. Homer N. Adkins of Arkansas and Gov. Robert S. Kerr have accepted.

Also expected for the occasion are Missouri's Sen. Harry Truman, Oklahoma Rep. W. E. Disney of Tulsa and Texas Reps. Wright Patman, Texarkana; Paul Kilday, San Antonio; Lyndon Johnson, Austin, and Hatton W. Sumners, Dallas.

Leon Phillips Trial

he had been led to believe that the $1,000 was about half of what Strong was to get.

Another state witness, C. D. McNally, erstwhile private investigator, testified that he told Phillips of the $8,000 deal after a parole had been issued for Elsminger. He said the governor expressed surprise at the amount and said he had been informed it was about $6,000.

McNally also related that Phillips picked up the telephone and declared he would "have those two men arrested," but that he was dissuaded by his own parole investigator, Robert P. Fitzgerald with the reminder that Fitzgerald had recommended clemency in the state.

The former governor has asserted that he received nothing, did not know of the payoff when the parole was issued, and that he offered to help Mrs. Elsminger afterwards but that she did not accept his proffer.

Presidential Chance

the atmosphere."

For himself, Barkley told reporters that he was "utterly indifferent as to what the political consequences may be to me."

Whatever the long-range implications, it was freely predicted on all sides that Barkley would be retained as Senate leader, and with vastly enhanced prestige. Senator after senator said he felt sure today's vote of confidence would be unanimous.

Doesn't Want Re-Election

Although the ruddy-faced veteran told reporters "I don't want to be re-elected" leader he did not close the door to the draft that appeared so certain.

"I'll cross that bridge when I get to it," he said.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee, who inveighed against the veto when it twas submitted Tuesday, forecast flatly that Barkley would be asked unanimously to stay at the helm. And George was just as confident that if the House overrides the tax bill veto, the Senate will do likewise by a large majority.

In the historic address, which he said he made only after long deliberation the night before, Barkley shouted that "this is the first time I have been accused deliberately of voting for a bill that contituted a relief measure impoverishing the needy and enriching the greedy."

Close Relations Broken

His break with Mr. Roosevelt was more noteworthy because of the close relations that existed between them for years. Barkley followed White House policies unswervingly and, as he observed yesterday, carried the administration flag "over rougher territory than was ever traversed by any previous majority leader."

The President's famed "Dear Alben" letter helped elevate Barkley to the leadership in 1937. Again, the Roosevelt magic aided him in his toughest primary fight when A. B. "Happy" Chandler was his opponent.

Barkley was keynoter at the 1932 and 1936 conventions which nominated President Roosevelt, and permanent chairman at the third term convention in 1940.

Barkley's office was flooded with telegrams and phone calls congratulating him. Their tenor was the same—"courageous stand" . . . "time someone in Congress stood up and talked" . . . Some of the senders identified themselves as Republicans.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Evening up on accounts in the March delivery following the issuance of 27 delivery notices, and Washington political uncertainty resulted in narrow and irregular price changes in cotton today.

The inactive new March contract declined $1.15 a bale but elsewhere the range of fluctuation held within 35 cents a bale. Price fixing against textile contracts furnished the main support. Hedge offerings and liquidation induced partly by a report of an easier spot basis, outweighed the demand.

Prices rallied in the final hour on further trade price fixing and commission house demand and closed around the best levels of the day.

Futures closed 30 to 35 cents a bale higher.

Stock Market

RAIL PROFIT-TAKING OFFSET

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Large-scale buying of utilities and industrial specialties helped offset profit taking in recently bounding rail stocks today and market favorites advanced fractions to a point with isolated climbers registering wider swings.

Turnover of more than 1,000,000 shares was one of the best of the year to date. Principal activity, however, was in the forenoon when blocks running to 20,000 shares of low-priced power and light company issues dotted the ticker tape. The pace slowed after midday.

Park and Tilford pushed up some 2 points. In front were Western Union "A," Consolidated Edison, North American Public Service of N. J., American Can, Douglas Aircraft, Warner Bros., Paramount, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and U. S. Gypsum. Steels, motors, rubbers and coppers were narrow. Laggards included Santa Fe, Chesapeake and Ohio, N. Y. Central, Texas Co., and General Electric.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Grains advanced today on buying which came mainly from local traders, some of which was attributed to covering by previous shortsellers. The market opened lower, rye dropping about a cent, and then reversed itself after the first half-hour. From that time onward, the trend was upward. Buying expanded after the House overrode the President's veto of the tax bill. Although there is nothing in that bill which has any influence on grain prices, traders were watching the Washington political scene closely. They saw a possibility that the clash between the President and Congress might have an effect on price cotnrol legislation when it comes up for renewal later this year.

Final prices were at the day's highs. Wheat closed on gains of 1-1 ⅝, May $1.70 ½, oats were up ⅝-1 cent, May 79 ⅞, rye was ahead ⅝-1 ⅝, May $1.36 ⅛-⅜, and barley was 1 ⅛-1 ¼ higher, May $1.22 ⅝.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 24 (AP)—Wheat No. 1 hard 1.71 ½-77.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs 2.30-33; No. 2 white kafir 2.30-31.
Oats No. 3 white nof 94-95.

House Votes To Override Veto

Knutson and Doughton said they hoped the Treasury "would cease trying to obstruct when it cannot dictate," indicating inability of the tax-writing lawmakers to get along further with the present Treasury policy-making personnel.

Knutson said "Congress has been unable to rely upon Treasury tax recommendations, or the information upon which such recommendations are based."

The Republican tax leader announced he was introducing today a bill to establish the bureau of internal revenue as an independent agency, "so that it may serve both the President and the Congress unfettered by the theorists and star-gazers in the Treasury."

Socialized Medicine

the WPA for eight years.

The principles of the bill, he pointed out, are against "free enterprise," the system that has developed American industry and American medicine. "America needs education, not compulsory health insurance."

To pay for this huge program, the small salaried man would be forced to pay the bill. Persons earning from $10 per week up to $3,000 per year would pay six per cent of their gross income, and the employer would pay six per cent of the gross income of each employe, he said. The governmental employe would only pay three and one-half per cent, while the self-employed would pay seven per cent of his gross income.

Under the proposed legislation, Dr. Miller said, the citizen would not have free choice of physician or hospital. He said that Texas is still a great empire and can handle its own problems, especially those concerning charity, and we do not need any buresaucratic "carpet baggers" from Washington to come here and tell us to which doctors or hospital we must go.

Educational Process Urged

He stated that the only way for lasting improvement is through a gradual educational process by the medical profession and the public, not hampered by expensive governmental bureaus.

The bill proposes, he said, placing in the hands of one man, the surgeon general of the Public Health service, the power and authority to hire doctors, possibly all doctors, at fixed salaries to provide medical service; to designate which doctors can be specialists; to determine the number of individuals for whom any physicial may provide service; and to determine arbitrarily what hospitals or clinics may provide service for patients.

Dr. Miller said, "It is obvious that, if these proposals become the law of the land, they will destroy the entire system of medical care as we have known it in the United States.

Dr. Miller was introduced by Dr. Allen T. Stewart. President T. E. Buckner of the Kiwanis club, presided at the luncheon.

Moffett Enters Congress Race

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (U.P.) — Tow-headed "Cotton" George Moffett, sole farmer-member of the Texas state senate, today announced his candidacy for U. S. Congress on a platform of common sense in government.

Moffett declared opposition to daylight saving time. He demanded simplification of income tax returns, a higher price for oil, equalized freight rates and adequate provision for care and education of war veterans.

Besides criticism of Congress for complicated tax formulas, unnecessary meddling and red tape, Moffett blamed it for unpreparedness at Pearl Harbor and Bataan despite plain advice of military leaders.

War Effort First

Nothing, he said, must be allowed to hinder the war effort.

After the war, he said, idle government warplants should be sold at auction to the highest bidder, "rather than at private sale to those with political influence."

Land-owners dispossessed for war purposes should have a prior right to repurchase without price increase, he said. He advocated government research to discover new uses for farm products, citing his sponsorship of state cotton uses research program.

Favors Old Age Assistance

Moffett announced that if elected to Congress he will continue to support old age assistance.

Moffett, 48, lives at Chillicothe, Tex., in the district now represented in Congress by Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls. The district includes Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cooke, Denton, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Knox, Montague, Throckmorton, Wichita, Willbarger, Wise and Young counties.

a shock to find him as different from that as you could imagine. He was pale, but shock and submersion accounted for that. From his right eye well back over his thick brown hair he was bandaged. And even that didn't detract from his good looks. He was one of the handsomest men I've ever seen.

When Dirck introduced us, though, Tim Lathrop spoke almost listlessly. His voice was low and his gray eyes were deep and penetrating. Mary Ann, I noticed, was all of a-flutter over him.

"I got part of your story from the officer," the Sergeant said, "but I want to hear it from you When did you meet your wife last night?"

He faced Tim Lathrop, who had seated himself on the low stool close to the fireplace. And Dirck sat down on the arm of my chair.

Tim Lathrop started haltingly, as though he were having a difficult time gathering his thoughts.

"When I left the house, Louise, my wife, was waiting for me. Her car was parked a few doors down the street in front of the laundry. When she got out of the car and came towards me I could see that she was upset about something. I had to get into the car to avoid a scene because the minute she laid eyes on me she started to quarrel. She was raving—a mad woman," he paused and his eyes sought the Sergeant's wretchedly.

It must have been hard for him to talk before all of us. After all, even though he had been separated from her, she was still his wife, and he seemed a pretty sensitive person.

"What time did you leave the house?" the Sergeant asked.

"It must have been about half-past eleven. You see I left the shop, thinking I'd go back to the hotel, and then I decided to go up to see Richard, so I came in the house door and went upstairs."

The Sergeant looked at him intently. "Richard wasn't here last night, was he?"

Tech Sets Election Of Publications Officers

Student publications officers at Texas Technological college will be elected Tuesday between 8 a. m. and noon, according to Maxine Craddock, student body president. Publications are the Toreador, weekly newspaper, and La Ventana, yearbook.

Four officers are to be elected—editor and business manager of La Ventana and the Toreador, Betty Davis, junior Journalism student from Ennis and Peggy Seale, junior journalism student from Amarillo are running for this office.

Other students running for the other three offices, uncontested, include: Toreador business manager, Johnnie Wade of Santa Anna; La Ventana editor, Merrilyn Snider of Lubbock; and La Ventana business manager, Josie Lee Barnett of Earth. This marks the first semester in Tech history that no men students have run for publication offices.

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TO REPRESENT SHIPPERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the bureau of business research at the University of Texas, Austin, has been named to represent American raw cotton shippers in proposed discussions with Congress of Industrial organization officials.

NO PORT DISASTERS

BOSTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Not a single disaster in an American port has marred the shipment of munitions and other war material during the past two years, according to a report made by the Coast Guard on the second anniversary of its port security operations.
