Farm Tour Set Dinner Tickets On Sale Monday

The annual Mitchell County Farm Tour will be held Thursday, Aug. 26 this year.

The annual event features a bus tour of the county's fields with stops to look at cotton, alfalfa and grains. It is sponsored by the county extension service, Soil Conservation Service (SCS). Farmer's Home Administration and Agriculture Stabilization Conservation Service (ASCS) as well as the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Those going on the tour will start gathering at the Colorado City Civic Center at 8 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 26 for coffee and donuts and will board buses at 9 a.m. to begin the tour.

Tentative plans for this year's tour, says Woody Anderson, chairman of the Chamber's Ag Committee, call for a swing south of Interstate 20 to Lorraine where those on tour will look at experimental cotton and have a rest break at Custom Ag and eat watermelon donated by Travis Turner.

Then the tour will proceed north of Lorraine for a look at alfalfa then to Buford and then on to Cuthbert. The tour returns to the Civic Center about noon for a catered bar-b-q dinner by Al's of Big Spring.

Tickets for the dinner will be on sale beginning tomorrow (Monday) for $2.75 at any of the sponsoring agencies.

A film from Cotton, Inc., has been tentatively scheduled as the program for the dinner.

Further details on the tour will be made available prior to the tour as they are worked out by County Extension Agent Bob Benson.

Everyone is encouraged to make plans now to go on the tour as this year's crops, including a record number of acres of cotton, is expected to be one of the best in Mitchell County history. Timely rains followed by the current hot weather have

Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

"There is a simple and effective way for public officials to regain public trust--be trustworthy!"

That statement comes from an autobiography written by Jimmy Carter, nominee of the Democratic Party for the office of President of the United States.

The autobiography, published in October 1975, is entitled Why Not The Best? and may well be the first autobiography by a candidate seeking his party's nomination for the Presidency.

He got that nomination last month after campaigning for several years and overcoming the "Jimmy Who" label to have his name become a household word.

The book makes for very entertaining reading about an individual and his family, all working hard to achieve success. It's a typically American story with Carter being raised on a farm in Georgia, going on to achieve success in the ranks of the military, business world and now politics.

Everyone is familiar by now with some of Carter's background.

The book outlines how he has achieved his success and you have to be impressed by Carter's very carefully organized approach to everything in his life. Nothing seems to have been left to chance.

I've tried to find out everything I can about Carter, through reading his book, reading newspapers and magazines during the primary campaigns, listening to speeches and television coverage of the primaries and Democratic convention. I've tried to do this on all the major candidates in both parties.

It seems very important that everyone know as much as possible about the candidates in order to vote for the best candidate in November, and then to have an idea about what to expect when the election is over.

With all that I know about Carter, he still remains to be somewhat a mystery to me. The same seems to be true with a lot of other people. It seems evident that Carter wants to do what's best for the country.

But is he a liberal or a conservative? They have different ideas on what is best for the country and most of the ideas of liberals scare me. I certainly wasn't thrilled about Carter's choice of Mondale, a liberal, as the Democrat's vice presidential candidate.

Carter's organization was so thorough and complete that he really never had any serious competition in getting the nomination. As a result, the public never really found out exactly where Carter stands on most crucial issues.

There have been many claims by the Carter camp about what Carter did for the State of Georgia, but many of those claims are disputed by current state officials of Georgia.

SCS Director To Be Elected

An election is coming up in Zone III of the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District according to Travis Turner, secretary of the board. The purpose of the election is to elect a director in Zone III. George Martin is the present director and his term expires on August 31.

Zone III begins in the northeast corner of Mitchell County and runs approximately 7 miles west along the county line to the Valley View community road and then runs south to I-20 and Bernard's Tourist Town.

From Bernard's it runs east to Lorraine and intersects Farm to Market Road 644. The zone then runs south of Lorraine along Farm Road 644 for 7 miles until it intersects county road. The zone line then runs one mile east, one mile south and 1/2 mile east to the Nolan County line. All of the land east of the above description lies in Zone III.

Busy Schedule Set For City Council

The regular monthly meeting of the city council of Colorado City is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday with a lengthy agenda including the approval of a number of ordinance amendments.

The council also will award bids for 6" water pipe, a sewer pipe rodder, appoint a new member to the planning and zoning board to fill a vacancy and appoint members to the reactivated parks and recreation board.

Also slated for action is the authorization for partial payment to Price Construction Company for street improvements, consider action on city softball field, city manager report, council members report and a closed executive session to discuss property acquisition and personnel.

Ordinances scheduled for action include amending the Colorado City Historical Museum Ordinance and consideration of an ordinance amending the mobile home ordinance.

The ordinance amending the mobile home ordinance was recommended to the council for adoption by the city's planning and zoning board. That recommendation consists of setting out three areas within the city limits for the placement of single mobile homes on single lots.

Those areas are as follows:

--An area in the northwest section of the city from West 7th north to the commercial property along Interstate 20 between Cherry and Rogers Road.

--A 12-block area in the northeast part of the city from 18th Street north to 23rd Street and between Austin and Watson.

--The southside of the city, south of the T&P tracks and between the city's west side and Highway 208, extending to the east side of 208 between Austin and the city limits. The north boundary of this area from Austin eastward is Lone Wolf Avenue.

The action by the Planning and zoning board came after initial problems arose out of the city's existing ordinance governing the placement of mobile homes. As the ordinance now exists, mobile homes are not allowed permanently anywhere in the city although they may be placed temporarily in some situations for a specified period.

However, it will still be necessary, if this amendment to the ordinance is approved, for residents to obtain a permit to build or to install a mobile home.

Mobile home parks still have to be approved by the city council and may be approved for any section of the city.

TPWD Sponsors Hunter Safety Program

In the first five years of operation, the Hunter Safety Training Program sponsored by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has certified 25,000 Texas hunters. The majority of these students were teenagers with little hunting experience.

Now, many schools are offering hunter safety courses as part of outdoor education, lifetime sports and Junior ROTC courses. This should increase the opportunities for young people to learn hunter ethics, game laws, landowner relationships, field etiquette and respect for the environment.

According to T. D. Carroll, P&WD Hunter Safety Coordinator, credit for the success of the program must go to the dedicated men and women volunteer hunter safety instructors. "In all," said Carroll, "they have contributed more than 22,000 hours of their time to train hunters and recreational shooters."

The trend among the instructors is to give more attention than required to range exercises, live firing and other activities.

Classroom work includes wildlife conservation, game identification, basic survival and field first aid.

Instructors emphasize that knowledge, skill and the attitude of the participants are important in hunting and shooting sports.

"CHRIST-LORD OF LIFE"

Bob Manning
Pastor

Westbrook Baptist Church

Week by week, year by year, the conditions of human existence seem to grow more complex. Wherever we live and whatever our work, we find the problems coming faster than the solutions can be found. Never has a strong and saving faith in Jesus Christ been more necessary than it is for the men, women, and youth of the last half of century twenty. Vocational specialization has chopped life into little segments. More leisure time may be a curse as well as a blessing, for "the devil finds work for idle hands to do." The whole drift of the age is to make idols of money, property, position, or power.

It may sound trite, but again "Christ is the Answer, Today." Christianity, religious theory, even a Christian philosophy of life WILL NOT DO! What is needed is a personal experience of the forgiving and cleansing love of God in Christ Jesus, made real by His Holy Spirit. This is the old Gospel, but it brings new life. The Apostle Paul said it long ago: "Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5:17). To be a New Testament Christian means that all the guilt of past wrongdoing is taken away, and the ruling purpose of life becomes the desire to serve God through whatever honorable vocation one may follow.

Such a life is not an accident. It does not just happen. It comes to those who take some clearly marked steps out of the old existence into the new life with Christ. First, is to see the need for the saving knowledge of God's Grace. "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." (Romans 3:23). "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every Word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." (Matthew 4:4). We must face honestly two facts: Without Christ, we are doomed by the record of our sins; and apart from the Bread of Life, the deep hunger of our hearts cannot be satisfied.

But knowledge of need is not enough. Something must be done about it. You must be done with sinful ways. You must turn with all your heart to the Saviour; confess your sins to Him, and ask His forgiveness; trust His redeeming Grace and power; thank Him for giving new life to you; witness to what He has done for you; identify yourself with His people in the Church. "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Romans 10:9-10)

And for the Christian whose life has been defeated and whose heart hungers for the fullness of God's love, there is a deeper experience in sanctifying Grace. God's call is not to uncleanness but to a life of holiness. (I Thessalonians 4:7-8). There is a rest of faith which remains for the people of God. (Hebrews 4:9) This too is for all who will enter in.

But a victorious life does not just happen. God invites you to walk with Him in a fellowship. "But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." (I John 1:7) Accept the fact that the promise of the Father is for you. "For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call." (Acts 2:39) Yield yourself unto God, as one who-through His Grace has been made alive from the dead. "Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin; but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God." (Romans 6:13) Ask your Heavenly Father for the greatest of all the gifts of the Holy Spirit's fullness. "If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?" (Luke 11:13) By faith, claim your Christian inheritance. "To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me." (Acts 26:18)

Running through all Christian testimony is the happy truth that Christ is the Lord of all life. When you are converted and become a new creature in Christ, and when you receive the Holy Spirit in all fullness, religion is more than a matter of Church attendance. It is the ruling passion of the whole of life. You may still be a carpenter, a farmer, a teacher, a housewife, a professional person, a student, but now your vocation has become a life offered to your Heavenly Father in the work of the world He has made.

Paul testified: "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." (Philippians 1:21) Is it true for you? It can be, if you will begin today.

Electric Rates Analyzed

While Mitchell County area consumers have lower electric rates than most of the rest of the state, electric bills are going up these days as everyone turns on air conditioning to try to cool off.

Mainly because of air conditioning, people use a lot more electricity in the summer than in the winter.

"A typical residential customer will use about three times as much electricity in the hottest summer months as he does in the winter months," says B. B. Hardee of Texas Electric Service Co.

This summer is no exception. Late in June the customers served by Texas Electric's system required an all-time maximum amount of electricity at a given time (called the "peak" demand).

Many consumers will feel more than the usual summer impact on their electric bills, for a variety of reasons. For one thing, this is the first summer season following the rate increase granted to Texas Electric last winter.

In addition to the increase in basic rates, fuel costs for the company are higher this summer, causing further increases in electric bills.

A rate increase, higher fuel costs, and possible higher use could mean that many people will receive electric bills much higher than in the past.

Another factor is the design of Texas Electric's rates. "The rate increase was more for large users of electricity than for small users," Hardee says. "So some customers may be alarmed at high percentage increases in their summer bills, when they use a lot of electricity. But the increase in the winter bills is less, so when taken on an annual basis the increase is not so large."

Hardee points out that the increase was smaller for low users of electricity. "The impact on low users will be relatively small," he says. "But some of the largest users will see large increases."

Hardee says the electric company is making efforts to help those customers faced with higher summer bills. For one thing, he says, the company offers an "average billing plan" to residential customers and churches. Instead of paying the high summer bills as they come in, you can use this plan and pay an average bill based on your past 12 month's use. This way you can spread your payments out over the coming months.

You can get information on this plan by requesting it in the message space on your electric bill or by calling the Texas Electric office.

Another thing consumers can do to increase conservation efforts to avoid wasting energy, Hardee says. The company offers a free booklet with tips on how to save on air conditioning cost and save energy in other applications around the home.

Suggestions in the booklet include getting an air-conditioning inspection or "tune-up" to help it work more efficiently. You should also keep shrubbery trimmed back from the outdoor central air unit so there is room for good air flow.

*117,867.66 Grant For Schools

Congressman Omar Burleson has announced the approval of a $117,867.66 Office of Education grant to Mitchell County.

The allotment of these funds for fiscal year 1977 is under the provisions of Part A of Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, P.L. 89-10, as amended.

These funds will provide services for children residing in low-income areas and State-operated or supported institutions for neglected and delinquent children, who have need for special educational assistance in order that their level of educational attainment may be realized to that appropriate for children of their age.

The State Department of Education will distribute the county amounts to the school districts in accordance with Federal Regulations. Each school district is guaranteed no less than 85 per cent of its fiscal year 1976 allocation.

*TOUR, from page 1

helped put the crops in good shape.
One of the highlights of the annual tour is a bale count guessing contest with everyone attending the dinner putting their estimate of this year's cotton crop on the back of the meal ticket.

After the cotton is ginned and the exact number of bales certified, the person with the closest guess receives a gift certificate from a local store.

*TALK, from page 1

While Carter expresses conservative ideas, he stands on a liberal Democratic platform.
Later this month, the Republicans will name their candidate for President and maybe at that time, the candidates will get down to the nitty-gritty of the issues.

Hopefully, at that time, Carter will become less of a mystery and step forward to show where he stands.

Choate's Resignation Announced

Michael Choate has resigned his position as assistant administrator of Root Memorial Hospital to accept the position of comptroller for a Lubbock Hospital.

His resignation is effective Aug. 31.

Announcement of Choate's resignation was made by Hospital Administrator Charles Root who expressed regrets about losing Choate.

Root also announced that a credit manager and purchasing agent has been hired by the hospital district.

He is Raymond Webb, former Colorado City resident, who is married to the former Jane Pickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pickens.

Webb, who has been manager of a drug store in Del Rio for the past five years, will assume his new position here about Aug. 15.

Disease Down

RABIES CASES DOWN-
Despite numerous rabies cases in animals, the dreaded disease is generally a thing of the past as far as human infections are concerned. This is due mainly to the vaccination of pet dogs and cats, contends a veterinarian for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This has protected pet populations, particularly from contacting the disease from wild animals. Although 3,200 cases of rabies were confirmed in animals in the U.S. in 1974, none were recorded in humans for the first time in history. Texas was the leading state with 396 cases of rabies, with wild animals accounting for 256 of the cases.

While these may appear on the surface to be "too much" in the way of security, I think we will all agree that anything less is "too little."

An 85 year old president of a retired teachers' club was asked how it felt to live 85 years. He replied, "when you consider the alternative, pretty good."

When you consider the alternative, reasonable security is never too much.

202 County Farmers Carry Out Contracts

A federal law that has brought about a more stable agriculture, more dependable income, and an improved quality of the environment in the Great Plains is 20 years old this month.

The Great Plains Conservation Act was signed into law by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on August 7, 1956. Under terms of the legislation since that time, more than 50,000 farmers and ranchers in 10 states have entered into long-term conservation contracts with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the contracts, producers agree to carry out all needed conservation on every acre of their farm or ranch. This might include improving rangeland, installing minimum tillage farming systems, terracing, establishing wind breaks, strip cropping, or converting erosion-prone cropland to grass.

USDA's Soil Conservation Service provides technical assistance to producers in planning and installing needed conservation measures. SCS also shares in the cost of installing certain measures.

During the first 20 years of the program in Texas, there have been 14,696 Great Plains contracts planned and developed covering more than 18 million acres. Major practices installed to date include range seeding, 1.2 million acres; terraces, 29,000 miles; brush control, 3.4 million acres; cropland converted to grass, 488,000 acres; and rangeland improvement, 7 million acres. To date 202 Mitchell County farmers and ranchers have carried out Great Plains contracts on 290,000 acres. Over 3 million feet of parallel terraces were constructed under these contracts.

The lush grass on a 640 acre tract of the Charles Dockery ranch just east of the Spade community is a living evidence of what the Great Plains program has accomplished. Before treatment, the rangeland was covered with a thick cover of mesquite and other brush. Brush was also controlled on the Finley Ranch south of Loraine by rootplowing. Selected patterns of brush were left for wildlife. Treated areas were planted to a mixture of Kleingrass, side-oats grama, KR bluestem and green sprangletop.

Camping Skills Workshop

A workshop in primitive camping skills will be conducted August 13 through 15 for girls and adults of West Texas Girl Scout Council. It will be held at Girl Scout Camp Boothe Oaks south of Sweetwater.

All Cadette and Senior Scouts 7th grade and older, and all interested Scout adults and couples are invited to attend the training in basic campcraft skills. Girl Scout Volunteer Trainer Elizabeth Smith of Abilene will direct the weekend activities which is under the sponsorship of the West Texas Council Program Services Committee.

Cost for the weekend is $3 per person to cover food and training materials. Deadline for registration is Monday, August 9th. For information and registration call the Girl Scout Office in Abilene at 698-1738 or write West Texas Girl Scout Council, Box 5586 Abilene, Tx. 79605.

The workshop is entitled "Down to Earth" and will introduce girls to such skills as tent-pitching, firebuilding, outdoor cooking, lashing, backpacking, dressing for the weather, and selection of equipment for trips. As interest is generated, groups will form to make fall and winter camps and to take backpacking trips throughout the year.

Equipment that should be brought to the weekend event includes: bedroll or sleeping bag, waterproof ground cloth, mess kit, eating utensils, sturdy shoes, bandana, rain gear, sun hat, flashlight, toiletries, and a change of clothes. Cots and food should not be brought.

West Texas Girl Scout Council, Inc. is a participating agency of the United Way.

Living easier in dormitory

The dormitory is becoming a popular choice of living quarters with students all over the country, as opposed to a few years ago when having an apartment seemed to be every college student's dream.

The housing director at East Tennessee noted that the security in numbers provided by the dormitories and the presence of the campus patrol appeal to women students becoming concerned about safety off-campus.

"Convenience, security, and companionship are some of the reasons that students like to live in the dormitory," says an official at Towson State College (Maryland).

Dormitories enable students "to avoid the hassle of outside responsibilities," continued the official, "the food shopping, cooking, cleaning which can eat into free time."

More time to concentrate on studies as competition for grades and jobs increases may be a factor.

CHS Begins Second Year Of 6AA Volleyball Competition Sept. 16

Volleyball players at Colorado High School have their first game Sept. 16 (Thurs.) at home with Snyder. This is the team's second year of fall competition.

Volleyball coach Carol Dakan said the schedule is still tentative as the District 6AA volleyball schedule has not been made yet and other games are still being scheduled.

"We'll probably be getting together just as soon as school starts so we can set up our schedules and see just how many district teams will be playing volleyball this year," she said.

Volleyball players should have their physicals by the first day of school, the coach said. "All the doctors offices have physical forms they can fill out, or they can contact me for the forms," she said.

Latin is alive and well

French is elegant, Italian is romantic, Spanish is exciting, but Latin is far from dead!

When choosing your language studies in both high school and college, don't cast Latin aside as something old and stodgy.

A year of fundamental Latin will do wonders for your understanding of English derivatives, the basis of all Romance languages, and sentence structure and written communication in general.

Bicycle safety course needed

The ABC's and reading, writing and arithmetic are basic to education in this great nation of ours, but today many Americans are discovering that there is room for another important area in the educational process — namely bicycle safety.

This factor is not solely important at the grammar school level. With more than 100 million Americans riding bicycles according to statistics from the Bicycle Manufacturers Association of America, the rules of safe bicycle driving are applicable to high school and college students and adults as well.

Why is it then that the educational process includes pedestrian safety for elementary students and then automobile driver safety education for high school students, but only a few local and state programs for bicycle driver education?

What this all boils down to is that accidents can and must be prevented and solid educational programs can and must be developed. It has been proven time and again that the bicyclist and not the bicycle is the culprit in the majority of bicycle accidents. Even the Consumer Product Safety Commission, which has issued the long awaited Federal bicycle standard, acknowledges this fact.

As CPSC's Ken Giles says, no matter how safe a bicycle is, you must use it safely. The vast majority of accidents are caused by the user and the environment.

Back to school is best time to check for vision problem

An apple for the teacher isn't enough to guarantee your youngster a successful first day of school — especially if an undetected vision problem goes with him. A pre-school eye examination can spot faulty vision that may be hampering his development both in school and out.

Bausch & Lomb experts suggest that your child may be having difficulty with his vision if he:

- Frowns, squints or blinks frequently.
- Holds reading material very close.
- Loses his place while reading.
- Shuns close work.
- Complains of headaches.
- Tenses up when he looks at distant objects.

Children know intuitively that there are two considerations for every pair of eyeglasses — seeing better and looking better.

Smart parents and eye care professionals know the importance of encouraging the child to choose his or her own eyeglasses. It's important to find a frame that fits well and harmonizes with hair, complexion and eyes.

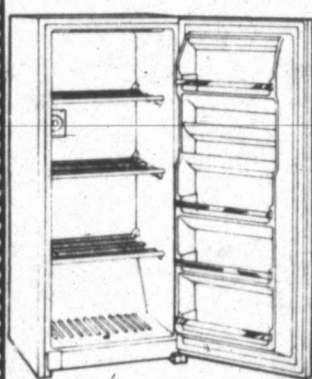

Many schools provide vision testing. If your school recommends a professional examination for your youngster, there's probably no cause for alarm. These problems are usually minor and easily corrected — with or without glasses. Make an appointment with an eye care specialist promptly.

In any case, it's wise to consider an annual back-to-school check-up. Good foresight can mean good eyesight.

You'll love what you don't take along

You're getting ready to go off to college. Now here's a list of things you should be sure not to take along with you:

1) A pet.
2) Books. Take a few of your very favorites, and a dictionary and maybe a thesaurus. You'll have too many other volumes to buy and study once you've arrived.

3) High school pen-nants, sweater, T-shirts, etc. You'd be surprised how quickly they become a part of your "distant childhood."

4) Memories of a high school romance. You're starting off on a new adventure... don't torture yourself. If the flames were really burning bright when you left home, stay calm. Truth will out!

5) All the fears, apprehension, and self-doubt you may now be feeling. You made it, you were accepted. The rest will fall into place, and in six months you'll feel like an old campus pro.
