Four elected to Mitchell County Hospital board...

Voter turnout light in elections

As expected, the local hospital board race received the most attention from Mitchell County residents in Saturday's elections. However, few voters showed any interest in the county's other races where candidates were running largely unopposed.

Kent Womack, Kenneth Rogers, Tom Carlock and Kent Boyd all won seats on the Mitchell County Hospital board.

Incumbents Womack and Rogers received the most votes. Womack led with 306 votes and Rogers received 301. Carlock received 285 and Boyd came in with 271 votes to also win positions on the board.

Shirley Clifton received 241 votes. Donny Lindsey received 205.

In the unopposed Colorado City Council race, Mayor Jim Baum received a total of 117 votes.

Councilman Bob Reilly received 37 votes. Incumbent councilmen Sammy Contreras and Walt Staats both received 13 votes.

Colorado City Board of Trustees Roxie Strain and Diana Garza, also unopposed for re-election, received 18 and 17 votes.

In the race for two council positions in Loraine, Pat White won one council seat with 53 votes, while James Merrell received 45 votes to win the second council seat.

David Jones received 37 votes.

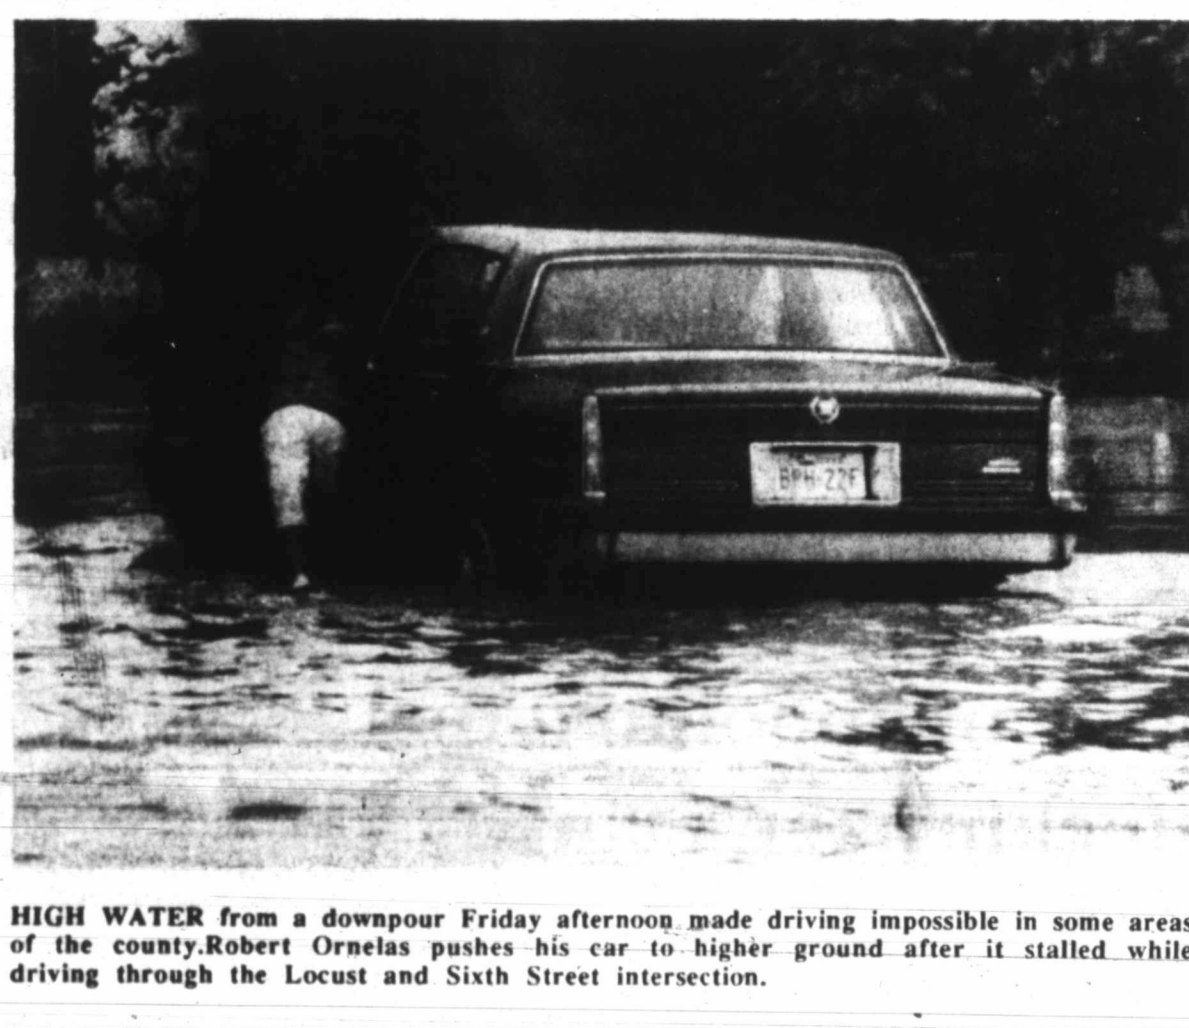

Mayor Cat Martinez, running unopposed, received 56 votes for re-election.

In Loraine, where two positions were open on the board of trustees, incumbent Frank Garcia was re-elected with 84 votes and Rosemary Aguilar won a board seat with 85 votes.

Luis Davila received 52 votes. In the Westbrook ISD race, unopposed incumbents Warren Zant and Cleburne Rich received 56 and 55 votes respectively.

Kay Gregory, a write-in candidate, won the unexpired position left open by the death of her husband, board member Clyde Gregory.

Gregory received 41 votes. Scott Morton received 35 votes and Nell Hawley had 13.

HIGH WATER from a downpour Friday afternoon made driving impossible in some areas of the county. Robert Ornelas pushes his car to higher ground after it stalled while driving through the Locust and Sixth Street intersection.

Emergency phase completed in sewer improvement project

The emergency phase of the sewer improvement project was completed last week, enabling the system to handle the prison overflow.

Additional collection lines were completed Monday and new lines have been operating for a week without problems, according to Glenn Hemphill, project manager.

The second collection lift station is being installed adjacent to the original station east of the Wallace Prison Unit.

The new sewer lines, which replaced lines originally laid in the early 1900s, were installed in a series of eight, ten and 12 inch line segments from Tenth to Second Streets and Pine to Cypress Streets.

The new collection lift station and sewer lines are part of the $7.1 million water and sewer loan. Emergency replacement of the sewer lines and lift station was needed to alleviate problems with sewage overflows.

During an emergency city council meeting in March, the city approved Rhode Construction Company's bid of $147,767, with the city providing an additional $17,390 for additional costs and $2,956 for the performance and payment bond.

Hemphill said that the new improvements will be a big asset to the city.

"Without the prison, we wouldn't have been able to do half this work. Many small towns are struggling to get the money to upgrade their sewer and water facilities," he said.

A new sewer treatment plant and water treatment facilities are also part of the city's water/sewer project.

The city requested a permit a year ago from the Texas National Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) to build the new sewer plant.

Last Wednesday the TNRCC issued the necessary permit.

Hemphill said the sewer treatment plant will be the first of its type in Texas, although it's been in use in California for 25 years.

Lone Star Gas rates will increase for C-City users

Lone Star Gas rates for residential and commercial customers will increase 7.95 percent beginning next month.

The Colorado City Council accepted the increase at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening following more than an hour of discussion and questioning of Lone Star Gas representative Mike Schweikhard.

The council accepted the alternate rate by a 4-2 vote with one abstaining.

The rate increase is to be implemented June 22.

Lone Star Gas Co. proposed a rate of 8.83 percent increase in revenue, citing loss of residential and commercial customers, decrease in residential and commercial volumes, increase in operating expenses and increase in plant investment as reasons for the new rate.

Residential bills which presently are $33.74 will be $36.50 at the alternate rate, according to a Lone Star Gas rate case profile provided to the council.

A commercial bill of $112.32 will increase to $120.34 with the alternate rate.

"There was probably no criminal intent..." Sheriff's office continues search

Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs is hoping that whoever fired a shot that accidentally hit a local high school boy will come forward—for the perpetrator's good as well as that of the victim and his family.

In a recent freak accident, a Colorado High School sophomore, Brad Bruce, was struck in the head by a bullet as he and two friends were driving on County Road 127 after school. The high school sophomores said they were on their way to an area where they could do some roping.

One boy was driving a pickup in front of the vehicle in which Bruce was a passenger.

"It all happened so fast," said the sheriff. "They heard a popping noise and next thing they knew he [Bruce] was bleeding," said the sheriff.

The 15-year-old son of Byron and Molly Bruce is home after undergoing surgery last week for injuries to his eyes and rehabilitation at Methodist Hospital.

The investigation into an accident like this is a lengthy process, the sheriff said, which will include working with the state crime laboratory in Austin and a ballistics wound expert from Florida.

According to statements and evidence, "we believe someone could have been out there and fired a shot that unintentionally hit the boy. There probably was no criminal intent and we would have to prove it was intentional for there to be criminal charges," Toombs said.

"This has to be a traumatic experience for whomever could have done this—to know that a young boy is facing the possibility of losing his eyesight," Toombs said.

"This can work and work on a person," Toombs said, adding that the person probably needs counseling.

"Guilt like that can lead to deep depression and even suicide," said Toombs.

Anyone who has information about the incident should contact the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department.

"Whoever did this will probably go through a personality change. They probably won't want to talk about the shooting and will be very uncomfortable when the subject comes up in conversation," said the sheriff.

Mitchell County Deputy Scott Morton is investigating the shooting. Toombs said they are

An 18-wheeler that jackknifed on I-20 Sunday morning demolished a travel-trailer pulled by a pick-up. Both vehicles were from out-of-state. No injuries resulted from the accident that closed the interstate for almost four hours. Inmates from the Wallace Prison Unit assisted in picking up the debris from the roadway.

THIS 'n' THAT

We got our much-needed rain last week, along with some bad weather around parts of Mitchell County. I know some people had hail damage, and I hate to hear that, but you can't deny that we needed the rain. Things will sure green up around here now, along with the farmers having moisture to plant.

It's the end of school and that means it is time for Hutchinson Playdays! They are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Third grade will participate Tuesday from 9 a.m. - 12 noon. Fourth grade will play from 12:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday and fifth grade will have their play day Thursday from 9 a.m. - 12 noon. The kids really enjoy playday and if you get a chance, go out and watch them at Wolf Stadium.

I was glad to hear that Brad Bruce got to come home last week. There is no place like home, especially if you have spent the last couple of weeks in a hospital.

The youth of First Methodist Church held a fundraising brisket dinner Sunday after church to help defray some of the cost to go to camp. I understand each person going will save $20 off the camp price. Not a bad deal, and everyone enjoyed a good meal to boot!

This may be your last chance to help Project Celebration this year. Their garage sale is Saturday, May 13 at the old E-Z Way Superette building on Hickory Street. You know what they say—one man's junk is another man's treasure.

Two more weeks until the first Lone Wolf Bluegrass Festival. It looks like this is going to be a big weekend with lots of things to do. Kenneth Rogers was in the office the other day looking for donations for the drawings that will be held throughout the festival. So not only can you go and hear some good music, but you might win a prize, also!

A big welcome to new residents, Kathy and Lee Beddingfield. Lee works for the Wallace Unit.

Richard Arthur, Brian Bascham, Randy Anderson, and foreign exchange student Lauri Eskola went on a two-day river canoe excursion on the Devils River last weekend. Brian reports that they had a good time, but got a little concerned about Richard's tired hair.

I would love to include your news in my column. If you have anything you would like our readers to know, please call 728-3413 and ask for Sheila or Sylvia.

COOK'S CORNER

Wendy Okray

Wendy Okray learned to cook while she was in junior high school. Not by watching her mother, but by instructions from her mother, but by reading cookbooks. You see, her mother never taught her, so Wendy was on her own in learning that feat.

The first thing Wendy started cooking was sweets because "I liked them," she said. I imagine that is true because she has quite a collection of recipes she has accumulated over the years. She enjoys sharing recipes with her sister and other people she has met throughout her many moves across Texas.

Wendy and her husband, John, have been married 14 years and in those 14 years have moved 10 times. John works for Trinity Contractors, one of the contractors working on the new state jail facility. His job requires him to move from project to project, so Wendy has met many people across the state with whom to share recipes.

In those 10 moves, only once has she been able to move to the same town twice. That happened with Colorado City. Her family was here when the prison was being built and then returned to work on the state jail.

In fact, it was the last time she lived here that she had to use the fire extinguisher just because she was trying to boil water! Seems her husband had started a new hobby, home-brewing beer. He had let some of the ingredients boil over and had not told Wendy. The next day, the kids were down for naps, so she decided to start on the evening meal. She put a pot of water on to boil and noticed flames coming up around the pot.

She lifted the pot off the burner and the fire increased dramatically. Flames were shooting up toward the ceiling, so she just sat the pot back down on the burner and got the fire extinguisher. Luckily, the fire extinguisher did its job and all she had was a mess of white powder to clean up.

Wendy is married to John and they have three children, Megan, 5; Evelyn, 4 and Aaron, 2 1/2.

Wendy is sharing four recipes with us today.

TAFFY APPLE DIP

8 oz. cream cheese
3/4 cup brown sugar
1 T. vanilla
1/2 cup peanuts
6 apples

Blend together first three ingredients. Sprinkle crushed peanuts on top. Serve with apple wedges.

CHEESEY VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

1/2 lb. American cheese
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 16 oz. frozen vegetable blend containing broccoli, cauliflower and carrots, thawed and drained

1 cup crushed butter crackers
Cut cheese into cubes. Place in a saucepan with 1/4 cup butter. Heat over medium heat until melted and smooth, stirring often. Place vegetables in 1 quart casserole dish. Pour cheese mixture over and mix well. Melt remaining butter. Stir in cracker crumbs. Sprinkle some over top. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes. Serve at once.

HEARTY TUNA CASSEROLE

2 cans chunk style tuna
6 oz. uncooked egg noodles
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/3 cup sliced green onions
1/2 - 2/3 cup dairy sour cream
2 tsp. mustard
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 tsp. dried thyme leaves
1/4-1/2 tsp. salt
1 small zucchini, scrubbed and sliced
1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese

1 medium tomato, chopped
Drain and flake the tuna. Set aside. Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain and rinse in hot water. Combine noodles with tuna, celery and green onions. Blend in sour cream, mustard, mayonnaise, thyme and salt. Spoon half the mixture into a buttered 2 quart casserole. Top with half the zucchini. Repeat layers. Top with cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Sprinkle with chopped tomato.

COKE CAKE

Bring to boil:
2 sticks margarine
3 T. cocoa
1 cup Coca-Cola
Pour over:
2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
Add:
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
Stir in 2 cups miniature marshmallows. Bake in 9 x 12 inch pan sprayed with Pam. Bake at 350 degrees 35-40 minutes.

ICING

Bring to boil:
3 T. cocoa
1 stick margarine
4 T. Coca-Cola
Pinch of salt
Pour over:
1 lb. powdered sugar
Add:
1 cup chopped nuts
1 tsp. vanilla
Pour over hot cake.

Harris hosts Looney Club

The Looney Club met April 26 in the home of Angie Harris. Lou Ella Hall presided, Lonie Pruitt led the club prayer and Etta Lee Gibson was in charge of recreation. Ruth Myers won the door prize.

Plans were completed for the book review to be given by Frances Quitt May 10 at 2 p.m. in the C.C. Thompson Room.

Roll call was answered with some of the members' memories and the treasurer's report was given.

Refreshments were served to five members and one guest, Lou Ella Hall, Ruth Myers, Lonie Pruitt, Etta Lee Gibson, hostess Angie Harris and Sharon Sadler of Merkel.

The next meeting will be held May 24.

With honors...

Harris to graduate from A&M

Jeff Harris, son of Bill and Janie Lee Harris and grandson of Angie Harris and the late W.E. (Bill) Harris and B.B. and Annie Mae Lee will graduate from Texas A&M University Friday, May 12 with a 4.0 grade point average.

He has recently received the Thomas S. Gathright Academic Excellence Award for the outstanding senior student in the College of Business Administration and the Delta Sigma Pi honor society key, which is given to the student who maintains the highest academic average for four years in the study of business administration.

Jeff earned straight As throughout his school years and was valedictorian of his high school graduating class in Bryan, Texas.

He participated in the College of Business Administration Fellows program, completed an internship with Arthur Andersen LLP accounting firm and was president of his social fraternity, as well as serving in several other offices.

He was a counselor for two years at Fish Camp, an orientation program for incoming freshmen at Texas A&M. He will be attending The University of Texas School of Law at Austin beginning August 1995.

Jeff's parents graduated from Colorado High School in 1963. His older brother, Cord Harris, is a civil engineering graduate of Texas Tech University. He is pursuing an advanced degree in civil engineering, environmental option, at Texas A&M University.

McMurry to host open house

McMurry University will host a Nontraditional Student Open House on Tuesday, May 16 to acquaint prospective students with the opportunities available at the University.

The open house will be held in the Mabec Room of the United Methodist Campus Center from 7-8:30 p.m. A variety of offices will be available for consultation, including the McMurry Dyess office, admissions, career services and interest testing, CLEP, business office, financial aid, registrar's office, college of arts and sciences and the schools of education, business and nursing.

"This open house will give an opportunity for adults in the Abilene area to become aware of the educational opportunities McMurry can offer," Leigh Crane, dean of counseling and student development said.

"Our adult and military students are a vital part of our campus," Crane added.

The event is open to the entire community. "We are encouraging prospective students to look into the opportunities available for classes now, since some financial aid is still available. As the start of classes nears, the opportunity to receive financial aid decreases," Crane said.

Refreshments will be served. For more information, contact Leigh Crane at 691-6374.

McMurry University is a four-year liberal arts institution located in Abilene. Affiliated with the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences of the United Methodist Church, McMurry offers its 1,300 students educational opportunities through 42 majors and eight pre-professional sequences.

Colonel Roger A. Brady, commander of Reese Air Force Base's 64th Flying Training Wing, has announced that the U.S. Air Force's Thunderbirds and the U.S. Army's Golden Knights will perform at Reese during the base's annual air show on Sunday, May 14.

The air show and community appreciation day will be a two-day event on Saturday and Sunday, May 13 and 14.

The base will be open to the public from 10:30 a.m.-10:30 p.m. on Saturday and from 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. on Sunday.

On Saturday evening, popular country singer Tracy Byrd will perform in a free concert on the north flightline.

According to Colonel Brady, this year's air show will display more aircraft and there will be more aerial demonstrations above Reese than ever before.

"We will also be honoring our veterans of World War II as we note the 50th anniversary of the final battles of that war," he said.

Visitors are encouraged to arrive early for all events. There will be food and beverages, parking and rest rooms available. Shuttle buses will run from the farthest parking areas, and there will first aid stations in the north and south parking areas.

Defensive driving class to be held on May 20th

A defensive driving class is scheduled for Saturday, May 20 at the Wallace Community Education Center with Charles Watlington as instructor.

The course will be held in Room 6 of the Wallace Center from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. with a one-hour lunch break. Films and other visual aids will be used to demonstrate how to improve driving skills.

Sponsored by National Traffic Safety Institute, the session offers pointers in preventing accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others and adverse driving conditions.

Those who complete this course will be eligible for possible ticket removal from their driving record. The fee is $25 and registration must be completed by May 18.

For further information, call the Wallace Community Education Center at 728-2392.

Dear Editor:

My name is Frank Granado. I live at 508 E. 14th Street. I was born in Mexico and at the age of two, my father brought my family and me to the United States. Later we became citizens of this country.

I farmed in the Loraine community for a number of years. Later, I went to farm in York, Texas. In the year of 1970, I moved to Colorado City, Texas.

From my heart, I want to thank the Christmas In April organization. I cannot find the words to thank you enough for the work accomplished on my house.

I want to thank Ken White (contractor) for doing good work on my house. Also, Rusty Merriam (house captain) for being there every day from start to finish, making sure the work was done correctly. I want to thank Rodney Moore for laying a new roof on my house and supervising it.

A special thanks goes out to the inmates of the Colorado City Prison. They took the roof off my house and scraped the house paint off.

I also want to thank Dan Montgomery (chief of police) and his family for doing a wonderful job of painting the house.

I also made a new friend in the name of Glen Hemphill, and his friend did the plumbing on my house. Mr. Hemphill is a very generous person.

A special big thank you to the wonderful lady, Mrs. Janet Lemons. She is the Christmas In April coordinator. This lady has a call from God to help people and doesn't refuse it.

Again, I want to say a big thank you. I have just mentioned a few names that I know of and know the rest of the people. I thank the Lord Jesus Christ for blessing your families abundantly.

Dear Editor:

The terroristic bombing of the Federal Building in Oklahoma City was a heinous act and words cannot describe the terrible massacre of innocent children, women and men.

There is no punishment severe enough for those who are guilty.

According to a news media report, a neighbor of the arrested man said this man was very angry and upset about the massacre of the innocent men, women and children in Waco, Texas by the federal government. Could this be retaliation for that massacre in Waco?

I, too, was upset about the murders committed in Waco under the color and guise of the law. This was premeditated murder and a malicious terroristic act by the federal government.

I think Janet Reno and her "boss" should have been charged with murder in the massacre of all those innocent people. That, too, was evil and a warning to all Americans who do not capitulate to the federal government regardless of how right we may be; that we, too, could face such fate.

It is unconscionable to think of anyone who would deliberately destroy, maim and slaughter innocent people like [in] the bombing in Oklahoma City and also in Waco. Human life meant nothing to either group even though one group who should be our protector became the enemy of free people and those who want to remain free.

Janet Reno should take responsibility for the bombing in Oklahoma City but I doubt that she will accept any responsibility for what happened. In reality, she was responsible, as it was her ruthless order to destroy the Branch Davidians, and that massacre helped spawn the bombing in Oklahoma City.

The militia such as the one in Michigan and many of the states will continue to grow if these tyrannical acts by the federal government are not stopped.

Our constitutional rights are gradually being stripped from us by evil men within our own government and if we do not take a stand, we will soon have no rights and our children and grandchildren will have no constitution to defend and will be subjects of an evil despotic one-world government.

I do not advocate violence but many groups are arising that do. Unless we do something in the ballot box to change what is happening, these groups will continue to grow and a revolution is in the making as free people want to remain free and will fight for that freedom if forced to.

I have paranoia expressing my feelings even though I have a First Amendment right to freedom of speech, but retaliation happens under the guise of law for those who stand up for their convictions and constitutional rights.

We have taken the Colorado Record since 1989 when we moved to Abilene from Loraine.

I really like our Loraine News by Mrs. Vaughn, especially her stories about "Wilma and Charlie."

I laugh myself sick. I also save them for my daughter, who lives in San Angelo. She loves them, too.

The fact is, I like all of the Loraine news.

Please include all of the column. I need a good laugh desperately.

Folk dancers entertain crowd at Cinco de Mayo

The audience at the Cinco de Mayo celebration gave a standing ovation to the Baile Folklorico dancers at the end of their performance Saturday afternoon.

This was a return visit for the 24 high school-age dancers from Aldama, Chihuahua in Mexico, known as Los Tarahumaras dancers. They performed at the Colorado City schools last year.

"They were treated so well here then, that they were anxious to return for your Cinco de Mayo this year," said Professor Rafael Prieto, director of the dance troupe.

Baile folklorico groups perform the traditional dances of the different regions of Mexico.

Los Tarahumaras are recognized as one of the top non-professional groups in the country.

Prieto, a social science teacher, explained through a translator that almost all high schools in Mexico have a baile folklorico group.

Yet, Los Tarahumaras are ranked first in the state of Chihuahua and second in the entire country.

Being a member of a folk dancing group is an honor in Mexico but the young people must be willing to work hard and learn discipline, the director said.

The young people practice three to four days a week for three hour sessions.

Prieto said dancing in the group benefits the young people. "It helps them form discipline, learn poise from performing in front of people and teaches them about the culture of Mexico."

The group travels with a choreographer, costume & hair director and lighting and sound specialists.

While the dances of their home state, Chihuahua, are a permanent feature of the program, the director changes the program each year to reflect the dances of the various regions of Mexico.

"That way they learn about the different regions and don't get bored with doing the same dances," he said.

Many, but not all, of the colorful costumes worn in the program are authentic, made by Indians of the area. However, the price of the authentic costumes, such as the intricately crafted ones worn in the Oaxaca dance, are prohibitive.

Prieto said the school and most of the dancers are poor, but people help them out with donations so they can travel in Mexico and the United States.

Last year they performed for Big Spring ISD, Borden Co. ISD and Klondike ISD.

Imagine catching a fish on a cast. We're talking white bass, big ones! We've all heard of occasionally it may happen more often than not, action gets that good.

If you haven't caught fish that, then you haven't been to Travis lately. Here's the deal.

We were night fishing well-lit boat docks on the upper end of the lake, where the Colorado Pedernales Rivers join. Schools of white bass follow schools of bait fish. The attract the bait fish and consequently, the white bass.

These white bass occasionally hit on artificial lures. A local me that we needed to be using. The problem was obtaining bait.

Throwing a cast net over swarms of shad was a waste of time. Even the so-called traps and nets were not effective. The shad were so thick they could snag them with a bare net you couldn't catch them.

Rabies crisis center to be established

Congressman Robert L. Dornan announced last Friday his response to the worsening rabies epidemic in West Texas, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) will establish a Central Texas Rabies Response Center.

Rep. Junell stated, "This is a necessary response to the concern of parents who are understandably fearful about allowing children to play outside because of this terrible and deadly disease."

"My West Texas colleagues, the legislature, particularly David Counts and Sen. Sims and John Montford, with this action by TDH," he added.

The number of rabid foxes increased by 300%, with more than 300 people in West Texas requiring treatment after exposure to rabid animals, according to David Smith, Texas Commissioner of Health.

Senator Sims stated that "grave concerns" about the increase in rabies cases and was "delighted" that this action has been taken by TDH.

The Rabies Response Center, which will begin operation immediately, will be staffed by a veterinarian and a public health technician and it will focus on the following activities:

- providing information and advice on post-exposure treatment;
- assisting with the emergency procurement of rabies vaccines;
- providing consultative assistance to concerned citizens, and veterinary professional local animal control officials;
- promoting rabies vaccination of domestic animals; and
- providing educational information on bite avoidance.

The Rabies Response Center will be located in San Angelo, Green County, which has the highest number of rabies cases in Central Texas.

TDH intends to provide a toll-free number as soon as possible to enable residents from anywhere in the area for assistance.

Imagine catching a fish on every cast. We're talking white bass here, big ones! We've all heard of it and occasionally it may happen but more often than not, action never gets that good.

If you haven't caught fish like that, then you haven't been to Lake Travis lately. Here's the deal.

We were night fishing under well-lit boat docks on the upper end of the lake, where the Colorado and Pedernales Rivers join. Huge schools of white bass follow the schools of bait fish. The lights attract the bait fish and consequently, the white bass.

These white bass occasionally hit on artificial lures. A local told me that we needed to be using shad. The problem was obtaining the bait.

Throwing a cast net over the swarms of shad was a waste of time. Even the so-called minnow traps and nets were not effective.

The shad were so thick that you could snag them with a bare hook, yet you couldn't catch them.

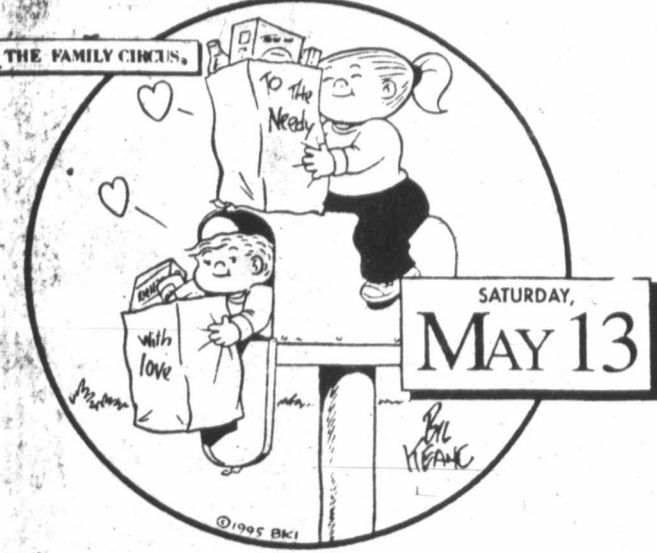

Then we used a new product called the Clear Catch, a clear 100% Lexan net that was unbelievably effective. As we put it in the water, the shad acted as if it weren't even there as they swam inside by the thousands. In less than 15 seconds, we had more bait than we could possibly use in two nights.

Switching to the fresh caught shad made a world of difference. In 25 drops, I caught a nice limit averaging 1-1/2 pounds each. The Clear Catch made the difference between a good trip and a great trip.

Most striped fishermen struggle to catch their bait with a catching net. Also, catching mullet, mud minnows and shrimp for bait is difficult, but not with the Clear Catch. This new product has a wide variety of applications from fresh-water to saltwater.

For more information on the Clear Catch, contact Jerry Jones at (512) 282-3919.

You may contact the Texas Angler at P.O. Box 310601, New Braunfels, Texas 78131.

Rabies crisis center to be established

Congressman Robert Junell announced last Friday that in response to the worsening gray fox rabies epidemic in West Central Texas, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) will establish a West Central Texas Rabies Response Center.

Rep. Junell stated, "This action is a necessary response to the concern of parents who are understandably fearful about allowing their children to play outside because of this terrible and deadly disease."

"My West Texas colleagues in the legislature, particularly Rep. David Counts and Senators Bill Sims and John Montford, welcome this action by TDH," he added.

The number of rabid foxes has increased by 300%, with more than 300 people in West Central Texas requiring treatment after exposure to rabid animals, according to Dr. David Smith, Texas Commissioner of Health.

Senator Sims stated that he has "grave concerns" about the increase in rabies cases and was "delighted" that this action has been taken by TDH.

The Rabies Response Center, which will begin operation immediately, will be staffed by a TDH veterinarian and a public health technician and it will focus its activities on:

- providing information on the availability of rabies biologicals and advice on post-exposure treatment;
- assisting with the emergency procurement of rabies vaccine;
- providing consultative assistance to concerned citizens, medical and veterinary professional, and local animal control officials;
- promoting rabies vaccination of domestic animals; and
- providing educational instruction on bite avoidance.

The Rabies Response Center will be located in San Angelo, Tom Green County, which has been one of the counties with the highest number of rabies cases in West Central Texas.

TDH intends to provide the center with a toll-free number as soon as possible to enable residents from anywhere in the area to call for assistance.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine!

They are baaaaaaack!! Just as surely as the swallows go back to Capistrano, mud swallows have come back to Loraine and have daubed a mud honeymoon cottage up under my carport.

Sweet you say? My fine feathered foes? There were not invited and not wanted. Once a bride swallow and her mate chooses your real estate for their own you might as well plan a house party for them, for they are there to stay.

Hail, sleet, high wind, water, insecticide sprays and baseball bats are not deterrents.

A friend, trying to help with my problem, suggested a rubber snake placed near the nest might make the pair fly the "coop"—wrong!

They both love the snake and talk to it all the time.

I'm telling you these birds are smart; they know that possession is nine-tenths of the law and they also know I wouldn't use a shotgun. I would just have a big skylight in the roof.

The worst part about having swallows, besides the noise, is the frequency of small, ugly gifts that are dropped down on one's cement floor, day in and day out!

Please save your newspapers for me until the mud swallow babies learn to fly and leave home. In the meantime, I feel sure they are enjoying reading the paper.

Cathal Martel and her mother Jewell Francis drove to Bakersfield, Calif. recently and stayed two weeks visiting relatives not only in Bakersfield but also in Shafter, Calif.

Narl and Joan Long attended the Smart and Long families reunion in Hamblin on May 7, with a lot of eating and visiting taking place.

Stan, Linda and T.C. Long of Andrews spent Friday night and Saturday night with Narl and Joan Long.

Our sympathy goes out to Bill and Ann Preston as Ann's mother, Loretta Voss, passed away recently. Mrs. Voss resided in Snyder.

Ralston Bruce reports that his nephew Brad Bruce was released from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and is now at home. He resides in Colorado City. Our well wishes to Brad.

Hello, Merlin and Lori Nell Bruce in Houston—don't get washed away!

The new sales director for Mary Kay Cosmetics is Karen L. Hamer and her unit, Hamer's High Achievers.

Her debut was held at Ranchland Hills Country Club, 1600 East Wadley, Midland.

Karen is the daughter of Billie Ruth Abernathy. She has Trout relatives in Loraine and surrounding areas.

Congratulations to Karen.

On Election Day last Saturday, May 6, there was a good-to-moderate turnout for local voting held at the Loraine Senior Building and lasting until closing time.

City election judge was Gail Trout and Election workers were Isabelle Cooper and Debra Oden. School election judge was Nina Meadows. Also working at the school election were Hubert Meadows and June Barron.

The hospital election judge was Sandra Phillips and also working was Jennifer Zuniga and Sherry Chaney.

Making up the new city council will be Lee Matlock, James Merrill, Pat White, Arthur Zuniga, Christine Hall and Mayor Catarino Martinez, Jr.

A ladies' weekend retreat was enjoyed this past weekend at the Embassy Suites in Abilene by Nesa Beights, Tracy and Natalie Biles from Lubbock, Pam Bowles, Lela Bowles from Rule, Amy Arp from Levelland, Renee Rogers from Garland and Joy and Mechelle Bowles from Waco.

The ladies did some shopping, swimming, dining and later had a slumber party.

While together, the ladies had a lingerie party for Mechelle, who will be getting married July 1.

M.D. and Doris Hall from Stanton were in Loraine Sunday visiting Price relatives.

They had just come from Mitchell County Hospital after spending some time with Mrs. Hall's brother, Roy Price.

Mr. Price continues to make some progress each day.

Loraine Manor News

Gill Grant, Loraine Nursing Home activities director, reports that the residents are involved in a new game for fun and exercise called a sit down version of musical chairs.

On the 9th, they will have a magic show and on the 11th at 2:30 p.m. the Old Sorehead Band from Stanton will come to play for the residents.

Last Sunday, Alvis Finley's family held a birthday party for him.

Other birthdays this month will be observed by Lula Lafevre and Antonio Romero.

Ms. Grant is asking for someone who can quilt to please come spend some time showing the interested residents how.

The May tree is up and full of June bugs, pom poms and pipe cleaners. It is so popular they might keep it up in June, also.

Residents are working on silk flower corsages for the ladies for Mother's Day.

From 3-4 p.m. next Sunday the 14th, a reception will be held to observe Mother's Day. Family and friends are invited.

Shirley Clifton of Loraine was honored with a bridal shower at the home of Pam Butler on Sunday, May 7.

Joe Minshew of Lubbock and Jennifer will be married at the Loraine First Baptist Church on May 27 at 2 p.m.

Mother of the bride is Shirley Clifton. Also attending was the paternal grandmother, Beatrice Lee of Loraine.

Punch and cookies were served from a lace-covered table. The centerpiece was a heart-shaped wreath in spring colors and appointments were crystal.

Hostesses for the shower were Pam Butler, Nina Meadows, Doris Henderson, Elnora Mitchell, Felda Blair, Marsha Rickard, Janet Moore, Ruth Moore, Debbie Blair, Jennifer Zuniga, Debbie Finley, June Barron, Gloria Lucas, Alma Webb, Juanice Butler, Gail Trout, Addie Mahoney, Christine Britton, Balenda Hailley, Billie Sheffield, Wanza Graham and Vita Mae McDaniel.

Out of town guests were from Duncanville, Littlefield, Colorado City, Lubbock, San Angelo and Westbrook.

Both the Loraine city park and the Friendship mini-park look nice and pretty after the good rains, and roses are now at their most beautiful, blooming all over town.

The large dumpsters are still in place, waiting for your throw-aways. City cleanup continues!

Senior Center
The good rains perked everyone up some—and it was great to see umbrellas and plastic hair protectors!

Plans have been underway for the school seniors' luncheon, with turkey and dressing on the menu, for Wednesday, May 10.

Seniors attending will be Amber Blair, Krystal Butler, Craig Finley, Adrian Garcia, Roy Garcia, Angie Gonzales, Joe Leija, Lydia Lopez, Geory Martin, Kathy Martinez, Michael Moore, Jesse Rico, Gabriel Salazar and Ben Wilkinson. Congratulations to this year's seniors!

Elder seniors having birthdays this month are Oscar Singleton, June Barron, Joy Dickenson, Helen Jones, Wayne Dubose, Elsie Lecroy, Lorene Calloway, D.C. Fowler, Francisco Lambaren, Sue Lankford, Christine Britton, James Merrill, Elsa Freeman, Lorene Feaster, Margaret Brame will furnish the birthday cake.

This week, Dorothy Johnson brought down a beautiful pink blooming cactus for us to enjoy and Margaret Brame brought beautiful roses.

"Someone's Mother"
She once had dreams of being a great soprano, singing with a famous opera company.

Hard work on the farm went by faster while she dreamed of taking bows on stage, always singing to a full house, and there was a spotlight on her beautiful face.

She dreamed her way through algebra and history, appreciating standing ovations and flowers from fans as school books lay open before her.

Once when the teacher asked her to name an island country not far from America that started with "J" and ended with "A," she was so into her dream she started singing, then had to stay after school.

Everyone thought she was trying to be funny! Under her picture in the school annual it read, "The Dreamer."

While working her way through a summer for college, she met him! He was beautiful and she could think of nothing else. She pushed all her dreams aside and when he proposed marriage, she said, "yes."

Of course, when the preacher asked if she would love and honor him, she replied simply, "Always."

The young bride was happy! She sang to her husband with love in her eyes, and had no need for a stage. She sang to her babies with love in her heart and she had no need for standing ovations or flowers from fans. She received her applause every day in many ways.

Where did the time go?

They both missed the children, all grown now and gone from the house. Later, precious grandchildren helped fill the void and vacancy with their visits and appetites that would put field hands to shame.

She nursed him while he was sick and sang to him every day, then he was gone.

On bad days she gets through by dreaming of her sweetheart and her family, but never about the stage.

On good days she sings to her cats and to the beauties of nature.

She hopes the children will all come home next Sunday—maybe they could eat out!!!

Happy Mother's Day! You are special!

Take good care and see you about town.

Summer lunch program on schedule

The Colorado Independent School District has announced that free lunches for children ages one through 18 will be provided through the summer food service program for the fourth consecutive summer, beginning June 5 and ending July 31.

Children may enter the Colorado Middle School cafeteria through the west door on Chestnut Street any time between 11:30 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Meals for infants will not be available. The cost for adults is $2.50 per meal. All meals served meet the USDA guidelines for children, furnishing one-third of children's minimum daily nutritional requirements.

Those who believe they have been discriminated against in any USDA-related activity are encouraged to write the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Discrimination complaints based on religion or political belief must be referred to Director, Civil Rights Division, Texas Department of Human Services.

and eat lunch. There are no tickets or forms to fill out, reservations to make and nothing to sign. Children do not even have to be Mitchell

All children are invited to come County residents to participate. All that is necessary is to meet the age requirement.

Harris, Silva lose to Vernon

Colorado High School's Courtney Harris and Becky Silva carried a 32.3 record going into the regional tennis tournament but because of an unfortunate draw, lost to Vernon's top team.

As a doubles team, the senior girls finished either in first or second place in 15 tournaments. They will be missed next year as they are graduating at the end of this month.

Coach Carolyn Walker said, "Courtney and Becky [are] the best girl's doubles team I've ever coached. They were very strong net players and that is a real attribute in doubles.

"I've enjoyed coaching them and wish them the very best," she added.

Williams wins 3rd in UIL meet

Last Saturday, May 6, Colorado High School senior Melissa Williams took third place in Computer Applications at the University Interscholastic League (UIL) State Meet.

Melissa was one of eight students from the AAA conference to advance to the state level in Computer Applications. In her quest for state, she competed against 28 of the top computer applications students from her district and region.

The computer applications contest is new to the UIL tournament circuit this year. Both the coaches and students have enjoyed the challenges that it has brought to UIL competition.

Mrs. Joan Lemons, who coached Melissa, explained the contest. "The test at the district level consisted of unarranged copy such as letters, memoranda and reports, as well as mail merge. The degree of difficulty increased as the students advanced to a higher level."

"At the regional level, students were expected to demonstrate any of the district level skills as well as keying from a rough draft with proofreader marks, database and the integration of word processing and database.

"Finally, at the state level, contestants were expected to demonstrate any of the district and regional level skills as well as spreadsheets, graphics and the integration of all applications," Mrs. Lemons said.

Melissa is the daughter of Larry and Sondra Williams. She is very active in Future Homemakers of America at Colorado High School. After graduation, she plans to attend Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Stenholm announces service academy cycle

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has announced the beginning of the 1996 United States Service Academy cycle. Information is being forwarded to all area high schools and to those who have expressed interest in applying for a nomination to the United States Air Force, Merchant Marine, Military or Naval academies.

Applications are currently being accepted from individuals who wish to be considered for the classes entering in July of 1996. The academies seek well-rounded, intelligent young men and women who are accustomed to balancing many activities while maintaining a high level of academic excellence.

The academies offer an excellent educational opportunity while achieving their goal of preparing tomorrow's military leaders. The academies are seeking individuals of high moral character with much leadership potential, who thrive under pressure.

Individuals who are at least high school juniors and who will be between 17 and 22 years of age on July 1, 1996 may be eligible for consideration. Selections are made in mid-December, using a formula based upon the candidate's high school record, class standing, SAT and/or ACT scores.

Involvement in athletics and school and community extracurricular activities are important factors in determining the individual's ability to effectively function under pressure. Evaluations by school officials and other individuals who are familiar with the candidate are also used in the decision-making process.

Motivated, self-starting individuals who like to be challenged are strongly encouraged to contact Congressman Stenholm's San Angelo office for further information. All inquiries should be directed to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, O.C. Fisher Federal Building #318, 33 East Twohigh Avenue, San Angelo, Texas 76903, ATTN: Academy Applications.

G-KELL BLDG. (915) 728-3411

CHIEF LONE WOLF

By Jim Baum

If you think your church has financial problems, consider the trials and tribulations over the years of a small black church in West Texas. To wit: Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Colorado City. It was organized in 1884 and has seen good times and bad during the past 111 years.

The first Mt. Zion building was located on Erie Street. Later it was moved to its current location, 1404 College Avenue. Back in 1884, when the church celebrated its centennial, we had a chance to meet some of its driving forces.

Milford Jones, for example. The tall, lanky East Texan moved to Colorado City in 1928. In '29 he became a member of Mt. Zion Baptist. Jones had not planned on staying in Colorado City, but he said, "You couldn't find a better town."

His first job was washing dishes at the Best Yet Cafe. Later, he worked for the railroad and the school district.

During those days there were more blacks in Colorado City than there are now and Jones recalled the revivals which drew overflow crowds at his church. "Folks inside and out," he told us.

Later, Mt. Zion would fall on hard times. "We expected that," Jones continued. "Churches are always going to have a little difficulty. Everyday's not Sunday."

Particularly bad were the early 1930s. Concerning Mt. Zion's financial condition, Jones said, "Nickels and dimes and quarters sometimes. No paper money. It was just nickels and dimes and quarters sometimes."

There were times when the church members would have to hold rallies to pay the bills. "I remember once we had what we called a 'two-bit rally,'" Jones stated. "Had to get it down to two-bits so everybody could give some. Sometimes when we gave the two-bits, that was all we had. I went home broke many a time."

Jones said back in those days a typical light bill would run something like three to five dollars. But, after paying the minister ($12.50 a month), there wouldn't be enough left to pay for electricity.

"We had to put on a drive to even pay the light bill. It was tough!" At the end of almost every month, Mt. Zion had to hold a rally to pay its bills.

"I remember one time we were having a rally and we were trying to raise $75 to pay off a debt," Jones recalled. He said everybody had dug into their pockets or purses and come up with some money, but not enough.

"Mrs. Rosie Andress thought about it and in a minute she said, 'I've got some money I've been saving over at the house. Let me go see how much it is.'"

When she returned a short time later, she brought with her an old Bull Durham tobacco pouch. Mrs. Andress emptied out its contents.

"It was all nickels," Jones continued, "and I think it was about a dollar and something. And she gave it all."

And it was that kind of faith which kept Mt. Zion Baptist going. "People gave all they had. You don't find too many people who give all they have. That was all she had."

Eventually, the church raised the $75 needed to pay off the debt. "And there wasn't a bill on that table," Jones said. "$75 worth of nothing but nickels, dimes and quarters."

But there were also good times for Mt. Zion. Jones said church members were later able to give dollars "and $10 and some were tithing as much as $100 or more. That shows how far we've come from the two-bit rallies."

Milford Jones was a man of great faith. He was justifiably proud to be a deacon in his church, and he was philosophical.

"The Lord has blessed us to come over the hill. Now we oughta be able to go down a hill. It makes you want to shout for joy when you see the progress of all the churches."

On Wednesday and Sunday nights, the lights still burn brightly at Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Thanks to nickels and dimes and quarters sometimes.
