Texans Decide for Russell; Stevenson Still Favorite

Rayburn May Get Unpledged Dixie Vote

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, July 24 (AP)—Chairman Sam Rayburn said today Louisiana, South Carolina and Virginia would be invited to answer the roll call of states for nominating speeches at the Democratic National Convention. That seemed to mean the three Southern states which have refused to sign a loyalty pledge are back in good standing before the convention—at least so far as Rayburn is concerned.

Rayburn declined to discuss the matter except to say that if anyone challenges the right of the three states to participate in the nominating proceedings, he will make a ruling at that time. He refused to say what his ruling would be.

The three Dixie states have stood pat in their insistence that they cannot go along with a new convention rule adopted yesterday after a flare-up of the old North-South conflict over civil rights.

However, members of Louisiana's delegation staged a bitter scrap among themselves today over whether to maintain the delegation's stand.

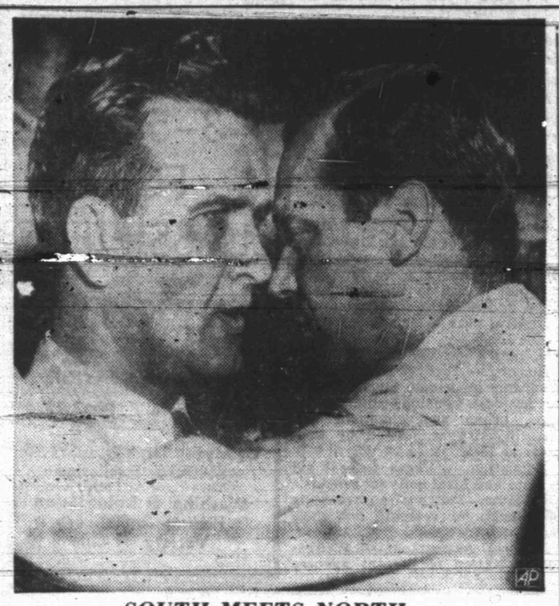

At the end of an hour of quarreling, Gov. Robert F. Jennon, the delegation chairman, told newsmen "Louisiana's position is unchanged" —meaning it would stay with Virginia and South Carolina.

He announced this as a "majority decision" of the caucus.

However, Sen. Russell Long indicated there were some individuals who might decide to sign the loyalty pledge.

Long, emerging from the meeting in a seething rage, told reporters:

"It's my impression that this delegation wants to put the Republican nominee on the Democratic ticket in my state. This is fundamentally immoral. That's what happened in 1948."

Kerr Nominated, Called a Winner

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr was offered in nomination for the presidency at the Democratic Convention today as a party stalwart who "deflated one five-star general" and "is our best man to defeat another."

Rep. Carl Albert, in a speech placing his fellow Oklahoman's name in nomination, called the 55-year-old Kerr a "fighting progressive Democrat" and "the greatest campaign orator in America."

MacARTHUR FIGHT

"Last year, when Gen. (Douglas) MacArthur refused to play on our great military team, the President was compelled to remove him," Albert said, referring to MacArthur's ouster as Far East commander.

"The Republicans created a mighty uproar for partisan political gain," Albert continued. "The senator from Oklahoma accepted the challenge.

"Almost single - handed, he carried the fight to the Republican Party and drove its spokesmen from the Senate floor."

Albert said Kerr is the Democrat best qualified to oppose the GOP nominee Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, in the fall election.

The congressman said Kerr came to national attention when he "electrified" the 1944 Democratic convention in a keynote speech he delivered when Oklahoma's governor.

"We offer the Democratic Party the same man," Albert said.

"Nominate him and he will again bombard the Republicans and call the Democrats to arms. He will again rally the forces of democracy and fire the fames of victory in the hearts of the American people.

"Nominate him and he wil not only expose the reactionary defeatism of the Republican Party —he will bury it in the ignominious oblivion that it deserves."

LOG CABIN

Albert said Kerr was born in a log cabin and had carved out a career that "is an inspiration to little people everywhere." The senator has amassed a fortune in the oil and gas business.

The congressman also lauded Kerr as:

A "champion of labor" who voted to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

An advocate of a "strong farm program" who has battled for farm co-operatives and for higher farm price supports.

A "great executive" who converted a 43 - million - dollar debt to a 40 - million - dollar surplus in his four years as governor of Oklahoma.

A candidate who woud "meet and defeat the toughest debaters in the Republican Party."

A "great leader around whom all Democrats can rally" and who "understands the problems of all sections of the country."

Ellenburger Test Staked In Stonewall

A. L. Wimmer, Jr., of Dallas has announced location for his No. 1 F. R. Smith which is to be a 6,650-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Stonewall County. Operations are to begin on the project by Sept. 7.

The location is at the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 271-B-H&TC, eight and one-half miles southwest of Aspermont and seven miles northeast of the Nenney - Canyon field.

It is on a checkerboarded spread of 1,040 acres secured by Wimmer from Kewanee Oil Co. Kewanee retained a large spread of acreage in that area and is to start drilling by Aug. 15 on its No. 1 Cochran, a wildcat for which location was announced about two weeks ago.

IN SCURRY

The Texas Co. No. 1 M. A. Fuller, extreme North Scurry wildcat, is drilling below 3,852 feet in lime.

Superior and Intex No. 1 Eva F. Laws, Northwest Scurry wildcat, is coring below 8,319 feet in lime and chert toward the Ellenburger. Stanolind No. 2-A Carden, north Kelley - Snyder field project, is at total depth of 7,181 feet in lime and waiting for cement to cure on five and one-half inch casing cemented on the bottom.

Shell No. 2 Addison, Southwest Scurry field test, is drilling below 6,494 feet in shale.

KENT COMPLETION

Chapman & McFarlin Producing Co. has reported completion of a Fuller sand producer in the Cogdell field of South Kent County. It the No. 13-A D. M. Cogdell, which made a potential of 153.12 barrels of oil with no water on a 24-hour pumping test. Gravity of the oil was 42 degrees.

El Capitan No. 1 Daugherty, West - Central Kent wildcat, is drilling below 4,810 feet in shale and lime.

Cost of Living To Record High

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—The cost of living, as measured by the government, soared to an all-time high in mid-June.

Figures made public today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics showed that on June 15 the price of food, clothing, rent, entertainment and other daily living costs was 189.6 per cent of the 1935-1939 period.

That was 11.4 per cent higher than two years ago, just before the Korean fighting started.

The cost-of-living index jumped five tenths of a point over the previous record high for last January under the pressure of higher costs for food, rent and miscellaneous goods and service.

Record Absentee Vote For Scurry County

Absentee ballots received in the county clerk's office by mail yesterday and today brought the total cast for the primary election to 301 with 85 more still out.

The total number of ballots given to applicants intending to vote absentee was 386. Those received by mail are to be cast for tally Saturday if postmarked before the deadline, which was midnight Tuesday.

This is by far the largest absentee vote ever cast in the county, Pat Johnston, county clerk, said. Less than half that number voted by absentee ballot in the prohibition election early this year, setting a record then of the highest absentee count.

Near 100 Yesterday

The highest temperature reading in Snyder yesterday was 98 degrees, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer. Low was 69 degrees and the reading at 7:30 this morning was 74.

Convention Climax In Vote Tonight

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, July 24 (AP)—The Democratic Convention—apparently bent on making Adlai Stevenson its presidential nominee—rushed toward its big moment today under threat of a possible ugly North-South fight right at nominating time.

Chairman Sam Rayburn said Louisiana, South Carolina and Virginia would be invited to answer to the roll call of states for nominating speeches.

Since all three have talked at signing a "loyalty" pledge that could precipitate a showdown scrap then and there on whether they would be allowed to cast their 64 votes in the convention.

The fuse to touch it off would be for some delegate to challenge at that point their right to vote.

The convention had started its nominations roll call when Rayburn passed this word to newsmen.

Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, the South's hope and pride, got his name before the convention first

That touched off the expected roaring demonstration with Dxe a-out to do the honors for ts champon.

With the long list of candidates, and attendant nominating speeches and demonstrations, it could be late in the day before the Louisiana-South Carolina-Virginia issue was reached.

Backers of the Stevenson "draft" were trying to make it a bandwagon for him. Some supporters of other candidates conceded the Stevenson friends were giving it that look, but they weren't conceding he could make it.

Many delegates who had been holding back were hopping in behind the Illinois governor.

But Sens. Russell of Georgia and Kefauver of Tennessee also were picking up votes from the big bloc of hitherto uncommitted delegates and weren't conceding a thing. Averell Harriman, the mutual security administrator, also was still plugging hard for the convention's grand prize.

Kefauver, in a news conference, declared: "I'm quite confident Ill be nominated." He said he had picked up "more than 60" delegates in the last 36 hours.

And there was still no public word from President Truman as to his views—something many delegates had hoped for.

Kansas delegates, who have been on the fence, plumped to Stevenson with their 16 convention votes at a caucus.

Californians backing Kefauver, heard a plea from Rep. Clinton McKinnon, their chairman, to stand firm.

McKinnon told them: "The bandwagon is rolling in the direction of Stevenson. But if we can hold the line—if we can stop Stevenson on the second ballot, the votes for favorite son candidates and others can be diverted to Kefauver."

THE 52-year-old, etc, as before. Pick up 3rd add

The 52-year-old Illinois governor may be tabbed on a short-count ballot with three Southern states—South Carolina, Virginia and Louisiana—sitting it out.

This Dixie-sitdown, prompted by a feud over a party loyalty pledge, seemed likely to impel the selection of a Southerner for second place on the ticket.

This would be a direct attempt to offset the reputed popularity of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, below the Mason and Dixon line.

For this role, delegates were pointing toward Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia—if he would take it. Russell told his campaign strategists he couldn't conceive under any circumstances in which he would trade a powerful place in the Senate for the standby job of vice president.

If he is unavailable, Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama and Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas, both with "Fair Deal" leanings, were handy.

Russell's campaign manager Sen. Edward Johnson of Colorado, predicted the Georgia senator would win the presidential nomination on the 10th ballot.

The camps of other avowed candidates also exuded public confidence.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, leading the field in publicly committed delegates, plugged away at getting secondary choice ballots after the first count. Credited with 263 sure votes, he expected many more on that initial test.

Supporters of Averell Harriman of New York, the mutual security administrator, clutched to the hope that the Stevenson draft movement would flop and the party would turn to its only all-out "Fair Deal" candidate, namely Harriman.

Sen. Robret S. Kerr of Oklahoma hoped to pick up the pieces if the leading candidates should fight themselves to an exhausted standstill.

As the hour of decision approached, the Associated Press tabulation of known first-ballot choices showed this lineup:

Kefauver, 271½.
Stevenson, 190½.
Russell, 198½.
Harriman, 106½.
Kerr, 45½.
Others, 226½.
Uncommitted, 191½.
Needed to nominate 615½.

MAVERICK MUST STAND

The expression of former Rep. Maury Maverick of San Antonio reflects his sentiments as he is interviewed by newsmen after the Democratic national convention credentials committee voted 36-13 to seat the anti-Truman "regular" delegation from Texas. Maverick headed the "loyalist" pro-Truman group to the Chicago convention. Their application was denied. Maverick said he was considering taking the case to the convention floor.

Pledge to Georgia Senator Is Only for First Ballot

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—The Texas delegation voted today to cast its 52 votes for Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia for the Democratic presidential nominee.

That's all. No other man was suggested and the delegation bound itself for the first ballot only.

What it will do in case Russell is knocked out of the running, it left to the "wait and see" attitude its members have kept all during the convention.

The delegation didn't discuss the nominees at all at its morning caucus.

The members did talk about the convention platform. And on the motion of Arch Rowan, Fort Worth, they passed a resolution deploring they didn't have a chance to study the platform before voting on it.

The platform was passed on a voice vote. Texas wanted to record itself as voting "no" but couldn't get recognition from the chair.

Mrs. O. C. Berg, Wichita Falls, wanted to deplore also the late hour at which the platform was brought up last night.

But Claud Gilmer, Rock Springs, presiding at the caucus, said with a grin: "I think it wouldn't be practical to start listing the things we deplore."

The Texans were riled about not getting a chance to register their "no" vote on the platform.

They shouted, they waved their hats and National Committeeman Wright Morrow shook the state standard aloft.

But their fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, declared the platform was adopted by voice vote and went on to the next order of business without recognizing them.

Some of the delegates huddled after the convention session, talking it over.

SHIVERS' COMMENT

Gov. Shivers leader of the Texas legation, had no comment except that the Texans didn't like rushing through the 29-page document of the platform without reading it themselves. It was read to the convention by Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts, Platform Committee chairman.

A former Texas governor Dan Moody, Austin, said he voted "no" on the entire platform in the committee. He was Texas' representative on that body.

"I voted no on the civil rights plank, on a lot of them—so I voted no on the whole thing," he told reporters.

The Texans got their permanent seats in the convention only yesterday. The convention seated Shivers' conservative group on a voice vote in preference to the contesting liberal group.

They waved goodbye to one another at the Convention Hall in the afternoon—the liberals in one corner of the balcony and the conservatives down on the floor. Some of the liberals said they were going home.

CALLS IT VICTORY

Maury Maverick a fighting New Dealer from San Antonio, claimed a moral victory.

"We forced Shivers to say he would support the Democratic Party," Maverick said.

But Shivers said in a statement that the loyalty resolution his delegation signed did not bind any delegate to support personally the Democratic nominee.

Shivers said the only promise made was that delegates would work to assure that the names of the Democratic nominees were on the ballot in Texas in November as long as such a promise didn't contravene state laws or state party instructions.

The Shivers group came to Chicago saying they would not take a pledge to support the nominees of the Democratic Party.

The governor received more than 100 telegrams from folks back home yesterday. He said all but two or three congratulated him. The others were against the stand his delegation took.

"This is a victory not for me—not for the delegation," Shivers said in a statement. "It is a victory for the Texans who went to their precinct conventions and had the majority."

The Shivers delegation is uninstructed as to the presidential nominee. But their preference for Sen. Richard Russell is understood.

Some of them appeared last night —after their permanent seating—wearing duck-billed red, white and blue caps printed with "Give Us Russell."

They aren't saying who is their second choice. Ask thm about Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and they will say they want to know more about what he stands for.

President Announces Steel Strike Is Over

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—The steel strike was settled at the White House at 4 p.m. (EST) today. (3 p.m. CST).

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP) — President Truman told the chieftains of the steel industry and the CIO to their faces today that they must end the economy wrecking steel strike at once.

Then he sent them to the Cabinet Room of the White House to work out the differences that brought on the strike of 650,000 steelworkers 53 days ago.

TRUMAN TALKS

Truman's pep talk lasted 10 minutes. The meeting between CIO head Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and Benjamin Fairless, head of U. S. Steel Corp., went on for an hour and 40 minutes.

Fairless told newsmen "we are going to discuss the situation with our own people."

Murray confirmed the statement.

There were no words of hope of a quick settlement, but an aura of optimism surrounded the meetings.

The fact that Fairless and Murray planned to talk to their associates seemed to indicate some kind of new formula for ending the strike was in the works.

FAIRLESS STATEMENT

In a brief statement read to reporters, Fairless said:

"We have had a meeting with the President and Dr. Steelman and we have talked at length about our mutual problem. We are each going to discuss the situation with our own people."

Murray would add nothing to the Fairless statement but said he subscribed to it wholeheartedly.

Sitting in on the talk between Murray and Fairless was Dr. John R Steelman acting mobilization director and the Presidents No. 1 peacemaker in scraps between unions and management.

A White House spokesman told reporters Truman in talking to Fairless and Murray made a pointed plea for a strike settlement and used very strong language.

ULTIMATUM?

The appeal, carried the undertones of an ultimatum.

Reporters asked Fairless and Murray what they thought of the prospects of a speedy settlement. Both smiled and answered: "No comment."

Today's conference was one of the more dramatic meetings between Truman and chieftains of labor and industry. In order to talk with them, the President put off a planned visit to the Democratic National Convention until tomorrow.

Truman apparently was making the administration's final big try to bring accord between the industry and Murray's 650,000 striking steelworkers.

Murray entered the White House grounds alone and on foot. "I have nothing to say at the moment, gentlemen," he told reporters.

He shook hands with Fairless, who had arrived earlier in a long limousine.

Old Man Breathes New Life in Party

CHICAGO (AP) — They said Alben W. Barkley was "too old."

They said he was a fine gentleman and a distinguished public figure, but heavy with years, too many years, to be the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The Democratic convention is on fire today because of the man who was "too old."

It is blazing with the new life and spirit he breathed into it last night when he spoke to more than 12,000 people, whipped them into a frenzy of excitement, and stirred one of the unforgettable spectacles of a generation.

DEEPLY HURT

The ovation was intended as a kind of "consolation prize" for a man deeply hurt.

Three days before the 74-year-old vice president was a candidate campaigning actively to be his party's choice for the presidency. Then, as he put it, "some self-anointed labor leaders" suddenly withdrew the support he had supposed they would give him. They said he was "too old."

Barkley took himself out of the race.

There was a tremendous explosion of warmth and sympathy and affection when the "Veep" marched down the platform onto the rostrum last night. The organ began to play "My Old Kentucky Home" and rolling billows of music and cheering thundered through the great hall.

Barkley stood looking down at the demonstration, unsmiling, almost impassive. From time to time he waved and bowed, acknowledging a tremendous salute. It went on for 24 minutes, constantly hitting new peaks of sound and excitement.

Finally, they let him speak.

OFF THE CUFF

He had no manuscript and the teleprompter was black and dark. He said he had not had time, "since I received this invitation," to write a speech.

He said, "I am not here as a candidate for any office this convention can confer." In the back of the hall, and in the galleries, a chorus welled up: "no — No."

The "Veep" shook his head.

As he spoke, reviewing the 20-year record of the Democrats, his voice began to gather volume and momentum. He said:

"I believe the programs of the Democratic party give the greatest good to the greatest number of the American people and if I did not believe that, I would join some other party that does believe in those eternal and immortal principles."

Then he turned to the Republicans, recalling that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP nominee, had said he was going to lead a crusade.

"We are not beginning a crusade," Barkley shouted. "We are continuing a crusade — a crusade to see to it that every child born of woman should be born under conditions making it easy for him to live in a normal, wholesome atmosphere, with a chance for education to prepare himself for the burdens and responsibilities of life."

GREATEST GOOD

"The administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman have given the American people a greater share in the enjoyment of the fruit of their labor than any other administration in the history of the United States," he said.

Dogs Are Occupational Hazard For Door-to-Door Campaigners

Although most candidates were busy campaigning yesterday, with the Democratic Primary only two days away, a few managed to pause long enough to laugh about some of their experiences.

Most, however, just laughed . . . and said the stories wouldn't do to print.

One of the worst hazards in house-to-house campaigning is unfriendly dogs, nearly all candidates agreed.

Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, candidate for county treasurer, said she had climbed fences to get away from them but still had been bitten on the heel and had her dress torn. Mrs. Dell Smith, her opponent, confessed dogs frightened her too.

SOME TOO YOUNG

Mrs. Pinkerton said she hadn't been nearly all the places she wanted to go but that she had met lots of new people and was going back to see some of them. Her most gratifying visit was at the house where the mother had gone to town to wash and only an eight-year-old boy was at home. She gave him one of her cards and he gravely read it, then told her "My folks are gonna vote for Mollie Pinkerton."

Mrs. Smith said she had driven 3,000 miles in Scurry County and if there was a house she hadn't visited she didn't know where it was. She still lacks a few streets in town but expects to make them all before Saturday. People everywhere have been polite and considerate, she said.

Keith Merrick, candidate for district attorney, said his most memorable experiences had been with rattlesnakes. He has killed several snakes, he said, especially in Borden County between Fluvanna and Gail. He has found people unusually friendly and encouraging but some of the dogs have annoyed him too.

Ray J. Keehan, running for sheriff, said the only way he had campaigned was through door-to-door canvassing. He has made his way all over the county and a time or two has found himself extolling his own virtues on the wrong side of the county line. He has had his troubles with dogs too, but he said the only thing to do if you're a candidate is to go ahead and pet the dog while he's chewing on you.

James Rosser, candidate for district judge, said he had had a pleasant but uneventful campaign and that, although he had lived near Snyder almost all his life, he had seen a lot of new country. He said he once found himself campaigning in Howard County when he thought he was in Borden.

Sterling Williams, veteran campaigner here and candidate this year for district judge, said he had never made a serious effort to campaign house to house.

NOT ALWAYS WELCOME

"I tried it once," he said, "and I soon found out that when I knocked on the door, the lady of the house would be washing or tending to the baby, probably without a dressed to receive callers, and would just prefer that the candidates didn't bother her."

Williams added, however, that he has called at the oil camps—where he found a lot of men on vacation—and that he would be campaigning pretty vigorously during the last two remaining days.

Williams predicts that Scurry County will soon be too densely populated for candidates to make a house to house canvass. Such a campaign, he said, has never been customary in district races.

TEXAS DEMO RESISTS PLEDGE

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—One Texas delegate to the Democratic Convention said today he had filed his protest against the loyalty pledge.

Curtis Douglass, Pampa, said he didn't intend to abide by the conditions. He has remained at the convention. The Texas delegation is under the unit rule and approved the loyalty rule by a majority.

DOES ANYBODY CARE NOW?

Truman Cronies Say Harry Is for Stevenson, Too

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago July 24 (AP)—Two close associates said today President Truman has passed along the word that he prefers Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The two party leaders said Truman's decision had been made in the light of a swiftly moving draft behind Stevenson's reluctant candidacy.

The Illinois governor has said he wants only to run for re-election but has not closed the door against the nomination if it is offered to him.

Truman has kept silent publicly about his preference, apparently to avoid becoming involved in a fight that might not turn out satisfactory from his standpoint.

However, he was reported to have indicated earlier he would go along with the nomination of Vice President Barkley. This decision was said to have been made at a time, before the convention opened, when it looked as if Stevenson would not become available.

Barkley was knocked unceremoniously out of the race when some labor union leaders told him he was too old at 74.

Although the convention gave Barkley a tremendous ovation last night, friends said his name would not be entered in the nomination field today unless some individual delegate took it upon himself to do so.

One of the President's associates told a reporter he thinks Truman's advocacy of Stevenson may well give enough impetus to the draft movement to bring about the Illinois governor nomination on the first ballot tonight.

Candidates to Speak At Rally in Snyder

The last of a series of political rallies sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for 7:45 o'clock tonight at the Tiger Stadium here.

A larger crowd is expected to attend this rally than earlier ones at Hermleigh, Fluvanna, and Ira. Speeches will be limited to five minutes each.

Approximately 30 candidates spoke at each of the previous rallies, which began about 7:45 and were over about 10 o'clock.

WEATHER

EAST TEXAS AND SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Partly cloudy Thursday, Thursday night and Friday. Not much change in temperatures. Gentle to moderate southerly winds on the coast.

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy Thursday, Thursday night and Friday. Not much change in temperatures.

WEST TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy Thursday. Thursday night and Friday. Widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers west of Pecos Valley. No much change in temperatures.

Scurry Voting Places Open At 8, Close at 7 p.m. Saturday

You can't ride a donkey half a day Saturday and an elephant the rest of the day according to general interpretations of the new Texas Election Laws. This won't bother most voters in Scurry County, but some will be inconvenienced.

The county is writing a new chapter in history with the Republican party gaining strength here and showing it by holding party conventions.

GOP MEETINGS

Precinct conventions for election of delegates to the Republican county convention a week later will be held at or near the county's 20 polling places 30 minutes after the polls close Saturday night.

The primary election polls all over the county will open at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and close at 7 o'clock that night.

The Democratic precinct conventions will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at or near the polling places.

Some top legal minds around the state capitol say the new election code and a state penal law are clear in prohibiting a voter from voting in the Democratic primary and also voting in a Republican convention on the same day. A similar booby trap would be voting in precinct conventions of both parties. Some might find consolation, however, in not being prohibited from attending anything he wants to attend.

PAST FORGOTTEN

What you may have done politically before Saturday, however, doesn't have anything to do with it. That's the opinion of Democratic Executive Committee Secretary Weldon Hart. He says any pledge you may have taken lasts just as long as you and your conscience want it to last—no longer. He says courts have repeatedly said so.

Those who do vote in the primary Saturday will find the Election Code has preserved the old ballot form's secrecy feature adopted by the Legislature a few years ago. That's the system that tries to make sure no one finds out how you vote except the case of an election contest. You write your name on the numbered stub on the corner of your ballot, tear it off and drop it in the sealed box separate from the ballot box, disclosing the number to no one. Then it's your secret to keep or tell.

Forget to pay your poll tax? The new Election Code won't help you. It still says you can't vote without it.

You will have to decide which pasture you will graze in—and stay in it—in the method of marking your ballot. Some go to the polls chiefly to vote for candidates, others go to vote against them, and some do both. You don't have to stick to one or the other, but you do have to follow the same procedure throughout the marking of your ballot, and there are two ways to mark it.

SCRATCH OR 'X'

For the first time in Texas history, you may mark your ballot either by scratching out the names of candidates you do not wish to elect, or you may mark an X in the square beside the name of each candidate you vote for. Heretofore the first method was the only legally authorized method of balloting. It was criticized on grounds it was too easy to make a mistake and took more time than the second manner. Some opposed it on grounds it emphasized voting against candidates rather than voting for them.

So the last Legislature decided to let you have it whichever way it please you. But better stick to one method or the other to insure your vote being counted. The law doesn't approve check marks, encircled names or any other variation—just the X or the scratched-out name.

LAMMOT DU PONT

Lammot duPont Retired Head Of Firm, Dies

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 24 (AP)—Lammot du Pont, 71, one of three brothers who led the development of the modern E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., from a small black powder factory 50 years ago to one of the great chemical companies of the world, died today at a hospital here.

Dr. Edward Gipstein, heart specialist who attended Du Pont, said the industrialist had been ill "a month or so" at his summer home on Fisher's Island, N. Y., before entering the hospital July 11. Dr. Gipstein declined to say what the nature of Du Pont's illness was.

The youngest of three brothers who built up the mighty industrial domain, he was president of the company for 14 years. He headed it from 1926 to 1940, succeeding his brothers, Pierre and Irenee, in that position. From 1940 to 1948, he was chairman of the board. It was during that period the Du Pont company was called upon to use its scientific skills in helping to make A-bombs and Lammot shared in many of the important decisions.

Lammot was born near Wilmington, Del., Oct. 12, 1880, and was named for his father, who was the first American to build a dynamite plant. The father was killed in an explosion at the plant when Lammot was three years old.

Lammot followed his brothers to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology from which he was graduated in 1901. He went to work at the Du Pont company a year later and became general superintendent in the black powder department in 1913.

Lammot was elected a director and member of the executive committee in 1915 and in 1926 he took over the presidency upon Irenee's rsirman in 1948. He retired as board chairman in 1948.

DOYLE PARMER

Doyle Parmer Lists Items In Platform

"I believe in good roads and will continue to try to improve all roads in the precinct," Doyle Parmer said today in setting forth his platform for seeking re-election as commissioner of precinct No. 4. "I believe I am qualified to handle the job," he said.

Parmer's platform includes his promise to "co-operate in any way with anything that will help Scurry County.

"I advocate fair and just taxation. The need of the county must be met, but we should at all times be careful not to overburden some future generation with taxes.

"I believe in an honest and sensible approach to any problem that comes before the commissioners court," he said.

"I am serving my first elective term as your commissioner. There is no substitute for experience. I believe I can do a better job for the next two years."

The commissioner said he was thankful for the co-operation of the people in the past, adding that serving the people had been a pleasure for him. "I will appreciate your support, and if re-elected, I promise a fair, honest, and effecient administration."

Summary of Major Platform Points

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democratic party's 1952 platform in brief:

Civil rights — Favors federal legislation to wipe out racial discriminations. Declares co-operative efforts of state and local governments are required also.

Foreign policy — Promises to carry on the practical and successful policies developed under Roosevelt-Truman administrations. Sets a goal of "peace with honor."

National defense — Pledges the party to stand "unequivocally" for "strong, balanced" defense forces for this country — land, sea and air.

Inflation — Promises to strengthen controls which it says were weakened by action of Republican members of Congress.

Government spending — Pledges preservation of the financial strength of the government. Says "New Deal" and "Fair Deal" financial policies have given the nation its greatest prosperity in history.

Taxes — Promises reductions, especially for lower-incomes people, as rapidly as defense requirements permit. Opposes federal sales tax.

Agriculture — Endorses recent action of Congress boosting minimum price support levels for the next two years and promises price aid for commodities not now protected.

Labor — Advocates repeal of Taft-Hartley Act.

Small and independent business — Urges laws designed to provide "favorable incentives" to the establishment and survival of independent businesses, especially through tax incentives.

Natural resources — Promises "redoubled" action to conserve and develop natural resources, including development of river basins for flood control, irrigation and generation of power.

Atomic energy — Pledges promotion of nuclear energy for peaceful uses in the interest of America and mankind, and to build [illegible] weapons to defend this country and promote world peace.

Social security — Favors further strengthening of old age insurance, a stronger system of unemployment insurance and an improved program of aid to the blind, disabled and other less fortunate.

Medical care — Advocates a resolute attack on the "heavy financial hazard" of serious illness.

Housing — Pledges fulfillment of programs of private housing, public low-cost housing, slum clearance, urban redevelopment and farm housing authorized by Congress in 1949.

Education — Urges federal aid to state and local units for schools.

Veterans—Pledges improvements in benefits for veterans and their families.

Federal government — Pledges reorganization of federal agences wherever improvements can be made.

Alaska and Hawaii — Urges immediate statehood for both territories.

Kefauver Trying to Build Up Strength on Eve of Balloting

CHICAGO (AP)—A round of last-hour huddles with backers and potential backers of his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination occupied Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee today.

Sure of 263 votes when balloting begins tonight, the rangy Tennessean set out to build up his secondary strength.

His name will be sent before the convention by the governor of his home state, Gordon Browning, and one of the seconding speeches will be by Mayor John Hines of Boston. California is expected to yield its place in the roll call to Tennessee for the nominating speech.

Smarting from a setback given his ideas about the party platform, Kefauver was out to capitalize on the development.

He accused Texas' Sam Rayburn speaker of the House and permanent convention chairman, of having railroaded the platform to adoption without giving Kefauver backers a chance to offer a minority report.

Aides of the senator told newsmen the chairman failed to recognize a Tennessee delegate, Phil Whitaker of Chattanooga, for that purpose although the delegate was at the speakers' platform and had been talking with Rayburn.

Kefauver, who thinks the platform is okay as far as it goes but is inadequate on two issues, called Rayburn's action "arbitrary."

Kefauver, whose direction of the Senate's investigation of organized crime projected him into a nationally known personality, wanted the party to be more concrete in its recommendations on crime and corruption probes. He advocated the creation of a standing Senate-House committee to carry on inquiries, and the establishment of an independent commission to handle charges of corruption in government.

He also wanted the platform to include a plank advocating safeguards for the legal rights of witnesses called before congressional and other government investigating groups.

The latter, he said, would be "a blow against McCarthyism."

Civil Rights Plank Milder Than in 1948

CHICAGO (AP)—The civil rights plank in the Democratic platform this year does not include the paragraph which rebeling States Rights-ers found most objectionbale in 1948.

That paragraph said in part:

"We highly commend President Harry S. Truman for his courageous stand on the issue of civil rights. We call upon the Congress to support our President . . ."

The 1948 plank, at least in the eyes of the anti-Truman States Rights forces, committed the party to the specific civil rights bills advocated by the President.

Those measures would have provided a fair employment practices commission (FEPC), anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation and abolition of racal segregation in the armed forces.

The 1952 civil rights plank makes no mention of President Truman. It is longer and is preceded by a new section titled, "Improving Congressional Procedures.

That section, which deals with the filibuster used by Southern senators since 1948 to talk to death any civil rights measures they opposed, was a cause of concern to Southern delegations.

Here it is:

"In order that the will of the American people may be expressed upon all legislative proposals, we urged that action be taken at the beginning of the 83rd Congress to improve congressional procedures so that majority rule prevails and decisions can be made after reasonable debate without being blocked by a minority in either house."

Russell Manager Sees Victory In 10th Ballot; Others Doubt

CHICAGO — (AP) Sen. Richard Russell's campaign manager said today that Russell will win the Democratic presidential nomination on the 10th ballot.

But elsewhere there was general belief that the Southern fight on the convention floor during the last several days had "cooked Russell's goose."

Sen. Edwin Johnson told reporters that he expects Russell to get 275 votes on the first ballot and go on to win on the 10th. It takes 615½ votes to nominate.

The latest Associated Press tabulation of known first-ballot choices gives Russell 165½ votes.

Russell was being prominently mentioned for the vice presidential spot. But for every prediction along this line, Russell had a denial.

TOO YOUNG

He said he doesn't want to be vice president; he said he was "too young." He is 54. Vice President Alben Barkley is 74.

Russell's name will be the first to be put in nomination for President today. Johnson said the nominating speech will be made by Sen. Walter George of Georgia Russell's colleague.

Barkley had been asked by friends of Russell to make the speech but no word had been received from him and it was believed that he had decided to remain neutral in this respect.

The seconding speeches will be made by Sen. McCarran of Nevada, Mrs. Margaret Peyton Thompson, national commiteewoman of Bouder, Colo., and John Rice of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. Thompson seconded the nomination of President Truman in 1948.

Alabama will give way to Georgia for the purpose of nominating Russell, Johnson said.

1948 CONVENTION

The Georgia senator received 263 votes as the South's favorite son in 1948. Afterwards, he supported the Democratic ticket, refusing to go along with the Southern split which set up the States Rights party.

Russell watched last night's convention proceedings by television. He was jolted only once.

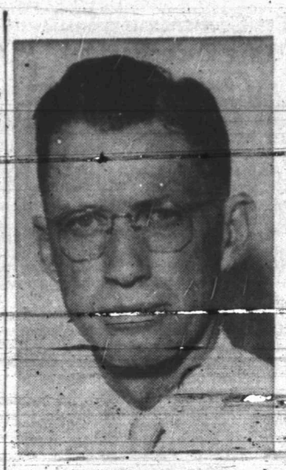

That was when David Charnay, an adviser on his public relations staff, visited Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the object of a booming draft movement.

Charnay is head of Allied Public Relations, Inc., of New York and Washington. He and Welly K. Hopkins, attorney for John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, spent about an hour with Stevenson.

When they emerged Hopkins told newsmen that he had called to "pay my respects." He did not elaborate.

The visit aroused speculation Charnay may have been sent by Russell to discuss the vice presidency in case Stevenson gets the nod, but the Georgia senator issued a statement saying:

"I had no knowledge of the intention of Mr. Charnay to visit Charnay is not authorized to speak for me politically or in any other capacity. I assume that Gov. Stevenson is fully aware of this fact."

CULLEN TOOMBS

Toombs For Speedy Road Development

Honesty and sincerity in dealing with the problems of the county head the pledges in the platform of Cullen H. Toombs, candidate for re - election as commissioner for precinct No. 2.

"I have served as your county commissioner for the past two years and am now seeking a second term," Toombs said. "I have to the best of my ability administered the duties of this office for the benefit of the precinct which I serve and for the county as a whole."

In pledging himself of "progress of the county as far as economically possible," Toombs said he favored "carrying out the wishes of the people in giving you the most for your tax dollar, seeing that money voted in bonds for improvement is spent as you desire and direct by your vote.

"Now that Scurry County is in a position to benefit from the wealth bestowed upon us, I believe that we should improve, wisely, economically, and for the benefit of all," he stated.

"All of the roads being improved in precinct No. 2 as a result of the road bond election are under contract. This will give the precinct 47 miles of paved roads which will be completed in the near future. Other roads in this precinct can be made all - weather roads, giving us one of the best road systems of any rural community in West Texas. It is my belief that all our primary rural roads should be improved as rapidly as possible.

"I appreciate the co-operation and advice the people have given me during the last two years," the commissioner said. "If you see fit to return me to this office, I will always welcome the advice and counsel of the people because this office belongs to you."

DON'T THINK IN THOSE TERMS'

Party Big-wigs Taught Barkley to Sing New Tune

CHICAGO, (AP)—Six Tumultuous days ago vivacious Jane Barkley arrived at her first Democratic convention with stars in her eyes and expectations of "great fun."

She said so at a news conference last Saturday, the day after she and her husband, Vice President Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, stepped off the train.

The welcoming crowd cheered and chanted "We Want Barkley." A band played "My Old Kentucky Home."

At the news conference, Jane Hadley Barkley was asked if "Veep" was going to win the Democratic presidential nomination he was seeking.

"Of course he is," she laughed merrily. "Haven't you all heard that?"

What about his age? Was 74 too old to be president? Such ideas are silly, she snapped. Why, she is only 40, she said, but has a hard time keeping up with him.

Today, Mrs. Barkley has been to her first convention. For her it had not been the great fun she expected. Her eyes were shining, but a cloud hid the stars.

The Veep, his candidacy opposed by delegates who said he is too old, had quit the contest.D eeply hurt, he had packed his bags but stayed his departure when a call came to address the convention.

Motorcycle police, sirens screaming, escorted them to the amphitheatre last night.

Delegates and galleryites rose from their seats. They cheered and chanted "We Want Barkley." The organ roared "My Old Kentucky Home."

Mrs. Barkley—in a black frock, a wide-brimmed white hat, a large bouquet of red roses in her arms—watched from a box high up and in back of the rostrum.

It was a great ovation—waving, prancing state placards, applause, songs. But it was not the kind of demonstration for which she had hoped.

It was a warm, heartfelt tribute to a beloved leader who had served long and well. It was farewell to a thoroughbred.

The eyes of the convention searched out Mrs. Barkley and watched to see how she took it. She kept smiling, but once, when her husband's oration captured full attention, she quickly wiped her eyes.

Then she was taken down to the platform to stand by her husband while the crowd cheered.

A reporter at last Saturday's news conference had asked what the Barkleys would do if he didn't win. She wasn't thinking in terms like that then. But she replied she would like to live in Paducah, Ky., the Veep's home. She didn't believe, however, that she would like it there the year 'round.

Jail Breakers Held for FBI

SHAMROCK, Tex., July 24 (AP)—Three men were held for the FBI today after their capture following an automobile chase at high speed by the nearby Oklahoma line.

The Kansas City FBI identified them as jail breakers there and gave their names as Joseph Nastasio, 25, Leo D. Welch, 20, and Glenn Mims, all of Kansas City.

Lee Trimble, Texola, Okla., tavern operator, suffered a broken rib in an accident during the 12-mile race.

He told officers he was awakened by a burglar alarm yesterday. He followed the car at speeds up to 100 miles an hour before crashing into another car the fleeing auto had sideswiped.

The three men were arrested afoot on a country road east of here after an eight-hour search by Jeff Herd of the Texas Highway Patrol and Sheriff George V. Dorman of Shamrock. The fugitives were unarmed.

L. V. Boardman, special agent in charge of the Kansas City FBI office, said the trio escaped from the Jackson County jail at Kansas City.

Uncle Sam Doing Better Than Stockholders in Most Firms

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—That tax squawk you hear may seem muffled by the Chicago convention hoopla this month. But it gets more painful every day as business reports on its financial health for the first half of the year.

Just how much better Uncle Sam is doing than the shareholders shows up today in the new earnings statement which reflect the full load of the higher taxes enacted by the Congress last October, as compared with lower payments a year ago.

Gwilym A. Price, president of Westinghouse Electric, says that two years ago, if it paid the government 40 cents, the company could set aside one dollar for dividends, debt retirement, expansion of plant and reserves. Today to keep one dollar, Westinghouse must earn two dollars more for the government.

Austin S. Igiehart, president of General Foods, reminds stockholders that in 1940 they got $2 a share in dividends and the tax collector got the equivalent of $1 a share. Today the shareholders are getting 40 cents a share more than in 1940, but the tax collector is getting $4.52 more a share.

Many other company statements this week show the tax bite. Some examples:

Pullman, Inc., in the first half of this year is paying income and excess profit taxes equal to $4.07 a share. Its net earning after taxes equal $2.22 a share.

National Gypsum's tax bill is $3,225,000, its net profit $1,861,993.

Hercules Powder sets aside $12,550,844 for taxes and reports it had $5,882,580 left.

No More Buttons Available At Stevenson Headquarters

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

CHICAGO (AP)—The people who helped whistle up the draft-Stevenson move find it's blown them clear out of campaign buttons.

A week ago they had 3,000 of them—big, shiny red, white and blue buttons saying, "America needs Stevenson for President."

Today: Not a one that isn't pinned to somebody.

No use asking the volunteer band that set out six months ago to win the top Democratic nomination for Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Their headquarters, on the 18th floor of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, is fresh out too.

"I'm just breathless," said Mrs. Barbara Simpson, a striking blue-eyed blonde. "We've been out of buttons since Tuesday. I wish those others we ordered would get here."

Another worker, Miss Mary Anderson, came in with two teenagers in tow, trailed by a photographer. The trio posed proudly displaying Stevenson buttons, and the flash-bulb popped.

"All right girls," called out Mrs. Simpson, "take them off and lock them up. That's the last three buttons."

Mr. Simpson is easy to interview. You just ask for a button and it's like pushing one — out comes the whole story:

"We're just rank amateurs here. I don't know what the political pros, or whatever you call them, Hall.

"All I know is we started here with one room, no money and no candidate. Now we've got seven rooms, more volunteers than we can use, donations coming in all the time and—even Gov. Stevenson is starting to sound like he would run."

The committee, she went on, got started last January in Chicago. Its co-chairmen are Walter Johnson, Chicago University professor, and George Overton, Chicago lawyer. It's called a national committee but most members are Illinoisans, like Mrs. Simpson.

"Actually," she whispered, "I come from a long line of Vermont Republicans."

The blue eyes sparkled when she added:

"I never was much for politics. I voted for Stevenson in '48. But if this thing works out, nobody will ever convince me democracy is endangered in this country."

NEW PTA UNIT OFFICERS

O. S. Clark, principal of the new East Elementary School, presided at the organizational meeting yesterday of the school's Parent-Teacher Association unit. Grouped around Mr. Clark, above, are members of the executive committee of the unit, who worked on the bylaws. From left are Mrs. Wilson McMennamy, publications chairman; Mrs. Amon Weaver, president; Mrs. F. F Keenan, treasurer; Mrs. G. Edward Bolger, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Garland Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bentley Baize, secretary, and Mrs. B. V. Gillean, seated, program chairman. (Staff photograph.)

Groundwork Laid for New PTA Unit at East School

Groundwork was laid yesterday for Snyder's newest Parent-Teacher Association unit when the East Elementary PTA's executive committee met to perfect bylaws.

O. S. Clark, school principal, presided at the committee meeting. Mrs. Amon Weaver, president of the unit, read the proposed bylaws.

Officers of the proposed East Elementary unit were elected in April at a joint meeting of the Primary and Central Elementary PTA units, Mrs. Weaver said. Mrs. J. J. Black, of Midland, district PTA executive, authorized the units to form the East Elementary group and elect officers, although the new school will not open until September.

Besides Mrs. Weaver, the executive committee is composed of the following women: Mrs. Garland Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bentley Baize, secretary; Mrs. F. F. Keenan, treasurer; Mrs. B. V. Gillean, program chairman; Mrs. Wilson McMennamy, publications chairman, and Mrs. G. Edward Bolger, hospitality chairman.

Tentative plans were made for a reception for teachers to be held in conjunction with an open house sometime early in the school year. Regular unit meetings, according to the locally approved bylaws, are scheduled for the second Wednesday in each month. The executive committee is to meet the morning preceding each regular unit meeting, the bylaws state.

READING METHODS

Plans for PTA book shelf to contain reference material for use by parents and teachers were discussed. Also in the planning stage is an early fall program to acquaint parents with reading methods used in the schools. Principal Clark said parents seem especially interested in the child's beginning reading.

A book review is tentatively planned for one of the fall programs. Committee members discussed the possibility of having one or more night meetings to enable fathers to attend.

Following the meeting, the women were taken on a tour of the new school, which will house grades one through six. Mrs. E. N. Baker, PTA city council president, was present at the meeting.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Mrs. R. J. RANDALS has been explaining to friends this week that her rodeo guests weren't Spaniards at all. Hre son, JIMMY RANDALS and two friends, Dan Priddy and Lewis Kincaid, are all members of the sheriff's posse in Tucumcari, Quay County, N.M. They were all sporting slick mustaches, required of posse members for a special summer rodeo event. The men's wives visited here, too.

JOHN WEAVER, young son of Mr. and Mrs. AMON WEAVER, 3106 Avenue, is telling about "the case of the well - traveled dog." This all came about Sunday when Mrs. Weaver's brother, John Moulton, flew here in his plane to take John to Midland for a visit. It was decided that Rip, the dog, should go along, so John Weaver, by this time a seasoned air traveler, packed the dog into the plane and the three took off. John came back alone yesterday and reported that the dog started shaking after the pilot climbed to 9,000 feet to avoid rough air.

John climbed back with Rip to comfort him and found that the shakes weren't from fright at all. The dog was freezing in the high altitude The landing strip in Midland came in view, and Rip soon defrosted in the sunshine.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. R H. CURNUTTE, 2306 Thirty-second Street, have been from far - flung parts of the globe. Lt. DON MAHLER, who flew here to see Mrs. Mahler and the new twins born July 11, returned Sunday to Westover Field, Mass. He will board a plane there to go to his station at Burton Wood Air Base, in England.

Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT H CURNUTTE and family of Bowie are visiting here now, and BOB ENFIELD of Roswell stopped by earlier in the week to visit his mother, Mrs. JACK YEAMAN, his grandmother, Mrs. Curnutte, and the other cousins, aunts and uncles.

Mr. and Mrs. SIMON BEST 300 Twenty - eighth Street, returned Monday from the resort territory two miles west of Port Isabel, on the Gulf of Mexico. They had gone to the sea breeze climate for hay fever relief, and Mr. Best says they found it. They stayed at a new lodge, which their friend, W. K. Humphrey of Cincinnati manages. During their stay they visited with Mr. and Mrs. CECIL HALL and daughters of Monte Alto, Tex., and Mrs. EDWARD THOMPSON, also of Monte Alto. The Halls and Mrs. Thompson are former Scurry County residents. The group visited Padre Island.

Mr. Best says valley cotton growers have about half the crop picked. Mr. Hall told him the crop wasn't as good this year as usual, which shows drouth-haunted West Texas isn't the only unlucky cotton country.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hardin of Childress have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell, Sr., Colorado City highway.

STRICKLAND SETS RECORD

Shirley Strickland (center) of Australia, clears the last hurdle as she powers her way to victory in preliminary heat of women's 80-meter hurdles at Helsinki. Her time of 11 seconds was a new Olympic record. In a later heat she set a new world mark and Olympic record by flashing to victory in the time of :10.8. Other hurdlers not identified.

14 Olympic Marks Broken in 5 Days

HELSINKI (AP)—Two more Olympic records were broken today, making it 14 in all in five days of track and field competition.

But for American athletes there was a compatively quiet interlude after yesterday's five-ring circus of record-wrecking.

HAMMER THROW

All three American "whales" qualified for the final of the hammer throw after Jossef Csermak of Hungary broke the Olympic record on his first toss.

But Henry Laskau of New York, America's best heel-and-toe performer, was disqualified in the trial heat of the 10,000-meter walk in which Bruno Junk of Russia set a new Olympic mark, and S. Price King Jr., Berkeley, Calif., failed to qualify for the final finishing dead last in his heat.

Csermak whirled the 16-pound hammer out 57.20 meter (187 feet, 8.02 inches) to shatter the Olympic record of 665 feet, 4.06 inches established in 1936 by Karl Hein of Germany.

Junk won his heat in the 10,000-meter walk in 45 minutes, 5.8 seconds. The former mark of 45:13.5 was set by John Mikaelsson of Sweden, who finished second to Junk and surpassed his old record.

In the hammer throw, Sam Felton of New York, one-time Harvard athlete, led the Americans with a heave of 166 feet, 9.63 inches. Martin Engel of New York did 164 feet, ¼ inch, and Bob Backus of New York, 161 feet, 11.73 inches. They were required only to throw 160 feet, 9.17 inches to qualify for the final this afternoon.

Laskau, a refugee from Nazi Germany and now a New York business man, was disconsolate after his disqualification for failing to keep one foot in contact with the ground.

But Coach Brutus Hamilton said he would not protest.

America's best prospect of winning a gold medal today appeared to be in the 110-meter hurdles, in which Harrison Dillard of Cleveland equaled the Olympic record yesterday. The idea of collecting medals was firmly implanted in the minds of the Americans by their startling one-two performance in the javelin throw yesterday.

"We don't mean to be rude," said Brutus Hamilton, the head U. S. coach, with a grin. "But the idea of taking every medal we can lay our hands on is sweeping the camp. Everybody wants to get into the act.

"Some of our fellows are just beginning to realize the medals don't go any deeper than third place (fourth, fifth and sixth get diplomas of merit but now that they've found out they are out to get them."

Despite the eagerness of the Americans to grab all of the silverware, they have met in the Russians a group of athletes just as proficient but in different sports. As a result the Russians held a 266½ to 202 total point lead over the U. S. today, thanks chiefly to the dominance of their gymnasts.

The United States may score some other unexpected victories in these games, which run through Aug. 3, but none of them will be more astonishing to the home folks here in Finland than the 1-2 success in the javelin yesterday.

Javelin throwing is a national sport here. They teach it to kids of 5 and 6. So you can imagine the feelings of the crowd of 70,000 when Cy Young, a 23-year-old, 6-foot-5 giant from Modesto, Calif., flung the spear to an Olympic record distance of 73.78 meters (242 feet .79 inches). And to add insult to injury along came Bill Miller of Phoenix, Ariz., to grab second place.

It was another record day all around in track and field—two world records bettered, five Olympic marks broken and two equaled.

Ferreira da Silva of Brazil bettered his own world record in the hop, step and jump.

Shirley Strickland of Australia bettered the world record in a heat of the women's 80-meter hurdles. Yvette Williams of New Zealand won the women's broad jump with an Olympic record.

Horace Ashenfelter of New York broke the Olympic mark in winning his heat of the 3,000-meter steeplechase. Harrison Dillard of Cleveland equaled the Olympic 110-meter hurdles record in a heat and Andy Stanfield of Jersey City equaled the 200-meters Olympic record in winning the final.

Here's how the rest of the show went yesterday:

Rowing—The United States' unbeaten heavyweight crew from the Naval Academy won the eight-oared final, and the pairs without coxswain from Rutgers won their event. Russia won the single sculls, Argentina the double sculls, France the pairs with coxswain, Czechoslovakia the fours with coxswain and Yugoslavia the fours swain and Yugoslavia the fours without.

Soccer — Sweden scored three times in the last 15 minutes to defeat Austria, 3-1 in the first second-round match.

Fencing—All of the Russians and all but one of the Americans were eliminated in the second round of the individual foils.

Yachting — The United States' Comanche led in the Star Class. Elizabeth X of Norway showed the way in the six-meter class, Hoywa of Sweden in the 5.5-meter class of the Pan of Norway in the Dragon Class.

Modern pentathlon — Hungary was ahead in team totals after three events with Sweden second and the United States third.

Wrestling — Bill Smith, Cedar Falls, Ia., won the welterweight title for the United States. Sweden, Turkey and Russia each won two gold medals and Japan one.

Gymnastics — Russians scored their expected sweep in the women's division, gaining 60½ points, including all 25 in the overall individual section.

Winners Are Really Losers

Two teams in the Snyder Fastball League lost, and at the same time won their games last night through a quirk of ball playing fate.

West Texas State Bank in the first game, and the Texas Co. in the second game were forced to forfeit the games to their opponents because not enough players for the former teams were there to fill a lineup.

Then using players borrowed from other teams, WTSB and the Texas Co. beat their opponents in games played to satisfy the fans gathered in the park.

Eddie Hight, pitcher borrowed from Pasotex by WTSB, pitched to a 16-4 victory over Pan American. The bankers made seven hits and committed two errors. The pipeliners had three hits and three errors.

In the second game, forfeited before it was started by the Texas Co., the oilers beat out the American Legion by a score of 4 to 1. The Texas Co. had two hits and one error. The Legion made one hit and two errors.

Potsi Neeper was the winner for the Texas Co., and Ted Masters was the Legion's losing pitcher.

In tonight's first game Diamond M plays Town & Country, and Sunray plays Pasotex in the second.

Little League Games Are Scheduled Tonight

After being idle last night for the mid-week rest given all teams in the Snyder Litle League teams resume tonight with the regular twin bill.

The Lions Cubs play the Optimist Cardinals in the 7 o'clock game, and the Quarterback Giants play the Kiwanis Braves in the closer.

Capital Stock of Oil Corporation Is Sold

HOUSTON, July 24 (AP)—Joe Zeppa of Tyler and Douglas Whitaker of Shreveport yesterday bought all the capital stock of the Sklar Oil Corporation for a reported three million dollars.

Sklar, a Shreveport firm, owns producing wells in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

Pittsburgh and Detroit Are Rushing to Early Elimination

Associated Press Sports Writer

The magic number now is 16 in Pittsburgh's wild dash toward the major league booby prize.

Any combination of 18 Pirate losses or Brooklyn wins will do the job. As the Pittsburgh lads (0-13 with Brooklyn play 11 more with the Dodgers, it shouldn't take too long.

It will take a deal of hustling by the Detroit Tigers to rob the Pirates of the "distinction" of becoming the first club to be eliminated mathematically from the race.

If the statistical department delves deep enough into the musty box scores of yesteryear, they may find a new record is in the offing. All available dope books show only the earliest flag clinching, not the earliest elimination.

After last night's loss to Philadelphia, 4-1, Pittsburgh rested 41 games behind Brooklyn with 59 to play. And this is only July 24.

Rookie Steve Ridzuk and ace Robin Roberts of the Phils teamed up on the Pirates with a five-hitter while Del Ennis blasted a two-run homer that doomed Bob Friend to his 15th defeat.

Brooklyn lost to a lefthanded starter for the first time all season, letting Harry Perkowski of Cincinnati go nine innings with a 10-hitter, 6-4. Homers by Joe Adcock, Andy Seminick and Bob Borkowski off Carl Erskine carried more weight than Billy Cox's two-run double and Gil Hodges' 19th homer with one on.

Because New York and St. Louis were idle, the Dodgers lost only a half game of their National League lead, now measuring seven games.

Bob Rush, making his eighth try for win No. 10 since June 13, finally succeeded in Boston, where the Chicago Cubs ripped into Max Surkont and three others for 13 hits and a 6-2 victory.

Just when the New York Yankees were ready to land a knockout blow on Cleveland, the Indians bounced back behind Bob Lemon to win, 7-3.

Lemon's first triumph over the Yanks this year was a fine six-hitter to hand rookie Tom Gorman his first setback. Al Rosen's 18th homer in the fifth put Cleveland ahead to stay. They nailed it down with a four-run burst in the seventh that floored Gorman.

Boston closed to within four games of the Yanks by blasting seven runs in the ninth inning at Chicago for a 10-4 decision. After chasing Hal Brown in the three-run first, the Red Sox were blanked by Joe Dobson, an old mate, until the ninth.

Washington remained in a challenging position, only six games back, by besting Detroit in 16 innings, 5-2. Singles by Pete Runnels and Mickey Vernon drove in three runs in the 16th after Cliff Mapes' homer tied the score for Detroit on the ninth.

Spec Shea pitched brilliant ball for 14 innings until he tired and gave way to Sandy Consuegra, the eventual winner.

Starter Alex Kellner and winer Bob Hooper held St. Louis to four hits as the Philadelphia A's handed the Browns their seventh straight defeat, 3-2.

Two Midland Youths Win in National Jr. Golf Tournament

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 24 (AP)—Tommy Jacobs of Montebello, Calif., the defending champion, won easily yesterday in the opening round of the National Junior Golf championships.

He eliminated Larry Corell of Salina, Kan., 6 and 4.

Texans winning includde Marcelino Moreno of Midland who defeated David Winchester of Madeira, Mo., 4 and 3, and Ray F. Leggett Jr. of Midland who beat Wendell Spragins, Memphis, Tex., 5 and 4.

Basketball All-Stater Takes Rice Scholarship

HOUSTON, July 24 (AP)—Six-foot, five-inch Mack Carter, the basketball All-Stater from Borger, will go to Rice Institute.

A Borger source said yesterday that Carter decided to accept a Rice athletic scholarship.

Steel Strike May Cut Production of B-36

FORT WORTH, July 24 (AP)—Production of the mighty B-36 will probably be cut back in September unless the steel strike is "settled shortly," officials at the Convair aircraft plant here said yesterday.

Delivery schedules this month and next month will be met, Convair said, but the plant "probably will not be able to meet them for the remainder of the year unless the steel strike is settled shortly."

The plant made the announcement after Adm. DeWitt C. Ramsey, President of the Aircraft Industries Association, said this week that a "grave and, perhaps, desperate crisis" was facing the aircraft industry because of the nationwide steel strike.

Giants' Owner Scotches Rumor He and Durocher Are Feuding

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There apparently is nothing to a widely circulated report that Leo Durocher has been feuding with his boss, President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants.

On the word of Garry Schumacher, who is Stoneham's right bower, the dandy little manager never stood stronger with the front office than he has since his league champions began falling behind the torrid pace set by Brooklyn.

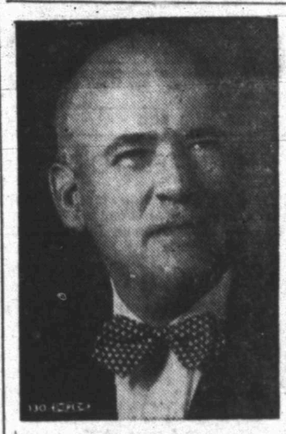

"Everyone in the Giants organization feels that Leo has been doing a hell of a job, everything considered," Schumacher said. During the recent Western trip he and Horace were in touch with each other every day by phone and there was never a disagreement on any point.

"How can anyone blame Durocher for what has happened to us? We lost our two best outfielders, Monte Irvin and Willie Mays. Our best pitcher, Sal Maglie, has won only one game in the last seven weeks. Larry Jansen hasn't been putting those strings of victories together the way he did in other years.

"In our opinion, Leo has done a wonderful job to stay in second place. It isn't what we've been doing—it's what those Dodgers have been doing to our second division clubs. It's pure murder.

"Between now and Aug. 17 those guys against us, nine against the Phillies and four against the St. Louis Cardinals. Let's see how they handle that little chore.

"What I honestly think is that the Dodgers either will win it by 20 games or they won't win it at all. Their manager, Charlie Dressen, has been in position to needle them about what happened to their big lead last year, and that has kept them bearing down.

Stone Age Rock Carvings Found Along African River

CASABLANCA, French Morocco — Ancient African rock carvings and implements that date from the Stone Age down to the time of Christ and a little later have been found on the River Draa, a quaint and tired stream that separates the Atlas Mountains from the Sahara Desert.

They show crudely formed camels, horses and antelopes, but most interesting are the carvings of men with spears and round shiels charging into battle astride horses.

Archaelogogists believe these to the latest carvings, made, perhaps from about 300 A. D. when a tribe of Phoenicians may have come in with new fighting techniques.

The River Draa empties into the Atlantic east of the Canary Islands, about 500 miles south of Casablanca. The drawings are in a mountain valley near the headwaters, 400 miles inland.

The valley where the drawings are found is itself a peculiar historical record of ancient peoples.

I went there with Marcel Reine, an engineer and amateur archaeologist, who was one of a party which previously had charted the drawings and reported them to the resident general of Morrocco on March 10. The report was prepared by Father Andre Glory, doctor of prehistory, formerly of the Universities of Toulouse and Strasbourg; Charles Allain, archaeologist attached to the Institute of Morroccan studies at Rabat, and Engineer Reine.

Reine believes the valley once was a great lake, formed by a volcanic dam which blocked the outlet. When it was at its highest level, Stone Age men moved down to the shore. Their grinding stones and stone cutting tools are still found on these anciet levels.

Gradually the lake seeped away. As it lowered through the centuries, the ancient families followed it. Part way down, on one of the plateaus or benches formed by the lake, burial mounds have been opened showing implements of the Bronze Age period.

Writer Art Rosett at the scene of his Stone Age discovery in Africa.

The drawings are scraped deeply into the flat surfaces of quartzite rock walls bordering the valley. Some of the older and cruder drawings of the earlier peoples have tumbled from above to form a queer contract with the better type of drawings of men on horses made by the later peoples.

In a report issued by the resident general, based on the official explorations, the Stone Age implements classified as from the Chellian epoch of the Old Stone Age. That is an early Stone Age period when a fine weapon was considered to be a rock held in the handn, or a rock attached to a stick. They hadn't got on to such refinements as bone daggers.

The later scratchings—showing men on horses and carrying spear and shields — perhaps date into Roman times.

With Reine, I left Zagora driving north on the road to Agdz. Reine pointed out ancient stone-covered burial grounds on the plateaus. He said that they had excavated one on a lower plateau last year, and discovered various implements from the Bronze Age. He showed me erosion marks on the hills where the waters had been receding over the centuries. He also pointed out volcanic rock.

In a pass between two wings of the plateaus we found drawings—quaint, delicate figures etched with infinite patience into the hard quartzite rocks.

Figures on the bottom rocks represented camels, horses, scorpions, snakes and shield-bearing warriors mounted astride horses in combat.

Sometimes the carvings had a certain sequence, as if a story were being told. Reine was of the opinion that these were done by a tribe of Phoenician origin during the Third Century.

With these were crude symbols of some half-formed script. They have not been deciphered.

DEMONSTRATION FOR ELEANOR

Delegates mass their state banners in front of the speaker's podium as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt waited for applause and demonstration to die down so she could begin her speech to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. The ovation lasted 15 minutes.

Dixie Delegates Stay Hitched As Party Adopts '52 Platform

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats pledged prosperity, peace and progress to the nation's voters today in a platform that avoided past party feuds over "civil rights."

A quick decision by Chairman Sam Rayburn, after a mixed shout of yea and no votes, put the national convention's official approval on the new campaign document early this morning.

SOUTH VOTES NO

Delegates from Georgia and Mississippi asked to be recorded as voting "No," and one from Tennessee objected to the platform's lack of a congressional crime investigating committee plank.

But skillful maneuvers by Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, platform chairman, and National Committee Chairman Frank McKinney produced a fair sample of party harmony.

The shouted adoption, after McCormack had read the nearly 100,000 words to tired delegates, was sweet music to party leaders who feared a repetition of 1948.

In that year a bitter floor battle for a stronger racial relations plank split the party wide open, and in the November election four Southern states were absent from the Democratic column.

Aiding in the unity effort this time were Sen. John Sparkmann of Alabama, for Southerners, and Philip B. Perlman, who recently resigned as solicitor general.

Curiously, both Dixie delegates, who insist that states and communities can best handle racial problems, and Northerners, who want strong federal action, are claiming victory.

AMBIGUITY

The answer is that the same words and phrases if handled skillfully, mean different things to different people.

Northerners such as Sens. Lehman of New York, Humphrey of Minnesota and Benton of Connecticut claimed the new plank was much stronger than 1948's.

Southerners such as Sens. Sparkmann, Holland of Florida and Willis Smith of North Carolina said parts of the plank went a bit too far but they preferred party harmony to a fight.

Actually the compromise was settled in two separate sections of the platform.

Northerners had insisted on a plank demanding an end to Senate filibusters that often have killed off civil rights and other bills.

Instead they got a broadly worded plank calling for improvement of "congressional procedures so that the majority rule prevails and decisions can be made after reasonable debate without being blocked by a minority in either house."

RACIAL PLANK

"We will continue our efforts to eradicate discrimination based on race, religion or national origin," the civil rights secton stated after calling for equal opportunities for voting, education, economic advancement and living conditions.

"We know this task requires action but in all sections," it Continued in a style pleasing to Southerners. "It requires the co-operative effort of individual citizens and action by state and local governments."

Northerners liked the next phrases:

"It also requires federal action.

"We favor federal legislation effectively to secure these rights to everyone: (1) the right to equal opportunity for employment; (2) the right to security of persons; (3) the right to full and equal participation in the nation's political life, fre efrom arbitrary restraints.

"We also favor legislation to perfect existing federal civil rights statutes and to strengthen the administrative machinery for the protection of civil rights."

Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, hailed the plank as "a signal victory for the forces of liberalism in the party," although he conceded it "does not pinpoint the issues." His statement added:

"For the first time a major party has asserted it will undertake the task of curbing the filibuster and removing the roadblock of the rules committee in the House. The sincerity of this declaration by the Democratic party will be tested early in the 83rd Congress."

PRIDE IN PAST

Other planks in the long platform caused no serious trouble.

They looked back with pride over 20 years of Democratic administration under the "New" and "Fair" Deals.

"Our country has moved steadily along the road which has led the United States of America to world leadership in the cause of freedom," one said. "We will not retreat one inch along that road."

Republicans were flayed repeatedly as the Democrats listed their policies for business, farmers, labor, veterans, aged persons and a score of other population segments.

Even GOP platform criticism of corruption and communism in government drew replies.

The Democrats said the party "has been alert to the corroding and demoralizing effects of dishonesty and disloyalty in the public service," and added:

"It has exposed and punished those who would corrupt the integrity of the public service."

EXPOSED CORRUPTION

President Truman's loyalty program was said to have kept out "subversive elements" and at the same time protected "honest and loyal public servants against unfounded and malicious attacks."

Democratic foreign policies were applauded with special sections aimed at nationals in this country from Poland, Eastern Europe, Germany and many other areas.

Tax reductions were promised "as rapidly as defense requirements permit" and "especially for people with lower incomes."

The Democrats even used the "free enterprise" phrase of which Republicans are so fond, saying:

"The free enterprise system has flourished and prospered in America during these last 20 years as never before."

British Plane Crashes And Burns in France

PITHIVIERS, France (AP) — A four-engined British military plane with 60 passengers and crewmen aboard crashed and exploded in flames near here last night but only one person was seriously hurt. Three others received slight injuries.

The craft, carrying 54 military passengers and a crew of six, was bound from London to Egypt. It crashed when a propeller broke.

The plane burst into flames as it drove into the ground but the passengers and crew were able to leap to safety.

Man Injured in Wreck Near Plainview Dies

PLAINVIEW, July 24 (AP)—William B. Neal, 55, of Portland, Tex., died Tuesday of injuries received in a traffic accident in which his infant granddaughter was killed.

Neal's wife and son, Calvin Neal, were in critical condition after the Monday car accident near here. Five-month-old Mary Katherine Neal died soon after the car collided with another one in which four airmen were passengers.

The servicemen, all from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock, escaped injury.

End of Lush Era -- Americans Now Pay High Prices in Japan

TYKYO (AP)—Japan's independence hit Americans in Tokyo right in the pocketbook.

In the seven years of occupation, most Americans living in Japan enjoyed the privilege of buying cheap and renting cheap from the U. S. Army.

Came Japan's day of independence on April 28 and there was a big change in their way of living.

Civilians had to move out of low-rent Army housing centers. Japanese landlords are asking $286 for a home or apartment worth $75 a month in the United States.

And the utility bills! One U. S. Embassy official calls them "ferocious". Utilities can run $150 a month.

Civilians lost the right to use military script to buy tax-free goods at Army post exchanges commissaries, whisky warehouses and gasoline stations with the end of the occupation.

Civilians had to turn in membership cards at Army-run clubs where for $1.50 to $2.50 they had been able to eat a steak dinner, dance and watch a floorshow.

Plush seaside and mountain resorts run by the Army closed their doors to most civilians. This ended an era of holidays at spas and country clubs costing 50 cents a night with meals at 40 cents. Many resort hotels went back to Japanese, who in the old days charged $25 a day for lodging and $8 for dinner.

To get a telephone installed in Japan you have to plunk down $100 in cash and wait—usually a long time

As for food, Americans have to buy either specially-grown or imported food because of the danger of disease from Japanese vegetables. Just to give you an idea, salad for two costs an American a dollar.

Many Americans also became subject to Japanese taxes. Income taxes run up to 55 per cent on small salaries.

The change affects wide groups of American civilians — traders business and professional men, missionaries, civilians working for the Department of the Army, correspondents and U. S. State Department employes.

Housing is the worst headache. U. S. bombers all but leveled Tokyo during the war. While the city is rebuilding rapidly, there still is a critical housing shortage.

The Japanese don't go for central heating. They put a pot of coals in the middle of the room and are satisfied. Freezing Americans install gas heaters in every corner and still their teeth rattle. Gas costs plenty in Japan too.

State Department employes sent to Japan on temporary duty have rough going. They get $6 a day for living expenses, a rate set in the by-gone days of free Army billeting. You can imagine how far $6 goes now.

Closing the famed six-floor Army post exchange on Ginza Street to civilians was a big blow to many Americans. There they could buy, tax free, anything from American soap flakes to Japanese curios, from frying pans to perfume, from minks to golf clubs.

At the whisky warehouse they could buy tax-free whisky by the case.

Those days are gone forever.

Workmen Find Bone In Mine Where Dog Has Kept Long Vigil

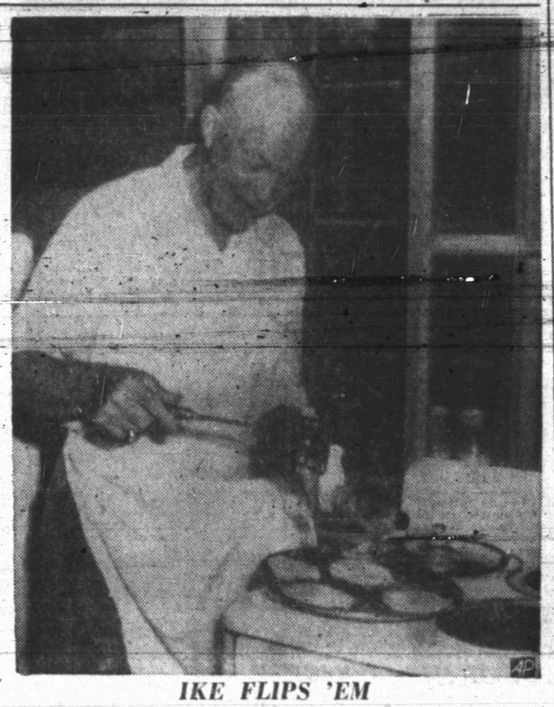

SPRING CITY, Mo. (AP)—Workmen finally reached the bottom of an abandoned mine where a collie dog has kept a 25-day vigil and found nothing — except a small bone.

The animal had maintained a watch at the mouth of the shaft since last month, refusing to leave.

Residents of this southwest Missouri community speculated that the dog's owner might have tumbled into the mine. The dog is a stranger in the neighborhood.

Volunteers spent the past week pumping out the flooded mine. Thousands of persons visited the scene, curious over what might be found.

Last night miners Ted Hymer and Oscar Uber were lowered down the shaft. After a thorough search at the bottom of the pit, they reported they found nothing — except the small bone.

IKE FLIPS 'EM

Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, cooked a breakfast of flapjacks and bacon for three GOP leaders at his mountain vacation retreat at Fraser, Colo. Newspaper correspondents also enjoyed the general's cooking. Making the 72-mile trip from Denver were Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania; Ralph Cake, Oregon national committeeman; Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado and Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post.

Announcer Takes Cold, Comes Down off Pole

FORT WORTH, July 24 (AP)—After 79 days of flagpole sitting, radio announcer Barry Lloyd was forced to give up his try at a new world record yesterday because of a cold.

Aiming at the 124-day record for that high occupation, Lloyd had been aloft over the Fort Worth baseball park since May 5. He had resolved to stay there until the local team clinched their berth in the Texas League playoffs.

287 Rams Sold At Angelo Sheep Sale

SAN ANGELO, July 24 (AP)—Some 287 rams sold in the 16th annual San Angelo Rambouillet Sale here brought an average of $96.25 a head yesterday.

The top price paid was $720 for a ram bought by the Utah State Agricultural College from Leo Richardson of Iraan. Seven top stud rams averaged $481 a head.

NORTH-SOUTH MEN DISAGREE

Gov. G. Mennen Williams (left) of Michigan has a long arm pushed toward him by a Florida delegate, Joe E. Jenkins of Gainesville (glasses on forehead), during a word-for-word session under the Florida banner on the floor of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. The argument centered around the party's disputs over the rule requiring a loyalty pledge.

GOP for States Rights, But Democrats for Federal FEPC

CHICAGO (AP)—Here is a comparison of key planks in the 1952 Democratic and the 1952 Republican platforms:

Civil rights:

Democratic—"We favor federal legislation effectively to secure these rights to everyone: (1) the right to equal opportunity for employment; (2) the right to security of persons; (3) the right to full and equal participation in the nation's political life. . . . We urge that action be taken at the beginning of the 83rd Congress to improve congressional procedures so that majority rule prevails and decisions can be made after reasonable debate without being blocked by a minority in either house."

Republican—"We believe that it is the primary responsibility of each state to order and control its own domestic institutions, and this power, reserve to the states, is essential to the maintenance of our federal republic. However, we believe that the federal government should take supplemental action within its constitutional jurisdiction against race, religion or national origin ... We will prove our good faith by . . . enacting federal legislation to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory employment practices. Federal action should not duplicate state efforts to end such practices; should not set up another huge bureaucracy."

Foreign policy:

Democratic—"We pledge our unremitting efforts to avert another world war. . . . We will continue our efforts to strengthen the United Nations. . . . We reject the ridiculous notion of those who would have the United States face the aggressors alone."

Republican—"The present administration, in seven years, has squandered the unprecedented power and prestige which were ours at the close of World War II ... We shall encourage and aid the development of collective security forces. . . . We shall support the United Nations. . . . We shall always measure our foreign commitments so that they can be borne without endangering the economic health or sound finances of the United States."

National defense:

Democratic — "The Democratic party will continue to stand unequivocally for strong, balanced defense forces for this country—land, sea and air. . . . We reject the defeatist view of those who say we cannot afford the expense and effort necessary to defend ourselves."

Republican—"We should develop op with utmost speed a force in being, as distinguished from paper plans, of such power as to deter sudden attack or promptly and decisively defeat it. This defense against sudden attack requires the quickest possible development of . . . air power and the simultaneous readiness of co-ordinated air, land and sea forces."

Labor:

Democratic—"We strongly advocate the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act ... (It) has been proved to be inadequate, unworkable and unfair."

Republican—"We favor the retention of the Taft-Hartley Act . . . (but with) such amendments . . . as time and experience show to be desirable."

Agriculture:

Democratic—"We will continue to protect the producers of basic agricultural commodities under the terms of a mandatory price support program at not less than 90 per cent of parity."

Republican—"We favor a farm program aimed at full parity prices for all farm products in the market place."

Tax reduction:

Democratic—"As rapidly as defense requirements permit, we favor reducing taxes, especially for people with lower incomes. But we will not imperil our nation's security by making reckless promises to reduce taxes."

Republican—"We advocate . . . reduction of expenditures by the elimination of waste and extravagance so that the budget will be balanced and a general tax reduction can be made."

Subversives in government:

Democratic—"The loyalty program of President Truman has served effectively to prevent infiltration by subversive elements and to protect honest and loyal public servants against unfounded and malicious attacks."

Republican — "By the administration's appeasement of commnism at home and abroad, it has permitted Communists and their fellow travelers to serve in many key agencies and to infiltrate our American life. . . . We pledge fair but vigorous enforcement of laws to safeguard our country from subversion and disloyalty."

High Support, Extension To Perishables, in Demo Platform

CHICAGO (AP)—Democrats were out after the 1952 farm vote today with an offer of a broadened program protecting agricultural prices against declines.

Price supports or floors, now propping the basic crops of corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, would be extended to perishable commodities, such as livestock, dairy and poultry products.

A farm plank adopted by the party's national convention last night abandoned a flexible price support program—at least through 1954—endorsed in the Democratic platform four years ago.

HIGHER PRICES

Instead it applauded recent action of Congress in boosting supports to a higher level than otherwise might have prevailed during the next two years.

That congressional action requires the government to support prices of the basic crops at not less than 90 per cent of parity until 1955. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

The Republican convention two weeks ago adopted a farm plank that promised price supports at "whatever level is necessary" to maintain balanced production. This has been interpreted by some farm leaders as an endorsement of the flexible system dropped for the time being by the Democrats.

Under the flexible system, price supports could range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. President Truman's administration has criticized this system, contending it offers farmers the least protection when they might need it most.

The Republican plank said however, that it would aim at full-parity farm prices at the marketplace. But it did not say how it would seek to achieve such a goal.

NO BRANNAN NAME

The Democrats did not mention by name a controversial farm plan advanced by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan in 1949. But some of its major objectives were, in effect, endorsed. The Brannan plan called for high, rigid supports and for extension of price aid to perishable crops through use of government subsidies.

The new plank made no mention of subsidies. It merely stated the party would seek "practical methods" for supporting the perishables, which it said account for three-fourths of all farm income.

Patting Roosevelt—Truman farm programs on the back, the platform said farm income had been increased from less than two billion dollars to almost 15 billion under their operation.

The platform pledged retention of controls to curb farm output when surpluses develop. Republicans asserted these programs pose a threatened "regimentation" of farmers.

Texas Polio Cases Pushing Near Record

By The Associated Press

Continued polio ravages that pushed last week's incidence to near-record levels had a prediction Thursday from State Health Officer George W. Cox that the number of Texas cases in 1952 would exceed 3,000.

The record polio years of 1950 recorded 2,778 cases of the disease in Texas.

The State Health Department recorded 243 new cases of the mystery malady for the week ending July 19 with 53 of them reported stricken Harris County.

SECOND WORST WEEK

The week's cases were second only to the week ending July 12, when 286 cases were reported by the State Health Department.

San Antonio, Bexar County, lacked but two cases for the disease to reach epidemic stage there. Epidemic stage will be reached when the county has 86 cases, officials said. Already 84 cases, with five deaths, have been reported compared with 27 cases and one death a year ago at this time.

The 84 San Antonio cases included three new cases and one confirmation Wednesday.

Harris County's 53 new cases last week brought its 1952 totals to 264 Houston cases, with eight deaths; 175 county cases with seven deaths; and 152 non-county cases with six deaths.

FIFTH DEATH

A 17-year-old Brownwood youth, Kenneth Dale Hilliard, died of the disease Wednesday in Fort Worth. His death was the fifth polio fatality of the year in Fort Worth's City-County Hospital where about two score cases are under treatment.

One of the two new Houston cases Wednesday was radio announcer Luke Hill of Station KCOH. Hill, whose five-year-old daughter was stricken with the disease last week, had been reporting polio statistics over his station.

FOR CALIFORNIA JULEP, CRUSH SPRIG OF MINT WITH SUGAR IN A TALL GLASS OF LEMON JUICE
. . . sliced oranges and lemons, cinnamon and mint give it life and color
. . . variety of garnishes provides cool ideas for warm days

Juleps, Citrus Frostees Among Summer Refreshment Ideas

Hot summer weather brings calls from the whole family for something cool to drink! Youngsters beg for a thirst-quencher after play, Dad for an after-work-cooler, and the hostess for a refreshing beverage to serve guests who drop in.

More then something with which to cool off, summer coolers can pep up limp appetities, and provide needed nutrition and energy, too. All add up to a good old-fashioned summer with plenty of lawn and porch sitting.

Lemonade

Just plain lemonade is an all-time favorite and easy to make. Many homemakers keep a mix on hand all the time so they can whip up a drink in a jiffy. To make the mix, squeeze 2 cups of fresh lemon juice, add 4 teaspoons grated lemon peel, and 1½ cups sugar. Keep this mixture in a covered glass jar in the refrigerator until ready to serve. Then pour ¼ cup of the syrup into each tall glass, add ice cubes and fill with water.

In case she's forgotten the standard proportions for lemonade, the cook will need ½ cup fresh lemon juice, ½ cup sugar and 4 cups water for 4 very tall or 6 medium glasses. Squeeze the lemon juice, mix with sugar and stir until dissolved. Add water and pour into large ice-filled glasses. Garnish with lemon slices.

California Julep

For a California Julep, crush a sprig of mint (about 10 leaves on each sprig) with two tablespoons of sugar in a tall glass. This is e sy to do with the back of a teaspoon. Add two tablespoons of fresh lemon juice (about one lemon) and stir until sugar is almost dissolved. Pour in one cup of cold water and fill glass with ice cubes. Use lemon slices and sprigs of mint for garnish.

To make a 2-quart pitcher of California julep, use ¾ cup sugar, ¾ cup fresh lemon juice, about six sprigs of mint, six cups water and ice cubes. Garnish with sprigs of mint and lemon slices.

Citrus Frostee

The hostess' popularity will rise with the summer heat when she serves tall citrus frostees. Designed to "beat the heat," they will make scorching days seem less hot. Just one look at the refreshment, and the weather will seem 10 degrees cooler.

The frothy topping is made from fruit sherbet. All the hostess needs is to pour orange juice into each glass—leaving space for topping. Then just before serving, she tops each glass with a generous scoop of sherbet, adds a couple of straws to each glass and serves.

Sherbet Topping

Boil ¾ cup sugar and ½ cup water for 5 minutes. Slowly pour mixture over 1 slightly-beaten egg white, beating until stiff. Mix 1 cup pureed apricots and one-third cup lemon juice together. Fold these fruits into egg white mixture. Pour into freezer tray and freeze until mushy. Stir, whip, freezing. Use as a topping for citrus frostees.

For the "frosty" look, dip rim of glasses in lemon juice, then powdered sugar. Chill the glasses, right side up, until edges become frosted. Fill with lemonade or orangeade.

Lemonade will have a party air with fancy ice cubes. When making cubes, fill ice tray one-third full of water, but twist of lemon peel or maraschino cherry in each section and freeze. Fill with water and continue freezing.

The old-fashioned recipe may be varied by adding strawberry, raspberry or cherry juice. This makes a colorful beverage that's a special favorite for the kiddies.

Iced Tea Time

Ice tea time sounds the call of the seashore, the lake, the woods or the mountains. It's a time for eating out-of-doors, but the family does not have to take to the open road to enjoy it. Luncheon or dinner under the tree on the lawn can be just as adventuresome. A hot day, a meal in a shady spot and a tall glass of the cool, refreshing beverage just seem to belong together.

And the hostess had better make her iced tea in pitcherfuls, for the family will want to drink it before during and after eating — all day and all evening long.

Besides being cool and refreshing, iced tea offers a boon to the women with an eye on the budget and her figure. It's the cheapest beverage, with the exception of water, and has less calories, too.

To bring out the best iced tea flavor, and to make it seem more refreshing, serve with thick wedges of lemon. Wedges are easier to squeeze then thin slices, and there's more juice that way.

For Two or 20

There's music in the tinkle of ice cubes of frozen fruit juice bobbling in glasses of aromatic tea. Sliced oranges and lemons, cinnamon sticks and mint give it life and color, and a slivery, long handled spoon stirs those fragrant seasonings right into the drink. For a mid-afternoon treat, iced tea and chilled sandwiches of cheese and watercress, and small cookies take the edge off hunger and still leave room for dinner on the porch or patio.

Impromptu calls for drinks present no problem to the hostess whose pantry and refrigerator are well-stocked with the "makings" of the finished product. Included chilled and ready for use, should be bottles of ginger ale and sparkling water, but almost any fruit juice will do. There is no end to drinks she can concoct with these supplies on hand.

Here is a quickly made drink using canned tangerine juice.

Tangerine Tango

½ cup tangerine juice
Juice of ½ lime
1 teaspoon powdered sugar
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine tangerine juice, lime juice and powdered sugar in a tall glass. Fill glass with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Well chilled, ginger ale mixes well with almost any fruit juice. Combined with a scoop of ice cream, it makes a delicious treat. This is a drink for an afternoon party.

Five O'Clock Cooler

2 cups tea
¼ cup mint jelly
¼ cup sugar
1½ cups grapefruit juice, sweetened.
Green food coloring
Ginger ale
Fresh mint

Pour hot tea over jelly and sugar; stir until dissolved. Add grapefruit juice, green food coloring and chill. Divide among 8 tall glasses. Add ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix. Top each with a spray of mint.

A nice drink is made by adding two drops of aromatic bitters to a glass of ginger ale, and garnishing with an orange slice, or a cherry

Miami Seaspray

2 limes, juice
1 orange, juice
Green food coloring
4 tablespoons sugar syrup
Ginger ale

Combine lime juice, orange juice and sugar syrup. Add a few drops of green food coloring. Divide among 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold ginger ale.

To make cooling pineapple juice sodas, put dips or spoonfuls of vanilla ice cream into large glasses and pour in icy cold canned Hawaiian pineapple juice to fill up the glass. Add a gay striped straw and a sprig of mint for a colorful garnish, and the soda is ready.

TANGERINE JUICE, LIME, AND GINGER ALE MAKE ZESTY TANGERINE TANGO
. . . almost any fruit juice blends with ginger ale and sparkling water

Beckworth States Platform In His Race for U. S. Senate

(Editor's Note: Texas' new U. S. senator will be called upon to take part in important decisions affecting our nation's relations with the world. To give the three U. S. senatorial candidates in Saturday's Democratic primary election an opportunity to get their views before Texas citizens, the Associated Press asked each to prepare a statement of their foreign policy. Today's is the third and last of the foreign policy statements.)

By LINDLEY BECKWORTH
Candidate for the U. S. Senate

Because my attendance and voting record for 14 years in Congress is more than 90 per cent, the people of Texas can have little doubt as to how I have stood on foreign questions. I have two boys and two girls and know the future of each as well as the future of all the people of Texas and our nation will be influenced one way or the other by what is done to bring about an enduring peace.

Issue Number one before our nation is aggression. Objective Number one can be best attained by strengthening and keeping strong our country. For 14 years I have voted for every measure which has been before the House to strengthen and keep strong our country. For example, 51 days after I became a member of Congress in January, 1939, I voted to fortify Guam when the issue lost. Three years later, after Pearl Harbor, this vote was highly praised. The Guam vote is typical of my efforts to strengthen and keep strong America.

Will Do What Necessary

Our nation will do—and I favor this—whatever is necessary to win the struggle in Korea. Our nation will do, as it did in World Wars I and II, whatever is necessary to win any struggle in which it becomes involved—and I favor this, too. With reference to the Korean effort in an atomic age as the one in which we live, there is a question of timing somewhat similar to the question of timing of the second front in Europe in World War II. It was never a question of whether we would establish the second front; it was a question of when. I feel this is applicable to the Korean struggle and the overall struggle in Asia. It is hoped that by stopping the aggression in Korea the Communistic leaders will know that the people of the fredeom loving nations of the world have in mind the definite purpose to stop in its tracks Communistic aggression wherever it develops. In the meantime, we are strengthening ourselves rapidly which I favor in order to meet any eventuality.

While I have been in Congress 14 years, I have voted my convictions on foreign policy legislation and all other legislation. No one has compelled me to vote as I Turkish loan, the Marshall Plan, the United Nations, the aid which was given Chiang Kai-Shek, and as I have said, all efforts which have been before the House to bring about an enduring peace. It is true the aid we have given Asia and Europe has been costly. America is the leading nation of the world. We have to accept the responsibility of this position. As we undertake to help, within reasonable limits, freedom loving people in the future, which I have favored, we must be sure they are demonstrating sufficiently their desire to help themselves.

Our Ability a Factor

Furthermore, the extent to which we endeavor to help freedom loving people must be determined by our ability to help. In helping freedom loving people, as in the past, we are helping ourselves. When I am elected United States senator, as in the past, I shall vote my convictions on foreign policy legislation and all legislation. I am not obligated as I never have been to vote other than my convictions. Permit me to give one example. Not long ago, I was handling in the House—quite sometime before I was a candidate for the United States Senate—a bill to help our former prisoners of war. A prominent Republican member of Congress arose on the floor to tell me the secretary of state and the State Department opposed the bill I was sponsoring on the floor of the House. I replied, as the Congressional Record will show, that this made no difference to me, for, in my opinion, the bill was a good bill. I passed the bill on the floor of the House and it became and is the law today. This is illustrative of my voting my convictions. I can assure the people of Texas that this same independence will characterize my votes and positions on foreign policies and other legislation too.

The efforts our nation had made to bring about peace, though they have been costly, are much more economical than an all-out third World War would have been or would be. I feel our nation has been justified in making these efforts. As long as we honorably can work to bring about world peace, we should do so. As we work, however, we must continue to strengthen and keep strong our country. We must go as far as we reasonship of those who are friendly with shii of those who are friendly with us and to demonstrate as we have our attitude of fairness and reasonableness toward all people. Emphasis certainly should be placed on maintaining the friendship of the people of the Western Hemisphere and strengthening the countries of the Western Hemisphere. We must never appease an aggressor whoever and wherever he is. My votes on foreign policy legislation show I have never cast an appeasement vote. I don't expect to cast an appeasement vote in the future. I have never bowed to the pressure of the moment. I have abided by the principles of the ages. One of these principles is that for a nation to survive, it must be strong enough at all times to overcome the attacks of a bully or aggressor nation. America, in my opinion is in a position to do this today and will be in a position at all times in the future, wth the help and guidance of God, to do this.

Convention Hall Filled For Barkley's Speech

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Alben Barkley drew the first full house of the two national conventions last night.

For the first time since the big political rallies began, every one of the 14,000 seats in Convention Hall was occupied for Barkley's speech. Late arrivals were turned away at the gates.

Democratic convention officials on Tuesday adopted a policy of admitting the general public to take seats not claimed by ticketholders.

Southern Delegates Didn't Get the Name

CHICAGO (AP)—The name of Robert E. Lee went uncheered at last night's session of the Democratic convention.

Reason: The hall was so noisy when Permanent Chairman Sam Rayburn mentioned the Confederate hero's name that Southern delegates didn't hear it.

Crumbled 'Veep' Boom Leaves Wreckage of Broken Promises

CHICAGO (AP)—Union labor ranks were ripped apart yesterday by angry and bitter discord over the sudden dumping of Vice President Alben Barkley as a Democratic presidential candidate.

John L. Lewis, the busy-browed leader of the United Mine Workers, was in a towering rage against CIO and AFL leaders whom he accused of "small-time political intrigue" with some Democratic presidential hopefuls to chop down the Kentuckian, a long-time friend of labor.

BENEATH SURFACE

But this Lewis anger was only part of a story of backstage maneuvers, political coalitions and divisions which have been boiling beneath the surface of this 31st Democratic National Convention.

And it was, in part at least, the story of the struggle between Democratic factions to name the party nominee.

The lid was blown off Tuesday when Lewis scornfully accused union leaders Walter Reuther, George Harrison and Jack Kroll of intrigue to torpedo Barkley on the issue of age. Barkley is 74—just two years older than Lewis.

"The self - anointed political leaders of labor who took it upon themselves to attempt to disqualify him (Barkley) from the presidency by reason of his age obviously were engaged in a small-time political intrigue with other candidates," Lewis said.

Reuther is president of the United Auto Workers and vice president of the CIO. Harrison is a member of the Executive Council of the AFL and president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. Kroll is director of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

BREAKFAST PARLEY

These three were among the group of labor leaders who had breakfast with Barkley Monday morning. They informed him they could not support him because of his age. A few hours later, the vice president—deeply hurt and angry—withdrew from the race.

Lewis said in part in his statement dictated from Washington:

"Vice President Barkley has always been a friend of organized labor. He has led a distinguished career, deserving of the eternal gratitude of every man in America who works for a living as well as all other citizens . . .

This Lewis blast highlighted the struggle for the Democratic presidential nomination in which Gov Adlai Stevenson of Illinois now appears to be the front-runner despite his avowed reluctance to enter the contest.

And it served to uncover these other reports

1. That Barkley came to the convention with some reason to believe that he was the favorite of President Truman and those around him.

2. That Reuther, Harrison, Kroll and some other union leaders were working closely with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Averell Harriman of New York in convention maneuvers.

3. That Lewis had pledged Barkley his support prior to the convention and assumed that the Kentuckian, would be acceptable to other labor leaders because of his long record in support of labor.

4. That a White House meeting on Sunday, July 13, had left Barkley boosters with the impression the vice president was more acceptable to Truman than any of the other avowed candidates (not including Stevenson).

5. That Reuther and other labor leaders met in Room 1106 at the Conrad Hilton Monday night with Kefauver, Harriman and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.—and that a short time later the story "leaked" that labor had turned thumbs down on Barkley.

TRUMAN BLESSING

And there also was this account in the background of what is becoming known as the "Barkley story":

These reports were that on July 15 after the Republicans had chosen Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as their presidential nominee, a group met with President Truman at the White House. This group was said to include Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney, Presidential Secretary Matthew Connelly, and a few others in the inner circle.

It was said this group, at that time, was accepting at face value the statements by Stevenson that he did not want to enter the presidential contest.

"They ticked off the names of the avowed candidates," one source said, "and Barkley was the man who was most acceptable."

It was said that within an hour after this White House meeting John L. Lewis called Barkley by telephone and told him, in substance:

"I think you know what occurred today. I want you to know I approve and I'm in your corner."

Barkley is said to have replied: "I do know. And I appreciate your call."

If this report is accurate, then it may account for the "Barkley boom" that developed before the opening of the Democratic convention on Monday.

Toothless Saw Cuts Faster

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—A saw without teeth that cuts costs as well as hard metal is being hailed here as revolutionary.

It slides through stainless steel like a hot blade through butter, a literal comparison, engineers at Solar Aircraft Co. say.

The saw—so simple that one observer suggested it be called the "pshaw saw"—is nothing but a smooth-edged band of steel.

Solar officials said they found that box strapping, used for securing shipping crates, served excellently as a blade. They put it in the high-speed band saw at a cost of 10 cents a band, and cut away at stainless steel parts for as long as 29 hours without changing the band.

By substituting spring steel for the box strapping, at 50 cents a band, they got a 70-hour performance.

Regular band saw blades, the officials reported, cost $3 each and last on the average less than two hours.

Jack Prince, a Solar methods analyst, discovered the theethless saw. He noticed that regular blades cut as well with the smooth back of the blade as they did with the toothed edge.

Band saws, Prince explained, actually burn through stainless steel and harder metals, but the teethless blades do not work on soft metals, such as aluminum or copper, or on wood, where actual cutting, rather than melting, is necessary.

JAMES ROSSER
ASKS YOUR SUPPORT FOR
DISTRICT JUDGE
Radio Address KSNY
Friday 12:45 P.M.

1. A qualified and actively practicing Attorney.
2. Honest, impartial and energetic.
3. No conflicting personal or business interests.
4. Active interest and participation in Civic Affairs.
5. Judical Temperament.
6. A Veteran.

(Poltical adv. Paid for by James Rosser)

WHO IS YOUR CHOICE?

For Your County Commissioner?

The District Judge's Office is an important one.

The most serious and technical of your problems may be tried before him. Damage suits involving over $500.00, divorce suits, land suits, child custody problems, adoption proceedings and many other civil suits are brought before your District Jugde.

He has original jurisdiction over criminal cases of the grade of felony (penitentiary offense.)

He has jurisdiction over cases appealed from the County Court in probate matters, wills, administration, etc.

He sets the criminal docket on the first day of each term and sets down civil cases for the balance of the term.

He has the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and to convene the grand jury.

He must have been a resident of the district two years and a member of the bar four years.

His duties are technical, his powers are broad, the qualifications are the before requisites.

His salary is $9,800.00 a year.

THE CANDIDATES FOR THIS OFFICE AND OTHER ELECTIVE OFFICES WILL SPEAK AT THE SNYDER HIGH SCHOOL STADIUM
TONIGHT, JULY 24TH, 7:45 P.M.

Consider the qualifications needed for this job. Study all candidates, then support the candidate of your choice.

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

Junior Chamber of Commerce

To The Voters Of

Borden and Scurry Counties:

In this race for District Attorney I have been unable to make a house to house campaign in all parts of Scurry and Borden Counties for the reason that I have been attending to the duties of the office of County Attorney, which require a large part of each day's time. I took an oath to attend to those duties and do not feel that it would be fair or just for me to use a lot of the County's time campaigning. In keeping with a statement made by me in my opening campaign speech over Station KSNY I have made every effort to acquaint the voters with my own record as well as the records of my opponents. Every statement made with regard to experience of all three candidates was based on the public records of Scurry and Borden Counties, open to the inspection of every citizen.

I'D LIKE TO STATE THAT I HAVE KNOWN BOTH MY OPPONENTS FOR SOME SIX YEARS AND WENT TO LAW SCHOOL WITH THEM. THEY ARE BOTH UPSTANDING, HONEST, AND SINCERE YOUNG MEN OF THE TYPE THAT EVERY MAN WOULD BE PROUD TO HAVE AS FRIENDS. THEY ARE BOTH MY FRIENDS AND TO THIS DAY WE VISIT BACK AND FORTH WITH EACH OTHER.

MY CLAIMS AS TO BEING BETTER QUALIFIED TO SERVE AS YOUR DISTRICT ATTORNEY ARE BASED SOLELY ON THE FACT THAT I HAVE HAD THE NECESSARY EDUCATION AND HAVE HAD MORE EXPERIENCE AND PREPARATION IN THE TYPE OF WORK YOUR DISTRICT ATTORNEY DOES THAN BOTH MY OPPONENTS. SCURRY AND BORDEN COUNTIES HAVE HAD GOOD DISTRICT ATTORNEYS AND MEDIOCRE DISTRICT ATTORNEYS. I FEEL THAT I CAN TAKE MY PLACE IN THE LINE OF GOOD DISTRICT ATTORNEYS, AND I WILL OF COURSE TRY TO BE THE BEST IF IT IS POSSIBLE FOR ME TO DO SO. MY OWN PROFESSION HONORED ME WITH ELECTION TO THE OFFICE OF VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE WEST TEXAS DISTRICT AND COUNTY ATTORNEYS' ASSOCIATION, WHICH IS COMPOSED OF STATE'S ATTORNEYS FROM 101 WEST TEXAS COUNTIES. I AM THANKFUL FOR THIS HONOR AND HAVE TRIED HARD TO DESERVE IT.

I GIVE MY ASSURANCE TO THE VOTERS OF THIS JUDICIAL DISTRICT THAT THEIR VOTE FOR KEITH L. MERRICK (NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT) WILL BE A VOTE WELL PLACED, AND THAT THE CONFIDENCE SHOWN BY YOUR VOTE WILL BE KEPT AND TREASURED BY ME FOR ALL TIME TO COME. IF YOU CAST YOUR BALLOT FOR KEITH L. MERRICK FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY, IT WILL BE DEEPLY APPRECIATED.

IF ONE OF MY OPPONENTS IS ELECTED, MY MORAL SUPPORT WILL BE HIS, AS WELL AS ANY ADVICE OR HELP THAT HE MAY WANT. I WILL STILL BE VITALLY INTERESTED IN SEEING THAT JUSTICE IS PROPERLY ADMINISTERED WHETHER OR NOT I HAVE THE GOOD FORTUNE TO BE ELECTED.

I WILL APPRECIATE THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE YOU AS YOUR DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Respectfully yours,

Keith L. Merrick

Flatiron, One Of Earliest Skyscrapers, Has Anniversary

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — The once-famous Flatiron Building is observing its 50th birthday like a lonely old freak—too short to show up on today's skyline, too far downtown to have any glamor, to durable to excite alarmists any more.

Today, only a handful of tourists visit the 21-story building and most of them want to go up in the Flatiron only to take pictures of other taller buildings.

Today, nobody is afraid to walk on the Flatiron's side of the street. Years ago, many pedestrians stayed on the other side. They feared that a strong wind would topple the thin structure which is shaped, as one critic said in 1902, like a "stingy piece of pie."

By now, the Flatiron has convinced the public it's here to stay.

"And it will be here another 150 years," says superintendent George Bonhag. "This was one of the first skyscrapers in New York built on a steel frame."

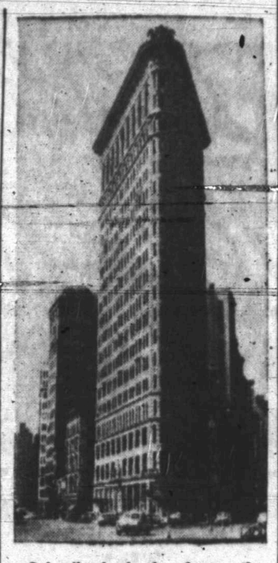

In 1902, when the Flatiron was completed, it became the number one tourist attraction of its day. Its picture was reproduced on postcards sent all over the world.

In 1904, William Ordway Partridge, an artist, called it "a monstrosity, a disgrace to our city, an outrage to our sense of the artistic and a menance to life."

It was built on a small triangular island on 23rd Street, where Fifth Ave. reluctantly crosses Broadway. It stands 280 feet high, it has frontages of 214.6 feet on Broadway, 85 feet on 22nd St., 197.6 feet on Fifth Ave., and only four or five feet on 23rd St.

Offices occupying the apex come to a point only three or four feet wide inside, only wide enough to get a chair in. Frank Munsey, the publisher, used to have an office on the 18th floor, in the corner. He had the floor raised so that he could get a better view of the two rivers bounding Manhattan and also a better view of employes working before the throne room.

When the Flatiron was built, some neighbors complained that its strange design increased the wind. It's still one of the windiest corners in New York.

Schoolbook landmark — the famous Flatiron Building.

In the old days, local drugstore cowboys used to watch women's skirts blowing up. The cop on the 23rd street beat was forever chasing them. This, according to legend, gave birth to the expression, "twenty - three skidoo."

The Flatiron building is strange in various ways. It's top floor is above the attic. Originally the building was built to a height of 20 stories, plus an attic. Later a 21st floor was added. The attic, used only for water tanks and equipment still lies between the 20th and 21st floors.

The very top of the building's apex is adorned by statues of two cherubic boys holding scrolls around a big tablet, bearing the initials of the builder, George A. Fuller.

Oklahoma Wants Tourists To Stop And See State's Sights

OKALHOMA CITY — Oklahoma officials are trying to get tourists who go zooming through the state to stop and visit little-heralded Oklahoma attractions which give the Sooner state one of the best varieties of natural and man-made sights.

The Oklahoma Planning and Resources Board is trying to tempt tourists with "Did you know Oklahoma has:"

The oldest petrified tree known to man in a petrified forest; sulphur springs; salt plains; two of the biggest man-made lakes in the country; zinc, lead and coal mines; the largest multiple-arch concrete dam in the world; historic forts used during the Indian wars; the worlds largest wheat elevator; a national park and a national forest; alabaster caverns and bat caves; a hundred good lakes for fishing; a dozen state parks; a wide field of diversified industry, and the basic industry of agriculture?

Since taking office two years ago, Gov. Johnston Murray has pushed plans for greater facilities at state parks, a better information service for tourists and generally improved accommodations.

A dozen informative booklets have been issued about tourist attractions, and one of the most interesting is a travel stamp album. It lists all of the state's attractions and has a place for stamps with pictures of 50 of the spots. The album is given free and as the tourist visits each of the spots, he purchases a stamp to put in his book.

The best known and most widely visited place in Oklahoma is the Will Rogers Memorial, nestled on the rolling hills in northeast Oklahoma. The large, native stone structure contains many rooms filled with Rogers' saddles, ropes, battered typewriter and other personal possessions. Rogers, his wife and youngest son are buried there.

Lake Murray State Park in South Oklahoma comprise 21,000 acres, including a 6,000 acre lake. The state has just completed a million-dollar air-conditioned lodge and there are dozens of modern cabins which attracted 700,000 persons last year.

Lake Texoma on the Red River, between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Tex., is the largest of Oklahome lakes and the reservoir is the fifth largest in the United State The dam is the largest earthen dam of its kind in the world and inundates 60,000 acres. Private facilities are available for fishing, hunting boating and vacationing.

Grand Lake in the northeast corner covers about 60,000 acres and is the site of a large state electrical project. There are an estimated 100 good-sized man-made lakes in Oklahoma.

The state parks range from Robbers Cave in the semi-wilderness of southeast Oklahoma, where the famed bandit chieftain Belle Starr hid from posses, to Boiling Springs Park, which is like an oasis in the semi-arid section of the northwest plains.

The State has historical markers to show the points of interest. Several of the old Army posts have been rebuilt and many spots memorable in Indian history are preserved.

A shock to most tourists is the fact that they fail to see any Indians in the full native dress of the story books. Virtually all Indians have adopted the customs and dress of the white man and only during pow-wows and other ceremonies do they dress in tribal costume.

Oil Drilling Lag Continues

As Wildcats Show Increase

Applications for field tests in the San Angelo (7-C) and Midland (8) districts of the Railroad Commission continued to drop as did the general total of applications, but wildcats were on the increase during the 29th week of 1952.

Operators spotted locations for 22 wildcats and 47 field tests, amounting to 69 tests in all, in 23 counties.

This compared to 84 tests, including 18 wildcats, filed the preceding week; and to 112 tests, including 21 wildcats, filed during the 28th week of 1951.

Totals for the first 28 weeks of 1952 now stand at 2,437 tests in proven areas and 484 wildcats, adding up to 2,971 tests in all. Weekly average is now 106.14.

During the first 28 weeks of 1951 there were 3,588 tests staked, including 3,051 tests in proven areas and 537 wildcats, for a weekly average of 128.14.

Reagan and Runnels Counties, in District 7-C, led the list for the week with nine tests each.

District 7-C wildcats: Crockett, two; Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher and Tom Green, one each. Field tests Reagan, Runnels and Upton, eight each; Coke, two; Crockett, one.

District 8 wildcats: Andrews, three; Borden, Crosby, Pecos and Yoakum, two each; Gaines, Howard Reeves, Scurry and Ward, one each.

District 8 field tests: Midland, four; Ector, three; Gaines, Scurry and Yoakum, two each; Andrews, Cochran, Dawson, Glasscock, Howard, Loving and Ward, one each.

Russia Publishes New Edition of Dreiser

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio announced today that a new 12-volume edition of the works of American novelist Theodore Dreiser is being published in the Soviet Union.

The new Dreiser edition is getting a printing of 75,000 copies the broadcast said, adding that this brings the total copies in Soviet editions by three American authors "very popular with Soviet readers" past the 15 million mark.

The best seller is Jack London, with 12½ million copies sold or on the market. This includes a new 150,000-copy printing of his selected works.

Dreiser's total now is 1,695,000 impressions and Howard Fast has had more than a million copies of his works printed in Russian Ukrainian, Azerbaijan, Georgian, Armenian and other Soviet languages.

Demos Waiting For Sevenson To Speak Out

CHICAGO (AP)—As the Democratic convention approached the presidential nominating stage today delegates kept their ears open for a few words from Gov. Adlai E Stevenson.

They were listening for his answer to the question: Will he accept the presidential nomination if his fellow delegates wrap it up for delivery?

Newsmen gathered outside the Illinois governor's temporary Chicago residence last night sent in word of a radio report that he had agreed to accept the nomination. The report said Stevenson was writing an acceptance address.

An aide brought out this reply: "Nothing to it."

Earlier in the evening the governor received two visitors—Welly K. Hopkins, attorney for John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, and David Charnay, who does public relations work for the UMW and also for Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

Hopkins told reporters afterward he had called to "pay his respects."

Sen. Russell, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, said in a statement he had no advance knowledge of Charnay's visit with Stevenson. Russell added that Charnay was not authorized to speak for him.

William McCormick Blair, an administrative assistant to the governor, reported Stevenson worked on his correspondence last night. But Stevenson took time out to sit before a television set while his second cousin, Vice President Al ben W. Barkley, addressed the convention.

Stevenson remained at Blair's home, eight miles from the Convention Hall, yesterday.

CANDIDATE FOR

District Judge

SCURRY and BORDEN COUNTIES

As County Judge of Scurry County I presided at the trial of more than 400 cases, many of which were appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin or to the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland. Of those cases appealed only three were reversed. Few Judges on any bench can cite a better record.

I Submit My Record . .

- I am Forty-seven years old.
- I have practiced law in this district more than 19 years.
- I was County Attorney of Scurry County one term.
- I was County Judge of Scurry County three terms.
- I am serving my fourth term in the State Legislature. (Scurry, Borden, Garza, Kent, Dickens and Stonewall Counties)
- I am not on the retainer of any Individual, Firm or Corporation.
- I have made no promises or commitments of any kind to any one.
- I am not obligated to any special group.
- If elected District Judge I will be open minded, fair and impartial.

I HAVE NEVER VIOLATED A PUBLIC TRUST
