'DREAM PRICE' IN OFFING AS TEXACO LEADS NEW ADVANCE

Gasoline Quotations Raised By Continental and Independents

MURRAY IS HOPEFUL

Dollar Oil by Monday Is Optimistic View of Governor

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Dollar oil, dream of producers, came near realization Friday when the Texas company posted a new schedule of prices for crude throughout the mid - continent fields.

The new schedule, which is effective Saturday, Aug. 22, 1931, at 7 a. m., raises the price of 40 gravity crude from the former price of 60 cents to 70 cents per barrel.

SKELLY MEETS RAISE

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 21. (AP)—The Skelly Oil company announced late today higher prices for Kansas crude oil, with a top of 70 cents a barrel for grades of 40 gravity and above.

The new Skelly prices, effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow, are the same as those posted earlier in the day for Oklahoma oil by the Texas company, ranging from 46 cents a barrel for below 29 gravity crude to 70 cents for the top grades.

Starting at below 29 gravity with a price of 46 cents the new schedule provides a two-cent differential to the 70-cent figure.

The Skelly Oil company late Friday met the Texas company's increase. The Skelly posted its price for Kansas as well as Texas and Oklahoma.

Gasoline Increase

Gasoline prices also started a climb, being instituted in Oklahoma by independents and followed here by the Continental.

This 30-cent advance in the price paid for the district's crude oil will have its effect on activities throughout the fields. Many wells which have been shut down on account of low price will no doubt resume drilling and place a number of unemployed back to various branches of oil field work.

Late Friday none of the other major purchasing companies had received information as to a revision of their present schedules, but new schedules to meet the Texas company posted price are expected momentarily.

Locals Meet Hike

In the local field three refineries announced a revision of their posted price to conform with the Texas company. These were the American Refining properties, Panhandle Refining company, and Dale Oil and Refining company. New prices are effective Saturday morning at 7 o'clock.

Continental Oil company announced an advance of two cents per gallon in the prevailing prices of gasoline at the company's stations throughout the state.

The new price, which is effective Saturday at 7 a. m. is as follows: Tank wagon commercial white 12 cents; ethyl red 15 cents; station price commercial white 14; and ethyl 17 cents a gallon.

The Continental Oil company is the first of the majors to meet the raise of two cents started by the American properties and which was followed by the Panhandle and Atlantic-Pacific and Gulf companies. The example set by the Continental company is expected to be followed within the next 24 hours by the Gulf, Magnolia, Will Young, Texas and other majors.

MURRAY BELIEVES $1 PRICE COMING

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT JR.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—Petroleum began to climb the price ladder today, mounting well toward dollar oil, long lost love of the mid-continent and confident demand of Oklahoma's martial-minded governor.

As the Texas company, important buyer, posted increases in four states, Gov. William H. (Dollar Bill) Murray said he believed major purchasers would agree by Monday to $1 a barrel—the top he has set in return for opening of his state's monster producers.

Texas company prices in Oklahoma were advanced 30 cents for high gravity oil to 70 bents a barrel. Advance for Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico fields ranged from 11 to 30 cents barrel, to a similar top.

Gasoline Raised

The upward trend also extended in at least one locality to the retail gasoline market and southwestern observers, confident of better times for the oil business since well shutdowns in Oklahoma and Texas took an estimated 900,000 barrels daily from the market heard other

'Dollar Bill's' Strategy Winning

William Henry (Dollar Bill) Murray, governor of Oklahoma and commander in chief of the state's military forces, was so near his objective in his "oil war" yesterday he probably could see the whites of the "enemy's" eyes. Whereas the governor dmands a price of $1 per barrel for oil, two major purchasers came up to 70 cents.

There's Only One Side to Military Law, Says Wolters

KILGORE, Texas, Aug. 21. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, commanding Texas troops in the East Texas oil field area under martial law, tonight refused to grant permission for a mass meeting to be held in Tyler in protest against military occupancy of the oil fields.

E. Constantin, independent oil operator, telephoned the general tonight from Dallas asking such permission.

"I told him it would not be permitted and that he could consider that a direct order," said General Wolters.

"He was disposed to argue with me, saying I was making speeches and passing out propaganda and that their side ought to be heard too.

"I simply told him there was no other side and that my statement was a direct order. I told him there would be no mass meeting if I had to use force to prevent it and I thought I did.

"He was objecting mainly to my speech at Henderson last night. I told him if I was spreading propaganda, that was my privilege."

General Wolters said Constantin did not mention the date for the desired protest meeting.

General Wolters, in a statement last night, urged that people be not misled by "propaganda" that a shut down of all oil wells in the 600-square mile area of the East Texas field, ordered by Gov. Ross S. Sterling to halt asserted widespread waste, had caused grave unemployment. His Henderson speech also was along that line.

He made no statement as to whether any special instructions had been issued to militiamen in the Tyler area but indicated he expected an attempt to hold the meeting—if the attempt were made at all—would not be earlier than tomorrow night.

To obviate any misunderstanding, General Wolters tonight issued the following general order: "No mass meetings will be held in the military district of Rusk, Upshur, Gregg and Smith counties without special authority from the commanding general of the military district." He assigned Col. L. S. Davidson, provost marshal, to enforce this order.

General Wolters made an inspection trip of the entire field today and found nothing to indicate that a single well of the 1,600 was flowing. An air of quiet prevailed and operations had settled down to dull routine.

The chief concern of General Wolters in his inspection trip was to assure himself that the health of his troops was being protected.

An official report was made to General Wolters concerning the amount of oil in storage in the East Texas field. Pipe line storage was estimated at 3,861,215 barrels and independent refinery storage at 156,000 barrels.

It was reported that this oil was being exhausted gradually.

CIGARETS COST THREE CENTS MORE TODAY

New State Tax Stamps Add To Price of Each Package

SCHOOLS TO BENEFIT

$4,500,000 Revenue to Be Split With General Texas Fund

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—Dealers tonight were busy finishing stamping their packages of cigarets and getting ready to charge three cents a package extra on each sale after midnight.

The reason was the new cigaret tax law. After midnight the state hoped to collect three cents a package on all interstate sales. The money, estimated to amount to some $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 annually, will go equally to the Texas school children and the state's general revenue fund.

It was feared dealers might boost the price five cents because of the reduced volume of business and to make the cost the even sum of 20 cents, and it was regarded as a virtual certainty the price would be raised at least three cents.

The imposition of the state levy means that Texas cigarets will bear a sales tax of approximately half their value. The federal tax is six cents a package.

200 New Laws

The cigaret tax was the most important of approximately 200 laws to become effective at midnight, 90 days after the regular session of the legislature adjourned. Laws not carrying an emergency clause or not approved by two-thirds majority in each house become operative 90 days after the end of a session.

Several other tax measures were included in the group of new statutes. A tax will be placed on peddlers. Natural gas will bear a two per cent tax. The sulphur tax will be increased from 55 to 75 cents a ton. Cement will bear a five-cent a barrel levy.

Two new truck laws, partially enjoined in federal court at Houston, were on the list. One gave the railroad commission additional authority over trucks and the other cut down the size and weight of load limits. One of the hardest fights in the legislature was over these measures.

Sunday Movies

Sunday movies, banned 60 years ago, will be legal Sunday in the cities which desire them. The old law had been a dead letter in many cities for several years.

One of the 90-day statutes was a law to give defendants six months in which to pay fines. Another will absolve the driver of an automobile from liability for injuries suffered by a hitch-hiker whom he gives a lift. Others will authorize increase of the state force and the highway patrol.

The making, sale or throwing of stink bombs will be a felony early tomorrow. Endurance contests such as marathon dancing will be limited to 24 hours.

Opponents of several of the laws have made plans to test their constitutionality in the courts and it probably will be several months before all are functioning as intended. Opponents of the peddler's tax in various sections of the state have taken steps to impede its enforcement.

20 CENTS HERE

Wichita Falls tobacco dealers hauled out their sandpaper Friday night, preparing for the midnight hour when the state cigaret tax law went into effect.

Dealers said it was necessary to roughen the surface of the glazed wrapping to make the tax stamps adhere to the packages of leading brands. The brands which have sold here at 15 cents went to 20 cents at midnight. The tax is three cents per package.

"It's worth two cents to open every carton, sandpaper the wrappings, put on the stamps and then put the package back in the carton," one dealer explained.

Conduct, Not Business, Needs Change, Says Shaw

LONDON, Aug. 21. (US)—George Bernard Shaw today propounded another aphorism. This time he lays the world's ills to human moral failings rather than economic laws. He said:

"The trouble is that everybody is talking about the economic situation when they really ought to be discussing the moral situation. They want to revise everything but human conduct, but it is human conduct that should be revised. When we get that right, the world will be better."

South's Leaders Back Long's Scheme To Bar Cotton Crop In 1932

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21. (AP)—State legislatures of the South were called upon today by the New Orleans cotton conferenee to pass acts to prevent planting of cotton in 1932.

The conference also adopted a proposal of United States Senator Thaddeus Caraway, of Arkansas, that the federal farm board purchase 8,000,000 bales of cotton at a price above the present market to be allocated to those farmers who agree not to plant any cotton next year, and to be sold at the farmers' orders and for their benefit.

Gov. Huey P. Long, who called the conference in an effort to find relief from the overproduction and low price of cotton, was chosen chairman of a standing steering committee with authority to choose his associates later. The conference then adjourned sine die.

1,000 Attend

It was attended by more than 1,000 men and women, including three governors, two United States senators, half a dozen United States representatives and many Southern state officials.

Governor Long, explaining his proposal, said it would prohibit by state law planting or gathering of any cotton during the year.

On motion of J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture of Texas, a special committee was appointed to meet in executive session to report back to the full conference.

The committee voted resolutions of endorsement of the Long plan and the Caraway plan, and both were accepted by the conference by an overwhelming oral vote.

Special Session

After adjournment, Governor Long said he would call a special session of the Louisiana legislature "very soon" to act on the recommendations. Other governors, he said, would be urged to follow suit.

Under the conference resolution, none of the legislative acts would become binding unless similar legislation "shall be adopted by states producing not less than three-fourths of the cotton grown in the United States."

The conference voted down in a roar of "noes" a minority report of Mr. McDonald providing for southern state legislative action reducing the 1932 cotton area by one-third.

When the commissioner offered his minority report, Governor Long, who was presiding, said:

"We are going to vote that down."

And the conference yelled a roar of noes that drowned out the ayes.

Woman Fights Off Assailant's Attack

Mrs. J. C. Piemmons, about 30, was attacked by an unknown assailant late Friday night as she passed an alley in the 800 block on Harrison street.

Struggling with the man, she told police, she managed to release herself, after which the man fled down the alley.

Detectives A. L. Stubblefield and Bob Miller, assisted by a large crowd attracted to the scene, searched for the man, but he had made his escape.

Mrs. Piemmons was returning to her home at 2109 Ninth street from a nearby drug store. No cause could be given for the attack except robbery.

WOMAN FIRES THREE SHOTS AT PROWLER

A prowler was believed to have been wounded when three shots were fired at him when surprised by Mrs. G. P. Whatley, 1103 Alma street, at her home shortly before 11 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Whatley told police that the man was prowling about the yard of her home. She fired three times after taking deliberate aim. The prowler fled into an alley through a rear gate in the yard as Mrs. Whatley was firing.

Although the woman said she believed one or more of the shots struck the man, no trace of him could be found by police, who arrived on the scene a few minutes later. Tracks of a running man was found in the dust of the alley.

The call was the second to the home answered Friday night by police. Earlier in the evening, Mrs. Whatley reported that two men were prowling in her back yard. At that time Mrs. Whatley had her gun but did not use it. The men apparently were frightened away.

Fist Fight Injuries Prove Fatal To East Texas Oil Lease Trader

LONGVIEW, Texas, Aug. 21. (AP)—O. Horace Bennett, 52, prominent oil lease dealer, died here today from injuries allegedly received Wednesday afternoon in a fist fight with J. Paul Flannery, an oil operator.

Flannery was free today under $5,000 bond on a murder charge in connection with Bennett's death.

The men were allegedly in a dispute over a commission on an oil sale. Bennett had filed suit against Flannery for collection of the amount.

Witnesses to the fist fight said Bennett was felled by a blow from Flannery's fist. Flannery weighed 240 pounds. Bennett's chin struck marble stairs and he received a fracture at the base of the skull. He failed to regain consciousness after his injury.

Bennett was known to the oil fraternity as the "boss of Tullos," a mushroom oil field town in Louisiana which he ruled in its boom days. He was a recognized leader and a member of the town council.

HOLDUP STIRS WILD CHASE THROUGH CITY

Ten Bystanders Caught in Crossfire During Pursuit

CHILD WOUNDED

New York Residence Section Scene of Bloody Conflict

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (US)—Five men were killed—including two patrolmen, two bandits and a taxicab driver—and 13 persons were wounded late today in one of the worst outbreaks of criminal violence ever staged in city history.

Bandits and police fought it out to the death from automobiles streaking through the dense congestion of upper Manhattan and Bronx, coming into clashing contact five times, spreading terror over a 10 mile area.

1,000 Bullets Fired

Two hundred police participated and more than 1,000 bullets were fired in the 90 minutes of battle. Fear was expressed in the hospitals that before tomorrow the list of dead may be doubled.

At 5:30 p. m., all was quiet in the factory and office of the Wendoza Fur Dyeing company, in east 133rd street. A few minutes later, Manager Lloyd Fomhof, drove back in his sedan with the $4,619 pay roll. Beside him sat Patrolman Walter J. Webb, assigned to guard him against highwaymen.

As the car turned in toward an alley which runs beside the plant, and the manager and policeman stirred to alight, two bandits—one light, one dark, both young—leaped out at them. One seized the satchel from Fomhof's hand. The other fired at the policeman at such short range that the bullet tore through the shield on Webb's chest and ripped through his lung and heart. He dropped in the alley with the life blood ebbing out of him. His gun was out and his finger on the trigger but a split second cost him his life.

Bandits Enter Car

Screaming for help, Fomhof ran into the office, uninjured, to telephone police. Without pausing an instant, the bandits leaped into the car.

Eye-witnesses, including Mitchell Frail, a lad of 13, shrieked as the car shot onward. He had heard one bandit call: "Stick 'em up," saw Webb's arm flick back for his gun, heard the roaring crash of the killer's weapon. Up in the office, Frances Sameck, telephone opera-

WHEAT-COFFEE DEAL CLOSED

U. S. Barters Grain for Brazil's Berry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. US)—Twenty-five million bushels of wheat have been traded to the Brazilian government for 1,050,000 bags of coffee, James C. Stone, chairman of the federal farm board, announced today.

Under the terms of the agreement the coffee will be withheld from consumption until the autumn of 1932 in accordance with the export regulations of the Brazilian government.

As a part of the agreement the Brazilian government will give the Bush Terminal company of New York 225,000 bags of coffee and in return the Bush Terminal company will grade, handle and store all the coffee shipped to the farm board without any expense to the board.

Storage Cut

Under this arrangement the farm board will no longer pay storage on the 25,000,000 bushels of wheat which is a part of its vast holdings and will not have to pay any storage on the coffee.

When the government's coffee is finally sold it will be through the regular commercial channels.

The farm board will start shipping the wheat to Brazil next month and the coffee will start arriving here at about the same time.

New Market

In commenting on the deal Stone said it will put American wheat into a country that has never used American wheat before and may be the means of opening a future market to American farmers.

He also pointed out that the transaction will cut down the large surplus in this country. He also saw it as a manifestation of friendly relationship between the two governments.

Stone said the transaction was based on the current market price of wheat and coffee. This form of trading, he said, will do away with exchange rates which are out of line at present.

Budget Dispute Brings MacDonald Regime Crisis

LONDON, Aug. 21. (US)—Prime Minister MacDonald turned to opposition leaders this evening for the second time since the budget crisis with the realization his government may be imperiled because of its inability to reconcile divergent labor, conservative, and liberal views on how the $600,000,000 deficit is to be met.

After an hour's conference, the meeting was adjourned, the prime minister announcing another full meeting of the cabinet tomorrow morning. He also declared another tri-party conference, will be held tomorrow.

Lindy, Stumped by Motor Trouble, May Have to Reach Tokyo by Boat

TOKYO, Aug. 21. (US)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh—the "Lucky Lindy" who flew from New York to Paris—tonight for the first time found his skill and experience unavailing.

With the conviction growing here that he may have to desert the air and continue his trip to Japan by boat, the colonel, after his black monoplane had been towed to safe anchorage at Muroton bay, Simushir island, Kuriles, continued unsuccessful effort to repair the crippled motor.

From the desolate beach his wife, Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, watched her famous husband tinkering with the plane that had carried them more than 6,000 miles on their vacation jaunt before a combination of fog and missing motor forced them down some 400 miles north of Nemuro, Japan.

Belief that the flying colonel had been defeated in his attempt to get his plane into an airworthy condition was strengthened when the government announced that at his request it is sending mechanics from Tokyo to his aid.

Advices from the trawler stated that Lindbergh, should he succeed in repairing the pontooned monoplane, will make a trial flight without Mrs. Lindbergh before continuing on to Nemuro.

Low pressure areas reported over the Kuriles, dense fog spots and heavy rains have given rise to the belief in aviation circles here that the Lindberghs would be wise to continue on to Nemuro by ship. Meanwhile, if the colonel is forced to await the mechanics from Tokyo to repair his plane, it is apparent the take-off from Muroton bay will be delayed until Sunday at least.

Wickersham Commission Places Cost Of Crime at More Than $1,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—A red ink entry of more than $1,000,000,000 was recorded today by the Wickersham commission as but a fragmentary figure for the annual cost of crime to the American people.

Declining even to "guess" at the total toll levied by criminality, the commission nevertheless broke down its figures to show a yearly contributing item of more than $34,000,000, chargeable directly to federal prohibition enforcement.

Seen as the first detailed, authoritive comparative analysis of this cost in dry law history, the report asserted two-thirds of all government funds for criminal law enforcement were expended upon this one law. It was estimated as costing $0.32 per capita annually, and as requiring 1.03 per cent of the annual federal expenditures for all purposes.

The bulky, 657-page report upon the "cost of crime," addressed directly to President Hoover, pointed out that despite the page upon page of impressive statistics assembled it was "wholly impossible" to reach an accurate total figure.

Goldthwaite H. Dorr and Sidney P. Simpson, New York lawyers, who wrote much of the document explained that limitations of time and funds had made it impossible to obtain totals attributable to racketeering, bootlegging, extortion, fraudulent bankruptcies, thefts of uninsured property, bucketshops, and all the range of confidence games.

The 11 members urged that "nation-wide, thorough and scientific studies of racketeering and organized extortion should be made" as a basis for an attack upon this type of crime.

It recommended also that if necessary the huge sums expended annually for criminal justice be increased since they are "of less economic importance than the losses inflicted by the criminal."

However, the "efficiency of police administration," was attacked and a suggestion made that this branch of law enforcement be brought to a level "commensurate" with the expenditures upon it. An extension of proration was urged to cut down prison costs.

Hawks Makes Record In Fort Worth-Dallas Hop

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21. (AP)—Capt. Frank Hawks, who pared the flying time from New York to Fort Worth Thursday to seven hours 58½ minutes, interrupted his rest here today to fly to Dallas and back. He had set the low winged monoplane down in 10 minutes from the time he left. He covered the 30 miles in 8½ minutes.

Captain Hawks was a guest at Shady Oak farm tonight at a party honoring the ace of speed and Sillman Evans, who will leave for New York Sunday to become assistant to the president of American Airways, Inc.

He will take off in the mystery ship early Saturday morning for Houston.

Spain Protests Primate's 'Anti-Republican' Moves

MADRID, Aug. 21. (US)—A heated protest against the "anti-Republican activities" of Cardinal Seguro Y Saenz, primate of Spain, was sent to Pope Pius XI today by the government of President Zamora. The protest was sent through the papal nuncio.

Official opinion tonight was that the pope would act on the Spanish protest by removing Cardinal Segura as head of the church in Spain.

The protest grew out of alleged attempts of Cardinal Segura, who has been in exile since last June, to dispose of church property in Spain in violation of the law of the new republic.

Finance Crisis Forces Special Alabama Session

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 21. (US)—An extra session of the Alabama legislature in September was forced today by a decision of the state supreme court.

The court held unconstitutional an amendment to the state constitution which would have permitted a $15,000,000 warrant issue to meet the deficit in the state's finances, and the imposition of an income tax by the state legislature.

These measures were passed by the recently adjourned legislature.

The ruling left the state in a somewhat hopeless position in respect to its steadily mounting indebtedness which it is estimated will reach $19,000,000 by Oct. 1.

Three Buildings Burn With $2,500 Damage

Three small buildings at 113, 115 and 117 South Bridge street were destroyed by fire late Friday night. Damage was estimated at $2,500.

The building at 113 was occupied by the Don Hughes Furniture company. The adjoining building contained stored fixtures owned by the Mission cafe. The third structure was vacant.

The three stores are located just south of the Wichita river and almost abut the Ohio street bridge. Each was a one-story frame building.

The blaze originated from an unknown cause in the center store, spreading to the adjoining rooms.

Dry Law Repeal Needed For Jobs, Says Laborite

GREENVILLE, S. C., Aug. 21. (AP)—Complete or partial repeal of the prohibition laws as an aid in solving the unemployment problem was suggested today in a statement by L. E. Brookshire, president of the South Carolina Federation of Labor.

"We have 6,500,000 men out of employment, several millions of whom could be put back on the payrolls with a legal trade," he said.

NEW OIL RAISE CHEERS TEXAS

Texas Company Institutes 70-Cent Maximum

news indicating stabilization of the depressed industry is not remote.

At Tulsa motorists mourned the passing from independent filling stations and those of the Sinclair Refining company of the brightly hued third grade "competitive" gasoline. Saying they intended to show major companies they were not attempting to prevent higher crude prices by keeping gasoline rates down, the independents erased 11 cent figures from their pumps and wrote 13 cents a gallon.

Socony Hikes Price

Meanwhile, the Standard Oil Co. of New York advanced the price of gasoline in tank car lots half a cent a gallon to six cents and the Stoll Oil Refinery company raised Kentucky crude rates 15 cents a barrel to 65 cents, meeting a recent Ohio Oil company advance.

Statistics on file in the mid-continent indicate that a one-cent increase in the price of gasoline usually follows a 20 cent increase per barrel of crude.

Those looking into the industry's future were busy. At Topeka it was announced the Standard Oil companies of Indiana and New Jersey and the Shell Petroleum corporation had joined the states of Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, New Mexico and Arkansas in agreeing to send representatives to a conference here Sept. 11, where the oil advisory committee of the Kansas public service commission plans to propose a uniform plan of curtailment of oil production and importation.

Oil Czar Urged

A movement by certain independent oil interests for an oil "czar" took the form of pamphlets in Wall street mentioning Robert W. Stewart, former chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Indiana who broke with John D. Rockefeller Jr., as a likely appointee.

A leader in the apparently winning fight for curtailment of the great East Texas field, Capt. J. F. Lucey, said at Dallas he would propose that the Texas railroad commission designate the East Texas allowable flow at 300,000 barrels daily, less than half the daily average before it was shut in. He said this action would insure a $1 posted price.

Jailhouse Wedding Planned at El Paso

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 21. (AP)—A romance that began from a truck's seat may blossom into a wedding behind jail bars here.

Mrs. Ruby E. Boyd, Houston, today applied for a license to marry George E. Miller, held in jail on check swindling charges.

Sheriff Tom Armstrong said he had no objection to the wedding. The license will be granted tomorrow.

Miller said he met Mrs. Boyd in Houston two years ago. He was driving a truck, and they talked frequently.

"I used to have a wife down there," he said. "But probably she's divorced me by now. I guess Mrs. Boyd's fixed it up."

"I know we'll be happy," Mrs. Boyd said. "I was married before to a man wilder than Miller."

HOOVER ISSUES NEWS BUDGET

President Gives Out Four Stories at Once

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—President Hoover today smilingly put Washington correspondents to work—and in a big way.

For the first time in a fortnight he held a press conference. From it came more news than has originated at the White House since the German moratorium announcements.

It was almost cool enough for a fire in the huge fire place of the circular presidential office. The executive had changed from his usual summer flannels to heavier clothing and was smiling broadly as he told those nearest him he had "a lot of stuff today."

The lot of stuff was:

Announcement China would not limit in grain purchases from the board.

That Maj. Gen. Smedley Butler's application for retirement would be approved.

That he had received an excellent response to his unemployment program.

That employment resulting directly and indirectly from federal construction had been given to 730,000 persons.

Foreign Bandits Take $5,500 From Bank

GAS CITY, Ind., Aug. 21. (INS)—A gang of four foreign-looking bandits swooped down on the Twin-City State bank, a $120,000 institution here this afternoon, took possession of the bank for more than 20 minutes during which they tortured Frank M. Hundley, 49, the cashier, into opening the safe, and escaped in a large sedan in the direction of Hartford City with about $5,500 in loot.

SAVE THAT STATE TAX!

Roll your own, MEN! You don't pay state tax on TARGET cigarettes!

WHAT'S the use of paying BIG money for cigarettes when now it's such a cinch to roll your own with Target? No state tax on Target—that's a big break! And one thin dime buys 30 to 40 cigarettes! And what cigarettes! Real honest-to-gosh tobacco—Virginia, Burley and Turkish, put through exactly the same process as the tobacco in ready-mades, and kept fresh and fragrant with moisture-proof Cellophane.

Two neat packs of gummed-edge cigarette papers come with every package of Target, too. Try rolling a Target at your dealer's with the new inexpensive Target Roller; you get a perfect, round cigarette that looks like a ready-made, tastes like it, and you save at least half a buck a week. If that isn't a break, what is?

AND GET THIS!

The U. S. Government Tax on 20 cigarettes amounts to 6c. On 20 cigarettes you roll from Target tobacco the tax is just about 1c. No wonder you get such value for a dime!

BROWN & WILLIAMSON TOBACCO CORPORATION, LOUISVILLE, KY.

HOW TO ROLL 'EM BETTER THAN READY-MADES!

Treat yourself to the inexpensive Target Roller. Your dealer will demonstrate one. It's the swellest little cigarette maker you ever saw. You can roll rounder and better cigarettes than ready-mades.

HOW TO ROLL 'EM BETTER THE GOOD OLD WAY!

Shake a little Target tobacco on a Target cigarette paper. Target's long cut. It rolls even the full length of the cigarette. Tuck in the paper and roll with both thumbs toward gummed edge.

TWO ARMY AIR PILOTS KILLED

Plane Dives Into River Near Freeport

FREEPORT, Texas, Aug. 21. (INS)—Two army air pilots were killed near here today when their plane dived into the Brazos river after crashing into a power line.

The dead are:

Lieut. Edgar C. Walthall of Atlanta, Ga.

Private W. I. Smith of Galveston.

The flyers, both from Fort Crockett at Galveston, crashed into the power line while making low altitude observations.

The plane sank into the muddy waters instantly.

Coast guardsmen succeeded in raising the ship an hour later and recovered Walthall's body.

Search was being continued for the body of Smith.

It was believed the crash followed motor trouble experienced by the plane. Shortly before it dived into the river the plane flew low over this city barely missing several of the taller buildings.

A court of inquiry was called by Justice G. C. Hardman who took statements this afternoon from eyewitnesses in an effort to determine the cause of the crash.

Local boatmen were joined by coast guards from the Velasco station and a systematic dragging of the river was started.

Factor's Attorney Aids Texas Boy

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Opposing counsel in the extradition case of John Factor, wanted in England on charges of a stock swindle conspiracy, found themselves ranged side by side in U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker's court yesterday as attorneys for a 17-year-old orphan charged with transporting a stolen automobile from Texas.

The youth, whose name was given as Wayne Rogers of Sweetwater, Texas, wanted to waive his removal hearing. Walker, however, insisted he have the benefit of counsel. Attorneys G. Gale Gilbert for Factor and Franklin R. Overmeyer for the British crown asked leniency for the youth who rented a car and came to Chicago looking for work, intending, they said, to pay for the car as soon as he obtained the money.

The case was continued until Aug. 26. The lad was released on his own recognizance.

Miner's Murder Trial Slated in November

HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 21 (AP)—William M. Burnett, charged with fatally shooting Deputy Sheriff Jesse Pace in April, will be tried in Montgomery county in November, 150 miles from the scene of coal field labor disorders.

Judge D. C. Jones of Harlan circuit court ordered the transfer after selection of a jury had been begun here. Burnett was to have been the first miner tried for murder as a result of the disorders. Judge Jones abruptly ordered the venue change during a dispute between attorneys over motions designed to delay Burnett's trial.

Judge Jonest next Monday will hear motions for changes of venue for 15 of the 30 men charged with murder in connection with a gun battel at Evarts in May in which four were slain.

Insurance Policies of Missing Jap Checked

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Federal authorities today were checking insurance policies left by Hisashi Fujimura, Japanese importer who disappeared mysteriously from the steamship Belgenland last Friday.

Assistant Unites States Attorney Lumbard said he had learned Fujimura had changed the beneficiary clause of a $20,000 policy the day before he sailed, naming his wife instead of his estate. That policy and one for $50,000 were taken out recently. He had policies totaling $290,000.

Dying Woman's Confession Gives Officers Clues to Death 18 Years Ago

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 21. (AP)—A confession of a dying woman disclosed today that a man buried 18 years ago as a victim of drowning was slain. The dead man's skull was exhumed yesterday and a verdict of death from wounds was returned by a coroner's jury.

County attorneys would not reveal the name of the woman who confessed, nor the identities of a woman and two men she implicated. Examination of the skull disclosed the victim, Jonas Tharp, 22, a lumberman of Elk River, near here, was shot in the mouth. Tharp's mouth was held open and a bullet fired into his brain, the woman states.

The woman and two men implicated in the statement will be sought on warrants charging murder.

Crumbling Harem Walls Leave Turkish Women Still Imprisoned

By PRISCILLA RING

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 21.—A somersault out of the harem built by Moslem man, into the harem of her own mind, is the chief performance of the average Turkish woman under the emancipating Kemalist regime.

Physically free, she still is mentally imprisoned behind the lattices of her own ignorance and inexperience.

The obligatory ABC schools for adults can not free her. The right to vote in municipal elections can not lift the lattices shadowing this shadowy "average woman."

Feminists Few

The country has only a handful of active feminists, such as Afet Hanim, eldest adopted daughter of President Kemal, and Latife Hanim, president of the sole feminist club, the Women's Union of Istanbul, which counts about 200 members.

Deeper factors are causing intellectual and moral earthquakes for the young women. They have slid off the rock of Gibraltar of traditional parental authority. They have lost the long set of Koranic rules which guided many of the daily acts and thoughts of their parents. They have lost the ease of eastern indolence, for an economic crisis is forcing them to become breadwinners.

Hundreds tried to imitate the ways of western women. They have killed themselves or gone insane.

Women Judges

But against these sad hundreds rise the thousands who are deftly and hungrily picking the plums out of the emancipation pie, whose other indigestible ingredients they have the sense to leave alone.

Education is the raft which Kemal has thrown out to save the young people of his country. Nine women graduates of the law school already have become judges.

While a few have yet reached up to the professions, there are thousands working as stenographers and clerks in government offices and private business. More vividly than their hats or European dresses, their schools or their jobs, the changed homes of upper class women advertise their evolution.

Flier Accidentally Bombs Cotton Field With Clothes Bag

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 21. (AP)—A clothes container and contents with which he unintentionally "bombed" an East Texas cotton patch have been returned to Lieut. J. A. Stamford, Kelly field bombing instructor.

Lieutenant Samford piloted a bombing plane from Kelly field to Shreveport for the dedication of an airport in that city July 14. He took some clothing and other articles in one of the clothing containers ordinarily carried by pilots on cross-country trips. The wind blew the door to the compartment open and the container dropped out.

The container had Lieut. J. T. Flack's name on it and Lieutenant Flack was advised recently by a farmer that he had found it while plowing his field.

Loaded Revolver Pointing at Chief Leads to Charges

EDMOND, Okla., Aug. 21. (UP)—Police Chief E. N. Kelley does not approve of persons pointing loaded pistols at him whether they mean business or not.

Chief Kelley was standing in a hardware store today when V. B. Burks entered the store with a pistol. After purchasing cartridges for the weapon, he loaded it, pointed it at Chief Kelley.

"Don't mess with me or I'll burn you down," commanded Burks.

Chief Kelley slipped his .45 caliber pistol from its holster, knocked Burks down, disarmed him.

"And then what happened?" Chief Kelley was asked.

"Why I charged him with assault with a dangerous weapon," the chief replied.

U. S. Gold Supply Near Five Billion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (UP)—Banking devices have failed to check the surging flow of gold to the United States, it was evident today when stocks in this country mounted to a new record for all time, close to five billion dollars.

Gold stocks of $4,983,000,000 (billions), as reported today by the federal reserve board, represent nearly half the world's supply, which is something over $10,000,000,000 (billions). France has over $2,000,000,000 (billions), so that the bulk of the precious metal is now in the vaults of the two countries.

The continued increasing flow of gold to the United States, despite efforts to halt it, appears to be due to a flight of capital from European countries where financial conditions have been unstable. Such a tendency has been noted in recent months.

World Flier to Go on Hunt In Arizona

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 21. (AP)—Wiley Post, who with Harold Gatty, circled the globe in less time than any other human being, plans to hunt lions in Arizona.

He came to El Paso from Sweetwater, Texas, yesterday with Gatty and Mrs. Post. They probably will continue a trip to San Francisco tomorrow.

Post said that after a two-week tour of Pacific coast cities he would accept an invitation of the Arizona state game commission to go on a lion hunt.

"Then it's back to work," he said. "I have no definite plans."

Gatty likewise was undecided as to his future.

"But I've got to go to work," he said. "Who for? Anybody with a job."

Steel Man Wants Trust Regulation Modified

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 21. (UP)—Modification of the existing anti-trust laws, which he declared to be responsible for many of the business man's worries, was asked by Charles F. Abbott, executive director of the American Institute of Steel construction, at the institute of politics.

It seemed to him, he said, that the failure to permit corporate units to engage in economic cooperation has resulted in greater evils than the law has sought to prevent.

Oklahoma City Police Defy Murray's Warning

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (UP)—Oklahoma City police will continue to arrest state officers found violating the law within the city limits despite Gov. W. H. Murray's warning to "go slow," Municipal Attorney Albert McRill said today.

"It is the city's duty to enforce the law within its borders," McRill said, "and we'll continue doing so."

McRill's statement was in answer to a charge by Governor Murray that the city attorney and police were attempting "to assume authority above the state."

"In the future the police had better go slow in arresting men who have state authority, the state police might shoot," the governor said.

The secretary was completely outclassed by his wife in use of the implements here tonight when they attended an informal Japanese style dinner given in their honor by the American ambassador, W. Cameron Forbes.

Mrs. Hurley lived in Tokyo as a girl when her father was an embassy naval attache. She showed the other guests that she still knew a thing or two about chopsticks. She spurned the use of a fork. Her husband did not.

The Hurleys took off their shoes and sat on the floor and thoroughly enjoyed the dancing of Geisha girls between courses.

Two Boys Killed, Third Wounded By Defender of Watermleon Patch

STOCKTON, Kan., Aug. 21. (AP)—Two youths were dead, a third slightly wounded and Arthur Merriwether, farmer's son, was charged with murder today as the result of a watermelon patch shooting near here.

The dead: William Francis, 17, and Jack Screen, 16.

Leland McCall, 19, was wounded in the leg.

Merriwether, son of J. C. Merriwether, admitted firing on the three youths as they approached the watermelon patch on the Merriwether farm last night. Merriwether used a shotgun. The victims were not armed.

McCall said the trio was fired on without warning. He admitted he and his companions were headed for the watermelon patch which Merriwether was guarding.

Merriwether told officers he fired three shots.

Chillicothe Fair Directors Order Booths Erected

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, Aug. 21.—Booths for the community displays are to be erected next week affording the exhibitors sufficient time to arrange their respective displays for the Chillicothe Valley fair. The directors will also have time to take all measurements for decorations and exhibits. There will be 11 booths to be erected for the fair, which is to be held here Sept. 17-18-19.

The Odell Rodeo company has agreed to come here as an entertainment event and plans to erect pens for broncho riding. This rodeo gives promise of being a success from every angle, officials saying they would ship here a carload of steers as well as wild horses to be used in the rodeo's performances.

Plans for the fair are progressing the secretary, W. M. Gourley, asserted. A fine spirit of cooperation is being shown and the carpenters of the city have agreed to give half a day's labor in erecting booths and exhibit places.

Hutchinson County To Seek $353,000

PANHANDLE, Texas, Aug. 21. (AP)—Hutchinson county attorneys announced today they would ask for a judgment of $353,000 against the W. L. Pearson Construction company of Houston in accordance with a jury verdict returned in district court on special issues here today.

The county's suit for $501,000 alleged an overcharge of $300,000 and an allegedly illegal $201,000 warrant on paving contracts. The trial has been in progress three weeks. The jury deliberated 63 hours before reaching its decision.

Defense attorneys said they would file a motion for a new trial immediately.

WORK ON RAIL SPUR STARTED

Childress Busy as Denver Branch Gets Underway

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 21.—While construction work on the Denver Northern railway will not begin along the entire line before the latter part of next week, Oran Speers, contractor for the grading from the main line of the Denver road to Red river, now has four gangs working and will put on the fifth gang some time next week.

The contract calls for 12 miles of grading, some of which is the hardest along the entire route, so it is said. In one place it is necessary to change the channel of a large creek, work on which was put under way this week.

So far the contractors are giving preference to local labor and will do so as long as local labor can perform the work. The city is filling up with idle men who have come here seeking work.

The local hotels are crowded by contractors and supply men from all sections of the country.

SHELTON RITES SET SATURDAY

Olustee Teacher Is Fatally Stricken at Camp

ALTUS, Okla., Aug. 21. (UP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at Gould for L. C. Shelton, 37-year-old vocational agriculture instructor at Olustee.

Shelton's body was found in shallow water at Turner Falls.

He accompanied a group of Olustee boys on a camping trip to Turner Falls. It was believed he suffered a stroke and fell into shallow water where campers were swimming.

Shelton was prominent in Oklahoma as a vocational agriculture instructor and had been employed to teach his second year at Olustee. He went to Olustee from Gould. Prior to his term at Gould he was superintendent of schools at Ozark and Walters.

He served as Kay county farm agent at Newkirk for four years before entering the teaching profession.

Shelton graduated from Oklahoma A. & M. college in 1921 and later attended the University of Missouri where he worked for a master's degree.

Surviving are the parents, six brothers and three sisters living at Gould and a brother at Amarillo.

In an account of the death of L. C. Shelton, it was erroneously reported in The Record News of Friday morning that Mr. Shelton's home was in Electra. He had never lived in Electra and The Record News gladly makes this correction.

Into Land of the Incas—By Air

A modern-day wonder, the airship, was brought into the ancient land of the Incas for the first time when youthful members of the Shippee-Johnson Peruvian expedition landed a plane on a laboriously constructed flying field in the "lost" Colca valley—their major objective—10,000 feet up in the Andes. Robert Shippee (left) of Red Bank, N. J., and George R. Johnson of Monmouth Beach, N. J., leaders of the exploring party, are shown above as they landed after a hazardous 100-mile flight across towering peaks. Descendants of the ancient Incas are seen grouped about them. Note the beard acquired by 20-year-old Shippee during the nine months of exploration.

Elliott was presented in piano selections and little Miss Shannon Chapman of Borger was presented in tap dance numbers. C. W. Coffey, director of the First State bank, discussed conditions and activities of the bank which has served the community for nearly a quarter of a century. He also gave the reasons that prompted the board of directors to close the bank until affairs could be adjusted satisfactorily.

The club voted its confidence in the officials of the First State bank and in the future outcome of its affairs.

Mr. Searl says that the premium catalog for the third annual Wichita county fair is now on the press at the Iowa Park Herald and will be ready for distribution in the near future.

The Live-at-Home contest, being sponsored by the chamber, closed with 45 entrants and this new feature will be watched with interest. Periodical Pains Relieved In 3 Minutes

Month after month some women still suffer needless pain, but those who know simply go to a drug store or soda fount, get a package or dose of "B-C," and get perfect relief in 3 minutes, continuing their duties in pain-free, easy comfort.

"B-C" is the formula of two North Carolina druggists, contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of headache, neuralgia and periodical pains, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours.

"B-C" stops the pain, quiets the nerves, is perfectly harmless. No other preparation like it. Nothing else gives such profound relief. Ask your druggist, he knows.—Adv.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas nomenclature for its counties has preserved the names of many of its early-day heroes. Most of the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence have been so honored, as have been most of the heroes of the Alamo and of Goliad and of the wars with the Aborigines. Only six counties have been named for the Indian tribes that formerly inhabited them (Wichita being one of the six). Borden and its county seat, Gail, were named for the first Texas editor, who founded the Telegraph and Texas Planter at San Felipe in 1883. Rockwall was named for the supposed "rock wall" found there and at the time thought to be of prehistoric origin.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Miscellaneous items of Texas progress. . . . Old-timers of Ward County have started a move for a state park at the historic old Wildcat water hole, in the sand country in the northeast section of the county, nine miles from Monahans. The old water hole for years was one of the main stopping places on the old emigrant trail that was broken out in 1849 and was the scene, first of the massacre of 200 white emigrants by the Comanches and, later, of one of the last and most desperate stands the Indians made against the oncoming of civilization, a memorable battle recorded by pioneer history. . . . Estimated cost of the Roke county irrigation project furnished by engineers who recently completed their survey is $650,000 . . . would impound a lake covering 5,000 acres along the Colorado river. . . . Huntsville is to have a handsome new telephone exchange. . . . Contract for a $400,000 theater with seating capacity for 1,700 was to be let this month at Amarillo . . . Order of the Eastern Star plans two additional wings to its women's home at Arlington, to cost $70,000 . . . Beaumont reports a $6,000,000 building program starting at once, including $5,000,000 of public and municipublic improvements and $1,000,000 in smaller projects by private enterprise. The $4,000,000 item is track elevation jointly by the city and the Southern Pacific railroad—the city recently voted the $900,000 bonds for financing its share of the work—is the largest item in the list . . . Contract has been let for a $150,000 hotel of 75 rooms at Schulenberg, and the Keystone hotel, Lampasas, has begun work on a $9,500 extension and remodeling program.

WORK FOR MANY

NEW YORK.—The airports of the country are doing their share toward relieving the unemployment situation in the United States. Reports received by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce from nearly 100 cities show that a total of $3,209,674 is being expended in airport construction just now. Probably the largest amount spefit is $380,000 for improvement made on the Municipal Airport at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Need More Holidays

THE action of the state of California in blowing itself to a six-day general holiday, beginning on Sept. 4, raises a question that ought to get a lot of consideration in this country.

That question, of course, is "Do we have enough holidays?" California's answer seems to be an emphatic "No!" and California's idea is one that the other states might well mull over for a while.

To be sure, California's extended holiday comes more or less by accident. On Sept. 4 a big fiesta opens in Los Angeles, with the governor in attendance. On the next day the state fair opens in Sacramento. The following day, of course, is Sunday, and the next day is Labor day—a legal holiday anywhere. Two days later comes Admission day which is a state holiday.

Thus the action isn't quite as radical as it looks. Besides, it probably won't affect most business houses. But it does point a way which most Americans, probably, would be glad to follow.

In the first place, most people work too hard and too steadily. Despite all the current talk about the American's inability to use his leisure time properly, the simple fact is that the ordinary citizen doesn't have a great deal of leisure to use. We could all do with a lot more. We have never really learned the virtues of laziness.

In the second place, it has been demonstrated rather painfully in recent years that we have been too productive for our own good. Most of our troubles today spring from the fact that we make things faster than we can sell them. We don't have enough holidays.

Already it is quite respectable to speak of the five-day working week as a desirable goal. This California proposition slides right down the same alley. Less work, more holidays—well, why not? You could easily find some very reputable economists to furnish excellent dollars-and-cents arguments in support of the plan.

Industrial Finesse

REDUCTION in natural gas rates to industrial users and higher educational institutions in 42 West Texas cities during five winter months was announced Tuesday by the West Texas Gas company at Lubbock. To the concerns and institutions affected, the reduction will constitute a material concession. By the public generally, the announcement probably will be regarded as a studied gesture calculated to pour oil upon troubled waters.

The citizenship of Texas is quite largely dedicated at this moment to a persistent demand for lower gas rates in its various homes. That is where the citizens live, and John Smith is more vitally interested in the gas bill for his own household each month than any other phase of the gas situation. Such economy as the lower rates to colleges may represent to the public is effected indirectly. Any desired effect which reduction of industrial rates may have upon the fortunes of consumers at large will be difficult of perception. But when John Smith's gas bill at his home is figured on a 50 cent rate instead of 75, he is distinctly conscious of the reduction.

A direct concession to the heads of important industries and of educational institutions might be expected by its proponents to reduce the force of a state-wide campaign for lower gas rates. It has the appearance of courting the favor of leaders in 42 communities. But it is doubtful that the gesture will level the waves of popular demand which now are beating with increased determination against the wall of high domestic gas rates. John Smith lives at home, and the bills of his household are paid from the family purse. He wants his reduction there.

Perspective Necessary

THE head of the London police force—the famous Byng of Vimy—is perturbed because the British metropolis had such a disgraceful murder record in 1930. Murders in London, in fact, increased slightly more than 100 per cent last year over the figures for 1929.

This sounds deplorable—until you learn that London had precisely 21 murders in 1930. This worries Lord Byng, because in 1929 the city had only 10.

Just how the London commissioner will go about it to tighten things up we do not know; but for his own peace of mind we suggest that he pay a brief visit to the United States. After examining the records in New York and Chicago, where murders average one a day or better, he would probably feel a great deal better about conditions in London.

Quotations Worth Noting

Unwise

Our eyes now fever bright will strangely dull,
The years will theft the magic
from each kiss,
I will grow old—and you less beautiful—
All love at last dies slowly down to this;
The gifts that you could give to me
today
Will hold but small allure in time to be;
And all the words I crave to hear you say
Will fail in time to rouse an ecstasy.

The coin of youth was never meant to hold,
Yet, miser-like, you clutch it to your breast,
But time will put its blemish in the gold,
And there'll be little peace, my
dear, or rest—

In thinking back on memories that rend
And holding coins that you can never spend!

Harry Hershfield, who now is a vaudevillian between cartoons, is enticing roars with this one. When the British king was so ill a few months ago he went into a coma. A blood transfusion was needed at once. Doctors looked all over England for the sort of man whose blood was rich, but finally had to go to Ireland to find the right fellow.

British newspapers fussed and argued that England's king shouldn't have any Irish blood in him. However, the king's condition was so serious the doctors wasted no time and gave the king the Irishman's blood.

After the first, second and third transfusions his highness didn't budge. They finally gave him a fourth. The king slowly opened his eyes, stretched his legs and arms, and jumping off the operating table, roared, "The hell with the king!"

Let them say what they will about Heywood Broun's baggy and ill-fitting trousers, Broun has his admirers, anyhow. Sam Shipman, the playwright, frinstance. At the Tavern last night Sammy defended Broun vigorously.

"He was defeated for congress," admitted Sammy, "but he is going to run for alderman. And mind what I am saying—in four years he will be president!"

"Sure!" agreed a listener, "if he can hold up his pants that long!"

All Right, Get Clever

"It would be perfectly agreeable," observes an editorial writer, "if the party who invented the expression 'making whoopee' would invent something else."

How Embarrassing

It happened in one of the small-time vaudeville theaters the other performance, according to Alfred Friedman. A hammy rope-walker was boring his auditors with what he called "conceptions of historical epochs."

He offered his conception of how George Washington would have crossed the Delaware if Washington walked on a rope.

Finally, one restless heckler in the balcony cried, "Aw, put that rope around your neck and do Nathan Hale!"

They say of a certain celebrity that the only time he turns down an invitation to a dinner is when he doesn't hear it.

They offer the one about the illiterate movie magnate who took his little son to hear the concert at Carnegie hall. A woman in the seat next to the boy was saying: "I guess they are waiting for him to put some resin on his fiddle."

"Resin, my child," said the movie magnate, "is what acrobats put on dare hands!"

"MARY FAITH"
by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, comely, young orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy business man. She gives up her position to marry Kimberly Farrell, shiftless, young lawyer. Mary Faith believes that loving a man hard enough will make everything come out all right in the end. It was this confidence that enabled her to marry Kim after he had once broken their engagement. She realizes he has an eye for every girl, but hopes that married life will sober him and make him successful in his profession. Instead, Kim is annoyed at Mary Faith's "Puritanism," and his jazzy friends, Clair and Jack Maldon, find her a dull companion. Learning that she is to become a mother, Mary Faith, for the first time, visits Kim's office. Kim is furious when Mary Faith finds him flirting with his blond secretary. That night, he informs his mother and Mary Faith that he is leaving. Mary Faith, heartbroken at this turn of affairs, decides not to tell Kim of her coming motherhood. She and Mrs. Farrell decide to struggle to keep the home for the coming baby. Mary Faith obtains a position as typist. She refuses to accede to Kim's request for a divorce and asks him to wait six months before carrying out his desire.

As the bells are ringing in the New Year, Mary Faith's son is born. Kim, informed of this event, returns home and becomes, for a time, a proud and happy father.

Kim is restored to his old position which he had lost due to money irregularities. When his salary is increased, Mary Faith tells him to buy new clothes.

Mary Faith sees Kim walking with a girl from the neighborhood library. She accuses him of being a fast worker.

Clair Maldon tells Mary Faith that she should step out and be gay if she wants to hold Kim's affections. Kim again begins his visits to the Maldon flat.

Kim returns late one night, wet and ill. Mary Faith realizes he has been on a wild party.

CHAPTER XXX

For 10 days Kim lay in bed. And day after day Mary Faith sat by the window of his room, sewing or reading, hovering over him with medicine or the thermometer. One night when his fever was very high he had a touch of delirium and called for her even when she was sitting on the bed beside him.

"No—no—I want to talk to Mary Faith," he said thickly, beating back the hands with which she tried to quiet him. "I must talk to Mary Faith—"

"So, after all I'm the person he thinks of and wants 'way down deep in his mind," she told herself, "no matter how many times he goes to the Golden Pheasant or up to Claire's flat—." And the thought comforted her and sustained her through the anxiety of the next few days.

Then Mrs. Farrell caught a little cold. She insisted that it was a bad attack of hay fever and announced, after seeing Dr. Thatcher, that she needed a change of air.

"I thought first of going down to Garrettsville for a few weeks," Mary Faith heard her tell Kim. "But I decided that the dust in the country roads and the hay fields would be bad for me, so I'm going to visit Cousin Lucy Starke."

Lucy Starke was Mrs. Farrell's second cousin, an elderly spinster who taught school in Hampden Ledges, a little town among the hills in the southern part of the state. Mary Faith had never seen her, but she had sent a hand-made dress and a friendly little note when the baby came. After reading the note, Mary Faith felt that she knew Lucy. Such neat, cramped handwriting could belong only to a person whose life was calm and well ordered. She knew that Cousin Lucy lived alone, and she pictured her as occupying a small house on a side street. She wondered, as she helped Mrs. Farrell pack, just what Cousin Lucy's state of mind would be when her guest began to throw burnt matches on the floor of the neat little kitchen, when she began to leave empty coffee cups around the house, when she asked foolish questions and made endless small talk.

Mary Faith had a shamed feeling of relief when she saw that Mrs. Farrell intended to stay at Hampton Ledges for a long time. Four suitcases, a big leather hatbox, and a little brown valise were packed.

"I'd have taken my trunk, instead of all these bags," she said to Mary Faith the night before her departure, "but I thought that it would be almost impossible to get it into the back of the doctor's car. These can be arranged without any trouble."

Having said that, she stood back to watch the effect of her words on Mary Faith.

"The doctor's car?" Mary Faith repeated, a puzzled look coming into her wide, serene eyes. "You mean Dr. Thatcher's car?"

"Yes. I forgot to tell you that he's going to drive me down to Hampden Ledges. It's only eight miles, and it's a beautiful drive, through the hills. . . . Don't stare so, Mary Faith. I know that I'm just an old grandmother to you, but it seems that I'm still an attractive woman to men of my own age!"

That night Mrs. Farrell went to bed with an extra layer of cold cream on her face and kid curlers in her gray-blond hair, and the next morning—a hot, rainy Sunday—she drove away with the doctor, looking gay and almost young, her eyes shining happily from under the brim of her new hat.

"It'd be funny if the two of them got married, wouldn't it?" Kim mused, as the doctor's car purred rythmically out of sight. "They've known each other for years and—well, stranger things have happened, you know."

The mere thought that stranger things had happened lifted Mary Faith's spirits wonderfuly. She had a certain affection for Kim's mother, but there was no doubt that she was a very irritating person to have around. She insisted upon handling the housekeeping money, and she had no idea of economy. She bought veal steak at 60 cents a pound when veal chops at 42 would have done just as well. She ordered alligator pears when they were out of season and she bought ping perfumed soap that cost a quarter a bar, when she knew that both Mary Faith and Kim preferred scentless white soap for less than half the money. And she was forever bringing home some nonsensical—and unnecessary—toy to the baby.

"But she loves Kim and she's loyal to him," Mary Faith would remind herself.

For the next few weeks Kim came home early every afternoon. Mary Faith would make a cup of tea for him, and then he would lie on the old sofa and read or sleep until dinner was ready. He seemed to enjoy the peace and quiet of the flat, the uneventful hours that he spent listening to the radio or sitting on the front steps with Mary Faith. He would tell her that she was the loveliest thing and much, much too good for him. Mary Faith was very grateful for all her happiness. She told herself that it had always been written in the stars that her life with Kim should turn out to be just like this.

And then, during the last two or three days of that extraordinarily hot dry month of July, she noticed, with growing concern, a certain restlessness in Kim.

One evening Kim did not come home for his dinner until half past seven. He offered no excuses for his tardiness and he hardly touched the fried chicken and hot biscuit that Mary Faith had had ready to serve at 6 o'clock.

He soon went to bed, and Mary Faith found herself thinking of something Mrs. Farrell had said about him long ago. Her bitter words seemed to fill the hot little kitchen.

"This is the sort of thing you'll have to learn to expect if you marry Kimberley," Mrs. Farrell had said. "Meals spoiled because he's not here to eat them on time! Whole dinners put away untouched sometimes, because he doesn't show up at all!"

Kim was asleep when Mary Faith turned out the kitchen light and went into the bedroom. The light above the bed gleamed on his blond hair, and he looked as innocent as a child when Mary Faith bent to kiss him.

He had been drinking. She knew it as she leaned close to him and felt his warm breath on her face, and she drew back without touching him. She went out to the back porch to think. If Kim had begun to drink again, it must mean—well, what did it mean? Did it mean that he was bored once more with the quiet decent life he had been leading? Or did it mean nothing except that he had met some friends and had taken a drink with them?

"That's probably all there was to it," she comforted herself, "and after all he didn't stay out all evening."

Presently she got up, locked the doors of the flat, and crept quietly into the big walnut bed beside Kim. Through all the gray veils of sleep he must have known that she was there, for he murmured drowsily and stretched out his arm toward her. And at his touch, sheer love for him—for his weaknesses and his faults as well as his virtues—welled up in Mary Faith's heart.

She would rather be here, she told herself, in this hot little room than in the most magnificent house in the world. . . . And then she found herself thinking of the most magnificent house she had ever been in—Mark Nesbit's house in Blue Valley. It would be lovely at this time of the year, with the trees rustling around it and the green gardens and orchards and fields stretching out like magic patchwork on every side. She had never regretted that house any more than she had regretted Mark Nesbit. She did not regret it now.

Kim stirred in his sleep and awoke. "It's stifling in this room," he murmured. "I sure did envy Jack Maldon tonight, living at the Athletic club, with an electric fan in his room and a waiter bringing him cracked ice every third drink."

"What's Jack doing at the Athletic club, Kim?"

"Oh, he's been there for a week. Didn't you know it? Claire went to Detroit to visit some friends, and he's living at the club until she comes home, so he says. I gather that they've had some kind of a row. I wouldn't be surprised if she didn't come home at all."

Mary Faith said to herself that it wouldn't break her heart if Claire never did come home. It would suit her down to the ground if she never had to see Claire's dazzling smile and restless blue eyes again. All summer she had been dreading Claire's return and the return of all the things that Claire stood for. The card games and the cocktails and the promiscuous kissing that went on in the flat above Haltnorth park—"the unclean antics of grown-up children," as a brilliant playwright had called such entertainments.

HASKELL, Texas, Aug. 21.—Judge A. M. King of Throckmorton was in Haskell Thursday assisting the farmers of that county in petitioning the government to be lenient toward all who borrowed from the seed, feed and farm maintenance fund last year. The petition, signed by the Haskell county farmers follows:

Honorable Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, Washington, D. C. Sir: We, the undersigned citizens of Haskell county, Texas, who borrowed from the seed, feed, and farm maintenance fund authorized by congress respectfully ask that the time for payment of our notes be extended from Nov. 30, 1931, to Nov. 30, 1932. We offer the following reasons for making this request. There was no debt-paying money in the wheat crop on account of the expenses of harvest and low price.

From present indications there will be little margin in the cotton crop. There will be no sale for our feed crops, all of which we will need this winter. If you take from us the little sums we may be able to save from this year's crops we will be left destitute and unable to secure food and clothes and will not be able to plant a crop next year. We are the victims of a three years' drouth and unprecedented low prices and we disclaim responsibility for both.

The secretary is supposed to represent the farmers in the government and we have a right to expect you to adopt a policy of sympathy and liberality in dealing with us, rather than the ruthless policy indicated by the cold-blooded letters we are receiving from your St. Louis office. We believe that if congress were in session, the relief we ask for would be promptly granted, and further believe that if you will let these notes go over until congress meets in December you will be commended by all of the people of the country.

We believe that if it was good business to extend the payment of debts to foreigners, it would be better business to show some consideration to destitute farmers in the drouth-stricken sections of our own country.

AIRMAIL 'GRAB' MADE PUBLIC

P. O. Department Refuses Cheaper Offer

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (US)—Economies in air mail payments amounting to $1,000 a day on a single route were offered to the postoffice department more than four months ago, but the independent air operator who made the offers has never been able to obtain a reply to the proposal, Universal Service learned tonight.

While independents continued to carry their grievances against the present air mail administration to high congressional figures, demanding a senatorial probe, it was learned that on April 8 the Ludington lines, operating an extensive passenger route from New York to Washington, made a written offer to the postmaster general to carry the air mail or any part of it over that route for 25 cents per mile.

70 Cents a Mile

The postoffice was at that time paying 70 cents a mile to the Eastern Air Transport corporation, one of the four giant concerns which the independents show are now drawing more than 90 per cent of the nation's $17,000,000 annual air mail subsidy.

According to the postoffice department's own figures, the offer of the Ludington lines, if accepted, would have saved the government $993.92 a day on this route.

The Ludington lines, it was learned, have several times attempted to obtain an answer to their proposal but without success. Upon inquiring at the postoffice department, Universal Service was told by Superintendent of Air Mail Wadsworth:

"The department has decided to deal with Eastern Air Transport on this route. They have a 10-year contract with the postoffice."

Change Is Delayed

Eastern Air Transport is a subsidiary of the Northern American Aviation, Inc.

Analysis of postoffice records today showed that, although the McNary-Watres act went into effect April 29, 1930, and empowered the postmaster general to immediately change air mail contracts from the then effective poundage basis of payment to the present mileage basis, for some unexplained reason this change was not made in the case of Eastern Air Transport until December 1930.

Postoffice records show that, due to this failure to change the rate basis, Eastern Air Transport received slightly more than $237,000 more than it would have received had the change been made at once.

The Ludington line, on April 8, had been operating a schedule of 34 trips per day between Washington and New York since Sept. 1, 1930, and with its additional daily run to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had qualified under the terms of the McNary-Watres act, which required six months of operating experience over at least 250 miles.

GALVESTON, Aug. 21. He was convicted by jury of employing women more than nine hours daily at the fig plant.

He was convicted yesterday on a similar charge and fined $50. A total of 33 cases, all involving alleged violations of the labor laws, are pending against Adams.

WOMAN'S DEATH TRIAL DELAYED

Altus Hearing Reset for August 26

ALTUS, Okla., Aug. 21.—What was estimated by pioneers as the largest crowd ever assembled for a trial in Jackson county left the courtroom disappointed Friday afternoon when the preliminary hearing for Mrs. Ann Howse of this city on a charge of murder in the first degree was postponed.

County Judge Shelia Starnes postponed the hearing until 10 a. m. Wednesday, Aug. 26, at the request of County Attorney Ross Rutherford.

Mrs. Howse is held in the county jail awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of the murder of Thurman Fitzgerald, 30, who died from a bullet wound in the neck late Tuesday night.

Spectators began arriving from all parts of the county before 9 o'clock Friday morning to hear the preliminary scheduled for the afternoon.

Many persons were unable to reach the floor on which the courtroom is located with all other floors of the courthouse packed. Unusual interest is believed to be caused from the large acquaintance of the Fitzgerald family, among the oldest prominent settlers of Southwestern Oklahoma.

Peaches Not Now a Luxury

The peach is one of the finest of the stone fruits, but it is a great misfortune to man that the peach does not keep as well as the apple. It is also not so easily raised because the tender blossoms do not stand the freezing to which they are often subjected even in the temperate zones. The peach is a native of warm countries, having probably originated in Persia.

The most certain crop in America is the one raised in California where because of the equable climate there is seldom a crop failure.

The peach must be picked when ripe and marketed at once, although improved refrigeration methods now make it possible to ship the fruit in a good condition across the United States and even to Europe.

Much of the fresh crop is now canned and sold throughout the year.

Peaches which were formerly a luxury in America are now plentiful and low priced during the season.

Like most fruits, peaches have a large amount of water, with small amounts of protein and about 10 per cent of sugar. The mineral matter is made up of potash, lime and soda, while the delicious flavor is due to a very small quantity of fruit ethers. There are over 500 varieties raised in America, but in general, there are two kinds of peaches, the free stone in which the pulp readily separates from the stone, and the cling stone in which the pulp adheres to the stone. The commercial canners use mostly the cling stone peach which is peeled and pitted before canning. Varying amounts of sugar are added, according to the grade of peach and its own natural sugar content. The difference in the prices of canned peaches depends almost wholly upon the appearance of the fruit, the higher priced canned peaches being large and perfectly formed while the cheaper grades are from equally as wholesome fruit but either smaller, oddly shaped, or so well ripened that the shape is not easily retained during the canning process. The richest flavored canned peaches are those which are very ripe and turn practically into sauce while being canned. These are sold to bakers to be used in pies. The more expensive canned peaches are perfectly formed and put up in as high as 40 per cent solution of cane syrup.

For those who do not care about the appearance and who wish to can peaches at home, I recommend the use of very ripe peaches canned by the cold pack process. Home canning is not, however, as economical as formerly, for the commercial canners are becoming more efficient and are putting out very fine canned goods at lower prices each year. With this year's large crop and the prices of the fresh fruit so low, I strongly urge my readers to use plenty of peaches now in season. Try making a whole meal of peaches, with perhaps the addition of a glass of milk or a plate of ice cream. When peaches are used with a meal, it should be one that does not contain starch. Use fresh sliced peaches now for dessert while they are plentiful.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Pyelitis

Question—J. B. K. asks: "What are the symptoms of pyelitis? Is it possible to have it at intervals for a period of years? Is it curable? If so, what is the cure?"

Answer—Those with pyelitis usually develop a fever, but the most characteristic point is the presence of pus in the urine. It is often associated with other disorders. The treatment would depend upon the findings from a thorough diagnosis.

Salmon

Question—Mrs. E. W. Y. asks: "Does the cheaper canned pink salmon compare favorably with the more expensive canned red salmon so far as food value is concerned? How do they compare in iodine content?"

Answer—There is very little difference in the food value of pink and red salmon, and the iodine content is about the same. Any salt water fish, whether canned or fresh, has a larger amount of iodine than fresh water fish.

Charcot's Disease

Question—Mrs. C. F. asks: "Will you please tell me what Charcot's disease is, its symptoms, and what causes it? Is it always accompanied by bronchitis, and does it always prove fatal?"

Answer—Charcot's disease is a sclerosis or hardening of the spinal cord, often accompanied by inflammation of the joints but not necessarily bronchitis. If the disease is not too far advanced, the progression of the symptoms can often be stopped through the use of the fasting and dieting regimen as outlined in my cleansing diet course.

VINCENT HURLS TWO-HIT GAME

Wyatt Holds Williamsmen In Second

Special to The Record News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 21.—After two days of rain the Spudders and Exporters ended their Stuart stadium competition for 1931 this afternoon by splitting a doubleheader. The first game was 6-0, Wichita Falls, the same score by which the last three games here have been decided, and the nightcap went to Beaumont by almost the same margin.

Vincent allowed the Exporters only two hits in the curtain raiser while the Spuds were getting to Luke Hamlin for 11. Three of these put together in the second inning scored three runs. After Bradbury had gone out swinging, Fuss and Scharein singled and Euller was intentionally walked, filling the bases. Vincent popped out but on a 3-2 ball with the base runners in full stride. Gerken doubled down the right field foul line and scored three runs. In the third Badgro tripled to left center and scored on Bradbury's sacrifice fly.

In the sixth Bradbury singled, Fuss singled and Scharein doubled to left, scoring two more.

Whitlow Wyatt pitched his eighth victory in the aftermath since joining the club on July 3. He has lost only one game. He gave the visitors four hits, two of which came in the first inning for the only Spudder run. With one down Allday singled, stole second and scored on Badgro's double to right. Beaumont tied it in the same inning when Schuble walked, stole second and scored on White's single to center. Cooney was doing the pitching for Wichita Falls and in the third inning Wyatt slammed the first ball served him over left field fence for a homer. In the fourth Easterling also hit a homer over left center field fence and in the fifth with Florrid pitching Beaumont scored three more.

Wise singled to center and Wyatt singled to left, after which Schuble sacrificed. Urban drove a hit through Euller scoring Wise and putting Wyatt on third. White popped out and Urban permitted himself to trapped off first and then jockeyed up and down the base while Wyatt scored, being safe at first when attention was diverted to the pitcher. Urban then stole second and went to third when Hughes beat out a hit to first. Easterling grounded to Euller who fumbled, Urban scoring. Fritz flew out.

Cupid Lures Olney Stars From College Gridiron

STEPHENVILLE, Texas, Aug. 21. (AP)—Dan Cupid is taking an active part in controlling the destiny of the John Tarleton college football prospects.

Willis Atchley of Olney, mainstay at the quarter position last season and voted one of the best quarters in the junior college conference, and Scott Wix, also of Olney, the best broken field runner on the Tarleton eleven, are both married and will not participate in football again. Coach W. J. Wisdom says that their loss will be felt sharply.

Ruth Pays $10 for Ball Socked for 600th Homer

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Babe Ruth and little Tony Gallico engaged in a business transaction out at Sportsman's park today, much to the satisfaction of each.

The Babe hit the 600th home run of his major league career and was anxious to get the ball, which hit a motor car outside the park.

"I'd give a $10 bill and a new ball to get that old one back," the sultan of swat announced.

Tony arrived before long with the old ball, collected the $10 and the new baseball from the Babe and then paid a brief visit to the press box. Tony was described merely as "a small lad," because the fellows in the press box forgot to ask him his age. He said he was "plenty happy."

Highway Patrol To Ignore Truck Law

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—L. G. Phares, chief of the state highway patrol, late today instructed all his men not to attempt to enforce any provisions of the two new truck laws scheduled to become effective at midnight tonight.

Phares said the enforcement of the laws was so beset with injunctions he believed any attempt to enforce parts of them would be futile. The injunction suits were filed in federal court at Houston.

The laws reduce the size and load of trucks and increase the railroad commission's regulatory authority.

Johnny Sampson, who managed Young Nationalista and other Filipino boxers, is now campaigning in this country Ignacio Opao, claimant of the flyweight championship of the Orient.

SANDLOT TITLE GAME TODAY

City League Series to Open; Hurlers Uncertain

Both managers still maintain strict silence as to who they will use on the hill this afternoon in the first game of the Bailey-Moline and Sullivans playoff for the City league championship and the right to meet Dallas in the first round of the state playoff here the following Saturday and Sunday. The games will be played at Katy park.

Both teams have announced themselves as ready for the first gong this afternoon at 5 o'clock when the first of the three game series will open. In case one team wins the first two games of the playoff, the third game Sunday will be played out regardless.

To meet the expenses of the league an admission charge of 10 cents will be made each day, and close to 5,000 fans is the prediction for the attendance at the series.

While both teams will be handicapped by the loss of their ace pitchers on the eve of the opening battle they appear to be evenly matched and three great battles are expected. The latest rumor from the camp of the Hardware men is that Pete Hefner, the big slugger from the outfield, will be drafted into service on the hill. Hefner broke into the City league as a pitcher last year, but his ability to swing a heavy war club caused him to be moved to the outfield where he has played since. Flip Hoskins, the southpaw, still looks like the favorable tosser for the Grocerymen.

Doubles Champs Gain Finals at Newport

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21. (AP)—Johnny Doeg and George Lott, national tennis doubles champions the past two years, gained the final round of Newport Casino team play today with a five-set victory over Frederick J. Perry and G. Patrick Hughes, British Davis cup team. The scores were 5-7, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, 7-4.

The champions, however, face the battle of their career tomorrow, for Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill, sensational Californians who have tasted defeat only once this season, took the other final bracket by upsetting another pair of West coasters, Jack Tidball and Lester Stoeffen, in straight sets, 8-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Before engaging in the doubles finals, Vines will get in the initial singles windup with Perry. Both qualified yesterday, Vines defeating Johnny Van Ryn and the Briton advancing when Sidney Wood was defaulted because of a leg cramp.

YANKS 11, BROWNS 7

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Babe Ruth started things off again today when he walloped his 35th home run of the season and the 600th of his major league career in the third inning against the Browns. The homer, followed immediately by Lou Gehrig's 34th of the year, put the Yanks on the road to an 11 to 7 victory over St. Louis. The Babe left the game in the seventh inning by order of Umpire Van Graflan when he protested long and loudly that Ralph Kress' homer had hit the bleacher wall instead of going into the stands. Stock Prices Slump Sharply When Boomers Show Lack of Fortitude

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (US)—Prices slumped sharply today on the stock exchange, although volume of offerings was but slightly above the preceding day's total. The setback emphasized the unwillingness of the pool operators and other supposed sponsors of the constructive attempts to take more than the most modest amount of stock regardless of the possible effect of such backwardness on the price structure. Quotations gave way rather easily once they commenced to show signs of weakness.

It was the manner in which prices yielded rather than the reaction itself that induced the deep blue feeling which was engendered in market circles. If the bull leaders were anxious—as if this were possible—to unloosen any undesirable following, they were completely successful. There is the possibility, of course, that a short interest is more desirable, if it develops from renewal of widespread short selling by the so-called public.

Suddenness of the break in prices, upon reflection after the market closed, suggested the possibility of a well-timed bear raid, but this explanation has been utilized too frequently. Nevertheless, there was weakness in the general explanation that the revival of discussion regarding steel industry wages has been a live affair for the U. S. Steel corporation management and other steel enterprises for many months.

Before and after the steel dividend was cut, it was repeatedly emphasized here that, unless conditions changed abruptly for the better, the Steel corporation would be compelled to make a downward adjustment in wages, notwithstanding that a part of the management is intent to make every effort to sustain such wages until circumstances absolutely force the action. The dividend cut was the natural preliminary to wage reduction, since, as then pointed out here, the point could be emphasized that capital, represented through stockholders already has taken its cut in earnings.

The market in its present nervous state quite naturally accepts a wage reduction as bearish, but in the long run, from the purely cold logic of the market, it is a sign that seemingly inevitable readjustment has been effected.

No group and few individual issues resisted the downward trend. There was little cheer obtainable from the continued decisionless discussion over the British budget, and the bond market reflected no relief from the nervousness which has been forcing prices of all bonds steadily downward. There is, of course, the added influence in the bond weakness of the recognized desire of all banking institutions to get in as absolutely liquid shape as possible.

Largest losses naturally were registered in those issues recently most active or strongest. Steel closed down 2¾, American Can 2⅝, General Motors ⅞, and Case Threshing 4½. The widespread bull tip on the latter yielded the usual result. Du Pont came in for considerable selling, a very natural development of the weakness in General Motors.

Tobacco shares showed somewhat greater resistance to selling on more widespread realization that the decline in July sales of cigarettes represented comparison with a record-breaking month.

The tobacco shares as a group have enjoyed generally stable earnings and while some of them undoubtedly have been selling on a high ratio basis to per share income, they are favored by being representatives of an industry whose progress has never been delayed beyond temporary interruptions. Then, too, the 15 per cent advance in prices, if sustained, would more than offset a 10 per cent reduction in sales, although sales are expected to show materially better comparisons in coming months.

Oils and utilities shared in the general setback and chief hope for revival of general interest in the market rests with the utility group. It is recognized that they are favored by relatively stable earning power, certainly as compared with railroads and industrials. Thus, it would be natural to expect the bullish forces to center their efforts on the public utilities, unless they have definitely withdrawn from constructive activities.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Topsy-turvy action of the corn market had a bearish effect on all cereals today, and September corn out-matched the season's bottom price record. Liquidating sales of September corn resulted from fading away of cash demand and from execution of stop loss orders. Definite announcement that 25,000,000 bushels of United States government financed wheat would be exchanged for 1,050,000 bags of Brazilian coffee came too late to be a factor in today's wheat market.

Corn closed nervous ⅛@⅜c lower, wheat ⅛@⅝c off, oats at ⅛c decline to ⅛c advance, and provisions unchanged to 5c setback.

Weakness in corn developed after an early show of strength that was a reflection of transient wheat price upturns. The finish was at about the day's lowest figures, influenced partly by good rains in the Ohio valley and by showers in the West.

Much of the relative firmness of wheat was associated with a report by the Canadian growers' pool suggesting that 5,400,000 acres of the 23,178,000 acres of wheat seeded this spring in Canada, had been abandoned. Further reports of unfavorable weather in Europe here also at hand.

Scantness of receipts upheld oats.

Provisions felt the effect of late downturns in hog values.

SAUL'S PLANS NEW STORES

Wichita Building Remodeled for Fall

Saul's stores, among the oldest merchandising concerns in this section, are preparing for fall business with an undertaking of expansion that includes the remodeling of the Wichita Falls store, and the opening of new stores in Archer City and Electra, it was announced Friday by August G. Nagel, president.

The objective for the store here is to make it the most conveniently arranged of any department store in the city, Mr. Nagel said. Work of remodeling and rearranging is going on nightly. Completion of innovations will cause every department to be easily accessible.

Work of remodeling the buildings to house the Archer City and Electra stores has already been started. The Archer City shop will open Sept. 1, and the Electra store will open between Sept. 1 and 5, it was announced.

Changes are being made in show window arrangements with the view to making window displays the maximum in attractiveness. The store will have more than 200 feet of space for window displays.

Rearrangements inside the store call for women's and children's shoe departments to be consolidated and placed at the front of the store. Entrance to the department will be available from the corner door and from the Seventh street side.

Women's ready-to-wear and millinery will be located on the west side of the main building. Space for the department will consist of about 40 by 80 feet. Hosiery, gloves and accessories will be in a department in the center of the building with about a 60-foot department store. Piece goods will remain on the east side.

The store's adjoining building, the annex, will be known as the west room. After being redecorated, the fore part of the west room will be stocked with men's and boys' wear, including shoes and furnishings. Entrance to the department will be from the Indiana avenue side of the building.

At the rear of the west room house dresses and similar items of cheaper apparel will be found. The center section of the room will contain blankets, toys and articles sold in the smaller departments.

An eight-foot aisle, to be known as the "main street," will run from the corner entrance to the store diagonally to the center of the store, from where it will run straight back through the west room.

Rural Students in Wichita Area Eligible to Attend High School Here

At least a score of Wichita county young persons, and even a larger number of scholastics in the Thornberry community in Clay county, are directly benefited by a law passed by the 42nd legislature relative to their rights to attend high schools without paying tuition, according to J. A. Hood, county school superintendent.

Under a supreme court ruling of last spring, Mr. Hood said, persons having attained the age of 18 years were ineligible to attend public schools without paying tuition because they were not enroled as scholastics. The bill passed on Aug. 15, Mr. Hood said, restored the benefits of high school tuition to all students who reside in districts that levy local maintenance taxes for public schools. Under this new law, a student whose age exceeds 17 years may attend high school without paying tuition. Approximately 20 young people in this county were barred from school attendance last spring by the supreme court's ruling, Mr. Hood declared.

Another part of the new law refers to attendance at high schools outside the district in which the student resides. Heretofore, according to Mr. Hood, a student could attend high school in other districts within his county, or in another county's district which adjoined the district of residence. Tuition in such cases was paid by the state if the original district was unable to provide such tuition for its students. Under the new measure, a student may enter any high school in the state with state-paid tuition provided his home district maintains no high school of the required standard.

Almost two-score students in the Thornberry community are made eligible by the new law to attend high school in Wichita Falls, Mr. Hood explained.

Visitors From Entire Area Expected To Attend K. C. Frolic at Haven Park

A big day of fun and games is promised all who come to the picnic and carnival scheduled for Sunday afternoon and evening at Haven park under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, according to the announcement of the committee in charge, composed of C. J. Coffey, J. L. McMahon, M. K. Emmert, R. H. Delaney, R. M. Skrehot, P. B. Flynn and John Oechsner. Large delegations are expected from Henrietta, Burkburnett, Electra, Megargel, Archer City, Scotland, Windthorst, Vernon and other communities, and Wichita Falls will experience some keen competition from these neighbors in the various games and contests, according to those in charge.

It is stated that there will be boys' and girls' and men's indoor baseball games, a complete schedule of the usual picnic races for all ages, and a series of unusual games for children and adults under the direction of expert playground supervisors. These games will start shortly after lunch. The refreshments committee announces it will be ready to serve sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, popsickles and all kinds of cold drinks from noon on to 8 o'clock that evening to accommodate those who do not bring their own picnic lunches, and that the proceeds from these sales will go to the local council's relief fund. The carnival booths will also be open during the same hours, and the carnival committee states there will be lots of fun on its midway and prizes to those who show the most skill at these booths, the proceeds likewise going to their relief fund.

The committee emphasized there is no admission charge or parking space fee and that the public is invited.

It is stated that perhaps the biggest single attraction will be the Lions club boys band, which will play during the afternoon; and it is planned to have an old-time string band also.

Olney Egg Producer Protests Curb of Natural Gas

OLNEY, Texas, Aug. 26. (AP)—Conservation of gas from oil wells may be desirable for the oil industry's sake, but it is ruinous for one man in Olney, according to G. W. Tilley.

When orders were issued from Tilley's office that gas from Olney's townsite wells must be left in the ground and not burned, numerous protests were made. One man said the light from the burning gas kept thieves away from his chicken roost and increased egg production by lengthening the working day. He also was planning to pipe the gas inot his house for cooking, heating, and illumination purposes.

EXTRADITION OF MAN SOUGHT

Suspect Held in Nebraska On Assault Charge

Application was made to Gov. Ross Sterling Friday afternoon by Assistant District Attorney Mike Anglin for the extradition of Graham Fears, indicted here in April on a charge of criminal assault, and now held in Omaha, Neb., for Wichita county officers.

Sheriff Perry Browning was appraised Friday of Fears' apprehension by officers at Omaha. The defendant is charged by grand jury indictment with having attacked a Wichita Falls girl under 15 years of age at Call field about Feb. 1. Fears refused to waive extradition.

Fears is under a suspended sentence of two years for burglary, his conviction on that charge having been obtained in the 89th district court here last fall, Mr. Anglin said.

C.-C. EXPECTS BUSY SEASON

Business Reviving Over Wichita Area

Preparations are now under way for the resumption of chamber of commerce activities on a large scale Sept. 1, it was announced Friday by John Boswell, manager of the chamber.

In view of indications that business is reviving, a particularly busy fall and winter is believed to face the chamber of commerce, it was said. Many important projects on which work has been done during the year are expected to be carried to a successful close during the next few months.

Beginning Sept. 1, directors of the chamber of commerce will be called into session to formally open the new "working" season, and at this meeting plans will be made for continuing the chamber's program of work and to bring the year's activities to an end with many valuable accomplishments to the credit of the organization.

Also beginning on Sept. 1, Mr. Boswell said, several committee meetings will be held daily until every committee has been brought together and its plans laid for the renewal of activities.

During the month, luncheon organizations will resume meetings. The business council, which suspended meetings during the summer, will hold its first meeting on Friday, Sept. 11. J. S. Hargett is chairman. Friday, Sept. 4, the membership luncheons of the Junior chamber of commerce will be resumed.

Plans for the first luncheons of each organization are for exceptionally attractive programs.

Chatham Joins East Texas C-C

will join Mr. Chatham before the opening of school.

At the present time Mr. Chatham is chairman of the manufactures and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce. He is a director of the chamber and a director of the Wichita Falls Rotary club. Recently he was vice president and general manager of the Western Garment Manufacturing company.

Resident Since 1919
His chamber of commerce activities here started with his coming to Wichita Falls in 1919. At that time he became traffic and industrial manager of the chamber. He continued in that capacity until December, 1921, when he received the appointment as auditor of the Wichita county water improvement districts. In this position he was in charge of the financial transactions connected with the construction of the irrigation project.

Despite his many duties with the construction of the irrigation system, he continued to evince an interest in chamber of commerce affairs, and devoted a part of his time to the chamber's traffic matters.

With the establishment of an industrial and traffic department of the chamber of commerce in August, 1925, Mr. Chatham resigned his place with the water districts to become associated again with the chamber on a full time basis.

He continued with the chamber of commerce until Jan. 1, 1930, the latter three months of the period being served as acting secretary-manager. Following, and until the present time, he had been associated with the Western Garment Manufacturing company, devoting part of his time to the traffic and industrial affairs of the chamber.

He has been credited with much of the development of industry in Wichita Falls, and with many undertakings that have proved valuable to business concerns of the city in connection with rate and traffic matters.

30 LEAVE FOR LEGION MEET

Wichita Delegation Seeks State Convention

Intent upon obtaining the designation of Wichita Falls as the 1932 state convention city of the Texas American Legion, approximately 60 representatives of Pat Carrigan post left for El Paso Friday noon for the 1931 state meet.

With 25 drums and 18 bugles for the drum and bugle corps, rifles for the firing squad and uniforms for those organizations stored in their private baggage car, the Wichita Falls legionnaires started for the border city purposed to demonstrate that the state's largest legion post is likewise wide awake and aggressive.

The group was to stop in Fort Worth from 4 to 10 p. m. Friday, being entertained by the Bothwell lane post and the chamber of commerce there. The arrival in El Paso is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the pajama clad Wichita Falls drum and bugle corps will parade through the business section of the convention city.

No ceremonies or parades marked the departure of the delegation. Its members conserved their music and marching faculties for competition next Monday and Tuesday against various drum and bugle organizations from other Texas cities.

Leaders of the Pat Carrigan post delegation at El Paso will be aided by John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce, in campaigning for next year's convention.

Negro Faces Charge In Theft of Tires

Detection of two missing automobile tires by their owner upon a car driven by a negro resulted in the filing of a complaint Friday against the latter charging theft and receiving and concealing stolen property under $50, according to County Attorney L. V. Abernathy. The complaint was signed by City Detective Fred Fountain.

Efforts were made Thursday by city police officers to arrest the defendant after C. W. Gorin, 1714 Taylor street, had reported the alleged whereabouts of the two tires. They had been recognized by Gorin's son because of a peculiarly shaped blowout. Serial numbers kept by Mr. Gorin completed the identification.

The negro told Mr. Abernathy that the two tires represented his compensation for doing a job of mechanical work upon another negro's car. He reported at police headquarters Friday morning, he said, to see why officers had sought him Thursday.
