Girls Win Firsts In Lamb Contests

It was the girls' day in the lamb competition at the Howard County FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show. Championships in the Fine Wool, Cross Bred and Southdown breeds all went to young ladies of the 4-H Club. W. M. Day, Upton County, the judge of the lambs found his work cut out for him when he arrived on the scene at 9 a.m.

Man Dies, Woman Injured In Affray

A 51-year-old mail clerk, employed by the Big Spring State Hospital, is dead and a 54-year-old Odessa woman is in Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital gravely wounded as result of a shooting affray at 7 a.m. today in a cabin on the hospital grounds.

Willard Scalf, a long time employe of the hospital, is dead. He was shot twice and possibly three times. His body was found on the floor of the small living room of his quarters.

Shot two times and perhaps more is Iris Kathleen Bridges, Odessa. She said she is employed by the Odessa Lumber Co. Meantime, officers are puzzled over many conflicting details in the case. Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, is withholding his verdict on cause of Scalf's death pending further investigation.

Sheriff Miller Harris, Deputy Aubrey Standard and special investigator Bob West were at the scene of the shooting. The affray was reported to officers about 9 a.m.

The dead man and the wounded woman were found by a hospital employe who went to the cabin to check on why Scalf had not reported to work. He was fully clothed, shaven and apparently ready to go to work.

West said he and Slaughter talked to the woman at the hospital. She told them she came to Big Spring early today, ar-iving at the cabin where Scalf lived around 7 a.m. She came to see him, West said he was told, because two of the woman's pet dogs had been killed Tuesday night. West said the connection between Scalf and the death of the two dogs is vague.

The woman said she took a .38 calibre revolver into the cabin in her purse, West reports. An argument seems to have developed. She claimed Scalf picked up the pistol and shot her. She fell on the bed. Later, she got possession of the gun (which Scalf had laid down), she told West and Slaughter, and fired "several shots" at Scalf.

Scalf fell to the floor, West quoted the woman as saying. The woman then, according to her story to the officers, took the pistol and carried it from the bedroom to the front room where she placed it in the hands of the mail clerk. "Finish what you started," she said she told him.

The gun was found in the man's right hand by officers. There were six discharged shells found. Four of these were on the floor and two in the pistol. This, officers said, showed that sometime during the interval the gun had been reloaded.

Body of the dead man is at the River-Welch Funeral Home. West said the woman told him she had no relatives to notify.

'Soft' Note Asks Return Of U.S. Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States combined an apology with a protest in asking the Soviet Union to help speed the return of an American reconnaissance bomber and its three-man crew shot down Tuesday over Communist East Germany.

The crewmen parachuted from the plane after the shooting, the Defense Department said, but their fate was not known here. The plane was described as unarmed and on a training flight.

The Air Force identified the three crewmen as Capt. David I. Holland, 35, the pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Holland of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, instructor navigator, son of Abraham Kessler of Philadelphia; and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, navigator, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Welch of Detroit.

Holland's wife lives at Toul-Rosieres Air Force Base, France, where the crew is stationed. Kessler's wife and two children reside at Toulaire near the base. Welch is single.

The request for Soviet help was made urgently Tuesday night by Assistant Secretary of State William Tyler to Georgi M. Kornienko, minister counselor of the Soviet Embassy.

Floods Force Thousands From Homes, Factories

Flood waters poured down many rivers and streams in the Midwest and East today, keeping thousands of persons from their homes, closing factories and blocking roads.

At least 19 persons died in floods and in widespread storms which hurled heavy rain, high winds and snow at hundreds of communities.

EMERGENCY
A leaking floodwall gate prompted officials to declare an "extreme emergency" in New Albany, Ind. The Ohio River washed out street pavement under the gate and tons of water roared into a West Side residential area. More than 100 workers began tossing sandbags in an effort to plug the gap.

But skies cleared in the flood zone. And some rivers began to recede at upstream points.

The swollen Ohio River crested in Pittsburgh early today at 31.6 feet, highest mark since 1954. Then it began to drop slowly. The Allegheny also began to recede at many points.

But downstream along the mighty Ohio scores of cities and towns braced for the worst that was yet to come. The crest was expected at Cincinnati at noon Thursday and at Louisville, Ky., Friday.

Thousands of persons have been routed in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Southern Illinois, Pennsylvania and Missouri.

ISOLATED
Shepherdsville, south of Louisville, was isolated by the worst flood there since 1937. About

Russians Get Primary News

MOSCOW (AP) — Tass today reported the defeat of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the New Hampshire primaries, calling him the "idol of the wild men."

The Soviet news agency also noted the defeat of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, saying, "This Goldwater in a skirt, as she is called in the United States, collected an insignificant number of votes."

Tass correspondent Leonid Velichansky, in a dispatch from Claremont, N.H., said: "These results mean, first of all, public condemnation of the adventurist policy advocated by Goldwater during his campaign in New Hampshire state."

seven feet of water covered the business district. Driftwood swept down the Salt River and smashed store windows.

Some sections of Renovo, Pa., on the Susquehanna River, were reported under four feet of water.

In Utica, Ind., it appeared that the entire side of the town near the Ohio River lay under water. Houses could be reached only by boat.

RED CROSS
The American Red Cross rushed disaster workers to Cincinnati, Ohio, and Louisville, Ky. The Ohio River overflowed its banks in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky and threatened to become the fourth worst flood in Ohio Valley history.

Red Cross shelters were established in Pennsylvania as the Allegheny, Susquehanna and Ohio rivers surged into streets and homes.

Hundreds of families in Missouri and Southern Illinois left their homes as rivers overflowed and sent water edging to doorsteps.

Residents prepared to evacuate as the Ohio River reached flood stages from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, W.Va.

Officials said 23 counties in Kentucky, 16 in Ohio, 15 in Pennsylvania and 6 in Indiana were affected by floods.

A 6½-foot crest was expected in Cincinnati Thursday, 10½ feet above flood stage and the highest in almost 20 years.

While snows up to 17 inches tumbled over the Atlantic Coast states, Texas basked in spring-like weather of sunny skies and fair temperatures.

The state warmed up Tuesday after a cold night of fruit-killing frost. Temperatures reached 80 degrees at Presidio and highs of 65 were not uncommon.

Lodge Victory Shuffles Hopeful GOP Cards

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Undeclared and absent, Henry Cabot Lodge swept all the prizes in New Hampshire's leadoff primary today with a write-in vote triumph that shuffled the Republican presidential cards.

Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, said in Saigon he will not resign his diplomatic post despite his upset victory in the year's first polling-place test of Republican sentiment.

ALL DELEGATES
His write-in vote rolled over hard-running Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, and Lodge men captured all 14 New Hampshire delegate seats at the Republican National Convention.

Goldwater and Rockefeller—declared candidates who spent wintry weeks hunting votes in New Hampshire — challenged Lodge to come home and fight for the nomination.

The ambassador's answer: "I do not plan to go to the United States. I do not intend to resign."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, another write-in contender, ranked fourth with

New Hampshire Republicans.

FAR BACK
Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen trailed far behind.

Lottery Wins By 3-1 Margin

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The New Hampshire Sweepstakes raced to a lopsided victory in a local option referendum held Tuesday in conjunction with the presidential preference primary.

The state-sponsored lottery apparently failed to pile up the 4-1 edge its supporters had hoped for, but the margin of approval was impressive.

With most of the state's 302 precincts reported, the sweepstakes won approval by better than a 3-1 vote. The state hopes to realize more than $4 million annually from the venture and will distribute the money to schools.

of the top declared candidates had not anticipated a sweep of the delegates for their man.

Goldwater, claiming victory in advance, said he expected to capture seven to 10 delegates.

With votes from 302 of New Hampshire's 302 precincts counted, this was the Republican tally:

Lodge 33,521
Goldwater 21,775
Rockefeller 19,496
Richard M. Nixon 15,752
Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 2,812
Harold E. Stassen 1,285

Lodge had captured about 35 per cent of the Republican vote.

MANDATE
It added up to a New Hampshire mandate to Lodge to challenge President Johnson—his boss as ambassador—for the White House.

There were a scattered few write-in votes for Gove. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan.

Despite the snowstorm, the Republican turnout totaled some 90,000 votes. Advance

Defense Testimony Ends, State Begins Rebuttal

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's lawyers rested his murder case in a surprise maneuver today. The state began rebuttal testimony shortly thereafter.

Defense lawyers said they wished to end their direct testimony while the impact of Dr. Manfred Guttmacher's psychiatric opinions were fresh in the jurors' minds.

INSANE
Guttmacher, a Baltimore psychiatrist, testified Tuesday that he believes Ruby was insane on Nov. 24 when he killed Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Chief defense lawyer Melvin Belli did not place Ruby on the witness stand although at one time he said he might do so. Belli still could have Ruby testify in rebuttal.

As soon as the jury of eight men and four women was seated Judge Joe Brown asked Belli who he was calling as his first witness for the day.

"The defense rests, your honor," Belli replied. This marked the end of direct testimony for both sides.

Belli's unexpected maneuver came after discussions about the tactics with his colleagues late into the night. He earlier said he had two or three more witnesses for direct testimony.

The first state rebuttal witness was Ira Walker, a technician with station WBAP in Fort Worth. He said he saw Ruby outside the Dallas city jail "sometime after 10:30" on the morning Ruby shot Oswald.

Testimony has indicated the moment of the shooting was 11:20 a.m. and the defense has sought to show that Ruby, after sending a telegram at 11:17, walked to the jail from the Western Union office.

The defense story has been that Ruby arrived at the station just at the instant Oswald was being transferred to the county jail.

SAW HIM
Walker said he saw Ruby twice. He said he was inside the television sound truck; that he saw Ruby's face twice, and that on both occasions Ruby asked, "Have they brought him down yet?"

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Rioting Cambodians sacked the American and British embassies in Phnom Penh today and the U.S. Information Service library.

Several thousand Cambodians rampaged through the buildings during the three hours of disorder.

The flag over the U.S. Embassy was hauled down and burned, and the mob ran up the Cambodian flag.

Several cars belonging to members of the British Embassy were burned, and several American Embassy cars were overturned.

'GO HOME'
The mob shouted such slogans as "U.S. go home," "Down with imperialists and the Free World," and "Perfidious Albion (England)."

In Washington, State Department press officer Martin Cramer said no Americans were reported injured in the riot but several demonstrators were cut by shattered glass from windows stoned by the mob.

Cramer said U.S. charge d'affaires Herbert D. Spivack had protested to the Cambodian government.

The rioters broke through police barriers to sack the U.S. Embassy and the information library. They put a ladder against a wall to bring the American flag down.

Embassy papers were scattered through the streets.

Relations between the United States and Cambodia have deteriorated in recent months, and the government of Prince Norodom Sihanouk has moved closer to the Communist camp.

The Cambodian chief of state has recalled his ambassador from Washington and refused to accept further U.S. aid, accusing the United States of supporting Cambodian rebels.

Washington has denied this. Sihanouk criticized the United States Monday night in connection with his proposal that the United States, Thailand and South Viet Nam send representatives here by the end of March to sign an accord recognizing Cambodia's neutrality and territorial integrity.

Housing Ruling Loses At Polls

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Voters rejected Tuesday a controversial open housing ordinance that would have made racial and religious discrimination in the sale or rental of dwellings illegal.

The measure was defeated by a two-to-one margin during the city's general election. The vote was 112,448 against to 53,453.

The 42-year-old prince said the U.S. suggested creating a frontier delimitation committee instead.

"The American counterproposal constitutes an immense duplicity absolutely unacceptable and inadmissible," he said. "The delimitation of the Cambodian frontiers is not to be done over."

About 10,000 Greek Cypriots Demonstrate

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—About 10,000 Greek Cypriot students surged through Nicosia today shouting slogans against Britain and the United States.

The youths converged on the passing car of the British high commissioner, Sir Arthur Clarke and banged on the doors. Older students and police stepped in and cleared a path for the car.

Turkish warships took to the seas north of Cyprus as the Greek Cypriot government of President Makarios kept up pressure on the Turkish Cypriot minority in this island republic.

Turkish naval units steamed out of Iskenderun Tuesday, destination unknown. Turkish authorities did not say how many vessels left, nor whether any of the troops massed in the area about 100 miles from Cyprus were aboard.

Similar moves by the Turkish fleet since fighting erupted between the two Cypriot factions last December have been described as "routine exercises."

Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriot minority, appealed to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to dispatch a U.N. peace force quickly to Cyprus to save his people from "annihilation" by Greek Cypriots.

Kuchuk also wired appeals to the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey—the three nations that guarantee the independence of Cyprus under the 1962 treaty.

After a three-day battle in the west coast town of Kitima, the Makarios government announced its forces had overwhelmed Turkish Cypriots after a day-long battle in the southwest village of Mallia.

Sporadic shooting continued in Kitima as Greek and Turkish Cypriot officials met to try to shore up the shaky cease-fire that halted fighting there Monday.

formed the keystone of the defense case. Guttmacher spelled out Tuesday the core of the defense case:

SPELLED OUT
"An abnormal individual with an abnormal personality structure . . . under a very great emotional impact for two days . . . came upon this perpetrator of the assassination (of President Kennedy) . . . a psychotic episode . . . with the homicide resulting."

During a recess, Belli said he and defense lawyer Joe Tonahill decided Tuesday night to rest the case. He said Tonahill suggested, "We've got a powerful case as it stands."

The lawyers indicated they felt the impact on the jury of Guttmacher's testimony was so great they did not wish to add anything further to direct testimony. Belli quoted Tonahill as saying: "Let's fold up."

Tonahill said, "We think we're ahead as of now. We figured we should quit while we're ahead."

Republicans Take Strong Stand Against Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans have taken a strong stand against the wheat-cotton bill which has also run into a procedural snag in the Rules Committee.

Rep. Howard Smith, D-Va., Rules Committee chairman, informed Agriculture Committee Chairman Harold Cooley, D-N.C., that he couldn't appear today as Cooley had expected.

Cooley was reported hoping he could get a hearing Thursday on his plan to bring the bill before the House for a vote on accepting the Senate version without change.

Leading up to this farm bill tangle were these developments:

The Agriculture Committee hurriedly approved the Senate wheat provisions by a straight party vote, apparently to try to forestall Republican criticism that the measure had not received proper consideration in the committee.

The House Republican Policy Committee "overwhelmingly" voted to oppose the present bill, even though lack of action on wheat could mean a drastic drop in the income of wheat farmers.

Policy Chairman John Byrnes, R-Wis., explained that Republicans objected to "strong-arm" procedures that apparently were applied.

Other Republicans noted that President Johnson had visited the Capitol the night before to huddle with Cooley and Democratic leaders.

Here is the legislative history of the bill so far:

The House passed a bill confined to cotton. This could have allowed cotton mills to buy American cotton at the lowest world price by giving them an 8 cents a pound government subsidy, on top of two other subsidies now provided in the cotton business.

A Republican amendment provided for gradual reduction of the support price for U. S. cotton from its present high of 32½ cents a pound.

The Senate knocked out the Republican amendment and tacked on an entire wheat bill, passed this and sent it back to the House.

The wheat bill provides for what the administration calls voluntary production controls, and is intended to preserve the income of wheat farmers at the present level. Since the farmers voted down a mandatory control plan last spring, their support price would drop to $1.25 a bushel from $2 if Congress takes no action.

In the House, even the wheat state Republicans oppose this bill.

Rotarians Learn About Mass Feeding Of Stock

Jofin Cowser, manager of the Snyder County Feed lot on the Snyder Highway, told Rotarians Tuesday about feeding cattle for market. He discussed the methods of feeding, cost of feeding, and the length of time required to feed out the animals.

"We have 40 pens, capable of holding an average of 100 head each," he said. "When we started last winter we got in about 3,200 head, and have had an average of 2,600 head on feed since."

"We have plenty of water and good drainage at the lots, and the feeding is done on a scientific basis where it requires from 100 to 120 days to feed out an animal. We do it either on a cost or gain basis, and under contract so everybody knows exactly what the terms are," he continued. The best original weight to begin feeding out is from 400 to 700 pounds. The 700 to 900 pound classes begin to drop in economy of gain."

Cowser invited Rotarians and friends to visit the feed lots to get a first-hand view of the feeding, and a knowledge of how it is done.

President E. P. Driver announced the move to bring the 1965 district conference to Big Spring. He said Dick Ream had been appointed to head a committee to bid on the conference, and he asked Rotarians to attend the conference in Sweetwater April 9-11 to support the invitation.

Martin Landers announced the debate contest at Howard County Junior College Friday and Saturday, and invited Rotarians to select hours in which they could act as judges.

Charter Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comptroller of the Currency James Saxon has approved a charter for the Richardson Heights National Bank of Richardson, Tex., just north of Dallas. The bank will have initial capitalization of $600,000. George M. Underwood Jr. represents the organizers.

SCS To Assist Two Districts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman authorized the Soil Conservation Service Tuesday to give financial and technical assistance to two locally sponsored watershed projects in Texas.

The projects are the Pine Creek watershed in Lamar County and the Upper Bosque River watershed in Erath, Hamilton and Bosque counties.

Project cost figures were not announced.

Fellow Employee Of Oswald Testifies Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fellow employee of Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas testifies today before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

The commission identified him as Buell Wesley Frazier, who worked with Oswald at the Texas School Book Depository building from where, police say, Oswald fired the shots that killed Kennedy last Nov. 22. Oswald was shot to death two days later in the Dallas jail.

The other scheduled witness was Linnie Mae Randle, Frazier's sister.

The commission, which is headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, took testimony Tuesday from four young Dallas men about the shooting of the President in the Dallas motorcade.

"These were witnesses who stated that they had seen a rifle in the window," Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a commission member, explained to newsmen.

The four included: Robert Jackson, Dallas Times Herald photographer who was riding in a car several cars behind the presidential limousine when the shots were fired; Arnold Louis Rowland; James Richard Worrell; and Amos Lee Ewins, 14.

Tax Cut May Be Smaller Than It Now Appears

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—A tip to taxpayers in the middle to upper-middle income brackets: Your tax cut may not be quite as big as it looked in your latest paycheck. Uncle Sam is withholding less this year than he used to, in proportion to the tax actually owed.

If you assume that the whole increase in take-home pay is yours to spend, you could find yourself in a pinch when income tax time rolls around a year from now.

Millions of taxpayers who usually get refunds will find the refund shrunken or gone entirely. A good many will be jarred to discover—unless they have taken steps to cushion the blow—that they owe the government sums ranging from small amounts up to hundreds of dollars.

The "under-withholding" gap results from technical problems met in introducing lower rates with the year already one-sixth over.

For taxpayers earning wages or salaries up to the general neighborhood of $10,000 a year, the withholding comes fairly close to matching the tax actually owed.

But in higher brackets, when withholding always has fallen well short of covering the tax liability, the margin now widens perceptibly.

For a hypothetical example, take Harry X. Birdlong, a junior executive who is paid $15,000 a year. He has a wife and two children. Like most taxpayers in his bracket, he itemizes his deductions because his interest, tax and medical outlays exceed the $1,000 standard deduction.

They add up to $2,500, about average for his income group. He has just finished figuring his 1963 tax. It came to $2,225. The withholding amounted to $2,220. Birdlong, has sent the Internal Revenue Service $5 with his 1963 tax return.

For 1964 his federal income tax will drop to around $1,975.

His paycheck withholding will come to about $1,810. Instead of owing IRS only $5, he will owe something like $165.

With the new tax tables for 1964 which IRS has made available, Birdlong, can estimate his 1964 taxes in advance and remit larger quarterly payments.

Birdlong might elect, instead, to ask his employer to reduce his exemptions. With a $15,000 income, he could make the withholdings cover his tax liability but not taking the withholding exemptions for the two children.

Tornado Season Nears For Texans

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas moves next month into its peak tornado season, the Weather Bureau says. About 62 per cent of the tornadoes have struck the state in April, May and June.

Tornado activity is at its highest in May, the bureau said. It was in May 1962 that 114 persons died at Goliad, and in May 1953, a tornado killed 114 at Waco, in the state's two worst tornado disasters.

From 1916 to 1962, of the 1,424 tornadoes recorded in Texas, 302 were in April, 365 in May and 220 in June. Tornadoes have been logged in every month, the bureau said.

Texas has had more tornadoes than any other state, but this is because of her large area.

REFUND
For him, this device would work out this way: tax, about $1,975; withholdings, about $2,000; result at year's end, a $25 refund from the government.

The IRS says most employers will make such an adjustment if the withholding is increased in multiples of $5.

However, tax men add a warning: the under-withholding will be less acute in 1965, when the tax reduction program is fully in effect.

"Tornadoes are usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thunderstorm. When close by it sounds like a fast moving freight train or a flight of many airplanes," the bureau said.

In a tornado near Wichita Falls in April 1958, the rotating winds were clocked at up to 280 miles per hour, it said.

House Votes On Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes today on a bill that would grant $10,000-a-year pay raises to members of Congress.

Cub Parley Due Thursday

A major effort is being made to have a large turnout Thursday when Cub leaders meet for their monthly roundtable at the old student Union building at Howard County Junior College.

Slim Broughton, associate district commissioner for Cubbing, has arranged an extensive program of program helps and activities.

In group meetings, den mothers will discuss the theme for April, and Mrs. B. M. Nugent of Pack 14 will be in charge. Pack leaders will discuss the theme for April, also, and will look at some activities for the summer.

There will be a filmstrip on Cub Scout summer programs, and announcements concerning the "strengthen America's Heritage" theme of Boy Scouts of America.

Nearly everyone else on the federal payroll also would benefit from the bill but the congressional pay raise is the key to the rest of the package.

Having voted to cut taxes and pledged to economize in government many members are reluctant to put $10,000 more in public funds into their own pockets — and then face the voters.

The bill's chances are bright if it can be passed by a voice vote — avoiding the necessity for members to go on record for or against it.

There was a possibility the bill would be withdrawn if a roll call vote is ordered.

Getting $10,000-a-year increases along with members of the House and Senate would be the vice president, Supreme Court justices, Cabinet officials and those at the immediate sub-Cabinet level.

For postal workers and career government employees raises would range from 1.7 per cent to 22.5 per cent, with the average mailman and government secretary getting about $450 a year more.

Union's Efforts Goes Slightly Off Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Teamsters Union effort to build "a better public image" got slightly off course when reporters wanted to talk more about the future of James R. Hoffa, president of the union, than about Teamsters plans for community bake sales, fish fries and arts-and-crafts shows.

Hoffa "hasn't been a point of discussion" in recent public relations conferences sponsored by the Eastern Conference of Teamsters, a union spokesman said.

But it turned out that Charles Bell, president of the Washington Joint Conference of Teamsters, was willing to talk about Hoffa's recent conviction of jury tampering in Tennessee.

Does this mean, Bell was asked, that Hoffa could not run the 1.7-million-member union from jail?

The frank exchange at a news conference was a new experience for Washington labor writers who formerly got curt "no comments" from the Teamsters international headquarters here.

Smouldering Feud Of LBJ, Bobby Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some administration sources sought today to soft-pedal talk of a smouldering political feud between President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Others, however, insisted there has long been personal friction between the two and that relations were further strained by organized efforts to garner vice presidential votes for Kennedy in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

Although Johnson outpolled Kennedy in New Hampshire, and the attorney general acted last week to discourage efforts in his behalf, the write-in drive for Kennedy certainly was an embarrassment to both men — and helped inspire talk of a party feud.

In view of this, it seemed likely that some concerted effort would be made by the administration to promote Democratic harmony and scotch reports of a rift.

In fact, the official who characterized Johnson-Kennedy relations as excellent appeared to be speaking for the White House, although he declined to be quoted by name.

It has often been said that Johnson has been cool to Kennedy for the past three years because Kennedy allegedly opposed selection of the Texan as the 1960 Democratic vice presidential nominee.

One man in a position to know said opinion on the choice of Johnson was sharply divided.

Another insider, while expressing no opinion on this subject, supported the view that there is no warmth in the Johnson-Robert Kennedy relationship.

He said the President acted with great reluctance in sending the attorney general on his recent peacemaking mission in Indonesia and Malaysia. He said Johnson apparently did not want to give Kennedy a buildup as a potential running mate.

but that Robert Kennedy argued for Johnson because of the Southern support he was expected to bring to the ticket headed by John F. Kennedy.

As for Kennedy, Johnson asserted that the attorney general and all Democrats mentioned for the vice presidency "have established a very fine record of public service."

This tribute seemed a bit pallid in contrast to praise Johnson had lavished earlier on certain other potential running mates, including Kennedy's brother-in-law, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

He did say Tuesday in a talk at a junior high school, that "I'm not going to remain as attorney general after November."

Although there has been Kennedy-for-vice president talk for the past three months, the attorney general said nothing substantive on the subject until last week, when he said he wanted to discourage write-in efforts in his behalf. He did not eliminate himself as a potential candidate.

Johnson was asked about the Kennedy write-in drive at his news conference Saturday. His response added up to this: "It's quite proper for the voters to express a choice for vice president but the real choice rests with the presidential candidate. And Johnson did not list primary results as among the factors influencing that choice."

Zoning Board Meets Thursday

The zoning board of adjustment will meet at 4 p.m. Thursday to consider a request for one-foot and eight-foot variances to a city setback ordinance.

Jimmy Ray Smith, owner of Lot 6, Block 4, Indian Hills Addition, is asking permission to build a new residence at 1600 Osage Road with the house nine feet from the inside property line and 12 feet from the property line on a side street. The ordinance requires setbacks of 10 feet on the inside and 20 feet on a side street.

Owners of property located within 200 feet of the affected property have been notified of the public hearing.

Water Group Hearing Slated

AUSTIN (AP) — An April 7 hearing is scheduled by the Texas Water Commission on an application by the South Texas Electric Cooperative to appropriate 223,400 acre-feet of water a year from the Guadalupe River.

The commission scheduled a hearing April 6 on an application by Troy Chapman of Vernon to take 189 acre-feet annually from a reservoir on a tributary of the Red River in Wilbarger County.

SAID NOTHING
Kennedy has said nothing about his 1964 political intentions, if any.

He did say Tuesday in a talk at a junior high school, that "I'm not going to remain as attorney general after November."

Although there has been Kennedy-for-vice president talk for the past three months, the attorney general said nothing substantive on the subject until last week, when he said he wanted to discourage write-in efforts in his behalf. He did not eliminate himself as a potential candidate.

Commissioners Accept Bids On Three Purchases

City commissioners Tuesday accepted a bid for three police cars with all the "extras," and settled for the only bid on sewer rodding equipment.

Motorola Corporation's bid of $5,356.08 for electrical equipment including eight mobile radio units and a new base station was accepted after Roy Anderson, assistant city manager; W. D. Berry, civil defense chief of Howard County, and Police Chief Jay Banks spoke in favor of the firm's equipment.

General Electric, the only other firm to submit a bid, failed to specify sums for each item in the specifications, officials said. The firm submitted a bid of $4,766.20 to cover all items in the specifications.

Don Sample and Dave Murphy, representatives of Motorola, spoke in favor of their bid. Murphy recently was awarded the contract for servicing city radio equipment.

Commissioners appeared to agree that the Motorola equipment is more durable than the equipment offered by General Electric. Anderson, recommending acceptance of the Mo-trola proposal, said there is a possibility standardization of equipment may reduce maintenance costs. Most of the electrical equipment owned by the city was furnished by Motorola.

EXTRA FUND
In approving the bid, commissioners also approved the expenditure of $250 extra for a new type antenna for the base station.

The price for each bid item, as approved, is: 100 watt base station, $632; antenna for base station, $66.50; remote control console, $216; remote control adaptor, $43.70; switch kit, $99.50; floating arm microphone, $73.63; foot switch, $9.72; balanced wireline equalizer, $15.20; three 37.18 megacycle mobile units, $1,693.83; and five 154 980 megacycle mobile units, $2,396.

Anderson said his recommendation was predicated on Motorola's prices being firm for immediate purchases and those anticipated within 90 days from April 1. A letter of approval has been received from the office of Civil Defense committing matching funds for the purchase of the equipment, he said. This means the city would pay only half the cost of the $5,356.08 cost.

SHASTA
Shasta Ford Company's bid of $4,913.19 for furnishing three new patrol cars with trade-ins was the apparent low bid including air conditioning and tinted glasses.

Commissioners approved the bid with the stipulation that the cars must have over-size radiators and all of the standard equipment for operation of the air conditioners.

Other bids less trade-ins including all the "extras": Gilman Motor Co., $5,097.55; Jones Motor Co., $5,952.19.

Flex - Rod Pipe Tool Co. was the only firm bidding on the sewer equipment. Commissioners approved the firm's bid of $2,975 plus $1,012 for extra rods and other equipment.

Approval came after Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard said Abilene and Lubbock use the same type machine. The City of Abilene is replacing its sewer rodder with a new one of the same type, and the old one was in use every day for 12 years.

Old rods presently owned by the city can be fitted into the new rodder, Lillard said, adding that the new rods can clean sewer lines for lengths of 600 feet from a single direction. Approval of the bid is subject to a 30-day trial period.

Merit Scholar Exams Saturday

Eleventh grade pupils and others who plan to graduate in 1965 are invited to participate Saturday in the National Merit Scholarship examinations.

Wayne Bonner, in charge of guidance, said that the exams would be at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at Big Spring High School.

This is the first step in the National Merit Scholarship program which is designed to recognize scholarship through a system of substantial grants. It is privately financed.

Those who are selected as semi-finalists on the basis of their showing in the Saturday examinations will be asked to take the College Board Examinations next autumn in confirmation of the current tests.

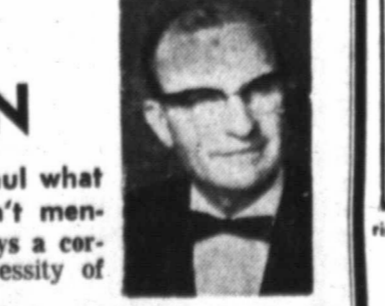

Explorer Meet

A District Explorer Cabinet meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce conference room. District Cabinet Advisor, Leroy Hollingshead, and District Cabinet Chairman James Backham, will be in charge of the meeting. All cabinet members are urged to be present.

THIRD OBJECTION

"When the jailer asked Paul what to do to be saved, Paul didn't mention baptism (Acts 16:31)," so says a correspondent, objecting to the necessity of baptism.

Reply: We do not have a record of all Paul said to the jailer — just his first statement. But we know Paul said more to him than "Believe." Paul and Silas said this, "and they spake unto him the word of the Lord . . ." (Acts 16:31, 32).

baptized immediately (straightway). He did not even wait until morning. And if he was saved first, he did not know it. We are told that he rejoiced after baptism, not before. Read Acts 16:30 to 34.

Such was the result of Paul's sermon. Does the message of the modern preacher have this kind of result?

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

MRS. LESLIE CLAWSON returned from Dallas Monday where she had gone to assist her daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. BUD WALTERS, in their move to the city.

MRS. R. F. BLUHM finally got to Denton to see her first grandson, KIRK EDWARD, who is the son of MR. and MRS. BILLY BLUHM, the baby was born in Denton on Feb. 6. His double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Dr. John Donaho, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Angelo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Peterson of San Angelo, former Lamesa residents. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dodgen of Shamrock.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a bridal gown fashioned of peau de sole and Venice lace. The molded bodice of lace featured a portrait neckline and was highlighted with seed pearls and long tapering sleeves.

The couple will make their home in Tampa, Fla., where the bridegroom is stationed. The bride is a graduate of San Angelo Central High School and Texas Tech. The bridegroom graduated from Shamrock High School and Texas A&M. He is a USAF pilot.

Business Club Dines

Members of the Business and Professional Women held a covered dish luncheon at the Flame Dish of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Tuesday evening.

The group voted to support the city-wide clean up campaign. Volunteers as delegates to the state convention to be held in Fort Worth June 4-9 were Mrs. Alma Gollnick, Mrs. W. H. Ward and Miss Edith Gay.

Hostesses included Mrs. Vena Lawson, Mrs. C. R. Rhoads, Mrs. Delphia Gordon, Mrs. Nell Frazier, Mrs. Orna Buchanan and Mrs. W. B. Sullivan. Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls was a guest.

Mrs. H. B. Reagan Is Circle Hostess For Salad Supper

Mrs. H. B. Reagan was hostess at a salad supper held Monday evening in her home for members of the Mary Martha Class of First Baptist Church. Mrs. Henry Carpenter was cohostess.

Mrs. Joe Carpenter, class president, presided, and Mrs. Inez Lewis gave the opening prayer. The devotion was by Mrs. Robert Polk.

An essay written in the 1800's entitled, "What is Worth While," was the topic of the main discussion. At the conclusion of the program, members told of plans for vacation trips in the summer which will take them to many areas of the United States.

The birthday song was sung to the class teacher, Mrs. Al Kioven, and the cake was used as a centerpiece on the dining table. Eighteen members attended and two guests, Mrs. S. M. Sain and Mrs. Daisy Smyth.

Knights Templar Are Dinner Guests

The Knights Templar were guests of the Social Order of the Beauceant Monday evening for a birthday dinner at the Masonic Hall. Following the dinner, the orders met in separate sessions to exemplify the work. Sixty-seven attended.

Nine guests attended from Midland. John Owens, commander of Midland Knights Templar No. 84 invited all Big Spring Knights and their wives to Midland on March 21 for the spring district conclave.

After visiting in Denton Mrs. Bluhm spent some time in Plano with her sisters and then went to Dallas where she stayed with another son, Ray, for several days.

When Mrs. IRMA HARRISON and JUDY and CINDY JONES were in Galveston over the long weekend they had a pleasant time visiting Mrs. J. D. JONES who is undergoing treatment at John Sealy Hospital. Mrs. Jones joined them for a shopping trip and stayed with them at their hotel. She sent word back to her many friends here that she is deeply grateful for the great number of cards, letters and other gifts she has received since her hospitalization. She is in Unit D, Room 243, John Sealy Hospital.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Easy Formula Gives Cover For Windows

Dear Heloise:

For those who live close to a neighbor and want to frost a front door, bathroom window or kitchen window, here is the method I have tried and found most satisfactory:

I dissolve a tablespoon of epsom salts in a small amount of beer and apply the mixture with a brush to the inside of my windowpanes. It is the best frosting I have ever seen.

I used one cup of beer, adding the epsom salts to suit myself. (I used four heaping tablespoons full.) I applied the mixture with a two-inch-wide paint brush. It not only covered the window but looked like Jack Frost himself! It dries beautifully, lasts a long time, and when washed off is easily re-applied. It's amazing how it crystallizes. . . . Lillian Ah, ladies. . . . Try it! We tried the brush method and also the dabbing method, and got prettier Jack Frosts and crystallization by dipping a facial tissue (or a piece of terry cloth) in the mixture and instead of wiping we just went dab, dab, dab.

After pouring the crystals into a little bowl, put the liquid in and stir a few minutes—all of the crystals will NOT dissolve—then just dab away. Real perk. I'd say.

And the second day it's even more beautiful. More crystals, more opaque and prettier. Water and a washrag removes it beautifully if you tire of it. . . . Heloise.

Dear Heloise: You have been running a number of items recently on rug and carpet care. I'm a retired carpet salesman and would like to give your readers a few hints on how to go about the purchase of new carpeting.

Most people, I find, are very confused when they start out to buy a new rug because of the exaggerated claims and overly ambitious salesmen. Please tell your housewives to:

Buy from reliable stores.

Be sure a bargain IS a bargain.

Put the salesman to some tests, such as: Have him demonstrate all hard-to-believe claims of spot removal, fast dyes, and fuzzing of the carpet. (If he'll let her, she can test each color with some detergent solution and a white handkerchief to see if any transference occurs—and fuzzing by brushing the wet area.)

Most important of all is to have him write down on the sales slip all the claims he makes for the particular carpet and if he won't do this, BEWARE. . . . Warren W. Mallin

And, dear folks, after sending this letter to the National Institute of Rug Cleaning, here is their answer:

Britishers Plan Picnic At Pavilion

An Easter Sunday picnic will be held for members of the British Wives Club and their families at the pavilion of Webb Air Force Base. Plans were made for the event when the group met Monday evening with Mrs. Roger W. Smith, 3903 Hamilton.

Mrs. Vern Cox conducted the meeting as 10 members discussed details of an egg hunt for the children and games for adults.

Hostesses were Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Harold Hopkins. Mrs. Vincent Broadwater won the special prize and the game prize went to Mrs. Cox.

Pioneer Natural Gas Co. will be the meeting place for the group March 23.

Webb Group Has Dinner, Dance

The social season for members of Detachment 2, 2053 Communications Squadron at Webb Air Force Base was officially opened Saturday evening at the Webb-AFB Non-Commissioned Officers Club.

Capt. Robert H. Epperson, unit commander, reported there were over 100 husbands and wives attending the dinner and dance. Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bortner. Bortner is the Federal Aviation Agency representative for Webb AFB.

Tuesday evening the wives of the unit met at the NCO Club for an informal coffee. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Kuby Epperson and Mrs. Dorothy Gamble.

Political Candidates To Speak Friday Evening

A political rally was planned and the charter undraped when Rebekah Lodges met in separate sessions Tuesday evening.

JOHN A. KEE

The farewell program of Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, district deputy president, was held for the John A. Kee Rebekahs. Mrs. Jarrett gave her farewell message, commending her installing staff as she presented them with gifts. Mrs. Charlie Boland and Mrs. Elmo Martin sang "Violet," composed for her by Mrs. Boland, as they were accompanied by Mrs. Morgan Martin. Mrs. Jones Lamar pinned Mrs. Jarrett with her district deputy president jewel and paid tribute to her excellent record. She has served as noble grand, lodge deputy, and has received the highest Rebekah honor, "The Award of Chivalry," for outstanding leadership in civic as well as charitable and religious activities.

Plans were completed for the political rally Friday at 7:30 p.m. All candidates have been extended invitations to speak, and the public is invited. Mrs. W. C. Robinson will serve as chairman for Mrs. Homer Petty who has been hospitalized. Walker Bailey will be master of ceremonies. Lodge members will serve sandwiches, pie and coffee, and Randall Sherrad will be auctioneer during a cake auction.

Leaving Friday and Saturday to attend the Grand Lodge meeting in Austin March 14-17 are Mrs. Ray S. Doty, Mrs. Elmo Martin, Mrs. Morgan Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Lamar, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Whitaker.

During the business session, Mrs. Grady Sudberry, lodge deputy, presented Mrs. W. C. Cole a certificate of perfection in the unwritten work. In ending her term Mrs. Sudberry said that she had given 34 certificates to members for their proficiency in this phase of work.

BENEFIT SET FOR FRIDAY

A benefit card party will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Cosden Country Club under the sponsorship of Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. Proceeds will go to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center. Tickets may be obtained at the door or from chapter members for $1 per person. Prizes will be given and refreshments served.

Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett, with Mrs. Sudberry and Mrs. E. G. Buchanan assisting in serving to the 46 attending. An honored guest was a former member, Mrs. Letha Massie of Lubbock Rebekah Lodge No. 231.

BIG SPRING LODGE

The undraping of the charter was performed at the Tuesday evening meeting of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge, No. 284 in the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Akin Simpson presided.

Assisting in the ceremony were Mrs. C. D. Herring, Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, Mrs. Eula Pond, Mrs. Wayne Moore, Mrs. Jesse Steele and Mrs. Rowena Ross.

Mrs. Travis Melton, retiring lodge deputy, held a school of instruction and rededication. Mrs. R. W. Hewett presented a musical selection. The lodge recommended Mrs. Crenshaw for the Decoration of Chivalry at Grand Lodge.

Mrs. J. E. Brown and Mrs. Crenshaw received certificates of perfection. Twenty-five members and 16 past noble grands reported 45 visits to the sick.

DEAR ABBY
Better Tell
Whole Truth

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the mother who wrote that her teen-age daughter said she was spending the night at her friend's house, and who later found out she lied, struck close to home with me. I did the same thing when I was 16, two years ago. The mother asked you, "Why would a girl lie about something like that?" And you replied, "Because she didn't have the courage to tell the truth." I can tell you why I lied, Abby. Because if I told my mother I had a date, she would ask me who with, where I met him, who his parents were, and lots of questions like that, so rather than go through the third degree, I lied. If parents didn't have to know the life history of every boy their daughters dated, there wouldn't be so much lying. HAD TO LIE

DEAR HAD: If a girl can't tell her parents who the boy is, where she met him, and a few other pertinent facts, she has no business going out with him. And any boy who permits a girl to lie to her parents is bad news.

DEAR ABBY: We would like your opinion of what the chances for happiness are in a marriage between a man of 36 and a woman of 55. They are both wonderful people. There is no problem of money on either side. They've been close friends for many years. (She taught him in high school.) Their families and friends never dreamed there could be a romantic interest between them, although he has been her constant escort. They have announced their plans to wed this summer. We feel that this happiness will be short-lived because she will be an elderly lady while he is still in the prime of life. What is your opinion? THE FAMILIES

DEAR FAMILIES: Some men are "old" at 40, while some women are still "young" at 70. All that is necessary for a successful marriage is that each partner needs the other for something. This appears to be the case. They are both old enough to add, so don't worry about their future.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, better off financially than most of my friends and relatives. When they go out to dine I am often invited to join them. Naturally, one of the men present will ask for the check. It would be embarrassing for the men, and also for me, if I were to ask for the check. Yet, I want to carry my own weight. What can be done to reciprocate? Don't advise me to entertain them at home. I haven't the energy. MRS. R.

DEAR MRS. R.: Invite your guests to one of your favorite dining spots. When you telephone for the reservation, ask the maitre d' to instruct the waiter to bring NO bill to the table. Arrange to pay the bill privately at another time.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 336, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 336, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Criticism
Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—California farmers are questioning the basis of criticism of the bracero program—one which has permitted the importation of foreign nationals, particularly Mexicans, for seasonal farm work.

Legislation authorizing this program expires at the end of this year and the Council of California Growers will not seek its renewal.

Critics have said farmers should not be permitted to hire foreign workers as long as thousands of Americans are unemployed.

"Will a city worker, accustomed to working inside a comfortable building, be willing to do such stoop labor out in the boiling sun for two or three months out of each year?" the council asks in a news letter.

Obviously skeptical of willingness of city unemployed to take such seasonal jobs, the council said that if they do not, one of two things will happen: (1) Severe crop losses will occur in labor-intensive crops, or (2) Farmers will cut their plantings.

"In either event," the council said, "the result will be damaging in related industries, such as canning, freezing, container and box manufacturing, storing, transportation and selling. Unemployed city workers will work on farms for a few weeks or months each year."

Deficit Is Up

AUSTIN (AP)—The deficit in the General Revenue Fund has increased about $4.5 million in less than a month, State Treasurer Jesse James said Tuesday. The deficit as of Tuesday was $18,913,526, compared to $14,395,643 on Feb. 24.

England Has
Third Prince

LONDON (AP)—Britain broke out its flags and fired 41-gun salutes today to celebrate the birth of a son to Queen Elizabeth II.

Both the 37-year-old queen and the new prince—her fourth child and third son—were reported doing well. The baby was born Tuesday night at Buckingham Palace, a week earlier than expected. But "it was an easy birth," said Sir John Weir, the royal physician.

"Everything went well; there were no problems," reported the anesthetist, Dr. Vernon Hall.

The baby weighed 5 pounds, 7 ounces, making him the smallest of the queen's four children at birth.

The queen's husband, Prince Philip, went ahead with plans to represent the queen at the funeral of King Paul of Greece Thursday. The prince arranged to arrive in the Greek capital late this afternoon.

The names to be given the prince were the subject of much public speculation. The favorite was James, in tribute to Scottish Stuart ancestors of the queen. Robert, Rupert and David also were mentioned.

It was the second British royal birth this year. Princess Alexandra, the queen's first cousin, had a son on Feb. 29. Princess Margaret, the queen's sister, expects her second child next month. The Duchess of Kent, Alexandra's sister-in-law, expects her second baby in May.

The queen's husband, Prince Philip, 42, telephoned the news of his new son to Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family.

The new prince is third in line of succession to the throne, behind his brothers, Charles 15 and Andrew, 4. He rates ahead of his sister, Anne, 13.

The baby was delivered by a team of five physicians headed by Sir John Peel, 59, the gynecologist who attended the births of Charles, Andrew and Anne.

McLendon
Wants Debate
With Senator

AUSTIN (AP) — Predicting victory, Gordon McLendon opened state headquarters for his Democratic U. S. Senate primary race Tuesday and challenged U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., to debate.

"I will debate him at any time, any place, any convenience. I would like to see him involve himself in a series of statewide television debates," he said, adding he does not think Yarborough will accept the challenge.

He said if Yarborough declines to debate, McLendon will play recordings of Yarborough speeches and attack the views expressed.

McLendon also said Yarborough's campaign staff had accepted for the senator an offer of equal time with McLendon on the Dallas radio executive's stations in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio.

Police Search For Traces Of Reported Lost Plane

PORT LAVACA (AP)—Police searched for traces today of a plane which disappeared yesterday from Corpus Christi carrying a man identified as David Fred Hagler of Fort Worth and Mrs. Loretta Anderson of Eufless, Tex.

Mrs. Anderson, in shock but apparently otherwise unhurt at a Port Lavaca hospital, told sheriff's officers the plane crashed in Lavaca Bay last night and she swam ashore.

She said she did not know what happened to Hagler but that he left the plane before she did.

A David Fred Hagler, has a lurid police record in Dallas, Fort Worth, and coast to coast. He won national notoriety in 1954 when charged in a bizarre torch murder of a still unidentified man at Sulphur, Okla. He was acquitted of the charges in 1956. In 1957, he served a federal prison term for attempting to defraud the Federal Housing Administration.

An airport employe said he rented a four-seater Cessna 210

p. m. yesterday with four hours fuel, and Hagler as pilot. Airport officials said Hagler did not file a flight plan but said he and Mrs. Anderson were going to take pictures at Padre Island.

The Coast Guard searched through the night with boats. Planes were expected to be used today to hunt for evidence of the plane in the bay area.

Mrs. Anderson gave varying accounts of how she reached shore.

A Devotional For The Day

If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. (John 8:36.)
PRAYER: O Lord, set us free from all that would confine us to the narrow world of sin and selfishness. Liberate us from smallness of soul. Come more fully into our lives and open new ways to serve Thee; through Christ our Lord. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Hey, Look 'Em Over

Not everyone is a judge of cattle, and by the same token not every one is interested in livestock, but it is not necessary to be expert or engrossed to appreciate what our young 4-H Club and FFA feeders have done.

Consequently, why not take a few minutes and drive to the County Fair Barns to look over the collection of fat steers and the tremendous array of classy lambs. We guarantee you'll be impressed — impressed not only with the quality of livestock shown, but with what youngsters have been doing. Given encouragement and a challenge, young people still want to do things which are constructive and which can afford a sense of accomplishment.

Blessing For The Area

Saturday's announcement by Texas Electric Service Company to increase its power production facilities near Colorado City is buoyant news.

We can rejoice with Colorado City, for it will mean further stabilizing of the economy of this fine city. The $30,000,000 price tag on the project may seem to exaggerate the picture of construction manpower and payroll because the preponderance of cost is in the giant generators, boilers, which are fabricated largely in technical factories. Yet, it is impossible to undertake a job of this size without generating quite a number of jobs in the building and installation.

Later, there will be some additional manpower requirement, which means more payroll for the area. For Colorado City it will mean some new citizens who will be of necessity informed, energetic people.

For Mitchell County, there also is some advantage of additional resources to help with the financing of local government and schools.

For all of us, however, this means a still closer link of Texas Electric Service Company with the heart of West Texas, for it means a major commitment to the center of the conical system. This is a creative enterprise, an industry in the true sense for it is industry in the basic sense of power manufacture. Many things may come and go, but the need for power will go on and on.

David Lawrence Confidence And Business Stability

WASHINGTON—Many an individual doesn't look farther ahead than a few weeks or months. The politicians, therefore, think only in terms of what the popular mood will be at the time of this year's elections. But business has to do long-range planning. Government ought to do so, too, but somehow avoids it.

This is why a 12,000-word address by Henry H. Fowler, Undersecretary of the Treasury, delivered here the other day to the annual conference of the Tax Executives Institute, deserves attention as perhaps the most comprehensive defense of the administration's tax policies that has yet been made by anyone.

MR. FOWLER says that "new currents that have emerged in the last two years mark a turning point in national tax policy." He sees this as a stimulus to the "private enterprise sector" and emphasizes the "role of the government" in promoting maximum employment, production and purchasing power "as a sequel to the employment act of 1946."

Mr. Fowler would like to have the public believe that the new tax law and the changes enacted in 1962 on depreciation allowances for corporations were not intended as "quickie" tax measures taken on the spur of the moment "to meet a temporary or passing situation." He feels justified in describing them as broad-gauged laws designed to have lasting effects. But he fails to give equal attention to the factors in the national economy which have made previous tax rates "too high for healthy economic growth."

WHAT IS OVERLOOKED is that tax rates by themselves are not the primary reason for economic troubles. High tax rates in business are not hard to take if the volume of sales is substantially increased or the profit margin is moved up considerably, thus permitting wage increases as productivity is improved.

Perhaps most salutary is the undersecretary's statement that the administration in proposing tax changes realized that national growth cannot be achieved "by a massive increase in federal spending well beyond the necessities of mounting defense and space costs." But, by the same token, it may be said by way of warning that financial stability will not be achieved by continuous deficits and by a refusal to face up to the real causes of inflation, among them the wage and price spirals.

INVESTMENT in new plant and equipment to meet new demands arising from consumer spending can be readily predicted as likely to rise, but the benefits can be negated if wage rates start running away and wage costs are materially augmented.

Mr. Fowler speaks of the past inability of business to increase its investment in new plant or equipment and concedes that "corporate profits after taxes, even after the early expansion of 1961, remain below former levels as a per cent of investment capital, or sales, or of the corporate portion of our gross national product."

THE UNDERSECRETARY is enthusiastic in his belief that the new tax laws "have already provided an important psychological thrust" but adds realistically that "a healthy economic recovery and growth depends heavily upon the confidence, initiative, incentive, optimism and industry of the private citizen and the private business sector."

A lack of "confidence" unfortunately ensues, however, when the administration, in the midst of its new-found affinity for private business, comes out, as it did recently, in favor of double pay for overtime and, except for token reductions in current expenditures—which are designed to make headlines—does not substantially cut the $5 billion deficit for next year.

Billy Graham

I have just read an article which says that it is wrong for a Christian to enter military service. When the Bible says: "Thou shalt not kill," does this refer to taking life in defending one's country?" D. B.

All Christians are not agreed on this question.

Those in favor of military service say that it is right and Christian to defend the innocent and weak. They quote: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." Since we live in a world of tyranny, violence, and the lust for power, there is much to support his view—even in the Scriptures.

Those who oppose the idea of military service conclude that it is un-Christian to defend one's self or country. They take without qualification the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill." They point out that the commandments did not qualify or make any exceptions to the precept. They also point out the example of Christ who, though He could have called ten legions of angels to His defense, refused to use any means to protect Himself.

Jesus raised the commandment against murder to a still higher level when He said: "He that hateth his brother hath committed murder in his heart already." So, one does not need to carry a gun to murder, and on the other hand, it is possible to carry a gun in defense of the innocent with love in your heart, even for your enemy. The ultimate answer must come from our own hearts. Each individual must answer this question for himself.

INVESTMENT in new plant and equipment to meet new demands arising from consumer spending can be readily predicted as likely to rise, but the benefits can be negated if wage rates start running away and wage costs are materially augmented.

Mr. Fowler speaks of the past inability of business to increase its investment in new plant or equipment and concedes that "corporate profits after taxes, even after the early expansion of 1961, remain below former levels as a per cent of investment

BETTER LUCK THIS TIME

James Marlow Took 700 Years To Reach It

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has gone further than it ever has in protecting press freedom to criticize the government. But it took 700 years of American-British history to reach this point.

In a unanimous decision Monday the nine justices said:

Citizens and newspapers don't have to fear damages for libel in criticizing public officials' official conduct, even though the criticism is untrue, unless actual malice can be proved. And that takes some proving.

NEVERTHELESS that attached condition—liability for damages if actual malice is proved—stops short of giving the press a blank check. It stopped too short for three justices: Arthur J. Goldberg, Hugo Black and William O. Douglas.

They would have gone all the way and given newspapers an absolute privilege in criticizing public officials. This was the thinking behind the decision which was written for all nine by Justice William J. Brennan. So long as a newspaper has to fear a damage suit, because something it says may be in error, it is discouraged from freely exercising its right under the Constitution to criticize the government.

Therefore, truth no longer has to be proved, only malice does.

THE PRESS got to this point over a tortured road going back to the 13th century in Britain when freedom was the special privilege of kings and the excuse for suppressing any criticism was the need to preserve government.

Any critic of the king could be jailed, branded, tortured, or executed. Gradually, as the British people inched toward freedom, came censorship and near the end of the 18th century a licensing system was devised. This was a stiff restriction. No book could be published without a license. Even by the middle of the 17th century the number of presses and printers was limited.

It was a crime even to criticize a magistrate.

There was an excuse for this, too: To prevent the public from getting the impression the king's servants were corrupt. After licensing was abandoned a restriction was used: a tax on printing.

This was to gag the press and ruin small papers. Eventually, the truth of a criticism became a sufficient defense. The British didn't reach that point until the middle of the last century.

THE UNITED STATES reached it earlier but only after a lot of pain. The British colonial governors carried Britain's press restrictions with them here. The colonies went through the same routine: Licensing, censorship.

The governor's grip was so tight a colony might have only one newspaper or none.

Even with the framers of the American Constitution, what we now call the Bill of Rights—the first 10 amendments guaranteeing, among other things, freedom of speech and press—was an afterthought.

It wasn't even discussed until the constitutional convention was almost over. Then, after the states approved the Constitution, the Bill of Rights was added. Even here the bitter lessons were learned the hard way.

IN 1788 the new American government ignored the Bill of Rights when Congress approved the Alien and Sedition Acts. One of them made it a crime to publish "false, scandalous or malicious material" against the government.

Although those acts only lasted until 1801, 10 persons were convicted under them. From then on truth became a defense. But through the years the Supreme Court saw-sawed on press freedom, always holding to restraints.

This week's decision was truly a landmark because now the American press has less restriction than ever in criticizing government officials. This applies, of course, only to their official acts, not their private ones.

nothing to worry about, so do not frighten your daughter.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the leaflet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim The Way Of The Motor-Maker Is Hard

The other day J. (Pooch) Martin brought by his father's ledger from more than half a century back. The names in this are a story written themselves, along with the charges for painting, papering, etc.

BUT THE OBJECT of this piece is collection of magazine and newspaper clippings of automobiles. He had a passion for cars back in the decade between 1910-20, and into the front of the ledger he had pasted over 30 illustrations of passenger cars and trucks.

The amazing thing is that of 32 names listed, only one still manufactures cars directly. That is Dodge, and the illustration pasted in the ledger was of a delivery truck and not a passenger car. (For some reason, Jack Martin didn't have a picture of the Model T Ford, but perhaps even in those days Ford was a common name.)

SEE IF YOU CAN remember any of these names in the truck field: FWD, a solid rubber-tired affair; the Stewart; the Gramm-Bernstein, the chainless motor truck with "extra slatted panels"; the Trailmobile; Duplex four-wheel drive; Kelly, which was shown hauling a log 10-feet in diameter and hauling 21 tons; Continental Motor (this company still is a major motor maker but usually for others); Ranger; the Garford; and the Rio "speed wagon, chassis with sills and a driver's cab. (R. E. Olds was better memorialized later by the Oldsmobile.)

NOW FOR A TOUR in the passenger car field: The Hupmobile (gee, I can remember how these machines could run for ever); the Auburn; the Essex, which was listed for $1,395 FOB Detroit; the National; the Dort Motor Car, the Oakland "sensible six"; the Packard, which was shown as a racer; the 1912 Mormon; the fancy Warren Motor Car; the Detroit Motor car with electric self starter and with electric lighting system, no less; the RCH "Twenty Five," which went for $900; the Velle, the five-passenger "fourabout" Lexington, which sold for $1,785; the Paige.

THERE WERE some others, too, which had special wrinkles such as the Cleveland Electric, and the Baker Electric. There also was the Franklin Six, an air-cooled innovation which generated a respectable 30 horsepower.

And don't forget the Haynes, for "Haynes is America's first car (1893-1919)," and no wonder with its seven-passenger touring car with 12-cylinders, five wire wheels as standard equipment, all priced for $3,250.

FINALLY, there was the Wescott, "the car with a longer life." Perhaps, but the company wasn't so indestructible. Apparently most of the others weren't either, but they were in there slugging for a piece of the market.

Richard Starnes A Frank Report From Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — I am indebted to outspoken Sen. Steve Young (D., Ohio) for making available the following letter from the wife of a serviceman now stationed in Viet Nam.

Very wisely, the Senator deleted any specifics that might enable Pentagon snoopers to identify the writer or her spouse. It is further trimmed here, for space only. It is a clear and forceful statement from an American wife who knows the score—and who has the courage to speak out.

"I HAVE," she writes, "no personal complaints at all. I am living in Saigon. I came here at my own expense while my husband is stationed (deleted). Although I cannot live here with my husband, I came to be near him, to see him occasionally, and to give him moral support."

But now that we are here, we feel our sacrifice was in vain, because we are losing the war. And that, sir, is my complaint. We are losing because we are not winning, and I want to know "Why not victory?"

"A BIG PROBLEM here is that most of the Vietnamese do not really care about the war, most of them do not want to fight. Under the circumstances, this is understandable. There are numerous families in Viet Nam without homes, without food, and without a job. Even in Saigon there are people sleeping in doorways and on the sidewalks and begging for food. These people have no purpose in life. They do not understand communism, and have no means to resist it even if they understood."

"In combat, when the Vietnamese do have a chance to fire on the Viet Cong, often they refuse."

"THESE PEOPLE are tired of war. They have no fight left in them. Even if they were receiving adequate training to fight the war by themselves (which they are not), they could not and would not win by themselves, because they have no will to win."

"There are strong neutralist tendencies here, and much talk of a coup, which, if successful, will be the end of Southeast Asia, and all the Americans will have died in vain."

"Even the Americans cannot win by the methods we are using at present. Unless we do something positive very soon, the war will be at the same stage in 1965 when, supposedly, our troops are to be withdrawn. And if it is at the same stage then as now, how much better would it be to withdraw our troops today while we can still save some American lives... We are merely holding our own—and just barely that. But when we pull out the plugs, communism will flood this area. If your intention is merely to delay the flood and not prevent it, I can see no logic in our purpose."

"... WHY DO WE not admit that we are actively participating in this war and really fight for our cause? God knows we have enough reason."

This wise and tough-minded young lady bluntly asserts that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara gets only a "guided tour" on his frequent inspection trips to Viet Nam (a charge some correspondents have suggested) and that he "sees only what certain people want him to see, and listens to what they want him to hear."

What the lady is saying is important enough to continue tomorrow, which will be done.

Holmes Alexander Republicans For Southern Purity

WASHINGTON — Again, this time at the gubernatorial election in Louisiana, the Republicans turned out to be the bridesmaid, not the bride—but they may have caught a bouquet, which, although somewhat wilted and tawdry, is supposed to be a hopeful sign.

The bouquet in this instance, where the GOP candidate, Charlton Lyons, got 296,000 or 38 per cent of the total votes, consists of alleged examples of voting fraud by the Democratic State Political Machine.

ELECTION CHICANERY is old hat in Louisiana, where the House of Huey Long has hung onto power for more than 30 years. George Despot, Lyons' campaign manager, feels that the March 3rd election wasn't close enough to warrant going into court. But the GOP National Committee here in Washington takes a longer view.

Corruption charges against Democrats will play a big part in the coming presidential campaign. In the Southern States, these charges may be the GOP's best chance to get inside the Democratic defenses, which might otherwise be impregnable with a Texas Democrat heading the ticket.

IN 1960, Mr. Kennedy won by a mere 118,550 votes out of the 68 million cast. Republicans have freely raised the cry of "We wuz robbed" in several of the narrow-margin States. Lee Potter, who heads the GOP drive throughout Dixie, tells me that something will be done. His office at the Republican National Committee is drawing a lengthy bill of particulars, somewhat as follows:

In Nashville, Tennessee, last October, City Councilman Gene ("Little Evil") Jacobs and five others were convicted of obtaining absentee ballots and marking them for favored candidates.

IN ATLANTA, Georgia, both the newspapers last year carried out extensive investigations of voting frauds, and satisfied themselves that these were widespread.

In Madison and Yancey counties of North Carolina, according to well-documented stories in the Charlotte Observer, "hundreds of absentee ballots were improperly issued in 1962."

IN BATON ROUGE, Louisiana, last month, an ex-policeman and a mechanic showed a legislative committee in secret session how the supposedly cheat-proof voting machines could be made to do almost anything, including "play 'The Star-Spangled Banner'."

One of the most suspicious findings by Republican sleuths has been the over-registration of white voters in southern counties where the Democrats control nearly all the Court Houses. It is not prima facie evidence of fraud to find that there are more voters on the books than there are voting-age residents—but such a situation does allow crooked machines to produce a "tomestone vote," which has been known to decide close elections. And when the overage is very pronounced, there is a presumption of connivance.

REPUBLICANS will try to convince Southern voters that the only eradication of this "pay dirt" lies in a two-party system.

Well, It Worked

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A grocery clerk thwarted a would-be robber by yelling the first thing that came into her mind.

Mrs. Dorothy Lee Kingry, a clerk in Walkers Grocery Store, said a young gunman came in and demanded all the money in the cash register.

Mrs. Kingry said she shouted at the top of her voice: "Turn the machine gun on him, Mr. Walker."

The gunman fled without any money.

"It was the only thing I could think of," Mrs. Kingry said.

His false teeth, left on the bathroom sink, were unharmed.

To Your Good Health Allergy A Cause Of Post-Nasal Drip In Children

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Post-nasal drip is not as mysterious or baffling as many sufferers think. And in a great many cases it CAN be corrected, or at least helped. Here's a letter:

Dear Doctor: Our three-year-old girl suffers from a dry, choking type of cough.

It is slight during the day but very distressing at night. The doctor thinks she has a post-nasal drip, and not much can be done about it except to try some medication.—MRS. J. W.

We'll take it for granted that chronic infection of adenoids or tonsils is not the cause.

With little children, this sort of coughing can often be traced to an allergy. In fact, it is not a bad idea to start suspecting allergy right from the beginning.

Admittedly, hard work is required to detect the allergy, but this pays off.

Now here's another letter:

Dear Doctor: My husband has to clear his throat loudly, violently and frequently. It is worse at night when he is lying down.

He says he has a post-nasal drip and that nothing can be done about it. I am concerned because in his profession his voice is unusually important and such a habit, if it is a habit, is distracting.—S.R.

This throat-clearing could well be caused by an irritating post-nasal drip. Smoking, chronic sinus infection, and nasal polyps or other obstructions could be factors. Allergy, in such adult cases, is less likely but still a possibility.

And it could, after all, be a habit. But an examination to see whether any of the physical factors are present would be worthwhile. If there is no detectable fault, then proceed on the theory that it is a habit and habits can be changed.

Panel Passes Webb Funds

A sum of $379,000 for "operational facilities and community facilities" at Webb Air Force Base is included in a $1,590,666,000 military construction bill approved by the House Armed Services Committee Tuesday.

The funds, when finally approved by Congress, would be for the year beginning July 1. Exact nature of the projects at the local base were not described. Webb authorities said they could not at this time release details.

A number of other Texas bases shared in the bill approved by the committee. They included:

Perrin AFB $233,000 for troop housing. The Defense Department had asked $735,000.

Laredo AFB $4,599,000 for operational facilities, maintenance and production facilities, administrative facilities, troop housing and community facilities. The Defense Department had asked $5,322,000.

Ft. Hood $11,836,000 for maintenance and production facilities.

Amarillo AFB $4,354,000 for operational, training, maintenance, community and production facilities; troop housing and real estate.

Dyess AFB at Abilene $1,058,000 for operational, maintenance and production facilities, and troop housing.

Laughlin AFB at Del Rio $1,550,000 for operational, training, maintenance and production facilities and troop housing.

Western Artists At Work

Collector Gallery Artist Theodore Van Soelen is shown in his Tesuque, N.M., studio at work on one of his famous ranch life paintings. His work is included in the Baker Collector Gallery opening exhibition at 511 West Texas St., in Midland, Thursday and Friday from 10 to 6 p.m. John Meigs and Manuel Acosta, famous Southwest artists, will attend both days.

Artist's Work On Exhibit In Midland

When the ranch life of our times is a thing of the past, people fortunate enough to own one of Theodore Van Soelen's lithographs will be in the comparative position of people today who have works of Charlie Russell and Frederick Remington.

Van Soelen, native of the East, came West to conquer tuberculosis. He had studied in Pennsylvania at the Academy of Fine Arts and received the Crosson Traveling Scholarship for travel in Europe. From that time on, coinciding with his coming to New Mexico, he received national recognition. He has exhibited at the Metropolitan in New York, the Chicago Art Institute, the Carnegie Institute in Philadelphia, the Macbeth Gallery in New York, and in dozens of others.

On coming to Mexico, he lived on the Fernandez Company Ranch at San Mateo, later at the trading post in San Ysidro. Finally he moved to Tesuque, north of Santa Fe, and established a permanent home and studio.

From his close association with the life of the ranch people and the Indians has come his chief contribution to the art of our century. His crystal clear paintings of the real West are monuments to a passing phase of this area. Finally in 1948, Van Soelen started the famous series of lithographs of ranch scenes which brought him to the attention of the major collections of the Southwest. Of the series, many are long out of print.

A limited group of these outstanding editions will be shown in the Baker Collector Gallery, which is opening in Midland this week. In addition, a fine Van Soelen oil, of museum quality, will be shown.

The Baker Collector Gallery, located at 511 West Texas Street, Midland, will have preview openings Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the public is invited.

John Meigs, associate director of the Gallery, will be in attendance, along with Manuel Acosta, famous Southwest artist and muralist. Both Meigs and Acosta were associated with Peter Hurd in the completion of the Pioneer Murals at Texas Tech, done in the early 1950's.

Trustees Plan To Fix Bond Election Dates

A definite date for calling a bond election, and a priority schedule for new buildings and improvements to old buildings will be set up at a called meeting of the Big Spring Independent School District board at 6:30 p.m. March 24.

Architects will present tentative plans for all work proposed under a bond program, if approved, and the board will determine what work, in addition to the high school, will come next on the expansion program.

Atmar Atchison, Lubbock architect employed by the board, presented the final preliminary plans for the high school additions at Tuesday night's meeting of the board, and these were tentatively approved.

HIGH SCHOOL COSTS
Estimated cost of the additions, and updating of the present high school building, was $3,022,000. Furniture and equipment, fees, and contingencies would boost the cost to approximately $3 1/2 million.

An outline of the estimated cost of the entire school system expansion program, including remodeling and additions to junior high schools; new elementary schools, additions to and renovation of present elementary schools, and equipment, was presented for the board's study.

CITES NEED

Sam Anderson, superintendent, pointed to the census figures for the coming year, indicating the need for the high school addition first, then more elementary school space at an early date.

"It is important that we set a definite schedule for all work before an election is called for approval," he said. "Before we approve a bond issue, we must know what we are going to do, and why we must do it," said Anderson. "It is going to require about 18 months to complete work on the high school addition. Two summers will be needed for inside work on updating the present building."

Atchison pointed out that it would take seven months, from the date of approval of the bond issue, for work to get started on the construction—60 days for bond approval, four months for final plans, one month for bids.

OTHER ITEMS

Included in the items to be scheduled will be bus barns and maintenance shops (present ones will have to be moved from State and Tenth streets); special education wing or building; remodeling, adding cafeteriums where needed, libraries and other requirements at Boydston, Cedar Crest, Bauer, College Heights, Washington, Airport, Kate Morrison, Marcy, Park Hill, present special education building, Center Point, Gay Hill and Lakeview Elementary-Junior High.

JOE B. PHILLIPS

Realtors To Install

New officers will be installed at a meeting of the Big Spring Real Estate Board at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club. Joe B. Phillips, Lubbock, past president of the Texas Real Estate Association, and present member of the board of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will be the principal speaker at the meeting.

Marie Rowland will be installed as president of the Big Spring board. E. P. Driver as vice president, George Elliott as secretary, and Thelma Montgomery as treasurer.

Phillips has been engaged in real estate business in Lubbock since 1947. He attended Texas Tech, is a veteran of the Philippine campaign in World War II, is president of the Lubbock Council on Alcoholism, on the board of Goodwill Industries, a trustee of Lubbock Christian College, and member of the Downtown Rotary Club.

New buildings may be needed for elementary schools, including the College Park (Moss Elementary) at the Balch site. The board tentatively considered the Moss elementary and addition to Kentwood as first choices to relieve congestion at Washington Elementary and other schools.

$5 1/2 MILLION

Guilford Jones, attorney for the school district in the Gay Hill-Center Point litigation, told the board that the attorney general will issue a certificate of non-litigation in the contest to permit a bond issue to be voted. Estimated cost of the entire program, which will run almost 10 years, will be above $5 1/2 million. Carter Johnson, representing Rauscher - Pierce and Co., the school's bond fiscal agent, said the district was financially able to carry the bond issue without a boost in the tax rate over the next five years, and possibly without ever increasing the rate.

Bonds will be sold as the money is needed to finance construction.

Heroin Seized

MEXICO CITY (AP) — About 22 pounds of heroin were seized and a Mexican arrested at International Airport Monday night. Police said the heroin was found beneath false bottoms of two suitcases carried by the Mexican on arrival from Paris aboard an Air France flight.

Few of us do. We belong to our parents. Schools take us over. Our jobs own us. We try to find ourselves, own ourselves. But time buys us and at last death claims us. Jesus Christ owned Himself. When Judas sold Him, Jesus knew what was up — and was giving Himself up. "I am He," He said to the mob who came to take Him.

He is the Good Shepherd who gave His life for His sheep. "I lay down My life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from Me, but I lay it down of Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again." (St. John 10:17, 18)

And He did both.

The one Man who ever owned Himself gave Himself in death — for you. That's the pattern for belonging to your self. "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it, but whosoever will lose his life for My sake, the same shall save it" (St. Luke 9:24). The Lutheran Church is urging you to hear that message this Lent.

Special Rate Applies Here

Big Spring now enjoys the same excursion rate to Dallas as formerly was quoted only at the Midland-Odessa terminal.

Trans-Texas Airways advised Dr. Fred Lurting, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee, that effective immediately, the seven-day excursion rate of $34 round trip to Dallas would be in effect. The committee had complained to Trans-Texas that the excursion rate made it possible to go from Midland-Odessa and return for $12 less than the straight round trip fare quoted here. Trans-Texas then promptly extended the excursion fare to include Big Spring.

Vets To Meet

World War I Veterans and Auxiliary will meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday for a Dutch supper at the Downtown Tea Room. All members are urged to attend. A social hour will be held after the business meeting, set for 7:30 p.m.

Loyola Clears First Hurdle In Playoffs

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago Loyola Ramblers are over their first hurdle in a drive to win the national collegiate basketball championship for the second straight year. Down by 13 points at 21-8 after 14 minutes of play the Ramblers roared from behind Tuesday night to defeat Murray State 101-91 in the NCAA tournament play at Evanston, Ill. The Ohio University Bobcats whipped Louisville 71-69 in overtime in the other Midwest Regional game at Northwestern's McGraw Hall.

Utah State came from behind in the last 85 seconds to defeat Arizona State 92-90 and Seattle, beaten twice by Oregon State during the regular season, surprised the Beavers 61-57 in the Far West Regionals at Eugene, Ore.

These four games completed the first round nationally in the NCAA and set up these second round pairings at four regional sites Friday:

East at Raleigh — Duke vs. Villanova and Princeton vs. Connecticut.

Midwest at Minneapolis — Kentucky vs. Ohio University and Michigan vs. Chicago Loyola.

Midwest at Wichita — Creighton vs. Wichita and Texas Western vs. Kansas State.

Far West at Corvallis, Ore. — UCLA vs. Seattle and Utah State vs. San Francisco.

Friday's winners meet at the same sites in Saturday's quarter-finals. Saturday's survivors then go to Kansas City for the semifinals and final March 20-21.

The NCAA small college tournament quarter-finals are on tap tonight at Evansville, Ind., where Hofstra meets Akron. Evansville plays Cal Poly of Pomona, Southeast Missouri plays State College of Iowa and Adelphi opposes North Carolina A&T. Pan-American of Texas, the defending champion, heads the second round play today in the NAIA at Kansas City.

And Thursday the NIT opens in New York with Miami of Florida paired against St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and NYU against Syracuse in a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

Pistons Deal Out Misery To Royals

By The Associated Press
Nobody's as loose as a loser when the string begins to run out on a pennant race. The current National Basketball Association windup is no exception. The lowly Detroit Pistons, feeling no pain at this stage of their worst NBA season, ambushed Cincinnati 114-103 Tuesday night and wrecked the Royals' Eastern Division title hopes.

The Pistons-turned gremlins thus assured Boston of at least a share of its eighth straight Eastern crown. One more Boston victory or Cincinnati defeat will put the Celtics over the top.

Two other also-rans, Baltimore and New York, had similar sabotage plans for the Western Division leaders. But San Francisco and St. Louis, running 1-2 and a game apart in the West, refused to follow the script.

The Warriors stepped away from the Bulls 129-111 and the Hawks shrugged off the Knicks 124-105.

Ray Scott and Jackie Moreland shot the Pistons ahead to stay early in the third quarter after Cincinnati's 60 per cent first half running gave the Royals a 59-58 intermission spread. Bob Ferry's three-point play finished the Royals after they closed to within four points in the final period.

Scott had 27 points for Detroit. Cincy's Oscar Robertson sank all seven of his first half shots and wound up with 33.

HC Volleyball Team Wins

By The Associated Press
Odessa won their fifth straight volleyball decision by trouncing Odessa College, 15-1, 15-5, here Tuesday evening.

Kathleen Morton paced the Queens in scoring with ten points, at which time Marilyn McReavy was at the net. Billie Domingue led Odessa with three points.

In B team competition, Odessa won by a score of 15-2, 15-3. Annie Wilson had eight points for HCJC and Janice Dodds 13 for Odessa.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

HERE AND THERE:
The sandhill crane, which is a popular object for area hunters around Thanksgiving and Christmas, is the most common crane still remaining on the North American continent. The whooping or great white crane is almost extinct and the little brown crane is growing rare in its subtropic home. The cranes, which are still passing over, come from the arctic and continue on into the tropics. Incidentally, if any of you crane hunters believe in superstitions, it is supposed to mean fine weather if they're flying high — if they're low and noisy, you're supposed to have cloudy, wet or stormy weather.

More on the hunting kick: According to a bulletin of the Audubon Society, common house cats annually kill six hundred million birds in this country, which is far more than all hunters combined account for. . . . In Nebraska, written permission must be obtained on private land, if the landowner posts at least an 18-inch sign every 40 rods with two-inch letters that say, "Hunting by Written Permission Only." They must also be by each property entrance and corner. The note of permission must carry the date of issuance, length of time for which it is good, and the signature of the landowner.

THEY SAID IT:
SONNY LISTON: "(CASSIUS) CLAY wasn't even as good as FLOYD PATTERSON. At least Patterson came to fight, to win or lose, not to hide like he stole something. Clay was scared as a thief." . . . Fight referee BARNEY FELIX: "When the bell rang for the fifth, Clay didn't budge. I yelled at him, 'Dammit, Clay, get out here! If he hadn't moved in a split second, he was all finished.'" . . . CASSIUS CLAY: "My mouth has overshadowed my ability." . . . Baltimore Orioles' president, LEE MACPHAIL: "Hope blooms again. That's the nice thing about this baseball business. . . . If you don't win one year, there's always another spring coming." . . . KNUTE ROCKNE, whose Notre Dame football teams won 105 and lost 12 in 13 years of coaching: "It's the players who make the coach—not the other way around. . . . Give the world's worst coach a team that possesses fellows like GEORGE GIPP, JIM THORPE and RED GRANGE, and he can teach them everything wrong, yet they could go out on a field and do everything right. By the same token, give a good coach a lot of poor material and, before the season is over, the alumni will be yelling for his scalp."

A recent survey shows that auto racing has become America's fastest growing spectator sport. Last year, 35,000,000 paid to see it, an increase of 2.8 million over 1962. Only horse racing draws more spectators. . . . It is estimated that the 1965 National go-karts races will bring 1 1/4 million dollars into whatever city in which it is held. . . . The first Tournament of Roses game in Pasadena was in 1902. The University of Michigan, which scored 550 points that season while holding opponents scoreless, smashed Stanford, 47-0. . . . The game of horseshoe pitching dates back almost 3,000 years. . . .

The American Softball League is well on the road toward a resumption of play. The circuit, which enjoyed a successful season last season, is scheduled to start anew April 13. Eight teams are in the fold and games are scheduled for Monday and Friday of each week through two round robins of competition. Managers and league officers meet again at 7 o'clock Thursday to discuss the schedule and look over any rule changes that have been proposed. The site will be the downtown office of Texas Electric Service Company.

Plans now call for the 1964 campaign to extend through about July 20, after which a playoff will take place. Entry fee will be $45 a team and it is payable prior to the first game. Russell Tidwell has been named commissioner of the league and will be the final authority on all decisions. Managers of the eight teams are: Kenneth Moon, 331st Squadron, Aramis (Tito) Arencibia, Hester's Office Supply; Garland Land, Pioneer Natural Gas; John Berry, Texas Electric; A. H. Yeager, Parkway Foods; James Blake, Foran; B. e. n. Williams, Skateland; and Walt Davis, Pollard Chevrolet.

Gary Player's Players

Player's Marriage Deals In Goodbyes

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Once a week Mrs. Vivienne Player and her four children gather round the telephone in their 10-room Johannesburg home—awaiting a call from South Africa's globe-trotting golf champion Gary Player. "It's our weekly dose of happiness," explained the 26-year-old brunette whose husband spends nine months of every year chasing the golfing limelight.

"Gary's not much of a letter writer, although he did remember to send me a Valentine card—sometimes even a picture postcard," she said. Vivienne, former South African swimming champion and daughter of well-known golfer Jock Verwey, considers herself the world's number one golf widow.

"It's pretty tough being parted from Gary month after month," she said, "but it's even tougher on him. Few people realize how tiring the professional golf circuit can be. He'll come home for a week or two got dog tired. Then before we get to know each other he's packing bags, saying goodbye to the children and trying to explain to them why he's leaving home again."

Mrs. Player said the toughest part of being the world's premier golf widow is the frequent goodbyes. "They don't come any easier with the years," she said. "He leaves home emotionally torn to pieces—it's heart-breaking for us all.

"Our four children don't make matters any easier. The older ones, Jennifer aged 5 and Mark 3, are constantly asking, 'Where's Daddy?' The other two, Wayne aged 2 and two-month-old Michele, are still too young to realize what's happening."

But Vivienne said things are to be changed in the Player household next year. "We've decided to cut down on professional tournaments," she said. "Six months' golf and six months' rest—and most of the resting period will be spent just getting to know his family again."

With the help of the other officer, Snider said he put handcuffs on Liston and drove to the headquarters with no other difficulties.

Snider said another person in Liston's car was not taken into custody and drove his car away. Snider said he didn't know his identity.

The arrest took place on East 17th Avenue within a mile of Liston's residence in East Denver. Snider said Liston offered no resistance getting into his patrol car but on the trip down to the police station "began to argue and that's when I called for another car. I said I had a customer that was beginning to get pretty rough."

With the help of the other officer, Snider said he put handcuffs on Liston and drove to the headquarters with no other difficulties.

Snider said he charged Liston with reckless and careless driving, speeding, carrying a concealed weapon and driving without a valid Colorado operator's license. Liston was booked at the jail but gained his immediate release by posting $300 bond, Snider said.

The officer, 5-foot-10, 185 pounds, said he didn't know who Liston was "until I got down to headquarters and one of the other officers who knew him."

Steers Busy This Week

Boasting a 3-1 won-lost record, the Big Spring Steers return to play this weekend, meeting Snyder Friday afternoon and Colorado City twice Saturday.

The Friday game gets under way at 4 p.m. while the first of the Saturday engagements gets under way at 1 p.m.

The Steers have played all four games with Andrews and sophomores dotted the lineup in the game they lost. Charles Burdett, Freddie Mears and Gary Mears notched the mound victories for the Longhorns.

Snyder opened his season last week by losing to Lubbock Monterey, 7-5.

Coach Speedy Moffett of the Tigers has a veteran ball club back this year and will be hard to contain.

After this week, the Steers don't play at home again until March 27, at which time they tangle with Monterey.

Managers and league officers meet again at 7 o'clock Thursday to discuss the schedule and look over any rule changes that have been proposed. The site will be the downtown office of Texas Electric Service Company.

Plans now call for the 1964 campaign to extend through about July 20, after which a playoff will take place. Entry fee will be $45 a team and it is payable prior to the first game. Russell Tidwell has been named commissioner of the league and will be the final authority on all decisions.

Managers of the eight teams are: Kenneth Moon, 331st Squadron, Aramis (Tito) Arencibia, Hester's Office Supply; Garland Land, Pioneer Natural Gas; John Berry, Texas Electric; A. H. Yeager, Parkway Foods; James Blake, Foran; B. e. n. Williams, Skateland; and Walt Davis, Pollard Chevrolet.

Five Tilts Are Upcoming In Tournament Thursday

The first annual Caprock Volleyball Tournament opens action Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Howard County Junior College gym, when the Plains Cowboys meet the Ozona Lions.

Four other tilts are scheduled for the opening day of play: Colorado City and San Angelo, 6 p.m.; Big Spring B and Andrews, 7 p.m.; Abilene and La Mesa, 8 p.m.; and Sweetwater and Big Spring A, 9 p.m.

The rest of the field swings into action Friday morning as Phillips meets Snyder at 9 o'clock, Pampa and Buena Vista go against each other at 10 o'clock, and Coahoma and Denver City take the court at 11 o'clock.

Action continues through Friday night and Saturday morning with the consolation finals set for 6:45 p.m. Saturday and the finals immediately following at 8:45.

Trophies will go to the first four place finishers, the consolation bracket champion, and the team exhibiting the top sportsmanship. A 10-girl all-tournament squad will be picked. An outstanding spike and set will also be singled out. One highlight of the tourney will be the election of a tournament queen.

The queen will be selected on looks, attitude and demeanor. She will be rewarded with a trophy to be furnished by the Jack and Jill Kindergarten.

Anna Smith is sponsor of the meet while Sue Lewis and Elaine Patterson serve as co-directors. Official scorekeepers will be Sally Davis, Mary Wilson and Kathleen Morton.

Serving as referees will be Marilyn McReavy, Elaine Patterson, Connie Johnson and Janice Hudson. Umpires are Donna Fleming, Gayle Bailey, Jo Ann McWaters and Waynette Dolan. Clock officials will be Marie Neece, Annie Wilson and Don Mahoney. Official linemen include K. Peacock, L. Peacock, Joyce Davidson, Camella Ryan and Reta Hardy.

Arah Phillips heads the all-tournament committee, which has as other members Mrs. Betty Martin and Mrs. Virginia Aranda.

Coleman Has Field Trials

COLEMAN—The West Texas Amateur Field Trial Association will hold its spring trials at Hords Creek Reservoir in Coleman Sunday at 8 a.m.

There will be four classes of pointing breeds: amateur shooting dogs (open to dogs of any age); amateur puppies (open to dogs whelped on or after Jan. 1, 1963); amateur derby (open to dogs whelped on or after Jan. 1, 1962); and the region 7 championship for qualified dogs (open to any dog who has placed in a field trial of one-half hour duration).

The grounds are reported to be in excellent shape with six 30 minute courses laid out. Several hundred quail have been purchased locally from Mr. Roy Smith and will be set free to add to the dog work. Maize has been distributed along the courses to induce native birds into the area.

A number of top dogs are expected from considerable distances to compete in the event. One of the favorites to take the Region 7 crown will be Commanders Big Con, who has just returned from competition in the national championships in Grand Junction, Tenn. He will be handled by G. W. Poyner.

Judges for the event will be Hank Havins of Ardmore, Okla., and Wayne Cornelious of Fort Worth. Both men are experienced.

The drawing will be held Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Arrowhead Room of the Thunderbird Lodge. The noon meal will be catered Sunday.

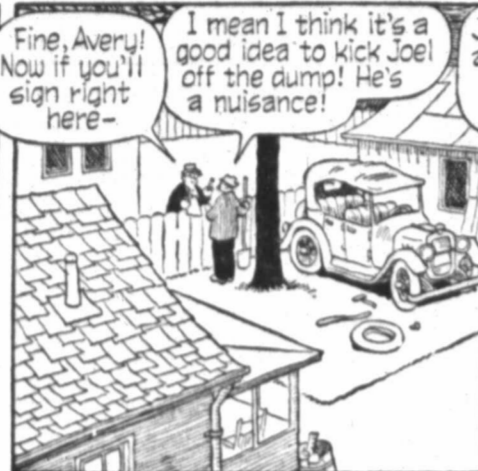

Visiting Mustangs

Sweetwater Mustangs (above) will be one of the teams in the first annual Cap Rock Volleyball Tournament at Howard County Junior College. The Ponies will have the unenviable job of facing the Big Spring Steers. Members of the team are: first row, left to right, Carolyn Durham, Barbara Hicks, and Rita Blair; second row, Bonnie Hennington, Sandy Bembenderer and Elna Evans; third row, Christine Tucker, Judy Funderburk, and Lynda Sparks. Carolyn Bevel is not pictured.

Find It Easy To Block Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators are finding it easier than they apparently expected to keep up the flow of talk necessary to prevent a quick vote on the motion to take up the civil rights bill.

In the first two days of debate they had to deliver only three of their planned initial round of speeches. So others are still in reserve.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., for example, sent to newsmen Tuesday a copy of a speech he planned to make today. But later his office advised he could not even get the floor until Friday.

Supporters of the bill are trying to hold their remarks to a minimum. As usual in the Senate, there are a number of speeches on extraneous subjects.

For example, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, held the floor for an hour Tuesday, urging that U.S. troops be withdrawn from South Viet Nam.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., prepared a speech for delivery today on the war in Southeast Asia.

The Dixie senators are organized into the three six-member teams which have served them so well in previous civil rights battles.

On the opening day of debate Monday, Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., captain of one team, was the only member of that group who had to speak.

Tuesday, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., captain of another team, and one of his associates, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., used up all the available time.

The third team, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was ready to take up the speaking chores today.

Despite the smoothly functioning Southern performance, leaders of both sides remained confident the foes of the bill would permit the motion to take up the bill to be adopted by the middle of next week.

Calls Birchers Modern Fascists

DALLAS (AP) — Sen. Dale McGee, D-Wyo., says the John Birch Society and similar groups are "latter day prophets of modern-day fascism" in their efforts to destroy facets of the capitalist-industrial economic system.

McGee spoke to 7,000 delegates to the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association convention.

The Rural Electrification Administration and the nation's co-operatives "are key targets of those who are out to repeal the 20th century," McGee asserted. REA administrator Norman Clapp talked of a three-part finance plan.

It would continue current government loans available at 2 percent interest, involve other REA loans at a higher interest rate, and loans from private sources

Nuclear Ship Plans Cruise

NEW YORK (AP) — A spring cruise from Houston to New York has been announced for the Nuclear Ship Savannah.

It will be the Savannah's first scheduled cruise under a new operating agency.

American Export and Isbrandtsen Lines announced Tuesday that a tentative itinerary called for the 596-foot ship to leave Houston May 10 and arrive in New York June 2.

The 20,000-ton vessel, free of labor troubles that forced her to be docked last year, will carry some 60 paying passengers as well as freight.

She will make stops in New Orleans, Baltimore and Boston before ending the voyage to New York. Passengers can make the entire trip for $60 or buy tickets for only a portion of the cruise.

The Savannah now is undergoing sea trials in the Gulf of Mexico under its new crew.

The $55 million vessel, the country's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, was launched in July of 1959.

A wage dispute involving engineers of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association Union, caused the ship's docking last May.

The government then hired American Export to operate the vessel with engineers from the Brotherhood of Marine Officers, an affiliate of the National Maritime Union. The union has signed a non-strike contract.

American Export said a European trip is planned after the Texas-New York voyage.

Opening lead: Four of ♠
West may be charged up for a distinct lack of resourcefulness in permitting South to sneak off with a contraband three no trump contract in today's hand.

West's opening bid of one heart is not quite up to snuff. Altho his hand does superficially contain 13 high card points, one point should be subtracted for no aces. Furthermore, he lacks two defensive tricks and his suit is not, strictly speaking, rebiddable.

North overcalled with two diamonds and East offered a competitive raise which was based primarily on distribution. At this point, South made a speculative jump to three no trump. With a heart opening, he could count three tricks in his own hand, and if partner came down with a good suit — which was a sensible expectation from an overall at the two level — there would be a reasonable prospect for running nine tricks.

West opened his fourth best heart and East's eight forced out the queen. South ran the ten of diamonds thru West and, when the finesse succeeded, he was able to take nine fast tricks — five diamonds, two hearts, one spade, and one club.

In view of South's jump to three no trump in the face of both opponents bidding hearts, it really did not require great imagination for West to visualize the ace and queen of hearts being in the declarer's hand. This should have suggested the desirability of attacking elsewhere, and a club lead becomes indicated. Without the benefit of the heart opening, declarer can be held to eight tricks with careful defense.

Springing Surprises Not Unusual For Cabot Lodge

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Springing surprises and accomplishing the unexpected is nothing unusual for Henry Cabot Lodge.

It has dotted his career since he went to work for a Boston newspaper as a reporter in 1922. The job was an unusual one for a college student whose ancestry includes six U.S. senators, a secretary of state, a secretary of the Navy and a governor of Massachusetts.

The unexpected burst onto the national political scene in 1936 when — as a tall, handsome young man of 34—Lodge won a U.S. Senate seat himself.

The man he defeated was the late James Michael Curley, then at the height of a flamboyant career as the incumbent Democratic governor of Massachusetts.

Lodge did the unusual again in 1944, about a year after winning re-election to the Senate, by resigning to enter the Army. The 6-foot-3 Boston Brahmin won six battle stars, a bronze star and the Croix de Guerre while serving in Europe with a tank outfit.

He had been an avowed isolationist before World War II, saying, "This is not our war," even though he was a leader in the preparedness movement.

WRONG
Afterward he was quick to admit that, "I was 100 per cent wrong."

"The Lodge who came back from the war was not the Lodge who had gone overseas," he said and worked to win Senate approval of the Marshall Plan and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Lodge came out publicly in November 1951, in favor of drafting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination. He was practically alone among the political "big names" who did so — until Ike scored a smashing victory in the 1952 presidential primary in New Hampshire.

Lodge was the leader at the GOP national convention in Chicago that summer, where Eisenhower won the nomination over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Lodge was the prime mover in the campaign which resulted in Eisenhower's November election over Adlai E. Stevenson.

UPSET HIM
But while Lodge was working for Ike he was away from his political fences in Massachusetts. A young congressman by the name of John F. Kennedy upset him in the Bay State Senate race and Lodge was out of a job.

He was back on the national scene before long, being named United Nations ambassador in 1953 by President Eisenhower.

The baboon kidneys have since been removed from two teen-aged boys who survived and human kidneys donated by prisoners have replaced them. The patients were not identified.

Marlin Bank Goes Into Federal Receivership

MARLIN (AP) — The First National Bank of Marlin, chartered March 12, 1892, was in hands of a federal receiver today after being declared insolvent by the comptroller of the currency.

An announcement from Washington late Tuesday by the comptroller, James J. Saxon, rocked this Central Texas town of some 7,000 population.

"Why, we didn't know what happened until we heard it over the radio," a Marlin housewife said.

Saxon appointed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. as receiver.

The bank had resources of about $3.5 million. Majority control of the bank, one of three in Marlin, changed hands July 19, 1963.

It was the first federal receivership of a national bank in more than two years. The last receivership involved the First National Bank of Maud, Okla., declared insolvent Dec. 19, 1961. The Dallas office of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

said a team of experienced liquidation personnel was en route from Washington.

A FDIC spokesman said about 10 days usually are required for the agency to verify accounts and start paying insurance money to depositors.

Individual accounts in national banks are insured up to $10,000.

The president of the bank, Joe Gallaher, received notice of the comptroller's office action just after 3 p. m. Thursday by telegram, he told the Temple Daily Telegram.

Asked what happened, Gallaher said, "Well, there's a story behind it but I'm not at liberty to say anything."

The bank president said the government told him "to keep my mouth shut."

A Marlin man in the bank business but not connected with the First National Bank, told the Telegram that "We in the banking circles knew something was up because the examiners had been there about four weeks and it wasn't that large a bank."
