

Trustees In Exec Session

In a three-hour executive session Wednesday night in Carver Educational Services Center, Pampa school trustees discussed at length their position relative to the approaching trial of school superintendent Dr. James F. Malone on a morals charge in Lubbock.

It was the fourth executive session held by trustees since the Lubbock incident on Sept. 17.

It was a talk session; no action taken; and no formal statements issued to the news media.

The session was attended by four of the five trustees, board president John Spearman, Jimmy Thompson, John Gikas and Warren Hasse. Dr. R.M. Hampton was unable to attend.

Earlier, Lubbock County Attorney Tom Purdom told The News no trial date has been set and that he could not determine when it might be.

He said the case will come (See TRUSTEES, Page 2)

Countdown On Nation's Second Moon Walk Starts Noon Friday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The launch director today ordered the Apollo 12 countdown starts 31 hours early, at noon EST Friday, to save money on the nation's second moon landing mission.

The decision, made by Walter

J. Kapryan, will have no effect on the 11:22 a.m. EST Nov. 14 launch for Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon and Alan L. Bean. A 31-hour rest period covering most of Saturday and part of Sunday was inserted in the count to make up for the early start.

"The reason for this is economics, and saving Saturday work," said a space agency spokesman. The count had been set to start at 7 p.m. Saturday, and that would have meant that many launch workers would have been paid overtime.

While the countdown was being rearranged, Conrad and Bean went flying in an Air Force jet transport designed to create brief spurts of weightlessness by flying roller coaster patterns. Gordon worked out in a spacecraft trainer at the space center.

At the launch pad, technicians prepared for the start of the 98-hour countdown. They installed a new color television camera in the Apollo 12 moon landing craft late Wednesday.

By using a color camera instead of black and white, Apollo 12's lunar surface explorers will put on a clearer and more spectacular show for millions of television viewers on earth.

The decision to carry the color camera was made after three-hour test showed no signs of the black interference that marred earlier testing.

Conrad said the color camera should reduce the "ghosts and phantoms" that appeared from the Apollo 11 astronauts' black and white during moonwalk in July.

IT WENT THAT-A-WAY — Pampa News received a call yesterday from Mrs. Shirley Shaw with a tip that a pheasant was strutting (if a pheasant can execute the gait) down Foster Street, enjoying the sunshine and sightseeing in Pampa. A News reporter-photographer grabbed a camera . . . it later proved to be void of film . . . and started for the door. After all a pheasant in town just isn't an every day occurrence. (Staff Photo)

Talks Can End War Or Other 'Plan' Can

PARIS (UPI) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told Communist negotiators today it was for them to decide whether the Vietnam War was ended at the conference table or by President Nixon's "other plan."

Lodge told the Communist side Nixon was ready to carry out his plan for Vietnamization of the war and withdrawal of American forces if efforts to negotiate a settlement failed.

Lodge warned the Communists: "You must not rely on our making concession after concession until you get everything you want."

"In our search for peace we have recognized your side was capable of blocking all attempts to bring an end to the war through negotiation."

"The President has stated the alternatives," he told the 41st session of the Vietnam peace conference. "We remain ready through these meetings, through private meetings or through restricted meetings to discuss the issues seriously and to find mutually acceptable solutions to them."

"Whether peace is achieved through negotiation depends on your readiness to deal with the issues in the same spirit."

Lodge described Nixon's alternative plan as one "which would bring the war to an end, regardless of what happens on the negotiating front."

He said that as Nixon had said in his speech Monday, the United States had noted the reduced level of North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam and the reduction of American casualties.

"We are basing our program of Vietnamization partially on those factors," he said, and added a warning: "If your military activity significantly increases we might have to take other measures."

Lodge cited public opinion polls taken since Nixon's address to show that the President's Vietnam policy has the support of the "vast majority" of the American people.

"That support has increased since the launching of the moratorium movement to which you refer so much," the U.S. negotiator said.

"You should be under no illusion that our position here at these talks is going to crumble because of the words or actions of a vocal minority of the American public."

Viet Cong Foreign Minister Madame Nguyen Thi Binh had told Lodge earlier in today's session that "the Vietnamization policy is doomed to inevitable failure."

Pentagon Brass May Have To Answer For Actions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presidential deputy counsel Clark R. Mollenhoff has indicated the Nixon administration may take action against Pentagon officials who tried to hush up the enlisted men's clubs scandal.

"Some were just following the bureaucratic mold," Mollenhoff said Wednesday night. "But there were some with additional responsibilities—and I hope you'll be hearing about them."

Mollenhoff, a Pulitzer Prize investigative reporter who joined the White House staff 2½ months ago, spoke to the Sigma Delta Chi journalism society. He described his new job as a sort of "presidential ombudsman."

"In investigations in the past, presidents have been embarrassed on crucial issues because they did not have the facts," Mollenhoff said. "Perhaps I can be in a situation in just two or three cases I can get information ahead of time so the President will not blunder."

Mollenhoff said a contact on the Senate Judiciary Committee told him staff members were having difficulty in getting Department of Army files on the alleged irregularities in the club scandals. He said this happened despite Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's earlier order to Pentagon officials to cooperate in the investigation.

"It was necessary, unfortunately," Mollenhoff said, "to go to the Army counsel and insist that Laird's order be carried out. It is necessary every day for two weeks to remind certain people of this order."

Black Panther Leader Plans Appeal On Contempt Charge

CHICAGO (UPI)—Black Panther Bobby Seale was sentenced Wednesday to four years in prison for repeatedly disrupting the "Chicago Eight" conspiracy trial. Seale's lawyer immediately said he would appeal the "savage" contempt sentence to the U.S. Supreme Court.

U.S. District Judge Julius J. Hoffman declared a mistrial in Seale's conspiracy case and pronounced three-month consecutive sentences for each of 16 separate acts of contempt, ranging from Seale shouting obscenities in the courtroom to calling the judge a Fascist, racist pig.

Seale was bound, gagged and handcuffed to a chair last week for repeated outbursts in the courtroom.

Seale's attorney, Charles R. Garry, said in San Francisco he would appeal the sentence.

"I think the sentence is a savage one," Garry said. "I never heard of a judge running wild like this in my life." Garry could not attend the trial because of a recent operation.

The cases against seven other men charged with conspiring to incite riots during the August, 1968, Democratic National Convention were not affected by the judge's ruling against Seale.

Hoffman, after a 90-minute reading, told Seale he was guilty of 16 separate acts of contempt, and sentenced him.

Hoffman set April 23, 1970, for a new trial on the riot conspiracy charge.

Seale's vehement contention that he should act as his own attorney since Garry could not attend brought the trial to a standstill at several points.

Hoffman had him bound and gagged three days last week, and during the morning session Wednesday Seale rose and asked a deputy sheriff from California, "Have you ever killed a Black Panther?"

The prosecution witness, Bill H. Ray of San Mateo, Calif., had testified he saw Seale board a plane in San Francisco for Chicago Aug. 27, 1968. The government contended Seale came to Chicago as part of the conspiracy.

"Why did you follow me? Have you ever killed a Black Panther? Have you ever been on a raid of the Black Panther party?" Seale asked Ray, ignoring Hoffman's repeated orders to sit down.

Hoffman sent the jury from the room and Seale said, "I am being railroaded. Why don't you let me cross-examine the witness? This is a complete, overt, Fascist attempt—a Fascist denial of my constitutional rights."

In imposing sentence, Hoffman said Seale was guilty of "a deliberate and willful attack on the administration of justice and an attempt to sabotage the federal judicial system."

"The intensity and extent of the disruptions has been so great that the record cannot reflect them in words."

$4,500 Needed To Observe Yule

Business and Professional Women's Club member will begin a solicitation campaign next week to assist the Chamber of Commerce in raising $4,500 to finance Pampa's annual Christmas season program.

New street decorations were purchased last year for $10,000 on a three-year payout basis.

David Fatheree, chamber finance director, said today $4,500 must be raised this year to meet cost of the second payment on the decorations, hiring a night watchman for the Nativity Scenes in Central Park, Santa Day expenses, Christmas candy for the Santa Day parade and installation, wiring and

North Vietnamese Thrust Near U. S. Government Gun Base

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops pushed to within 1,000 yards of the endangered Green Eret camp at Duc Lap today, attacking South Vietnamese artillerymen assigned to the outpost's defense. UPI correspondent Nat Gibson reported from the Cambodian border region the Communist soldiers first fired a mortar barrage into the government gun base and then followed up with a strong ground assault.

The South Vietnamese threw back the attack and reported six guerrillas killed. The Allied troops lost three dead and six wounded in defending the base, one of several reported this morning. In another development, two guerrilla rockets killed one civilian in a hamlet nine miles southeast of Saigon today in the closest shelling to Saigon in two months.

Allied intelligence officers told Gibson the objective of the parently is Duc Lap, 120 miles northeast of Saigon. They said North Vietnamese push ap-the plan called for a concentrated 10-day campaign. The offensive began last weekend with the Communist troops forcing the Allies to abandon three U.S. border artillery bases. Saigon troops have been entrusted with the entire counteroffensive in a test of their readiness to take over

QUEEN 'ROUGHS' IT

Living Comes High In British Isles

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth has been making do with the same $1 million a year salary since she was crowned 17 years ago. Inflation has gotten so bad she has been forced to dip into her own money to pay the servants at Buckingham Palace.

"My heart bleeds!" said William Hamilton, a Labor member of the House of Commons. "I cannot believe they (Parliament) would try to increase it. The government has enough trouble on its hands without looking for more."

Elizabeth gets $440,000 a year from the British government for household salaries, $272,320 for household expenses, $228,000 for expenses of royal relatives and $144,000 for her own expenses.

Cost Of Living Spirals But the cost of living has spiraled since her coronation and palace spokesmen said the situation was severe even though she has cut expenses over the years. For instance, the palace staff has been cut by 15 per cent.

"With the rising scale of official entertaining and the scale of state ceremony, expenses must be reviewed," a palace spokesman said.

The disclosure of the crisis in the royal household brought a series of comments by newspapers on the monarch in general. "Don't be mean to the queen," said the Daily Sketch. "Give her the money."

The spokesman said another thing that had increased costs was an increasing involvement in public life by Prince Charles and Princess Ann.

The palace leaked the word the queen has been using her own money to pay the staff's salaries, perhaps in an indirect appeal to Parliament, which would have to approve any increase in the royal allowance.

Seismologists at the California Institute of Technology here said the quake, which occurred at 9:45 a.m. PST, registered 5.4 on the Richter Scale.

KENNEDY ASSASSIN

Dallas Police Chief No Longer "Sure"

DALLAS (UPI)—Jesse Curry, the Dallas police chief, on Nov. 23, 1963 stood in front of the mass of newsmen covering the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and announced, "We are sure of our case."

Lee Harvey Oswald was in jail, charged with assassinating the President in downtown Dallas the day before. Six years later, Curry is no longer "sure."

Curry made the statement at a news conference announcing the publication of his book, "JFK Assassination File."

Curry, now security director of the Texas Bank & Trust, said he had no doubt Oswald was implicated in the murder, but whether he was the assassin was one of the areas "I left hanging" in the book.

"That was one of the areas Curry left up to the reader to decide on, he said.

"I have some opinions and thoughts, but I'm not going to express them," he said.

Curry said he was not trying to present any new theories on the assassination or support any existing ones. Rather, he said, it is the facts of the case compiled from his personal files.

"The evidence must be allowed to speak for itself and allow the reader to make up his own mind," Curry said. "I want to present the facts as they would be presented to a jury."

Curry said one of the reasons he waited six years to publish the book was he thought much of the emotion surrounding the case had subsided and people could read his account with a more objective view.

Curry said if he had to do it all over he would not allow the news media as much freedom in covering the assassination. He said working with the press gave Oswald too much exposure.

"If you had tried to throw the press out then, they would have crucified you," he said. "At that time the press was not used to being pushed around."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Judging from the past week's trading, the market is reluctant to retreat very far, says E.F. Hutton & Co. Market weakness in a few issues, even those favorites, did not spread to the bulk of the list, odd-lot selling increased, and strong support seems to have developed at the recent resistance area in the 830-840 zone of the Dow Jones industrial average, the firm points out. All in all, the market gave a good account of itself in what could have been a difficult week.

The market, with occasional relapses, could continue to "look across the valley" to mid-1970, by which time business should be starting to pick up after a brief and shallow slowdown.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Nancy, our 20-year-old daughter, lives at home and we trust her. She works as a salesgirl. Nancy recently brought home a 28-year-old man and introduced him as a commercial artist and photographer.

Last week-end Nancy told us that he was to pick her up at 4 a.m. as he wanted an early start to take pictures of her in the sunrise at a mountain site 70 miles away. They returned at 6 p.m. The young photographer spoke about three words to us and left hastily.

Nancy told us that during the day she learned that the man was married with two children. I told her we all should have been told this at the start.

When I phoned his residence, his wife answered, and to my surprise she knew all about the photography trip her husband had taken with our daughter, and was surprised that we were worried just because he was married. Later the young man phoned, obviously upset, and said he'd gone on many such professional trips with young ladies and this is the first time his motives were questioned.

I told him that our unmarried daughter had her reputation to think of, and also that I knew many commercial artists and photographers and never heard of any who operated in that manner. He indignantly said that he would never ask our daughter to pose for him again, and that we were way off base. Nancy agreed with him. We leave it to you, Abby. Were we "off base"?

DEAR OLD HATS: Probably. You could have at least waited to see the photographic results of this "trip" before assuming that there was anything involved. Also, for you to have called his wife shows an appalling lack of confidence in a daughter you "trust."

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a very conservative (money wise) woman, for which I am grateful, but I think she overdoes it. She keeps records, and now she tells me that in the last 10 years we have sent wedding gifts to 37 couples, and we spent an average of $22.10 on each. She says that of these 37 couples to whom we sent wedding gifts, only 18 are still married to each other.

She says that from now on she is through buying wedding gifts. Instead, she'll send a lovely card of "congratulations," and if their marriage lasts a year she will send an anniversary present! What do you think of this?

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Suggest that she wait five years, and send them a silver from her head! (It's the "wooden" anniversary.)

JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, NOV. 7

Your birthday Friday: The coming year is a middle-of-the-road period in which you are better off continuing your current programs and striving to improve without major changes of direction or vocation. Study, research, literary activity (either active or passive) are strongly suggested as pathways to great happiness. The conservative approach is generally much more successful. Friday's natives never run out of enthusiasm, whether tycoons or ne'er-do-wells.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Fit your plans into the group program or put them aside. Agreements and unions made today are strongly favored, partnership matters facilitated. Unusual luck is likely!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Extra effort Friday results in much improvement. Cooperation is easier to achieve. Technical advice is more readily available and applicable.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Romantic ventures thrive Friday. Your associates will cheerfully let you carry the main burden of the day's routine—if you will.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): The things most important to you improve now with just a little more push on your part. Changes in home arrangements work out quite readily and well.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Messages are not to be neglected Friday. Be willing to travel to pick up loose ends rather than to have everything come to you. Much can be accomplished by steady effort.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Wind up your work week with a full tidying-up; some long-sought missing piece may fall into place. The chance arrives to buy an item you've missed having in your home. Choose carefully, as your purchase is for long-term possession.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The personal touch is all important. Do it yourself, and get the real experience first hand. The earlier you can close out the vocational day, the better, as emotional fulfillment seems indicated for most Librans in the later hours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Make the most of the opportunity available Friday, and let Saturday take care of itself. Speak right out and ask for what you want directly, but make sure that what you ask for can be given.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): For once your friends offer more usable ideas for work and money matters. Strive to confirm and deepen emotional ties.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Think a bit bigger and in bolder terms. Success comes in accord with your morale and the consistency of your effort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Seek technical advice. Find new collaborators for creative or complex projects. Catch up the loose ends of your correspondence with far places, special associates.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Shared experiences are more important to you today. The closer the relationship, the fuller the joy to be found in minor adventure.

CRANBERRY STICKY BUNS—breakfast magnet.

Family Will Break Fast For Baked Cranberry Buns

Getting the family to eat breakfast is a problem in most households. Everyone always seems in too much of a hurry to take time to eat at least some fruit, some bread or cereal with milk and a beverage.

But perhaps the fragrance of sticky buns in the oven might prompt the family to pause long enough to eat one. Then maybe another. It's worth trying. This recipe is easily made with hot roll mix and red cranberries. These buns, with oranges or orange juice, eggs and milk for children will start the day well.

CRANBERRY STICKY BUNS (Makes 9 Buns)

- 1 Package (13½ ozs.) hot roll mix
- 1½ Cups Cranberries, rinsed, drained and chopped
- ¾ Cup firmly packed Dark brown Sugar
- ¼ Cup raisins
- 1-3 Cup butter or Margarine, melted
- 1-3 Cup pecan Halves...

If you want to win the gratitude of your bridge or luncheon guests during the season, you'll occasionally offer them a simple, pretty salad as a main-dish.

A new salad that has a holiday appearance yet is surprisingly low in calories is this Cantaloup-Salami Salad. It is easy to put together with the following ingredients:

- ### CANTALOUPE-SALAMI SALAD
- 1 Cantaloup
 - ½ lb. Salami
 - 1 Head Romaine Lettuce
 - 2 Tomatoes
 - ¼ Cup Sweet Pickle Relish

Self-Basting Turkey Is Revolutionary New Idea

Yes, there really is a new type of turkey.

It's the revolutionary self-basting turkey. No basting required all during the full roasting time. By an exclusive patent, a large Chicago packing house puts creamy butter deep inside breasts, legs and thighs. So why should you baste?

We were enthusiastic about the tenderness of the meat. The turkey comes in 8-to-23 pound sizes, frozen in a colorful polyethylene bag with cooking instructions clearly printed on it.

You will be thrilled, we think, about the no-basting. Also, to see the natural juices of the bird and the injected butter bubble up through the bird while all you have to do is to watch.

Thaw turkey in bag in refrigerator for 2 or 3 days or thaw at room temperature for 6 to 9 hours and finish in refrigerator (approximately 12 hours). Do not thaw in warm water. Keep thawed turkey refrigerated. Use within 24 hours after thawing.

Free drumsticks from stuff clamp. Remove neck from body cavity and giblets from neck cavity. Place neck and giblets in saucepan. Cover with water and simmer until tender. Use giblets and broth for stuffing or gravy. Stuff neck cavity and fasten with skewer. Stuff body in roasting pan.

Place turkey, breast up, on rack cavity and refasten stuff clamp. Roast in 325-degree oven for time indicated on roasting guide. To avoid overbrowning, place a loose piece of foil over turkey during final cooking time after bird has reached a golden brown color.

If turkey is roasted unstuffed, allow 15 to 30 minutes less cooking time.

Self-basting turkey is Thanksgiving boon.

The general rule for watering house plants is to do so when the topsoil feels dry to the touch. Use water of room temperature, and apply enough so that each plant is thoroughly wet from top to bottom. Do not water again until the topsoil is dry. You'll learn from experience that thorny, hairy, or waxy-leaved plants need less water than smooth, thin-leaved specimens.

Nixon's Foreign Policy Is Low-Keyed

As the Nixon administration begins its first year, the Communist East of the world has been low-keyed, marked by a lack of sloganizing and by attention to what the President considers realities. And as the President has sought to institute an era of consultation without confrontation, he has warned NATO

The same elements were present in his long-awaited policy statement on Latin America, delivered before the Inter-American Press Association in Washington. To Latin America he offered "no grandiose promises and no panaceas."

POLAROID CAMERA TRUCKLOAD SALE

NEW COLORPACK II.

Polaroid Colorpack II. Electronic shutter and electric eye that automatically measure exposure (even the burst of a flash shot). Built-in flash that uses flashcubes (shoot 4 times without changing bulbs). New, sharp 3-element lens. Ingenious viewfinder that acts as a 5-foot rangefinder. Pack film for quick loading (same 3 1/4 x 4 1/4 pictures as the expensive cameras. Color or black and white). Picture taking that's almost as easy as opening your eyes.

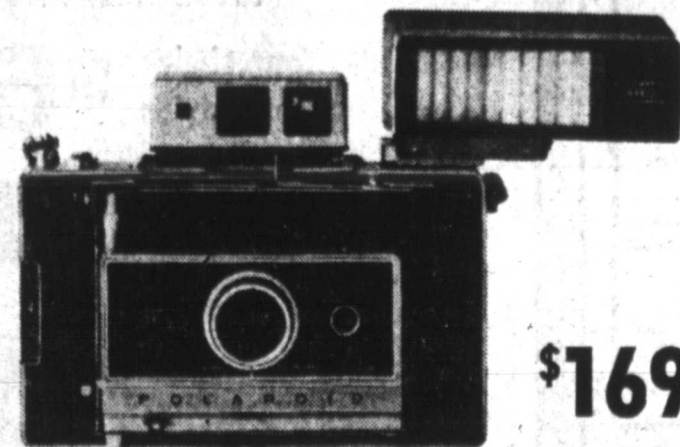

NEW COUNTDOWN CAMERAS

Polaroid's new Countdown Cameras have picture development timers that beep and buzz to tell you when your picture's perfectly developed. Some even do it electronically. They all feature a triplet lens, automatic electric eye exposure control, detachable camera covers, adjustable carrying straps, and the ability to use some exciting accessories. Of course, they all produce big color or black and white pictures in seconds.

NEW MODEL 320. $44⁹⁷

Electronic shutter and electric eye automatically set correct exposure, make flash pictures as perfectly as pictures in daylight. Dual image, non-folding coupled range- and viewfinder. Big 3 1/4 x 4 1/4 pictures. Color in one minute, black and white in seconds. Least expensive folding model. Compact, lightweight, high-impact plastic body. Detachable camera cover and carrying strap.

MODEL 360 with Electronic Flash

An amazing snap-on electronic flash. Freezes the wildest action at 1/1000 of a second, flash recharges on ordinary house current (no flashbulbs to buy — ever). Electronic timer lights up, counts, then beeps when picture's perfectly developed. Electric eye and electronic shutter set exposures automatically. Single window. Zeiss Ikon range- and viewfinder. The finest camera Polaroid has ever made — the most self-sufficient camera in the world!

Hollywood In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

Conflict: Frank Sinatra's outstanding musical special on CBS-TV tonight unfortunately is directed opposite ABC-TV's excellent movie, "A Man and A Woman"...the Sinatra hour, a one-man show, is a faultless blend of old songs and new ones, and a comedy monologue in which, aided by humorous clips from some of his lesser movies, he needles his acting career.

This particular self-aimed comedy routine, by the way, shows considerable style by Sinatra because nowhere does he cop out with the explanation that he also made some fine films...which he did, of course—among them, "The Man with the Golden Arm," "From Here to Eternity," "Suddenly," "On the Town," "The Manchurian Candidate" and many others.

Coming Attractions: CBS-TV's new "Tim Conway Show," a half-hour situation comedy that debuts Jan. 30, will concern a pilot for a small airline that is always on the verge of bankruptcy...same network will also offer a Christmas Day hour.

latest lyrics as well as standard ones...but to this viewer, at least, his definite image will always be that of the tuxedoed midnight loner, his definitive image will always be that of the tuxedoed midnight loner, skeptically swinging through bitter-sweet lyrics underscored with the adult knowledge that nothing is really new, not even youth.

Hit and Miss: ABC-TV's new Tuesday night series, "Movie of the Week"—a collection of original 90-minute video presentations, already has been picked up for next season by the network because of its solid success...But ABC-TV is also reported canceling, at midseason, the new "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" series, a weekly half-hour about a fellow who moves to the big city after inheriting a fortune.

Coming Attractions: CBS-TV's new "Tim Conway Show," a half-hour situation comedy that debuts Jan. 30, will concern a pilot for a small airline that is always on the verge of bankruptcy...same network will also offer a Christmas Day hour.

OUR CAPSULE POLICY
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TEXAS PANHANDLE
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
Let Peace Begin With Me!

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

Facts On Price Boycotts

We often have pointed out that attempts to boycott sellers of goods because the prices are "too high" are an attempt to treat the symptoms rather than the disease itself.

The high price culprits are exorbitant taxes, the government's policy of monetary inflation and union wage demands, not matched by increased production. All of these add to the cost of production and must, inevitably, show up in the prices charged for goods and services.

The villain is not the rancher, the so-called middleman, the processor or the retailer. All of these operate on slim profit margins.

Now there has come to our attention the Sept. 8 edition of "Meat Board Reports," published by the National Live Stock and Meat Board with offices at 36 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago. Entitled "Open Letter to Mrs. Meat Boycotter," and emphasizing the fact that the total cost of producing meat and meat products, regardless of what adds to that cost must inevitably be borne by the consumer public, the board's letter makes the point so well that we are reproducing it below for the information and benefit of our readers. In perusing the letter it would be well to keep in mind, that as the principle applies to meat, so, too, does it apply to every product and service used by man. The National Live Stock and Meat Board's Open Letter follows:

Dear Madam:

We know you're concerned about higher prices. We are too. The wife just bought new shoes, clothes, pencils and notebooks for the back to school crowd. Whew!

But about those meat prices... you've been looking for some answers. We'll answer first by asking a question. How much more money does your husband make now than he did in 1961? Unless he's a pensioner or unemployed, we'll bet it's not less than 65 per cent more and possibly as much as 150 per cent more. It's none of our business, you might say, and you're right—we really don't mean that you should tell us. We just want you to stop and think about it yourself. Of course, generally speaking, it is our business because it affects our business in two ways:

1. Part of that wage—only about 4 1/2 per cent of it, actually—goes for the purchase of the products of our industry... beef, veal, pork, lamb, sausage, etc.

2. Each increase in your husband's salary is reflected in higher prices people in our industry must pay to stay in business and to care for their families.

How much more do you think the husbands of the ladies on the nation's farms and ranches are making today? Once again, it's probably none of your business... but in general terms it is your business because it affects what you pay for meat products. You may not believe it—but we've got the figures to prove it—the livestockman is making no more today than he did in 1951. Earlier this year, he finally got back to where he was in the early 1950s insofar as income from sale of his meat animals is concerned. Which means after nearly 20 years he is once again realizing something like a reasonable return on his investment. And even now those prices are moving downward again.

For your sake as well as his, Mrs. Boycotter, we hope those prices do not slide back to where they were. If they do, it's a lead-pipe cinch many livestock producers will give it up and pursue less uncertain endeavors rather than go through another period of financial drought. If that happens, this industry's record-breaking production of meat products would reverse itself. Beef, pork and lamb would become scarce food items, simply because there wouldn't be that many people willing to take the risk of producing at a loss. And then meat prices would really get high.

If the farmer-rancher isn't getting the big slice of the meat price pie, then who is? Is it the meat packer? With net profits of less than one percent... hardly! The meat retailer? Most of what he gets, over what he pays is devoured by labor and equipment costs. No, he's not the culprit... not at his 1-2 per cent profit.

We have read some newspaper accounts quoting you, Mrs. Boycotter, as saying you think the big profits must be going to some "middle-man." You are dead right, ma'am. And do you know who that middleman is? It is inflation! It's the cost of everything, including your husband's wages, that's driving up the cost of everything. Everything!

No one likes to pay more for anything! And when meat prices go up, they are more noticeable because grocery shopping is a frequent thing, and, bless you, meat is a favorite food of yours! But, in the spirit of fair play... how about taking a look at what you are paying for other goods and services... and how much more you have of the good life than you had 20 years ago? Meat is part of that good life... as one of the more enjoyable necessities. You could boycott it right into the luxury category. We don't want that and we don't think you do either.

Our congratulations to this fine corporation which is helping to prove the importance of a free and open market in ideas.

The control console must be lit up like Broadway on Saturday night in some sessions. But at least its quiet.

Spurning Of Monopoly Wins Praise

By ROBERT LEFEVRE

I'd like to doff my formal headgear to the North American Philips Corporation. This is the outfit that came up with the idea of the tape cassette. My hat is off, not to the idea, but to the manner in which the company dealt with it.

Instead of running to the government for protection so that no one but North American Philips could produce the cassette, this corporation made it available to all manufacturers and encouraged others to manufacture the product they had pioneered.

Why? Here is how North American Philips explained it in a full-page ad in a magazine of national circulation:

"A reasonable share of an enormous market is better than a huge share of a limited market."

"If the cassette idea had been haggled to our corporate bosom, North American Philips would have had a captive market. But people are often cautious about committing themselves to a one-manufacturer product."

"So other manufacturers were encouraged to make and sell cassettes and cassette equipment. The more people there were with a stake in the cassette idea, the greater the market would become."

"And there was one enormous advantage: compatibility. Giving away the cassette idea made sure that all cassettes would be the same size, work the same way, run at the same speed."

"That created competition, of course. But we knew we were offering good, sound, competitive products."

"The calculated risk worked like a charm. The cassette industry will sell about two hundred million dollars worth of products in 1969; and during the past five years, North American Philips has sold more Norelco cassette recorders and players than any other brand sold in the U.S."

We know that many of the critics of big business will blink their eyes and tend to discredit their sensibilities when they read the foregoing. Anti-capitalists always envision businessmen as interested primarily in obtaining a monopoly. But here is a firm which avoided the costly and tax-supported route of the "protection" of trademark and patent, and took their product idea into the market and gave it away in order to engender competition. And why not?

The "protection" offered by government is no protection anyway. It merely makes it possible for the government to act after the fact in costly legal procedures which attempt to punish those who may have been accused of some kind of design or process violation.

Philips rightly saw that its money was to be made in sales, not in the court room.

And with half a dozen firms advertising cassettes, Philips has six times the promotional power of its own publicity efforts. That's not to be shrugged off lightly.

It is the free and competitive market that makes money for everyone and provides the most in the way of goods and services. Philips states that each of its forty-six divisions is headed by an individualist. Fear causes people to turn to government for protection. Self-confidence causes them to shun the government and go out into the market where the public can buy or not as it pleases.

Our congratulations to this fine corporation which is helping to prove the importance of a free and open market in ideas.

The anti-war cry of youth is due not so much to the bitterness of war in Vietnam as to the blessedness of peace in the U.S. No one can be blamed for not wanting to leave this good land to go to fight in the jungles of southeast Asia. Life is good here. Business, though not booming is booming. Personal income is at an all-time high. Inflation is cooling. Jobs are plentiful. Opportunity is vast and expanding.

This is not to say that all is well in the best possible of all worlds. Much is not well. Labor is at odds with management; in some places, school teachers are on strike. Crime is advancing, religion retreating.

The increase of population is putting extreme pressure on some of our facilities, such as housing and schools, forcing us to get along with homes and schoolrooms more crowded than we like. But no nation has ever multiplied its school and college facilities as rapidly as we have in the last 20 years. The lack of "low-cost housing" is bewailed by dreamers who fail to sense how roofless we would be had it not been for the enterprise of the makers of pre-fabs and mobile homes.

We tend to exaggerate our troubles, seeing an electric black-out in the northeast as a breakdown of the power industry nationwide. Because folks in congested Manhattan have difficulty getting their numbers, telephone service throughout the country is crumbling. Because a few cities have smog, we are all about to suffocate (what did we breathe in the days when every furnace and factory belched soft-coal smoke?)

Because many prices have gone up, we assume all have. Why beat the old horse, "high cost of living," to death? Some people are paying no more house rent than they did five years ago. People who bought homes prior to 1968 probably have 6 percent mortgages, which means they are still paying the interest rate of a decade ago, considerably less than the going rate today. (It is a poor time now to incur debt.)

Many doctors are charging the same fees they have for years. Hospital rates are up but this is mainly because of the vast increase in demand for hospital services on the part of those whose bills are paid by the government.

Some food prices are up, but others are not, as any alert supermarket shopper knows. Coffee, 60 cents a pound in World War II, can still be had for 69 cents. Instant coffee has long been available at 99 cents per ten ounces. Canned goods have risen little. Large eggs at 59 cents a dozen are a buy. So was the fryer I bought last week at 29 cents a pound.

People whose incomes have not risen in five years are now in a pinch, but money prices that have not risen have really gone down for those whose incomes have risen. Most employed people have had raises, some generous ones.

The importance of the 1968 "take-overs" in the universities, like that of our other troubles, has been exaggerated. The great majority of universities and colleges suffered—no violence. I know of none that have been closed down. Many administrators were caught off guard but will not be again. The academic year of 1968-70 bids fair to be more peaceful.

Although the uncertainty of Vietnam still hangs over our heads, there are signs of a "back to normalcy" trend in the nation's life in 1970. Business expansion will be less feverish. Labor will be less scarce and workers therefore less prone to strike. We may look for some prices to fall. As interest rates ease off, bonds will strengthen. Stocks, too, in all probability, will resume their rise, surely if Vietnam is pacified.

The Beatle-apers may ever fire of coming their locks and go to a barber!

There'll Be No Revolution

By OSCAR W. COOLEY

Now we can all relax. The U.S.A. is not undergoing a revolution, nor is it going to right away.

A few rattlebrains are making a big tempest in a teapot, but 200 million Americans are going about their business as usual making the new model automobiles, buying their groceries, betting on the football games, going to church, and looking for a parking place.

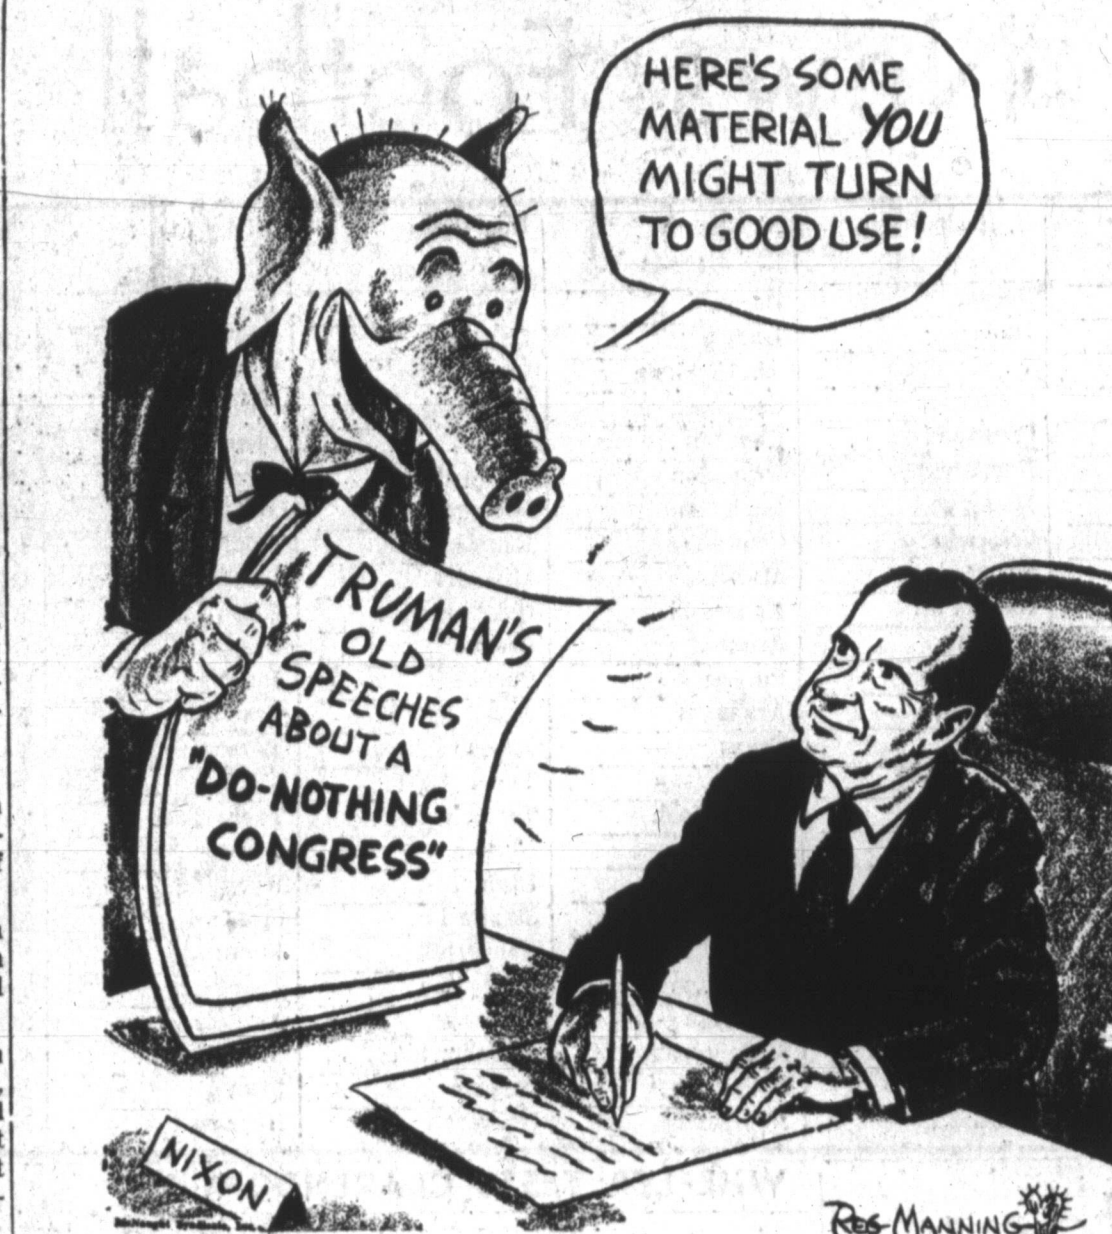

A handful of youngsters who have been allowed to grow up spoiled are screaming like "young Puckers," but the vast body of American youths are hitting the books, striving to learn more about the universe and how they can make their corner of it better.

October 15 was to be the big day. The gauntlet was to be hurled at the feet of War-Maker Nixon. The universities were to close for the day. The students were to rise to a man, be joined by everyone else of consequence, and demand an immediate end to the fighting.

Well, how many universities closed? Of the students—and professors—who favored closing, one can surmise nine out of ten did so thinking, "How jolly to have another holiday!" At most schools, October 15 was just a day of classes, quizzes and speculation as to whether the Mets would finalize the series on the following day.

The cool-headed man in the White House didn't even leave his desk. When asked what he would do in response to the demands of the anti-warriors, he answered in effect, "Nothing." What else could a president say?

The cool-headed man in the White House didn't even leave his desk. When asked what he would do in response to the demands of the anti-warriors, he answered in effect, "Nothing." What else could a president say?

A telephone poll, taken the day after, showed 68.5 percent believe "Nixon is doing all he can to settle the war in Vietnam," and 57.4 percent thought the Moratorium Day was "an over-all bad idea." If that opinion is representative, it pours a big bucket of cold water on the notion that the American people are on the verge of revolt.

The anti-war cry of youth is due not so much to the bitterness of war in Vietnam as to the blessedness of peace in the U.S. No one can be blamed for not wanting to leave this good land to go to fight in the jungles of southeast Asia.
