

First Load of County Wheat Delivered

By JULIE SMILEY
Staff Writer

The first truckload of wheat harvested in Deaf Smith County for 1981 was delivered to Hereford Grain Corp., Saturday afternoon by A. Gale Adams, according to Wally Speinkruger, Hereford Grain.

Continental Grain Co. reported that a sample had been delivered on Sunday, but not a full load of wheat. Donald Simpkins, who farms north of the Deaf Smith County feed yard, delivered his first load of wheat Monday morning to Veigel Grain, Milo Center. Simpkins said his irrigated wheat, watered once this spring, tested 93.23 percent moisture and should yield about 40 bushels per acre.

Bobby Veigel, owner and operator of the elevator, said more producers were expected to make deliveries Monday. His first customers delivered on June 23 last year. He attributes the early wheat harvest to the warm spring in Deaf Smith County. Speinkruger said wheat harvest started last year between June 15 and 23. "This is the start of a harvest, and the dryland wheat is probably ready, but the irrigated wheat will probably not be ready until the end of the week," he said.

Producers who depend on custom wheat harvesting may have difficulty hiring custom combines in this area since most of the custom crews are still in the Wichita Falls area. John Fuston, ASCS executive director for Deaf Smith County, said the Vernon and Wichita Falls areas have good wheat which is not harvested yet because of a wet spring. "How big a problem we've got with custom harvesting I don't know. It will be a week or two before it is cut out down near Vernon, and Kansas and Colorado have good wheat which will be harvested earlier than usual. I hope they don't skip us," Fuston said.

Fuston said producers in Deaf Smith County planted about 250,000 acres of wheat, of which 150,000 acres is dryland wheat and 100,000 acres is irrigated. This figure is up about 10 percent from last year. He said less corn

Israeli Papers Praise Nuclear Reactor Raid

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli newspapers rang with praise today for Prime Minister Menachem Begin's decision to bomb an Iraqi nuclear reactor, and the voters who will decide his political fate June 30 seemed pleased with the daring raid.

"Israel acted according to an old rule, hit them before they hit you," the conservative daily Maariv said in an editorial. The newspaper said Israel had a "complete right to act before the threat to her existence was realized."

The liberal daily Haaretz editorialized, "There is no doubt that the danger that threatens us from the eastern front has been diminished."

Haaretz' military writer, Zeev Schiff, said in a commentary, "What the Israeli pilots did in this complex and dangerous operation was like entering a beehive, taking the queen and getting away without being stung."

Davar, the paper of the opposition Labor Party, praised the execution of the raid as an "exemplary act," but it and the pro-Labor Jerusalem Post said the attack only postpones a resolution of the problem of nuclear proliferation in the Middle East.

Begin was meeting his Cabinet today in Jerusalem for a briefing on the surprise attack and was to have a session later with Parliament's Foreign Affairs and Security Committee, where members of the Labor Party would get their first full report on the raid.

The prime minister dismissed widespread foreign condemnation of the Israeli bombing.

"We are not afraid of any reaction by the world," Begin said in a broadcast Monday night. "We had to act to safeguard the safety and wellbeing of the Israeli people."

The Israeli government, which refuses to confirm or deny persistent foreign reports that it has built a dozen or more nuclear bombs, said the research reactor French and Italian technicians were building on the outskirts of Baghdad was being readied to manufacture nuclear weapons to be used against Israel.

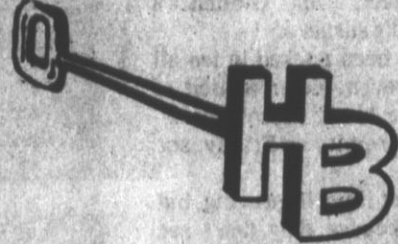

Iraq denied this and asked for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council. It charged Israel with a "grave act of

County Budget Reviewed

Bull Barn Dances Eliminated

By BOB NICH
MANAGING EDITOR

Deaf Smith County Commissioners fired a shot at what has been their "nemesis" for the past several years Monday as they unanimously voted to abolish dancing of any kind at the county-operated Bull Barn, effective next October. Hoping to zero-in on a constant flow of problems with scheduling the use of the Bull Barn, its maintenance, and effective supervision, the county fathers felt they hit the bull's eye in making the move to eliminate dances at the events center.

With the move, dances will end at the Bull Barn after the last scheduled event, set for October 3 there according to County Treasurer Vesta Mae Nunley. Some 11 other dances have already been scheduled from the present through the October 3 date according to Mrs. Nunley, and the commissioners felt the need to go ahead and honor all prior engagements.

The Bull Barn has been a thorn in the side of the county for several years, and commissioner James Voyles, who made the motion to end dances, felt that such a move was necessary. "I feel that if we remove all types of dances out there we will eliminate 90 percent of the problems," he said. "Besides, I don't feel that we can pay for a public dance hall with taxpayers' money."

In almost a sidelight to the Bull Barn policy question Monday, the county held a public hearing on the 1981-82 budget. Representatives of Senior Citizens, the county museum, and the Family Services Center were on hand to make requests for help, and to thank the commissioners for their help in the past as well.

Former County Judge Sam Morgan and Margie Daniels spoke on behalf of the Senior Citizens Center, while museum director Lois Gilliland was also present as well as Family Services Center director Mike Moon.

The senior citizens pointed out a need of $24,807 to be raised for their operation locally over the next year, while Mrs. Gilliland requested $5,000 for the museum, the same figure which the county has given the museum in the past.

Moon made a report on the family services center, noting that it had served 331 clients during 2,106 hours of service from September 1, 1980 through April 30 of this year. Moon requested $2,000 from the county's revenue sharing funds. That is the same amount given to the center by the county last year.

The county budget for next year is estimated at $2,259,369 in revenues, and $2,713,050 in expenditures, leaving a deficit of $54,995. With a projected $185,939 in revenue sharing funds expected, that would give a balance of $130,400 on October 1, 1982.

County Auditor Alex Schroeter pointed out that all the figures presented Monday are tentative, and will not become official until the commissioners formally approve the budget on June 22. Major increases in the budget for the next year include a 10 percent pay increase for county employees, except for a five percent increase for elected officials, increased employee

Atlanta Initiates 'Safe Summer '81'

ATLANTA (AP) — Thousands of running, squirming children poured into city recreation centers for the opening of "Safe Summer '81" — a multimillion-dollar program aimed at protecting youngsters from whomever has slain 28 young blacks.

The recreation program, which got under way Monday at 61 sites, was conceived during the winter as officials sought ways to keep children under close supervision once schools close for the summer.

All but five of the 28 young blacks found slain in the Atlanta area since July 1979 have been 17 or younger. A special police task force has been investigating, but no one has been charged in any of the cases.

Police are continuing their surveillance of a 23-year-old black man questioned for 12 hours last week in connection with the slayings, but authorities say they do not have sufficient evidence to make an arrest "at this time." His house is being watched by both police and journalists.

At the city's Thomasville recreation center, Mayor Maynard Jackson told 210 children, "You need to keep an eye out for each other."

The program, which will cost about $4 million, is being financed in part by about $800,000 in federal grants and about $300,000 in donations and proceeds from a spring concert, said Richard Monteilh, coordinator for the city program. The remaining money comes from city funds normally budgeted for summer recreation.

Jackson and Monteilh both estimated about 10,000

Reagan, Portillo Stress Trust and Cooperation

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Reagan and Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo, publicly submerging any differences, are stressing trust and neighborly cooperation in their talks at this mountain-top retreat.

Devoting extraordinary personal attention to his guest, Reagan spent more than 3½ hours Monday in discussions with Lopez Portillo, took him horseback riding and capped the day with a candlelight dinner on the terrace overlooking Reagan's pool.

"While we deal with you as a representative of a great nation, we can't help but think of you as brothers," Reagan said in a toast following the roast sirloin dinner.

He pledged that "any action we take will be consistent with the principles of sovereignty, good neighborliness and hospitality."

Lopez Portillo, who issued a stiff rebuke to then-President Carter in a toast at a 1979 state luncheon in Mexico, took the occasion Monday night to tell Reagan: "We wish to know and understand each other, but most important we trust each other."

He said there was "no ten-

Mall Merchants Reorganize; Discuss Repairs, Crazy Days

By DENISE SMITH
Staff Writer

The Sugarland Mall Merchants Association gathered with full attendance Monday morning for a business meeting, including election of officers and discussion of upcoming Mall improvements. Presiding at the meeting was Paul Holling, who is associated with Coledwell-Bank in Dallas, new mall owners.

Elected to serve as mall officials were Sondra Blankenship, president, Sondra's Craft Corral; Rozelle Delorio, manager, M.E. Moses; and Betty Martin, secretary, Funny Farm and Harman's.

After receiving many complaints concerning air conditioning in the Mall, Holling announced that in two weeks, preparation will begin on repairing the cooling system.

The mall association has scheduled a carnival to be set up in the Sugarland Mall parking area during the week June 16-21. This is in conjunction with the upcoming Crazy

Day, June 18. The Mall Association also decided to leave all stores open until 8 p.m. on the 18th to promote Crazy Days and the carnival.

The association also discussed having the local garden clubs help with the upkeep of planters inside the mall. Plans include selecting plants suitable to the season to be placed in the planters.

It was reported that maintenance repair on the roof was currently underway and that in the near future the pavement would be repaired around the shopping center.

Special guest at the meeting was Mike Carr, chamber of commerce Executive Vice President. He discussed the Crazy Day event, announcing that a fun breakfast will kick-off the second annual event at 8:30 a.m. in the Community Center Thursday, June 18. There will be judging of the craziest dressed employees throughout the stores in Hereford and a possible tug-of-war between the downtown merchants and Sugarland Mall merchants.

According to Carr, over 300 participated in the event last year and he is expecting a better turn out this year. Several gifts and prizes will be awarded to those deserving during the event.

Holling announced the

Local Youth Stable Following Accident

Five year old Elana Elizondo is in stable condition in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo after being struck by a car Sunday evening at Mable and Irving streets. Miss Elizondo suffered head injuries and possible internal injuries in the accident. The driver of the car, Isais Briones, Jr., was arrested for DWI and is being held for investigation in the accident.

Miss Elizondo was crossing Mable Street when she was hit. She was dragged about 120 feet before Briones stopped the car. Briones then got out of the car and began shouting for someone to call an ambulance. According to Hereford Police, Briones said he didn't see the girl before he hit her.

Two arrests were made in a burglary attempt at Carl McCaslin Lumber Company Sunday night. Police responded to a silent alarm that had been installed in the building after three recent burglaries. Police officers spotted Homer Landin, and a juvenile coming out of the building. The two were arrested and are under investigation for the other burglaries, which involved money and paint. Police also have two other suspects in the case.

Other action over the weekend included several

Abortion Clinic To Close

HOUSTON (AP) — Yielding to pressure from right-to-life groups, the Harris County Hospital District has agreed to close a controversial abortion clinic at Jefferson Davis Hospital.

The board unanimously agreed Monday to shut down the operation and transfer $127,000 earmarked for the clinic to the hospital's labor and delivery service.

"We are deleting this fund under protest," said Marc Shapiro, who heads the board's fiscal affairs committee.

In the past month, the seven-member board twice rejected the hospital district's proposed $129.4 million budget after pressure from anti-abortion organizations.

The board also agreed to ask the Harris County attorney's office to seek the Texas attorney general's opinion on the legality of the county commissioners court vetoing line items from the hospital system's annual budget.

Inmate Granted Change of Venue

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A state prison inmate charged in the deaths of a prison warden and a farm manager has been transferred to Galveston to await trial.

Judge Max B. Rogers, administrative judge for the Second Judicial District, ordered the change of venue Monday and transfer of Eroy Edward Brown, 30, to Galveston County.

Brown is charged with two counts of capital murder in the April 4 deaths of Warden Wallace Pack and Billy Max Moore, farm manager at the Ellis Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections here.

Attorneys for Brown, who was serving a 12-year sentence for aggravated robbery from McLennan County, asked the judge to move the inmate from the Walls Unit because he had been refused a private room and had been subjected to subtle harassment.

Fox Becomes One-Man Owner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The takeover of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. by Denver oilman Marvin Davis will make Davis the first individual to control all the voting stock of major film studio since Hollywood's earliest days.

The $800 million Fox-Davis merger, which becomes effective at 12:01 a.m. EDT Friday, was okayed by 79 percent of Fox shareholders voting at a special shareholders meeting here Monday.

While Davis and his family will control all the voting stock of the new company that will own Fox, the shareholders' prospectus said non-voting stock will be owned by a foreign oil company, which has not been identified.

The prospectus also said the 55-year-old Davis may trade a 50 percent interest in the film company to a "major institutional investor" to finance the purchase.

Fox — a major film and television producer-distributor — also owns two resorts, a film processing lab, a foreign theater chain and a soft drink bottling company, plus its 63-acre studio in the heart of Los Angeles' glittering Century City complex of high rises, hotels and stores.

Its television stations will be spun off as United Television Inc.

Longshoreman's Foot Amputated

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors who reattached a Savannah longshoreman's foot two weeks ago in a grueling operation have been forced to amputate one of the feet and now fear complications in the other one.

Johnny Ward's left foot was amputated between the ankle and the knee Monday afternoon, 13 days after both feet were ripped off in a dockside accident and then reattached in a 12-hour operation at Talmadge Memorial Hospital, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Physicians today are closely watching an infection in Ward's right foot, said the spokeswoman, Julie Gullebeau.

"His vital signs are stable. He's awake and alert," Ms. Gullebeau said after Ward's surgery.

The foot had been packed in ice all weekend to prevent deterioration of the tissue after blood ceased to circulate in the extremity on Friday, she said.

"The right foot is not improving, but there's hope because they don't see any deterioration," she said.

The 32-year-old Ward was injured as he helped unload a ship at the Georgia Ports Authority dock in Savannah. A cable snapped and lashed around his legs just above his ankles, witnesses said.

Ward and his severed feet were flown the 100 miles to the Augusta hospital for the reattachment surgery.

U.S. Condemns Israeli Attack On An Iraqi Nuclear Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is bracing for what officials say may be an ominous escalation of tensions in the Middle East following Israel's destruction of an Iraqi nuclear reactor with American-made jet fighters.

Administration officials and congressional leaders condemned the attack and voiced fears Monday that it might generate anti-American anger in the Arab world, sabotage ongoing U.S. peace initiatives and even produce a cutoff of American arms sales to Israel.

The State Department said Sunday's raid could accelerate existing tensions in the region. Despite Israeli claims that the French-built reactor posed a "mortal danger" to Israel, available evidence suggests that American-made equipment was used by Israel in "possible violation" of U.S. law, the department said.

U.S. military equipment supplied to foreign countries can be used only for defensive purposes, and the administration is preparing a report for Congress on whether Israel violated that provision.

After a briefing by Deputy Secretary of State William Clark, Sen. Larry Pressler, R-S.D., told reporters that if Israel were in violation of the statute, "there would be a prohibition for a period of time on selling more arms to them."

Earlier, Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, called the Israeli raid "an offensive act, not a defensive act," which "may destroy" the Camp David peace process.

Administration officials said the attack could complicate special envoy Philip Habib's attempts to defuse tensions between Israel and Syria.

Habib left Paris on Monday for the Middle East to resume his peacemaking effort after a 12-day pause. His destination was not announced.

Beyond the Habib mission, officials wondered where the seemingly endless spiraling of tensions in the Middle East would end. By flying 600 miles deep into hostile Arab territory, one official noted, the Israelis added a new military dimension to their decades-long conflict.

The administration adamantly insisted it had no prior knowledge of the Israeli attack. But Pressler, echoing a sentiment heard around the State Department, said the Arab world undoubtedly perceives otherwise.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who also attended the briefing by Clark at the State Department, supported Israel's action: "Israel, a small and very vulnerable nation, felt it had to take action to ensure that it would not be totally vulnerable to attack by a nation which is technically in a state of war with Israel."

He said he had received information before the Sunday attack that Iraq could have had a nuclear weapon before the end of the year.

Another military analyst, speaking privately, disputed Cranston's account. He said it would have taken Iraq at least five years to have the capability for a "loken nuclear explosion."

Israel

aggression."

The United States, the Soviet Union, France, Britain, Italy, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and most other Arab governments denounced the attack. The 21-nation Arab League called an emergency session to discuss "Israel's arrogant challenge."

The U.S. State Department said it had no advance warning of the raid. It said it was investigating whether Israel had violated agreements to use warplanes and other weapons bought from the thefts.

David Zepeda was arrested for the theft of about $200 worth of meat from Taylor and Sons Food Store. A pair of eyeglasses valued at $100 was taken from Green Acres swimming pool. A juvenile was caught in an attempt to steal some speakers from a vehicle in the 300 block of Miller. Mike Albracht, 410 Ave. J reported a bicycle theft. Troy Waddell, 100 Redwood, also reported a bike theft. Police received an unauthorized use of a vehicle report from Roby Lutrick, 407 A. Ross. Also a large Labrador Retriever was stolen from the dog pound.

Police investigated six cases of criminal mischief over the weekend. Randy Williams, 419 Ave. J reported that someone shot out the rear window of his car. Willy Rodriguez, 812 Ave. K reported that someone started a fire on the floor of his car causing about $12 damage. Santiago Valdez, 308 Ninth, reported that someone cut four tires on one of his cars and two tires on another of his cars. Police have a suspect in the case. Also, it was reported that some kids were breaking glass in the swimming pool of Red Carpet Inn and getting keys and going into some of the rooms. Police also have suspects in that case.

Joe T. Garcia 811 N. Miles told police that sometime Sunday someone threw eggs at his car. Jim Clarich, 210 Beach, reported that someone broke four windows in his house by throwing rocks through them.

A disorderly conduct report was made from the Allsup's on E. Park. A man came into the store and shouted obscenities at the clerk.

Police arrested a juvenile on a minor in possession of alcohol charge. The boy had a case of beer in the front seat of his car. Police answered six minor incident calls, issued 52 traffic citations, answered five non-offense calls and investigated two minor accidents over the weekend.

United States for defensive purposes only. But observers in Washington said a retaliatory cutoff in U.S. arms sales to Israel was unlikely.

Begin said he had sent a written explanation of the attack to President Reagan.

French Premier Pierre Mauroy said there was no danger the reactor would produce bombs because Iraq signed the nuclear non-proliferation treaty and let experts of the International Atomic Energy Agency inspect the facility recently.

State Department spokesman Dean Fischer said the United States "had no evidence that Iraq has violated its commitments under the treaty."

Shimon Peres, the leader of the opposition Labor Party, declined to comment. Begin said Peres had been informed of plans for the attack months ago and wrote him three weeks ago that he considered it "undesirable."

Many other political leaders complained because they had not been consulted. There were oblique suggestions from some that Begin ordered the attack with one eye on the June 30 election.

A random sampling of public opinion found Israelis elated, confused and worried, but generally in favor of the action.

"It's great, just great," said a 30-year-old economist who didn't want his name used.

Batia Hendelsman, a 28-year-old social worker, said: "We can't allow nuclear weapons in the area, and perhaps we've scared the Syrians a bit, shown them what we can do when we set our minds to it."

Senior government officials said the raid also was designed to signal Israel's fighting mood to Syria, which is rejecting Israel's demand that it withdraw the anti-aircraft missiles it moved into east central Lebanon recently.

sion and much understanding" between the two nations.

The two leaders were returning to the White House today for more talks and a formal luncheon. Any agreements they make will be announced afterward.

Leaving their wives at home, Reagan and Lopez Portillo arrived here Monday morning with an entourage that filled five helicopters.

Wearing dark blue jackets bearing the presidential seal and the flags of the United States and Mexico, the two leaders and 12 aides ate lunch on a terrace outside Reagan's lodge overlooking a meadow and discussed his plan to spur economic development in the Caribbean basin. An interpreter sat between them.

A senior U.S. official, briefing reporters on the condition that he not be identified, glossed over the discussion of the two leaders' divergent policies toward the turmoil in Central America.

The U.S. official said the subject was broached, but "each side just described its own view of the situation as opposed to coming to any agreement or any more than a declaration of each side's point of view."

While the Reagan administration has provided military aid and advisers to the civilian-military junta in El Salvador to counter what it says is Cuban-led aggression, Mexico opposes that aid and has called for a political solution.

Trade and energy questions also were on Monday's agenda, as was the issue of Mexicans who reside illegally in the United States. However, no details were provided of the discussions on those topics.

was planted this year, and wheat has been used as a clean up crop after corn.

Prices for wheat are down now compared to the $4 per bushel when planting began last year. "We need some better markets for wheat if farmers are going to borrow money at 20 percent," said Fuston.

Fuston said his office has appraised 61,027.1 acres of wheat this spring and these acres are now either plowed up or grazed out. Ninety-eight percent of the acres appraised were dryland wheat and about 90,000 acres of dryland wheat are left in the county to be harvested.

"Very little of the irrigated wheat had trouble this year," said Fuston, "but 1981 still promises only to be an average wheat year for the county."

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service forecasts Texas Wheat Production to be up 38 percent from 1980.

'Volunteers Insure 4-H Success'

By LOUISE WALKER
County Extension Agent

Volunteers from all walks of life and all backgrounds contribute their valuable time to the 4-H and youth program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, thus insuring its success.

According to the National Center for Voluntary Action, one out of every four adults volunteered for some type of volunteer service last year, spending an average of 22 mandays a year in volunteer work. More than one-third of the volunteers served at least once a week.

The Texas 4-H and youth program reports that more than 22,000 teen and adult volunteers served as 4-H group leaders last year. Based on the minimum wage, their three hours of volunteered time per week

Mrs. Tim Gearn served coffee. Tables were adorned with crystal vases encircled with apricot carnations.

Special out-of-town guests present were Mrs. G.D. Spillar of Austin, Mrs. Bert Balangee, Ann Claire Balangee and Mrs. Mark Woodall, all of Amarillo.

Hostesses were Mary Waldrep, Helen Kent, Selsey Metz, Ruby Kendrick Sears, Elizabeth McDowell, Jean Holbert, Evelyn Bodkin, Velta King, Meredith Wilcox, Mae McCracken, Mary Thomas, Margaret Formby, Violet Reinauer, Lois Moore and Karen Payne.

amounted to more than $4 million.

How can volunteers be effectively recruited?

The potential volunteer needs to feel that he or she can do the job. Volunteer jobs should be within reach of a person's abilities and knowledge. The volunteer should also feel that no one else could accomplish the job as well, so the task should fit in easily with hobbies, talents or interest.

Sharing the personal satisfaction and benefits that come from rewarding volunteer work will insure the volunteer's continued success and confidence in the job.

As one 4-H volunteer commented, "Volunteer work is like an investment that pays off in lifelong benefits for young people's lives - and for yourself."

Bridal Shower Honors Miss Lea Ann Umstead

Lee Ann Umstead, bride-elect of Bill Fraser, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Eldon Fortenberry.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Alton Fraser, grandmother of the prospective groom, Mrs. William B. Smith, mother of the prospective groom; and Mrs. Lee Umstead, mother of the honoree.

Mrs. David Hill registered the guests and refreshments were served by Mrs. Micki Ward, and Mrs. Kathy Douglas.

Cake squares decorated with pastel colored flowers, punch, nuts, and mints were served.

Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Miss Umstead received a Sunbeam Deluxe Mixer from her hostesses.

Greeting Guests

Miss Cindy Cavness, bride-elect of Howard Andrew Vick of Houston, was feted with a bridal shower Saturday afternoon in the Hereford Country Club Halbert Room. Guests were greeted at the door by (left to right) Mrs. H.A. Cavness, the honoree, and her great-aunt Mrs. G.D. Spillar of Austin. The bride's colors of organdy and apricot were depicted in the decorations.

Ann Landers

No Financial Help

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Barbara has been going with Mel for three years. She comes home after work, gulps her supper down in 20 minutes, rushes out and returns at 11 p.m. or midnight. On Friday or Saturday night she doesn't come home at all. She stays with Mel. He lives with his parents and two brothers. Mel's bedroom is in the cellar and that's where they sleep.

Barbara is 22. She has been working for three years and hasn't saved a penny. She spends her entire salary on herself and her boyfriend. (She phones him every morning to make sure he gets up and goes to work.)

Last year Barbara got into debt $1,400 and I helped get her out. She owes me $800. This girl doesn't contribute a penny to the household. Thank God, I don't need it. My wife does all her laundry and cleans her room. Now Barbara wants a big wedding, and you know how much that would cost. What is your opinion of this whole mess? - Anthony X

DEAR ANTHONY: Same song. Second verse. Spoiled girl. Used to getting ... doesn't know how to give. Wants to do as she pleases and doesn't care what anybody thinks. (Sleeping in the basement with her boyfriend yet! Where's her dignity?)

You aren't going to change her, but you should insist that she repay the $800 - which will go toward her wedding - if you feel like giving her one. And make it clear, NO FINANCIAL HELP after she marries - or you'll wind up supporting her and Mel forever.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 70 years young and have been reading your column ever since you started to write. You are usually on the beam, but you sure did goof on that answer to the young medical student whose folks refuse to see him until he shaves off his beard.

Some men look very distinguished with a beard. Others look like drunken monkeys. They frighten people. High-class people can spot this immediately.

The parents of this lad are undoubtedly folks of high caliber. Their son is, not. Somewhere it skipped his generation. If his folks are so much against it, he must look pretty terrible. I don't see where human rights has a darned thing to do with it. His folks probably put him through medical school and he should be willing to go out of his way to please them.

I'm on their side, and you should be, too. Tell him to shave. - Clean-Cut Establishment Reader

DEAR READER: I didn't see a picture, so I have no idea how the lad looks - and I really don't care. He is old enough to decide whether or not he wants to wear a beard, and the decision should be his.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It burns me up when people write in and criticize your advice. Folks who write in and ask for your help value your judgment and have faith in you. The others don't need to read the column.

Get annoyed when those jerks from South Bend or Yonkers or St. Cloud chew you out for something you said just because they don't happen to agree with you. Why don't you tell them to shove it, instead of being so polite? - Lakeland, Fla., Follower

DEAR LAKELAND: I appreciate your support, but sometimes those folks from South Bend, Yonkers and St. Cloud are right. I learn from them and hope they never stop writing. But thanks for looking out for me, pal.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious - lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Methodist Conference Appoints New Pastor for First Church

The First United Methodist Church of Hereford will receive a new pastor this week. The Rev. Jarrell H. Sharp will conduct regular services Sunday. He succeeds Rev. William McReynolds, who will pastor St. Mark's UMC in Midland.

Their appointments were announced last week in the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of United Methodist Churches held in Lubbock.

Rev. Sharp comes to Hereford after serving as superintendent of the Seymour district.

The United Methodist Women will host a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Sharp Sunday in the church fellowship hall.

Also to be honored at the reception will be Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bostic who moved here last month from Madison, West Virginia to serve as minister of music and youth.

Ministerial appointments at the conference in Lubbock also included a new district superintendent for the Amarillo district, Ira E. Williams Jr.

Rev. Wallace Kirby was named to continue as chaplain of King's Manor Retirement Center here.

Rev. Jesse Hodge was returned as pastor of Wesley UMC of Hereford.

Also returned were J.V. Patterson as Ceta Canyon Camp director, and George Yates as director of the Wesley Foundation at West Texas State University.

In nearby cities, appointees were: D.C. Read at Adrian,

Rev. Scott Andress, former associate pastor at First UMC here, will be pastor at Kress. Rev. Norman Cobb, another ex-associate in Hereford, received an appointment as a student at the University of California at Berkeley.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

We were visiting with a couple the other night when the woman revealed that she and her husband were going to Europe for the first time.

"What luck," said my husband. "We've already been there and I'm sure we could enlighten you on what to see and what to miss. Erma even kept a diary. Why don't you get it out?" he said. "Even I've never seen what she's written in it and it might be nice to relive some of the places we've been and the things we've seen."

"Did you visit London?" asked our guest.

I thumbed through the pages. "London? The loo ... that's what they call their restrooms ... are generally clean. Rather primitive chain-like apparatus to flush. Take own tissue."

"That's it?" asked my husband. "What about Germany?"

"Let's see. Germany. I have three listings. The women's restroom facilities by the Rhine were adequate although the roller towel was quite soiled and looked like it hadn't been changed in days. The one in the department store in West Berlin, however..."

"Why don't you read us what you have about the Eiffel Tower ... I mean tower."

"The Eiffel Tower restroom had soap and tissue, but the lines could throw you into kidney failure. Oh, and don't forget Amsterdam. That's an experience. This is important. Don't forget to take Dutch currency ... and the exact change."

"Any country I shouldn't miss?" asked the woman, jotting down notes.

"Switzerland," I said, referring to my diary. "The mirrors were sparkling, there was no water standing on the floor, and the locks were secure on the doors."

The woman leaned in to whisper, "Is it true what they say about ITALY?"

I flipped over a few pages and gave it to her to read. "Every word is true. Read on until you get to the part about the woman who kept looking for the flush mechanism."

"I don't believe this," said my husband. "Do you mean to tell me you spent four weeks going through Europe seeing breathtaking cathedrals, exciting countryside, historic landmarks, and you don't have one word about the Louvre or the Sistine chapel?"

"Of course I have notes on the Louvre and the Sistine chapel. There was no paper in the Louvre and the Sistine chapel had a dirty Italian word on the inside of the booth. What do you think I am? A spoiled American tourist?"

Military Health Care Checked by the DEERS

REESE AIR FORCE BASE, Texas — DEERS is not a new word meaning more than one deer. It is a new acronym that has entered the military language. DEERS (the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System) is a computerized system which will check the eligibility of persons seeking health care from all military medical facilities and reimbursement from CHAMPUS (Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services).

Beginning June 17, an intensive three month enrollment period will start at Reese Air Force Base for the South Plains area. Active duty military personnel and retirees entitled to retirement pay are automatically enrolled. However, it is their responsibility to enroll their dependents. Retirees and known survivors of deceased military personnel will receive letters from the Department of Defense explaining how to enroll.

At the time of enrollment, proof of relationship to the sponsor will be required. This includes legal documents such as marriage licenses, birth certificates, adoption papers, etc.

In the early stages of DEERS, no one will be refused health care as a result of their eligibility not being confirmed by DEERS. However, if a person later proves to be ineligible for military health care, administrative and/or legal action may be taken to require payment for medical services rendered.

Once enrolled on the computer data base, checking eligibility will normally take no more time than that currently required for credit card checks.

DEERS first went into operation in southeastern Virginia and northeastern North Carolina early in 1980. In time, the system will be expanded worldwide and will provide eligibility confirmation for nine to twelve million people.

Under DEERS, eligibility checks for military health care will make it less likely for ineligible people to receive these benefits. As a result, DEERS will help eliminate fraud, save tax dollars and improve the health care system through better management.

Persons desiring more information on DEERS should contact the Customer Service Unit of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office at Reese. That number is 885-3276.

Federal Reserve System Electronically Robbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Brazilians, apparently using sophisticated wire codes to tap into the Federal Reserve System, are alleged to have stolen $1.55 million in what is believed to be the first electronic heist from a money-market mutual fund.

Although there have been cases of clever thieves using electronics to steal even larger amounts from banks, the reported theft from the First Variable Rate Fund for Government Income Inc. of Washington provides evidence that other financial institutions are vulnerable to such brawls.

Donn B. Parker, a consultant on computer crime, said Monday that workers in positions of trust are finding themselves in a new electronic environment lacking audit controls equal to the sophistication of the equipment.

"We are talking about very rapid movement — without audit — of large amounts of money," said Parker, whose California-based SRI Inc. is now doing research work for the Justice Department.

"To be great is to be misunderstood." Emerson

The Newspaper BIBLE

DOES CHEATING EVER PAY?

Jesus now told this story to His disciples: "A rich man hired an accountant to handle his affairs, but soon a rumor went around that the accountant was thoroughly dishonest. So his employer called him in and said, 'What's this I hear about your stealing from me? Get your report in order, for you are to be dismissed.'"

"The accountant thought to himself, 'Now what? I'm through here, and I haven't the strength to go out and dig ditches, and I'm too proud to beg. I know just the thing! And then I'll have plenty of friends to take care of me when I leave!'"

"So he invited each one who owed money to his employer to come and discuss the situation. He asked the first one, 'How much do you owe him?' 'My debt is 850 gallons of olive oil,' the man replied. 'Yes, here is the contract you signed,' the accountant told him. 'Tear it up and write another one for half that much!'"

"And how much do you owe him?" he asked the next man. "A thousand bushels of wheat," was the reply. "Here," the accountant said, "take your note and replace it with one for only 800 bushels!"

"The rich man had to admire the rascal for being so shrewd. And it is true that the citizens of this world are more clever (in dishonesty) than the godly are."

"But shall I tell you to act that way, to buy friendship through cheating? Will this ensure your entry into an everlasting home in heaven?"

"NO! For unless you are honest in small matters, you won't be in large ones. If you cheat even a little, you won't be honest with greater responsibilities."

Military Muster

Marine Sgt. Armando Tijerina, son of Carlos Tijerina of 321 Norton St., Hereford, Texas, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

The Good Conduct Medal signifies faithful and obedient service during a three-year period. To earn it, enlisted Marines must achieve and maintain an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

Tijerina is currently serving at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

Marine Lance Cpl. Murray K. Hazlett, son of Kenneth G. and Shirley E. Hazlett of 113 Aspen, Hereford, Texas, has deployed to Iwakuni, Japan. He is a member of Marine All-Weather Attack Squadron 121, based at the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif.

During the six-month deployment as part of the Marine Corps' unit rotation program, his squadron will be participating in training exercises with the U.S. 7th Fleet and units from allied nations.

The squadron flies the A-6E "Intruder" jet attack bomber, an all-weather fighter capable of air intercept as well as tactical bombing to provide close air support for ground troops.

Genius Fugitive Finally Captured

NEW YORK (AP) — A genius fugitive who frustrated authorities with masterful disguises and taunting notes for 18 months — winning a spot on the FBI's most-wanted list — has been captured after a shootout in the lobby of a seedy Manhattan hotel.

Ronald Williams, 38, was shot Monday by one of seven FBI agents who had stalked out the Hotel George Washington. He was reported in fair condition at Bellevue Hospital with wounds to the head, chest and arm.

Officials who have been chasing Williams called his capture "a wonderful thing."

Williams was serving a life term in the West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville for killing a police officer when he escaped in November 1979.

He also is wanted in Arizona for a murder last March and has been linked to crimes in Colorado and Pennsylvania, authorities say.

FBI Agent John Dalseg, who headed the stake-out team, said agents "had information" that Williams was going to be in the area. An FBI agent was posing as the desk clerk when Williams walked into the hotel shortly after noon.

Dalseg said Williams chatted with the "clerk" but became suspicious and pulled out a .38-caliber pistol.

Dalseg said the agent moved from behind the desk and pulled out his gun, shouting: "FBI! Drop the weapon!"

"Drop dead! Drop yours!" Williams reportedly replied as he pulled the trigger of his gun. But Williams' gun misfired, and another agent shot Williams, Dalseg said.

Dalseg said a 9mm handgun was found in a paper bag Williams was carrying.

Williams, who has spent half his life in prisons but has managed to escape from them at least five times, had a long record of arrests for armed robbery, kidnapping and arson when he was convicted of the 1975 murder of Police Sgt. David Lilly in Beckley, W.Va.

Texas Women Western Artist Slate Art Exhibition Here

Texas Women Western Artists just completed a very successful and highly praised art exhibition in the capital dome rotunda, May 21-23.

The response to the Austin show has brought offers for other shows including one in Hereford Aug. 21-23 at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Twenty-four artist participated in the art exhibition. Eighty-four paintings along with sculpture and stained glass made up the exhibition whose major theme was "Texas-Today and Yesterday" as seen through the eyes of women artists.

The idea for the art exhibition was presented to T.W.W.A. by Texas Senator Betty Andujar last October after the art organization wrote to several public officials for their help and suggestions for the fledgling art group.

The three day exhibition were overwhelmed by the enthusiastic response by those viewing the works of art. Many were heard to say (including the chief of security) that this was the best art exhibition they had ever seen at the dome rotunda.

Senator Andujar was also very impressed with the art show. During the exhibition, T.W.W.A. to show their appreciation presented Senator Andujar with an original watercolor by Becky Anthony. Sen. Andujar's staff were also presented with signed prints by Shirley Osborne.

T.W.W.A.'s next art show will be in Axle on the fourth of July, and also one in Washington, D.C.

T.W.W.A. is now launching a campaign to have memberships from every part of the state. Right now most of its 45 members are from north central Texas. Any woman artist interested in applying for memberships to T.W.W.A. can write for information at the following address: T.W.W.A. Box 112, Cresson, Texas 76035.

Eight Stores Burned In Brooklyn Grocery War

NEW YORK (AP) — When a "grocery war" in Brooklyn got tough, and triple-coupon days and ground beef specials no longer brought in the customers, some of the stores started going up in flames.

It was, said Brooklyn District Attorney Eugene Gold, the "boldest and most unique arson-for-profit scheme yet uncovered."

Ten supermarket owners, all Latin Americans, were indicted last week on charges they hired arsonists to torch the stores of eight competitors in 1980. Two men were accused of actually starting a grocery store blaze.

Gold said the store owners and their associates are connected with as many as 150 grocery stores in Brooklyn, Manhattan, Queens and The Bronx.

"It's basically an anti-trust case — they were trying to get rid of their competition," said Rhonda Nager, a spokeswoman for Gold.

Supermarket arson is not uncommon in the inner cities of America, but law enforcement officials say it usually involves a store owner in financial straits who burns his own store, as depicted in a recent film by the National Fire Prevention Association.

No specific statistics on such fires are available, but there is evidence that it is not a rare occurrence. Prior to last week's indictments, some insurance companies had held up payments to owners of the Brooklyn stores that were torched, believing it may have been the work of the owners themselves.

"When someone does do that, he's usually in dire straits," said Jack Cergol, a spokesman for the Food Marketing Institute, an industry group. "Traditionally, the ones that go under are the ones that are not providing a service to the community."

In the Brooklyn case, the supermarket owners were accused of paying the arsonists between $150 and $400 per man, per fire, plus bonuses and spending money between jobs.

In addition, expenses were paid — usually $60 for axes and gasoline — as was the cost of lookouts hired to stand guard as the arsonists hammered holes in the roofs and set the fires, authorities alleged.

Nine of the owners are Dominicans and the other is a Colombian. That ethnic tie apparently played a major part in the conspiracy.

"They're a very close-knit group, like a lot of groups that come to this country," Ms. Nager said. "They were in constant touch, constantly talking. They didn't have to meet."

Sy Lewenthal, executive general manager of Pioneer Supermarkets, said, "The industry itself is ultra-competitive, but I never thought I'd see anything like this." Two Pioneer stores were hit by fires that caused $5.9 million in damages. One still has not reopened.

Arnold Katz, owner of Speedway Met Supermarket, said he, too, found it hard to believe. But he said he "rather suspected" that a competitor was behind the string of fires.

Katz explained that there are three supermarkets in his neighborhood, including his own, a Key Food Supermarket and an Elite Supermarket.

The Key Food mart was torched on May 23. The fire caused $3 million in damages and the store still has not reopened. Then, after an attempted arson attempt on June 24, Katz' store was gutted by a $490,000 fire on Aug. 7.

True to its name, the Elite Supermarket alone was unscathed. It is one of the markets owned by the men charged with the conspiracy, according to Ms. Nager.

Katz' market, like most of the others that were torched, is in a poor neighborhood that is growing poorer, with public housing nearby.

"The area really can't support more than a couple of markets," said Katz, "and there were three. They just decided to burn down the others."

Half of the supermarkets that were burned have not opened their doors since. Pioneer's Lewenthal said many have been waiting for their insurance companies to pay off.

"I think that it's been a shame that insurance companies have held back payments," he said. "These are people who work seven days a week, 18 hours a day, and they don't deserve this. Maybe now, with the indictments, we'll get some action."

But Lewenthal pointed out that in the year since the fires hit, inflation has frittered away insurance benefits, and some owners may not be able to rebuild.

Stores that have reopened report business as usual. Dan's Supreme Supermarket sustained $1.2 million damage in three fires on April 27, June 25 and July 24. It re-opened after four months.

"The people — the customers — are pleased," said Paul Julme, assistant manager of Dan's Supreme. "They're glad to have their store."

The fires, Julme said, were something of a compliment. "We must be doing something right."

Katz also says he won't be driven out of the neighborhood by a fear of arson.

"We've been here for 33 years, and we're not going to stop now," he said.

Equal Wage Decision Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women's groups are applauding a Supreme Court decision that gives female workers a new right to seek wages equal to those of their male counterparts, but legal experts say many key questions remain open.

The high court, on a 5-4 vote, ruled Monday that women can use the sweeping provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to file wage-discrimination lawsuits without proving that they perform the same jobs as men who get paid more.

The decision is an enormous victory for those fighting to end sex discrimination in employment," said Judith Lichtman, executive director of the Women's Legal Defense Fund.

The justices ruled that women who claim wage discrimination are not bound by a federal law requiring equal pay only for equal work.

In essence, the justices made it illegal for women to be paid less simply because they work in jobs held primarily by females. But certain limitations still remain.

"It raises many, many more questions than it answers," said Lawrence Z. Lorber, a Washington lawyer who handles employment cases.

Among those questions are the amount of evidence needed to prove illegal discrimination and the notion of "comparable worth."

The comparable worth doctrine, which the court noted it was not deciding, says that because of the worth or difficulty of certain jobs, women should be paid equally to men even though their work may be totally dissimilar.

"They (the justices) meant it to be an extremely limited decision. I think lower courts will take this decision and expand on it," Lorber continued.

"There's going to have to be a lot of interpretation done," said one lawyer who represents employers in employment cases.

The lawyer, who asked that his name not be used, noted that the high court did not set any specific standards to guide the whole new class of claims that are expected to reach the courts.

In other action Monday, the Supreme Court

Refused a request to review immediately a challenge to the agreement that led to the release of the American hostages from Iran.

The agreement, worked out by former President Carter, led to the release of the 52 Americans last January.

In Hereford Golf Partnership Tourney

Lubbock Duo Beats Kitchens Brothers

Kim Coulter and John Burnett of Lubbock edged former Hereford athletes Keith and Kelly Kitchens in a six-hole playoff to capture the championship of the Hereford Partnership Golf Tournament here Sunday afternoon.

The two teams had tied at 131, 11-under par on the regulation 36 holes. Burnett sank a 20-foot birdie putt on No. 6 to give the Lubbock duo the tie.

Kelly Kitchens had birdied Nos. 17 and 18 to gain the tie. Kelly is now a student at Wayland Baptist University and Keith is a coach at Shallowater.

Two teams tied for third in the championship flight with 139 scores. They were James Salinas and Greg Robinson and Darrell Johnson and Mike Steffey. There were 94 teams in the tourney in 10 flights.

Terry Russell and Raymond Schroeter of Hereford won the first flight and a 138 score, and locals Conrad Mullin and Pat Scarborough took the second flight with a 140.

Other flight winners: 3rd—Terry Widdick-Carey Jackson 144; 4th—John and Gary Stagner 151; 5th—Bill and Derek Dirks 146; 6th—Dick Sims and Stan Brock 146; 7th—Robert Strange-Lewis Block 153; 8th—Virgil March-T.D. Moore 162; 9th—Don Cumpton-Mike Purcell 160.

Yankee Rookie Wins; Rangers Top Tigers

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

Neither Roger Erickson nor Dennis Lamp stuck around for the finish. Floyd Bannister did. All three got what they wanted.

Erickson and Lamp pitched masterfully until late in the game and each wound up victorious after relief help Monday night. Bannister didn't bother the bullpen, however, in mowing down the Boston Red Sox on two hits.

Bannister's stellar effort gave the Seattle Mariners a 2-0 triumph over Boston, while Minnesota's Erickson and Doug Corbett combined on a four-hit, 1-0 victory over Milwaukee, and Lamp teamed with Kevin Hickey to throw a six-hit, 6-2 triumph over Toronto.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees bombed Kansas City 8-3; California demolished Cleveland 10-2, and Texas smashed Detroit 8-1.

Mariners 2, Red Sox 0
Bannister surrendered a first-inning single to Dwight Evans and a double to Carney Lansford in the ninth. He struck out seven.

"I'll take a two-hitter anytime," said Bannister, 6-5. "Particularly against a team like Boston and in a park like this."

The Mariners had a pretty good right-handed hitter in their lineup in Gary Gray, who blasted his 13th homer of the season for all the Seattle runs. Prior to Gray's shot, Tom Paciorek had been hit with a pitch by Red Sox starter John Tudor, who threw a four-hitter.

Rangers 8, Tigers 1
Mickey Rivers had three hits, scored twice, knocked in a run and stole a base as Texas moved into first place, one percentage point ahead of idle Oakland, in the AL West. It was the Rangers' fourth straight victory and 14th in 17 games.

The Rangers sent 16 men to the plate in the first two innings, scoring six runs. Al Oliver extended his hitting streak to 15 games with a first-inning single.

Rick Honeycutt, 6-1, scattered five hits before yielding to Jim Kern in the ninth.

Twins 1, Brewers 0
Erickson was aided by pitching coach Johnny Podres as well as by Corbett, who pitched the final 12-3 innings to allow Erickson to break a four-game losing streak.

Erickson did and gave up the Brewers' four hits. But his hurling might have gone for naught if Ron Jackson hadn't singled home Butch Wynegar in the seventh inning with the only run of the game.

White Sox 6, Blue Jays 2
Lamp carried a two-hitter into the ninth inning before giving up four singles and two runs. But he was ahead 6-0 when Toronto came alive. Hickey wrapped it up with his first major league save.

The White Sox built a 4-0 lead in the second. Bill Almon and Greg Luzinski each had two-run singles. Chet Lemon added a homer for the White Sox.

Successful singles by Damaso Garcia, Ernie Whitt, Lloyd Moseby and John Mayberry spoiled his shutout and in came Hickey.

"Bringing in Kevin Hickey was the right move," said Lamp. "He got the last out."

Yankees 8, Royals 3
Unbeaten rookie Dave Righetti won his third game and got offensive support from Lou Piniella, Dave Winfield and Jerry Mumphrey, each with two RBI. Mumphrey connected for his fourth homer as the Yankees won their eighth straight game.

Kansas City's Lee May had two hits, with his sixth-inning single giving him 2,000 hits for his career, making him the 10th active player to reach that number.

Angels 10, Indians 2
Butch Hobson drove in four runs, three with a bases-loaded double in the second, and Geoff Zahn turned in his sixth complete game, a five-hitter. The Angels put the game away with a six-run eighth.

Dan Ford and Brian Downing homered for the Angels.

The Astros came back with two in the fifth. Cesar Cedeno driving in both with a two-out single off winner Dick Ruthven (8-3). Ruthven pitched six innings and relievers Mike Proly, Sparky Lyle and Tug McGraw finished the job. McGraw earned his sixth save.

Hayes Returns to Houston In Rocket-Bullet Trade

BALTIMORE (AP) — Elvin Hayes is going back to Houston to play basketball in a city he loves, a place where he skyrocketed to stardom almost two decades ago.

Hayes, a forward with the Washington Bullets since 1972, was traded Monday at his own request to the Houston Rockets. In return, the Bullets received the Rockets' second round pick in today's National Basketball Association draft and a second round pick in 1983.

"It's a move that will work itself out for both teams," said Hayes in a telephone interview from his Columbia, Md., home. "It's a tremendous move for the Bullets. They are rebuilding...and need the draft choices."

"The Rockets got to the finals last year, and they just need one player to get over the threshold," he added. "I don't see why I can't be that player...I was for the Bullets."

Indeed he was. Joining forces with Bobby Dandridge and Wes Unseld, Hayes led the Bullets to the 1978 championship and to the finals in 1979. The Bullets made it to the finals three times with Hayes.

"That was the greatest moment for me," said Hayes of the championship year. "The team unity, the way everything fell into place for us. The door was opened, and we walked through."

Hayes, 35, is the sixth all-time leading scorer in the NBA with a career total of 24,547 points. He is third in career rebounds with 14,656.

The 13-year NBA veteran, who began his career with San Diego and spent one season in Houston when the franchise moved to Texas, averaged 17.8 points a game last season — the worst average of his career.

Last season had several other low notes for Hayes. It was the first time the Bullets

Arizona State Wins College Title

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) —

Arizona State's tournament tradition and big bats carried the No. 1 Sun Devils into the NCAA College World Series baseball championship game but the left arm of reliever Kevin Dukes reached out to grab the trophy.

Dukes picked up his second tournament victory in holding hot-hitting Oklahoma State to just two hits through 8 2/3 innings as ASU captured its fifth collegiate baseball title 7-4 Monday night in Rosenblatt Stadium.

A crowd of 13,239 saw Dukes end OSU's first-inning rally, yield a run without giving up a hit in the third and another single run in the ninth on a double by Glenn Edwards. He also picked two runners off first base.

"Arizona State is an excellent team with Dukes," said Oklahoma State Coach Gary Ward, whose team chased ASU starter Kendall Carter after facing just the first four batters in the two-run first inning.

"We created some early momentum but Dukes took it away. He has major league stuff with great placement of his pitches," said Ward.

The third-ranked Cowboys had touched Dukes for the only hits he has given up in his four tournament appearances. OSU knocked the senior standout out of the game in Friday night's winners bracket final with four singles in one inning.

"They didn't hit him hard then," said Arizona State Coach Jim Brock. "He was tired. He'd gone 6 1/3 innings earlier but I had no doubt he'd do the job tonight."

While Dukes was handcuffing the Cowboys, Arizona State was chipping away at a parade of OSU pitchers. Mike Sodders hit a sacrifice fly and a wild pitch scored two runs in the first to match Oklahoma State at 2-2.

The 55-13 Sun Devils then added two more in the third to go ahead for the first time in the game. Stan Holmes doubled home one run to improve his CWS record RBI total to 17. Holmes then scored on a Mike McCain double.

The Cowboys tried to put a stop to ASU's scoring by bringing in first-round major league draft pick Darren Dilks in the sixth. Dilks struck out three in two scoreless innings but was forced out of the game on a ruling question when Ward pinch hit for him in the top of the eighth.

"By getting Dilks out of there, it accomplished two things," said Brock. "It gave us a little more time for Dukes to rest up and I think it gave us another run."

The Devils picked up an insurance run in the eighth when Kevin Romine singled, went to second on a grounder, stole third and scored on a throwing error.

The victory was the fifth title for Arizona State but the second for Brock.

Oral Roberts Hurler Is No. 1 Baseball Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's amateur free agents, currently the only compensation when teams sign those big-name, major league free agents like Dave Winfield, had their day in the sun — and the draft's No. 1 pick, Mike Moore, received the most exposure.

Moore, a big, hard-throwing right-handed pitcher from Oral Roberts University, Tuesday was chosen and signed by the Seattle Mariners, who immediately shipped him to their AA farm team in Lynn, Mass.

The fact that the future for these draft picks always is uncertain, even for the top selections, is one reason baseball's owners are adamant that amateur draft choices are not adequate compensation for teams losing major league free agents. This is the issue that has baseball on the precipice of a strike.

Hal Keller, the Mariners' director of player development, wouldn't forecast a major league timetable for the 21-year-old Moore but said: "He's going to be a fine pitcher for a long, long time."

Moore, a junior with a three-year record of 28-11 and a 2.64 earned run average, sounds like he's in a hurry to scrap the minor league buses for the major league jets.

He handled his own negotiations and wrapped them up quickly. "I felt I could come to terms on my own," Moore said. "I didn't want to hassle it and miss part of the season."

Moore, from Eakly, Okla., said this day was a goal ever since he first played Little League baseball at the age of

7. "Like all kids, it's been a lifelong dream," Moore said. "I kept pursuing the career, and now it has come true."

Moore's pitching coach at the Tulsa, Okla., school was former major league pitcher Jim Brewer, who said he expects his protegee to reach the big time in two years. But he warns there will be potholes on the road to stardom in the major leagues.

"He's had problems changing speeds in college because he didn't have to change speeds," Brewer said. "I've seen a lot of pitchers in the last 25 years and I think Mike Moore is probably one of the strongest."

Moore's fastball has been clocked at 97 miles per hour. "I've seen him throw 150 pitches in a game and still be better at the end than the beginning," Brewer said. "His biggest problem is at the beginning of the game. He's mentally and physically aggressive and he hasn't got the control."

"When he's a little worn down, he gets a little more control but continues to throw at the same speed."

In the father-and-son category of Monday's draft was Dick Schofield, a high school shortstop from Springfield, Ill., who was picked by the California Angels. His father, Ducky, was a utility infielder, filling holes for 19 years in the majors. He retired in 1971 with a .227 lifetime batting average.

Also following in his father's footsteps was Steven Ellsworth, a right-handed pitcher from California State-Northridge, who was taken by Boston. Dick Ellsworth used to pitch for the Chicago Cubs.

The draft continued today, but the commissioner's office will not make public the names of the selected players.

Grand Canyon Wins NAL World Series

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) —

Dave Morris ripped a solo home run and Grand Canyon College collected 16 hits Monday to win its second straight NAL World Series title with an easy 11-4 victory over Winthrop.

The Antelopes, who finished the year with a 56-20 mark, have won 12 straight series outings over a two-year period, two short of the 25-year-old tournament record.

Winthrop, 44-12, opened the scoring in the bottom of the first and took a 1-0 lead, but Morris' homer in the top of the second tied the game and a fielding error gave the Arizona team a 2-1 lead.

Pete Bethea, the tournament's most valuable player, doubled a run home in the Antelope's three-run third inning as Grand Canyon began putting the game away.

Grand Canyon placed Bethea, Mike Villegas, Rick Strommer, Jeff Hubert, Dave Morris and Rick Paulitz to the all-tournament team.

Winthrop players on the all-star squad included Dan Poole, Mike Elliott and Golden Glove Winner Brian Brangi.

Rose Nears Hit Mark As Phils Edge Astros

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
AP Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Larry Bowa collected three hits and drove in three runs as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Houston Astros 4-3, but the spotlight was on Pete Rose who moved a hit closer to breaking Stan Musial's all-time National League hit record of 3,630.

The fans appreciated Bowa's contribution in the Phillies' third straight triumph Monday night, but the cheers resounded when Rose came to the plate in the only NL game of the night.

Rose picked up a single in the third inning, his only hit in three at-bats. It left him four short of passing Musial's career record.

Musial, incidentally, was in town, but won't start coming to the ball park to see Rose's record-smashing hit until tonight. He'll stick around until it happens so he can congratulate Rose.

Rose continues to low key the fast approaching milestone.

"Anytime you are about to accomplish what I'm about to do it's fun," the Phillies first baseman said.

Rose said he told Houston pitcher Don Sutton (4-7) it was a pretty good pitch, and Sutton replied, "Yeh, they pay you to hit pretty good pitches."

Rose said he was trying not to get carried away by the emotion of the situation, adding, "I don't want to forget what I'm out there for — to win."

Bowa said he was lucky to get his hits and knock in the key runs, and noted that he had to remind fans that he had a pretty good final half of the 1980 season, a good playoff and World Series.

The Phillies' shortstop thinks the fans recall only that he had a poor first half last year.

The Phillies took a 2-0 lead in the second inning on a single by Dick Davis. Garry Maddox' double, and Bowa's two-run single.

In the fourth, Jose Cruz hit his 10th home run of the season to make it 2-1. The Phillies came back in the bottom of the inning for two more runs and a 4-1 lead.

Davis singled, reached second when Maddox was safe on an error, and scored on a Bowa single. Maddox, who had moved to third, scored on Bob Boone's sacrifice fly.
