What do Snyder and Plainview have in common? Not much last week, but a lot this week. Two committees which determine the composition of districts in two areas of considerable interest have placed Snyder and Plainview in the same districts beginning in 1972.

Last Friday the Legislative Redistricting Board put Scurry County and Hale County (Plainview) into State Senate District No. 30. Monday it was announced that the University Interscholastic League had put Snyder in District 4-AAAA for UIL competition. That district also includes Plainview.

The State Senate District No. 30 will stretch all the way from Big Spring to Wichita Falls and all the way from Callahan County (Baird) to Plainview (but skipping over Taylor County—Abilene).

The UIL District No. 4-4A, in which Snyder High School must compete beginning next year, stretches all the way from Snyder to Hereford.

There had been considerable speculation about the possible alignment if Snyder should be elevated from class AAA to Class AAAA, but most of it had assumed that in such an event Snyder would go into District 5-4A, with Abilene, San Angelo, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa Schools.

From the standpoint of competition, Snyder could very well be in a better position to make its presence known in District 4-4A than in 5-4A. This year, for example, Lubbock Estacado, which has been ruling District 3-3A since it became a member, already holds football victories over Lubbock Coronado and Plainview, both members of 4-4A, the latter being the the district leader at this time.

"That's the kind of thing that must happen to you if you are going to win the big ones," said Frank Broyles, head coach of the Arkansas Razorbacks.

Broyles made the comment as he watched a film showing Arkansas Quarterback Joe Ferguson fall on a fumbled football that had bounced forward about a yard – enough to give Arkansas a key first down in a drive against the Texas Longhorns. WACIL McNAIR.

Congress Sent Legislation For Post-Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress today legislation for the post-freeze anti-inflation efforts, calling for civil as well as criminal penalties, authority to control interest and dividends if needed and setting up a temporary emergency court of appeals to handle wage-price cases.

The President asked for a one-year extension to April 30, 1973 of the Economic Stabilization Act, which provides the power to act to regulate inflationary forces.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Charles Walker said the one-year time limit in no way indicates the length of time that the price-wage controls will remain in effect.

He said the controls will remain for as long as "it takes to break the back of inflationary expectations and to make meaningful progress to bring down the cost of living."

The proposed legislation calls for the same $5,000 criminal fines now contained in the law and adds a civil penalty of $2,500 for violations, adding what officials said were more teeth to enforce the effort.

The measure Nixon sent to the Capitol actually involved a "substantial rewriting" of the 1970 Economic Stabilization Act to clarify the presidential authority as well as to add the standby controls over interest and dividends at "levels consonant with orderly economic growth."

It also provides the power to regulate certain sectors of the economy where there are severest economic pressures.

Walker said it was not contemplated that the interest-dividend curbs will have to be used. He said "by severely puncturing inflationary expectations" the anti-inflationary efforts "will cause interest rates to decline." He said there already had been a "dramatic decline" in these rates.

Meanwhile a new government report showed the nation's economy entering the last months of 1971 still suffering with substantial slack.

Tyler State College Regents Named

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has appointed nine regents for the newly created Tyler State College.

Appointed to two-year terms were Jack Morgan of Kaufman, Neal Velvin of Athens and Robert Schleier of Kilgore.

Appointed to four-year terms were B. H. McVicker of Lufkin; Dean Turner of Henderson and David McKie of Tyler.

Jeff Austin Jr. of Jacksonville, C. Quentin Abernathy of Gladewater and Harold McKenzie of Tyler were chosen for six-year terms.

Arms Found On Liner

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Customs officials found guns and ammunition in trunks landed today from the liner Queen Elizabeth 2 after a voyage from New York. They said the weapons possibly were destined for the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland.

Submachine guns and hand grenades were found at Cobh Harbor in County Cork, on the south coast of the Irish Republic, after customs agents were tipped off.

The trunks were believed to have been consigned to a man who accompanied them from New York, customs officials reported.

Irish army experts and local police raced to the customs shed where the arms were discovered and an armed guard was thrown around the building.

Hearings Open On Health System

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's Administration urged Congress today to approve its plan for a national system of government-regulated and aided private health insurance.

Rival plans, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson told the House Ways and Means Committee, are either inadequate or hopelessly costly in money and manpower.

Aiming at enactment of some form of general health coverage by next year, the comittee opened hearings on the whole range of proposals.

The Nixon plan is in two parts.

All private employers would be required to offer comprehensive basic health insurance coverage, tailored to federal standards, to employes and their dependents.

The employe would pay 35 per cent of the premium for the first two and a half years, after that 25 per cent.

The government would help pay for similar coverage for poor families not included in the employer-employe plan. Those deemed able to do so would contribute part of the cost.

An estimated 3 million families, about 15 million persons, would be included.

In addition there would be an array of regulations intended to prevent unreasonable charges and reduce inefficiency on the part of insurance carriers and providers of health services.

One of the principal rivals to the Nixon plan is a labor-backed proposal for a fully federal system of general medical coverage, tax-supported.

Richardson said this would cost nearly $60 billion annually in new taxes and, "is simply infeasible."

He also found fault with other plans, including those backed by the American Medical Association and the Health Insurance Association of America, relying on tax credits or penalties to help finanee medical care.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., opened the hearings with a remark that Americans are "increasingly resentful of trying to find the way through a maze of referring practitioners to find services for which a higher and higher part of the family budget must be used, and this without confidence that the care finally obtained is appropriate or of high quality."

Rains Flood Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains set parts of Texas awash today, causing death, home evacuations, traffic tieups and widespread flooding.

At Paris, where an estimated 8.5 inches fell in a little over 24 hours, flooding was the worst in memory.

The rain which already had soaked a broad area from North Central to South Central Texas hung on through the night and morning.

The wet weather was blamed for at least three deaths.

Three residences were evacuated at Cleburne, about 25 miles south of Fort Worth, the Johnson County Sheriff's Department reported. Both of Cleburne's creeks—East and West Buffalo—were out of their banks and more residential evacuations seemed possible.

At Paris, four lives were saved in flooding incidents this morning. Rudolph Baird, his wife and 6-year-old son, riding in a pickup, were swept off FM 137 about 13 miles from Paris where a creek flowed over the road. When a passerby found them, they were standing on top of the pickup and were knee-deep in water even then. Members of the volunteer fire department of Roxton, where the Bairds live, rescued them.

Cliff Bowles of Paris was swept off FM 1510 five miles west of Paris about dawn but was able to reach solid ground without help.

One home in the $30,000 class at Paris was evacuated when a foot and a half of water rose into it.

Dallas reported numerous streets were flooded for a time and there were several rescues in the White Rock Creek area. One or two homes underwent flooding.

Fresh warnings against possible flash floods stayed up for hours in some sections while parts of South Texas still reeled from even more severe flooding during the weekend.

Most of the rainfall drenched a corridor extending 50 miles each side of a weakening cool front, which early today came to a standstill along a line from near Paris in North Texas to Waco and on to Del Rio on the Mexican border.

While skies cleared over a good part of West Texas, clouds lingered and still more rain was promised the rest of the state. Forecasts called for heavy downpours near the Middle Texas Coast into Wednesday.

Deluges falling at a rate up to one inch per hour caused flash flood alerts in Dallas, Tarrant, Johnson, Ellis, Llano, Burnet, Bexar and Comal counties during the night.

MRS. KATE WEBB THRANE

Mrs. Kate Thrane Dies Here At 95

Mrs. Kate Webb Thrane, 95, member of the first family to settle in Snyder, died at 2 a.m. Monday at her home at 1913 Thirtieth Street.

Born at Brownwood on Feb. 12, 1876, Mrs. Thrane lived most of her life in Scurry County, except for a period when her husband served as vice president of McMurry College in Abilene.

Funeral service has been set for 10 a.m. Wednesday at the First United Methodist Church, where Mrs. Thrane was a member. The Rev. Wallace Kirby will officiate. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Thrane came here from Travis County (Austin) in 1876. Her father, John Webb, and his two sons, Jeff and Ben, had come to this area on a hunting expedition and later persuaded their family to move here.

The Webbs brought the first cattle here and when the family arrived, they found that a few buffalo hunters had established themselves in dugouts along Deep Creek. Pete Snyder had not yet established his trading post here.

The Webb family built the first frame house in Snyder in 1878, hauling the lumber from Fort Worth via ox-drawn wagons. The house was built on or near the present site of the Scurry County Courthouse.

Mrs. Thrane was married in 1917 to O. P. Thrane, a Snyder banker. They moved to Abilene in 1936 when Mr. Thrane became business manager of McMurry College. He was made vice president of McMurry in 1941. He preceded Mrs. Thrane in death on Jan. 3, 1951, and in subsequent years Mrs. Thrane maintained homes in both Snyder and Abilene.

Mrs. Thrane is survived by four nieces, Mrs. John L. Hendricks of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Kate Elder of Ooltenah, Tenn., Mrs. Winnie Quincy of Colorado City and Mrs. Virginia Mackey of San Antonio; three nephews, R. W. Webb and George Webb, both of Snyder, and Nelson Vaughn of Denver, Colo.

Court Agrees To Hear Flood Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear Curt Flood's suit against professional baseball and to rule on the sport's immunity from antitrust laws.

The former all-star centerfielder, now living somewhere in Europe, has claimed ever since the St. Louis Cardinals traded him in 1969 to the Philadelphia Phillies that baseball's contract violates both state and federal antitrust laws and is a form of slavery. His chief lawyer is former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg.

The court simply announced there was no comment on any of the issues.

The case will be heard sometime later this term.

The target of Flood's attack is the so-called "reserve system," which binds ballplayers to the team that holds their contract.

In other actions today, the court:

—Unanimously rejected an appeal seeking to put funeral homes within the reach of federal antitrust law.

—Agreed to decide whether the campaign manager of the late Joseph Yablonski should be allowed to intervene in a government suit seeking to overturn the United Mine Workers election that Yablonski lost.

—Let stand a ruling that the state of Texas infringed on the rights of a defendant when it tried him in prison clothes.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger who left the bench Monday at noon because of a virus infection was back on the job today.

City Is Given Deed For Street

The Snyder City Council this morning accepted a deed to property to open Avenue T from Twenty-fifth Street to Twenty-sixth Street.

West Texas State Bank deeded parts of lots 3 and 4, Block 3, Blankenship Addition, to the city to be dedicated for street right-of-way. The city already has begun work on opening Avenue T for the extra block, which is on the east bank of Deep Creek from the Twenty-fifth Street bridge south to Twenty-sixth. This will connect up with the block of Avenue T between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh by the fire and police buildings.

The property deeded to the city by the bank extends to the middle of Deep Creek along the block involved.

The deed was formally accepted at a called meeting of the council. Also during the called session the council approved an emergency request by Wayne Crow for a water tap on the Union-Fluvanna water line. Crow who lives west of town said he was without water at his home.

Gov. Smith Appeals For Road Funds

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith urged U.S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe today not to cancel 10 per cent of Texas' federal highway money as a penalty for the legislature's failure to pass a beautification law.

State Highway department officials said at least $28 million was at stake.

Volpe notified Smith June 14 that he planned to invoke the 10 per cent penalty beginning with the 1973 federal fiscal year.

Both houses of the 1971 legislature passed a version of a highway beautification bill, but the House and Senate failed to get together on a compromise bill.

Volpe warned the state in February it faced suspension of 10 per cent of its federal highway construction funds if it failed to pass a beautification law.

In his 13-page appeal, Smith asked Volpe to delay any such penalty until after the regular legislative session following congressional action on the report of a highway beautification commission established by the federal-aid highway act of 1970.

Orr: Party Not Hurt By Scandal

AUSTIN (AP) — Roy Orr, chosen by a nominating committee Monday as state Democratic party chairman, says he doesn't think the Texas stock scandal has hurt the party.

Orr's selection will be placed before the 62-member State Democratic Executive Committee in Dallas Wednesday for confirmation.

Dr. James Gill of Waxahachie, nominations committee chairman, said the SDEC must vote "yes" or "no" on Orr, with no nominations permitted from the floor.

Orr, 39, is mayor of DeSoto, brother of Rep. Fred Orr of that city, president of Red Oak State Bank and owner of an insurance agency. He has served on the SDEC since September 1968.

He said he planned to hold "area meetings" with precinct and county chairmen "to find out what our problems are and how to solve them."

What about the image problems resulting from the stock scandal? Orr was asked.

"The stock scandal hasn't touched the Democratic party. That would be like saying if somebody commits adultery you are going to condemn everybody. People understand it is not the Democratic party but some people who may have done the wrong thing," Orr said.

Orr was chosen to succeed Dr. Elmer Baum, who resigned Oct. 11 after being under fire January because of the $125,000 profit he shared with Gov. Preston Smith from National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock they bought with a loan from Sharpstown State Bank. Both denied any wrongdoing in connection with the transaction, which was investigated by the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Describing himself as "moderate to conservative" in his political philosophy, Orr said he had "equal rapport with both" Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Barnes, who claimed he pushed no particular candidate for SDEC chairman, said Orr "was one of the first people in Dallas county" to come out for Hubert Humphrey in the 1968 presidential campaign.

Smith reportedly favored either Travis Johnson, former El Paso County judge, or Agriculture Commissioner John C. White for the chairmanship.

He said the nominating committee Monday that both were "good men" and also said he "was not opposed to Mr. Roy Orr whose name had come up."

US Bomber Hit S-Viet Position

SAIGON (AP) — An American fighter-bomber accidentally bombed a South Vietnamese position near the Cambodian border and killed 18 South Vietnamese troops, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command said seven South Vietnamese paratroopers were seriously wounded, and additional soldiers received lesser wounds in the bombing raid Monday 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

The command said a U.S. Air Force A37 jet, flying in support of South Vietnamese troops, dropped two 500-pound bombs on an "assigned target" near the government paratroop base at Thien Ngon, on Route 22 in Tay Ninh Province.

A U.S. spokesman said a preliminary investigation indicated the target had been marked by an American forward air controller and cleared by the South Vietnamese ground commander in the area.

Texas Band Director Files Complaint

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Longhorn band director is filing a complaint with Southwest Conference officials after a sophomore bandsman was allegedly slugged by an Arkansas fan.

The band was in Little Rock, Ark., last Saturday for the Texas-Arkansas game, which the Razorbacks won 31-7.

Band director Vincent DeNino said a "large, belligerent drunk" kept trying to break through the band's lines as it was marching out of the stadium after the game.

Randy Fisher, a cymbal player, said, "I just put up a cymbal to brush him off. He hit me solid in the right eye with his hand."

DeNino said Texas coach Darrell Royal was barely missed by a thrown bottle.

"In all the years I've been director here, we've given visiting bands the use of our practice fields, soft drinks, side-line markers and anything else they needed. But we go to Arkansas and in return their fans spit at us and throw whisky bottles."

DeNino said the band has never been mistreated except at Arkansas.

He said the band would not go back there unless safety is guaranteed.

The Daily Texan, student newspaper at the University of Texas, quoted Arkansas athletic director George Cole as saying, "It's the police's responsibility to keep order, and if they can't then no individual can."

Cole speculated that the SWC probably will consider DeNino's complaint at its next meeting in December.

J. Neils, Thompson, faculty director of the University of Texas Athetic Council, said complaints of this kind are filed occasionally.

Rabbi Kahane Is Deported

MONTREAL (AP) — Rabbi Meir Kahane, leader of the militant Jewish Defense League in the United States, was deported from Canada today. He and six other persons had come there to protest the treatment of Jews in the Soviet Union during the visit of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Rabbi Kahane and his group were detained Monday night after landing at Montreal's airport.

An official of the Canadian immigration department said Kahane left aboard an Air Canada flight for New York at 7 a.m. The others remained in Canadian custody and were due to depart for the United States later in the day, the official said.

Doctor Takes Skills From U.S. To Central America

By GRACE MARIE PRATHER
Albuquerque Journal Writer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The sharp drop in New Mexico's infant mortality rate over the past 26 years can be largely attributed to the work of one woman, Dr. Marion Hotopp of Santa Fe.

"I realized New Mexico had the highest infant mortality rate in the country and therefore the greatest need for public health services. When I came here in 1945 there were 100 infant deaths for every 1,000 live births. Now, it is down to about 25 deaths per 1,000 births," she said.

Dr. Hotopp has taken her black bag over New Mexico deserts, bumpy back roads and down arroyos to reach Indians in pueblos and on reservations. The Indians, many of whom had never seen a doctor in their lives, were the primary cause of the high death rate.

"We set up clinics for them and gave pre-natal care, taught nutrition and gave general examinations." The modest Dr. Hotopp gives much of the credit for the success to those who worked with her, in particular Miss Alice Touhey, a retired public health nurse.

Now, at age 71, Dr. Hotopp has another crusade—this one in Central America. She is engaged in a special nutrition project to improve the health of children in rural areas. She returned early this year from her third visit, having stayed four months.

"Everything I had learned so slowly while working with Indians in New Mexico, I have made use of in Central America." She said she was thrilled with the results of her nutritional training.

"The people in Guatemala, El Salvador, Panama, Costa Rica and Nicaragua spend almost every cent they make on food. A child is lucky if he gets a glass of milk every day, and no one is rationed more than one egg a week.

"With federal funds, we were able to supply skim milk mixed with a high protein cereal to give them the protein their bodies were so starved for," she said.

Dr. Hotopp also has been consulting the resident nutritionists who are teaching mothers about proper diet.

"The women are very good about following my directions when I explain nutrition in terms of building strong muscles for their children," Dr. Hotopp said.

Dr. Hotopp didn't come to New Mexico until she was 43 years old. She started medical school at age 30 after coming close to getting a Ph. D. in physics.

After graduating from Cornell in 1934 she took a year off to study bacteriology before doing her internship in Jersey City, N.J. She then spent time at the Philadelphia Childrens' Hospital where she decided to specialize in pediatrics.

Later she earned a master's degree in Public Health from Harvard University. "I became completely enamored of public health. I thought 'this is it, this is what I'm for'."

Then she spent three years as acting director of the Maternal and Child Health and Crippled Children's Services in Delaware, but was convinced to leave there and join the Children's Bureau as a regional director headquartered in Dallas. "I did that for a year and a half to the day. I came to New Mexico, fell in love with the state and saw the great need here."

Dr. Hotopp started as director of the Maternal and Child Health division of the state health department in 1945. In 1953 she took another post as district health officer with the state health department based in Santa Fe. She retired from that job in 1967 and each year since has made a trip to Central America for her project there.

Porcelain Art Club Meets

The West Texas Porcelain Art Club met Oct. 16 at the Sweetwater Country Club.

Mrs. Helm Humes, Burbank, Calif., was the guest artist. She explained her techniques in china painting as her film was shown to the members. She demonstrated the first fire of roses and the powdering of the china with colored glazes. Her second film gave instructions for the use of grounding oil and dusting with dry china color. After lunch, Mrs. Humes demonstrated the second fire of roses and the painting of pansies. She will spend this week in Sweetwater teaching classes.

Mrs. George Hughes, Jr., Abilene, president, presided at the business meeting during the noon hour. Members voted to exchange painted coffee mugs at the annual Christmas party.

Members from Snyder attending were Mmes. E. E. Weathersbee and Jack Wright.

GS Dues Increase Frozen

The West Texas Girl Scout Council has received word from the president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Mrs. Douglas H. MacNeil, that the increase in membership dues is frozen under the Wage-Price Freeze. This opinion was handed down by the General Counsel of the Office of Emergency Preparedness in Washington, D.C.

The dues increase was voted on at the National Council Meeting in Seattle, Washington, two years ago to become effective September 1, 1971. The increase from $1.00 to $2.00 was the first increase in dues for the Girl Scouts in twenty-four years, according to Beth Nowotny, executive director.

Since membership dues are collected by the local council on behalf of the national organization and are a basis for membership in the Movement, the following procedures have been developed for use by local councils.

1. All dues presently collected and now in the council office will be remitted in full to national headquarters.

2. Members may elect to pay $2.00 or more in the period of the freeze, with the understanding that the additional amount is a gift to the national organization.

3. Members who have already paid $2.00 and desire a return of $1.00 should submit their request in writing to the West Texas Girl Scout Council. The local council will verify membership and will mail it to New York for refund by the national organization.

4. Members who pay dues of $1.00 in the period of the freeze (or until an exemption is granted) will be members in good standing and will not be subjected to an additional assessment after the freeze.

5. ALL members will continue to be covered by the new accident insurance which went into effect this fall.

Zane Turley, president of the West Texas Girl Scout Council, has asked everyone's help in this period of transition. These events will place a heavy burden on all Girl Scout councils as well as on the national organization.

The new projects announced by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. to have been financed by the increase in dues are underway and will be continued at this time. Parents who are not in need of the additional $1.00 already remitted are asked to consider the long range benefits to their girls.

DESPITE DEFECTION

Miami Beach Officials Are Still Confident

By ANN HELLMUTH
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Universe has packed her finery and moved to Puerto Rico. Jackie Gleason's television show with its inviting shots of this tropical playground is just a fabled memory.

But Miami Beach officials refuse to be disheartened by the defections.

Nor are they worried by the rival attractions of Walt Disney World, some 200 miles north in the center of the state, which sponsors say is expected to attract some 20 million visitors during its first year.

"We are very optimistic," said Edwin Dean, executive director of the South Florida Hotel and Motel Association. "Bookings for the Christmas period at virtually all Beach hotels and motels are superior to last year's."

Jerry Sussman, executive director of the 620-room Carillon Hotel, also says bookings for the coming season "look very good indeed."

Sussman's hotel plans to run free bus trips once a week for guests so they can visit Disney World for a day.

"Most people won't want to stay longer than a day at Disney World," said Sussman. "I think Disney World will benefit Miami Beach because it will bring lots of people to Florida who have never visited the state before. Before they leave they will want to see our city."

Hoteliers reported that bookings for the season which starts Dec. 15 began picking up after President Nixon's wage-price freeze announcement in August.

"That seemed to restore confidence somehow," said Sussman. "After that, bookings began flooding in."

Allen Robirison, executive director of the city's Tourist Development Authority, says advertising for the coming season will concentrate on Canada and Europe.

"We are going into the international market in a big way," he said. "We already have an office in London and are making arrangements with German travel agencies to bring package tours here."

Robinson denied reports that Miami Beach has been losing its appeal to tourists and said collections from a 2 per cent resort tax proved more money was being spent by visitors than ever before.

The Miss Universe Pageant may be a thing of the past for Miami Beach but far more important in terms of dollars is the Democratic National Convention scheduled here next July.

"That really should keep things rolling," said one official. "People at conventions spend money and this is what the game is all about."

Peterson Is Inaugurated

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The Rev. Thomas Reginald Peterson, O.P., who entered Providence College 24 years ago as a freshman, has been inaugurated as the Dominican institution's ninth president.

The 42-year-old Father Peterson, who had been dean of the college since 1968, received the college seal and charter at investure ceremonies here Sunday.

In his inaugural address Father Peterson called for campus unity. "Unless a house of learning is built upon this foundation, its supports cannot be but weak," he said.

Bras For Working

SKEGNESS, England (AP) — A vacationing group of miners was waiting to watch a strip tease at the Golden Butterfly club this weekend when 40 women's libbers broke in and stormed onto the stage.

"Take it off, girls," yelled the miners. When the women refused, the men shoved them out the door, fighting all the way.

The star of the show, an ample brunette who calls herself Erotica, told the audience: "They dash around telling people not to wear bras. You won't catch me not wearing a bra except when I'm working.

Things That Make Life Worthwhile

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

The quiet courage and loyalty of ordinary men and women leading ordinary lives. Listening to an older person whose reminiscences thrill instead of bore you: Coming upon a love letter written by your father to your mother when they were sweethearts. Getting a two-bit cigar from your boss on your birthday.

The sight of two people, hand in hand, walking across the top of a faraway hill, outlined by a dying sun—human life against the landscape. Overhearing your small son brag to a playmate that he has a father who knows everything and can do anything. Tagging an opposig player out at home plate to prevent a run that would tie the game.

A second cup of hot bean soup for lunch on a wintry day. Seeing how far you can swim underwater while holding your breath as your hammering heart makes echoes in your head. Picking up the sofa pillow after a nap and finding $1.37 in change that leaked from your pocket. Going to a cocktail party and having nine people ask you for one of the seven kittens your cat gave birth to in the kitchen the week before.

Being told by your doctor that a little jogging wouldn't hurt you—and being told by your wife that she wouldn't dream of letting you risk your life doing such a foolish thing at your age.

The sound of an old dog snoring by a fireside, growling deep in his throat as he fights again the forgotten battles of his puppyhood. Putting on the third sweater a maiden aunt has knitted for you and discovering this one fits. Buying a second car that goes three months without even needings its hood lifted.

The taste of cornbread and white gravy made from fried chicken. Winning $30 at poker on Saturday night, placating your wife with $25 of it, and tossing the remaining $5 bill in the church collection plate Sunday morning—so who needs money, anyway? Landing on the green of a 415-yard hole with your second stroke—only three feet from the flag.

A midnight raid on a well-stocked refrigerator. Awakening at dawn to find that most of the troubles that kept you twisting and turning during the night don't even seem worth bothering about now.

Coming upon an old income tax record which shows that you're making twice as much dough as you did 15 years ago—and so what if the government is enjoying it more than you are?

The grateful kiss of a small girl whose woes you have helped by making her silent doll say "Mama" again. Going Halloweening with a group of kids and collecting $13.13 cents for UNICEF.

Walking alone in the autumn woodlands and sensing the eternal thrift of a higher power, which, for every color leaf that falls now, will put a new one in its place come next spring.

Apple-Peeling Contest Held

WOLCOTT, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Freer spent eight hours inscribing an apple, then lopped off a peel 1,568½ inches long to win an apple-peeling contest Sunday.

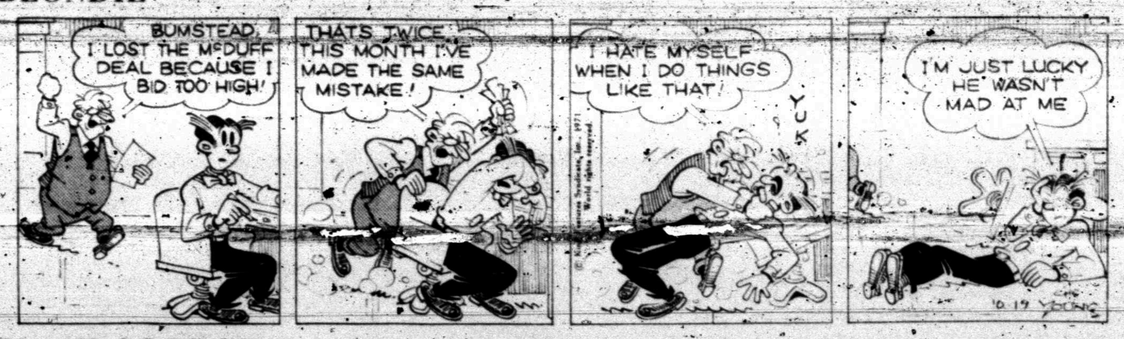

He won the contest a year ago with a 700-inch peel. Since then, he said, he learned the secret of getting a longer peel.

The apple was 15 inches in circumfesence.

Junior Editors Quiz on PARROTS

QUESTION: How does a parrot talk?

ANSWER: Parrots and some other birds "talk". They do not use words to share thoughts or feelings like humans do, or to get something they want. They imitate the sounds we use when talking. These birds seem to enjoy making these sounds.

Many birds mimic sounds they hear about them. They copy the song of other birds, also the call of frogs and even the sound made by a circular saw cutting a tree. Mockingbirds, catbirds, blue jays, starlings and warblers are good at this form of imitation. Birds of three families, the parrot, crow and starling can mimic the sound of human speech. The best talkers of all are the African gray parrots which come from the rain forests of the Congo, and the myna birds which belong to the starling family.

Members of the parrot family live in warm, tropical forests. The parrot is a colorful bird and very intelligent. Most parrots are green with markings that may be white, bright red, blue or yellow. Parrots live to phenomenal ages and choose a mate for life. They are very affectionate and like to be with their owner. A parrot can learn to say about 100 words, but the words do not convey any meaning to him. A parrot frequently learns to say "Polly wants a cracker" but does not associate it with asking for food. Some parrots, however, have learned to say "good morning" at the proper time of the day.

Sooners Gain On Nebraska In Poll

There was no change among the first five teams in this week's Associated Press college football poll, but the explosive Oklahoma Sooners made a huge run at Nebraska's defending national champions.

The Cornhuskers received 35 first-place votes and 1,046 points—down five votes and 10 points from last week—from a panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters across the country following their sixth consecutive triumph, a 55-0 sandbagging of Kansas.

Oklahoma, which received eight top votes and 888 points a week ago, pasted Colorado 45-17 and was rewarded with 18 first-place ballots and 1,008 points.

Michigan remained in third place with one No. 1 vote and 837 points by trouncing Illinois 35-6 but the Wolverines' point total fell from 880. Fourth-ranked Alabama whipped Tennessee 32-15 and went from 668 points to 765. Auburn, rated fifth, turned back stubborn Georgia Tech 31-14 but lost ground from 620 points to 585.

Colorado's loss to Oklahoma dropped the Buffaloes from sixth to 11th and Notre Dame, which beat North Carolina 16-0 for its second consecutive shutout, climbed from seventh to sixth. Penn State's impressive 31-0 jolting of Syracuse lifted the Nittany Lions from ninth to seventh while Georgia, a 24-0 winner over Vanderbilt, stayed in eighth place.

Texas, a 31-7 loser to Arkansas, also dropped out of the Top Ten, with the Razorbacks and Stanford, which beat Southern California 33-18, moving back in.

Behind No. 11 Colorado in the Second Ten came Ohio State, Louisiana State, a 14th-place tie between Arizona State and Toledo, Texas, Purdue, Tennessee, Duke and Air Force.

Last week's Second Ten consisted, in order, of Arizona State, LSU, Ohio State, Tennessee, Stanford, Arkansas, Toledo, Washington, Florida State and Purdue.

Washington's 23-21 loss to Oregon and Florida State's 17-15 upset by Florida cost the losers their positions among the Top Twenty. Duke and Air Force took over.

The Top Twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on a basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10 etc.

Williams Is Top American Manager

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

RIVIERA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dick Williams wasn't exactly the Boston Strangler, but he used everything short of the guillotine to goad the Red Sox into winning the 1967 pennant.

"I have," Williams said. "My job was to break up Boston's baseball country club. You don't do that by being nice."

Two years later, Williams himself died by the sword. The Red Sox fired him before the American League championship flag had time to fade atop the Fenway Park flagpole.

Boston finished fourth in 1968 and third in 1969.

"Montreal hired me as a coach," he said, "but I was waiting and hoping for another shot as a big league manager. When Oakland took me, I worried that my Boston reputation might precede me to the A's training camp."

It didn't. Dick and the Oaklands hit it off splendidly.

The A's hustled to a 101-61 record to run away with the AL's Western Division crown. For that performance, Williams was named Monday American League manager of the year in an Associated Press poll.

"I knew the voting went in before the playoffs," Williams said at his home here, "so I thought I had a chance. I won the honor at Boston in 1967. I'm quite pleased."

Oakland was routed by Baltimore in the playoffs, but Oriole skipper Earl Weaver ran a distant third in the balloting. Despite many successes, Weaver has never won the award.

Williams polled 107 votes. Kansas City's Bob Lemon was the runnerup with 66 and Weaver received only 59.

"I know Earl has to be upset," said the 1971 honoree. "He deserves recognition with three pennants and two World Series victories. I feel sorry for him, but happy for myself."

Weaver learned of the honor for Williams as he packed following the Orioles' loss to Pittsburgh in the seventh game of the World Series.

"Dick Williams did a tremendous job," said Weaver. "He deserves it."

Despite stout performances by Vida Blue and Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Williams said he hopes to improve A's pitching next season in a bid for loftier accomplishments.

Bold Reason, winner of the Travers Stakes for his sixth victory in a row, cost $52,000 as a 1969 yearling.

Chiefs Clobber Steelers, 38-16

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A funny thing happened to young Dave Smith on his way into the end zone Monday night.

Smith, a sophomore receiver for the Pittsburgh Steelers, had taken a pass from Terry Bradshaw on a 30-yard play. He was all alone.

As he neared the goal, he suddenly exploded jubilantly and heaved the ball into the air like football players do in celebration of success.

The trouble was Smith hadn't reached the final stride. The ball squirted through the end zone.

It was only a touchback. The score at the time was 31-9 in favor of the Kansas City Chiefs who had wiped out a 9-0 lead with Len Dawson's spectacular passing to Otis Taylor and a couple of assists from the defense during a four-touchdown avalanche in the second quarter.

The Chiefs went on to a 38-16 victory over the Steelers in their nationally televised game and climbed into a first-place with Oakland, 4-1, in the West Division. Pittsburgh, 2-3, fell two games behind Cleveland, 4-1, in the Central Division.

Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll said at first he had no comment on Smith's blunder, then reluctantly added:

"I've seen it happen to veterans. He threw the ball before he was across. The college goal posts are 10 yards back. Maybe he was thinking ..." Noll's voice faded away.

Noll thought two plays proved the big difference. Both were passes from Dawson, who complained all week of having a sore arm, to Taylor and covered 82 and 51 yards.

Neither of the bombs scored touchdowns but both set the Chiefs in motion deep in Pittsburgh territory. Dawson flipped the 51-yarder to Taylor at the 27. On the next play, Dawson threw a strike to Taylor at the end zone, erasing the last of Pittsburgh's 9-0 lead rolled up on field goals of 32, 40 and 35 yards by Roy Gerela.

Tigers, Matadors Share Lead In District 3-AAA

After two weeks of district competition, Snyder's Tigers and Estacado's Matadors share the District 3-AAA lead with perfect 2-0 records.

Three teams -- Dunbar, Lamesa and Brownfield -- share third place with a victory and a loss each. Tied for sixth place with one tie and one loss each are Colorado City and Lake View. Sweetwater is all alone in the cellar with two successive losses.

Another exciting schedule is on tap this week with Snyder hosting Lubbock Dunbar in the feature attraction Friday night.

On the same night, Colorado City is at home against Lamesa and Sweetwater hosts Brownfield. Saturday night, Estacado hosts Lake View in Lubbock.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of last week was Colorado City's 7-7 tie with Lake View. Snyder also surprised a few people by the margin (21-7) of their win over Brownfield. Estacado still has never lost a district game. The Matadors knocked off Dunbar 20-7 last week. Lamesa put down Sweetwater 12-7 in the other game.

Bullets Get Steve Clark

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets hope to have guard Archie Clark, a veteran of six years in the National Basketball Association, in their line-up tonight in Boston.

In what coach Gene Shue termed a move to improve their consistency, the Bullets acquired Clark, a second-round draft choice in 1973 and a "small amount of cash" Monday night from Philadelphia for veteran guards Kevin Loughery and Fred Carter.

Clark, who stands 6-foot-2 and played his college ball at Minnesota, set personal highs in 10 categories last season and is believed to have a salary in excess of $100,000.

Booster Club Meeting Set

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria, according to an announcement by Del Hirst, president. He said members will see films of the Tigers' 21-7 triumph over Brownfield and hear scouting reports on Lubbock Dunbar, this week's foe.

"Football Widows" Offered Movies

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — What can housewives do about Monday night football games on television?

One attraction is an offer by three movie theaters here—admission for only $1 every Monday after 5 p.m. to those identifying themselves as "football widows."

George Watson, local representative of a theater chain making the same offer throughout the state, said it will last for the entire football season.

Intentional grounding of a forward pass is being more strictly enforced this season in the National Football League.

Enough electricity for today... and tomorrow.

Planning and building ahead to provide our customers with enough reliable electric power to meet all their needs is the challenging responsibility being met by Texas Electric Service Company. It's what we mean by being "at your service."

To be sure plenty of electricity always will be on hand at the flip of a switch, we will nearly double our generating capability within the next five years. Additional strength and dependability throughout our system comes from our high-voltage transmission interconnections with other power sources.

We must continue to plan and build ahead because we serve a growing area of the nation, and because our customers continue to use more electricity. For example, 25 years ago the average residential customer served by Texas Electric used around 1,000 kilowatt hours a year. Today, the average residential customer is using about 8,500 kilowatt hours a year. During this same period, the average selling price per kilowatt hour has decreased about 43 percent, in spite of continuing inflation.

To us, "at your service" is not only a responsibility and a challenge. It's our commitment to you, our customers.

Connally's Assignment Spurs New Speculation

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's new foreign affairs assignment for Treasury Secretary John B. Connally has added another feather to the tall Texan's hat and spurred fresh speculation that Nixon is grooming him as a running mate.

White House officials disclosed Monday that Nixon has tapped his sole Democratic Cabinet member as his official representative at the Oct. 31 inauguration of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The officials said, without giving details, that Connally also will visit other countries on his Asian journey. Another source said his itinerary includes a stop in Tokyo for talks with Japanese officials being buffeted by protests over an agreement signed last week cutting Japanese textile shipments to the United States.

But it is the Vietnam visit—a seemingly unusual assignment for a man best known as the chief spokesman for the new Nixon economics—that started the tongues wagging anew about the possibility he might supplant Spiro T. Agnew as Nixon's vice presidential choice.

The intrigue was heightened when it was recalled that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird plans to be in Brussels Oct. 26-28 for a meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization officials, then plans to go to Vietnam the first week in November.

Laird presumably could have been tacked on to go to Saigon from Brussels to represent the United States, when Thieu is sworn in for his second term Oct. 31. But instead, he is returning to the United States for a brief stay before heading to Vietnam.

"There's no interplay," a Nixon aide said when asked about the Laird and Connally trips. This official characterized the Saigon visit as simply one stop in a multi-nation Asian tour being mapped for Connally.

Nixon has refused to discuss his 1972 political plans, and Connally usually brushes aside with a smile any suggestion he is vice presidential timber—a possibility that has even been mentioned by some top Republicans.

"I'm not going to make a comment along those lines at all," says the 54-year-old three-time Texas governor and graduate of the Lyndon B. Johnson school of politics.

Agnew Visits Village Of Ancestors

GARGALIANOI, Greece (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew came to the village of his ancestors today in an emotional homecoming that filled the narrow streets with welcoming townspeople.

He said he had learned that a man can go home again, "even to a home he has only heard of but never seen before."

The emotion of the moment could be read in Agnew's face as he stood before the people of Gargalianoi in the town's soccer stadium and paid tribute to his late father.

"If any individual is entitled to these honors I receive it is he," the vice president said. "He was one of you and he left these shores many years ago.

"It was on his knee that I learned of this town and of the principles of the early Hellenes. And I only wish that he could have returned with me today," Agnew said, his voice breaking for just an instant, "and yet I sense his presence here."

Agnew does not speak Greek. His remarks were translated sentence by sentence and the crowd applauded almost every line.

"I could see him breaking up near the end," Mrs. Agnew said later.

The vice president walked through a welcoming archway and drove to the village cemetery to place a flag-draped wreath at a family gravesite. He visited a white-walled orphanage that was a convent founded by his great aunt. Agnew gave bracelets to two young girls who lived there, and he patted them on their cheeks.

He went to the ancestral home of his family where a cousin, Andreas Anagnostopoulos, still lives and dedicated there a plaque "in commemoration of my origins here and in honor of the Greek inheritance which so many other Americans proudly show." Gargalianoi is a town of about 7,000 people overlooking the Ionia Sea.

School-Lunch Plan Approved

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted without dissent to reinstate a more liberal school-lunch program, but not before the Agriculture Department, feeling presidential and congressional pressure, had done what the House sought to force.

The USDA announced just hours before the 354-0 vote Monday that it was rescinding the belt-tightening policies that prompted strong action in both houses.

The capitulation raised doubt whether congressional follow-through to resolve differing versions of House and Senate lunch measures was needed.

And the sequence of events on the issue left one senator declaring that his colleagues had gone crazy.

The House bill provides a minimum of 46 cents in federal reimbursement to the states for every lunch served to a child deemed eligible by the state.

The USDA policy change, the third since mid-August, tracked closely the aims of the House measure. In August the department announced that the school lunch reimbursements would be set at 35 cents per serving, down from the previous year's 46 cents.

Congress returned from recess expressing outrage at the action, and USDA on Oct. 6 announced it was moving the lunch reimbursement up to 46 cents.

At the same time the department restricted eligibility to its own standard: children of parents earning less than $3,940.

The action eliminated an estimated $1 million to 1.5 million children who had gotten free or reduced-priced lunches last year after Congress and the White House ordered schools to feed every needy child.

The department yielded Monday on a major point, allowing the states to set eligibility as well as increasing the reimbursement per lunch to 46 cents. Some states' maximum income level for participation far exceeds that favored by USDA.

But what happens next is in doubt.

The Senate on Oct. 1 passed a bill that would not as broad as the House version.

The Senate version says nothing about eligibility and declares that 46 cents shall be the minimum reimbursement.

The USDA says the 46-cent reimbursement is an average, not a minimum, figure.

Sen. Allen Ellender, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he's all for adding another $135 million to the USDA school lunch program to expand it to those he defined as the really needy.

"But the Senate's liable to pass anything dealing with the school-lunch program," Ellender said. "They're gone crazy. It's a politically hot program these days and they'll go along with anything."

Four Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and Reps. George Mahon, Wright Patman and Ray Roberts of Texas were accorded honors Monday in a secret consistory of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite.

The four were designated 33rd degree Masons, the highest of the Scottish Rite.

Truman Graves Bocker Jr., president of the University of Texas Medical School, was named Knights Commander of the Court of Honour.

They were among 2,289 Masons honored in the ceremony.

Couple Killed On Interstate 20

TERRELL, Tex. (AP) — A car-truck crash on rainswept Interstate 20 Monday night killed Billy Wayne Whithead, 41, and his wife Betty, 39, of Ben Wheeler, Tex.

State police said the couple's eastbound car jumped a median strip and collided with a heavy truck while still in the air.

Employment Drops In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Nearly half a million fewer people are employed in Britain's production industries than there were last year, government figures show. The reason is that industry is cutting its labor costs.

Jamar Named To Board Of Regents

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has appointed William Jamar Jr., of Brownwood to the board of regents of North Texas State University, effective immediately.

Jamar's term expires May 22, 1977. He replaces E. C. Fennell of Fort Worth, whose term has expired.

Jamar, 46, is presently serving as president of Brown County Broadcasting.

He has served as president of KBWD, KNOL, KCWM; vice president of KGRS, KVIC, KNOW; member of board of directors of KSNY; and chairman of the board of Advance Publishing.

Church trip proves fatal to marriage

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were very much in love when we married 12 years ago. She was brought up in one religion and I in another, so in order to be "fair," we were married by a Justice of the Peace.

After our first baby came, she wanted it baptized [in her former faith] so I said, "Fine." Then she decided she wanted to attend her former church again. I said, "All right. Just don't start nagging me to go with you." She promised she wouldn't, and she didn't.

Another baby. Another baptism. Pretty soon she started getting a ride to church and back with the man across the street who had the same kind of mixed marriage we had. [His wife didn't attend any church.]

Are you ahead of my story? You guessed it. My wife and this neighbor announced that they are "in love" and want to be free to marry each other.

If you can see the moral to this real-life soap opera, please put it in your column in capital letters! STUPID

DEAR STUPID: I see the moral. It's "DON'T SELL RELIGION SHORT. IT ISN'T DEAD, IT'S ONLY SLEEPING."

DEAR ABBY: Some years ago I used to stop at the bar in my office building every evening after work and have a couple of drinks with the fellows before coming home. The drinks were a dollar each.

About four years ago my wife made this proposition to me: She would buy the whiskey by the case, and SELL it to me by the drink for 85 cents if I came straight home.

This worked out fine, and she bought many nice things with the profit.

Now, starting September 1st, she has upped the price to $1 a shot because of higher costs.

The problem: With the 90-day freeze announced by President Nixon, isn't she liable to a $5,000 fine? W. I. F.

DEAR W. I. F.: No. She's not a licensed retailer. [P. S. If your wife demands a tip, too, she's not any cheaper than the bar, which could defeat her original scheme.]

DEAR ABBY: This is not a request for advice. It's a plea for understanding.

I am a widow of 63. The gentleman is a widower of 68. I've been widowed for three years. He lost his wife five years ago. We've known each other for many years and were friends when our mates were alive.

We love each other and want to marry, but here is our situation: The gentleman's income is a small Social Security check. Mine is both Social Security and Veterans Administration from my deceased husband. If we were to marry, I'd lose both pensions and we would have to live on the gentleman's small income, which would be practically impossible. So we are doing what some of the college kids are doing: We are "shacking up."

We both own homes, so I moved into his and am renting mine out for the income.

Of course, you know what happened. Our families have disowned us and our neighbors no longer speak to us. We are social outcasts.

Our financial ties to this small town preclude our moving away. Besides, we both have members of our families in the little cemetery on the hill, so we remain here.

Our only real sadness is our children's attitude. [One of my daughters in law threatened to leave my son if he ever visited "that whore".]

Why does a society that has become more understanding toward young folks who are in love, condemn two old people who want to end their days together in love and companionship? OLD LOVERS

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on the letter signed "BURNED UP." The writer didn't know why it was necessary to mention in the obituary column that the deceased was survived by his fifth wife.

Why not mention it, if it is true?

I am 84 years old and have buried five wives. I loved each one of them, and was proud of all of them.

I am not looking for another mate, but if I should find one with similar interests who wants companionship for our remaining years, I just might go for Number Six.

You may sign me just as they might in the obituary column. "SURVIVED BY ONE BUT LOVED BY SIX"

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. J. T. G. IN RESTON, VA.: It's too late now. You should have told your host how you felt when he asked you to pay for your dinner and drinks.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

ATTACK — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union is startled as the arms of his attacker encircle him Monday on Parliament Hill in Ottawa. The attacker, who identified himself to reporters later as Giza Matrai, half tore Mr. Kosygin's coat from him but apparently did not harm him. Mr. Kosygin is in Canada on an eight-day tour. 'Lover' Gets Day In Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 29-year-old woman got a day in jail after throwing her arms around convicted murderer Charles "Tex" Watson and telling him, "I love you."

The incident occurred when the woman burst from the audience during a recess in Watson's Superior Court sanity trial.

Placed on the witness stand by Superior Court Judge Adolph Alexander, the woman, who identified herself as Janet M. Luck of Riverside, Calif., said her gesture was only a "Christian's act."

She said she had never seen Watson before but knew him "through the Holy Spirit." Alexander sentenced her to a day in jail for contempt of court.

Watson was convicted last week of first-degree murder in the Sharon Tate murders. The same jury which returned the verdict is hearing arguments on his plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

Judge Seeks Place To Hold Court

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Judge Leonard Gang is looking for a place to hold court Wednesday the present courtroom is needed by the Ladies Aid Society.

Gang convened a session of the Clark County District Court Monday at the First Methodist church when he found there was no available room at either the county courthouse or federal building. The problem has come up frequently, with nine judges and six courtrooms.

The church came to the rescue Monday, offering space for a minimal fee. But it said the room is available "anytime except Wednesdays," when the church's Ladies Aid Society gathers.

The county is building more courtrooms at the courthouse.

1972 Cotton Allotments Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin said Monday the acreage allotment and national average loan rate in the 1972 upland cotton program will remain at the 1971 level.

The national base acreage allotment for 1972 was announced at 11,500,000 acres. The national average loan rate was set at 19.5 cents per pound. The preliminary set-aside payment rate of 15 cents per pound was announced, with a set-aside requirement of 20 per cent of the farm base acreage allotment.

"The provisions of the 1972 upland cotton program follow those of 1971 by giving farmers the opportunity to make better overall use of their land in the interest of a balanced production of all crops," Hardin said.

"Cotton is moving toward an improved position as evidenced by several encouraging factors now being realized with this year's crop."

The national average loan rate of 19.5 cents per pound applies to Middling one-inch upland cotton. Schedules for loans for different qualities based on the Middling one-inch rate will announced later, the department said.

The allotment acreage, by state, released by the department included:

Alabama, 677,414; Arizona, 238,783; Arkansas, 955,002; California, 531,264; Florida, 22,154; Georgia, 582,506; Illinois, 2,068; Kansas, 8; Kentucky, 4,922; Louisiana, 400,355;

Mississippi, 1,099,926; Missouri, 256,925; Nevada, 2,530; New Mexico, 123,711; North Carolina, 312,235; Oklahoma, 543,493; South Carolina, 477,239; Tennessee, 301,846; Texas, 4,885,568; and Virginia, 11,051.

ADULT RATE DROPS

More Teenagers Are Smoking

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports a significant increase in teen-age cigarette smokers at a time when the number of adults with the habit decreased sharply.

Compiling the latest figures, it estimates the number of smokers between 12 and 18 years of age at four million in January, 1970, up one million in two years, when the population increase for the group was less than a million.

The report makes no effort to explain the increase but analyzes the characteristics of teen-agers who have and have not become regular smokers and says:

"While there are many factors in the environment of a child that influence his taking up, or not taking up the smoking habit, the one that has by far the most influence is the smoking behavior of those around him."

The lowest level of smoking is found among teen-agers who live in households where both parents are present and neither smokes, and who have older brothers and sisters, none of whom smoke, the report says. In such a situation, it says, 4.2 per cent have become regular smokers.

In families with at least one parent and one older brother or sister who smoke, 24.9 per cent of the teen-agers also smoke.

The report was prepared by the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, a branch of the Health, Education and Welfare Department. It is based on surveys made in January 1968 and January 1970.

It estimates that in 1970, 18.5 per cent of boys 12-18 were regular smokers, up from 14.7 per cent in 1968. For girls, the figure is 11.9 per cent in 1970 and 8.4 per cent in 1968.

The Clearinghouse figures for the adult population show 42 per cent of the men smoked in 1970, compared to 51.9 per cent in 1966; and 31 per cent of the women, compared to 33.7 per cent in 1966.

The increase in teen-age smoking occurred for both boys and girls in every age group and in all areas.

"While there are still relatively few smokers among the youngest teen-agers, the rate of smoking has more than doubled," the report says.

Film To Miss World Premier

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The only thing missing at the world premier of the Sidney Poitier film "Buck and the Preacher" Saturday night will be the filth "Buck and the Preacher."

Poitier, coproducer of the movie, had thought it would be ready in time for the benefit premier at Virginia Union University, of which he is a trustee.

It wasn't. So, instead, he will bring along a film entitled "The Organization"—a sequel to the 1967 Academy Award-winning Poitier film, "In the Heat of the Night."

The premier is to help raise funds for restoration of the Virginia Union chapel, which burned.

The rapid fire semiautomatic Garand rifle was invented by John Garand.

UTA, Tech Drug Problem Is Worsening

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — A Department of Public Safety officer says the drug problem at the University of Texas-Austin and Texas Tech is worsening.

Tom Sullivan, stationed at Lubbock, said Monday that the drug traffic from Austin to Lubbock is "pretty heavy."

Sullivan told a regional meeting of the Texas Police Association that other colleges areas such as Corpus Christi and Kingsville have similar problems.

"I don't know of many colleges today that don't have some kind of drug problem and it's getting pretty bad in some of the larger schools such as Texas Tech and the University of Texas at Austin," he said.

"I don't know what we're going to do," Sullivan said. "It looks like the only way we're going to get into the college scene is to enroll our undercover people in the schools but we don't have the time, money or manpower to do that."

Sullivan was one of three officers who spoke at a panel discussion on narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Any of the professional employes at Bell-Seale welcomes the opportunity to explain the benefits of burial insurance to anyone who is interested. Such insurance makes things easier for family and friends when the time comes for them to make decisions.

Another thing greatly appreciated by those who are left behind is a completed Bell-Seale Pre-Need Plan.

These Pre-Need Memorial Guides are free for the asking at Bell-Seale Funeral Home, and if a person will take one, fill it out, and file it away, it will some day be valuable.

The form has space for such important information as insurance, the number and location of policies, birth certificates, mortgages, and military papers. Itemized funeral instructions also can be put on the form. Such information, on hand during a time of need, goes far to relieve someone of the burden of decisions and arrangements.

Whatever the service that one might need, the licensed personnel at Bell-Seale Funeral Home stand ready to render the best possible service of which they are able. They don't solicit your business, but feel that they must earn it.

That's one reason Bell-Seale Funeral Home is a member of the Order of the Golden Rule — whose motto is "Service Measured Not By Gold, But By The Golden Rule." All members are required to live up to it.

TO ADD BLACK STYLES

Church Adopts 10-Point Plan

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A predominantly white, middle-American Protestant denomination, the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), is taking major steps to incorporate black insights and aspirations into its overall ministry.

"It means bringing some of the black experience into the whole church," said the Rev. Dr. John R. Compton, of Cincinnati, a black leader in the 1.5-million member denomination.

The 10-point program, adopted late Monday at the church's biennial assembly, authorized funds to reinforce black ministerial leadership and also calls for development of teaching materials and hymns sensitive to needs of blacks, as well as whites.

It is one of the most direct moves by a major, mainly white denomination to encompass black theological styles in the general church perspectives.

This is something blacks long have urged as essential to real integration.

"Our curriculum is white and middle-class, our hymnbooks the same," the assembly declared. "We resent this and intend to do something about it."

The church has about 50,000 black members, many of them in 550 mostly black congregations among the 5,000 mostly white congregations.

Besides directing that program materials, church literature, hymnals and other teaching aids be developed so as to "be more relevant to the needs of black people," the program provides for:

—Launching of a major drive to recruit black students for the ministry and expansion of continuing education programs for present black ministers.

A campaign for an additional $1 million for the endowment fund of Jarvis Christian College, of Hawkins, Tex., the church's main educational center for blacks.

—A gradual process for upgrading the salary standards of low-paid black ministers, through denominational subsidies, to a minimum of $6,500 annually plus housing and other allowances.

NEW YORK (AP) — Diana Muldaur has been signed to co-star in "The Other," now being filmed in Murphys, Calif.

Celebration Was Costly

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The big World Series victory demonstration was a "jubilant celebration that got a little out of hand," the city's top cop says. The mayor calls it "an overexuberant celebration."

The 10-hour celebration in the downtown area that attracted an estimated 100,000 people left these results:

—Hospital treatment for 128 persons.

—Arrests of 98 persons.

—Vandalizing of downtown shops.

—Cars heavily damaged, many with caved in roofs.

—A fire engine stripped for equipment.

—A hotel forced to temporarily close.

—Tons of debris left in the streets.

Police Supt. Robert E. Colville called a news conference Monday to "set the record straight" about what happened. Mayor Peter Flaherty said "the national news media" blew things out of proportion.

Colville said stories about rapes and criminal assaults on downtown streets were fabricated by reporters. During the celebration Sunday night a police desk sergeant reported a dozen rapes.

Colville said the demonstration which erupted after the Pittsburgh Pirates' 2-1 seventh-game World Series baseball clincher over the Orioles at Baltimore was just a "jubilant celebration that got a little out of hand."

"But that happens whenever such a large crowd gathers," he added.

Hospital spokesmen confirmed Monday treating 128 minor injury cases and at least one case involving injury requiring hospitalization. All of the cases were related to the downtown celebration the spokesmen added.

Police also confirmed 98 arrests made as a wildly cheering, singing, dancing and sometimes violent crowd roams through the streets.

Mother Enlists In Army

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — She's no brasierre burner, says Barbara Hughes, but she's glad to take advantage of a women's liberation-won relaxation of Army regulations that opens the way to women with dependents.

Mrs. Hughes signed up as a nurse lieutenant Monday and with her went her daughters — Martha Karin, 5; Teresa Jeanine, 8, and Rebecca Lynn, 9.

Recruiting Sgt. Harold Elsberry said Mrs. Hughes is the first in Florida to come in under the regulation changed July 1 at the urging of the women's liberation movement.

They argued that if the Army took a man with dependents, it should take a woman with dependents.

A registered nurse, Mrs. Hughes will go to Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., for officer training. The children won't accompany her there but will join her at her permanent duty assignment in Ft. McPherson, Ga.

"They are thrilled about going to Atlanta because it snows there," Mrs. Hughes said. "They were born in Florida and they want to see snow."

Her divorced husband, Bobby Hughes of Ocala, will keep them while she is in Texas.

The Wage-Price Freeze Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

This column of questions and answers on the Wage and Price Freeze is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about the Wage and Price Freeze announced August 15 by President Nixon.

Q — My employer is transferring me to a higher cost-of-living area. It has been the policy of my company to increase the pay of employees transferred to such areas. Can I receive this increase?

A — Yes. However, your employer must be able to document the existence of such a plan prior to the freeze, and must not increase the differential during the freeze.

Q — Can deposits for apartments be raised during the freeze?

A — No. This is not permitted during the freeze.

Q — I want to apply for an exemption from the freeze. How do I go about doing it?

A — Persons seeking exemptions from the price, wage or rent ceilings should submit written requests in duplicate to the Director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness Regional Office for their geographical area.

The request should state:

(a) name, address and telephone number;

(b) nature of business;

(c) manner in which the wage-price freeze is believed to be grossly inequitable;

(d) the specific relief sought, and

(e) whether the individual or anyone affiliated with him has previously been granted or applied for an exception, exemption or adjustment.

Q — Prior to August 15, my company scheduled a profit-sharing program for its employees. Can the program be implemented during the freeze?

A — No. A company's previously scheduled profit-sharing program cannot be implemented during the freeze. All other fringe benefits, including, expense accounts, commissions, discounts, stock options, payments for deferred compensation, etc. are also frozen.

Q — My church is asking us to increase our contributions. Can this be done during the freeze?

A — Yes. Charitable contributions are not frozen by the President's order.

Q — How can you tell if a distributor of imported goods is passing on the import surcharge to consumers?

A — An importer, or distributor of imported goods, must show on the sales ticket or invoice, in dollars and cents, the surcharge passed on to the purchaser. If the importer or distributor elects to pass on only a portion of the surcharge, he is still required to indicate penny-for-penny the exact amount passed on.

Defector Given Asylum In US

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Russian defector said to have disclosed existence of a Soviet spy ring in Belgium is now in the United States after being granted political asylum, according to the State Department.

A brief statement issued Monday afternoon said Anatoly Tchebotarev, a member of the Soviet trade mission in Belgium, recently asked the U.S. Embassy in Brussels to be allowed to enter the United States. His request was granted, the department said.

Tchebotarev has been missing from the Soviet mission since early this month, but U.S. officials declined to say when he asked for asylum, when he entered the United States or where he is staying.

Neither would they say why he sought asylum in the United States rather than Belgium, but an official said it is not unusual for such defectors to be brought to America.

There was virtually no personal information available about Tchebotarev beyond his connection with the Soviet trade mission, except for reports he was a friend of Oleg Lyalin, another Russian defector who recently informed on a Soviet spy ring in Great Britain.

According to the Belgian foreign ministry, Tchebotarev had told the American embassy in Brussels of the spy ring in that country and the information was then turned over to the Belgian government.

Although the Brussels government called an extraordinary cabinet meeting for Wednesday to deal with the situation, Belgian officials indicated there won't be any action matching the British expulsion of 105 Russians that followed Lyalin's disclosures.

"Tchebotarev's statements had not revealed really new elements that would lead the Belgian government to take spectacular action as regards a large number of Soviet citizens," the foreign ministry said.

The Brussels officials went on to indicate they were not caught by surprise by the Russian's information, although it added, "These statements will without doubt enable a certain number of investigations presently being held to be concluded."

Herbert To Work Through Congress

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Col. Anthony Herbert says he hopes to seek political ways to "clean up the Army from the outside."

Herbert, who accused two superior officers of convering up alleged atrocities committed by American soldiers in Vietnam, said in an interview Monday he probably will retire from the Army in February.

He said that since the war crimes charges he filed were "swept under the rug," he would "lay everything before the American people and let them decide for themselves."

Herbert said he might work "through Congress, through the vote, even talk at universities" in an effort to bring about military reform.

The University of North Colorado has almost 16,000 alumni and nearly 7,000 of them live in Denver.

Pat Is Going

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard Nixon has confirmed that she will be going with the President on his trips to the Soviet Union and China.

"Oh, sure," she replied emphatically when asked if she plans to make the trip to Moscow in May. She accompanied her husband on his historic trip to the Soviet Union when he was vice president in 1959.

And she said she will join the President when he visits mainland China. The China trip is to be made before May.

Small Cars Get Year On Bumpers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auto makers have been given an extra year before they have to install stronger bumpers on some small cars, but they were told again Monday there will be no postponement for most autos.

The Transportation Department moved the deadline to Sept. 1, 1974, for installation of sturdier bumpers on some passenger cars with a wheel base of 115 inches or less.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said all other vehicles must comply with the original deadline, Sept. 1, 1973. He said he has denied manufacturers' requests for delays for other models.

The postponement applies only to convertibles, vehicles with no back seat and hardtops), vehicles which have no "B" pillar above the bottom of window openings).

Volpe said there are special problems in adapting stronger bumpers to those models.

The department estimated that of more than 7.1 million American-made passenger cars last year, 845,000 were models to be exempted. An estimated 194,000 small foreign cars to be imported next year would fit the classification. Imports last year topped 1.2 million.

Models qualified for the exemption included General Motors' Camaro, Corvette and Pontiac GTO; Ford's Mustang and Cougar, and Chrysler's Dodge Dart and Plymouth Barracuda.

Foreign cars exempted include Toyota's Crown and Corona, Opel's GT and Cuple and British Leyland's Jaguar.

On Sept. 1, 1972, the department is requiring all new cars to have front bumpers that can sustain a five-mile-an-hour cash into a fixed barrier and rear bumpers that can withstand a crash at two and one-half miles an hour. There was no change in that deadline.

The 1973 deadline requires the rear bumper to absorb a five-mile-an-hour impact.
