1974 Passes In Review

A Look At The Events Of The Past Year

By LINDA STEWART

The past year has, in many ways, been a troublesome one for city and county residents as they contended with the fuel shortage during the first of the year, then, as that eased, farmers and ranchers were faced with drought conditions and as the year ended, cotton yields were much short of last year's, plus prices for cotton and cattle were at the giveaway level, but a glance through the past year's Record shows much that is all right with life in Colorado City, Loraine or Westbrook, or Mitchell County.

As in any agricultural community, the weather plays a big part in conversation and affects everyone, whether directly engaged in farming and raching operations, or dependent upon farmers and ranchers for customers. The county did not receive spring planting moisture and since no rain or snow came during the winter months, fields and pastures dried out during the summer. Mid-August rains came and the month of September and part of October were wet, helping native pastures but hurting any cotton or grain crops that had managed to get through the dry spell with a few showers now and then.

The county asked for and received emergency status because of the spring and summer drought conditions, enabling agricultural producers in the county to be eligible for low interest Farmers Home Administration loans.

Construction activity in the city did not reflect the nation's critical recession in construction related industries, as a number of new projects were started and some were on their way toward completion. The new wing of Root Memorial Hospital continued under construction and hospital personnel are hoping to move into the expanded office and patient rooms facility in the spring. Construction began and was finished on the city's new Civic Center. City National Bank began construction for a new Community Room, with office space added. Matlock Farm Supply built a new building on I-20 and plans are being made to move into the new business site soon. Construction began on a new addition of office space and cell space for the county jail, one of the few jails in the area that has complete juvenile facilities. Renovation of the south side of the Community Center Building on 10th Street was completed, turning that area into the Kindercare Center, a state licensed child care center for children of working mothers.

Probably the most extensive building now under construction in the city is the new high school complex between 10th and 17th Streets, with changes to be made in the school system, including changing the present high school into a middle school for grades 6, 7 and 8 and the closing of Wallace School. Wallace may be turned into a satellite campus for Western Texas College in Snyder, as the college offered extension courses in Colorado City, taught at the high school, and they were well attended. This was the first year for college courses to be taught in Colorado City, and the school board and administration are working with Western Texas College personnel to keep the interest high and possibly open the satellite campus here.

The city also gained a new industry in August when Iron Star Potters moved into the building which formerly housed Colorado Steam Laundry and began operation. The business, owned by Bob and Dale Creighton, was helped by Colorado City Industrial Team, Inc., the local group which is trying to attract new industry to the city and county.

A fund drive was begun by the Industrial Team in the spring to replenish depleted coffers and the drive's goal was set at $50,000, Although the goal was not realized, the drive did gain over $40,000 to help the city get new industry and jobs.

The city still faces a critical housing shortage, recognized by most civic leaders as a main hindrance in the city's hopes for growth.

Of the 4,288 registered voters in the county, 1,972 cast ballots in the primary election. Re-elected to the Colorado City School Board were Drew Ballard, Truman Bodine and Bob Motley.

Incumbents were re-elected in Loraine and Westbrook with Tommy Linam a new member.

Incumbent Elmer Martin was in a run-off with Mike Young for election to the Texas Legislature for the 61st District even though he was heavily favored in his home county. Robert Bruce and Billy Preston faced each other in a run-off for commissioner for Precinct Four (Loraine). Both Martin and Bruce won the run-off in June.

Bruce and Johnny Shackelford were elected as new commissioners in the county, Bruce taking Moody Richardson's place and Shackelford that of Drue Cawthron. Both Richardson and Cawthron did not seek re-election.

Justice of the Peace candidates elected were Leonard Henderson, Precinct One; George Sweatt, Precinct Two; Mary Lee Moore, Precinct Three and S. H. (Homer) Hart, Precinct Four.

The city council election in Colorado City saw eight candidates vying for three places on the council, voters deciding the issue by electing Marion Bassham, J. Lee Jones Jr. and Larry Hamner. In Loraine, city voters elected Mrs. Fay Hamilton and Donald E. Phillips to two places on the council. Westbrook voters elected Sam Oden, W. A. Bell and Sidney Jones to three places on the city council.

Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls lawyer, won the Democratic primary election for the Texas Senate and faced Republican contender Mary Kirchhoff, Plainview schoolteacher and farmwife, in the November general election, winning handily in the heavily Democrat 30th Senatorial District.

The Colorado City Playhouse group again had a successful year, staging four productions: "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," directed by Charlotte Northcutt; "Dear Ruth," directed by Martha Bisnette; "Butterflies Are Free," directed by Marsha Moore and the magnificient "Sound of Music," directed by Tandy Curlee.

A healthy economy was indicated by the three checks received from the state for city sales tax receipts: $19,250.66 for the first quarter; $21,388.43 for the second quarter and $22,231.75 for third quarter sales. Revenue sharing checks received by the city amounted to $42,121 at the end of the third quarter, with an estimated $56,567 total with the arrival of the final fourth check.

JANUARY

One of the year's first events in the county is the 4-H and FFA Livestock Show. Judging selected Jeff Merket's entry as Grand Champion Steer, Gary Don Harkey showing the Reserve Champion Steer. Grand Champion in the Swine Division was shown by Ronnie Miller, Reserve by Bruce Rich. David Brownfield showed the Grand Champion Lamb, Reserve by Bobby Moody. Both Merket and Harkey were from Loraine, Miller and Rich from Westbrook, Brownfield from Colorado City and Moody from Westbrook.

Elected to head the Chamber of Commerce for 1974 were Bobby Lemons, president; B. B. Hardee, vice president; Nelda Garrett, secretary and Glenn Thomas, treasurer. Members of the board of directors were, new members Shirley Delaney, Rick Bautisto, B. B. Hardee, Delbert Lewis and Bill Simmons; holdover directors, John Martin, Murrell Blassingame, Glenn Thomas, Don Hodges, Bob Chalker, Eddie Piland, Bobby Lemons, Nelda Garrett, Kenty Gentry and Billy Bruce Bridgford.

In meetings of school boards for the three school districts in the county, Loraine and Westbrook boards decided to delay starting time for classes because of the national change to Daylight Savings Time as a result of the energy crisis. School children were having to catch school busses in the dark. Colorado City's school board decided not to change the starting time for classes in the city.

Everyone, farmers and businessmen alike, were rejoicing over the county's record cotton harvest and ranchers were happy because of high prices for cattle.

Bill Hatler and his family moved to the city as he assumed duties as pastor of Oak Street Baptist Church. Northside Church of Christ celebrated their newly remodeled church building with an open house reception.

The Chamber of Commerce Banquet was held in Colorado High School cafeteria this year because construction had not yet started on the city's new Civic Center. Reagan Brown, assistant to Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe, was guest speaker, delivering a humorous and thoughtful talk about progress in the city. Incoming president Bobby Lemons presented outgoing president Kenneth Rogers with a memento for his year as leader of the Chamber and special awards went to the J. R. Erwin family as outstanding Farm Family; Charles Root, outstanding Chamber Member; Nelda Garrett, Woman of the Year for the B&PW and Larry Ivy, Distinguished Service Award for Colorado City Jaycees.

Edward Roach was honored by the ASCS for his 14 years of service on the ASCS county committee.

Michael Jones and Don Crawford, Loraine athletes, were picked for the Class B All-State Football Team.

City crews began tearing down the old buildings on the corner of 2nd and Oak, the site of the city's new Civic Center.

The energy shortage continued to change daily routines for county residents as speed limits for state and national highways were changed from 70 mph to 55 mph and highway crews began changing speed limit signs.

Westbrook Stock Show winners were, Swine, Ronnie Miller; Lamb, Bruce Rich; Broiler, Todd Whitesides.

County Commissioners awarded a 10 per cent across the board pay raise to all county employees, with the commissioners getting an additional $31 monthly.

Mitchell County oil pioneer Cap Slagel, 78, died. He was a member of the Oil Hall of Fame because of his wildcating activities in the Permian Basin and Mitchell County, bringing in the county's first oil producer in the western part of the county.

The Chamber's Community Development Committee requested ideas and suggestions for a more eye-pleasing community.

Weldon Brevard announced his resignation as CHS athletic director and head football coach. Brevard went to Ballinger as principal.

Guy McIlhaney and his family moved to the city as he was new conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

The gasoline shortage affected some local service stations, notably Thomas Brothers Texaco, Don's Phillips 66 and Kenneth Childers Chevron, as those stations ran out of gas before the end of the month and awaited delivery of their next month's allocation from refineries.

First State Bank at Loraine promoted Ronald Bruce to vice president and Mrs. Vida McDaniel to assistant cashier.

Eddie's Pharmacy began expansion as work started on an addition doubling the size of the building.

Mike Farda was selected as new athletic director at CHS.

FEBRUARY

Fuller's Trucktown was blockaded as a national truckers' strike hit West Texas. Truckers were protesting the 55 mph speed limit and high fuel prices as they blocked access to the fuel pumps in an area from Dallas to El Paso on I-20.

Building permits in the city neared the $1 million mark, actually totaling $985,210, including $350,000 for the hospital addition and $350,000 for 26 new units of housing for the elderly. A breakdown of figures included the following: $48,465 for businesses; $19,595 for additions to homes; $95,450 for St. Ann's Catholic Church and rectory; $121,700 for six new homes.

Loans for 1973 made by Sweetwater Production Credit Association amounted to $41.7 million, $6.3 million more than in 1972.

The Loraine Swine Show was won by Leslie Bruce, showing the Grand Champion; Reserve Champion shown by Mike Lee. Showmanship went to David Taylor, 1st; Steve Graham, 2nd and Joe Dunn, 3rd.

Vicki Beach, Nancy Smith and Joyce McKenney were recipients of the coveted Betty Crocker awards from CHS, Loraine and Westbrook, respectively.

Western Riding Club held their first point Playday for the year, announcing plans to hold such an event monthly and award prizes and ribbons to high point individuals, with year-end prizes to be awarded the high point winners.

Olson Sweat created a stir when he announced plans to close the office of county school superintendent when he won the election, as he was the only candidate who filed for the office. Sweat said the office was outmoded and he would initiate action to close it. Roy Davis Coles, county school superintendent for the past 40 years, did not seek re-election and Sweat filed for the office on the last day before the filing deadline.

Wayne Oliver was selected as outstanding county conservationist for the past year.

Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

It's been pretty obvious to everybody here and in surrounding counties that Mitchell County has been growing during the past four years.

However, the federal government apparently doesn't consider facts. The census bureau over the weekend reported that between 1970 and 1973, Mitchell County lost 6.1% of its population, dropping from 9,073 to 8,500.

Where they got this alleged fact is a mystery. The government didn't consult the Council of Governments, the city, the schools and the county nor with Jon Shamburger who headed the census taking here in 1970.

If they had checked with anybody on any facts and figures, the census bureau could have found out that Mitchell County has gained and not lost population in the last few years.

Take a look around and think for a few minutes. Off the top of your head, don't you know more people that have moved into Mitchell County or were born than have moved out or have died between 1970 and 1973?

Since 1970, Mitchell County's employment has increased steadily with many businesses now employing more people than before and there are now more businesses and industries than before.

Consider other facts such as an increasing birth rate, more water connections, more electrical hook-ups, more telephones, more registered voters, number of school children, more vehicles licensed. Any indicator that can be used to determine population shows that Mitchell County has gained and not lost population. Consider how many more homes are now occupied and how many more have been built here since 1970.

One figure I believe makes my point. In 1965 when Colorado City was slightly larger than it is now, there were 2,110 water hook-ups. In 1970, that figure dropped to 1,954. That figure in April 1974 stood at 2,054 and is even higher now. Also consider that there are more meters in use by utility companies here now than in 1970, that the number of school children has remained stable and that there are now more telephones than ever before in Mitchell County.

There is no possible way we could have lost population.

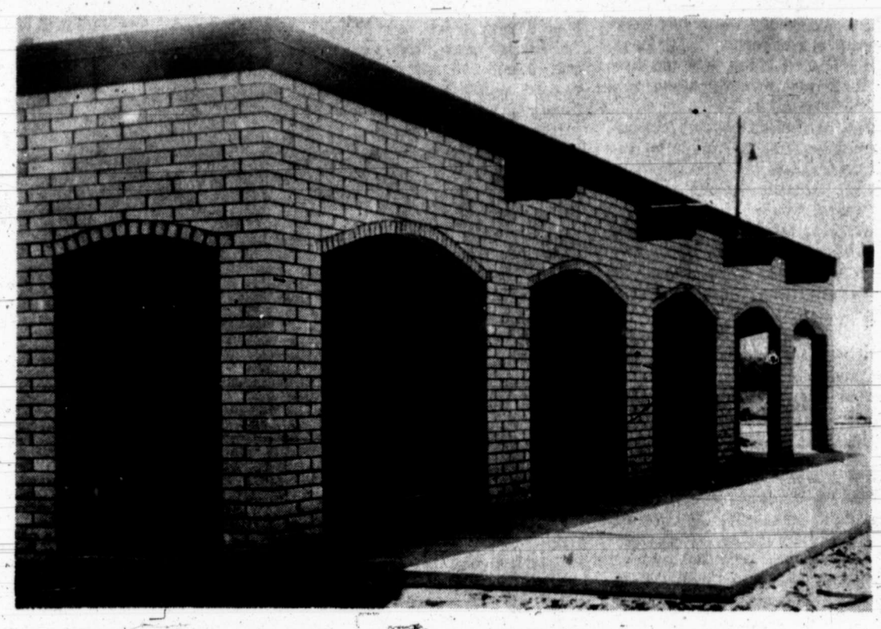

That is true for a number of other counties in this area including Dawson, Jones, Haskell, Comanche and Coleman. The federal government seems determined to kill all towns less than 50,000 population and they seem to think they can do it by putting out false figures.

I've got news for those folks! Mitchell County and its neighboring counties are alive and doing well and will continue to do so while those so-called "wonderful" metropolitian areas are wallowing around in pits of crime, recession and unemployment.

Doyle Charged With Assault

James A. Doyle is being held in Mitchell County jail on $10,000 bond following charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

City patrolmen Jerry Cowin, Pat Fuller and Roy Calhoun investigated after receiving a call Christmas Eve night that a man was beating a woman. The woman, a waitress at Jim's Cafe, was badly beaten and also suffering from knife wounds. She was taken to Root Memorial Hospital for treatment and the man arrested. According to reports, he had served a prison term and would probably have his parole revoked as a result of the felony charge.

Civic Center Open House Set Sunday

An Open House of Colorado City's new Civic Center will be held from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 5.

Construction on the facility began last spring and most work on the building was completed by Sept. 1. However, tile for the floor of the foyer and main room could not be obtained due to shortages of materials and the tile was not installed until late November. The building has been in use since early September.

The City Council of Colorado City scheduled the Open House to afford everyone an opportunity to see the building and also to meet the city's new City Manager, James Campbell, who takes over as city manager effective today (Thursday, Jan. 2).

A large number of persons have seen portions of the building but have not had a chance to see all of the facility.

City officials expressed their appreciation to everyone for helping make the construction of the building possible.

Since the building has been in use, it has been lauded as one of the finest facilities in existence for a city this size.

The center has over 7,000 square feet of space with a large all-electric kitchen, a large meeting room that has space to seat some 400 persons; office space for the Chamber of Commerce, a small conference room, office space for the Civic Center manager, Margaret Oyler, restrooms, a cloak room and a storage room for storage of extra chairs and tables.

The meeting room has been named the Baker Room in honor of the Baker family who donated part of the land where the Civic Center is located.

J. A. Sadler Jr.

...Today Last Day

Sadler Ends 19 Years With City

This is the last day on the job for the City Manager of Colorado City, J. A. Sadler Jr., 49.

Sadler gave notice to the city in September that he was resigning, effective Jan. 2.

For Sadler, today is the end of more than 19 years of service to the city. Sadler has not made any plans beyond today, saying he wants to wait and see what develops out of several possible opportunities. He anticipates that he will be moving from Colorado City soon.

With Sadler's resignation comes the end of a long era that has seen the Sadler family prominent in the development of Colorado City.

Sadler's father and mother moved to Colorado City in 1906. The senior Sadler was active in real estate and helped put together several housing developments here. In addition, he served as mayor for more than a decade.

Junior Sadler, after a stint in the service in World War II, joined his father in the real estate business and went to work for the city in November 1955. From that time until February 1968, he served in every city position and it was at that time, that he was given the job of city manager, succeeding Ford Merritt who retired.

In 1947, Sadler married the former Yvonne Mikle who had moved to Colorado City from Hamilton in 1940.

Junior and his wife, have two sons, Pat, who is stationed with the Air Force in Germany, and Mike, who works for Motorola Corporation in Lubbock.

Sadler told the Record that he has enjoyed working for the people of Colorado City. He feels the city has made giant strides forward during his administration as city manager.

Some of the items on a long list of achievements by the city under Sadler's administration include:

- 40,000 feet of new water lines.

--New museum and police station.

--Fire department has grown from three to seven units and

Riding Club Officers Elected

Following presentation of Playday Awards after the awards banquet recently in the Medallion Room of Lone Wolf Electric, members of the Western Riding Club elected officers for the 1975 club year.

Elected president of the group was Nubbin Rowe; vice president Bobby Bowers; secretary Joyce Northcutt and treasurer Judi Powell.

Outgoing officers include Lance Walker, acting president; Sue Guelker, secretary and Shirley Bradbury, treasurer.

New directors for the coming year were also elected. They are: Mike Hammans, Choppy Rees, Dink Rees, Don Powell, Charles Northcutt, Bubba Swann and Keith Neff.

The seven outgoing directors are: Billy Joe Wood, Troy Walls, J. W. Hicklin, Joe Boyd, Bruce Byrne, Bobby Bowers and James Sprott.

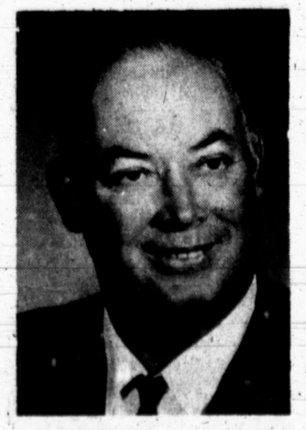

Playhouse Officers Elected

A meeting was held at the Opera House by Colorado City Playhouse Monday night and new officers for the coming year elected.

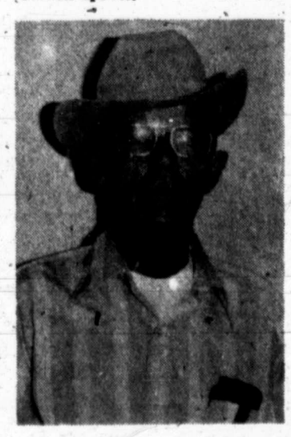

Coleen Palmer was elected as president, Lovess Curlee, vice president; Larry Debusk, secretary and Carolyn Smith, treasurer.

Joining Carl Moore and R. W. Baker on the board of directors will be newly elected Jolyn Mikow.

Past president C. L. (Sonny) Pawkett Jr. said that plans for the Awards Banquet would be made by the new president.

Sworn In

Three county office holders elected to their first term were sworn in yesterday (Wednesday) in ceremonies at the courthouse. They are, from left, Caddo Matthews who succeeds County School Superintendent Roy Davis Coles; Johnny Shackelford, who succeeds Drue Cawthron as commissioner of Precinct 2, and Robert Bruce, who succeeds Moody Richardson as Precinct 4 commissioner. The three outgoing office holders did not seek re-election.

rest of four persons for possession and selling of marijuana after $20,000 was found near the Iatan Road in the western part of the county. The money had been "misplaced" by a woman, was found and returned ot her and a travelling companion, who then led law enforcement officers to the marijuana bust in the Big Bend area.

J. Ralph Lee resigned from the Industrial Team and Museum board because of illness. He was in Waco with his daughter and an out-patient at a Waco hospital.

L. M. Dawson, Westbrook superintendent, explained to Record readers how closing the office of county school superintendent would affect the Westbrook school system. Dawson said that Westbrook would have to hire a tax assessor-collector and bookkeeper at a cost of about $15,000 annually.

Wolves Band honored Pam Johnson as Sweetheart, Mark Reynolds as Beau and Joe Vincent and Debbra Wood as most valuable boy and girl during their annual Band Banquet.

Fuel shortages and federal regulations caused J&J Gulf Service Station on I-20 to close at noon each day during most of February, as the station received only 300 gallons of gasoline per day from Feb. 10 to March 1. Normal sales at the station was about 2,000 gallons per day. Gulf president Z. D. Bonner sent a telegram to station owners Jimmy Williams and Jessie Wiggins stating that Gulf was being forced to sell 15 per cent of their crude supply to other refineries, causing the shortage.

The Museum board elected J. Lee Jones Jr. as chairman of directors, along with D. M. Merritt, Jody Neff, Bob Ratliff, Mrs. R. P. Ainsworth, Peggy Bagwell, Lewis Elliott, Bob Fee, Will Berry, Ray Anne Carlock, Mrs. Charles Thompson and Lois Burns.

Both Eddie Piland and "Pint" Richards announced that they would not seek re-election to the city council and after some delay, Finis L. "Buck" May decided to run again.

Winners in UIL competition at CHS included Kathy Crockett, 3rd in Mathematics; Martha Sparks, 3rd in Shorthand; Elaine Ruffin 2nd Shorthand; Jackie Palmer, 3rd Typing; D'Ann Dement, 4th Shorthand and Helen Haggerton, 1st Shorthand. First, second and third in AAA division in Typing went to Jackie Palmer, Debbie Walding and Ginger Noel, respectively.

Flu forced closing Loraine, then Colorado City schools for a few days in February. Loraine's Michael Jones signed a letter of intent with the University of Houston and Loraine's Varsity boys basketball team was undefeated in District 10-B play.

Pond & Merritt celebrated their 50th anniversary in the dry cleaning business in the same location on Walnut Street.

Mike Hart, assistant coach in the school system, was named as head basketball coach, replacing Dean Ingram.

Arson was suspected in a rash of grass fires that plagued city and county volunteer firemen. Since Jan. 1, firemen had received 70 calls, comparing with only 60 calls for the entire year in 1973. A reward of $250 was offered by the city for information leading to arrest and conviction of arsonists.

Telephone hook-ups increased 5 per cent over 1972 for a total of 4,300 in the city.

L. R. Dunn, high school principal at Loraine, was selected by the board as Loraine superintendent, succeeding Tom Harkey.

The USDA ruled that leased cotton allotments would not be eligible for disaster payments, affecting many of the county's farmers and landowners.

TESCO and CRMWD made arrangements for delivery of 28 acre feet of water per day, totaling 1,800 acre feet, from Lake Spence via Moss Creek Lake and the Foster Pump Station to Lake Colorado City. The lake's level was dropping daily from dry weather and water use and the county needed moisture which did not come.

Museum visitors totaled 4,134 for 1973, 36 from foreign countries, 393 from out of state, 2,460 local and 1,245 from out of town.

The county commissioners' court approved a child care center for the county, agreeing to match $32,000 in state funds with $3,000 locally for financing the first year of operation. Plans called for full day care for children from 2-4 years of age and part day care for ages 5-8, children of working mothers. The center was begun in the Community Center Building on 10th Street by director Jon Shamburger.

A gas fire at TESCO was doused by volunteer firemen as flames shot 200 feet into the air after a gas leak exploded. No damage was done to the plant.

A town hall meeting launched the $50,000 fund drive for the Industrial Team's efforts to get new industry into the city.

Postal rates were increased from 8¢ to 10¢ for letters; 11¢ to 13¢ for air mail and 6¢ to 8¢ for post cards.

MARCH

Meetings were held across the state and in Mitchell County, certifying ranchers for use of the M-44 cyanide gun for predator control against sheep and goat killing coyotes.

J. Ralph Lee, 79, died in Waco after a lengthy illness. Lee had come to the city in 1925 and operated Colorado Steam Laundry, helped start the museum, was a charter member of the Industrial Team and was honored as Outstanding Chamber member in 1972.

Hearings were slated by the Texas Highway Commission in key West Texas cities concerning the extension of Interstate 27 from Amarillo and Lubbock southward to the Texas coast. Colorado City's Chamber of Commerce, represented by the Highway Committee, attended the hearings, explaining the advantages of extending the highway through Colorado City and connecting with Interstate 20 here. The hearings were to be compiled into a report and forwarded to Washington for a decision early in 1975.

The 2nd annual Colorado City Record Golf Tournament was held March 7 at Colorado Country Club, 12 area high school golf teams competing in the 18-hole tournament. Hamlin won the team trophy and medalist was Munday's Cook. Colorado City was represented by Mike Kelley, Bobby Rogers, Brad Brevard, Steve Morris and Scott Weaver.

After giving teachers a chance to turn in educational specifications for the various departments, the school board gave final approval to the plans for the new high school, giving architect Tommie Huckabee the go-ahead for building the $1.2 million secondary complex and turning the present high school buildings into a middle school.

The Industrial Team fund drive had gained contributions of $13,000.

Loraine's Brenda Oliver and Michael Jones were selected to 10-B all-district basketball team.

Colorado City's 8th and 9th track teams won the Ballinger 8th and 9th Relays.

James Ausbie was the Wolf selection on District 3-AAA basketball team.

The first place middle weight Limousin at the Houston Fat Stock Show was shown by Casey Merket of Loraine and bred in Mitchell County by Lee Roy Cornutt.

B. D. Click of Abilene was awarded the contract to construct the city's new Civic Center even though theirs was the highest of the bids submitted, causing some representatives from lower bidding companies to leave in a huff. B. D. Click's bid was for $148,470 to be completed in 150 days. Texas Hotel-Restaurant Supply of Fort Worth won the kitchen equipment bid at $26,166.

Efforts were made by the Industrial Team, working with TESCO and a Fort Worth building contractor, to build new houses in Colorado City. If 10 people in the city wanted new houses, then the firm would bring crews and start on the building, possibly even building apartments. No city residents signed up for the houses.

C. R. Bellomy succeeded G. R. Admire as manager of Lone Star Gas Co., moving his family to the city from Tyler.

The 8th and 9th track teams continued their winning ways by taking first places in Winters Junior Blizzard Relays.

Recent court rulings released impounded Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) funds, allowing $36,870 to come to the county farmers and ranchers for conservation practices approved by the ASCS.

Loraine's First State Bank sold to two Waco men and a Clarendon man by president Herbert Mearse. Michael Vaughn, Robert Sullivan and Melvin Booth were the new owners promoting Ronald Bruce to executive vice president.

The site was prepared and materials moved in, beginning construction on the new Civic Center.

CHS girls volleyball team was district co-champions with Lamesa but the Colorado City bunch won the right to represent the district after defeating Lamesa in a special play-off game in Big Spring. The girls went to the regional tournament in Lubbock, won their first game with Graham but were defeated by the eventual winners, Monahans.

Colorado City was one of the places scheduled for a road engagement of "Reynard the Fox," presented by a touring theatre group from the department of drama at the University of Texas in Austin.

APRIL

Larry Hamner, Marion Bassham and J. Lee Jones Jr. were elected to the city council in places formerly held by Eddie Piland, Lloyd Richards and Buck May, joining Jody Neff, Rick Perkin, Hank Bryant and C. C. Burt.

John Trotter came to Colorado City as new wire chief for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., taking the place of Rick Bautisto, who was promoted to Plainview. Bautisto also resigned from the Chamber board when he moved.

The 53,800 bale guess of William Jones, FFA member at CHS, was the winning guess for coming the closest to the actual bale count for cotton produced in the county. Jones was given a gift certificate which cotton farmers hoped he would use to buy a cotton shirt.

A two-day grass fire, whipped by gusty winds, burned 45 square miles of pasture land south of Westbrook on 8 ranches. Hardest hit was Jinks Powell's Black Ranch. Weary volunteer firemen were aided by units from Coahoma, Loraine, Westbrook, Roscoe, Sterling City, Howard County, Webb Air Force base, Forsan and Knott, as well as oil company and private volunteers and equipment.

A San Angelo contractor, Craig Hardegree, announced plans to build houses on 14th Street. The 3-bedroom, 2-bath houses would range in cost from $19,500 to $21,000. He said he would build at least three houses on 14th Street and was helped in his efforts in getting the building lots by the Industrial Team.

April 7 was the first day services were held in St. Ann's Catholic Church building and open house was held that afternoon for visitors.

Charges were filed in a series of cattle rustlings near Cuthbert as two steers belonging to Waddell Strain were recovered by the sheriff's department from a ranch in southeastern New Mexico. Manuel Del Real was charged with cattle-rustling.

Prices for city services were increased: sewer from $1 to $1.25 per month; trash (home) from $1.75 to $2; trash (business) from $1.75 to $10.25 range to $5 minimum up to $30 maximum; water rates from 3,000 gallons minimum increased from $3.25 to $5.25.

The biggest marijuana haul in the county's history was made by Mitchell County Sheriff's Department as about 35 pounds worth $15,000 was found in an old shed on a farm north of Loraine.

Honor graduates at Colorado High School were announced: Debra Ruffin, 95 average, and Susan Blassingame, 94.

Officers were elected for the Noon Lions: Bill Carter, president; Tandy Curlee, vice president; Buddy Hertenberger, 2nd vice president; Jerry Reynolds, 3rd vice president; Sefton Pickens, secretary-treasurer; Mel Palmer, Lion Tamer and Murrell Blassingame, Tail Twister.

Plans were finalized for the opening of Woodland School for the county's mentally and physically handicapped. Northside Church of Christ donated use of their educational building for use by the school, aided by the Teens Aid the Retarded and Association for Retarded Citizens. A perpetual garage sale in the gray house north of City National Bank helps fund the school.

The Industrial Team Fund Drive had topped the $37,000 mark by mid-April.

Pam Johnson and Wanda Williams were selected to the All-Regional volleyball team, with Johnson, Williams and Jackie Palmer making the All-District list.

Haney and Sivley of Abilene were awarded the contract for constructing the new high school, bidding low with $2,066,495, completion within 450 days. Some items had to be trimmed from the planned building and renovating program as bids were $224,459 more than allotted from the $1.75 million bond issue and interest.

George M. Dorman retired as FmHA county supervisor, succeeded by David P. Marion, who moved here with his family in the latter part of April.

Wolves Band Boosters elected Weldon McMillan as president; Mildred Mitchell, vice president and re-elected Dorene Walding as secretary-treasurer.

Margie Ballard won first place in the Twirl-Off in El Paso's National Baton Twirlers Association meeting.

By mid-April, Colorado City firemen had answered 134 fire calls, the weekend fire which burned 10 sections of the Robert Brennand ranch south of Westbrook one of the latest calls.

Class II addictive drugs, were taken from Eddie's Pharmacy in a break-in discovered Sunday afternoon.

District UIL winners were Sally Smith, feature writing; Cindy Holder, spelling; Elaine Ruffin and Helen Haggerton, shorthand; Lani Muinch, Jackie Palmer and Debbie Walding in typing, all from Colorado City; Linda Belvin, ready writing; Sherry Hackfeld, spelling; Jay Sanford and Krystal Dougherty, typing and Susan Mahon in prose reading, all from Lorair Tim Oden, prose reading; Stephen Hines, poetry interpretation; Julie Sweatt, spelling and Joyce McKenney, ready writing, all from Westbrook.

Drought conditions in the county began to cause hardship as farmers were ready to plant crops but no rainfall since last fall had caused many fields to be too dry to plant.

Eddie Floyd Hemphill, 5-year old son of Floyd Hemphill, was killed in a farm accident when he fell under the wheels of a tractor.

Five girls from CHS advanced to state finals in UIL competition: Sally Smith in Journalism; Cindy Holder, Spelling; Helen Haggerton in shorthand; with Elaine Ruffin as alternate, and both Jackie Palmer and Lani Muinch in typing.

Mark Moseley came to Colorado City as conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, moving here upon graduation from Texas Tech.

R. B. Baker retired and Eddie Mitchell was named office manager of the Colorado City office of Sweetwater Production Credit Association.

The West Texas Junior Rodeo Association held a regular AJRA rodeo here in the latter part of April.

Marijuana "farms," some 36 plants in different locations near the Colorado River and Interstate 20, were uprooted by the Sheriff's Department, assisted by County Judge Bill Carter. An arrowhead hunter discovered more plants in a creek bed near the river.

A 45,000 pound cement pump truck belonging to Dowell and driven by Jesse Dominguez of Colorado City, demolished a county bridge across North Champion Creek, falling into the creek on top of the bridge. No one was injured.

Honor graduates were announced for Loraine and Westbrook: Nancy Smith, valedictorian and Tanna Oliver, salutatorian of Loraine High School; Joyce McKenney and Debbie Webb at Westbrook High School.

Woody Anderson was elected to the Chamber board of directors to fill the vacancy created by Rick Bautisto's move to Plainview.

Plans were announced for Larmer Manufacturing Co., makers of a revolutionary new oil field pump, to move to Colorado City. The company also will assemble steel stairs and railings for apartments and mobile homes. Ernie Larmer, former manager of the Chamber of Commerce here and in Fort Worth, heads the company.

The CHS Wolves Band won Sweepstakes awards at the invitational Amarillo Band Festival, winning honors for both sight reading and concert performance.

Wanda Williams qualified for the state track meet by winning first place in shot put and second in the discus in the regional meet.

MAY

The Industrial Fund had grown to almost $40,000 by the first of the month, with more contributions pledged later in the year.

A turnout of 2,000 voters was expected in the primary election, since it was a gubernatorial election year, but not quite that many came to the polls. Dolph Briscoe received most of the county's votes for governor and Elmer Martin got most of the votes for representative.

Lani Munich won first place in state competition in UIL typing; Jackie Palmer won fourth statewide in the same event; Helen Haggerton placed second in shorthand; Sally Smith, third in journalism feature writing and Cindy Holder, fourth in spelling.

Loraine's Michael Jones took first place in class B state competition in both 100 and 220 yard dashes, second in long jump and third in high jump.

Vehicles registered in the county numbered 6,762, with 3,821 of the total being passenger cars, 1,136 trucks and the remainder including trailer houses, machinery and motorcyles.

Wanda Williams was honored by selection to the All-State Team for volleyball.

In a letter dated May 4, Mayor Pro-Tem J. Lee Jones Jr. called for sweeping changes in city government, not the least of which would be raising the tax assessment from 45 per cent of market value to 55 per cent of actual value in order to pay for up-dating the city's water system and other modernizing. Copies of the letter were sent to all members of the city council and included just about every aspect of city government.

Jerry Cowin joined the city police force, coming to the city from Paint Rock where he was a sheriff's deputy.

Karen and Allen Davidson, the younger children of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Morris, were taken to John Sealey Hospital in Galveston after receiving severe shock from a downed electrical line near their Lake Colorado City home following a wind storm. The storm also badly damaged a new $77,000 fishing pier at Lake Colorado City State Park.

Buddy Hertenberger, highway patrolman in Colorado City; Jimmy Driver, drivers license examiner from Sweetwater and Simon Barrera, Chief Sheriff's Deputy, all participated in a program to teach Spanish speaking drivers training so that they might get their licenses.

Bob Lindley, assistant district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, met with the city council, explaining that the city could qualify for assistance under the 1973 Federal-Aid Highway Act for funds to improve the movement of traffic. The co-

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY A NEW CAR!

Don't be mislead by higher prices!!

DID YOU KNOW...

1. DID YOU KNOW... the value of your trade-in is at a 15-year high?
2. DID YOU KNOW... the 1975 models average up to 35% better gas mileage than older models?
3. DID YOU KNOW... maintenance costs are lower on 1975 models because of solid state ignition, engine improvements, and sealed bearings?
4. DID YOU KNOW... the 1975's are better values? Most are equipped with steel belted radial tires guaranteed for 40,000 miles of trouble free driving.
5. DID YOU KNOW... extended credit past 36 months is available through many dealers?
6. DID YOU KNOW... the 1975's have cleaner more efficient engines with exhaust cleaning by the new catalytic converter?
7. DID YOU KNOW... the costs of parts and labor to refurbish your present car, tires, tune-up, etc., make the 1975 models an even better buy?
8. DID YOU KNOW... your area new car dealers are ready to make some of the most attractive offers on 1975 models that you have seen in years?
9. DID YOU KNOW... your local new car dealers have the best selection of 1975 models, styles and options to choose from right now on their showroom floors?

FACT:

Back in the "good old days," 1954 for example, the average buyer spent 5.1 months of his income to pay for a standard size car.

Today the same comparable car takes only 4.4 months' pay and the buyer gets a lot more automobile in the bargain.

Inflation has increased the value of your present car. It's worth more in trade than you might think. Get a FREE appraisal from any of the value-conscious local dealers.

--Randy Sanders, 7 games, 7 of 19 free throws, 15 plusses and 49 points.

--Nolan Russell, 8 games, 5 of 8 free throws, 13 plusses and 9 points.

--Steve Parker, 5 games, 2 of 3 free throws, 19 plusses and 20 points.

Tournament Action

Colorado City's Wolves lost their first game in the Coahoma Tournament Friday, playing Midland Lee Junior Varsity to a 71-52 finish.

Wayne McKee was high point scorer for the Wolves, tallying 14 points.

The loss put the Wolves in the tournament's Consolation bracket.

They next played Rankin and won, 58-55 as Randy Sanders scored 13 points but the final game with Greenwood saw the opponents come from behind to win, 75-69 as Jackie Ellis was leading rebounder with 14, leading defender with 10 plusses and scored 14 points; Don Boger made 17 and Dan Smith, 12.

Wolves Lose To Slaton

Both Varsity and Junior Varsity Wolves teams played Slaton Monday night and suffered defeat by three points. Varsity score was 46-43 and Junior Varsity, 49-46.

Jackie Ellis led scoring in the Varsity game with 14 points and both he and David Childers had 5 rebounds each. Randy Sanders and Don Boger scored 8 points each.

Junior Varsity scoring was by Benny Arispe, 6; Manuel Arellano, 4; Craig Carter, 11; Steve Belvin, 8; Jim Jordan, 9; Pete Parham, 2; Steve Marcom, 4 and Drex Grisham, 2. Jordan led the rebounding with 10. Arispe had 6 defensive plusses and Grisham and Marcom, 5 each.

uncil and city manager J. A. Sadler Jr. were urged to come up with a list of improvements needed in the city's traffic department.

Mitchell County Democrats met in their county convention and elected delegates to the state convention in September. Tom Rees was elected chairman of the party in the county and Mac McKinnon, permanent secretary.

Justice of the Peace for Precinct One, Leonard Henderson, resigned after recently winning the primary election for another term, wresting election from his opponent M. O. "Odie" Wise. County Commissioners accepted the resignation and postponed naming a replacement, as they knew their choice would have an effect on the outcome of November's general election.

The city council called for stricter enforcement of the city's speed limits and dog ordinance.

Colorado Country Club stockholders voted down a proposal to build a new club house during a special called meeting. The vote was 51, no, and 36, yes.

The county's farmers and ranchers were faced with another shortage, this time in baling wire. No wire or twine was available throughout the state and costs had spiraled from $12.90 a hundred-weight roll to $40 and $50, even when it could be found.

Colorado City chapter of Future Farmers of America were rated "superior" in area convention in Pecos.

Outstanding Senior athlete at CHS was deemed to be Arnold Parker and Buddy Hertenberger was recognized as Faithful Fan at an All-Sports Supper at CHS.

The city council was studying plans developed by city manager J. A. Sadler Jr. to build a new fire station for the city at a cost of $22,000, using federal revenue sharing monies. The council also continued to work on proposals for improving the city streets with the aid of federal money.

The John Phillip Sousa award for outstanding service to the Wolves Band went to Joe Vincent, senior band member, during the massed band concert in Wolves Gym. Senior pins went to Vincent, Pam Johnson, Debbra Wood, Joe Woolsey, Maurene Vann, Kelvin McMilan, Greg Chaney, Lana Self, Griff Hanks, Gaye Oliver and John Reeves.

Pat Fuller's four-year old modern brick home north of I-20 was completely destroyed by fire in mid-May. Firemen were hampered because of lack of water in the area.

Colorado High School student Mark Kimmel was selected to attend the 14th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas in Austin, to be accompanied by high school science teacher Ken Burnam. They were sponsored by TESCO.

County commissioners had decided to appoint Odie Wise to fill out the vacancy in Precinct One Justice of the Peace post, but Wise received notification from the Veterans Administration that he was approved for 100 per cent disability because of war wounds and commissioners again postponed their decision on a replacement for Leonard Henderson.

Les Fuller, 58, owner of Fuller's Trucktown on I-20, was found dead in the den of his China Grove home, shot once in the chest with a .25 caliber automatice pistol found beside the body. An investigation followed but no foul play was suspected in the death.

An additional 16x90 foot warehouse was constructed at Rogers Delinted Cottonseed Co. on I-20 at a cost exceeding $50,000.

Mitchell County Ambulance Service finally began operation, a joint operation of the city, county and hospital district. Pocket pagers are employed to call ambulance drivers to duty from their regular jobs. The ambulance is housed in a garage behind the police station which was recently renovated with installation of a wider door to admit the ambulance.

A $2 million hail storm hit the city the last Saturday of May, completely destroying the stained glass windows on the north side of the Methodist Church and causing extensive roof and window damage throughout the city.

JUNE

The city council met to set the revenue sharing budget, turning down the idea of a new fire station for the city. They also appointed R. L. "Mike" Mikle as City Fire Marshall, following the resignation of former marshall James Sprott. The revenue sharing monies amounted to $97,714.07, to be spent largely on water and sewer improvements and paving projects in the city.

Both Elmer Martin and Robert Bruce won their run-off election, Martin for state representative for the 61st district and Bruce winning the Democrat nomination for county commissioner from Precinct Four.

An Abilene man, Felix Rosser of Turner Supply in Abilene, charged that a recent city council purchase was illegal because it exceeded $2,000 and the council did not take bids on the purchased items. The council stated that money used for the purchase was from the Jaycees sale of their former Civic House and was also a savings broughtabout by Jim Williams of Texas Hotel and Restaurant Supply of Fort Worth when he pointed out ways the council could save money in their purchase of kitchen equipment. The saved money was used to purchase tables and chairs for the Civic Center from Williams. City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. said that he did not think it was illegal, the order had already been made and it was too late to cancel it and the city's attorney, Dell Barber was present when it was made and did not say anything about it being illegal. Rosser said his firm wanted to bid on the tables and chairs and thought he could have made a lower bid.

County commissioners appointed Perry Barber as interim J. P. for the unexpired term of Leonard Henderson in Precinct One.

A wind storm hit the city, causing perhaps $250,000 or more in damage to electric lines, trees, roofs, fences and totally destroying the concession stand at Wolves Stadium and a press box atop the baseball field concession stand at the high school.

Due to a mix-up at city hall, some important letters from the Texas State Department of Health were misplaced and not answered and the state threatened to withdraw "state approval" if the city did not answer the letters. The city was not in violation of any health laws, but the action was threatened as a way to get the city to respond to the letters. Some of the council members said they remembered discussing the matter with Mayor Mike Burt and others could not remember. The incident caused a furor in the council with the result that the council decided to stamp and file all correspondence and make it readily available to council members.

County commissioners approved plans for a $45,000 addition to the county jail and heard a request from Mitchell County Sheriff Bill McGuire for an additional deputy, as Chief Deputy Simon Barrera had submitted his resignation because of long hours and poor pay. The court did not approve hiring an additional deputy. Troy Walls was made Chief Deputy and Randy Wilkinson was hired as deputy.

V. W. Matlock, owner of Matlock Butane and Farm Supply on E. 80, announced plans to build a 70 x 150-foot main building and a 40 x 60-foot warehouse on I-20 near Trucktown and Wood's Boots.

Westbrook School also announced a building program calling for construction of a new auditorium and extensive renovation of the existing building and gymnasium. The $400,000 building program was okayed by voters in the district with no raise in taxes or tax rates. The 6,638-square foot building, with 398 seats, will be built on the south side of the present building and office space enlarged.

The Industrial Fund Drive reached the $43,000 mark, almost to the $50,000 goal.

County farmers faced drought conditions as 83 farms qualified for prevented planting payments from the ASCS office representing 4,590 acres of cotton not planted. Prevented payments were not much but helped farmers defray part of their production expenses for fuel and fertilizer.

Corporation Court judge W. A. Brimberry suffered a heart attack at his Lake Colorado City home and died. He was 73.

Wanda Williams continued in the news as she represented Colorado City in the All-Star volleyball game in Brownwood during a meeting of the state's volleyball coaches.

City National Bank announced plans for a new addition for office space and a community meeting room. The 5,500-square foot building will match the existing bank building.

Pete Fincher toured Washington D. C. during a national 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour. He won the Gold Star award in 1973 for his 4-H work.

A decision was finally reached for the Democratic Party in the county to name Perry Barber as nominee for Precinct One Ju-

Board of Directors
Mitchell County Hospital District
Colorado City, Texas 79512

Gentlemen:

We have examined the Balance Sheet of the several funds of the Mitchell County Hospital District as of September 30, 1974, and the related income statement for the period then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

Explanations and comments on accounting procedures are explained in the "Notes to Financial Statements."

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and income statement present fairly the financial position of the Mitchell County Hospital District at September 30, 1974, and the results of its operations for the period then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on the basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
Joe H. Morren
Certified Public Accountant

stice of the Peace in the November general election.

The school board for Colorado Independent School District set the 1974-75 budget, calling for a 24¢ increase in taxes to pay for the bond issue for the new high school. However, TESCO representatives met with the board in a later meeting and, by making their tax payment earlier in the year, managed to save themselves and other taxpayers two cents, so that the increase amounted to only 22 cents. Construction started on the new buildings in late June.

An El Paso man was killed in a flaming car crash as his car went off I-20 overpass at the Dorn Road. Marion Carlton Brewer, 64, was killed in the one-car wreck.

Izzy Freudenrich, 53, of Dallas, owner of Colorado City Manufacturing, died in his home of an apparent heart attack. His was the first industry to come to the city after local civic leaders launched a drive to attract industry. The plant opened here in 1969.

Don Hodges, conservationist with Soil Conservation Service here, transferred to Sherman and was succeeded by Van C. Mills.

JULY

A huge crowd attended the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Fly-In at the local airport, as planes came in early for breakfast on the Fourth of July. J. O. Dockrey was chairman of the event.

Winner of the Home Improvement contest was Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradberry of 945 Chestnut, recipients of a $50 check for their improvements.

Don Delaney and Johnnie Grubbs won the Mens Doubles division of the city-wide Lions Club Tennis Tournament. Mel Palmer and daughter, Jackie, won the mixed doubles; David Hargrove won Men's Singles.

A Motorcycle Rodeo was started with a parade through downtown Colorado City. Ken Burnam was director of the popular event, which saw a number of out-of-town entries as well as local. Winners were determined according to ages and motorcycle size. Otis Ruffin of Colorado City was overall high point winner and Marshall Helm made the longest Wheelie.

Day and Night Grocery and the concession stand at Little League Park were damaged by fires, the fire at the park determined to be the work of arsonists by the evidence found at the scene.

The city council commissioned the Lubbock firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper to study the city's water system and make recommendations for improvements.

A new high school principal was hired at Loraine High School, C. T. Hudson, a Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force Reserves and former teacher at Connally High School in Waco and Odessa High School. He taught one year at Lubbock while completing requirements for a Master's degree at Texas Tech University.

Figures released on the county's 1973 oil production showed that over 5 million barrels of oil were produced from the county's oil fields. The county has recorded production since 1920.

Colorado City's Little League All-Stars played a Snyder team here but lost to the better pitching team.

Donations were taken for a new four-wheel drive water tanker for use by the volunteer fire department and it was bought and equipped at a cost of about $4,000.

Loraine's city council called for enforcement of the city's dog ordinance, requiring dogs to have rabies shots and tags or else they would be killed. A large number of stray dogs caused the strict enforcement.

Loraine Pee Wees won their tournament with Hermleigh and Ira teams.

Local veterinarian Dr. J. D. Williams Jr. advised ranchers not to panic over reports of anthrax from central Texas. None of the cattle disease was found in the county.

County Attorney Joe Earnest resigned, accepted by the county commissioners, and they also awarded contract for the new jail addition to Stone Construction of Colorado City, submitting a low bid of $66,649 after one bidder withdrew when specifications were made clear. County Probation officer Jerry Evermon also submitted his resignation, giving his intentions to further his education as his reason for moving.

Coolidge Hunt, former Lubbock High School and Texas Tech football player, was hired as head coach at Loraine High School.

An Iranian student pilot, recently graduated from the training school at Webb Air Force base, drowned during an outing at Lake Colorado City. Baba Ali Saffari, 23, drowned while a friend shouted for help on the bank. It was the first drowning in more than a year at the lake.

Fred Lowery was evangelist for the Mitchell County Crusade for Christ, held the last part of July and the first part of August in Wolves Stadium. Wanda Jackson, well-known country and western vocalist, was a guest singer during Friday night's final service.

AUGUST

The county commissioners met in a special meeting, accepted the resignation of Perry O. Barber as Precinct One Justice of the Peace and immediately appointed him county attorney. Henry C. Doss was appointed to fill the JP post.

The FCIC appraiser received guidelines for appraising drought-stricken cotton and grain sorghum crops which more realistically reflected the true condition of crops and estimated production. Plant counts were abandoned in favor of estimating plant condition, as a 6-inch high cotton stalk was recognized as having no potential for production.

The new Civic Center was almost finished, with finish work on the inside the only thing remaining to complete.

Some of Mitchell County's 4-H'ers attended a two-day camp session at Camp Butman.

Colorado City's Junior Teenage Braves defeated Sweetwater in a Snyder play-off and advanced to the state finals in Conroe, but after long delays in the rainy town near Houston, were defeated.

Crude oil and natural gas production in the county was estimated at $19.5 million, ranking the 73rd in the state. Figures for 1974 are expected to be much higher as the price has jumped from $3.84 a barrel for crude oil in 1973 to $6.70 in 1974.

Colorado City Manufacturing celebrated its fifth anniversary by having an Open House and inviting all city and county residents to attend and 206 guests registered. Over 100 employees earn an average payroll of $10,000 per week in the 23,000 square-foot building.

More than 1,000 attended the Lone Wolf Co-op Annual Meeting held in the Co-opatorium.

New and returning teachers were welcomed by the Chamber of Commerce as they met for in-service sessions, getting ready to start fall classes.

Western Texas College opened an office at Kelley Elementary, staffed with personnel to answer questions about the offering of extension courses to be taught for the first time in Colorado City.

Caddo Matthews, pastor of Plainview Baptist Church, added quite a bit of interest to the local election when he announced his write-in candidacy for the office of county school superintendent, opposing Democrat nominee Olson Sweat and his intention to close the office if voters approved.

Schools were ready to open, as Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook had completed their hiring to fill teacher vacancies. Football workouts began.

Margie Ballard was back from a very successful venture in Chicago and on the Notre Dame campus, as she brought back the "Miss Chicagoland" title and a number of trophies for her twirling routines.

Colorado City Jaycees reorganized, electing Gary Harkins, president; Richie Wistrand, vice president; Steve Oyler, 2nd vice president and Stan Shawn, secretary-treasurer.

Ben L. Costin was appointed by the city council to serve as city judge and L. C. Devorce was promoted to assistant police chief in the city by police chief Jesse Browning. They also set prices for hiring the Civic Center and set the rent for office space in the Civic Center at $100 to the Chamber of Commerce, but when this was decided to be too high for the Chamber budget, a change was made to charge $500 per month but $450 would be in-kind service and $50 the monetary charge.

Timothy Alvarez, 7-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Alvarez, was fatally injured in an accident in his home when a piano fell, crushing him underneath, as he was helping his mother move it.

The Oak Street B team was determined to be the best church league baseball team in the city after winning the tournament concluding the season.

Virgie Ann Cooper Wed In Fort Worth Church Ceremony

Miss Virgie Ann Cooper of Fort Worth became the bride of Greg Donald Holbrook of Denton in a Monday morning ceremony at Westcliff United Methodist Church in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cooper are parents of the bride. Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lay Powell of Colorado City.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Holbrook of Mission.

Dr. Edward Otwell read the single ring vows before an altar arrangement of bronze, yellow and chartreuse chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a high-necked, floor-length ivory halter dress of interlock jersey. The bodice was covered in heavy lace and worn with a matching bolero jacket. She carried a lace handkerchief also used in the weddings of her mother and late aunt, Mrs. Virgie Powell Smith. Her bouquet was chartreuse Fiji mums and baby's breath.

Wedding music was "Morning Has Broken" by Cat Stevens, "For Emily" by Simon and Garfunkle, and the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Cheryl Lynn Coggins of Fort Worth served as maid of honor. She wore a dusty green, floor-length crepe gown with a sleeveless smocked top covered by a matching jacket. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Best man was Michael Gallivan of Denton.

Serving as ushers were Dennis Holbrook of Mission, brother of the groom, and Kenneth Jones of Mission.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the bride's home. The serving table was covered in yellow and centered with an arrangement of mums in fall colors. Copper and brass appointments were used.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Gary Anderson, Miss Pam Brewer, Miss Christy Coggins, Mrs. Dennis Holbrook, Mrs. Steven Reese and Miss Marsha Wheeler.

For a wedding trip to Hawaii, the bride wore an aqua suit with canel-colored accessories.

The couple will live at 2269 West Oak, Denton.

The bride is a December graduate of North Texas State University with a bachelor of fine arts degree in art education. While at NTSU, she was a staff member of the university yearbook. She is employed by the Fort Worth and Denton Independent School Districts.

The groom is a student at North Texas State University majoring in business. He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He is employed by Braniff International in Dallas.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. Curtis Erwin Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Don Powell, all of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Powell of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Socggin of Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tippit of McAlister, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Beal and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crittenden of Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Erwin Jr. of Midland.

Coldewey Named "Boy Of The Month"

James Coldewey, a Midland high school senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Coldewey of Route 3, Midland has been named Westside Optimist's boy of the month in that city, and will compete statewide for the Young Texas award.

James is the grandson of Leonard Coldewey of Loraine.

James is a very busy and active young man in his city and school. He has served as choir librarian and is currently president of the acapella choir in the choral program of his school. He played the lead role in the MHS production of "South Pacific" as a sophomore and was a member of the chorus in "Mame" last year.

He has two superior and one excellent rating in University Interscholastic League competition in the last three years. Twice named to the all-region choir, he was also in the all-area and all-state choral groups last year.

James is also a member of the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America and often sings in local nursing homes.

A member of the National Honor Society with a 3.9 grade average, he was given an excellent rating by the National Piano Guild during both ninth and tenth grade.

He lettered in both football and track as a freshman and has worked part-time and during summers doing yard work, in pizza parlors and is currently employed by Structurmaps, L.T.D.

James is also music director for North Main and Parker Street Church of Christ where he is a member.

James parents were both reared in Loraine. His mother is the former Helen Richard.

Terry Joins Hospital Staff

Mark Terry has joined the staff at Kings Daughter Hospital in Temple as X-ray technician. He went to work there last month after completing his studies and training at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. He took State Board in Austin.

Mark came in Saturday, Dec. 28 to spend the holiday weekend with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Joe Terry.

Also here for the holiday visit were other sons, David and Scott from Austin and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Preston from Brownwood.

Visiting during Christmas week was Mrs. Terry's sister, Mrs. Fran Mallard and friend from Waco.

Mrs. Hudson Dies Monday

Mrs. Ruth Hudson, 78, of Colorado City, died at 7 p.m. Monday in the Claxton Lodge after a long illness. Services were held Wednesday in the Kiker-Seale Chapel. with burial in Colorado City Cemetery.

Born October 1, 1896, in Cuero, she married George O. Hudson April 6, 1919, in Austin. They came to Colorado City in January, 1925. Her husband died in September, 1948.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James C. Manley of Snyder; one son, George R. of Colorado City; two sisters, Mrs. W.D. Snider of Burnett and Mrs. Ethel Kullenburg of Austin; two brothers, T.C. Haynes of Powell Butte, Ore., and Relmond Haynes of Austin; four grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Bowling Party

Members of the young peoples department from First Baptist Church of Loraine went bowling Saturday night at the Abilene Bowling Lanes. They had supper at Tony's Pizza Cave and a second course at Baskan-Robbins.

Those enjoying the evening were J. D. Sheffield, Joe Dunn, Tommy Brown, Jeff Merket, Karen Tartt, Mildred Sheffield, Melinda McCollum, Teresa Hill, Marla Meadows, Catherine Meadows and Rev. and Mrs. Jimmy Roberts and Mrs. Billie Ruth Tartt.

Course In Movies

The American cowboy captured the imagination of the world, and if his image in the movies was not truthful it was nonetheless fascinating.

Students in English 233 at Western Texas College will be studying western films as literature during the spring semester. Richard Lancaster and Janet Halbert will be teaching the course, a sophomore course which may be selected as an option to either American Literature or British Literature. It is transferable.

English 233 at Western Texas College is a course designed for offering a variety of topics of interest. "We consider the western film to be one of the most important narrative forms of the twentieth century," Lancaster said. "They have a special relationship with American society, for they represent America looking at the complexity of its agrarian past."

The western film will be studied in terms of its presentation of the myth and reality of the West, its concept of evil and virtue, its attitude toward violence, and its advocacy of individual freedom. Among the films to be shown are "The Virginian," "Stagecoach," "My Darling Clementine," "Shane," "High Noon," "Fort Apache," "Soldier Blue" and "The Wild Bunch."

WTC is one of the few colleges offering this type of study, and the WTC instructors were invited to present a discussion on "Films as Literature Option" at the Southwest Regional Conference on English in the Two-Year College in Houston last October.

Two sections of the course will be offered at 10:30 Tuesday and Thursday mornings. The course is open to freshmen students by special permission. Persons wishing additional information may contact Lancaster or Mrs. Halbert at WTC. Enrollment for the spring semester is planned Jan. 13-14.

The county commissioners officially requested disaster relief, sending copies of their request to Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, members of Congress and other government officials. Their reports showed major setbacks to county agriculture producers as a result of dry conditions for an extended period. The ASCS office reported payments made for $164,517 for prevented cotton acres in the county, cotton that was not planted but would have been if enough moisture had been available.

Eddie Mitchell was elected to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors to take the place vacated by Don Hodges.

SEPTEMBER

The annual county farm tour was held, starting from Lone Wolf Co-opatorium and making the rounds of cotton and grain fields in the county. Everyone attending the tour saw the problems being faced by the county's farmers although guesses for the traditional bale count contest ranged from 5,777 to 26,000 bales for the estimated 45,000 acres planted. Average guess was 12,882 bales.

The Wolves won their first, game, defeating Slaton in a home game.

FFA history was made by four Mitchell County farmers, all members of Colorado City chapter of FFA, as it was the first time ever for four farmers from one chapter to get the coveted American Farmer Degree in one year. Winners were Robert Cox, Charles Light, Kirk Morris and Larry (Bozo) Strain. Chapter advisor Frank Brownfield was duly proud.

Two people were shot and three charged stemming from shootings and argument over rent on the Jose Reyes farm south of Westbrook. Mrs. Jose Reyes, 43, was wounded critically when a shotgun discharged, striking her in the breast. Billy Sullivan, 24, was also wounded in the leg. Charges of felony assault were charged against Glenn Sullivan, 19; Billy Sullivan and Ernesto Reyes, 17, son of the wounded woman.

Lake Colorado City's spillway was only 25 inches from the top but TESCO plant personnel thought the run-off water had run down as much as it was going to. Morgan Creek and Cherry Creek were at their highest levels since 1962.

Mitchell County Hospital District board studied a report made by the Texas State Department of Health which called for expenditure of $54,135.22 in improvements. The board felt that many of the changes were not necessary but had to be made because of the state inspections.

NOVEMBER

The write-in campaign waged by Caddo Matthews for election as county school superintendent was successful, as he defeated nominee Olson Sweat. The issue waxed hot in the county just before the election and both candidates explained the issue as they saw it. Matthews received a 2-to-1 margin as 40 per cent of the voters registered cast ballots. Ray Farabee defeated Mary Kirchhoff in the only other contested election in the county, Farabee to be the new Texas Senator for the 30th District.

Lone Wolf 4-H Club held their annual Awards Banquet in the Civic Center and Gold Star winners Mary Martinez and Bobby Moody, both of Westbrook, were honored.

For the third consecutive year, Col-Tex Federal Credit Union won the Thrift Honor Award as being among the top credit unions in the nation.

J. W. Vincent was inducted into the Quarter Century Club, a group of 25-year service members for TESCO.

The food service at Root Memorial Hospital and Lodge was modernized and combined into one kitchen, ending duplication of jobs and cutting costs about $1,000 per month.

A pay raise for city workers was proposed and finally went into effect, boosting wages by 25 cents per hour.

Margie Ballard represented the Abilene area in the Little Rock, Ark., Miss Teenage America pageant.

DECEMBER

As usual, Colorado City merchants and the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a Christmas giveaway to reward shoppers for shopping at home and supporting the local economy. This year's promotion included a Christmas parade, with prizes to floats entered and a giveaway of $700 in drawings held on the Saturdays before Christmas. This year's big winner was Mrs. Swenson Boyd of Colorado City as she claimed the $350-$400 worth of merchandise in the "Bag of Goodies" drawing held the final Saturday before Christmas.

Again as usual, as the year ended, farmers and merchants were counting the bales of cotton process through the county's gins and finding that this year's harvest would not measure up to last year's bumper crop. Only a little more than 7,500 bales had been ginned and all of this was not from county fields.

A bright spot was that the freeze finally came and strippers began gathering the crop. Also, Iron Star Potters officially opened their Iron Star Gallery, a retail outlet at the factory selling handmade stoneware gift items of a unique nature.

The city council learned that $225,000 was needed to make improvements in the city's water system but it could be done in stages and as the city was able to pay for the work.

The biggest drug arrest in the history of Mitchell County was made by the Sheriff's Department with the aid of a DPS undercover agent. Four men were arrested and two more had warrants against them. Arrested were Larry Darnell Johnson, 17; John Edward Miles, 17; Manuel Gomez Castillo, 25 and Gabriel Badillo Jr., 17. No evidence of heroin, morphine or cocaine was found.

Robert Arellano, 31, of Colorado City, was killed when natural gas fumes invaded a hole in which he and five other men were working to fix a pipeline leak. All six men were killed almost instantly. The pipeline was owned by West Texas Gulf Pipeline Co. and the site of the break was in Abilene. Arellano was employed by Browne Bros. Construction Co. of Colorado City.

New Chamber directors were elected to lead the Chamber for the coming year. They are Bill Carter, C. R. Bellomy, J. O. Dockrey Jr., Steve Smith and Bobbie Steakley.

The city council conducted a survey of area towns in efforts to see how Colorado City's rates for city services compare with other towns.

Western Riding Club held an Awards Banquet and gave $100 sterling silver belt buckles to high point winners in each of the six age groups who competed in the monthly Playdays during the year.

Trinidad Chavez Jr., 18, of Loraine, pled guilty to the charge of raping a young Snyder woman and was sentenced to 12 years in the state correctional institute at Huntsville.

Retiring from the office of county school superintendent after holding it for the past 40 years, Roy Davis Coles was honored at a Retirement reception at Westbrook School and presented with a fine watch as a memento of his work in the office.

The city attorney, Dell Barber, quit his office during a council meeting, again protesting the way the police have handled some of the cases and protesting the council's refusal to give him the authority he said he needed in dealing with police arrests. After Barber left, the council called in Police Chief Jesse Browning and patrolmen Pat Fuller and Bill Franklin and talked with them behind closed doors. When the meeting was again opened to the public, Mayor Pro Tem J. Lee Jones Jr. said that Barber had quit and the council commended the two policemen for their handling of two cases.

Ex-Pro Joe James, defensive end for the Chicago Bears, was guest speaker for the Wolves Football Banquet. Awards went to Kelley Moore as Football Sweetheart; Steve Bolin, Wolverine Sweetheart and Hustlingest Wolf; Fighting Heart, Gene Banks; E Award, Ricky Hemphill and Wolves Number One Fan, A. M. Holman.

James Campbell was hired by the city council as new city manager. He will be taking over the job after Jan. 2 when former manager J. A. Sadler Jr.'s resignation becomes effective. Campbell is a native of Sulphur Springs and worked for the city of Big Spring as director of Parks and Recreation. He has a degree from East Texas State University in public administration.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. installed direct dialing service in Westbrook, erecting a new building. Total cost of the project: $70,000.

John Mikow resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church to take a job with Iron Star Potters as their Western Region Sales representative.

As the year ended, plans were being made to start another round during the next year, with a Chamber of Commerce banquet set for Jan. 24 and the 4-H and FFA Livestock Show slated for Jan. 9, 10 and 11.

The city was also looking forward to attracting more industry and Iron Star owner Bob Creighton was heading a pilot project to make Colorado City an arts and crafts center.

Honored For Service

County Judge Bill Carter, right, presents plaques to three outgoing office holders who did not seek re-election in 1974. Given plaques in a ceremony at the courthouse Monday were, left to right, County School Superintendent Roy Davis Coles, Precinct 4 Commissioner Moody Richardson and Precinct 2 Commissioner Drue Cawthron.

Visit In Vest Home

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Vest for the Christmas holidays were their daughter and family, T/Sgt and Mrs. Fred A. Green and Melissa from Travis Air Force Base, California.

Santa Claus came and brought bags of gifts for the family and toys for Melissa.

The Greens flew back to California Friday.

Mrs. Randy White Is Shower Honoree

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Randy White was held in the home of Mrs. Robert Ramage, Saturday afternoon.

The honoree is the former Linda Hoyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoyle.

The serving table was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of red and white. Cake, punch and nuts were served.

The hostesses presented red and white carnation corsages to the honoree and her mother.

Hosting the reception were Mamie Allen, Dorothy Beights, Jean Cawthron, Irene Christian, Obie Clark, Jessie Damborsky, Mollie Ennis, Gladys Geiger, Anna Ruth Hoover, Mary Lou Maines, Betty Sayger, Corrine Thomas and Betty Ramage.
