DROVES U.S. Using Pilotless Spy Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has resumed aerial reconnaissance over North Vietnam using pilotless, camera-carrying planes, Pentagon sources indicated today.

Defense Department spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim pointedly refused any comment when asked about North Vietnam's charges that U.S. reconnaissance planes had violated its airspace twice Thursday.

Before this, top Pentagon officials including Secretary of Defense Elliot L. Richardson had denied Hanoi's claims that the U.S. was violating the Vietnam cease-fire agreement by sending reconnaissance flights over the North.

Pentagon sources indicated that radio-controlled drone aircraft are being used rather than manned reconnaissance planes. They pointed out that sending piloted reconnaissance craft over North Vietnam would risk their crews being killed or captured, something the Nixon administration wants to avoid.

Park's Facilities Not Yet Reserved

There have been no reservations of Comanche Trail Park facilities for the weekend other than a request for use of the amphitheatre for an Easter Sunrise service.

Apparently groups who will picnic or hunt eggs within the park facilities all plan to do so on a first-come, first serve basis. Even the Pavilion, which is usually booked for Easter, remains unreserved.

Local Service stations, in a sudden rush of servicing vehicles Thursday and Friday reported that a number of citizens apparently plan to leave for the weekend.

The schools are closed on Friday and Monday, but most businesses remain open. The City Hall remained open Friday and only the county offices closed for Good Friday.

Lonesome Twosome Nabbed In School

Two small boys, students at College Heights Elementary School, apparently ran out of something to do when they were dismissed for the long Easter weekend.

The two youths broke back into the school at 5:43 p.m. and rifled the desks, without finding anything that they wanted to steal. Everything they examined had something to do with school work — like books, gradebooks and papers.

They were sitting at two desks, apparently trying to decide what to do next, when city police arrived.

Their immediate plans were revealed to them: They were to be taken to police headquarters and later have an audience with the juvenile officer. After that, they were to be reunited with their parents who, they were told, might not take kindly to such fun and games. And they faced the problem of raising money for the window they broke to get into the building.

Vietnam Peace Agreement In Danger Of Flying Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a series of tactical moves, the United States has served notice on Hanoi that the Vietnam peace agreement may be in danger of flying apart.

First the Navy suspended minesweeping operations in North Vietnamese waters.

Then the chief U.S. delegate to Paris talks on reconstruction of the war-torn country was called home for "consultations."

And finally, Secretary of State William P. Rogers told Hanoi Thursday that the administration would drop its assistance plan unless North Vietnam lives up to the pact signed in Paris Jan. 27.

PRESSURE MOVES

The three pressure moves were designed to persuade North Vietnam to stop infiltrating men and equipment into South Vietnam and to withdraw its troops from Cambodia and Laos.

Rogers acknowledged that the United States had intensified its bombing in Cambodia, as well as carrying out a two-day raid in Laos, and he recalled the threat of "appropriately vigorous reactions" issued jointly by President Nixon and South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu on April 3.

Although these actions were intended to be taken seriously, U.S. officials noted privately that there still was considerable room for diplomacy. At least two trump cards that could be played would be sending Henry Kissinger to Hanoi or to Paris for another round of negotiations or reconvening the original 12-nation Paris peace conference.

VIOLATIONS

North Vietnam made the initial announcement that the United States had suspended the sweeping of mines it placed in North Vietnamese waters last May.

Confirming the action Thursday, Jerry W. Friedheim, the Pentagon spokesman, blamed "continued cease-fire violations by the other side in South Vietnam and Laos."

But the foreign ministry in Hanoi said the suspension was evidence of a premeditated plan to prolong the sea blockade. Besides, only three mines of the tens of thousands in the waters had been deactivated by the U.S. Navy, the ministry said.

The Jan. 27 cease-fire agreement calls for removal of the mines.

Recall of Maurice Williams, Deputy director of the Agency for International Development, from the Paris reconstruction talks was announced by Charles W. Bray, the State Department spokesman.

SPECIAL JEOPARDY

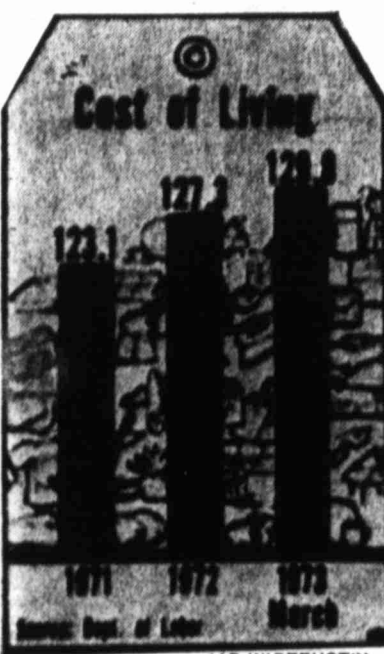

"The North Vietnamese and their friends cannot reasonably expect to pick and choose as to those portions of the agreement which they wish to observe and those which they wish to disregard," he said.

The State Department spokesman avoided a direct response to a newsmen's suggestion that the cease-fire agreement was now "in a state of special jeopardy."

"That is entirely a function of the actions of the other side," he said without subscribing to the description.

In Paris, the Hanoi delegation said Williams' recall had the effect of sabotaging the joint U.S.-Hanoi economic commission set up under the peace agreement "to help heal the wounds of war and contribute to the postwar reconstruction" of North Vietnam.

LIVING COST UP — Chart denotes government figures issued today showing that the cost of living has surged to its highest rate of increase in 22 years. The government said the March Consumer Price Index was 129.8 per cent of the 1967 base — meaning it cost $12.98 to buy what $10 bought in 1967. Food prices climbed to record levels for the third straight month in March, officials said.

Good Friday Services Held

By The Associated Press

Christians around the world attended Good Friday services today to usher in the Easter weekend, and many prepared to flee crowded city life for holidays in the country or at the seashore.

Pilgrims were to retrace Christ's steps to Calvary through the narrow streets of Jerusalem, and in Rome Pope Paul VI was to preside over services at noon in St. Peter's Basilica.

After dusk the Pope, who will be 76 this year, was to carry a cross from the Colosseum to the ruins of the Temple of Venus in the annual Way of the Cross procession.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell was quoted today as accusing other Nixon campaign officials of planning the Watergate bugging, and more extensive intelligence operations as well, over his personal veto.

Mitchell spoke to a reporter in the offices of federal prosecutors prior to an appearance before a federal grand jury. He confirmed a news account that he had told friends he attended three meetings at which plans to bug the Democrats were proposed, and had rejected the plans.

PICK BUGS

"I want to add the plans were not just to bug somebody," Mitchell said. "They were for more detailed intelligence. We were not there just to discuss bugging."

Mitchell's conversation was cut short as the reporter, Lesley Stahl of CBS, was asked to leave.

What Mitchell was quoted as confirming was a report in The New York Times saying Mitchell told his friends that Jeb Magruder and G. Gordon Liddy proposed bugging plans on three different occasions and that he vetoed them.

Magruder was Mitchell's second-in-command at the campaign, and has reportedly told prosecutors that the bugging operation was planned and approved by Mitchell and White House counsel John W. Dean III. Liddy was a lawyer for the campaign and is serving a jail term after being convicted in the bugging conspiracy.

DIDN'T KNOW

Mitchell's statement today seemed to conflict with a sworn statement he made in a civil case last Sept. 1, when he said he knew of no one higher than Liddy who was involved in the burglary, wiretapping and bugging incident.

State Resolution Honors Whipkey

AUSTIN — State senators have concurred in House passage of a memorial resolution honoring the late Robert W. Whipkey, long-time publisher of the Big Spring Herald for his outstanding service to his fellow man.

The resolution was sponsored in the Senate by Jack Hightower, Vernon, and in the House by Renal B. Rosson, Snyder, and Elmer Tarbox, Lubbock.

Whipkey died March 31 at a banquet at Webb AFB.

LOSES HER EASTER BONNET TO GIRAFFE—Penny Lee, a new employee at Lion Country Safari park near Justin, Calif., took a tour of the park during her lunch break and forgot the cardinal rule of the park, "never roll down your car windows." Penny wanted a better look and rolled down her car window and promptly lost her new Easter bonnet to three friendly giraffes. Luckily there was a park photographer at hand to capture Penny's look of dismay.

Mitchell Puts Blame On Nixon Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell was quoted today as accusing other Nixon campaign officials of planning the Watergate bugging, and more extensive intelligence operations as well, over his personal veto.

Rain

Probability of precipitation increasing from 20 per cent this afternoon to 50 per cent tonight. High today, upper 70s. Low tonight, near 50. High Saturday, low 70s.

But Mitchell said all his previous statements remained "operative," particularly his insistence that he didn't know about raid plans in advance.

Mitchell, Magruder and Dean are now engaged in a three-cornered argument, carried out through public statements and news leaks, over which of them should bear blame for planning the Watergate operation.

Sources close to the Senate Watergate investigation have told The Associated Press that the Justice Department expects to see all three of them indicted, along with others.

Magruder, who was Mitchell's second-in-command at the Nixon campaign, reportedly has told federal prosecutors that Mitchell and Dean helped plan the Watergate bugging and later arranged payoffs to buy silence from men convicted of the crime. Magruder has been unavailable to newsmen, but his lawyer says he intends to testify voluntarily when called before the grand jury.

'NONSENSE'

For his part, Mitchell told newsmen Thursday that the Magruder report is "nonsense."

Today the New York Times said Mitchell had told friends he was present at three meetings last year when Magruder and G. Gordon Liddy, later convicted in the conspiracy, proposed plans to bug the opposition party headquarters. But the Times quoted sources as saying Mitchell insisted he rejected the plans at all three meetings. Dean was present at one or more of the meetings, Mitchell reportedly said.

An associate told the AP today that Mitchell had said privately if he had known of the Watergate plans "he would have tried to stop it."

At the White House Thursday, Dean declared that he won't be made a "scapegoat" and warned against judging who is guilty and who isn't until all testimony has been heard. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler expressed surprise that Dean had bypassed his office by issuing the statement directly to newsmen. Ziegler testily insisted that the President seeks no scapegoats.

Today the Washington Post quoted an associate of Dean as saying that the White House counsel has passed word he is ready to testify under oath that others "above and below" him were involved in the bugging. The Post quoted a Dean associate as saying Dean himself only followed orders in whatever role he played. Dean will allege in testimony that White House officials, including chief of staff H. R. Haldeman, sought to cover up the facts behind the case, the Post quoted Dean associates as saying.

Thursday saw these other fast-paced developments:

RECORDS DESTROYED

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst announced he disqualified himself last Sunday from running the administration's Watergate investigation because it turned up information about "persons with whom I have had personal and professional relationships." He didn't elaborate or name those involved.

Court papers were filed claiming that an unidentified employee of the Nixon campaign picked up eight cartons of documents, including plans to bug the Watergate, at the White House complex before FBI agents arrived on the day after the Watergate burglary.

Lawyer Peter H. Wolf filed the papers in an attempt to keep his client's identity secret from the grand jury. Wolf said his client turned the records back to the Nixon campaign shortly before the election, and that he believes most of them have been destroyed.

Tornadoes Rake Two Towns In Oklahoma

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes spun out of severe thunderstorms in southeastern Oklahoma during the night and smashed into Ada and Pauls Valley, injuring more than 20 persons and causing widespread damage.

National Guard troops moved into Ada and Pontotoc County about dawn after Mayor Joe Parsons and county commissioners declared a state of emergency and called on Gov. David Hall for help.

BABY CRITICAL

Five persons were hospitalized at Ada, one of them—a baby girl—with critical injuries. Seventeen others were injured, but released after treatment.

The funnel that raked Pauls Valley struck a state school, hospitalizing a teen-aged boy and causing less serious injuries to several others.

Pauls Valley is about 30 miles west of Ada, and Ada

Fire Department officials said both towns may have been hit by the same twister.

The Pauls Valley twister dipped down just before midnight. It destroyed one building, heavily damaged two others, overturned some cars and ripped up numerous trees and utility poles.

Gene Marshall, 15, suffered cuts on one arm and a foot as he tried to close a door at the state school against powerful winds.

Valley View hospital in Ada reported 16 persons treated and released in addition to the five hospitalized.

The funnel struck the western edge of Ada about 12:20 a.m. As it crossed the city it smashed 12 to 15 mobile homes, damaged four or five airplanes at Ada airport and raked through the Lightning Ridge area Southwest of the city and the nearby Picket community.

About half of Ada was without electrical power or telephones at dawn. Police were operating emergency generators and other emergency equipment.

Valley View Hospital identified the most seriously injured of those hospitalized as 7-month-old Branda Lynn LeGate, who suffered a fractured skull and other head injuries. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale LeGate.

Officers Study Maps Marked With Apparent Burial Sites

DALLAS (AP) — Law enforcement officers in at least two Texas cities believe maps found in the possession of accused Dallas kidnaper Raymond C. Beckley may tie the former seaman to crime in their cities.

GIRLS VANISH

Their interest increased after detectives from Highland Park, a fashionable Dallas enclave, found a series of markings on one map that led to what appeared to be a grave at the edge of a dump in suburban Irving.

The Dallas Morning News reported that Houston police are interested in the relation of markings on a map of Houston in Beckley's possession which pinpoint where the remains of two young girls were discovered last year.

MURDERED TEACHER

A map of Laredo reportedly bears a mark at the location where a murdered school teacher was last seen alive.

Beckley, 45, a former merchant seaman from Houston, was wanted for killing a shipmate in South Vietnamese waters. He was seized by FBI agents in Dallas March 11 and charged with the kidnapping of 14-year-old Leslie Janice Ward.

Agents arrested Beckley as he negotiated with the girl's family for payment of a $1 million ransom.

Investigators suspected that the apparent grave in Irving may have been intended for the Ward girl. A plywood coffin-like box was discovered in the small rented house where she was being held.

Several other markings on maps in Beckley's possession could not be related to any crime.

Local Deputy May Attend Bomb Training Course

Considering bomb school training for a deputy sheriff and installation of a larger diesel tank for the road department appears on the agenda for County Commissioners Court Monday morning.

By providing a larger capacity tank, the court could avoid the possibility of diesel shortages during its summer seal-coating program, Commissioner Jack Buchanan said.

BOMB TRAINING
Deputy Sheriff Richard Doane has been selected to attend a three-week Army school on defusing and disposing of bombs and incendiary devices.

No additional employees are to be hired temporarily to help the sheriff's office while Doane attends the school, Sheriff A. N. Standard said. Doane has accumulated enough overtime already to be eligible for three weeks off, the sheriff continued.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration and U.S. Department of Justice will reimburse Howard County for all costs but about $100 in transportation.

Training will be conducted between April 29 and May 18 at the U.S. Army Missile and Munitions Center and School at Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

He is charged with defrauding by worthless check over $50 here and misdemeanor theft by false pretext in Eastland County.

Coahoma Firemen To Stage Show

Tony Douglas and the Shrimpers, a country and western group, will perform for the benefit of the Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 24. The show will be staged at Big Spring city auditorium.

Coahoma Firemen plan to use proceeds to purchase fire hose.

pert deactivate a bomb, Standard said. Abilene is the closest city with a bomb expert, and Doane will be available for area counties once he completes the course.

Emphasizing the need for a local bomb specialist, Standard revealed there had been two bomb threats at the Howard County Courthouse in about three months. No bombs were found.

Within the last two years, a bomb was exploded on the old Sterling City Highway. Two Howard County persons are known to have detonated a homemade bomb on the old San Angelo Highway. Several years ago, a wall of the National Guard Armory was blown apart.

At the school, Doane would study construction, design and methods of rendering safe or disposing of explosive devices.

CLEARED FOR SECRETS
In order to qualify for the school, Doane had to obtain a clearance to see information classified as secret.

Doane worked for the Federal Bureau of Investigation three months before serving in the Navy. Then, he worked on the Big Spring Police force two years, leaving a senior patrolman to become a deputy sheriff.

He is scheduled to be graduated from Howard County Junior College this spring with a major in law enforcement.

Another item on the agenda is hiring Martha Alavarez, who is working half days now as a Vocational Office Education student, as a full-time employee in the county clerk's office this summer.

Marvin Hanson, road administrator, first will talk to the court at 9 p.m. about road department operations. Mrs. Virginia S. Black, county auditor, will present bills for approval at the conclusion of the meeting.

DEATHS

John D. McKaskle
SEAGRAVES — Funeral services for John D. McKaskle, 45, who died Thursday in the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, are set for 2 p.m. Saturday.

Funeral will be held in Temple Baptist Church with the Rev. Alvin Petty, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Seagraves Cemetery under direction of Webb Funeral Home.

Born in Stanton, Mr. McKaskle retired from the U.S. Army in 1970 after having served in World War II, Korea and in several Vietnam combat missions.

Graveside services will be held this afternoon in Fort Worth for J. R. Jones Jr. who died Wednesday.

Palbearers are Bud Summers, Avery Willis, M. L. Kirby, Roy Hester, Royce Griffith, Roy Watkins, Gus Tatum and Vern Vigor.

Did Any Feminist Ever Burn A Bra In Protest?

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Footnote to history: department of bra burning.

Question: Did any feminist ever burn a bra in protest?

Answer: The record shows at least one bra burned and another slightly smoked.

Why the question? Well, leaders of women's liberation say no bra was ever burned in anger, that it has become a symbol meant to demean a movement with a serious purpose.

"Nobody ever burned a bra that I know of," said Betty Friedan, a leader of the National Organization of Women, adding that she thinks the whole thing is a product of the media's imagination.

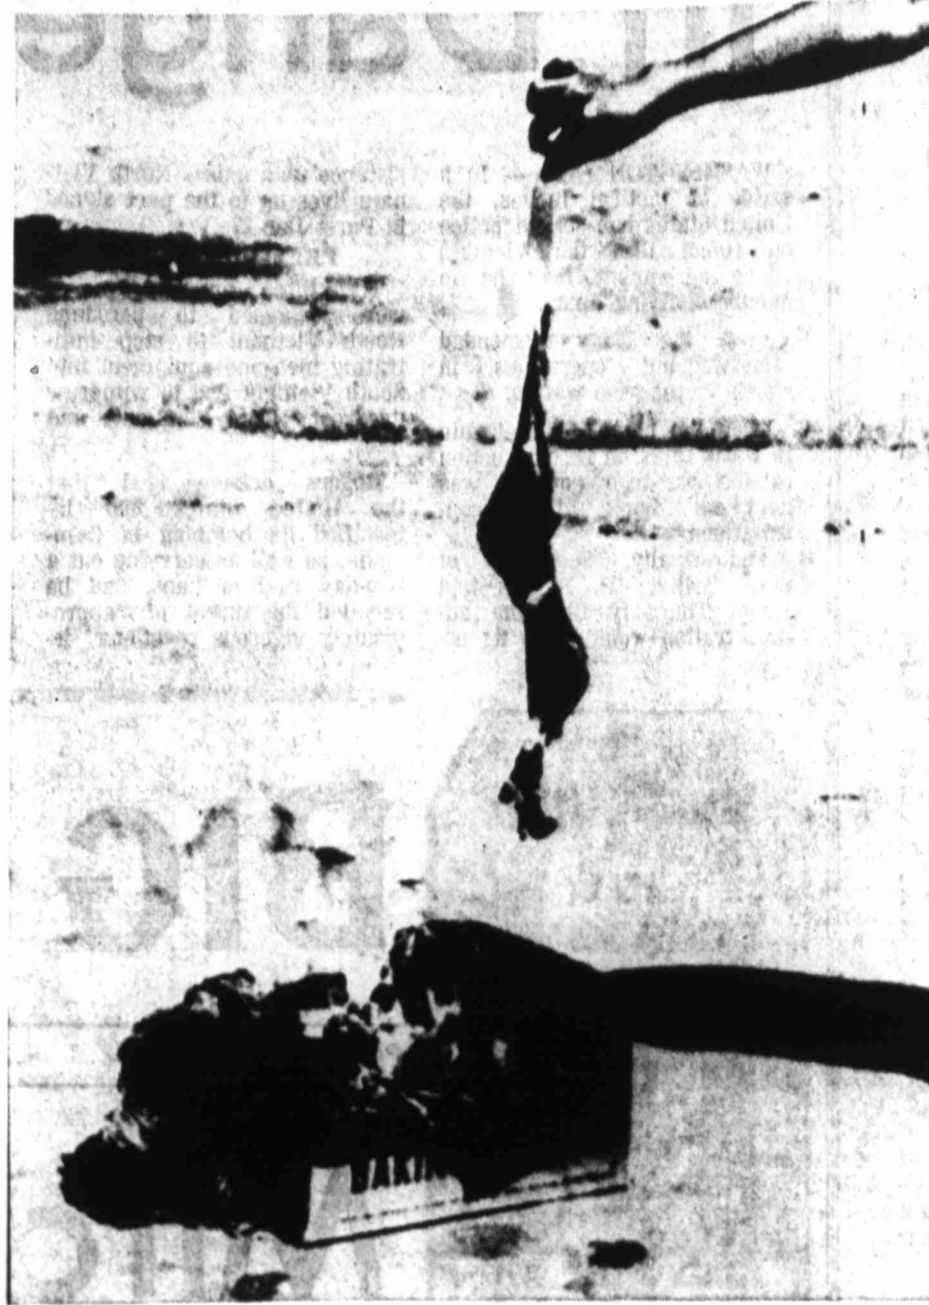

The common assumption is that bra burning began with demonstrators outside the Convention Hall in Atlantic City during the 1968 Miss America contest. That apparently is false.

Women's Lib pickets protesting the pageant talked of a "symbolic bra burning." But reporters who covered the event say the demonstrators ended up throwing bras, girdles and hair curlers in a "freedom trash can."

One newsman recalls a picket preparing to burn a bra by lighting newspapers in a wastebasket. But the papers never really caught fire before police put out the smoky flames. The bra was slightly smoked.

The one authenticated bra burning took place in Oklahoma City during a demonstration in conjunction with the 1970 National Women's Liberation Day.

Mrs. Gwen Rose, secretary of a YMCA branch and an organizer of the local protest, set a bra to flames. She also accidentally ignited a small patch of grass and a cardboard box of underwear that was to have been burned later.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

A RARE EXAMPLE?—This burning brassiere was meant as observance of Women's Liberation Day in Oklahoma City in 1970. The flame also accidentally ignited a cardboard box of underwear that was meant to be burned at a later time. Leaders of the women's liberation movement deny that bra burning ever took place, saying it has become a symbol meant to demean a movement with a serious purpose. Betty Friedan, a leader of the National Organization of Women, says that "nobody ever burned a bra that I know of."

Winds Churn Up Blinding Dust In Texas Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Fierce winds abated today after churning up blinding clouds of dust in the Texas Panhandle-Plains sector and whipping much of North Central Texas with gusty thunderstorms, but they still blew hard enough to cause tidal flooding along the Upper Texas Coast.

By this morning skies were clear to only partly cloudy west of a weak cool front stalled along a line linking the Fort Worth, San Angelo and Del Rio areas, and it was cloudy and warm farther east as damp air flowed inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

SEVERAL INJURIES
Winds calmed to normal levels in the dust-blinded areas, where at least one death and several injuries were laid to gases clocked officially up to 70 miles per hour. Velocities topped 100 m.p.h. on some unofficial gauges atop tall buildings.

Showers and thunderstorms which kept 18 counties in North Central Texas under a severe storm watch until 4 a.m. dwindled into light rain here and there.

There also was drizzle and fog from the Upper Texas Coast northward into East Texas and a little scattered rain in an area east of San Antonio.

Gusty south winds, up to 35 m.p.h. this morning and still rising, caused tides 3 to 4 feet above normal and sent water over the Texas 87 roadway along McFaddin Beach between Sabine Pass and the Jefferson County line.

HIGH TIDES
Official observers reported the combination of high tides and flood crests from earlier rains flowing down the Sabine and Neches Rivers also was to blame for some flooding in low areas of Southeast Texas. Water stood at flood stage in Beaumont and Orange with a further rise expected.

Silt which dropped visibility to zero halted traffic on some highways in the Panhandle-Plains area and flying debris forced police to close Amarillo streets in places.

Truck driver Douglas Kroeger, 21, of Ellis, Kan., was killed 35 miles north of Amarillo as his vehicle hit an empty trailer which broke free from another truck and lay across U.S. 385.

WIND STORM
A pileup involving two big tractor-trailers and three cars in blinding dust injured two persons at another point farther south on U.S. 385 in Castro County.

Five Amarillo residents suffered injuries in the wind storm. Several were in trailer homes that overturned.

Theft Reported
Don Crittenden, Gail Highway, reported theft of a bicycle Thursday afternoon.

WEATHER

NORTHWEST AND SOUTHWEST TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy west and north portions and considerable cloudiness southeast tonight. Scattered thunderstorms central and east portions this evening. Exhibit Lasts Another Week

One more week remains for the Early Doctors exhibit at the Heritage Museum, and its successor, a display on the history and contribution of oil in this area, is shaping up.

Directors got this report at the quarterly meeting Thursday.

One of the highlights of the meeting was presentation of a copy of the H. W. Caylor painting, "Trail Herd," to Dr. P. W. Malone. It was he — the president of the pioneering West Texas Memorial Museum — who kept in tact and in good state of preservation the collection of Caylor's now passed on to the Heritage Museum. Joe Pickle, president, expressed the deep gratitude of the board to Dr. Malone, now a board member of Heritage Museum, for his foresight and persistence.

J. W. Purser and Will Barron, co-chairman of the upcoming oil exhibit, reported on progress of obtaining items for this exhibit.

Gerri Atwell, curator, urged those who wish to see the doctors' exhibit to do so 9 a.m.-5 p.m. weekdays, or 2 p.m.-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Malone & Hogan Clinic loaned a skeleton to round out the exhibit.

Manufacturers Plan Seminar

The Odessa and Central Basin Chapters of the Texas Manufacturers Association (TMA) will sponsor a seminar on Fair Employment Practices, with emphasis on the role of the female in the work force. The sessions for management and supervisory personnel will be Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the ballroom of the Regal 8 Motor Hotel in Midland.

Two authorities on equal employment, Miss Helen S. Soto and Brent Hoffman, personnel relations administrator and employment administrator, respectively, for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, San Angelo, will conduct the seminar.

Local Men Will Attend Ritual

Lancer Homes, a division of Lanchart Industries, Inc., will be presented one of the 1972 "Governor's Industrial Expansion Awards" May 10 in Austin.

Presentation will be at a luncheon during the Fifth Annual Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion.

Berkley Homes, mobile home manufacturers in Big Spring, is a division of Lanchart.

Representatives from the Big Spring Industrial Foundation and other groups are expected to attend the luncheon.

Hearing Granted To Convicted Man

Charles Lee Crawley, 21, who was convicted of murder in Oct. 1971, is returning to 118th District Court Friday for a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus, District Attorney Bob Moore said.

The former Big Spring resident is serving a 15-year sentence.

Make-Believe Disaster 'Wipes Out' Big Spring

A simulated tornado in a direct line from Cosden to Webb Air Force Base "wiped out" most of Big Spring here Thursday night.

This was in a practice disaster sponsored by the civil defense unit, using city and county officials in the execution of the plan.

If a tornado ever did hit in the line planned by the disaster group, it would be a real tragedy for the area.

A tornado in that line would get Cosden, the Holiday Inn, Hall-Bennett Hospital, come across at Eighth and Gregg and hit the Medical Arts Hospital and on out to Webb.

Thankfully, for Big Spring citizens, this one was a pretend-session and even it generated enough confusion among the CD officials.

The simulators called in problems such as looting, evacuation of hospital facilities and other things which might occur.

In a number of cases, some of the officials found themselves at cross purposes trying to work out the problems.

Around 100 persons were at the exercise and they may have learned from the practice session that this is way too many people running a disaster program.

Practice sessions, such as this, are for the purpose of determining possible problems if a real disaster occurred. State officials visited during the exercise.

TO PERFORM HERE—Big Spring, a Fort Worth-based musical group composed of former residents of this city, will appear at a Saturday night concert at the Big Spring High School Auditorium, with half the proceeds going to the Meistersingers. Admission price is $1.50. The group, which plays boogie, rock'n roll, and country-rock, formerly was known as The Bicycle. From the left, they are Steve Covington, lead guitar and vocals; R. B. Guinn, drums; David Cadena, rhythm guitar and vocals; and Mike Covington, bass guitar and vocals.

Legislators Knock Off For Easter Weekend

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The House will begin its fourth day of debate on a $9.7 billion state spending bill Tuesday after a long Easter weekend.

"Openness and democracy—the price we have to pay for that is the long, hard hours we have already spent and will spend next week," Speaker Price Daniel Jr. told newsmen Thursday.

More than 100 proposed amendments and riders remain to be debated. Only 10 of 64 already voted on have been approved.

One, by Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, D-Goliad, prohibits any governing board or governmental agency from instructing hospitals that receive appropriated funds to perform abortions or sterilizations. The vote was 108-31.

Another, by Reps. Bob Davis, R-Dallas, and Ralph Scoggins,

Earnings Rise

LONDON (AP) — The average weekly earnings of British male manual workers during the year ending last October rose by 4.89 pounds — $11.70 — a week to 35.82 pounds — $86 — the Department of Employment reported.

This increase of 15.8 per cent on the previous year underscored the British government's anti-inflation pay-price standstill which began Nov. 8.

Carrier Of Year To Be Eligible For Honors

The Big Spring Herald again is participating in a program to select the Newspaper Carrier of the Year for Texas.

First, said Gene Kimble, circulation manager, The Herald will select its own carrier of the year, plus an alternate. These will become state nominees.

Letters have gone out to parents asking that they gather information supporting the nomination of their son or daughter. Needed are such things as certificates or letters of commendation, in business, church, school, Scouts, community or other activities. Also personal testimonials, yet 18 years Jan. 1 this year photographs of activities, etc.

TV Program Is Bicultural

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — English and Spanish children in this country will get to know each other better if a new educational television program achieves its goals, according to the sponsors of the project.

Beginning this fall, a bilingual-bicultural Spanish - English television program for children from preschool through the primary grades will be telecast daily on a national basis. The 130-program series, as yet untitled, will be funded by the United States Office of Education.

The program's target audience includes millions of young American children. The purpose is not simply to teach English to Spanish-oriented children.

"We want English-speaking children to learn or become familiar with the Spanish language, culture, customs and heritage, too. Through this method Spanish-oriented and Anglo children can learn about, appreciate and understand other cultures and each other," said Dr. Rene Gardenas, executive director of Bilingual Children's Television Inc., which is producing.

Split P-Patch At Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — The P-Patch is being split into small garden plots in what a city councilman calls "an urban recreational experience."

The city, which has leased three acres for the 10-month experiment with a public vegetable garden, will divide the land into 300 plots of 400 square feet each, or 20 feet by 20 feet.

"Hopefully, it will be a public trust, like a public park, and a way to meet a lot of nice people doing the same thing," said an employee of the Puget Consumers Cooperative, selected to manage the gardens.

The cooperative, a citizens' group engaged in educational programs in farming, had received about 110 applications for 130 plots by Tuesday, a day after the City Council approved the project and a month since it first was made public.

Two youth agencies have applied for about 10 plots each. And a third-acre has been set aside for the city's Youth Division, which technically is the sponsoring agency.

The $10 application fees will be used to buy irrigation water and pay for other incidentals. The City Council has appropriated $950 to pay property taxes, buy liability insurance and pay a master gardener's salary.

"Its aim is to bring the farming experience to city dwellers," said City Councilman John Miller. "In the 20th century, with increasing urbanization, this has vanished. It's an urban recreational experience."

Wins Scholarship

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Melissa Johnson of Providence High School in San Antonio was declared the winner Saturday of a $100 college scholarship as the top junior historian in the state.

Sunrise Service Scheduled Easter In Local Amphitheatre

By MARI CARPENTER

An Easter Sunrise service will be held at 6:45 a.m. at the Amphitheatre in Comanche Trail Park on Sunday morning. St. Paul's Lutheran Church is sponsoring the event. They also have sponsored an exhibit downtown in the window of the $3 to $6 Shop.

The exhibit features headlines during the past year, with the words, "Christ for the Crisis." A wooden cross and a crown of mesquite thorns completes the effective exhibit.

A SPECIAL LUTHERAN Hour Easter program featuring Apollo 15 astronaut Col. James Irwin, and Dr. Paul Maier, author of the new book "The First Easter — The True and Unfamiliar Story," will be heard throughout the United States and Canada on April 22, Easter Sunday.

Tommy Thompson, director of the domestic broadcast for The Lutheran Hour, said the program will be broadcast by nearly 1,800 radio stations.

"We offered the program to all radio stations as a special service broadcast," Thompson said, "and more than 600 stations responded with requests for it. These will be in addition to the 1,100 regular Lutheran Hour stations carrying the program."

Thompson said the Easter special also will include a message by Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, Lutheran Hour speaker.

The Rev. Elmer Knoernschild, director of programming for the League, commented, "the special program carries an enthusiastic testimony by Colonel Irwin as to why he gave up all the residual benefits of his moon flight experience in order to share with people all over the world, and especially young people, the joys of the new life in Christ."

The Lutheran Hour is broadcast each week in 46 languages over approximately 1,800 stations and reaching University in Abilene and the Southwest Baptist University in Fort Worth. The program is sponsored by the International Lutheran Laymen's League, a 133,000 member auxiliary of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Denton is currently serving as superintendent of missions for the Chicago, Ill., Baptist Association. Baptist work in Minnesota-Wisconsin is supported by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

After graduating from Big Spring High School in 1942, he attended Howard County Junior College, Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Denton served as pastor of the Airport Baptist Church in Big Spring when it was still a small mission in 1944-45. He has been serving in church and association capacities in Illinois since 1953. Denton and his wife, the former Mildred Sullivan, have five children.

Church Of God Slates Rally

The First Church of God will be the location of a district Christian Brotherhood hour rally this Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The Highland Church of God and First Church of God are co-sponsoring the event with pastors, Arnold Denney and Edwin Beasley hosting the rally. It will be attended by delegations from Ira, Odessa, Lubbock, Sweetwater and Abilene.

Pastor George Golden, Odessa, will direct the rally singing with the choir from the First Church of God, Big Spring, presenting special numbers.

Main speaker will be R. Eugene Sterner, who works with the Church of God at a national level. He currently is serving on the task force of the Key 73 Evangelism Thrust and is chairman of the planning committee for the Consultation of the Church of God.

His pastorates have included Ellwood City, Pa., Ruston, La., Lanett, Ala., and Dayton, Ohio. He has an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Anderson College, Indiana and has done a missionary tour around the world. He has written several church publications and served in almost every capacity in the Church of God nationally including youth director, missionary board, executive secretary and in other capacities.

Other special music will include a Ladies Trio from Highland Church of God including Glenice Denney, Linda Mason and Thelma Carlisle. The public is invited to attend the rally.

Easter Season Is Roots, Foundation Of The Faith

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

Mystery pulses this week in the houses of worship. It's a time of puzzlement, awe and wonder both for Judaism and Christianity. It's a time of reorganized travel and glad conclusions.

Yet the imponderables linger. How could it be? What brought the astonishing turn-about? What makes the happy difference? Why?

"I will sing to the Lord, for He has triumphed gloriously," the people rejoice at the marvel. "The Lord is my strength and my song, and He has become my salvation."

It's an olden Scriptural hymn of Israel, celebrating liberation from slavery in Egypt, which is marked by Passover this week, and it also expresses the Christian celebration of Christ's victory over the world's destructive enslavements.

"In the world, you have a tribulation," He said. "But be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

A kindred theme pervades both festivals, a realization of a steadfast, overwhelming love at the heart of the universe, a goodness and power that verifies release from the entrapping forces that waste and ruin life.

"The creation itself will be set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the glorious liberty of the children of God," the missionary apostle Paul wrote of the redeeming work. "In this hope we are saved."

It is an old, continuing affair, struck by new notes. The cruelties and captivities go on, a long, ravaging line, from Egypt's oppressions and imperial Rome's crucifixion of Jesus to the outrages of modern times, but the beacons of deliverance still burn.

They stand as a promise, an assurance, the bedrock of an unending hope.

"Fear not, for I have redeemed you ... because you are precious in My sight," came the divine pledge as set forth by the prophet Isaiah. "Fear not, for I am with you ... whom I created in My glory, whom I formed and made ...

NOW YOU DON'T HAVE TO USE A COTTON HERBICIDE MADE FOR SOMEONE ELSE'S SOIL.

All those herbicides you've been using weren't made for your soil: sandy soil. They're all basically designed to provide weed control in other cotton areas. Where the soil is a lot different than it is here in West Texas. Those herbicides were all you had. But no more. Now you have your own: Sancap.* Sancap has been developed exclusively for cotton growers for use on sand, loamy sands and fine sandy loam soils. And all you do is broadcast Sancap over your field at planting or within two days following planting. Simple. SANCAP GIVES EXCELLENT CONTROL OF CARELESSWEED AND RUSSIAN THISTLE. Stops 'em cold. Without hurting your cotton. With ordinary rainfall or irrigation. Sancap. We made it especially for you. Especially for your problems. And not for anyone else's. CROSSED UP: (Q) I went with Peggy for three weeks. Then she called me up and said she didn't want to go with me any more, and wanted us to be just friends. I got mad and hung up on her.

A week later she called and said she wanted me back. I told her to get lost. She has called me two more times and I told her again to get lost. The last time she said she only wanted another chance and I wouldn't give her one. Please help me and her. — Fouled Up in Florida.

(A) You haven't been very decent to Peggy and you are ashamed of it, and sorry too. She hasn't treated you too well, either.

Call her up and ask her for a date. This time try to treat her with respect and kindness. I believe if you will be kind to her she will be kind to you.

GETTING ASKED: (Q) I am shy and when I get nervous I have a slight speech problem. Right now I am nervous about whether Jon will ask me to go to our class banquet with him. I want him to ask me. I would like nothing better.

How do I get him to ask me? — Waiting in New Jersey.

(A) Let Jon do the asking. But do not overlook any opportunities to let him know you would like to go. If he mentions the banquet, show your interest. If someone else in your group mentions it, join in and keep the talk going.

Be casual about it, but positive. Being positive is very good for a person with a speech problem. Good luck.

Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♣. That takeout doubles of one in a suit should occasionally be left in for profit is an idea that the average player is quick to grasp. In fact, it may be that he is somewhat too quick to grasp it, for there is a tendency on the part of some to leave in the double merely because there appears to be no convenient takeout. When your partner makes a takeout double of one in a suit, it is depriving him of his franchise for you to pass and let the opponents play the one contract doubled just because you happen to be frightened.

A distinction is to be noted between doubles of one of a suit and doubles of one no trump. Normally severe damage will not be inflicted on the suit bidder at this low level. But at no trump, where the bidder is subject to attack from all directions, heavy penalties can be inflicted even at the one level.

The arithmetic of the situation is relatively simple. The player who makes an immediate double of one no trump should have a hand presumably as good as the opener bidder—that is to say about 16 points. If doubler's partner has six, almost the entire pack is accounted for and dummy will be virtually trickless. Declarer will find playing the hand a highly doubtful pleasure.

Recorded here is one of the bloodiest examples that has come to our attention this season. South's one no trump opening, based on a point count of 18, was surely above reproach. West, whose holding was worth 17 points, had a sound double. East, having five points, decided to leave the double in and West made the inspired opening lead of the queen of clubs.

Declarer won with the king and, hoping to do something with his diamond holding, played the ace and a small diamond. West won with the jack and continued with the jack of clubs. Declarer held off until the third round and cleared the diamonds on which East discarded the seven of hearts.

West switched to a small heart, East put up the ace and proceeded to cash out two club tricks as West disposed of the six and ten of hearts. A switch to the jack of spades gave the balance to the defense. In all—they scored three spades, two hearts, two diamonds and three clubs to record an 1,100 point set on the deal.

Abortions Decision

HOUSTON (AP) — The chief of obstetrics and gynecology for the Harris County Hospital district said he has made a decision that only teen-aged women and women over 40 years of age can have abortions in the hospital.

Dr. Raymond Kaufman said the decision was made because of the insufficient facilities of the hospital. He said that a maximum of six operations can be performed every week and that as many as 20 calls are received every day inquiring about a possible abortion.

The chief obstetrician said the arbitrary selection was made because teenagers and women over 40 are in the age area most dangerous for unwanted pregnancies.

The decision brought a reaction from the Houston chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. Chapter president James Calloway said the hospital district's exclusion of women between the two age groups "is discriminatory."

Calloway said the ACLU may initiate legal action against the Harris County Hospital District representing one of the rejected women.

Former Editor Dies In Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Jack Blackwell, 66, retired photographer and former newspaper owner and editor, died Thursday in a Corpus Christi hospital.

Blackwell operated a commercial photography firm here about 20 years until he retired last year.

He had owned and edited three weekly newspapers, the Rockport Pilot and the Port Lavaca News in the early 1940s and the Corpus Christi Press in the 1950s.

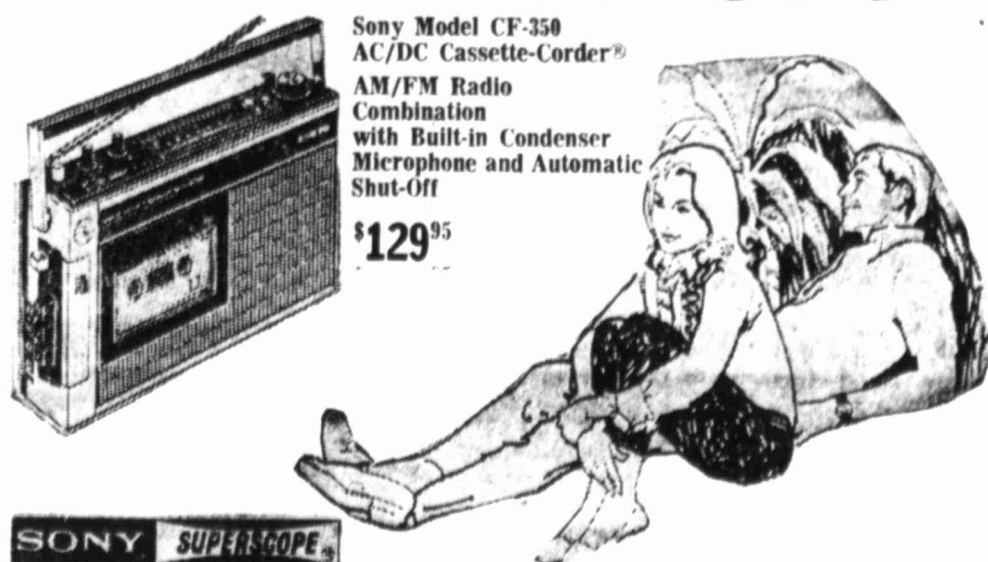

During the 1930s, he was city editor of the Gonzales Daily INQUIRER.

He served as mayor of Rockport in the 1940s and from 1947-1951, he was director of the Gonzales Warms Spring Foundation for crippled children.

He had lived in Corpus Christi since 1952.

Survivors are his widow; two sons, Jack Blackwell Jr. of Houston and Glenn Blackwell of Corpus Christi; a brother, Tommy Blackwell of Rockport; three sisters, Mrs. Louis Shults of Rockport, Mrs. Iva Mangum of San Antonio, and Mrs. Else Gescheide of Gonzalez, and a grandson.

Basic Gardening Terms Explained To Readers

Here is a quick glossary of basic gardening terms you may wish to clip out for future reference. Some of the terms appear in newspaper and magazine articles, and are often used on radio and television.

Agonomist: scientist specializing in the study of soil and plants.

Biological Control: the use of living things to control pests. Examples: Use of enemy insects (wasps vs. caterpillars); release of sterilized males to produce infertile matings.

Contact Insecticide: pesticide which kills an insect pest which touches it or is touched by it.

Ecology: study of the relationships of organisms with each other and their environment.

Entomologist: scientist specializing in the study of insects.

Environment: the aggregate of all the external conditions and influences affecting the life and the development of an organism.

Fungicide: chemical used to protect plants and seeds from fungus infection or to cure fungus infection.

Herbicide: chemical used to control weeds and other undesired vegetation.

Insecticide: chemical used to control insect pests.

Molluscicide: pesticide used to control snails and slugs.

Pest: any organism injurious to plants, man, domestic animals, other useful vertebrates, useful invertebrates, or other articles or substances.

Pesticide: any substance used to control or destroy insects, weeds, rodents, disease-causing organisms, and other types of pests which attack living things or spread disease among plants and animals.

Repellent: chemical which drives insects or other pests away from treated person, animals, object or area.

Rodenticide: pesticide used to kill rodents, such as rats.

Toxic: poisonous, relating to toxin, caused by toxin.

Weed: any plant growing where it is not desired.

Grass Heals Land

Nothing heals disturbed land better than grass. The fibrous root system of grass builds topsoil as it binds the ground, preventing wash. Grass plants absorb and hold nutrients, reducing eutrophication downstream.

Men's Garden Clubs Meet

DES MOINES, IA.—“What's New in Plants” may not introduce any talking plants at the annual Men's Garden Clubs of America but gardeners will learn Jerry Baker's (Plants Are Like People) technique of identifying people - plants. Dr. John Philip Baumgardt, past president of the gardeners, will show the row on what's new in flower and vegetable plants.

The 41st convention of the organization is slated for Dallas, April 29-May 4 with a post convention tour to the Tyler rose center. Six hundred gardeners, including lady gardeners, will hear such authorities as Dr. Eldon W. Lyle, president, American Rose Society; Luther J. Cooper, president, Hemerocallis Society; Dr. Baumgardt, and experts in horticulture from throughout Texas. Baker will be the speaker at the awards banquet on the final night.

The entire four days will be devoted to workshops and demonstrations on gardening and gardening topics, including a report on the Rare Plant Study Center at the University of Texas.

Joe Woodard, Dallas, is the convention chairman with the confab being hosted by the First Men's Garden Club of Dallas and the Southwest Region Men's Garden Clubs at the Baker Hotel in downtown Dallas.

Bentgrass Needs Increasing Care

The name “bentgrass” conjures visions of the most luxuriant swards known to the turfgrass world. Choices range from the relatively self-reliant colonial bentgrasses, through the creeping bent, to the ultimate in fine-textured grass, the velvet bent, more like a tapestry than like a turf. In general, each of these bentgrass categories requires progressively a little more care — more frequent mowing, thinning, and meticulous timing of attentions.

Trees, Trees

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — In an effort to ensure that America's grandchildren will have sufficient lumber supplies, Weyerhaeuser Co. has begun planting a record 100 million new trees this year.

The company, one of the nation's largest forest products firms, is planting the seedlings in Arkansas, Alabama, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Mississippi, Washington and Oregon.

Weyerhaeuser foresters are using extensive forest practices such as this year's massive planting to keep pace with America's growing appetite for wood supplies — nearly 200 million tons each year, or twice the annual production of steel in the U.S.

Do Plants Have Sense Of Impending Harm?

By REV. W. L. TRUMAN
Copy News Service

Archie Matson, a Methodist minister, changed a basic viewpoint of my whole life. He and two vats of plants in his office. Behind his closed office doors, he prayed for one and cursed the other.

I have often been in the home of the little, old grandma who swears that by whispering words of encouragement to her African violet and geraniums, she helped them grow. I have never had the nerve to suggest the cursing part, but have thought about it a great deal.

Dr. Homer Bucher, who is not a minister or a little old grandma, but who is a human relations expert, does not admit to talking to plants himself. He has earned his doctorate by studying plant response to environment, and his observations have convinced him that while plants do not hear granny's sweet talk, or a minister's prayer or curses, they do get the message, and he thinks they may do so by reading our minds.

It is Dr. Bucher's opinion that within the system of plant life there is something which can only be understood as being akin to our feelings and emotions. Dr. Bucher says they appreciate being watered, and they worry when some threatening force comes near them. He goes so far as to say that they faint when violence threatens their well-being. He is gathering data to prove they have sympathy emotions when harm comes to other plants or animals which are close to them.

His interest was turned from psychology when he tried to test how long it took water poured upon a droopy-leaved philodendron to travel from the roots to the leaves. He used a galvanometer, thinking that the increased moisture in the leaf would change the electrical resistance enough to register on his instrument.

He was shocked to find an immediate reaction which was very close to that of a person under emotional stimulation. The reaction was so great that he had to switch to a much less sensitive instrument, and he used a voltmeter. He continued the experiment by putting a bunsen burner under a leaf.

“At the moment I had the conviction in my mind that I was going to do this, the needle hit the peg,” he recalls. “This God put the worm in the apple; really shook me up.” He says man took it out. God put the that he has since done the same experiment with countless thousands of plants, and gotten a response from his intended harm to the plant.

Efforts To Add To Yield Good

Are the agricultural scientists' attempts to improve crop yield leading to disaster? Not according to Dr. Earl Butz, the Secretary of Agriculture. Speaking before the Foundation for American Agriculture.

Dr. Butz observed: “The plain truth is that the ecology of nature is pretty severe on man, and man is constantly trying to modify it. Let's be honest: hit the peg.” He recalls. “This God put the worm in the apple; really shook me up.” He says man took it out. God put the that he has since done the same experiment with countless thousands of plants, and gotten a response from his intended harm to the plant.

Historic Decision

The federal judge's ruling in Washington halting President Nixon's dismantling of the Office of Economic Opportunity is an historic one. If pursued to a conclusion with the Supreme Court, it could settle, finally and helpfully, the dispute about where the power lies as between the President and Congress.

U.S. District Court Judge William B. Jones ruled that President Nixon's action on the OEO is illegal. He held that the proposed termination of OEO and Community Action Agencies could not take place until funds run out or Congress decides to end them.

Judge Jones restrained Mr. Nixon's acting OEO director Howard J. Phillips from carrying out orders to shut down the programs.

The ruling came in a suit filed against Phillips by West Central Missouri Rural Development Corp. and a number of government employees.

Judge Jones noted that Congress "has indicated its intent the CAA function of OEO continue" until the end of the fiscal year June 30. He added that Congress can decide to terminate a program before authorization expires.

"But," he said, "Congress has not chosen either of these courses, although it may in the future. Until that time, historical precedents, logic and the text of the Constitution itself obligate the defendant to continue to operate the (CAA) programs as was intended by the Congress and not terminate them."

The judge ruled that if the power Mr. Nixon sought through the OEO action were found valid, "no barrier would remain to the executive ignoring any and all congressional authorizations if he deemed them, no matter how conscientiously, to be contrary to the needs of the nation."

"The argument by Phillips is that the Constitution confers discretionary power on the President to refuse to execute laws passed by Congress with which he disagrees," Judge Jones noted. He said the Supreme Court has found that this "would be clothing the President with a power entirely to control the legislation of Congress and paralyze the administration of justice."

This epochal court action puts President Nixon on the defensive. He must appeal the ruling to the Supreme Court or surrender much of the power he has gathered unto himself by executive order, including impoundment of funds.

No one can prophesy what the Supreme Court will do, but Congress clearly has won the first round.

Who Can Check It?

Astronomers have come up with something for those folks who like to ponder the imponderable. The skywatchers believe they have seen the edge of the universe.

They believe they have found firm evidence that the universe is finite, that it ends at a "wall" beyond which there is nothing, not even space.

Assuming the correctness of the findings, the "wall" is about 12 billion light years away. That is the time it would take light, traveling at 186,000 miles a second, to reach earth from the edge.

This opens the way to more speculation on the nature of the universe, its size and the nothingness beyond. One thing is certain, no one will be traveling out to the "wall" to check out the hypothesis anytime soon.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

How does the crucifixion relate to us since the Bible tells us to "follow the footsteps of Jesus"? Should Christians seek to be martyrs? Or is it just symbolic?

S.D.
There are two Bible references relating to your question. First the statement of Peter in chapter 2 of his first epistle "Christ who suffered for you is your example. Follow in His steps." Then the statement of Jesus in Mark's eighth chapter "if any of you wants to be my follower... put aside your own pleasures and shoulder your cross and follow me."

Perhaps no phrase has been so misused as "to bear one's cross." It most certainly does not mean to grit your teeth in the face of irritation or distress. It does not refer to enduring some frustration or obnoxious pressure.

As Jesus used the term it meant a higher and more significant act than the cessation of physical life. It meant the surrender and denial of self — involved in the conversion experience. It meant the new life of faith which by God's power would put sin to death.

Nobody would be a martyr physically for the cause of the cross who had not previously become a martyr spiritually for the Christ on the cross.

Nobody Cares

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — A strong man wept. With compassion transcending state officialdom, he had read a report on a village in Bangladesh where unrelenting hunger and disease are a sentence of early death and misery on the way to a nameless grave. The report was written not in the bureaucratic of graphs and statistics but in the personal experience of a condemned people.

SO THE FOREIGN aid bill will go up to Congress. It will be chivvied at, clipped away, given the disdainful treatment of those who feel that this pitcher has been brought to the well once too often. The folks in Bangladesh, in Chad, in Upper Volta, in Mali, in Mauritania have no votes. They are not even constituents.

With so many troubles at home — trade deficits and dollar deficits — the door of public opinion has been slammed shut on foreign aid. We can do it, as one official with the broadest knowledge of the whole aid picture puts it, we have the resources, but we don't want to do it. In short, nobody, or almost nobody, gives a damn.

THE UNITED States today is giving .32 per cent of our gross national product to the underdeveloped nations. The average for other advanced Western nations is .485. The American figure is expected to drop in the near future to .24 per cent.

The Agency for International Development (AID) has a stout persuader in John A. Hannah, its director, who was for many years president of Michigan State University. For the past four years he has carried the case to Congress with an ardor that is not diminished by his awareness he is speaking for a faceless people who cast ballots to no American election.

"WHAT KIND of world do you want your children or your grandchildren to live in?" He asks. "Don't think you can shut out for all time the 73 per cent of the world's people living below or close to the subsistence line. The Americans' six per cent of the world's population must not think that they can go on using anywhere from 35 to 50 per cent of the world's resources. Think of the kind of world your grandchildren will live in, inundated by a tidal wave of poverty driven to despair and open hostility."

Since December, 1971, when Bangladesh, which had been East Pakistan, became independent AID has furnished $367 million. This has come in cash, food under PL 480, medical supplies, coastal vessels to restart trade along the coast and advances to United Nations relief agencies. Loans have come from the World Bank and its adjunct, the International Development Agency.

In view of the need it is the proverbial drop in the bucket — and particularly in light of the population increase estimated, which is a guess since statistics are dubious, at three per cent a year. That, incidentally, is another out for the skeptics — why try to bail out for a leaking ship when water runs in faster than it can be put out? As the Bangladesh report says, the mud huts have no light and so when the sun goes down they have nothing to do but procreate.

To make any headway against this tidal wave of poverty would require strong dramatic leadership from the White House and Congress, a recasting of priorities, a public willingness to sacrifice. All this is nonexistent. So let's go out and have a big steak for dinner. After all, that great sacrifice of meatless week is over, isn't it?

George's Beer

NEW YORK (AP) — For a recipe for beer, go to the New York Public Library and ask for the writings of George Washington.

Among the library's outstanding collection of original George Washington documents is a military journal, in his handwriting, which he composed during his colonelcy in the Virginia militia in 1757. The journal is probably most famous for its back page where Washington noted down a recipe for making "small beer."

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Home-sick for a cat?

Me? At my age? Impossible.

But that's the way it seems to be. They say that when the cat's away the mice begin to play. But since our cat went away, all I've done is feel lonely.

It was bad enough when my 19-year-old daughter Tracy Ann returned to Windham College in Putney, Vt., after she took a semester off with the encouragement of the faculty there. But then she came home one weekend and took our 14-year-old cat back to college with her, and since then things have gotten much worse.

At first I felt kind of relieved. I enjoyed the reprieve from having to clean out a cat box and trying to please the whimsical appetite of a cat with more food prejudices than a houseful of spoiled children.

But then I began to miss her. I missed her soft leg rubbing greeting at the door when I came home. I missed not having to fight her for the best seat on the sofa — the one by the lamp. I missed the fun of watching her fight her way out of a paper bag. I missed waking and hearing her stalking around the apartment in the dead of night crying to herself. "Woe, Harold, woe."

If you think all a cat says is "meow," you either have a tin ear or have a limited vocabulary.

With both my cat and daughter gone, I find a new color television set — I think I must be the next to the last person in my neighborhood to get one — rather faded company.

Of my two teen-agers away, I suppose I really miss Lady Dottie the most. My daughter, like most teen-agers, has lost the ability to write a letter. But she's on the phone fairly regularly to announce some new night she's up to her neck in, or what unplumbed abyss of poverty she'll descend into if another check doesn't get there soon.

But I haven't heard directly from my cat at all. A cat, of course, is too proud even to curse over a telephone, let alone carry on a conversation. I have to take Tracy's word for it that Lady Dottie is well and healthy, and has been found to be the smartest feline student in the history of Windham College. This report, while it naturally makes me proud — what parent isn't proud his teen-ager is a success in college? — also leaves me with some misgivings.

I can see the advantages of giving a daughter a college education. At the least it will add cultural depth to her life. It might also be the springboard to a self-supporting career. And it certainly will make her a more interesting wife and a better informed mother, should marriage be her career, as I fondly hope.

But I don't quite see the point in Lady Dottie being in college. Reckoning a cat's real age to be seven times its calendar age, Lady Dottie at 14 is really 98 years old, which is kind of antique even for a Harvard sophomore.

The whole thing is ridiculous. What do I want with an educated cat in my family, anyway? If she comes home with a summa cum laude degree, it'll only give me an inferiority complex.

And I have trouble enough raising a voice of authority in my home without having to put up with the silent sneers of an uppity cat.

Missing Cat Blues

Hair Length No Factor

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a boy 15 and read your column quite often. My problem is my hair is shoulder length. My dad says if I keep it long in my later years I'll grow bald. Is this true? — J. A.

It's hard for a lot of us old duffers to become reconciled to boys who wear hair-dos that used to be the prerogative of girls, but of course, there have been other eras in which long hair was the fashion.

I don't know of any evidence that it causes baldness. After all, girls don't get bald from letting their hair grow.

Tell your dad I'm sorry, but I can't support his argument. Maybe he can think of something else, though, to convince you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What can be done to prevent sinusitis? Within six weeks I have had two sieges of it, both times running a temperature of 103. With one I had a cough and the other a severe sore throat.

Even with medication it took several weeks to recover fully from each case. Other years I have had annoying head colds, but this year sinusitis has had me down — unusual for me. Just wondered why this is happening and what I can do to prevent another siege — J. G. M.

My guess at this distance was that you were unlucky enough to get some virulent germ established in the sinuses, and your second attack was a relapse rather than a new attack. Or, conceivably, your sinus, still tender from the first attack, did pick up a different germ.

I would doubt that this means you are automatically going to be plagued with sinus trouble from now on. If you do have any "instant replays" of this trouble, I would certainly have some investigation to see whether polyps or other obstructions are interfering with proper drainage of the sinuses.

If you want to know more about sinuses — where they are, what happens to them, and how to treat different types of sinus trouble — send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of my booklet, "You Can Cure Sinus Trouble."

Dr. Thosteson: I read a report about brewer's yeast which said it is very helpful to older people to keep them youthful. Is this so or just another health gimmick? Would it have any side effect of making one gain weight? — Mrs. R. M.

There isn't anything that "keeps older people youthful," even though mankind was searching long before Ponce de Leon for a fountain of youth. Brewer's yeast is a good source of the B vitamins, hence is useful for those lacking such vitamins, but of no added value to those who are not deficient.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me what to do about cracks between the little toe and the next toe on each foot. Sometimes they are under the little toes. — Mrs. W. R. Probably a fungus infection on the order of "athlete's foot." Your comphor ointment might help temporarily, as you've found out, but a more specific anti-fungus medication would be more effective.

Terms That Nettle

Around The Rim

Ann Stevens

Women's liberation can be credited not only with raising the consciousness of many American women and some American men but also with joining other cultural groups in bringing a new flexibility to the American language.

All minority groups including women — who can be considered a minority, not due to numbers but to an imposed smaller social status — thrust at them by ill-wishers, bigots and sometimes by little old ladies in sneakers who just don't know better.

A major point of difference is that the terms with which minority groups have been taunted are slang, vulgarisms and rude mispronunciations.

The terms which bother feminists, however, are for the most part acceptable English words acknowledged by MISTER Webster et al.

Therein seems to lie the problem. Many who adopt Archie Bunker lingo when referring to ethnic minorities have had their consciences bothered — or their consciences bothered — and have refrained from using such crude and cruel terms, at least in public.

Yet, they do not feel the same guilt in using the terms "chairman," "Congressman" or "spokesman."

Why? Because they are in the dictionary. And because it is a tradition in language to let the male form of a noun stand for both sexes when referring to a group of mixed company.

In spite of the general reluctance of people to enlist the terms "chairperson" or "spokespeople" in the ranks of everyday vocabulary, the American language is becoming somewhat more flexible.

More and more words commonly used and terms newly coined are being officially recognized as acceptable. (For example, Paul Harvey's "guestimate.")

"Chairperson" is actually a much more flexible word than its unilateral predecessor "chairman." Not only can it be equally applied to both men and women, but also to both boys and girls. (e. g., in classroom situations.)

The important thing to note, though, is that "chairperson" should be applied across the board to both sexes. Otherwise, the purpose is defeated and the potential flexibility stunted.

Of course, it is possible to get around "chairperson" by referring to group leaders as chairmen or chairwomen — providing you know the sex of the person to whom you speak.

The inefficiency of the terms "chairman" or "woman" comes in writing a letter to a strange Pat, Chris or Sandy. It would be considered an unpardonable sin to address that person as if female when actually the sex was male. Why, then, is it not unpardonable to do the opposite?

This is a job for "chairperson." The term can rescue the user from inappropriately and the hearer from shame or insult.

In an effort to make humans feel more human, why not use a word not in the dictionary if it helps?

Use of "chairperson" and its reasonable counterparts (no I don't advocate Dallas Cowpersons!) would add a new flexibility and humanism to the American language and would help tone down the built-in bias which many words innocently lend to their users.

Shultz Slipping

By Rowland Evans

And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The revealing show of political impotence put on in its feeble efforts to impose tougher by the House Democratic leadership price controls on the administration has now given Mr. Nixon a towering free hand, except for one towering obstacle: Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz.

HAD THE HOUSE done on Monday what its Democratic leaders boasted it would, and voted to freeze prices, Mr. Nixon would have been under embarrassing restraint. If he then had listened to the overwhelming cry of politicians, economists, housewives and workers and signed a stiff Democratic party-controlled bill — or ordered a freeze on his own — he would have seemed to be surrendering to his political enemies.

Now, however, fresh from Monday's glorious tactical victory in the House, which gave him exactly the one-year extension of controls authority he always wanted, he is a free agent.

NOT ONLY can he command total political credit by moving from the hapless Shultz-imposed Phase III to a serious program of price controls. He can also be certain of near-total congressional approval by Democrats and Republicans alike — if he can make George Shultz, a doctrinaire free-marketier, bend to reality.

Not all signs are negative. The White House has let it privately be known that last weekend was the President's "economic weekend," during which he started coming to grips with runaway inflation.

MOREOVER, there are signs that Mr. Nixon is beginning to listen to some of the outside experts — and such powerful but unheeded inside experts as Dr. Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board — for the first time since Shultz sold him on the disaster of Phase III.

It's about time. Albert Sindinger, the nation's top expert on the habits, spending and confidence of the American consumer, now computes from his sponglike national polling that at least one million Americans have bought new 1973 model automobiles in advance of a buying pattern which would normally have delayed the purchase until 1974 models.

SINDLINGER, whose data is avidly devoured by the White House (if not by Shultz), also is finding that television sets, another big consumer item, are being bought at an annual rate of 13 millions — one-third higher than normal.

The reason is the same in both cases: the psychology of fear that inflation has become uncontrollable and that "forward buying" means a better bargain today over next year. The hidden danger in this Sindinger finding is that a mere one-third of the nation's consumers are responsible for it. Many of them are union members under contracts with built-in cost-of-living escalator clauses. That guarantees a continuing inflation spiral.

SHULTZ APPEARS still to be in high standing with the President, but with the President's hand now free to come to grips with inflation, he is not likely to let even the favored Shultz stand in his way.

On Regulating Businesses

Curbside flower vendors became so numerous in a certain community that the regular florists began to complain about the competition. Finally, the city council passed a tough licensing law aimed at knocking the street vendors out of business.

BUT WHEN the new law was tested in court, it was held null and void. The court said the city simply had no power to regulate a business as harmless as selling flowers.

Private enterprise, while not wholly free, still has considerable vitality. A city's "police power" does not include blanket authority over all kinds of business activities, just because they happen to be within the city limits.

ON THE other hand, a city may indeed impose restraints on a business that has a real potential for harm.

Consider the case of a man who started a telephone answering service. According to a city ordinance, he and his employees were supposed to submit to photographing and fingerprinting. Challenging the ordinance, the man said it was unfair to "singl us out."

BUT A COURT saw two ways in which a telephone answering service could be harmful:

1) by the misuse of confidential information about subscribers; and 2) by the encouragement of immoral activities. Upholding the city's requirements, the court said.

"There is a reasonable basis for distinguishing this type of business from others that are not regulated."

ANOTHER ordinance, covering private detectives, went still further. Under its terms, they had to put up a special bond and get a character clearance from the police department.

But again, a court decided there were enough possibilities for mischief in this line of work to justify the city in taking precautions. As one judge put it:

"A STATUTE to promote the public safety is valid, although it may interfere with individual freedom. Individual freedom must yield to the public good."

(A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.)

A Devotion For Today...

Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work. (John 4:34)

PRAYER: O God, our Father, we thank Thee from the depths of our hearts for the wonderful plan of salvation, and for Thy Son, who paid so great a price that we may have eternal life. Help us to be faithful this day in our living for Thee. We ask it in Thy blessed name. Amen.

Blabber Mouth

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and a junior in high school, and I live with my grandparents. My best friend (I'll call her Donna) is my age and we've been like sisters all our lives since she lives across the street.

My grandparents think Donna is an angel, so yesterday while they were going on and on about how perfect Donna was, I got mad and blurted out that Donna went all the way with Kenny, the boy she's been going steady with. I was sorry right after I said it, but it was too late.

Well, last night Grandpa said he felt it was his duty to tell Donna's father what I told him, but he needed my cooperation. Now he wants me to repeat to Donna's father what I told him. Abby, what I said was true, but I don't want to repeat it to Donna's father.

My grandpa is giving me a week to decide on what I want to say. I need your help, Abby. Should I cooperate or not? I really don't want to. I feel like a rat.

BIG MOUTH: You've already done too much talking. Tell grandpa you don't want to repeat what you said about Donna. If he wants to tell Donna's father, you can't stop him. If he does, I hope you have a substitute best friend warming up in the bullpen.

DEAR ABBY: My divorce will be final in three weeks, but my ex is still following me around begging me to give him another chance.

Abby, I still love him, but I don't want to live with him. He's insanely jealous for no reason at all. I am a good Christian woman and never gave him cause to doubt me, but he has beat me up several times trying to get me to "confess."

Once he broke my nose, knocked out four teeth, and I had 22 stitches on my lip. Then he pinned me up against the wall and broke my collarbone. That's when I filed for divorce.

My friends say I'd have to be crazy to take him back. I still love him. What would you do? IN DOUBT DEAR IN: I certainly wouldn't take him back. But if you do, you should try to find a psychiatrist with two couches — one for you and one for him.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

H.V. Crockers Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Howard V. (Hurr) Crocker celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, and he has a perfect formula for a long, happy wedded life.

"Pick out the right girl."

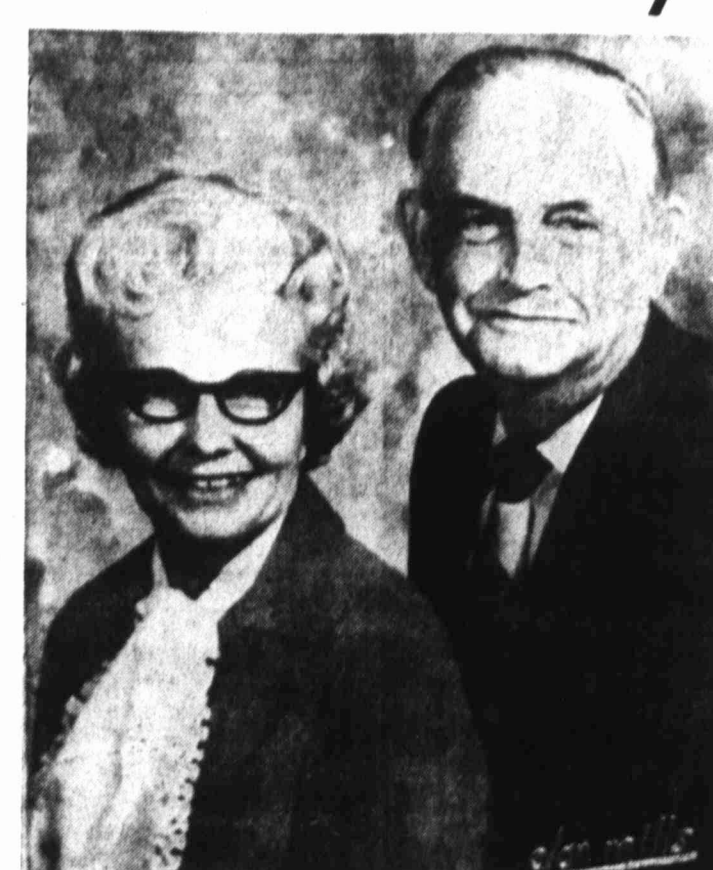

Mr. and Mrs. Crocker left Thursday for Eastland where their youngest son, Johnny, and his wife, will host the family at their Lake Leon home during the weekend.

Joining them there will be the other Crocker children, H. V. (Sonny) Crocker Jr., Big Spring; Mrs. Anne Miller, Lubbock; and Mrs. Malinda Blackburn, Dallas. Their three grandchildren Christi Miller, Victoria Blackburn and Dianne Crocker, also will be on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Crocker came here 43 years ago and have lived 42 of those years at their home at 1707 Benton.

Both of them were reared in and near Lufkin, where they were married — she was Lona Bennett — in a church parsonage April 21, 1923. They had known each other for about five years. At the time, he was working in his father's grocery store and delivering groceries at $12.50 a week, but when he landed a job with an Eldorado, Ark., grocery at the handsome figure of $150 a month, they decided to get married.

With the exception of a brief time out to work for V. R. Smithman, Lufkin city manager, Crocker continued his grocery association in Eldorado for the next six years. But just as the

MR. AND MRS. H. V. CROCKER

Depression was taking a firm hold, his boss died and the widow decided to liquidate the business. With a bride and a one-year-old baby boy, but with no job, he was in dire straits.

"Then I remembered that Mr. Smithman told me that if I ever needed a job, just let him know."

So he wrote to Lufkin and got a reply in a letter from Big Spring to report for a place with the fire department. He caught the train to Big Spring and joined Bob Fields as the two paid ($90 a month) drivers of the fire department, headed by volunteer chief Harry Lees.

Mrs. Crocker and Sonny didn't join him for about a month, and she did it with some misgivings.

"She didn't like West Texas — and neither did I, but I didn't have any money to leave on and no other job to go to," he recalled. Now they wouldn't live anywhere else.

A staunch believer in the influence of the church, Mrs. Crocker joined the Philathea Class of First Methodist Church on Easter Sunday, 1930 and has been a member ever since. She also took part in WSCS.

"She sure pointed me in the right direction," said Crocker, "and the kiddoes, too."

At first, the family rented, but then for $998 they bought the house on Benton. "Payments were $12.50 a month, and we would have lost it several times if it hadn't been for Olive Ruth Cowden."

Mrs. Crocker did what she could at home to help, keeping children of working couples. It was this extra income which helped Anne, now of Lubbock, get her PE degree and Johnny his industrial engineering degree at North Texas and Malinda, now of Dallas, to attend Tech before she married.

Crocker served under Ole Cordill, the first paid fire chief, from 1936 to 1943, when Cordill resigned and Crocker was made chief, a post he held until his retirement in 1971. He presided over rapid expansion of the department, at one time having 50 men under him. He also joined with the late George O'Brien to establish the Firemen's Sunday School class, which persists to this day.

Although she was past the accepted age, Mrs. Crocker was accepted for Licensed Vocational Nurse training after the children were off to school and has been active in the profession since. She also is a member of the American Business Women's Club, a charter member of Sew and Chatter Club, the Order of Eastern Star, Rebekahs and the LVN Association. Once she was active in the African Violet Club "and nearly covered us up with violets," Crocker remembered.

He is a Mason, member of the Order of Eastern Star, Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and of the Men's Bible Class at First United Methodist Church. With the late R. W. Whipkey, he established the Mike & Ice Fund to aid poor families, the Cheer Fund (which provided funds with which city firemen repaired toys for more than 30 years and used the residue for purchasing medicines for the poor). He also has been active in firemen's professional groups and instructed at the Texas A&M short course.

"We've made it through the first half," he mused, "and we're looking forward to even more happiness."

Reviews Agenda For Convention

Big Spring will be represented at the Jaycee state convention scheduled May 10-12 in Austin. Attending from here will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Worthan, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gregg and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson.

The agenda for the convention was reviewed by Jaycee-Elites Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Travis Hunter, 3702 Boulder. Proceeds from a concession stand operated during Webb's "Accent On Youth Week" will defray expenses for those attending.

Members agreed to change their club year to begin June 1 in order to coincide with the Jaycee club year.

Mrs. Worthan presided as plans were made to sell homemade ice cream at Highland Center Mall in July as a fund-raising project. Members were reminded that the Jaycee installation banquet will be held the latter part of May, and a band will provide entertainment.

Guests were Mrs. Pauline Hillger, Mrs. Bobbie Beal and Mrs. Jean Klapmunt. Refreshments were served.

Three Join Retired Teachers

The Big Spring-Howard County Retired Teachers' Association gained three new members during Tuesday's meeting in the ranch home of Mrs. Skeet Porter, Vealmoor. They are Mrs. Lula Westbrook, Mrs. Miriam K. Wilcox and Mrs. Edith McBride.

Mrs. Faye Newman announced that all 1973 retiring teachers are invited to join the association. Also, it is open to teachers who may have retired in other cities.

The local members planned to be guests of the Odessa association at 3 p.m., April 30 in the Texas Electric Reddy Room, Odessa. Guest speaker will be Bruce Hineman, a field representative for the Texas Teachers' Retirement System.

Cohostesses for Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Loy Acuff and Mrs. Bill Early, and Mrs. W. M. Walker was a guest. The program was given by Mrs. Porter who displayed some of her craftwork such as quilts, afghans and table cloths and explained how she had refinished antique furniture.

Residents Travel To Visit Friends

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. L. B. McElrath and her daughter and family, the J. E. Overtons, are in Austin to attend the wedding of Mrs. McElrath's grandson, Buster White.

The L. T. Shoults' are in Hamlin to visit a daughter and family, the Buster Griggs'.

Guests of the J. W. Overtons for Easter are their daughter and family, the Rev. Mac Robinsons of Seagraves.

The A. J. McCalls have returned from Andrews where they visited their son, J. W. Archer. Archer is a patient in the Andrews Hospital.

Guests recently of Mrs. L. B. McElrath were Terry Harkrider and his father, Dub Harkrider, both of Alpine.

Mrs. H. H. Story has returned from Lubbock following a visit with her brother who is a patient in a Lubbock hospital.

Guests of the Hamlin Elrods are Carol Nelson and Mary Harris, both of Dallas.

PTA-Bake Sale Slated Saturday

A bake sale, sponsored by Airport Parent-Teacher Association, will be held at Safeway Store College Park and Foodway Store, Coronado Plaza, all day Saturday. Proceeds will be used to pay expenses for delegates to national convention May 20-23 in St. Louis, Mo.

Other projects scheduled include a Mexican supper at 6:30 p.m., May 4 in the Airport School cafeteria. The public is invited to attend. The schools' new table-bench combinations will be on display, and school maintenance personnel will show how the cafeteria can be converted to a combination gymnasium and cafeteria.

The group also plans a garage sale May 11-12, place to be announced.

Mrs. Jerry Harry To Head Art Group

Mrs. Jerry L. Harry was elected president of the Big Spring Art Association Tuesday when business was conducted in the home of Mrs. J. H. Holloway, 3211 Cornell.

Named to complete the officer slate were Mrs. Robert L. Barnes, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Dunn, second vice president; Mrs. H. Becknell, secretary; and Mrs. W. H. Crenshaw, treasurer.

Mrs. De Forest Frazier, current president, announced dates of upcoming shows in other cities. The Andrews Art Guild annual show is set April 27 through May 2, while the Sands Art Association of Monahan will be May 12-13. These are open exhibits, and information concerning rules may be obtained from Mrs. Frazier.

Gary Grant, show chairman, announced that the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce donated $25 for the recent show. The association has started a membership drive and welcomes inquiry from anyone interested in an active or patron membership. Details may be obtained from Mrs. Frazier.

The next meeting will be a salad supper hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Grant, 1605 Osage.

Shower Honors Mrs. D. Adams

Mrs. David Adams was honored Wednesday with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. Walter McWhirter, 1218 Mulberry. Guests included members of Acteens Girls of Baptist Temple, for whom Mrs. Adams is advisor.

Cohostesses were Miss Terri McWhirter, Mrs. Bennie Porter and Miss Jana Porter. Yellow and white were used in decorations. A yellow cloth covered the table which was centered with a small yellow teddy bear.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Events should be moving swiftly in your life at this time. If you relax activities beyond present boundaries, you will be able to gain the goodwill of those in high office. Follow suggestions they give and you will benefit.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Communicating with those at a great distance for the data you need is wise. A new friend can give the information you seek and will help you in your project. Take heed health treatments.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): If you make good use of your hunches, you will be able to handle matters of importance. Figure out with more how to get ahead faster and increase harmony. Think constructively.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Discuss a new project with associates and listen carefully to their ideas. Take care of important civic matters. Schedule your time well in the morning so you can accomplish a great deal.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): If you show others that you are devoted, you can easily gain their goodwill. Go over your wardrobe and see how it can be improved, so that you feel well-dressed and poised.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): If you make good use of your hunches, you will be able to handle matters of importance. Figure out with more how to get ahead faster and increase harmony. Think constructively.

Alert Is Out To Aviators

Pilots are warned about the Gallant Hand '73 military exercises which will be performed from Monday through Tuesday in a 147-by-87 nautical mile area in West Central Texas.

Gallant Hand '73 operations will be bounded roughly by Killean on the southeast to a point slightly southwest of Walnut Springs, west-northwest to near De Leon, west to near the Taylor County line, south-southeast to the Inks Lake area and northeast to the Killean area.

Several hundred helicopters and high performance aircraft will participate in exercises during daylight. Limited activity is scheduled for night hours.

Aircraft will be operating between ground level and 25,000 to 30,000 feet.

"We can usually get civilian craft through and anyone who needs information about the exercise is asked to call the Mathis Field tower," John Schwab of the Federal Aviation Administration said.

A toll-free number to the Gallant Hand Control Reporting Center is 800-792-9800.

H. W. Smith New Board Chairman

H. W. Smith, businessman and civic worker here for nearly two score years, has been named chairman of the board at Big Spring First Savings & Loan Association.

Smith, one of the founding directors of the association, was named by the board Thursday to this post, succeeding the late R. W. Whipkey.

A resident since 1935, he came here from Fort Worth to operate the T-P Coal & Oil dealership in the Big Spring area. Subsequently, he established the H. W. Smith Transport Co., Inc., operated since 1968 by J. Arnold Martyn.

During the past five years Smith has had a crude oil purchasing company, also has supervised investments. He also is on the board of directors of the First National Bank.

Smith served six years as a member of the Big Spring Independent School board, several times as a director of the Chamber of Commerce and once as vice president. He has been a Kiwanian for 36 years and served as president of the

Council Looks At New Plans

COLORADO CITY — The city council will hold a special meeting tonight to consider taking bids on new traffic lights for the downtown area.

Also on the agenda, provided plans are received, will be discussion of the proposed new civic center for Colorado City.

Tentative plans are being drawn up by Wadleigh Construction of Snyder and are expected to be received in time to be shown members of the council tonight.

The city passed a resolution, pledging to build a new civic center after the Jaycees sold the present civic center to the Industrial Team to be used for expansion of Colorado City Manufacturing Co.

Tentative plans for the new civic center include seating for some 500 persons with the auditorium designed so that it might be divided into three sections in order to accommodate three meetings at one time. Cost is expected to be between $50,000 and $100,000. Three sites are under consideration at Second & Oak, First and Elm and the 300 block of Walnut.

Jaycees Sponsor Drive For Funds

Coahoma-Sand Springs Jaycees are sponsoring a program to raise money for the local American Cancer Society.

A pet pig will be given away April 28. Donations may be given to any Coahoma Jaycee.

All day tomorrow, phones will be manned to receive donation pledges. Any amount 50 cents or over may be pledged by calling 267-7229, 267-7786 or 394-4422.

Tickets may be obtained by one person for several others in case one wants to donate to the Cancer Society but does not want to keep the pig.

All proceeds of the project will go to the cancer drive.

Museum To Close Easter Sunday

The Heritage Museum will be closed Sunday afternoon on the occasion of Easter.

Next weekend, the regular schedule of remaining open on the afternoons of Saturday and Sunday, will be resumed, said Joe Pickle, president. The museum, of course, is open during the week days.

Currently, an exhibit honoring early-day doctors here, as well as highlighting the progress of medicine, is on display at the museum, and you are invited to view it, said the president.

Brownies Plant Shrubs Tuesday

Members of the Washington Place Brownie Troop 180 will help plant shrubs in front of the West Side Community Center after school Tuesday.

Troop Leader Mrs. Odys Woodall said the troop donated $10 to the center for the purchase of the shrubbery.
