WELLINGTON LEADER

For Seventeen Years a Builder in Collingsworth County

VOLUME XVII | WELLINGTON, Collingsworth County , Wednesday, September 9, 1925 | NUMBER 14

Plan now on seeing the many attractions at the Collingsworth County Fair.

Help Quail put her fair over an she will help the county put its fair over."

Rambles
Over the County

J. W. L. COOK
The Leader's Rambling Editor

John A. Ross

John A. Ross lives two miles northwest of Plymouth. Mr. Ross has lived in Collingsworth County twenty-five years. He has lived on his present home all this time. Mr. Ross is a native of old Alabama and was raised in that state and in the state of Georgia and came from there to this county. Mr. Ross has a nice home. He owns 320 acres of land on which stands a nice six room house, and good farm buildings. They have a nice home orchard. Mr. Ross says he has a good crop on his place but it is needing rain badly.

H. M. Atkinson

H. M. Atkinson, who lives six miles north of Wellington, has been raised in oCllingsworth County. He was brought here from Alabama when a small boy by his parents. Mr. Atkinson is farming one of the C. W. Robert's farms. Mrs. Atkinson is a daughter of C. W. Roberts and was also raised in this county. They have a nice home. Their house is a neat new bungalow. They have a fairly good crop.

J. P. Ripetoe

After leaving the H. M. Atkinson home we went to the J. P. Ripetone farm. We found Mr. Ripetoe at work at a gravel pit on his farm. Mr. Ripetoe has lived in this county 22 years. He is a native of Missouri but was raised in Montague County, Texas. He came to that county in 1873. Mr. Ripetoe owns 400 acres of land on the Saltfork river. There are 120 acres in cultivation. The other 280 acres are in pasture. There is a fine gravel pit on this place which is being worked and the gravel hauled to Wellington for buliding purposes. Mr. Ripetoe says his crop is doing fairly well. Mr. Ripetoe is an old time subscriber to the Leader.

J. D. Pritchard

Our next home to visit was that of J. D. Pritchard. Mr. Pritchard lives near the banks of the Salt Fork. He too, has a fine gravel pit which is being worked. Mr. Pritchard told the writer that he had found three human skeletons while excavating in the pit this summer, one was the bones of a child, the other two were adult skeletons. They were found several feet down. No one knows who they were or how long they had been there. There were no signs of anything to show that they had been buried. They may have been Indians or they may have been people that had drowned in the river many years ago. Mr. Pritchard reburied the bones in a shallow grave near the pit.

Mr. Pritchard has lived in this county 19 years. He is a native of Kentucky but was raised in Arkansas. He has a good home, owns 250 acres of land. His house is fairly good. Mr. Pritchard plans building a new house in the near future. He says his crop is an average of that part which means fairly good. We took dinner at the Pritchard home and enjoyed a good dinner and was made to feel welcome. They are readers of the Leader and set their date up one more year.

After our noon hour with the Pritchard family we took a trip on the north side of the river, but got into a hard road to travel, so we went to the J. C. Cook's at Nicholson and spent the night. We left Nicholson for the Lone Mound District.

John L. McCraken

Our first home to visit in that community was that of John L. McCracken, about three miles north of Dozier. Mr. McCracken has lived in this county twenty years. He is a native of Kentucky but was raised in Green County, Oklahoma, but at that time was Green County, Texas. Mr. McCracken has a good home. He owns 320 acres of land. They have a nice modern built house of six rooms and good out-buildings. Mr.McCracken says his crop is good for the season, says his feed was holding up alright and thought he would have plenty of feed. We left the McCracken home with an invitation to return that evening and spend the night in their home which we did and enjoyed a night's rest under their hospitable roof.

FAMILY REUNION AT HOME OF MRS. M. M. TUCKER

Twenty relatives held a family reunion at the home of Mrs. M. M. Tucker of Wellington Sunday. This is the first time all of the children have been together in about twenty years.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. C M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Rowell, of Braton, Oklahoma, Mrs. O. E. Tucker and children, O. L. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tucker of Abernathy, Texas.

COMMUNITY EXHIBITS TO GET PRIZES

Two Hundred Dollars in Thirteen Prizes Will Be Given at County Fair

One of the most interesting features of the fifth annual Collingsworth County Fair is the Community exhibits, in which there will be thirteen cash prizes given, amounting to $200, none of which will be lower than $10.

Entries must be in not later than noon Thursday, September 17. These entries will include only agricultural products that are grown in the community that is making the exhibit.

Every exhibit should be carefully and tastefully arranged at this feature will be taken into consideration by the judges. For detailed information see page 61 of the Fair catalogue, which may be secured at the Leader office.

Exhibits are expected from many of the communities of the county this year, and space is being reserved for them. No charge wil be made for the exhibit space, as the directors are trying to encourage the various communities of the county to bring community exhibits as well as inividual entries.

Season tickets for the three days of the Fair are now on sale at the Joe Hardy Drug Store, Cochran Drug Store and the Palace Drug Store. This will be a big saving to those fair patrons who intend to go regular. Season tickets on automobile parking space will also be issued by the Fair Association.

TEACHERS OF COUNTY GO TO INSTITUTE

All Teachers Attend Canyon Joint Institute For First Time

Collingsworth County school teachers left during the week-end for the teachers institute that is being held in Canyon from September 7 to 14. Those attending from Wellington Public Schools included Superintendent L. T. Green, W. M. Boston, Mrs. Olean Leggitt, Miss Doris Leggitt, Miss Lilian Steelman, Miss Alice Cook, Miss Vera Caltharp, Miss Mary Ennis Hicks, Miss Catherin Whitely, Miss Zeffie Childress, J. T. Nabors, Miss Bessie Ford, Miss Delia Cowan, Miss Effie Rankin, Miss Margaret Campbell, Miss John Hughes, Mrs. Emmett Foster and Miss Floy Farrar, Miss Ellen Smith, Miss Wilma Burgen, Mrs. L. T. Green, Mrs. Barton, Miss Faye Moreman, Miss Norma Cook, Miss Grace Jones and Mrs. Merritt Wilks.

County Superintendent Ernest Winn and J. D. Wilson, Superintendent of Dodsonville school and about eighty county teachers are now in Canyon attended the institute. This is the first year the teachers of this county have attended the joint institute of the counties of the panhandle. but the plan is proving beneficial and will be continued in the future, it is believed.

ESTIMATE SHOWS DECREASE IN 1925 COTTON PRODUCTION

The United State Bureau of Agriculture's latest semi-monthly estimate of the cotton crop for the 1925 season shows a slight decrease from the last report, according to a Western Union dispatch received here which states that the latest estimate was 13,740,000 bales.

This amount is slightly lower than the estimate of fifteen days ago which is due to the dry weather that has been prevailing in the southwestern United States.

A report on the State of Texas is not available at this writing, but it is thought that it will be also be slightly lower than the last estimate.

RALPH LEWIS TO ENTER NOTRE DAME UNIVERSITY

Ralph Lewis left Wednesday morning for South Bend, Indiana, where he will enter the University of Notre Dame. He will enroll in the department of architectural engeering. Ralph was a member of the 1925 class of Wellington high school.

Fair Edition of The Leader Will Be Issued Wednesday, Sept. 16

The Fair edition of the Wellington Leader will be issued Wednesday, September 16. This date has been selected, for the majority of the merchants have expressed their desire to have their fair advertisements appear just before the fair instead of a week ahead as did the Fair edition last year. Merchants who desire space should make reservations now, for much of the space has already been sold and no increase will be made over the size of the paper originally planned.

This issue will be an excellent advertising medium, for it will be full of news that has a timely interest to every member of the community, and it will also contain interesting feature stories.

Dodsonville School Patrons and Teachers Expecting Great Year

J. D. Wilson Gives Rules That Will Help In Making Year a Success

The school patrons of Dodsonville are looking forward for a successful school year, and the students are pleased to know that school will open on the fourtheenth of September.

The progress that has been made in the school during the past two years has inspired the average school patron to take more interest in giving the children of this community the best opportunity possible to secure a public school education.

The school board decided that in order to raise the standard of the school it was necessary to eliminate the eleventh grade. The board discovered that by doing away with the eleventh grade it would not effect any student in the school district this year.

The following teachers have been employed: J. D. Wilson, Principal; Miss Annie Belle Hill, Home Economics; Mrs. Buelah Hunsaker, Intermediate; Miss Faye Wilson, Intermediate; Mrs. Estelle Burk, Primary; and Mrs. Essie Sharp, Music and Expression. The trustees may add another teacher to the faculty.

The teachers with the co-operation of the school patrons are determined to have the best school in the history of the community.

J. D. Wilson, superintendent, suggests twelve things that parents can do to aid in the school work. They are:

1. Train the child into habits of obedience and respect for authority it enters school.
2. Picture the school as a happy desirable place rather than a place where punishment will be meted out.
3. Insist that the child under fourteen has no lss than ten hours sleep.
4. Encourage punctuality and regular attendance.
5. Become acquainted with teachers and visit the school during the regular class work.
6. Manifest interest in the child's school work and in all else connected with the school.
7. Require the preparation of homework when such is assigned and provide good light and a quite place to study.
8. Confer privately with teachers in case the papils is backwar in any of his studies.
9. Beware of any physical defects discovered through the child's school work.
10. Refrain from criticizing teachfrom condeming them on the child's ers within the hearing of children or statement alone. This is unfair to the teacher and demoralizing to the child. No teacher would criticize a parent in the child's presence.
11. Uphold the teachers in their exercise of authority.
12. See that children are dressed simply, neatly, and modestly.

MISS REBA ATKINS AND JAKE TARTER MARRY SATURDAY

Miss Reba Atkins and Jake Tarter, both of Wellington, were quietly married by Rev. Lem Hodges at the Baptist parsonage Saturday evening.

Miss Atkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Atkins of Nocona, Texas. She is a graduate nurse and has been head nurse of the Baptist Hospital here for the past year.

Jake Tarter is the son of Mrs. J. B. Tarter is well known in this county, having spent many years here. Mr. Tarter says that they will make their home here.

It is not known what work Mr. Tarter will take up, but his familiarity with modern farming methods will enable him to take up some phase of this work in Collingsworth County.

P. T. A. MEETS FRIDAY FOR FIRST TIME

Mrs. S. K. Parsons Thanks Members For Co-operation During Her Term

The Parent-Teachers Association held its initial meeting of the 1925 season last Friday afternoon at the auditorium of the High School building. Mrs. S. K. Parsons, who has been president for the past two years, called the meeting to order. Over one hundred members were present at this first meeting. Mrs. A. V. Cocke was elected president for the coming year. The next meeting will be held the week school opens.

Mrs. Parsons says that she wants to thank the members of the association for the co-operation they have given her in this work during the past two years. In that time the membership has been built up from 8 to 125 members. All of these have been active and willing to help in every way to further the educational advancement of the community. Mrs. Parsons says, and she is truly grateful for this help.

The association is planning on a greater work this year than ever before. Their aim is to unite the bonds between the teacher and the parents so that they can work together for the good of the children. This work has resulted in a greater harmony. The parents are able to help the children at home, because they know something of the methods the teachers are seeking and something of the goals toward which they are striving.

COTTON STALK OVER FIVE FEET BROUGHT INTO LEADER OFFICE

J. W. Loter brought in a stalk of cotton grown by Tom Stallings which was five feet and two inches high. This stalk had over forty grown boles. Mr. Loter says that there is about twenty acres of cotton on this farm which is equally as good. This land has produced as much as a bale and a half to the acre, but it won't do it this year,Mr. Loter says. He says the cotton in hat part of the county shows no effect of worms and no need for rain.

RECORD IS MADE HUNTERS' LICENCES ISSUED IN COUNTY

Mrs. Roy Noles, County Clerk, states that there have been over one hundred hunters' licences issued from the clerk's office in the last few days. Fred LeDerer states that he has issued about fifty licences, which makes a total of over one hundred and fifty licences, the largest number ever sold in this county over an equal peoiod of time.

A great deal of interest has been shown during the prairie chicken season and many hunters have gone to Wheeler County during the past ten day for the hunt. All hunters report plenty of birds and only a very few failed to get the number of birds allowed.

MARRIAGE LICENCES ISSUED

J. E. Dye and Miss Ella Wynn.

Jake Tarter and Miss Reba Atkins.

Dave Chandler and Miss Emma Wiles.

Omega Sampley and Miss Gladys Murley.

Quail Community Will Hold Its Third Annnal Fair Saturday, Sept. 12

MERCHANTS MAKE BAND ... PERMANENT

Business Men Pledge Sufficient Funds To Assure Permanency

Blythe Horn, recently elected president of the band, states that the band will probably make two or three booster trips to different parts of the county, which will include Quail, Dodsonville and probably other communities, which trips will come sometime before the fair.

Wellington merchants came through loyally for their city recently when the Wellington Band election lost and the band seemed to have been dealt a death blow. A petition has been circulated and about sixty progressive merchants of Welington have pledged themselves to monthly donations that will be sufficient to assure permancy for the band.

Blythe Horn says, "the merchants certainly deserve praise for their quick action at a time when it seemed the members of the band were discourage an the organization might be abandoned."

Wellington has one of the best bands in its class in the panhandle and it is possible that the band will be entered in the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo. The band boys have regular practice days and give weekly concerts.

BUYER SAYS THIS COUNTY GARDEN SPOT

E. N. Edmundson of Matador Looks for Short Yield Over State

E. N. Edmundson, cotton buyer of Matador, Oklahoma, who was here last week visiting relatives, says that this county is becoming recognized as the garden spot of the state. He said that he could see some differences between this year and last year, but that crops were better here that than in many neighboring places.

Mr. Edmundson thinks that the yield for the state will fall short of the Government forecasts. He says cotton should be bringing a high price toward the last of the season. He says that this is a year in which the correct methods of cultivation bring results. "I have passed by so many fields this year," he said, "which are splendid and on the other side of the road would be a crop that was burning up. Such conditions can be caused only through the methods of cultivation."

"Wellington is certainly a growing town. It is already a better town than Memphis, and it has any town in this part of the Panhandle outstripped for business development in the past year."

MINISTER SANDERS LEAVES FOR BINGER OKLA. FOR MEETING

Minister Ira L. Sanders reports a very successful revival meeting at North Grosbeck in Wilbarger County upon his return here.

Minister Sanders left early Tuesday morning for Binger, Oklahoma, where he will hold a ten days revival meeting. Minister Sanders states that the meeting at North Grosbeck was very well attended and a great deal of interest was shown by the people there during the entire ten days that the meeting was held.

BUDGE HARLE TO ENTER STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE IN DURANT, OKLAHOMA

Budge Harle left Wednesday morning for Durant, Oklahoma, where he will attend the Southwestern State Teachers College for the next year. Budge finished high school at Memphis last year and spent his summer gathering locals and news stories for the Leader. He has the making of a first class Journalist

Many Attractive Prizes Have Been Planned for Exhibits of all Kinds

Saturday, September 12, the Quail Community will hold the biggest fair that has ever been conducted in that section. Attractive prizes will be offered in the Agricultural Department the women's department, and in the Livestock department. A complete list of the prizes and attractions will be found on another page in the Leader.

Plenty ofamusements have been provided to keep everyone entertained during the fair. There will be bronc riding, horse racing, ball games, and many other amusements. One of the side attractions of this fair will be the baby show. A $5 prize will be given to the winner of first prize and a gold ring will be given to the winner of second prize.

The Home Demonstration Clubs of the Quail community are helping get everything ready for the fair, and plan to have an exhibit of their own. The work of these girls is invaluable upan an occasion of this kind, and they can be depended upon to do their work well. The Quail Fair Association is depending upon these girls to put on the finishing touches.

The merchants of Quail aresupport-the Fair wholeheartedly. Those who are backing the Fair are: The Quail Gin, The Quail Mercantile Co., Quail Barber Shop, J. P. Willingham, Pates Garage, W. A. Daves, J. P. DePauw, Holbert Drug Store, E. J. Beck and Son, Quail Telephone Exchange and the Quail Garage.

P. E. Starr, president of the Fair Association, says that he believes a large part of the people of the Quail community will attend this fair and that he hopes many people from Wellington will attend the fair that Quail is having. "We intend to enter an exhibit at the County Fair and we are going to work for it just as hard as we can when the Quail fair is over."

The field editor of the Leader was in Quail Saturday. He found that little city busy as bees, getting ready for the annual Quail Fair which will be held there on Saturday the 12th of September. All the different committees were busy at their parts of the work assigned them.

We predict a successful fair this year as every one is doing their best to make it go. They are talking, working and advertising.

Quail is a good little town and is growing all the time. It is surrounded by a good country, good land, good people and is bound to make a good town.

COCHRAN DRUG CO. ADDS JEWELRY DEPT.

A. L. Cochran announces that a jewelry department will be added to his drug store this week. L. D. Brannon, watchmaker, of Littlefield, Texas, arrived in town during the early part of the week and has begun the installation of the equipment for the new department.

Mr. Cochran kept some jewelry in stock last fall, but states that the stock will be complete this year with diamonds, fine watches, and other articles for personal adornment.

Mr. Brannon comes here highly recommended as a watchmaker and jeweler and will find sufficient work in this line, it is believed.

LABORERS CONTINUE WORK ON SUNDAY TO FINISH COMPRESS

Bearing out the story carried in The Leader last Saturday saying that the compress would be finished by Oct. 10, the laborers worked all day last Sunday in order to keep up with the program for the completion of the job in rush time. The platform for the cotton has been completed, and the work on the buildings to house the compress machinery will be up within the next week or so. Some of the smaller buildings which will be used as office buildings, etc., have already been constructed. All this bears out the statement made last week by C. H. Brillhart that the compress would be running in October. If it is it seems probable that it will be a great help to the ginners and cotton buyers.

Texas

Phebe K. Warner

Our Texas Laws.

Here it is the beginning of the new school year and the club year. Everybody recognizes the school as one of the greatest forces of civilization. Everybody believes in our school system. Everybody KNOWS that their children ought to go to school but they do not always do what they know. Smetimes it seems impossible for us to do what we know we ought to do. We are all trying to live down these days the results of the millions of mistakes of the past and it is some big job. That's what ails America and Texas and your home county today. We are all trying to correct the products of the past and it keeps us all so busy mending our past mistakes that we do not have time, or money, or ambition left to go forward as we know we should. Now, isn't that the truth right in you own life and your own home and your own community? But TIME is marching ON. And things, everything in your community, is going to get better or worse right away. Your community, your school, your county will grow either better or worse THIS YEAR. Nothing stands still but a dead tree, or a dead community. If there is any LIFE in your home community or your home town it is going to move either frward toward some higher goal or slip backward into some deeper RUT. Which shall it be this year?

And one of the greatest factors in this forward or backward movement of our community or our State is our LAWS. The standard of your community will be measured by your recognition of the civil lays of the county and the State of your community.

Mother's Part in the Laws of Texas.

Until a few years ago the mothers of Texas could have no voice in the laws of this State. Today her voice is as powerful as any man's in the State if she will use it. Mother, there are 1,345,000 school boys and girls in Texas. How many of them belong to you? And what are YOU DOING NOW to help create laws that will protect your children? What do you know about the laws of your State? Are they safe? Are your boys SAFE in Texas? If they are NOT, and they certainly are NOT, what are we mothers doing to make Texas safe for our BOYS?

The only answer I can hear coming back to me over the air is NOTHING. Mothers of Texas, as a class as a MASS, are we not the group of a MILLION women in America? There may be other States where the women are as indifferent as we are but the children in these States are not ONR children. If Texas is ever made fit and safe for boys and girls to be born and reared in it is up to the million women in Texas to do it. And what could a million women do in Texas if we would ALL work together for a better State. We could do anything we want to. Yes, we could, for there would be enough good men to help us put over any legislative program for the good of this State that we saw should be put over. The trouble is we do not know what we need. We do not know how lax and trifling our laws are. We do not know the character of the men we elect to make our laws. We do not know the dangers our homes are in therefore we sleep on and let the devil and all his forces have their own way. And right here let me say this for the evil forces of our State: They understand their business. They are interested in their business. And they hang to-

Be There

The Entire Panhandle, eastern New Mexico and southern Oklahoma are asked to join hands to make the Tri-State Exposition of 1925 one that will go down in history as hard to match.

Reservations are already being sought and prizes are being offered, surpassing that of any preceeding year.

Only through the very best of exhibits can a profitable interchange of ideas and advertising be obtained. Collingsworth County should be represented.

The amusements alone make this fair worth attending.

Everybody is busy around Quail. The humming and buzzing of the new gin makes it sound like work—then more work for there were several bales ginned last week and cotton is opening up quite fast since the showers.

There is still some building taking place as Mr. Haney is adding on and improving his garage, making it quite a bt larger and Mr. Holbert has made an addition to the back of the drug store and is living in it, while Dr. Walker, who arrived last week from New Mexico, is occupying Mr. Holbert's house.

Day by day in every way, Quail is growing larger and larger as work is soon to be started on a new filling station located in the old Mercantile building and operated by Bud Petty.

Be sure and come to our fair—Saturday, Sept. 12.

You Never Know Until You Try

I came across a bread recipe the othre day, and I decided that I would try baking some bread. I never had baked bread since I was married.

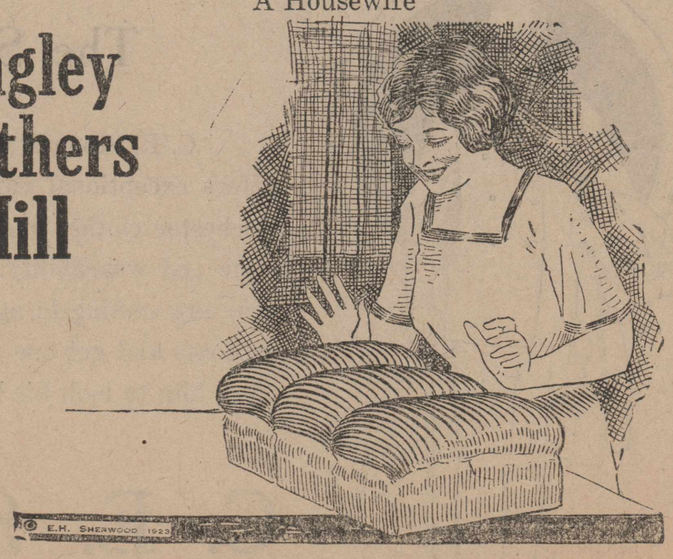

I ordered a sack of Wellington Made flour and followed the recipe carefully and you should have seen my bread. The family thought it was wonderful, and I was surprised at how little work it required.

It is a real household economy, too, as my folks nearlymake their meal of this fine bread.

I find that Wellington Made flour makes wonderful shortcake too. Try it, friends, you'll like it, I know.

Nowlin Grocery NEWS

We have made an extra heavy buy on spuds and in order to reduce our stock and accomodate our customers, we will sell one peck only to each customer, Saturday, Sept. 12 at 60c.

You know bad biscuits cause lots of family fusses. Not, that the fuss starts over the biscuit, but because he did not like the bread, had indigestion, and was looking or a row. It is false economy to buy cheap flour. What is a few cents compared to good bread and a happy home for a week. A sack of Queen of the Pantry flour makes bread white, light and to his liking. Get a sack and eliminate the family fuss. We have a fresh shipment.

We believe we have something no one else has, we have our future business staked on this year's pack of corn and tomatoes. The quality is fine and the price is the best in town. If you need a can or a case come and see these goods; it will pay you.

If you are not using Nowlin's Golden Blend coffee, you are missing something good. It has the quality of White Swan and the price of Arbuckle. We guarantee every pound not only to be good, but to satisify.

As a special favor to our candy customers, we beg to say we are dogged near out. Just the ragged end of a summer supply. Our candy buyer is out of town.

If you need a bill of groceries we invite you to come to see us. If you don't—come anyway—We have ice water, a rest room and a rocking chair.

Food and the Farmer

IN 1960 the world will be fighting for food says Henry A. Wallace, editor of Wellace's Farmer. There wil be a food shortage in five or ten years, he says. If that be true the farmers will be the important class in the United States. Nothing is so essential as food and when the food supply becomes scarce enough the farmers will begin to realize their power and will place whatever price they consider justifiable upon the price of the products they raise. Since the slogan of big business throughout the years has been to charge what the traffic will bear, they need not be surprised if the farmers fail to live up to altruistic ideals and charge as much as they can get.

All of this is guesswork, however. There may be no food shortage. People may learn that more happiness can be obtained by raising fewer and better children. Birth-control might help in preventing a food shortage. Scientists might discover methods of creating food from raw elements. Or people might learn to farm the sea which is at present only exploited for game as these prairies were once hunted for buffao. These possibilities make the speculation over food shortage mere suppositions, but they do not lessen the need for and the likelihood of the farmer coming into his own.

1925 Will Reward Fighters

OPINIONS DIFFER as to the amount of cotton that will be grown in Colingsworth County from the 1925 crop. Although some estimates are high, many are low. The yield may not be as large as it was last year, but it will be better than many expect. Besides this people have more money than they had to start in with last year. There will be plenty of money in the county to reward the merchant who is a fighter. That does not mean a merchant who merely bickers with his competition. It means a merchant who gets out and rustles, who gives his public good values, service, courteous treatment, and who keeps telling them about things he has to offer constantly and repeatedly. The merchant who bows his neck and goes out to his patrons instead of letting them drift in to him will enjoy a better business this year than last year. The best way to reach the public is through the columns of your local paper. The slogan that was made famcus by a Chicago newspaper applies to Wellington now. 1925 will deward fighters, and the fighting business man is always an advertiser.

More Residences Needed

ALTHOUGH THE BUSINESS section of Wellington is growing rapidly, there are not enough residences in the town to take care of the demand. Every day people come into the Leader office to get a paper to look over the want ad section in the hope of finding a room or rooms to rent. They have given up hope of finding a house. This should be good opportunity for the man who has saved up a little money to make a good investment. Men who already own lots can make money by building a home with money borrowed from a loan company. An investment in a house and lot is one of the best that can be made at this time. The rent from the house will provide a steady income and the value of the lots will increase as the town develops. St is slow money allright, but most good investments make slow money.

Men who have the money with which to biuld houses are not only missing an opportunity to make money, but they are allowing their money to remain idle in the bank when it should be used to develop the town whose growth has helped them make that money. Wellington has been known for several years as a town in which the business development was ahead of the residential developments. To the itinerant traveler that would indicate that this is a good town in which to make money, but that it is not a good town in which to live. That is not true, and the people of this community should not allow anything to cause such a suggestion to be created. A movement should be started to build more and better homes in Wellington.

YOUR COLUMN --J. D. Sugg

ROY MIMS has developed into an adept candy maker, or whatever it is they call these experts with the sweet things.

Roy is a Wellington boy who has spent practically all of his life here and is well known to people of Wellington and Collingsworth County. He started in several years ago to learn to make candy. He has applied himself to that one thing, principally, and has learned it. He recently opened a candy shop on the west side of the square.

Many young men of Wellington have not applied themselves to much of anything during the years they should have been shaping themselves for a profession, and most of them are letting 'the old man' make the payments on that flivver.

PERCY WELLS, who has been employed in dry goods stores in Wellington for the past several years, is an old timer of this county, having spent most of his life here.

He says it's an up hill drag to work for the other fellow and hopes someday to go into business for himself. He is just like most men who are on salaries—they have just enough to buy a Christmas present for the wife at the end of the year. They are always watching for that opportunity that will relieve them of the grind. Usually it comes, but most of them are not in a position, or think they are not, to grasp it. It takes a life time of work and careful saving to be independent in old age.

G. W. TURNER, who is working on the Cecil Coe farms south of town, called at the Leader office Saturday afternoon and extended his subscription to the Leader.

Mr. Turner says that he is always glad when the Leader reaches him and that he could hardly get along without it. He likes the semi-weekly feature, as it carris news to him while it is still "news".

Mrs. Sam Harle returned to her home in Wellington from Memphis, Sunday.

Miss Zelle Ryan of Memphis was a visitor in Wellington Sunday.

Mrs. J, M. Posey of Eldorado, Okla., is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gillentine.

Mrs. F. H. Royal left Friday for Amarillo where she will spend a short time visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Sam Lain.

Jack Deahl of Dodsonville was a Wellington visitor Sunday.

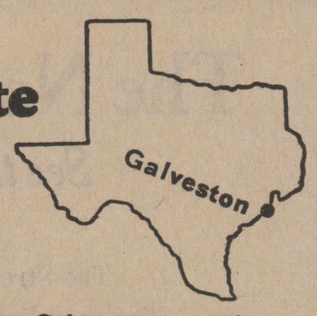

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chitwood left Saturday night for Temple, Oklahoma where they will visit Mrs. Chitwood's parents.

Bill Cagle was a visitor in Hollis Sunday.

Miss Louise Harle returned Sunday from Memphis where she visited a few days.

WRIGLEY'S

THE FLAVOR LASTS
Probably one reason for the popularity of WRIGLEY'S is that it lasts so long and returns such great dividends for so small an outlay. It keeps teeth clean, breath sweet, appetite keen, digestion good.

Concrete Streets in TEXAS

When you go to Galveston again, take time to look at the concrete pavement on Broadway and Twenty-fifth Streets—the Treasure Island's famous residential streets.
Thousands of motorists have admired the concrete on Broadway which was laid in 1914. Its pleasing salmon pink color was obtained by adding red oxide to the concrete mixture. No one who has tested out its riding qualities will forget the pleasure of driving over this firm, rigid, unyielding surface.
It is even because it was built that way; and once in place concrete remains as built—firm, rigid, unyielding, unaffected by traffic and changing seasons. Concrete streets are also safe streets because they are skidproof. You know what that means.

A WEST TEXAS SONG

Out where the sunshines his brightest
Out where the moonbeams are lightest,
Out where cotton fields grow whitest
That's West Texas

Out where cornfields large are growin,
Out where wells with oil are flowing—
Out where cattle herds are lowing—
That's West Texas.

Out where kaffir reigns as queen,
Out where the land lies level green,
Loveliest sight you've ever seen—
That's West Texas.

Out where the air is pure as wine—
Winter, spring—it's always fine;
That's the place you've got in mind—
That's West Texas.

gether and work together to put their business over. Not many of them are bothered by any church creeds or political prejudices. Nothing holds them back from the accomplishment of their purpose, the downfall of your home and your son and your daughter for the promotion of their selfish interests and appetites. What are the women of Texas doing to counteract this force that is sweeping so many of our youth off their feet and int the whirlpools of social and moral death?

How Are You Going to Do It?

There is only one way for women to do their civic and political duty to their State and their home county and community. And that is to organize a study and working group of themselves. GET TOGETHER and learn from one another. The women's club is a democratic organization. YOU have the same right to it as any other woman in America. And it is not only your RIGHT to organize yourselves in every community into a thinking, working power for the good of your school district of your town, but the time has arrived when it is the DUTY of every yoman in this State regardless of her postion or condition to join with her neighbors in trying to promote the good things and eliminate the wrong things in her community. It is no longer a question of whether you want to or not. It is a question of duty to your community and your home. Look at this matter from the standpoint of DUTY a few days and then don't wait for somebody to come around and drag you into doing your duty. But get up by yourself and DO IT. Make the start. And you will be surprised how many of your neighbors have been waiting for somebody to make the start. And let's all resolve to learn more this year about our Texas laws.

Illinois Man Tells About His Relief from Indigestion.

"I used to suffer," says Mr. Walter W. Macdonald, of 711 Fairview Ave., Edwardsville, Ill., "with indigestion, a tight feeling in my chest after meals—felt sluggish, lazy and dull and out of sorts. I would be very constipated.

"Some one recommended Black-Draught. I began using it. I found it so very satisfactory I have used it ever since. I wouldn't be without it.

"My work is inside. I do not get as much exercise as I would like, and at times my system gets clogged and I would see the necessity of a good active medicine.

Miss Effie Lee Richards: "If the young people of Wellington would come to Sunday School at the Methodist Church one time, they would not need an invitation to come back, but would come without being asked."

* * *

Dick Wiles: "We ginned the first bale of the season Friday. It's hard to tell just what the cotton crop will do, but crops are good on most of the sandy land."

* * *

Sheriff Claude McKinney says he is going to spend two days in Wheeler County hunting birds. He intends to go up there Wednesday.

* * *

County Judge Templeton made a business trip to Plainview in company with R. L. Scott. Judge Templeton reports the crops fine in that section, with frequent showers falling.

THE POINT OF VIEW

THE man who gets a cinder in his eye
Thinks all the world is cindery and sooty,
But as for me, I see but loveliness on high,
My world becomes a thing of endless beauty.
The moral? There is none, unless it be
That life is merely what you think you see,
And it were well to view it smilingly.

MR. AND MRS. CECIL BOWER LEAVE FOR ST. LOUIS MARKET

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower left the early part of this week for the St. Louis Market, where Mr. Bower will complete the buying for fall openings of the A. & W. Stores.

Buyers who have recently returned from eastern markets report more buying than ever before from every section of the the United States. Most of the dry goods bought for Wellingtn stores is purchased in St. Louis or New York, where the buyers can get the latest fabrics and styles.

Mr. Bower recently opened a new store in Wheeler, Wheeler County, which store is under the management of Clifton Cook. Mr. Bower will probably spend two weeks at the eastern market.

Your Last Name

IS IT THOREAU?

THOREAU is said to be equivalent to the more usual name Bull, for Thoreau is the old French form of toreau, or taureau, meaning bull. These names may originally have been taken as nicknames describing physical or mental characteristics, or from shop signs, which some authorities think much more likely.

The name Thoreau is known here chiefly as the name of Henry Thoreau, who married the daughter of a New England clergyman and was the son of John Thoreau of the Isle of Jersey, who married a Scottish woman named Burns in Boston. John was son of Phillippe Thoreau and Marie Gallais, of pure French blood, who settled at St. Hillier in Jersey.

Henry Thoreau thus had a New England mother, a Scotch grandmother with a mixture of Jersey and French blood besides. The family in this country was never wealthy, but always highly respected and above the average in mental endowments.

STEWART—This name, says one authority on name origins, has had its ups and downs. It is derived from two words, sty and ward, and in its earliest form literally means keeper of the sty. Eventually the steward or Stewart was an official attached to the household of a prince or nobleman, and it is in this capacity that the royal Stewart family derived the name.

There was a Norman baron Alan whose eldest son, William, became the progenitor of the earls of Arundel in England and whose younger sons, Walter and Simon, went to Scotland. Walter became high steward to King David I of Scotland, and when one of his successors, also named Walter the Steward, married Marjorie Bruce in 1315, the family became royal. Many of the Stewarts and Stuarts of the present time claim, with good enough grounds, to be descendants of this union.

Other Side of the Ledger

Jones was sent by his employer, a bookmaker, to collect a betting debt from Smith, who was notorious for his slackness in settling accounts.

After listening to several excuses Jones remarked, "Well, at least let me know on what date I may expect payment."

Smith replied: "Do you take me for a prophet?"

"No," responded Jones. "Up to the present I have always regarded you as a loss!"
