SURVEY PLANNED FOR INTERURBAN

FUNDS PLEDGED AT GAINESVILLE MEETING TO EMPLOY ENGINEERS

$10,000 ALREADY PLEDGED

Probable First Survey Will Be Made At Once—Subcommittee Named

Funds to defray the expenses of the preliminary survey of the Wichita Falls-Dallas interurban were pledged yesterday at the meeting at Gainesville at which many of the towns between this city and Dallas were represented. About $10,000 was pledged, exclusive of Dallas, Wichita Falls agreeing to put up $5000 if necessary. A large number of the communities along the route were represented at Gainesville and a very successful session was held. There was a ride over the city, a business session and a banquet, making the occasion a very pleasant one. Wichita Falls was represented by J. A. Kemp, Fred M. Gates and R. E. Huff.

The survey matter was turned over to Harry Seay, William Doran and A. A. Jackson of Dallas and Frank Kelly and R. E. Huff of this city, to whom is delegated the task of employing an engineer as soon as sufficient money is in sight to permit it. It is probable that one survey will be made at once and that others will follow as rapidly as the money is paid in.

Amounts ranging from $100 up were pledged by the interested communities. Denton pledged $1000 as did the community of Grapevine in Dallas county. Bowie was not represented at the meeting, but is expected to do her part. Gainesville pledged $1000. Towns represented were: Dallas, Wichita Falls, Montague, Nocona, Gainesville, Denton, Grapevine, Fort Worth, Decatur, Mallett, Sildell, St. Jo, Mrya, Denton.

It is expected that each town will be refunded the amount it puts up for the survey and will receive stock in addition. Of course if the road is not built the amount subscribed is a loss.

The following committees were present at yesterday's meeting:

J. A. Kemp, chairman, R. E. Huff, Fred Gates, Wichita Falls; Dallas, A. A. Green Jr., William Doran, J. C. Duke, Harry L. Seay, John Hughes, A. A. Jackson, Gainesville; Sam King, J. C. Whaley, Denton; J. C. Colt, Montague; Sherwood Johnson, Judge C. F. Spencer, Decatur; J. F. Lillard; St. Jo, Mayor Seales and party; Nocona, C. McCalli, T. E. Bowers; Grapevine, Mayor Wall; Irving, Curtis Hancock; Terrell, J. A. Muckelroy; Sildell, J. P. Turner; J. S. Atcheson.

FALL FROM BALUSTRADE FATAL TO A COLONEL

Retired Marine Corps Officer Killed in Accidental Fall at Washington Home

Washington, July 8.—Col. Frank Denny, of the marine corps, retired, was almost instantly killed today when he fell over a balustrade in his home to the floor below. The report to the police said he was walking in his sleep.

Daughter Awakened By Crash. Col. Denny's family, however, believe he was seized with an attack of vertigo and fell while moving about the house. He struck his head on a marble top table, crushing the skull. The colonel's daughter was awakened by the crash and found him dying. The coroner gave a certificate of accidental death. Col. Denny was one of the central figures in a controversy in the marine corps three years ago in which it was charged a number of staff officers in Washington were controlling the corps.

Prominent in Social Life. Former Secretary Meyer of the navy department, after an investigation ordered all officers to distant points, sending Col. Denny to San Francisco. Early in his administration, President Wilson returned all to Washington. Col. Denny was prominent in the social life of the capital.

Electra Precinct Votes $125,000 Road Bonds

Special to The Times. Electra, Texas, July 8.—Unofficial reports from yesterday's election on the proposal for the issuance of $125,000 road bonds in commissioner's precinct No. 4 this morning indicate that the bonds have received at least four votes more than the necessary two-thirds. In Electra the vote was 138

PANKHURST AGAIN LEADS MILITANTS

RESUMED COMMAND OF FORCES THIS MORNING AND IS RE-ARRESTED

VIOLENT SCENE IN COURT

Pair of Militants Refuse To Plead and Carried Kicking and Squealing From Room

London, July 8.—The brief respite in the militant suffragette agitation ended today when Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst resumed command of the forces of the Women's Social and Political Union at their London headquarters. Mrs. Pankhurst, however, was permitted to remain in active command of the militants for only a brief period. When she emerged from her headquarters to go to lunch, she was arrested and taken to Holloway jail.

Violent Scenes. Simultaneously with the reappearance of Mrs. Pankhurst, a violent scene was created in the central criminal court where Mrs. H. F. Alice Hall, Miss Grace Roe, Miss Julia Jameson and Miss Ellen Arnes, were brought to trial for conspiracy. The charge against them was "conspiring with others maliciously to commit damage and injury and to spoil certain real and personal property of the liege subjects of our lord, the king." The prisoners had been arrested during a raid on a west end flat May 21. In their rooms were found a huge shrapnel grenade of ingenious manufacture. Plans of houses with instructions as to how to reach them and as to usual movements of the police in that vicinity were also found.

Disorder in Court Room. Mrs. Hall and Miss Roe when brought into court refused to plead and created intense disorder. Mrs. Hall threw herself on the floor and kicked several policemen before she was removed. The other prisoners pleaded not guilty.

REBEL GENERALS OPPOSE MEETING

DECLARE CONFERENCE WITH HUERTISTAS WOULD BE COMPOUNDING A FELONY

OPPOSITION WAS UNANIMOUS

All Generals Heard From Strongly Oppose Conference Proposed By Mediators

Laredo, Tex., July 8.—Constitutionalists are not likely to accept the offer of the Niagara mediators to arrange a conference with Huerta representatives to plan a provisional government in Mexico. This announcement coming from unquestioned sources reached the border here today.

It was declared that all the generals of the constitutionalist army had, with the exception of General Obregon's division who had not had time to report, opposed strongly any such conference.

The position taken by the constitutionalists, it was said, was that to agree to accept a provisional government would be to "compound a felony" in that any such government must necessarily be of a temporary character and must be attended by the outbreak of other revolutions.

TWO OIL MEN BLOWN TO PIECES IN EXPLOSION

Friday, O., July 8.—Charles Armstrong and T. B. Longbaugh, oil well shooters, were instantly killed here today by the explosion of several hundred quarts of nitro-glycerin, which they were taking to Buckland to shoot an oil well. The men literally were blown to pieces, only a small piece of the axle of the automobile in which the explosive was being transported being found. Several houses were wrecked and many panes of glass in the vicinity were broken.

TWO MEN BEATEN UP AT WESTINGHOUSE PLANT

Striker Who Had Planned To Return To Work Beaten Into Insensibility

Pittsburg, July 8.—Stanley Flalek, formerly employed in one of the Westinghouse factories, was rescued today by a crowd of a street car from three men in Braddock Avenue, who had beaten him into insensibility. Last night he was said to have announced that he would return to work today. Two arrests were made and deputy sheriffs and state troops were looking for the third assailant. There was no change in the situation in the strike district.

The general strike committee prepared another offer of settlement to E. H. Kerr president of the electric company, when he returned from New York. Intense excitement followed the first daylight disorder of the strike, when William Strang, a foreman in the electric shop, was stopped by a crowd of men as he approached the shop by an obscure path. His skull was fractured by a brick and he was otherwise injured. State troops were hurried to the place and three arrests were made. Captain Adams immediately widened his line and ninety troopers throughout the morning were patrolling every street leading to the different plants.

JAMACA GINGER AS HELD INTOXICANT IN KANSAS

Dealers May Also Be Prosecuted For Selling Vanilla and Lemon Extracts

Topeka, Kan., July 8.—Jamaca ginger was placed under the ban in Kansas today when the state supreme court held that it is intoxicating and that dealers may be prosecuted for violation of the prohibition law. The court also held that vanilla and lemon extract, cologne, camphor and similar tinctures, extracts and essences, if they actually make a man drunk, are to be classed as intoxicating liquors.

ANCIENT SHELL EXPLODES BOY IS FATALLY INJURED

Relic of Mexican War Explodes in Home of Suffolk Virginia Jeweler

Suffolk, Va., July 8.—Sheldon Vaughn, ten years old, son of a local jeweler, is in a hospital here probably fatally injured. The lad was injured by the explosion of an old shell, supposed to be a relic of the Mexican war, which had laid about the Vaughn home for fourteen years.

PRESIDENT OF OKLAHOMA A. & M. TO BE ELECTED

Oklahoma City, July 8.—Members of the state board of agriculture called to meet here today by President G. T. Bryan would, it was said, elect a president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Mr. Bryan stated that conferences had been held with A. C. True, chief of the agricultural experimental work of the department of agriculture and that the department would send an agent during July to check up the work of the college in experimental agriculture.

CHAMBER COMMERCE DIRECTORS MEET

HEAR PROPOSAL FOR LOCATION ROCK CRUSHING MACHINERY PLANT HERE

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. Kemp Makes Report On Interurban Meeting at Gainesville. A brief session of the Chamber of Commerce directors was held this morning, having been postponed from Tuesday on account of the absence of a number of directors from this city. This morning a proposition to establish a plant here for the manufacture of rock crushing machinery was submitted by Mr. Buchanan of Albuquerque, who wants Wichita Falls citizens to take $5,000 stock in the enterprise. His proposition was referred to the manufacturers committee.

A. L. Huey reported that as chairman of the special committee on telephone services, he had taken that matter up with Manager Phillips, who had told him that if subscribers would always call number 500 when the service was not satisfactory he would see that the trouble was remedied. Mr. Phillips had said that under no circumstances should more than forty seconds be required in getting a connection. A general discussion of telephone services followed, Wiley Blair connecting with the service locally was no worse than in other communities.

Mr. Kemp reported on the interurban meeting at Gainesville yesterday. Myles O'Reilly brought up the question of an indorsement of the Wilson administration, the matter coming up in connection with recent dispatches from Washington. It was decided that the directors should not take any action on such a matter, though most of those present seemed to be administration supporters. Adjournment followed. Present were: President Hill, Secretary M. J. Gardner, M. J. Gardner, H. H. Kemp, Hines, Noble, Ward and Snider.

Rockefeller Plays 18 Holes of Golf 75th Birthday

New York, July 8.—Although John D. Rockefeller is seventy-five years old today, no celebration is being held at Pontotoc estate where he is spending the summer. Mr. Rockefeller planned to follow his daily practice of playing eighteen holes of golf. Weather rarely interferes with that exercise. Later in the day he may be taken for automobile ride. There will be no birthday gathering, as Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister Mrs. J. R. is at Seal Harbor, Maine. Many congratulatory messages have been received which pleased Mr. Rockefeller although he said he wished he might spend the day without publicity.

Weather Remark Brings Fine For Provoke

After having an umbrella worn out on his head the man who yesterday addressed a woman on the streets arousing her indignation plead guilty at the city hall to a complaint charging provoke and was fined $25 which he paid.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORT

Fort Worth Live-Stock. Fort Worth, Texas, July 8.—Cattle receipts 3200 active to ten and fifteen cents higher. Hogs $6.50 to $8.00. Hog receipts 1,000, active to five and ten cents higher. Bulk $5.50 to $5.85.

Kansas City Cash Grain. Kansas City, July 8.—Wheat No. 2 hard, old, 94; Corn No. 2 mixed 68; Oats No. 2, white 28 1/2.

Chicago Grain Futures. Chicago, July 8.—Generally clear weather in the northwest slaying fear of damage from black rust, today tended to make the wheat market easy. Cable bids were decidedly lower than yesterday. The opening which varied from 1-4 off to a shade lower was followed by a slight rally and then a decline all the way round. Corn rose on account of the improved cash demand. Oklahoma stockholders told of injury due to the dry, hot weather.

Lightness of the offerings also had a bullish effect. Wheat closed weak. Corn closed weak. The close, wheat July 7 58; Sept. 78 3/4; Corn, July 68 1/8; Sept. 65; Oats, July 27 1/8, Sept. 35 1/2.

RINGLING ROAD MAY COME TO WICHITA FALLS

Line Completed to Ringling Will Be Extended Into Texas Says a Dispatch

Wichita Falls' long desired rail connection with Southern Oklahoma seems nearer an actuality than ever now, with two projected lines from Oklahoma to this city. The Ringling line, known as the Oklahoma, New Mexico and Pacific, which has already been constructed thirty-two miles west from Ardmore, has this city for its objective point, and Wichita Falls in the intended terminus of a general electric line system, mention of which has already been made. The following agent the Ringling road is from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, under a Ringling date line:

"Both Wichita Falls to the southwest and Sherman to the southeast are bidding for extensions of the Oklahoma, New Mexico and Pacific railroad which was completed into Ringling three weeks ago, thirty-two miles directly west from Ardmore. The original plans called for a line southeast from Ardmore to Sherman and a big bonus was offered by the people of the Texas city, but later the plans were changed by John Ringling, who is handling the construction. Recently however, it is learned that Sherman has again asked for an extension of this road southeast. The western extension of this line, which is to begin this fall, is causing great activity on the part of Lawton, Duncan and Waukegan, each of which cities is asking for the road and offering a substantial bonus. But whichever route is finally selected, it is now generally understood that the objective point is Wichita Falls, Texas, the most important city in the Lone Star State at the present time, because of its proximity to the Electric, Petrolia and Burkburnett fields. Such an extension would give direct connection between the Healdton field, near Ringling, and the North Texas fields.

"The people of Oklahoma City are also anxious to get an extension of this road north from Ringling, along the line of the old surveys made by C. G. Jones and associates several years ago. A map of this proposed extension has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, showing the route would be about midway between the main lines into Texas of the Santa Fe and the Rock Island, splitting north and south a country sixty to seventy miles wide, now without railroad facilities."

The same paper publishes the following dispatch about the proposed electric line:

"The plans for the proposed extension has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, showing the route would be about midway between the main lines into Texas of the Santa Fe and the Rock Island, splitting north and south a country sixty to seventy miles wide, now without railroad facilities."

"The electric system, as proposed, would connect Independence, Kansas, with the Kansas Interurban to Kansas City and at Denison, Texas, with the Interurban to Dallas and Fort Worth. Tulsa is made the hub of the system, with the first construction to be on a line east from Tulsa through Broken Arrow, Coweta and Wagoner to Muskogee, thence south through McAlester to Denison. From Tulsa north the plans call for a line through Collinsville, Nowata and Bartlesville to Independence. A third line runs southwest from Tulsa, through Chandler and Shawnee to Oklahoma City, thence through Chickasha and Lawton to Wichita Falls, where another direct interurban connection will be made with Fort Worth. A fourth line runs west from Tulsa through the Cushing oil field and via Perry and Enid to Woodward, Oklahoma.

"A public ownership of the system is planned and an entirely new method of financing the construction is presented. The road will be built from the capital stock, which will be held by many hundred railway employees of the country—the idea being that these employees will finance, own, operate and maintain the system. Every effort will be made to keep away from bonding the road and not to depend upon capital for any of the money."

A. & M. WILL CO-OPERATE WITH FEDERAL DEPARTMENT. Austin, Texas, July 8.—At the request of President Puryear of the A. & M. College, Governor Colquitt has issued a proclamation permitting that institution to participate in the benefits of an act recently passed by Congress and approved by President Wilson on May 8, 1914. Under this act the department of agriculture at Washington will co-operate with agricultural colleges throughout the country in teaching farm subjects. The board of directors has been instructed to establish these courses in the State institution when the fall term opens.

DEMOCRATS NOT BUSINESS' ENEMY

PRESIDENT ISSUES STATEMENT ON FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

BIG BUSINESS NOT A TAIN

Praises Warburg and Jones For Their Patriotism and Public Spirit

Washington, July 8.—Declaring that it would be unfair to regard the Democratic party as the enemy of business, big or little, President Wilson today gave out a statement in support of Paul Warburg of New York and Thomas B. Jones of Chicago, two of his nominees for the federal reserve board.

The president's statement in part follows: "It would be particularly unfair to the Democratic party and to the Senate itself to be regarded as the enemy of business, big or little. I am sure that it does not regard a man as an object of suspicion merely because he has been connected with great business enterprises. I predict with the greatest of confidence that nothing done by the Democratic majority of the Senate of the United States will be of a sort to throw suspicion on such men as Mr. Jones and Mr. Warburg who in manifesting their willingness to make personal sacrifice and put their great abilities and experience into the service of the people without thought of personal advantage are setting an example of patriotism and public spirit which the whole country admires."

The president said today he earnestly hoped Mr. Warburg would reconsider his decision announced yesterday not to accept the appointment. He expressed confidence that Mr. Jones would be confirmed.

OBREGON REPORTS REBEL VICTORY

FEDERAL COLUMN ROUTED IN FRONT OF GUADALAJARA AND SUPPLIES CAPTURED

ENEMY FLEE IN DISORDER

General Diezguz in Rear of Guadalajara and Escape Believed Improbable

Nogales, Arizona, July 8.—In a message to General Carranza fled yesterday at Ahaguello, Valisco, General Obregon reports an important constitutionalist victory in front of Guadalajara. The message says:

"We have destroyed a federal column at the west of Guadalajara. The fight lasted 26 hours. At this time the enemy is fleeing in disorder leaving ten trains of artillery and ammunition. General Diezguz is in the rear of Guadalajara and I believe none of the enemy will escape."

OHIO STATE BOARD HITS PRIVATE PROFIT

Columbus, Ohio, July 8.—The day of private profit in state work is passing. The Ohio State Board of Administration has struck it two body blows. First the board decided to stock its farms with cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry and the like. With this as a start it began the construction of creameries to furnish dairy products to all state institutions.

Then slaughter houses were planned to furnish meats. Now it is planned to open a cannery to can vegetables and fruits, raised on state farms for winter use.

The second step was taken when board announced that it was ready to award its last contracts for buildings to private parties. Hereafter the state will use prison labor on all of its buildings. The state now has a brick plant in operation with convicts in charge and convicts at work under the honor system.

PHYSICIAN'S WIFE IS UNDER ARREST

CLOSE OF INQUEST INTO MURDER MYSTERY QUICKLY FOLLOWED BY ARREST

WITNESSES SAW WOMAN RUN

New Witness Gives Testimony at Very Close of Inquest Just Before Noon Today

New York, July 8.—Mrs. Edwin Carman was arrested this afternoon in connection with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey.

The inquest into the death of Mrs. Louise Bailey, who was murdered on the night of Tuesday, June 30, in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman of this city, was closed shortly before noon today. A verdict was expected later in the day. Edward Barker, a witness, testified just before the hearing, closed that he had seen a woman whom he was unable to identify running away from the doctor's office shortly after the shot which killed Mrs. Bailey was fired. She wore a dark skirt and a light waist, was bareheaded, he said, and hurried about the side of the doctor's office toward the back yard.

VICE CRUSADERS LET PUBLIC KNOW WHO OWNS HOUSES

Chicago, July 8.—Making public the names of owners of property used for immoral purposes has been the most effective method of fighting commercialized prostitution in Chicago, according to the report made today by Superintendent S. P. Thrasher of the "Committee of Fifteen," that has been waging war on immoral resorts.

"It is admitted by all who are in a position to know that the old vice district on the south side is practically closed," said Thrasher's report. "It would be folly to say that vice has been obliterated, but some of the most notorious resorts at least 50 per cent of this amount was paid to about 1,500 keepers, runners, pimps and panderers, the male exploiters of these women. A wonder that the vice interests are in a panic when several millions of dollars have been taken away from them by this committee."

WILSON CONFERS WITH CHICAGO BUSINESS MEN

They Support Anti-Trust Bill in Parts and Oppose it in Others

Washington, July 8.—Supporting the administration anti-trust bill in parts and opposing it in others, a delegation of business men representing the Chicago Chamber of Commerce conferred more than an hour today with President Wilson. All details of the pending anti-trust bills were gone over. Afterward the president said the conference had been mutually instructive and helpful.

MILITANTS ATTEMPT TO BURN BURN'S COTTAGE

Glasgow, July 8.—An attempt to destroy the cottage at 477 where Robert Burns, the poet was born, was made just before daylight today by two members of a militant suffragette arson squad. The women were surprised by a night watchman as they were in the act of placing large bombs against the doors and windows of the poet's birthplace which is venerated as a shrine by the Scotch. One of the women was captured but the other escaped.

Wichita Falls Chautauqua Opened This Afternoon

The opening program of the White-Myers chautauqua, brought to this city under the auspices of a number of local business men, was held this afternoon in the tent at the corner of Tenth and Austin streets, with a good attendance. The opening number was the concert by the Frontenac male quartette, a singing organization of unusual merit, whose numbers found prompt favor with the crowd. Following this there was a "children's hour" for those of the kindergarten age. This will be a daily feature.

A TRYING ORDEAL

By ELIZABETH SCHOEN COBB. "Almost enough!" proclaimed Eva Truman, with sparkling eyes. Her companion and fiance, Merton Hull, divided an evident satisfaction and delight between her shining teeth and a bank book which both were examining. It showed over six hundred dollars to his account. More than the money did the fair sweet-toothed girl cherish what the slow, patient accumulation of that comparatively small amount of money signified.

caused Merton to open a drawer where he had noticed a revolver. He took out the weapon and as he did so he was somewhat startled to notice a little package of fresh new bank notes. These were ten of them, each for one hundred dollars. "At first I thought that came to Merton was of the risk and carelessness involved on the part of his employer in leaving all this money in so unprotected a situation. He started to place the money in the safe. Then a whimsical idea came into his mind. He was inclined to make a show of generosity with Craig, who now lived in his home town. Merton placed the money in his pocket book. "The bills are safer with me than in that desk drawer," he reasoned. "I will misappropriate as a Croesus for one evening at least!" That evening was rather a bore and a burden to Merton. This was because there was some drinking in the literary club he visited. In this Merton did not partake and was not in harmony with the old-time revelry. He saw that his reverent production of a good impression on Craig, and as he flashed the one hundred dollar bills promiscuously Merton was assured that he would be reported on the road to wealth, and smiled whimsically over the idea.

When Merton became acquainted with him a sudden change came into his life. He abandoned reckless companions, gave up drinking, which had been his bane, and started in to win a name for the lovely girl who had given him the full, true affection of her deep, earnest nature. "When we have enough to buy a little home we will begin life together," Eva had said, and to that end both had been working for over a year now. She was employed as a stenographer and earned a good income. Eva was alone in the world. She had saved even more than Merton. Another year of thrift and economy and they would have reached the goal of their ambition. "It seems so little!" deplored Merton. "It takes so long to reach the limit we have set."

NAVIES ARE COSTLY THINGS When That Subject is Under Discussion, Millions Appear Comparatively Small Sums. Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, the chief of the bureau of ordnance, submitted figures to the house committee on naval affairs showing that to build a plant for the construction of armor with a capacity of 15,000 tons a year would cost about $11,000,000. This amount would be necessary if the standard of two additional battleships a year were followed. The witness stated that the construction of this plant would be a wise policy, since it would have the effect of enabling the government to control the price of armor. Secretary Daniels is of the opinion that there is a "gentleman's understanding" among the armor plate makers of the world to keep the price up to its present figure of something less than $500 per ton.

HOODOOS OF WALL STREET Men Who for no Apparent Reason Do Not Make a Success in Business. Wall street people are superstitious. They will deny it when told so, but if you ask any one in the street if he ever knew a hoodoo he will say, "Yes, many a one." Such a one was a cotton expert who, highly recommended, applied for a place with a Stock Exchange house that had bought a cotton exchange membership and needed a man to open a new field of speculation to its clients. The applicant was in every way desirable save for the fact that three houses with which he had been connected had failed, though not one for a dishonest reason. He was rejected as a hoodoo. Shortly afterward he made a connection with another house to fill a similar want and proved a very valuable man in his sphere, but within a year the fourth house failed. The hoodoo is often a man whom everybody likes, speaks well of and recommends to every one else, with the one reservation—he is a man who unaccountably has not succeeded. There is nothing whatever against him; he is honest and shrewd and all that, but—unsuccessful. Once the hoodoo becomes known as such he must attach himself to the newcomers—those who do not know, have not been warned or who are so new and confident as not to care. Each connection he makes is a little less desirable, until he finally reaches the stage at which he is ashamed of his associations. Sign of Populists' Affection. "Weren't you indignant when people you didn't know called you by your first name?" "No," replied Senator Sorghum; "but I've worried a great deal since they've shown a disposition to stop it."

The old style of cork in grape juice bottles was a nuisance. It frequently meant a soiled suit, tie or collar, sometimes a broken bottle or a cut hand, frequently the cork went into the bottle. No matter how good the grape juice was it was hard to get at it.

RECORD FRUIT CROP PROMISED THIS YEAR

SOUTHWEST, HOWEVER, HAS SUFFERED FROM UNFAVORABLE WEATHER

GETTING MORE FOR POTATOES

This is Much More Profitable Crop Than It Was Last Year—Other Farm News

Washington, July 8.—A record fruit crop this year is predicted by the standing committee on statistics and standards of the United States Chamber of Commerce. In a report of investigations of trained observers all over the country, it is stated that the general prospect for a large yield of fruit of all kinds, with the possible exception of peaches, has not been equalled at any time during the past decade save in 1912.

The peach crop was severely damaged by the cold early spring. Oklahoma, most of Arkansas and a large part of Kansas suffered the heaviest loss to its peach crop. Damage less severe was reported in south central Missouri, southern Mississippi, northwestern Alabama, south and east Texas, southwestern Georgia, western Kentucky, western Tennessee, southern Idaho and portions of North Carolina. Elsewhere the outlook for the peach crop is so promising that a normal yield can be expected.

The necessity of well organized associations of fruit growers for the purpose of gathering, packing and marketing the product is emphasized in a report of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Many of the states east of the Rocky Mountains, the report states, yearly lose much of the income of their orchards because of the lack of cooperation among growers and a lack of realization that an uncared for orchard is a steadily diminishing and deteriorating asset.

The price paid to the farmer for potatoes is about 48 per cent more this year than last year. The average farm price for potatoes this year is 71.4 cents a bushel, 23.2 higher than last year. In the eastern states gains in potato prices to farmers have been reported as follows: Maine 24 cents; Vermont 10 cents; Massachusetts 21 cents; New York 23 cents; New Jersey 13 cents; Pennsylvania 27 cents; West Virginia 30 cents; Virginia 14 cents; and North Carolina 14 cents.

The department of agriculture is conducting experiments to test the value of visiting nurses in rural communities. In order to gain practical information on the subject, representatives of rural organization service of the department of agriculture helped the people of Chilton county, Alabama, to organize for the purpose of appointing a trained nurse and meeting her salary and expenses. The county board appropriated $500, the school board $500 and private individuals $500 and with this $1500 the services of a certified Red Cross nurse were secured for $900 a year and actual expenses. Features of the nurse's work in the school visiting, in which she examines pupils and gives lectures; talks on the care of infants and general hygiene at mother's meetings, and actual sick nursing in severe illness. According to reports from the country the work of the nurse is meeting with great favor on the part of authorities and residents.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IS SEVENTY-SIX TODAY

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 8.—John D. Rockefeller, one of the richest men in the world today, is celebrating his seventy-sixth birthday. Because it was feared that the "Free Speechers" the I. W. W.'s and the Ferrer anarchists might pick today as a good one for another demonstration against Rockefeller because of his attitude in the recent Colorado strike war, a heavier guard than usual was placed about the great mansion in Pocantico Hills. The oil king's son, John D. Jr., was expected to spend the day here with his father.

Hundreds of telegrams and messages of congratulations poured into the Rockefeller home today from all sections of the globe where Rockefeller has business and personal friends. Many messages came from royalty and the crown heads of Europe. Rockefeller on his seventy-sixth birthday is accredited with a fortune of close to a billion, thus making him the only billionaire in the world. The assessment of his property in Cleveland some months ago, when he refused to pay taxes there, placed his holdings far in excess of $800,000,000.

According to John D.'s physician, Dr. H. F. Bigger, Rockefeller's health is better today than it has been in many years. He continues his daily program of a game of golf, an automobile ride and perhaps a bicycle ride. Despite many reports that Rockefeller's health is bad Dr. Bigger declares his wealthy patient is unusually healthy and vigorous for a man of his years and especially when the early cares and worries he went through are taken into consideration.

CITY GIVES EX-MAYOR HOUSE AS A COMPLIMENT

Marshfield, Oregon, July 8.—As a compliment to his efficiency, citizens of Marshfield today contributed several thousand dollars for the construction of a handsome residence, which, when completed, will be presented to former Mayor E. E. Straw. Straw retired a year ago after serving as mayor for eight years, during which time Marshfield grew from a saw mill town of the frontier variety to a city with miles of paved streets and pretentious buildings.

The Courage of Defeat. Youth? Youth? Who sings of youth? Youth does not know. The courage that can leave a battlefield. Where all his fighting dreams were forced to yield. And his with their white faces to the stars. The courage that can jump away and weep. Head bowed in hands awhile, then tranquil, sleep. And each day wake to see the same deep scars. Can pick the broken sword up from the dust. And fight alone (for never more will trust). And faith and joy fight shouting at his side. The courage that, when all its aids have died. Laughs and sits on, and conquers, scoring tears. Youth does not know. Such courage comes with years. —Youths' Companion.

The Temple Telegram, a Ferguson paper, and published in Ferguson's home town, estimates the crowd that gathered at the Ball rally in that city on the 6th at from 8,000 to 15,000 people, and says it was the largest political gathering ever held in Bell county.

So far as known only thirteen persons lost their lives in celebrating the Fourth of July this year. That is entirely too many, but is considerably less than that of last year. Two hundred and forty-three were injured. Last year thirty-two were killed or died of their injuries, while over eleven hundred were injured. It was a sane Fourth.

Ferguson—Perjuror and Usurer. Ball—Drunkard and Liquor Dealer. These are the pleasant characterizations of the opposing candidates, that speakers for the opposite sides have been making in the gubernatorial campaign. The primary is nearly three weeks off yet and we shudder to think of the charges that will doubtless be made before that eventful date.

Leaving out of consideration what may have been said in addition most of us will agree that the man who remarked "it's awfully hot" yesterday afternoon got no more than he deserved when he was beaten over the head with a parasol and fined $25. The fellow who remarks "it's awfully hot," or who asks "is it hot enough for you?" invites assault and battery and whatever punishment can be inflicted.

Candidate Hobby who wants to be lieutenant governor, says he favors a law which will require every bill introduced in either house of the legislature to be examined by experts and adverse or favorable reports made thereon. The idea is a good one.—Denison Herald.

Why not send a few experts to make the laws in the first place?—Mexico News.

The News has the right idea. Texas can never expect to have sensible and sane laws until her people cease sending to the legislature men of the peanut politician variety.

The Chataqua which opens here today is worthy of and should receive the liberal support of the people of Wichita Falls. The price of $2.00 for a season ticket is a most reasonable one and the attractions seem to be of a high class. The local business men who have put up the guarantee are not doing so from mercenary motives. While under no conditions can they take a profit out of the enterprise all of them stand a good chance of being losers unless the patronage is liberal. The Times hopes that a Chataqua may be made an annual affair in Wichita Falls. A good beginning this year ought to pave the way for a larger and better Chataqua next year.

It appears from the unofficial returns that the $125,000 road bond issue in Commissioners' Precinct No. 4 in which Electra is situated has carried by the necessary two-thirds majority. It follows that the Electra precinct which has taxable values to abundantly take care of such a bond issue will be the first to have good roads. The Times ventures the prediction that if there is no hitch in the proceedings and the money is expended for road building, the example of the Electra precinct will be followed by other precincts in the county one by one until the whole county is abundantly taken care of such a bond by a single precinct precludes the possibility of a county bond issue as was discussed several months ago. Perhaps precinct bond issues will work out just as well. However, the Times believes, before any roads are built, in any precinct a road plan for the entire county ought to be mapped out, so that in the beginning the Electra precinct roads would connect with roads from the Burk Burnett and Iowa Park precincts, and roads from these precincts connect with roads from the Wichita Falls precinct. Road building in any precinct that will not take into consideration of a county plan will be folly.

SAYS LIQUOR INTERESTS WILL SPEND ONE MILLION DOLLARS

Written on the letter head of A. W. Walker, manager of the Ball campaign, and under date of Dallas July 7, the Times has received an article addressed to "The Democrats of Texas," with request to publish. Mr. Walker, if he is the party who issues the address, has failed to sign it. This, doubtless, was an oversight, but as it contains some rather bold assertions the Times does not feel like vouching for what is contained in the address, and will therefore comply with the request without comment.

"To the Democrats of Texas: The liquor interests in and throughout Texas, through their hirelings, are trying to defeat Col. Thomas H. Ball for governor by purchasing with a large cash fund the purchasable vote. They have on their pay roll, I am reliably informed, more than 2000 people circulating all character of literature and telling all kinds of falsehoods. There is nothing they will not resort to; it is a question of life and death struggle with them; the election of Ball means the absolute separation of the liquor interests from Texas politics, and if submission carries it means the absolute driving of the bar rooms from Texas soil. They have hired speakers on the pay rolls of the liquor interests going all over this state advocating Ferguson for governor, I am told, and I am sure it is true, they have at least a million dollar cash fund to spend in this campaign, and my information, which is from a reliable source, is that the liquor interests outside of Texas have raised and are raising one-half of this cash fund. While they have already circulated through 'gigglars,' and through their hirelings, all kinds of falsehoods against Col. Ball, I have this day received a number of letters from different parts of the State advising me that they are preparing within the next two weeks to begin a further campaign of falsehoods attacking the character of Ball to be distributed all over this State, hoping thereby to receive the people without giving them an opportunity to investigate the facts. So I wish to warn our friends in order that they may be prepared to expect any kind of falsehoods and slanders of the most malicious and insidious kind between this and election day. There is nothing that the liquor interests and their hirelings would not resort to in order to defeat Ball. We are relying upon the moral forces of this State to take care of the situation; to see that these slanderous reports are not believed; to see that a fair election is held and a fair count made; to see that our voters are gotten to the polls; to see that no illegal votes are cast, and to see that those who hold poll tax receipts are legal voters. If you will do this, Thomas H. Ball will be elected next governor of Texas by more than 100,000 majority. He is not running for governor on his own initiative; he was brought out by the moral forces of this State, representing every walk of life, and coming from nearly every county in the State. MANAGER."

HEAVY PAYMENT INCOME AND CORPORATION TAX.

By Associated Press. Washington, July 8.—For the last six days of July the collections of corporation and income taxes aggregated $3,109,621.45. In his statement at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, Secretary McAdoo predicted that $3,500,000 additional would be paid in income and corporation taxes before July 10, the date when penalty attaches for unpaid assessments. With four more days for collections the indications are the commissioner of internal revenue will receive collections in excess of the secretary of treasury.

Specimens of 1000 Year Old Dentistry Found In Peru Ruins

Washington, July 7.—That the art of filling teeth with foreign substances was known to various aboriginal tribes of the American continent is shown by the scientific investigations in the west coast provinces of Ecuador and Colombia he has made many valuable discoveries. His first visit to this region was made in the summer of 1906. In a communication to the International Congress of Americanists held at Vienna in 1908, among other interesting details, was the following account dealing with the subject of decoration of the teeth: "Another custom which we found in Esmeraldas and which, so far as we are aware, is not present in any other part of South America, is the decoration of the teeth by the insertion of ivory, bone, or other materials cut in the shape of the upper incisors. This custom of decorating the teeth was quite common in various parts of Mexico, where different settings were used. In the Mayan area, as far south as Yucatan, the object most often used for the inlay was jade. In Mexico, for example in Oaxaca, I have found turquoise used; in Vera Cruz, turquoise has been found; and in other parts with settings of rock crystal, obsidian and a red cement have been found. We have never heard of this custom in Colombia or Peru, but in Esmeraldas, in the Atacames, skulls have been found with tiny disks of gold set into the teeth in the same manner as in Mexico and Central America with the exception of the material."

STILL HOPE TO SETTLE NEW HAVEN ANTI-TRUST SUIT

By Associated Press. Washington, July 8.—Although the department of justice is preparing to go ahead and file its long planned anti-trust suit for the dissolution of the New Haven railroad system, Attorney General McKeen says it is hopeful of a settlement without a prolonged fight in the court. As was announced some time ago President Wilson and the attorney general have agreed that the suit should be filed this month, unless the Massachusetts legislature or the executive committee of the railroad agree on legislation necessary for the disposing of some of the stocks which the government contends are being held in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

SALESMAN CONFESSES TO MURDER OF CHILD

By Associated Press. Chicago, July 8.—Boswell C. F. Smith, a salesman, today confessed to the murder of four-year-old Hazel Weinstein last night. Smith, unaware that some of his actions in the alley back of the shop kept by the girl's parents had been observed, carried the body into the store, explaining that he had found it. Persons who had been watching Smith caused his arrest.

Uncle Sam Making Count of Birds In United States

By Associated Press. Washington, July 8.—Officials of the biological survey in the department of agriculture hope soon to be able to announce the most accurate count ever made of the birds in the United States. Returns from some of the hundreds of nature lovers around the country who have enlisted as volunteer enumerators have been coming in, reflecting an enthusiastic interest in the count. When the census was decided upon about 250 bird enthusiasts in all sections of the country who previously had rendered valuable service were asked to supply the desired information and in addition to these several hundred others volunteered their aid. The counting has been going on since June 1 and was to have wound up by July 1, but it probably will be some time before the last of the returns are in and announcement is made of the total bird population. The census will not include the varieties known as game birds, but in all other respects it will be as thorough and as well classified as is practicable. Previous estimates by the birds in the United States and Canada, the varieties being more generously distributed in eastern states than in the west and the least of all in the prairies. But this is only a guess. The enumerators in the present count have been assigned typical tracts of woodland, cultivated land and pasture and asked to count the birds of each. Officials of each state will be asked to furnish the department of agriculture with information showing the total number of acres of each kind of land within the borders of the state and the number of birds in each state then will be fairly accurately computed. The plan adopted by many of the observers is to zigzag back and forth across the chosen area at daylight, counting the male birds of each species, as at that time of day, at this season, each is in full song and easily seen. After the migration period is over and the birds are settled in summer quarters it is safe to consider that each male represents a breeding pair. One of the main objects of the census, by the way, is to determine how many pairs of birds of each species breed within definite areas. A count taken in part of Chevy Chase, a suburb of Washington, showed thirty-four species of birds in a tract of twenty-three acres, the total number of breeding pairs being 159, about seven to an acre. The average, it is stated is about one pair to an acre. As the tract in question is thickly populated, the bird experts of the government see in this report a refutation of the theory that the presence of many people tends to decrease the number of birds.

The Empress. "The Perils of Pauline" today, and "The Villain Still Pursued Her" would be a fit title for this episode. After undergoing the dangers of the sea, air, fire and Chinatown, Pauline decides to go west.

The Majestic. An Essanay comedy, featuring Ruth Hennessy and Wallace Berry in "At Last We Are Alone." "Rorke's Drift," a two reel Edison is on the program for today.

It is not in the conventional sense of a victorious charge that one should judge man, but in the cold hopeless fight against overwhelming odds—the battle which is lost from the start wherein men fight until they die.

Rorke's Drift was just such an occasion. Here in 1879, eighty men under Lieutenant Chard and Bromhead of the British Army were attacked by four thousand Zulus and held their pitifully weak position despite the tremendous odds.

Our story of the fight centers about the person of Tommy Brandon, a young soldier in the British Army. Tommy was very much in love with Grace, the sister of Kenneth Linden, a brother soldier.

Since Ken Linden was pitifully weak, Tommy had promised Grace to watch over him and keep him out of scrapes. Hence, one evening when Ken cheated in a card game, Tommy allowed the guilt to rest upon his own shoulders.

Tommy regained his good name when the Zulus commenced an active campaign. The message of the impending danger to Rorke's Drift was telegraphed to Tommy's company by Grace who had seen the Zulus massing for the attack.

On the way, he came upon a band of Zulus who had captured the colors from the cowardly Linden. Tommy recklessly charged them and rescued the flag. Then he continued his way through the mine of peril and reached Lord Chelmsford in time to send the relief expedition to the gallant little band at Rorke's Drift.

Meanwhile, Grace had found her dying brother and had learned from him the full story of Tommy's generosity. At Rorke's Drift, four hundred dead Zulus bore witness to the prowess of the desperate band.

Chelmsford's expedition arrived in time to complete the rout of the savage natives and when Tommy returned to Grace, he came as a hero with out spot or blemish on his good name.

English Boxer Wins Lightweight Title. London, July 8.—For the first time in almost twenty years America and England met in the ring with the world's lightweight championship at stake.

Freddie Welsh is world's titleholder. For ten years the polished little Briton has been striving for this goal. Three times he had it almost in his grasp, yet each time a strange freak of fate kept him from achieving his ultimate ambition.

Welsh made good all of Pollock's boasts. The British lightweight showed that in addition to marvelous cleverness he was a master of infighting, and in the last round of the battle he forced the rugged Ritchie to all parts of the ring and snatched the title from the grasp of the American.

Ten rounds were Welsh's. Five were Ritchie's and five were even. Welsh's sensational rally in the twentieth, the last round, clinched the world's title for him.

ORIGINAL OF BOOK OF GENESIS FOUND

EARLY BABYLONIAN TABLET SAID TO TELL STORY OF CREATION

SUPPORTS BIBLE NARRATIVE

Noah's Experiences in Deluge are Believed to be Related on Crude Stone Book

London, July 7.—The London Times announces that a discovery of the utmost importance in Biblical archaeology has just been made by Dr. Langdon, professor of Assyriology at Jesus College, Oxford, who has found among the early Babylonian tablets disinterred at Nippur a pre-Semitic account of the Deluge. It is described as "clearly the original of that preserved in the Book of Genesis."

The same tablet contains a reference to the Fall of Man, brought about by his eating a certain fruit. This is the first reference to the fall found in Babylonian literature.

The tablet came from an early library at Nippur and is now, with a number of others, in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Last October Dr. Langdon visited the museum and copied the inscriptions on about 50 tablets of the Nippur collection.

One of these tablets is engraved with a hymn to Nimrod, who, in the Babylonian legend, is the creator of man. The hymn contains the Babylonian version of the flood, and, in contrast with the famous "Chaldean account of the Deluge," discovered by George Smith in 1872, agrees with the Biblical account in naming as patriarch, who saved the world from a catastrophe by reason of his piety.

It further agrees with the Biblical narrative in making him a gardener or agriculturist and in the duration of nine months of the ark. The name of the patriarch is given as Tagmog—the Semitic "Noah."

It is related that after the flood Noah became "like the gods," which is interpreted to mean that he received the gift of extraordinary longevity.

This version says that Canaan (Babylonian for the god Enki, the water god) taught Noah the secrets of things revealed to him and the wisdom possessed by the gods. With this revelation the tablet breaks off. It is notable that this "revelation of wisdom" is related by Berosus, a Babylonian historian who wrote in the time of Nebuchadnezzar.

After a break in the inscription there occurs a remarkable story of the fall of man, his punishment being the loss of effectual or of longevity, because he ate of the "tree of life." The story includes the contention between the creator of man, Niharsag or Nimrod and her husband, Enlil. The beginning of the story of the fall is broken off.

It is noted that, as distinct from the Biblical narrative, it is not Adam, who is tempted and falls.

The publication recently of the discovery made by Dr. Langdon of Jesus College, Oxford, of a pre-Semitic account of the Deluge among the early Babylonian tablets disinterred at Nippur aroused the greatest interest among scholars and students of the Bible in New York.

Dr. Solomon Schechter, the well known theologian and president of the Jewish Theological Seminary since 1902, a former professor at Cambridge University and professor of Hebrew at the University College in London, when seen at his home, 468 Riverside drive, recently was enthusiastic over Dr. Langdon's work.

"I know that Prof. Langdon is a careful scholar, and I have great faith in his announcement," he said. "If it is as announced, I can only say that it is so remarkable as to be tantamount to a miracle. I can not make intelligent observations about this until I have the full information. I am going over to Hamburg next week and I shall cross over to England and see with my own eyes what he has found."

"As I understand the announcement, Professor Langdon has found the origin of the Book of Genesis, and his discovery goes to prove the authenticity of that work. George Smith's discoveries in Chaldaea, which was the ancient name for Babylonian in 1872 and 1873, while fairly complete, differed in material facts from the text of the Book of Genesis as handed down by the Hebrews. That led to a great amount of controversy which has never been satisfactorily settled. Now, the Chaldean account of the deluge is of later date than the Nippur tablets that Prof. Langdon has just translated. That proves that they are an account of the same story, corrupted by generations of telling and shaping to the religious necessities of the day. The Langdon translations are of writing that might date back to over 2000 years B. C. Must date from about between 600 and 1000 years B. C."

Explained the Flood. "Thus it is easily deduced that the Jews obtained the more ancient account of the deluge, for at the time all those countries were under the same king or emperor. Later the Jews became a separate kingdom and the old story perfect and intact, while in Assyria and Asia Minor it was corrupted and adapted to the needs of the people. It is not surprising that the oldest account of the flood should agree with that in the Jewish records. I am very sorry that there is a break in the inscriptions. They, of course, lead to inaccuracies. The account of the fall of man in which Noah appears instead of Adam requires further explanation. It is my opinion that a fragment of the Enoch legend has entered into this and created confusion that has resulted in the identities of Adam and Noah being confused. This, however, is only conjecture.

"The portion of the translation in which Noah received revelations from the Babylonian water god, Enki, being taught the wisdom of the gods, will require much explanation. I can find no parallel to this in the Bible although Noah was advised of the coming of a flood. This sounds a little like the Enoch legend also, and it will be difficult to determine the exact truth. You know, Enoch occurs in several places and seems to have been an important personage, but there is never very much about him. He is one of those mythical and most mythical characters in the ancient writings who are always being confused with some one else and confounded with some one else and Enoch as told in the Apocrypha seems to have a pertinent relation to the Noah of Prof. Langdon's translations. Prof. Langdon's discovery, when properly placed before the public will add greatly to the proof of the authenticity of the Book of Genesis and the whole Old Testament.

It seems a shame that it took an English professor to make this discovery, where our own people have been in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania for some years and the deciphering ought to have been done by an American. It seems as though none of the archaeologists of this country would attempt to do this work, although several wanted very much to try it. It was told to me that there were always difficulties placed in the way of American professors of Biblical archaeology when they wanted to get at these Nippur tablets. Prof. Langdon does not seem to have had these difficulties, and has succeeded where our own people have not even been able to try."

Prof. Loring Wart Batten, Clement C. Moore, professor of the literature and interpretation of the Old Testament at the General Theological Seminary, Chelsea square, was greatly interested in Prof. Langdon's discovery, but thought it was not of very great importance.

Newness Was Doubtful. "I doubt if Prof. Langdon has discovered anything new," he said, "and the announcement that I read contained only a few facts. As soon as I can get the full text of his translation I will let people try to judge and decide if there is anything new in it. He seems to have found only another variation of the same story that the Jews wrote in their Bible. That story was common property all over Assyria, Asia Minor and adjacent countries, and was adapted and corrupted by each people that used it. The fact that the Jewish version of it is accepted, was that they were the ones to preserve it in their Biblical writings and so hand it down to us."

"Prof. Langdon's discovery amounts only to a corroboration of what the Jews wrote and makes their Bible more authentic, if another version of what seems to have been common property among a great number of different and constantly warring peoples can amount to a corroboration. I have found in the writings that I have been discovered by the late Prof. George Smith and subsequent explorers, and now Prof. Langdon that there is a great confusion between the characters of Adam, Noah and Enoch. In some inscriptions it is one and in others another. The main story, however, remains the same; it is only its variations that differ.

with the few facts contained in the printed announcement, and said that the Nippur tablets made the story of Adam and Noah stronger than ever. They said, however, that Prof. Langdon might have made a mistake in one of the fragments translated, and that the story of Enoch might have been taken for that of Noah.

Half in Philadelphia. The missing half of the Babylonian clay tablet taken from the temple of Nippur, matching perfectly the fragment from which Dr. Stephen Langdon gained a new version of the fall of man and a new story of Noah and the flood, has been found in the University of Pennsylvania Museum.

Such is the announcement of great interest to archaeologists and to the world in general, made recently by museum officials. Cablegrams from London last week told of Dr. Langdon's translations from the Sueria script, but said he had been handicapped in getting the full story because he had only half the tablet.

It develops that Dr. Langdon wrote to the University of Pennsylvania authorities asking them to search in the museum for the missing half tablet. Now comes the announcement that the missing fragment is here and is easily legible to a Sumerian scholar; that the fragment, with the portion of stone upon which Dr. Langdon worked and that it is an authentic find. It was found on Saturday by Dr. Curator Gordon of the University Museum.

DO IT NOW Wichita Falls People Should Wait Until It Is Too Late

The appalling death rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney trouble is usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorder and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, head aches, dizzy spells; if the kidneys are clogged, irregular passages and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

F. McEnnis, carpenter, 1108 Scott St., Wichita Falls, Tex., says: "I suffered from pains across the small of my back and in my sides. I also had to get up frequently during the night to pass the kidney secretions. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended I got a box and used them as directed. In a short time I was cured." DOES "LABOR EXEMPTION" CLAUSE REALLY EXEMPT?

Washington, July 8.—Does the debated "labor exemption" clause in the administration anti-trust bill now before the Senate really exempt labor unions from Sherman law prosecution?

This is a mooted question at labor headquarters, the Capitol and White House today, notwithstanding rumors of arguments on the subject clogging official records.

President Gompers and officials of the American Federation of Labor who have been leading the fight for incorporation of the exemption clause are satisfied with the phraseology now in the bill as passed by the House. The president, too, is satisfied and House and Senate leaders accept it as O. K.

But the actual operation of the clause is still problematical. High legal authorities in Congress—where legal "sharpshooter" predominate—insist that only a test of the clause in the courts will decide whether labor relieves or is denied any privileges under the new proposed law. The wording of the disputed section is as follows:

"Provided, that nothing contained in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of fraternal, labor, consumers, agricultural or horticultural organizations, orders or associations instituted for the purposes of mutual help and not having capital stock or conducted for profit or to forbid or restrain the dual members of such organizations, orders or associations from carrying out the legitimate objects thereof; nor shall such organizations, orders or associations or members thereof be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade under the anti-trust laws."

President Wilson's view of the clause is that it exempts labor and the other organizations from prosecution because of the sole fact of organization—combination—but does not prevent their prosecution or that of any individual member, for any illegal, unlawful act of combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade. Those who doubt the efficacy of the legislation point out that the courts have never declared that "mere" organization is prohibited by the Sherman law and that therefore, the "exemption" clause adds nothing to the law and does not, in fact, exempt anybody or anything.

Agreements such as closed shop working arrangements, between labor unions and big employers will still be prohibited and subject participants to a Sherman-law suit, it is contended by many.

How He Became the Robin Hood of Mexico, and Why He Hates Diaz, Orozco and Huerta - His Real Character Told By One Who Is Personally Acquainted With the Constitutional General

Francisco Villa, the Constitutional Army in Mexico, has held the center of the stage with the American press. One day he is lauded as a marvellous military genius and a half Indian, and the next day the same newspaper will be found denouncing him as an ignorant butcher of men and a barbarian. Indeed, if one were to believe all the reports it would seem that he is a living Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

The writer is personally acquainted with General Villa, having seen him under various conditions, whether in the headquarters or on the field of battle. He is ever on the alert, busy of mind and body—a remarkable man in all respects, but wholly unfit to Mexico from the presidential account of his illiteracy and incapacity for fighting. "There is nothing so much as being in the middle of the fray. He would rather get out any time," said one of his officers.

General Villa has repeatedly denied daily to the writer, but to all others that his own ambitious aims, Carranza Chief Executive of Mexico, and to know that Carranza has been punished for his treachery to Carranza under all circumstances, far toward proving the truthfulness of his statements. Carranza's With Carranza has been a headline in the newspapers for the next day's dispatch. The difference between the two men is a difference, which is not disputable.

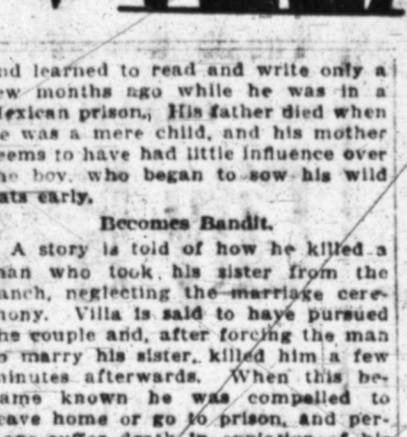

General Villa was born on a ranch in the State of Chihuahua. His ancestry was a mixture of Indian and Spanish—about one-fourth of the former race and three-fourths of the latter. All these reports about his being a Maryland negro and at one time serving in the United States Army are made of the whole cloth. It is very doubtful as to whether Villa knows that there is such a place as Maryland. Then, too, he does not read more than a dozen words of English.

and learned to read and write only a few months ago while he was in a Mexican prison. His father died when he was a mere child, and his mother seems to have had little influence over the boy, who began to sow his wild oats early.

Becomes Bandit. A story is told of how he killed a man who took his sister from the ranch, meeting the marriage ceremony. Villa is said to have pursued the couple and, after forcing the man to marry his sister, killed him a few minutes afterwards. When this became known he was compelled to leave home or go to prison, and perhaps suffer in explanation of his crime. So, he took to the mountains, as the Mexicans call it, and soon became the Robin Hood of Mexico. An excellent shot and a man who could control even the wildest horse, he soon gathered a band of men about him and they became a terror of the Mexican mountains for a period of more than a dozen years. Porfirio Diaz was the Dictator of Mexico at that time and, aimed at the boldness of Villa and his men, he set a price upon the head of the young robber chief. The rurales (the constabulary of the country) set out to capture him, and several desperate fights in the mountain passed back and forth. Villa succeeded in killing a score or more of the rurales in these encounters, being slightly wounded himself. With each clash with the officers of the law his hatred for Diaz increased, and when the Diaz revolution against the Diaz regime began, Villa offered his services to Madero, which were at once accepted. He gathered several hundred men about him and began a campaign against the Government. Untrained in the ethics of the treatment of prisoners in modern warfare, Villa's men were allowed to slay the enemy under all circumstances, and they fought with a savagery which shocked the world. Diaz was compelled to flee from Mexico, and Madero became its Chief Executive.

The battle of Juarez, in 1911, brought Villa before the public, for all through the battle he was in the open in the thickest of the fight, leading his men in the most daring charges. His courage amazed the war correspondents, and descriptions of the courageous fighting of the ex-bandit were published throughout the world. General Orozco, another of Madero's officers, soon became violently jealous of Villa, and began to make sport of his fighting qualities, but Madero had won and Villa retired from the army and was given a Government position at Chihuahua. A few months later General Orozco demanded a large sum of money from the Madero Government for his services during the revolution, and on being refused he set about to have a revolution against the Government and organized an army for that purpose.

THE REAL VILLA

Hated of Orozco. Villa, who in the meantime had heard of Orozco's slurs at his military ability, begged Madero to allow him to return to the army and get even with the coward Orozco. General Victoriano Huerta, the present Dictator of Mexico, was at that time Madero's commander-in-chief, but Villa did not real fighting, and although the Orozco revolution was speedily put down, it is the cause of the sorrows of Villa's life that he failed to capture the leader. Friendship between Huerta and Villa soon became apparent, and as Huerta was the ranking officer he accused Villa of disobeying orders and had him put in prison. But iron bars had no terrors for the ex-bandit, and he soon escaped and went back to his old life in the mountains. Then came the cold-blooded murder of Madero and the rise of Huerta.

When Villa learned of this he planned revenge. "I'll pay him back!" he said as he added a borrowed (?) rifle after he had gathered some of his old followers about him. A few sacks of flour and some ammunition were loaded on the pack animals and the present revolution began—the revolution in which thousands of lives have been lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed. This was in March of 1913. Today we find the ex-bandit, still under forty years of age, the fighting head of a formidable army which threatens to drive Huerta into exile or to his death.

Wife a Plain Mexican. For some inexplicable reason a number of our newspapers seem determined to weave a romance about Villa's married life, as after each battle the story of how he captured and carried off an American girl and forced her to become his wife goes up. First he captured her at Juarez, then at Ojinaga, then at Chihuahua, and finally at Torreon. It is not quite plain as to whether he captured only one fair American or whether he seizes a wife after each battle. However, the reader need not worry over the puzzle, for the whole story is a fabrication. General Villa was married in the regulation fashion to a Mexican woman who is not even pretty—a plain, quiet, slender creature of the typical Mexican type. Like her husband, she is illiterate and speaks little English. She is devoted to her husband and follows the news of his campaign with the same eagerness and pride as shown by an American woman in the success of her husband.

General Appearance. There is nothing of the swashbuckler bandit about him, either in manner or appearance. He is about five feet nine or ten in height and of medium build. His hair is black and slightly curly and grows a face which is tanned from exposure to the tropical sun. His features indicate a craftiness amounting almost to cruelty, his mouth especially being indicative of this trait. His eyes are remarkable for they are like bright, black beads, and seem to penetrate the inmost thoughts of the visitor. It is in this feature that the Indian is predominant. He walks erect and sits a horse in a fashion that many expert American riders might envy. In ordinary conversation his voice is low and rather pleasant, but like all the Latin he speaks rapidly. He is quick to understand, especially where military affairs are concerned, and he acts quickly on his own initiative, rarely consulting his officers, who are always gathered about him. Raoul Madrazo, the brother of the murdered President, is always at his side, following him about like a faithful dog. He regards Villa as his brother's avenger. Every action of General Villa that he is supreme, at least when Carranza is not present, and was he to the man who disobeys his orders. The cheapness of life in Mexico is appalling, for the slightest disobedience to orders or failure in duty in the Constitutional Army means the facing of the firing squad. All this sounds horrible, and in a way it is horrible, but it seems to be the only way of keeping the average Mexican upon a par with the straight line.

Few of Villa's men serve him because they are really fond of him—they regard him as a hero, and they fear his wrath. Then, too, he pays them well, frequently on credit, and consulting his officers, who are always gathered about him. Raoul Madrazo, the brother of the murdered President, is always at his side, following him about like a faithful dog. He regards Villa as his brother's avenger. Every action of General Villa that he is supreme, at least when Carranza is not present, and was he to the man who disobeys his orders. Rebel Cavalry on the March

Villa's Engine of Death Armed Motor Car which Carries Seven Machine Guns

Throughout the campaign General Villa has been a teetotaler, refusing to drink any intoxicants even when flushed with victory. "A man must have a clear head," he declares, "to win." Various promotions have been given to his men, and there has been some difference of opinion about it. He, however, pronounces it as it was spelled "Villan," which is the real pronunciation in Spanish.

OUR REPUTATION

is not based upon the sale we make today, but the way our work shows up throughout the years withstanding the greatest of all tests, "The ravages of time."

We have erected a good many MEMORIALS throughout Texas and Oklahoma, and can always point with pride to each and everyone, they representing full value for the money expended. We never sacrifice QUALITY in order to make a sale knowing as we do that quantity without quality is always a source of much dissatisfaction, not only to our customers, but to ourselves.

Your dollars will bring greater satisfaction used in the erection of a memorial to your departed loved ones than they will expended in any other way. Why not follow that best of all impulses, and beautify your cemetery plot today?

Remember the house of QUALITY.

YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS

If your physician is a real doctor with the knowledge of diseases and medicine that comes from thorough training and years of experience your prescriptions should be compounded by a competent pharmacist or your physician's fine skill is wasted.

If your physician does not know measles from St. Vitus dance and is a prize bone head and practices medicine for pastime you should be sure your pharmacist knows enough to keep the doctor from promoting your demise through accident.

In either case bring your prescriptions to us. We fill the real physicians' prescriptions exactly as written and we will see that you don't get bumped off with too big a dose or a shot from the wrong bottle. When a fellow dies he is dead such a long time that it does not pay to take a chance with a prescriptionist who does not know.

LAKE WICHITA GROWING

IN POPULARITY DAILY

Inauguration of Five Cent Fare Promises To Increase Patronage Greatly

"We are operating the lake park on a basis that ought to win the approval of the city people and judging from the returns we are getting, I guess they are appreciating it," said Frank St. Clair this morning. "We are now running an good picture show as there is in the city, showing six reels of pictures every night and showing them as many times as the people come to look at them. We get our service from the Consolidated Film Company of Dallas, who send us some of the best and newest pictures that are made. This part of our program is free to all, and when the five cent street car fare goes into effect, for which we have been contending with the street car company all season, and which has been ordered for the 15th, people can enjoy the ride to the lake and see the pictures for the same price that they now pay for the show alone downtown."

"We have also cleaned out the swimming pool, putting it in first class condition and making it beyond doubt the finest bathing spot in North Texas. The boating is also especially good this season by reason of the extra high water and fishing is better than it has been in years."

Mr. St. Clair can also claim credit for one thing that he did not mention, but which has been spoken of by very many ladies who have gone to the lake this season and that is the absence of rowdiness. Early in the season Mr. St. Clair made it known that there would be nothing doing with the rough stuff and there hasn't been. On one or two occasions men have displayed an inclination to obscene language or undue familiarity with ladies and in each instance they have been ejected from the park with the admonition that upon a repetition of the offense their ejection would be by the water route with the privilege of swimming across the lake to dry land.

Roller skating has also become very popular at the lake, and a great many young people go out every afternoon and evening to enjoy it. Altogether the park is more lively and more interesting than it has been any year since its opening.

CRUDE OIL BEING USED TO ALLAY THE DUST

Agitation For General Use On Streets Has Started—Experiments Satisfactory

Crude oil is being used by a number of Wichitans to allay the dust near their homes and is proving so satisfactory that there is some agitation for its general use for sprinkling purposes. J. W. Culbertson was the first to use oil at his home at the corner of Denver and Eleventh and a number of others have since followed his example.

CATTLE THEFTS RECEIVE STATE POLICE ATTENTION

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, July 8.—Reports of the theft of cattle along the Texas border continue to reach the executive department through Ranger Captain John R. Hughes, senior officer who is temporarily stationed here. He said he has received almost daily reports from his men that bandits are active. The reports indicate that some Americans as well as Mexicans are implicated in the cattle stealing. The rangers have made many arrests, sometimes recovering the cattle.
