CLEVELAND WINS FIRST GAME 3-1

SPECIAL TRAINS TO NUMBER OF 40 DUE AT HOUSTON TODAY

CARRY VISITORS TO THIRTIETH ANNUAL REUNION OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS HAVE ALREADY ARRIVED

First Session of Joint Reunion Scheduled for Four O'Clock Tuesday Afternoon.

Arrive at Houston.

All arrived safe and men and scouts assigned to quarters. Scouts assigned to duty under the chief scout executive of Houston. Every courtesy is being shown and the weather is ideal.

LEE CLARK.

HOUSTON, Oct. 5.—Forty special trains bearing visitors to the thirteenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans and the annual meetings of affiliated organizations, the first sessions of which were scheduled for this afternoon, were due to reach Houston before midnight tonight.

Thousands of visitors arrived yesterday and last night, of whom more than three thousand were veterans of the civil war. Arrivals today and tonight are expected to swell the total of visitors to more than fifty thousand and of veterans to between 8,000 and 10,000.

Gen. K. M. Van Zandt of Fort Worth, commander-in-chief of the veterans' organization, and several department commanders and staff officers, already have established their headquarters in the city and today's arrivals will include Gen. A. B. Booth of New Orleans, adjutant and chief of staff. Gov. W. P. Hobby of Texas also was scheduled to arrive today.

First Session 4 P. M.

The first session of the joint reunion was set for 4 o'clock this afternoon, when, according to the program, Mayor Amerman of Houston will call the convention of the Southern Confederated Memorial association to order. The program also provided for an address of welcome by Governor Hobby and greetings to the members of the organization by General Van Zandt representing the veterans; Gen. N. B. Forrest, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and Mrs. Roy W. McKinney of Paducah, Ky., president-general of the Daughters of the Confederacy. After this opening session, all meetings of the association will be presided over by Mrs. A. McD. Wilson of Atlanta, president.

The first session of the Sons of Confederate Veterans will be held tonight and the first meeting of the veterans will be held tomorrow morning.

Spend Night in "Billets."

The early arrivals among the veterans spent their first night last night in "billets" prepared for them in school buildings near the downtown districts and this morning were given their breakfast at a huge mass tent near the reunion headquarters.

At the school buildings "shake down" beds were prepared with mattresses and blankets and this morning the old soldiers were drawing comparisons between their "billets" of the present reunion and their bivoucs or camps during the war and at previous reunions, the comparisons in all cases favoring the present arrangement.

At the mass tent, under the direction of E. A. Pickens, steward at seven previous reunions, arrangements have been made for feeding ten thousand veterans free, three times a day.

First-aid stations have been established at each of the three railway terminals and at convenient places in the downtown district. Thus far there have been few patients at these stations and no serious cases.

The weather is ideal.

At a meeting of the Texas division of the United Confederate Veterans this morning, a motion to endorse the administration of President Wilson, expressing accord with the League of Nations, and denouncing the republican party, evoked a storm of protest which ended only when the motion was tabled. Major General E. W. Kirkpatrick, commanding the Texas division, who presided, ruled that the motion dealt with politics and therefore violated the policies of the organization.

HARDING SAYS HE APPROVES SPEECHES OF SENATOR BORAH

MARION, OHIO, Oct. 5.—In answer to widely published reports that Senator Borah, a leader of the treaty irreconcilables, soon would quit the republican campaign, Senator Harding's headquarters here made public today a telegram in which Mr. Borah declared he would continue to work for republican success.

The message, addressed to Senator Harding, followed:

"In view of reports I wish you to know my speeches in the future will be along the same lines as at Dayton and in the senate. I want to see you win and want to see the league scheme defeated. In my own way, shall devote my time to the achievement of both propositions."

Senator Harding already has declared that Senator Borah's declarations in campaign speeches met with approval and he renewed his predictions today that throughout the remainder of the campaign he and Mr. Borah would be found speaking in accord. The nominee also revealed that in his next public address, which is to be delivered Thursday at Des Moines, Iowa, he expects to develop a step further his proposition on the league issue.

REPUBLICAN PUTS TEXAS IN THE DOUBTFUL COLUMN

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Will H. Hayes, republican national chairman, predicted a landslide for Harding in a statement issued here today.

"Harding will carry all the New England states," he said, "and New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Illinois, and he has a good chance to carry North Carolina and Tennessee. West of the Mississippi he will carry every state but Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, and Texas just now is a doubtful state."

CUBA'S CANE CROP IS NOT UP TO AVERAGE

HAVANA, CUBA, Oct. 5.—Prediction that Cuba's cane crop would be inferior to that of 1919 and that its product would not reach the market before February, 1922, was made in a bulletin last night by the sales commission which represents holders of a considerable portion of this year's unsold crop. The reason given was the loss of the crop in the Orient region, abandonment of many cane fields, the poor clearing up of others and delayed work in cane fields in general.

MINORITY MEMBERS OF AMERICAN LEAGUE TO MEET COMISKEY

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Colonel T. L. Huston and Jacob Ruppert, owners of the New York American league club, and Harry Frazee of the Boston Americans, are enroute to Chicago for a conference with Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, and other baseball officials, in connection with the gambling scandal, it was learned today. The meeting will be held this afternoon.

The four baseball magnates represent the American league minority, which until peace was declared at the league meeting last spring, opposed President Ban Johnson.

Frazee recently proposed that every club owner in the league give Comiskey a player to replace the men suspended following the return of true bills charging them with accepting bribes to throw the 1919 world's series.

FORCES COMMANDED BY GENERAL WRANGEL JOIN GENERAL MAKNO

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—Forces commanded by General Baron Wrangel, head of the anti-bolshevik government of south Russia, have joined the armies led by General Makno, the Ukrainian chief, which have been operating against the soviet troops in the region of Kharov. The injunction was effected at Sinelkov, a village 25 miles southeast of Ekaterinoslav, and the bolsheviki who have been trapped in that vicinity since the anti-bolshevik forces have been approaching each other during the last fortnight, were captured.

General Makno's flying raid on Kharov, which resulted in the capture of that city, has contributed to the confusion of the soviet armies in southern Russia, the position of which along the Dnieper river has become more critical. Insurgent bands are reported to be in the rear of the bolsheviki and reported to have captured Nikolaev, near Odessa. It is rumored that cholera has appeared among soviet troops in Kharov.

Barefooted conscripts of the bolshevik army continue to surrender in large numbers without resistance, but the bolsheviki regulars and student regiments continue their retreat.

EXAMINING ZELENKO IN CONNECTION WITH NEW YORK EXPLOSION

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5.—Examination of Florian Zelenko, who was arrested here Sunday night with a quantity of explosives in his suit case, was continued today by federal agents.

The government officers questioned the suspect for eight hours yesterday in an effort to connect him with the Wall street explosion, but the nature of some of the information obtained will not be made public, they said, until the story can be checked up. They indicated that with new "leads" received from other cities early this morning it would require about a week to verify Zelenko's story.

In their examination of the prisoner today, the agents said they would question him relative to the charge of the Columbus, Ohio, police that he is wanted there in connection with the theft of fifty-five pounds of dynamite September 21, last, and would endeavor to confirm the story of the New York woman who is said to have told authorities there that Zelanko frequently carried quantities of dynamite in his pockets.

EXPECT DETAILS OF SINKING OF VESSEL

Investigation Is Requested and Suggestion of Foul Play by Crew Is Made.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5.—Details of the sinking during last week's tropical hurricane of the steamship Speedwell in the Gulf of Mexico was expected to day from the steamer Lake Superior, due at Santiago, Cuba, and the oil tanker Sanoil, reported near Tampico, Mexico.

Interest was added to the case last night when George W. McDuff, father of Mrs. Edward M. Richardson, believed to have been the only white woman aboard the vessel, telegraphed to Secretary of State Colby requesting an investigation of what he suspected was foul play among the members of the crew.

Mr. McDuff stated he was unable to reconcile himself to the fact that negro and Mexican members of the crew were saved while the only white woman aboard probably perished.

The Lake Superior, a shipping board steamer, which sailed from Pensacola September 30, picked up the 15 survivors, including one passenger. The Sunoil, a Pacific and Orient tanker, has four survivors aboard. The bodies of five persons were in the boat which she picked up, two of them women. Captain Johnson of the Speedwell was reported to have gone down with his ship.

EBBETS FIELD CROWDED WITH ENTHUSIASTIC FANS

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, Oct. 5—Some 25,000 fans, the edge of whose enthusiasm was nowhat dulled by the White Sox baseball scandal, filled all seats in Ebbets field today and saw the Clevelands, winners of the American League pennant, and the Brooklyns, champions of the National League, do battle in the first of this year's world's series. All seats were sold when the players came on the field and hundreds, many of whom had stood in line since sunrise to buy seats on the reserved sections, were turned away.

"I have a fine team, eager to win, and I believe they will," said Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn club, in the club house before the game. "I am not underrating the Clevelands and will agree that we are in for a hard fight."

The Clevelands did not get to town until a few hours before the game, thereby upsetting all baseball precedents of not practicing in a strange ball yard before a world's series.

Speaker Is Optimistic.

"I have always played on diamonds of the same dimensions," said Tris Speaker, "and for purposes of this series we are assuming the distance is 90 feet between all bases on Colonel Ebbets' field. We expect to win. What more can I say?"

Brooklyn took their batting practice first, McHart, Miljus and Pfeffer serving up the ball for the homefolks. Marquard and Smith, Robinson's two left-handers, and Burleigh Grimes, Brooklyn's star spitballer, took part in the batting practice.

Uhle went to the mound when the Indians took their batting workout. Bagby and Coveleskie took part in the practice.

PLAN HEARING FOR SNOW DURING WEEK

Prisoner Further Discusses the Killing While He Is on His Way to Fort Worth.

"I am sorry as to what occurred. I never would have shot at all, hadn't I thought that the two men were highjackers."

In so many words did "Doc" Snow express his regret, following the occurance at Kemp City last Thursday night while he was being taken to the Fort Worth county jail by Deputy Sheriff R. L. McDonald."

It was said that the prisoner gave visible signs that he was under a severe mental strain and in fact "was down in the mouth" as officers express it.

He told Officer McDonald that he did not see Belcher and Spiller. He said he knew them personally and had he seen them he would have quietly and willingly given himself up. He stated to the officer who had him in charge that the two men, who he did not know and who were at the rear of the room had called to all to "stick 'em up."

Snow will be returned to Wichita Falls for a preliminary hearing some time this week was the statement made Tuesday morning by Snow's attorney, Shields Heyser.

Will Be Kept Here.

Attorney Heyser further stated that he intended to bring back Snow to this city and regardless of the outcome of the preliminary hearing that he would be kept here. He styled the story in circulation regarding "the fear of the violence of a mob" as rot.

The alleged gambler, who is charged with the murder of Toney and Caple, has a wife and five children who reside at Kemp City. They were visiting in Memphis, Texas, at the time of the raid. Mrs. Snow was in Wichita Falls Monday evening but left for Fort Worth to see her husband.

It is said that Snow reiterated the story that he is a dope fiend. He stated that Snow was his real name and that he was a veterinarian but that he had never practiced in Texas.

In explanation of the statement that he had been endeavoring to evade arrest, Snow is reported to have said that it was not a question of evasion but that he did not know the sentiment of the public and that in a measure he believed the report that mob violence was feared should he be arrested and placed in the county jail.

MOTHER LOCATES SON AFTER A LONG SEARCH

EL PASO, TEX., Oct. 5.—A search of several years by an English mother for her son, has just ended here through the efforts of Chaplain W. B. Zimmerman at Fort Bliss, with the finding of A. P. B. King, a member of the United States army serving under the name of James W. Powers. The young man was identified by photographs and his handwriting.

The young man came to the United States in 1913 and enlisted in the army under an assumed name. He served throughout the war and at the close was sent to Fort Bliss with the Seventh Cavalry. King said that his parents knew that he had enlisted in the army but did not know under what name. He wrote his mother at intervals but for two or three years, according to information obtained by Chaplain Zimmerman, his letters were not received by his mother, due to a change of address and the fact that she remarried after the death of King's father, which occurred since the young man left home.

King expects to return to England as soon as his enlistment expires expires Nov. 11. According to letters in the hands of the chaplain King is heir to a considerable fortune left by his father.

WANTS STATES TO EXTEND CREDIT TO COTTON MEN

AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—The Madison County Cotton Growers' association has been responsible for a movement which seeks as its ultimate object, legislation in practically all cotton growing states to permit the several states to extend credit for the marketing of cotton. The Texas legislature was asked, in a resolution adopted by the Madison County association, to indorse by concurrent resolution the project proposed for the benefit of the cotton growers. A committee appointed to visit the legislature proposed if necessary, constitutional amendments to meet the demand.

After declaring that the present low price of cotton was due to speculation, the association's resolution said:

"We realize the injustice of such high-handed speculation when we recognize that the present crop will not meet the world's demands by several million bales, that nothing short of the mighty and powerful credit of our several cotton growing states loaned to assist us in fighting and staying the iron hand of the great financial interests of the United States and foreign countries can ever stabilize prices to the benefit of the southern cotton farmer and southern spinner."

RANGER CAPTAIN BROOKS HAS SEEN MUCH SERVICE

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—Ranger Captain Joe Brooks, assigned to the supervision of the policing of Galveston, has been in the ranger service for several years and has been on the scene of practically every disturbance of magnitude in Texas during his term of service.

Captain Brooks first served at various points on the border as a private, and later was transferred to the headquarters company at Austin. He was promoted to sergeant after coming to Austin and when Senior Captain W. M. Hanson was granted a leave of absence to act as special investigator for the United States senate committee investigating Mexican affairs and relations, was made senior captain of the ranger force.

LARGE AMOUNT OF NEW CONSTRUCTION AT DENISON

DENISON, TEX., Oct. 5.—Building construction totaling more than a million dollars, now is under way in Denison. A $500,000 refinery, a $250,000 Y. M. C. A. building, a $400,000 hotel, and a $125,000 railroad hospital are among the buildings for which contracts have been let. With the exception of the hotel, all of the biggest buildings are under construction and work on the hotel will begin within 60 days. Scarcity of needed materials is delaying the $600,000 street construction program to some extent.

Boy is Burned by His Playmates Who "Did Not Like Him"

ST. PAUL, MINN., Oct. 5.—Edward Pillar, aged 5 years, has an even chance to recover at the city hospital from burns inflicted by playmates who "did not like him." Physicians this morning said the boy may pull through.

Edward and other children were playing in front of his home when a quarrel arose. The elder boys seized him and held him while another threw lighted matches on his clothes. His mother saw the deed and rushed to her son's assistance. She tore the burning clothing from the lad's body and summoned the police ambulance.

Police are searching for the other boys.

TERRELL ASKS SUGGESTIONS FOR RUNNING DEPARTMENT

AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—George B. Terrell, democratic nominee for the office of state commissioner of agriculture, has issued a statement at the request of persons interested in the future policy of the department, outlining his views and giving a list of things which he will do if elected. The statement follows:

"As commissioner of agriculture it will be my policy to secure the most competent help that the salaries available will hire;

"To enforce the laws as written;

"To undertake the establishment of a better marketing system for perishable and non-perishable products;

"To aid the producers in their efforts and their rights to price their own products;

"Cotton and cottonseed now are selling below the cost of production. The price of each man can be materially advanced by holding them from the market for 30 days.

Laws now are being considered to divorce the packing companies and the oil mills from cotton gins. I look for this to have an immediate effect upon the price of seed.

"I would advise that low grade cotton be not gathered, that all other cotton be held off the market and kept dry, and that acreage for next year be materially reduced.

"Farmers are under no moral obligation to produce either food or clothing for less than the cost of production."

HOGS TURNED ON COTTON TO FIGHT BOLL WORM

BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, Oct. 5.—Boll weevils in Brown county are fattening hogs and, incidentally, cotton fields infested by the worms are being rid of the pest.

W. B. Starley, a farmer near Blanket, Brown county, discovered that his hogs would devour the cotton squares which had been punctured by the weevils and fallen to the ground as a result. It is in these squares that the weevils deposit their eggs and leave them to hatch out for the next year's cotton crop.

Mr. Starley informed his neighbors of his discovery and now the cotton fields infested by the weevils have been marked off into pens and the hogs turned into them. Mr. Starkey at one time had thirty-six hogs in one field. The hogs, it is said, do not disturb the green cotton stalks, but root up the fallen squares only.

SPLENDID RESPONSE TO REQUEST TO CALL ON YOUR NEIGHBORS

"Call on your neighbor" week gained a very auspicious start Sunday and Monday, according to Miss Gertrude Deppen, secretary of community service at the chamber of commerce.

Mis Deppen was busy throughout Tuesday morning and afternoon getting telephone reports from block chairmen, and was immensely pleased with the response that has already been made to the initial movement of the community service winter work. The request was made that all who would do so call on the neighbor on either side and on the neighbor across the street, laying the "cornerstone" for winter's socialibility. Later on it is planned for the call-on-your neighbor friends to resume the block parties and other social affairs which are to comprise the community activities planned by the chamber of commerce workers.

"They are not only calling on their neighbors," Miss Deppen said of one block reporting, "they are calling on the newcomers, too. There are some new people from Chicago in that block and the neighbors are all going to call on them—and they don't even know their names.

Shows Community Spirit.

"We are glad when just one neighbor is called on. It shows the community spirit, and sometimes it take a little time to adjust oneself to being sociable. And, of course, we are very much pleased indeed when the neighbor carries out the letter of the plan and calls on three. But it shows the true spirit of friendliness and service when the caller does his own thinking and calls on all the people he thinks calls are due. Those are the kind of people who are going to help us make a real success of the community work—the people who put their hearts into it."

Block chairman were appointed for practically every city block in Wichita Falls last spring, when the community service work gained good headway. During the summer the block parties were suspended, except in a few instances where individual blocks continued their meetings, and Mr. Haughtelin, the national community service playground director, held playground classes for several weeks in preparation for the winter work. Special plans for the winter will incorporate the playground feature, community games, sings, etc.

OUR Organization

In our effort to work out the most efficient method for the merchandising of the many lines we carry, we inaugurated the Department System.

Under this system each separate department is under the personal direction of a department manager, who is thoroughly familiar with the merchandise handled by his or her department. Constant study and actual contact with the trade day after day, makes these department managers efficient in the lines under their direction. When stocks are to be renewed and new goods bought, they are the ones who go to the markets of America and make the selections for you.

This system makes it easy for you to buy satisfactorily here. You are dealing with thoroughly efficient salespeople who concentrate their entire thought and attention to the particular lines which they sell. They are fully trained in the giving of service and can be of invaluable service to you in helping you make your selections.

This store deserves the slogan "The Courteous Service Store." Every employee is filled with the desire to give you the ultimate in courteous attention. You meet with no indifference here. The organization is one in a combined effort to give the trade intelligent and courteous service.

Substantial price reductions have been made in every department in keeping with the reductions made by the manufacturers. It is a genuine pleasure to us to be able to make these reductions as it is our desire to sell merchandise as cheaply as we can. At the same time keep the quality up.

This week is FALL DRESS-UP WEEK. This is a National event and with the revision of prices on Clothing, Ready-to-Wear and Shoes you will be able to secure your Fall clothing at a price that you will be glad to pay.

"The people want tranquility," says Senator Watson of Indiana. They do. But how in the world are they to get it with the candidates of two or more parties trying to pull them, each his own way?—Denison Herald.

Senator Watson has our permission to speak for himself, but we would wager a ten-story tenement in upper Gotham that the total number of people who want tranquility wouldn't exceed that of the number of persons who stood on the burning deck, even if Cassabianca had had a companion. People don't want tranquility. They want action; action in government, progress, statesmanship, commerce, education, ship building, sausage grinding, fall plowing, and even peanut politics. And theywant real jazz action—the sort that stretches mind, morals and muscles two ways at once; the candy-pulling kind, with back-fire 'n everything. People have outgrown tranquility. And they wan real jazz action—the sort and read from a selected list to form his opinions and direct his conduct; now he wants to stand on the street corner, in the late evening and gather in the swirling confetti of public opinion, criticism and indictment. And such is his mental poise that the loudest fragment need not necessarily make the deepest indent on his receiving board. He knows how to sift the stuff—according to his own lights. But he does not want to get it tranquilly, and he doesn't want any tranquility behind it. Nobody wants tranquility. People want life, and speeding cars, and whirring fans, and buzing electric buttons, and ploughing ships, and flying planes and sizzling coffee, and all the sputtering candidates that can be spared from the useful walks of creation to help us to be merry—for tomorrow we die!

"There is no one whom Fortune does not visit repeatedly. Life pulsates with chances," says Marion.—Shreveport Times.

We hate to challenge Marion's philosophy, but after all, it would be a poor philosophy which fastened on any inanimate force the duty of acting as fairy godmother to mankind. Neither Fortune nor opportunity visits man, and neither of them refuses to return. They may be attracted by him, but they do not beat the path. There is opportunity in the air, and the sunshine, and the earth and the sky; in the chattering of chipmonks and the singing of the stars. There is fortune in the street and on the sea and in the flowers of the field. But they don't visit man; they await his coming—we should say.

Nursing Committee Met.

The local nursing committee, in charge of the work of the county Red Cross nurse, Miss Quinn, and her assistant, Miss Allison, met Friday afternoon at the child health center to hear the county reports and attend to other business. Miss Quinn reported 109 visits made and 113 calls, with 15 regular cases handled during the past month. It was also reported that Miss Allison, who has been convalescing from an operation for appendicitis, will resume charge of the visiting nursing, and Miss Quinn will confine her attention to the follow-up school work until Dr. West begins the second round of school physical examinations.

Plan Full Examinations.

Dr. West plans to make a full physical examination of all the children in schools this fall and spring. The first round had to be completed in a length of time which did not permit full examinations, and only general examinations were given, with special attention to nose, ear, eye and throat defects. The full examination will include heart and lung tests, etc., and will take considerably longer to complete.

BROUGHT DAY NURSERY BABIES BIG BAG OF CANDY MONDAY

When Miss Decatur answered a knock at the day nursery door Monday afternoon, a man with a big, familiar looking white bag stood on the threshold. He refused to give his name, but offered the bag with the sort of smile folks who love babies grow to have. Miss Decatur accepted it.

Later in the afternoon 29 kiddies were treated to several rounds of the very best of candy.

Amusements

BEWITCHING BEAUTY AND TALENT WELL DISPLAYED

Wanda Hawley's bewitching beauty, together with her unquestionable talent as an actress are well displayed in the Realart picture, "Food for Scandal," now being featured at the Empress theater. The picture contains enough comedy material to keep the audience in a good humor and at the same time the more serious scenes heavier episodes prevent it from becoming merely a farce.

The work of Harrison Ford in portraying the role of Watt Dinwiddie, a youthful attorney, is especially worthy of mention for this popular leading man is capable of handling leading roles himself. His "light housekeeping" in his law office was one of the amusing scenes of the play, while in final scenes he proves himself a Romeo of the first magnitude.

"NOTORIOUS MISS LISLE" SCORES A DECIDED HIT

"The Notorious Miss Lisle," with Katherine McDonald in the leading role scored a decided hit on its initial presentations at the Olympic theater Monday night. For some reason or other pictures of the high society type, wherein a great social favorite becomes involved in scandal of some sort, always take well with the general public. This explains in a large measure the success of "The Notorious Miss Lisle," for it is a production which deals with social scandal magnified to the nth degree. As a famous English beauty, the wife of an army captain, Miss McDonald is given opportunity to display her talents as a cold, dignified queen, merciless and unheedful of public opinion at first, but later softening under the ceaseless barrage of public scorn. Her trip to France, the scandalous affair in that city and the ultimate repentment and return to a happy home form the action for the story and gives a highly interesting episode.

The double role type of picture which seems to be gaining in popularity at the movie studios is given good treatment in the Robertson-Cole production, "Life's Twist," starring Bessie Barriscale and being featured at the Majestic theater for today. Miss Barriscale plays the dual character of a fiery, impetuous shop girl struggling for a living against adverse circumstances and that of a wealthy, refined, but soulless social leader, the product of the country's highest culture.

As is usually the case, fat decrees that the two shall change places for a time and by so doing each learns that life is worth living, no mater what social station one may occupy. King Baggot plays opposite Miss Barriscale and heads the list of the strong supporting cast.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly.

Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade.

I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

One time utility garments, bulky and far from beautiful in their fashioning, fur coats and wraps have rapidly become the most beautiful winter garments that are offered to the choice of woman. There was a trouble, somewhere down

I'd better pay some mind to it right

Or it may annex wife and forty-'leven

So I sat at a table by myself,
With just a rose

But somehow, they would not stay

They all took wing.
And I know now, the rose just plain

"The people want tranquility," says Senator Watson of Indiana. They do. But how in the world are they to get it with the candidates of two or more parties trying to pull them, each his own way?—Denison Herald.

Senator Watson has our permission to speak for himself, but we would wager a ten-story tenement in upper Gotham that the total number of people who want tranquility wouldn't exceed that of the number of persons who stood on the burning deck, even if Cassabianca had had a companion. People don't want tranquility. They want action; action in government, progress, statesmanship, commerce, education, ship building, sausage grinding, fall plowing, and even peanut politics. And theywant real jazz action—the sort that stretches mind, morals and muscles two ways at once—the candy-pulling kind, with back-fire in everything. People have outgrown tranquility. And they wan real jazz action—the sort and read from a selected list to form his opinions and direct his conduct; now he wants to stand on the street corner in the late evening and gather in the swirling confetti of public opinion, criticism and indictment. And such is his mental poise that the loudest fragment need not necessarily make the deepest indent on his receiving board. He knows how to sift the stuff—according to his own lights. But he does not want to get it tranquilly, and he doesn't want any tranquility behind it. Nobody wants tranquility. People want life, and speeding cars, and whirring fans, and buzing electric buttons, and ploughing ships, and flying planes and sizzling coffee, and all the sputtering candidates that can be spared from the useful walks of creation to help us to be merry—for tomorrow we die!

"There is no one whom Fortune does not visit repeatedly. Life pulsates with chances," says Marion.—Shreveport Times.

We hate to challenge Marion's philosophy, but after all, it would be a poor philosophy which fastened on any inanimate force the duty of acting as fairy godmother to mankind. Neither Fortune nor opportunity visits man, and neither of them refuses to return. They may be attracted by him, but they do not beat the path. There is opportunity in the air, and the sunshine, and the earth and the sky; in the chattering of chipmonks and the singing of the stars. There is fortune in the street and on the sea and in the flowers of the field. But they don't visit man; they await his coming—we should say.

CONDITION OF MRS. MORGAN IS REPORTED UNCHANGED

Has Been Confined to Hospital Since Injured on September Twelfth.

The condition of Mrs. Lillis Morgan, who is seriously ill at the Methodist hospital, was reported as unchanged Tuesday morning. Mrs. Morgan has been confined to the hospital since September 12 when she sistained severe injuries in an automobile accident near Electra. Attending physicians stated that pneumonia had developed and that while there was no immediate danger, Mrs. Morgan's condition was critical in the extreme and had shown but little improvement within the past week. She has been in a semi-conscious condition from the first and at times lapses into total unconsciousness.

WICHITA FALLS RED CROSS BOARD MEMBERS ATTENDING FIVE-STATE MEET AT WACO

Mrs. M. H. Glover, chairman of nursing activities of the local Red Cross board, W. W. Gardner, secretary-treasurer of the chapter, and Mrs. T. B. Smith, member of the nursing committee, are in Waco today attending the two-day meet of the Red Cross five-state conference.

Mrs. Glover went specially in the interest of the nursing activities, as did Mrs. Smith. Several speakers from national headquarters are attending the meeting and taking part in the program, including Dr. Livingstone Farrand, chairman of the central committee, Frederick Munroe, general manvelopments in Red Cross work and rector general of junior membership. The convention will discuss recent decelopments in Red Cross work and from definite plans for conducting the fourth Red Cross call, at Christmas.

The local delegates are expected back Wednesday.

Nursing Committee Met.

The local nursing committee, in charge of the work of the county Red Cross nurse, Miss Quinn, and her assistant, Miss Allison, met Friday afternoon at the child health center to hear the county reports and attend to other business. Miss Quinn reported 109 visits made and 113 calls, with 15 regular cases handled during the past month. It was also reported that Miss Allison, who has been convalescing from an operation for appendicitis, will resume charge of the visiting nursing, and Miss Quinn will confine her attention to the follow-up school work until Dr. West begins the second round of school physical examinations.

Plan Full Examinations.

Dr. West plans to make a full physical examination of all the children in schools this fall and spring. The first round had to be completed in a length of time which did not permit full examinations, and only general examinations were given, with special attention to nose, ear, eye and throat defects. The full examination will include heart and lung tests, etc., and will take considerably longer to complete.

BROUGHT DAY NURSERY BABIES BIG BAG OF CANDY MONDAY

When Miss Decatur answered a knock at the day nursery door Monday afternoon, a man with a big, familiar looking white bag stood on the threshold. He refused to give his name, but offered the bag with the sort of smile folks who love babies grow to have. Miss Decatur accepted it.

Later in the afternoon 29 kiddies were treated to several rounds of the very best of candy.

Amusements

BEWITCHING BEAUTY AND TALENT WELL DISPLAYED

Wanda Hawley's bewitching beauty, together with her unquestionable talent as an actress are well displayed in the Realart picture, "Food for Scandal," now being featured at the Empress theater. The picture contains enough comedy material to keep the audience in a good humor and at the same time the more serious scenes heavier episodes prevent it from becoming merely a farce.

The work of Harrison Ford in portraying the role of Watt Dinwiddie, a youthful attorney, is especially worthy of mention for this popular leading man is capable of handling leading roles himself. His "light housekeeping" in his law office was one of the amusing scenes of the play, while in final scenes he proves himself a Romeo of the first magnitude.

"NOTORIOUS MISS LISLE" SCORES A DECIDED HIT

"The Notorious Miss Lisle," with Katherine McDonald in the leading role scored a decided hit on its initial presentations at the Olympic theater Monday night. For some reason or other pictures of the high society type, wherein a great social favorite becomes involved in scandal of some sort, always take well with the general public. This explains in a large measure the success of "The Notorious Miss Lisle," for it is a production which deals with social scandal magnified to the nth degree. As a famous English beauty, the wife of an army captain, Miss McDonald is given opportunity to display her talents as a cold, dignified queen, merciless and unheedful of public opinion at first, but later softening under the ceaseless barrage of public scorn. Her trip to France, the scandalous affair in that city and the ultimate repentment and return to a happy home form the action for the story and gives a highly interesting episode.

The double role type of picture which seems to be gaining in popularity at the movie studios is given good treatment in the Robertson-Cole production, "Life's Twist," starring Bessie Barriscale and being featured at the Majestic theater for today. Miss Barriscale plays the dual character of a fiery, impetuous shop girl struggling for a living against adverse circumstances and that of a wealthy, refined, but soulless social leader, the product of the country's highest culture.

As is usually the case, fat decrees that the two shall change places for a time and by so doing each learns that life is worth living, no mater what social station one may occupy. King Baggot plays opposite Miss Barriscale and heads the list of the strong supporting cast.

REPORT ONE-THIRD THE SALVATION ARMY "QUOTA" IS RAISED

Slightly more than one-third of the $7,000 needed for the work of the Salvation Army has been raised by the 12 teams participating in the city campaign, according to reports made at a luncheon given in the Army's citadel today. While the showing is somewhat of a disappointment, in view of the splendid uses to which the fund will be put, a spirit of optimism pervaded the meeting, and every team captain present expressed the conviction that the quota will be reached by the end of the week.

It is possible that the week will close with a tag day directed to catch the small change of the transient population, many members of which cannot be reached through the medium of an office-to-office drive.

Climb Into Lead.

Team No. 11, captained by W. M. Priddy, climbed into the campaign lead this noon, reporting a total of $979.80. Mayor Cline's Team No. 5, aided and abetted by the roving of W. Newton Maer, who refuses stubbornly to stay within any fixed territory, is clinging to second place with a batting average of $910, while third honors are held by the "gang" bossed by T. B. Smock, who reported a total today of $884.15. Many of the other teams were disappointingly low in their financial standings, due to a variety of causes. In a number of instances members of teams had suddenly been forced to make business trips out of the city; seveneral men counted upon as good workers are ill and others have been unable to give the time to the campaign they had hoped to give.

Establishes a Record.

Harry Bray established a nifty little record of his own for the balance of the workers to shoot at, when he reported that, although every other member of his team had failed to work for one reason or another, he had individually collected $360.

Several amusing incidents were reported by the workers, one in particular benig worth repetition. Dr. Douglass, city chemist, stated that he had appealed for a subscription from a shoemaker. The man stated that he could not give cash at this time but would gladly sign a pledge card for $25. Then then showed Dr. Douglas a large tin can with a slot cut in the top and the cover soldered on:

Pennies for the Army.

"Into that can I've been putting pennies for the Salvation Army for the last five years," he said. "Every time I do business that nets me any pennies, the pennies go into that can. Every Christmas I take the can to the Salvation Army, break it open and give the Army the pennies. Last year I had $30 in pennies in that old tin can. But I'll be glad in addition to sign up for $25. The Salvation Army is the finest influence for good in the United States today. I'm for it, and always have been."

The next report of the workers will be made at a supper to be given by "Ma" Burdick in the Army citadel on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. In the meantime the campaign will continue, and every worker will hustle to do his bit toward reaching that goal of $7,000.

PEOPLE AROUSED TO DANGER OF NEGLECT

Contributions to Cox-Roosevelt campaign fund passed the $2,300 mark this morning and there are increasing evidences that the people are becoming aroused to the danger to the league of nations and to reaction.

Five thousand dollars is the goal for the Wichita county fund and Mr. Kemp and Mr. Taylor, chairmen respectively of the state and of the senatorial district funds are hopeful that Wichita county will exceed this amount.

Mr. Kemp in a statement mailed out over the state yesterday emphasized the value of the dollar contribution.

"A dollar contributed by a good democrat to the democratic national campaign fund will accomplish a great deal. The contributor of a dollar can feel that he is actually performing one of the following services to the democratic cause: A $10 contributions ten times as much; a $100 contributions a hundred times as much, and so on.

"If used in sending telegraphic news, $1 will send a hundred-word news item to a possible 1,150,000 readers.

"If used in sending out special articles, it will print and deliver to editors a thousand-word article which may reach 835,000 readers.

"If used by the editorial department, it will place a democratic editorial on the editorial desk of papers having circulation of slightly over a million and a quarter.

"It will purchase 300 eight-page pamphlets on the league of nations or other democratic literature or pay postage on 100 of them.

"If used by the speaker's bureau, it will carry a democratic message from one of our speakers to 115 voters.

"It will be borne in mind that there are millions of voters and they must be reached not once but many times in many ways.

"Every democrat can and should do his or her part, and doing one's part consists in giving liberally according to one's ability and means—not merely a nominal sum.

"Conscience as well as patriotism and democracy calls. The league of nations means peace to the nations. It's rejection means death and suffering to nations, to millions of men, women and children. Invest your money in, do your part for the league of nations, for peace, progress and prosperity."

Checks should be made payable to T. J. Taylor and may be mailed or delivered to Mr. Taylor or to The Times.

The standing of the fund follows:

CHILDREN BRING IN TOTAL OF $7,937.25

Incomplete reports received at the business offices of the city schools showed that at noon Tuesday a total of $7,937.25 had been brought in by school children and applied on the school deficit fund of $87,000. This amount has been actually paid, but an unpaid total of $14,599 has been subscribed and is to be paid in monthly installments.

The Alamo school responded the most liberally of any and turned in a total subscription list of $4,791. Of this amount, $2,929 has been paid. The high school came in second with a total of $3,040 subscribed and $1,815 paid. The other schools of the system returned totals varying from these larger amounts down to a few hundred dollars from the smaller outlying buildings.

The school deficit of this city amounted to approximately $37,000 last year and will reach $50,000 this year, making a total debt of about $87,000 which must be met. Local business men have undertaken to account for as much of this as possible and it is proposed to raise any amount needed above that subscribed by the school children and their parents themselves. Those in charge of the fund drive expressed themselves as well pleased with the response made by the school children of the city and were confident that the remaining $72,401 will be secured in a short time.

REPORT SITUATION IN REAL ESTATE CIRCLES OF CITY ENCOURAGING

Although real estate, like cotton, is late in opening up this fall, the local real estate dealers say that property is beginning to sell and that there has been no break in prices.

Scarcity of building material and high cost of labor has a tendency to hold back the sale of vacant lots, though there are many more lots being sold than there are being houses built, as many of the buyers are purchasing the lots with a view to holding them till the labor situation becomes more settled so that they can be assured of being able to finish their homes after commencing to build.

Some new residences are being built notwithstanding the high prices and unsettled conditions, notably on Baylor street, Holliday street, Avenue E and in Floral Heights.

Many of the sales which are being made this fall are made on an initial payment of 10, 12 or 15 per cent, with the remainder scattered over a period varying from three to seven years. Most of the houses that are changing hands are being bought by people who have heretofore owned their homes and now buying larger and better properties than they have formerly occupied.

There is also a good demand for revenue property, both residence and business. Good rental houses are also in demand as it is very difficult to find desirable houses that can be rented at reasonable figures. One firm reports five sales in the last two weeks, aggregating $35,000.

BUILDING IS BURNED BEFORE CONVENTION MEETS

TOKIO, Oct. 5.—The building in which the world's Sunday school convention here was to be held was burned just before the opening of the convention today. The building was crowded with the delegates, but the doorkeepers expressed belief that all escaped.

BEGIN GRADING FOR PAVING FIVE BLOCKS BURKBURNETT STS.

WILL BE OF CONCRETE AND THE WORK WILL BE COMPLETED BY JANUARY FIRST.

TWO OF CITY ALDERMEN TENDER RESIGNATIONS

P. G. Williams to Leave the City and J. D. Mills Becomes Secretary of School Board.

BURKBURNETT, Oct. 5.—Grading has been commenced for the paving of five blocks on Third street from a point one block west of the railway station to a point four blocks east of the station. The construction will be of a concrete road pavement and is expected to be in service January 1. A Wichita Falls contracting firm has undertaken the work.

The cost will be assessed against the owners of the abutting property, and the street intersections are to be paved at the cost of the city. A tax ordinance providing a 65-cent rate will be presented at the next meeting of the council. If for any reason this fails of passage the intersections will not be paved at this time. The assessed value of the taxable property for 1920 is $5,300,000. Heavy trucks and caterpiller tractors will not be permitted to run on the paved streets.

Aldermen P. G. Williamson and J. D. Mills having resigned, the former to leave the city and the latter to accept the secretaryship of the school board, an election is to be called to fill their places.

The fines assessed in the mayor's court during the month of September aggregate $1,865.65.

Picture Shows Close.

For the last two Sunday's all the picture shows in the city except one have remained closed and complaints have been filed in the mayor's court against the offending owner and against the operator of this establishment.

Since last February the local Y. M. C. A. has secured employment for 310 men and has provided for moneyless men 180 meals and 198 nights' lodging, as reported by T. A. Freeze, the association's secretary.

All the charities of the city are now accomplished through the Y. M. C. A. or on its recommendation made after investigation of each individual case.

A financial and membership drive is planned for November at which time Merrill E. Brown, the association's state industrial secretary, and J. E. Finney, its state educational director, will be here. It is hoped to increase the membership to 500 and to raise a fund of $5,000.

A revival meeting is being conducted by the local Baptist church, in a tent on Third street. They are aided by Evangelist T. J. Saxon and Singing Evangelist John Harris, both of Muskogee. The meetings are being well attended.

Soundness of Physique Makes for Character

THE physically sound man is usually also a man of good moral fibre and well balanced mentality.

The reason is easy to find. It is but a natural result of enjoyment of good health. Being normal in every way his conception of life is true—not false—consequently he thinks right, acts right and lives right.

For good health puts a bright aspect upon life; it supplies a wholesome atmosphere to everyday surroundings; fires ambition to greater and loftier purpose; clears the vision of distortion, and makes things assume their respective proportions and natural importance—placing them right-side-up instead of turning them topsy-turvy.

On the other hand, an unhealthy condition of the system breeds discontent; engenders a morbid outlook; brings up ghosts of apprehension, specters of ill-omen and premonitions of evil and misfortune.

To seekers of better health, those who are weak and worn-out, exhausted either from sickness or undue strain, FORCE, the master rebuilder, will prove a worthy aid. It will develop the bright side of things by dissipating that feeling of lassitude and indifference which is now incapacitating them for worthy effort. Supplanting these unfavorable conditions, will come a sense of buoyancy, of cheerfulness, and an eagerness for mental and physical activity, combined with a renewed freshness, an increased energy and a greater endurance.

FORCE is a potent aid to Nature in rebuilding persons who are thin, pale, weak or invalid. As a palatable appetizer and aid to digestion FORCE is very acceptable to the weakest constitution. It is an effective functional regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and is of special benefit in case of nervous exhaustion and mental or physical fatigue.

MEMBER AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION

NEWSPAPERS HIT HARD.

"None of the materials that go into the making of newspapers come within the federal reserve credit restrictions," notes the Houston Post in explaining its subscription raise to $1 a month and mentioning the fact that the federal reserve bank has contracted credit, forcing down commodity prices by refusing to lend money to farmers, merchants, manufacturers, commission men, wool growers and cattlemen to hold their produce off the market. "Newspapers all over the country are crippled by the lack of newsprint—the kind of paper they use. All of the newspapers have been crippled by lack of help; by the increased postal rates—and another increase of that kind is coming—by increased freight rates, by increased telegraph rates, by increased telephone rate—by increases in everything that goes into the making of a newspaper."

It is to the newspapers' interest, as a matter of fact, to hold their subscription rates as low as possible. Under present conditions there isn't one paper in a hundred that is making a cent's profit on its curculation, even at the increased rates, simply because while print paper has gone up 300, 400, 500 per cent, it would be suicidal for the newspapers to try to increase their subscription prices proportionately, and the majority of the daily papers are content if they can get cost of white paper out of their subscriptions. But it was unfair to expect the advertisers to bear the whole of the increased cost, not to mention the other fact that it would violate business principles and make an excessive burden upon the business interests.

Five years ago a large majority of city papers were one-cent sellers. There are virtually none of them today and most of them have been forced to go up to 2c, 3c or even 5c for week days and as much as 10c or 15c for Sundays. They did not do that from choice, but from bare necessity, and all of them expect to go back to the lower scale whenever print paper prices will justify it, attempting to take care of the enormous increase in labor costs by increasing the volume of their business.

When a newspaper is putting its entire subscription receipts into the blank paper used in printing those subscriptions, it has a right to resent the imputation that it is profiteering, and that is the case with most of the daily papers of the country today.

RUSSIA AGAIN TOTTERS.

Conditions such as preceded the overthrow of the Kerensky regime and the elevation of the soviet dictators, Lenine and Trotzky, are again existent in Russia, and the major strikes now reported in Petrograd, ostensibly on account of the food shortage, are really, as a Helsingfors dispatch indicates, with the real object of overthrowing the existing mis-government in the Russian empire, which seems to be a worse autocrocy than the recently demised czar ever permitted.

The affairs of the whole world, it seems to us, would be infinitely nearer a satisfactory solution with the Trotzky-Lenine government supplanted by one that was really responsive to the wishes and needs of the Russian people and that would co-operate with friendly nations in the effort to bring the world's affairs back to a satisfactory basis. The danger in Russia is, of course, a return of the old reactionary element to power—a result that would be little if any improvement over the soviet rule; but the present movement, which is said to be sweeping over the Russian empire, is largely one by the bourgeoisie, who are animated mainly by a desire for normal conditions with normal functioning of the Russian government.

NO RUSH IS EXPECTED.

Women who desire to vote in the November election may do so, but to be fully enfranchised they will be called upon to pay the same amount that the men and the women who qualified themselves last winter paid—$1.75 each. The effort to qualify the women under a nominal registration fee of 15c each for the November election failed, and the substitute plan of charging them $1.75 for voting at the one election in November is not apt to increase the feminine vote materially, except they do it as a legal obligation upon them, because the charge against them for taking part in the one election is the same as that paid by the men—and the 100,000 women who paid $1.75 for the right to participate in the primary election—for qualifying themselves over an entire year, for all elections.

The discrimination, which some of the legislators apparently feared might be made, has been all along against the women. They were made to pay $1.75 for primary suffrage, when the men were given full suffrage at the same rate; and now those who declined to pay the full fee for partial suffrage before last February are expected to pay the full fee for qualifying themselves to take part in elections over one-fourth of a year, with the probability of being enabled thereby to take part in but one election, which was virtually decided last July and August in the primaries.

The women who paid their poll taxes before February 1, of course, will have full suffrage now without the payment of any additional fee.

Mississippi, with a loss of 7,932 people in a decade, is the only southern state, we believe, to show a decrease and one wonders, knowing the richness of Mississippi as an agricultural state, at the decline. One explanation is that Mississippi, having no real cities, has suffered from the trend away from the farm. Other states have suffered really from the same cause, but their total population figures fail to reflect it because their large cities have absorbed the rural communities' loss and made up that and more. The total for the continental United States is probably 5,000,000 short of the 110,000,000 total most of the statisticians had been figuring on, basing their estimates on previous rates of growth; but that is explicable by the stoppage of immigration from Europe over the years of the war, aided by the thousands of nationals of the belligerent countries who were called away from the United States during the war and have not returned.

J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association, seems to have warrant for both his predictions that the 1920 cotton crop will be the smallest in fifty years and that the price of the staple, before the 1921 crop is on the market, will be the highest in half a century. But, as is usual, a record price next spring and summer, if his prediction comes to pass, will be of little benefit to the producers, the advantage accruing to the speculators who are of all concerned legitimately the least entitled to it. Extraordinarily high prices next spring will have another effect that is likely to upset the fulfillment of Mr. Wannamaker's third prediction, of a greatly reduced acreage. For high prices at planting time will result in thousands of acres going to cotton that, under continuance of existing conditions, would go largely to other crops.

HOROSCOPE

The stars incline but do not compel

(Copyright, 1919, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Tuesday, October 5, 1920.

This is an uncertain day, according to astrology. Although Saturn is in benefic aspect, the Sun and Neptune are adverse.

During this configuration appeals to tradition and to old beliefs should be especially potent, and reactionary forces should apparently prevail.

Leaders of the past should make good use of opportunity while this rule prevails, since it has a tendency to make both men and women afraid of progressive ideas.

While Saturn imparts strength to ancient beliefs, Neptune clears the vision, but distorts it so that men who are in public view suffer severely from undeserved criticism.

The sway is unfavorable for initiative of any sort. It is not a good time to seek employment or to bespeak support for any personal ambition.

Many changes among officeholders are indicated. These will affect legislators particularly, according to this day's positing of the stars.

The District of Columbia now comes under a planetary government that seems to presage a civic awakening for the national capital and many improvements that will develop the city.

Mars gives warning of fires that will be costly. There will be conflagrations in forests as well as cities.

Ireland continues under a sinister rule of the stars. There is a threatening aspect that will be especially powerful next month.

Excitement over exposures of waste in public funds may be widespread at this time, but there will be no lasting reforms, if the stars are read aright.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be careful to pay strict attention to business affairs during the coming year.

Children born on this day may have to prepare carefully for their life work, but they should succeed by a system of steady progress.

Like to See 'Em Getting On.

Like to see 'em gettin' on, the fine young men who used to be
The children playin' round the street, the youngsters climbin' on my knee;
I'll tell you what it does me good to hear about a boy I know
Who is fulfillin' in the world his promise of the long-ago.

I've watched 'em year by year, I guess.
I've seen 'em grow an' start away
While other little boys have come to romp around my door an' play,
An' then I've heard some splendid news
—the sort o' news that thrills me through,
That one of those I used to know was winnin' fame an' fortune, too.

It's good to see young men succeed, it's fine to know they're doin' well,
I like the days when they come back with all the tales they have to tell;
There's nothin' better on this earth than strong young men with records clear,
Doin' the service of the world an' pros-
perin' from year to year.

I like to watch 'em climbin' up, an'
think about the days when they Were little barefoot boys' round here, spendin' the summer days in play!
I like to meet 'em comin' back, because
I knew 'em every one,
An' tell myself a thousand times it's good to see 'em gettin' on.

Will He Love Her Still?

In a little inn where I spent a few days last winter, I was sitting before the open fire in the lobby one morning when I heard the sounds of shrieks and rushing feet.

Three women came running out of the next room shrieking at the top of their lungs, another woman pursuing them. The reason for this exciting activity soon displayed itself, for the shrieking women rushed past up the stairs, and the pursuer gave up the pursuit and showed us the cause of all this uproar—itself more frightened than even the most feminine of the women had appeared to be—a tiny mouse, quivering and shivering in her hands.

It had run out of a corner in the room where the women were sitting, knitting. One, not being afraid of mice (and, still more remarkable, not afraid to admit it) had picked it up and chased her more feminie friends. One woman had actually climbed upon a chair and stood there holding her skirts just the way they do in the comic pictures (one could not help wondering how much the power of suggestion had to do with that pose). We looked in a moment or two later and she was still holding the pose while two men stood laughing at her and offering to help her down.

I had been talking with a man of 50 or thereabouts (an unusually interesting and fascinating man I wish to say with all due hope his eye will not happen upon this). And as the tumult died down he said to me "Do you think they are really that much afraid?"

"I wonder," I said.

"I don't," said he.

"Why do they do it then?" I said.

"Because it's the habitual feminine gesture and they subconsciously want to impress their femininity upon the world."

"Don't you like it?"

"Not especially."

"Don't you think most men do?"

"I don't know," he said. "I think they are coming to like it less and less."

I wonder if he was right?

I wish some of my masculine readers (I am assured they do not exist) would write and tell me whether the woman who jumps on a chair at the sight of a mouse, and hides behind a masculine companion at the sight of a cow, is still their ideal.

Have I ever quoted to you the poem (I think of Margaget Widdemer's) in which she represents the new woman saying:

> I will not lie to you any more,
> Flatter nor fawn to attain my end;
> I will be what has been never be> fore—
> Woman and Friend.
> I will not hang on your bridle rein,
> Knee touching knee we will ride
> the hill;
> I will not lie to you ever again—
> Will you love me still?

Personally, I hope and believe he will love her, and in a better way than ever. But I wish some masculine reader friends would answer that question for me.

WHY?—

Do We Hear Sounds in Sea-Shells?

(Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The belief that, by holding a conch or other large shell to the ear, we may hear the sound of the waves beating upon the shore is hardly in accordance with the facts in the case, but, because it appears to be the simplest explanation of the phenomenon, it has come to be generally accepted as the truth.

The sounds which emenate from the shell even in what appears to be a "dead quiet" are really caused by the magnification of the air waves striking upon the sounding-box of the shell itself. The conch-shell and others of its class are natural examples of the principle apparent in the construction of a violin, a guitar or a phonograph. All of these instruments have the faculty of picking up sounds and magnifying them. The sound waves bounce off or are reflected even stronger than they originally were. The instruments have what are called "resonators," because they make sounds resound.

The sea-shells in which this principle is most apparent not only magnify the solunds which we can hear with our unaided ears, but also those which are not sufficiently loud to make any impression upon our ear drums. They pick up the sound waves and throw them back, multiplied many times in strength. Inasmuch as sound is present everywhere except in a scientifically constructed sound-proof room—and even there the beating of one's heart and the noise of one's breathing would make a certain amount of noise—we appear to hear sounds which come from the shell itself, but which are, in reality, only the magnified sounds around us.

Tomorrow—WHY do we speak of "Potter's Field?"

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON

October Sighs.

My heart is sad and sober, and has a convex pain; for all through gray October I'll hear this sad refrain: "The fall will soon be ended, the autumn fair and splendid; let all your rags be rended, for winter comes again!" I'll hear it in the calling of wild geese overhead, and in the ceaseless falling of withered leaves and dead; and in the farewell singing of birds prepared for winging to lands where tempests stinging don't make a man see red. October days are golden, although green things expire; her many charmes embolden the bard to swat his lyre; but always there is sighing, and sad and plaintive crying, and lovely things are dying, in dun and brown attire. The sunshine's paler, weaker, that late was glowing strong; the evening winds are bleaker, the nights are dark and long; and all the signs are hinting that autumn's swiftly sprinting; soon winter will be winting its rude, ferocious song. October's mild and pensive, she has her quiet joys; her smiles are comprehensive and fall on all the boys; but while she's with us staying, her dulcimer a-playing, my thoughts are ever straying to winter's angry noise.

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 30. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should commence at once to restore your energy, strength and endurance by taking

EUROPEAN MARKET PROPOSED FOR LOW GRADES OF COTTON

Plans to seek a European market for thousands of bales of low grade cotton now held by the farmers of west Texas were formulated at a meeting of the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce held Saturday at Stamford. It is estimated roughly that there are between 50,000 and 100,000 bales of this cotton in the hands of farmers within a radius of 200 miles of Stamford.

Hubert Harrison, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, who is a director of the west Texas organization, returned today from the Stamford meeting:

"The plan for marketing the low grade cotton crop," he explained, "was suggested by George Finburg, of Abilene, prominent cotton exporter, who has just returned from a trip to Germany. He stated that if the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce desired he would consent to act as agent for this low grade cotton, for which there is practically no local market, and that the cotton might be concentrated through the banks with his firm undertaking the clerical work of shipping it to European markets for the best price it might bring there. It was Finburg's estimate that there are between 40,000 and 50,000 bales of low grade cotton within the territory adjacent to Stamford, while some members of the board estimated twice that many.

Must Trust Banker.

"Any price within the bounds of reason would be welcome to the cotton growers of this section who are loaded with this low grade cotton. The general impression prevailed among those attending the meeting that the farmer will have to trust his banker and his agent to get rid of this burden.

"The West Texas Chamber of Commerce voted to offer its services to the cotton farmers of this territory, and appointed Clifford B. Jones, representing the Swenson ranch interests at Spur, Texas; Henry James, banker of Abilene, and J. S. Harlin as a committee to work out details of a feasible plan.

"The subject of cleaning and reginning low grade cotton also was discussed at some length, and the opinion was expressed that considerable good can be accomplished along this line. There is one plant at Greenville, Texas, that is doing a great deal of this kind of work."

General reports of the work accomplished by the west Texas organization during the past year proved especially gratifying to the directors, Harrison said. An increase in the membership of 100 per cent was reported, with a present total of 6,000 members. Homer P. Brelsford, of Eastland, is president of the body; J. A. Kemp, of Wichita Falls, first vice-president, and Porter A. Whaley, former secretary of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, is general manager.

The visitors were entertained with a luncheon at the Stamford Inn and a dinner given at Lake Penick by Col. R. L. Penick, of Stamford and Wichita Falls.

PLAN TO ENTERTAIN 100,000 FROM SCHOOLS

DALLAS, Oct. 5.—Preparations are being made for the entertainment on October 15 of 100,000 school children and teachers of Texas by officers of the Texas state fair, according to an announcement by the officials. The children will be admitted free to the grounds and their entertainment will be in charge of a committee headed by Dan G. Fisher of Dallas, which will meet out-of-town teachers and school children on their arrival and give them instructions as to further procedure.

Exhibitors rapidly are filling the space allotted to them in order that nothing will be left undone in the opening day, October 9. Not the least of these exhibits are those of Mexico, many carloads of which have arrived and been installed at the fair grounds.

Definite assurance that Gen. J. B. Trevino, secretary of the department of labor, commerce and industry, will visit the state fair and be the guest of the state and Dallas on International days, October 16 and 17, has been received.

It also has been announced that unless circumstances prevent, Gen. Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, and Provisional President de la Heurta, will visit Dallas during the fair.

ONE YEAR AGO.

A TRAGEDY IN FIVE ACTS.

ACT ONE.

Baseball's great annual drama had arrived again. But on this occasion there was an extra fringe of purple trimming.

For the first time in over fifty years the Cincinnati Reds had won a pennant. Scheduled to meet the famed White Sox with the hardest hitting club in the game, an entire nation looked forward to the big carnival with greater interest than it had shown in many years.

Thousands of words were written upon the comparative strength of the two clubs, and thousands of arguments were developed in the big annual debate.

On the day of the first game Cincinnati was stormed by loyal fans from Texas to Maine, from California to Massachusetts, and from every city and village of the Buckeye State, to see one of the greatest sporting struggles of the generation.

ACT TWO.

The two teams take the field. As Eddie Cicotte, the shine ball king, with twenty-nine victories to his credit for the season, appears upon the scene, Chicago's supporting legion rises up to cheer him.

Another great cheer goes out to meet Joe Jackson, one of the star sluggers of the game.

Buck Weaver, the brilliant, scrappy third baseman, draws an ovation. There is a roaring chorus of acclaim for Hap Felsch, Swede Risberg, Chic Gandil and Claude Williams.

These were the ghosts of William H. Craver, George Hall, James Devlin and A. H. Nichols, who had been expelled for crookedness just forty-two years before by the Louisville club of the National League.

As Eddie Cicotte warmed up we wonder how he would have felt if he could have seen a picture of Devlin just forty-two years ago—the picture of a man in abject misery, threadbare and seedy, groveling at President Hulbert's feet as he asks for mercy.

If he could have seen Hulbert hand him a $50 bill with this remark: "That's what I think of you for old friendship; but dam you, Devlin, you are dishonest, you have sold a game; I never want to look upon your face again."

ACT THREE.

The game is soon under way and the great Cicotte, to the astonishment of the crowd, is knocked-out of the box.

In the course of the battle Risberg fumbles, Felsch flounders, and other things happen to Gandil and Jackson.

In the next game Williams fills the bases on passes, grooves one and the Sox are beaten again.

The town is full of rotten rumors. But only a few are willing to believe. No one wants to believe. For over forty years baseball had proved its honesty to the world.

For over forty years millions of fans had believed that the game was above all suspicion, and that no game could be thrown. For they knew the vast majority of the players were honest and they believed these players could detect any dishonesty and protect their own game.

ACT FOUR.

So for eight games the farce-tragedy drifts along with the nation keyed up in the belief that a real contest is taking place.

Two hundred and thirty-six thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight pay out $722,411 at the gate to see a flock of crooked manikins worked by strings held by a group of crooked gamblers.

Rumors of crookedness grow but few believe it. The traditional honesty of the game stands as a bulwark against the wave of suspicion.

But there is no alert, aggressive National Commission to take up these rumors, and so at the end of the series and on through the winter the Impossible Act is still a mere matter of gossip.

Another season opens as Cicotte, Jackson, Risberg, Williams and the rest report for spring training again.

But no one can get them to discuss the series. And with a week to play they are on the verge of winning again and once more taking part in the big drama of the game.

ACT FIVE.

The Impossible Act wasn't impossible after all. "I did it for the wife and the kids," says Cicotte.

Cicotte, who was drawing down $10,000 a year and who was on the rim of collecting another $5,000 for his world series work.

Not one or two, but a group of star players, had sold out the public, their own mates, their own game and their own souls.

They had fallen below the dishonor of a thief.

But they had done this much good—they had let the sleeping rulers of the game understand at last that baseball needed a strong government and that the game, as rugged as it was and is, could not run itself.

No sport has ever known a greater tragedy. But perhaps now those who own ball clubs and those who control the destinies of the sport will wake up in time to remedy the stupidity of the past.

As for those who sold out—well, perhaps the ghosts of Hall, Devlin, Craver and Nichols can tell them just what the future will hold.

Forty-three years have passed since these four were caught and expelled, and yet the black cross is still marked against their names, where it will always stand.

It is a wonderful future into which they have sold themselves and their families—a future that few inmates of Sing Sing and Leavenworth will ever envy.

The crime was big, but the crime will be as nothing compared to the punishment.

COMISKEY REIMBURSES PLAYERS FOR THEIR LOSS

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, Monday sent checks for $1,500 each to the ten members of last year's team who were not involved in the baseball scandal. Letters accompanying the checks stated the money was sent to reimburse the players for the amount they lost when the White Sox failed to win the 1919 world's series.

The checks were sent to Ray Schalk, Byrd Lynn, Urban Faber, Dickie Kerr, R. H. Wilkinson, Eddie Collins, John Collins, H. McClellan, Harry Leibold and E. Murphy. Mr. Comiskey said he does not intend to see honest ball players "penalized" for the "dishonesty of others."

FARMERS ARELUCTANT TO PAY $2 A HUNDRED

ABILENE, TEX., Oct. 5.—If the prices of cotton drops below 20 cents a pound, farmers of west Texas will reduce the wages to pickers from $2 to $1.50, they assert. Farmers are beginning to show reluctance to pay the $2 rate now.

MARQUARD PRODUCT OF CLEVELAND SAND LOTS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5.—Interest here in the world's series games between the Cleveland Indians and the Brooklyn Dodgers was increased today because of the possibility of Rube Marquard being sent to the pitching mound by Manager Robinson.

Marquard is a product of the Cleveland sand lots and as a youth made several attempts to join the local team. He was born just outside the city and now may get a chance to pitch against his home team in the first world's series in which it ever participated.

COMPLETION OF JURY IS EXPECTED DURING DAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Completion of a jury was expected today in the trial of Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant, who is charged with the murder of his wife, their unborn child, and an unidentified stranger on the night of June 21. Three jurors were tentatively accepted yesterday.

S. M. U. TO MEET A. & M. AT DALLAS ON NEXT SATURDAY

DALLAS, Oct. 5—With easy victories over Daniel Baker and Simmons college behind them, the Southern Methodist university 11 faces a stiff week of preparation for what is not only their major encounter of the 1920 grid campaign, but for the Mustangs the big game to be played on a local field. The aspirations of either S. M. U. or Texas A. & M., Bible's undefeated and unscored on champions of last year, for the southwestern title will be dissipated next Saturday at Fair park, unless a tie game comes to upset the dope. Ushering in the state fair on October 9, two of the major football contenders of the section will lock horns in what promises to be one of the hardest fought games of the year.

A. & M. comes to Dallas with a reputation—that of having played 12 games in two seasons without having the virgin purity of the goal-line soiled by hostile heel. Coach Bible of the Aggies brings a still better record than his team, for in three seasons at college station, in 1916 with the Aggie freshmen, 1917 and 1919, with the Varsity, he has never had a team beaten or scored on. Material alone does not produce a mark line and that grid students the state over concede to him the master defensive tactics of a decade in Texas football.

Bible's record is one that every Southwestern team is anxious to mar. S. M. U. cherishes the desire particularly, not only because the local 11 has never beaten the Aggies but because the Mustangs were satisfied last year that had they been able to put an uncrippled team in the field against A. & M., the outcome would have been different.

A. & M. has returned 12 letter men from its champion squad of last year but the five men who are gone removed towers of strength from the squad and Bible has no sinecure before him in duplicating his championship. Unless the action of the southwestern conference, however, interfered with his chances, the Aggie coach will present at Fair park Saturday a team built around two of the most brilliant players of the section.

One of course is Mahan, the stockily built fullback, and most difficult runner to bowl off his feet in the state today. The other is Knickerbocker, one of the headiest quarterbacks in the section, on whose eligibility the conference voted yesterday.

Knickerbocker vs. Kitts means a battle of two of the quickest-witted field generals of the conference and on their showing in directing their teams next Saturday may rest the chances of filling the quarterback position on all-state and all-Southwestern nominated in November.

Another interesting phase of the contest will be the competition between two different schools of coaching—Bible's defense that has proved impregnable for three seasons and Burton Rix's versatile and shifting offense.

Neither team has been forced yet to uncover its ability. Playing weak and practically incapable opponents, both clubs have relied on straight football to win. In Saturday's affair, however, grid fans can be certain that they will see the open game played to the limit of its opportunity.

In weight, the two elevens are evenly matched. There is barely a difference of 20 pounds between the collective tonnage of the two probable starting elevens. Tackle to tackle, the Farmers will outweigh the Mustangs a little, as A. & M. plays light ends and backs while height is fairly evenly distributed through the S. M. U. roster.

Final agreement on the officials was reached last week. H. C. Kinney, Mississippi A. & M., one of the best known referees in the state, will be assisted by A. L. Wimmer and Arthur Dyer, both of Dallas and both former Longhorns.

Saturday's game will start promptly at 3:30 p. m. at Fair park. Special rooter's sections have been reserved for A. & M. and S. M. U. while the grandstand will be handled as in the Fair park games last season.

MORE OF BASEBALL'S NOTABLES ARE BEFORE CHICAGO GRAND JURY

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Resumption of the investigation into alleged fixing of major league baseball games today brought several more baseball notables before the grand jury, which was retained as a special body to conclude the baseball hearings after its regular sessions ended last week. Only matters pertaining to baseball will be considered by the jurors.

Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants, Manager "Kid" Gleason of the Chicago White Sox and Manager Hughie Jennings of the Detroit Tigers were scheduled to appear today and others who have already arrived to testify or are expected soon include Pitcher Fred Toney and Outfielder Benny Kauff of McGraw's club. Jean Dubuc, former Giant pitcher, was also expected to testify today. Shortstop Arthur Fletcher of the Phillies, formerly with the Giants, and "Tip" O'Neil, former president of the Western League and now in the business office of the White Sox, will also be witnesses soon.

Eddie Collins, second baseman and captain of the White Sox, and Ray Schalk, catcher, will be called later, Assistant State's Attorney Replogle said, to discuss technical baseball and show how a seemingly slight error might have a deciding effect on the result of a game. They will also be asked whether they believe games were thrown by members of their teams this year.

McGraw's men, it was said, are expected to tell of alleged attempts by Hal Chase and Heinie Zimmerman to induce them to throw games in the National League.

Dubuc was in conference with Assistant State's Attorneys Lightfoot and Replogle yesterday and was said to have given them information that corroborated "Rube" Benton's testimony that the 1919 world's series games were "fixed" for Cincinnati to win. Dubuc said he and Billy Burns, Giant pitcher, had heard rumors that the series was to be "thrown" and that Burns had gone to Cincinnati and then wired him to "get on Cincinnati."

Manager Gleason is expected to testify concerning alleged dishonesty among players during the 1920 season. Reports that the season's world's series, was "fixed," however, were declared to be untrue in a telegram sent to New York authorities yesterday by State's Attorney Hoyne. Present members of the White Sox team, however, have charged that their former teammates, who were suspended when indictments were returned against them, "threw games" on the last eastern trip in order to insure Cleveland's winning the American League pennant.

Brothers Will Oppose Each Other in World Series

It is believed that this is the first time that brothers will play against each other in a major league world series. "Doc" Johnston, fire baseman of the Cleveland, and one of the leading players of the team, and "Jimmy" Johnston, third baseman of the Brooklyn team (right) are the brothers who will battle in the coming world series.

MORNING OF INITIAL GAME OF WORLD SERIES FINDS THE TEAMS IN SPLENDID SHAPE FOR FRAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—All that remained to complete a perfect setting for the 1920 world's series between Brooklyn of the National League and Cleveland of the American League at Ebbets field today was the fair weather promised after an unheralded rain storm last night. Manager Tris Speaker and the Cleveland team due to arrive here early today, planned to go to their quarters at Ebbets field as soon as possible in order to get acquainted with the layout of the diamond.

The Indians felt that they would be at some disadvantage because of their unfamiliarity with the playing field, but hoped to overcome this to some extent between their arrival and time for the game. The American League champions will have no opportunity for actual practice on the field until they begin their warming practice for the game as the diamond has been put in first class shape and it was planned to keep it so until play actually starts.

There were a great many disappointed fans in Brooklyn today, due to the fact that they were unable to get tickets that would enable them to see more of the games. The unreserved seats in the field stands and bleachers were put on sale yesterday and when the box office opened there was a large crowd on hand that kept the sellers busy all day. There were a few tickets left when the club officials decided that those in charge of the sale had done a day's work. It was announced that these would be placed on sale at 8:00 o'clock this morning, together with a few reserved seats that had not been called for by the applicants. It was apparent from the number waiting when the box office closed last night that the unsold tickets would be insufficient to supply the demand.

Some of the fans expressed their determination to wait all night in order to be at the head of the line today, but the cold, drizzling rain shortly before midnight had a chilling effect and by 2:00 o'clock this morning only four "bitter enders" were left in line for bleacher seats.

Sleep on Sidewalk.

Headed by Frank Brogan, a youth who came from Philadelphia to witness the games, the faithful quartet curled up in their overcoats on the cold damp cement sidewalk and hoped for the morning sun to warm them to the occasion. Brogan, who said he lived near the Phillies ball park, had all the players' names at his tongue's end and announced he was rooting for Cleveland. The other three rooters were less talkative and seemed interested only in getting some sleep.

While Cleveland ruled a slight favorite in what little betting was announced, that fact hid not shake the confidence of Manager Robinson and the Brooklyn players. They were prepared to go through the series fighting from start to finish and felt that the apparent batting advantage possessed by Cleveland, according to unofficial records of the season's work, would be offset by the superior pitching of the Brooklyn club. Manager Robinson, the players and their supporters argued that the Indians were not called upon during the American League season to face such a staff of uniformly good pitchers as that of the Brooklyn club.

Final Workout Monday.

Both clubs had their final workouts yesterday, Brooklyn at Ebbets field and the Indians at Cleveland. Today it was announced from both camps that all the men were physically fit and prepared to play their best baseball for baseball's highest honors. The only possibility of an advantage in condition lies in the fact that while the Cleveland players spent last night traveling to this city, the Superbas were resting.

Manager Robinson has had no worries as to his line-up and the team was prepared to take the field as it has played through the greater part of the season. With Manager Speaker of Cleveland it was a different proposition, since a majority of his regular players are left-hand hitters and the Brooklyn leader made no secret of his intention to use a southpaw in the opening game.

Probable Line-Up.

Manager Speaker had not definitely decided how he would meet the situation. It was reported early today that he was considering using his right hand hitting crew in the event of Brooklyn starting a left hand pitcher. This would mean Joe Wood and Joe Evans in the outfield, with Speaker himself and possibly George Burns on first base in place of Doc Johnston. This combination, however, would not present so strong an offensive aggregation as the season's record shows with Jamieson and Smith in the outfield and Johnston on first.

Baseball critics were of the opinion that Speaker would stick to what has been termed the regular line-up at the start, making changes only in the event that the left-hand hitters fail to hit the offering of the Brooklyn southpaw.

PLANS BOUT IN WICHITA FALLS IF MATCH CAN BE ARRANGED

Spike Kelly, the well-known boxer, arrived in town this morning from Oklahoma City, bringing with him Jack Walker, king of the middleweights of the southwest.

Walker has been knocking out the good boys all over the country and last week he beat Joe Kelly 15 rounds at Sulphur, Okla., and Battling Finley at Hinton. Finley is a heavyweight and the beating Walker gave him in 15 rounds set the fans wild.

Walker is a pleasant, clean-cut youth, 22 years old, six feet tall, and has been boxing seven years, during which entire time he has never taken a knockout. He is a two-handed fighter and can hit from any angle. In his [illegible]en years in the ring he has fought 65 battles of which 39 have been draws, and in the remaining 11 no decisions have been rendered. However severe the punishment he received, he never loses his head. The Associated Press says of him, "Walker is the coming champion, a clever boxes and a hard slugger."

The sporting fraternity of Oklahoma City has done everything possible to bring Battling Fitzsimmons, the alleged champion of Oklahoma, into the ring with Walker, but with no success.

Walker's manager declares that he was unable to match a fight with Fitzsimmons though he finally offered to allow that pugilist the entire proceeds of the fight. Kelly also declares that a prominent oil man offered to pay Fitzsimmons $1,000 if he would beat Walker in a 15-round fight.

Walker and Kelly are here for the purpose of arranging a few fights at Wichita Falls if conditions are found to be favorable.

NATIONAL NUT GROWERS CONVENTION OCT. 13-14

Attention of Chamber of Commerce Is Called to Meeting to Be Held at Austin.

The local chamber of commerce has received a letter from W. E. Long, secretary of the Austin chamber of commerce, asking that attention be called to the convention of the National Nut Growers' association in the capital city October 13-14. The letter follows:

"I will greatly appreciate it if you will call to the attention o' your farmers and ranch men who have pecan trees on their land, the convention of the National Nut Growers' association which is to be held here at Austin on October 13 and 14. This is the first time the nut growers' convention has been held in Texas, and this meeting was brought to this state in order to stimulate the growing of more and better pecans.

"Please call to the attention of your press the fact that more than 72 per cent of all the pecan trees in the world are growing in Texas alons our streams and on our ranches and farms. There are greater possibilities for the pecan crop in Texas than for any other nut or fruit crop. The price paid the producer has increased from 50 cents and $1 a bushel, which was paid fifteen years ago, to $10 to $30 per bushel today."

NEWS FROM THE COURTS

INJURED MAN NOT TAKEN TO WICHITA GENERAL HOSPITAL

The superintendent of the Wichita General hospital asks that the Times make a correction relative to a story which appeared Monday and in which connection the name of the hospital was used.

The story referred to was the damage suit filed against the Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad company by Mrs. Parker. The story stated that the husband of the plaintiff, following an injury, was removed to the Wichita General hospital. The superintendent of the latter institution states that they never had a patient in the hospital by that name at that time.

The Times was in error as the complaint reads "a hospital in Wichita Falls."

CAMPBELL UNITED SHOWS ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

The Campbell United Shows opened Monday evening to a big carnival crowd at their grounds on Seventeenth and Holliday streets, and from the enthusiasm of the crowd during the evening and late into the night the various attractions made successful bids for popularity.

A feature among the special attractions is Cleo Weber, the high school rider, and the company's announcement that the untamable lions were to be on exhibition tonight at the circus met with much interest on the part of the crowd.

The Campbell Shows are here under the auspices of the local firemen, and all the attractions are said to be high class and entertaining.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—President Wilson today wrote to Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, that the statement recently made by the senator that the president had promised American military aid in Roumania and Serbia in the event of the invasion of those countries was "false."

Senator Spencer's address was delivered in Missouri and when it was called to Secretary Tumulty's attention Mr. Tumulty gave a statement to correspondents of St. Louis newspapers declaring that the senator's statement was "absolutely and unqualifiedly false."

Senator Spencer in turn issued a statement saying that he did not believe the president had authorized such a denial.

MAN ATTACKED BY NEGROES NOT EXPECTED TO RECOVER

With his condition remaining extremely critical for the past ten hours, Thomas W. Abscher, night watchman of the Bob Waggoner building was still battling for his life at a late hour Tuesday afternoon. His death had been expected hourly the entire day.

When he was taken to the hospital Sunday morning announcement was made that he had but slight chances for recovery, but he seemed to rally after being treated and for awhile Monday some hope was expressed.

During the night, however, his condition took a turn for the worse and it grew more serious during the day.

He has been unable to say a word since he spoke to the three city patrolmen Sunday morning when he gave the information that two negroes had attacked him. It was said that at times he would gain semi-consciousness, but that due to the cut in his throat he was unable to utter a sound.

VARIOUS SOCIETIES AND CLUBS AT SCHOOL START YEAR'S WORK

The various societies and other outside activities at the high school have been busy during the past week in getting details of their organizations completed and in running order. The campaign for Ranger subscriptions, which has been planned for some time was started Monday morning and highly satisfactory results obtained. A prize was offered to the class which subscribed to the greatest number of the issues but the contest turned out to be rather one-sided, for the seniors immediately turned in a 100 per cent subscription list, every senior in the school subscribing. The juniors promised to have a similar record by noon and the two lower classes reported excellent results in their campaign. It is hoped, with the aid of the junior high and other schools in the city to obtain a total of some 600 subscriptions.

Ranger Staff Complete.

The Ranger staff, which was recently completed, is announced as follows: Editor-in-chief, Donald Cooke; business manager, Frank Benson; circulation manager, Donovon Weldon; advertising manager, Polly Clark; art editor, Marjorie Dulin; joke editor, Myers Hays; cartoonist, Ridley Maples; randon remarks, Phillip Pink; exchanges, Kenneth Knickerbocker; society editor, Pauline Taylor; faculty advistor, Chella Henderick. The staff is now at work on the first issue which will be published on November 1, and thereafter on the first day of each succeeding month. Seven numbers will be issued and a charge of $1.50 for the entire lot made. The staff named above is complete with the exception of two reporters from each of the organized classes and one reporter from each of the various societies.

Senior Year Book.

Heads of the various departments of the Coyote staff, the senior year book, were selected some time ago but the reporters and others connected with it's publication will not be known for another day or so. This publication is not made until the close of the school year but work has already been started on the compiling of the material.

The high school library was opened last week for the first time and is already proven to be a strong drawing card. During the first five days in which it was open 573 students availed themselves of the privilege of studying and using the books at their command; 155 books were taken out during the week by students and teachers. Last year it was very seldom that the total number of students coming to the library during an entire week would exceed 100. At present there are over 1,700 volumes contained in the library and owned by the public school system.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism

If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to try to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away.

Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood.

For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism.

Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Director, 160 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—
Having found Rub-a-Cold so effective I take pleasure in writing an unsolicited testimonial in its favor.
Last winter my little boy was threatened with the flu several times but I always applied Rub-a-Cold as soon as he showed symptoms.
My sister came to visit us bringing her 3 year old son who had a bad case of croup. I used Rub-a-Cold and he got instant relief and was soon asleep. We are never without it in the house.
Yours very truly,

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

New York Stocks, Grain and Provisions, Cotton and Livestock

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The early cotton market showed a firmer tone following yesterday's break to new low records. Liverpool was better than due and first prices here were unchanged to 32 points higher on covering, Liverpool and some Japanese buying. There were October notices in circulation which caused some scattering near month liquidation but offerings which included southern selling and a little local pressure encouraged by the favorable weather map, were readily absorbed. October soon sold up from 22.25 to 22.68 and January from 21.25 to 21.52, or about 43 to 54 points above last night's closing. The opening action of the stock market promoted the covering movement.

The early advance of 43 to 77 points met increased offerings which caused reactions of 30 to 45 points. Southern selling, however, was much less active than recently. The development of a much firmer tone in October after the circulation of notices estimated at 2,800 bales, was also factor and most months made a new high ground for the day early in the noon hour with October selling at 22.72 and December 21.95, or 50 to 72 points net higher. October sold up to 23.30 in the early afternoon and the strength of the near month stimulated covering in the late deliveries. January advanced to 21.95 points with active months generally showing net gains of 90 to 115 points after which there were reactions of 40 or 50 points on reports of increasing short time in fall River mills.

Cotton closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5.—Reports of a much better spot demand in the markets of the interior, a higher basis in Texas and less disposition to sell on the part of producers, combined with the effect of a much higher Liverpool market than due, put the price of cotton higher today. In the first hour of business prices advanced 32 to 51 points, December rising to 20.96.

The market continued to receive favorable spot accounts from Texas and a large demand for contracts arose. Late in the morning prices were 80 to 93 points highher than the finals of yesterday with December at 21.38c and March at 21.10c.

After the noon hour the market lacked a fresh demand and when early buyers tried to take profits they caused a sagging tendency. Late in the session March traded down to 20.24c and the list stood 23 points up to 6 down, compared with the final prices of yesterday.

The market closed steady, 48 points up to 2 down, net.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Shorts snatching profits brought about a swift upturn in the price of wheat today, notwithstanding weakness in the market at the opening. Initial quotations, the lowest yet on the crop, were reached in a general rush of selling orders. On the other hand, the ensuing upturn was not well maintained and it was said the British royal commission was holding off as a buyer.

Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 2⅛ lower, with December $1.93 to $1.95 and March $1.90 to $1.91½, were followed by a sharp ascent and then something of a sag.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening ⅝c off to ⅛c advance, including December 85½c to 86⅜c, prices scored gains all around, but then reacted somewhat.

Oats, like other grain, advanced after a minor dip, starting unchanged to ⅛c lower, December 54⅞c to 54⅞c, and then developing strength.

Reports of a strong demand for lard and meats lifted provisions, despite lower quotations on hogs.

Subsequently foreign buying caused a fresh advance in wheat and it was said France would purchase 85,000,000 bushels from November 1 to July 1. Offerings broadened out on the rise, however, and the market collapsed. The close was unsettled, 2½c to 6c net lower, with December $1.89½ and $1.90 and March $1.88¼ to $1.88½.

Covering by shorts led to material upturns later in corn, but the effect was only transient. Prices closed nervous, ⅝c to 1½c net lower, with December 84⅛c to 84¼c.

STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Gains outnumbered declines at the opening of today's stock market, but the movement differed from recent sessions because rails, excepting St. Paul preferred and Great Northern were under pressure. Strongest issues included the independent steels, coppers and some of the high priced oils. Crucible advanced 1½ points and American Smelting 1 point, while equipments and motors made fractional gains. Trading was contracted on prospects of higher rates for call and time loans.

REVENUE OFFICE TO BE CLOSED FOR AFTERNOONS

Shortage of Help Is Given as Reason for Keeping Open Only During Forenoon Hours.

The local office of the internal revenue department will not be open afternoons for an indeterminate period, according to a statement made today by Division Chief Henry Wampler. Until further notice the office will be open only from 9 o'clock in the morning until noon daily.

"Shortage of help is the reason for closing early," Wampler explained. "Collector Read in Dallas recently called Deputy Collector Ruth Calvert to the main office for two weeks' work, and in the meantime practically every man connected with the Wichita Falls office is working daily at the court house compiling records to be used in the campaign to collect delinquent special taxes. As soon as Miss Calvert returns, and some of the clerical work at the court house is cleared away, we will return to the former hours and keep the office open throughout the day."

The city council is expected to pass on its final reading Thursday night the ordinance regulating the business of transfer wagons, and if the petition for an injunction against the service car ordinance is denied, both of these new city statutes will become effective next Monday morning.
