BY WOLF BAND

Subscriptions Drive Unreels

Colorado High Wolf Band members Tuesday begin their annual march to community residences in their No. 1 fund raising project of the year. They'll be aiming for a record and that means they'll have to earn more than $850 in cash commissions and special cash bonuses.

The march will be the annual Wolf Band subscription sale of Colorado City Record.

Each one-year subscription sold by the band — whether a renewal or a new subscription — will earn the band a hefty commission for its fund that finances special band projects and helps purchase important equipment for the band program.

Last year Colorado High Wolf Band members set an all-time mark in earnings from the subscription sale — more than $830, all total.

This 1965 march will again be for only three days — Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

And, if the band members set a new record in earnings, then it will be the fourth consecutive year. In 1962 the band and its members pocketed $475 in commissions and bonuses. Just 12 months later, in 1963, the earnings climbed to another record, more than $600.

The 1964 feat the previous record by more than $200. If the march this week moves to another new record, then the band could walk away from its three-day sale with almost a thousand dollars.

Subscriptions sold during the march Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be for 1 year (12 months) only. Cost will be $5 in Mitchell County and adjacent counties, $6 elsewhere in the United States except for U. S. Military Personnel, whose subscriptions always are only $5.

In addition to commissions earned by the band, special cash bonuses will be awarded each of the three days to individual band members who lead in sales categories.

Persons subscribing during the band sale will save more than $5 over the regular price paid at news stands for the Record over a 12-month period.

Court Gives Medrano Four Months Term

Pilar Medrano of Colorado City has been sentenced to four months in county jail plus court costs of $27.50 after being found guilty of transporting beer in a dry area.

Mill Meeting Sets Talks By Experts

Bill Crumley, head of the cotton milling operation at Texas Technological College in Lubbock, will present observations on the milling of cotton in West Texas.

Texas Tech has a complete cotton milling setup on their campus.

Troy Whitehead of Charlotte, N. C. will speak on the necessary machinery required for the building and operation of a spinning mill.

The Friday meeting will be held in the Lone Wolf So-opatorium at 7:30 p.m.

CHURCH CEREMONY

Merritt-Costin Wedding Vows Saturday Evening

First Methodist Church sanctuary was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Mary Ann Merritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Merritt, 605 Chestnut St., and James Collins Costin, son of Mrs. James Collins Costin and the late Mr. Costin.

The Rev. Jack Elzey, of Littlefield, former pastor here officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Three candle-lit trees with crystal votive lights were garlanded with gladiolus, ivy to form the wedding altar background. Flanking the altar were two pedestal arrangements of white gladiolus, white stock, and white agapanthus. Lining the chancel rail were votive lights and pinnery. Pews were also marked with greenery and votive lights.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an empire gown of ivory peau de soie and Alençon lace. The bodice featured a square neckline, edged with Vallois of lace, and long sleeves. A band of peau de soie marked the empire style, finished with a small bow in front. The line skirt was enhanced by a large bow and a detachable waterfall train.

Her veil of silk tulle was attached to a Dior bow of ivory peau and fell to shoulder length. The bride carried a white lily topped with a cascade bouquet of gardenias. For something old she carried the heirloom wedding handkerchief of her mother's mother, Miss Alice Ward of Lufkin.

Flower girl for the wedding, Carla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Lemmon of Lubbock, wore a dress matching those of the bridesmaids.

By William S. Rhoads, often cited the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Mills of Natchez, Mike Cummings of Midland, Steve Hedrick of Dallas, and John Merritt, cousin of the bride, of Colorado City. Ushers were Rex Howell, cousin of the groom, of Lubbock, and John Merritt.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. James B. Payne, organist. She accompanied Mrs. J. C. Garrett, soprano soloist, who sang "Oh Lord, How Holy" and "Walk Hand in Hand" as prelude and postlude. "The Wedding Prayer" after the exchange of vows.

Reception following the bride's couple, their attendants and wedding guests, was hosted by the parents of the bride in Fellowship Hall at the church.

The bride's table was laid with a white taffeta cloth and accented with gardenias and clusters of grapes. A silver centerpiece, flanked with white candles, stood on the table. The four-tiered wedding cake was also circled with flowers.

Covered with a white tulle cloth, the groom's table featured a heart-shaped tablecloth and a bouquet of gardenias marked the guest registry table.

Assisting in the household were Mrs. William S. Rhoads, Mrs. H. H. Bowers, Mrs. C. L. Lanning, Mrs. Warren C. Lanning, Miss Merritt, Mrs. John Tom Merritt, Mrs. H.

CONVERSATION CORNER

KNOW HOW to tell when you've already reached the peak of life's hill are are headed down the slope instead of up?

It's easy if you take time to consider, to contemplate and to compare the here and now.

Must be that you are definitely growing eligible for the title "Pioneer" — a real true compliment in C-City, friends! when you can remember the old "Welcome to Colorado" electric sign that spread across Second St. between Walnut and Elm Sts. when you moved here.

Note to confused new-comers: This town was Colorado City to begin with. Later the "City" was officially dropped. Even later the "City" part was tacked back on where it belongs after a town vote.

MUST BE too, that you can no longer run from being included in that indefinite and unsatisfactory age bracket known in polite circles as "middle-age" when you can recall enrolling a little girl in Coleman School ... and a boy is old "Junior High" with its monstrosity of a circular auditorium.

When you can remember when Canasta was a new game along with Monopoly ... when you can sing all the words to "Red Sails in the Sunset" and were here the day Pappy O'Daniel spoke at Ruddle Park ...

When you come across clippings of the ground-breaking ceremony at Lake Colorado City ... When your brunet friends start going blonde and the blondes turn auburn or dark-haired ... When the first Jaycees you knew here now have to get along with no hair at all ... Let's face it. You've lived a while.

FURTHERMORE, when you can see as plain as yesterday, that the mother of the bride "back when" she was a prancing teenager from majorette at CHS ... (i.e. Billie M. Gregory Harrison)

When babies who used to cry in church start getting married in it ... when you catch yourself saying "up in the shimmers" instead of "Easter Addition" ...

When you can remember three Doss Drug Store downtown ... The wedding of that "new doctor," Dr. Bill Rhode whose daughter Susan will marry next week ...

When you still get surprised, sometimes, at the labyrinth of Interstate 25 where two-lane highways used to rule ... and when the last photograph you sat for (in 1944) looks like an old-fashioned ad for Dandeline ...

Grin and bear it. Whether you notice or not ... the peak of life's hill was reached yesterday ... or the day before. "Hand me down my walking cane."

Didn't notice for many a year ... But here I am a Pioneer!

THE BILBERYS, Henry and Luna (relative newcomers who just moved here in August 1940) are enjoying themselves as parents of two daughters who grew up and were married here.

At the Bilberry house this week are Carolyn Bilberry Black (Mrs. Charles) and her sons Chuck and Bill of Post. Plus Judy Bilberry Barnes and her tall husband Arthur from Norman, Okla. They'll all be guests at the Mary Ann Merritt wedding to Jimmie Costin.

Judy who now has her master's degree from O.U. will teach at Norman, this fall while Art teaches piano at O.U. and pursues his master's degree in music and spend more time at the organ.

SEEN LATELY were Paul Boyd Hunter and his son Glenn. Wife and mother of the two, Dorothea (who used to be named Morley) is visiting the daughter, Debbie and Debbie's husband Bill McGuire at East Texas State in Commerce.

Seen the Howard Cox and his diminutive wife Eliza both ... The Harold Manisses ... The Jack Richardsons

Spanish English and English dictionaries ... books and magazines in Spanish ... more fiction for the library at McKnight ... magazines dedicated to plumbing, electric master mechanics ... and world almanacs.

OAK STREET CHURCH

Kathy Parks Weds Morris Alsobrook

Wedding vows of Miss Kathy Parks and Morris Eugene Alsobrook were solemnized in a ceremony at Oak Street Baptist Church at 7:30 Thursday evening, August 19. Rev. Carl Lee, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony.

The couple stood for their marriage vows before an altar decorated with a single candelabra holding lighted tapers. Baskets of white gladioluses flanked the candle arrangement.

The bride, escorted to the altar by Harvey L. Jones, Sr., wore a waltz-length wedding gown of white Chantilly lace, enhanced with a re-embroidered motif in seed pearls. She carried white carnations topped with a white Bible.

Mrs. Harold Childs attended the bride as matron of honor. The honor attendant wore a pink knit suit, white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Leroy Moore was the bridegroom's best man. Robert Jones lighted the altar candles.

Wedding soloist, Mrs. Robert Sager, sang "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Leroy Culbertson was organist.

Reception for the bride and groom was hosted at the home of the parents of the bridegroom. Mr. Alsobrook is son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Alsobrook of 629 Pine St.

of yellow gladioli with spider chrysanthemums. Favors were gold wedding rings with white satin ribbons encased with the names Patti and Jimmy in gold.

Pett fours and golden punch were served to the sixty guests who called during the party hours.

Wedding of the honoree,
Miss Harrison, and Mr. Palmer will be in First Baptist Church auditorium, Saturday,
Sept. 4, at six in the evening.

Hostesses with Mrs. Bilberry for the pre-nuptial compliment were Mrs. Kenneth Cowan, Mrs. Don Wallace and Mrs. Arthur Barnes, the former Miss Judy Bilberry, of Norman, Okla.

Carrying out the shower
theme was a gay centerpiece fashioned with a parasol covered carcel in miniature.
Ribbon streamers from the bright parasol were caught to kitchen utility gifts. Surrounding the styrofoam base were other gifts for the bride's kitchen, tea towels, pot lifters and dishcloths accented the colors aqua and yellow.

Summer flowers were used as party decorations with a tall bouquet of red roses in a cutglass container on the piano. An arrangement of yellow and white mums decorated the mantel. Foursome tables, covered in white linen, held varicolored rosebuds in crystal bud vases.

At the luncheon hour guests were served turkey mornay, fruit salad, Harvard beets, hot biscuits and an ice dessert.

Guests were Mrs. D. M. Merritt and Mrs. John T. Merritt aunt of the bride; Mrs. Fred Merritt, mother of the honoree;
and Miss Merritt; Mrs. J.
C. Costin, mother of the bridegroom.

Also, Mrs. Clarence C. Burt,
Miss Beth Wallace, Miss Carolyn Howell, Miss Sue Costin, cousin of the bridegroom; Mrs.
Warren Costin, his aunt; Mrs.
John Shimer, Miss Laura Barber.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Alice Ward of Lufkin, maid of honor in the Merritt Costin wedding; Mrs. Charles Black of East, the former Miss Carolyn Bilberry; and Mrs. R. P. Muldox of Hurst, aunt of Mr. Costin.
