Humphrey, Pope Talk On Vietnam

By HARRY KELLY

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey conferred with Pope Paul VI for half an hour today and the Vatican said afterward their talk centered on the war in Vietnam.

The Vatican announcement said the two men had "an affable and cordial conversation."

"The question of world peace, especially the ever more intense study for speeding up a truce and the elements of the conflict in Vietnam, were the special themes," the announcement added.

The Pope gave Humphrey and his wife rosaries and copies of his new encyclical.

It was learned later that Humphrey gave Pope Paul two booklets explaining U.S. efforts in Vietnam, including the program for social development.

He also gave the Pope a desk clock, and the pontiff remarked: "Let us hope that this will ring the hour of peace."

Humphrey arrived a half-hour before the scheduled audience but he was immediately escorted to the papal study, where the pontiff receives visitors in private audience.

Several hundred persons, mostly tourists, milled around St. Peter's Square, but there were no demonstrations as Humphrey's police-guarded motorcade passed through the entrance way next to St. Peter's Basilica.

The vice president left the papal wing of the Vatican Palace an hour later and went on a tour of the Sistine Chapel and other sites before his planned departure by train for Florence.

Friday night Humphrey's visit touched off one of the biggest anti-Vietnam war protest in Rome in years.

Humphrey went to the Vatican after a brief wreath-laying ceremony at a monument to Italy's Unknown Soldier in spacious Piazza Venezia. Between 200 and 300 persons, many of them plainclothesmen, watched the ceremony in bright sunshine. It lasted only five minutes and there were no demonstrations.

The Pope's meeting with Humphrey was the pontiff's fourth this year with various leaders to discuss Vietnam.

He received Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny Jan. 3, former U.S. Ambassador to Saigon Henry Cabot Lodge Jan. 16 and U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy Feb. 4.

Fighting Fierce At Cambodian Border

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — A Communist regiment of some 2,500 men failed in an assault on jungle fighting Americans Saturday and left 581 dead as it fled beneath a hail of shellfire.

More Communist dead and wounded were taken from the field by harried comrades.

The breakdown of American casualties was 16 killed and 71 wounded, a U. S. spokesman said.

Associated Press correspondent John Wheeler reported from the battlefield that 57 Viet Cong bodies were counted inside the U.S. positions where their charge was broken.

U.S. officers reported five Communists were taken prisoner and 50 weapons cleared from the battlefield late Saturday. Many more were scattered about but uncollected as darkness fell Saturday.

The Communist escape route to nearby Cambodia was hit by B52 Superforts from Guam — each carrying 60,000 pounds of bombs which they unloaded close to the battlefield.

The fierce battle in War Zone C northwest of Saigon erupted Friday when the Reds bloodied an initial force of about 200 infantrymen of the U.S. 1st Division who ran into a hidden Communist bunker complex. When the Reds hurled their assaults Saturday American firepower was in place to cut them down.

One battlefield report put the Red losses as high as 500 men. The U.S. headquarters spokesman said "the enemy casualty count is high" but added that he had no official figures pending a review to eliminate possible duplications in body counts. American losses too, were believed substantial but there were no official figures.

The swirling battle in the jungles of Tay Ninh Province marked a resurgence in the ground war that was reflected by scattered figfits elsewhere notably just below the 17th Parallel that divides Vietnam.

The Air Force announced 101 bombing missions over North Vietnam Friday and the loss of the 499th U.S. plane to be shot down over North Vietnam.

The Tay Ninh battle was the third Communist attempt in the past month to overrun a major American task force.

It showed the Communists were still willing to pay heavily themselves in their strategy of attrition to raise American casualty figures.

The enemy regiment battered Saturday in Tay Ninh, is the 271st, the sister regiment to the two others which were decimated in two battles within the past month. All belonged to the crack Viet Cong 9th Division which has fought many of the war's major battles in the area.

American Injured By Cong Terrorists

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists tried to assassinate an American military intelligence officer in Saigon's Chinese section tonight, police sources reported.

They said the American — who was not immediately identified by name — was wounded seriously by two pistol bullets.

Police termed the attack an assassination attempt. The terrorists escaped.

The victim, a man of about 40, was taken to an American hospital in Saigon for treatment.

TV Strike Talks Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations between broadcasting networks and the union representing radio and television newscasters resumed today for the first time since a strike began four days ago.

Executives of the NBC, CBS and ABC networks, summoned to a meeting here with federal mediators, walked past their own news microphones with a flurry of "no comments."

Donald Conaway, spokesman for the striking American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, said he could not assess prospects for a quick settlement.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, headed a team of federal mediators meeting with the negotiators.

The Mutual Broadcasting System, with radio but no television outlets, reached agreement with the union Friday night, and its newsmen began reporting for work.

Although terms were not announced, there were reports that Mutual settled for a $300-a-week base salary for newsmen plus cash for overtime. Mutual had continued negotiations with the union after the radio-television networks had broken off talks.

The union has been seeking a base of $325 a week for newscasters, plus a substantial portion of commercial fees.

Conaway was asked whether there would be any discussion of the highly publicized split in actions between the NBC newscasting team of Chet Huntley and David Brinkley.

Huntley not only has continued his nightly broadcast from New York but has appealed personally to 40 NBC colleagues to abandon the strike and seek different union representation.

Brinkley, the Washington half of the team, was quoted as saying he would not return to work until the strike is settled.

Viets Celebrate New Constitution

By KENNETH L. WHITING

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam had a national holiday today to celebrate its new consfitution paving the way for a presidential election in September and a return to civilian rule.

Four thousand soldiers, government workers, diplomats and students gathered on the grounds of Doc Lap — Independence — Palace as Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu signed a decree putting the constitution into effect. All Vietnamese ambassadors were summonded back to Saigon for the occasion.

"The materialization of constitutional bodies within six months from today once again demonstrates the good faith of the armed forces vis-a-vis the nation, and once more shows our impartiality and our selfless spirit because we are not bent on maintaining power," Thieu said.

The chief of state thanked the Constituent Assembly that wrote the constitution and asked it to complete new election laws by the end of April.

Officials announced that 10 million leaflets were dropped by planes and distributed in villages throughout South Vietnam proclaiming the promulgation of the new constitution.

The leaflets, in Vietnamese language, read: "The people welcome the constitution. The constitution of the Republic of Vietnam guarantees the rights of all citizens. The adoption of the constitution marks an important step for our people on the way to freedom and democracy."

Thieu granted amnesty to 451 prisoners. An announcement said 217 had been held by the security or defense ministries, most of them deserters from the armed forces.

The constitution replaces one abrogated with the fall of President Ngo Dinh Diem in November 1963. It has been attacked on several sides and constituent assemblymen will meet next week to study possible changes.

Rail Crash Hurts Many

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — A railway passenger train collided with a truck at an unmanned crossing near here today, leaving three passengers dead and about 280 others injured, six of them seriously.

Police investigators said a five-coach train packed with workers on their way home from offices and excursions slammed into a truck stalled with engine trouble on the crossing near the Onosato River.

The first two coaches plunged 15 feet into the river and a third dangled from a 500-foot-long bridge.

About 500 police and railway workers struggled to rescue passengers entrapped on the coaches and within three hours all the injured had been taken to hospitals.

AFS Family Is Picked For Year

The Malven Stevenson family, 2707 Thirty - fourth Street, has been selected by the American Field Service as the host family for a foreign exchange student next year, it was revealed this morning at a breakfast meeting of the Snyder Chapter of the AFS.

President Bob Crowell also announced that Sharon Carter, a student at Snyder High School, has been selected for summer study abroad if a host family can be located for her.

The chapter heard plans for a "bus stop" here July 1, 2 and 3 when some 40 foreign exchange students will visit Snyder on an annual trip to New York and Washington sponsored by the national organization.

Hernan Hechenleitner, student from Chile who has been living with the Thayne Mebane family while studying at Snyder High School, will join the student group when it arrives. The group will spend two nights here before continuing its journey. The 40 students will be guests of an equal number of Snyder families during the visit here.

Mrs. Ruby Anderson, treasurer of Delta Kappa Gamma, presented AFS treasurer D. V. Merritt with a check. It is an annual contribution from DKG.

Plains Get Heavy Rains

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains soaked the Central Plains today, producing flood waters in some areas, while most of the Eastern and Southern states basked in unseasonably warm weather.

Small streams pushed over their banks in several Chicago suburbs and O'Hare International Airport reported 1¼ inches of rain.

Floods, aided by melting snow, routed dozens of persons from their homes in northwestern Wisconsin late Friday.

About 20 families were evacuated near Colfax Wis., and about a half-dozen in the Menominee Wis. area after the Red Cedar River climbed over its banks.

Dangerous Fags To Disappear?

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The president of the American Cancer Society predicts that, through filters and reductions in tar-nicotine content, "the really dangerous cigarette will become as extinct as the spittoon."

But Dr. Ashbel C. Williams of Jacksonville, Fla., added: "If I am wrong, then I know that, to my sorrow, more and more of my practice will be in removing cancerous lungs."

Williams, a surgeon, made the remarks Friday night in addressing the opening of the ninth annual seminar for science writers sponsored by the Cancer Society.

He described the present cancer-smoking controversy this way:

1. Mounting numbers of American adults have quit smoking cigarettes, but unfortunately "youngsters in grade school and high school continue to court cigarette-caused diseases to a discouraging degree."

2. One of every three deaths in the United States in 1967 "will be from a smoking-related disease."

3. Approximately 1.5 million American youths between aged 12 and 17 started smoking last year — and certain members of that group are going to come up in their 30's with cancer of the lung or larynx due to smoking.

He indicated that among adults at least, there has been a sharply growing tendency in the past 15 years to smoke cigarettes with filters.

But he added: "Unfortunately, however, people have a difficult time in most cases in finding out whether their cigarettes (filtered or unfiltered) are low in tar and nicotine content.

"I am against all cigarette smoking. The healthful and wise thing is to give up cigarettes entirely. But, if you must smoke, you should be able to choose a cigarette low in tar and nicotine content.

AT TEXAS FANDANGLE—

LBJ Host To Latin Envoys

By FRANK CORMIER

JOHNSON CITY Tex. (AP) — President Johnson got a running start on this month's south-of-the-border summit meeting by entertaining 29 Latin-American diplomats today in his native Texas hill country.

Johnson and wife Lady Bird flew the envoys to Texas Friday night aboard the presidential jet for a red-carpet weekend. Some of the features: pom pom girls, an LBJ ranch barbecue and a busy program of entertainment built around an historical pagent called "The Texas Fandangle."

All this was in anticipation of Johnson's trip to Punta del Este, Uruguay, for meetings April 12-14 with fellow presidents from the Western Hemisphere. The welcome mat will be out there — as it was here — for all except representatives of Communist Cuba.

The diplomats who gathered here with Johnson — they are accredited either to the U.S. government or to the Organization of American States — were holding what amounted to a warmup for Punta del Este.

As Johnson told a welcoming crowd of several thousand at San Antonio, where his big jet set down, he was talking individually with his guests about hemisphere problems and "about things that are to come."

The dean of Washington's diplomatic corps, Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua responded warmly by labeling the weekend get-together "a family affair."

Savilla-Sacasa and the other envoys, many of them accompanied by their wives, spent the night in San Antonio, some 75 miles south of the Johnson ranch.

The highlight of the program arranged for the visitors today was a three-hour visit to the ranch, where white-hatted chefs worked hours in advance to prepare a Texas-style barbecue and local-talent entertainers prepped for the "Fandangle" recreating frontier days in the Southwest.

Punta del Este remains the focal point of the sessions, however. It is there the American nations hope to give a new forward push to the Alliance for Progress and pledge a start toward the creation of a Latin-American common market.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: May I say with all my heart, We have something about the "ghoul" of television commercials, especially those directed to the American housewife?

Do the "ad" people really believe we are impressed by flying detergent boxes, witches and wands, dishwashing powders and lotions that turn into birds, flying in and out of windows and all over the house?

The one that irks me particularly is the filthy little boy who enters his mother's immaculate kitchen to be greeted by a loving smile and a "powerful" detergent. Mother cuts the kid's shirt in half with a shiny scissors, washes one half the shirt in "Brand X" and the other half in the sponsor's hallowed product. Then the kid skips out of the kitchen wearing the same shirt mother just cut in half! It is an insult to the intelligence of the American woman. Does this rub anybody else the wrong way?

NAUSEATED

DEAR NAUSEATED: It must. But keep your set on for even more nauseating commercials which promise to combat nausea!

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and go steady with a great guy who is 17 and goes to a nearby school. My boy friend (I'll call him Steve) is sweet, and I trust him and he has never tried anything wrong, even when I wished he would.

Steve wants me to spend the night with him. We wouldn't go all the way or even neck. We would just be together. We don't see each other as much as we'd like to, as he doesn't drive. We care for each other a lot, Abby, and really want to spend the night together. What should I do?

DEAR SWEET: If you are looking for trouble, just go ahead and spend the night with a "great guy" for whom you care a lot. I will guarantee you more than you can handle.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My wife insists on wearing brush rollers in her hair when she retires every night. Not only do I find this extremely repulsive looking, but occasionally I will get a brush roller in the eye.

I have told her I don't like her coming to bed with those things in her hair, but she continues to do so.

Tell me, Abby, why a woman would present herself to her husband in such hideous get-up every night in order to look good for the people at the office?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Because "looking good for the people at the office" is more important to her than what her husband thinks, feels, or wants.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOST FAITH" IN POMPANO BEACH: Perhaps a lesson in "faith" can be best illustrated in this way:

A mother had just received word that her only son — bright, handsome young man of 22 — had been killed in the war. Her pastor tried vainly to console her in her grief. "Where was your God when my only son was killed?" she cried. "The same place HE was when HIS only son was killed," the pastor quietly replied.

Polygraph Tests Taken By Ministers

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP)—Four ministers whose complaints led to a Washington County grand jury investigation of an alleged bawdy house near this southeast Texas town voluntarily have undergone polygraph tests at the Department of Public Safety's Houston office.

Sheriff Johnny Schulte accompanied the Rev. Robert Gilpin, pastor of the Methodist Church of Brenham; the Rev. James H. Frazier, rector of Brenham's St. Peter's Episcopal Church; the Rev. Dan Zimmerman, pastor Ebenezer Lutheran church, and the Rev. Robert Pfennig, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church.

The nature of the questions asked the ministers was not revealed. Results of the tests were to be given Schulte today.

In his church bulletin in February, the Rev. Mr. Fraaer had charged that a wide open bawdy house was operating near Brenham. The Washington County Ministerial Association appointed the four to deliver a protest and to seek grand jury action.

When the grand jury probe began, calls were made to grand jury members threatening their children. Later, calls came threatening to blow up the Brenham schools. A 24-hour guard was posted, and the caller said in two calls Thursday that the schools would be blown up unless the guard was removed.

No incidents have occurred at Brenham schools.

One of the grand jurors, Charles McLendon Hurst, Jr., was committed to the state mental hospital at Austin early Thursday after Schulte said he admitted that he had set fire to his own business in Chappell Hill Wednesday. He had been one of the first jurors to report a threat.

Schulte said Hurst denied having any connection with the threatening calls.

Education Panel Meets

The Education Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce launched its year's work at a session Thursday afternoon at the chamber office.

At the outset of the session, J. L. Browning, chairman, outlined the program of work for the year.

Buford Browning, County School Superintendent, gave the committee a report on work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Junior College Task Force committee, of which he is a member. He said prospects for better higher education facilities in West Texas are likely to be enhanced because of the WTCC project.

The local committee will again present medals to the top 10 scholars in each of the three classes at Snyder Senior High School. Also, the committee was advised that it would help host the annual meeting of District IV, Texas State Teachers Association, in March of 1968.

Britisher Ready To Swear The Earth Is Really Flat

By EDDY GILMORE

DOVER, England (AP) — "Of course the earth's not round," said Samuel Shenton. "It's flat."

Flat?

"No man knows the ultimate shape of the earth," he replied, "but that portion that we live on is most definitely flat.

"No man will ever know what the whole complexity is like, I suppose, because it goes beyond his sphere of observation, investigation and comprehension."

Speaking very slowly, patiently, even gently, he added: "The small area that we occupy is actually deep within the earth, and yields to water levels, horizons and horizontals and is quite correctly termed — a flat earth."

But what about those photographs taken by the astronauts?

"That's right up my street," he answered. "The astronauts took their pictures with wide-vision lens. The wide-angle lens is what distorts. It's a deception of the public and it isn't right.

"People today are unable to conceive of the earth mass in any other form than that of a globe. Consequently, they are very easily persuaded that the press, TV, and films present the true picture of 'space' flights."

Shenton, a retired sign painter and a man of property, is an elected fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and the Royal Geographical Society. Astronomy and geography have been his hobbies since he was 16.

At 63, Shenton is secretary of the International Flat Earth Research Society, whose headquarters are at his home, 24 London Road, in Dover.

Warming now to his theory, he continued: "Flat earthists hold that, rather than being a self-evolved, whirling, gyrating globe, the earth is of special construction, and absolutely motionless."

He swallowed, smiled patiently, and continued:

"If you can prove, or anyone else can prove, that the orbital speed of the earth is 66,000 miles per hour, some 20 miles per second, and explain how still water can be convex, well, I'll guarantee you one thing. I'll shut up and say nothing more about the earth being flat.

"I maintain that the assertion of this fantastic speed of the earth — unsupported by evidence — is definitely a crime. While such proofs are lacking, our younger generation should not be brain-conditioned to accept orthodox speculations as facts."

Shenton receives 20 to 40 letters a day from all over the world, many from the United States.

"I really can't answer them all," he said, "because for one thing, I'd go broke buying postage stamps."

He held forth a letter dated Feb. 21, 1967 and postmarked Eldorado, Iowa.

It said in part: "Our entire physics class of 14 and our instructor at Eldorado, Iowa, are seriously worried about the prevailing scientific attitude towards the shape of the earth. The nature of our concern lies with the unscientific explanation of the earth's spherical shape.

"We support your society's attempts to show the true flat shape of the earth. We agree so heartily with your organization that we wish to become connected with it, if not through actual membership, perhaps through associate membership."

But Mr. Shenton, what about those ships that disappear over the horizon?

"Ah," he replied with an air of gentle resignation, "that is the oldest one of all, perhaps.

"They seem to vanish because of the perspective. No astronaut has ever gone around a ball-like earth just as no ship has ever gone around a ball-like earth.

"See here, now. If one stands at the base of the Dover cliffs, beneath old Dover Castle, looking eastward, one sees a water level, a sea horizon.

"Now go to a point on higher ground near St. Radigund's behind the town. Here one observes that the horizon has equally risen and is then cutting through the castle keep some 350 feet above the original position. This would not be possible upon a globe."

With an answer to every question, he is very emphatic on the difficulties of spacemen in catching up with the earth's orbital speed.

Suggest to him that the atmosphere is carried around by the earth, and indeed, is a part of the earth, he smiles slowly and says:

"I have counted five different layers of cloud going in different directions — a very hard thing to do."

"That would never be so if there was the gradient of the orbital speed. It would all be carried along together."

He said the parent of the International Flat Earth Research Society was American.

"Yes, it really started in America in the 1870s when it was known as the Universal Zetetic Society, searching to know rather than theorizing. The headquarters were in New York."

Shenton said that George Bernard Shaw attended one of the meetings here, stood up during the discussion and said he found the arguments very persuasive.

"He added that the discussion had led him to the conclusion that the earth was not flat but like a cylinder," said Shenton.

Shenton and his views come in for a lambasting.

"I get a lot of adverse publicity, of course," he said with some resignation. "People think I'm a crank and so on, but that's all right because, you see, young people are getting interested."

He stopped and looked off in the direction of the white cliffs.

from Saigon to the Cambodian border.

The dead on the Tay Ninh battlefield also included men of the Viet Cong 70th Regiment, considered the "palace guard" for the top Red headquarters believed concealed in the Tay Ninh jungles.

The possibility that the Red bunker complex contained elements of this Communist headquarters, called the Central Office for South Vietnam — COSVN — was perhaps the reason for the fierce Red reaction to the 1st Infantry Division probe.

Intelligence officers moved quickly behind the fleeing Reds to determine if, in fact, the long sought COSVN headquarters had been found.

The 1st Division moved a task force of one battalion into the battle area by helicopter Friday. The helicopter landing zone in the jungle clearing turned out to be almost next door to the Red bunker area.

Reconnaisance patrols moving out from the zone fell under withering Red gunfire. A helicopter was shot down and reinforcements were quickly called in — as well as air and artillery strikes.

Saturday morning the U.S. task force numbered perhaps 2,000 men. They huddled in foxholes and hastily dug bunkers at dawn as a Red mortar and artillery barrage rolled over them and the Viet Cong assault came charging through the brush.

With jets and artillery chopping close to the U.S. line, the infantrymen weathered the assault, a fresh U.S. battalion of about 750 men came charging through in an assault that hurled back the Viet Cong.

By midmorning the Viet Cong units were trying to extricate themselves and heading for the border less than four miles away.

Deadline Near For Auto Inspections

Motor vehicles owners had reached one deadline Saturday and another one was on the horizon. The license tag deadline was April 1.

In just two weeks, April 15, all vehicles must have new inspection stickers displayed on their windshield of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division of the Department of Public Safety reminded.

Hensley estimated that about 30 per cent of the vehicles are without the new stickers. After the April 15 deadline, owners of cars without new stickers will be subject to arrest and fine. Cost of an inspection is $1, plus the cost of any repairs or adjustments which may be required to qualify the vehicle for a sticker.

An inspection includes the following items: Horn; windshield wiper (as originally equipped); brakes (service); beam indicator, if car sold new after Jan. 1, 1948; tail lamp (1); stoplight (1) if car sold new after Jan. 1, 1948; license plate light (1); red rear reflectors (2) if car sold new after Jan. 1, 1948 (may be part of tail lamp or separate); headlamps (2); motor, serial or ID number.

MRS. JERRY RAY MARTIN

Miss O'Dell, Mr. J. Martin Wed In Colorado City Rites

The Twenty - second and Austin Street Church of Christ, Colorado City, was the setting on March 25th at 8 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Glenda Faye O'Dell of Colorado City and Mr. Jerry Ray Martin of Snyder.

Brother Batten, Northside Church of Christ minister officaited at the doublering rites. The altar arch was entwined with greenery, flanked by branched candelabras holding white tapers and baskets of white gladiolus graced either side.

Musical selections was a recording from Harding Choir, "Wedding March" and songs, "Because," "O, Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil I. O'Dell, 949 East Eixteenth Street, Colorado City, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Gilliand, 2901 Avenue T, Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length dress of slipper satin. The semi-fitted skirt swept to fullness in the back with appliques centered with pearls. The Chantilly lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline, off-shoulder sleeves were fitted and came to a point over the hands that buttoned with five covered buttons at the wrist. A seed pearl tiara held her illusion veil.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, centered with a white corsage.

Cheryl Becker of Borger was maid of honor. She wore an apricot silk shantung. A-line dress with short sleeves and carried long stem white carnations. Her headdress was a net circlet with teardrop pearls around the head band and scattered over the net.

Mr. Gilliand attended his step-son as best man. Pat Alexander of Snyder was groomsman. Gary O'Dell of Colorado City, brother of the bride, and Gaylon Buckland of Midland, uncle of the bride lighted candles.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a cutwork cloth over apricot centered with an arrangement of white roses on an elevated crystal stand. The bridal cake was adorned with apricot colored roses. The grooms table was covered with a blue cloth, centered with burning tapers in crystal holders. Chocolate cake and coffee was served from the grooms table and cake and punch from the bridal table. Mrs. Fred Womack, Dee Hester and Jerry Lynn Davis served refreshments. Vonita Harris registered guests.

For her wedding trip the bride chose an apricot and white tweed tunic over an apricot shantung sheath dress with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Colorado City High School. The groom attended Snyder High School and is employed by Holder Construction Co.

Out-of-town guests were from Tripoli, North Africa, Odessa, Marshall, Snyder, Midland, Weatherford, Addison, Ballinger and Lubbock, Texas, and Savanna, Illinois.

Idea From Ancients

Many homemakers keep bread and rolls warm from oven to table by borrowing an idea that is as old as baking. They place a warm ceramic tile — hot stones were once used for this purpose — in the bottom of the breadbasket. Because real ceramic tile already has been baked at 2000 degrees during manufacture, warming it up in the oven won't hurt it or cause any other problems. That's also why ceramic tile countertops are the best hot plates in modern kitchens.

Colored Joints

Colored grout, the material that fills the joints between ceramic tiles, is usually made to order and mixed at the job site by a tile expert. While coloring grout is a tricky business for the amateur, the trade association of the nation's ceramic tile manufacturers notes, it presents few problems to the skilled craftsman.

Malter Lemon Puffs

2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup each butter and honey
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons each flour and lemon juice
¼ cup malted cereal granules
1 cup milk

In small bowl, beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in sugar; continue to beat until stiff; reserve. Without washing beater, in medium bowl, cream the butter, honey and lemon rind; thoroughly beat in egg yolks. Add flour, lemon juice and milk; stir to combine — don't worry about curdled look. Stir in cereal. Fold in reserved egg whites. Turn into six 5-ounce custard cups; place in pan of hot water with water coming up almost as high as pudding mixture. Bake in a slow (325 degrees oven 40 minutes or until top is golden brown and firm. (There will be a cakelike topping and a custardlike bottom.) Chill and serve without turning out.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Loyd West, 318 Thirty-sixth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jimmie Fern, to William Randal Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Phillips, 937 East Fifteenth Street in Colorado City. The bride-elect is a senior at Snyder High School. The wedding is planned for June 10th at Avenue D Baptist Church. (Photo by Wolfe Studio)

Watercress And Beet Salad

1 large bunch watercress
1 can (1 pound) crinkle-cut sliced pickled beets, drained
2 tablespoons olive oil
Seasoning salt to taste

Break off tough ends of stems from watercress but leave in sprigs; there should be about 1 quart slightly packed down. Wash in cold water, drain thoroughly; wrap in towel and chill. At serving time, turn all ingredients into salad bowl and toss well. Makes 6 servings. (The pickled beets called for are a delightfully seasoned but mild party-style variety.)

Boost For Breakfast

Here's something different to do with scrambled eggs for a first meal of the day: cream a (3 ounce) package of cream cheese until fluffy, then add slowly a cup of scalded milk. Season with salt and pepper. Add 6 eggs which have been beaten slightly. Melt lard or drippings in frying-pan, then add 1 cup cubed leftover ham or luncheon meat to cook with the eggs. Cook slowly stirring only until eggs are set.

This ham and egg breakfast dish is delightful served with toasted English muffin, cinnamon buns or toast.

Colonial Examination

THE COLONIAL EMPIRES. By D. K. Fieldhouse.

This is the first volume in the projected 35-volume Delacorte World History series, and the debut is auspicious. Prof. Fieldhouse, a British historian, has managed to examine the phenomenon of colonial empires in a remarkable unifying perspective — really the first successful effort of this kind.

He avoids the emotional and nationalistic diversions and disgressions that seem inherent in the subject. The result is a vastly informative and thoroughly balanced study which generalizes without oversimplifying documents without tedium, and is dispassionate without flabbiness.

Fieldhouse separates empires before 1815 from those established later. The earlier empires were mostly plantation and settlement colonies, as in the Americas; their successors, created in the dramatic shift of world power to the West, were largely conquests that imposed European rule on indigenous populations.

The move to independence marks the first group. But as Fieldhouse shows, this was hardly an inevitable consumation. It resulted generally from a loosening of colonial loyalism — which remained powerful for a long time — through changes in relationships originating in the home countries; for example, the interruption of effective rule of Spain and Portugal, the British decision to involve its American colonies in continental defense.

Most of the earlier colonies (and some of the later ones) were established not by calculated imperial policy, but by private enterprisers and adventurers whom the flag followed — sometimes with reluctance. As to the colonies by conquest in Africa, Asia and the Far East, here too Fieldhouse separates fact from long-nurtured legends which cast the European powers in the role of unrelieved villainy.

His chapter on the dissolution of empire after World War II supplies a corrective — a chapter which is one of the best and most cogent in an excellent book.

Mix mashed avocado with creamstyle cottage cheese and season to taste; serve as a spread for crackers or celery wedges.

Roast Beef In Gravy

It happens in the best of families: there's roast beef left over but no gravy. Don't fret. Simply open a can of onion soup and dilute, if necessary. Thicken with flour and water for gravy and heat the roast beef slices in it to serve over bread as a hot open-face sandwich or over a mound of mashed potatoes, noodles or rice.

Atheneum Hears Program On Fine Arts In Greece

Atheneum Study Club met at Martha Ann Woman's Club Tuesday, March 28th.

Mrs. Anne von Roeder gave a most interesting program on "Fine Arts In The Country of Greece."

She said in part: "Even the most gifted individual, whether poet or physicist, will not realize his full potential or make his fullest contribution to his times unless his imagination has been kindled by the aspirations and accomplishments of those who have gone before him. Humanist scholars have therefore the privilege and obligation of interpreting the past to each new generation of men who necessarily must live in one small corner for one little stretch of time.

"Greece, immortal land, certainly has its place among the great ages of man. When we see it on the map, the little country of Greece stretches like a many fingered hand down into the Mediterranean. And the whole of Greece which is only about the size of Illinois rocked the cradle of our civilization. From Greece came the finest ideas of beauty, of government, of philosophy, the earliest ethics of medicine. The Greeks had a word for most of these ideas — democracy, algebra, geometry, architecture, ethics, drama, poetry, politics, athletics — and many nations have taken over their words as well as their ideas.

"There were earlier great ages, but those individuals who contributed to the history of Egypt, Mesopamia and others are largely anonymous. Classical Greece was different. We know the names of more than 20,000 individuals in Athens alone, who contributed to this great age, Classical Greece.

"Greece has always had a certain enchantment over the imaginations of men. Even the Romans, who took Greece into their empire were deeply impressed by it.

"During the height of the Renaissance in the 15th century, Rome at first had the attention. Behind Rome's glory, scholar's and poets felt the powerful and alluring past of the Greeks. So great was Greek prestige that Greek ideas of medicine, astronomy and geography were accepted until the 17th century, with the birth of a new scientific era of which we are a part.

"No people can afford to neglect their origin, and the modern world is far too deeply indebted to Greece to accept unthinking and with ingratitude what it has inherited.

"The great contribution of the Greeks was the concept of the worth of the individual. At this time large parts of the earth were dominated by absolute monarchs of the East. In Greece, a man was respected for his own sake, not as an instrument for a king or lord. Greeks sought at all costs to be themselves and they were helped by the nature of their country.

"We find that the Greeks were nursed in a hard school of life. Greece, geographically was much the same in ancient times as today. A land of limestone mountains separated by deep valleys. In Greece every district was separated from the next by mountains or the sea; central control by one ruler was impossible. Men were forced to be masters at many things, crafts and accomplishments. The Greek climate, dry and exhilarating, was gifted with the most magical skys. Greeks were near the sea and they enjoy this kind of privilege even today. Never were they more than 75 miles from the sea. From the hard outlines of the mountains and the sea the Greeks derived aesthetic ideals which were to be fulfilled in works of art."

Following the program Mrs. Dorothy Kayser, president, presided over a short business session. Mrs. von Roeder read the minutes of the previous meeting at which Hernan Hechenleitner, our foreign exchange student from Chile gave the program. The American Field Service is a major project of Atheneum Club and one of the highlights of the club year is when the foreign exchange student presents the program.

Color Ideas Change

Color preferences are apt to go in cycles — a hue being fashionable one decade, unpopular the next and then returning to favor. But only recently have home-owners, for the first time wanted bright colors for bathrooms and kitchens. This demand is revolutionizing the U. S. ceramic tile business the trade association of manufacturers adds. Whereas domestic tiles were available in 200 colors just five years ago now there are five times that many.

Mini-Beans

1 pound snap beans, tipped and washed
¼ to ½ cup boiling water
¼ cup butter, cut into thin slices
¾ teaspoon salt

On a cutting board, bunch about half a dozen beans together at a time and slice crosswise into about ½-inch pieces; turn into a 10-inch skillet with ¼ cup of the water, the butter and salt. Heat quickly, stirring until butter melts; cover tightly and let bubble gently until tender - crisp — about 10 minutes. If liquid evaporates before cooking time is over, add remaining ¼ cup water; in this case increase heat if necessary so liquid evaporates by end of cooking. Makes 6 servings.

Parmesan Omelet

4 large eggs
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon butter

Beat eggs until thick and ivory color; add milk and salt and beat to combine. Lightly beat in cheese. In thick-bottom 10-inch skillet with overproof handle, melt the butter so it coats pan. Add egg mixture; cook slowly until puffy and bottom is slightly browned — 5 minutes or longer. Bake in 325-degree oven until knife inserted in center comes out clean — 5 minutes or longer. Cut in wedges and serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

It's helpful to have two wire cooling racks in a kitchen. After a baked product is inverted on one rack and the pan removed, the second rack may be used to turn the product (usually cake or bread) right side up.

Hash With Eggs

Canned corned beef hash will satisfy appetites as well as the need to see something attractive on the table. Cut the hash in slices and place in individual casseroles to heat in the oven. While the hash heats, make a medium cream sauce and add sliced, hard-cooked eggs to it. Or, make a cream sauce and add deviled eggs to it. When the hash casseroles are ready to go to the table, spoon eggs over hash, dust with paprika and serve.

Is Gadget-Laden New Car Dangerously Defective Auto

By SALLY RYAN

DETROIT (AP) — Is doubt chilling the American motorist's love affair with his automobile?

Once he heard rumors about playful assembly line workers sealing loose parts into car doors to rattle forever. A nuisance perhaps, but hardly perilous.

But now his air-conditioned, gadget-loaded baby is making front-page news. They say she may be dangerously defective. Her brakes may fail or her steering column may crack while he is parking. The door won't stay shut, or the stop light doesn't work.

Since last September, more than one million cars, trucks and buses have been recalled to dealers' garages across the country to check for potentially dangerous defects. That is more than one in every five rolling off the assembly lines. Thousands of others have required repairs. Foreign cars, even Rolls Royces, also have been recalled.

Since Jan. 1, automobile sales have plunged 21.2 per cent lower than a year ago, and Detroit is on the defensive.

Officially, automakers blame bad winter weather, the war in Vietnam and tight money. Privately they say the national debate over auto safety and the publicity given recent callbacks of defective vehicles also have hurt.

But the industry does have its defenders.

"They make 9 million or 10 million vehicles a year, and a few parts are bound to get by," said Lawrence Patrick, a Wayne State University professor and vehicle safety expert. "I think they are taking a bum rap. No other equipment is as reliable. Look what happened to the astronauts" who were killed in a flash fire at Cape Kennedy.

One of the defects caught could have caused brake failure on 12 Chevrolet school buses. The buses were in use, carrying children, when General Motors recalled them.

General Motors also recalled 269,000 cars to replace their collapsible steering columns after eight of them cracked under stress — the sort of thing that happens while parking. It will cost GM more than $5 million to replace them, industry sources estimate.

Ford rolled out 217,000 cars before it discovered that their power brakes might not work properly in cold weather if the car had been idle. Ford blamed "a faulty vacuum booster purchased from a supplier."

The auto manufacturers won't say just how many of the vehicles recalled actually are defective, but insist it is a small percentage. They say recall campaigns are nothing new — that of all the 1960 to 1966 models, more than 9.2 million were called back.

What is new about the recall campaigns are the company announcements in Detroit.

"I never have known of a company or a model (year) that didn't have some defects," said Elmer W. Bernitt, American Motors Corp. vice president. "Naturally we are not proud."

"If your wife burns a cake at home, she doesn't run out and tell the neighbors. She quietly throws it in the garbage can," he said.

The automobile manufacturers hushed up their problems for years, even leaving it to their dealers to warn motorists of potential defects. But they are telling the neighbors now, in public announcements and letters.

Their new frankness was inspired by a law that went into effect Sept. 9, obliging manufacturers to notify the newly established National Traffic Safety Agency of defects.

"The biggest challenge is to get the motorist to bring in his car," said Edward D. Rollert, General Motors executive vice president. "It may take us two years or more to get all of the cars in and checked on some campaigns."

"People are more aware now," Harry E. Chesebrough, Chrysler vice president, reported. "We had a recall campaign before Nader came along, and it was pretty serious. But people wrote back and said, 'Don't bother me — my car is OK'."

Nader is Ralph Nader, the tall, darkly handsome bachelor and Harvard-trained lawyer whose best-seller "Unsafe at Any Speed" aroused public concern over automobiles.

Nader is concerned about recalling defective cars, too. He says states should suspend the license of a motorist who, notified of a potentially dangerous defect, doesn't have it inspected and repaired.

"If he wants to endanger himself, that's one thing," Nader said. "But he's endangering others, too."

"It's a problem to re-educate the public to pay attention when you yell," said William E. Burnett, Ford executive engineer. "They just don't get alarmed like they should."

For its part, the automobile industry is throwing everything from computers and road simulators to black light and X-rays into the search for defects, and understandably so. The defects cost millions of dollars to repair and may hasten a switch to a competitor.

Quality control measures go back to the steel plant, and other suppliers.

"We don't want single one in which a person has a chance of having an accident," GM's Rollert said. "We don't knowingly put out a defective car. The problems show up later."

They may be caught by the companies themselves — on the assembly line, in a laboratory or at the proving grounds. A supplier may discover he used the wrong steel. Or an irate new owner may complain.

"We are demanding standards higher than most people are aware of," said Chesebrough of Chrysler.

"There always have been defects and there always will be because we're just not that smart," said an engineer at the GM proving grounds at Milford, Mich., where three shifts of drivers keep cars going around the clock on 36,000-mile durability tests. "The problems used to be more major. Nowadays, if you have a rod go through the side of an engine, that's an event."

"Actually there are a lot less defects now" claims Rollert, who has been at GM 32 years. "Look how complicated the automobile has become."

To Head Department

DALLAS (AP)—Atlantic Richfield Co. has announced formation of a new land and acquisitions department for its North American producing division. Louis F. Davis, senior vice president, named William C. Allbright head of the department. Allbright is a Buffalo, Tex., native and joined the firm in 1938 after being graduated from the University of Texas.

Drug Arrests Soar

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch says 24,244 adults and 5,034 juveniles were arrested on drug charges in California in 1966, both records. He said arrests of adults increased 32 per cent from 1965 while arrests of juveniles soared 87 per cent.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CORK

QUESTION: Where does cork come from and why does it float?

* * *

ANSWER: Pick up an empty glass, lift it up and down, and you will feel some weight. Now fill it with water and see how much heavier it feels. This demonstrates that water is much heavier than the air the glass originally contained. This is why a cork (upper left) bobs around on top of the water. Cork comes from the outer bark of the cork tree and is composed of millions of minute cells which contain nothing but air. These cells are like a mass of air bubbles with tough walls which keep the water out. Since it weighs only one-fifth as much as water, cork can't push the heavy water aside to sink down, and so it rides lightly on top. Life jackets float and hold up the people to whom they are attached because compartments in them are filled with cork or another light substance, such as kapok, which acts in the same way. A collar of the floating material will hold the wearer's head up if in the water, but the arms of a life jacket are left free for swimming or handling boats as shown in the picture. It is a good idea for young people to wear life jackets when in small boats.

Rains Too Light To Break Drought

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — General rains covered the state late last week and continued over the past weekend but they weren't drought breakers. The rains did add some optimism to the agricultural picture, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at mildweek.

The rains were responsible for an upsurge in planting activities, he said. Corn and grain sorghum planting are very active from North Central Texas southward and eastward, he added. Cotton planting also picked up steam, rice planting is very active, and the sprigging of coastal bermuda grass also increased.

Ranges and pastures will benefit from the moisture, but much more is needed to get grazing forage off to a fast start. Livestock are still in fair to good condition but feeding still is on a general basis, he said, on the basis of reports from district agents.

W. W. Grisham Jr. from Amarillo reported moisture in the Panhandle was still very short. Dryland wheat suffered. Plowing and preplant irrigation were major activities.

About 45 per cent of the South Plains received one to two inches of rain, but in general, said Billy Gunter from Lubbock, the area are still very dry. Sugar beet planting is continuing.

Several Rolling Plains counties received as much as two inches of rain while others were in the inch range, reported Jamese Simmons from Vernon. But every county needs a lot more. Grain conditions improved.

North Central Texas got from a quarter to one and a half inches and the moisture situation is much improved, advised Ted Martin from Denton. Grains made good progress but prospects are still for a short crop. Ranges are greening. Farmers are busy planting corn and sorghum and sprigging coastal, he said.

General showers over the weekend improved tthe moisture situation in Northeast Texas but more is needed, reported R. S. loftis from Mt. Pleasant. Pastures are improving. Peaches were in full bloom.

Ray Siegmund at Ft. Stockton said his far West Texas district needs general moisture. Ranges are beginning to show some green color. Fruit and pecan trees are making good progress. Some cotton is being planted, goat and sheep shearing is continuing.

Pastures are greening up where rains have been received but more moisture is needed for th growth of weeds, grass and small grains in West Central Texas, reported Roy Huckabee from San Angelo. Land preparation is active but it is still too dry to plant in many areas. Livestock are still being fed.

All Central Texas counties reported some moisture, said John Burleson from Stephenville. Grain sorghum planting is making good progress. He added that sorghum planting had hardly started in several counties.

Tommy Hollmig at Nacogdoches said soil moisture in East Texas was still short to very short but that oats were furnishing light grazing. He said corn was being planted. Most peach trees have bloomed and pecans are budding, he noted. He described the area's calf crop as fair.

Weekend rains helped the short moisture situation in the Southeast and Upper Gulf Coastal district, reported R. J. Hodges from Richmond. Cotton, corn, grain sorghum and rice are showing good growth and vegetable planting is underway, he said. Livestock are still in fair to good condition.

Last Friday's rains were very beneficial but more is needed in South Texas, advised W. H. Lehmberg from Weslaco. He added that soil moisture now ranges from adequate to short. Most spring crops are planted. The harvesting of cabbage, carrots, citrus, cucumbers and onions continues active.

Ray (Ike) Boone, former major league infielder, scouts for the Boston Red Sox.

Charged In Rape-Slaying In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — John Robert Whirty, 22, charged with the rape and strangulation slaying of a 15-year-old Dallas girl, was in custody of Dallas police today.

Wirty, charged in the death of Rosie Marie Martin, a Dallas junior high school student, was arrested Friday as he worked on his first day at a job at a tractor distributing company in Olton, Tex., near Plainview.

He was taken to Olton from Plainview Friday night for arraignment there.

Whirty, charged in the death of Rosie Marie Martin, a Dallas junior high student, was arrested Friday as he worked as a handyman for a tractor distributing company in Olton.

Miss Martin was found strangled and apparently raped early Thursday near White Rock Lake in Dallas.

Whirty told reporters in Plainview he decided to seek work in West Texas when he ran out of money. He said he was on his way to California from Dallas.

Carl Mullins, a Texas highway patrolman, arrested Whirty at the tractor company after he noticed a motorcycle parked outside. Police said Miss Martin was picked up by a man on a motorcycle Wednesday night.

Dallas Homicide Capt. Will Fritz said Whirty had been living in Dallas and was wanted in Massachusetts as a parole violator.

Anonymous Call Is Checked Out

City Police received an anonymous telephone call at 12:37 a. m. Saturday. The caller stated that a man had been shot in the arm at the Son Davis Cafe on Avenue M.

Officers investigated the complaint but could find nothing out of the ordinary.

Quality Seed Are Good Investment

What are good seed worth? Plant breeders, processors and retailers know what they must receive for their product to stay in business, but the producer cannot always tell just how much quality seed are worth in any given year.

Billy Roach, local County Agent, reports that in a test conducted in Crosby County in 1964 and 1965, cotton seed collected at random from planter boxes varied in production from 473 pounds to 799 pounds of lint per acre within the same variety as compared with certified and registered seed. Not only did the yield fluctuate but the micronaire ranged from 3.4 to 4.7, fiber strength from 62.4 to 78.6. Staple length varied from .96 to 1.10.

Most seed collected from the planter boxes were either saved by the farmer or bought from his neighbor who had saved his own seed. This does not mean that a producer cannot produce and save good quality seed, but a well planned and carefully managed program is required.

The test indicated that there were seed mixture, since some of the plants had non-typical fruiting habits for the variety. Indications were that genetic changes had occurred when a line is propagated for several generations. Some of these could be unfavorable.

These trials indicate that all producers who save seed are not doing the best job of saving seed. The two-year average in this test show that producer-saved seed produced considerably less than registered and certified seed which would offset the higher cost of these seed. Therefore, Roach adds, whether he saves his own seed or procures them from a commercial source, the producer should take every precaution to assure that the seed he plants are of good quality and varietal purity.

Office To Be Opened

PRINCETON, W. Va. (ap) — State officials say the planned opening of a water resources division office in the Princeton area will provide more efficient handling of water pollution problems in the area.

ELLSWORTH, STOTTLEMYRE

Losers Lead Phils, Yankees To Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Ellsworth and Mel Stottlemyre, probably are the only major league leaders who won't be satisfied until somebody succeeds them.

Friday, Ellsworth and Stottlemyre took early measures to make sure they don't repeat as the losingest pitchers in baseball.

Ellsworth, who dropped 22 games for the Chicago Cub in 1966, became the first pitcher this spring to go nine innings in hurling Philadelphia past Cincinnati 2-0 in an exhibition game Friday night.

Stottlemyre, whose 20 losses were high in the American League, pitched seven scoreless innings as the New York Yankees downed Boston 3-1 in the first major league exhibition ever played in the Virgin Islands.

Ellsworth, dealt to the Phillies in a winter trade for pitcher Jim Gulp, tamed Cincinnati on two hits in his best showing of the spring.

Only 103 pitches at Clearwater, Fla. He walked only one, struck out [illegible] and [illegible] three double plays.

The 27-year-old left-hander had an 8-22 record last season.

Stottlemyre, who won 20 in 1965 but finished 12-20, as the Yankees tumbled to last place in 1966, stymied the Red Sox on only 103 pitches at Clearwater, Fla. He walked only one, struck out [illegible] and [illegible] three double plays.

The 27-year-old left-hander had an 8-22 record last season.

Stottlemyre, who won 20 in 1965 but finished 12-20, as the Yankees tumbled to last place in 1966, stymied the Red Sox on two hits in his best showing of the spring.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell, Jorge, 1966, fired seven shutout innings as the Indians trimmed the Cubs 6-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Seven-run innings carried the Baltimore Orioles and Houston Astros to victories over Pittsburgh and Los Angeles in other night games.

The Orioles exploded with two out in the seventh, erased a 4-1 Pirate lead and won 8-4 at Ponce Puerto Rico. Luis Aparicio started the rally with a double off Woody Fryman. Two walks, four singles and Dave Johnson's triple completed the seven-run burst.

Houston pummelled right-hander Don Sutton for seven runs in the second inning and went on to bury the Dodgers 13-1 in the Astrodome.

A pair of two-run homers by Jim Davenport powered San Francisco to a 10-6 victory over California at Phoenix, Ariz., while the Chicago White Sox scored twice in the sixth inning on a passed ball and Ron Hansen's double for a 6-4 decision over the New York Mets at Sarasota, Fla.

The Giants, with a 14-6 record, and the White Sox, 13-6 top the exhibition standings.

Mike Shannon's grand slam homer and Lou Brock's three-run triple paced St. Louis to a 12-2 romp over Kansas City at St. Petersburg, Fla. Rico Carty knocked in two runs with a double and triple in Atlanta's 4-2 victory over Minnesota at West Palm Beach, Fla.; and Washington pushed over two runs in the 10th inning to edge Detroit 3-1 at Lakeland, Fla.

Cougars Set Pace

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The University of Houston led five of six divisions as its own All-America Intercollegiate Invitation Golf Tournament moved into the final round today. Red-headed Houston junior Hal Underwood scrambled to a 68 Friday despite gusty winds.

He was in and out of the woods all through third - round play, but he had 15 one-putts on the par—72 Pine Forest Country Club course and, at 210, was five strokes under Bob Barbarossa of Houston and Lee McDowell of Texas A&M, who had a 73 and 72, respectively, Friday.

Today's action sent Houston against North Texas in the match play championship and Texas A&M against Arizona State for the consolation match play championship.

Other individual medalist leaders included Colorado's Hale Irwin, fourth with a 218, and Jimmy Clayton of North Texas, two shots back at 220. Mike Morley of Arizona State and Chip Stewart of Texas at Austin went into the last day tied for sixth and seventh at 221.

In team medal, Houston stood 31 shots under Texas-Austin, still runnerup at 873-904. Arizona State, North Texas and Texas A&M trailed the Longhorns at 906, 916 and 922.

Underwood and Barbarossa stood ready to shatter the two-ball record today. Their 194 after three rounds makes it necessary for them to compile a 68 today to beat the 263 set by Rex Baxter and Frank Wharton in 1957. North Texas was close behind in two-ball at 200.

In the four - ball category, Houston led after three rounds 188-194 over North Texas.

Gypsy Joe Beats Cokes

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gypsy Joe Harris is a clown. And he can fight too, as he showed in beating welterweight champion Curtis Cokes in a non-title 10-rounder Friday night.

But the unbeaten 22-year-old Philadelphia oddball is not another Henry Armstrong or Beau [illegible] admirers claimed. Not yet, anyway. Give the long-armed gnome time and he may be up with them.

The brawny, 5-foot-5½ comer made a lot of unorthodox moves, spinning like a top at times, and he apparently befuddled the seasoned, 29-year-old champion from Dallas, Tex., through the first half of the fight. In the second half, Gypsy Joe clowned more and fought less.

Cokes showed some fast hands and firepower in the last half, especially in the final two blazing rounds when they stood toe-to-toe and slugged away.

For Cokes it was the old story of too little and too late, and the unanimous decision went to Harris who wound up an 8-5 favorite at fight time.

The slender, 5-foot-9 champion earned $9,000 for his Madison Square Garden debut and suffered his first defeat in two years. His record is 45-9-3. He also got a strenuous workout for his title defense against France's Francois Pavilla in Dallas May 19.

Harris, 17-0 in 28 months of pro fighting, collected about $5,000 from the gate of $25,000 paid by 7,000 including a big Philadelphia group.

Ice Playoffs On Tap

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The order of finish and playoff pairings of the National Hockey League's second, third and fourth place teams will be determined tonight and Sunday — the final weekend of regular season NHL action.

The Stanley Cup Playoffs begin next Thursday with only one thing certain — that one of the two semifinal series that night will open in Chicago.

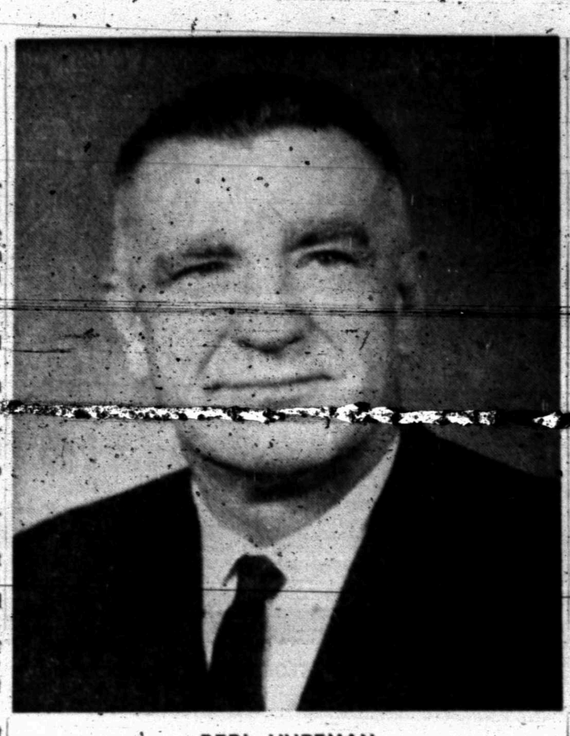

The Black Hawks clinched their first NHL championship last month and will play the third place finishers in the first round of playoff action. That could be Montreal, New York or Toronto. The three clubs are separated by only two points going into tonight's play.

The Rangers, enjoying their first trip to the playoffs in five years, play at Toronto tonight and then host Chicago in a nationally televised afternoon game Sunday.

Montreal, which is second, one point ahead of New York going into the final weekend, hosts the Black Hawks tonight and then plays at Detroit Sunday.

Ethel's Nag Was Favored

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' reflected glory was 7-5 favorite today to add the Florida Derby to his list of triumphs and become the winningest colt of the winter season.

Jorge Velasquez, leading rider at Gulfstream Park with 29 winners, will be on the speedy son of Jester out of Lysistrata by Palestinian, who already has won the Bahamas, Everglades and Flamingo Stakes, earning $138,774 during February and March.

And if Reflected Glory doesn't get the job done, trainer Hirsel Jacobs has Reason to Hail, under Walter Blum, to back up the top one. Reason to Hail finished second in the Hibiscus and third in the Fountain of Youth.

Maine opposition to the Jacobs pair is expected to come from Frances A. Genter's In Reality, under Earlie Fires; Wheatley Stable's Great Power, with Braulio Baeza, and Tumble Wind, owned Jointly by Rock Spring farm and Llangollen Farm, with Willie Shoemaker riding.

The 1⅛-mile feature will pit five Florida-breds against six from Kentucky.

With 11 starters, the race will gross $139,400 and the winner will get $99,400 and a specially-designed silver and gold trophy.

Post time is 5:18 p.m., EST.

Salukis Sack Up Crown

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Southern Illinois, the so-called small college which keeps gathering big championships, successfully defended its NCAA small college which keeps gathering big championships, successfully defended its NCAA gymnastics crown Friday night.

Southern scored 189.50 points to 187.40 for runnerup Michigan. Iowa trailed with 186.90.

Penn State was fourth with 186.15 followed by Iowa State with 185.55, UCLA 182.30, Springfield, Mass., 177.65, Southern California 176.75, Arizona 176.30, California 175.95 and Colorado State 166.90.

Temple, one of 12 teams qualifying for the finals, did not show up.

The all-around crown was captured by defending champion Steven Cohn of Penn State with 55.75 points.

AMES, Iowa (AP—Clay Stapleton, football coach at Iowa State University, was named athletic director Friday to succeed the resigning Gordon Chalmers.

Huffman To Speak At Sports Fete

The Snyder High School athletes will be honored by the Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church Monday evening, April 3rd. A film "Triumph of Tokyo," will be shown in the auditorium of the church at 6:30 p.m. followed by a banquet in the fellowship hall at 7 p.m.

Feature speaker will be Berl Huffman of Texas Tech. Huffman is freshman football coach, head baseball coach and spinner of stories that keep audiences laughing continually. The veteran coach has a reservoir of jokes as deep as Milton Berle and a homespun philosophy of coaching and boys that comes only from his own vast experience, it was stated.

Irish Okay Grid Playoff

DETROIT (AP) — Notre Dame football coach Ara Parseghian said Friday Notre Dame is willing to lift its long-standing ban on post-season games to determine a national collegiate champion.

Parseghian told an audience at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner in Detroit under what conditions his team would play in a deciding game.

"I'd like to see a committee formed of selected athletic directors, football coaches and writers," said Parseghian.

"At the end of the season, they'd meet and decide if two teams are close enough to being No. 1 to have a playoff."

A strong demand for such a playoff arose at the end of last season, when Notre Dame and Michigan State played to a 10-10 standstill. But Notre Dame ended the season a few points ahead of Michigan State in the football polls.

FIRES RECORD 131

Archer Shatters Greensboro Par

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — George Archer is leading the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament, but he can't get Georgia off his mind.

Specifically, Augusta, Ga., and the Masters Tournament opening next Thursday were in his thoughts as he took a two-stroke lead into today's third round of the $125,000 GGO.

A record-matching 64 Friday gave him a record-setting 131 for 36 holes and the 6-foot-6 Californian has virtually assured himself of a place in the Masters.

Two places remain to be filled. They go to the uninvited professionals with the best winter tour performance. Archer led the top contenders as play began in this event, and his 67-64 start has about wrapped up the coveted invitation.

He became eligible for the 1964 Masters as a result of reaching the 1963 U.S. Amateur semifinals, but lost that opportunity when he turned pro in January, 1964.

Archer put together a pair of 32s Friday to equal the Greensboro Open record over the 7,000-yard, par 36-35—71 Sedgefield Country Club Course. His 11-under-par score for 36 holes was two under the tournament mark.

Archer finished his round on the front nine Friday and wound up in a flourish with an eagle three on his final hole. A No. 4 wood second shot from a downhill lie left him a three-foot putt for the eagle.

Earlier he had strung together four successive birdies.

Johnny Pott, two-stroke leader after the first round, shot to 68 for second place at 133, one shot ahead of Dave Stockton, who fashioned his second 67.

Defending champion Doug Sanders, who has been making hay on the par three holes, shot 68 for 135 and fourth place. Five of the seven shots he has shaved from par have come on the par threes.

76ers Take 1-0 Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Someone in the Philadelphia 76ers' dressing room asked if K.C. Jones had "Hal Greeritus."

Greer, the 76ers' sharp-shooting jump shot artist, laughed heartily, then cautioned, "don't get him mad. This series isn't over yet."

The by-play took place after the 76ers trounced the Celtics 127-113 to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-7 final playoff series in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The teams play game No. 2 at Boston on Sunday.

San Francisco, leading 1-0, plays at St. Louis tonight in the second game of the Western finals.

For several years now, some sources have charged that Greer chokes up when he faces Boston and its dynamic, little guard, K.C. Jones.

They'll have to get a new book on the matchup. Greer has scored 76 points against the Celtics the last two times he has faced them. He collected 39 Friday night to lead an awesome Philadelphia assault on the famed Boston defense.

While Greer was pumping in 20 foot jumpers, Wilt Chamberlain demoralized the Celtics inside. The 7-foot-1 Most Valuable Player of the NBA scored 24 points, but more important, he grabbed 32 rebounds, handed out 12 assists and blocked a dozen Boston shots.

The 76ers romped to a 66-49 lead, increased it to 25 points at one stage of the second half and coasted home.

Colts Seek Derby Berth

BALTIMORE (AP) — A pair of Kentucky Derby possibles that have much to gain and more to lose face encouragement and elimination today in the $25,000-added Pimlico Stakes for 3-year-olds.

The Colts are Disciplinarian and Solo Landing, considered good prospects for the Triple Crown of the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes until they both were outdistanced by Damascus in the seven-furlong Bay Shore Stakes at Aqueduct.

A victory today could boost the chances for either and losses for one or both could conceivably eliminate them from the starting field on Derby day.

The Pimlico Stakes is a six-furlong race — considered a good distance for both Disciplinarian and Solo Landing.

Billiard Champion Pockets Title Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Luther Lassiter, of Elizabeth City, N.C., retained the world pocket billiard championship by defeating Jack Breit of Houston 150-73 in a 16-inning match that ended at early Saturday.

The match was the windup of the week-long round-robin tourney and drew a capacity audience in the ballroom of a mid-town hotel.

The victory gave Lassiter first prize of $3,000 and a 12-2 record in the final standings. Earlier in the day he had defeated Irving Crane of Rochester, N.Y. 150-117, but lost to Joe Balsis, Minersville, Pa., 150-75.

Cleveland Hopes Hinge On Health Of 3 Key Players

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — New manager Joe Adcock can only hope Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert and Larry Brown stay healthy.

If they do, the Cleveland Indians will improve their fifth place finish in the American League.

Until McDowell suffered a pinched nerve in his pitching arm and shortstop Brown was kayoed in a collision with outfielder Leon Wagner, the Indians were atop the standings last season.

Siebert didn't suffer arm trouble until the final month and led the hurlers with a 16-8 record, but he feels he can reach the 20-game winning circle and should have the past two years.

After leading the league until June 12, the Indians sagged and finished fifth, 17 games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

"You don't make up 17 games in a year unless a miracle happens," says Adcock. "A miracle is far from being likely.

"The pitching staff is my strength, definitely the ball club's strength," says the new manager.

Fred Whitfield owns first base and Max Alvis, despite a disappointing 1966, will be at third. Brown appears completely recovered from the multiple fractures suffered in the collision with Leon Wagner and has hit well in the spring.

Rocky Colavito and Wagner furnish power in the outfield although each leaves something to be desired defensively.

Chico Salmon, Vern Fuller, Pedro Gonzalez and Chuck Hinton fill in more than adequately where needed.

Joe Azcue's injured shoulder hampered his spring training yet he still figures as the No. 1 catcher although Duke Sims has made a strong bid to take over the backstop chores.

A trade brought Lee Maye to the Indians last winter in exchange for Jim Landis, and the left-handed batter provides additional bench strength.

Adcock looks on his new job with enthusiasm but observes, "In past years I had to worry about only one person, me. Now I have an entire squad."

Louisville Gets Cage Franchise

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville, Ky., joins the American Basketball Association with a franchise owned by an heiress and her husband. A 12th city is expected to be added before the weekend is over.

Some of the clubs in the new professional endeavor may also announce some coaching appointments.

John DeVoe of Indianapolis, Ind., denied the club made a big offer to the Detroit Piston's Tom Van Arsdale.

Oakland is negotiating with Bruce Hale University of Miami, Fla., coach and father-in-law of San Francisco Warrior star Rick Barry.

Those were developments at the ABA meeting which continues here through Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregory head the corporation awarded the Louisville franchise. Mrs. Gregory, 22, is the former Marie R. Reynolds, daughter of the late Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean and Sen. Robert Reynolds.

Denver, Colo., Atlanta, Memphis, Tenn., Cleveland, and Milwaukee, Wis., groups have bid for franchises.

Mikan said, "Some of the clubs have already signed coaches but want to make the announcements in their home cities."

The commissioner said rules will be set later but he personally favors three-points for field goals made from outside 25 feet.

Asked if any of the clubs had signed players, the commissioner replied, "No one has reported a signing to me."

Each club must post a $50,000 performance bond today and another of a like amount on May 1.

Mark Binstein of the New York franchise said the league office "is being funded in excess of $2 million to guarantee committments made by each club to field a team and abide by all committments.

Tigers Squeeze By Monahans, 3-2

EUNICE, N. M. — Winning pitcher Roy Hunter squeezed in Steve Moffett with a perfectly executed bunt in the bottom half of the 7th inning to give Snyder's Tigers a 3-2 verdict over Monahans in the opening round of the baseball tournament here Friday night.

Moffett crossed home plate with the deciding run on the squeeze play. He doubled to begin the rally and Terry Holt walked to put men on first and second. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch.

Snyder tallied its first run in the opening frame as Dink Foree reached first safely on an error. Mickey Almond lined a single, moving Foree to third. Then David Cadena singled, bringing in Foree.

Cadena socked a pitch over the left field fence in the 6th inning for the other Tiger run.

Monahans scored both of its runs in the third. They were unearned.

Hunter put down 14 Lobos on strike outs and gave up only two hits in going the distance.

The Tigers were due to tangle with Carlsbad at 2 p.m. Saturday in the semifinals. The winner was to meet the winner of the Lamesa-Eunice tussle in the finals Saturday night.

Lamesa took out Hobbs and Eunice socked Lovington in other opening round action. Carlsbad reached the semifinals with a triumph over Andwers.

Pennye Gets Diamond

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Randy Johnson, the former Texas A&I grid star now with the Atlanta Falcons, and Miss Pennye Wheeler of Cuero are to be married tonight in Grace Episcopal Church here.

Miss Wheeler is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Wheeler of Cuero.

The couple will make their home in Atlanta following a honeymoon in Houston and the Bahamas.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ken McLean, former Texas A&M split end, was signed as a free agent, the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League said Friday.

Porsche Is Darkhorse In Sebring Endurance Race

By F. T. MACFEELY

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — If Ford or Chaparral doesn't win the 12-hour Sebring endurance race Saturday, the way is open for undermuscled Porsche to give their bigger rivals the horsepower laugh.

A new Mark IV Ford with Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., and Bruce McLaren of New Zealand sharing the driver's seat, is the fastest in the field by far.

One of the Ford Mark II models which won here last year and went on to the world sports car championship and a pair of Jim Hall's Chaparrals are the other speed cars.

They have big 7-liter engines compared to the 2-liter Porsches.

At Daytona Beach, Fla., as the 1967 season opened in February, the Fords and Chaparrals failed mechanically and Ferrari posted a 1-2-3 finish.

The difference here is that Ferrari didn't come with either its factory team from Italy or North American racing team. The fastest Ferrari is an independent entry by David Piper of England.

One driver problem cropped up for the Chaparrals when Phil Hill, former world champion from Santa Monica, Calif., was stricken with appendicitis Friday and taken to a St. Petersburg hospital.

Jim Hall, millionaire owner and developer of the unorthodox Chaparrals with their automatic transmissions, might return to the driver's seat he shared with partner Hap Sharpe in winning the Sebring endurance test two years ago.

Omen or not, the favorite won in Friday's warmup, one of a series of 12 Trans-American sedan races being run around the country this year.

Jerry Titus of Sherman Oaks, Calif., drove a Ford Mustang to victory from the pole position.

He made two pit stops while Mark Donohue of Stoney Brook, N.Y., got by once during the four-hour race. But Titus' Mustang prepared by Carroll Shelby was fast and steady even though he bent his steering on the fourth lap of the 5.2-mile flat course on an old World War II air base.

"I hit the tire markers on the border of the course and had steering trouble all the way," said Titus, 39-year-old veteran driver and editor for Sports Car Graphic magazine.

Fastest qualifier at 98.53 miles per hour, Titus ran the race at 94.824 m.p.h. and led from start to finish.

Donohue placed second with his Chevrolet Camaro.

Pirate Files Suit

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Bob Veale filed a libel suit Friday against Sport Magazine, asking damages in excess of $1 million.

The suit charged that Veale was libeled in an article written by Pittsburgh free-lance writer Myron Cope and published in Sport Magazine in May, 1966.

Jr. Ice Tourney

Lake PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — The Chicago Juniors walloped Johnstown, Pa., 19-1, Friday in an opening round game at the first Junior Olympic Ice Hockey Tournament. In other first round games, the Detroit Junior Redwings tied the Minnesota North Star Juniors 5-5, and the Lake Placid Roamers trounced the New York Young Rangers 11-2.

Snyder Girls Take Two

SWEETWATER — The Snyder High School girls volleyball teams won two tilts with Sweetwater here Friday night. The varsity triumphed, 15-13, 15-1, and the "B" team won, 15-6, and 16-14.

Deborah Stokes was high point girl for the "B" team with 8 points, and Donna Lester contributed 7.

Vera Newsome tallied 10 points for the varsity, and Barbara Ray was credited with 7.

Hank Joins Giants

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — West Texas State University said today its outstanding quarterback of last season, Hank Washington, was signed as a free agent for an estimated $40,000 by the New York Giants of the National Football League.

Washington of Los Angeles ranked fourth in the nation in total offense last year and was fifth in passing. He broke all of the school's passing records.

He is the seventh West Texas player to sign a professional contract.

SETS WORLD RECORD

Ryun Spearheads Sprint Medley Team

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jim Ryun, lanky distance running wonder of the Kansas Jayhawks, spearheaded his team to a world's record in the sprint medley relay that looked toward more worlds to conquer today in the closing session of the glittering Texas Relays.

Ryun vies with Randy Matson, the Texas Aggie giant, for top individual honors but will do it with stints in the four-mile and two-mile relays. His half-mile in the sprint medley Friday night was 1:46.1, which is just 1.2 seconds short of his pending world's record in the open half-mile.

Matson, who set a new intercollegiate record in the discus with 201 feet 1 inch Friday, goes after his own world's record of 70 feet 7¼ inches in the shot today.

Big Randy flipped the 16-pound ball 68 feet 2¾ inch in the preliminaries, then followed with the great discus heave. Finals of the discus were held Friday night and Matson failed by almost three feet of hitting his preliminary throw. But he has a chance at the shot in finals this afternoon.

Ryun was the sensation of the big track and field carnival Friday night as he sped in with his picture stride to give his team 3:15.2—three - tenths of a second under the world and American records of 3:15.5 set by Santa Clara Youth Village in 1961.

Ryun and Matson contributed three records among the nine that were smashed and one tied in the day - long and all - time sessions of the Texas Relays Friday.

The Kansas Sprint medley relay, which wiped out the Texas Relays mark of 3:19.4 set by Southern Illinois in 1965, was the only record in the university division. Matson's records came in the university - college class.

Howard Payne set the only record in the college division when it did 9:51.6 in the distance medley but Texas Southern was close to records in winning two relays and leading the qualifying in another.

Texas Southern won the sprint medley in 3:17.8 and the 880 in 1:23.4. The former was within 1.3 seconds of the record in the college class. The 880 time was within one - tenth.

Texas Southern also had 40.0 in the 440 relay prelims, which was only a second slower than the Texas Relays overall record and within two - tenths of the world mark.

Three records fell in the junior college - college freshman division, where Texas at El Paso had 3:24.0 in the sprint medley, Texas did 7:39.4 in the two-mile relay and Joe Tighe of Howard County Junior College vaulted 15 feet 1 inch.

Corpus Christi Bay ran the two-mile relay in 7:48.4 for a record in the high school class where Wichita Falls Washington tied the 440-yard relay record with 42.0.

Even the girls got into the record - smashing act. Dorothy Miles of Texas Southern ran 100 yards in 10.6 for a record in the special event that's always held at the relays.

Twenty - four events wind up the meet this afternoon with Ralph Boston, world's record holder in the broad jump at 27 feet 4¾ inches appearing in an invitational against four competitors who have surpassed 26 this season.

Stafanich Rolls Ahead

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jim Stafanich, who has won $2,050 in 11 tournaments this year, had the inside track today for the $25,000 top prize in professional bowling's richest event, the $100,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions.

The blond 26-year-old remained untouchable Friday in the final eight of 48 qualifying games. He set 13 records by rolling 12,144 for the 48 games.

Only once did the Joliet, Ill., native fall below the 200 mark. That was a 183 Friday afternoon.

Up until then he had rolled 28 consecutive games over 200. He posted a 236 average for the 48-game series.

Women Share Lead

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Judy Torluemke of St. Louis and Susie Maxwell of Pasadena, Calif., shot 75s on the par 72 course and shared the lead Friday after the opening round of the $10,000 Louise Suggs Open.

Clay To Carry Floyd?

DETROIT (AP) — Promoters say "prospects are very, very good" that Cassius Clay will defend his heavyweight title against Floyd Patterson in Detroit April 25.

Eddie Smith, attorney for the group that wants to bring the fight to Detroit, said Friday, "we want this thing so bad that I hesitate to say too much about it. I don't want to say something to mess it up."

The Clay people have already agreed to our terms. All that remains is finalization," said Michigan Boxing Commissioner Chuck Davey.

Clay defeated Patterson — two-time former champion — on a technical knockout in the 12th round of their only other bout, Nov. 22, 1965 at Las Vegas, Nev.

CHICAGO (AP) — James E. Coleman of George Williams College was named coach of the United States volleyball team for the Pan-American Games, July 23-Aug. 6.

NEW YORK (AP) — Arrangement, $5.80, made a big run in the stretch Friday and won the Jacedeam Purse at Aqueduct by a neck.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — First Blush, $9.00, closed fast on the outside Friday and beat Hill Turn by a head in the feature at Gulfstream Park.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas team in the new United Soccer Association will be known as the Tornado, singular in keeping with international soccer tradition.

International Oil Forum To Emphasize Technology

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Oil scientists from about 60 nations open an international forum Sunday for an exchange of late developments aimed at maximum use of petroleum for the good of mankind.

It will be the seventh session of the World Petrleum Congress that meets every four years for up-to-date report on production and processing techniques and on new uses for products made from petroleum and natural gas.

Science and technology will receive increased emphasis during the Mexico City sessions in that, for the first time, equipment exhibits and black-tie social functions have been eliminated from the seven - day program.

Rene Navarre of France, chairman of the Permanent Council of the World Petroleum Congresses, believes the revised program strengthens a 34-year objective of promoting petroleum science and technology on an international scale.

"Elaborating and diffusing scientific and technical ... can open up new areas in which truly international teamwork can be developed for the greater general benefit," said Navarre, director general of the French Petroleum Institute.

Air and water pollution, new producing regions, and prospects for development of noiseless and exhaust fuel cells as a potential competitor to petroleum are major topics on the Mexico City program.

Others include the production of food from petroleum and building materials from petrochemicals.

Revised estimates of the world's petroleum reserves also will take into consideration the potential offered by oil shales and tar sands.

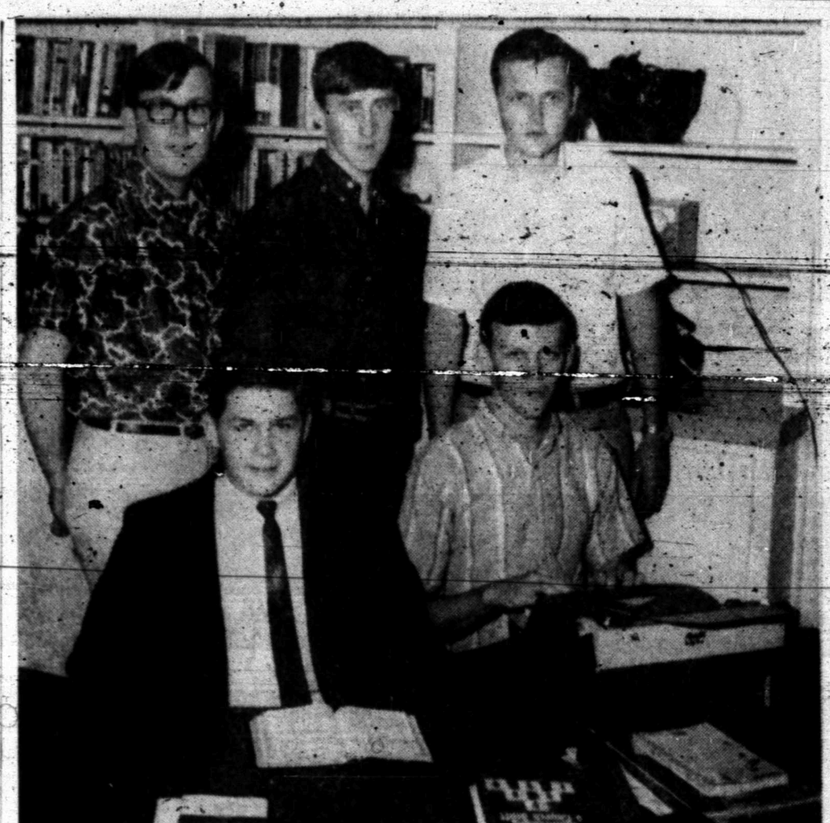

Sunday's opening ceremonies at the Museum of Anthropology in Chapultepec Park will precede work sessions during which informal discussions will follow the presentation of 403 technical papers.

In addition to 16 review papers, there will be 327 reports to be presented in conjunction with 42 panel discussions on specialized subjects and 60 individual papers. Authors of the individual papers were given the latest deadlines possible so as to permit maximum presentation of very late information.

United States delegates will dominate the program through the submission of more than 140 reports. The Soviet Union will double its activity, however, through the presentation of 40 papers, compared to only 20 in 1963 at Frankfurt, Germany, and 21 in 1959 in New York City.

The Russians boycotted the New York City sessions, the first to be held in the Western Hemisphere, because of what they termed discriminatory travel restrictions on the Soviet delegates. Their 21 papers had been received prior to the controversy, however, and were read as scheduled by delegates from other countries.

The United States is to present four of the 16 review papers the Soviet Union three. Others will be made by oil scientists from Mexico, Great Britain, West Germany, the Netherlands, Japan, Italy, and France.

On Thursday the youth will go to see the movie, "For Pete's Sake" at 4 p.m. and then meet at the church for supper and fellowship. The youth group will go ice skating at Lubbock on Friday evening, leaving the church here at 5 p.m.

On Sunday morning, April 9, the youth will be in charge of all departments in the Sunday School. They will present special music, devotionals and lead in departmental singing.

Week Is Costliest In Texas Casualties

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Adjutant General's Office said Friday at least 26 Texans died in the Vietnam war last week, the highest weekly casualty total since the war began.

The deaths raised casualty figures for Texans to 568. Pentagon Figures show 469 Texans killed in action and 99 dead of non-combat causes such as accidents and illness.

A casualty is listed from Texas if his next of kin has a Texas address.

Socialism Remains Issue In Canada

AP SPOTLIGHT
Socialism
By DON MACLACHLAN
Canadian Press Writer

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — By U.S. standards socialism is pretty well advanced in Canada.

While private enterprise is heartily encouarged, the government runs a transcontinental railroad, the principal air line and a dominant radio-television facility. Individual provinces are heavily involved in hydro-electric and other projects.

Yet private vs. public operation is still an issue, and nowhere more than in this midwest province which for 20 years was under the rule of a Socialist party called CCF. It was voted out of office in 1964, and its successors of the Liberal party say they are cleaning up the mess they ascribe to Socialist rule.

Meanwhile a wave of prosperity has swept over Saskatchewan's flat wheatlands, and so a battle of words revolves around who should get credit for it.

The CCF, born in the frustration of depression and drought, and the innovator of North America's first state medical care plan?.

Of the liberals, who present their party as the friend of industry?

In the eyes of one senior civil servant, who has worked under both parties, the argument is somewhat academic.

"The politicians can say what they like," he says, "but what makes Sammy run is wheat. You get a good crop year, any government would be laughing; a bad year and the legislature's full of long faces.

"Eventually potash will be more important than wheat but that is several years off. Even when it is, that'll be because potash is here and needed not because we have a red, white or blue government."

Liberal Premier W. Ross Thatcher, a 50-year-old hardware merchant, contends that during the 20 years of CCF rule Sammy was hobbled by the "socialist war on business."

CCF leader Woodrow S. Lloyd, 54, a former school principal, says Sammy ran well in 1944-64 and would be in his current sprint regardless of the change of government.

Much of the argument concerns the CCF's effect on industrial expansion in a farm-based province.

Thatcher says the CCF deterred private industrial development and went into business itself at the expense of proper economic expansion.

Lloyd replies that the CCF cared for peoeple instead of simply profits, tried to ensure that people benefited from their natural resources and, in fact, didn't hold back the province.

Last year was a good crop year. Per capita income was a record, $2,178—$30 above the national average. Industrial investment was $1.17 billion.

The population is 954,000. As in other booming provinces, all is not joy despite the improved figures. Housing and labor shortages plus the cost of living lead to complaints.

The mess Thatcher attributes to the Socialists is one of the themes he has struck on trips across Canada and on visits to the United States to seek industry.

"We made some mistakes, of course," Lloyd admits. "But a mess, that's quite ridiculous. If we made such a terrible mess, why does his government use the programs we started?"

Programs such as compulsory medical and hospital care insurance, state-owned telephone, utility, bus and insurance companies have been retained and Thatcher says "we plan to keep them; they have a place."

Others such as the northern airline Saskair, a money-losing chipboard plant, a reinsurance venture, the government printing plant, have been or will be sold to private enterprise or scrapped.

The two parties are loudly at odds over Thatcher's handling of the 23 provincially owned corporations or state-supported industries he inherited. The CCF contends the premier is "only interested in dollars" from them and, through offers of incentives to new industry, is "selling out our natural resources."

Thatcher says he believes "the first requirement of any government is to provide jobs for everyone at good wages. We're doing that and we're not doing it by selling out anyone or anything."

Saskatchewan's economic base is expanding. Potash companies have invested more than $400 million in the world's richest reserves and 43 firms are mining or exploring. Oil, gas, lumber, other industries are expanding.

Thatcher has offered tax or other incentives to new industry and promised a new climate—"somthing in the air, an end of socialism."

Only in Saskatchewan is the Socialist party still known as the CCF — Cooperative Commonwealth Federation—the name used when it was formed in 1932 as a farmer-labor coalition. Elsewhere it is called the New Democratic party and labor now is the dominant force. It has minority representation in the national government.

Jaycees Plan To Select Top Boss

Jaycees held their regular weekly meeting at Sallie's cafeteria Friday at which time president Herb Reed announced plans for a Jaycee meeting Monday night at the city council room. At this meeting the executive board will select the "Boss of the Year" from nominations offered. Members were reminded of the upcoming convention in Fort Worth and were read a letter from the Post Jaycees inviting the Snyder members to attend an installation banquet and dance at Post.

Gerald Pullig and Bill Gattis were awarded red chips awards and Jimmy Melton white chip award for recruiting of new members. Jimmy Johns is the group's newest member.

Bill Massey reported on the Jaycees Bargain Fair held last Saturday, and Bill Dryden reported on the Easter Sunrise Services.

The club election is slated for the night of April 14 with the following posts to be filled: president, first and second vice presidents, secretary, treasurer, and three directors for 2-year terms.

Bill Dryden announced the candidacy of Bill Massey as first vice president and Mickey Nunnally announced as candidate for director. Dave Harlin previously announced for the office of president.

Reed presided at the meeting. Don Jeffcoat gave the invocation and Ken Minyard presented the club creed.

Farm Loan Funds Now Available

Joseph E. Box, local County Supervisor, said he had received word from the State Director, L. J. Cappleman, of Farmers Home Administration that operating loan funds were now available for initial and subsequent loans.

The Operating Loan Program provides sources of credit as follows, Box said:

1. For young farmers to become established in a successful farming operation repayable over a period of time consistent with the repayment ability of the operator.

2. To adequately finance all farm management practices essential to profitable crop and livestock production.

3. Make major adjustments in the over-all farming and ranching operation, including purchase of equipment and feeder calves.

4. Adequate in amount - $35,000 limit - to enlarge or establish a livestock enterprise such as a purchase of 100 head of beef cattle, 3 or 4 bulls, establish pastures, provide fencing and water supply which may be amortized by deferring the first payment not beyond the end of the second full crop year following the date of the loan and over a period not to exceed seven years with the provision of a "bumper note" that would enable the borrower to refinance from another credit source or repay the loan over a period of an additional five years.

Operating loans bear an interest rate of 5 per cent per annum.

Additional information may be secured from the County Supervisor, Joseph E. Box, at the Farmers Home Administration Office for Scurry and Kent Counties, 3423 Avenue T.

Huge Linear Accelerator Making Scientific History

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
AP Science Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The electron bullets zip along the two-mile track just a shade off the speed limit of the universe.

At the end, the bullets hurtle into atomic targets, smashing them into myriad fragments, fleeting glimpses of energy and matter torn from the hearts of atoms.

Thus did the biggest linear accelerator in the world — Stanford's $114-million monster — begin to make scientific history well ahead of schedule.

Using high frequency radio waves to prod electrons along, the accelerator boosts them to a speed just one ten-thousandth of a mile per second short of the speed of light, the mathematical barrier beyond which matter may not go, about 186,300 miles per second.

Scientists say that the annual electric bill for this largest scientific instrument ever built will run about $2 million.

So potent is this electron gun that it can produce a beam of electrons with the energy of 20-billion electron volts. They tested it when only one-fifteenth of the gun barrel was in place and produced a beam of 1.3-billion electron volts, the highest ever for a linear accelerator in America.

Congress authorized the project in 1961 to be built and operated by Stanford University under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission. Ground was broken in April 1962 in the gently rolling hills west of the campus proper. It may be the first federal project of comparable size to hold right to its spending budget and time schedule throughout, its builders say.

Tests were completed on schedule. Initial physics research experiments began on schedule. Three have been completed. Two more are in progress. Twelve others are slated within the next 12 months. The dime-size electron beam can be split to service three or more experiments concurrently.

A 10,000-foot steel and concrete tunnel, covered by 25 feet of earth, was built to house the accelerator, a copper pipe about four inches in diameter.

All the smooth successes thus far indicate to Wolfgang K.H. Panofsky, director of the Stanford Linear Accelerator Laboratory, that the unique new tool will do its job.

The job is to look deeper and deeper into smaller and smaller things — things a billion times smaller than the best optical microscopes can "see."

Experiments will broaden man's understanding of the ultimate structure of matter and energy, different forms of the same thing, as Einstein stated years ago.

But what will be the practical results from this big atom smasher that will cost $20 million a year to operate with a staff of almost 1,000 persons?

Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has said such high energy physics experimentation "will probably lead to some of the most important theoretical and perhaps then the most practical developments of our age."

Three Persons Killed In Kingsville Mishap

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Three persons were killed and five injured in the headon collision of two automobiles about 12 miles south of Kingsville on U.S. Highway 77 early today.

The dead were Hilaria Martinez Lara, 33, of Abernathy, who was alone in one vehicle, and Adrian Balderas, 27, and Froilan Balderas, about 50, both laborers from Roswell, N.M.

The highway patrol said the car driven by the Abernathy woman apparently swerved into the opposite traffic lane.

Dr. Bullard visited Paricutin Volcano 200 miles west of Mexico City in 1943, three months after the volcano was born and then was official observer for the International Committee studying Paricutin Volcano. He lived for three months in a cabin at the base of the volcano. In 1948 the cabin site was buried by lava flow. He uses color movies and color slides to illustrate his lecture.

Second Graders Of North On School's TV Program

Several second graders at North Elementary school will bring the "Know Your Schools" closed circuit television program Monday evening. The children will present the story of "The Ugly Duckling" in song and narration.

Nineteen children were selected from the second grade classrooms of Mrs. Jo Ann Littlepage and Mrs. Irene Masters. Children to present the narrative portions of the program are Cheryl Brown, Paul Wilson, Russell Sutton, Barry Chaney, Julie Clinkenbeard and Brent St. Clair. The chorus will include Carolyn Russell as the Ugly Duckling; Sharon Blythe, the mother duck; Jane Salmon as a little old lady; Teresa Clark, Teresa Edmiaston, Jeana von Roeder, Toni Duke and Esmeralda Quiros as ducklings. Other young singers will include Patricia Pate, Stacy Cox, Lesa Gaber, Donna Wall and Mary Ann Williams.

In addition to the presentation of "The Ugly Duckling" the chorus will sing four numbers. These will include "If I Ask You to Sing," "The Lollipop Tree," "Stamping Land," and "The Happy Wonderer." The six narrators will join with the chorus group to present a rhythm band number, "La Raspa."

Special arrangement of the age-old children's story "The Ugly Duckling," is by Frank Luther. The program Monday evening is under the direction of Mrs. [illegible] Pilcher, music teacher at North.

Music in the local elementary schools is for all children. Background for further music study is laid during the elementary years of a child's schooling. The approach to music is taught in many ways so as to reach each child and afford each with an understanding of music and to find some area in which he can attain some success.

Educators believe that it is important for everyone to learn to appreciate music, and that music appreciation can be and should be cultivated since music is not only a source for pleasure during a lifetime but offers an outlet for emotions. Both meet human requirements and are essential to the well being of each individual.

During the elementary school years of a child's life when background for music is laid, it is not believed to be important that any child attempt to specialize in any phase of music training. Music instructors in the local schools believe that this phase of school training should come later. In secondary schools, the music programs become selective in the acceptance of the more talented or of students showing greatest interest in music programs. In the junior high schools and in high school students are given the option of choosing music instruction either in choral groups or in the school bands.

Beginning in the first grade of the Snyder Public Schools, children have an opportunity to sing together, learn rhythms and play simple musical instruments. Later, as children advance in grade level, other musical instruments are added and children learn to sing harmony parts.

Young pupils learn early in the local schools that music can show many emotions — happiness, tranquility or sadness. Children are taught to be creative and are encouraged to use their own imaginations in the elementary music classroom. They are encouraged to create suitable movements and words for music or to make up tunes to fit words. They are asked to dramatize a song as they sing or hear music played in order to develop a sensitivity or feeling for music, and through these exercises learn that music has feeling and meaning.

As children advance in the elementary grades and begin a more formal study of countries of the world, the music depeartments of the local schools coordinate their programs with this regular classroom study. Music instructors point out that music of country tells much of its way of life and its culture and often emphasizes its historical background. When music is tied in with the study of a country, it brings added meaning to a child who is reading about a foreign country and takes part in discussions in the regular classroom. Music brings children to feel closer to peoples of the world. Along with singing songs peculiar to the country being studied, rhythms typical of the area are introduced in the music class and are played by the pupils on simple musical instruments.

In the upper grades of elementary school more difficult musical instruments are introduced in the music classroom, and songs are enriched by the addition of harmony parts and descants, optional melodies written in higher voices. Upon entering one of the local junior high schools, pupils may take advantage of further music learning in vocal or instrumental music departments. The schools offer a summer music program, or try-outs, for those completing the sixth grade and who may wish to participate in junior high school bands. Some who may select an instrument for the summer session, may decide that they do not wish to continue when the new school term opens in the fall. Those who do wish to continue will receive further coaching and will be absorbed in the schools' regular bands during the school year. Those finishing elementary school will also be given an opportunity to participate in junior school choirs and choruses.

Mrs. Pilcher says, "The job of the elementary music teacher is to instill in each child a love for music so that he may find enjoyment in it all through life, and to encourage him or her to make use of native aptitudes. The choice of whether a child pursues music further than elementary school will be of his or her own choosing. The local secondary schools offer excellent opportunities for continued music learning. We elementary music teachers find our greatest joy in seeing young children respond whole - heartedly to our music programs. It is exciting for us as well as for the children."

On Monday, April 10, "Know Your Schools" will feature the schools' cafeteria system, with personnel from the various school food services to bring the program. School cafeteria operation and other information pertaining to this service will be explained.

Car Fever Is Sweeping East Europe

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

SOFIA, Bulgaria AP) — Car fever, spread by a germ plainly of Western origin, is sweeping Eastern Europe. Automobile production will sharply increase during the next few years and models made under Western licenses will dominate.

Nikita Khrushchev once labeled private ownership of cars "economic nonsense." He thought of the long hours these autos are idle, and proposed cheap state-run networks to rent cars.

This was one of the Khrushchevian ideas that proved unfeasible.

To the average East European, driving his family in his own automobile seems one of the ultimate goals of life.

To make the dream come true, people are prepared to accept austerity for years. They have to. For the cheapest model on the market, an average East German worker parts with 14 months' earnings. The largest car available to private East European buyers; the Soviet-built two-liter Volga, costs more than three times the annual income of a Bulgarian laborer.

To save for a car husbands put up with meatless meals and wives wear their shoes until they fall apart.

"A car or a baby?" is the question young Hungarian couples often ask. The country's abortion clinics make the decision not overly difficult.

Automobiles are top prizes of state-run East European lotteries. Many people buy tickets in hope of saving both money and time, for buying a car in Eastern Europe takes patience.

Prospective buyers have to wait two to four years for delivery. To get on the waiting list, they must deposit the full price or at least part of it.

"How would you people in the West like that?" a Czechoslovak engineer asked a reporter. "Just imagine you have to pay $2,000 down and then wait three years before you can sit down behind the wheel."

Other drawbacks to car ownership: servicing facilities are limited, roads are often frightful and filling stations are still so isolated in most of Eastern Europe that they can be listed individually in official travel guides.

Somehow the car fever germ is immune to these adversities. On some registration days, hundreds line up to hand in their applications to be put on the waiting lists of buyers.

There is hope at last that things will get better. Moscow gave the green light when it concluded last year's "contract of the century" with Italy's Fiat to build in the Soviet Union a plant to produce 600,000 units a year.

Birch Will Contested

DALLAS (AP) — Five Baptist-affiliated organizations filed a contest Friday to the probating of the will of California millionaire A. Otis Birch, who left all but $1 to his bride.

Birch, 95, died March 15 here.

He left his estate to Peral Choate Birch, former nurse to himself and his late wife. The 57-year-old ex-practical nurse married Birch in Oklahoma last year shortly after the first Mrs. Birch died.

The contest contends Birch was not in control of his faculties when he left his estate to Mrs. Pearl Choate Birch and says his last wife was not able to accept legal documents in the estate because of her prison record.

The contest document was filed here by the Temple Baptist Church, American Bible Society, Ministers and Missionaries Benefit Board and American Baptist Home Mission Society.

The contesting document said Birch and his first wife made wills in 1962 leaving their property to each other or to several organizations, including the Baptist groups, in the event of the deaths of both.

Extortion Suspect Held In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Ohlin Lester Altman, 65, was transferred to Dallas from Victoria Friday, held in lieu of $50,000 bond on charges of trying to extort $100,000 from the head of a big discount store chain.

Altman was charged on two federal counts of extortion Thursday.

A two-count complaint filed in Dallas Thursday said Altman, a native of Quanah, used the mail to try to extort $100,000 from Herbert Richard Gibson Sr., of Seagoville, owner of Gibson's Discount Center stores.

Altman continued to be held in lieu of bond.

The FBI said Friday that a typewriter Altman allegedly used to correspond with a Belton, Tex., insurance man with tied to notes sent to Gibson.

The complaint said Royse Smith of Belton got typewritten material from Altman and a comparison by laboratory examinations came from the same typewriter.

Gibson had denied rumors of an extortion plot during the investigation. A stick of dynamite was found in the chain's Killeen store in January. An explosion ripped through the sporting goods department of a store in Amarillo in February.

J. Gordon Shanklin, FBI agent-in-charge in Dallas, said Altman's arrest ended a 10-week investigation by FBI agents throughout Texas.

Commission Reports Week's Completions

AUSTIN (AP) — There were 99 oil wells completed in the state during the past week, bringing the yearly total to 1,613, compared to 1,978 a year ago, the Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The commission said 56 gas wells were completed, raising the 1967 total to 712, compared to 541 a year ago.

The commmission said wildcatters brought in three oil wells and three gas wells during the week. The wildcat oil wells were in the Houston, Corpus Christi and Lubbock districts. Two of the wildcat gas wells were in the Houston District and one in the Kilgore District.

That raised the total for the year to 49 wildcat oil wells, compared to 109 a year ago, and 104 wildcat gas wells, compared to 48 a year ago.

The Bronx is the only one of New York's five boroughs that is on the mainland of the United States.

Addresses Confab

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — During a conference on the role of state legislatures, the speaker of the Florida House, Rep. Ralph Turlington said that recent Supreme Court decisions requiring more equal apportionment of legislatures will mean a resurgence of responsibility in these bodies.

Says Money Won't Change Boy's Life

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —The mother of the 19-year-old heir to a $45 million slice of the famed Waggoner Ranch of Texas says she doesn't think the inheritance will affect their lives.

Mrs. La Rita Rohla, 43, of Albuquerque, said she and her son, Albert (Bucky) Wharton III, both are "pleased." But the decision of the Vernon, Tex., district court would be appealed to the Texas Supreme Court.

Dist. Judge Tom Davis ruled Tuesday that Bucky Wharton, great-grandson of the founder of the Waggoner Ranch, is the sole heir to the estate of Electra Waggoner Wharton. That estate, in the form of a trust, takes in half of the 500,000 acre spread.

Mrs. Rohla said her son had no plans outside of continuing school at the University of the Americas in Mexico City and coming home in June.

"I don't think it will have any effect on our lives," Mrs. Rohla said. "We haven't made any plans. There are a dozen different law firms involved in it, and, of course, the other contestants will carry it to the appeal courts, and eventually to the Texas Supreme Court.

"Bucky has always been a good boy . . . I don't think it will change his life much . . . I just want him to finish his education."

Mrs. Rohla met Buster Wharton in the 1940s married him in 1943 and went to live on the Waggoner Ranch in Vernon. They were divorced and each remarried.

Wharton died in 1963 and the court fight over the Electra Waggoner trust began.

Electra Waggoner Wharton died in 1925. She made her son, Buster, and his brother, Tom, lifetime heirs to the trust. Tom Wharton died in 1928.

Saves Life Of 'Dummy'

DRAPER, Utah (AP) — A truck driver who realized a "Dummy" wouldn't have fingers was credited today with saving the life of a 5-year-old Draper girl.

Friday, Wayne Pace of American Fork, Utah; drove past what he believed at first was a dummy hanging by a rope in a tree. However, he suddenly realized the "dummy" had fingers. He stopped and freed the girl and applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

The girl, Astelle Childs, was listed in serious condition today in a Salt Lake City hospital.

Sheriff's deputies theorized the girl was playing and tied a rope hanging to a tree around her neck while standing on a 50-gallon steel drum. They said she apparently slipped or fell, nearly hanging herself.

Floyd Patterson, not the boxer, scouts for the Atlanta Braves.

'For Pete's Sake,' World Wide Movie, Is Coming Here

"For Pete's Sake," a production of World Wide Pictures, producer of "The Restless Ones," will be featured at the Ritz Theater in Snyder on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 5-6-7. The story is that of Pete Harper, who lives day by day as a meat and potatoes guy, and who dares to take on big questions about the Christianity of today. To him, God was not dead! Or was He?

On a damp, gray Sunday afternoon, Pete Harper was one of a large crowd at Denver's Bear Stadium listening to a sermon during a Billy Graham Crusade. Why was he there? "It was free." It was free all right, but Pete, his wife, and their son all got more than they bargained for. Moved by the message, they found themselves going forward. What then?

You will see as you live with Pete and his family during the months that follow and watch them meet the challenges of a Christian commitment. Faith becomes a working commodity for Pete, starting on the inside and growing up and out. It grows while he's pumping gas on a busy Denver street corner, while returning a cake plate to a neighbor, and while colliding with a gang of teenage motorcyclists who challenge him with the shattering honesty of today's youth — youth who force him to match his faith against the turbulent world of leather and dare-devil races. Ride with him as he grinds over steep mountain trails to prove he's not afraid to try their world.

Incidentally, the film doesn't boast any angels — just warm, funny, inspiring, real human beings! It's a love story, a laugh story, and a life-sized look at the ups and downs of the faith of a twentieth-century man.

M. L. Broman, Mayor of the City of Snyder, after seeing "For Pete's Sake" at a sneak preview recently, said, "I think we are fortunate to have this picture in Snyder. It is one of the best I have ever seen, and one that every man, woman, boy and girl in our community should see if they possibly can."

Produced in wide screen and brilliant Eastman color, this comedy - drama stars Robert Sampson and Pippa Scott, stars familiar to stage, screen and television fans, in a mile-high Denver setting, against the magnificent backdrop of the Rockies.

Pecan Trees Should Get Attention

Pecan trees are just now beginning to show new spring growth, and growers should be planning a disease control program for 1967, says County Agent Billy Roach.

Scab is the most damaging disease of pecans and received the most attention from growers because noticeable brown areas produced on nuts lower quality and quantity. The county agent adds that, in certain years, other foliage diseases may cause as much or more damage than scab, and unhealthy leaves that shed early in the fall shortchange the grower who has hopes for a good crop the next year.

Dr. C. Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University, says "In order to control scab and other foliage diseases, a protective film of fungicide must be used on leaves prior to infection. Sprays should be directed to cover both surfaces of leaves, and enough spray should be used to insure good coverage."

Roach recommends that the first of two applications be made when leaves are 1-3 grown and before pollen is shed. The second application should be made just following pollination and about the time when the tips of tiny nuts turn brown. The county agent adds that additional sprays should be made when heavy dews and intermittent rains keep the foliage damp for fairly long periods of time. Three to four additional sprays may be needed during years of above average rainfall.

According to the county agent, zinc in the form of zinc sulfate may be added to fungicide sprays to prevent rosette.

Fungicides that give satisfactory control and are cleared for use on pecans are Bordeaux, Zineb, Cyprex, Polyram and Du-Ter.

The County Agent adds that interested growers may obtain more information on control of pecan diseases from his office.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE DAILY NEWS:

This probe is to make way for a soft landing on all fifty of the United States of America by a family of four Australians in 1968.

As a family we do not believe the United States is a part of Disneyland. We do not believe all Americans think all Australians are tribal Aborigines, who frantically ride kangaroos and hurl boomerangs at innocent koala bears. We do believe, because of similarities in our basic national characteristics, that our two countries will not only remain loyal allies, but that our peoples will become fond friends.

America is a mature and established nation. Australia is a young and growing nation. Australia is the "new" new world. The new frontier with expanding opportunities for the adventurous, the skilled, and the industrious. The graph of our commercial, industrial and social progress reveals a sharp curve upwards. The flow of American investment capital into this country is on the increase. Each year we get a small but increasing percentage of your tourist trade; a few of your braver people migrated out here to make permanent homes.

The purpose of this family trip is to saturate ourselves in your culture. We want to understand the American way. To be taught and to teach. We would like to meet and talk to as many of your people as possible. We have many questions to ask about your country and we expect to be asked many, many questions about our own.

In order to be welcome and entertaining guests in America, and American homes, we must be able to answer your questions intelligently and constructively. The most effective way to do this is to know in advance what information you will require. Therefore, I appeal to your readers to write to me, outlining their thoughts and listing their queries on this country. Their good wishes too if they like.

I am anxious to hear from people in every strata of your society. I believe this information is vital to the success of our tour. In return I promise a reply to all correspondents, and I look forward to meeting many personally next year.

Please direct all replies by Air or Surface mail as below.
