School Issues Given Approval

Light Turnout Counted In Special Vote

A light turnout of voters approved both questions in Saturday's election to set a maximum school maintenance tax rate and to assume bonded indebtedness of three annexed areas to the Big Spring Independent School District.

Both questions passed with a majority of 129 votes each. A total of 586 votes were cast.

Voters in the box at Gay Hill school went against the maintenance tax 93 to 4, and against assumption of bonded indebtedness 95 to 0.

Voters at Big Spring High School approved the tax rate issue 325 to 131 and for bond assumption 322 to 117. Voters at Kate Morrison School showed 28 for the tax and four against, and 24 for bond assumption to five against.

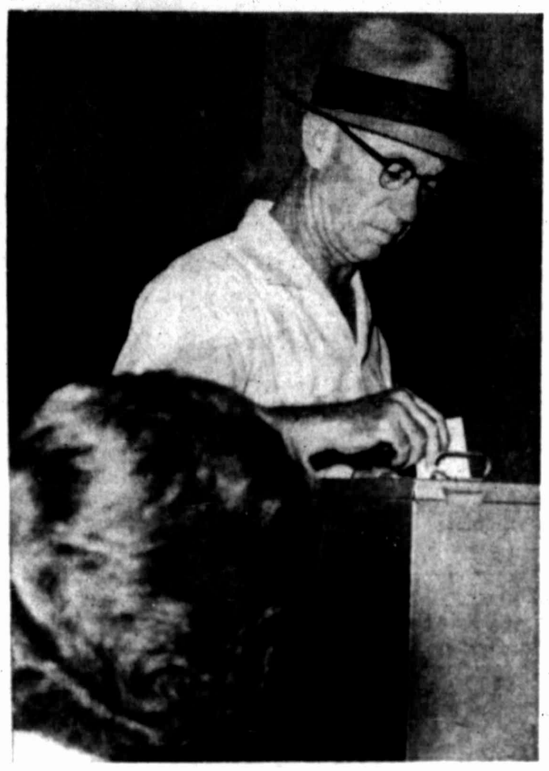

Only qualified voters, owning property rendered for taxes, were eligible to vote in the election.

The maintenance tax proposition sets a legal maximum rate of $1.50 for each $100 valuation on 100 per cent valuation. All parts of the district, including the annexed areas of the Center Point and Gay Hill districts and a portion of the Forsan district, are currently operating under the legal maximum rate, but the election was required by law to set the rate for the altered Big Spring district.

No part of the district had exercised its right to operate under a tax rate set at the legal maximum of $1.50 per $100 on 100 per cent valuation. The Big Spring ISD has $1.44½ per $100 assessment on 60 per cent of valuation. The Gay Hill district has $1.29 of its tax on 20 per cent valuation for maintenance, and Center Point has $1.50 on 20 per cent valuation. These same rates will continue until a uniform rate is set for the district next year.

The result of the election does not mean that the Big Spring ISD will be compelled to set next year's rate any higher. It cannot, under law, assess the rate higher than that required for maintenance.

The second question authorized the Big Spring district to assume the bonded indebtedness of $40,000 owed on bonds by Gay Hill, $42,600 owed by Center Point and $3,605.25 by the Forsan district portion. The last is for 2.53 per cent of the Forsan County Line Independent School District annexed to the Big Spring ISD.

Heads Roll In Czech Shakeup

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) —President Antonin Novotny fired Premier Vielm Siroky in a full-scale government shakeup Saturday amid official recriminations over the nation's Stalinist past and present economic woes.

Siroky was dismissed for "shortcomings in his work" and "certain mistakes in his past political activity," among other reasons, the official news agency CTK reported.

Josef Lenart, a Slovak and head of the Slovak Communist party, was named to the premiership that Siroky, also a Slovak, had held for 10 years. Two deputy premiers and several ministers also were replaced.

Neutral quarters in neighboring Austria called the dismissals a drastic move prompted by Novotny's own fight for political survival.

They said Novotny's apparent aim was to brand those ousted as the culprits of the notorious Stalinist purge trials of the 1950s and Czechoslovakia's declining growth rate and power shortage. These quarters felt, however, that Novotny is himself too identified with these policies to escape blameless.

Siroky, 61, had come under public attack recently for his part in the prosecution of the so-called "Slovak nationals." One of these men, former Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis, was executed along with onetime Czechoslovak Communist party chief Rudolf Slansky in 1952.

The Czechoslovak Supreme Court has since held that all defendants in the Slansky trial were unjustly condemned. They were legally rehabilitated, posthumously.

Could Get Red Support

TOKYO (AP)—The Cambodian chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk, was quoted Sunday as having said Red China would fight on Cambodia's side if his country were attacked by its Western-aligned neighbors, Thailand and South Viet Nam.

Cambodia has broken diplomatic relations with Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat's Thai government and President Ngo Dinh Diem's South Vietnamese regime. Cambodia's centuries-old feud with its neighbors has taken on cold-war lines as Sihanouk has drawn closer to Red China.

Peking's New China News Agency (NCNA), in a broadcast monitored here, said Sihanouk had told a school inauguration audience in Cambodia that "China's friendship is of vital importance to us. It is certain that without China's determination to come to our aid in case of aggression, the troops of Ngo Dinh Diem and Sarit would have attacked us long ago."

"Our international policy is based on neutrality. But should we be obliged one day to choose between China and the others, we would, without hesitation, choose to be on the side of the People's Republic of China; for she alone would take the troubles to fight on our side in case of aggressions from our neighbors."

Republicans Urged To Work Together

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State and national party leaders pleaded with California Republicans Saturday to patch up their differences and work together for victory in 1964.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, Republican national chairman, told the California Republican State Central Committee: "Have your preference for president and work for him. But don't tear down other Republicans."

Miller joined with Caspar W. Weinberger, Republican state chairman, in urging all party members to pledge their support to the nominee whoever it may be.

Debra Gathers Force

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—Hurricane Debra was born Saturday far out in the Atlantic Ocean. Top winds were clocked at 75 miles an hour, barely high enough to qualify as a hurricane.

Debra was located near latitude 23.3 north, longitude 49.2 west or about 1,150 miles east northeast of San Juan Puerto Rico. It was heading north northwest at 14 miles an hour.

The hurricane was born in an area of unsettled weather under observation for the past few days by the Tiros weather satellite, ships and planes.

Weathermen forecast a gradual increase in size and intensity for at least 12 hours.

The hurricane was no threat to any land area immediately, the Weather Bureau noted.

Russia Hurls New Charges At Red China

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union charged Saturday night that Communist Chinese servicemen and civilians violated Russian borders thousands of times since 1960 and in some cases tried to seize Soviet territory. The charge was made in a new broadside at the Chinese in the Peking-Moscow ideological war.

A Soviet Communist party statement warned Peking that if it kept up hostility toward the Soviet Union it would face "the most resolute rebuff" from the Soviet people.

It said Chinese tactics seemed bent on creating border hostilities in an effort to sabotage the move toward relaxing East-West tensions.

The statement also charged the Red Chinese tried to push the Soviet Union into a nuclear gamble during the Cuban crisis with the United States a year ago.

The statement was the second part of a two-part declaration answering Communist Chinese charges made Sept. 1. The Chinese had claimed that the Kremlin had put communism at a disadvantage by signing the limited nuclear test ban treaty last month in Moscow with the United States and Britain.

The first part of the Soviet statement dealt with an accusation that the Red Chinese opposition to the nuclear test ban treaty was based on Peking's desire to obtain the atomic bomb "at any price."

Published in Soviet newspapers Saturday night, the second part of the Soviet statement appeared to be an answer to a Red Chinese charge that the Russians had lured 50,000 Chinese citizens into the Soviet Union across the Sinkiang-Kazakhstan border. But the statement contained no direct reference to this Chinese allegation.

Indonesia Severs Trade Agreements

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno's government severed trade ties with British-backed Malaysia Saturday although this will close traditional outlets for such Indonesian exports as rubber, tin and copra.

A diplomatic dialogue persisted between London and Jakarta concerning $450 million in British properties in this island nation even as the new blow at Malaysia was announced by Deputy First Minister Johannes Leimena.

Sukarno denounces the infant anti-Communist federation — a commonwealth nation formed by Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Saban (North Borneo)—as a menace to Indonesia and a perpetuation of British colonialism in Southeast Asia.

Leimena said Sukarno has decreed that the national economy should be a major weapon in Indonesia's anti-Malaysia campaign, extending the policy of hostile confrontation to business affairs.

The foreign business community here, particularly British firms with connections in Malaysia, viewed the developments with apprehension.

Though Sukarno has disclaimed nationalization plans, Jakarta was flooded with reports of the seizure of British properties across Java, including 33 rubber, tea and quinine plantations. The official Antara news agency said regional authorities assumed supervision of the properties after they were taken over by leftist union workers.

Plainly dissatisfied with previous assurances, the British Foreign Office in London summoned Indonesian Ambassador Burhanudin Mohamad Diah and handed him a note officially described as "containing a number of questions about his government's measures relating to British firms in Indonesia."

Leave Monday For A Study Of Viet Nam

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Kennedy ordered his two top military advisors Saturday to go to Saigon next week to review the military situation in strife-torn Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, leave Monday to spend a week on a first-hand study of the military effort against the Communist Viet Cong.

The announcement of the mission came as American military men in Viet Nam reported the Communists stepping up their offensive, with more than 700 Vietnamese casualties in the last week alone—possibly higher than the Communist losses for the first time in their long struggle.

The increased activity of the Viet Cong guerrillas was regarded as an attempt to capitalize on disturbances which followed the government crackdown on Buddhists.

There were about 500 incidents during the week, attacks on hamlets and outposts, sabotage and terrorizing, initiated by the Communists.

McNamara and Taylor's report to the President will have a major bearing on the future of the $1 million a day U.S. aid to the government of Ngo Dinh Diem.

The White House announcement followed consultations with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and with others in the top level of the U.S. government.

The President in recent weeks has said several times that the Diem government has lost touch with the people. But at the same time he also has said it would not be wise to cut off U.S. aid to South Viet Nam.

Both McNamara and Taylor visited Viet Nam last year, McNamara in May and Taylor in September.

Rockefeller Blasts JFK For 'Political Expediency'

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York tore into the administration of President Kennedy Saturday night and said West Virginia is a prime example of how it "rates political expediency above principles."

"We've got a talk-big, act-little administration," Rockefeller asserted in a speech for a $50-a-plate Republican dinner here.

"John F. Kennedy smothered this state in promises during the spring and summer of 1960," said Rockefeller. "There isn't a man or woman in West Virginia who doesn't know how completely and flagrantly these promises have been ignored."

It was in 1960 that Kennedy defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in the Democratic presidential primary in West Virginia and got a big boost toward the nomination.

Rockefeller quoted Kennedy as having said in Charleston, W.Va., in May 1960 that he would appoint a high-level commission to study the economic problems of this state in depth and come up with remedies. The New York governor said Kennedy had promised that the commission would have orders to report back in 60 days.

"Well, friends, as we meet here tonight," said Rockefeller, "960 days plus two full weeks have elapsed since the start of John F. Kennedy's administration, and what do we find? No commission; no report; no recommendations; no legislative program for this state."

This was an obvious reference to the appointment of Roosevelt as undersecretary of commerce. Roosevelt campaigned for Kennedy in the 1960 West Virginia campaign.

Rockefeller also charged that "while federal grants-in-aid to the nation as a whole have increased by over a billion dollars, grants-in-aid to West Virginia have gone down."

Rockefeller, accompanied here by his wife, said that what West Virginia and all other states need most "is a Republican administration in Washington that understands the American economic system, that believes in private initiative and free enterprise, and knows how to encourage them to function at their full potential."

West Virginia, he said, "also needs a state administration that will provide a better climate for economic growth and meet your other needs and that will, for example, get busy and build the roads you require and not merely promise them." The present administration is that of Democratic Gov. W. W. Barron.

Charge Aimed At Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was accused by a Republican spokesman Saturday of seeking to lead the nation down new and untried fiscal paths with his proposed tax cut.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., replying to Kennedy's appeal to the nation for support of the administration's $11-billion tax cut bill, said Kennedy is actually seeking support for the theory of planned deficits—or spending the nation into prosperity.

Curtis, senior Republican House member on the Joint Economic Committee and a member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, was the second GOP spokesman to reply to Kennedy's Wednesday night radio-television address.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., attacked the idea of a tax cut without reduced spending on three networks Friday night, with Curtis speaking on NBC radio and television Saturday night. The networks, all of which carried Kennedy's speech, made equal time available to the Republican National Committee.

Curtis joined Byrnes in insisting that Congress must write in a spending limit as an amendment to the tax cut bill if it is to win Republican support in House voting next week. Even then it won't get his vote, Curtis added, saying that $98-billion limit imposed for fiscal 1964 by Byrnes' amendment is still $4 billion too high.

But Curtis laid greater stress on what he perceived to be the underlying theory behind the administration's plan to cut taxes while running a budget deficit.

"The President's actions, if not his words, demonstrate beyond doubt that he is advancing a new and untried fiscal theory for the United States, the theory of deficit financing, the theory of planned deficits," Curtis said.

He said the President has evaded discussing this issue.

"I think the most difficult thing for the people of this country to understand, myself included, is why the President doesn't forthrightly argue for his new theory of deficit planning if he really believes it is for the benefit of our country," Curtis said.

He said Kennedy's promise to keep a "tighter rein" on spending is meaningless, adding: "Those of us in Congress, who look at his record see no tight control to start with."

Treaty Vote Due Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assured of more than enough votes to ratify the limited nuclear test ban treaty, Senate leaders set out Saturday night to kill off any entangling reservations to the document.

A half dozen proposals have been offered and these will be voted on Monday, with the final roll call on ratification set for Tuesday.

An unofficial tally shows 82 senators either announced in support of the treaty or inclined to vote for ratification, but some of these may back reservations which the administration says would have a crippling effect. Fifteen senators oppose ratification and three still are uncommitted.

Ratification requires a two-thirds majority of those voting, while the reservations can be adopted or rejected by simple majority.

Proponents of the treaty conceded that many of its supporters, in speeches during the past two weeks of general debate, had tempered their endorsement with fears and misgivings.

Midland Pair Dies In Crash

SONORA, Tex. (AP)—Two Midland residents died in the crash of a private plane in rugged ranching country east of here. The craft's wreckage was found late Saturday.

Texas Ranger Ralph Rohatsch of San Angelo identified the victims as David Cole, 40, a Midland businessman, and Mary Farrel, 36.

A Civil Air Patrol search was launched for the Cole plane Saturday after it was reported overdue on a flight to San Antonio. Last radio contact was made with the Junction airport.

The wreckage was spotted on the Nolan Gibbs farm about two miles from the nearest road. The scene was about 12 miles northwest of Roosevelt near the Sutton-Kimble County line in West Texas.

Cole radioed the Junction airport about 8:30 p.m. Friday that he was going to attempt a landing. Then he said his landing lights were out.

PAKISTAN CASTOR BEANS MAKE LIKE TREES
Alvin Smith dwarfed by towering plants from imported seed

Jack's Beanstalk May Have Been Castor Plant

By SAM BLACKBURN

Alvin Smith, 420 Edwards, didn't mean to make like Jack of the Beanstalk but it's liable to turn out that way.

The veteran post office employe is pondering the probability. Ten castor bean plants which Mrs. Smith planted along the back wall of their home have just about taken over. The monsters are more than 12 feet tall, boast stalks as big as a man's wrist and feature huge green leaves spanning more than two feet.

"These are Pakistan castor beans," Smith said. "A neighbor we used to have, who had traveled all over the world, gave us the beans. We didn't expect them to grow like this. My wife has already cut the tops out of some of them to keep them from pushing into the electric power lines."

Smith pointed out that the beans are of two distinct varieties. One has a reddish stalk and the other a pale green stalk. There are relatively few clusters of the prickly bean pods on the plants and most of the clusters are on the green stemmed variety. The burrs which protect the seed are painfully sticky and the seeds are difficult to extract. They appear to be smaller than the castor beans usually found in this country.

"They tell us," Smith said, "that the beans are poisonous. It may be just as well there are so few seeds being produced."

One thing about the huge plants—they seem to do well on a minimum supply of water. All the water the beans have had, Smith said, was the runoff from the kitchen roof during rains of the summer.

Virus Causes Brain Damage

WARRENTON, Va. (AP) — A strange, symptom-less virus — so common most people have had it by age 30 — may produce more brain damage and mental retardation in newborns than measles.

It has, at least, according to the findings of researchers at Johns Hopkins University where mothers and their babies have been tested for the virus, said Dr. Robert Cooke, Johns Hopkins pediatrician.

The findings came to light in an interview at the two-day White House conference on mental retardation which ended Friday.

Furthermore, there is good evidence that the virus—once it has infected an unprotected mother—can invade the baby within her womb and cause brain damage as late as the fifth month of pregnancy, perhaps later.

There is also evidence that the virus is active in producing brain damage not only before birth — but for a few months afterwards, Dr. Cooke said.

Because it produces no symptoms or signs and can live for some time in the salivary glands, it is difficult to detect except in the urine of the infected person or in a check for protective antibodies in the blood.

The virus is called the cytomegalo-virus — a big cell virus—so-called because it enlarges infected cells.

Spike Heel Damaged Floors Can Be Fixed

Office managers and owners of retail businesses have known for some time that women shoppers, with their spike heels, can cause more damage to a tile or linoleum floor than a herd of elephants.

A Big Spring merchant admits having seen "spike damage" in other towns, although he maintains the hardwood floor in his local store is immune to such damage.

"Women shoppers in spike heels completely ruin a rubber tile floor," he said.

The Big Spring man's observation was borne out by a nationally known building maintenance manufacturer, who said:

"Fashion dictates have caused women to troop about in a manner pleasing to the eye, but to the floors herds of elephants would have been more welcome. An elephant foot exerts 50 to 100 pounds of pressure per square inch. Women in spike heels exert from a quarter-ton to a full ton per square inch, for each heel. And if the spike is exposed at the bottom of the heel, the load pressure can go up to more than 25 tons."

Until recently, extensive replacement has been the only real remedy for resilient flooring ruined by the extraordinary pressures exerted by women wearing spike heels.

Now, a simple way to remove floor pock marks has been reported by a leading building maintenance manufacturer.

With the new technique many types of commonly used resilient flooring materials "can be smoothed down to remove dents with an ordinary commercial floor machine and abrasive discs, the manufacturer reported. The method has been found satisfactory on rubber tile, asphalt tile, vinyl and vinyl-asbestos tile, cork and other forms of resilient flooring with the exception of linoleum.

Similar damage damage caused by heavy furniture, as well as most floor scratches, could be eliminated by the same method.

The method?

A rotary, commercial-type floor machine (as opposed to household models) is placed on an abrasive screen disc of coarse (80-100) grit. This grinds down the flooring around the dent marks. A finer (150-180) grit screen then is used for smooth finishing.

A couple of coats of wax brings back the original color and luster. However, since each floor is different, the process should be tested on a small, inconspicuous area before full-scale restoration is begun, the manufacturer said.

One hazard is the large amounts of dust raised by the floor-smoothing efforts. This problem can be licked by attaching a makeshift rubber skirt to the floor machine to keep the dust under the machine. Then a hose adapter that fits an industrial vacuum machine can be attached to the floor machine's housing.

The "spike healing" method can be accomplished at one-twelfth the cost of replacement, the manufacturer estimated. Quarter-inch-thick flooring of rubber tile can withstand two or three grindings. Other thinner flooring materials might take only one grinding. However, one grinding will considerably extend the useful life of a floor.

Girl Scout Meet Planned Monday

THY CROWN

". . . Hold fast that which thou hast, that no man take thy crown" (Rev. 3:11). The New Testament speaks of a "crown of rejoicing" (I Thess. 2:19), "crown of righteousness" (II Tim. 4:8), "crown of life" (Jas. 1:12); Rev. 2:10), and "crown of glory" (I Pet. 5:4). What is the significance of these statements? What will it mean to you and me to receive a crown? These things we shall study this morning at 10:30 in the sermon, "Thy Crown." Come and be with us.

Your crown depends first of all on whether you are genuinely converted. So this evening at 7, the sermon will be, "The Conversion of Saul of Tarsus." The most simple and clear way to teach any truth is by example; and the Lord has given us examples of conversion in his word. The conversion of Saul of Tarsus is found in three chapters of Acts of Apostles—9, 22 and 26. Read those chapters, then come and hear the sermon at 7 p.m.

Visitor To Cuba Finds It's Lonely

EDITOR'S NOTE — These impressions of life in Cuba today are by a correspondent of the Camden (N.J.) Catholic Star Herald, which sent him to Cuba. As a British citizen he had ready access to the island and could stay as long as he wanted, which turned out to be nine days. The article was made available to The Associated Press.

By ARTHUR JONES

HAVANA (AP)—The Westerner in Cuba is the loneliest man in the world. He is trusted by neither the people nor the government.

His entry and exit depend entirely on the whim of the government and the on-again off-again Mexico City flight of Cubana Airlines.

But the Mexicans are even more suspicious than the Cubans. Every person using Mexico City to enter Cuba is photographed, checked and rechecked.

HUMOROUS

Despite the tension, however, the whole affair can be rather humorous. If Cubana's Bristol Brittania leaves on the right day it can be said to be on time—hours mean nothing.

Buckling their made-in-Michigan seat belts on my flight into Cuba were an assortment of Eastern Europeans, some Indonesians, returning Cuban officials and diplomatic couriers. The largest single nationality was Czechoslovak.

A common bond held us together. Cubana has two flights a week each way, Mondays and Friday. This was a Thursday. The previous Friday's flight had left on Sunday.

Cuban matchboxes carry slogans. One is "burocratismo no (bureaucracy no)," but the paperwork at Havana airport belies the thought. Khaki-clad rubber-stamp affixers issued documents for my wedding ring, camera, (U.S. dollars which I traded one dollar for one peso), and so on. Posters of Fidel Castro watched the proceedings.

EFFICIENT

Certain elements of the government are particularly efficient when they want to be. The foreign ministry issued a press pass authorizing my travels in the Havana area and giving permission for me to take photographs. I was asked not to photograph military establishments. This was easy since apart from a few gun crews along the harbor and a couple of gunboats a mile offshore there is not much in the city.

Public dining offers only croquettes and various forms of rice. There are about six good — and high-priced — restaurants and I managed. The diet is not balanced. There are few if any vegetables. Since I was somewhat concerned about my citrus intake I managed to get lemon and lime juice by ordering daiquiris without rum. The only drink readily available is rum and cola. Beer is available only on the day it arrives from the brewery. There isn't enough to last long.

Catholics who found out I was working for a Catholic newspaper were very definite. "Catholic yes, Communist no," they would say, then draw a forefinger across their throat.

NO SIGN

There is a sign by which pro-American Cubans identify each other behind closed doors. Castro once referred to these people as gusanos (worms), and they have adopted the name. They wiggle their forefingers like little worms.

Mainly the gusanos are drawn from those people in the middle and upper classes who had money during pre-Castro days, or from the people in the service trades who came into contact with American vacationers. They hope the Americans will return and the word "invasion" always creeps into the conversation.

Not all the Americans left. J. Niven Alleyn, No. 1 member of the American Club in Havana, is 88 and has lived in Havana since 1898. The American Club is allowed to continue because most members now are British and Canadian. The British have the only remaining golf course, the nine-hole Rovers Club near the airport. Most members are Cuban or from the various embassies.

GOLF

Castro considers golf a rich man's sport but many Cuban workers pay a two-peso green fee and play the nine holes. Pepe Fernandez, Cuba's best player, keeps his hand in. I watched him tee off on the shortest hole (150 yards) and drop the ball within three feet of the hole.

Visitors come from many lands. Indians, Japanese, East Germans, Africans, Chinese mingle in the hotel foyers.

Cuban knowledge of America is quite dated. One gun-toting girl who laid her rifle on the store counter to watch me buy Castro Christmas cards and souvenirs, bade me goodby with "see you later alligator."

Some Cubans rely on parcels from the U.S.A., Spain, Latin-American countries, to relieve the monotonous diet and supplement the meager quantities they receive.

CHILDREN

Mainly they are concerned about their children. "The babies don't play with dolls any more after school. They say 'I'm going to make a speech like Fidel,'" said one mother. Children applaud the Red Chinese in the movies.

Another was concerned lest her children fall ill as she was doubtful as to the availability of medical supplies.

Cubans love their country. Many are prepared to stay no matter what. Others have found it easier to go along with the government although they complain it has changed its course.

One former businessman who does not work for the government said: "You can't take domestics and make them into stenographers overnight, and that's what he's trying to do. The Cuban does not have freedom of choice, he has to be polite to policemen and petty officials, and he has to watch while the good food goes elsewhere."

LAPPING IT UP

The latter refers to the fact that while only babies and some very old folk receive milk the gun crews can be seen lapping it up by the quart. They get a good supply of meat too.

When I tried to buy some milk I found one loyal son of the revolution. Even at $5 a bottle he refused to part with one of the bottles on his cart.

Sergeant Retires

M. Sgt. Clyde Bryant, NCOIC of the 331st FIS Fire Control System Shop at Webb AFB recently retired from the Air Force after 20 years of active duty. Col. Jack C. Martin Court Studies Need For New Official

STANTON — It is possible Martin County may add another member to its official county family sometime this fall.

A proposal that an office of tax-assessor-collector be created is being discussed by the county commissioners court. If the proposal is adopted, the Martin County voters will be given an opportunity to vote on the plan at the Nov. 9 constitutional amendment election.

For all of its history, the office of tax assessor—collector has been combined with that of the county sheriff. The Constitution provides two ways that a county can have a separate office for the assessing and collecting of taxes. It must have a population in excess of 10,000—in such counties the office becomes a mandatory matter. It can call an election and let the residents of the county say if they want to establish such an office or if they want to continue with the sheriff doubling in brass in tax matters.

Martin County's population according to the 1960 census was 5,068. This means the election route is the only way open for the county to set up a separate tax office if such an office is desired.

Jim McCoy, county judge, said that at a meeting of the commission some time ago, the matter was brought up and, at that time, was given a favorable vote by the board. However, he said, he will bring the matter up again and find out if the commissioners are still of the same mind. He said that the next regular meeting of the court will be Oct. 14. It is required that a special election be advertised at least 30 days ahead of the voting date. The Oct. 14 meeting would be too late to permit the election to be submitted to the people with the constitutional amendments which are to be voted Nov. 9. A special meeting would probably have to be called by the court if the 30 day notice time is to be allowed.

Sheriff Dan Saunders has two office workers who now handle most of the tax payments and assessment duties. If the new office is created, the official in charge would relieve the sheriff of the responsibility of assessing and collecting taxes. It is probable that the sheriff's office force would be reduced.

One problem, officials said, is the matter of finding space in the Martin County courthouse for the new office in event it is created. At present, there are no quarters adequate to the needs of the new department available and if it is approved, a way would have to be found to create room.

The question is also being debated in some circles if the creation of the new department would increase income from tax collections sufficiently to override the expense of operating the office. County officials in Martin County are paid $500 per month. The new tax collector would doubtless be paid the same salary. The office would need one or two deputies at least part of each year.

Supplies and equipment would have to be provided.

Judge McCoy said that the matter is one of grave importance to the county and will be given careful consideration before final action is taken.

Points Way To Halt Trend

PINELAND, Tex. (AP) — Only by strong industrial and tourist programs can rural areas halt the trend of declining population and inadequate economic growth, Gov. John Connally said Saturday.

"In this era of rapid change, none is more profound than the migration into the cities," Connally said, "and unless more communities do something to become part of the economic growth of Texas, they will continue to shrink in size as the labor force gravitates to the cities for better job opportunities."

Connally, speaking at the annual Pineland day celebration in Sabine County, said that more money for the Texas Industrial Commission and the creation of the Texas Tourist Development Agency enables the state government to bolster local communities efforts in attracting tourists and industry.

He said that by 1970 Texas must create 800,000 new jobs just to keep pace with population growth.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise:

What do you do when you have an expensive hi-fi, three teen-agers (yes, we had them all at one time) and the teen-agers come in the house, remove your expensive records and throw their scratched records on and ruin your best diamond needle?

Daddy Boy

Dear Daddy Boy:

HELOISE

We all have the same problem!

My answer was to put a piece of tape on the little "turner" which indicates "this needle belongs to Johnny."

I have two needles. Every time I buy a new diamond needle, I remove the old diamond needle and put it in "his" special slot!

At least it saves your needle.

The only thing you have to do then is: Teach Johnny to use "that" needle! If he doesn't . . . other readers say: "It's time to get the hairbrush out." . . . "Pull a tube out of the hi-fi so they can't play it (but don't tell the kids!)" . . . "Forbid them to use the hi-fi."

Is this a letter of laughter? If so, there's lots of laughter among our readers.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Some mothers might like to know it's very practical and handy to have baby's bathinette in the kitchen if space permits. It's extremely handy to the water supply, the floor is not marked with splashing water because the bathinette can be pulled next to the kitchen sink and it makes a good place to put a small baby if he is awake and just happens to want company when dinner must be fixed!

I keep all the extra supply of clothes on the shelf underneath.

The "knob" on the kitchen cabinet also makes a perfect place to hang the baby's rattle if it's on a string long enough so baby can hit it and play with it! S. H. V.

Dear Heloise:

• • •

To perk up a breakfast and have something different just try slicing a banana on a piece of hot buttered toast (which has been baked in your broiler) then placing a second slice of bread on top and then letting it toast . . . a perfect something new is this hot banana sandwich . . .

This is really great and my children love it. We also get our fruit for breakfast this way.

Norma Johnson

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Here is a hint to you ladies who while doing handwork are always looking for your scissors in the bottom of your work basket!

Take a piece of strong string about 20 inches long, tie your scissors on one end and attach the other end to the handle of your workbag or basket. Then when you need a scissors just pull up the string and there they are! Never lost or gone astray . . . wow.

Reba

Dear Heloise:

Instead of using a knife to cut my bacon, I use a pair of scissors! Bacon is real easy to cut if you do it as soon as you remove it from your refrigerator.

This was suggested to me by my eleven-year-old daughter and believe me it works. It's much easier than any knife.

Grateful

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I remove the stamping for embroidery from linens by wetting it with kerosene (this is coal oil), and letting it soak a while.

I then rub the stamping with a stiff brush and wash with warm water, soap or detergent. Sometimes it is necessary to repeat the procedure again. I have used this method on things that had a great deal of stamping and it has always been satisfactory.

Texas Colleges Filled By Fall Registration

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

College enrollment turned into an educational explosion this fall in Texas.

It added intensity to the warnings of some educators and of Gov. John Connally that something must be done to provide scholastic elbow room.

A survey by The Associated Press of colleges from the small ones to the giants showed many forced to close their doors regretfully in the faces of high school graduates who want a college education.

WARNING

The survey also became a warning to current high school pupils: More and more colleges will turn you down if you've goldbricked on your studies.

Two other elements also stood out in the survey:

1. The price of tuition is a real and compelling matter which determines whether some youngsters can go to college. A difference of $250 a semester is important.

2. Housing now is becoming a limiting factor in enrollment as much as classrooms at some places.

Most spectacular of all was the explosion at the University of Houston.

It would have been even more severe had the school not started culling out students with poor grades well before registration date.

The school turned down 2,000 prospective students—two out of every three applying.

FOUND MORE

At that, the school expected to register 15,500, but suddenly found 16,500 on its hands.

The unexpected jump came from former students absent for a year or more. The university felt it had to accept them.

University of Houston officials credit the big increase basically to a decline in tuition.

It now is $50 a semester because the school became state-supported this year. Formerly it was $300.

Rice University turned down 2,424 applicants—and high school graduates do not even consider Rice unless their grades are first-class and they are eager for possibly the toughest scholastic effort in Texas.

EXPANDED

Arlington State, with about 10,000 students, was forced to schedule classes from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. The school says 95 per cent of its classroom facilities are occupied during those hours.

At North Texas State University at Denton 940 women are on a waiting list for a place to live, meaning most of them are unable to attend that school. Total registration was about 10,500.

Texas Tech prepared for 12,000 this year, a record, and at the same time laid plans for 15,000 by 1965 and 20,000 by 1970.

Most of the church - owned schools showed some increase in registration, but not as great as the state-supported colleges and universities with their generally lower tuition.

JUNIOR COLLEGE

Among the smaller schools, an example is Cooke County Junior College, although it has been in operation only since 1959. Before that it was a part of the Gainesville school system with very small enrollment.

Last year, this relatively new school had 614 students, a record. And college officials are looking to double that number by 1970.

Cooke County Junior College, which is building facilities as rapidly as it can, experienced a 60 per cent increase in registration last year.

ODESSA

Baylor: 5,504 five days before registration closed with a record expected. Record was 5,599 in 1955.

Midwestern: Record 2,410.

Hardin - Simmons: About 1,550 after rejecting or suspending about 200 on scholastic grounds.

Texas Southmost: About 525, same as last year; failed to increase 15 to 25 per cent as in past, the failure blamed by college authorities on an economic setback.

RECORD

Wayland College: 675 and 626. Record.

Lubbock Christian: 450 and 382. Record.

Texas Western: 5,578-plus. Record.

Southern Methodist: About 6,000 expected.

Texas Woman's University: About 3,000, a record.

Texas A&M: Around 8,000, about same as last year.

Texas A&I: About 3,800; last year 3,161.

Texas Christian: 4,146, same as for the last three or four years, limited by housing.

Paris Junior College: Around 600.

University of Texas: 22,314 and 21,390.

Huston-Tillotson 700 and 575.

St. Edward's 600 and 573.

Southwestern University: 750 capacity.

Del Mar: 1,800 and 1,675.

University of Corpus Christi: 650 and 550.

West Texas State: About 3,000, a record.

HELLO AND GOODBYE
Konrad Adenauer, Charles de Gaulle

Leaders Meet In Historic Chateau

PARIS (AP)—Charles de Gaulle and Konrad Adenauer met Saturday in historic Rambouillet Chateau for their 15th and final official intimate talk before Adenauer bows out as German chancellor next month.

The French president, shunning protocol, personally met Adenauer when the 87-year-old German leader arrived by plane at a French airfield outside of Paris.

De Gaulle and Adenauer stood at stiff attention as a military band played their respective national anthems. Then they were driven to nearby Rambouillet where the German chancellor stayed in the royal apartment.

Adenauer returns to Germany Sunday.

After a brief rest at the chateau, Adenauer was guest of honor at a 12-place luncheon. The menu included lobster, roast beef and vintage wines: Chablis 1959, Volnay 1959 and Champagne Pol Roger 1955.

After lunch De Gaulle and Adenauer met in the celebrated Marble Room of the ancient chateau, where Catherine de Medici frequently met with her advisors in the 16th century.

Only interpreters were present. An aide said there would be no decisions and no communique.

Local Boys Win More Honors In Sears Pig Show

Two Howard County 4-H Club boys, winners in last Saturday's Howard County gilt and boar show, took their swine to Sweetwater Saturday morning and walked off with championships. A six-county area was represented in the annual Sears Foundation gilt and boar show Saturday.

Brad Posey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Posey, Lomax, showed the champion gilt, and Ronnie Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Gail Road, Big Spring, the champion boar. Both were registered Durocs.

Assistant Howard County Agent Lovell Kuykendall said the boys had some stiff competition at the Sweetwater show.

"Ronnie is a third year club member," Kuykendall said. "He showed the grand champion barrow at the 1961 Howard County show, and the champion gilt last year. Brad is a first-year member."

Local Kiwanians To Attend Confab

The Kiwanis Club of Big Spring will be represented at the 1963 convention of the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International at Corpus Christi, Texas, Sept. 26-28, club president Soc Walker announced.

Traveling to Corpus Christi for the 3½ day meeting will be the Rev. and Mrs. Ward Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Werlein Jr.

Hosts for the convention will be members of all the Kiwanis clubs in Corpus Christi. Some 327 clubs, with a total membership of 15,800, will be represented at the convention. Principal business will include committee conferences, a discussion of community service and administrative plans for the coming year, and the election of a district governor and other officers for 1964.

Jean Hollinan Funeral Monday

Funeral for Jean Hollinan, 34, former Big Spring resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at River-Welch Chapel with Rev. Paul West officiating. Burial will follow in Coahoma Cemetery.

She died suddenly last Thursday in Chicago, where she had lived for the past year. She was born May 29, 1929, in Howard County.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Joiner, Coahoma; one sister, Mrs. Roy Holler, Merkel; and a grandfather, Sam Joiner, Colorado City.

F. W. Willcox Dies

F. W. Wilcox, father of James Wilcox, 512 Westover Road, died early Saturday in Pecos. He has been a Pecos resident about five years. Services have been set for 3 p.m. today with the Pecos Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

MD Drive To Begin

The annual MD (muscular dystrophy) campaign is to get under way in Big Spring about 5:30 p.m. today, Dan Shockey, campaign chairman, said Saturday.

The annual drive is made to aid in research and relief for more than 200,000 men, women and children in the United States suffering from muscular dystrophy.

"The chronic disease of the muscles hits people in all parts of the nation," he said, "and the exact cause is unknown.

"The Howard County chapter cooperates with all other chapters in the nation in providing funds for research, wheel chairs, beds, orthopedic appliances, and physical therapy, plus a continuing program of education among physicians, members of paramedical professons, and the general public," he explained.

Volunteer workers will take part in the fund raising. Those wishing to help may get information from Mrs. Elna Cox, AM 4-4236, or Mrs. June Williams, AM 4-6866.

Toll Charges May Be Eliminated To Coahoma Phones

Big Spring and Coahoma telephone users may be able to exchange calls soon without toll charges.

Agreements for extended area coverage between the Coahoma Telephone Company, Inc., which serves Coahoma and Sand Springs, and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company serving the Big Spring area, have been reached. Oct. 1 has been proposed as a target date, although there could be a possible short delay.

The EAS will come as a result of a flat rate at Coahoma and Sand Springs and will involve some 550 phones.

Coahoma and Sand Springs users will simply dial AM and the following five digits to reach Big Spring patrons. Big Spring users will dial 391 plus four digits for Sand Springs and 394 plus four digits for Coahoma phones. Negotiations for this toll-free service between the exchanges have been under way for months.

Exes To Honor State Officials

A reception, honoring Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Attorney General Waggoner Carr, will be held by the Austin chapter of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association Saturday.

The two state officials, both former students of Texas Tech, will be honored at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel between 2 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The reception will be part of a full day's activities sponsored by the Austin Chapter of Texas Tech exes beginning with a mass greeting of the Texas Tech football team at 10:30 a.m. A pep rally for students and exes will be held at 4:30 p.m. in the 100 block of West Seventh.

Attends Confab

Edwina Carr, district sales manager, attended the annual sales conference of World Book Encyclopedia and Childcraft in Chicago last week as the guest of the educational publishing firm. Mrs. Carr, who resides at Coahoma, is one of approximately 1,800 managers who direct a sales organization. They joined the home office staff for the annual meeting from Sept. 15-18.

There have been a lot of openings and dedications, and more are coming. Last weekend Ponderosa Apartments and First National Bank had open house—and with terrific response. Forsan dedicated its handsome new school building Friday. Within a week Gibson's will be opening, and around the middle of October the new Holiday Inn will have open house, too.

Howard County Junior College continued to add to its record enrollment. Saturday, as near as could be determined, the college had about 850 taking college credit courses. There could be some more this week, although the college discourages enrollment this late in most courses.

A new facility here is steadily getting action. Bennett House, a nursing home with potentially a 200-bed capacity, last week opened the second wing of the initial unit. The equivalancy now is about 50 patients. Thayer Waldo's series (in the Fort Worth Star Telegram) fly-by-night nursing homes has stimulated a wave of applications for Bennett House, says Bruce Frazier. Incidentally, Waldo is due here Tuesday for a visit.

Monsanto Chemical Co. No. 1 Gordon, southern Dawson County test in the Triple D (Pennsylvanian) developed good shows in the Wolfcamp section last week. Cities Service No. 1-A Miears, northern Dawson venture, proved a discovery in the lower Spraberry 10 miles north of Lamesa. Austrial No. 1 Mabee, in northwest Martin, came up with promising shows in the Dean, Wolfcamp and Fusselman.

In addition to recommending the improvements to the city park facilities as suggested by Johnny Johansen, the Parks Board last week recommended that the City Commission also consider some substantial improvements at Moss Creek Lake. Drama enthusiasts are asking that the city consider rehabilitation of Prairie Playhouse in the City Park. It's good to hear talk of more park development. We've slept too long here.

One way to discover a postal theft is to look at the trash. D. C. Trantham, caretaker at the courthouse, noticed a check, then another, and another as he dumped trash. It turned out some thief had rifled the Sears and State Hospital drawers at the post office, probably hunting cash, then discarded the remainder in a courthouse restroom wastebasket.

Dick Hitt, Dallas Times Herald columnist, quoted Helen Hurt in his last Tuesday's column on Tom Swifties pertaining to the oil industry. For example: "It's what's in the ground that counts," he said reservedly. "But I like to work on offshore rigs," he bubbled swimmingly. "Shut off that valve," he flared. "Where does the gasoline tax go?" he asked divertingly. "Some Indians get oil royalties," he noted with reservations. But enough, for "it's oil right," we added crudely.

Tree Seedlings Are Available

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers and ranchers who plan to plant windbreaks this year can pick up applications for tree seedlings from their county agricultural agent, or by writing to the Forest Service, College Station.

Windbreak species available this year are: Austrian and ponderosa pine, black locust, catalpa, Chinese elm, cottonwood, buffaloberry, mulberry, red cedar, multoflora rose, sycamore, euonymus and osage orange. Black walnut stratified seed are available also.

Seedlings are sold only for soil stabilization or windbreak purposes. They may not be used for landscaping or as ornamentals. No order for less than 100 trees will be accepted. Windbreak planting guides are available free of charge from the County Agricultural Agents and from the Texas Forest Service, College Station.

Brotherhood Names Officers

STANTON (SC) — Kenneth Gilmore was named president of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church at a meeting Thursday.

Other officers for the ensuing year are Darrell Payne, vice president; Jay Dee House, secretary - treasurer; Eugene Byrd, Christian Witness leader; and Floyd Sorley, RA director.

The Brotherhood also held RA emphasis night and the Royal Ambassadors were special guests.

Rites Scheduled For Youngster

Funeral for Rhonda Yvette Dotson, 7-year-old daughter of Mrs. Eloise Jackson, 810 NW 4th, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Church of God in Christ with Rev. W. W. Witherspoon officiating.

Burial will follow at Big Spring Cemetery under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

The child died at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. She was born Dec. 14, 1955, in Falls County, Tex., and had lived in the community six years.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Jackson; her father, Nels Dotson; and three sisters, Ellise L. Hickman, Marie B. Hickman and Marilyn Jackson, all of Big Spring.

Honor Society Elects Officers

Elected were Rick Price, president; Jody Thompson, vice president; Linda Mason, secretary; Cathy Boren, treasurer; Kathy Mason, historian; and Martha Slickman, reporter.

Mrs. Burk, Runnels Junior High art teacher, presented a program on "How Emotions Are Developed in Art."

Mrs. Rita Weeg and Colleen Slaughter are Society sponsors this year.

Birmingham Hopes To Avoid Outbreak

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Quiet now but still nervous, Birmingham Saturday approached another Sabbath with fervent hope of avoiding another outbreak of racial violence.

It was the first weekend since the bombing of a Negro church killed four Negro children and touched off a day of terror which left two other Negroes dead.

There were scattered incidents as the weekend began, but none reached serious proportions.

Two white teen-agers remained in jail meanwhile on murder charges in the killing of a Negro boy. An adult Negro was arrested after a scuffle with two state troopers and the stabbing of a white man.

Police said two other Negro youths had been charged with telephoning bomb threats to a school.

Long-seething racial tension has erupted into new violence in the past two weeks since three of the city's 93 schools were desegregated under federal court orders.

The unrest reached a bloody climax last Sunday when a bomb, placed beneath a stairway at the 16th Street Baptist Church, exploded during Sunday school services and killed four Negro girls.

In the hours that followed, a Negro youth accused of throwing rocks at a police car was shot to death by a patrolman, and another Negro boy was killed by pistol shots fired from an approaching motor scooter on which two white youths were riding.

The white teen-agers, Michael Lee Farley and Larry Joe Sims, both 16, were bound over to a grand jury without bond after a hearing before county Judge Elias Watson Jr. The grand jury, meeting Oct. 7, will decide whether to indict them for murder. The boys signed a statement saying Sims had shot the Negro, Virgil Ware, 13.

Coroner J. O. Butler said the grand jury also will be asked to investigate the death of the other Negro youth, Johnny Brown Robinson.

John Marchbanks Dies Saturday

John W. Marchbanks, 77, resident of Big Spring since 1907, and a retired stock farmer, died Saturday afternoon in a Kerrville hospital. He was born in Tarrant County, Nov. 7, 1885, and came to Big Spring from Glen Rose.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Nora Binder, Midland; a grandson, David Binder, Midland; two brothers, L. Z. Marchbanks, Big Spring, R. C. Marchbanks, Sunland Park, N.M.; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Martin, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Gordon Buchanan, Big Spring.

Bible Fund Total

Tabulations on the High School Bible Class fund indicate that it got past the $3,500 mark. The latest total was $3,513.71. Among donors adding to the total were Ruth Class of First Baptist $7.50, Motor Bearing and Service Company $10, Twila Lomax in memory of Cecil Wasson $5, and 1905 Hyperion Club $10.

Pope Plans Overhauling

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI said Saturday he intends to internationalize the entire Vatican-based administration of the Roman Catholic Church, eliminating through reforms "whatever is archaic or superfluous."

The pontiff announced his aims in an address to the very body that will get the overhauling—the Curia Romana, or Roman Court.

Its 12 congregations, 3 tribunals and 6 special offices date from the Middle Ages.

Cardinals, archbishops, bishops and scores of monsignors make up the curia's 1,000-man staff. Most are Italians and most make a career of serving in the Vatican.

Pope Paul received the curia in special audience a week before the Vatican Ecumenical Council's second session begins. He praised the work and devotion of the curia. He also told its members:

"Various reforms are needed. They certainly will be ponderous. They will be in line with venerable and reasonable traditions on one hand, and according to the needs of the times on the other hand.

"And they certainly will be functional and beneficial because they will have no other aim than to let fall whatever is archaic or superfluous in the forms and norms which regulate the Roman Curia and to put into being whatever is vital and healthy."

The pontiff said the curia itself would formulate and carry out the reforms. He did not detail what changes would be made, how they could be made or when they would start.

The curia includes such bodies as the Vatican secretariat of state, the tribunals that handle marriage and separation cases and congregations such as the Holy Office. The Holy Office, guardian of doctrine, began in the early 13th century as the Congregation of the Inquisition to fight heresy.

Reform of the curia, especially the addition of clerics from outside Italy, has been advocated in recent years by many bishops and theologians.

County Farm Tour Scheduled Monday

Big Spring's businessmen Monday will have an opportunity to see at first hand practices and problems of agriculture and ranching in Howard County.

A day-long program of visits to farms and ranches in the area has been planned by the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The group will leave at 8:45 a.m. from the College Park Shopping Center area. There is no cost attached and transportation will be provided. Anyone wishing to make the tour should contact Carlton Chapman or the Chamber.

First stop on the agenda is White's Dairy, about one mile north of the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. refinery. Soil conservation practices and Hereford cattle will be viewed next at the Leland Wallace ranch before moving on to the Howard County Feed Lot about 12 mies northeast of the city on the Snyder Highway.

Refreshments will be served during a tour of the Fairview Gin. Also slated before the noon break are cattle feeding operations at the W. C. Fryar ranch and, at the Robert Brown farm, cotton planting varieties and insect control management.

The afternoon schedule includes, in the order of stops, the C. V. Hewett place for a view of irrigated cotton and further study of soil conservation practices and fertilizer application; the McDowell ranch for a demonstration of mesquite spraying; and the Bob and David Adkins place, for a look at 4-H calves.

Lunch for the tour will be at the Downtown Tea Room. It will be provided through the courtesy of Big Spring Tractor Co., Clay's Farm Center, Driver Truck and Implement Co., First National Bank, HOWCO M-M Tractor Co., T. H. McCann Butane Co., Shirley Walker Tractor Co., State National Bank, Taylor Implement Co. and Walker Brothers Implement Co.

Hull Burners Herald Start Of Harvest

White smoke was beginning to drift from the mouths of cotton hull burners at Howard County gins last week — the final proof it is truly fall and that cotton harvest on Howard County's 774 farms is getting under way.

Actually, according to the survey made by the Texas Employment Commission Friday, only two per cent of Howard County's estimated 36,500 bale crop has been ginned but the tempo will build up steadily from now on.

Leon Kinney, with the TEC, said that he could place 2,500 cotton pullers at work on farms if the pullers were available. Unfortunately, they are not. In fact, the number of available cotton pickers seeking work is so small as to make no appreciable dent in the problem of finding workers.

Survey made by TEC showed that 976 Howard County cotton bales have rolled off the gin platforms so far this fall. It is estimated that 50 per cent of the crop is now open in the fields and ready for picking.

Martin County, with an estimated 75,000 bale crop, has ginned only 440 bales or one per cent of its total. Cotton is about as ripe in Martin County fields as in Howard County.

Glasscock County has ginned 536 bales or six per cent of its 9,700 bale crop. The fields in Glasscock County are 53 per cent open.

Harvesting will move much slower this year than in other years. The labor shortage is forcing growers to turn to mechanized pullers. Strippers will not be widely used for some weeks. Until this operation gets well under way, the ginning operations are likely to be slow all over the county and in the adjacent counties.

Blankenship Named CLU

William C. (Buddy) Blankenship Jr., district manager for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., was awarded the Chartered Life Underwriter designation at national conferment exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters in Miami Beach, Fla., a week ago.

The American College of Life Underwriters grants the CLU or CLU Associate designation to persons in life and health insurance who pass a series of professional examinations and meet the experience and ethical requirements of the college. This year 1,033 men and women were awarded the disignation, bringing to 11,632 the number of people who have received it since the college was founded in 1927.

Blankenship has been associated with the Massachusetts Mutual since July, 1957, working on a part-time basis until he graduated from North Texas State University in 1959 with a BBA degree. Since that time he has been living in Oak Cliff where he is a member of the First Baptist Church of Oak Cliff and the Oak Cliff Rotary Club. Blankenship is a winner of the insurance industry's National Quality Award and a member of the Texas Leaders Round Table.

Tobacco Budworm Threatens Some Areas But Not Others

The tobacco budworm, an unwelcome newcomer to Howard County cotton farms this fall, has assumed near-menace proportions on certain farms but, as a whole, does not as yet constitute a threat of major importance.

"There are some farms," said Herb Helbig, county agent, "where there are enough budworms to threaten the crop. These are fields where the cotton has not yet ripened. The places where the pest had reached high concentration are scattered and are found almost 100 per cent in the north half of the county. We have no proved cases of budworm in the Elbow-Lomax areas as yet.

"The worms are found in a number of areas but in many fields are few in number. However, the wise thing to do is to poison wherever they are located."

The worm was reported last season, Helbig said, but there were no confirmed cases. This fall, he said, the existence of the pest has been proved. The threat looms that he will become a greater pest in the seasons to come unless prompt and drastic action is taken now to kill off the early invaders.

The worm resembles the all-too-familiar bollworm in physical appearance, Helbig said. However, he has one characteristic that the bollworm lacks—the budworm is extremely hard to kill with poison.

The same poisons cotton farmers use to kill bollworms can be used to kill budworms. The difference is in the volume of poison used. Where the bollworm can be handled with what farmers call the minimum dosage of the accepted insecticides, a maximum dosage has to be applied to cope with the budworm.

"Toxaphene DDT," Helbig said, "which we use at the rate of three pounds to the acre to curb the bollworm, can be used to kill the budworm. The difference is that we have to use 4½ pounds to the acre—indeed, it is even advisable to make the dose three pounds of toxaphene and three pounds of DDT to make certain the killing is effective."

The common dust widely used on farms, known to farmers as budworms although it will destroy the bollworm.

Helbig said that some farmers are already warring on the pest.

He pointed out that the farmers may have a break in their favor. The worm has showed up late in the season. The weather is becoming cooler and eggs laid which hatch into budworms will be slower to produce. The worms, too, he said, will not be as active due to the lower temperatures as they would have had they appeared in midsummer.

He recommends that where it is established the pest has appeared, poisoning in extra-heavy dosages, be applied.

Teachers Recognized

STANTON (SC) — Gavevera Middleton was recognized as an outstanding teacher here Tuesday night as the Stanton Lions Club honored all teachers in the Stanton Independent School District at an annual banquet in Cap Rock Electric Cooperative Auditorium.

Bob Johnson, club president, presented a citation to Miss Middleton, who is beginning her forty-first year of teaching. Now a third grade teacher in Stanton, she previously taught 13 years at Courtney.

Jimmy Stallings, chairman of the club's educational committee, cited all the teachers in the system. Fifteen new teachers received gift certificates from Udell Morris, first vice president.

The speaker was Dr. Richard Clayborne, pastor of the First Christian Church, Midland, introduced by Cecil Bridges, program chairman.

Special entertainment was provided by a vocalist, Linda Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hays Jr., of Courtney. Miss Hays was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Wood, Lions Club Sweetheart. A quartet of Lions, James Jones, Cliff Hazlewood, O. B. Bryan and John Wood also performed.

Col. Springfield Retires From AF

Col. Robert W. Springfield, 53, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winans, Vealmoor, retired from the Air Force Aug. 31 after 20 years of service. He has been assistant deputy chief of staff for personnel, Headquarters Air University, since 1958. Col. Springfield will go to the University of Alabama Center, Montgomery, Ala., as director.

He has served at Lackland Air Force Base, and in Korea, during his tours of duty. He was principal of Rocksprings and Jourdanton elementary schools, and was superintendent of the Martindale schools before entering service.

Jean Kerr's Happy Play First In Concert Series

Bob and Mary McKellaway, almost on the verge of divorce, are obliged to be in each other's presence because Oscar Nelson, Bob's lawyer, has to answer some questions for the Internal Revenue Service.

Dirk Winsten, a suave movie star, moves into the picture and showers her with attention high-minded Bob has overlooked. On the other hand, Young Tiffany Richards, who favors health foods and all that nonsense about a sane mind and sound body, turns her charms on Bob.

And at the height of the tangle, a raging blizzard compels Bob and Mary to spend the night in their former love nest. This triggers a parade of recriminations from retrospect and some hilarious moments. So how do you work it, out when it comes to nice men and bright women?

Jean Kerr's delightful "Mary, Mary," proves that you don't use logic on females. Don't argue with them, you're better off trying to make love.

"Mary, Mary" is the bright situation comedy from the pen of the author of the best seller "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," and after two seasons on Broadway it is still going great guns.

This year it is going on tour, too, and The Big Spring Concert Association has booked it for its opening program Oct. 21. Others in the series, for which memberships are now being sold ($9 adult, $4 student), include Celeste Holm (Nov. 11), San Antonio Symphony (Jan. 30), Midland-Odessa Chorale (March 10), Ferrante and Teicher (March 21).

JEFFREY LYNN

MINDY CARSON

PIRIE MACDONALD

Mindy Carson, who has starred in numerous stage and television plays, is cast in the title role of Mary. She first made her mark as a singer but turned to movies only to find she looked so much like Ingrid Bergman producers shunned her. She got her breaks on Studio One and on the U. S. Steel and the Armstrong Circle Theatres.

Pirie MacDonald is cast as Bob. His acting background includes successes in Shakespearean companies, a time with the famous Irish Players and numerous movies. He was support of Eva La Gallienne in "Elizabeth the Queen," took part in "All the Way Home," Night of the Iguana" and others. He has acted extensively in television plays.

To Jeffrey Lynn goes the part of the slick-looking movie star. Lynn, who gets the feel of a part simply by trying to live it in real life, has appeared in such movies as "Roaring Twenties," "The Fighting 69th," "A Letter to Three Wives," and on the stage in "The Moon Is Blue." "Seven Year Itch" and "Mr. Roberts." Elizabeth St. Clair has a key supporting role as Tiffany Richards, the kookie health addict, and Carl Sundberg livens things as Oscar Nelson, the attorney.

Texas Stands Up Better During Slumps

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' economy is better able to withstand a business slump than the national economy, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The bureau said three peaks and troughs in the national economic picture have been recorded since 1953.

"Each downturn in the national economy saw the index of Texas business activity either maintain a high level or turn down slightly, since Texas has relatively fewer highly cyclical types of industries," the bureau said.

Bureau statistician Francis May said business activity has shown continuing improvement since 1950 "and promises to show modest gains through 1963."

The monthly index of business activity report of the bureau is measured by checking debits in 20 cities reported to the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas.

The report said that construction is a major branch of the state's economy, paying more than $700 million in personal income to Texas, based on building permits issued.

May said construction continues high during 1963 and has shown steady gains since 1950, with one exception from July 1957 to April 1958.

"Although the number of persons employed in farming has declined because of the technological and chemical revolutions in farming methods, agriculture remains an important basic industry in the state," the report said. It placed farmers' income during a good year at $1 billion.

State Gets First Relief From Dry, Hot Weather

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Cold air from the north and Hurricane Cindy from the south brought rain to most parts of Texas by midweek. Though showers were spotted in some areas, the state received its first general relief from this summer's dry, hot weather, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Rains slowed harvests but improved pastures and added moisture needed for grain seeding, he said.

South Texas received scattered rains but needs more rain in most counties. The cotton harvest is near completion. Pastures are in critical condition.

General rains fell over South Central Texas but more are needed. The peanut harvest is on with light yields. Cattlemen are culling herds. Pecans are shedding but prospects are good.

The upper Gulf Coast received showers over most of the district but rain was light in some parts. The southeast counties, hit by Hurricane Cindy, got excessive rains.

East Texas was also affected by the hurricane but moisture was still short at midweek. More rain was needed. Ranges were below average. Some livestock are losing weight.

Scattered showers over Central Texas helped some areas but generally moisture was very short. Cotton and corn harvests are nearly complete. The peanut and pecan crops need moisture. Some oats are being seeded dry. Pasture grasses were dry and grazing is short. Stock tanks are low or dry.

Scattered showers helped the pasture and stock water situation in many areas of West Central Texas. Seeding of small grain will start soon. The cotton harvest is well under way. Range conditions vary with the moisture.

The cotton harvest has been slowed by wet weather in far West Texas. Insects are a problem. Light to heavy rains improved moisture conditions and should allow grasses to grow, but more is needed. Sheep and goat shearing is about over. Lamb and calf shipments are moving.

Moisture was short, though scattered showers fell in Northeast Texas. Oat planting was begun. Cotton and corn harvests are on. Pastures are below average. The pecan crop looks good.

Spotted rains did little to relieve the severe drought conditions in North Central Texas. Range land was in critical condition and stock water was being hauled in some counties. The cotton harvest is in the last half.

Moisture improved in some counties of the Rolling Plains but others need rain. Grain acreage is being planted, some dry seeded. Livestock in some counties is being fed due to poor ranges.

Most of the South Plains have adequate moisture. Spotted rains slowed the milo harvest and open weather is needed for cotton. Some 1,700 acres of Dawson County cotton was damaged by hail. Wheat planting is under way.

Moisture in the Panhandle ranges from adequate to very short. With 30 to 40 per cent of the wheat in the upper Panhandle planted, seeding still is on. Some early grain sorghum is being harvested.

Three Howard County Boys Call Otto's Boys Ranch Home

Three Big Spring and Howard County boys are now numbered among the 48 now at Otto's Boys Ranch at Notrees, Juvenile Officer Bob Darland said Friday. All boys at the ranch are provided a home and opportunity, and are there because they have been adrift, uncared for, or unwanted.

"The boys receive counseling, schooling, and medical care at the ranch," Robert P. Reilly, director of public relations, said. "All boys, from ages 6 to 18, attend public schools in Ector County. We have no transportation available for special education cases. The ranch is not equipped with facilities or personnel to care for mentally or physically handicapped boys. Medical care is performed by Odessa doctors who contribute their time and effort to give the boys the best medical care available."

Darland said parents of the boys sent from Howard County were unable to care for their sons and it became necessary to provide a "home" where they could feel some sense of security and receive training in responsibility.

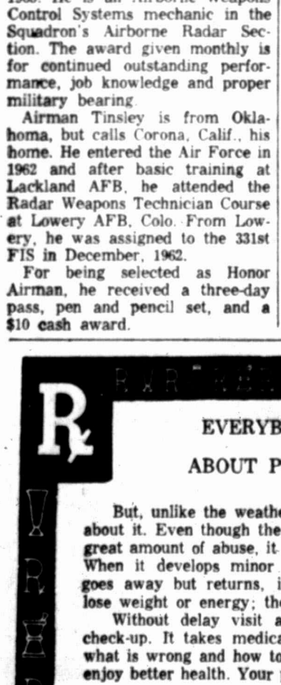

"We have not been turned down by Otto's Boys Ranch when we have called on them," Darland said. "The ranch receives no state aid, but depends solely on contributions. This ranch makes no concerted drive for funds. It depends upon the response of people who hear about it and feel they would like to help boys who are unable to help themselves.

The ranch, started in December of 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pavlicek with 400 acres and a small house, now covers nearly 4,000 acres. Five sections of the ranch is under lease from Pan American Petroleum Corp. A masonry school building was acquired at Notrees and is being used as a home. Cattle, hogs, chickens, horses, and assorted pets are cared for at the ranch, and these supply milk, beef, eggs, and sausage. During the growing season the boys raise their own vegetables, all under the supervision of adults.

"We make every effort to rehabilitate boys until they can accept suitable employment, enter the Armed Services, or return to their homes," Reilly, a former newspaper man, said.

"The ranch is organized as a non-profit organization and has a board of directors of businessmen," he said. "Dr. B. N. Shaw is the president. First, second and third vice presidents are Dr. T. E. Spires, Bud Lee, and Bill Sears. Bill Dunham is secretary and Will Hadden is treasurer. Otto Pavlicek, operator of ice cream stores, is chairman of the board. Clint A. Dodson, former juvenile officer who has worked with youth for 16 years, is executive director. Darrel J. Byrd, former Odessa police chief, is superintendent."

Reilly said the ranch will operate more efficiently as facilities are added, through donations of equipment or money for purchase. Otto's Boys Ranch is open to visitors at any time. Information may be received from Director of Public Relations, Otto's Boys Ranch, Drawer H, Notrees, Texas.

BOBBIE R. TINSLEY

Airman Tinsley Receives Honor

Airman 2.C. Bobbie R. Tinsley has been selected as the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron's Outstanding Airman for August, 1963. He is an Airborne Weapons Control Systems mechanic in the Squadron's Airborne Radar Section. The award given monthly is for continued outstanding performance, job knowledge and proper military bearing.

Airman Tinsley is from Oklahoma, but calls Corona, Calif., his home. He entered the Air Force in 1962 and after basic training at Lackland AFB, he attended the Radar Weapons Technician Course at Lowery AFB, Colo. From Lowery, he was assigned to the 331st FIS in December, 1962.

For being selected as Honor Airman, he received a three-day pass, pen and pencil set, and a $10 cash award.

Miss Cindy Adds To Show Laurels

Their four-year-old Appaloosa gelding, Omeo Go, took first in the halter class; second in junior reining in the performance class; first in western pleasure; first in junior roping, and first in barrel races, at the show. He was ridden by Dick Bennett.

Ask Reversal Of Penalties

HOUSTON (AP)—Eight lawsuits have been filed by 15 Waller County rice farmers who ask the reversal of more than $130,000 in penalties charged against them during the rice acreage allotment scandals.

The suits, filed Friday in federal court, named John Olsovsky, Bill Briscoe and Leroy J. Krueger as defendants. These men made up a review committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture after the rice allotment frauds were made public in 1962.

The 15 men who filed the suits were all accused of over-planting their acreage allotments by the committee and assessed sizable penalties.

Each suit charged that T. C. Thornhill, former office manager of the Waller County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, contacted the farmers and told them he could arrange for additional rice allotments for them through farmers in Brazoria County.

Thornhill is awaiting trial on charges of bribery and conspiracy in acreage transfer deals.

The farmers' suits all said Thornhill told them of such transfers—from one county to another—were legal and proper.

Civil Defense Program Slated

STANTON (SC) — An adult Civil Defense program will begin Oct. 1 at the Stanton High School and the Courtney Elementary School, according to Beryl Clinton, superintendent.

Registrations are now being taken by Bill Johnson and Leslie Hays for the 12-hour course in disaster survival. Johnson and Hays will instruct.

Classes begin Oct. 1, at 4 p.m. and the remaining five class sessions will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Training Class In Cooking Begins Monday At College

The old Student Union Building on the campus of Howard County Junior College will soon be filling the air with the savory odor of food in preparation.

Marshall Box, chairman of the industrial education department, said that initial session of the new HCJC class in cafe and restaurant cooking will begin Monday at 8 a.m.

"Probably there will be no cooking for a few days," said Box, "but sometime soon, Corey (R. E. Corey, instructor) will doubtless start his students on food preparation. Then, we can look for the aroma of food around the old SUB."

Leon Kinney, manager of the Big Spring Texas Employment Commission, said that he has at least 15 acceptable students for the training program and has a chance, before Monday, of adding one or two more.

The cook training program is in accord with the National Manpower Training Act and is operated by the TEC and HCJC. It is another step similiar to the successful auto mechanics training program now under way. The college provides the facilities, the instructor and the supervision; the TEC and the Manpower Commission the equipment and the students.

Kinney said he had interviewed 35 or 40 possible cook enrollees but that most had not come up to the standard set for acceptance. He said the 15 he has definitely earmarked as acceptable have made high ratings on the required tests and have demonstrated an active interest in learning the trade of cook.

The program is intended to take unemployed individuals or those who are underemployed and train them for jobs more in accordance with their talents and abilities. Under the plan, an applicant who demonstrates his worthiness can be trained and be paid subsistence money of $30 a week.

Kinney said he had rejected some of the applicants offhand. Others showed up and then lost interest. About 35 have been given the aptitude tests. Some flunked out on these tests.

The 15 now on the list are the cream of the crop, Kinney said.

"We'll have 20 in the class before the end of September," Kinney said. "We can get under way Monday with the 15 we now have and add the others as they qualify before the end of the month."

The instructor, Corey, is an experienced chef who has worked in many big hotel and restaurant kitchens. He has spent the past week personally selecting equipment and material for his class room kitchen. Friday he supervised the connecting of the stoves and setting up other machinery he will use.

The training program goes on 4½ months. Sessions will be from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. five days a week.

Box, commenting on the auto mechanics class which is set up for a full year, said that the college is delighted with the results so far.

"James Banks, the instructor," said Box, "is doing a marvelous job. He started with 20; there are still 15 students in the class and all seem likely to complete the program. Banks is a competent instructor and the drop outs are exceptionally low.

"We credit the care that Kinney used in selecting the students from the many applicants as a major factor in the successful work that is being done. The mechanic's class is now half-way through. We believe that the cook class will be equally helpful."

Two Contracts Are Awarded

Two bids have been awarded by the Air Force Contracting Officer at Webb AFB. Tally Electric Co., of Big Spring, bid $1,790 for the installation of a Master Electric Meter for the Capehart Housing area. Ray Dunlap Construction Co., Big Spring, bid $21,113 for the alteration of a building and the air conditioning of one room. Work has begun on both projects.

Waiting receipt of bids are replacing lights and repainting interior of Building No. 631; and the alteration of shops No. 14 and No. 15. Bids on the first of these projects to be submitted to the contracting officer not later than 2 p.m. Oct. 4, 1963; the other, by 2 p.m. Oct. 10, 1963.

Minor Accident

Police investigated a minor traffic accident at 11:53 a.m. Friday at 18th and Benton. Reported involved were Andrea Lynn Askins, 16, 608 Linda Lane and William Blankenship Sr., 66, 701 E. 17th.

Would Expand Investigation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The investigation into the bus-train crash that killed 31 Mexican farm hands should be expanded to general farm worker conditions, the emergency committee to aid farm workers has declared.

The group, including famous persons in politics, literature, religion and entertainment, charged in a telegram that prostitutes were engaged for farm workers at one major California farm.

In the telegram to Gov. Edmund Brown and Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, the committee said:

"Prostitutes were introduced into the workers' living quarters on the farm in question despite the protest of the great majority of both braceros and American workers." Braceros are Mexicans brought into the United States on contracts to do farm labor.

The committee said it would give the name of the grower involved "to an appropriate authority."

Methodist Men Hear Teachers

Men of the Wesley Methodist Church heard two coaches and faculty members speak Friday evening at their regular monthly meeting. Guest speakers were Delnor Poss and Melvin Lindsey.

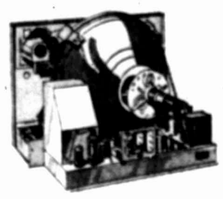

Afterwards, plans were made for the pancake supper Tuesday Oct. 15. This event will be held between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. The men of the church and members of Boy Scout Troop 9 and Explorer Post Nine will sell tickets (75-50 cents) for benefit of the Scouting activities.

Jonnie Goswick Is Winner Of Herald's Turtle Race

Top prize money of $20 went Saturday to Jonnie Goswick, carrier of Herald route No. 40 in the south part of town, who won District 2 and the City Championship of the Herald's turtle race.

The championship especially was welcome to the "little merchant" for Saturday was his 15th birthday.

Many parents and spectators were on hand at the Herald parking lot, Eighth and Gregg Saturday when the race was held.

There were 70 Herald carrier-salesmen entered in the event. Route numbers of the entrants were painted on the backs of the turtles—making it easy to determine who won the prize money. The race was judged by the Herald circulation staff.

Joanie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Goswick, 1804 Runnels, was awarded $15 for winning the city title and $5 for capturing the District 2 laurels. Winners of each of the city's three carrier districts competed in the finals.

Raymond Hattenback, 1806 E. 15th, was runnerup with $13 prize money. His turtle crossed the finish line second in the finals after placing in the District 1 event.

Larry Peacock, 3623 Dixon, took $5 for third place in the finals and $3 for a second rating in the District 3 competition.

Other winners were:

District 3—Mike Wheeler, 1502 Pennsylvania, 1st; Dean Condron, Old San Angelo Highway, 3rd.

Prize money of $5, $3 and $2 respectively went to the top three winners in each district race. Similarly, prize money of $15, $10 and $5 was awarded the three top finals winners.

Jack Kimbell, Herald circulation manager, supervised the race.

The first edition of the Dragon's Den will be published at the end of the six weeks. The paper will be issued to the oldest member of every family. The paper staff for this year are James Howard, editor; Naomi Caughman, assistant editor; Corky Perry, business manager; Richard Caferello, sports editor; Veneta Oaks, girls' sports reporter and Rodney Oaks, boys' sports reporter.

The officers presiding in the FFA are Bobby Deatherage, president; Corky Perry, vice president; Keith Howard, secretary; Kenneth Pribyla, treasurer; Mike Roman, sentinel and Norbert Gonzales, reporter.

The Dragons were host to the Novice Hornets Friday night. The Dragonetts performed during halftime. The majorettes did a routine while the drill team formed an "N" for Novice. Then an outline of a football was formed and a cheer, "We're the champs," was done in honor of the Dragons. Cheerleaders this season are Naomi Caughman, head cheerleader, Sophie Perez and Diane Massengale. The majorettes are Veneta Oaks, Geneice Carmichael and Mary Etta Glaze. The drummers are Faye Langston, Patsy Oaks and Lupe Gonzales.

There was a social right after the game honoring both football teams.

Cheering the junior high boys on to victory this year are Cindy Glaze, Ann Dennis and Joy Oaks. The majorettes are Fran Creighton and Sharon Miller.

Sands FFA Sets Barbecue Friday

The Sands FFA will have a barbecue supper Friday, Sept. 27, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. The barbecue will be prepared by O'Dell's of Big Spring. Boys of the agriculture department will prepare the beans, and the mothers will prepare the potato salad. Admission is $1.25 for adults and $1 for children under 10 years of age.

The first home football game of the season was played Friday night. The boys played a hard game. Coaches of the squad are Bill Milam, head coach, Mr. Edminston and Mr. Dodds.

Car Stripped

Burglars took a battery valued at $15 and a carburetor valued at $10 from the station wagon of Loney Burger, 2101 Grace, Friday night while the vehicle was parked in the garage at the rear of the house, police said.

LETTER

Urges Help For Center

To the Editor:

I go along wholeheartedly with H. M. Schroeder whose letter appeared in the Herald a short time ago.

To the patients of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center, I am known as Kayla's mother. Kayla is one of the crippled children our physical therapist, Jim Thompson, has helped so much. Sometime ago Kayla, along with many, many others made this appeal: "Please give your dimes and dollars to help the crippled children." Their appeals were answered by the good people of Howard County. With tears, sweat and determination, volunteer workers built and furnished our first rehabilitation center. Due to the swampy ground on which it was built, our proud little building was condemned (because it was structurally unsafe). Mr. Thompson and his volunteer helpers gathered up the equipment and furnishings and moved into a temporary building.

Now that we have the money for another center, I appeal to the proper authorities, "Please give Mr. Thompson and the staff the building and equipment so desperately needed to take care of the many adults and children treated daily." The next patient could be you.

Thanks,
B. McKinney

Animal Research To Be Reviewed

LUBBOCK — Sixteen research projects in animal science will be reviewed during Texas Tech's annual Livestock and Feeders Days Oct. 4-5.

Six research reports on feeding of all-concentrates will be featured in the morning session Oct. 4. The afternoon will be devoted to reports on reproduction research, dry-lot cow-calf research at Spur, and costs and efficiency in feedlot operations.

The closing session Oct. 5 will emphasize meats research. Other reports will cover a variety of subjects, including feeding catfish in farm ponds, uses of by-products in feeding, rice oil in dairy rations, and ulcers and liver abscesses in cattle. Registrants may also see the Texas A&M-Tech game at 7:30 p.m.

Boosters To Meet

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Lewis Roten, president of the Stanton Band Booster Club, announced a meeting for Tuesday in the band hall at 7:30 p.m. She invited all interested persons.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION B — BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1963 — SECTION B

Tex. A&M Only SWC Loser As Tech, Ark., TCU Win

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Talented sophomores led Louisiana State to a 14-6 victory over Texas A&M Saturday night for a successful kickoff of Charlie McClendon's second year as Tiger head coach.

McClendon unveiled two sophomore quarterbacks—Pat Screen and Billy Ezell—as both handled LSU with the aplomb of seasoned veterans.

LSU listed 37 sophomores on its roster for the season opener before an overflow crowd of 68,000.

Sophomore halfback Joe Labruzzo put the Tigers on the scoreboard early in the second period when he scampered 73 yards to score with a Texas A&M punt.

The 175-pound, 5-foot-9, Labruzzo who was redshirted last year, caught Aggie quarterback Jim Keller's 58-yard punt on the LSU 20, fumbled it, then scooped it up on the 17 and began to weave his way to the end zone.

Ark. 21, Okla. St. 0

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Eighth-ranked Arkansas used the passing of quarterback Billy Grey and the running of sophomore tailback Jim Lindsey to forge a 21-0 intersectional football victory over Oklahoma State in the opening game for both teams tonight.

Lindsey rammed three yards for Arkansas' first touchdown in the first quarter and piled up 68 yards rushing. Gray threw an 18-yard touchdown pass to end Jerry Lamb and completed six of 10 aerials for 115 yards.

Oklahoma State hit hard in its first outing under new coach Phil Cutchin and the Razorbacks fumbled the ball away four times, three times in the second quarter. But Oklahoma State quarterback Mike Miller and David Whitfield couldn't jell their offense for a single threatening drive.

TCU 10, Kansas 6

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian University exploded for 10 points in the second half and swept past Kansas 10-6 in a non-conference football game Saturday night.

The Horned Frogs, trailing by six points, sent fullback Tommy Crutcher smashing in from the two-yard-line 6 minutes and 50 seconds deep in the third period and Jimmy McAteer's perfect placement pushed the Purple out front.

McAteer came back in the fourth period to boot a 23-yard field goal to end the scoring in the traditional season-opener between the two long-time intersectional rivals.

The victory was the third straight against coach Jack Mitchell's Jayhawkers and increased TCU's lead in the series to 15 wins against three losses and three ties.

The Kansans, working against a stubborn TCU line and the clock, punched ahead with two seconds left in the first half. Fullback Ken Coleman capped a 41-yard scoring thrust when he knifed in from the one.

The game pitted two of the country's finest backs, TCU's Crutcher and Kansas' Gale Sayers, in the opener and both responded with great performances.

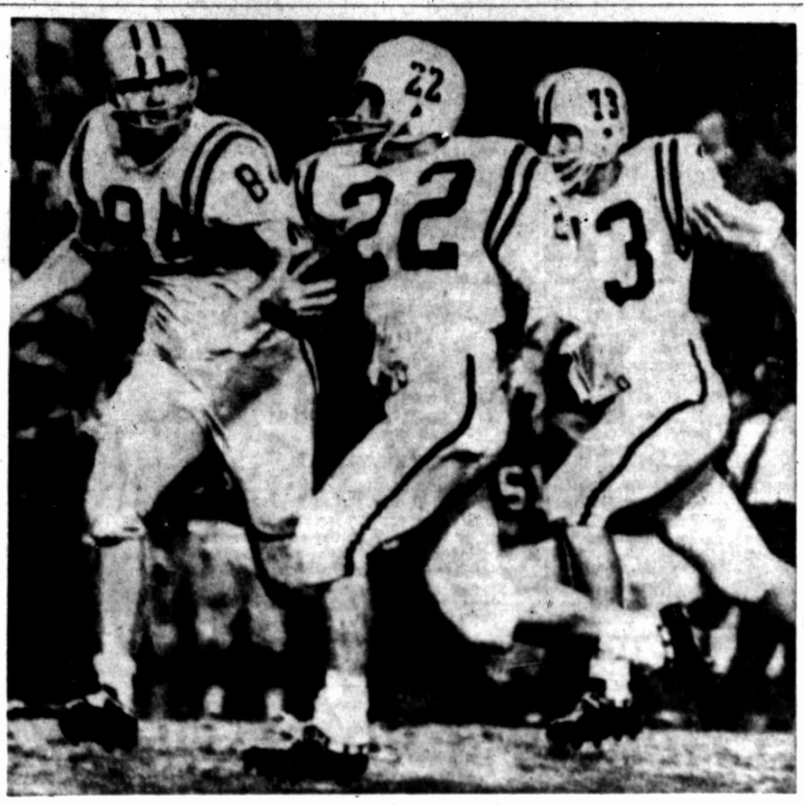

Sayers executed a number of electrifying runs, including a 36-yard punt return and a 47-yard burst that was wiped out by a penalty. The latter came with time running out in the fourth quarter and the Jayhawks battling furiously to overcome the four-point deficit.

Auburn 21, Hous. 14

HOUSTON (AP) — Auburn's Plainsmen jumped to a three-touchdown first half lead on the running and passing of Jimmy Sidle but had to turn to defensive play to protect a 21-14 victory over a young University of Houston team that made a strong second half comeback Saturday night.

Houston did not move beyond the Auburn 37 yard line in the first half but dominated the two final periods as Joe Lopasky scored touchdowns on a one-yard plunge and an 82-yard punt return, the longest in Houston football history.

Touchdown Bound

Joe Labruzzo (22), fastest man on LSU's team, proved he was as he streaked downfield on an 83-yard punt return for LSU's first touchdown against Texas A&M in Baton Rouge Saturday night. Wit him are Tigers Bill Truax (84) and Ralph Pere (73). LSU held a 14-0 halftime lead. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Packers-Lions Scrap Tops Full Pro Action

By The Associated Press

Memories of last Thanksgiving Day morning and the dreadful carnage at Detroit will be revived Sunday when the Lions meet the Green Bay Packers for the first time in the new National Football League season.

The Lions considered themselves the uncrowned champions after that 26-14 shocker over the Packers in full view of a national television audience. They have been waiting 10 months to prove it was no mistake.

With all due respects to the Chicago Bears, the Packers may have been looking ahead to Detroit last Sunday when they were upset by Chicago's great defensive effort 10-3.

Certain statistics in both the Packers' defeat by the Bears and the Lions' opening victory over Los Angeles could throw a little light on Sunday's game at Milwaukee's County Stadium. Bart Starr, Green Bay quarterback, had four of his passes intercepted by Chicago. At Los Angeles, the Lions intercepted four Ram passes, three by Terry Baker.

Although the Lions will be without suspended Alex Karras, their fine defensive tackle, most of the others will be back for the long-awaited meeting with the Packers.

A second straight defeat for the Packers would throw the Western Conference race into a wild scramble for they must play Baltimore next week.

One Saturday night game and six Sunday games are listed in the NFL and three Sunday games in the American Football League.

The Bears will be at Minnesota to play the Vikings who rolled for 418 yards against San Francisco in their opening game victory. Fran Tarkenton's roll-out passing and the running of Tommy Mason and Bill Brown will test the Bears who cannot afford a letdown after their success at Green Bay. Steve Barnett, rookie offensive tackle of Chicago, is expected to play despite a bruised leg.

Johnny Unitas will be playing despite a dislocated finger on his left hand when Baltimore takes the road to San Francisco. Although Bobby Boyd and Lenny Moore are still out due to injuries, Baltimore thinks it can stomp on the 49ers. San Francisco's fine runner of last week, Lloyd Winston, has bruised ribs.

The condition of Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants probably will remain uncertain up to game time at Pittsburgh Sunday for he still is bruised and sore. The Steelers always are tough for the Giants and Ed Brown completed 18 of 34 for 253 yards, the same yardage as Tittle, in his opening effort. Linebacker John Roger of the Steelers is out, due to a concussion. The Giants are short on running backs with Hugh McElhenny limping and Charley Killett out with a sprained ankle.

DANIELS, ANDERSON STAR

Red Raiders Surprise Visiting Cougars, 16-7

LUBBOCK (AP) — Sophomore Donnie Anderson ran 43 yards with a pass interception in the third quarter and H. L. Daniels kicked three field goals to lead the Texas Tech Red Raiders to a 16-7 victory over Washington State Saturday night.

Anderson's great run brought Tech from a 7-6 deficit and Daniels third field goal of the night then put the Red Raiders nine points ahead with 14:20 left.

Washington State got its lone touchdown in the first quarter after recovering a fumble on the Texas Tech 35, but Daniels kicked field goals of 35 and 40 yards in the second quarter to move the Raiders within one point.

The Raiders stopped the passing attack of Dave Mathieson adequately until the waning minutes of play when he drove the Cougars from their own three-yard line to the Tech 41-yard line.

It took Washington State only nine plays to score after recovering the fumble on the Tech 35.

The big gainer was an 11-yard pass from Mathieson to Dennis Kloke and it put the ball on the Tech 11.

Two runs and an offside penalty against Tech put the Cougars on the two-yard line and Brown went over right tackle for the touchdown with 5:15 left in the first quarter.

Tech's second unit moved from its 20 to the Washington State 14, but the drive bogged down and Daniels kicked a field goal from the 25-yard line to make it 7-3, early in the second quarter.

The Raider defense stopped the Cougars and forced a punt. This time Tech drove to the Cougar 18 with the key play a 44-yard pass from James Ellis to end Jerry Balch.

This drive was thwarted so Daniels booted a field goal from the 30 to make the score 7-6 with 8:25 left in the half.

Junior college transfer Teddy Roberts returned a Cougar punt 45 yards to the Washington State 18, but a fourth down run by Leo Lowry was inches shy of a first down on the nine.

Tech drove to the Washington State 24-yard line in the third quarter, but Dean Kalahar intercepted a pass on the four to end the threat.

Washington State moved the ball out to its 35, but Anderson intercepted a Mathieson pass on the 43 and behind four blockers, went all the way for the score.

Tech started another drive from its 37 and moved to the Cougar seven, and Daniels kicked a 26-yard field goal to run the score to 16-7.

A fumble killed another Tech drive on the Washington State 24. Washington State's deepest penetration in the second half was the Tech 41.

Johnny Agan was Tech's top rusher with 39 yards on seven tries, while Anderson had 30 on 10. Fullback Herm McKee led the Cougars with 52 yards on 12 tries.

Tech allowed only 122 yards on the ground and Mathieson hit nine of 17 passes for 62 yards.

Navy Crushes West Va., 51-7

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Roger Staubach, a cool quarterback with a strong arm, riddled West Virginia's defense with passes and steered Navy to a 51-7 rout in the first football game of the season for both teams Saturday.

Staubach completed 17 of 22 passes, including a 26-yard touchdown throw to halfback Ed Orr. Staubach master-minded a Navy offense that produced touchdowns almost at will after the first quarter.

Navy led 24-0 at halftime.

It was the worst defeat handed a West Virginia team since 1951, when Maryland beat the Mountaineers 54-7. About 35,000 persons —largest crowd ever to attend a football game here — witnessed Navy's easy victory.

Staubach, a 193-pound junior from Cincinnati, seldom was rushed when he dropped back to pass and his intended receivers usually were unguarded.

Badgers Roll To 41-0 Win

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers shook off opening game jitters with the help of a 78-yard touchdown jaunt by Lou Holland late in the first quarter and went on to rout Western Michigan 41-0 Saturday in a non-conference football meeting.

The Badgers, rated the nation's No. 7 power in The Associated Press pre-season poll, were kept hemmed deep in their own territory by a series of errors until Holland ignited them with his brilliant dash after 12:53 of play before a crowd of 48,574.

FORSAN — A stadium filling homecoming crowd of 2,000 came to see the Forsan Buffaloes win their third ball game of the season Saturday night but they were in for a disappointment as Gail proved to be a spoiler and walked away with a hard-fought 20-14 victory.

Tommy Burris, right halfback of Gail, turned in one of the finest scoring performances in this area in the 1963 grid campaign as he was responsible for all three touchdowns in the second, third and fourth quarters that meant the difference between Forsan winning and losing.

Burris' first TD came on an 8-yard plunge over right guard as he bulled his way over the goal line for six points on a play that climaxed a 55-yard drive.

Burris struck again in the third period, this time on a pitchout around left end that covered 15 yards. Right end Danny Hagins took a pass from quarterback Bill Nunnaly for the two extra points.

Burris' final romp of the night was on a pass from Nunnaly that covered 41 yards and cinched a victory. The try for extra point failed.

Kenneth Soles, Forsan quarterback, was brilliant in defeat as he had a hand in both Buffalo touchdowns. In the first period he faked a punt and went 40 yards for a six-pointer while in the last period he passed to Donnie Gooch for 12 yards and Forsan's second score of the night that came at the end of a 64-yard march that took only seven plays. Soles ran the ball over on a dive play for the extra two points.

The game could have had a different outcome if a Forsan end had not dropped a third quarter toss in the end zone.

Killebrew's Four Homers A Record

BOSTON (AP)—Minnesota muscleman Harmon Killebrew wrested the home run lead from Dick Stuart of Boston by slugging an American League record-tying four homers in a doubleheader split between the teams Saturday. The Twins won the opener 13-4 and the Red Sox captured the nightcap 11-2.

Killebrew slammed three homers during the opener and added a bases empty homer in the nightcap to take a 44 to 42 lead over Stuart.

Shorthorns Edge Past Snyder Tigers, 6-2

Big Spring's B team came from behind to score a third period touchdown Saturday night and then staved off two desperate Snyder bids in the last three minutes to take a well-earned 6-2 victory in Memorial Stadium.

The game could have gone either way until the clock showed 2:32 remaining in the contest and that was the big turning point as the Shorthorns recovered a Snyder fumble on the Big Spring 15 and stopped a drive that had been rolling toward paydirt and probable victory for a space of approximately 40 yards. The Tigers had gotten down to the 4-yard stripe but a penalty and a loss in the backfield of another four yards had taken most of the steam out of the drive before they fumbled.

The Tigers were able to get within the Shorthorns' five-yard line three times in the game but each time they were unable to push the ball across for six points.

Snyder scored first in the second quarter with Big Spring backed up to its goal line and in a punting situation. The snap was bad to Bobby Griffin, the halfback punter for the Shorthorns, and by the time he got control of the ball and toed it he was swarmed under and the ball was blocked causing it to roll out of the end zone. Snyder received an automatic two points.

The Shorthorns' scoring play came in the third period as Bobby Griffin scored from two yards out over tackle for what proved to be the decisive play of the game. His scamper to paydirt climaxed a 60-yard drive that traveled the distance in 13 plays. Rey Navarette was a big ground gainer throughout the sustained effort and Wayne Nail caught one pass for 15 yards. The extra point attempt failed.

Navarette, who received praise from all the Big Spring coaches, scored a second Shorthorn touchdown on a 40-yard romp only to see it called back because of a clipping penalty against one of his teammates.

Joe Jaure stopped the final Snyder effort with less than one minute showing on the clock when he picked off a Tiger aerial on his own 40-yard stripe and returned it over the 50 before being stopped and rolled out of bounds.

Pass-Happy AF Thumps Huskies

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP)—An inspired fourth - period attack by Air Force turned a dull football game into a movie-style thriller as the Falcons defeated the favored Washington Huskies 10-7 in their televised intersection game Saturday.

Washington, tied with Ohio State for tenth place in The Associated Press pre-season poll, looked to have the Cadets on the ropes late in the fourth period when the Huskies pounded down to the Air Force nine.

There the Falcons dug in and took the ball on downs before launching its hair-tingling 91-yard drive for the winning touchdown. The Cadets' passing attack had sputtered most of the cloudy afternoon, but this time quarterback Terry Isaacson made it go.

He threw seven passes with only one interruption when he was tossed for a loss and the Cadets found themselves on the Huskies' seven. On the next play Isaacson faked a pass, then raced through the Washington defenders for the score with only 1:14 left.

COLORADO TOUGH

USC Marches Past Hard-Nosed Buffs

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Southern California's national football champions bogged down in an aroused Colorado defense and a muddy field but escaped Saturday with a 14-0 victory.

Colorado, a team that won only two games last season, threw up a rock hard front line and an alert secondary that put the shackles on the USC Trojans, rated No. 1 in The Associated Press pre-season poll.

Quarterback Pete Beathard completed only six of 19 passes for 71 yards and had two of them stolen by Colorado defenders. However, the USC star scored both touchdowns on short runs.

A heavy overnight rain soaked the turf, handicapping the backs on both teams; but the game was played in dry weather except for a drizzle in the last four minutes.

Colorado handed Southern California its first touchdown in the second quarter by fumbling, suffering a 15-yard personal foul penalty, and then being offside on a vital fourth down.

Sooners Roll Over Clemson Bengals

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners, seemingly enraged by a sloppy second quarter in which Clemson scored two cheap touchdowns, blitzed the Tigers with a 17-point third quarter here Saturday and took a 31-14 season opening football victory.

The Sooners set Clemson up late in the first quarter on their own 17, and again early in the second quarter on the Oklahoma 18. Clemson took advantage and scored twice within a two-minute span early in the second stanza, and only fullback Jim Grisham's 26-yard touchdown run late in the first half kept Oklahoma in the game.

But the Sooners looked like another team after halftime as the Oklahoma line, soundly whipped by the Clemson forwards in the opening half, came to life.

On the Sooners' third play from scrimmage, halfback Lance Rentzel broke loose around left end, cut to the middle and raced 49 yards for the tying score.

On Clemson's next series, end John Flynn, a starter last season who had been dropped to the third unit in fall practice for being overweight, blocked Bob Fritz punt on the Clemson 15, and linebacker David Boiles picked up the bounding ball and carried it to the Clemson five.

Oklahoma struck again two minutes later when George Jarman kicked a 28-yard field goal.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Jack Cox, the Houston oil man who came out recently to deliver a pep talk to the Big Spring Steers, took a dim view of the club's training field, which he described as "the worst I've ever seen" . . . Cox was referring to the turf, or lack of it, rather than the location and size of the plot . . . He offered to donate the first $25 toward a new practice area . . . The practice field doesn't get a good stand of grass during the growing season and consequently gets beat up in a hurry . . . Then it gets hard as a rock . . . In an obvious show of manpower, San Angelo suited up 98 boys for its recent football game against the Big Spring B team but many of those boys are juniors, whereas the local reserves are almost exclusively sophomores . . . The San Angelo coaches made it a point to march their hopefuls single file through the Big Spring ranks at intermission . . . Roy Navarette, Tony Saracho and Bobby Griffin showed very well for the local B team against the Angeloans . . . Right now, coach Don Robbins doesn't quite know what to do with Joe Jaure, who performed at quarterback for the Runnels Yearlings last year . . . Robbins' analysis of the boy: He's got to get tougher . . . Joe could wind up either at wingback or split end . . . Van Tom Whatley looms as a future Steer regular at quarterback . . . He has good movements but his passing must improve (which it, no doubt, will) . . . LeRoy LeFevre, the former Big Spring cager, went back to school this summer and earned his master's degree in chemical engineering . . . Pre-season ticket sales at NFL football games this year totaled about 400,000, or half of the total capacities of the stadiums . . . League officials were delighted with the news.

MOORE

SKOWRON

Snyder Tigers Faster Than Lamesa

Albert Fierro, the Big Spring quarterback, has no idea when he got hurt in the Lamesa game . . . The mishap (to his ribs) occurred in the first half . . . He was taped up at halftime and finished in fine style . . . He'll be ready for the Snyder game barring further injury . . . Joe Newbill, Midland Lee's new coach, works his teams in shorts one day a week . . . Most other mentors believe in a more rugged type of contact drill . . . Newbill could come around to the same conclusion, now that he is doing business in a conference which gives no quarter and expects none . . . The pursuit and second effort most of the Big Spring Steers showed against Lamesa is still being talked about by the fans . . . Some of the boys who had been question marks were among the club's top performers . . . One boy who gives 100 per cent at all times and has emerged as a stellar blocker is Baxter Moore, a proven performer for three years now . . . He weighs only 150 but he tears into the opposition with the tenaciousness of a wolverine. . . . Steer scouts warning about Snyder: The Tigers probably have more speed in their backfield than Lamesa and coach Horrace Bostick knows how to make use of it . . . Al Langford, the Lamesa coach, was unceremoniously spilled by his own boys when a play came his way during the game here last week—another thing that added to his miseries . . . He escaped unhurt, however. . . . He says a lack of experience hurt his club . . . Of the 19 boys he used against Big Spring, only six were seniors . . . Frances Graves, a basketball star of the first magnitude for Stanton High School a few years ago, will be a member of the Flying Queens basketball team at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview next season . . . She'll be in the sophomore class.

Brown Broke Up No-Hit Contest

Back home and enrolled in classes at HCJC is Jeff Brown, who spent the summer playing the outfield for the Quincy club in the Class A Mid-West league . . . Jeff wound up hitting about .200 for the Jets . . . He had the satisfaction of clubbing a home run again Burlington in the last few days of the season and breaking up a no-hit game against another opponent with an eight-inning double . . . There's a possibility the Quincy club would be moved to Des Moines but Jeff could wind up playing ball in the California league . . . He hasn't yet been told whether he'll do his conditioning in Florida or on the West Coast . . . Jeff's parents joined him at the end of the season and they came back home by way of Kansas City, where the three of them watched the Athletics play the New York Yankees. . . . The Browns were in the stands the night Mickey Mantle hit a home run, double and single and drove in four runs . . . Jeff says he looked at a lot of breaking stuff in the league . . . The training regimen agreed with him—he gained 10 pounds, is now up to 210 . . . He hopes to play basketball this winter with an independent team . . . Moose Skowron may return to the American League next season, probably as a member of the Washington Senators. . . . He didn't pan out with the Los Angeles Dodgers . . . This looks like another lean year for Emmett Broderson, the former Big Spring coaching aide who is now head mentor at Whiteface High School . . . His Antelopes, members of District 3-B, lost ten straight games last year and failed to score in their first two starts this fall, losing to Tatum, N. M., and Meadow . . . Broderson lost a fullback he had been heavily counting on—Temple Kern . . . Emmett lettered every player on his squad last year . . . The National Football League raised $1,181,000 for worthy charities in pre-season exhibition games this year . . . No other sports league anywhere has done so well, nor tried to.

Alabama Murders Helpless Georgia

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Alabama, led by Joe Namath and Mike Fracchia, powered its way to a 32-7 victory over Georgia Saturday in the opening Southeastern Conference football game for the two teams.

Alabama scored in each period and in just about every way possible. Namath passed for one score, Fracchia scored twice on runs, Tim Davis kicked a 38-yard field goal and Frankie McClendon tackled Georgia sub quarterback Preston Ridlehuber in the end zone for a safety.

Alabama, apparently wanting to run up the score to take any possible doubt away from last year's 35-0 victory over Georgia, gambled right up to the end. Substitute quarterback Jack Hurlbut threw 41 yards to end Jimmy Dill for the final tally with only seconds remaining.

The possible doubt came as a result of charges that Bear Bryant, Alabama coach, and Wally Butts, former Georgia athletic director, had conspired to rig the 1962 game. Each sued the publishers of the Saturday Evening Post for $10 million and Butts won a jury award of $3 million.

Wolves Get Past Lobos

MONAHANS — David McKay's passing came of age Friday night in Monahans and it proved to be a decisive factor in a game that had been rated a toss-up as the Colorado City Wolves smothered the Lobos, 27-0.

McKay contributed to the scoring column early as a 14-yard pass of his hit Danny Kennemur in the opening quarter for a touchdown. Pete Garrett kicked the extra point. Again in the fourth quarter, McKay struck, this time for seven yards on the air routes to Perry Millsap and another TD. Bill McGuire's kick was no good.

The other two Wolf scores came on a two-yard scamper by Dale Walker and a six yarder by Tommy Lindsey.

Permian Past Lubbock '11'

LUBBOCK — Odessa Permian spoiled a home game appearance of Lubbock Monterrey Friday night as it scored once in the second quarter and added another six pointer in the fourth period to take a not surprising 14-6 victory.

Permian's first six points came when fullback Francey Tubb went over from the one-yard line. Two quarters later with 10 minutes still showing on the clock quarterback Allen Moravick went over left guard from eight yards out on a keeper that made the score 12-0. Moravick passed to Paul Cravens for the two points and an almost uncatchable 14-0 lead.

Monterrey's TD came in the final minutes after a 55-yard drive. Quarterback Rickey Canup passed to left end Bob Schmid who went 32 yards unopposed for their only tally of the night.

Amarillo Tops Midland, 10-8

AMARILLO—Billy Hobbs of Tascosa demonstrated a somewhat rare high school skill Friday night, field goal kicking, and it proved to be a deadly weapon as Midland Lee found itself on the short end of a 10-8 score.

Hobbs' boot came in the waning moments of the first half as he toed it from 26 yards out for what turned out to be the deciding factor in a close game. At the time this gave the home-team Rebels a 10-0 lead.

Amarillo's only touchdown of the game had come earlier in the second period with 8:27 showing on the clock as Mike Turner capped a 72-yard drive with a 12-yard burst into paydirt. Hobbs kicked the extra point.

Midland lit the scoreboard numbers in the third period with a TD from the one yard line on a sneak by Bucky Kimble. Kimble carried for the extra two points after the successful 40-yard drive.

Interceptions were the downfall of Lee as Larry Brown grabbed off two tosses.

Richmond Bows To Vols, 34-6

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee's new look turned out to be a horde of talented sophomores who presented Jim McDonald a 34-6 victory over Richmond in his debut Saturday as the Volunteers' head coach.

The partisan, sun-splashed crowd of 24,842 saw enough talented newcomers to arouse their hopes for a winning season.

Bulldogs Get Past Dons

MIDLAND — Both Midland and Palo Duro turned in a spectacular running demonstration Friday night but in the end result the Midland Bulldogs had pushed across far too many touchdowns as the Dons were snowed under, 44-15.

Ross Montgomery was the biggest offensive weapon of the night as his three touchdowns combined with teammate Cubby Rice's two, never left the final score in doubt. Palo Duro had its own star in Mike Sackett who turned in two runs of 61 and 75-yards for six pointers.

Lobo Proves Hard To Corral

SNYDER — The Snyder Tigers put on a show of offensive pyrotechnics here Friday night to whip Levelland High's Lobos, 38-26.

There was a circus in town, and elephants, tigers and clowns paraded around the field before the game. The gridders took their cue from this and uncorked a miniature Olympic meet in the four quarters of football.

A whopping 748 yards was amassed by the two teams in total offense.

The victory gave Snyder an even record after an opening one-point loss to Andrews. The Tigers will be at home again next Friday against their old rivals, the Steers of Big Spring, in a non-district headliner.

Actually, the outcome of the game was never in serious doubt as Snyder avalanched the Lobos with three early touchdowns for 24 points.

But Levelland had enough resilience to come back and give the paying customers their money's worth of wide-open, free-wheeling football.

Halftime score was 24-6 for Snyder and it was 30-12 at the end of the third quarter.

Snyder received the opening kickoff and put together a neat 73-yard drive to score, with senior fullback Danny Aycock going over right guard from two yards out. Leslie Brown ran the two-point conversion.

Near the end of the first quarter, halfback Tom Kincaid, a junior, went through the middle and got loose for 48 yards and a touchdown. Jimmy Wilson ran a keeper for two points.

In the second frame, Snyder marched 80 yards, with Brown cutting through left end for the last three. Wilson passed to end Billy Stewart for the conversion.

Levelland got into the act in the second period with a touchdown slant from nine yards away by fullback Doug McCann.

Early in the third quarter Lynn Waters, a converted end, shook loose for Levelland on a beautiful 63-yard scamper to score.

With seconds left in the third frame, Wilson hurled a 47-yard scoring pass to Kincaid, then threw for two points to end Kenneth Dower.

Levelland had two more scoring punches in its bag for the fourth quarter. Ted Latham threw to Waters on a 67-yard scoring pass, then closed the game with a 54-yard touchdown pass play to Wayne Burton. Burton converted for two points after the finale.

Billy Stewart, a rangy senior end, was the defensive standout for Snyder, followed by tackle Jerry Owens and backs Brown, Kincaid and Williamson, all juniors.

Levelland had good performances on defense from guard Ralph Solis and end Clay Krueger. The Lobos have now lost both their '63 outings. The first was a 14-12 heartbreaking defeat at the hands of Seminole.

LA GETS TOUGH

Friend Against Koufax In Pirates-Bums Clash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles, a tough town to get around in, has finally come up with something even harder to catch than its taxis.

The Los Angeles Dodgers went into the second game of their weekend series with Pittsburgh Saturday night leading the second-place St. Louis Cardinals by five games.

The Dodgers had eight games left and, if they could win just three of them, the Cardinals would have to win seven of their remaining six to catch up.

Left-hander Sandy Koufax, seeking his 25th victory, started for the Dodgers Saturday night against right-hander Bob Friend, 17-16. The Dodgers had 95 victories going into the game and Koufax had accounted for more than one-fourth of them.

The Dodgers had beaten the Pirates a dozen times in 16 meetings this season.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston, who is so conservative it was once suggested he should wear a double-breasted uniform, probably won't claim the National League pennant before Thanksgiving. But he didn't argue Friday night when an unconservative ex-Dodger, Jackie Robinson, told him it was already won.

Robinson watched the Dodgers beat the Pirates 2-0 behind seven-hit pitching by Don Drysdale, then went down to the dressing room to congratulate Alston and the players.

"You guys have done a great job," Jackie said. "A fantastic job. I'll see you in New York . . . you're all right now."

The Cardinals, idle Saturday, were beaten 1-0 in Cincinnati Friday night.

"I figured the Cardinals might not lose another game," Alston said. "After we beat them three in a row in St. Louis, they were right back where they were a little earlier. They had nothing to lose. I thought they might get loose and win 'em all."

WOMEN LINKSTERS CAN QUALIFY MONDAY FOR CLUB TOURNEY

Qualifying rounds for the annual Ladies' Club Golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club will be started Monday.

Entries should register and pay their $3 entry fees to Jerry Green, the club pro.

The tournament is scheduled for Sept. 24-25-26 and it has not yet been determined whether winners will be determined by matched or medal play.

Billie Dillon is the defending champion in the tournament and is due back to try and retain her laurels. Trophies will be awarded to each flight winner.

1964 UNSURE

Braves Could Be Bound For Atlanta

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The people of Milwaukee were told bluntly Saturday they could keep the Braves' baseball franchise by paying what it cost the owners—originally $5½ million.

"If there's so much civic feeling in Milwaukee, they can have the team for what it cost the present ownership," a spokesman for the club said. He declined to be identified.

He listed the amount: $5½ million.

This was offered as one of the solutions of the problem of whether the Braves should be kept in Milwaukee or permitted to shift to Atlanta, Ga.

The Associated Press learned that the Braves will be moved to Atlanta by the present owners unless government officials in Milwaukee can guarantee a new radio and television contract in excess of $1 million.

Lester Brann, executive secretary of the Association of Commerce, said he is still hopeful the Braves will remain.

Brann, who has a meeting scheduled with Braves President John McHale sometime during the weekend, said: "I haven't accepted the fact that a decision has been made and there's no turning back."

Atlanta reportedly is luring the Braves with a radio and television network deal, covering 32 states, which would provide the club with a revenue of $1.5 million annually for the first five years.

However, in Atlanta Friday, Arthur Montgomery, chairman of a group seeking to provide a stadium for the Braves and an official of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., said there was "no truth to the story the Braves are moving to Atlanta in 1964."

Attendance at Milwaukee, where the Braves moved from Boston in 1953, has dwindled from 2,215,404 in 1957 to 766,027 last year.

Jim Ned Slashes Past Trent, 6-0

TRENT—The Jim Ned Indians recovered a second quarter Trent fumble only 30-yards from the goal line and eight plays later right halfback Larry Taylor went over from two-yards out in what later turned out to be the deciding play of the game. Jim Ned won 6-0.

Long Runs Push Baird By Roscoe

ROSCOE — Richard Windham scampered 85 yards for one touchdown Friday night and Tommy Barton added another 25-yarder and the combination gave the Baird Bears a well-deserved 12-0 victory over the Roscoe Plowboys.

Long Gainer For Buffs

Stanton's Mickey Allen rips off a sizeable gain in a first quarter run in the Buffaloes' game with Coahoma Friday night. The Bisons played their second straight tie in the contest. Coahoma now has a 1-1-1 record. (Photo by Keith McMillin).

STANTON — The clock and a stubborn defense by the Stanton Buffaloes halted a Coahoma drive as the game drew to a close here Friday night, giving the Buffaloes their second tie of the season.

The Buffs drew first blood early in the second quarter of the game which ended 6-6, chalking up their six points on a one-yard plunge by halfback R. Hartsell. The play capped a 35-yard march after a short punt by the Bulldogs. An attempted extra - point kick was blocked.

After being held to 91 yards on the ground and three first downs in the first half, the Bulldogs came out to play football. They used up the first eight minutes of the third quarter to drive from their own 27 to the one-yard line, then on a fourth-down play fullback Tony Butler poured over for the touchdown. Marshal Williams, sophomore quarterback who guided the team to the score, attempted to pass for two extra points and failed to hit his mark.

The Bulldogs twice were stymied near the goal line. With time running out at the half, they were stopped on the 14-yard line after halfback Eddie McHugh had lugged the ball 65 yards on the next-to-last play. Because of failure of the clock, the Bulldogs got in one more play than they should have, but it was to no avail.

Again, with the clock showing less than three minutes remaining to the end of the game, Coahoma marched to the 13-yard line before having to call it quits as time ran out.

The second half of the ball game was almost the opposite of the first. The Buffaloes never got an offense rolling and they racked up only 15 yards on the ground and another five in the air. They never got inside the 25-yard line. One of the reasons was heads-up rushing of the ball carrier, especially when he faded back to pass, by Coahoma's right defensive end Wesley Wright.

Quarterback Ronnie Driggers for the Buffaloes played an aggressive game, especially on offense. Three times as he was about to be nabbed, he pitched the ball to a trailing halfback who inevitably added a dozen or more yards to the play.

Don't Sell Flock Short In Ratings

By The Associated Press

San Antonio Brackenridge, the defending Class AAAA champion, opened the Texas schoolboy football season Friday night with a 61-28 victory over Uvalde that indicated the Eagles were overlooked in the pre-season ratings.

Warren McVea, the talented Brackenridge runner and pass-receiver, took up just where he left off last fall when he led the Eagles to the state title over Borger. And Brackenridge came up with a quarterback and passer who should fill in for the departed Vic Castillo in fine style. He is Benny Ramon.

And there were other top footballers on the Brackenridge squad that had a field day with Class AAAA Uvalde, which is no slouch in its own division.

The other feature of the night was Dumas' 14-8 victory over Borger to further establish the Demons as the Class AAA favorites. Dumas already has won two titles in a row and seems destined to make it a third.

Port Arthur, rated No. 1 in Class AAAA, beat Baytown 12-0 to enhance its reputation.

Corpus Christi Ray triumphed in the big game. The Texans beat Houston Austin's well - regarded team 12-8 but had to stop Austin on the one-yard line as time ran out.

San Angelo, which lost its top rating last week when it tumbled before Borger, got quickly back on the winning road with a 37-18 thrashing of Beaumont South Park.

Corpus Christi Miller, another high rater, battered San Antonio Alamo Heights 32-0, Tyler Lee whipped Sherman 28-8 and Midland crushed Amarillo Palo Duro 44-15 in other prominent results in Class AAAA.

Dumas, of course, dominated Class AAA but there was something of an upset when Nederland shut out Jacksonville 21-0. Jacksonville was rated No. 3 while Nederland had no rating at all.

Denver City, the kingpin of Class AA, went outside the state and remained unbeaten with a 20-0 victory over Lovington, N. M., and the No. 2 team — Sinton—looked good in a 30-0 walloping of Robstown.

Albany, the Class A favorite, raced over Class AA Anson 30-0 and rose in everybody's estimation. London lashed Joaquin 44-0 to remain a top-ranked team in the Class.

Spring Branch, one of the favorites in Class AAAA, almost took the count. The Bears had to come from a 14-point deficit to tie Pasadena at 14-14 when Chris Gilbert scored two touchdowns in the fourth period.

Kids Can Now Sign To Enter Ford Contest

Big Spring area boys eight through 11 can start signing up for the third annual National Punt, Pass & Kick Competition, with prizes and trophies for youthful football enthusiasts most skillful in punting, passing and kicking (using a kicking tee) footballs.

Registration headquarters in Big Spring is Shasta Ford Sales, 500 W. 4th, where entries will be accepted until October 11. Entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian; the competition is free to all grade school boys eight through 11, and no special equipment is needed. There is no body contact involved.

Upon registration, the future football stars will receive an instruction folder written by the NFL Champion Green Bay Packer's quarterback Bart Starr; the San Francisco 49er's ace punter Tommy Davis; and by Don Chandler, the pinpoint place-kicking star of the NFL Eastern Division champion New York Giants. Included in the illustrated folder are tips on body-building calisthenics, in furtherance of President Kennedy's goal of improving the physical fitness of American Youth.

Entrants also will receive unique "Televiewers," detailed reference booklets giving the schedules of all televised NFL football games, team line-ups, and other facts to make television viewing of NFL games more interesting.

Big Spring boys will compete only against others of their age groups in tests to determine the skill and accuracy of their football abilities. Footballs will be punted, passed and kicked (using a kicking tee) by each entrant, with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the left or right of a center line.

Four winners, one for each age group, will receive NFL - type warm - up jackets with the insignia of the Dallas Cowboys. Second place winners will receive football helmets, and third place winners will be given footballs autographed by the best punters, passers and kickers on each NFL team.

Score of the Big Spring winners will be compared with other winners in the state to determine the four Texas winners and the four runner - up winners. The scores of the Texas trophy winners will be compared with other state - wide victors in the area in which the televised games of the Dallas Cowboys are seen. Age-group area winners will then compete in person at a home game of the Dallas Cowboys. Area winners will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the game with their fathers and mothers, and will use a junior-size Dallas Cowboy uniform to wear when they compete at the game. Scores of the area winners will be compared to determine eight National finalists, four from the NFL Eastern Division and four from the NFL Western Division. These finalists will receive an all - expense - paid trip to Washington, D. C., where they will tour the White House, and to Dearborn, Michigan, for the Henry Ford Centennial, and thence to compete in the national finals during halftime at the National Football League Championship game. Expenses of the finalists' mothers and fathers also will be paid.

The Punt, Pass & Kick Program is sponsored nationally by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company and the National Football League. Co-sponsoring in Big Spring is Shasta Ford Sales, Co., and Big Spring Optimist Club.

BS Rockets Past Odessa

ODESSA — The Lake View junior high Rockets turned loose three hard running backs Friday night and scored at will as they powered past an obviously outclassed Odessa Blackshear, 68-0.

Halback Leonard Evans, wingback Bernard Hastins, and fullback Senamil Johnson were all the Big Springers needed as the three players accounted for all the Rockets scoring.

Evans, who pitched in with a personal effort of 34 points, couldn't be stopped as he went 50, 53, and two yards combined with pass plays of 10 and 20 yards to reach paydirt five times. He added two extra point conversions on runs.

Hastins was good for 20 more points as he went 46 and 6 yards for TD's and added four, two-point conversions.

Johnson finished the scoring with 14 points on line plunges of one and two yards and he added one extra point attempt.

Head coach E. C. Clark had praise for four of his players after the lopsided contest—offensive tackles Robert Jackson and Harold Jones and defensive ends Claude Tucker and Roger Aldridge.

The next game for the Rockets will be Oct. 8 in San Angelo against Blackshear (San Angelo).

Rotan Trips Up Scoreless Roby

ROBY—The Rotan Yellowhammers moved the ball with ease Friday night but couldn't find the scoring column but once as they edged past Roby, 6-0. Rotan's only score of the night came in the third period when quarterback Pete Garcia went around left end for 10 yards to paydirt.

Lacklustre Tabbies Vanquish Greenies

By TOMMY HART

SAN ANGELO — Coach Emory Bellard of San Angelo had cause to look at his hole card again after watching the Bobcats parade to a 37-18 victory over the South Park Greenies of Beamont here Friday night.

There was never a doubt about the outcome of the struggle but San Angelo in no sense looked like the juggernaut it fielded last year, although it returned virtually its entire team.

Bellard obviously felt this one was in the bag from the start and made no effort to fire up his team. The Bobcats played like a club with other things on its mind, like an Oct. 11 date with Odessa Permian.

Beaumont returned a squad with only six lettermen and no regulars from last season and the Greenies weren't very imaginative in their offense. Still, at times, they made the Bobcats' vaunted defense look downright inept. At one stage in the third quarter, they trailed only by a margin of 16-12.

Bright spot of the night for the San Angelo fans was the helter-skelter running of sophomore Julio Guerrero, a mercurial halfback who loves to get outside and scoot down the sidelines.

Bobcat blockers invariably formed in front of him like a German panzer division. Most anyone with the talent for arriving at a certain place at a certain time could have done as well.

There's no doubt that a crowd darling of the first magnitude is in the ascendance at San Angelo. How the dashing young man will respond when the grinding defenses of teams like Midland High and Odessa High come up and look down his throat is something else again, however.

The Bobcats would draw the defense in tight with their tricky cross-bucks and traps — the kind that worked so well against Big Spring last fall — and then send Guerrero, Jimmy Bihl and Jimmy Rich winging to the outside.

Ronnie Henson acquitted himself well as the San Angelo quarterback. Beaumont found it especially hard to defense against his left-handed passes, apparently having passed up the opportunity to scout him at all.

Future opponents of the Greenies obviously are not taking them very seriously—no scouts from their area were in evidence. As a matter of fact, Sweetwater was the only team to send scouts—San Angelo plays host to the Mustangs next week.

Beaumont's brightest performers were quarterback Tommy Nelson, who passes well, and end Johnny Fuller. The entire South Park team was well coached in defensive fundamentals, however.

The Bobcats appear to have two backfields of fairly equal talent, although Henson is well advanced of second string quarterback Paschal Piedfort at this stage. Piedfort was a stickout in spring training and it's most apparent Bellard is expecting great things of him.

When Beaumont moved inside San Angelo's 10 on one occasion, the San Angelo interior line reacted quickly by trying (and fairly well succeeded) to take the Greenie guards and center out of the pay early, and thereby eliminating the Beaumont blockers.

Bellard has line problems. His first unit is big and tough and can take care of itself but the talent tails off in a hurry. Emory was inclined to play his primary regulars practically all the way.

It's going to be interesting to see if the Bobcats mature to the point where they can live up to all the predictions made for them. Most likely they will, but Bellard has a job on his hands—something he, no doubt, would be the first to admit.

Cooper Trips Tigers, 23-16, With Rushing

WACO — Abilene Cooper would not be denied Friday night as they unleashed two powerful runners, fullback Don Mayfield and halfback Bill McKinnon, and rambled past a favored Waco squad, 23-16.

Mayfield was superb on both offense and defense as he netted 140 yards in 16 carries for an impressive 8.8 rushing average. His fellow backfield churner, McKinnon, was almost equally destructive as his 122 yards in 16 attempts was good enough for a 7.7 total per carry.

The first Abilene touchdown came on the first series of downs that they had the ball as quarterback Bobby McGraw climaxed a 91 - yard drive with a 29-yard screen pass to scatback Jimmy Parker for the six points. The extra point kick was good.

The second touchdown came at the end of a 99-yard march that was highlighted by the 44-yard touchdown dash of McKinnon on a pitchout to the right. Parker ran the two points but Waco still led 16-15.

A Waco fumble on its own 19 set up the final score as Mayfield was in the scoring column this time with a six-yard burst over last tackle on a trap play. Mayfield ran over the two points on this late third quarter TD and the scoring was ended for the night.

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you more value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

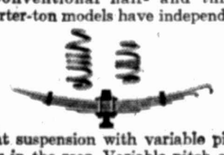

In addition to double-wall construction, cab door openings are larger now. Getting in and out is much easier.

Also, front ends and treads of some medium- and heavy-duty models are much narrower. You have better forward visibility. It's easier to maneuver in tight spots.

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to. Instead of making one type of suspension system do for the whole truck line, we now have different types and combinations of springing designed for your particular needs.

Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable pitch coils in the rear. Variable pitch coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. This variable-rate leaf-type suspension automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. Formerly used on heavier trucks only, this type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain, to stand up under stress. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 95 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trucks have more power this year.

Have you seen the '64 El Camino deluxe pickup yet? We think it's the best looking commercial vehicle ever built.

In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, tilt cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement—including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

LAMESA — The Andrews Mustangs tossed the football experts into the showers Friday night and dampened their "educated" guesses as they threw up an almost impenetrable defense and then came up with an alert second half offense that powered to a convincing 19-0 win over the favored Lamesa Golden Tornadoes.

Andrews came into the contest with underdog tattooed all over their pigskins as they were given only a slight chance of denting the highly touted Tornado defense while their own defense was reported not strong enough to contain the stable of hard running Lamesa backs by the time the fourth period of play arrived. Neither prediction came true.

The highly boasted Lamesa offense, which no one has seen yet this season, still remained under wraps Friday night as it was choked to a puny 59 yard effort on the ground and 25 yards in the air. Andrews, with supposingly no offense to speak of, came up with a pair of hard running backs in Joe Lyles and Ralph Hummell and a hidden ball expert by the name of Rodney Monahan and turned the game into a second half rout that saw the Mustangs total 219 yards on the ground.

The best measure of the Andrews defense in post game statistics was shown by the number of penetrations achieved by the Lamesa wrecking crew. Usually penetrations are measured only from the 20 yard line on in but in the Tornadoes case this couldn't be done for they only had four offensive downs past the midfield stripe with their deepest stab of the night a feeble attempt to the Andrews 44.

The game was all Andrews after a slugging first half that saw both elevens experimenting offensively and being almost powerless to move the ball. The only real threat, that quickly soured, was a Mustang drive in the second quarter that reached the Lamesa 11 yard line only to be rocked back in two swift 15 yard penalties for holding and a personal foul. The ball finally came to rest on the 36 and the drive was stalled.

The third quarter only served as a warning to home town fans that their favored Golden Tornadoes were about to be crushed unmercifully.

With 7:01 still showing on the clock Hummell went over left guard from two yards out for the first touchdown of the night and an indication of fourth quarter rumblings. The drive began on the Tornadoes 32 when the alert Mustangs snatched up a lose ball and quickly maneuvered the remaining yardage to paydirt in seven swift shots on the ground. Unnoticed by the fans, an inkling that the Mustangs had finally found a weak spot in the Lamesa defense was shown when four of the seven plays went over left guard. Floyd Lindsey, who alternated with Monahan at quarterback, kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

Approximately 12 minutes later with 7:14 the magic clock number this time, Hummell scored his second TD of the night as he again went over left guard, this time from one yard out. The drive carried 64 yards in eight carries and featured three outstanding runs by an Andrews offense that no one knew existed. Four of the plays were over left guard.

The big break came on a fake handoff and bootleg by quarterback Monahan at the Andrews 47 that found all but two of the Tornadoes going right with the play while Monahan was racing around left end. Twenty seven yards later he was hauled in at the Lamesa 26 but the damage had been done as Lyles ripped down to the 10-yard stripe on first down again over the fateful left guard and then a play later Lyles went over left tackle to the one to set up Hummell's scoring play. Lindsey's kick was blocked.

It just took one minute and 22 seconds for the Mustangs to turn in their final score of the night as Jerry Brannon intercepted a pass off the arm of Lamesa quarterback Jerry Berry on the Tornadoes 45 and returned it to the 10-yard line before being shoestring tackled from behind. On the first play from scrimmage Lyles received his long overdue scoring play of the night as he went over left end for the TD in a bruising run that saw him slip out of the hands of seven Lamesa tacklers and spin completely around three times to shake them off. Lindsey's kick was again blocked.

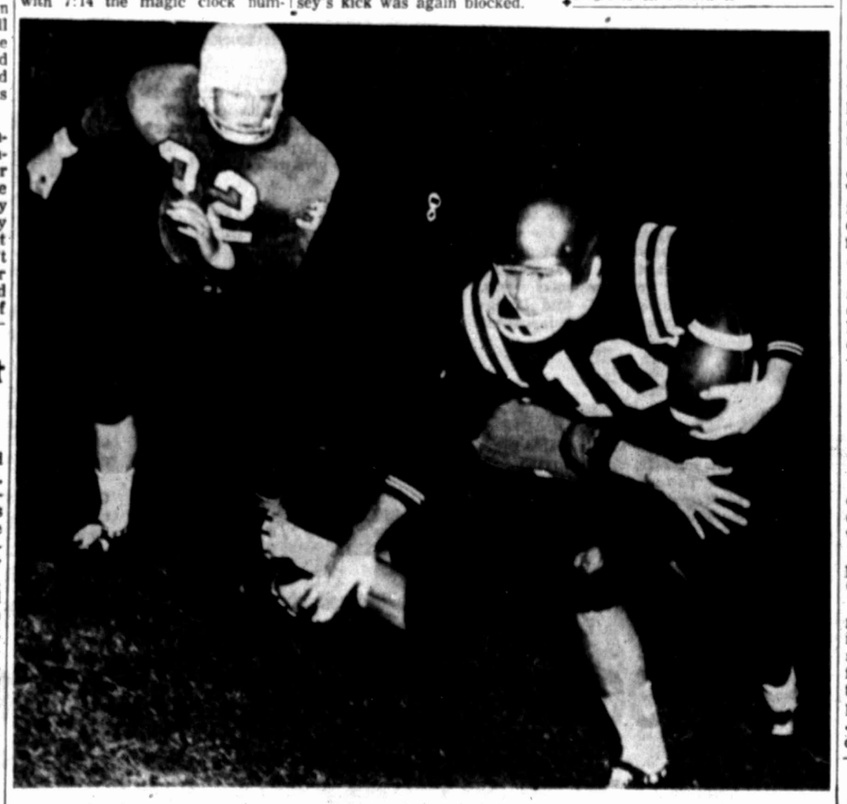

Merkel Wins First In C-Plains Tilt

CROSS PLAINS—Merkel turned loose two hard running backs, Weldon Tittle and Jacky Reynolds, and the two touchdowns scored by each boy proved to be too much for the Cross Plains Buffaloes as the Badgers took their first victory of the season, 28-0.

Tittle went over from one yard out in the first period and then added a 70-yard breakaway shot in the fourth period for his personal addition to the scoring column. Reynolds scored on runs of 11 and 2 yards for the other six pointers.

No Help Available

It got lonely around left end Friday night for Andrews quarterback Floyd Lindsey (10) as Lamesa halfback Jim Anderson (32) and an unidentified tackler closed in to stop a first quarter gain. But later in the game left end wasn't quite as tough as Andrews went on to score their third TD of the game over that position en route to a surprising 19-0 win over the Tornadoes. FLOWER GROVE — The Novice Hornets, led by the Saverance cousins—Dewayne and Randall—broke open a first half see-saw six-man grid battle here Friday night to post a 39-18 victory over the Flower Grove Dragons.

Randall scored on runs of 25, 39 and 20 yards. Dewayne tallied on scampers of 11 and 35 yards. In addition, Dewayne tossed two passes and Randall one for extra points.

Novice crossed the double stripe first on an 11-yard jaunt around right end by Dewayne Saverance. The TD capped a 9-play, 47-yard march. Big play in the drive was a 21-yard pass from quarterback Larry Sterling to end James Bomar. A high pass from center spoiled the try for an extra point.

Webb put the Dragons out front, 12-6, with a four yard blast over left guard in the second stanza, climaxing a 28-yard drive. His point attempt was blocked. After a penalty threatened to bog the drive down, Flower Grove coach J. W. Massengale sent in a tricky double reverse—Roman to Webb to substitute back Amelio Silva, who swung around left end to the eight.

Novice fought back furiously and regained the lead in just three plays. After the ensuing kickoff went out of bounds at the Hornet 25, Randall Saverance scooted around left end to the Dragon 39. Two plays later Dewayne headed to his right on an end run, encountered opposition, reversed his field, and swept around the other end all the way to pay dirt. Randall passed to end Jimmie Mullins for the extra points, for a 13-12 margin.

Flower Grove took the following kickoff and struck like lightning, moving 50 yards in five plays. Bobby Deatherage collected the laurels, taking a handoff from his right end post. He slipped through left guard and raced 32 yards to the double stripes. Although the try for points was blocked, the home towners led again, 18-13.

The thrilling topsy-turvy battle in the first half continued. Bomar blocked a Perry punt at the Dragon 25 and Mullins pounced on the ball. Before Flower Grove could recover, Randall Saverance charged 23 yards through the line and put the Hornets ahead, 19-18, before the half ended.

The second half was an entirely different story. Though Flower Grove fought gamely, it was apparent Novice had an edge in stamina.

The Dragons received the kickoff opening the second half and marched 50 yards to the Hornet two before being stopped by the rugged Novice line, led by Bomar.

Novice then hiked its advantage to 25-18 on a 35-yard aerial from quarterback Larry Sterling to Howard Steakely, center turned end. Dewayne Saverance tossed to Mullins for the extra point, boosting the count to 26-18.

Cousin Randall added another six points with a 39-yard run minutes later after Flower Grove was held on downs. He shot over left guard, cut to the east side lines and had clear sailing all the way. Dewayne connected with Mullins for the extra point, making it 33-18 in favor of the visitors.

Randall also scored the final TD on a 20-yard burst over tackle, climaxing a 55-yard march. Dewayne's kick was low.

Later, Sterling, looking for a receiver, saw daylight and rambled 22 yards over the goal but the play was nullified by a penalty.

Bomar and Mullins were defensive standouts for the victors, and Perry shone on defense for the Dragons.

Herd Looks Anything But Outstanding In Victory

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "Well, we beat the gamblers," a Tulane alumnus said watching his tired football team trudge into the dressing room Friday night.

"How did the experts have it—four touchdowns?" he said.

That told the story of the Tulane - Texas opener. The fifth-ranked Longhorns blanked the hapless Green Wave, 21-0. But the guys who bet against the gamblers were the only winners.

The highly - touted Texans, who were 9-1-1 last year, ran out of gas at the Tulane goal line three times.

Coach Darrell Royal's charges scored only three points in the first half — and then with only 70 seconds left. And they failed to cross the Tulane goal line until the final quarter.

"We didn't outfight them," Royal said. "We out-manned them. We had more football players than they had."

The Greenies, although they showed the small turnout of 18,000 a stubborn defense when the chips were down, are woefully lacking on offense.

They didn't threaten all night. They were only able to cross midfield once. Their lack of offensive punch bodes ill for a schedule crammed with five more bowl foes.

Brightest note for Texas was the clutch kicking of shoeless wonder Tony Crosby. The 21-year-old senior, who kicks with only a sock on his right foot, split the uprights twice with placements of 27 and 31 yards.

The boots put the Longhorns ahead 6-0. They came in the second and third quarters after Tulane had stopped two long Steer drives that penetrated to the six on both occasions.

Phil Harris, 18, a sophomore wingback, gave the Texans late scoring punch. He crashed over for two fourth quarter touchdowns after drives of 48 and 41 yards. Harris went over on bursts of one and two yards.

Ira Squeaks Past Tough Klondike

IRA — Klondike met its second straight defeat in a row Friday night as it became acquainted with Ira and a boy named Norman Turner and the combined duo proved to be too much as the Cougars lost, 20-12.

Turner was the star of the game as he turned in touchdowns in the second and third periods to sew the game up for the home fans. Jack Payne had opened the game's scoring with a first period TD. Bobby Shofner and Jackie Schneider went into paydirt for Klondike.

Abilene Powers Past Mustangs Before 7,000

ABILENE—The Abilene Eagles looked devastatingly sharp before a 7,000-strong home crowd Friday night as they ground out 347 yards on the ground and in the air to decisively beat the Sweetwater Ponies, 28-14.

After a scoreless first period the game was broken wide open in the second quarter as Abilene scored twice and Sweetwater once. The first Abilene TD came on a 64-yard pass play from Bob Bearden to Rusty Harris and then minutes later the Eagles tallied again on a line buck from five yards out after Mike Murphy took a Pony interception 43 yards to the Sweetwater 12.

Abilene made it to paydirt again in the third period on a 44-yard punt return by Bearden behind a wall of blockers that cleared an open path down the sidelines after he took a handoff from Harris. In the fourth quarter they ended their scoring of the night as fullback Tommy Wilson, who scored the second TD, again went in for six points this time from 11 yards out. That capped off a 56-yard drive.

The first Pony touchdown came at the end of a 76-yard sustained drive after Abilene was already leading 14-0. Fullback Danny Foust went over left tackle from three yards out for the TD after passes of 15, 13 and 20 yards from quarterback Benny Pace to Weldon Lane had kept the drive alive. The last Sweetwater score came in the fourth quarter after the Ponies had intercepted an Abilene pass on the Eagles 12. Pace found Bill Clark in the end zone for the six points to end the Ponies scoring on another toss for two more points to end the Ponies' scoring.

Collisions On Coast Highlight Activity

By The Associated Press

Corpus Christi Ray meets Spring Branch and Port Arthur plays Pasadena to offer a comparison as high points of the schedule in the upper divisions of Texas schoolboy football this week.

Spring Branch, a semifinalist last year, was rated strongly until it played Pasadena Friday. The Bears were fortunate to gain a 14-14 tie. But they will be a good test for a Ray team that looks better every time it plays. The Corpus Christi outfit beat Houston Austin 12-8.

Other top games this week, as the field moves into scattered conference play, include San Antonio Jefferson and Corpus Christi Miller in Class AAAA and Nederland at Lufkin in Class AAA. Nederland shocked the state last week as it beat well-rated Class AA Jacksonville 21-0.

Lufkin, a Class AAAA power, dashed over Nacogdoches 14-0. Corsicana's 27-7 decision over Palestine indicated the Tigers are going to be contenders.

CLASS AAAA

1. Friday: Bel Air at El Paso. El Paso Bowie vs. El Paso Burges. El Paso Irving vs. El Paso Jefferson.

2. Friday: El Paso Austin at Midland Lee. Lubbock Monterey at Midland. Sweetwater at San Angelo.

3. Friday: Pampa at Amarillo Palo Duro. Amarillo Tascosa at Lubbock. Amarillo Caprock at Borger; Saturday: Plainview at Amarillo.

5. Friday: Abilene at Fort Worth Arlington Heights. Diamond Hill vs. Fort Worth Tech. Fort Worth Carter-Riverside at LaVega.

6. Thursday: North Dallas vs. Dallas Bryan Adams. Dallas Samuell vs. South Oak Cliff; Friday: Dallas Jefferson vs. Dallas Kimball. Dallas Woodrow Wilson vs. Dallas Sunset.

7. Friday: Carrollton at Denton. Dallas Hillcrest at Mesquite. Sherman at Durant, Okla.

8. Friday: Houston Memorial at Longview, Nederland at Lufkin. Houston Westbury at Marshall. Corsicana at Tyler.

9. Thursday: Houston San Jacinto vs. Houston Jeff Davis. Houston Waltrip vs. Houston Jones; Friday: Houston Milby vs. Houston Austin. Aldine at Houston Bellaire. Houston Reagan vs. Houston Lamar.

Safety Rules Are Urged On Hunters

By The Associated Press

"Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun."

This is the Parks and Wildlife Commission's first rule of shooting safety, and more and more Texas hunters seem to be observing it, the latest hunter casualty report shows.

The report shows that from Sept. 1, 1962, to Aug. 31, 1963, there were 49 hunting accidents in Texas, including 14 deaths. This compares with 56 hunting accidents the previous fiscal year with 20 fatalities.

"There's no particular reason for the decline, except that Texas hunters may be taking more precautions," said T. D. Carroll of the commission.

Of the 49 persons involved in hunting mishaps in 1962-63, 30 were adults and 19 were under 21 years of age. Twenty-six accidents were caused by the victims and 23 were not.

Rifles were involved in 32 accidents, shotguns in 15 and pistols in two.

March and April were free of hunting accidents. During March, April, June and August, there were no fatalities reported.

"With more than one million Texans taking firearms into the field each year, the percentage of accidents is small," said Carroll, "but if we could organize hunter safety clinics to save just one life it would be well worth it."

Research, not more skill, is the reason Oklahoma fishermen are favored to win the Texoma Bowl fishing championship again this year, says anglers in the Lake Texoma area. "Texas has good fishermen. Probably on a fisherman-to-fisherman basis, equally as good as the Sooners. But they are not making the study of the lake," one fisherman said. The fishing contest between Texas and Oklahoma teams is held each year at Texoma in connection with the Texas-Oklahoma football game.

Arrangements are complete, wildlife officials say, for a project to transplant 1,000 deer from the King Ranch to a 10,000-acre spread near Pineland in Sabine County in East Texas.

The Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas will manage hunts in the area.

Lubbock Westerners Trim Odessa Bronchos, 19-6

The Westerners scored first, driving 64 yards in the opening period. An eight-yard pass from Gregg Lott to Tommy Jenkins got the score.

Odessa fought back quickly after Gene Crawford roared 39 yards to the Lubbock 41. From that point, it took Odessa 14 plays to score. Billy Parks rolled out and counted from three yards out.

Lubbock fumbled the second half kickoff and Odessa came in possession on the Westerner three but failed by a yard to tally in its series of downs.

With three minutes left in the third, Odessa fumbled a pitchout and Bill Hoffman recovered on the Odessa eight. Ronnie Webb collected the score on a two-yard run. Hoffman then booted the point.

Odessa made 194 yards rushing the ball to 114 for Lubbock. The Westerners picked up 147 yards through the air to 76 for the Bronchos.

Nine-Hole Meet Scheduled Today

Price Control Effort Enters 2nd Phase

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)— A three-year effort to develop an area formula to control wellhead prices of natural gas enters its second major phase Tuesday.

Proceedings involving the tremendous volume of gas sold into interstate commerce from south Louisiana are to begin with a conference to be attended by lawyers for the Federal Power Commission and segments of the gas industry.

The preliminaries for south Louisiana will begin even though a final FPC decision still is months away for a test case that was designed for development of ground rules for other area price proceedings.

Hearings on the vast Permian Basin area of West Texas and New Mexico began in early 1961 but were not concluded until last week.

The Permian Basin was earmarked for test case purposes in September, 1960, when the FPC abandoned an old cost-rate formula and set tentative area prices for each of the nation's major gas producing areas.

The record of the 2½-year-old Permian proceedings exceeds 30,000 pages and includes more than 400 exhibits. Lawyers have until Dec. 23 to file briefs and replies.

The FPC had sought from 1954 to 1960 to control wellhead prices of interstate gas sales by handling each producer's case individually. A tremendous backlog of cases under the old method was one of the factors prompting the 1960 switch to the formula calling for an area price for each producing area.

Although an announced objective of the Permian case was the development of general ground rules for the area formula there was some disagreement this week over the true significance of the voluminous proceedings.

David Mann Jr., a Washington lawyer for several gas distributors, said many of the particular problems of the Permian case may be unique to that area and not likely to be encountered again.

"I would not regard the area itself as sufficiently typical to use as a pilot or test basis for evaluating the nature and magnitude of the problems to be encountered in area rate making generally," Mann told the Independent Natural Gas Association of America.

A lawyer for several major producers disagreed.

"Many, many regulatory issues will be resolved by the Permian Basin case," he said. "It is true the Permian has a higher percentage of casinghead gas than most other areas but this and similar items are relatively minor when compared with the numerous issues the case will resolve."

Mann said sales of casinghead gas—gas produced with crude oil—are of far greater relative importance to the Permian Basin than in any other area.

Problems Fill Meet's Agenda

HOUSTON (AP) — Market demand, proration and marketing conditions will be among problems talked next week by Texas oilmen, large and small.

A report on the first five years of the U. S. space program also is on the agenda of the convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

All segments of the Texas industry will be represented. Committee meetings start Monday.

Other Tuesday speakers include Jim Langdon, a new member of the Railroad Commission and Morgan Davis, chairman of Humble Oil.

Wednesday speakers include Frank Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute; James Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; and E. D. Brockett, president of the Gulf Oil Corp.

Langdon will tell of the reorganization of the Railroad Commission as recommended by the Texas Research League. Davis will discuss marketing.

Ikard will speak on governmental issues. Brockett's subject will be market demand proration.

Third Producer In Strawn Sand

T. D. Humphrey Jr. of Dallas completed No. 1-C W. F. Martin as the third producer and a location southwest extension for lower Strawn sand production in the Davan multipay area of Stonewall County, 12 miles southwest of Aspermont.

It potentialed for a daily pumping production of 105 barrels of 41-gravity oil, plus 20 per cent water from perforations at 5,439-44 feet, after a 9,000-gallon fracture. Gas-oil ratio was 515-1. It is 467 feet from north and 2,250 feet from west lines of section 2, block U, T&P survey. The field has one upper Strawn producer.

NEW POOL

Hits Discovery In Strawn Lime

Tucker Drilling Company Inc., (formerly Tucker and K. V. Northington Jr.) of San Angelo No. 1-A Bill Upton has been completed as a Strawn lime discovery in Tom Green County, 30 miles southeast of San Angelo.

On the potential test it flowed 66.9 barrels of 39.2-gravity oil per day, with gas-oil ratio of 3,827-1, on an 18-64-inch choke and perforations at 4,503-53 feet which had been treated with 500 gallons of acid. Flowing tubing pressure was 525 pounds.

It is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 5, block 8, H&TC survey and 2½ miles south of the Rust, South (Strawn) pool. Operator has requested a discovery allowable and a designation of BTU (Strawn) pool for the area.

• • •

Gulf Oil Corporation has completed No. 9-F McElroy Ranch Company as a Strawn gas discovery for the multipay Block 42 field in West Upton County, 9½ miles northeast of Crane. It rated a calculated, absolute open flow potential of 1,700,000 cubic feet of gas daily from the Strawn through perforations at 9,339-40 feet, after a 250-gallon acid treatment. Gas-distillate ratio was 4,055-1 and gravity of the distillate was 51 degrees.

Earlier it has been completed from the Bend sand for a daily production of 424 barrels of 41.8-gravity oil, flowing through a 15-64-inch choke and perforations between 9,741-91 feet, after 500 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 1,487-1. It was a ½-mile east extension for that zone.

The well will be produced from both pays. It is 990 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 21, block 42, T-5-s, T&P survey.

The Block 42 field already has oil production from the Strawn lime and from the upper and lower Bend.

• • •

A Strawn sand oil discovery has been indicated at Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 3-1 Viola Boswell and others, Coke County explorer, one mile northeast of Sanco.

That horizon is being tested through perforations at 6,393-95 feet after a 20,000-gallon fracture. At last report 472 barrels of load from the stimulation was yet to be recovered before the section could be accurately tested.

The project is 1,200 feet from north and 1,700 feet from west lines of L. F. Scarborough survey 4, abstract 1615 and ⅝ mile northeast of the IAB, Northeast (5,100-foot Pennsylvanian sand) pool and Strawn lime discovery in that area.

The operation was started as a stepout to the 5,150-foot production in the IAB field. However it drilled to 6,848 feet in the Ellenburger as a wildcat. That section was barren and the project plugged back to 6,700 feet and set casing at that point.

While being drilled No. 3-1 Boswell took a three-hour drillstem test on the Strawn sand at 6,350-6,404 feet. Gas surfaced in 10 minutes with a volume of 26,000 cubic feet daily. Recovery was 4,619 feet of gas, 1,660 feet of 43-gravity oil, and 125 feet of mud-cut salt water.

Initial testing in this prospect was on perforations at 6,726-60 feet, from which 14½ barrels of oil and 67 barrels of water were recovered by swabbing in 11⅝ hours. Those perforations now are squeezed off and the hole is plugged back to 6,700 feet.

Midland Wildcat Reported Flowing Fusselman Oil

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Bertha Kessler and others, Midland County wildcat, one mile southwest of Midland was flowing gas and oil from the Fusselman Friday.

Operator representatives had not taken gauges or made estimates on the production. The section under test was kicking out drilling mud and basic sediment along with the petroleum and until all of that foreign material is cleaned out it will not be possible to develop any accurate figures on the formation's producing ability.

The Fusselman is being tested through perforations at 12,504-518 feet, naturally. Those holes were shot in the casing Thursday and they were swabbed for a short time Thursday afternoon to clean out.

The well was shutin overnight and when opened Friday morning the surface pressure on the tubing was 2,100 pounds. It kicked off without any swabbing and started a regular steady flow.

No. 1 Kessler has flowed oil from perforations in the Ellenburger at 12,962-968 feet at the rate of approximately 100 barrels daily on preliminary tests.

Texaco Inc. completed No. 1 Orb Coffman as a one-mile west extension and the fourth well for the Tahoka (Strawn) pool in Lynn County, 16 miles northwest of Tahoka.

It pumped 20 barrels of 41-gravity oil per day from perforations at 9,834-42 feet which had been treated with 13,500 gallons of acid.

Wildcat To Seek Strawn Section

Tom Brown Drilling Co., Inc., of Midland No. 1 Runyon Ranch is planned as a 7,600-foot Strawn wildcat in Eddy County, N. M., 35 miles southwest of Artesia.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and 910 feet from east lines of section 12-19s-21e and two miles south of Sunray DX Oil Company No. 1-AM New Mexico-State, discovery of a new two-well Strawn gas area.

Gasoline Stations Close In Protest

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A delegation of gasoline station operators says 60 stations in three border cities have closed in a price dispute with the government's oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos (Pemex).

They said the stations, in Matamoros, Piedras Negras and Ciudad Acuna, suspended operations at 4 p.m. Thursday and will remain closed until Pemex agrees to sell them gas at a lower price.

These spokesmen said Pemex was discriminating against the gasoline dealers by charging a price which allowed them a profit of about one-half cent (U.S.) per liter while giving a price to dealers in Tijuana, Mexicali and Ciudad Juarez which allows a profit of almost 2 cents (U.S.) per liter.

Fuel Demand High

Today's jet airliners have a tremendous appetite for fuel. A long-range jet will consume 18,000 gallons of fuel during each 8-hour day. A typical jet flight from New York to Miami, a 145-minute trip, will burn about 5,000 gallons of fuel. A like quantity of gasoline would last an average passenger car about seven years.

New Well Report Lists 168 Finals

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission reported Saturday 168 oil and 56 gas wells were completed during the week.

The totals bring to 6,197 the number of oil wells completed during the year, compared to 7,496 during a like period last year; and to 1,797 the number of gas wells completed this year, compared to 2,455 at the same time last year.

A total of 131 wells were plugged, including 70 dry holes.

Industry Drops Acreage Held For Exploring

HOUSTON (AP)—The domestic oil industry is releasing large blocks of land it has held for exploration purposes.

The 381,623,576 acres the industry held under lease in 33 states Jan. 1 represented a 12-month decrease of 23,135,221 acres.

It was the third straight year for the total acreage under lease to drop sharply. The net decline for the three years exceeds 42 million acres, compared to a net increase of 32 million the three previous years.

The next decrease represents non-productive acreage the industry has abandoned. Operators have made steady additions to their productive acreage leases despite a sharp drop in drilling activity since 1956.

Productive acreage at the end of 1962 totaled 27,570,591 acres, compared to 26,646,797 a year earlier. The 923,794-acre increase was the healthiest gain since 1959.

Despite the declines and despite no leasing activity in 17 states, the industry still is leasing about 20 per cent of the total land area of the 50 states.

Louisiana had 45 per cent of its acreage under lease, Oklahoma 44, Texas 43 and Colorado 39.

Texas boosted her productive leases by 297,000 acres—more than twice the gain of any other state—but dropped to a sixth place tie as operators abandoned 5,500,000 non-productive acres.

Texas' loss in unproven areas was exceeded only by Alaska where non-productive leases dropped from 26,850,000 acres to 20,400,000.

Atlantic Buys Share

DALLAS — Atlantic Refining Company has acquired an additional interest in the Horseshoe-Gallup unit in San Juan county, in northwestern New Mexico.

The acquisition of an additional 2.8 per cent interest brings the company's holdings in the unit to about 48 per cent. It was purchased for an undisclosed amount from Clark and Cowden, Dallas.

The Horseshoe-Gallup unit covers more than 18,700 acres in the Four Corners area of New Mexico, with some 13,500 acres in the participating area. The discovery well was completed in 1956 and unitization became effective Aug. 1, 1962, with Atlantic as the operator.

A waterflood secondary recovery project is under way in the unit with production now averaging about 2,600 barrels of oil daily from 161 producing wells.

COMPLETIONS

BORDEN

R. P. Fisher et al, Abilene, No. 1 Eunice Smith et al, Borden County wildcat, has been plugged and abandoned at 8,380 feet. The hole is 1,980 feet from the west and 660 feet from the north lines of section 264-97, H&TC survey, about one mile southeast of the Lucy (Clear Fork) pool.

GARZA

K K Amuni No. 2 J. S. Boren, Post (Giorietta) well, made 78 barrels of 37-gravity oil, with 35 per cent water, on initial pumping potential. The gas-oil ratio was too small to measure and the zone was fraced with 50,000 gallons of water through perforations between 2,563-598 feet. Elevation is 2,342 feet, total depth is 2,638 feet. Pay was picked at 2,562 feet, and 4½-inch casing is set at 2,638 feet. Location is 330 feet from the south and 1,491 feet from the west lines of section 130-5, H&GN survey, about five miles northeast of Justiceburg.

HOWARD

Drilling and Exploration Co., Inc. No. 1-4 Reed, C NW SE NW, section 141-29, W&NW survey, pumped 52 barrels of oil and five per cent water on initial potential in the Howard-Glasscock field. Gravity of the oil was 33.1 degrees, the gas-oil ratio was 377-1, and perforations are between 1,522-582 feet. Elevation is 2,664 feet, total depth is 2,465 feet, pay was picked at 1,522 feet and 5½-inch casing is at 2,465 feet. Location is about seven miles east of Forsan.

Drilling and Exploration No. 1-3 (UT) Reed Brothers made 55 barrels of 33-gravity oil, with six per cent water and a gas-oil ratio of 390-1, on pump during initial potential tests in the Howard-Glasscock field. It was drilled to 2,465 feet from elevation 2,666 feet and pay was picked at 1,511 feet. Operator set 5½-inch casing at 2,465 feet and perforated between 1,511-568 feet. Location is 990 feet from the north and west lines of section 151-29, W&NW survey.

MITCHELL

Standard No. 1 J. Dell Barber et al, C NE SW, section 13-27, T&P survey, is a duster at 1,608 feet. The hole is about four miles northwest of Colorado City.

C. W. Guthrie, Big Spring operator, failed to encounter oil in No. 5 W. M. Schumacher, C NW NW NW, section 15-29-1s, T&P survey. The hole was bottomed at 3,523 feet before plugging and abandoning. It is about four miles south of Istan, and was slated as an Istan-East Howard check.

Fusselman Test Staked In Dawson

Texas Crude has staked No. 1-33 Berry as a wildcat location in Dawson County, slated for a look at the Fusselman at 11,200 feet. On a 281 acre lease, it is five miles southeast of Lamesa and 500 from north and 1,250 from east lines of section 39-35-5n, T&P survey.

Two field projects were staked and two others corrected.

In Dawson County, Ard Drilling Co will dig the No. 1 J. O. Goodson in the Jo Mill (Spraberry) field about 14 miles southeast of Lamesa, plugging back on old well to 7,700 feet. It is 1,180 from north and 680 from west lines, section 41-33-5n, T&P survey.

In the same county, Texaco No. 1 M. O. Kiefer, a Tex Hamon field project, has been corrected to the No. 1 Krefer. It is 1,880 from north and 2,080 from west lines, section 26-36-4n, T&P survey.

Humble No. 1-B J. C. Dorward, a Dorward (San Andres) project in Garza County, will plug back an old well to 2,305 feet. It is five miles southeast of Justiceburg and 2,310 from south and 330 from east lines of section 138-5-H&GN survey.

An amendment in Howard County changes the Sawnie Robertson No. 5 Reed to No. 6-C Reed. In the Howard-Glasscock field, it is seven miles east of Forsan and slated for 2,500 feet. Location is 990 from north and 1,650 from west lines of section 142-29-W&NW survey.

Garza Tests Are Plugged

Operators have given up on two area prospectors, both drilled in Garza County.

Limpia Royalties, Inc. et al No. 1 Wheeler was drilled to 4,334 feet before it was plugged and abandoned. On cores lifted from 3,682-729 feet, operator reported scattered shows of oil at 3,692 feet and 3,728 feet. Other cores taken between 3,729 feet and the bottom were not reported on.

The prospector spotted 1,650 feet from the west and 467 feet from the east lines of the northwest quarter of section 1,249, AB&M survey, on a 156-acre lease about 10 miles northwest of Post.

The other explorer is Robinson No. 1 Anderson, which was 2,310 feet from the south and 228 feet from the west lines of section 40-6, H&GN survey. That hole was bottomed in barren formation at 8,160 feet.

Devonian Search Planned In Pecos

L. D. Crumly Jr. of Midland No. 1-23 Iowa Realty Trust is to be a try to complete a Devonian producer from above 5,800 feet in Pecos County, 7½ miles southwest of Imperial. It is 1,650 feet from northeast and southeast lines of section 23, block 10, H&GN survey and ½ mile west of Devonian production in the multipay Pecos Valley field. The operation is a former 6,237-foot wildcat failure drilled by Callery & Hurt and abandoned in 1952. Crumly will clean out to 5,800 feet for the Devonian testing.

Rig Total Up By 20

MIDLAND — An increase of 20 active rotary drilling rigs in the Permian Basin Empire was registered on the Friday tabulation of Reed Roller Bit Company.

The latest survey listed 195 working units. A week earlier the figure was 175. The total on the Friday report was 21 less than the 216 rigs shown to have been active in the area on the comparable date in 1962.

Lea County, N.M., recorded a gain of nine—up from 34 to 43—again in first position.

Crane County, with an increase of eight—from seven to 14—took second place. Ector, holding steady with 14 rigs on each of the last two surveys, was third.

ANDREWS 11 (9), BORDEN 3 (3), Cochran 1 (1), Coke 1 (0), Concho 2 (1), Crane 15 (7), Crockett 3 (3);

Ward 6 (5), Winkler 3 (4), Yoakum 12 (7). Total 195 (175).

Research Costs

The petroleum industry will spend about $350 million on research during 1963, according to reports from the American Petroleum Institute. During the past three years major oil companies have spent about $1 billion on research.

Four Wildcats Staked In Permian Basin

Locations have been staked for wildcats in four counties.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-NCT-A R. P. Swofford and others is planned as a 12,000-foot venture in Presidio County, 20 miles southwest of Valentine. It is 1,360 feet from south and 1,076 feet from east lines of section 105, block 3, D&PRR survey.

Forest Oil Corporation of Midland No. 1-D-M B. H. Blakeney is slated as a 10,700-foot Devonian prospector in Ector, three miles northeast of Goldsmith. The drillsite is 630 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 24, block 44, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Continental Oil Co. No. 2-4 J. C. Russell is to drill to 4,500 feet to test the Bell Canyon and the Cherry Canyon in Reeves County, 10 miles northwest of Orla. The location is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 4, block 58, T-2, T&P survey.

G. C. Stillwagon of Midland No. 1 J. R. Bennett is planned as a 4,250-foot San Andres operation in Pecos, seven miles north of Fort Stockton. It spots 660 feet from north and 1,965 feet from west lines of section 9, block 119, GC&SF survey.

Tucker Slates Coke Project

Tucker Drilling Co., Inc., of San Angelo No. 1 O. C. Devall is slated as a 7,200-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Coke County, two miles northeast of Sanco.

The location is 660 feet from south and west lines of L. F. Scarborough survey 14 and 1⅝ miles northeast of the IAB, Northeast (5,150-foot Pennsylvanian) pool.

It is a re-entry and deepening from 6,210 feet in the Strawn of a project originally drilled by Standard Oil Co. of Texas and abandoned in March, 1962.

No. 1 Devall also is one mile northeast of Standard of Texas No. 3-1 Boswell, now attempting to complete as a Strawn sand discovery from perforations at 6,393-95 feet.

Big Gas Operation

Consumption of aircraft fuel at New York's Idlewild Airport will reach 850 million gallons a year, according to the Port of New York Authority, which operates the airport. Current yearly consumption is about 590 million gallons.

Looking Ahead

Research on new uses for petroleum products goes on every day. Among projects under development or being researched in petroleum laboratories are clothes from petrochemical fibers which would not wear out, growth inhibitors to keep lawn mowing down to a once-a-year job and edible foods from petroleum.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids addressed to the City Commission of the City of Big Spring, Texas, will be received until 2:00 p.m., October 3, 1963 and then publicly opened and read, for furnishing all plant, labor, material and equipment, and performing all work required for the construction of a multiple box culvert, wingwalls and sidewalk at Birdwell Lane and Big Spring Creek in accordance with the detailed plans and specifications.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check upon a national or state bank in an amount not less than five (5) per cent of the total maximum bid price, payable without recourse to the City of Big Spring, Texas, or a bid bond in the same amount from a reliable surety company, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and execute performance bond and payment bond within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. The notice of award of contract will be given by the Owner within thirty (30) days following the opening of bids.

The successful bidder must furnish performance bond upon the form provided in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract price and a material and labor payment bond upon the form provided in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety, or other surety or sureties acceptable to the Owner.

The right is reserved, as the interest of the Owner may require, to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informality in bids received.

Plans, specifications and bidding documents may be obtained from the office of the City Engineer, Big Spring, Texas, on deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per set, which sum so deposited will be refunded upon return of the documents or upon receipt of a bona fide bid.

Wages paid on this contract must be not less than the enclosed prevailing rates of wages. A detailed wage scale is included in the specifications.

Any bids received after the closing time will be returned unopened. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days after the date on which the bids are open.

This is the 17th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the Company.

COSDEN
meet the 'SENIORS' of the Cosden family...

EUGENE L. LONG

Eugene L. Long has been in the electrical department at Cosden Refinery for almost half his 15 years with the company. The first half was spent on the yard and as a boilermaker helper. Today he rates as an Electrician No. 1.

Although Sparenburg is his birthplace, Knott has claimed him most of his life. Newly graduated from Garner High School there in 1942, he entered the Army Air Corps via what was then the Big Spring Bombardier School. In the supply division, he spent 22 months in England, France and Germany. Two years of farming and a brief period in construction work immediately preceded his initiation at Cosden on July 8, 1948.

Mrs. Long is the former Pauline Stracener of Sweetwater. The Longs' home plot at Knott is a comfortable acre and a half, part of it planted to vegetables. Their 15-year-old son, E. L. Long Jr., answers to Lawrence. He is a ninth grader at Sands High School who shares his father's zeal for football. Lawrence currently is on crutches, however, as the result of a mending gridiron injury. He is president of Knott 4-H Club, and has plans for raising hogs as his FFA project.

The Longs are members of First Baptist Church at Knott.

City's Water Usage, Income Above Totals For Last Year

Water usage in Big Spring, for the first eight months of 1963, is above the same period of 1962. Income from water metered to customers is up $23,047.39 over the same 1962 period.

City Secretary C. R. McClenny's office records show the water usage to be 1,767,168,000 gallons, and the income to be $633,065.88 for the January through August period this year. Last year's figures for the same period show 1,744,059,000 gallons used and $610,018.49 revenues.

City Manager Larry Crow said last week that revenues were just about in line with budgeted income for the year. Income for last year went lower than anticipated by approximately $25,000.

Police Radar Is Catching Drivers

Police are cracking down on speeding motorists.

Patrolmen operating radar units at various points over the city issued nine speeding tickets Friday and 12 Saturday during the 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. shifts.

"We're interested in slowing traffic down," said Leo Hull, assistant chief. "Operation of the radar units does not interfere with normal patrols," he added.

The crackdown will continue indefinitely.

DEAR ABBY

From The Patients!

DEAR ABBY: Recently you had a letter from HENRY THE DRUGGIST in your column. He complained that many customers asked him to fill half a prescription and he was always being asked questions that only doctors were qualified to answer, such as what was wrong with them and what their prescriptions were for. Well, I wish you'd show me the doctor today who will take time to answer his patients' questions. I've been going to doctors off and on for 35 years, and lately all I get is a silent examination, a fistful of prescriptions, and the next thing I know, I am standing in the hall, facing a nurse with my wallet in my hand. Thank you.

PAY NOW—DIE LATER

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for HENRY THE DRUGGIST: My aged mother was given a prescription by her physician. I had it filled. There were 24 capsules for $19.60. My mother couldn't swallow even one capsule, so she told her doctor and he promptly wrote out another prescription for the same kind of medication only in liquid form. The liquid stuff cost $21. When I tried to return the capsules to the drugstore I was told, "We don't BUY pills — we SELL them." DISGUSTED

* * *

DEAR ABBY: If Henry wants to know why some customers ask for only half a prescription, he's welcome to come to my house and look in my medicine cabinet. I have suffered with a skin problem for over 25 years, and only one who has had that experience knows how frustrating it is to be "almost cured" about 100 times. I'll bet I have $1,000 worth of ointments and pills—all partially used. Either I start to use something and find I'm allergic to it, or I develop an immunity to it. My doctor is tops in his field and soon as some new drug comes out on the market, he is the first to try it. I don't like to tell a doctor what to do, but I wish mine would prescribe in smaller quantities until he knows how I will react to the medication. STILL ITCHING

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Everybody knows that the price of drugs is way out of line. After paying $9.00 for six penicillin tablets, I wrote to Sen. Kefauver (God bless him) who investigated it. He wrote to thank me, and it's all being read into the Congressional record. All the druggists in the L.A. area are paid $7 per hour, $11 per hour on Sundays, and $15 per hour on holidays. If Henry would like some of that loot, I'll get him a job. Or still better, I'll open a drugstore for him and we'll go 50-50.

HAROLD OF GARDENA

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Henry, the Pharmacist, was out of line complaining because people came in asking him to fill only half a prescription. Two weeks ago I had a virus and a high temperature. My doctor prescribed some pills and told me to take one every four hours until my temperature went down to normal. And he emphatically told me to discontinue the pills after my temperature was normal. I had the prescription filled. It called for 12 pills which cost me $7.00. After I took three pills my temperature went down to normal. That left me with nine pills. Half the prescription would have been plenty. BURLINGAME

Civil Docket Opens In District Court

Fifteen damage suits, 10 compensation and one debt case are set down on the 118th District Court civil jury docket to open Monday.

Judge Ralph Caton said he would sound the docket at 10 a.m. The jury panel will report to the court at 1:30 p.m. Trial of any cases announced ready will begin at that hour. The docket goes through Friday.

The damage cases on the docket are:

OFF THE PRESS news of Brittany shapes is boldly accented with a casual, feline fabric hat and ever so fashionable shoes designed with straight back, continental heel and open shank. Casual comfort is significantly smart and headlined this season.

STARK SIMPLICITY and startling beauty is created with pixie dome paillette of curliques, left above, combined with the season's sparkling opera pumps, lower left, to complement an all-black evening ensemble. Dress for the late hours this fall and winter features a galaxy of styles including plumed and jeweled caps and sling and open-toed slippers for dancing.

JEWELS AND FURS are predominant in the '63-'64 fashion news. Left, the small black velvet pillbox is trim and chic with rhinestone studded topknot. The rhinestone detail is repeated in a motif on the face veil. Velvet is one of the many plush fabrics fashioned into the fall chapeau picture, and not the least of these is the make-believe fur. However, the model above is authentic. The area cloche is of Mantilla black fox which rides high and wide with sweeping portrait brim. This is matched by a minute Mantilla black fox boa.

A NEW MOVEMENT in a press account, which again notes simplicity, stresses skillful tailoring. A tailored pump and broad-brimmed, black velour hat accentuates the slender design of the fur-trimmed sheath.

A Major Member

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Offield and sons, Glen and David with Major—a major member of the household—at their residence on East 18th St. Glen is the equestrian of the group, however he has no preference of four-legged animals—he rides Major as well as his horse, Pedro.

Demotion Isn't Taken Lightly By Family Pet

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

Just as it frequently happens with the arrival of children, an attempt was made to demote the canine member of the Gene Offield family when their sons arrived to become the number one pets. However, eight-year-old Major, an exceptionally fine, registered boxer, would not relinquish his place nor has he become subdued and submissive as a result of his demotion.

This white chested, fawn colored animal — all 85 pounds of him— bounds to the front door with the approach of stranger or friend. His warm welcome is extended before that of his masters' and then he takes his place to help provide the hospitality generated in the Offield home. He listens dutifully, and interrupts only with a wag of his stump of a tail.

Actually, the boys are glad to share honors with Major. Glen, 21 months, and David, seven months, huskily constructed and glowingly healthy youngsters, rely on Major for entertainment and companionship of which he gives generously.

The family moved into their home at 1203 East 18th St. the last week of August, coming here from Sweetwater where he was the junior high school coach. This fall he was added to the Runnels Junior High staff as tackle coach.

INTERESTS SHARED

Many interests are shared by the Offields who met while attending Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. She, the former Jean Morgan of Rotan, majored in physical education with a minor in business, and Offield, a native of Breckenridge and with Army service completed, majored in physical education with a minor in biology. The native Texans, having this common interest, went on to discover that both liked the out of doors, swimming, water skiing, bowling, golf, cycling and spectator events. So, in 1951 they were married.

Since that time, they have taught except for a period when he tried the more lucrative field of selling. This was not to his liking, however, and he returned to the public schools and sports.

A four year letter man as end and linebacker on the Hardin-Simmons football team, Offield plans to remain with his coaching career, and like most of his colleagues he aims for the higher realms on a college staff. Mrs. Offield, when the boys are in school, hopes to return to public school teaching. Presently she is content to be with her boys, her house and yard work, sewing and cooking.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

This is the last day of summer! And it doesn't seem like autumn at all. All the dresses that looked so pretty and fresh at the beginning of June have taken on an appearance of not being so smart. Fall fashions look beautiful but feel too heavy, and we go back to the summer clothing that look too light but feel so much better. We put on the darker colors and hope the buildings still have the air conditioning on. It's that time of year when fashion dictates one type of wearing apparel and the heat of the day demands another. But it is an interesting time on the calendar.

Board Session And Birthdays Are Noted

George Grimes, manager of the refineries, is in Washington, D.C., to attend the fall meeting of the board of directors of National Petroleum Refiners Association. Sessions will continue through Tuesday at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bomar Fincher and sons, Lewis and Layton, headed for Ruidoso and Cloudcroft, N.M., for a few days of vacation. Next weekend they plan to attend homecoming festivities at Water Valley High School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fincher are alumni.

Mr. and Mrs. Merel Ringener are going to San Antonio for their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker and son, Michael, are in Greenfield this weekend, visiting relatives.

Purchasing department employes shared pie and coffee with Mrs. Tommy Ringer, Friday, as a birthday greeting.

Happy birthday was the greeting also for Mrs. Billy Ray Badgett this week in the credit department.

Mrs. Jimmy Gilmore is home now after brief hospitalization.

Mrs. Eleanor Matheny will accompany the Joe Pickles to San Antonio next week to see Tom Pickle commissioned a second lieutenant.

The art exhibit at Cosden Snack Bar for the next two weeks is the work of Mrs. Donald Hale, whose husband is in refinery operations at the Dubbs unit. Mrs. Hale has had some formal training and expresses a preference for oils. She is active in Las Artistas and is a member of the Spaders Garden Club.

Reception Is Held At College

The annual welcoming event for the faculty and students at Howard County Junior College was held Friday evening at the HCJC Student Union with the Faculty Ma'ams as hostesses.

In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt and Mrs. D. E. Travis Jr., president of Faculty Ma'ams, the new teachers, Jerry Dudley and John R. Harley with their wives, Mrs. Sebron Williams and her husband, Miss Maureen Conrad, Miss Jeri Tanner and Harlan Thornton. Also in the line were Dr. Charles Warren, a new board member, and Mrs. Warren.

A red and gray motif, the HCJC colors, was featured at the refreshment table which was centered with a carnation arrangement and candles. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

Mrs. Marshall Box, Mrs. B. M. Keese and Mrs. Verdell Turner were those who served.

Mrs. Fryar Wins Canasta Games

Mrs. Ronald Fryar was presented a sprinkling bottle for winning high when the Hi-Lo Canasta Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Shaw, who was the low scorer.

Refreshments were served to six players. Mrs. Jack Crawford will be hostess to the group at 8:30 a.m., Sept. 25.

Marriage Vows Are Exchanged

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Micki Lynn Lawson and Albert J. Marks Jr., of Webster Grove, Mo., in a ceremony performed Friday morning in the home of the bride parents at 2002 Alabama. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lawson, and Marks' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Marks, Webster Grove.

A friend of the Lawson family, Walter Grice, read the double ring service. An arch of white, split mums marked the nuptial scene.

Mrs. Gloria Behymer of Creve Couer, Mo., sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Jackie Touchstone was bridesmatron. Best man was Ron Dagenhardt of Bridgeton, Mo.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left afterward on a wedding trip to Tulsa, Okla. For traveling the bride chose a yellow linen suit and lizard accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

The couple's residence will be made in the Westhaven Apartments in Creve Couer.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, the bride also graduated from Commercial Business College. Marks attended Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., and is a graduate of Missouri Valley College. He has just concluded his service and radar training at Webb Air Force Base.

Old-Fashioned Supper Held At Church Hall

Approximately 35 women gathered Thursday evening for an old-fashioned supper and program given by the Women's Missionary Union at the Fellowship Hall, Baptist Temple. Places were set with old dishes on red checkered cloths. Kerosene lamps, flanked by milk glass pitchers filled with flowers, were the centerpieces. Each table featured pictures of styles worn by women of the early 1900s, and a display table exhibited old cooking utensils and other antiquated articles.

The Rev. James A. Puckett reminded the women of the forthcoming soul - winning campaign which begins today. The mission book entitled "Annie Armstrong" was then presented by the fellowship. Mrs. Max Legg told of the first years of Miss Armstrong's life. Mrs. Joe Blassingame told of her place as secretary of the home missions board, and Mrs. R. J. Stricker related her work with the Negroes. Mrs. Ross Hill gave an insight to the remaining years of Miss Armstrong's life.

A tribute to the missionary, which included the calendar of prayer, was given by Mrs. A. W. Page who then dismissed the group with prayer.

MRS. JAMES H. SNYDER

Snyder-Schlecht Rites Performed Saturday

Miss Judi Norene Schlecht became the bride of James H. Snyder in a double ring ceremony performed at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The Rev. Clair A. Wiederhoft read the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schlecht, 1704 Yale St. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snyder of Bremen, Ind.

The bridal aisle, marked with white satin streamers, huckleberry foliage and wedding tapers, led to the altar where white chrysanthemums and emerald palms were placed.

Accompanied at the organ by Jack Hendrix, Hayes R. Bryan sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." Hendrix played nuptial selections including "Traumerei" by Schumann, "Liebestraum" by Liszt, "Aria" by Peeters, "Oh Promise Me" by DeKoven and "I Love Thee" by Grieg.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was a Maurer original, of white de-lustered satin, fashioned with Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the wrists. The sculptural bodice was fastened with a row of self buttons at the back where a semi-circle of flat, released pleats gave the illusion of a modified bustle. Chantilly lace, imported from France and encrusted with seed pearls, adorned the neckline, waist and edge of the restrained, belled skirt. The veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls.

She carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. J. A. Mann who carried it in her wedding 56 years ago. Her blue garter was made by her mother.

The bride's bouquet was a white lace heart centered with three white orchids surrounded by white feathered carnations. It was showered with white picot satin ribbon and satin braid covered with sequins.

Attendants of the bride were Mrs. Sherrell Gossett, matron of honor, and Mrs. Gary Allen, bridesmatron. Mrs. Allen, of Bremen, is a sister of the bridegroom. Their sapphire blue, princess dresses were of taffeta brocade, designed with puff sleeves and belled skirts. Both carried heart-shaped arrangements of carnations.

Serving as best man was Sherrell Gossett, and the groomsman was Charles M. Pearson. Ushers were George and Gary Snyder, Plano, uncle and cousin of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club, with the honored couple's parents and attendants joining them in the receiving line.

The refreshment table held the three-tiered wedding cake baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Leonard Hahl of Beemer, Neb. The white confection, topped by miniature bride and groom, was decorated with white doves and wedding bells.

Presiding at the guest register was Miss Judy Lyster. Members of the house party were Mrs. E. J. Mann, Mrs. J. A. Mann, Mrs. Loucille Hope, Mrs. Hahl, Miss Pat Fannin, Miss Joan Lyster and Miss Jo Beth Wasson.

Also, Mrs. Jim Wright, Mrs. James Weber, Mrs. Joe Blum, Mrs. Charles Wasson, Mrs. Jim Bill Little, Mrs. Bill Westbrook, Mrs. Nettie Nitchell, Mrs. Bill Draper and Miss Jann Kort.

WEDDING TRIP

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a royal blue silk sheath with black patent accessories. Her corsage was the orchids from the bridal bouquet.

Following the trip, the couple will reside in Bremen.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom was graduated from high school in Bremen, attended Howard County Junior College and served four years in the Air Force.

A reception honoring the couple will be held in Bremen Oct. 5 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Goodson Talks On Poll Tax Repeal

A. G. Goodson, guest speaker, discussed the poll tax repeal, speaking to members of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. C. Cravens presided for the session in Carpenters Hall.

Visits to the sick were reported, and it was announced that husbands of Mrs. M. E. Anderson and Mrs. P. P. Van Pelt are patients in the Howard County Hospital Foundation.

Mrs. D. C. Pyle, Mrs. W. G. Mims and Mrs. Van Pelt served refreshments to 17 members. The October refreshment committee was named as Mrs. C. L. Kirkland, Mrs. L. A. Griffith and Mrs. P. L. Bradford.

Flattering Accent

Right for city or country with everything a walking shoe demands, is the trim stacked heel . . . rounded crescent toe . . . and perfed vamp, shown left. Matching the comfort of country tweeds, the shoe boasts a cushioned arch. Popular everywhere, the mocassin toed loafer, center, is designed to go smartly with the sportive look. A classic way to complement school wardrobes. Hop-skip stitches are decorative detail on the vamp of the sportive pump. The two-textured look of this slim heeled pump flatteringly accents the nubby wools and tweeds for autumn and winter wear.

Forum Begins The Club Year

Members of the International Wives Club were special guests of The Woman's Forum Friday morning when the first meeting of the club year was held in the home of Mrs. Jack Y. Smith.

"The Count Down," the first meeting, is an informal one to which each member is privileged to ask a guest. Mrs. Jack F. Johnson, president, greeted the guests and emphazied the feeling of friendship and fellowship Americans have for their neighbors and foreign friends.

Foreign friends were Mrs. Robert G. Hunter, England; Mrs. Thomas Sykes, Mrs. Roy E. Drinnen, Panama; Mrs. Domingo Fernandez, Spain; Mrs. D. W. Austin, Mexico City; Mrs. Danny Valdez, Mrs. Louis Graupera, Havana, Cuba; Mrs. Sam Mellinger, French Morocco; Mrs. John Woodd, Poland.

Other guests were Mrs. Otis Grafa, Mrs. Robert Polk, Mrs. Ross Boykin, Mrs. Anne Hardy, Mrs. Luther Bean, Mrs. Rube McNew, Mrs. J. O. McCrary and Mrs. John Branscum.

Refreshments were served from a colorful table laid with a red linen cloth. The chrysanthemums for the centerpiece were held in a wooden bottle carrier. Cokes were served from a gaily decorated fruit basket that was painted red. It was trimmed with green felt, gold braid and felt appliques in shapes of bottles and openers. Party food was served from large decorator trays.

To set the international theme, the buffet held an array of miniature dolls from many nations. Hostesses with Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Dwain Leonard, Mrs. E. B. Compton and Mrs. Elvis McCrary.

The group was reminded of the election scheduled for Saturday and also told of the activities of the Civic Theatre.

The October meeting, at the home of Mrs. W. N. Norred, will begin at 10 a.m. with Mrs. J. F. Skalicky as the guest leader. The program will be a creative arts and crafts workshop followed by a covered dish luncheon.

Members were asked to bring some article of their creation.

Twenty - two members attended the meeting.

Library To Get Funds

A donation of $30 was made to the school library when members of the Forsan Study Club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Leo Parker.

Club members voted to participate in the CARE Tag Day project by making individual donations.

The devotion was worded by Mrs. Carl Lee, correspondance presented by Mrs. Elmer Patton and the proposed budget read by Mrs. Cliff Ferguson.

Mrs. Bob Cowley distributed yearbooks with each adorned with the birthstone of a member to carry out the year's theme "Jewels of Federation."

Twenty - two members and a guest, Mrs. P. P. Armstrong, heard Mrs. Ronnie Gandy review "Preposterous Papa" by Lewis Meyer. The book describes adventures of early settlers in Oklahoma.

The next meeting of the club will be Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the music room at the school.

School Career Ended For Veteran Teacher

By JO BRIGHT

Last week, late on an afternoon, a moving van pulled away from the residence at 1303 College. Next door, in the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Varner, Miss Rose Sizemore held a colored photograph of her last class, and talked about the 50 years she has spent being teacher and friend to thousands of children.

A modest woman, Miss Sizemore had planned to leave town without fanfare.

"Due to the activities involved in moving, I have not been able to say goodbye to many friends, and I regret this very much," she said.

Miss Sizemore will live at Denton in a big home purchased by her in 1955 and aptly named "Rose Haven." In returning there, she is bringing her professional career to a close in the same town that it began.

BEGAN EARLY

She began teaching in Denton at the age of 18, although she had not completed her college work. In 1923, she was graduated from what was then Texas Women's College, with a diploma and teacher's permanent certificate. At the same college, she earned a BS degree in 1938, majoring in speech.

MISS ROSE SIZEMORE

She received the MA degree in 1952, with a major in education and minor in speech. Two summers were spent at Emerson College of Oratory in Boston, Mass.

Miss Sizemore has taught in 12 different school systems, all except one of which were in Texas.

During the war, children were being taught in two daily shifts at Grand Prairie, which was busting at the seams with defense workers. Miss Sizemore taught 94 students every day, with 25 states being represented among them. Her teaching day began at 7:30 a.m. and ended at 5:30 p.m., not including the time spent driving 32 miles daily between home and school.

KEPT PACE

"The system of teaching has changed greatly," she said, "and most changes have been progressive. It is necessary to keep pace and adjust and I tried to do this. I was fortunate to have as superintendents, some men who are outstanding in the educational field, and they have been an inspiration to me."

Miss Sizemore went on to explain that as a new method was introduced, she examined and appraised it, using what seemed good, but at the same time, holding on to the proven methods.

For six years she was principal and full-time teacher at a Corsicana elementary school, but relinquished the position to operate her own private school. In the kindergarten and first grade, she offered eurhythmics, rhythm band and choral reading in the speech arts department. She completed her professional career at Washington Elementary School, where she taught first graders for 14 years. Had she taught until December, an entire 50 years would have been rounded out.

REALIZES DREAM

"My teaching experience fulfilled a life-long ambition," she said. "These experiences with the children have been most satisfying. Through my contacts with parents, many warm friendships have developed that will continue to be a source of pleasure."

Miss Sizemore is a Baptist and member of the local East Fourth Church. She feels that one of her happiest experiences here has been her membership in the church's Dorcas class. In Denton, she plans to do some type of volunteer work with children which will fit into the church program. This may be choral reading of dramatized Bible study.

In summing up her attitude of half a century, Miss Sizemore said, "I consider teaching a privilege, and only those who are sincerely dedicated can hope for complete success."

Dial 'M' Cast

Mrs. Charles (Paula Watson) Carothers and Ron Carr enact the strangulation scene, upper left, in "Dial 'M' for Murder" during a rehearsal this week at the Little Theatre building in the city park. The entire cast, upper right, includes Tony Giardina, Mrs. Carothers, Lt. Col. J. L. Lauer, from left, and kneeling, Capt. James Marlin. In the lower picture, from left, Arthur Clonts, co-producer, and member of the board of directors, consults with Mrs. Richard Davis, business manager, and Dr. Milton Talbot, chairman of the membership drive. The Little Theatre season opens with the presentation of "Dial 'M' for Murder" at the city auditorium, Oct. 11. Four productions are scheduled, concluding with "George Washington Slept Here," in April.

Little Theatre Receives Its Charter, Membership Open

A charter has just been received by the Big Spring Little Theatre Inc., a non-profit organization incorporated in the state of Texas, and the group's annual drive for membership is in progress.

A single membership, five admissions, is being sold for $5; family membership, 12 admissions, $8 and sponsor membership, 20 admissions, $15. Any number of admissions may be used at any production, and single adult admissions at the door will be $1.50. Tickets may be purchased from membership chairman, Dr. Milton Talbot, from committee members, Mrs. Arthur Clonts, Mrs. Conny Wade and Mrs. Harold Davis or from Little Theatre members.

Presently in rehearsal is "Dial 'M' for Murder," to be presented Oct. 11 and 12. Other productions for the season, to be given at the Big Spring Municipal Auditorium, are "My Three Angels," a Christmas comedy, Dec. 6 and 7; "The Emperor's New Clothes," a play for children, Feb. 16-17; and "George Washington Slept Here," a Moss Hart-George S. Kaufman comedy, April 6-7.

DIAL 'M'

"Dial 'M' for Murder" concerns an ex - professional tennis player who marries a wealthy fan and then decides he prefers her money to her company. By blackmailing a former college acquaintance, unknown to the wife, the gold digging spouse plans the perfect murder to be carried out by the college friend. But "the best laid plans" go awry and the murder does not take place exactly as planned. Clever maneuvering by the husband almost causes the wheels of justice to roll over the wrong person. The ending is a surprise to the characters as well as the audience.

Mrs. Charles (Paula Watson) Carothers, who has the leading female role, is a native of Marble Falls. She attended Emerson College in Boston, Mass., where she received a degree in interpretive drama. She has studied privately with B. Iden Payne, has appeared in summer stock and college and professional theaters throughout the East Coast area and in Texas. She has also had directing experience and is presently instructor in speech and drama at Goliad Junior High School. The young actress and teacher is talented in the field of choreography, set designing and costuming.

MALE LEAD

In the male lead, Lt. Jay L. Lauer will make his initial appearance in a Big Spring theatre. An Air Force officer stationed at Webb, Col. Lauer recently arrived in Big Spring coming from Weisbaden, Germany. He attended San Diego State College and is an active lay reader in the Episcopal church. He is currently heading the United Fund drive at Webb AFB, where he is active in many civic projects.

Capt. James Marlin, president of the Little Theatre of Big Spring, is also stationed with the Air Force at Webb where he is an instructor pilot. He has directed several productions for the Little Theatre including "The Warrior's Husband," "You Can't Take It With You" and "Picnic." Capt. Marlin, who attended the University of Iowa, has worked as a set designer and technical director as well as director of productions. In Dial 'M' he lends his talents to acting for the first time before a Big Spring audience.

From Connecticut, Ron Carr is a computor operator at Webb. He has had parts in various productions, including a leading role, at Cheshire Academy where he attended school. A member of the Little Theatre group for the past year, he has had parts in "The Gazebo" and "Inherit The Wind." Besides acting he has helped with set construction and publicity. Also, he has served with the play reading committee and helped to choose Dial 'M' for presentation.

Lt. Tony Giardina, medical supply officer at Webb and a graduate of Texas A&M, is a native of the state hailing from Beaumont. Prior to his arrival at Webb, he was stationed in Italy. This will be Lt. Giardina's first dramatic endeavor in a Big Spring presentation.

DIRECTOR

The director, Jock Richards, studied acting and directing at Sacramento State College and television acting at the Richard Boone television studio. He has appeared in numerous stage plays, and while in San Francisco he acted and directed with the International Repertory Theatre. He has directed productions on the West Coast to include "Look Back in Anger," "Twenty Seven Wagons Full of Cotton," "El Camino Reaol," "Summer and Smoke" and "Night Must Fall."

Marriage Told

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coffey of Austin announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to J. Craig Beckmeyer at the Sparenberg Methodist Church Sept. 1.

The couple is now residing at College Station where he is a senior at Texas A&M University.

HD MEETINGS

Floor Covering, Food Discussed

Subjects discussed for members of the Home Demonstration clubs this week were "Floor Coverings" and "Good Nutrition." Samples of various floor coverings were shown, and meal planning for interest and satisfaction was stressed.

COLLEGE PARK

Mrs. Robert Coleman was hostess to 14 members of the College Park Club at her home, 2305 Mishler. Mrs. Delaine Crawford, HD agent, presented the program, and Mrs. John Birdwell presided for the business session.

A new member, Mrs. Douglas Williamson, was welcomed, after which officers were elected. Ideas for roll call were suggested to be used in the year book for 1964.

While displaying the different floor coverings, Mrs. Crawford explained their qualities and durability. Also, she explained the possibilities inherent in the use of floor covering in home decorating.

Guests were Mrs. Bill Bodine, Mrs. Louis Burcham, Miss Jennie Allen, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Emma Coleman and Mrs. Jess Crane.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. D. Nanny, 3303 Auburn Oct. 1.

FAIRVIEW CLUB

Mrs. John Sutherlin was elected president of the Fairview Club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. H. Ward Sr. Others elected at the meeting were Mrs. H. S. Hanson, vice president; Mrs. O. D. Engle, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Smith, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Wilson, council delegate.

"Good Nutrition Is A Treasure" was the subject for discussion by Mrs. Shirley Fryar and Mrs. J. M. Smith. After the program, the 10 members agreed to help make terry cloth slippers for the state hospital. Refreshments were served, concluding the meeting.

The next meeting will be Oct. 1 with Mrs. Irene McKinley, 617 Colgate.

ELBOW CLUB

Nine members of the Elbow Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Garner Thixton Thursday to hear Mrs. Crawford present her program on "Floor Covering — Its Selection and Care."

The women displayed crafts which they have completed, and the next meeting was announced for Oct. 3 with Mrs. Troy Wylie.

Engaged

Mrs. Mary Moore Bauer of Llano announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Billie Ann of Midland, to Dr. Lloyd C. Brewton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Brewton of Louisville, Ga. A Nov. 1 wedding is planned in Toul, France. Both Miss Bauer and Dr. Brewton are former residents of Big Spring.

MRS. ROBERT ALFRED CHASE

Miss Dyer Is Bride Of Chase

Wedding vows were spoken by Miss Connie Sue Dyer and Airman 2.C. Robert Alfred Chase at 7 o'clock Friday evening in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Manes, 1201 Ridgeroad Drive. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. Brincefield, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church in Post.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Flora Dyer, 1209 Mulberry St., and Curtis Dyer, Manteca, Calif. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Chase, 1530 Grant Ave., Erie, Pa.

Miss Shirley Clawson, pianist, presented nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Charles Odom as she sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street - length gown designed with white satin bodice and fitted skirt of white lace. The white lace jacket featured elbow length sleeves and a rounded neckline. Her veil of illusion fell to the shoulders from a headband of sequins and pearls.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Billy C. Batchelor, and Miss Venetta Jo Jordan. Both wore orchid dresses designed with full skirts and rounded necklines. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Serving as best man was Airman 2.C. Richard Bennett, Muncie, Ind. Groomsman was Airman 3.C. Weldon E. Danner, Corydon, Ind.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the home, with the bride's parents joining the couple in the receiving line.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over orchid linen. The white three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in orchid and topped with bridal figerines. Guests were registered by Mrs. Robert Bodily.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. R. Brincefield and Wayne, of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Williams, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Curtis Dyer, Manteca.

WEDDING TRIP

The bride chose a royal blue suit with white accessories for the wedding trip to Cloudcroft, N.M. Upon returning, the couple will reside at 106 E. 15th St., Apt. B.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is employed by Safeway, Inc. The bridegroom is a graduate of McDowell High School in Erie, and is presently in the Air Force, stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Versatile Business Woman To Speak

Mrs. R. M. (Jean) Roberts, operator of a one-woman freelance advertising agency, is to be the speaker for the annual luncheon of the Hyperion Council Thursday, Sept. 26, at the Big Spring Country Club.

The Dallas woman is the energetic editor who wrote the well-researched book on Republic Insurance Company's history and scripted industrial motion pictures for Ling-Temco and other firms. Her alma mater is the University of Tulsa where she was a Chi Omega and a member of Mortar Board. The wife of Robert M. Roberts, of Proctor & Gamble's industrial relations department, is presently operating a busy agency office at her home, 5819 Royal Crest, in Dallas.

Mrs. Roberts carries into her present role experience as manager of promotions at KOME radio, Tulsa; she originated that city's Chamber of Commerce magazine, "Tulsa," and guided it to national prizes for excellence. Also she edited all wartime publications of the Douglas Aircraft Company at Tulsa, and was assistant manager of its one-million circulation national monthly.

WORLD AFFAIRS

Among her accomplishments, Mrs. Roberts is proud of her part as an organizer of the Dallas Council on World Affairs, as a member of its Speaker's Bureau and coordinator on the Foreign Visitor's Hospitality Committee.

The work with foreign visitors, she feels, is the principal way a private American citizen can expose visitors from foreign countries to what America stands for and what it is.

Party Slated At Bennett House

Plans were completed Tuesday evening when the circle met in the home of Mrs. Luther Bean, 611 Tulane. The group will furnish refreshments for the party and present a brief program.

Nine members and two guests heard the lesson brought by Mrs. Preach Martin. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. John Black.

Ruth Class Party Held In Home

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Gerald Rollins and Mrs. Herman Parsons were hostesses to the Ruth Sunday School Class party at Westbrook Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Parsons gave the devotion, followed by prayer by Mrs. Homer Rice and singing of the class song, "I Love to Tell the Story."

Mrs. Charles Ranne presided at the business meeting. A nominating committee, Mrs. Troy Lankford, Mrs. Royce Moore and Mrs. Charles Ranne, was appointed to select officers for the new year.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served. Mrs. McMahan will be hostess for the next party to be held Oct. 15.

Choir Workshop Dates Set For Ensuing Week

A children's choir workshop, to begin Monday at the First Methodist Church, will be co-sponsored by the First Baptist Church.

The three-day course will be conducted by Mrs. Haskell Boyter, founder and director of the Children's School of Music. She is a graduate of Converse College and has done post-graduate work in leading music centers in the United States.

The daily schedule will begin at 9 a.m. with the serving of coffee, except Monday. Training hours are 10 a.m., kindergarten choir rehearsal; 3:45-4:30 p.m., primary choir rehearsal; 4:45-5:30 p.m., junior choir rehearsal; and 7:30 p.m., lecture on music and materials used. There will be no Wednesday evening session.

MRS. HASKELL BOYTER

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MARGE LYNCH

The word is out on the October luncheon and fashion show from Swartz. And the word is fabulous! Swartz has promised us a fashion show appealing to the eye rather than the pocketbook. Officers' wives turned into glamorous models for the afternoon will show sportswear, afternoon dresses, cocktail and ball gowns. The latter two will be displayed with appropriate fur wraps. So in the midst of your plans do not forget to make your reservation for Oct. 3. Just call Mrs. K. A. Cunningham at AM 4-4467 or Mrs. D. E. Wilson at AM 4-8102 before noon on Tuesday, Oct. 1.

The Air Base Wives had a lovely meeting at the O'Club Thursday morning. Hostesses for the coffee were Mrs. Charles Penn, Mrs. R. M. Bierly and Mrs. W. P. Daniel. The table was laid with a moss green linen cloth on which was a centerpiece of fruit. Melon balls in a scooped-out watermelon, miniature doughnuts and other pastries were served. Mrs. Penn is the new chairman and Mrs. Ron Kibler is the new reporter. Newcomers welcomed to the group were Mrs. L. V. Smoll, Mrs. Roy Edwards and Mrs. E. Werlein.

Mrs. James Day, the new chairman of the 3560th PTS Wives, presided for their meeting Tuesday at the O'Club. An autumn arrangement of dried flowers was presented to the retiring chairman, Mrs. William Holcomb. Check section was the hostess with Mrs. James Brazeel introducing the speaker, Lavern Pollard, from the House of Crafts. Mrs. Pollard brought many samples of ceramics and explained the technique used to finish each of the pieces. Mrs. Jerry Sapp had a guest, Miss Vickie DiVito from Niagara Falls, N. Y. Door prizes were won by Mrs. William Holcomb and Mrs. Raymond S. Ryan. Newcomers introduced at the meeting were Mrs. C. N. Wahl from Jaguar, Mrs. W. D. Scott from Hammer, Mrs. T. C. Shancky, Mrs. D. T. Drinnon and Mrs. J. D. Arnold all from Hatchet Flight.

BASE NURSERY

An important announcement is made concerning the base nursery. The entrances, or the driveway, have been reversed. You will now enter at the north end (the end nearest the town) and leave by the south end (nearest the main entrance to hospital and nurses' quarters). As you drive in the north end pretend you are in merry ole England and drive on the left side of the road. The reason for the change is to permit the driver to get out of the left side of his car and go directly into the nursery instead of having to walk around the car as before. With some thought, time and courtesy this new system should prove its efficiency very soon.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert Hoover introduced their friends to their "new home" on base recently at a supper party. A huge spread of cold cuts of meat and cheeses along with salads and such were served. The guests also enjoyed watermelon from Tahoka. The results of the Hoovers' decorating and furniture building was evident as the house was lovely.

The wives of Class 64-H will host the Hi and Bye Coffee Thursday, Sept. 26, at the O'Club at 10 a.m. The new class being welcomed is 65-B, assigned to Hatchet Flight in the 3560th PTS.

COOLER TANG IS HERE

Old Man Summer Gives Way To Autumn Monday

By SAM BLACKBURN

If you have been one of the sizeable army of folk who have had the impression these past few days that the early mornings had a touch of autumnal tang—be advised there's good reason for the impression. At 24 minutes past midnight (Sunday) it will become autumn.

Monday morning when you awaken and gaze out the window at the countryside, you will be looking at a fall landscape. And if the climate enacted the role it should, in harmony with the season, there should be gaily colored leaves swirling down from the trees and shrubs.

At 12:24 a.m. Monday, autumn takes over the sweat - stained throne of Old Man Summer. Summer has ruled with an iron hand since 9:04 p.m. June 21. Miss Autumn will hold her place until 8:02 a.m. Dec. 22. She relinquishes her reign on that date to King Winter.

In more technical language, we have now moved into the autumnal equinox season. That's an easy one to translate — "equi" means equal and "nox" means night; hence, right now the daylight and the darkness intervals of each 24 hour day are about the same length. (Actually, there is a difference. For example, the sunrise Monday is at 6:35 a.m.; sunset is 6:42 p.m. This means, naturally, that the day is seven minutes longer than the night. You'll not notice the difference, though.)

The oscillation of the earth's axis, with respect to the sun, determines the seasons. These are best marked in the North Temperate Zone where spring begins with the vernal equinox, summer at the summer solstice, fall at the autumnal equinox and winter at the winter solstice.

If the earth's axis were perpendicular to the plane of the earth's orbit around the sun, there would be no change in seasons. Day and night would be of equal length and there would be equable conditions in temperature. But the axis is tilted 23 degrees and 27 minutes away from a perpendicular to the axis and only in March and September is the axis at right angles to the sun.

The points at which the sun crosses the equator are the equinoxes, when the day and night are most nearly equal. The points at which the sun is a maximum distance from the equator are the solstices and the days and nights are then the most unequal in length.

In June, the North Pole is tilted 23 degrees 27 minutes toward the sun and the days in the northern hemisphere are longer than the nights. In the southern hemisphere, the reverse is true—the days are shorter than the nights. In December the North Pole is tilted 23 degrees and 27 minutes away from the sun and the reverse pattern prevails—the nights are longer than the days in our hemisphere; the days longer than the nights in the southern hemisphere.

In the Torrid Zone, which lies between the Tropic of Cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn with the equator in the center, there is no clear cut definition of the seasons. The weather is chiefly hot or rainy.

One generally assumes that autumn means cooler weather than summer. And, of course, this is generally true. But if you are expecting any sudden change from sizzling to chilling days — don't. Records kept in Big Spring since 1900 show there have been, in the interval Sept. 23-Oct. 23, at least seven days when the temperature touched 100 degrees or better. On two occasions the temperature has been 103 degrees. In the same 60 years, there have been but six days when the mercury dropped to freezing during this period. By freezing is meant 32 degrees or less. Coldest day on the books is Oct. 19, 1917. The mercury fell to 26 on that date.

Members For County ASC Are Selected

Howard County Agricultural Stabilization Committee members for the year beginning Oct. 1 were named at a meeting of ASC community chairmen Friday in the offices of Gabe Hammack, ASC office manager. All present committeemen were re-elected.

The community committee chairmen who participated in the election are: Larry Shaw, Knott, Community A; Jack Buchanan, Luther, Community B; B. M. Newton, Moore, Community C; Charles Wolf, Coahoma, Community D; and Cecil Long, Lomax, Community E.

The county committeemen serve from Oct. 1 through Oct. 1, 1964. All were re-elected. Reid has been a member of the committee for half a dozen terms, Hammack said.

Name Of Game Is Hospital Hopping

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Helen Casey took a friend to St. Luke's Hospital in a taxi and then rushed to Mercy Hospital to watch her daughter get a nursing volunteer's award.

Masons Schedule District Meet Here

JIM W. WEATHERBY

Jim W. Weatherby, Grand Master of Texas Masons, will be in Big Spring Sept. 28 as honor guest at a meeting of West Texas' District 80 at Staked Plains Lodge No. 598.

He will be met at the Howard County Airport by local dignitaries, and escorted to the Settles Hotel where a suite has been reserved for him and his party. Accompanying the Grand Master will be the Grand Junior Deacon, W. J. Lovic Bullard, of Kerrville, and the pilot. Also expected to be on hand to greet the Grand Master are H. W. Fullingim of Odessa, Grand Junior Warden; and R. W. Glen G. Gates of Stanton, District Deputy of the 80th Masonic District.

Weatherby is a native Texan, born in Hubbard. He attended Schreiner Institute in Kerrville, and received his law degree from Baylor University. He returned to Kerrville where he entered law practice. He has served as county attorney, district attorney, county judge; and district judge of the 38th Judicial District. He is a member of the State Bar Association of Texas, the Kiwanis Club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion.

Weatherby is married to the former Elizabeth Talmage Carter. He is a Lieutenant Colonel in the JAGD Reserve and was raised to the degree of Master Mason at Waco while a student at Baylor University in January, 1937.

He affiliated with the Kerrville Lodge in 1940 and served as Worshipful Master of his Lodge in 1948. He was Grand Marshal in 1952; District Deputy Grand Master of the 51st Mason District in 1954; Grand Orator in 1957. He served on the Committee on Titles, Deeds and Property from 1949 to 1951; and on the Grand Officers Reports for 1959 and 1960.

He was elected Grand Junior Warden in 1960 of the Grand Lodge of Texas, Grand Senior Warden in 1961, Deputy Grand Master in 1962, and Grand Master in 1963. He is a member of Kerrville Chapter and Council, Scottish Rite Bodies, Karem Temple (Shriners) of Waco, the Red Cross of Constantine and the DeMolay Conclave.

J. B. Langston, a Webb retired master sergeant, and Worshipful Master of the Staked Plains Lodge No. 598 of Big Spring—the host lodge—says that all Masons in the area are urged to attend the meeting. Special invitations have been sent to lodges of the 80th District.

Dinner will be served in the lodge dining room at 6 p.m., with the meeting slated to get under way in the Lodge Room at 7:30 p.m.

URBAN RENEWAL

Action Is Uncertain On Stanton Election Votes

STANTON — What happens next in connection with the recent election Stanton held on its Urban Renewal Project?

The ballots cast in that election are now in custody of the Martin County clerk, placed there on an order of District Judge Ralph Caton. The order says the ballots cast in the referendum shall be impounded until they are checked out in the presence of the court or by a duly constituted grand jury.

Judge Caton said Saturday he had no plans to have the ballots canvassed in his presence. The Martin County grand jury for the new court term will be empanelled Oct. 7.

The only concrete proposal heard was in a letter published in a newspaper and signed by John Roueche, a member of the present city council. In this letter Roueche suggested the Sept. 10 election be declared null and void and a new election be held in the immediate future.

Roy Pickett, county attorney who acted in response to two affadavits alleging irregularity in the election and asked the district court to impound the votes, said that he understood the law is designed to hold up the ballots until a protest suit can be filed by those who feel that there were irregularities in an election. No such suit has been filed. It is believed that such actions have to be filed within 20 days of the date of the election. The election was held Sept. 10. Judge Caton impounded the ballots Sept. 11.

On Sept. 10, the voters voted 209 to 107, by unofficial count, to continue the Urban Renewal Program. The voters also elected Juil Reid, W. E. Robnett, Delbert Franklin and Sammy Houston, by unofficial tabulation, to the city council to succeed resigned members.

A complaint was raised that voters balloted in the election who did not hold either poll tax receipts or exemption certificates. Another complaint was that there were unauthorized persons in the vicinity of the polls during the election.

As a result of these protests and because the city council allegedly found 16 or 17 votes which had been cast by persons not shown on the poll tax records, the official certification was delayed. The following morning the impounding of the ballots was ordered.

The present council members, Bob Deavenport, Jimmy Stallings, Rufus Tom and John Roueche, all of whom have tendered their resignations, are continuing to carry on the functions of the council.

Almost Half Of County's Farms Are Over-Planted

Forty-eight per cent of Howard County's 774 farmers planted excess acreage above their official cotton allotments this year, Gabe Hammack, county Agricultural Stabilization Committee office manager, said Friday.

He said that surveys have shown 350 farms had more cotton planted than their quotas permitted and orders to plow-up the excess crop have been dispatched. Half of the farmers who have received their notices have already plowed under the overage.

Hammack said the overplanting varied widely. One farmer had at least 100 acres over his allotment; several had 50 acres or more. Many had just an acre or two acres. All in all, Hammack estimated that 1,000 acres of excess cotton is being destroyed.

Farmers are told to plow up the excess cotton or take the penalty on the over-production. The penalty is 20½ cents times the normal yield times the excess acreage. A farmer with a five acre overage, for example, if he did not plow under, would have a penalty of $250 to meet.

Farmers may plow up any part of their fields they select in order to eliminate the excess acreage they have. Naturally, it was pointed out, the average farmer will select that part of his cotton which offers the poorest prospects.

There is no deadline on plowing up the excess cotton but the ASC recommends that the assignment be completed as quickly as possible.

A Devotional For The Day

The grass withers, the flower fades; but the word of our God will stand forever. (Isaiah 40:8. RSV.)
PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the blessing of Thy Word. Engrave Thy wisdom upon our hearts and grant us the spirit of Christ that we may live in accordance with Thy will. Help us to take Thy Word and love to those who know them not. In Jesus' name we ask. Amen.

Concert Series Need Your Support

The Big Spring Concert Association is now pressing its annual membership enrollment, offering a slate of five quality programs which are bound to touch the taste of all.

Naturally, we urge your support. The series is not only good for the community, but it is an entertainment and cultural bargain. The series contains some of the top personalities in the nation today in music and drama, and also has a Broadway comedy and a top symphony orchestra.

These are the sort of attractions normally associated only with metropolitan centers, but they are brought to our doorstep at equal or lower aggregate prices because of cooperative effort in the form of memberships.

Over the years, the Concert Association has supplied the answer to the question: "Why can't we have something good for our entertainment and cultural needs?" The road has not always been an easy one, for while most people recognize the need for this quality program, so many have to be reminded or persuaded to join in support of it. We urge you to get your membership promptly.

Coordinated Cleanup, Please

Harvest is generally a happy time, for it means stepped-up activity of all kind.

Unfortunately, we also have a harvest of misdemeanors growing out of the parasites who prey on the earnings of harvest hands. Officers are hard pressed to hold this to a minimum, and in this effort they deserve the support of all agencies as well as the public.

There are several places which cater to this low grade of trade, setting the stage to relieve some bracero of his hard-earned money. This may be done by getting him drunk enough or involved enough with a woman that he may be "rolled," or by luring him into a dark street or alley so he can be whacked over the head.

Most of these places have marginal or questionable sanitary facilities, and the structural safety of many of them is debatable. They also have a history of disturbances which make them susceptible to review for permit and licenses.

In spite of everything, there will be some trouble, but cooperative action by all agencies could drastically cut into this problem. We will accomplish a lot more good this way than by binding up a battered head or fining a bracero because he got a little borracho and lost his bank roll in the process.

'NO COLOR LINE UP THERE, IS THERE LORD?'

Around The Rim

After All This, Rest Is Necessary

This is a little off the seasonal norm, but it has come time for what is fondly referred to as a vacation.

This is partially because I like to feel that I am tired, run-down and plumb wore-out, but principally because the people at The Herald office would dearly love for me to get the heck out of the place.

SO, WHEN THIS homily has reached you in the morning delivery, I will be fur, fur away, and probably already wondering if (a) the money is going to hold out and (b) if I am going to get seasick, and not necessarily in that order.

The destination this time is Newfoundland, and the mode of transportation is by freighter. As time of departure arrives, I am moved to wonder if any person in his right mind would tackle the stormy North Atlantic on a pitching cargo vessel at this time of year.

THEORETICALLY, this would be a restful voyage. There is no cruise director aboard to make you play silly games and partake of that shipboard fellowship, and one is supposed to be able to pass the days to his own design, watching the waves, or reading good books.

I hope I can just watch the waves and not have my head stuck down over them.

But any kind of vacation must be better than the advance preparations. These go through classic stages.

FIRST, THE TALKING about where to go. This place is too far, that place is too costly, the third place has been seen before, and the fourth place is filled with other tourists. The ideal procedure is to get a globe, and then, blindfolded, stick a pin in it. That spot marks the destination. And I'm sort of happy that our pin didn't hit Viet Nam.

SECONDLY, there is the advance buying for the trip. This is done almost exclusively by the distaff side of the house, as everyone well knows. But fellows, have you ever figured out how a woman can think up so many extras that she just absolutely has to have to be gone for a couple or three weeks? Particularly on a freighter to Newfoundland? You would be amazed at the variety of items conceived by the feminine mind to be absolute necessities for travel—things that would never be used at home.

THIRD, the packing of all that stuff which has just been purchased. The only sound solution to packing for a trip is to put in everything you possess, and trust to some benign fate that you can find the room and the strength to carry it with you. The reason most people leave exhausted on their vacation is that the decisions on what to take have sapped all their strength.

LAST, AND MOST important, the wooing of your banker. If necessary, put some sort of makeup on your face to give you the haggard, drawn look, and advise Old Moneybags that if you can't have enough to make this lil ol trip you might as well be heading for the cemetery. Some bankers respond to this—provided you have enough collateral.

So you have your tickets, you've packed your stuff, you've wheedled your money. Comes that last minute thought: Wouldn't it have been better just to have stayed at home?

—BOB WHIPKEY

A Bouquet For Barnett

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has been asked by members of Congress to proclaim soon a day of mourning for the four Negro children killed in the bombing of a church in Birmingham last Sunday. This is a step that would emphasize the nation's profound regret that such a tragedy could have happened.

It would, however, be fitting if the President also asked the American people to mourn for all the victims—white and Negro—who have died as a result of racial disturbances in recent months.

THE RECORDS show that, in the space of a few months, deaths of four whites as well as nine Negroes, or a total of 13 persons, have occurred. As yet, no one has been convicted in any of these cases.

There have been 21 bombings in Birmingham alone in the past eight years, but the one last Sunday was the first in which anyone was killed. This has given rise to the theory that the dynamiting was intended primarily to terrorize, because in every church bombing except the last the bombs exploded either before or after services. A news dispatch from Birmingham says that some white leaders have accused Negroes of being responsible for the bombings to gain national attention for their cause.

But thus far the American people have no way to fix the responsibility for these bombings. The killings in recent months have occurred under differing circumstances but usually in connection with "demonstrations" or riots, thus raising the question as to whether public demonstrations under highly emotional circumstances are really useful. Protests at public meetings gain publicity just the same as street "demonstrations," but it is the latter which become provocative because there are still many citizens who do not understand the right of petition and resent the expression of views with which they don't agree.

BUT, IN ORDER TO introduce a spirit of mutual understanding and in the hope that the processes of reason will be substituted for violence and threats of violence, a day of mourning proclaimed nationally by the President could have constructive results. Every family—both white and Negro—which has suffered a loss deserves the sympathy and compassion of the nation. In the news dispatches for the last 12 months, the following deaths have been noted:

WHITES

SEPT. 30, 1962—French Newsman Paul Guihard and Television Repairman Walter R. Gunter, of Oxford, Miss., slain during riot that accompanied the forced enrollment of James Meredith at the University of Mississippi. Unsolved.

April 23, 1963—Baltimore Postman William L. Moore shot to death near Gadsden, Ala., while staging a one-man "freedom walk" to deliver letter to Governor Barnett of Mississippi, urging racial moderation. The Etowah County grand jury refused on Sept. 13 to indict Floyd L. Simpson, 40, arrested in connection with the crime two days after Moore was killed.

June 6, 1963—Fred Link, 24, automobile mechanic, killed by a rifle bullet fired into a crowd of whites during a riot at Lexington, N. C. Three Negroes have been charged with his death.

NEGROES

JUNE 13, 1963— Civil rights leader Medgar Evers, 37, shot from ambush in driveway of home at Jackson, Miss. A white man, Byron Beckwith, has been charged, and is being held in jail.

Aug. 10, 1963—Serina Taylor, 14, killed at Jersey City, N. J., by a shotgun blast fired by white man. One white charged with murder, a second with assault with intent to kill. Incident grew out of earlier argument between seven or eight whites and a group of Negro youths, and about half-hour later two of the whites returned to scene in a car and fired shotguns at random. Girl killed as she stood on steps of house talking to friends.

Sept. 4, 1963—John D. Coley, 20, killed by bullet in the neck during rioting that broke out in Birmingham after home of Negro attorney Arthur Shores was bombed for second time in two weeks. Not determined who fired bullet that killed him.

SEPT. 15, 1963— Four Negro girls—Cynthia Wesley, 14, Denise McNair, 11, Carol Robertson, 14, Addie Mae Collins, 14—killed by bomb blast in 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham. Johnny Robinson, 16, died from shotgun wound inflicted by a policeman when he ignored police orders to stop throwing rocks at whites' cars during the disorder that followed church bombing. Virgil Wade, 13 was killed while riding bicycle just outside Birmingham, and two white youths charged with the shooting—Michael Lee Farley, 16, and Larry Joe Sims, 16—signed statements admitting firing the shots.

IN ADDITION to the above, Dennis Earl Robinson, 16, white, is still in a critical condition in a Birmingham hospital. He was hit by a rock thrown by a Negro boy in the violence that followed the bombing on Sept. 15.

There have also been many whites and Negroes injured during these disorders, but not critically. All these victims might well be remembered on the day of mourning proclaimed by the President.

Odds Favor Passage Of Tax Bill

So, suddenly, when everybody —or nearly everybody—is talking about prosperity continuing right straight upward into 1964 (especially if Congress votes a tax cut) the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production dips like a swallow.

It was only a one-point dip, from 126.5 in July to 125.6 in August. But it broke a seven-month run of ups and raised a question: Is the recovery from the short (8 months'), spoon - shaped (6 per cent) 1960-61 recession coming to an end?

Probably not. The production dip was caused by steel and autos, both of which had boomed during the summer and were overdue for a come-down, as you can judge for yourself:

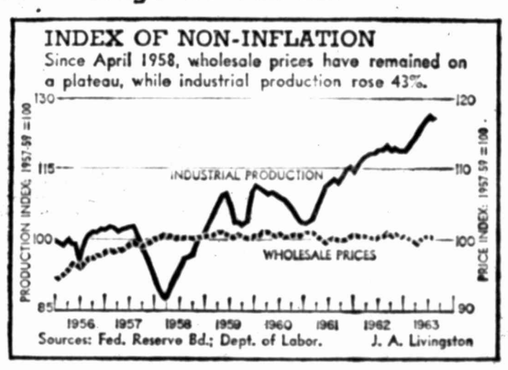

MONTH	Iron and Steel	Autos and Parts
Jan.	96	138
Feb.	102	139
March	112	140
April	122	142
May	129	143
June	126	154
July	117	151
Aug.	104	145

The rest of the broad-based index—from textiles through chemicals, paper and printing, foods and beverages, machinery, furniture, and coal, oil and gas—held steady. As one of the Reserve Board statisticians remarked: "It's far too early to jump to any judgment." And the same applies to the drop in durable goods orders in August.

PROSPERITY INSURANCE

The dip helps President Kennedy in his plea for a tax cut. He said to the nation Thursday night "Recessions in this country have been too harmful and too frequent . . . Between the first and second postwar recessions, we had 45 months of upturn; between the second and third, 35 months; between the third and fourth, 25 months." Implication: Decreasing longevity.

The President added: "We have now had 31 months of steady upturn. I would like to see us skip a recession. I would like to see us release $11 billion of after-tax purchasing power . . . before another downturn can begin. That is why this bill is insurance for prosperity and insurance against recession."

As I see it, the strongest argument for the tax cut is not that it will stave off a recession and preserve prosperity, but that tax rates are too darn high. They ought to be cut. They've been a drag on initiative in the postwar years.

NOTHING IN RETURN

Unfortunately, the administration is getting nothing in return for the reduction. Badly needed reform—to get rid of cumbersome exemptions, deductions, and loopholes—is out.

The tax structure will be encumbered by the same old barnacles — special favors to special groups. The persuasive power of a promised reduction, to get rid of these barnacles, will have been dissipated—given away. That's the chief objection to the bill.

Reform — simplification — would be as useful to economic growth, to incentive, as the cut itself. Too much time and effort of executives, lawyers, and accountants now go into figuring ways to beat taxes. Better to use this energy to produce the money to pay taxes! How many mergers have been connected so that strong companies could wash out profits against tax losses? How perverted can a tax structure get!

TOO LATE

To be sure, the reduction in rates will reduce the incentive to avoid taxes. But where there are taxes, there's always incentive to avoid. A simple tax—perhaps a gross tax with few, if any deductions is what the administration should have worked toward.

The President and Secretary of the Treasury Dillon lost that opportunity in their original proposals, which were too complex and too fancy. And now it's too late.

The President is right that a tax cut—as such—would not be inflationary. Since April, 1958—for more than five years—wholesale prices have held virtually steady, despite economic expansion. In that time, industrial production rose 43 per cent, gross national product 33 per cent, and personal income 31 per cent. Thus in terms of the basic materials, the nation is not inflating (see chart).

ODDS ON TAX CUT

To be sure, the cost of living has advanced—6 per cent. But this is attributable primarily to the cost of services and perhaps some flaws in the construction of the Consumer Price Index. Does it adequately reflect the shift in retailing to discount houses?

Conclusion: Investors, speculators, and business men peering into the future should put the odds on a tax cut. The nation can afford a higher debt better than the present high level of taxes, even though the cost of a tax cut comes high: No reform.

Goldwater And The Governors

DENVER — "First thing you know, they will be picking Goldwater's Cabinet members," a visitor observed at the Republican Governors' Conference which met here last weekend.

The visitor was overstating the facts but not the spirit of the galloping boom to elect Senator Barry Goldwater to the presidency. The Senator's backers, although they know the perils of overconfidence and will leave nothing to chance, just can't help feeling that their man will stampede the Republican Convention next summer — and they're projecting their ideas into next year's race against President Kennedy.

WHILE THERE'S no overt Cabinet picking going on among the dozen Republican governors who made the trip, there is another activity that is typical of a post-Convention period — the winner's friends are busy at promoting party unity.

Governor Fannin of Arizona is the natural glad-hander of the solidarity - behind-Goldwater bloc. He found here the willing assistance of Babcock (Mont.) and Hansen (Wyo.). Bellmon (Okla.) joined up in a rousing endorsement of Goldwater. Smylie (Idaho) and Clyde (Utah) came to the point of taking the pledge, pending further information about the plans of George Romney, the Mormon Governor of Michigan, who was absent.

HATFIELD, (ORE.) who used to regard a Goldwater candidacy as unthinkable, has come to the point of holding the Arizonan in high respect. Rhodes (Ohio) and Love (Colo.) played hard-to-get, while Anderson (Kans.) appears to be awaiting instructions from home. With Scranton (Pa.) keeping his own counsel, only the absentee Reed (Maine) and Rockefeller himself were still definitely outside the solid front for Goldwater among the Republican Governors.

THIS WESTERN Governors' Conference, with 12 of its 16 members present and reasonably talkative, represents a privileged slice of life from the Republican national whole. In every State, Goldwater has a sizable number of people for him, and has a volume of enthusiasm that no other candidate can approach. It is not so much that the bronzed and personable Arizonan is regarded as superior in every way to his GOP rivals — but that he is superior in the one way that counts the most. The conviction is that Goldwater, and he alone, can defeat President Kennedy.

THIS BELIEF rests on a mounting popular awareness that Goldwater is frank where Mr. Kennedy is devious; Goldwater is for saving the national fiscal structure, while Mr. Kennedy is committed to squandering it away; Goldwater is for confronting the nation's enemies, whereas Mr. Kennedy is for accommodating them; Goldwater has made victory over Communism a byword and Mr. Kennedy has said that the word is obsolete.

WITH THE Republican Convention in far-off July, talk of unity behind a man not even announced as a candidate would seem preposterous under circumstances that have prevailed in the past. But today, with political precedents lying in wreckage on every hand, the Goldwater solidarity drive is moving toward irresistibility.

Nullification And Fragmentation

WASHINGTON — While the White House maintains the hopeful conviction that the conflict with the segregationist politicians of the South can be kept within the bounds of reason, few observers here share that hope.

The power of nullification is too great, as the score to date in the contest makes painfully clear. The somber meaning of that score can no longer be ignored. On points, the racist conflict must be credited with the following:

(1.) WITH THE climax of the Sunday school bombing in Birmingham on top of former Police Chief Bull Connor's dogs and hoses the image of America around the world has suffered a fearful and perhaps a fatal blow. In every section of the foreign press—from the Vatican's Osservatore Romano to the extreme left—the reaction is: How can such a thing can happen?

(2.) The Kennedy program in the Congress has been slowed almost to a standstill. Appropriation bills have been held up. This is largely the work of Southern committee chairmen.

The fate of the two key measures on which the Administration so much depends is in doubt. If a civil rights bill passes it will be in a watered-down version shorn in all probability of the public accommodations section. Whether the Southerners have the power to block the proposed tax cut is a question no one can answer.

(3.) THE RADICAL right has been given a big boost. Opposed to integration in whatever degree by any means, the segregationists tend to embrace the whole range of the radical-right program—abolition of the graduated income tax, get the United States out of the United Nations and vice versa, oppose the test-treaty and any negotiation with Moscow as dangerous and immoral. The Birch Society and similar groups are said to have made their largest gains in the South.

(4.) Directly related is the threat of the fragmentation of the two political parties. The chief goal of the segregationists is to deny the electoral votes of the South to either a Republican or a Democrat next year. The aim is to put the Southerners in a position to make a bargain with the side promising the most.

A statistical analysis based on current Presidential polls shows this is impossible. But with trends running as they are it cannot be ruled out.

SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER, Republican Presidential front runner, has expressed his concern over the fragmenting of the parties. He said if he thought his own candidacy would split the G.O.P.—as many Eastern Republicans fear—he would not run. But he has not in any positive language repudiated the Southern segregationists and their tactic of splitting the electoral vote and throwing the Presidential election into the House of Representatives.

The two-party system has served the country well, and extremists have been limited to fringe groups that have their day and then disappear. A white party, a Negro party, an Eastern Republican party, a Southern-Western Republican party—this is the way to the fractional parties that can destroy representative government.

(5.) LAST AND most serious of all is the undermining of law and order. As their frustration over inaction has grown, Negro demonstrators have become more vociferous and angry. That is taken by white extremists as justification for violence.

Once a direct attack was made on the desegregation decision by men in authority, such as Gov. George Wallace, the way was open for defiance of all law. The drive of the John Birch Society to impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren made its contribution. Here is the radicalism that would sweep away present institutions. The series of constitutional amendments pushed in the state legislatures by the extreme right would so fragment authority among the states that effective government would appear to be all but abolished.

WHEN ANY SUCH reckoning as this is made, customarily the sins of omission and commission in the North are also revived. Those sins are great, indeed, with segregation in fact in the Negro ghettos of the big cities. But it should be noted that the curel and trying months of summer have passed with only a few incidents in the North.

In the North strong and widely supported forces are working to try to end current evils—not with enough vigor, to be sure, but still they are at work. That is a difference and an important difference.

Males Involved In Many Cases Of Infertility

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Doctors have run every imaginable test on my husband and me to learn what is preventing us from becoming parents. We are both fertile individuals and have been married five years. The doctors suggest that I undergo an exploratory operation. What can they find out from this? I am 24 years old. —MRS. H. C.

I'm glad that your husband has been tested, too. The old assumption that failure to conceive is always the woman's fault is erroneous, because from one-fifth to one-half the cases of infertility involve the man.

"Infertility" is usually regarded as meaning that pregnancy does not occur after a year or two of marriage. Yet the fact remains that considerably more time may pass—and several years later pregnancy DOES sometimes occur.

After prior illnesses have been studied, glandular deficiencies corrected, physical defects repaired, occasionally a marriage still remains childless and without any reason. This proves, of course, that we don't know all the answers.

At times an incompatibility of blood type (I don't mean the Rh factor) is reflected in the sperm; this can prevent conception. Too much effort may exhaust the male potential, and a rest can prove to be the best solution. Psychological factors are important; anxiety rises over "infertility" as the months pass. The greater the worry, the greater the difficulty in achieving pregnancy, and it is not too unusual for couples, giving up hope, to adopt a baby — and then have children of their own once their nerves have relaxed.

What can surgery do? A small fibroid may be found. Endometriosis, which can prevent pregnancy, can be detected more accurately by surgical exploration. It is a rather common cause of infertility.

Unsuspected developmental defects may be found and possibly corrected. Likewise a procedure called a "wedge resection" may be performed on the ovaries, and this sometimes increases fertility.

The surgical approach, it seems obvious to me, should be carefully weighed. Adopting a child should also be considered—perhaps before the surgery, since pregnancy may occur after the adoption.

But I also recommend, once again, a prescription that perhaps is not used often enough—a relaxing vacation. This often works.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: Please write more about migraine headaches, what starts them, what can I do to avoid them. I am enclosing 20 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of your booklet, "How To Tame Headaches," in case it mentions migraines.—U.F.

The booklet most emphatically discusses—not merely mentions—migraines, because of the frequency of this trouble. You'll find a good deal of migraine data, and I think it will help if you study the booklet, and follow its advice.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is quite tall and is only in her teens. Since both my husband and I are tall, I'm very concerned. Can anything be done to control height?—A. F.

Heredity is the dominant factor and you can't do anything about height.

The one thing I WOULD do would be to subtly mention all the advantages of being tall. However, don't make a campaign of it. Raise a daughter or son to be a nice child and then a nice grown-up, and what does a tape measure mean, compared to that?

• • •

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

• • •

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Billy Graham

While you were in Chicago, I watched your Crusade on television. I believe I have been what you call "converted" as I was moved as never before. I bought a Bible but can't find the word conversion. Is it used in the Bible? A.P.

Yes, the word conversion is used many times in the Bible. Psalm 19:7 says: "The law of the Lord is perfect converting the soul." David said: Psalm 51, "Then will I teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto thee." Jesus said in Matthew 13:3 "Verily I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." Peter preaching on the day of Pentecost said: "Repent ye therefore, and be converted that your sins may be blotted out."

The word conversion actually means "to turn." A person repents of sin—that is the negative side. Turns to Christ—that is the positive side. Anyone can be converted. It is not an emotional experience, but a surrender of the total personality to Christ.

Class Run-off Scheduled Monday

BSHS

By SHARON SMITH

Elections for class officers and corresponding secretary were held Tuesday, Sept. 17. The nominees for corresponding secretary were Mickey Crow, Penny Fraser, Karen Hodnett, Joanna Patterson, Kathy Seddon and Pam Vines. Runoffs will be held Monday Sept. 23, between Joanna Patterson and Pam Vines.

The outcome of class officers for the senior class are Bill Worley, president; Dennis Clark, vice president and Charlotte Shive, secretary. There will be a runoff for president in the junior class between Don White and Cynthia Pond. Sherry Stevens will be the vice president. For secretary there will also be a runoff between Judy Forshee and Nancy Thomas. The officers elected for the sophomore class are Bobby Griffin, president; Susie Engle, vice president; and Jackie Crawford, secretary. All runoff elections will be held Monday Sept. 23, during first period.

The Latin Club voted for officers on Tuesday Sept. 17. The officers are Dub McMeans, president; Howard Bain, vice president; Kathy Mason, secretary; Pax Brunch, treasurer and Ronnie Baird, corresponding secretary.

The a cappella choir elected officers last week. Carl Reynolds is president; Marilyn Lawson, secretary; Virginia Colclazer, vice president; Sheryl Gambill, treasurer and Nancy Haralson, historian.

The a cappella choir and the girls choir will give a program in November. The plans are still in the making, and girls are urged to try out for the choirs. Ten students from the choir are making preparations for the tryouts of the all state choir, which will be held in Odessa on Nov. 7.

Beanies will go on sale Monday Sept. 23, for 30 cents each. Sophomores are asked to promote school spirit by buying the beanies from any student council member.

A reminder to all students: The subscriptions for the Corral will only be on sale during this week. A subscription sells for $1.50 for the whole year.

All Classes Stage Political Rallies

RUNNELS

By JAN CAMPBELL

Political rallies were held Friday and class officers from each grade were elected. Those chosen from the ninth grade were Marcy Dement, president; Wynelle Collins, vice president; and Patricia Hill, secretary-treasurer. Eighth graders were Betty Ann Ross, president; Mike Irons, vice president and Betty Dominquez, secretary-treasurer. Seventh grade officers chosen were John Patton, president; Mike Bolte, vice president and Donna Wood, secretary-treasurer. Seventh student council representatives elected were Kathryn Crenshaw, Billy Spier, Judy Pruitt, Bill Davis and Shelane Parnell.

Kay Slate was selected by the student council to serve as secretary of the student body this year.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade choir officers were elected. Sharron Williams and Medena Furgueron will serve as chairman and co-chairman for the seventh grade choir. Sharon McNew and Sybil Smart will serve as chairman and co-chairman for the eighth and ninth grade choir.

The 1963-64 El Palomar will go on sale Monday, Sept. 23. The price is $3.75. Payment can be made in full or $1 down and $1 a month. Students are urged to bring their money to buy their annuals as soon as possible.

Miss Evelyn Balcerowicz is with the homemaking classes this week. She is a senior home economics student from Texas Technological College in Lubbock. Student teaching over a nine-week period is a part of Miss Balcerowicz's college training. Runnels is glad to have her do her practice teaching in the school. She will be with the classes until Nov. 8, when she will return to her regular college work at Texas Tech.

At the pep rally Thursday afternoon, the seventh grade cheerleaders and football players were introduced. The band played under the direction of Mr. Burchfiel. Shyrlene Moore, Linda Burnett and Judy Aleman performed in a twirling exhibition.

JAUNICE KEY FIRST WINNER

Winner of this week's free record is Juanice Key, a seventh grader at Runnels Junior High. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Key, 1109 E. 6th, Big Spring. Winners come by the Herald office, get your certificates, and take it to Mr. Glickman at the Record Shop, 211 Main, for a free 45 rpm record.

Tornado Cheerleaders

Youth And Government Preparation Begins

By NANCY HEDLESTON

For the next several months the Senior Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs will be busy preparing for Youth and Government, to be held at Austin on Dec. 12-15.

Youth and Government is a training program in good government promoted and developed through the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of the YMCA under the supervision of the Southwest Area Council. It is an educationally sound method of learning about our process of government by providing opportunities to high school age youths to study public issues, debate policies, write legislation and participate in the process of government through a youth legislative program.

It is a leadership training experience spread over three months in three phases: local club bill writing, pre-legislative conferences, and the annual Hi-Y legislature in the state capitol which is a replica of the Texas Legislature operated entirely by Hi-Y and Tri-Hi members. The program is centered in local clubs with the Hi-Y Legislature being the climax.

This year Pre-Pre-Legislative will be held at the YMCA on Oct. 7. On Oct. 14 the club members will nominate officers for the Pre-Legislative Conference and then on Oct. 21, at a caucus the club members will elect the officers. The offices to be filled are Senate Calendar Clerk, Clerk of the House, and Governor nominee.

The pre-legislative training conference for the central west will be held at Abilene Christian College in Abilene on Nov. 2. Each senior Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Club will send 10 members to this conference.

GOLIAD

Goliad Gets A 'Small Band'

BY DONNA DOBBS

Climaxing a week of class elections, ninth grade officers named were David Holmes, president; Mark Price, vice president and Paula Langston, secretary. Officers for the eighth grade are Mike Collins, president; Ann Garrett, vice president and Lisa Parks, secretary. Seventh grade officers chosen are Kenneth Brown, president; Tommy Polk, vice president and Suzanne Fisher, secretary.

Seventh grade representatives to the student council who were elected this week are Beth Graumann, Jean Williams and Rebecca Forgus.

A small band is being organized to accept invitations to play in places of limited size. The group will be known as the Goliad Small Band. They will play popular and march-style music. Its first rehearsal was held Wednesday.

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Beasly, the seventh grade English classes met in the library for orientation in the use of the library. This orientation was followed by a film.

The ninth grade art classes are doing designs in preparation for oil painting. The eighth grade classes are doing mobiles and the seventh grade classes are doing potato and other kinds of printing.

Faculty members and ninth graders received proofs of their pictures. They are urged to return them to the publications room Tuesday of this week.

The FHA had installation of officers Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. After the installation, refreshments were served and everyone was invited to tour the high school's homemaking department.

GARDEN CITY

Bearkat Den Is Published

By GAIL McDANIEL

The first edition of the school paper, "Bearkat Den," was published Friday. The advisor of the paper is Mrs. Dorothy Caldwell.

Editors for the "Bearkat Den" are Linda Clements, editor; Tavie Daniels, sport editor; Gloria Hayden and Alice Hoelscher, grade school and high school reporters and Ruth Ann Bednar and Sharon Cypert, humor and advertising managers.

The paper will be issued every Friday and will be sold in junior home room. The cost of the paper will be 15 cents.

The FHA will have their first regular meeting Thursday, Sept. 26.

Officers of the FHA are Gail McDaniel, president; Tavie Daniels, vice president; Brenda Dobs, second vice president; Alice Hoelscher, secretary; Ann Carter, treasurer and Mrs. Dorothy Caldwell, chapter advisor. The reporter and song leader will be elected at a meeting to be held in the home economics living room.

Student Council Officers

New Homecoming Queen Crowned By Miss Overton

FORSAN

By BETTYE CONGER

Dena Parker was presented as the Homecoming Queen Saturday night, Sept. 21, during the halftime ceremonies of the Forsan-Gail football game. The new queen was crowned by Lanell Overton, last year's queen. The nominees for the Homecoming Queen were Dena Parker from the senior class, Orveta Fryar from the junior class, Jody Dodd from the sophomore class, and Mary Jo Simpson from the freshman class.

The school building was formally dedicated Saturday afternoon before the homecoming game. The high school chorus, directed by Mrs. Tom Spell, sang "Bless the Lord." Dianne Banks accompanied them at the piano.

The Ex-Student Organization donated $100 for the new wrought iron furniture which was put in the new school patio. The student council donated the remaining part of the money needed to pay for the furniture.

The individual class pictures were taken last week and are expected to return in about three weeks. The seniors' proofs will be back next Thursday.

The magazine sales are going fairly well for both junior and senior classes. They would like to sell a lot more before the sale ends next week. Anyone interested in subscribing for a magazine may call AM 3-2953 in Big Spring or 424 in Forsan.

Congratulations to Kenneth Soles and David Roberson for being named players of the week.

COAHOMA

Spanish Club Is Organized

By CAROLYN WILSON

This week one of the main excitements was the election of the most interesting people on the CHS campus. From the senior class, those chosen were Carolyn Robinson, Beatrice Torres, Ray Gaines, and Vernon Long. Juniors were Shana Fryar, Sherilyn Robinson, Travis Reid and Dewayne Allen. The sophomores elected were Dianne Brooks, Bobby Pherigo and Tony Butler. Chosen from the freshman class were Terry Edens, Troy Fraser and Robbie Haney.

Thursday during home room, the Spanish Club was organized. Last year's president Dewayne Fraser called the meeting to order and asked for nominations for a new president. The newly formed club elected Ray Gaines to act as president; Kay Porter, vice president; Carolyn Wilson, secretary and Eddie Torres, treasurer. This year the club hopes to have a money-making project.

Organizational pictures for the Science Club will be made as soon as the club is organized.

Signs by the CHS cheerleaders have helped school spirit in pep rallies and games lately.

One group of football players and cheerleaders not to be forgotten is the Coahoma Junior High group. This year the Puppies have won both of their first games. Cheerleaders are Charlotte Walker, head cheerleader; Brenda Nichols and Iva Jo Brook, eighth grade; and Shelia Collier and Sandra Gross, seventh grade.

National Honor Society Plans Fall Installation

STANTON

By CAROLYN SPRINGER

The National Honor Society met Tuesday during activity period. Plans for the installation of new members were made. The installation is set for Sept. 25, 1963. Girls are to wear white dresses and boys will wear white coats. Mr. William Harrell is sponsor for the group.

This past week has been "hello" week. All of the students wore cards with "hello" printed on them. The cards also gave the student's name and classification. This activity was held in preparation for the first home football game and to help students get acquainted.

The first student council meeting of the year was held Wednesday. Plans were discussed for the installation of new officers. The date set was Sept. 25. Sponsors are Mr. Bill Johnson and Mr. Jerry Banks.

Initiation for the new members of the FHA was held Thursday. For the informal initiation, the girls wore aprons and a paper-cup on their heads. Wooden spoons and recipe books were carried; the girls read recipes to FHA members and others who talked to them.

Formal initiation was held Thursday night in the auditorium. The officers were seated behind a table decorated with an arrangement of roses with eight white candles and one red candle. Eight girls serving as guides stood at the sides of the officers. They repeated the purpose of FHA. Behind the officers was a large emblem of the organization.

Officers who participated were were Carolyn Springer, president; Charlotte Kuhlman, vice president; Nanette Pardue, secretary; Mary Glaspie, treasurer and Brenda Bryant, song leader. Guides for the initiation were Susan Brandt, Linda Manning, Brenda Standefer, Nelda Carr, Lynda Pierce, Janis Burgess, Connie Gillum and Cindy Britton. Claudeen Nowlin accompanied the group on the piano.

After the initiation service, Mary Wilson and Judy Barnhill were recognized as having completed the work necessary for the Junior Degree of Achievement.

The band presented a half-time show for the spectators. Everyone seemed to enjoy it. The band members wore their new uniforms. It is under the field direction of Rodney Roten and Mr. Jerry Banks is director.

The pep squad has elected officers for this year. They are Carolyn Springer, president; Cindy Britton, vice president; Brenda Standefer, secretary; Susan Brandt, treasurer; Marva Cox, reporter and Connie Gillum, sergeant at arms.

WRA elected officers at an organizational meeting Friday, Sept. 20. Sue Lewis was elected president; Elaine Patterson, vice president; Kathleen Morton, secretary-treasurer and Janice Hudson, WRA representative to the Inter-Club Social Council. An executive council meeting was set. The next regular meeting date is to be announced.

The Baptist Student Union plans a picnic for Monday evening at Moss Creek Lake. Everyone interested in becoming a member of BSU should mete about 6:30 p.m. in front of the SUB. BSU is sponsored by Mr. Martin Landers.

Wesley Fellowship, sponsored by Mr. Verdell Turner and Mr. James Dickson, will meet soon for an organizational meeting and election of officers. A program will be presented on the relationship between religion and education.

Lasso's will begin this school year Friday during activity period in the parlor of the SUB. All girls on the HCJC campus are invited. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Dean Box.

There will be an assembly next Wednesday during activity period in the auditorium. The purpose is class organization. The freshman and sophomore classes will have separate meetings after a general meeting of both. Cheerleaders, class officers, and SGA officers' elections will be discussed.

Students interested in the new amendment to the SGA Constitution regarding class elections may pick up a copy of the amendment and the constitution in the dean's office.

Six people have already joined the Debate Squad this year. The first tournament will be Nov. 16, in Abilene.

Mr. Martin Landers, head of the speech department, has announced that the class play will be presented in November. The play chosen this year is "The Devil's Disciple," by George Bernard Shaw.

Stooges Take Trip Around The World

"The Three Stooges Go Around the World in a Daze," their newest comedy opening Thursday at the Ritz Theatre, probably is the most aptly-titled in all their years of movie-making.

The Three Stooges have been at it now since 1933, when they started after achieving success in vaudeville and on Broadway.

The Three Stooges are Moe Howard, the zany with the bangs; fuzzy-haired Larry Fine and ample girthed Joe De Rita—Moe, Larry and Curly Joe.

According to Howard, "we did 208 two-reel shorts during a 25-year period at Columbia, interspersed with occasional feature-lengths. While we had always enjoyed popularity in the theatrical exhibition of our comedies, I don't think any of us was prepared for the overwhelming reaction resulting from TV when, in 1958, our two-reelers started on the air."

NEW AUDIENCE

The Three Stooges won an entire new audience, and zoomed to sensational new stardom in night clubs, television and, of course, the movies.

Being the Stooges has brought international fame to the trio.

"I like to think we're indestructible," Howard says. "The only occasional wear and tear I feel from the years is during the chase scenes. I have a tendency to get winded from the constant running. Other than that, I'm full of ginger and I can say the same of the boys. The Stooges are staying in business, as long as they'll have us."

"The Three Stooges Go Around the World in a Daze" is a Normandy production, released by Columbia Pictures and featuring Jay Sheffield and Joan Freeman. The screenplay was written by Elwood Ullman, based on a story by Norman Maurer who also produced and directed.

• • •

The spotlight is turned on women guerrilla fighters of World War II in the new Dino De Laurentiis production released by Paramount, "Five Branded Women," which arrives Wednesday at the Sahara Theatre.

LOVELY GIRLS

"Five Branded Women" focuses on the experiences of five lovely girls — Yugoslavians — whose heads are shorn by partisans and who are driven out of town when it is learned that they have each had a love affair with an attractive Nazi officer. Their adventures and romances are dramatized against the big-scale, life-and-death struggle of the partisans and the occupying Nazi forces.

The five women of the title are portrayed by Silvana Mangano, Vera Miles, Barbara Bel Geddes, the beautiful French star, Jeanne Moreau, and the Italian favorite, Carla Gravina.

Ritz Bill Unchanged

The production has won five Academy Awards and features 42 "name" stars. It is produced and directed by Darryl F. Zanuck.

The movie gives a panorama look at the myriad operations of the historical invasion of the German-held French coast, and takes in both the American-British and the German views of the shattering day, along with weaving in the work of the French underground forces.

NEW BOOK

Texas Had Part In Civil War

Texans, accustomed to equating this corner of the Civil War to the reflected glories of Albert Sidney Johnston and the heroic stand of Dick Dowling, will find "Rebel in Blue" presenting a somewhat different side of the picture.

Although Texas indeed cast its lot with the Confederacy, the frontier state had its dissenters, particularly among the German immigrants clustered around San Antonio and Fredricksburg—and that's what the book is all about.

It is a mixture of history and fiction, with some real life characters, such as Capt. Nimitz, originator of the historic Nimitz Hotel at Fredricksburg.

Alan Barry, a surveyor bent on staking out his ranch in the Fort McKavitt area, is created as the hero, and Caroline Ritter, daughter of an early-day merchant baron and Union sympathizer, becomes one of his chief interests.

Open opposition is impossible, and after violence erupts in San Antonio (on Feb. 18), Ritter and a few close associates hit upon a plan to use Ritter & Co. as an outlet for Confederate goods, all the while working for the Union cause.

The story moves back and forth from San Antonio to Fredricksburg, and from the Alamo City to Jefferson and on into Louisiana for a historic battle. There is reference to the hangings at Gainesville and the Nueces massacre when a band of German immigrants try to make their way to Mexico.

Besides, it has an abundance of color for those familiar with the Fredricksburg-San Antonio locale. On the whole, characters are convincing and sometimes the frontiersmen speak with an earthy touch.

"Rebel in Blue" is the creation of Herman Toepperwein, who was reared in Menard and who is a great-grandson of the Capt. Nimitz. Like Fred Gipson, who was reared in that same area, Toepperwein exhibits a skill for crisp, vivid description and action, plus an ability to work in history with natural ease as part of the story pattern. He started out to write, got off into a successful career in law, and finally returned to his first love — writing. We may expect more from what appears to be a gifted pen. —JOE PICKLE

College Show Is Mostly Off Campus

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Channing" ABC's new Wednesday night dramatic series may sound like the name of a Western but is a fictional university around which the stories are to be built.

Viewers who tuned in Wednesday night expecting to watch freshmen stuffing phone booths or the quarterback making a last-minute touchdown had a surprise.

Most of the premiere show took place in the death row and visiting room of a state prison. What little college atmosphere shown was strictly coincidental. But despite the iron bars and the hyperthyroid acting of guest star John Cassavetes playing a convicted murderer, the opening show was slow-moving, talkly and over loaded with fuzzy philosophy.

PROFESSOR

A young professor of English—the role assumed for the run of the show by Jason Evers—received a manuscript written in prison by the killer, is vastly impressed and then proceeds to become interested in the man and his fate.

The professor got almost hysterical because the killer of an old lady during a holdup was going to the gas chamber. The show, however, was not exactly a preachment against capital punishment. In fact, its hard to say exactly what point it was making. At any rate, "Channing" was not very interesting to watch.

FIRST SEASON

"The Price Is Right" started its first season on ABC Wednesday night with an expensive splash. This reinforces earlier suspicions that the era of modest rewards in game and panel shows is almost over.

The show, in which eager outgoing members of the studio audience bid for merchandise, has inaugurated a new guest-star policy. Wednesday night Betsy Palmer, acting as agent, won a $10,000 convertible for one lucky woman in the audience and a $17,000 two-bedroom house in Florida for another.

CASEY'S SAME

The excitement of the opening show was an operation on a fellow with a radioactive pellet lodged somewhere. Ben seemed more worried about the exposure on the staff than the patient for a change.

The new "Patty Duke Show" also on ABC, may not win that able young actress any new performing awards but as a comedy about a modern teen-ager it may amuse teen-agers—and maybe even teen-agers parents.

NBC's "Temple Houston" will have its premiere tonight, 7:30-8:30 Eastern Daylight Time. It is a Western with a lawyer hero. At 9 ABC has the debut of its new "Jimmy Dean Show" a variety hour. It will be followed immediately by an hour special in which Sid Caesar and Edie Adams will co-star. Thereafter each will star in his own half-hour variety show on alternate weeks.

NEW COMMEMORATIVE

Five-Cent Stamp Issued To Honor Cordell Hull

By HAROLD C. PERDUE

Cordell Hull, wartime Secretary of State and Nobel Peace Prize winner, will be honored with a five-cent U.S. stamp bearing his portrait, to be issued Oct. 5.

The stamp, in a vertical format, will be printed in green in sheets of 50 and will be placed on sale first in Carthage, Tenn. Hull was born there in 1871 and served the Volunteer State for some 25 years as a congressman and senator before being named Secretary of State in 1933. He continued to hold this post through most of Franklin Roosevelt's administration.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, with payment for stamps, to the Carthage postmaster. The outer envelope should be marked "First Day Covers, Hull Stamp," and be postmarked no later than October 5.

ARGENTINA

Argentina issued a four-peso stamp for the 150th anniversary of the Battle of San Lorenzo, a victory in the War for Independence. The battle was won by mounted riflemen commanded by General Jose de San Martin. Korea marked the 15th anniversary of its Army Nurse Corps with a four - won stamp picturing a nurse and the white-tailed eagle, a rare bird for which only two nests are known to exist in Israel.

NEW STAMP
Honors Secretary of State

South Africa issued 2½ and 12½ cent stamps, both featuring the antique lamp symbol of the Red Cross 100th Anniversary. One has a nurse and the other a globe. Turkey released three semi - postals featuring the Red Cross and two associated emblems—the Red Crescent of Turkey and other Moslem countries and the Red Lion and Sun of Iran. The 50, 60, and 100 kurus denominations each have a 10 kurus additional charge for the benefit of the Turkish Red Crescent Society.

CANCELLATIONS

The Post Office Department announced that 494,866 covers were canceled on August 16 for the issue of the Emancipation Proclamation stamp in Chicago. There was a total sale of 700,000 stamps with a value of $35,000. The Alliance for Progress stamp sold 730,441 stamps with a total value of $36,522.05. There were 528,095 first day covers canceled on the first day of August 17 in Washington, D. C.

The New Mexico state stamp exhibition will be in Albuquerque on Oct. 11-13. A special convention station and cancellation has been authorized for use there, with the wording, "ALPEX — NMPEX Station, Albuquerque, N. Mex."

Sewer Plant 'Adjustments' Still Needed

Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard said last week that not too much progress had been noted in restoring the old sewage disposal plant structure which floated out of the ground last spring. The attempt at restoration is being made by Shifflet Brothers, Abilene, who held the contract for renovation of the old plant and construction of the new plant. The new plant has been in operation several months.

"We still have a few little things not working properly at the new plant," he said, "and we are waiting also to have them adjusted."

The contractor, in rehabilitating the equipment in the big compartmentized structure, drained all the water from every compartment, engineers claimed. Last May, the underground pressure lifted the concrete structure, approximately 120x42 feet in size, out of the ground about three feet. The raising broke connections under the tanks, and on top, as well as conduits for surface entrance and drainage.

Shifflet Bros., moved off the job after the new plant was completed, claiming no responsibility for the "accident." Consulting engineers for the City of Big Spring, Forrest and Cotton, of Dallas, notified the bonding company of failure to restore and complete the rehabilitation of the structure and the contractor moved back on the job.

The consulting engineers' attorney notified the city to withhold final payment of $70,000 to the contractor until the renovation job is completed.

City Manager Larry Crow said that a substantial sum in liquidated damages is due the city at the present time, under the $50-per-day charge for running over the contract completion date, according to imformation from Forrest and Cotton.

Another letter has been drafted by the engineers' attorney notified the bonding company, Trinity Universal, that completion of the project is expected shortly, Crow said.

Flying Club Members Keep Aircraft Airborne

By M. A. WEBB

The Big Spring Flying Club, Inc., owns two airplanes and members have kept both of them flying this summer. Several members have taken long distance flights in the last few weeks.

One of the club's airplanes is a Piper Colt, two-place plane, and the other is a Tri-Pacer, four-place craft. Both are hangared at Howard County Airport.

Four members of the club, Jay Lebcowitz, Al Eldridge, Doug Warren, and B. G. Weaver, left one recent Sunday morning on a trip to Shreveport, La. They had breakfast at Dallas, and lunch in Shreveport where they were met by friends of Lebcowitz, a former resident of the Louisiana city. They returned home that evening and reported an enjoyable trip. The pilots often share costs, on trips like this, which makes it relatively inexpensive.

Any one interested in joining the club, or in flying along on one of the trips, can contact any of the four members listed above for more information.

Dr. Fred Lurting was named to the board of directors, Flying Physicians Association, during the association's eighth annual meeting held recently at the Hilton Inn, Aurora, Ill. He will serve as a director three years.

The Flying Physicians Association was founded in 1955 to promote aviation safety, and to assist in the nation's Civil Defense effort. United States members of the international organization are prepared to fly anywhere, within the continental limits of the country, to provide medical aid and assistance in the event of a major disaster. Participation is voluntary. The physicians provide their own airplanes and all the necessary supplies and equipment.

Membership is open to all duly licensed physicians who are members of medical societies approved by the board of directors, and who hold valid pilot's certificates. There are now 132 Texas physicians included on the membership roster.

A new landing strip for Texas will be officially opened at Hilltop Lakes Resort City, a luxury resort some 20 miles west of Madisonville, Sept. 21-22 and Sept. 28-29. Fly-ins have been scheduled for the opening and all pilots are invited to participate.

Some 50 members of the Texas State Aviation Association took part in the organization's 15th annual convention and fly-in at the resort Sept. 15. Charles Stoneberg, Houston, president of the association, said airplanes from out of state also took part in the fly-in.

Bond Sales Are Lagging

United States Savings Bonds sales in Howard County and other counties of District 5 are lagging badly.

August sales for the district amounted to $44,462, or about one third of what the monthly sales should be in order to attain the annual quota. Through eight months sales have aggregated $732,097, or only 46.6 of the annual quota.

Howard County August sales were $19,956, or about one-third of the rate needed to attain quota. Sales for the year have aggregated $322,576, or 48.1 per cent of the annual quota of $670,000.

Andrews $1,387 ($16,625) 33.2 per cent; Dawson $1,650 ($53,915) 53.9; Gaines $1,125 ($87,518) 79.6, Martin $1,331 ($15,572) 38.9, Mitchell $7,931 ($122,972) 49.2, and Scurry $11,081 ($112,972) 34.2; total $44,462 ($732,097) 46.6. The Area I sales were $758,200 in August, or 56 per cent; the state sales $11,749,495 or 66.2 per cent.

Escape-Proof Isle Loses Two Felons

How they got off the almost escape-proof island is not known, police said, but they are missing. A nationwide search has been ordered.

They are J. Ascension Garcia, serving a 30-year murder sentence, and Margarito Jimenez del Rio, serving a 10-year sentence on various charges.

Officials speculated that they used a handmade canoe, and that it may have overturned and the two drowned.
