Japs And Chinese Locked In Death Struggle

English Royalty In Salute

The simple, unaffected ways that have endeared the British royal family to their subjects are well-illustrated in this picture below of King George kissing his mother, Queen Mary, as she arrived at the Royal Military Chapel centenary commemoration in London. With the King, and Queen Elizabeth, shown at right, she attended the exercises where each of the royal trio presented gifts.

OKLAHOMA AREA FLOODED

Suchow Center Of Ferocious Fighting

Only Southern Section Of City Remains In Hands Of Defending Forces Today

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 19—Japanese and Chinese troops today were locked in a death struggle for the southern section of Suchow, the only part of the strategic city not yet captured by the invaders.

The rest of the vital Central China rail junction was occupied by the Japanese within a few hours after they had stormed the west wall and poured into the battered city.

CITY "VIRTUALLY CAPTURED"

SHANGHAI, May 19. (AP) — Flags of the Rising Sun were reported flying from government buildings tonight in Suchow as Japanese troops fought hand-to-hand with "dare to die" remnants of Chinese forces to complete occupation of the city.

Japanese military quarters, however, declined to say that the city, long regarded as the nerve center of Chinese central front resistance, had been captured.

Correspondents of Domei, Japanese News agency, reported from Suchow that it was "virtually captured."

Large sections of the city were in flames.

Take Railway Stations

They launched their first infantry attack during the early morning hours and by 9 a. m. had captured the west wall. Before noon they reported they had taken a large part of the city in hand-to-hand street fighting and had possession of both the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railway stations.

With reinforcements arriving hourly, the Japanese predicted the entire city would be theirs before sunset.

Severe Fighting Spreading

Severe fighting was reported spreading to the south suburbs, where Chinese "dare to die" units were counter-attacking in an effort to enable the main Chinese forces to withdraw southward and escape annihilation.

Breakdown Of Peace Talks Is Nearing

Nation To Defend Frontiers Against "All Attempts At Violence" Daladier Says

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 19—Premier Edouard Daladier declared that France would defend her frontiers against "all attempts at violence" in a surprise statement delivered today as France's negotiations with Italy for a friendship agreement approached a complete breakdown.

To newspapermen whom he summoned to his office, the head of the "national defense" cabinet declared:

'Because She Is Strong'

"France will persist in proving her close union, her calm self-possession. She can do it because she is strong.

"Her will for peace is her first guarantee; her strength is her supreme guarantee."

Indirectly the premier threw the France was "ossupied with looking blame for the impasse in the friendship talks on Italy, asserting that everywhere and with everybody for a settlement, which, however, demands loyalty, reciprocity and parallel action."

Seek to Break Alliance

The premier's declaration came as Italian efforts to break up France's alliance with Soviet Russia had imposed formidable obstacles to efforts for Franco-Italian accord.

Conversations for such an agreement began in Rome before Adolf Hitler's visit to Italy May 3, were suspended during that visit and have not been resumed.

Warning Is Uttered

Today Daladier uttered this warning:

"Whatever the circumstances, France is capable of assuring alone the inviolability of her frontiers and that of her empire, of safeguarding the independence and integrity of her territory against all attempts at violence."

Political informants said that despite French efforts to resume the Rome talks Italy is demanding concessions France is not likely to make.

Farmers Are Happy Over Rainfall

Precipitation Ranging From Tenth To Two Inches Falls Over Wide Area Wednesday

Cotton farmers rejoiced today over heavy showers and rains which fell at many points east, north, northwest and southeast yesterday and last night.

Moisture, in addition to that received earlier in the week, will probably be enough to start cotton planting on. Rains were needed to make top soil and sub soil moisture meet.

Half To Inch In Vicinity

Locally the rain varied considerably. Municipal airport five miles north, reported .51 of an inch during the afternoon and .45 more last night, a total of .96 of an inch; state experiment sub station reported .38 of an inch for the afternoon and .1 of an inch last night, a total of .48 of an inch; Texas Technological college, west of town, .33 of an inch in the afternoon and .58 a total of .91 of an inch.

Sections of the Plains where there is considerable wheat received substantial amounts, except Hale and Swisher counties. Crosby, Floyd, Castro and Briscoe counties were benefitted by rains.

More Than Inch This Week

So far this week, according to Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station, more than an inch has fallen there, including Monday's moisture.

An electric display that played havoc with telephone and telegraph lines accompanied the night storm. No serious damage was reported. Likewise, hail stones fell both afternoon and night in Lubbock. Stones

Four Planes Winging Airmail Into City Today For Pickup Test For Proposed New Line

Four special airmail planes took off on schedule from Municipal airport this morning to concentrate in Lubbock the mail from 22 towns and cities of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico which was to be placed aboard outbound planes at 3:15 p. m.

The indications were, agreed members of the airmail committee of the chamber of commerce, that participation by Lubbock and the area in national airmail week would be an outstanding success. Amos Howard, postmaster here, is chairman of the airmail observance committee of the chamber.

To Exceed 3,000 Covers

No definite estimates, however, could be made as to what the airmail volume would be. Indications were that Lubbock's contribution will not exceed 3,000 covers. Should it approximate that number, however, it will be an even more satisfactory record than in the first pickup test last year when the volume exceeded 4,300 pieces of mail weighing approximately 93 pounds. But of that load, approximately 1,700 covers had been sent here several years before from stamp collectors throughout the country who had read an erroneous announcement in a magazine that a first flight out of Lubbock was about to be made. The mail was held until finally the first flight was made.

Volume Not Known

What the volume of mail from various towns of the area visited by feeder planes might be was described as pure guesswork. Guesses ranged from 5,000 to 10,000 pieces of mail.

At the control of the feeder planes leaving this morning were Clent Breedlove, manager of the airport, A. F. Holt, J. H. York and Art Chase.

Towns on their schedule were Littlefield, Muleshoe, Clovis, Morton, Levelland, Brownfield, Seagraves, Hobbs, Seminole, Lamesa, Tahoka, Floydada, Lockney, Plainview, Hale Center, Abernathy, Slaton, Post, Spur, Crosbyton, Ralls and Lorenzo.

They were to return to Municipal airport at about 1 o'clock and their

Bottom Lands Washed Out; Man Drowns

Washita, Cimarron And North Canadian Rivers On Rises; Alva Man Is Victim

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19—Flood waters from the shallow-bedded Washita, Cimarron and North Canadian rivers and smaller tributaries washed over valuable bottom lands, blocked highways, and carried out several bridges today as torrential rains lashed sections of western Oklahoma.

The rain, measuring up to 4.15 inches at Canton in Blaine county, was accompanied by hail which caused minor damage to small areas.

One death was attributed to the flood. Tom Humes, 40, Alva salesman, drowned when his car was swept off a concrete ramp as he attempted to ford swollen Houston creek near Freedom.

Cardenas Is Determined That There Shall Be No Revolt In Mexico; Cedillo Is Scored

(By The Associated Press)

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 19.—President Lazaro Cardenas is determined that the strong man of San Luis, General Saturnino Cedillo, shall surrender his arms and peasant army to the government so that the nation's socialistic program may go on without danger of internal revolt.

The president, entering San Luis with his own soldiers to assure calm in the wake of insistent rumors of rebellion made his demand in a speech last night.

Charge Revolution Planned

Speaking from the central balcony of the governor's palace, Cardenas charged that his former secretary of agriculture planned a revolution, that he conferred with representatives of foreign oil companies whose property the government expropriated, and that with "the aid of agents, who toured the country and abroad," he engaged in "subversive activities."

He said Cedillo feigned illness to avoid a term of military service in Michoacan. President Cardenas' state and to mask his plans for revolution.

Made Promise

The general's resignation from the army, Cardenas asserted, was accepted upon his promise to remain at his vast estate of Las Palomas, near San Luis, upon which he has established his agrarian constituency.

But, President Cardenas insisted,

Wage Cut Plan May Bar Aid

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Administration opposition to railroad wage cuts, authoritative persons said today, has virtually destroyed prospects for emergency financial aid to the carriers at this session of congress.

These persons depicted administration officials as determined not to give financial support to the roads unless they back down on their proposal to cut wages 15 per cent.

Unwilling To Forego It

They said railroad management, on the other hand, was unwilling to forego the reduction to obtain new federal loans.

Public expressions of administration supporters reflected this situation. Chairman Wagner (D-NY) said the senate banking committee might recall legislation it already has approved if the carriers insisted on going through with a general wage cut.

The committee approved a bill authorizing equipment, maintenance and work loans by the Reconstruction Finance corporation under more liberal terms than heretofore, but administration leaders held it

Revival Of Export Trade Is Profitable

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—The revival of the United States' lucrative grain export trade was estimated by merchants here today to have put approximately $125,000,000 in the American pocketbook since last summer.

They forecast $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 more would accrue to farmers, grain dealers, railroads and shippers by the end of the summer as a result of the booming export trade now under way.

Grain merchants here, booking a record breaking tonnage of corn for export to foreign countries, were in the midst of one of the busiest shipping seasons since the war. Boats loaded with corn are leaving the Chicago port daily with cargoes destined for Canadian wharves where the grain is reloaded for ocean passage. Much wheat also is pouring out of elevator spouts here and at other ports.

Simon Mayer, a former Chicago Board of Trade director and a leading exporter, estimated that by the end of June, 80,000,000 bushels of corn will have been exported since the harvest of last fall's crop. He placed the value of this corn at about $50,000,000. He estimated an additional 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels would be exported before October 1, principally from Chicago.

Deficit Given New Estimate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Informed officials tentatively forecast today a $3,400,000,000 federal deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1, as a result of the huge spending-lending program now before congress.

That would be slightly more than double the anticipated shortage for the current year, but would be below the deficits of 1934, 1935 and 1936. The peak peacetime deficit, swollen by bonus payments, was $4,763,842,000 in the year ended June 30, 1936.

Expenditures $8,900,000,000

Roughly, the next year's expenditures have been set at about $8,900,000,000 and receipts at about $5,500,000,000.

The tentative estimate it was learned, allowed for a $400,000,000 shrinkage in revenues and a $2,050,000,000 increase in expenditures, compared with the preliminary figures submitted to congress by the president in January. The January estimates contemplated a $950,000,000 deficit.

The figures remain uncertain because relief needs can not be predicted accurately at this time. The president has asked $1,250,000,000 to run WPA from July 1 to February 1. A total of $900,000,000 has been estimated as a probable cost for the remaining five months of the year, but developments between may alter the estimates.

Morlok Quadruplets Are Four Today; They All Have Measles

LANSING, Mich., May 19. (AP)—The Morlok quadruplets are observing their eighth birthday today but without ceremony; all have the measles.

Edna A., first of the four girls to arrive May 19, 1929, was first to become ill and she promptly shared her affliction with her three sisters, Wilma B., Sarah C., and Helen D.

Mrs. Carl Morlok, their mother, planned a birthday cake, without candles, because she believed the light bad for their eyes. She said the girls do not worry much about parties. They are concerned, she said, lest they fall behind in their school work and have to remain in the 2a class another term.

Helen Wills Moody Denies New Romance, Then Takes Match

SURBITON, England, May 19. (AP)—Helen Wills Moody angrily denied rumors of a new romance today and then went out and beat Mrs. M. R. King, 6-2, 7-5, in the quarter-final round of the Surbiton tennis tournament.

Asked about the report that she is going to marry Tallant Tubbs, Mrs. Moody said:

"I am heartily tired of these stories about me, none of which has any foundation. My visit is being spoiled by these rumors."

Largest Legion Session Seen

Largest attendance at any district convention of the American Legion and auxiliary in the history of the 19th district here Saturday and Sunday is virtually assured, according to reports this morning to A. C. Jackson, commander of Allen Bros. post, which will be host.

There is a strong probability, reports continued, that the attendance, in proportion of number of Legion and auxiliary members, will be among the largest of any district in the history of Texas department.

Plan Large Delegations

Among the reports was one from Chas. Whitacre, chairman of the invitations committee, following a visit to Lamesa, Tahoka and O'Donnell. Each plans a large delegation to Lubbock, Whitacre was advised.

Another communication to Jackson advised that Daniel J. Doherty of Massachusetts, national commander, Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Forth, state commander, and Fred Young, state adjutant, will arrive here about 5 p. m. from Amarillo.

Ickes, Woodring Playing Into Communists' Hands, Charged

NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (AP)—The president of the International Catholic Truth society, the Rev. Edward L. Curran of Brooklyn, here for the opening today of the Catholic Press association convention, said in an interview that Secretaries Ickes and Woodring were "definitely playing into the hands of the communists."

"The Catholic church sees no trend to the left in congress," he said, "but a definite leftward trend on the part of certain agencies making up the executive branch of the government. We believe Secretary Ickes is playing into the hands of the communists when he goes around the country silent about communism but eloquent about a supposed fascist danger in this country."

New $150,000 Administrative Building Planned At Baylor

WACO, May 19. (AP) — President Pat M. Neff today announced early construction of a new $150,000 administration building in the heart of Baylor university's campus.

Large Amount Of Loans Expected

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The Agriculture department, President Roosevelt disclosed today, expects to make loans to farmers on 20,000,000 bushels of the 1938 wheat crop.

The president asked congress to appropriate $80,000,000 to finance the storing of the grain in government-licensed elevators.

The president asked also for a $950,000 appropriation to carry out provisions of a new act for control of incipient and emergency outbreaks of inset pests and plant diseases.

The president quoted Acting Budget Director Bell that surveys indicate emergency outbreaks, during the 1938 crop year, of Mormon crickets in ten states and grasshoppers in 24 states.

Meanwhile, President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau federation came to Washington to rally congressional support for a proposal to earmark $200,000,000 of 1939 relief funds for additional crop subsidies.

Parents Charged With Molding Nation Of Thimble-Thinkers

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, May 19.—Parents and teacher of America in convention here, considered today the depressing possibility they were molding a nation of thimble-thinkers, of empty prattlers, of makers of mountains out of mole-hills.

It was Dr. Joseph H. Artman, Chicago educator, who warned the Parent-Teacher congress modern children suffer from a bright but empty environment in which they learn to think and speak in the shallowest of terms.

"I am particularly alarmed," said Dr. Artman, "at the trivial reading matter on the average home library table and the trivial table conversation at the average family meal.

"This overemphasis of trivia will lead our children to think these things are important—it's a dangerous process. We ought to discuss matters of an important and fundamental nature.

"To much concern with trivial things is certain to inhibit our entire social action."

PHILADELPHIA, May 19. (AP)—The Philadelphia Inquirer said in a copyrighted story that the 10,000-ton cruiser Philadelphia "sprang a leak" while President Roosevelt was aboard on a Caribbean fishing trip 10 days ago.

The paper said it learned the vessel, returned to the Philadelphia navy yard for repairs sustained a hole on the port side either when she went aground or had her anchor ripped away on a coral reef off Caicos island.

She shipped more than 30 tons of water the paper said, and her port after-peak was flooded.

Oregon's Vote Is Of Interest

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Intervention by a Roosevelt cabinet officer on Oregon's Democratic gubernatorial contest paved the way today for what many observers believe will be a test of administration strength in tomorrow's state primary.

The Oregon election, coming only three days after Pennsylvania's hotly contested primary, also was complicated by labor issues which, although not so clearly drawn as in Pennsylvania, made the name of John L. Lewis once more a political weapon.

Ickes Gives Hess Blessing

Principals in the Oregon campaign are Gov. Charles H. Martin and Henry L. Hess, who is opposing Martin for Democratic renomination. The administration was brought into the struggle by Secretary Ickes, who gave Hess his blessing in a leter saying Martin was "at heart no New Dealer."

Hess also drew the inferred support of Senator Morris (Ind-Neb), who has backed the administration program. Norris telegraphed that he

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Dona Huff, of Lubbock, candidate for graduation in August, has been elected to teach in the physical education department at Brownfield.

Dorothy Lofland from Rockwall, candidate for graduation this year, is to be an instructor in primary education in Paducah.

ON MAKING TEA

Better make tea in a pot of earthenware, porcelain or glass. Scald the pot first. One teaspoon of tea is the standard measurement per cup, but it makes a fairly strong infusion. Water for tea must be freshly drawn. If water is boiled too long it gives a flat taste. If water is allowed to stand on tea too long, tannin is extracted and the tea tastes bitter. Never boil tea. Let it steep from 3 to 5 minutes for best results.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Sooner Train Heads Home

A brilliant South Plains sun beamed this morning upon a departing Oklahoma City good will delegation which arrived Wednesday afternoon aboard a special train to an accompaniment of much needed rain.

They were to travel today on the Fort Worth and Denver, with Wichita Falls their overnight stop.

Climaxing the program for the visitors was a smoker Wednesday night at the Hilton hotel with approximately 150 men of Lubbock and Oklahoma City attending.

Visitors Introduced

George W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney, was master of ceremonies and Hugh Harrell, vice-president of the First National bank of Oklahoma City, introduced the visitors.

R. E. McDonald, manager of J. M. Radford Grocery company, presented to the Sooner delegation facts and figures on Lubbock and the South Plains.

Preceding the smoker, a group selected from the famous Oklahoma City Kiltie band of approximately 30 girls, presented a brief musical program. On the musical program were tap dances, vocal solos and trios and instrumental solos, duets, and trios.

Train Leaves Today

The special train carrying the delegation, which arrived at 2:35 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, is scheduled to leave for Wichita Falls and other points at 5 o'clock this morning.

After making stops at Amarillo, Tulia, Plainview, and Hale Center, the Sooners were escorted into Lubbock by a Lubbock delegation.

On their arrival here, the delegation, escorted by new-uniformed Texas Highway patrolmen and police traffic officers, and Lubbock High school band paraded to the Lubbock hotel. In a roped-off circle near the hotel a short program was conducted until rain drove the visitors and greeters to shelter.

Group Is Welcomed

At the hotel, George P. Kuykendall welcomed the group and Harrell responded.

The entire Kiltie band presented a short concert and novelty program, then went to Texas Technological college for a concert and a review of the Texas Technological college ROTC.

Several members of the goodwill delegation played golf here Wednesday afternoon.

Between activities, said the chamber of commerce, delegates made personal calls upon those in Lubbock of similar business interests.

In charge of the reception was a special committee headed by Chas. H. Read which served with the good neighbor committee of the chamber of commerce.

The Toltecs dominated Mexico from the fourth to the 12th century.

USCC Leader Says 'Pump Priming' To Discourage Business

Action On Bill Expected Soon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—George H. Davis, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, declares that renewed "pump priming" expenditures would discourage business and retard employment.

In a statement Davis said that the chamber's membership was convinced that the way to industrial recovery was exactly opposite from the method proposed in the administration's $3,154,000,000 lending-spending bill, on which a senate appropriations subcommittee ended hearings today.

Davis said the chamber was not opposed, however, to "adequate spending for necessary relief."

Chairman Adams (D-Colo) said the subcommittee would complete work on the measure Friday, and that it probably would be reported by the full committee Saturday.

This would send the bill to the senate floor for debate on Monday.

Pelley Says Wage Cut Cannot Be Avoided By Cutting Charges

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today a wage reduction for employes could not be avoided by reducing fixed charges of railroads.

He described as a "fairy tale" the statements of some senators that the railroads' financial crisis was due to an excessive burden of debt and interest charges.

U. S. army soldiers in Alaska are sometimes allowed 10 ounces of reindeer meat per day as a substitute for beef.

Quints' Affairs Ride Smoothly Again

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Obviously unconcerned about the whole thing are the Dionne quintuplets, top photo, whose affairs are riding smoothly again after Attorney General Gordon Conant of Ontario, lower left, rejected as "pointless" the demand by Oliva Dionne that his famous daughters' finances be investigated. Conant announced also that there would be no change in the quints' board of guardians, composed of Dr. Allan Roy Defoe, Judge J. A. Valin and Dionne. Brought to Toronto by the controversy, Dr. Dafoe, the quints' famous physician, is shown at lower right as he conferred with Mitchell F. Hepburn, premier of Ontario, concerning the situation.

Hope To Clear Up WPA Case

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON May 19.—Works Progress administration chiefs expressed hope today the "New Mexico WPA situation can be cleared up so the state director, Fred Healey, can function without the handicap of political pressure from several sides."

Robert Hinkley, regional WPA director at Salt Lake City, discussing conferences he and Healey are holding here with New Mexico members of congress, said, "there is no disposition on my part to make any changes in the personnel of the New Mexico WPA administration.

Can't Please Everybody

"What we hope to do is to clear up the situation so Healey can function as he should, without the handicap of political pressure from several sides. We've been trying to please everybody in New Mexico, and, of course, that's impossible."

Hinkley did not explain what persons or groups had exerted "pressure to handicap" Healey's administration.

Senatotr Hatch (D-NM), explaining that a suggestion for an army officer taking charge "was only one of many made during our conferences,' added that he did not believe such a step would be necessary.

Good Volume Of Wheat Seen By Rail Official For Area

Wheat volume handled by South Plaines lines of the Fort Worth and Denver this year may be as large as last year's record carloadings, J. W. Mode of Amarillo, division superintendent, predicted Wednesday.

"On some sections of our territory the crop is as good or better even, than last year," Mode said. "Rains will do a lot of good, if they fall within a short time. I expect we will make nearly as much wheat this year as last."

General conditions over the territory, particularly the South Plains are good, he added. Freight movement is holding up well and future prospects are excellent, much brighter than a year ago.

So The People May Know

UPON a recent date, there were circulated in Lubbock handbills of a scurrilous nature, falsely bearing the signatures of the Palace and Lindsey Theatres.

FOR fear that a few newcomers not acquainted with our business policies and principles might be inclined to accept the handbills as a statement from us, we take this opportunity to inform the public in general, and our patrons in particular, that this company had no connection with the printing and/or the circulating of these false and scurrilous handbills; knew nothing of them until after their circulation, when copies were handed us by friends.

THIS statement is made not only to deny any connection with them, but to reiterate that the statements made in these handbills are entirely out of accord with our policies and principles.

Bands To Vie In Contests

Preparations were announced complete this morning for the departure Friday of Junior High school band and Saturday of the Senior High school group for the annual tournament of the National High School Band and Orchestra association at Abilene.

Approximately 150 musicians will make the trip. H. A. Anderson is director of the Senior band and Joe Haddon of the juniors.

The junior band will enter the playing contest Friday morning with "Honor Band March," Holmes; "Morning Prayer," Tschaikowsky; and "Narrator," overture by Buchtel, and will compete in marching activities Friday night.

Play Saturday Night

Senior band members play Saturday night. Their numbers are "Colorado March," Holmes; "Beatrice and Benedict," overture by Berlioz; and "La Forza del Destino," Verdi.

"Class A competition," said Anderson, "in which the senior band competes, includes Central High school and Classon High of Oklahoma City; Austin High, Austin; Waco High, Waco; Weslaco High, Weslaco; and Amarillo High, Amarillo."

Lubbock Senior High band won first division honors playing at the West Texas Band and Orchestra association contests in San Angelo this year. Seven soloists competed and all won first honors. Junior High band won first honors in both marching and playing.

Each band entering the contests will have an Abilene couple as sponsors. Band students will be assigned to private homes.

Both Lubbock bands plan to return Saturday night.

Cub-Dad Camp To Be Held At Post; Invitations Are Sent

Invitations to attend the second cub-dad camp in this area at Camp Post May 28-29 have been sent to approximately 300 cubs and their "dads."

Each cub pack will be camped as a unit and dads are to stay with their sons throughout the two-days camp. There are about 14 packs in this area.

The camp will open Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and will close Sunday evening with a cub-parent picnic. "Swimming, eats, and fun" are promised those attending. Instruction will be given in cubcraft and nature.

Those attending may register with cubmasters or at the scout office, 413 Myrick building.

Dr. C. C. Schmidt, cub commissioner of this area, is in charge of details.

To Wed A Field

SAYS MEXICO TRANQUIL

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 19. (AP)—Mexico is tranquil today, and there is no animosity shown against Americans, said Walter Douglas, president of the Southern Pacific company of Mexico. He stopped here after an inspection trip over his road, leaving last night for New York City.

Mexican Plea On Oil Issued

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., May 19.—The chief of Mexican oil operations, Vicente Cartes Herrera, has urged cooperation by American interests in the purchase of Mexican oil to help his country pay the debts incurred by the recent expropriations.

"President Cardenas says Mexico will pay, and the world must believe that the Cardenas government and the people of Mexico will do so," said Herrera, leader of the Mexican delegation to the International Petroleum Exposition here.

Easier To Help

"It will be more easy for the companies to help President Cardenas than to fight him because there will be no change in his ideas.

"But to pay our debts we must sell our oil, and if the democratic countries will not deal with us then we must compromise our sentiments to honor our obligations."

The Mexican oil industry in the future will buy its equipment from the United States, Herrera said, rather than from English manufacturers situated in Mexico.

Information Blanks Mailed To Youths On NYA Rolls In Area

Five hundred youths on the eligible list of the Lubbock National Youth administration district will receive information blanks, mailed Wednesday, said A. V. Bullock, supervisor.

Purpose of the blanks is to obtain information preparatory to selection of youths from the eligible list who are interested in and would profit most by assignment to one of the resident projects which the N. Y. A. is operating in the state. On these projects a youth works three or four hours a day and is in training or recreational activity for a similar period. He lives at the project site and is paid sufficiently to care for his room, board and medical attention with $8 or $9 per month left for his personal use.

The training given in connection with the projects is in one or more fields: vocational agriculture, farm shopwork, auto mechanics, wood working, blacksmithing, and poultry raising and dairying.

One of the projects will be located at Plainview, and one may be located here.

W. H. Evans And Robt. H. Bean Named Delegates To Convention

Two delegates to represent Lubbock Lions club at the three-day state convention opening in San Antonio Monday were selected at a meeting of directors at Hilton hotel here Wednesady.

President W. H. Evans and Vice President R. H. Bean were named. They were instructed to work hard for the nomination of Sam Braswell, Clarendon editor and former district 2-T governor, as third vice president of Lions International.

Directors considered the financial report of the recent convention of district 2-T here. The report showed enough money had been made from the recent show given by the club to take care of the expenses of the convention. Directors commended the convention committee, of which Bean was general chairman.

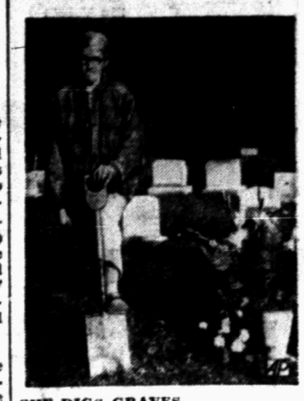

Story Of Bob Burns' Rise In Income Revealed In Deposition

LOS ANGELES, May 19. (AP)—The story of how Bazooka Bob Burns' income jumped from $1500 in 1934 to $400,000 in 1937 was revealed today when his deposition was filed in superior court in connection with his suit for an injunction against the Radio Transcription Co., of America and others.

The screen and radio star seeks a restraining order on the ground program transcriptions made by the company in 1933 and 1934, now being used, are injuring his reputation as a creative artist.

San Augustine, Texas, used a tent which covered three acres under which to grow an experimental tobacco crop.

SHE DIGS GRAVES

Mrs. Emma Wear of Lancaster, Pa., is 70. "If I couldn't work I wouldn't care about living," she says. So she digs graves. She has been doing it for 15 years. In addition, she farms 10 acres of her own. She is shown pausing in the day's occupation.

SHE SELLS COAL

Mrs. Libbie E. Roth of East St. Louis, Ill., comes from a coal-family—her father owned a coal mine, her brothers were coal dealers. A widow, she has run a coal yard for 22 years, says "there's nothing a woman cannot do, if she wants to."

SHE CALLS ALL CARS

Mrs. Pearl Damiano qualified recently as a police radio operator and dispatcher at Piedmont, Calif. She thinks she is the third woman in the country to fill such a post. Employed in the police department, she spent two years studying for new job.

SHE MENDS VIOLINS

Mrs. Mays Badgett of Atlanta, Ga., became a violin repairer when her husband died. She had been a dress designer. "I didn't know the names of the fiddle-fixing tools," she says, "but I had seen Mays use them so much that I knew what they were all for."

SHE'S BEEN WORKIN' ON THE RAILROAD

For 16 years, Miss Ruth Eley has filled tough assignments at the Dallas, Tex., roundhouse. She knows the railroad men's language and technique and can throttle a locomotive with the skill of a veteran. "It's a man's job," she says, "but I like it."

TWO MORE BODIES FOUND

ATLANTA, May 19. (AP)—In the debris of the fire-wrecked Terminal hotel workmen sighted two additional bodies late Wednesday—bringing the death list to 35.

Workmen said it might require hours to remove the bodies from the mass of timbers, twisted steel and other wreckage.

Cotton Acreage Allotments Are Distributed To County Farmers

Distribution of 1938 cotton acreage allotments continued Wednesday to farmers who called at the county farm agent's office for them.

Allotment for each farm is being distributed, said C. C. Jobson, county agent. The allocations were made on the basis of the 1937 acreages and Lubbock county this year will be permitted to plant slightly over 170,000 acres without penalty.

Each farm in the county has been allocated 38.4 per cent of the tillable acres after wheat acreages or idle acres have been deducted from the total area of the farm. These figures were given Jobson at College Station last week.

Many of the farmers have already planted some cotton. Others will begin planting, taking advantage of the small rain which fell the first of the week.

Each farmer is given a formal statement of his acreage, signed by C. E. Lilley as chairman of the county committee and Jobson as agent.

Daily X-Ray Treatments Will Be Given To Baby In Chicago

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—The parents of Baby Helaine Colan and their medical advisers decided today to give the six-weeks-old child a three weeks' course of daily X-ray treatments in the hope of saving her remaining eye.

Helaine's left eye was removed May 9 to prevent death from glioma, a cancerous growth likely to spread to the brain. The right eye also was affected.

Survey Reveals Good Sales Of Luxury Merchandise In City

Sales on luxury and semi-luxury merchandise in Lubbock during the first quarter of 1938 belie business conditions in other sections of the United States.

According to a survey, South Plains people are swinging out on 50 per cent more accordions this year than in 1937, based on sales in Lubbock. Pianos are still "holding their own" as the parlor stand-by.

Watches, diamonds, and silverware continue to retail in greater quantities than ever before, and sales on general jewelry are above the average.

Texans in this section are playing more than ever, as evidenced by the greater demands for soft ball, golf, and tennis equipment.

Decreases in luxury buying in Lubbock? There is an increase.

Sometimes called the cowslip in Europe, the yellow primrose is a common wild flower.

Looks Into Death

With an expression of disbelief on his face, Adam Ricchetti, above, registered surprise in the Jackson, Mo., county jail when told that the Missouri supreme court had denied his appeal that the death sentence decision of a lower court be set aside on prejudicial error. Ricchetti was condemned to die for the murder of Detective Frank Hermanson during the Kansas City union station massacre in 1933.

TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—Karl A. Crowley, former solicitor for the post office department, will open his campaign for governor of Texas at Quitman, Wood county, Saturday afternoon.

In a statement here today, Crowley said that the gubernatorial battle likely would be waged between "McCraw plus Thompson against me."

Companies To Face Charges

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The justice department has inaugurated a policy of publicity for proposed anti-trust prosecutions by announcing it would seek indictment of the three largest automobile manufacturers and their affiliated finance companies.

Attorney General Cummings told reporters at a press conference the indictments would be asked of a federal grand jury at South Bend, Ind., next week. At the same time he gave them copies of a printed statement advising industry of the publicity policy.

Investigated By Grand Jury

The companies that the South Bend grand jury will be asked to indict, Cummings said, are those investigated by a federal grand jury at Milwaukee, Wis., last November. They are the Ford Motor company, Universal Credit company, a subsidiary; General Motors corporation, General Motors Acceptance corporation; the Chrysler corporation and its affiliated finance firm, the Commercial Credit company. The government contends, he said, that the manufacturers have coerced dealers to require that automobile purchases be financed through affiliated finance companies.

There are more than 32,750,000 telephone users in the United States.

Miller Lets 'Em Know

By Collier Parris

A BALL PLAYER who never gets high behind, argumentative and sassy when the breaks, just or otherwise, go against him, won't ever inspire many headlines as a major league holdout. To get along and get up, a player must have color and must now and then vocalize a peeve. Passive regard for the bad breaks does not mark a player for the hall of fame, no matter how gifted he may be at swatting and fielding the cannon ball.

But there's a limit even to this angle of the game, and one may become so occupied with "standing up for his rights" that the rest of the club, as well as himself, will suffer great loss.

A Burleigh Grimes has his place, and much good may come of the chatter, and arguments a Grimes may produce, even if said Grimes is often found waiting for his mates outside the park to find how the game ended. We would not tolerate a player or a team that took his or its bad breaks lying down, even if it cost a game now and then.

Manager James Eldridge Hack Miller of the Hubbers has set no baseball precedent by his vocal exercises so far in the West Texas-New Mexico league campaign. And even if he had topped the record a time or two, he may be excused on two counts, although he should attempt to curb his enthusiasm by a degree ir two in the future.

In the first place, Miller is more or less new to professional baseball, this being his fourth season as a pro, and he came up with a temper and temperament that is a bit advanced for minor league baseball. Suddenly, he is under considerable strain, a terrific strain, in fact, as manager of the club. It is his first managerial experience and he is taking the responsibility quite seriously. It's a double worry he's under—making good for the team and making good for Miller.

Once he has been chased from the park for arguing with the umps, and Tuesday night at Hobbs his argument broke up the ball game. Perhaps it was just as well, otherwise the Hubbers, trailing by ten runs at the time, might have been more completely humiliated. Maybe Hack knew what he was about, after all.

Some fans figure that Hack ought to settle down a bit and take his medicine a little more graciously. Other fans like the rip-roaring, hell-raising type of player and team. Perhaps the Hubbers can strike a happy medium and please everybody. They have been doing a fair job of it so far.

There has been quite a lot of howling about the umpires in the league. Some of 'em are either taking things too easily or should drop in at their convenience for an eye test. It must be remembered here, also, that the umpires, with but one or two exceptions, also are new to the professional game, just as the players, and are liable to make mistakes. So long as they are honest mistakes, nobody's going to howl—much, except Skipper Miller.

PITCHING IS IMPROVING in the league, and some of the leading sluggers are due for letdowns any time now. The chunkers are gradually catching up with them.

Lubbock let a pitcher go the other day who may make us sorry. He is big Casimir "Buzz" Kaliski, the righthanded Pole from Chicago who celebrated his 22nd birthday yesterday. Kaliski's record, before he came to West Texas, was all that a manager could ask, but the big fellow had trouble getting started. He moved over to Clovis and won his first game. It is to be trusted that, for the sake of the league, he will strengthen the Pioneer staff, and from the way he started, looks like he might get the job done.

Four years ago, Kaliski was doing extensive infield and outfield duty on Chicago sandlots. He was a snappy hitter, noted for long range clouts. One of his drives had traveled more than 450 feet. His pitching career started quite by accident, he having been sent in as a reliever one afternoon. In 1935 he pitched and won 13 complete games in Chicago, averaging less than a run per game and had near perfect control, passing only three batters in more than 120 innings. He averaged 14 strikeouts to the contest, and turned in two one-hit games. He lost only one game.

In 1936, Kaliski had a job that did not permit him to play much ball. He pitched two games and won both. Last year he joined a strong semi-pro club, winning eight of ten games he hurled, and played the outfield when not on the mound, batting over .550.

A White Sox agent saw him work and followed him around for a spell, finally recommending him for a start in pro ball. He came to Longview last Spring, moved on to Lubbock with the Faulkner delegation. He looked fairly good in inter-squad workouts, but got in trouble every time he started or relieved in a league game. Clovis needed a pitcher with prospects, and Faulkner, in the same boat, let Kaliski go when the Sox sent Terry here. But the Sox will keep an eye on Kaliski, and it would not be surprising to see him get started over at Clovis.

Explanation Of Rights Given

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 19. — A definition of fishermen's rights and the trespass law recently was undertaken by Will J. Tucker, secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission.

Tucker said under Spanish law, the first known to the area now called Texas, all continuing streams were the property of the crown as trustee for the public.

"The congress of the Texas republic," the secretary said, "enacted a law that streams of this state 'so long as they retain an average width of 30 feet' were navigable and therefore public property.

"The highest tribunals of the state have declared the public has full right of fishery in navigable waters, including tidal waters, and the right is extended to connecting lakes of the streams."

Tucker said the legislature had limited taking of fish with general statewide laws and statutes applying to various counties.

"The courts have said," Tucker continued, "all terrain between the fast land banks of a stream that is alternately covered and left bare under average seasonal water conditions is public property and may be freely used.

"Virtually all the major streams of Texas, because of their excess width downstream, are navigable almost to their source while some of the smaller cease to be navigable for some distance below their source. It is also true that where a stream has been dammed the impounded water forms part of the stream and the public has access to it.

The secretary said the public did not have the right to cross over private property to reach a navigable stream in the light of high court decisions.

"A person who crosses over private property with only his fishing paraphernalia in order to reach public property is not subject to arrest, however, unless it can be clearly shown he has fished on or from private property."

Tucker advised fishermen to make sure there were no objections by property owners when they crossed private lands.

Pool Shows 'Em He Can Hit In Clinches

(By The Associated Press)

They said it of Harlan Pool, the pudgy Dallas outfielder, that he could wield a wicked willow but not in the clinches — when the chips were down and runners were on base.

Pool was just as potent with the mace last night as ever and he showed his critics by delivering when needed. He slammed out two hits to take over again the Texas league batting leadership and one of the blows drove in Grey Clarke with the winning run as the Herd scurried toward fifth place in the standing by downing Houston 4-1.

Pool now has a mark of .359, some eight points ahead of Frank Secory, the Beaumont belter.

Both San Antonio, the current leader, and Tulsa, runner-up, tested defeat, the Missions falling before Oklahoma City, 7-6, and Tulsa dropping before Beaumont, 2-1.

Ernie Holman, who has been around the baseball circle and is starting out again, and who is making himself felt in the batting race with a .333 average, blasted a homer in the third that looked like it would put Tulsa over, but Beaumont drove in two tallies in the eighth on McCoskey's double.

Clay Touchstone went to the aid of a despairing Oklahoma City team in the ninth to halt a San Antonio rally. He fanned Sig Gryska and Ralph Rhein with the tying and winning runs on base. The Indians had gained their lead with a six-run splurge in the eighth.

Fort Worth made mince meat out of the hapless Shreveport Sports with a 20-hit attack that left the Cats exhausted from running around the bases. Fort Worth won the game 14-5 to drop the Sports into the cellar. Shreveport got eleven hits off Jackie Reid.

Lubbock gets another shot at the league-leading Wink Spudders in a three-game series starting today, Big Spring follows the Pioneers to Clovis, and Hobbs moves into Midland.

The Hubbers missed another chance to overhaul the Spuds Wednesday night, losing the rubber game at Hobbs, 11 to 4. "Little Bill" Terry is one Lubbock pitcher who doesn't walk every other batter, but the Boosters touched him for 17 bingles including a homer by Gordon Donaldson.

Scott Overcomes Misplays

Marshall Scott had to overcome six fielding errors of his mates to keep the count down, but did a fair size job at that. He whiffed eleven and Terry got the third one past 9.

The best job of striking out opposing batsmen was done Wednesday night by Parks as he led Midland into a 2-to-1 win over Wink. Parks fanned 17 in nine innings then another fell victim in the tenth.

John Morris went all the way around when the throw-in on his double to lead off the tenth got past Quick, Wink third baseman. That provided the winning run.

Big Spring coasted in on Johnny Soden's no-hit pitching to beat Clovis, 2-1, in a game called in the seventh because of rain. The Pioneers had manufactured one run without the services of a hit, but the Barons had made five bingles count for enough tallies to shade Clovis.

Only six pitchers were used by as many clubs in three games, which is something of a record. Possibly the hurlers are getting ready for the summer.

Texarkana Liners Lose Twin Bill But Standing Not Hurt

(By The Associated Press)

A double defeat at the hands of Marshall took some of the self-satisfaction from the faces of the Texarkana Liners last night but it didn't hurt them much in the East Texas league standing because Longview declined to do anything about it.

Texarkana still held the lead today and Longview trailed along in second place while Marshall and Tyler, which was the villain in the scene with Longview, were tied for third, four and a half games out of first.

Long-distance hitting put Marshall over with its 7-6, 6-5 double victory, Hal Simpson breaking up the first battle with a homer and the bases loaded in the second frame, and Fred Knoll blasting a triple that drove in Cranford to break a 5-5 tie in the nightcap.

Felix Martignett and Charley Smith homered for Longview but the Trojans won the game 7-2 with 10 hits.

The cellar-dwelling Palestine Pals pasted the Jacksonville Jax with a 6-1 defeat.

Kilgore took Henderson to a 9-7 cleaning.

Davis Is Loser To Tremaine

The dropkicking he learned in the University of Arizona stood Andy Tremaine in good stead as he captured the main event of the weekly rassling show from Dizzy Dilly Davis.

Andy played the gentleman throughout, which was in sharp contrast with Davis' choking, slugging and illegal rope work, but cleanliness prevailed, and the Houston red head, after taking the second fall with an illegal stake hold, was flattened like a floor by the Tremaine dropkicks.

Andy took the first fall in 14 minutes with a rolling rocking chair, after throwing off Davis' headlock, a la Hagen, which was maintained for the first five minutes of the bout. Davis won the second in 15 minutes, with aid of the ropes, which he knows how to use on offense as well as defense, and Tremaine won the third in a dozen minutes with three well-aimed kicks to the mush and a flying smother.

Carl Von Bromberg of Berlin, won a semi-final fall over Bob Cummings, who was somewhat off form.

Buzz Reynolds, of the Ohio Reynolds, beat Pasha Bairam Bey of Turkey in 16 minutes of the preliminary, but waited quite a spell to get going. Neither of them resembled a good worker-outer for Art Belcher, Lobo Brown or Joe Bauer, and Buzz let the Turk, who is a pitiful excuse, play around for 15 minutes before mowing him down with three drop kicks and a body smother.

Robert Moses Grove, With His Lean Left Arm, Has One More Game To Win For New Mark

(By The Associated Press)

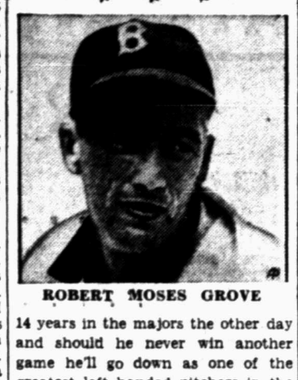

CHICAGO, May 19. — Robert Moses Grove, with his lean left arm, is writing another brilliant chapter in a story which already ranks as one of the greatest in baseball's 100-year-old collection of diamond romances.

'Ol Mose is almost 40 years old. His wavy hair is streaked with gray. Long since, it would seem, has the elasticity of youth departed from his spindly legs, and no longer does that lean left arm fire the fast ball which once made batters flinch.

Has Won Six Victories

Yet today, Grove is very much a part of baseball's annual picture. In seven game appearances, he has won six victories and lost no games. He has pitched 60 innings, allowed an average of only two earned runs per game, granted only 21 bases on balls and struck out 38 swingers. 'Ol Mose is giving relentless time a great battle.

Grove won his 263rd triumph in 14 years in the majors the other day and should he never win another game he'll go down as one of the greatest left handed pitchers in the sport's history.

Young Brooklyn Southpaw Centerfielder Not One Bit Sorry He Cheated Hurlers Of Two Perfect Games In Three Weeks

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 19.—Once in a while a fellow comes along breaking hearts without one smack of remorse.

For instance, there's Goodwin George Rosen, young southpaw centerfielder for the Flatbush gang of Brooklyn. Twice in three weeks, "Goodie" has broken the heart of a big league pitcher by smashing out a safe blow that blasted the pitcher's chance of a no-hit, no-run game. He did it against Hal Schumacher of the Giants April 24 and repeated against Fiddler Bill McGee of the St. Louis Gashousers Tuesday.

Not Much Sorry

Is he sorry? Not much. For the 24-year-old Jewish lad never has found any one, especially no ball pitchers, sorry for him as he came up to big time over a trail strewn with heartaches and disappointments.

"I didn't apologize to Schumacher and I don't intend to tell McGee I'm sorry for sort of breaking their hearts," he said between whacks at batting practice. "All I'm sorry about is that I got only one hit in each game.

Had to Come Uphill

If you don't think "Goodie" didn't have to come uphill to get where he is, why, you're a minor leaguer.

"Goodie" and his pal, Bob Medline, were semi-pro stars in Torona. After their pennant winning season in 1930, they decided to become full fledged ball players. They haunted the ball park of the Toronto International leaguers, begging for a chance. They were rejected. To "Goodie," the final send-off was: "Scram, runt. You're too small." So Goodie and Bob sold magazines and car cushions around town and finally got enought dough to go South. "When they arrived in Tampa, where they understood winter pro ball was played, they found none. As Bob dropped out, "Goodie" hit the trail, hitch-hiked his way for tryouts at Little Rock, Ark.; Memphis, Rochester, N. Y., and Birmingham, N. Y. It was the same old story. "Goodie," then only a 135-pounder, was sent away with hardly a trial because he was "too small."

Chopped Wood 3 Months

The next winter, he hired three Polish fellows to haul a bunch of big logs to his back yard and spent three months chopping wood. His muscles developed and he gained 15 pounds. Finally, he got a job with Louisville of the American association, lying about his weight. When old Cap Neal of the Colonels took a look at him, he told "Goodie" to go home. He pleaded with Cap and he stuck to become a star.

Mrs. A. E. Haney Is Winner In Ladies Day Handicap Tourney

First place in a handicap tournament Wednesday in Ladies day at Lubbock Country club was won by Mrs. A. E. Henry.

Hostess for luncheon at Lubbock hotel was Mrs. Bob Crawford.

Those competing were the following members: Mesdames Ford Benham, Charles Akey, Cliff Widener, A. A. Moore, J. Hooper Stiles, Lee Hubby, C. E. Dean, George R. Pierce, W. F. Helwig, C. L. Dean, Glen D. Smith, Henry, and Crawford, and a guest, Mrs. Roy R. Miller.

Louisville threw a "Rosen day" last August, and though most heroes choke up in such cases, Goodie hit three singles with the bases loaded each time and drove in six runs.

"That's the day," he said, "that I was glad I stuck and chopped wood."

Meadowbrook Play Nears Semi-Finals

Semi-finals were reached by two golfers Wednesday afternoon in the annual Meadowbrook championship tournament.

Alfred Holton, medalist, vanquished J. R. Farmer, 4 and 2, and J. D. Hinson eliminated one of the tournament favorites, Ed Doherty, with a one up victory in 19 holes.

C. Fox gained a 4 and 2 triumph over O. A. Terry. Gus Freeland defeated J. Trammell, 2 and 1, and J. Hollenburger downed W. F. Helwig, 5 and 4, in first flight matches.

A. L. Pace beat W. Seeley, one up in 20 holes, in only second flight match.

The Two Joes, DiMaggio And Medwick, On Warpath Again

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now's as good a time as any for big league pitchers to start pulling in their ears and heading for the storm cellars. Joe DiMaggio and Ducky Medwick are on the warpath again.

It gets somewhat tiresome to point out every so often that here you have the two greatest outfielders, if not the two greatest players in this business of balls and strikes today. But it's one of those things that has to be done, like going to the dentist or putting gas in your car. You just can't overlook it.

Arguments Are Ceasing

One thing, though, you get less and less argument these days over the merits of the Yankees' deadpan and the Gas House gang's free wheeling walloper. Folks are slowly but surely ceasing arguments in favor of some Joe Zilch or Luke Glutz over these two terrors.

Both of them got away to slow starts this season. Ducky Wucky had a pain in the back. That was lumbago. Joe had a pain in his pocketbook. That was a holdout. But now that they're back again, the fireworks are popping.

Each Complete Dose

Each is a complete does of pitchers' poison all wrapped up and ready to go. From the looks of things, they've picked up right where they left off last year.

Somehow, it seems natural to see each leading his league in batting. DiMag with a neat .431 mark, and Ducky with a just-as-classy .426. And just like last year, you never can tell when either one of them is going to pick the next pitch to break up a ball game.

Take Yesterday, for Instance

Take yesterday, for instance. The Yankees were having a tough time of it with the St. Louis Browns. Then along came DiMaggio in the fifth frame, knocked one of Buck Newsom's pitches out of the lot, and the Yanks were away in front. But Lefty Gomez and Johnny Murphy couldn't hold the Brownies. So DiMag came up there again in the eighth, helped himself to another one of Buck's high hard ones, with two mates on base, and parked it among the paying customers in the bleachers—and there was your ball game. Result: Yankees 11, Brownies 7. Newsom, however, had a lot of fun while it lasted, fanning six members of murderers' row in order, to equal an American league record.

Helps In 4th Straight

Meantime, Medwick was going to work in Brooklyn. He wasn't the big show in that game with the Dodgers, but he certainly wasn't anybody's stooge as he contributed a homer and scored four of the runs that gave the Gas Housers a 12-4 decision for their fourth straight win. Don Gutteridge played the part of the No. 1 cannon, however, belting a homer and a single to drive in five runs.

This boosted the Cardinals into the .500 class for the season, deadlocking them with the idle Cincinnati Reds, who were rained out in Philadelphia, and the Boston Bees, whose Jim Turner gave up a measly five hits in 14 innings to win a long distance 2-1 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Hubbell Receives Setback

The Pirates were dropped to third place by this setback, and Jolly Cholly Grimm's Chicago Cubs climbed back to second by topping the Giants, 4-2. Carl Hubbell and Larry French hooked up in a tight pitching duel until the eighth, when Mel Ott made a two-base error to allow Gabby Hartnett, who's no gazelle on those base-paths, to score all the way from second. It was Hubbell's first setback of the year.

Cleveland's Bobby Feller slipped a six-hitter across on the Athletics and the Indians clicked for a 7-2 victory over Connie Mack's lowly outfit. Wes Ferrell not only pitched six-hit-ball, but banked out a homer to pace the Senators to a 5-1 victory over the tottering Tigers. The Red Sox and White Sox were rained out in Chicago.

Giant New Well-Drilling Rig Has Capacity Of Seven Miles

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

TULSA, Okla., May 19. (AP)—Seven miles deep is the capacity of a giant new well-drilling rig, fitted with a "draw-works" that could pull a giant tooth two miles long, and exhibited at the International Petroleum exposition.

That is more than twice as far down as the present deepest well in the world, 15,004 feet at Wasco, Calif.

Cost Is Excessive

In all the world there is today no pump which can go down even 15,000 feet to bring up the deep oil if one of these wells stops flowing under its own pressure. It costs nearly half a million dollars at present to drill down much farther than two miles.

How these immediate obstacles will be overcome was predicted by William G. Skelly, head of one of the large oil companies and president of the exposition.

"We know from experience," he said, "that the very deep wells may be expected to flow for years without need for pumping. By the time pumps are necessary it is almost certain that the engineers will have them ready. Although the cost of the first well that pioneers deeper than the average is excessive, we can sink each succeeding well at that depth for less and less cost. The drop in drilling expense is around $25,000 a well."

May Be Down 20 Miles

There may be oil pools down to 20 miles below the surface. This estimate is made by geologists from studies of the downward slant of the oil bearing formations, that dive out of reach of present wells.

Before the seven-mile limit of the big "draw works" exhibited here can be reached, the steel scientists must invent stronger pipes and stronger cables. The miles of drilling pipe hangs from the top of the well. Present steels would break of their own weight long before seven miles.

System of Three Shafts

The new "draw works" is a system of three steel shafts, each nearly a foot thick, holding big drums over which runs a steel cable carrying the weight of the ever-lengthening drill pipe. These drums are housed in a bright green body not much larger than an automobile truck.

The name "draw works" comes from the fact that pulling power is more important than pushing. A couple of miles of steel pipe may break and have to be pulled out of the well. Sometimes the earth closes about the pipe and holds it like a gigantic tooth.

The new "draw works" stands under a steel derrick 136 feet high. The derrick can hold the weight of two of the largest railroad locomotives hung from its top. Yet the "draw works" is powerful enough to pull this derrick down flat like a hand squashing a fly.

The "draw works" is operated by two Diesel electric engines with 750 horse power.

Because of his Christian faith, Costentenus, the Greek prince, was tattooed over every square inch of his body by his persecutors.

Bomb's-Eye View Of New York

It would be just too bad for those Manhattan skyscrapers in the photo above were enemy planes instead of the U. S. Army's giant Boeings on their way to demonstrate how they can protect the eastern seaboard from an invading enemy fleet. They were en route to New York rendezvous of nearly 200 combat aircraft that will participate in the great aerial games this month. Three thousand men were involved, 2300 of them being transported by air in the largest aerial mobilization of manpower in the history of American aviation.

LAST OF BUFFALOES

DENVER (AP)—"That's the last of the buffaloes," Mark A. Skinner, superintendent of the United States mint here, remarked as he broke up the casts used in manufacturing 350,000 buffalo nickels.

Skinner is awaiting arrival of new dies for the Jefferson model nickel recently approved by the Roosevelt administration to replace the old style ones.

Denver's mint was the only one in the nation that produced the old nickels under a 1938 date. The other mints completed their quotas in 1937.

A medical board appointed by the federal government in 1901 discovered that mosquitoes transmit yellow fever.

Dutcher's News Of Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

Rodney Dutcher,

WASHINGTON, May 19.—There is nothing that gives more delight to Washington gossips than the stirring up of a factional fight in some government department.

Not even the White House has been immune from these rows, when there have been differences of opinion among presidential advisers, and now the gossips are trying to make the most out of the case of the rest of the Supreme Court vs. Justice Black.

New Deal friends of the ex-senator from Alabama have been rushing to his defense with favorable analyses of his lone-wolf dissenting opinions, first reported in this column last February.

Black's supporters now claim that recently the Court reversed a vital 96-year-old opinion in the Tompkins case, two weeks after Black had taken the same position in a one-man dissent.

Republican leader Bert Shell, after the spending-lending program had been called "a shot in the arm" by one of its friends: "You really think this is a shot in the arm and will have no lasting benefit?"

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum: "Whether it is a shot in the arm, a slap on the back or a kick in the pants, if it starts things again it is worth the cost."

Over The Ocean

Ambassador Joe Kennedy was a potent conservative influence in Washington. But he can't spread his influence across the Atlantic Ocean. As Maritime Commission chairman, Kennedy emphatically demanded compulsory arbitration in the shipping industry, clashing with Secretary of Labor Perkins. After Kennedy went to London Miss Perkins kept lobbying quietly and the result was a committee bill providing a special maritime labor board and dropping the Kennedy plan.

Kennedy was more influential than any other administration adviser in dissuading the President from turning earlier to an enlarged spending program.

Philosophy In Politics

Washington has professors of everything except philosophy and its likely to have one of those after the November election in the person of Prof. T. V. Smith, running for congressman-at-large in Illinois. Smith is a Chicago university professor of philosophy and an author who made regular radio talks for the Democrats in the 1936 campaign. He is chummy with Roosevelt and numerous brain-trusters.

On May 21 he broadcasts on a national hookup in an argument between a philosopher and a politician. Smith takes both parts. It ought to be pretty good or pretty awful.

Rivers Pepped By Pepper

The victory of Senator Claude Pepper, 100 per cent New Dealer, in the recent Florida primaries has disturbed the mental peace of Senator Walter F. George, anti-administration Democrat. It is said to have encouraged Georgia's governor, E. D. Rivers, who had been thinking of running against George on a New Deal platform.

Although Mr. Roosevelt pointedly complimented him at Gainesville while omitting reference to George, Rivers is receiving little encouragement from Washington.

Democratic National Committee Treasurer Lawrence "Chip" Robert, another Georgian, has been reported as promoting George. If that's true it's a private, personal effort on Robert's part—to date, at least.

The Story So Far: Quanomet is aroused when its citizens are caricatured in the post office mural. The next night the artist's wife, unscrupulous Marina Lorne, is murdered with her sister's knife. Pamela Frye appeals to Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, telling him she found $50,000 worth of ambergris which Marina tried to claim, and hid it after discovering Marina dead in the garage. Because Asey indicates that someone in the woods, smoking Turkish tobacco, is listening, she announces a false hidingplace for the ambergris. Pam hides under the wharf as police arrive. They are sure Pam is the murderer, but Doctor Cummings swears it was done by a left handed person.

Chapter Seven
Danger

"An' furthermore," Asey continued tranquilly, "I'm sort of sick an' tired of doin' Hanson's work for him. He says this is clear as crystal, you say it ain't. Can't you compromise on the girl's husband? Honest, I'm sleepy, an' this don't move me much one way or the other. Kind of a commonplace murder, when you come right down to it. Girl stabbed. That's all there is to it. Girl stabbed. Now, if you had quintuplets hung in a row, or someone stood up against the mural an' mowed down with a machine gun, why that'd be diff'rent. But—girl stabbed!"

The doctor gaped at him.

"Well, really," he said. 'Really! If that's the way you feel—come on, Hanson. Let's battle it out to a finish—ouch! Ow! Asey, why can't you fix your damned wharf? I nearly broke my neck on that loose board!"

Asey watched them stride up the path—listened to the cars as they roared off in the direction of Quanomet.

'Okay, Pam," he said. "Come on out. Are you frozen?"

She swung herself up on the wharf. "No, the water's not so cold—Asey, why'd you do that? Why didn't you go over?"

"Because," Asey said, "I didn't want to leave you wanderin' around loose to catch pneumonia, or meet up with our fine feathered friend the listener, who ought to be comin' back pretty soon to find out more about the ambergris. I think. Hustle up to the house. We got things to think about."

Pam chuckled. "Now that the sheer terror is beginning to wear off," she said, "I'm almost enjoying myself Cummings—isn't he an old lamb? I nearly gigled out loud when he yelled at that loose board—he really didn't trip, you know. He just yelled because he was sore at you, and he had to take it out some way."

"He yelled," Asey said, "because I pinched him from the rear. He'll be back shortly, an' find out what's goin' on. The doc's got consid'rable more brains than most folks, includin' Hanson, suspect."

Unknown Watcher

Up in his house, Asey unstrapped a suitcase and rummaged through it.

"Here," he said triumphantly, producing a pair of flannels, "I knew these was in the clean lot. They got shrunk so they're about your size, an' here's a shirt. An' a sweater I was bringin' home to Betsey Porter, but your need's greater'n hers. Upstairs, first left, there's a bathroom. Take a hot bath, please, an' a cold shower, an' I'll leave food in the bedroom next door. You stay up there while I do some organizin'."

There was cold roast beef in his refrigerator, potato salad and a custard pie—all donations from his cousin Syl's wife. With the deftness acquired from his earlier days at sea, when he was a cook, Asey dressed up a tray, brewed coffee, and concocted a hot toddy.

He never thought to pull down the shades in his kitchen, nor did it occur to him to look outside the window, where a figure watched with interest as Asey left with the heaped-up tray for Pam. Asey returned, sat down at the kitchen table and ate his own meal. At its conclusion, he toyed with the carving knife beside the platter of beef.

Knives. He knew all about knives. He had learned about knives in a series of installments over a long period of years, and from a strange and widely scattered assortment of people. There was that Jamaican cook and his razor sharp cutlass, and the dagger of an Italian mate, and the stiletto of that Spaniard in Hong Kong. The Spaniard and Asey had got to be friends, later; he'd taught Asey a lot about knives and knives needed knowing. Practically any fool could pull a triggger, but a neat stabbing, such as this seemed to be—that took a bit of skill.

Asey balanced the carving knife. Somewhere around the house he had a jackknife with a six inch blade. For fun, he'd get it out. Probably he'd be no use with it. You had to keep in trim to play with knives.

The watcher outside stared intently, and fondled the gun in a hip pocket. Actually neither Asey nor the girl had to be killed. Asey would be put out of business, and—well, if there were trouble with the girl—

Slowly the gun was raised.

Knock at the Door

Asey continued to finger the carving knife. It had on the whole a nice balance. He flexed his writs, and then on sudden impulse hurled the knife at the bread board, hanging on the wall next to the window. Instinctively, the watcher ducked.

"Huh," Asey said to himself with quiet pride, watching the knife quiver in the exact center of the soft pine board, "it must be like bicyclin': You don't forget."

He wrenched the knife from the board, and standing in the far corner of the room, hurled it twice more. Both times it hit within a quarter of an inch of the center.

The watcher returned the gun to his pocket.

A few minutes later the knocker on Asey's front door sounded.

The insistence of that continued rat-a-tat did more than jerk Asey back from his reminiscences and his knife throwing; it made him keenly aware of his stupidity in shilly-shallying when he should have been indulging in a good dose of constructive and thoughtful planning.

"Fool!" Asey murmured to himself. "Dum fool, you even left the shades up!"

And anyone over two feet tall, approaching that side door from the back of the house, might well have been watching him for the last 20 minues. Asey gritted his teeth and summed up his own mental caliber in a few terse nautical phrases.

En route to the door, he detoured into a bedroom and rummaged in a traveling bag. Finally he brought forth his favorite Colt, the old single action Army forty-five, which he thrust into his belt. To think of it! Think that he could have sat there like a lump, fiddling with that knife! As if he hadn't a single care in the world.

The trail of reproachful murmurings accompanied him as he slid through the dark hallway; he would have greeted with merriment, at that moment, any suggestion that his knife fiddling had probably saved his skin.

Snapping on the outside light, he peered through the curtained side glass at the stranger who stood on the millstone doorstep.

Tomorrow: The stranger is left handed and smokes Turkish tobacco.

MAY OPEN SOME EYES

First reaction to such catastrophic horrors as the recent Atlanta hotel fire in which more than a score of persons lost their lives is apt to be one of amazement that such things can happen in this supposedly enlightened land of ours.

The age of that building and the rapidity with which the flames cut off all means of exit permits no deduction other than that the structure must have contained fire hazards obvious to the most casual inspection. The natural conclusion must be that whoever inspected the building must have reasoned that such a fire was one of those things that could, but would not happen.

As anyone knows who has had occasion to inspect southern cities which are old, and some not so old, they are honey-combed with structures built in younger days when fire regulations were less rigid and when there was no such thing as real fire-proofing. The structures have been permitted to stand for various reasons—chief of which has been that to order them razed might injured someone politically.

Perhaps the Atlanta horror may cause some of those cities to take stock of conditions and perhaps it may be a means of preventing similar or even worse catastrophes elsewhere. If so, the tragedy will have written something—though very little—to its credit side of the ledger.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—Since the recent death of Jiggs, the movies' No. 1 chimpanzee, a 5-year-old chimp named Shorty Haeseler has become the anthropoid star of Hollywood.

Shorty is the protegee of John Haeseler, who appropriately enough was an anthropologist before he began monkeying around with movie shorts featuring Shorty and a younger jungle cousin named Ditto. Appropriately, too, Mrs. Haeseler is a child psychologist, and she has helped bring up the chimps with advanced methods of kindergarten education.

He Dishes It Out

Shorty was adopted at the age of 3 months.

He can ride a bicycle, roller skate, walk a tightrope, box, and do almost anything he sees anyone else do. Even act.

In "I'll Give a Million," at 20th-Fox, he boxes and wrestles with Jean Hersholt, who is a clown in a French circus. After the first few days Hersholt had to be equipped with a baseball catcher's chest protector under his clothes, because Shorty doesn't know his strength, nor how to pull his punches. The actor is black and blue from punches and pinches, and he wishes that when the picture is finished they'd let him go just one real round with the tough little chimp.

Warner Baxter, who plays a millionaire masquerading as a tramp, is one of Shorty's favorites on the set because he usually is smoking a cigaret. Shorty loves to smoke. He got the habit from Haesler, who eventually switched to a pipe and tried unsuccessfully to persuade Shorty to change, too.

Shorty prefers blonds, but he isn't exactly a gentleman. He has taken a dislike to Marjorie Weaver and has pinched her, bitten her and torn off and smashed her wrist watch. One day he tried munching on her big toe, which had a red-lacquered nail and was protruding invitingly from a sandal.

The chimp is part of a running gag in "I'll Give a Million." He is supposed to know jiu-jitsu, and when anyone shakes hands with him he tosses the victim into a tailspin.

Another part of his job is to operate fire alarm boxes, and he really has been taught how to do that. Haesler has to fasten him in the seat of the car when they go home at night, or firebug Shorty would leap out and turn in alarms.

Material-Minded

Bribery will persuade him to do almost anything. When there is a particularly difficult piece of business to do on the set, Haeseler brings a bottle of pop, shows it to Shorty, and promises it after the scene is done. Usually the take is okayed on the next try.

When the refreshment wagon comes to the sound stage Shorty is given a quarter to buy himself some pop. He takes it, pays over the money, and waits for change. If the change isn't forthcoming he screams and pounds on the wagon. Haeseler always is careful to give him a quarter instead of a nickel, because Shorty would demand change from a nickel and would wreck the vendor's cart if he didn't get it.

As is the case with many actors, he receives credit for a lot of acting that he doesn't do. For Ditto is his double. Not so well trained as Shorty, Ditto is put in his place for some of the simpler scenes when the star gets tired and jittery.

Prospects

This picture makes Shorty a star; he gets screen credit and a salary of $400 a week, with a three-week guarantee. He'll work more than four weeks, though, and afterward will be featured in a series of short subjects.

Although he's getting a little rough and willful now, he probably can go right on acting for a good many years. Most chimps become unmanageable when they are about 5, but Haeseler took the precaution of having a dentist give him an anesthetic and pull his long, sharp canine teeth.

At home Shorty and Ditto receive exactly the same training and attention. They used to have excellent table manners, but they no longer dine with the family because they began demanding extra desserts, and tossed tantrums when they were ordered to eat their spinach. They sleep in a room of their own which has a double-deck iron bed.

Meeting The Demand

DES MOINES, Ia.—The Iowa Works Progress administration has found an active market when it comes to skunk tails.

It appealed for six to make authentic reproductions of the head-dress of Indian Chief Black Hawk to be used in pageants. Offers poured in by mail and telegraph. Tails from far-scattered donors arrived by parcel post. Six were received from as far east as Easton, Penn.

Future Vote

CUMBERLAND, Md.—Councilmen, ready to act on an important tax rate measure, fretted for two hours awaiting the arrival of Mayor Thomas W. Koon.

But the mayor—also a physician—was answering a "please hurry" call that wouldn't wait.

"It's a girl," he announced, when he reached city hall.

Kill And Or Kill

CHILOQUIN, Ore.—Jake Polin's dog had fits, so he had it shot. A few days later the dog reappeared. Mrs. Polin was so startled she fainted.

The bullet had only creased the dog's skull. Furthermore, the pet no longer had fits.

19—Livestock For Sale

Closing of this week found us with numerous order buyers, but not enough good butcher cattle were included in this week's offerings to supply their needs.

The trade interests are generally agreeable on the one point that values are 25 to 50c higher for the week.

With prices advancing sharply, as they are now doing, we are expecting you to bring us in good butcher cattle so that we can fill our buyers' orders.

With our sales—both Tuesday and Friday—beginning at 10:00 a. m. it enables you to get your stock sold and collected for at much earlier hour than was the case in the past when the sales started at 1:00 p. m.

We have the buyers—you bring us the cattle, and we feel sure you will be pleased with the returns your cattle will bring you.

Jap Commander Watches Battle From Airplane

SHANGHAI, May 19. (AP)—General Count Juichi Terauchi, commander of Japan's North China armies, today watched the desperate struggle for strategic Suchow from an airplane over the city, according to Domei, Japanese News agency.

The Japanese leader was able to make a leisurely survey while his men fought their way into the vital railway junction, because no Chinese planes took the air and anti-aircraft batteries had been silenced. Japanese said they had occupied all but the southern part of Suchow.

World's Most Modern Testing Plant Being Rushed By Navy

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The navy is rushing work on the world's most modern model testing plant in preparation for building a billion dollars' worth of newly authorized warships.

Officials said today they expected the new plant at nearby Carderock, Md., to be ready next May 1, two months ahead of original plans. Revising cost estimates upward to $3,500,000, President Roosevelt has asked congress for an additional $500,000 appropriation for the project.

Meanwhile, demands for tests of ship models are taxing facilities at the Washington navy yard to such a degree that double-shift operations may become necessary, officials disclosed.

Scientifically scaled models of every warship and most of the passenger and cargo vessels built in this country are tested at the navy yard prior to construction.

Life Of Blindness May End In Sight For 52-Year-Old Man

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 19. (AP)—Light made an impression today upon Richard L. Willis, 52, for the first time since birth.

A surgeon flashed a strong light before his left eye, uncovered of its bandages, and after a life of blindness, the Nashville, Tenn., man exclaimed:

"My goodness, what a bright light!"

It was a "very good sign," the physician said—a sign that indicated Willis might some day see.

Two weeks ago Willis underwent a corneal transplant in a Memphis eye clinic—taking to his eye a portion of the "eye window" from the useless eye of a woman.

Christus Of Noted Passion Plays Dies

MUNICH, Germany, May 19. (AP)—Anton Lang, simple Bavarian potter famed the world over for his portrayals of Christ in the historic Oberammergau passion plays, died in a Munich hospital last night at the age of 63.

He was operated on for a stomach ailment Tuesday.

Following a tradition of his family, and trained almost from birth for the role, Lang played the Christus in the passion plays of 1900, 1910, and 1922.

His expressive head, with long blond curls, his average stature, his quiet manner—all combined to represent in him the traditional Germanic ideal of the Saviour.

Lang had the unusual distinction of playing Christ three times in the play, ordinarily given only once every ten years by the little Bavarian villagers.

In the 1930 production and a special production in 1934 Lang, by this time aged, gave up the role to Alois Lang, to whom he was not related but he remained a principal figure by acting as speaker of the prologue in both plays.

Cardenas' Address

Cedillo must surrender arms and ammunition, and his "private army" of possibly 50,000 men must be absorbed into the regular army as an auxiliary group.

Apparently linking Cedillo with asserted efforts to stir the people against expropriation of foreign oil companies, effected March 18, Cardenas charged that the general's "agents" both at home and abroad sought "proselytes for an inconceivable rebellion."

Tried To Find Traitors

"Before and after the expropriation of the foreign oil companies," the president continued, "agents at the service of the same companies, they too tried to find traitors."

But their efforts were fruitless, Cardenas told a crowd of San Luis townfolk, because "the Mexican people have united to defend the fatherland interests."

Despite those who would like the government to neglect the organization for the working class, leaving them at the whims and judgment of those who own the wealth and culture," Cardenas avowed that the program of Mexico for Mexicans would go on.

"The revolution plans, organizes, toward the people's welfare," he said.

Cardenas is to stay here ten days then go on to Tampico for inspection of the expropriated oil properties.

It was announced that General Felix Areta had been assigned to the Michoacan military post intended for Cedillo, and there was some unofficial talk of an effort to oust officials of San Luis who have been friendly to the general.

One source said a congressional resolution was under consideration and that it would urge removal of the San Luis government.

Delegates said a committee recommendation for uniting with the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. (North) was certain to evoke heated debate.

No vote on uniting was expected at this assembly, but Southern Presbyterians were to be "felt out" on the issue of continuing negotiations.

Parking Meter Collections In City Show Drop During Week

Parking meter collections for the four-day period through Tuesday totaled $320, an average of $80 a day, according to a collection report made at the city hall this morning.

The average is somewhat below the $87 per day record maintained since the holidays. Officials, however, attributed the drop, which they had predicted, to seasonal conditions and to the fact that large scale planting has been started by farmers.

Officials insisted that recent local controversies centering about the meters has had no effect on the revenues, police reporting that the number of "tickets" for violation of the parking meter ordinance has not been above average.

Oregon's Vote

was "disappointed" in Martin.

The governor countered Ickes' statement by insisting on his loyalty to President Roosevelt but asserting he was "no rubber stamp."

Martin, a critic of various New Deal agencies, once referred to Secretary of Labor Perkins as "that miserable secretary" and has campaigned against what he called labor "racketeers" in his state.

Wounds Of Pennsylvania's Split Are Slow To Heal

PHILADELPHIA, May 19. (AP)—Wounds of Pennsylvania's Democratic primary campaign fight were slow to heal today in the face of a united front quickly mustered by Republicans for the November general election.

Labor Leader John L. Lewis and Senator Joseph F. Guffey, whose candidates were repulsed by a slate of the Democratic state committee, refrained from announcing their position in the fall inter-party struggle.

Thomas Kennedy, the defeated Lewis-Guffey gubernatorial candidate, and other state CIO leaders issued statements denying the vote constituted repudiation of their program, but they made no commitments on the November lineup.

Republicans, overcoming their own factional difficulties, were jubilant. In Washington, national chairmen of the two parties exchanged caustic comment.

Hamilton Makes Statement

Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican national committee said in a statement the results showed the "handwriting on the wall" for the New Deal and indicated "certain victory" for his party in Pennsylvania's general election.

Postmaster General James A. Farley, setting out to restore New Deal harmony in the state, took time to make this report: "The Republican national chairman is, I suppose, within his political rights in making an idiotic prophecy." Farley recalled Hamilton's 1936 election night statement that Alf Landon had been elected.

May's Building Sets New Total

Another building record toppled with the issuance of permits this morning which sent construction totals for May above that for the whole of the corresponding month last year, according to report at the city building inspector's office.

Authorization of $16,337 in new construction in the 24-hour period to noon today increased the total for the month to $162,782, as compared with $159,988 for the whole of May, 1937. It became the fifth consecutive month this year to exceed the total of the corresponding month in 1937.

loads were to be divided among three other planes which will connect with trans-continental services. One of the planes was to operate along a route between Amarillo and San Antonio and one each was sponsored by Amarillo and Big Spring Chambers of Commerce. All originally were scheduled to arrive at 3:10 p. m. and depart 10 minutes later.

The chamber of commerce was advised this morning, however, that the Big Spring plane would arrive and depart about an hour ahead of that schedule. Request was made that all mail be placed aboard that ship. Officials said, however, that the original plan of division, which is intended to speed mail as quickly as possible to its destination, would be followed.

A brief program scheduled at the airport before the Amarillo-San Antonio and the Amarillo planes depart was to include talks by H. C. Pender, acting head of the government department at Texas Technological college; John R. Green, superintendent of mails here; W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools; and Breedlove. Howard was to be master of ceremonies.

Rail Wages Cut

up last week pending a study of railroad objections to certain financial provisions.

To Ask For Views

Wagner said that within the next week he would ask representatives of railroad management and labor, previously united on the financial program, to express their views in the light of the wage cut proposal.

In a letter to Wagner, Chairman Jesse Jones of the R. F. C., said:

"In view of questions that have been raised about wage decreases, particularly in the lower paid brackets, I feel your committee should satisfy itself on this question before the bill is considered."

Jones told Wagner that the principal purpose of the loan program was to "provide for loans that would put railroad employes back to work, largely in the lower paid brackets, employes who have been furloughed, discharged or put on a part time basis by the roads in an effort to avoid bankruptcy."

FDR May Have Lost Ground

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A major question, the Pennsylvania primary over, is whether the result lessened President Roosevelt's chances of forcing wage-hour and government reorganization bills through congress before adjournment.

Some observers agreed that the defeat of the CIO-backed Kennedy campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, despite support of Senator Guffey, New Deal stalwart, and intervention of National Chairman Farley, represented a reverse for the White House, tending to off-set its triumph in the Florida party sentiment test. If wavering Democrats in senate or house take the same views it may seriously complicate the president's pre-adjournment program.

Farley Plan Rejected

The Farley harmony plan was vigorously rejected by Democratic primary voters. They picked, instead, the complete slate of the organization faction.

An immediate consequence of defeat of the CIO-Guffey-Kennedy drive to take over party control is to leave the selection of Pennsylvania's delegation to the next Democratic national convention in the hands of the Lawrence-McCloskey-Kelly-Earle faction. While no open hostility to President Roosevelt or his policies marked the primary, the winning faction made John L. Lewis and the CIO the major issue as against Farley's move to keep the New Deal-CIO alliance intact.

To Washington observers, the primary results looked very much like a sign of definite and far-spreading anti-CIO sentiment in Pennsylvania, in both Democratic and Republican ranks.

Another factor indicating trouble for the administration in other populous industrial states is the effect of the primary on the American Federation of Labor. The defeat of the CIO candidate in Pennsylvania is likely to encourage the A. F. of L. to campaign vigorously against the CIO wherever a CIO backed Democrat is up.

Gly-Cas Did Not Fail As Many Other Remedies Failed

Night Risings, Upset Stomach And Constipation Made Life Miserable; Then Laxative-Tonic Amazes

"I can highly recommend Gly-Cas as the MASTER MEDICINE," said Mr. J. B. Sullivan, 414 N. 17th St., McAllen, Texas. "For the past 20 years my life had been a drudgery.

MR. J. B. SULLIVAN

My stomach simply would not digest my food properly, foods would sour and I felt like I could vomit. I suffered continual headaches, constipation and was sluggish and worn-out all the time. Then my kidneys became disordered. It was not at all uncommon for me to rise as many as six times each night because of their too frequent action. My back pained almost impossible to do my work. I seemed to be getting worse each day. Then Gly-Cas was brought to my attention and my health troubles were soon corrected after giving it a trial."

"Gly-Cas went to the source of my trouble in a gentle but quick way and begun to root out that which was causing me so much suffering," continued Mr. Sullivan. "In no time at all my bowels and kidneys were regulated and that dreadfully sluggish feeling is gone, I get good sound sleep each night and my stomach gives me no distress. My food digests in a normal manner and I certainly do praise Gly-Cas for giving me back my health."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.
