Four File Names For C-City Council

Two more candidates jumped into the race for seats on City Council here Friday to make it a four-way contest for three posts.

R. J. Hoback, city councilman whose first term expires in April, filed his intention of seeking re-election. That gives the city election two incumbents. Dr. John H. Chinn, tried for re-election to a third term late Wednesday.

First to file with the city clerk, Mollie Lou Waggoner, was Henry Lewis, last to add his name to the list was Winston W. Smith, perennial objector who has made two previous unsuccessful tries for a council seat.

Henry L. Lewis, newcomer to city politics, is owner of Lewis Tax Service and president of Colorado City Properties, Inc., the corporation which now owns the Baker Hotel here. He is active in both civic and church affairs and serves the 22nd and Austin St. Church of Christ as a deacon.

Lewis was honored by the Jaycees with the Distinguished Service Award in 1961, is a member of Colorado City Lions Club. He and Mrs. Lewis are parents of five children and live at 1232 Vine St.

John H. Chinn, M. D., is completing his second term as member of City Council and is currently serving as mayor pro tem. Also the father of five children, he and his wife and family live at 145 East 14th St.

Westbrook Pioneer, Bell, Dies Tuesday

Joe Bell Jr., 78, uncle of three Mitchell County citizens and member of a pioneer Westbrook family, died in Brownfield about 2 a. m. Tuesday.

He was the uncle of John J. Bell, 920 Rusk St.; W. A. Bell and Mrs. F. S. Brown, Westbrook. In the late 80's and early 90's he, himself, lived in Westbrook. He was son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell Sr.

Bell Jr., married to Nancy Melissa Wintfree in Pecos, began operating the only tailor shop in Stanton in 1904. In 1925 the family moved to Fisher county for five years. From 1930 until 1960 they again lived in Stanton. He maintained farms in Martin and Midland counties until he retired and then moved to Brownfield.

He was an active member of the Baptist Church in both Stanton and Brownfield. His wife, three sons, six daughters, 27 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren survive. Funeral and burial was Wednesday in Midland.

TESCO To Build Huge New Morgan Creek Unit

FOR PLANT ADDITION

Council, Company Talk Canal Needs at Park

A 50-foot wide canal, now Texas Electric Company officials could collect with City per minute will be built as Council Saturday.

of the 200-foot wide canal, extending addition to Morgan Creek Power Plant.

And it was this factor in the huge expansion that caused the holdup in announcement of the entire project until for re-locating park facilities.

away from the site presently leased free by the city from TESCO.

That's what the TESCO City Council meeting was about Saturday—an informal discussion regarding the possibility of moving park facilities to another site on the lake.

Lake the first canal, this second canal will return water to lake after it has been circulated through big steam condensers of the power generating units at the plant. It's opening into Lake Colorado City must be an adequate distance from the first canal.

Texas Electric officials, headed by Beeman Fisher, president, assured City Council TESCO would cooperate with the city in "every practical way" in re-locating park facilities.

"This new expansion by Texas Electric at Morgan Creek Power Plant is a great step in the advancement and progress of Colorado City," said Dr. John Chinn, mayor pro tem.

"We commend Texas Electric for its continuous program of keeping ahead of the electric power needs of this great West Texas area and, at the same time, express our appreciation for selection of Colorado City as the site for this tremendous new expansion."

Texas Electric and the citizens of Colorado City can be assured that city officials welcome the opportunity to work in cooperation for final development of this project.

Land for the present Lake Colorado City Park was leased to the city several years ago at token fee of one dollar per year—with the understanding that the park site might be needed in the future for further development of the power plant.

Officials of the company said Saturday that TESCO does not own any other land on the east side of the lake which it could make available for a new park, but that it does own a tract of land on the lake's west side which the city may want to consider for park use.

This west side site is larger than the park area now utilized by the city on the east side.

Construction To Start Next September at Lake

Texas Electric Service Company Saturday announced it will build a half million kilowatt electric generating unit as an addition to its Morgan Creek Power Plant at Lake Colorado City.

Beeman Fisher, president of TESCO, revealed the huge construction project at a conference Saturday morning with City Council.

His announcement confirmed rumors which have been circulated in Colorado City for several weeks.

The big new generating unit will cost approximately $30,000,000 and will make Colorado City's Morgan Creek Plant one of the largest electric generating plants in the entire Southwest, Fisher said.

When this new unit is completed, the plant will have a total generating capability of 833,000 kilowatts—two and one-half times the present size of Morgan Creek Power Plant.

Fisher, who came to Colorado City with other TESCO officials for the precise purpose of announcing the giant project from Colorado City rather than his company's Fort Worth headquarters, said preliminary design work has been under way for several weeks pending final decision to locate the plant unit here.

Orders for equipment will be placed immediately, he said.

Actual construction work is expected to begin at the lake site next September. And the plant is to be completed and tested for operation in early 1967.

Approximately 200 workers and supervisors will be employed in construction and installation during the two-year expansion project.

Fisher said that rapid and continuing growth of the area served by the company—as well as forecasts for continued growth—prompted TESCO to decide some months ago to build the new unit.

However, location for the unit was not decided until studies were completed.

"Many factors had to be considered in selecting a site," Fisher said. "Chief of these factors involved an adequate water supply and technical matters in the efficient operation of the entire company power system which extends from the Fort Worth area to beyond the Pecos river in West Texas."

The company has ample water here to supply cooling water for the big steam condensers of the plant—it owns Lake Colorado City as well as the adjacent Champion Creek Lake. These lakes are connected by pipeline and Colorado City purchases its municipal water supply from these lakes.

Natural gas to fire the big boiler of the new power generating unit, as well as the boilers of the five existing units, will be supplied by a big 16-inch pipeline being completed now by the Odessa Natural Gasoline Company from near Crane to the Morgan Creek Plant and by the Lone Star Gas Company system.

The huge boiler of the new unit will be 202,000 cubic feet in size, as compared with the 104,000 cubic foot boiler of the largest unit now at the plant, and will consume nearly five million cubic feet of gas an hour under full load.

The new steel tower transmission line recently completed between Odessa and Fort Worth, which ties into the Morgan Creek Plant and other plants of the company, is a vital part of the company's orderly development of its strong power system, the TESCO president said.

This "backbone" line, now operating at 138,000 volts, is capable of transmitting large blocks of power. A double conductor or "bundled" second circuit is now being added to this line between the Morgan Creek plant and Odessa. This work is to be completed in the spring, and the second circuit will be added to the line between Fort Worth and the company power plant near Graham, with completion scheduled for next year.

The "backbone" line between Odessa and Fort Worth is to be converted to 345,000 volt operation in 1967 when the new unit at Morgan Creek Plant goes into operation.

Also included in the overall construction program is the installation of large new substations at various load centers.

Texas Electric Service Company's power system is interconnected to the power systems of Dallas Power & Light Company and the Texas Power & Light Company, Fisher said. The latter system also is interconnected with the system of Houston Lighting and Power Company.

By 1967 these interconnected systems will include 345,000 volt lines from Odessa to the Ft. Worth area and south to Houston and will tie together more than 100 power plants with capability of over 10 million kilowatts, Fisher added.

Interconnections with systems of other companies.

Central Baptists Sign Contract for Building

Central Baptist Church and Southland Church Contractors Inc. of Houston have signed a contract for a new church building here at 17th and Hickory Sts. to cost a total of $85,000.

Sanctuary and educational facilities will be erected on property purchased by church members in 1962. Plans call for 6,000 square feet of floor space with an auditorium seating 300 persons and education rooms to accommodate 200. Exterior of the building will be brick veneer with stained glass windows and composition roof. Interior specifications call for supports of exposed laminated arches coordinated with matching furniture and padded pews. Carpeting will add to beauty and comfort of the new church building.

Construction should get underway in the latter part of April and building is expected to be complete within four months, according to Charles T. King, president of Southland Church Contractors, Inc. who was in Colorado City for a recent meeting with Central Baptist members and their pastor, Rev. Sam Woolcock.

"It is a privilege and a challenge for our people to engage in this building venture for the spiritual concern of our community," said Rev. Woolcock.

Building committee for the project are V. W. Matlock, chairman; Leroy Culbertson, E. J. Lelew, and Rev. Woolcock.

Southland Church Contractors, in the contract signing meeting, assured members that the company "will employ as many material locally as we can, so that we can be a help to the city in which the church will minister." Subcontract bidding will be accepted by the firm from local firms and trades.

Central Baptist Church members, now numbering over 200, are meeting at present at Highway 163 and New Street, home of the church for the past 13 years. Plans are to turn the old church property into a Latin American Baptist mission after Central Baptist congregation moves to the new building.

is a member of the Rhode-Cowan clinic staff and of Root Memorial Hospital staff.

R. J. Hoback, co-owner of Colorado Feed & Seed, announced his decision to stand for re-election in a second term as member of City Council one day before deadline date for filing. Hoback, member of First Methodist Church, is a director of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce. He serves on the Chambers Agricultural Committee and is active in all agriculture projects as teacher of school, town and county livestock shows and contests.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoback, parents of two children, live at 1513 Watson St.

Winston W. Smith, fourth man to file, is the twice-defeated hopeful. Smith, in the roofing business, lives at 325 Sheppan St. He and Mrs. Smith have three children and are members of First Baptist Church.

Actively campaigning on his "reform" platform, in both 1962 and 1963, Smith's chief bid for public notice has been his oft-repeated protest against the city manager form of government. It was Smith who headed up a recent petition to City Council seeking changes in City Charter, repeal of City Charter passage of ordinances by City Council and repeal of ordinances by City Council. Improper legal form was ruled by the city attorney as the petition was worded and presented, bearing 254 names.

Smith has wound up low man on the totem-pole in both his earlier campaigns. In 1962 he polled 179 of a total 566 votes and Hoback's 499. Last year, Smith received 129 votes as compared to C. G. Harkins' tally of 498.

"There is no need for the Federal government to spend any money to build facilities to interconnect the systems of the companies which make up this Texas grid. These companies realized the advantages of interconnections many years ago and built these facilities with funds provided by investors in the securities of the companies," Fisher said.

CONVERSATION CORNER

AMBITIONS are praiseworthy things to have, usually. Every human being worth the baking powder in his biscuit has an ambition or two.

Except for the ambition of somebody, somewhere, there'd never be another good book written. Or maybe another bed made-up in this world.

Ambition, coupled with curiosity, is responsible for all the accomplishments of all the ages—both in science and in the arts.

THERE are, of course, two kinds of ambition in every heart that beats. Two very different kinds.

The first kind may or may not be much fun. It is the obvious variety which drives men to make money while destroying their bodies, drives women to the brink of nervous prostration while they battle for social status, or maybe for the perfect house. (No relation to home.)

That first kind of ambition is the sort that eats away at its host and brings frustration in the raw when that ambition is thwarted or never quite fully realized.

SECOND kind of ambition is dearer to this heart. It's in the class with a cockeyed little dream. You don't even expect it to come true. But you can dream, can't you?

What's your secret ambition? The one you never tell or almost never?

The second kind of ambition is like a little lullaby. It soothes and rocks to sleep and entertains. Everybody needs a secret world ambition to take away the sting of serious ambitions too big for their britches.

MORE ridiculous your secret ambition is, the more inspiring it can be. And the more amusing, when you need to smile to yourself.

Our own, naturally, is like winning the Pulitzer Prize upon occasion it's owning a helicopter for landing in the Big D yard of our Mother and returning to C. City in time for supper.

Other times it turns into sitting on a platform with an orchid corsage while crowds hail. What the crowds hail is not quite clear. Just so they cheer something or other.

Used to fancy running for the State Senate. And getting elected, of course. Discarded that ambition. It got too sounding like too much trouble.

FINEST secondary ambition we ever heard expressed was voiced by a favorite person, years ago. He was our brother Charles.

"If I had the money," he said one day while we were traveling and lunching together, "I'd buy up every chicken in the State of Texas."

"You'd get rich," we encouraged appreciatively.

"And then," he went on as if he hadn't heard the interruption, "I'd rent me a barge and tow 'em all out into the middle of the Gulf of Mexico. And sink every damned one of 'em."

OFFICE visitors since last mention have been Mrs. Ruth Airhart... Mrs. Mike Lomas and her little daughter who looks like a dolly... Homer Bodine behind a big cigar... Mrs. R. J. Hoback (whose name is Nell and whose looks are lovely) and her blond daughter Anne.

Also Sam Thompson... R. T. Manuel... Frances Witten (Mrs. George) talking library... and tall, fair-haired Father: Carlos whose name is Edwin Krzewinski. He's of Polish ancestry and was born in Minnesota, reared in San Antonio.

ALSO in for a little farewell visit was Mrs. Maude (Tiner) Van Meter who has retired after nearly 30 years as a beauty shop owner here.

With her was her sister Mrs. Ethel House of Corpus Christi, where Mrs. Van Meter will visit for an indefinite time.

"We're going fishing," they smiled. For a longtime business woman there's a nice, relaxing ambition. And Mrs. Van Meter made it sound like a little secret dream coming true.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS: Saw Katherine Dorn (Mrs. Landon) of the long-time nose department... Acry Benson and Willis Jones... Dick Wistrad... Ray Noble... Lona Fritchett (Mrs. Travis) saying that her sister Lena Perler is now back from Miami... Bitsie Humphreys (Mrs. Pete) and Virginia Dearen (Mrs. Toby) in a court-house cola break.

Up at the hospital saw Mary B. Lee (Mrs. J. Ralph) who is recovering from pneumonia... and whose hospital room looked like a flower mart.

VIA Alexander Graham Bell... best and first... realized, had telephone visits with pleasant voices belonging to Frances Deregibus... Also her husband Flying Frank... niece John Chinn, M. D... R. J. Hoback who has a sorta infectious drawl... Elmer Martin, the county judge... Frank Ginzel, county attorney, who was just back from a business trip to Abilene... Mallie Lou Wallace, attractive city clerk... and bright voiced Mary Ruth Rudd, wife of Laurence H. Rudd, M. D.

Library Board Adds Two New Members

Library Board for Mitchell County Federation Library has been expanded.

According to Mrs. George O. Witten, chairman of the Library Board, two new members were appointed by the elected board.

"The two new members appointed to serve two-year terms are Mrs. Floyd Coffee, Loraine teacher, and George Womack, vice president of City National Bank in Colorado City."

"Addition of the two members, both library patrons of long standing and neither representing any group or organization, gives what we hope is a better balanced community-wide representation on the library board," said Mrs. Witten.

Resolution for increasing board membership was presented to Mitchell County Federation, recently, and was unanimously endorsed by that organization. Mitchell Federation founded the library which is now supported by Mitchell County funds.

"Since the library is serving a larger area than in the past, the board wants all the county to have a voice in operations and expansion of the library," said Mrs. Witten.

Expansion for the purpose of better serving the needs of the entire county has been going on for several months, now.

At the February meeting of the Federation a library consultant, Lowell Lindsey, was guest speaker. Lindsey is area field consultant of Texas State Library, Austin.

Among the facts and figures Lindsey presented after detailed study of the Mitchell County library facilities was the matter of library space.

The library here, housed in the Civic Hotel since June 1953, has a total of 1400 square feet of floor space. Library consultants recommended a minimum of 3500 square feet for a library serving towns of between 5,202 and 9,000 people. Counting the rest of Mitchell County's population as users of the library the minimum requirement would jump to 7,000 square feet.

Lowest rating given the library here came for lack of space.

Car Tag Sales Lag In Mitchell County

Three weeks and three days from now those 1963 car license tags become illegal.

Mitchell County drivers are "Still about 3,000 vehicles short" in the purchasing of new 1964 auto and truck licenses according to Tax Assessor/Collector Montie Hardegree.

A total of 1,040 passenger automobile license tags have been issued, Hardegree said. Another 109 farm trucks and pickups have been tagged with the new plates and 210 commercial trucks have been registered for this year.

April 1 is deadline date for cars wearing last year's tags. Drivers are reminded that car titles and last year's registration slips must be brought to the tax office when new tags are issued.

First step in trying to solve the old-and yet new again problem of space was two additional members for the library board to help tackle problems of the library's future growth.

Currently serving with Mrs. Witten on the expanded library board are Mrs. J. S. Craddock, Sr., treasurer; Mrs. H. Jene Steakley, secretary; Mrs. Austin McCloud, Mrs. A. L. Geer, president of the Federation and ex-officio member; Mrs. Boyd Dozier, librarian; Mrs. Coffee and Womack.

"Any drug is a potential killer," said Mrs. Carl Bell, guest speaker for the Monday meeting of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club in Medallion Room.

Mrs. Bell is a registered nurse and a volunteer worker with the county health nurse. She spoke on the subject, "Are Useful Drug Harmful?"

The speaker said that the United States is the only country that has a government act such as our Pure Food and Drug Act, which makes mandatory the stating of contents of drugs as well as foods. She told members to always read the labels of over-the-counter drug, and to not buy unless the contents are known.

"Why prescribed drugs are very low in capability—thus the doctor prescribes the drug in its pure state or the state best suited to the person and the illness," she explained.

Mrs. Bell told of her work at present in the testing of school-age children of Mitchell County for tuberculosis. Of over 800 cases the nurse has checked, there were ninety-three positive cases. When a positive case is found in a school child, the entire family is tested, therefore not all of the positive cases are school children, she said.

The volunteer nurse said that interest in combating this killer is lacking and funds are low. She told that it takes varying degrees of contact to become a candidate for tuberculosis; of the above statistics, one person in ten, or less, in Mitchell County has TB.

Mrs. B. J. Riley, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Cecil Erwin led the opening prayer. Reports were given by Mrs. Hubert Harris and Mrs. Tom Marricle. Mrs. Don Albright introduced a fund-raising opportunity. Mrs. J. R. Erwin introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Bell.

The club members present pledged their services to help in establishing a TB clinic where all persons in the county might be checked for the disease.

Attending were Mrs. B. J. Riley, C. Erwin, J. R. Erwin, Albright, Marricle, Mike Lomas, Harris, Jimmy Williams. Floating prize was won by Mrs. Riley.

Next meeting will be March 16 in the Medallion Room.

"TREASURE CHEST OF FASHIONS"

Country Club Hosts Spring Style Show

Young Ladies of Fashion Model at Show

Modeling fashions for the younger set at the "Treasure Chest of Fashions" Spring Style Show Saturday afternoon were Miss Edwina Walker, 2 1/2 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker, Misses Jean and Sue Costin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Costin, Miss Gayle Williams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams. Show was sponsored by the Ladies Association of the Colorado Country Club.

A "Treasure Chest of Fashions" opened Saturday afternoon to fill the Colorado Country Club with Spring and Easter fashions worn by models of all ages.

The Spring Fashion Tea was sponsored by the Ladies Association of the Country Club with Mrs. Bill Craig as general chairman.

Models entered through a portal accented with a tree of Spanish moss hung with gold coins and draped with gold fish net. Ramps outlined in yellow nylon rope led models to the stage, which was a simulated ship deck also outlined with yellow nylon rope. Mrs. H. Jene Steakley was commentator and gave a brief description of each ensemble as the model ascended and descended the stage.

Clothes modeled included those suitable for all occasions and all ages, from the very young style-conscious miss to the mature woman of fashion. Garments were shown for leisure activities, spectator events and dress-up occasions.

Walls of the clubhouse were draped in fish nets sprinkled with artificial fish, star fish and sea shells. Mantel decoration featured a Spanish-type chest of white and gold overflowing with jewelry.

Refreshments were served guests from a table laid in ivory linen with silver appointments. Centerpieces were formal of sea fans, bird of paradise, and blue iris, mingled with tropical foliage in a large black conch shell. Colors were orange, gold, yellow and blue.

Individual cedar treasure chest containing a small toiletry gift were presented to each guest. A drawing for door prizes, donated by participating merchants, Penney's, Anthony's, Landau's, Max Berman's and Mode-O-Day, and Bernard's Beauty Salon, Jackie's Beauty Clinic, Sam L. Majors, Corner Drug and Colorado Drug, was in charge of Mrs. A. G. Furlow, Jr.

Ninety garments were modeled by Meses. Trevlyn Kelley, Fred Marberry, John Denton, Darrell Bradley, Marion New, O. L. Simpson, Tex Keel, Doug Richardson, Joe Weaver, Jerry Konecny, Glenn Nolte, Jerry Eubanks, Bob Barman, Earl Hunter, Wright Hock, Misses Cindy Denton, Ann Pritchett, Edwina Walker, Helen May, Pam Pratt, Mary Alice Jones, Jean Costin, Sue Costin, Becky Pritchett, Beth Wallace, Gayle Williams, Carolyn Walker, Sandra Coffman, Mary Smith, Mary Ann Lipps, Judy Wood, Sallie Wistrand, Jane Pickens, Kathy Anderson, Janice Edison, Linda Shimer, Sue Hock. Models were supervised by Mrs. Joe Weaver and Mrs. Jerry Konecny. Mrs. Konecny also handled publicity.

Decorations were by Mrs. Dick Gregory, Mrs. Raymond Fuller, Mrs. R. P. Hearin and Mrs. Craig. Mrs. Ben Sparks was ticket chairman, with seating arranged by Mrs. Ken Looney and Mrs. John Shimer. Staging committee was Mrs. Jim Edison, Mrs. Bob Carver, and Mrs. Larry Kinard. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. Jay Adams, Mrs. Jim Maddox, Mrs. Ben Wilkinson, Mrs. Bill Hudson, Mrs. Dick Wistrand, Mrs. Oscar Rhode, Mrs. Jimmy Kelley, and Mrs. R. D. Bridgford. Proceeds from the fashion show will be used to decorate interior decoration of the clubhouse.

Ramos Assessed 15 Years

A Colorado City man, Abel Ramos, was found guilty of murder late Monday in 118th District Court at Big Spring.

Ramos was assessed a term of 15 years in the penitentiary for murder of Rena Fay Gutierrez, Sept. 14, 1963. Jury returned the verdict at 10:30 Monday night after a three-hour deliberation.

Charges against Ramos and his subsequent indictment followed a Saturday night fight, last Sept. 14, in a tavern at Big Spring. The defendant was accused of having stabbed Gutierrez eight times during the quarrel. Gutierrez died two hours after collapsing a block away from the tavern.

Gil Jones, district attorney, was prosecutor for the State and Deji Barber, Colorado City attorney, was counsel for defense. District Judge Ralph Caton presided.

Lawyer for the defense, Barber, told the Record Wednesday that he plans no appeal. Ramos has one previous conviction for knife fighting and served a term for wounding another man.

Both of these U. S. Savings Bonds pay you the same rate of interest. The difference between them is just a matter of when you want it—now or later.

The one on top is a Series H Bond. Buy one for $500 and the Treasury Dept. will mail you an interest check every 6 months. It's designed for people who want their Bonds to give them an income. Retired people, for instance.

The other Bond is a Series E.

The growing type. You pay $375 for it and collect your interest when you cash it in for $500 at maturity. It's designed for people who want their nest egg to get bigger.

Both types of Bonds come in several different denominations. Both help protect your country as they earn interest for you.

Buy the type that fits your needs and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.
