

Scream-Team Is Score

When Bob Hope and Shirley Ross get together, get ready for the fun-fest of the century. They will appear at the Ellis Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, November 29-30 in "Thanks For the Memory." A picture designed to chart your way around the martial rocks. It's a sensation.

In Brilliant New Roles

Rosalind Russell plays the doctor's wife in the filmization of the best-seller novel, "The Citadel," coming to the Ellis Theatre, Thursday and Friday, November 24-25, with Robert Donat in the role of the heroic surgeon. Miss Russell is the second America film star to be sent abroad by M-G-M to appear in their British-made productions, the first having been Robert Taylor.

Comedy-Romance

"Thanks for the Memory" Brings Bob Hope and Shirley Ross to Ellis Theatre

When Bob Hope and Shirley Ross made a hit singing the song "Thanks for the Memory" in "The Big Broadcast of 1938," Paramount executives decided that they would make an appealing starting team.

Their first production is not a musical though the meaning associated with the title might suggest it. Rather it is a story of married life going temporarily on the blink because of too many friends. "Thanks for the Memory" is scheduled to show at the Ellis Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 29-30, and will bring in a large cast, some odd and interesting characters.

Added to all the other troubles besetting the married couple is the husband's bull-headed determination to be both housekeeper and provider for all as he tries to finish a novel. Divorce is imminent, though the more than fair weather friends scurry back and forth with all manners of flags of truce between the sparring pair. But it is the advent of an heir that finally brings the couple together again. The principal musical number of the film is a new version of the title song.

DYNAMIC, ULTRA, MODERN STORY.

FIVE-STAR CAST BRINGS "THE SHINING HOUR" TO ELLIS THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY, NOV. 27-28

A five-star cast—Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter—was assembled to bring to the screen "The Shining Hour," dynamic, ultra modern story, showing at the Ellis Theatre, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 27-28.

Besides giving her usual brilliant dramatic performance, Miss Crawford dances for the first time since "Dancing Lady," in the new production. She is teamed with Tony DeMarco, of the internationally famous DeMarcos, in a spectacular number which includes five dances in one.

Dealing with the career of a famous cabaret dancer, played by Miss Crawford, the drama moves at a rapid pace through the night life of New York to the vastly different surroundings of a Kansas farm, where she is persuaded by Douglas to give up dancing and become his wife.

On the farm her life becomes complicated by those of the spinster sister, Miss Bainter, the younger brother, Young, and his wife, Miss Sullivan. The dramatic climax occurs when the farm home burns to the ground, the resulting experiences bringing about a readjustment in the household.

Joseph Mankiewicz as producer and Frank Borzage as director are teamed for the third time in the making of the elaborate production. They previously worked together on "Three Comrades" and "Mannequin," the latter starring Miss Crawford and the former, Miss Sullivan.

"The Shining Hour" was adapted from the New York stage success by Keith Winter. It was prepared for the screen by Jane Murtin and Ogden Nash.

Rides Murder Trail

Charles Starrett Averages Death Of His Sweetheart's Brother In "South of Arizona"

The detection or prevention of cattle rustling, murder and other frontier villainies keep two-fisted Charles Starrett hopping in Columbia's "South of Arizona," and Ellis Theatre audiences will thrill by the new and pulse-quickening picture showing Saturday, November 26. Iris Meredith is again the charming and talented leading lady for the popular, hard-riding cowboy star and the Sons of the Pioneers supply three tuffest new ballads of the old West.

Briefly, "South of Arizona" concerns a young cowpuncher, trying to rid a harassed country of cattle rustlers, who finds the slain body of a young ranger. The young puncher, played by Charles Starrett, attempts to solve the murder, and to protect the young sister of the ranger, charmingly played by winsome Iris Meredith.

In his efforts the cowboy who had but recently been acclaimed a hero by fellow ranchers, finds himself under suspicion and then accused of murder.

This thrill-filled film was well directed by Sam Nelson, maker of other successful Starrett pictures, from the cleverly written story by Bennett Cohen. The tuneful new songs of the old West, sung as only the Sons of the Pioneers can sing them, and a cast that includes four former western stars, Edmund Cobb, Art Mix, Hal Taliaferro, and Ed Coxen, make this rousing Western swell entertainment for the entire family!

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brillhart and Mrs. C. C. Cox went to Wichita, Kansas, Tuesday to get Miss Juanita Cox and Gene Brillhart, student in business college, who will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Perryton.

EDITORIAL

It takes a real good team to win a game, yet lose by the score. The team who can lose a game, yet say, "We lost, but we did our best and we will get them next time," is really the victor in the game and deserves as much credit and more praise on the back than the team who won by the score.

When a team who will fight until the last whistle blows and who are playing with all their hearts in the game, yet lose and come off the field gasping to their friends and classmates tell them they played a good game, a lump comes to everybody's throat because every one knew that as far as sportsmanship and fighting spirit was concerned, our team is the winning team.

So lets don't forget to congratulate the boys who everyone is so proud of, and whom everybody would like to fight and cheer for. Remember, it takes a strong heart and a firm aim to win, yet lose!

Father and Son Neighbors Win in Different Counties

George H. Kirkpatrick, left, and son Graham, talk over the election results.

UTICA, O.—The central Ohio counties of Knox and Licking decided to make it a family affair when they went to the polls and named 65-year-old farmer George H. Kirkpatrick and his 37-year-old farmer son, Graham Kirkpatrick, to the state legislature.

The Republican Kirkpatricks run adjoining farms but the Knox-Licking county line splits their acres. Both get their mail at R. F. D. 2, Utica, but the elder Kirkpatrick will represent Knox county at Columbus and the younger, Licking.

This is Graham's first elective office. He ran for the Ohio senate two years ago but lost in the primaries. George Kirkpatrick served one previous term in the legislature, was defeated two years ago for re-election by M. L. Brown's Democrat Walter Riley. The best Riley this year by double the margin in 1936. Father and son worked closely in mapping their campaigns.

both were supported by respective county party machinery but neither campaigned for the other. The election results would seem to indicate they did pretty well on their own.

Wives of both farmer-politicians took no active part in their husbands' campaigns but did their bit by managing the farms while the menfolk were off to the political wars.

The elder Kirkpatrick is one of Ohio's most prominent swine breeders. He is nationally known as a judge of swine and raised and sold the highest-priced hog ever marketed in Ohio for $4000. The younger Kirkpatrick, one of seven children, is a graduate of Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., was a star college baseball catcher and mechanic before turning to farming. He has been a Washington township trustee for several years and is a past president of the Ohio State Association of Trustees.

Football Game

Rangers Lose Title to Panchandle in District Championship On November 15

Last Friday the Perryton Rangers literally fought their hearts out so that their school might have the honor of being the winner of the district championship. Luck and fate were against the Rangers, however, and the scoreboard read 6-0 in Panchandle's favor at the end of the game.

The Rangers really won the game on playing ability, but the score is what counts in a football game. The Rangers gave all they had and if fate had not been against them they would have won.

Rangers, we want you to know that to the students and townspeople you are still the champions.

AAA and Gardens

Land Used for Home Gardens Not Figured in AAA Payments For Coming Year

College Station—Texas home gardens will take a neutral classification under the 1939 AAA program. In the past, acreage devoted to vegetables for home use was "charged" against a farm in figuring payments under AAA in the same way as were cash crops.

The ruling for 1939 was obtained from AAA officials and announced to county agricultural and home demonstration agents by Miss Mildred Horton and Jack Shelton, vice-directors and state agents of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

"The ruling means that land planted to vegetables for home use within the bounds of the garden fence, in frame gardens, and in patches of general vegetables for home consumption, including such crops as pumpkins, sweet corn, cane for syrup, sweet potatoes, field peas and beans, and Irish potatoes is neutral," they said.

As many acres as are needed for home use can be used without affecting the allotments for cotton, wheat, and general crops. Home orchards and berry patches may be neutral or partially soil building, depending on whether or not they are interplanted, and the kind of crop used in interplanting.

In many sections enough grains can be produced so that some can be milled and converted into whole ground meal, whole wheat flour, and home ground cereals to supply part of the approximately 170 pounds of grain products dictators say each individual needs in the course of a year.

The extension leaders also pointed out that the general crops and the pastures can be handled in such a way as to provide an abundance of milk, butter, cheese, eggs, and meat for the family table.

Sweet whey left from cheesemaking can be combined with fruit juices for delicious beverages. It adds to the nutritive value of the beverage.

DON'T BURN YOUR GRASS

NO PAYMENTS ALLOWED UNDER AAA GRAZING PROGRAM IF GRASS IS BURNED AS IT RUINS SEED

STILLWATER, Ok. (Special)—There's always some enemy at work on the farm. In springtime it's Jack Frost, in summer it's likely grasshoppers—now it's dreaded grass fires. "Don't burn your grass," warns Sam Durham, Extension pasture specialist, "if you don't want valuable grass seed to go up in smoke! Burning gets all the seed, except that already buried in the soil."

For the past two summers there's been plenty of rainfall to produce an abundant growth of grass and grass seeds, but most of this fall has been so dry that there now stands in many pastures and meadows great masses of dried matted grasses—a perfect tinder box for the careless cigarette smokers, burning "stubs" or other fire causes.

There is now more seed growth than there has been for the past 15 years," said Durham. "That's what we've been working for, a rejuvenation of our native pastures following the destructive droughts of recent years. Agronomists of the Extension Service of Oklahoma A. and M. College and others have urged reseeding of native pastures through deferred grazing and artificial methods. Through their 4-H Clubs and other groups we have also encouraged improvement of native pastures through schools, exhibits, and demonstrations.

Let's don't let all of these efforts amount to naught by permitting grass seed to be destroyed by fire started carelessly. A total of 6,500,000 acres is now under the deferred grazing program of the AAA. If farmers permit burning of the grass, no payment will be received.

Nature provided that dead grass might protect grass roots from freezing, young plants from injury by hot sun, and excessive evaporation from soil, and also provide humus—plant food—for the soil.

Grasses that should be protected are the eight major native varieties—big and little bluestem, Indian and switch grass, and the short grasses, such as blue, hairy, and side oat grama, and buffalo grass, Durham said.

It's been just 317 years since that first Pilgrim Thanksgiving, 317 years of increasing wealth and happiness in this land. We have even more to be thankful for than those intrepid Pilgrims, so let's all be thankful... for our homes, our friends, our great nation that gives peace and liberty to all. Let's be thankful for past favors... and face the future with hope.

Rangers Lose 2-B Championship To Panhandle

OFF DAY FOR RANGERS WITH DIRE RESULTS

Panthers Luck Out With An Early Score Against Battling Rangers

RANGERS FINISH

Perryton supporters were witnesses Friday afternoon to one of the most "about to, but didn't" games played by the Rangers in many years. With adversity dogging the Ranger's footsteps the Panhandle Panthers "won" the championship of District 2-B by the small margin of 6-0.

Outplayed during the entire game the Panthers sensing the breaks, wasted no time utilizing Ranger fumbles, which indirectly lost the title for the Rangers.

On the opening play the Rangers were downed deep in their own territory. In attempting to carry the ball from dangerous ground an unforeseen fumble jammed the works. The Panthers getting possession of the ball completed a pass from Adams to C. M. Coffey for an 11 yard gain. Taking over within one yard of the goal line Slagle plunged through for the lone score of the game. Walters muffed the attempted kick.

During the remaining three quarters of the game the Panthers were kept on the defensive. Flowers, McWilliams, and Lewis bore the brunt of the Ranger's offensive drive. Flowers displayed some excellent broken field running for good yard gainage. In the second quarter Flowers caught a pass from Lewis for a 23 yard gain, the longest of the game.

Lewis launched a successful aerial attack in the third period for more yard gainage when he completed a pass to Littleton and Lilly for gains of 5 and 8 yards respectively.

The Panthers completed their second pass of the game on a play from Adams to O'Keefe in the third period. They were quickly smothered by the Rangers, who due to Panther Adams' ability to call his shots on punts, were required to run the entire gamut of the field in their attempts to score. Each time the Ran-

BY IRVING DIX

PRESENTING the stars of 1938—the boys whose performances week after week have carried them to the pinnacle of football heights—All-America.

And in the eyes of scouts and experts the nation over, two men were particularly outstanding, namely, Marshall Goldberg of Pitt and Joe Beinor of Notre Dame, who led all others in the unofficial balloting.

First team ends are Waddy Young of Oklahoma and Brud Holland of Cornell. Young, a 200-pounder, is one of the finest defensive players ever developed in the district. Holland, a speedy 190-pounder, is the most dangerous flanker in the country on an end-around play.

I. B. HALE, 240-pound Texas Christian star, and Beinor, 210-pound Notre Dame luminary, are given the honors at tackle. Both were standouts in two of the best lines in the country.

Francis Tweedell of Minnesota and Gus Zitrides, Minnesota and Dartmouth respectively, rate the guard posts, with Charley Brock, 255-pound pivot man from Nebraska, placed at center. So scintillating has been the Cornhusker's play all season that he beats out Al Aldrich of Texas Christian, even though Nebraska suffered one of its poorest seasons in years.

GEORGE CAFEGO, Tennessee sparkplug, is named to the quarterback post on the mythical eleven. Marshall Goldberg, the hardest-running back in the country, gets the left halfback position, with Vic Bottari of California drawing the right half job. Howie Weiss, big gun in Wisconsin's surprising attack this year, is given the fullback position.

Any coach would give plenty for this backfield. All four men are fast, hard-driving runners. Cafego kicks and passes and Weiss has few peers as a blocker. But backfields like that are never assembled on one team. It just wouldn't be fair to the opposition.

Reduced Farm Acreage Allotments Not Based on Importing Of Foreign Wheat

STILLWATER, Okla. (Special)—Why should we reduce our wheat acreage if this country is going to import wheat from other countries? That question, based on false reports, has been asked by many an Oklahoma wheat farmer this fall, following reduced farm acreage allotments.

It was reported that large quantities of wheat are being imported into the United States. However, these reports are untrue, according to official figures from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Let's look at a comparison of imports and exports. "During the 12 months ending June 30 we exported about 100,000,000 bushels of wheat," reports E. D. Hunter, acting Extension economist of Oklahoma A. and M. College. "Only 648,000 bushels were imported."

Wheat imported for human consumption pays a duty of 42 cents a bushel. Wheat imported unit for consumption pays a duty of 10 per cent of its value. Grain paying full duty would net the shipper only 20 to 30 cents a bushel.

Normally upwards of 10 to 12 million bushels are brought in from other countries for milling and export. Under this arrangement the foreign shipper posts a bond which he forfeits unless he ships the wheat out of this country after it has been milled. This is just a convenient arrangement whereby foreign wheat is milled by our millers at a custom rate. The wheat milled in bond and exported never enters into our trade nor competes with it. Wheat milled in bond from foreign wheat usually enters, and leaves the United States at lake ports in the northern part of the country from Canada or in Gulf ports on the southern coast if from South America.

Official reports on imports of wheat since July 1 indicate that they are the lowest in many years. However, exact official figures are available.

Boy Scouts Accept 35,857 Acres in Kit Carson Country From Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips

Boy Scouts of America will enjoy wilderness camping on the new 35,857-acre tract in New Mexico's Kit Carson country, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips of Tulsa, Okla.

A GIFT from Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips, Tulsa, Okla., of 35,857 acres of land a few miles northwest of Cimarron, New Mexico, and 550,000 to be used in improving and developing the land for camping purposes, has just been accepted by the Executive Board of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

When he made this announcement Walter W. Hickey, president of the Boy Scouts of America, said, "Mr. Phillips offers the property without any restriction whatsoever save that it is to be used for the benefit of members of the Scout Movement. As a matter of fact, he specifically stated, 'If this proposal were being made to any other organization, whose rating was inferior to the record of service made by the Boy Scouts of America, I would be inclined to be more particular in outlining the program, to be assured that the property would be put to full beneficial use as I visualize it.' In accepting his gift the National Executive Board has in mind the establishment of a Boy Scout reservation for the development and furtherance of wilderness camping."

Kit Carson Country

Before formally proposing that the Boy Scouts of America accept the ranch property Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and their son Elliott entertained a party of Scout officials at Pimlott Ranch near Cimarron, immediately adjacent to the new Scout Reservation. The party included, besides President Head, Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, and Arthur A. Schuck, Director of the Division of Operations. The entire group was greatly impressed by the scenic beauty of the area and its usefulness for Scout camping purposes.

Much of the property is virgin territory and under the careful management characteristic of Boy Scout camping those small parts which have been grazed recently will quickly be restored to their natural condition. Mr. Phillips has proposed, in accordance with general Boy Scout practice, that the property immediately be designated as a game preserve.

In a statement issued to the Executive Board Dr. West described the reservation in this way: "The property is in the Rocky Mountains, all above an elevation of 7,000 feet and rises in spots to at least 11,000 feet. It is the Kit Carson territory and the old Santa Fe trail passes through it. There are nine main canyons on the tract converging either at the Cimarron River or the main branch of the Poudre River, which later flows into the Cimarron.

Older Boys' Paradise

"Each of the canyons is of the same general make-up, flanked on each side by ever-changing vistas, rock palisades, timber growth, and with smaller canyons in endless numbers fingered out from the main ones. There are also several high level meadows or mesas, offering excellent additional camping area spots. Bear Canyon, Dean Canyon, and Turkey Canyon have an extensive amount of timber growth, comprised, principally of western pines, Douglas fir, balsam, quaking aspens and cottonwoods. It is the natural habitat of deer and while on the property we saw mule deer, wild turkeys, and dozens of beaver dams and many evidences of bear."

"While there are few Boy Scout Local Councils throughout the country which do not have camps both for short camping trips and for summer vacation camping," Dr. West continued, "there is a need of opportunities for Troops and Patrols with experience, training, leadership and proper equipment to secure the benefits of wilderness camping, which I believe will appeal to older boys in all parts of America. By this is implied a more rugged experience with 'nature in the raw' than is possible in the customary local Boy Scout camps. It is a need of opportunity of our essential safeguards of health and safety."

A recent digest of Scout membership records revealed that more than 100,000 Scouts in nearly 4,000 Troops

TO ERADICATE PRICKLY PEAR

CONTAINER TO BE MARKETED THAT WILL HOLD SPRAY WHICH WILL KILL PRICKLY PEAR

COLLEGE STATION—The production on a commercial scale of a stainless steel container capable of withstanding the corrosive action of arsenic pentoxide spray assures ranchmen a practical and economical method of killing prickly pear. The pear, while of value as a reserve feed in some sections of the state, is regarded as a pest because it lowers the grazing capacity of the range, takes moisture away from grasses, and contributes to losses from screw worms in the case of chronic "pear eaters."

The arsenic pentoxide spray was found to be most effective poison for killing prickly pear in tests conducted by W. H. Dameron, of the Ranch Experiment Station, at Sonora, and H. P. Smith, chief of the Division of Agricultural Engineering at the Texas A. and M. College Agricultural Experiment Station.

After several years of tests, Smith found a special stainless steel capable of withstanding the action of the spray. J. B. Kidd, county agricultural agent of Val Verde county, who has been working with ranchmen on pear eradication for several years along the lines indicated by experiment station tests, had a manufacturer make up a number of sprayers of this material, and these became available for use early this summer.

While these containers are not yet perfect, 12 ranchmen in Val Verde county are killing pear on some 20,000 acres, the method is being used on a large scale on several Kinney county ranches, some work is being done in other counties in the region, and a considerable expansion in the practice is expected in 1939, according to M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas Extension Service.
