'Some' Progress Reported in Borger Talk

Negotiations To Be Resumed This Morning

Prospects were brighter in the International Union of Operating Engineers strike against the Phillips Petroleum Company at the close of negotiations at 6:50 p. m. yesterday. Negotiations will be resumed today at 10 a. m. in the Phillips Petroleum Gasoline Plant at Borger.

The third attempt at negotiations was started at 2 p. m. Friday and lasted until 11 p. m. when representatives of the company and the union adjourned until yesterday.

A special call union meeting scheduled for Friday night was cancelled due to the resumption of negotiations, with Herman Woods, of the Washington office of the union, acting for the International Union of Operating Engineers, Joe Rignold, who previously led the union's fight, was absent.

Woods arrived in Borger late last week shortly before the third attempt at a settlement was started. Reliable sources in Borger declared "progress is being made," but other than that there was no word from either union or company officials.

The 11-day-old strike had its repercussions as far away as Akron, Ohio, where the large rubber companies felt the loss of carbon black supplies, reporting them as "dangerously low."

While many industries have not been forced to shut down, they have had to reduce their production extensively. Carbon production has been cut to one-third of normal.

The company officials were being represented by Stanley Learned, vice president, and appearing for the company, K. S. Adams.

Woods headed the strategy committee of the union, which has 351 spokesmen for either side gave no hint as to what they based their assumptions on for an early settlement.

Local Men Seek Lease on Plant

Fred E. Shryock, who operated the Danciger Refinery here until its purchase last January 2 by the Phillips Petroleum Company, and associates were reported last night negotiating with Phillips for a straight lease of the facilities.

It was reported that a completed transaction may be reached by Monday, and if so, the plant would be in production of gasoline and kindred products by the latter part of this week.

It had been rumored last week that the plant would be re-opened, but it was not known by whom. Various grades of gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil would be refined at the former Danciger refinery, it was said.

For the past several days, natural gasoline from the natural gasoline plants in the Lefors area has been processed and stabilized at the refinery.

A few boilers and stabilizers have been the only facilities at the plant in operation the last week.

Negotiations between Shryock and his associates and Phillips officials have been conducted for about three days, it was stated. Informants said that Shryock and his unnamed associates would not be connected in any way with Phillips Petroleum Company, that they would be operating the plant strictly by their own resources. It was explained, however, that crude would be purchased from Phillips.

When the plant closed in January, after a period of operation of about 12 years under the direction of Shryock, around 100 persons were being employed.

Weather forced the Pampa Jaycee carnival to move under cover Saturday afternoon and definite plans for continuation of the carnival into next week have not been made, according to Jack Nimmo, president. There was talk, however, of continuing the benefit event.

The stage show took over in the Junior High School auditorium Saturday afternoon and night for the performance of Seymour Davis, musician and ventriloquist, and master of ceremonies of the stage show which started the Swineries, with 14-year-old Jimmy Hantley as singer and dancer.

The other part of the carnival moved to Ward's Cabinet Shop, 221 S. Starkweather.

For several weeks, local Jaycees had been working toward this past week-end when they were to present a two-day entertainment feature in the interest of a community center fund. A number of events have been planned for this year to bolster the Jaycee effort for the community center, the club's major project for this year.

Chiropractors Buck Basic Science Bill

AUSTIN—(P)—Enactment of the so-called "basic science" bill into law as it is now written would invalidate the chiropractic licensing bill which is pending in the Senate, Dr. Walter H. Fischer of Temple, spokesman for the Texas Chiropractors, said yesterday.

He said that proponents of the basic science bill have had many persons to believe that passage of both bills would be a "satisfactory compromise."

Passage of the basic science bill without exemption of the chiropractic profession would have the effect of killing the chiropractic licensing measure, Dr. Fischer contended.

All Creeds and Faiths Observe Important Day

By The Associated Press
Proud and boastful Texas Humble honors a great person today—Mother's Day.

Churches of all faiths throughout Texas are featuring Mother's Day sermons. Texas A and M College made it a major event. Civic bodies gave special programs.

Mother's Day visitors thronged the sunny Aggie campus at College Station, moving from building to building, inspecting exhibits prepared for the annual Engineers and Aggie Day show yesterday.

Open house was held in all departments of the schools of engineering and agriculture. Sports were featured with an intrasquad football match, a baseball game between the Aggies and Brooke Medical Center, and a track meet with the University of Texas.

Mother's Day ceremonies will start with the traditional pinning of flowers on the Cadet Corps. Later, a special program will be held for students and their parents, with President Gibb Gilchrist welcoming the visitors.

During the afternoon, open House will be held in the dormitories preceding a Corps review at which awards will be presented to the most prominent organizations and cadets.

Beaumont will hold a citywide Mother's Day program at 2 p. m., with Judge Guy Cade Jackson of Anahuac speaking. The Eagles Lodge is sponsoring the event.

Independence Now Urged by Soviet Union

LAKE SUCCESS—(P)—A United Nations subcommittee failed to agree last night on proposed orders for a committee which will investigate Palestine this summer. The issue now goes back to the 11-member Political Committee of the special United Nations assembly.

Four alternate proposals on the point of requiring the Committee of Inquiry to study a proposal for the immediate independence of Palestine made up the large obstacle to agreement. These will be voted on by the full committee, which will receive the report Monday.

The issue of independence involves proposals that the committee shall report to the next regular session of the assembly in September proposals on solving the problem of Palestine, including a proposal for establishing Palestine independence without delay.

The Philippines proposed an interim government for Palestine at the committee meeting yesterday but did not insist on that proposal at the three-hour subcommittee meeting Saturday.

The United States and Russia were said to be standing on their disagreement on the vital orders for the committee of inquiry, but members of the secretariat said the draft of the proposed resolution involved four separate proposals on that point.

The special committee turned the Philippine idea and at least a half dozen others over to the subcommittee to try to draft a complete resolution for the full committee. The agreed portions and the alternative ideas will be taken up Monday.

Erig Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, chief of the Philippine delegation to the assembly, suggested the careful study by the proposed inquiry committee into "various necessary arrangements whereby an interim government, possibly under the supervision of the United Nations, may be established to guarantee the due observance of the existing rights of all peoples and governments concerned, including those of the mandatory power (Britain) which may require settlement or liquidation by peaceful agreement."

Gen. Romulo said the independence of Palestine is a matter of simple justice. After the committee meeting, he told newsmen that he envisioned a sort of temporary regime over Palestine, which would serve until it could be determined just what form of government that country would have.

The point of independence was the one over which Herschel V. Johnson, United States, and Andre A. Gromyko, deputy minister of Russia, crossed verbal swords.

Gromyko has proposed that the inquiry group submit proposals to the next regular assembly, meeting in September. These would include a "proposal on the question of establishing without delay the independent State of Palestine."

Johnson opened the committee meeting with an attack on this section, arguing that the assembly must not impose any such mandatory stipulations upon the inquiry committee.

Insurgents Believed Planning Civil War

TEHRAN, Iran—(P)—A reliable informant quoted a leader of the Iranian Militia yesterday as saying they planned to start a campaign in the north against the Iranian government this summer "exactly as the Partisans are now fighting in Greece."

The informant, an Iranian who returned Saturday from a three months tour in Northern Iran, said about 15,000 Azerbaijanis were organizing in the mountains with support from across the Soviet border and quoted them as saying they expected to strike "any day now."

SKATES FOR LEGLESS BOY—When this picture was taken by NEA Telephoto, 6-year-old Dale Richey, did not know he had lost both feet as the result of an explosion. Here he clutches a pair of skates brought him by his father, Howard, right, and Arthur Nelson, superintendent of a Chicago hospital.

'That's All Right, Daddy,' Youth Says as He Learns He Lost His Feet in an Explosion

CHICAGO—(P)—There were no tears, no crying after 6-year-old Dale Richey learned for the first time that he had lost both of his legs as the result of a gasoline explosion six weeks ago.

Dale's father, Howard Richey, came to his son's hospital room and talked about soldiers who had lost their legs in the war and how they had learned to walk again. Then Richey, a 37-year-old time-study engineer, told his son that both his legs had been amputated just below the knees.

"You're going to be all right, son," Richey told him. "But your legs are going to be shorter than they were before. They were so badly burned that the doctors had to take off the feet. You will have to learn to walk all over again."

How will I be able to do that?" the boy asked as he kept turning the pages of a comic book.

"We will get you some wooden legs. All the soldiers in the war who had their legs cut off had to learn how to walk all over again."

Dale kept silent for a minute. "I'd rather sit," he said.

The father changed the subject. Only last Tuesday he had told his wife for the first time of the amputation. He had withheld the news until after she had given birth to a baby boy. Splints had been affixed to the boy's upper legs so Mrs. Richey would not know they had been amputated.

Before leaving Dale's room, Richey reached into a paper bag and handed him some new toys. Dale looked up from his comic book and smiled.

"That's all right, Daddy," the youngster said.

Are Supplies of Sugar Piling?

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) proposed last night that sugar rationing be ended this summer if crop weather and plant operations are normal.

He also suggested that an additional 10 pounds of sugar be allowed at once to housewives and that industrial users be given larger supplies in the second quarter of the year.

Wherry said Secretary of Agriculture Anderson has the power to suspend rationing.

Furthermore, he declared in a statement, sugar is backing up at refineries to the extent that storage space is already a major problem. He listed these factors:

1. A probable Cuban harvest of 6,000,000 tons instead of the estimated 5,000,000 tons.

2. Puerto Rico and Hawaii will produce more than 2,000,000 tons in 1947, a substantial increase over early estimates.

3. A similar large increase in the domestic beet and cane sugar crop.

4. A probable decline in shipments abroad because of higher European beet production and foreign countries' lack of dollar balances to spend.

First Hurdle Is Declared Cleared

LONDON—(P)—The Moscow radio said Saturday that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had accepted American proposals on Korea and expressed hope the two powers now could hurdle the obstacles which for a year have blocked steps toward creation of a democratic provisional government in Korea.

The radio said Molotov sent a letter to Secretary of State Marshall accepting an American formula for determining what Korea representatives should be allowed to appear before the joint U. S.-Soviet Commission on Korea, and stating:

"I hope that thus there no longer exists any reason for delaying the convening of the Joint Commission." Molotov has proposed that the commission open its session in Seoul on May 20.

The commission broke up in May of last year over Russian insistence on qualifications for Koreans testifying before the commission that would virtually have restricted such Koreans to Communists and their supporters.

The letter was the fourth in a series between the two diplomats on the future of Korea, now occupied by Russian forces in the north and American forces in the south.

Phone Workers Reject St Louis Wage Hike Offer

ST. LOUIS—(P)—The Southwestern Telephone Workers' Union late Saturday rejected a company offer of basic wage increases ranging from $2 to $4 a week made in an effort to end the 31-day-old strike.

Everett E. Cotter, general counsel for the union, called the proposal of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. "dishonorable" and "no made in good faith."

The company's offer provided $4 for 10,000 employees, $3 for another 26,000 and $2 for the remaining 6,000.

In announcing the rejection, Cotter said the offer represented an average increase of $3.11. More than half of the company's employees, he said, would get $3 or less while some would get nothing. Union officials had previously announced they would not consider anything less than a $6 raise.

Company and union committees returned immediately to further negotiations with federal conciliators following the union rejection. The union committee had called for 10 minutes prior to its announcement.

The union represents workers in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and a part of Illinois.

NEWARK, N. J.—(P)—An average wage increase of $4.79 weekly was agreed upon yesterday in settlement of the month-old strike of New Jersey telephone operators.

Chinese Continue to Riot for Basic Food

SHANGHAI—(P)—China's rice crisis continued riotously in Shanghai and spread to other cities yesterday despite a double-barreled order from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that municipal authorities protect shops and punish hoarders.

Rice, the main food of millions of Chinese, has risen to about 20 U. S. cents a pound, a 500 percent increase in three months, while wages remain frozen at the Jan. 31 level.

Shanghai police and soldiers from the Woosung garrison personally notified rice shops of the Generalissimo's instructions and "requested" that they reopen, but the vast majority remained shuttered for the fourth consecutive day.

Attacks on the barricaded shops continued in Shanghai, and new riots were reported in Nanking, Hsianing (Anking) and elsewhere.

And 'Not a Word About Politics'

WASHINGTON—(P)—James A. Farley and President Truman chatted for half an hour yesterday on "world conditions," the former postmaster general reported, and said not a word about politics.

Farley, former Democratic National Committee chairman, told reporters he was in Washington for "world conditions" and "requested" that they reopen, but the vast majority remained shuttered for the fourth consecutive day.

Aides Urge HST OK Non-Portial Bill as Strategy

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman is being urged by some Congressional lieutenants to sign the bill outlawing most partial pay scales as a political offset to an expected veto of labor disputes legislation.

Influential Democrats who did not want to be identified publicly told a reporter yesterday they now are firmly convinced Mr. Truman means to veto whatever labor bill comes out of a Senate-House conference committee after the Senate acts this week on its pending version. Neither the House labor bill nor the somewhat milder measure before the Senate is acceptable to him, they said, so that any compromise of the two would be unacceptable.

A highly-placed White House official said Mr. Truman has not yet made a decision on whether to sign or veto the partial pay bill.

Cabinet members who conferred on it Friday were described as in full agreement that they would like to see the bill signed "provided it does not do violence to the Wage-Hour Act or other labor laws," but as differing on that angle.

"We all agree that it is a poorly-written, a loosely-written bill," this official, who would not be quoted by name, told a reporter.

The word that Mr. Truman is reported "set" against the pending labor legislation has circulated so widely on Capitol Hill that most Republicans have abandoned any plan of attempting to get together with the President to see what, if anything, he would accept.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said he expects an effort to be made to override any veto. He hopes the Senate version will pile up better than two-thirds approval in the vote on final passage.

But Taft made it clear that if a veto is sustained by either House, he is in no mood to start all over again in an effort to work out a softer measure that the President might sign.

"I'm not going through all this again," he told a newsman. "If there is a veto and we can't pass the measure over it, then President Truman will have to accept the responsibility for having no labor legislation enacted."

He Wants to Ask Ike Some Questions

WASHINGTON—(P)—An attorney for two defendants in the May-Garson war fraud trial said today he will "insist" on calling Gen. Eisenhower for testimony about the 1945 court-martial of a munitions-maker's son.

The lawyer is Charles J. Margiotti, representing Henry and Murray Garson, arms manufacturers charged in the case with former Congressman Andrew J. May.

"I want to ask the general a few questions," Margiotti told a reporter.

Purge Money Request Receives Good Start

WASHINGTON—(P)—A request by President Truman for $24,900,000 to start weeding out disloyal government workers—meaning mainly Communists and sympathizers—received a hearty welcome in Congress Saturday.

If the appropriation is made the Civil Service Commission will get $16,100,000 and the FBI $8,740,000 for investigations through June 30, 1948.

Ex-Pampan Now Oakland Dealer

Information received here yesterday relates that L. F. Ragan, former Pampan and at one time implicated in a burglary case here, has for the past year been in the used car business at Oakland, Calif.

A few days ago The News carried a story in which it was stated Oakland police were seeking information on disposition of the case in this county, but the telegram from that city did not say for what reason the information was wanted.

"For your information," writes Ragan to The News, "I have been in the used car business here for this past year and the police were just checking for my city license to operate a business, and for your benefit I got it."

Wind Sends Boxcar On 30-Mile Trip

PLAINVIEW—A boxcar in the switchyard here was blown 30 miles down the Fort Worth and Denver tracks Tuesday night by high winds accompanying a heavy rainstorm. The car finally came to a halt in a tunnel in Caprock.

The wind also pushed a five-ton hotel along a 25-foot high track in the yard of a factory, causing it to topple from the track into the roof of a nearby building, causing it in. Two planes were damaged beyond repair.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food in a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment, sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Army Personnel Can Get Foreign Service

Local army recruiters said yesterday that men enlisting in the service for three years have their choice of branch of duty and overseas theater, wherever there are openings. "Once abroad," it was stated, "these men have the chance of visiting many countries through GI tours, at virtually no cost to themselves."

The soldier can also acquire knowledge and training in a number of courses—such as electronics, radar, chemistry, engineering, mechanics—training which will help him in later life, it was stated.

Added information can be obtained at the Postoffice here, location of the recruiting sub-station.

yes, it's Plymouth for Value

FIGURE the facts, and you realize how Plymouth leads the low-priced field in number of high-priced car features. The score—20 to 9 to 8— isn't even close!

But Plymouth's greater value doesn't stop here. Plymouth has exclusive features that even many high-priced cars don't have.

Take, for example, Safety-Rim Wheels which give unequalled protection in case of tire failure. Or, for another example, light-touch Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes with 32% more braking efficiency.

Add all of Plymouth's basic engineering advances to Plymouth's beauty and smooth, unruffled ride and there's only one answer—if it's value you want, it's Plymouth you want!

Survey Reveals Lower Prices Offered to Attract the Buyer

By the Associated Press
The buyer is back in the saddle in Texas, and better merchandise at a lower price is being offered to attract him, an Associated Press business survey reveals.

Business generally is leveling off, buyers are more selective in choice of merchandise, and many in the lower income bracket are digging into savings to finance major purchases.

The demand for most items is being met by a rapidly increasing supply of merchandise.

An unexpected development indicated by the survey, which included all major cities and every area of Texas, is that despite the still acute housing shortage sales of homes and real estate show a decline. This is attributed to high prices.

Business is either holding steady or improving slightly. Few points reported a drop, and those said it could be explained by seasonal conditions which were normal.

A sharp decline in the sale of off-brand and inferior merchandise was general. New and better quality items were being offered either at the same price, or even lower.

Wages were steady, and money was still plentiful. Houston said there were more bank checks at banks, and Dallas reported repurchases of autos sold on installment plans had increased sharply.

No citywide effort has been made in Texas to adopt the Newburyport plan, calling for an across-the-board reduction of 10 percent in prices. But scores of individual stores have tried it and in every reported case said sales had jumped.

Other merchants said the plan would not work because prices first must be cut at the wholesale and factory level. These said that most merchants advertising the plan were merely holding seasonal sales.

But the trend was toward lower prices.

Generalization of conditions in a state the size of Texas is obviously difficult. For one thing, seasonal crops influence business. One section will be prosperous because of a wheat crop, while another depending on cotton which matures months later, is in a normal slump.

Even geography is an influence. Prices of used cars are down in most areas but San Antonio, near Mexico and depending to a degree on sales to Mexicans, reports that costs are still high because of the continuing Mexican demand for such cars.

The conclusions reported on business were reached by charting the returns from all points, and taking the majority report. In most cases, the majority was safely substantial.

On the Newburyport plan, no single city said it was adopting it citywide. All reported a few stores trying it.

Buyers' resistance to prices and inferior merchandise was reported in Fort Worth, Plainview, Dallas, Perryton, Lamesa, Alice, Snyder, Hillsboro, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Lufkin, Big Spring, Brownsville, Denton, and other points.

The only areas reporting no resistance were Corpus Christi, Gainesville and Waco.

All points said supply was catching up with demand, influencing prices, except Corpus Christi and Lufkin.

Business was improving in San Antonio, Perryton and Plainview where good crops were responsible to a degree, and Temple. Business was steady at Denton, Gainesville, Fort Worth, McAllen, Wichita Falls, Lufkin, Big Spring, Snyder and Hillsboro.

Declines were reported at Corpus Christi, Lamesa (where crops were poor), Alice, and Dallas.

Savings and cashing of war bonds, were financing major purchases in almost every city. One qualified it by saying the trend was not as bad as had been expected.

A breakdown of prices by items is interesting.

Generally, food was down, clothing down, entertainment steady, wages down, savings up or steady, appliances steady, luxury items down, and autos steady or down.

This is the city by city report: Food, Down in San Antonio, Denton, Fort Worth, Plainview, Lamesa, Temple, Wichita Falls, Big Spring, Snyder, Hillsboro and Houston. Steady in Gainesville, Perryton, Lufkin, Up in Dallas, McAllen (where much of it is grown) and Alice.

Clothing: Down in Dallas, San Antonio, Perryton, Lamesa, Big Spring, Snyder and Houston. Steady in Gainesville, Plainview, Temple, Wichita Falls, Lufkin, Denton, Alice, Up in Fort Worth and McAllen.

Entertainment: Steady everywhere, down in the larger cities where some night spots have cut cover charges.

Housing: Down in all areas except Fort Worth and Lamesa.

Wages: Steady everywhere except in Gainesville and Snyder, where declines were reported.

Luxury items: Up only in McAllen.

Autos: Up only in Lamesa, where demand for cars always has been great.

Carl E. Morse of Cobb's Department Store at Plainview put the trend into words: "We are out of the housing stage. During the war the customers would buy anything he could get and seemed to brag about what he could find. Now he wants his old time quality back."

A nationally important experiment is being tried by the W. T. Grant Co. at Houston. The Houston store is being used as a test for the chain's 483 stores over the nation.

Prices were reduced, and W. H. Avery, manager, said it was not just a temporary sale.

"We are going to keep them at the same low level," he said. "We believe the plan will work. We have not even made any plans in case it doesn't work."

He said reductions were "just the opposite from the normal economic procedure," but said "somebody has to start it (price cuts)."

"We believe that with our whole company behind such a program, we can effectively force manufacturers down."

Jester to Request Funds for Texas City

AUSTIN—(AP)—State expenditure of $450,000 for shattered Texas City and its independent school district will be requested by Gov. Beauford H. Jester and three Gulf Coast legislators, Rep. Louie D. Godard has said.

Godard, whose Texas City home was damaged in the explosion, said the appropriation bill calling for the two-year sum will probably be ready for introduction Monday and that the Governor will urge their passage as emergency legislation.

The money would be used for replacement of the tax loss incurred when much of the taxable property at Texas City was destroyed, Godard said.

"It will enable them to continue normal operation without going into great debt," he added.

Godard explained that Texas City lost an estimated $125,000 a year in taxes and the school district $98,000 a year.

The two legislators joining Godard read The Pampa News Want Ads

Republican Leaders Hold Business Session

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Republican leaders from 17 Midwest and Far West states moved yesterday from informal overnight lobby talk about a 1948 Presidential candidate into a closed business session for a discussion of current issues in Congress.

Spokesmen for the group's policy committee predicted resolutions would be adopted before nightfall on such timely questions as tax reduction, budget-cutting, labor legislation and aid to Greece and Turkey.

The group, comprising GOP state chairmen from 13 Midwestern states and four Rocky Mountain states, has been influential in party policy banning in the past.

Loretta Young Is Ranked as An Ideal Mother

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Personal nomination for Hollywood's No. 1 mother: Loretta Young.

There may be other movie stars with more children (Loretta has three: Judy, 11; Christopher, 3; Pete, 2), but none devotes more time and thought to rearing offspring than the brown-haired actress from Salt Lake City. One of her principles is never to talk about her children for publication. However, she relented for this Mother's Day story.

"Every child has a bit of bratado in him," she explained on "The Bishop's Wife" set. "If my children saw their names and pictures in print, it might go to their heads. And I don't want them to be overly impressed with the fact that their mother is an actress."

"I have impressed upon them that my first duty is as a mother. I also earn money as an actress."

Loretta, who is strictly Mrs. Tom Lewis at home, spends as much time with the children as possible. She works about 20 weeks out of the year and during that time a governess cares for them. But most of the rest of the time the actress watches after them, read with counsel for their childish problems.

"Too many mothers feel that after they have their baby, after they have spent nine uncomfortable months, that their obligation is over," she said. "But they are wrong; their obligation is merely beginning. There is nothing more important than rearing your children."

Thus Loretta, whose time is worth an estimated $10,000 per week while making a movie, will spend hours teaching her daughter how to make a dress or driving guests home from a children's party. She has definite ideas about discipline, too.

"You can't force a child to do anything," she said. "I don't make my daughter wash her hands if she doesn't want to. But I know she will want to when her friends comment how dirty her hands are. Likewise I don't tell her to comb her hair, but remark how unattractive it looks uncombed. She has to have a reason for doing things."

Loretta claimed she wouldn't know her success as a mother until her children are grown. If all goes well, I think it will be due to a phrase she dropped in our conversation:

"Children should never be allowed to feel like interlopers in an adult world."

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, May 10.—(AP)—Stock market activity continued to shift over an irregularly lower range in today's short session.

Both selling pressure and bidding were light from the start and small traditional features in the majority held their ground.

Brokerage customers generally held good pending developments in tax and labor legislation, business and wage-price situations. Timid bidding credited partly to the belief that some issues may have been oversold and were due for a comeback.

Bonds were mixed, and cotton futures steady.

Progress Is Reported in Effort To Get Okla. Highway Paved

through Cordell, Binger, and then up to Union City, and into Oklahoma City. Beyond Cordell there again appears patches of earth and concrete or hard-top surfaces, the greatest abundance of earth being found east of Binger.

Barr stated that Oklahoma had some 3,500 miles of sub-standard roads and 1,900 miles of temporary roads. Cost and maintenance have now become greater on many of the black top roads than it would cost to build concrete roads, he stated, and he was in favor of building concrete roads.

The merits of having a completed road from the upper parts of the Panhandle into Oklahoma City were brought out by Highway Commissioner Lewis Tittle, and George Stovall, Sayre. The overflow traffic from Highway 66 would have a safer route, Stovall stated, and a route that would equal distance from Amarillo to Oklahoma on 66. In addition to that, he stated, the tourist would have a short cut to Colorado. Tittle contended completion of the highway would open up trade territory on the Northwest.

Election of officers followed the talks, and a discussion of the reorganized association and its goals, took place.

George Stovall was elected president; T. P. Quile, Minco, vice president; John Rainbolt, Cordell, treasurer; and George Thomas of Sayre, general secretary.

A special executive board was named which included Travis Lively, Pampa; H. N. Bohannon, Eakley; Billie Bryan, Binger; H. N. Bohannon, Eakley; J. French, Erick; R. A. Spencer, Minco; L. F. Gillum, Sayre; T. G. Sappington, Cloud Chief; Travis Lively, Pampa; Fritz Thompson, Borger; Robert Spencer, Dumas; Judge G. W. Hefley, Wheeler; E. T. Wilson, Sweetwater, Okla.; J. M. Gamble, Bulo; and John Heket, Amarillo.

Members from Pampa attending were: Lively, chairman of delegation; D. V. Burton, Paul Crossman, J. C. McWilliams, Harold W. Wright, B. D. Robinson, Smiley Henderson, Arthur Teed, Irvin Cole, Frank Morris, Clarence Kennedy, Floyd Imel and Red Wedgeworth.

Transportation for the Texas delegates was furnished by John Heket, general manager of the Panhandle Trailways, and D. H. King, manager of Borger Trailways Bus Station.

This Mother at 91 Is Ready for Eventful Mother's Day Celebration

HOUSTON—(AP)—Mothers like Mrs. Mary Craig make Mother's Day an event worth celebrating.

Mrs. Craig is 91 and has lived a full life, exciting and worthwhile. And today she still finds life exciting and interesting.

She maintains her own apartment in the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Powell, in Houston Heights. She performs all her own household duties including cooking and laundry. She does her own marketing.

Her pies are delicious, and she frequently bakes them for social gatherings. Her pastime is embroidery, crocheting and needlework. Her quilts are widely known.

She keeps abreast of the times by reading newspaper reports and listening to her radio. She likes to play cards and dominoes, and is a shrewd player. She usually wins and is irritated by what she calls "dumb playing."

She likes to go places, too. She finds pleasure in the association of her many friends, all of whom are several decades younger than she is.

Mrs. Craig was born in San Antonio Oct. 16, 1855. Her mother died at her birth, and she was reared by her father until she became old enough to enter the Ursuline Convent at San Antonio at the age of nine.

It was there she learned dancing, which she later turned to advantage. She established probably the first dancing school in Texas, the Mrs. S. M. Craig Dancing School.

That was when she was left a widow more than 60 years ago with a family of five children to support and educate. Her dancing school was a big success. It was in Austin, and many of her students were University of Texas pupils. She was considered the best teacher of the Newport dance in Texas. She earned her living teaching dancing for 15 years.

She lived in Uvalde, Texas, for a while. Her father built the first rock home there. Uvalde in those days was a wild frontier town, and one of Mrs. Craig's most vivid memories was the time she got lost in the woodlands. She was five years old. She wandered from home in the afternoon, got lost, chased fireflies that night until she became drowsy and fell asleep. She says only God protected her from wild beasts, Indians, who made a habit of stealing white children, and rattlesnakes. But she was found the following afternoon, and returned home.

She married Samuel L. Craig, an Austin newspaper writer and printer on the Austin Statesman, in 1870 in the old Capitol Hotel which used to stand where the Driscoll now stands. A state senator performed the ceremony. A wedding reception was held at the Senate Chamber.

She remembers when the current state Capitol was built, and was present at the opening ceremonies.

They traveled about, and she remembers that bad roads, stage coaches and covered wagons made it difficult and slow. It took months to cross Texas.

Messages were usually sent by messengers on horseback, and express was carried in saddle bags.

She recalls the days of candlelight and kerosene lamps—and she says as far as she's concerned, they're not the good old days. She likes the more modern world.

She's alert enough, both physically and mentally, to enjoy today's world, too. One of her friends said Mrs. Craig's memory of dates and names "would do credit to one of any age." Her housekeeping, her card playing would do credit to a young woman.

She has outlived most of her relatives. Surviving are her daughter, with whom she lives, and a son.

Adrian Craig, also of Houston. She has numerous friends, and Mother's Day should be a big day for her.

It is generally agreed there must be greater democracy in decisions to strike.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Visiting celebrities are nothing new in Washington's busy life. Presidents, princes, and prime ministers come and go and attract no more notice from the capital's citizens than a passing fire truck. Against such a background, the remarkable ovation Washington gave Mexico's President Aleman is even more impressive.

Written accounts of Mr. Aleman's arrival in the capital give the unmistakable impression that his welcome was truly spontaneous and heartfelt. There are evident reasons for this. Mr. Aleman is the first Mexican president to visit Washington. He is a pleasant, personable gentleman. And the cordial reception that he and his people accorded President Truman created a warm feeling of friendly anticipation for the Mexican president's return visit.

There are also deeper reasons which many in the crowd must have felt, even if they did not express them. Those reasons have to do with pride, both in Mexico and the U. S. And we believe most Americans share the sentiments expressed in Washington's greeting.

President Aleman's visit is tangible proof that Mexico has at last escaped from the unhappy, bloody tradition of Latin-American politics. Mr. Aleman is a statesman, not a soldier—the first non-military man to head his country's government. He is a lawyer and has served as a senator and as a state governor. He was chosen for office in a democratic non-violent election. He represents his people not a military clique.

America may be grateful and properly proud that Mexico has proved to be an apt pupil of the American democratic tradition. For communism and fascism are rampant in most countries south of Mexico. Communism and fascism have sought to control Mexico, too, and they have lost.

Mexico has chosen democracy. And with that choice the old feelings of hostility, resentment, and suspicion between Mexico and her neighbor to the north have almost reached the vanishing point.

Those feelings were the result of mutual faults and misunderstandings. The U. S. was perhaps the greater offender. Americans today are not proud of some of our former attitudes toward Mexico. It may be that we are trying to make some amends in our welcome to Mexico's president.

Today Americans recognize their Mexican neighbors as good neighbors, a like-thinking people living in a like-thinking state. The U. S. has recognized Mexico as a mature sister nation, and in doing so has gained some stature of its own.

And, thanks be, the U. S. has no quarrel with its neighbor. Friction and discord, such happy, friendly relations are doubly welcome. That in a large measure is what has made President Aleman's visit a truly happy, friendly occasion.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—There's probably no other movie queen quite like Reno. She has a big fat iron boiler, wooden barrel beams, big red wheels, and gold trim. And she's 75 years old.

Reno, an 1872 Baldwin locomotive, is under "contract" to Paramount Studio. In the gold rush days she hauled passengers between Carson City and Reno and Virginia City. Ever since 1923, when Paramount bought her for the movie show, she's been getting her iron face in some 50 movies and mugging up the cinematic rails.

It's no secret, though, that she's had her insides lifted. She now burns oil instead of wood. A regular Union Pacific railroad engineer, Herbert Hoopes, goes with her—only they seldom go any place. Most of Reno's motion is done on short lengths of track laid down on location or on studio back lots. Right now she has a 1200-foot run for the Alan Ladd western, "Whispering Smith."

That's a longer run than usual and Engineer Hoopes is happy about it. He said, "Reno has to have at least half a mile of track to really emote."

Reno is the engine you see at the fence in "Duel in the Sun." Engineer Hoopes was so happy about that, "We only had 400 feet of track, and we just couldn't get going."

★ THOUGHTS

Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God, unto thee will I pray. Psalm 122.

Do not pray for easy lives. Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks.—Phillips Brooks.

MEAT-AX ECONOMY

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Republican Party leaders are puzzled by the bad publicity they have received from their efforts to cut government spending by the "meat-axe" method. They thought the country wanted economy. Yet when Meatcutter John W. Tawer and his bulgy butcher boy chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee started trimming off the millions of dollars they couldn't do this, they couldn't do this.

This makes for a lot of toil and strife and it is probably the hard way to get results. It causes all kinds of screaming and confusion in the agencies. It causes many employees to be laid off—which is not nice—and some projects to be closed down—which is downright discouraging to the morale of administrators who work hard on them. But in this process it forces the heads of all government departments to prove how essential they are to the nation's welfare.

Part of the wrath which the Republicans have pulled down around their own ears in this business comes from the indiscriminate way in which the cuts were made. The rest of the grief comes from the fact that the agencies which got cut had the best press agents, who were experienced in dressing up the injuries to make them look serious.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON
QUESTION—"Why has the Brewster Committee encountered difficulty in obtaining the late President Roosevelt's papers dealing with the Arabian oil transaction?" Asks R.T.O. of Springfield, Mass.

ANSWER—"It was my understanding that there was a law requiring public officials to leave their papers in the hands of the government, and that Secretary Morgenthau was forced to return treasury documents because of this statute."

ANSWER: There is no such law, although Congress may enact one because of Roosevelt and Morgenthau. As a matter of fact, the courts have held that such papers are a President's personal property. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who was then planning to write a book about her distinguished husband, several times prevented individuals to whom he had written from publishing that material.

Robert Lincoln specified that his father's letters and other data could not be opened for twenty-five years after his father's death. The period will expire next July, and Lincoln experts anticipate that they will throw a new light on the Great Emancipator.

BEHIND THE CURTAIN
Too much misinformation has been circulated about Russia. A lot of this has been put into circulation by fellow-travelers and other admirers of the Soviet experiment. There have been honest mistakes of American writers who have been unable to penetrate the mysteries behind the iron curtain. Prominent Americans who have "toured" Russia have too often become dupes of propaganda shows, cleverly contrived for visiting eyes.

Gradually, however, facts are coming to light. Documented and unbiased studies are greatly needed, for they will dispose of many fallacies about the Soviets. Straight facts will set folks right taken steps to bar more speculators from collecting on excess production.

For the benefit of C.B. of Long Beach, Calif., AAA says that Europeans do not like dehydrated potatoes any more than did our G.I.'s.

INSURANCE—P.W.S. of Marinette, Wis., asks why the Veterans Administration, after seven months, has not got around to fixing up the National Life Insurance Policy, from the service, and wants his wife named beneficiary.

ANSWER: As VA has written to P.W.S., Administrator Bradley inaugurated a system of decentralization, and forwarding the files from Washington, New York or other erstwhile main offices has caused delay. In some instances it is understood, the records were deliberately misused by disgruntled employees who to be disclosed or transferred. VA also says that it is undetermined whether the question of Congressional economy.

For P. W. S.'s sake—or comfort, if such it be—the writer can say that his attempt to straighten out his son's insurance matters has been no more fortunate than my correspondent's. However, I have forwarded P.W.S.'s file and complaint to the appropriate VA official at Washington.

CEMETERIES—Many readers have asked for copies of letters published in this column some months ago on the question of bringing home the bodies of relatives killed overseas. They think the sentiments expressed therein might aid bereaved parents or other kin in making up their minds on whether to have the bodies returned or to let them remain overseas.

It is impossible to answer all these communications, but here is the purport of the earlier responses on this problem. One came from an Army Chaplain who had buried many boys in Okinawa. He urged parents to let their sons lie in overseas cemeteries, describing them as "beautiful, sacred, well-kept and hallowed spots."

Two G.I.s also wrote in, saying that, in their opinion, most of their buddies preferred to remain buried overseas if they fell in battle. They thought that the return of their bodies would only renew their relatives' anguish.

Many mothers and sisters, however, took an entirely opposite view, as was to be expected. Unlike George S. Patton, who has argued against removing the bodies, they say they will never be able to afford an expensive trip to their boy's grave, and would like him to rest in a neighboring cemetery.

POTATOES—The writer has been buried under tons of potato mail ever since he explained, after consultation with AAA officials, that ships allowed to rot could not be shipped to overseas because they were too perishable, too bulky, too wasteful on account of water content etc. I have received clippings from Concord, N. H., Boston, Mass., and Lansing, Mich., describing such shipments.

ANSWER: AAA stands by its original statement. But it is now shipping about 725,250 bushels to Spain and Yugoslavia. The Spanish government has bought direct, while Yugoslavia's shipment is credited to UNRRA's account. As future orders come in, more will be sent abroad. Failure to ship the 1946 crop in any quantity, AAA says, was due to the fact that European nations had sufficient potatoes then, and preferred wheat. It is, they add, almost impossible to ship during the winter because European countries do not have the preheated freight cars required for hauling this commodity any great distance.

Incidentally, AAA blames speculative interests seeking to clean up on the government support price for the huge and wasted 1946 surplus. The 1947 acreage is far smaller, and local AAA committees have taken steps to bar more speculators from collecting on excess production.

TALK OUT LOUD
Such a factual study is the 141 page book "Communism in Action," prepared under direction of Congressman Dirksen of Illinois. Printed as a house document by the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, the book may be obtained from the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 25 cents. Copies are also distributed free by the American Wage Earners Foundation, Suite 605, 30 North LaSalle Street, Chicago, Ill.

Written in a simple, factual style, without the customary slanted or biased approach, the book should interest all Americans who have been confronted with the idea that "the State does the job better." The facts set forth therein do not call for elaboration or editorial bias. They talk loud enough to make a mighty good argument for the American way of life.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES
Russian Communism theoretically envisions a classless society. On the basis of pay, the difference between the highest and lowest earner and the manager is much greater there than in America. The many "special privileges and bonuses" that are distributed to the Soviet managers make this much more obvious.

The average wage of workers is reported in a pre-war year as approximately $10 to $12.50 a month. American G.I.s have been known to gripe about service pay. An ordinary private in the Soviet army "earns" from $2 to $4 a month, a non-commissioned officer a maximum of $25, and a colonel about $450. This spread is typical in differences in economic status, and the study points out that "special privileges to men in the army follow in similar ratio."

THEORETICAL FAILURE
What about labor? Yes, in Russia labor is active and organized. Joining unions is a political and economic necessity. Labor leaders are appointed by the ruling group, and their duties are to speed up production, to keep labor disciplined. Wages are not a subject for discussion or negotiation. There is no collective bargaining.

There are no minorities; there is no deviation from the "party line." The final decision of the people, in elections, must conform to the "party" decision. In the party, religion is equivalent to "superstitions" and "unscientific processes." Profits are a capitalistic phenomenon, and therefore go to the state alone. The vast profits of the Soviet do not go to the workers whose property they are said to be, but to the expansion of "the Soviet of the future." Little wonder this study terms Communism a "theoretical failure."

SALES LADY
MORRISVILLE, Pa.—(AP)—Guild ladies of Morrisville Presbyterian Church were having a rummage sale and Church chorister Richard Watkins peeled off his new topcoat to help.

But he couldn't find the coat when the sale was over. One of the ladies sheepishly admitted she had sold it.

"Got a good price for it, too," she said.

Faultless Flashes to Triumph in 57th Preakness

Lanky Son of Bull Lea Shows Form to Excel by Full Length

By SID FEDER
PIMLICO RACE TRACK, BALTIMORE (AP)—The Missouri magic of the horse-training Jones boys, Ben and Jimmy, made a champ of a third-string colt—tall and rangy Faultless—today and sent him out to smash his way to a sizzling triumph in the 57th Preakness Stakes. Fit and sharp and full of run where it counted—coming up the stretch—the lanky son of Bull Lea went through last week's Kentucky Derby winner, Jet Pilot, and around the California contender, On Trust, and hit the wire a length in front to the surprise of a large portion of a packed crowd of 40,222 jamming Ol' Hilltop for this renewal of the run for the Black-Eyed Susans.

It marked the third Preakness triumph for the classy Calumet Farm of Chicago's Warren Wright, and was definitely one of the larger rabbits the Jones boys from Missouri have ever pulled out of a hat.

It wasn't only that this was the third choice of all the Calumet two-year-olds of last season to be aimed for jewels of the triple crown. But he was up against two horses who whipped him last week on a track he didn't like any more than short rations—in the Derby.

And this time he showed them who was boss, with everything else even up.

Both The Pilot and Phalanx—the one-two of last Saturday's run for the wassail—were expected to be as they were expected to be, and couldn't win the pot. Phalanx came flying up with his usual closing kick, but the best he could get was third place, back of both Faultless and On Trust.

And The Pilot tried to get out in front by himself right from the starter's "Come on, now," just as he did last week.

Only this time, in contrast to his unchallenged Derby charge he had competition galore right from the end starter's "Come on, now," as first one, then another, of the speed horses ran at him.

As a result, the lone question-mark he left in his Derby win—could he take it when he was looked in the eye—was answered. He couldn't. He folded and tired and came home a wearying fourth.

On Trust was $7.00 and $3.40 for place and show and Phalanx the least minimum of $2.20 for third.

Faultless had, too, one of those tough-riding, hard-hitting little bouncers from the cowboy country steering him. That was hard-faced little Doug Dodson, out of Elk River, Idaho, difficult to talk to and known as one of the most honest jockeys on anybody's race track.

And Dodson rode him as though he had written the book.

Harvester Gridders To Battle for Place On Team Friday Night

Pampa High School's Harvester Gridders will square off next Friday night and probably play as rough a game as they will show fans all next season, when the Gold and White teams face each other. With each player hustling with the hope of planting his name firmly on next season's starting lineup.

Coaches Tom Tippet and Aubra Nooncaster have indicated that they will divide the team early next week, not according to any first and second team standings, but by way of two well balanced teams, and let the boys have an even chance to prove themselves on the field.

The Harvester will have the heaviest team they have had in several seasons next year. Their blocking and tackling is improving noticeably, almost daily, according to the sideline quarters.

All in all, most fans seem optimistic that they will round into a real club.

Those working out are: Ends—Darrell Davis, Kelly Anderson, Bob Boyles, Jimmy King, Tom Chisholm and Bill Bond.

Tackles—Zeke Griffin, Roscoe Russell, Bob Jack Phillips, Leroy Troop, Bob Montgomery and Bill Runyon.

Centers—Hansel Kennedy, T. W. Perkins and Bob Hayes.

As a result, he made the second choice in the betting at $10.40, $4.80 and $2.80 around the board, with only stretch-flying Phalanx more heavily backed.

On Trust was $7.00 and $3.40 for place and show and Phalanx the least minimum of $2.20 for third.

Major Changes Made In Interscholastic Rules

AUSTIN (AP)—Adoption of new rules banning spring football training and limiting the eligibility of high school players to eight consecutive semesters was announced today by officials of the University of Texas Interscholastic League.

These rules were the most controversial of five issues voted upon by member schools.

Also approved were a state championship for Class A football, a ban against participation of players in post-season games and prohibition of schools paying coaches through use of funds gained from gate receipts.

The eight-semester regulation and the Class A football championship provision become effective with the 1948-49 school year. Other rules adopted become effective this year.

The ban of spring football training followed a campaign by the part of several member schools who maintained that such activity interfered with regular spring sports such as track and baseball.

As an example, it was feared that spring grid training interfered too greatly with a football player participating in track or baseball.

The opposition to the proposal was led by B. E. Shotwell, head football coach at Abilene High School, a Class AA school.

Class AA members voted 46-36 in favor of the proposal. Class A 14-80, and Class 3-261-104.

Roy Bedichek, director of the league said that the Class A championship game could not be organized for this fall and that rules of the league prevent the eight-semester regulation from becoming effective until one year's published notice.

The new spring training regulation provides, however, that fall training may begin on August 15 instead of September 1 as in the past.

Adoption of the eight-semester rule will have no effect upon the current 18-year age limit for players. Under the old regulation, players could compete until they became 18-years-old. Advocates of the new rule asserted that too many players were postponing graduation in order to play another year. This some times enabled players to continue participation while in their ninth or tenth semesters in school.

The new rule limits competition to only eight semesters of eligibility in any league sport, the semesters "dating from first enrollment in the last four years of high school to the end of the eighth consecutive semester."

A player's eligibility would terminate, however, should he attain his eighteenth birthday at any time during the eight consecutive semesters.

The rule was approved by a vote of 433 to 246.

The Class A football championship, approved 277 to 94, will make two state grid titlists for the 1948 season. At present Class AA teams play through a late-December title tilt. There was no vote taken on Class B championship games.

The rule to forbid participation of players in post-season games was adopted 441 to 213, while the vote approving the morality of paying coaches was 493 to 179.

Blackwell Gets Third Win as Reds Beat Cubs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ewell Blackwell pitched a five-hitter for his third win of the year yesterday as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-1 in a game featured by the Red Sox's timely hitting and snappy fielding.

Eddie Miller, Cincinnati shortstop, hit his seventh home run in the second. The Red Sox turned in four double plays to keep Blackwell out of trouble.

In addition to effective pitching, the Reds' defense was a factor. Eddie Miller, Cincinnati shortstop, hit his seventh home run in the second. The Red Sox turned in four double plays to keep Blackwell out of trouble.

In the Reds' third, Bert Hass singled, stole second and scored as the Reds cruised to three times, Eddie Miller and Frankie Baumholtz also singled off Ross Meyer, who relieved Bill Lee at the start of the big eighth.

Ed Walters scored the Chicago run in the first as he walked, went to third on Andy Pat's single and scored as Phil Cavett grounded out in the Red Sox's third. Series of Six Home Games Begin; Oilers Seek Revenge for 2 Losses

Pampa's Oilers return to Ol' Park today for the first of a six-game series here following an encouraging road trip that saw the locals falter before Lubbock's big guns and then come back to beat the third place Abilene Blue Sox twice straight to move up in the running.

After rain blotted out Friday night's performance and seemed likely to repeat last night, the Oilers would apparently come home one and one-half games behind their traditional rivals, the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The League League Lubbock Oilers were still leading comfortably with a three and one-half game margin over the Oilers and a two game handicap on the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Oilers will have a chance to shut out the Oilers and lead to a draw, today and tomorrow when they invade the Oilers' home park.

In the meantime the Oilers may be having a lot of trouble with the steadily climbing Albuquerque Dukes, this afternoon and tomorrow. The Oilers got off to a bad start with six straight defeats on the road to begin the season but have since come back to win four of six.

Two of those wins were from the Oilers, one from Amarillo and the other from Lubbock.

Late yesterday evening it was impossible to learn who Manager George Payte would put on the mound to face the Dukes and Manager Buck Faust was in a quandary as to who would do his hurling.

If the Lamers-Pampa game scheduled for last night was rained out, the Oilers would have both George Payte and Bill Hewitt, both of whom have won two games each in as many starts, to assign to the mound.

Faust had a choice of working either Alex Zamora or Oscar Potet, both of whom have pitched two games, losing one and winning one each.

Alex Zamora or Oscar Potet is likely to pitch Sunday, depending largely on whether Zamora gets to work Saturday night.

The club has two new outfielders from the Salem, Oregon, New York Yankee farm in the Western International League. They are Paul Halter in left and Dick Reutzel in right, operating with Val Defazio in center.

Nick Stallworth, who started the season at shortstop, succeeded Lou Larson at first base when Larson failed to hit and Alex de la Garza moved back to shortstop from second and Manager Buck Faust is stationed at third. John Buttarini is handling the catching duties in expert style.

Plans Discussed For Strengthening Of Farm Bureau

A group of Gray County farmers and ranchers met Thursday afternoon to study the organization plans for strengthening the Farm Bureau in Gray County which would help protect, promote and secure farming business.

Joe Hutton, district director of the Texas Farm Bureau, explained the functions of both the Texas and American farm bureaus. The American Farm Bureau has over 1,239,000 farm families in its membership. It was stated, and the Texas Farm Bureau has over 21,000 farm families.

Fred S. Vandenberg, president of the Gray County Farm Bureau, expressed hope for the organization when he stated, "I have seen the farm bureau in action at their state conventions, and I am convinced that such an active organization of farmers and ranchers is beneficial to our best interest."

"The organization is truly democratic, and its policies have been conservative in nature. At no time has the organization supported that which was radical or subversive. It has an outstanding record of achievement in working for agriculture at Washington and at the state capitals," Vandenberg concluded.

Locke Is Leading Houston Tourney

HOUSTON—(P)—Smooth stroking Bobby Locke, from Johannesburg, South Africa, canned a four foot uphill putt on the eighteenth green for a two under par 70 and took the 54 hole lead in the $10,000 Houston Open golf tournament.

The round gave the South African a 54 hole count of 208, one shot in front of Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles, who carded a 71 over the par 36-36 layout today and a 209 score.

Long Jim Ferrier, former Australian amateur champion who now plays out of San Francisco, was another shot back at 210 thanks to a 69 for the third round. Ferrier had a 33 for the front line and dropped a six footer for a birdie three on the home green and a 36 for incoming side.

John Palmer, Badin, N. C., with 140-71-211 held the next slot and Lew Worsham, Oakland, Pa., added a 72 to go with 149 for a three quarter total of 213.

Three players including Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., Harry Todd, Dallas, and George Fazio, Los Angeles, were bracketed at 215.

Hogan had a 71 for the third round, Todd a 73 and Fazio a 70. Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., George Schoux, Mamaroneck, N. Y., Herman Keiser, Akron, O., and John Eulla, Phoenix, Ariz., were docked.

Horse "Goes Loco" In Plane Flight

EL PASO—(P)—A wild horse rode the heavens between Mexico City and El Paso Saturday.

The crazed animal attempting to kick a hole in the side of the four engine cargo ship, terrorized the plane crew for two hours before the plane reached here and made an emergency landing at El Andersen Field.

The giant craft en route from Mexico City to Long Beach, Calif., with eight valuable race horses as cargo, had just left Monterey when, at 10:30 a. m., a two-year-old, owned by Carlos Gomez of Mexico City went mad.

"I was at the controls," said Capt. C. A. Ryan of American Air Lines "when I heard a crash behind me and the ship began shaking. One of the handlers rushed up front and shouted a horse had gone 'plum loco'."

"We expected to find a hole in the side of the plane any minute," exclaimed the pilot, mopping his brow.

The valuable, highstrung animal leaped and kicked its way through three stalls as the plane rushed on for an emergency landing here and was wedged between a stall and the side of the ship when the plane rolled to a stop here.

Air Line authorities sent an emergency call to Dr. Everett Stenar, local veterinarian, to handle the animal. The veterinarian quieted the horse with injections and the animal was made secure for the remainder of the flight.

Dr. John Redmon of the Bureau of Animal Industry arrived and directed that because of the hoof-and-mouth disease, the horse could not be taken off the plane in El Paso but must be carried on to Long Beach for clearance with federal authorities as stipulated in the original flight plan.

Take-off for Long Beach was delayed until Dr. Stenar made arrangements to accompany the horse to the West Coast. At 3:19 p. m. (MST) the plane took off on the last leg of the flight.

Wheeler Voters Vote Dry, Late Reports Show

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Wheeler County dries last night were leading by 4 to 1 in their fight to keep the county dry in its prohibition election.

A count of 229 for legalization of sales of all types of alcoholic beverages was tallied against the dries' 673 votes.

All of the Shamrock boxes were tallied before 8 p. m., but only 7 of the county's 19 boxes were reported by press time.

This was the first wet-dry battle since 1941 when residents of the county voted out the sale of all alcoholic beverages, including wine and beer.

As a result, all Wheeler Countians who want to drink will have to purchase from bootleggers or carry in their drinks from liquor stores in surrounding counties.

Working together as the United Dries of Wheeler County, several churches of the area put on heavy advertising campaigns. The vets made little, if any, effort to push their fight, it was reported.

Shamrock, previously a wet district in wine and beer elections, was expected to go dry in this election.

This was the first time since the repeal of prohibition that Wheeler County had voted to legalize the sale of all alcoholic beverages. Several elections had been held previously on wine and beer, but this was the first one to include so-called "hard liquors."

At the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. A. Theos of Skellytown members of the Eleanor Roosevelt Study Club made plans for the "Homecoming" which will close the current club year's work.

The meeting was opened by the members reading the Club Collect in unison followed by a business meeting presided over by Mrs. J. C. Jarvis. A new member was added to the club, Mrs. Frank Genette of Skellytown.

Members answered roll call by giving something of interest on their chosen topic for the year.

An interesting program was given with Mrs. Statton as leader. Mrs. J. W. Lee's topic was "Salute to Youth" in which she stressed the responsibility of parents, schools and churches, and the government itself in helping these young people, both boys and girls, to adjust their lives to the fast-changing world which is far different than before Pearl Harbor when they were called to sacrifice so much for their country.

The speaker mentioned the "Springfield Plan" for which Dr. Miller of Springfield, Mass., is given credit. She described it as a type of education which is developing a technique to immunize children as well as adults against the ravages of hate and bigotry. The plan seeks to unite schools, churches, labor unions, business organizations, social agencies, etc., in an effort to make both children and adults humane and rational. She stated that the work of the Federated Clubs constitutes a challenge to all citizens.

The Youth Conservation conference in the nation's Capitol, the speaker continued, insists that government, while encouraging individualism and family obligations, should accept the responsibility for the welfare of all children, regardless of race, creed or color.

Round-table discussions followed which proved very interesting. Refreshments were served to those mentioned and the following: Mesdames A. D. Parson, B. A. Wesner, H. Bagwell, Charles Zugar, and H. C. Boyde.

This one-time Illinois farm boy who became a concert pianist and teacher of wide repute has often been described as one of the chosen few who play music instead of playing the piano.

WE, THE WOMEN

Be a Club Worker, Not Just a Joiner

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Star Writer

Too many women are willing to get a feeling of doing something about their community problems by kibitzing from the sidelines—instead of jumping in and working where their interest will have practical results.

As a result, organizations that require active leadership plead for women, while all over the country women waste their time in clubs and organizations that are devoted to talk.

Girl Scout executives are going to try to make American women aware of their desperate need of leaders.

"Practically every troop in the country has a waiting list, and a conservative estimate indicates that 20,000 new leaders are needed," says Girl Scout officials.

It's the same old story in any organization that demands work from its members. Women like to feel that they have interests outside the home and are doing something about community problems.

TOO MANY JUST LISTEN

But too many of them choose clubs where all they do is listen to speakers, have long-winded discussions, and end up by making resolutions that somebody ought to do something about this or that condition.

If more women would realize that their outside interests should mean "taking on a job" instead of "going to a group," such worthy organizations as the Girl Scouts wouldn't have to turn down kids eager to join.

LIVER SUGGESTION

Slices of veal or lamb liver are delicious broiled. To keep liver from drying out, dip the slices in melted butter before broiling. For the perfect liver accompaniment, dip onion rings in milk, coat with flour and fry in hot lard.

For a zesty spring dish, season roast lamb with a blend of garlic juice and salt. It's different!

ACTIVE OZONE CREAM

Neglect a dry skin, and you invite that "years older" look. You tempt lines, and later wrinkles, and you encourage a noticeable scuffing of cuticle that simply won't take a smooth make-up. This dryness needs Active Ozone Cream, with its balance of moisture, oil and nascent oxygen, because this skin type, so fine and fragile, with proper care can be so beautiful.

Notice the exhilarating tingling as this cream starts to lubricate and soften that dry surface...to relieve that tense pull of dry skin...to awaken a flower dewiness to make others say, "How well you look!"

Mothers of Men

The Mothers of Men, by their devotion to their children, and their courage in crises, have gained their fame. They have been eulogized by every poet. Composers have immortalized their memory in the notes of glorious song. Great men have honored them in public declarations.

But to you, there is only one—
YOUR MOTHER. Living or dead, honor her today, and every day.

1—Cord of Thanks

MRS. MILLIE MAE GRAY
We wish to tender our most grateful thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and understanding in our grief at the loss of our dear wife, mother, daughter and sister who passed to her reward May 3.
We especially wish to acknowledge the kind deeds of you, who prepared and served food in our home to those present and for the floral tributes and the services of membership of the Pampa Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, and the members of the Church of the Nazarene and the Pampa Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. These blessings to us, will long be remembered.
Holly Gray, James and Vivian Gray, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Epperson and family.

I cannot think of them as dead, who walk with me more than along the path of life I tread. They have but gone before.
The Father's House is mansioned fair, Beyond my vision dim,
All souls are His, and here or there Are living unto Him.
And still their silent ministry Within my heart hath place,
As when on earth they walked with me, And met me face to face.
Their lives are made forever mine; What they to me have been Hath left behind it its seal and sign Engraven deep within.
Mine are they by an ownership Not time nor death can free.
For God hath given to Love to keep Its own eternally.

Noticed anything new lately on main street

It's my new sign... Al Lawson built it and I'm tickled to death... I've always wanted to have my name in lights, and Al really did it for me. I'm not figuring on going up on my own motion, as I figure over a period of ten years that it will more than pay for itself... Anyway when you come by the corner, just look up and you can see my sign... I'd have made it longer but I thought Behrman's might want to put up one themselves some day so I left some room... and speaking of neon signs, I've always figured that they cost a lot of money for what you were getting, but I've been watching Al make this one off and on, and I mean it's something. The old boy that invented the neon sign was either smart or crazy, and the man that puts it in the tube is no slouch sometime when you can spare the time go out to Al's and watch him fix one of the things... You'll learn something. And one more word while I'm on the subject of Signs and advertising... You people who are always promoting some kind of advertising scheme, please stay away from me... I've always been a sucker for advertising and auction sales, every time I get a little money ahead somebody has a sale, or this one wants me to take out an ad... I've got a pretty big family to feed, and I've either got to pay more attention to the grocery bill or sell more real estate.

Do you want to buy a lot of house for a little money... We have a six room modern house, and it's a dandy. Has tub and shower, it's been well taken care of... Has a nice yard with lots of big trees, with a good fence around it... good garage, with a good chicken house... This house faces the east, and sets on a 190 ft. lot. I want to sell it real quick, as the owner has up some money... on something else so will take $4500 if sold in the next few days... I will carry a good loan.

I have one of the nicest three bedroom brick homes on the hill that's just been listed with me for sale... The rooms are large and lovely and the yard is just what you need... Big fireplace, and there are two floor furnaces... The yard is well landscaped with large shade trees. Has double garage... the owner would like to sell it quick... He won't let it go for less than $2700... If you would be interested in a home of this sort would be glad to show it, as the owner has other plans and wants to sell.

A good three-room house furnished for $2500... A 2-bedroom home for $1700... Another 2-bedroom for $2200... A 3-room home on Duncan, for $500, with 2000 down... 5-room modern, good location for $1000... Here's a good buy in a 3-room brick house, sets on 4 lots, and has a big barn and cellar, takes 2000... A good 4-room modern with chicken house for 2100.

I have a customer who owns a nice three-room home in the Wilcox Addition, that wants to sell or trade in on a larger home on the north side... Another 5-room modern, double garage, take 5000, and owner will carry half... A good 5-room home on North Somerville with the money with lot of terms... Good 4-room house, hardwood floors, floor furnace, located in the east part for $750, and as little as $1500.

Need any rent property close in? Have three houses close in, that rents for around 700 a month, that I will let around 500 for, the out of town owners says sell, so that's what we are going to do... Another 3-room house in the Tally Addition for 1600.

Just been talking over the telephone to a man in South Dakota, and he wants to sell his ranch or trade in on a larger home on the north side... The way I got it he's getting old and wants to retire... He even has the original deeds on it... There's 10,000 acres of deeded land, and he has a million dollars in cash for 100 homes, and he irrigates 1000 acres of meadow land... This ranch is 25 miles out of Rapid City and it's not a rough ranch and says lots of the land could be broke out if you wanted to farm. The ranch house is all modern, with plenty of barns, and corrals... Has running water that never dries... He will sell you this ranch, and give all the mineral rights, and if you want to buy his cattle, he will take around $25.00 for his cows, and if you want to buy some yearlings... will also sell you what hay he has there... This ranch is a buy at $400 an acre, and if you would be interested I would want to show it in the next few days, as I think someone up there will buy it.

Speaking of that new bond issue coming up, I'm a taxpayer so I guess I can speak my little piece as long as I pay for it so here goes... I voted the one before the last one, and I'll vote the one for $50,000,000 and that was to be for a 100 bed hospital... They say it can't be built for that money, so they need $50,000,000 more to complete the job... If it carries that would be a million dollars for 100 homes, and if you will stop and figure that's 10,000.00 a room... That's a lot of money per room, in fact it's a lot of money for a room, in fact I see it, so I am going to vote against it... Pampa needs a good hospital pretty bad, and they need it now... I'm in favor of building what we can with what we have, and if you want to build it so that it can be added on to when things kind of slacken up.

Need some steel fence posts for your back yard?... We have a sample in the office. These will last a lifetime, and you won't have to dig a hole, as you have to do them in the ground... Take $20 each, one or a thousand.

I have a choice residential lot out in Mary Ellen Street, it's 60x140, and it's nice and level... Will take around 1000 for it, and it's close to the school... Some more good lots on North West for as little as $300... Need any land in Arkansas... We have a 13-acre tract of unimproved land 2 miles from one of the big fishing lakes, in fact the lake water runs right up to the land and is considered the best fishing in the state... It would make an ideal site for some cabins, in fact you could start in the resort business... The owner is a lady who lives here and she wants to either sell or trade it for some rent property here as she doesn't have any business with a layout like this.

Fred Gray still wants to sell his duplex and he has given me a new low figure on it... This is a money-making proposition if the right party comes along.

If you want to sell or buy, give us a chance... We have hundreds of listings, and if we tell you anything, that's just the way it is... We need the money alright but we're not hi-pressureing anybody just to make a sale.

When you read this ad go to Church... You'll feel better the rest of the day.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT

By Gwen Davenport

Copyright by Gwen Davenport; Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THIS STORY: Salty takes Vicky to visit his Uncle Adam. Adam, an embittered old man who lives alone, Salty says there is some reason behind Uncle Adam's lonely life but he never did know quite what it was.

XXI

"I've got a tennis racket you can use," said Salty. "I don't think you'll find it too heavy. It's one Neil used when she was here and she took three games off me."

"I'm no good at all," Vicky said in a timid voice. "I really shouldn't play."

He stopped and looked at her. "Don't you want to?" he asked incredulously.

"Oh, yes, yes, of course I want to. Only it won't be any fun for you—"

"That's all right, as long as you enjoy yourself," he said generously. "And anyway I wouldn't expect you to beat me. The only girl who can beat me is Neil's sister Alice, and she's real championship material."

Vicky felt her heart give a sick lurch. The only reason why Salty had not told her he loved her must be because there was another girl somewhere. Perhaps this Alice was the one. Maybe he was nursing a broken heart. "Is she anything like Neil?" she asked.

"Much prettier. Not that Neil isn't good looking—"

"Oh, of course not," Vicky said hastily.

"But Alice is a real beauty," he said.

"Where?" began Vicky, and found unaccountably she had to clear her throat — "where is Alice?"

"Vassar. They used to have vacations, but now there's something about doing four years in three—I don't know, I miss her."

"If she's in college," said Vicky, "I suppose she's very bright, too."

ing brass hat. Now he can lean against a stone wall while he waits for the little woman.

Then he had to lug a mortar plate miles over the landscape, now he takes a bus home with his armload of groceries.

Then he had to shave in cold water with a dull blade, now he has hot water and a dull blade.

Then he lay panting in the mud while a shell whizzed by, now he can stand on a curb and curse the taxi that nicked him.

Then he used to pray the platoon leader wouldn't ask him to go on any more "volunteer" patrols. Now he's mad if the Junior Chamber of Commerce doesn't name him to head the committee for a new park.

He used to sleep in a fox hole with one blanket, now he's got two blankets—and looking for a house with a "for rent" tag on it.

He used to say he would give anything if he could just go back and be with his relatives again. Well, he is—they're sleeping in the next room. That's one wish that came true.

Then he had to salute every second lieutenant, now he can raze the governor.

Remember how he used to complain because his sweetheart only wrote him once a day? Now he's married to her, and yelps if she opens her mouth more than once an hour.

He used to hate his uniform, now the only time he's really comfortable is when he's out in the garden in the old field jacket he "borrowed" from the Army.

He used to swear like the trooper he was — great muddy innocent "baths" now he hesitates to say "damn it" with the kids around.

Joe used to be dirty, tired and afraid then, now his ears are clean, he takes Saturday afternoon off to go to a ball game and the only thing he's afraid of is that the guy next to him will get ahead in his job faster.

Atom bombs were dropping in anger then, now people just talk about dropping them.

"Well, that doesn't necessarily follow. But Alice is bright, yes. I believe she was Junior Phi Beta."

"Oh," said Vicky, having not the slightest idea what that meant.

"Oh, yes, Alice is a real scholar. Well, here she is. See what kind of these rackets suits you best."

Vicky ordinarily played a passable girl's game of mixed doubles, until she got tired and bored at about the end of the first set. She could usually get her service in and cover the court creditably. But today nothing she seemed to do made the racket even come in contact with the ball.

At the end of a set the score was 6-0.

"Shall we change courts?" said Salty with deadly patience.

"I—I don't believe I'd better play any more. Thanks just the same," Vicky felt like saying. She thrust the racket at him, saying, "I'll see you later," and started for home.

Salty followed her. "Don't feel badly, Vicky, you did very well for the first time. Gee whiz, you couldn't expect to beat me, could you?"

She shook her head and walked rapidly home in silence. By the time she got to Gray Shingles she had her foolish tears under control. The long windows were open into the living room and she led the way gratefully into the dark obscurity of the library. Luckily it was deserted. Everybody must be in the studio.

"Where?" began Vicky, throwing herself on the tangerine velvet sofa, "it feels good to sit down. I'm afraid I'm not much of an athlete."

"I can't imagine anyone growing up without knowing how to play tennis," said Salty seriously.

"If she's in college," said Vicky, "I suppose she's very bright, too."

"But surely you didn't spend every summer in New York?"

"Yes, since the war. Before that I was abroad with Grandmother."

SALTY sprawled in a chair opposite the sofa. He looked very young and earnest and his voice throbbed with feeling as he said, "Oh, you poor darling! I hate to think of you spending all your life in hotels and restaurants."

"But I was in boarding school," Vicky explained. "And Grandmother didn't live in a hotel then. She and Mr. Bernheim had a house at Antibes, a beautiful house."

Salty got up and resettled himself beside her.

"Anyhow," he said, "your childhood wasn't normal."

Victoria felt a little annoyed. She certainly considered herself as normal as a girl who played championship tennis and won scholarships. "Oh, Salty, don't be ridiculous," she said. "I never could see anyway why everybody's childhood had to be like everybody else's childhood."

"A normal life is so much better for a child," he declared sententiously.

"Why, because—because everybody knows it is."

"Who decides what's normal?" asked Vicky.

Salty crossed his legs, making himself comfortable, apparently unconscious of her proximity.

"Well, now, you take me. I had about as normal a life as any child could. Lived in Boston in the winter and Goose Neck in the summer. It was—well, it was regular. I always knew what to expect. Gives a child a sense of security. I wish you'd had that."

"If I didn't, I never missed it," she said.

"But it's what you'd want for your children, isn't it?" He screwed around, looking up at her face. She was sitting very straight with her legs tucked under her. He watched her anxiously. "I mean—if you have any—if we—Vicky! You know I love you, don't you?"

All Victoria could think of to say was "Oh!" She had never been more surprised in her life.

ROTARY—Rotarian Ben Guill presented, on behalf of the club, eight high school students with mechanical pencils as Junior Rotarians at this past week's luncheon. The presentation was preceded by a talk by Fred Thompson, who discussed the subject, "Fellowship."

Those receiving the awards of recognition were Billy Bain, Bill Speer, Harold Anderson, Orin Allen, John Spearman, Lawrence Baines, Robert Sells, Warren Jones, and Danny Williams. High School Principal Frank Wilson also received a pencil set. A quartet, made up of members from the club, presented selections. Fred Sweeney had charge of the program.

LIONS—In a rather busy week, the members of the Lions Club heard discussion of the forthcoming Soap Box Derby, which is co-sponsored by the club, and progress at the Lions Club Park, a report on the district convention at El Paso a week ago. Morris Enloe, Lions general chairman of the Derby, urged all members to sponsor a boy in the races, and announced names of those making up the entry committee. Bill Fraser reported 114 trees have been planted, and that preparations are being made for grass, cement foundations for the Boy Scout Hut have been poured, and work has been done on a ball diamond. Dr. R. A. Webb reported on the convention at El Paso. Coach Tom Tipps was admitted as a member. Gloria Jay, high school student, was introduced as the new Lions Sweetheart.

KIWANIS—A program this past week was devoted to the Kiwanis Softball leagues, which will begin their play within a matter of days. (See Sports Page.) Committees were announced for the various churches, which help conduct the games, were present. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, pointed out some of the defects in the program, as guest speaker, Lieb Langston, who has been one of the important leaders in the yearly games, conducted the program.

20-Pound House Cat Overpowers Teacher

AMARILLO—(AP)—Seventy stitches were required to close the wounds inflicted by a large house cat on Mrs. Lula G. Prady here.

The animal clawed and chewed the 51-year-old Junior High School teacher until frightened away by a neighbor, who heard Mrs. Prady screaming. The neighbor, John Neece, hunted down and killed the cat. He said it weighed nearly 20 pounds.

Reaction Wide to Under Secretary Acheson's Speech

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson's forthright speech on America's obligations in assisting world recovery provides us with an excellent illustration of just how sensitive this chaotic old world of ours is to authoritative comment on economic and political affairs. Acheson's statement was made before business and farmers under auspices of the Delta Council at Cleveland, Miss., Thursday without fanfare, and yet within a matter of hours it was producing international repercussions—some favorable and others hostile. Among points made by the Under Secretary were these:

Rating Schedule Adjustment Seen

A readjustment of the new Veterans Administration rating schedule under which disabled veterans are granted percentage of disability rating soon will be necessary, according to Dewey Belmont, commander of the Pampa Chapter, Disabled American Veterans.

Commander Belmont said that National Commander Lloyd F. Olson has appointed a rating schedule committee which is headed by DAV national service officer Bernard Southard of Cincinnati. The committee will study the schedule and report on its recommendations.

Although the "Schedule for Rating Disabilities (1945) Edition" has been in use only a short time, Belmont said, "practice has revealed already that readjustments are necessary."

"In view of the fact that in the past rating schedule committee of the DAV have played an important part in bringing about corrections and additions to rating schedules of the Veterans Administration, it is the purpose of the DAV to continue this useful service."
