John E. Jones, Prominent Co. Farmer, Dies

John E. Jones, for many years a farm leader and a leader in county affairs, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday, Nov. 23 at 3:20 p.m., following a brief critical illness. He was 78 years of age and 68 years were lived here. His family had played a vital part in the county's development almost from the beginning of its history.

He resided at the family home three miles northwest of Wellington.

Mr. Jones was one of those who led in the progress of farming here during that period when it made its greatest strides. Many learned by his example to use improved methods, or to take advantage of services available to them, improving their own way of farming and way of life.

He was interested, too, in the county's welfare and served it as a commissioner from Precinct 1 for several years.

Mr. Jones had been a member of the Baptist church since early in life and he also was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

John Edgar Jones was born Sept. 4, 1882 at Honey Grove,

Christmas Lights Will Go on Monday, Dec. 5

INTRODUCING SANTA

This is Wellington's individual Santa Claus, introduced here by Mrs. Billy Moseley, secretary in the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce office. Santa will be mounted in a prominent place around the court house to extend greetings for the holiday season.

Wellington's Christmas lights go on Monday night, Dec. 5, opening what is expected to be one of the most active Christmas seasons in recent years.

N. M. Higdon, chamber of commerce manager, announced plans for the lighting program.

Lighting will center around the court house square. Wellington's traditional Christmas star will gleam from the top of the courthouse.

Gaily colored lights will outline the top of the court house and the edge of the court house lawn, and strings of lights will extend from the building to each corner of the lawn.

The three evergreen trees, planted as living Christmas trees, will be lighted for the first time this year.

Time for the lights to go on for the first time is 6:30 p.m. Monday, Higdon said.

This precedes the arrival of Santa Claus on Friday, Dec. 16, Higdon announced.

Details for that visit will be announced later, but he did reveal that Santa will bring his sleigh loaded with treats for the boys and girls.

Merchants say Christmas shopping is already well un-

Miss Mildred Hulsey

Former WH Teacher Honored at Tulia

A revered former Wellington teacher, Miss Mildred Hulsey, was honored recently by men and women who once were her English students, and by the townspeople of Tulia, where she has taught and made her home for a number of years.

A highlight of the observance was the presentation to Miss Hulsey of a bound volume containing more than 200 testimonial letters from former students, members of her church and clubs, professional groups and other friends. Many of these she taught at Wellington.

The presentation was made by Tulia superintendent of schools Vance Swinburn, who headed the Dodson school when Miss Hulsey taught here.

Friends of Miss Hulsey spent more than three months assembling the letters for the volume, and they came from many states, the Philippines and points through Europe.

Tribute to Miss Hulsey came on Tulia's school homecoming, and the mayor of the town proclaimed that Mildred Hulsey Day.

Presentation of the volume of letters came during a program dedicated to her. In addition to addresses, music was presented by the combined choirs of Tulia high school. The program was broadcast live over the radio in that town and a tape recording was made for presentation to Miss Hulsey.

Art work for the Wellington group in the letter volume was by Mrs. Ellen Drake and Mrs. Swinburn, who taught with Miss Hulsey here.

Miss Hulsey came to Wellington high school in 1928, after teaching in Oregon. She taught English here for more than ten years, and then she returned to her home town, Tulia, to continue teaching English and care for her mother.

Miss Hulsey's students here were known for the proficiency

County Gins 25,336 Bales By Tuesday

Collingsworth county had ginned 25,336 bales to Tuesday noon, Nov. 29, according to Earl Brown, who has been in charge of the farm labor office for the Texas Employment Commission here.

Approximately 4,000 bales of this was ginned during the preceding five days, as 21,556 bales were ginned up to last Thursday.

At that time six mechanical pickers and 152 strippers were operating in the county, Brown said, in addition to hand pullers.

Brown has completed his work here for the Texas Employment Commission and is returning to his home in Childress. He maintained offices at the Farmers Co-Op Gin.

He had high praise for the cooperation given him by both gin managers and farmers in placing workers coming in during the cotton season.

Conservation Essay Slated Again in '61

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District again will sponsor the essay contests among high avthb8eQb/-f school students under the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of Soil Conservation Service announced this week.

The topic for this year's essay will be "Why I Believe in Soil Conservation."

The district will offer $25 prizes for the best essay from each of four schools and an additional $5 for the best essay from each English class. There must be as many as three entries from each class to qualify, Squyres said.

The deadline for entering for the county prizes is Feb. 1 and Feb. 15 is the deadline for entries to be sent to the state contest, sponsored by the Fort Worth Press.

Any entry that may be turned in after Feb. 1 but before the 15th, will not be eligible for judging for one of the county awards, but it will be eligible for the state contest, Squyres said.

Supervisors of Salt Fork SCD are urging that each school set up its own judging system, with the school winner and each of the class winners designated when the essays are turned over for county judging.

Salt Fork SCD had two state winners last year, Jennifer Singley and Ralph Coburn Jr., both of Wellington.

Defense Program Comes to Wellington

Next Tuesday the people of the Wellington area will have the opportunity of attending a special progrom on "Survival in the Nuclear Age" which will be held in the auditorium of the high school building. The program is sponsored by the Business and Professional Womens Club of Wellington as a public service.

The purpose of the program will be to show means of survival in the event of nuclear attack. Specifically it will deal with the effects of nuclear weapons and what can be done to protect oneself against them. It will also show how a nuclear attack would affect Wellington and the surrounding area and the need for survival planning and how to go about it.

To most of us the thought of a nuclear attack seems like something that might happen to New York, Detroit, Houston and cities like that. But it should be remembered that the danger of fallout is just as real in our community as it is in any other part of the United States. Besides we need to know as much as we possibly can about the conditions that confront us today. The meeting next Tuesday is a chance to learn.

President and Navy Knock Chip Off Castro's Shoulder

The chip Fidel Castro has been carrying on his shoulder regarding the United States naval base at Guantanamo Bay in southeastern Cuba has been knocked off by some forceful talk by President Eisenhower and the beefing up of the base's defenses by the Navy.

The machete-rattling dictator had whipped up an invasion frenze, apparently as a pretext for an attack on the base.

President Eisenhower let Castro know in no uncertain terms that we intend to defend the base. The Navy mined the fields adjacent to the base and put the base complement through defense exercises.

The "invasion" for which Castro mobilized his militia never took place. Indeed, his bellowing about it probably was an effort to keep the average Cuban's mind off the difficulties the Castro government has brought the island, or an attempt to solidify his position with the people.

Since the President made known our intentions to defend the base, Castro's tone has softened. He has apparently forgotten about the "invasion."

In an interview reported in an Egyptian publication, Castro said Cubans would not be such "idiots" as to try to take the base by force.

And counterrevolutionary reports hold the promise that Castro may not be around long enough to seek possession of the base, which we hold by a binding treaty, through "legal" means, presumably the World Court. —Houston Chornicle

Keep Main Street Alive

The country over, there is concern whether or not "Main Street" can maintain its traditional commercial power.

This concern results from the development of suburban shopping centers. The problem is acute in sizable cities, where downtown stores have been losing trade to out-lying districts. But it's a problem in smaller communities, like Weiser, too . . . and the problem will grow because these are rapidly changing times.

According to Chain Store Age, "Main Street can be very much alive" but it takes more than wishful thinking to keep the blood coursing through its veins.

The vigor of Main Street seems to depend upon the recognition by merchants, property owners, financing institutions and civic officials that they must work together to keep downtown on its feet.

Investments must be made in modernization, parking facilities and sales promotion, and the incentive must be there to do what has to be done with all necessary speed.

In short Main Street can survive and prosper . . . but it will take thought, planning, work and money. —Weiser (Idaho) American

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor.

I see where a Texas citizen bought two newspapers and then is alleged to have started robbing banks to make ends meet.

My editorical neighbor says this fellow's defense likely will be insanity, and taking on two newspapers at one time single-handed ought to stand up in any court as proof that a man is crazy.

Says, anyhow, there ought to be a federal subsidy for people with high newspaper fever, same as for citizens with the farming itch, so they can work at the job they like without needing to rob banks with gun or note to pay expenses.

I see where a big advertising mogul wants the TV people to put in fewer and better commercials.

My domesticated neighbor says a move in this direction would be a menace to society, on account of commercials are already so scarce that folks can't hardly take care of their routine household chores without missing a gun fight or two.

Says interesting commercials would make matters worse, because without any dull interludes on the screen, some fellows might never get a dish washed.

I see where there is complaint in some quarters about how the movies are getting pretty near too adult for even the grownups.

My nauseated neighbor says it used to be that virtue would triumph in every family-type movie, but these days it hardly ever gets to first base.

Says maybe the movie writers need to get their stock plot fumigated, so as they can, for instance, tell the story of Little Bo-Peep without stripping her.

I see where some biologists say they have labored and concluded that life originated from non-living matter.

My unconfused neighbor says he already knew this from reading Genesis 2:7 which says God formed man of the dust of the ground.

Says scientists ought to quit wasting their time on questions which the answer is already in the Book, and try solving some of our real mysteries, such as how come just moving an ordinary bum to Washington makes him smart enough to run everybody else's business.

I note that here lately there has been a good deal of comment about how U.S. prestige is getting mighty low, worldwise.

And now Pres. Ike says our soldiers overseas have got to send their families back home for the old folks to look after, on account of our money is also running low.

My petit neighbor says this is a very dire development, especially if our international prestige now goes down as utterly as his personal community influence did after he went broke.

I note that schools are now taking over more of the job of raising children, what with teaching them how to cook, drive a car, blackmail businessmen, manage parents, and attend to other common social chores.

My bothered-father neighbor says this makes parents sort of unnecessary to our child program, except for furnishing the raw material.

But says if parents don't much go for the type of citizen that school bringing up makes out of their kids, and lose interest in them, it could seriously cut down the football and basketball gate.

Twenty-five per cent of all home fires start in the kitchen.

Attending were Judy Bailey, Andrea Carter, Elaine Crawley, Betty Durfey, Mary Graham, Vicki Glenn, Frances Hill, LaQuinta Hollingsworth, Linda Millsap, Lynda Orr, Alvina Roberts, Jennifer Singley, Betty Sanders, Peggy Shanks, Donald Sutton, Stacey Taylor, Barbara Tarver, Linda Wade, Elaine Yarbrough, Shirley Peters, Sylvia McQueary, Linda Elbert. Samnorwood traveled to Granite, Okla., Tuesday night and split a pair of hard fought games, winning the girls game 38-28 and losing the boys game 49-47.

Norwood jumped into a quick 13-6 first quarter lead in the girls game and led 22-13 at half time. Samnorwood led 30-19 at the end of the third quarter and held the lead the rest of the way. Barbara Stembridge and Darlene Rainey paced the Norwood attack with 15 points each. Jane Burkhalter was high for Granite with 18.

The boys game was a different matter as the score changed hands throughout the game. The score was tied at the end of the first quarter 14-14 but Norwood led at the half, 29-28. Granite regained a one-point lead 38-37 at the end of the third quarter, and won by two points when Norwood could only hit two of 11 free throws.

Gene Sherwood led Norwood scoring with 11 points, while Joel Lowry and Randall Murry collected 10 each. Joe Prather led Granite with 15 points.

Wellington-Norwood

Friday night Norwood downed Wellington twice, winning the girls game 42-34 and the boys game 44-34.

Samnorwood guards on the Eaglette team were Rose Bradley, Linda Garner, Dottie Tate and Margie Conner played one of their better games in limiting Wellington forwards to seven field goals. Barbara Stembridge and Carleen Myers provided the firepower with 19 and 15 points.

Samnorwood boys started slow against the fired-up Wellington boys and trailed early in the game 9-1 and were behind 9-4 at the quarter and trailed 19-14 at the half. But they came back strong in the third quarter and led 29-25. Joel Lowry and Bill Bentley led Norwood scoring with 19 and 12 points. White and Daves led Wellington with nine points each.

Norwood goes to Shamrock Tuesday night and then travels to Sunray Thursday for a tournament. Norwood plays both Gruver teams in the first round.

Mrs. Holman Now Teaching

DENTON.—Some 250 North Texas State college students are studying the art of teaching in public schools in the North Texas area this semester.

They are student teachers, enrolled in the NTSC program for the preparation of teachers. Most of them are assigned to schools in Denton, Dallas, and Tarrant counties, although a few teach at more distant points.

Among those enrolled in this program during the fall semester is Mrs. Dorothy J. Holman of Wellington, who is teaching speech at Denton high school in Denton.

One of two plans is followed. Students working in schools close to the campus have been teaching for half a day all semester. Those further away spend full time in the classrooms for either the first or the second nine weeks of the semester.

Under the guidance of the classroom teacher and a college supervisor, the student teachers assist in planning and carrying out the regular instruction program. This is part of their work toward earning teaching certificates.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Pigg during Thanksgiving were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kern Pigg and the latter's mother, Mrs. James C. Brown, all of Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Squyres and family were in Breckenridge during the holidays visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Squyres.

Judy Forbis and Jimmy Forrester Marry in Thanksgiving Day Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Forrester will make their home in Portales, New Mexico, where the bridegroom attends Eastern New Mexico University, following their wedding here on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 24. The bride is the former Judy Forbis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Eron Forbis. The bridegroom is the son of J. L. Forrester of Paradise, Calif., and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brisbin, with whom he made his home here.

The double ring ceremony was performed at four o'clock in the afternoon at First Baptist Church, by Gary West, student minister. The background was an arch covered with jade leaves, with candelabras holding lighted tapers and baskets of stock and gladioli on either side.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Truman Estes, organist, and Miss Ann Bybee of Amarillo, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of white lace over satin. The fitted bodice was made with a round neckline and long tapered sleeves, while the waist line came to a point in front. The bouffant skirt of lace over satin extended into a chapel train. A pearl coronet held the bride's tulle veil, and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums on a Bible.

Miss Dona Sherman of Denver was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Shanks of Abilene and Mrs. Carl Daves. Miss Sherman wore a bronze peau de soie dress made with rounded neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and bell skirt, while the bridesmaids dresses were of identical material in sheath style. All wore feather hats in variegated shades of yellow to bronze, and carried net umbrellas decorated with bronze chrysanthemums.

Denny Harris of Palestine was best man and ushers were Rommie Forbis, brother of the bride; Cager Wilkins, Max Courtney, Austin White, Jr., of Fort Carson, Colo., and Mack McKinney of Sayre, Okla.

The reception was held in the church parlor.

The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over brown and centered with the bridesmaids' umbrellas. In the house party were Miss Joline Groves of Waco, Miss Diane Owens and Miss Bybee of Amarillo.

As the couple left on their wedding trip, the bride wore a brown checked suit with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums.

Soil testing is a tool you can use on your farm to help determine the level of fertility of your soil. The recommendations which you will receive from the soil testing laboratory, based on the analysis of the soil samples you submit, will give the amounts of fertilizer needed for the most profitable crop or pasture production. Local county agents can supply inormation on soil testing.

CHICK VITAMINS

There are several mineral elements which a chick must have if he is to show normal growth and development. Dr. C. W. Deyoe of the Texas A. & M. LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

Mr. President:

The Great Challenge

With his inauguration next January the new President of the United States faces the greatest challenge that has come to any man in all history. This is the challenge of international Communism that moves relentlessly forward on its mission to conquer the world. To accept the challenge, our new President must rise to the stature of world leadership and must mobilize all free men in to a mammoth offensive for victory. It is the duty of every American citizen who agrees with this proposition to write to the President-elect and urge such action.

Up to this date, in the 27 years that Soviet Communism has openly made known its objectives on the world scene, the United States has been outsmarted at nearly every turn. Yet Khrushchev, and Stalin before him, and the other bosses in the Soviet hierarchy today are not supermen. We have the intellect and the moral foundations and the material resources in America to lead a crushing victorious offensive against world Communism. But we are on the defensive, in retreat. The true facts of our peril have not been recognized by our leaders, and they have been largely withheld from our people due to subversive influences, political expediency, and traitorous activities.

Two Calls for Action

Our own political leadership, I'm afraid, will not move into action even now on the scale required for victory over world Communism, unless 50 million Americans speak out and demand it. Two of America's truly great friends among the diplomats of the world are Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon, former President of the United Nations General Assembly, and General Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the United States and himself a former president of the U. N. General Assembly.

In the September issue of the Reader's Digest, universally respected magazine, Dr. Malik sounds a grave warning to the United States and the so-called "free world." His article is entitled: "Is It Too Late to Win Against Communism?"

Reject 'Peaceful Coexistence'

The subheading on the article by Dr. Malik says "A challenge to the West: To win the war against Communism, the democracies must abandon 'containment', reject the idea of 'peaceful coexistence', adopt an active policy of liberation. Most of all, the West must have in the values that made it great — and assert them throughout the world."

The entire article is devoted to a summation of the grave peril to freedom and an appeal to the United States to take aggressive leadership in an "active policy of liberation."

General Romulo's article in the November Reader's Digest has the shattering impact of a clear-throated bugle calling to citizens of America to act. Its title: "America, Wake Up!" The Digest editors, in an introductory note say: "A wise and loyal friend of the United States warns us: The cold war is real war. . . . It is far later than we know . . . The Communists can win without changing their tactics . . . We cannot win without changing ours. . . We must assume the offensive. . . We dare not stand still. . . To do so is to continue to lose ground. This is a stern and urgent appeal. It is one that no American can afford to ignore."

A Dark Age?

Yes, we have come to the crossroads for freedom. Either the American people will now awaken and begin to bring their fear and courage to bear on our leaders, or, as General Romulo says, "a dark age of Communistic totalitarianism is certain to engulf the human race." In our work in the National Education Program we have sought for more than 20 years to awaken the American people. Our materials have reached millions and have shaken many into action. Just six months ago, we completed work on a new filmstrip "Communism on the Map." It is shocking in its revelations. Its acceptance throughout the nation has been sensational—and most encouraging.

More than a million people already have viewed "Communism on the Map." It has been adopted as a public service project by 16 daily newspapers; by fraternal and civic groups, civilian sections of the armed services, by school and PTA groups and by the American Legion. It is being used in nearly 200 industries. It charts with documentation the geographic advances and present position of world Communism. It is for rent and for sale. Write the National Education Program, Searcy, Arkansas, for further information. Write the new President-elect.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Eighteen-year-old Helena Ellis told friends in High Wycombe, England, that she was too busy with school work for romance and "that it is not terribly hard to get a date if I want one." She is the only girl among 1,050 boys in the local school.

NOT THE BUTLER

The first library patron to be fined in Durham, England, under a new law penalizing anyone who keeps out a book longer than 14 days was relieved of $2.80. The overdue book in question: "Find a Victim."

POSTHUMOUSLY

Warning on an electrical pump, as recorded by a London newspaper: "It is instant pensive state institutions and death to touch this machine. Anyone doing so will be prosecuted."

Cottton Production in Texas is the title of a new publication just released jointly by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Copies are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Ask for B-938.

LITTLE COLONEL By Bob McKinley

"It's a fake, Mister! Babe Ruth ain't in it."

Disabled Under 50 Can Draw on Social Security

If you are totally disabled but have not been able to draw disability insurance benefits under the social security program because you are not yet age 50, or if you know of someone in this situation, the recent changes in the social security law are of vital importance to you, Hal Gelden, manager of the Amarillo social security office announced recently.

Disability insurance benefits have been payable to severely disabled workers age 50 and over since July 1957. These payments are equal to the amount the worker would receive if he were already 65. Under the new amendments, disabled workers can be paid benefits regardless of age, and their dependents will also be paid the same benefits they would receive as if the worker were 65 and receiving retirement benefits.

"Only workers with at least five years coverage under social security are eligible for disability payments," Gelden pointed out. He further emphasized that no change was made with regard to the severity or duration of the disability that the worker must have in order to qualify.

STORED BUGS

Texas A&M College system entomologists say that stored grain cannot be forgotten. Insects may be stored with the grain, and these insects could cause tremendous losses. To combat insect damage to stored grain, the storer should fumigate the grain according to recommendations of the local county agent.

FARMS MECHANIZED

There are more than 12 million tractors, trucks and cars on American farms. To keep them running, agriculture in 1958 bought fuels equivalent to 15 billion gallons of crude petroleum. That is more petroleum than for any other single industry.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and heartfelt thanks to all who expressed their love and sympathy in so many comforting ways during our recent sorrow. For the flowers, food, cards and the many other acts of kindness, we are indeed grateful. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

The family of
Mrs. Mary E. Ross

Words cannot adequately express our appreciation and our gratitude to all those who were so thoughtful and helpful during the illness and passing of our loved one.

You so graciously ministered to our every need that you gave us strength and courage. For the flowers, food, cards, words of sympathy, for remembering us in your prayers, we are indeed grateful.

May God bless each of you.

The family of Winfield White.

We take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to every one of you who did so much to make our Golden Wedding anniversary such a happy occasion.

Especially do we wish to thank the Kiwanis Club for their program honoring us and all our friends and neighbors in and around Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Petersen

Mildred Hulsey wishes to express her gratitude for her recent honor when the Tulia schools observed homecoming by proclaiming the day as "Mildred Hulsey Day."

Many of the huge volume of letters she received from her former students and from her other friends came as a result of the publicity given by The Wellington Leader. Superintendent and Mrs. W. V. Swinburn of the Tulia schools initiated the plan.

"Will all who contributed letters, or any other parts of the program, please accept my most sincere thanks," requests Miss Hulsey. "There were so many participants that it would be very difficult to call every name. Each of you planned early and quietly and then executed thoroughly. I cannot think of a more beautiful and more lasting way to be honored, nor of a more delightful surprise. All of you have a lasting place in my memory."

GOD'S WORD

Bible Question: How often are we to partake of the Lord's Supper?

Bible Answer: "And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread." (Acts 20:7). The Bible and history agree that early Christians partook of the Lord's Supper the first day of every week. It is in memory of His death.

We assemble on the first day of every week in memory of the Lord's resurrection. He died as often as he was resurrected. We should therefore remember His death as often as we remember His resurrection.

Lone Star Gas Gives Employees Pay Increase

DALLAS.—Employees of the Lone Star Gas Company and Lone Star Producing Company will receive a 5 per cent pay increase effective Dec. 1.

In making the announcement, Lone Star President L. T. Potter said the increase represents an additional payroll cost of $1,200,000 annually.

The Lone Star head said individual and collective work performances by Lone Star people was a major factor in the decision to authorize the pay rate adjustment.

From: The Office of Santa Claus

Memo TO: Mr. and Mrs. Assistant Santa Claus: North Pole

Hello, Folks.

I hope everything is under control down your way as Christmas approaches.

My scouts report that your home stores have a lot of fine gifts for you to select from in preparation for the celebration of this wonderful Festival of Love and Good Will.

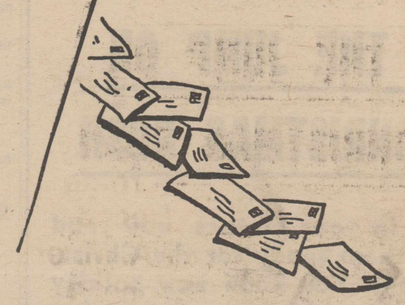

Now this is very good news. It means that you can do your Christmas shopping at home, in familiar stores, with people you know, where you can take plenty of time to pick out just the right gifts for everybody on your list.

Which will make the Christmas chore easier for you and make sure your gifts will be sincerely appreciated by the folks you love.

But what is more important--when you shop at home for gifts to go under the Christmas tree--you're also giving to your family, your friends and neighbors, and yourself the gift of more prosperous New Years to come...without putting any extra strain on your Christmas budget.

I ll be seeing you.

Quail, Clarendon Lose

Rocket Teams Down Two Opponents Here

Wellington Rockets and Rockettes took the measure of teams from two schools and emerged with four victories to send optimism soaring for Coach E. W. Clement's teams.

Victims of Wellington playing skill were the Clarendon Broncos, who were the losers 53 to 39; the Bronchoettes, whom the Rockets defeated by a tight 60-56; the Quail Quails who went down 53 to 36, and the Quail Bobwhites, who were defeated 58-40.

All games were played in Rocket gymnasium.

High scorer in the Rocket-Clarendon game Friday, Nov. 18, was Jackie Daves, with 17 points. Butch White was second with 16, and Talley was high for the Bronchos with 15 points.

Clarendon took a narrow lead early in the game and was ahead 10 to 8 at the end of the first quarter. At the half, the Rockets squeaked to a 22-21 lead, then during the third quarter widened the margin to 38-31.

The Bronchos presented a team that was quite a bit larger than the Rockets, and the Wellington boys, in the second period, did the only thing they could do effectively — they started pressing their opponents.

Playing for the Rockets were White, Robert Weir, Jimmy Brown, Jerry Rainey, Richard Holder, Richard Mauldin and Jackie Daves.

Other team members are Glen Lacy, Oliver Bishop, Lynn McLain, Dan Henard, Craig Bergvall, Elmer Keller, Delmer Duckworth. Keith Brown is the manager.

Clarendon players were Abel, Allen, Talley, Elmore and McAnear.

High scorer in the girls game, which Wellington won 60-56, was Wellington's Betty Sanders with 26 points. Adams of Clarendon had 24; Sharon Campbell 18; Richey of Clarendon 15, and Sherry Gibbs 12.

Starting guards were Cozetta McNabb, Janice Woods and Patricia Sullivan. Other team members are Elaine Yarbrough, Gayle Courtney, Linda Millsap, Laverne Moore, Mary Gibson, Donna Curry and Vicki Glenn. Manager is Zonelle Porter.

Quail-Wellington

Although Wellington won the game 58 to 40, Amelia Morgan of the Quail Bobwhites was top scorer of the game with 29 points.

LaRita Patterson added 8; Sherry McGuire two and Bonnie Brim one.

Sharon Campbell was the Rockettes top goal pitcher with 25 points; Betty Sanders got 17, Elaine Yarbrough 8, Gayla Courtney 6 and Mary Gibson 2. All members of the Wellington squad.

Other Quail players were Jackie Hill, Tidwell, Jerri Stephens, Linda Jenkins, Inois Clay and Betty Moseley.

Wellington led during the entire game, with the score at first quarter-time 17 to 12; at the half, 36 to 23; and 48 to 28 at third quarter.

The Rockets and Quails were near-equal in size, but again the Wellington boys used their pressing tactics to advantage.

Bobby Boyce of Quail was high scorer for the game with 22 points. Glenn Lacy of Wellington got 9 and Rainey and Daves 7 each. Kennedy added 5 for Quail.

The entire Wellington squad played. Quail players were Boyce, Kennedy, Maxwell, Wilson, White, Paul Boyce, Kennedy, Johnson, Wheeler and Boen.

Again, Wellington led during the entire game. At the end of the first quarter, the score was 12 to 8; at the half it stood 30 to 16. The pace continued and at the third quarter the score was 43 to 26.

October Rural Wrecks Listed

The highway patrol investigated two rural accidents in Collingsworth county during the month of October, according to Sergeant D. R. Dowdy, patrol supervisor in this area.

These wrecks have accounted for one person killed, four injured, and a property damage of $3,025.

This brings the total for the year in this county to two persons killed, twenty injured, and a property damage of $10,232.

"In 1959, 8,200 pedestrians were killed on the streets and roads of America," Sergeant Dowdy said. That figure represents about 24% of all traffic fatalities in this country in one year's time. If we could eliminate this one category from our death toll, it would contribute heavily toward a general massive reduction in traffic fatalities, he said.

True, a pedestrian doesn't have much of a chance against two tons of steel, the officer continued, but if the driver and pedestrian both would use good defensive measures and common sense, this type of casualty could be averted.

Mrs. Jack Mears and daughter of Roscoe spent the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harbin of Loco.

Miss Gwen Davis of Amarillo was here for the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Davis.

Welcome to Wellington

Moving to Wellington a short time ago were Mr. and Mrs. Odas Benson, who came here from Pampa, but who prior to that were in construction work over much of the country.

The couple bought lots at 1006 Floydada street and have moved their large house trailer onto it.

Since leaving construction work, they engage in custom combining and plowing. They returned Wednesday from the harvest on the South Plains.

From January 1956 until in September 1958, Benson did pipe line construction at Maricaibo, Venezuela, and Mrs. Benson was with him for much of the time. An employee of Brown and Root, part of his work was laying a pipe line in Lake Maricaibo, which even at the time he went there had 10,000 oil wells within the lake itself, a body of water 120 miles long, 80 wide and 130 feet deep.

He went through two revolutions while in Venezuela, but in neither were the American workmen threatened.

"They won't bother you if you don't go out and try to get into politics," Benson remarked. During the first, the couple moved from their home into a hotel at the wishes of the company.

During the second, after Mrs. Benson had returned to the United States, Benson, along with the other men, simply stayed in the work camp. Construction work, however, was shut down.

"I was there when Vice President Nixon had his trouble at Caracas, Venezuela, but the people at Maricaibo never resented us. In fact, they liked us around. The Americans made good money and they spend lots of it," Benson recalled.

Horn Elected Illinois Judge

Raymond O. Horn of Salem, Ill., nephew of Roy Horn, was elected circuit judge of that southern Illinois district in the recent general election.

A lawyer, he will fill an unexpired term. He was nominated for that office while he and his wife were vacationing out of the state.

Horn, when he was 15 years old, spent a summer with his uncle and aunt here and worked digging ditches to put down Wellington's gas lines.

He grew up in Salem and is a graduate of the University of Illinois law school. His law partner is Judge Raemer, federal judge in that district.

News of Men in Service

Pvt. Truman Ledbetter, who entered the Army Sept. 15, completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., Nov. 18, and has been reassigned to that base for a two-year period.

He expects to be home for a short leave during the Christmas holidays, and his wife, the former Jean Webb, will return with him to California, to make her home while he is stationed at Fort Ord.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ledbetter, and attended school at Samnorwood.

Bond Sales Near '60 Quota

October E and H savings bonds sales in Collingsworth county totaled $4,943, according to John Forbis, chairman of the county savings bonds committee.

Sales for the first 10 months of 1960 were $121,255, which represents 93.3% of the county goal for 1960. First ten months sales in Texas were $129,501,248, or 78.2% of its 1960 goal of $165,500,000.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baldwin during the holidays were their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Van Bebber of Dumas and Mrs. Aaron Meeks of Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reeves of Canyon were here during the holidays, visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reeves.

Over 25,000 bales of cotton have been gathered but this does not mean that they have all been ginned. Payment has been received on less than half the total crop for the classing offices have been as glutted as the gin yards. This has made for a slow fall in some lines of business, but the picture is beginning to brighten with Christmas shopping going along at a brisk pace.

The Christmas lights are up and will be turned on Monday. The stores have up their holiday decorations and have some of the most attractive windows I have seen anywhere.

There will be an interesting civil defense meeting at the high school auditorium in Wellington next Tuesday evening. The purpose will be to show local people how to protect themselves from the hazards of nuclear attack. The thought of such an attack seems like a nightmare, but the possibility is not a dream. It is an awesome reality and we need to learn as much about it as possible. The public is invited to the meeting.

The latest big town paper to start publishing D. E. Scott's "Crossroads Report" is The Tulsa Daily World. He has worked mighty hard getting this feature started and one of these days he is going to get it syndicated and we will wake up to find we have a celebrity living in our midst. In fact you might be surprised to know how many people stop by Wellington now just to talk to D. E.

Over in Hall county the commissioners court is being asked to buy or lease a large hospital and operate it as a county hospital. It is just one of those things that ought to remind us of the blessing of having a hospital like St. Joseph's in our city. It is acknowledged to be the best hospital between Wichita Falls and Amarillo and deserves our constant esteem and appreciation.

OCDM is a division in the Executive Office of President Eisenhower. Its Southwestern region includes the five states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

The high school program will include information about:

1. The military forces of Russia and the Communist threat to the United States.
2. The effects of nuclear weapons and what can be done to protect ourselves against them.
3. How a nuclear attack would affect Wellington and the surrounding area.
4. The need for survival planning and how to go about it.

For more than two months the Region 5 headquarters has been engaged in an intensive face to face campaign aimed at showing the American people how to protect themselves.

Concerning survival after a nuclear attack, Admiral Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, recently said: "The ability of our civilian population to recover from a nuclear attack may be the decisive factor in case of a general war. In terms of national survival, the effectiveness of military forces has little meaning if our country cannot maintain an effective civil structure after a nuclear attack."

Senior Candidate

Linda Elbert Named WHS Harvest Queen

Linda Kay Elbert was crowned Harvest Queen of Wellington high school Saturday evening, Nov. 19 in an elaborate ceremony at the school auditorium.

Queen Linda represented the senior class in the annual contest, and her coronation was one of the high points of the school year.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elbert.

Escorting the queen was Weldon Cleveland, who placed the silver crown on her head and presented her with a bouquet of orchids and white carnations.

Other candidates for the honor and their escorts, and the princesses and princes from junior high made up the queen's court.

These were Becky Brewer and Keith Brown, Janice Tarver and Garry Smith, Beverly Singley and Ronnie Hurst of junior high; Jane Orr, escorted by Glenn Thomas, freshmen; Vicki Glenn, escorted by Lynn McLain of the sophomores; and Gayle Peeples escorted by Richard Mauldin, juniors.

A treasure chest theme was carried out in stage decorations. Chests filled with "gold" coins and jewels were placed about the stage, but one chest held the silver crown, to fit only the queen.

The theme was carried out in vocal selections by Charlotte Isaacs, Celia Anderson, Bill Estes, Jerry Rainey, John Roark and Randall Scott.

Funeral for Mrs. Chas. McAnear Held Nov. 22

Mrs. Charles McAnear of Abilene, formerly of Samnorwood, died in that city at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 19. At the time of her death, both she and her husband were students in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

Graveside rites were conducted at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon Tuesday, Nov. 22 by the Rev. Thomas Lawrence of Abilene and the Rev. Howard Lyons of Amarillo.

Farm Income Tax Meeting at Quail Monday Night

Income tax from the farmer's viewpoint will be discussed at a meeting for all farmers and stockmen of the area at Quail ag building Monday, Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting is sponsored by the Young Farmers of Quail and is their regular meeting, but because of the interest, it is being thrown open to the public.

The speaker will be James Murphrey of Amarillo, area farm management specialist from the Extension Service.

Murphrey will discuss such phases of income tax as income to be reported and records to be kept, farm business expenses, deductions and personal exemptions, depreciation and depletion, capital gains and losses, soil conservation expenditures, social security, estate and inheritance taxes.

"One part of Murphrey's discussion will be on income tax management. There is a lot of phases a farmer can consider during the year," Bob Lynch, county agent, pointed out. "There are ways of making transactions that can keep you out of 'tax traps' and save you considerably on income tax."

There will be a question and answer period following Murphrey's discussion.

N. E. Childers, president of the Young Farmers, will preside Monday night and Lynch will introduce the speaker. Frank Kennedy, YF advisor, is in charge of the general arrangements.

Aberdeen Farmer Asks Hunters to Protect Chaparrel

Many farmers and ranchers are warning against shooting their quail.

C. R. Preuit of Aberdeen is asking hunters to leave his chaparrel alone.

Mr. Preuit reminded The Wellington Leader that chaparrel, or road runners, are considered good protection against snakes, and that is why he wants them around his farm home.

"I've seen only two snakes at my house in the 18 years I've lived there. One was the first summer, before my chaparrel came, and the other was last summer after someone had killed the birds," he reported.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Karnes during the Thanksgiving holiday were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Karnes of Breckenridge, here Thursday and Thursday night, returning home Friday morning, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Presler of Brownwood. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rush arrived for the week end, and the group observed Thanksgiving and the birthday of another of Mrs. Rush's sons, T. J. Rush. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rush accompanied Mr. Horton home Sunday afternoon.

Referendum

community F will vote at the Lutie gin office, M. W. Paschall, J. L. Alexander, and Walter Deger, the committee.

All farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1960 are eligible to vote. Every cotton farmer in the county is urged by the ASC manager to cast his or her vote in this referendum. Last year there were less than 25 per cent of the eligible cotton farmers in the nation who voted.

At least two thirds of those voting must approve quotas if they are to continue in effect. If marketing quotas are approved in the referendum, price support will be available to cotton growers who comply with their 1961 farm allotments at a level within the range of 70 to 90 per cent of parity, the exact level to be announced later; if quotas are not approved, the allotment program will remain in effect and the price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity as provided by law.
