HUGE ICE GORGE IN RIVER THREATENS TO FLOOD IOWA CITIES

SIOUX CITY, IOWA, March 23.—Held by an ice gorge, five to six miles long at Brassfield Island, south of here, spring flood waters of the Missouri river today threatened to sweep through parts of this city unless the jam is broken. So far the backed up water which is slowly rising has caused at least one death. Several persons were reported drowned and hundreds of head of livestock, implements and dwellings will be carried away. The property damage was estimated in excess of $100,000.

As men attempted to break the water barrier, warnings were sent out to all residents south of the gorge to abandon their homes. Many had already departed.

Two ineffectual attempts were made to dynamite the ice jam by dropping bombs from an airplane and little headway seemed to have been made by crews setting off dynamite charges.

The water rose rapidly at first, trapping Arthur Johnson, the drowned man, as it swept across Bets Island, west of Sergeant Bluff, near here. Rescue parties were formed to go to the aid of four or five families said to have been marooned on the island.

Hopes were held out for a period of mild weather which meteorologists say would probably cause an early loosening of the jam.

The lowland section near here was covered with water. Sioux City can stand a stage of 20 feet without serious damage to city property while the danger level in the lowlands is 17 feet, government officials said. The stage last night was 16 feet.

AGED MAN BURNED SIX MORE INJURED IN MUSKOGEE FIRE

MAIN BUILDING BURNS AT THE COUNTY POOR FARM THURSDAY.

TWO OF WOMEN LEAP FROM SECOND STORY

Explosion Hot Water Tank Hurls Flaming Timbers High Into Air.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., March 23.—Anson Sharp, 60 year old inmate of the county poor farm, two miles from here, was burned to death, and six others, four men and two women, were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the main building housing the dormitory and dwelling of the keeper of the farm.

The inmates awoke to find flames licking around their beds. They became frenzied, two of the women leaping from second story windows and sustaining severe injuries in the fall; while the custodian, his wife and employes made heroic efforts to lead the crippled and blind charges to safety.

The clothing of one aged man was burned when A. J. Keeith, the custodian, rescued him from his home on the second floor. A paralytic who is active with a cane, was unable to find his stick in the confusion, and dragging himself to the stairway, rolled down the blazing steps into the arms of the caretaker.

Sharp slept in a corner room on the second floor and was believed to have lost his sense of direction while attempting to grope his way through the smoke and flames. His charred body was found in the ruins.

The explosion of a hot water tank in the building, which hurled flaming embers high into the air, added to the fright of the inmates. The roof crashed in just as the firemen arrived and it was not long before the entire building a frame structure, was a mass of smoking debris.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

The injured: Taylor Dugan, 68; Charles Thompson, 48; Henry Burkhardt, 52; John Matthews, 55; Minnie Lee, 11; Irene Kinkwood, 50.

RAILROADS MUST REPORT EARNINGS AND PAY SURPLUS

WASHINGTON, March 23.—An order was issued today by the interstate commerce commission requiring all railroads to report by May 1 as to their earnings during the year 1922 and pay over to the government under the transportation act, one-half of the amounts by which such earnings exceeded a six per cent return on the value of the investment.

So far, practically no payments have been made under the law requiring the return of excess earnings.

Forms for making up the report were prescribed by the commission and where earnings in excess of six per cent were secured, but no payments made to the government, the corporations were requried to report disposition of the money.

WHITECAPPING IS CHARGED IN CASE AT BURKBURNETT

BURKBURNETT, March 23.—A youth was arrested in Newtown late Thursday evening by Constable L. L. White. He was brought before Justice of the Peace C. O. Walling Friday morning when a complaint was made charging whitecapping and bond made for appearance Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

It is alleged that the defendant posted a notice on the door of Mrs. Rosa Williams, who lives on block 96, giving her six days in which to leave the neighborhood. A leather strap was also hung on the door. The strap had been treated with a copious covering of tar and feathers. Mrs. Williams states that she knows of no reason why she should have been served with a notice to leave the neighborhood. She runs a small grocery store and eating house for her living.

The notice was signed "K. K. K." A bond in the sum of $500 was made by the party arrested.

GOVERNOR NEFF TAKES ALL RESPONSIBILITY

AUSTIN, March 23.—Governor Neff today telegraphed Sheriff George Peters of Corpus Christi, that rangers were sent last week to that place following an investigation by the state department and not on request of Nueces county officials, as had been reported. The governor declared he assumed complete responsibility for presence of the rangers, who were sent to Corpus Christi to be present at a trial resulting from a contest of general election results for the office of sheriff.

QUESTION LEGAL STATUS OF ADOPTED DAUGHTER

NEW YORK, March 23.—Brothers and sisters of the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, inventor, today submitted to the appellate division of the supreme court papers questioning the legal status of his adopted daughter, Ann Cooper Hewitt, who was bequeathed, with Mrs. Hewitt, an equal share in his residuary estate.

Wild Disorder in French Chamber as Result of Remarks

By Associated Press.

PARIS, March 23.—Premier Poincare, angered by communist insinuations that he was controlled by the deputy Leon Dedaut, the royalist leader, started a scene of wild disorder when, in open session of the chamber he called Communist Deputy Andre Berthon an "abominable scoundrel."

The chamber immediately went wild, while deputies hammered their desks and the ushers ran about trying to restore order. The presiding officer vainly rang his bell for a quarter of an hour to get a hearing and calm the chamber down.

"That man," shouted M. Poincare, pointing at Deputy Berthon, "dared to say he had against me and mine abominable evidence which I feared would be published.

"He lied when he said it." the premier angrily ejaculated, and the deputies, most of whom had not heard M. Berthon's accusation, jumped to their feet all of them with the exception of the communists and a few of the radicals cheering Poincare madly.

MRS. JOHN W. WEEKS IS REPORTED IMPROVED

BRUNSWICK, GA., March 23.—Mrs. John W. Weeks, wife of the secretary of war, who was removed from the yacht Everglades because of illness at this port yesterday, today was en route to Washington with her husband on a special train. A bulletin issued last night by physicians said an improvement was noted in her condition since coming to land.

DEFENSE ATTACKS REPUTATION K-97 IN FOSTER TRIAL

READ DEPOSITIONS TAKEN AT PHILADELPHIA AND CAMDEN, N. J.

STATES STAR WITNESS ON STAND THURSDAY

Judge Overrules Motion Of Defense Council For Verdict of Acquittal.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH., March 23.—William Z. Foster's defense against charges of criminal syndicalism, growing out of his attendance at the communist convention last summer, opened today with an attack on the reputation and credibility of "K-97," the government agent who attended the convention as a delegate.

Depositions taken by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Foster at Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., were produced in an effort to show that the department of justice agent whose real name is Francis Morrow, had a bad reputation for truth and veracity and that as an agent provocateur, he had attempted to stir up riots at socialist street meetings.

In the absence of the jury, the state opposed introduction of the depositions and Judge Charles White ruled out large sections.

PROSECUTION RESTS IN WILLIAM FOSTER TRIAL

ST. JOSEPH, MICH., March 23.—The people rest. With this statement at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the state, in the case of the people vs. Wm. Z. Foster, on charges of violation of the Michigan anti-syndicalism act, rested.

The circuit court room was crowded.

The state's star witness, "K-97," whose real name is Francis Morrow, alias Ashworth, and known to his communist brothers as "Day" completed his story early in the afternoon. He was the last of the state's witnesses in the trial of Wm. Z. Foster, alleged arch-red, first of some 23 communists taken in a raid at Bridgman, Mich., last August.

It is estimated the defense will take three days to present its case.

The reading of more red literature to the jury took place this afternoon.

Observation in the trial of Foster, Chicago radical laborite and alleged violator of the Michigan anti-syndicalism law switched sharply this afternoon. It is now focused on Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for the defendant.

Ask Acquittal Verdict

Following the conclusion of its case Thursday by the state, Attorney Walsh presented a formal motion asking the court to direct a verdict of acquittal.

Walsh's motion was made according to expectations and was promptly denied by Judge C. E. White.

The judge cited three reasons, briefly, as grounds for refusal:

1—That it was not within the premises of the lower court to rule constitutionality of state law.

2—That evidence put in by the state regarding the radical nature of the Bridgman communist gathering was sufficient to go to the jury.

3—There was also sufficient evidence for the jury to consider in weighing Foster's participation in the activities of the meeting.

Attorney Walsh then read into the record his formal motion dealing with his version of the Michigan anti-syndicalism law and reiterating there was not sufficient evidence of violation to induce guilt.

Morrow got by his ordeal in the grilling cross examination by Attorney Frank Walsh of the defense with the same suave indifference and careful replies that he marked his appearance on the stand throughout. His story remained unshaken.

The defense will now take up the case.

WANT U. S. GOVERNMENT TO BEGIN PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A request that the federal government "commence prosecutions" against William Z. Foster and 11 other alleged "radicals" and investigate the act of Frank P. Walsh and eight others alleged to have been associated with various radical movements in this country was filed with the department of justice today by the representatives of a number of organizations interested in law enforcement.

Accompanying the complaint was a long list of specific charges and a brief arguing that the federal government is fully justified by the facts in taking action. The charges against Foster and his associates were said in the complaint to be based on official statements issued by communist representatives in this country, while the allegations against Walsh and those named with him centered about trips they were said to have made to soviet Russia.

CONTINUE PURCHASES PIGGLY WIGGLY STOCK

NEW YORK, March 23.—Short interests today continued buying Piggly Wiggly stock on the open market at prices ranging from $115 to $138 a share before word of Mr. Saunders' offer to settle on a basis of $100 was received. One brokerage house reported a sale to a short of 100 shares for cash this morning at $125. Other houses reported bid and asked prices ranging from $120 to $130.

Two Navajos Bring Truce Proposals of Beleaguered Piutes

ARMY AIRPLANES TO AID IN HUNT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Five army airplanes today were held at Crissy field ready to depart for Utah to aid in hunting down renegade Indians who have been causing trouble in the southeastern part of the state. A request for planes was received at ninth army corps headquarters from Governor Mabey and referred to Washington.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 23.—Word was received here this morning to the effect that in a skirmish late yesterday between the renegade Piutes and a white posse near Wahsceamb, southeastern Utah, one Indian was killed and five bucks and four squaws were captured.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 23.—Two friendly Navajos early this morning took the first truce proposals to Blanding from the beleaguered Piutes, cut off for the past 48 hours in the fastness of the Dark Tank country by a ring of armed ranchers who form a posse.

Charley's Boy and two other spokesmen of the Piutes sent the message. They will surrender, so the Navajos say, if guarantees are given for the lives of the renegades who have terrorized southeastern Utah since the first of the week.

United States Marshal J. Ray Ward, who arrived at Blanding late yesterday, has met the Navajos and will send his answer this morning. Meanwhile runners have been sent out to the posse 30 miles from Blading to get the views of the sheriffs of San Juan and Grand counties, who are in immediate charge there. There was no firing yesterday, so far as could be learned, the posse devoting its efforts to a consolidation of their outpost lines. Fears expressed that the Utes might join the Piutes in the uprising have been pretty thoroughly discounted by those familiar with the history of the unfriendly relations between the two tribes.

BAND OF PIUTE INDIANS HAVE BEEN SURROUNDED

By Universal Service.

SALT LAKE CTY, UTAH, March 23.—The renegade Piutes under Chief Old Posey have been driven by the settlers posses in what is known as the Dark Tank region in Southwest Utah, a sunken and almost inaccessible section about 225 miles from Monticello.

The redskins, abandoning their squaws, but having collected all available firearms, are about to make a last stand, according to reports from Blanding tonight.

The settlers, on the other hand exasperated by repeated violation of Indian pledges, are out to settle the matter for once and all. They will not yield until the Piutes have surrendered, been taken captive or shot to death.

Several posse members have been posted at the only two known exits that horses can use and are holding the redmen at bay while the others of the posse are closing in on the band from the rear and cutting off all avenues of escape. Continuous firing is reported.

It is possible that the Indians may attempt to scale a huge cliff in order to escape from the trap, but according to latest despatches a strong detachment of men has been posted at a point from which the Indians can be picked off as they appear above the rim of the cliff.

Avenue of Escape.

However, it is possible that the renegade band may escape under cover of darkness through some pass known only to them, and in that case it is probable that they would head for what is known as Four Corners, 40 miles from Bluff, where the corners of Utah, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico join. Otherwise all indications point to a battle to the death for the Indians.

Fears that the Utah Utes would join the Piutes were set at rest this morning when runners from the tribe visited Blanding and Monticello and assured the whites that they would continue at peace with the settlers. The runners smoked the traditional peace pipe.

Relief was also seen in the arrival of the Indian agency officials from Colorado and United States Marshal Ward of Salt Lake. Meantime guards continue to patrol the villages and the captured Piutes and their squaws are closely watched.

Reports that four men, whites who had joined the settlers posse, had been killed, taken prisoners, or surrounded by the redskins and unable to escape, were disproved when the four men showed up. They had been to neighboring towns recruiting members of the posse.

Chief Posey continues his defiance, but all indications are that the redskins will be speedily starved out and forced to surrender.

HEAR TESTIMONY ON ALLEGED TRAFFIC IN TEACHERS' QUESTIONS

AUSTIN, March 23.—Testimony on alleged trafficking in teachers' examination questions was taken by L. W. Rogers, assistant state superintendent, today, when negro teachers from Flatonia, Navasota, Huntsville, Silsbee and Hobstown appeared before the educational official on summons of State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs. The testimony taken today will determine whether criminal proceedings will be filed against the teachers or certificates revoked. A similar hearing probably will be held for a number of white teachers from over the state, it was said.

HENRY FORD BUYS UNDEVELOPED COAL LAND IN KENTUCKY

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, MICH., March 23.—Official confirmation of the offices of Henry Ford at Dearborn today that the automobile manufacturer had purchased 120,000 acres of undeveloped coal land in Kentucky, was coupled with the statement that Mr. Ford intended to solve the country's coal problems by "using every piece of coal twice."

By purchase of the property, it was officially announced at the Ford offices, Mr. Ford came into possession of a vast tract of virgin coal lands with a reserve coal supply of 500,000,000 tons. This property added to the other coal lands previously purchased, brings the total number of acres of such land owned by the manufacturer to 165,000.

From these holdings, Mr. Ford hopes that within a year will come sufficient coal to supply all his factories, all the factories and mills manufacturing various products for his own concerns, as many of the industries in this district as care to buy coal from him and have left fuel sufficient to supply a part of the domestic demand of the country.

Mr. Foard, it was announced, will ask all industrial users of his coal to install furnaces that will remove only the gas and similar substances leaving a fuel unimpaired for domestic purposes. The coal, after this process, would be sold to heat the homes of hundreds of thousands of workers throughout the country. The fuel remaining after the gas had been taken out would be even more valuable for home heating purposes than it was before, it was explained.

INCLUDE THE HOLDINGS OF PEABODY SYNDICATE

LOUISVILLE, KY., March 23.—The property purchased by Henry Ford in Kentucky, according to local coal men, include the holdings of the F. S. Peabody syndicate. The purchase price was not known here.

The holdings of the Peabody syndicate embrace approximately 125,000 acres of rich coal and timber lands located in Bell, Harlan, Clay, Perry, Leslie and Letcher counties, according to Kentucky operators. The property practically is undeveloped and much of it is beyond present railroad facilities. It was pointed out, however, that in practically every instance, the tracts are easily accessible to transportation development projects.

The Detroit manufacturer already has gained a firm footing in Kentucky coal fields by recently purchased the Banner Ford property in Harlan county which now has a capacity of sixty cars a day. Recently he purchased the 20,000 acres property in Pike county of the Pond Creek Coal Company.

FORMER GOVERNOR THOS. M. CAMPBELL IS SERIOUSLY ILL

GALVESTON, March 23.—Former Governor Thomas M. Campbell, suffering from pernicious anaemia, passed a better night last night and was without temperature this morning, according to Dr. M. L. Graves. Temporary improvement in the patients condition does not presage hope of permanent recovery, the physician said, and it is possible a collapse may occur at any time.

Senator Capper Suggests Strike

WASHINGTON, March 23.—"Sugar profiteers can be driven from their dugouts if the housewife will strike."

Thus did Senator Capper of Kansas, head of the farm bloc, summarized the situation disclosed by Basil Manly in messages to President Harding calling for an investigation, and he continued:

"You recall the meatless, wheatless, flourless days of five years ago. But that was war time,' he said. 'Sure, and this is war time too. It is war against consciousless profiteers who trim the people and then trim Uncle Sam by declaring stock dividends.

"You say you hate the profiteer. Prove it by bringing him to his knees begging for mercy. You can do it in a week if all will help. The millions should declare 'not a cent' of tribute to corners and gamblers.

"The people have the power. 'new don't use it. That makes them lambs to be shorn."

WOMAN ADMITS THAT SHE SHOULD BE BEHIND BARS

VIOLATED LAW FOR PURNELL HEAD OF THE HOUSE OF DAVID.

SAYS SHE COMMITTED PERJURY AT FIRST TRIAL

Describes Hardships Endured By Members of Colony in Michigan.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., March 23.—An admission during cross examination that she "ought to be behind the bars" for her acts in behalf of the Israelite House of David, marked the testimony in federal court here today of Esther Hansell, for 13 years private secretary of Benjamin David Purnell, head of the cult, in the suit instituted by her parents-at-law against Purnell.

The witness, during cross examination, declared she had violated the law for Purnell "believing it was the faith."

"I was a partner of Benjamin in every crooked and deceitful deal in the colony," she testified. "I perjured myself and lied. Benjamin and I both ought to be behind the bars."

The witness said she had committed perjury in connection with a previous court trial.

Describing the hardships of members of the colony the witness said: "I never saw a cripple admitted to the House of David. The qualification for membership was money, a strong back and a weak mind, or else a good trade."

She had testified on direct examination that Purnell had made large profits off the labor of his followers.

"It was in harmony with the teaching of the cults faith," the witness said, "to change facts so that the members of the organization might not cast pearls before swine."

The witness described the mode of living among the followers of Purnell. Referring to a trip taken by girl members of the colony from Benton Harbor to High Island, a bit of land in Lake Michigan owned by the cult, she said:

"The girls slept in covered wagons on the boat like pigs in a sty. Benjamin was aboard and visited the wagons in the night."

KEPT ARMED BODYGUARD TO PROTECT THE LEADER

By Universal Service.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., March 23.—An armed bodyguard of 10 men is constantly on duty at the House of David to protect the person of Benjamin Purnell, according to Mrs. Esther H Hansel. Mrs. Hansel was the principal witness at the hearing in the $40,000 equity suit in federal court against the eccentric "king." He also carries a pistol, a cane that can be converted into a sword and a pair of brass knucks, she said.

Mrs. Hansel is rather pretty and her years of work as private secretary to Purnell won her the title of "High Priestess."

The cult leader, Mrs. Hansel declared, claimed to exercise supernatural influence over evil spirits. He claimed he could heal the afflicted.

"I remember I was sick in bed; they said I had consumption," she said. "I thought I was going to die. Benjamin came to see me. He quoted from his gospel. He said 'If I am to restore your faith I must first rebuke the devil.' Then he stood up and walked toward my bed, waved his hands and shouted 'devil, come out of her.' Then he asked me if I felt better. I told him I did and he made me get up."

As "priestess" of the cult Mrs. Hansel said she traveled extensively, preaching and often acted in the capacity of "lure" to attract new converts to the order.

Changed Her Makeup.

"When Benjamin was swinging a big deal he wanted me to look older," she said. "So he ordered me to increase my age several years. But when I would go out on the road he would ask me to shorten my dresses and give a young age. It would attract people, he told me."

Religious devotion was the mask that always lured girls into him, Mrs. Hansel said.

The witness spoke with tense fervor as she related how she fell under Benjamin's spell.

"He kept after me, kept pounding me, until finally he won," she said. Tears welled up in her eyes.

The much mooted question of Purnell's youthfulness, which Mrs. Hansel claims he attributes to his divine character, is really due to a bottle of dark brown hair dye, she said.

"Benjamin would be as gray as a badger today if it wasn't for that stuff," she said. "And Mary, that's his wife, would be almost as gray if she didn't use the same hair dye. He says he looks so young because he lives the life of faith. It's nothing but that hair dye."

A treasure trove of $100,000 in cash, piles of precious stones, and jewelry and literally "buckets of gold," was described by Mrs. H Wuerth, another witness as part of the contents of a secret vault behind the clothes closet in the colony office.

RATES ARE HELD TO BE JUST AND REASONABLE

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Railroad rates on export and import commodities moving between central portions of the United States and the ports of Boston, Fall River, New Bedford, New London, Portland, Maine, and Providence are just and reasonable, in the opinion of an examiner for the interstate commerce commission, who filed his report upon complaints of the New England cities.

FRENCH WAR MINISTER MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT IN CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES AT FRIDAY'S SESSION

By Associated Press.

PARIS, March 23.—The French troops in the Ruhr will be reinforced by 20,000 men within a few days War Minister Maginot announced today in the chamber of deputies.

BERLIN, March 23.—Chancellor Cuno had an enthusiastic reception at Munich yesterday. Replying to various addresses, he said he considered that the policy of passive resistance to France and Belgium must be continued in all circumstances.

By Associated Press.

MUNICH, March 23.—Unconditional evacuation of the Ruhr is designated by Chancellor Cuno as the fundamental premise from which any discussion aiming to end the present conflict must proceed.

In a long speech last night the chancellor reiterated the government's position asserting that it had not authorized mediation by any third party but that on the other hand it had received numerous "feelers" from unauthorized persons. It asserted that these proposals constituted a "violation of German honor or common sense."

Referring to the recent Brussels conference between Premier Poincare and Theunis, Herr Cuno expressed the opinion that these conversations suggested no progress toward a solution of the Ruhr question. The official communique issued after the conference failed in the chancellor's opinion, to dissipate the suspicion that France had not abandoned her aspirations to annex territory.

More recent readings of the Brussels discussions, Herr Cuno asserted, have impressed German officials with the thought that they aimed at a complete overthrow of the Versailles treaty.

The German people, he said, would stoutly oppose the suggestion of a buffer state fronting the Rhine. The chancellor declared that the world by this time probably had awakened to a realization that it is a disarmed and impotent Germany which requires security rather than France, which now commands the world's greatest land forces and the most powerful air fleet.

TRANSPORTATION AND IMMIGRATION LAWS ON REPUBLICAN PROGRAM

ST. AUGUSTINE, March 23.—Revision of the transportation act and liberalization of the immigration laws are among the first matters which will be laid before congress when it meets in December as part of the administration legislative program, according to announcement here today by Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, one of the administration leaders in the senate.

No tariff will not be touched and opposition will be offered to any effort to revise the tax laws, the Indiana senator said. He pointed out pitfalls that may await the party if it cannot organize so as to head off expected attempts to restore excess profits taxes and to tax undistributed surplus of corporations.

These latter the senator said may be forced because the new congress will be closely divided between the two parties. He said the transportation act is to be revised almost entirely and similar treatment is to be given the immigration laws with a view to liberalization.

President Harding, the senator said, had discussed with his advisers tentative plans for a speech making tour of the country when the subjects of ship subsidy, the railroad situation and preferential primaries will be brought to the people. Mr. Harding may also speak on the entrance of the United States into the international court but has not come over that with his advisers, the senator added.

The president will oppose extension of the preferential advocate lower railroad rates and discuss the future of the shipping industry, the Indiana senator declared. The tentative plan calls for 20 speeches by the president on the tour.

CONDITION OF BISHOP TUTTLE STILL SERIOUS

ST. LOUIS, March 23.—The Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States, who is ill with grippe was in a state of coma this morning. Bishop suffered a relapse yesterday, according to attending physicians. The condition of the prelate, who is 86 years old, grew weaker steadily in the past 24 hours, it was stated.

GRAND JURY HAS NOT REACHED CASE MRS. HIRAM KNOX

HEMPHILL, TEXAS, March 23.—After being in session since last Monday the grand jury had not taken up the case of Mrs. Hiram Knox, charged with the murder of her wealthy husband, according to information given out by the county attorney.

It is understood witnesses have been summoned from outside the county and that the case will probably be taken up Monday next. It is said that everything will be in readiness to proceed with the investigation by that time the probe will doubtless be ended during the week.

Mrs. Knox is under bond of $15,000 fixed by Judge V. H. Stark following the discovery of Hiram Knox's body in his Hemphill home last November with a bullet in his brain. The death was at first believed to have been suicide, but later a coroner's verdict was to the effect that he had come to his death at the hands of unknown parties.

ONLY FEW WITNESSES TO BE EXAMINED AT HEARING IN ARKANSAS

By Associated Press.

HARRISON, ARK., March 23.—With only a few witnesses to be examined the Arkansas legislative committee hearing testimony on the citizens' side of the trouble along the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad virtually completed its investigation at noon today.

Circuit Judge John Shinn on the stand contradicted the statement of Vurien Orr and Luther Wise, now serving sentences following their pleas of guilty to arson charges, that they had pleaded guilty only after Judge Shinn had told them he could not guarantee their safety if they refused to plead guilty immediately and waited to stand trial.

William Watters, named by a striker at Little Rock as one of the guards in the room in which E. C. Gregor was confined at the time he men took Gregor away, testified today that he was not a guard, not present in the guard room and knew nothing about the lynching of Gregor.

URGES INTRODUCTION BETTER AGRICULTURAL METHODS IN FARMING

DALLAS, March 23.—Through introduction of better agricultural methods and improved grading of cotton the federal department of agriculture is desirous of assisting the cotton industry to the end that will insure a stable, continuous and ample production, Secretary Henry C. Wallace said in a brief address before the Texas Cotton Association in convention here today. The department is anxious to intensify in every possible way the service it can render to the various interests, he added.

B. L. Anderson, president of the association in his annual address, said if the boll weevil should be controlled and the reparations question settled, "Texas could raise five million bales of cotton during the season of 1922-24 which would sell for 25 cents a pound."

TWO DWELLINGS IN OAK CLIFF BURNED; FIVE ARE DAMAGED

DALLAS, March 23.—Police are working on a theory of incendiarism in a fire which wrecked two Oak Cliff residences and damaged five cottages early today, causing an estimated loss of $15,000. The blaze started in an unoccupied two-story dwelling and quickly spread to adjoining property. The home of J. B. Baker was destroyed.

THREE MEN BURIED AS WALLS OF WELL IN OKLAHOMA CAVE

SNYDER, OKLA., March 23.—Three men were killed and one was injured when the walls of a well they were sinking here caved in early today and buried them under five feet of dirt. The men were 30 feet down when the accident occurred and the bodies have not been recovered.

The dead are:
B. F. TYDWELL.
LESTER GREY.
GEORGE BEE.

Paul Hadley, who was in the well, escaped with what is believed to be minor injuries. No reason for the accident is known. Workmen are removing the dirt from the bodies.

BUYS MANUSCRIPT HOME SWEET HOME

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 23.—The University of Rochester has just come into ownership of the original manuscript of the song "Home Sweet Home."

The manuscript was bought by Hiram W. Sibley, of this city at the recent sale of the library of Mrs. Luther Laing Stone in New York City.

TRADE TRIP CHIEF QUESTION BEFORE BUSINESS COUNCIL

Discussion of the April trade trip again occupied most of the time at the weekly meeting of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce at the Kemp Friday. While the number actually signed up is still far short of the minimum quota for the trip, plans are under way which are expected to make the full complement.

The members adopted a resolution congratulating citizens of Henrietta and Clay county over the result of the recent road bond election. This action followed the reading of a jubilant telegram from Judge Dickey of Henrietta.

A report on the landing of the 1924 Rotary conference was given by P. A. Rogers, president of the club, who said that the entertaining of such a gathering was a job for the whole city, not for the club alone.

J. C. Mytinger, chairman of the trade extension committee, presided in the absence of the chairman and vice chairman of the council. Talks on the trade trip were made by Mr. Mytinger, B. J. Bean, J. W. Bradley, R. E. Penick, R. A. Day, Dr. A. J. Patillo, Joe Huckins and others, and it was agreed that a personal canvass would be made, starting next Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Belcher and Special Officer Charles Bebout arrested Jack Abbot at Burkburnett Friday morning when they found a punch board in his barber shop. A number of Indian blankets, women's purses and other trinkets were also found with the board, the officers stated.

SCIENTIFIC HAND READING COMMONLY KNOWN AS PALMISTRY

We want it distinctly understood that our method of reading the palm is positively not that method imposed upon the public by vagrants, tramps and Gypsies.

We wish to expell from your minds at once "and for all time to come," the superstitious ideas that dwelt in the minds of our ancient and very early fathers, who denounced and persecuted this science, not even giving it a trial, naming it sorcery and witchcraft, and that the devil was conjured up as the father of all such students.

Why? Then and wherefore. In the old original Hebrews, of the book of Job, (chapter xxxvii, ver. 7), we find these significant words: God caused signs or seals, on the hands of all the sons of men, that the sons of men might know their works.

Today the science of the present is coming to the rescue of the so-called superstition of the past.

Palmistry was not only intended for adults. If parents will consider this science (Palmistry), we are satisfied that the vast majority of children would be more usefully trained and their proper tendencies developed.

This is a useful and practical means of obtaining an exact judgment of the character, qualities and hidden tendencies that might otherwise be ignored.

Space will not permit of full detail, beneficial to humanity. Call and see us, Eighth and Ohio, Room 12, Maryland Hotel, over Globe.—Ad

DISCOVER PLANS MADE IN BAVARIA FOR REVOLUTION

By Associated Press.

LONDON, March 23.—The Prussian minister of the interior, Herr Severing, told the Prussian diet today according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin, that Lieutenant Ross-Bach, recently arrested in Beerlin, planned a revolution which was set to break out March 31 at the latest.

A combination of the German people's and liberal parties and the Bavarian socialists, he added, had only been prevented by yesterday's arrests.

Herr Severing denied that the Ross-Bach organization was merely a sporting fraternity as claimed its members, he said, were military men.

They were partially equipped and frequently exercised and drilled.

The ministry, according to the dispatch, mentioned General Ludendorff as one of those on whom grave suspicion rested.

A telegram from Breslau announces that a number of arrests were made there today in connection with the alleged Ross-Bach plot.

HOLLAND AND SWITZERLAND MOST DIRECTLY AFFECTED

LONDON, March 23.—Holland and Switzerland, as the neutral powers most directly affected by interference with industrial trade in the Rhineland, have decided to take steps to obtain unrestricted rights on the Rhine, according to the diplomatic correspondent of the Telegraph.

When the international commission which controls Rhine navigation under the Versailles treaty meets at Strasbourg April 4, the correspondent learns, Holland will move a resolution reasserting the commission's treaty rights and the principles of free navigation. The resolution will be seconded by Switzerland.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILLS AFFECTING PUBLIC SCHOOLS

APPROVES MEASURE FOR SURVEY EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF STATE.

WORK TO BE DONE BY NON-RESIDENT EXPERTS

Also Signs Bill Providing For County Unit System In Five Counties.

AUSTIN, March 23. — Governor Neff today signed the Wood senate bill passed by the recent legislature providing for an extensive survey of the entire educational system of the state. To carry on the survey $50,000 is appropriated. The work will be done by non-resident educational experts and will include an investigation of the educational system from the primary grades to the higher educational institutions.

The educational survey commission will be selected by a committee composed of the governor, state superintendent, chairman of legislative educational committees, presidents of the State University, A. & M. College, College of Industrial Arts and one normal school. The commission is directed to meet within thirty days after the measures become effective, which is immediately.

Governor Neff also signed the Stuart bill permitting counties of over 200,000 population to adopt the county unit system of schools Dallas, Fort Worth, Harris, Bexar and El Paso are the only counties permitted to adopt the system.

A number of other school measures were signed by the governor: Limiting terms of teachers of independent school districts appropriating $5,000 to educational department to print blanks; validating certain school districts and bonds; permitting emergency transfer of school children; authorizing school districts to issue bonds for constructing teachers' homes; raising maximum school attendance from the fourth to seventh grades; validating bonds purchased by the state board of education.

HEADQUARTERS OF KLAN IGNORANT OF "KAMELIA" BRANCH

ATLANTA GA., March 23.—Under the name of Kamelia, a secret order for women was ready to function today "alongside the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," and William J. Simmons, former imperial wizard of the klan, had a new office, "El Magus," or president of the women's organization created by himself, according to a proclamation issued here last night from the "Krown Kourt of El Magus."

While headquarters of the klan expressed surprise when informed of the organization, as set out in the "official proclamation," that document said that because of the demand created, Mr. Simmons felt the organization of the women into the Kamelia was a step toward bringing together white women over the age of 18 years who are of the protestant faith to "uplift ideals of American citizenship."

"Altogether let there be a new consecration to the American home," the document continued, "to the American government and to the American creed of Christianity as taught by the protestant church."

The "proclamation" touched briefly on the organization of the Ku Klux Klan under the direction of Mr. Simmons, terming it "a dream of my youth and early manhood", and further set forth that the organization of women was the culmination of another "dream."

Fred J. Savage, a major official of the klan, when informed of the Simmons declaration last night said "we know of no such order, nor have the officials of the klan been in communication with Mr. Simmons."

Wallace, secretary of agriculture, was the feature on the opening program today of the 12th annual convention of the Texas Cotton Association, composed of cotton buyers and shippers. A letter on world economic conditions from Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, was to be read. Thirty-five members of the New Orleans exchange, twelve members of the New York exchange, and representatives of the cotton exchanges of Bremen, Germany, and Barcelona, Spain, were in attendance. The cotton industry in all its phases was to be discussed in the sessions which conclude tomorrow.

Piggly Wiggly President Awaiting Developments in Sensational Deal Shorts Given Five Days to Settle

By Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, TENN., March 23.—Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., today offered to settle with New York traders who sold stock of the corporation "short" on the basis of $100 a share.

Mr. Saunders made public the following telegram addressed to the New York stock exchange:

"To avoid lawsuits with various brokerage houses, I propose for full settlement today of all accounts of class A common stock Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc. that I will furnish this stock upon application to the National Bank of Commerce of New York and upon payment of $100 a share."

Mr. Saunders told the Associated Press his offer would apply also to those who previously had tendered settlement at a higher figure.

MEMPHIS, TENN., March 23.—Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., and central figure in the sensational fluctuation of that stock on the New York stock exchange Tuesday when sellers of 25,000 shares were alleged to have been caught "short," was again in non-committal retirement today awaiting developments after his statement last night in which he asserted his expectation that "the shares of stock due me will be settled on the proper basis without court action."

"It is unbelievable that the august and all-powerful New York stock exchange is a welcher or that it will allow its members to welch on contracts," Mr. Saunders declared.

He made no estimate, Mr. Saunders said, of probable profits to the Piggly Wiggly pool as a result of the deal. Three o'clock yesterday afternoon had been fixed as the time limit for "shorts" to settle at $150 a share with Mr. Saunders, who asserted in Tuesday's ultimatum that the price thereafter would be $250.

In a long distance telephone conversation with E. W. Bradford, his New York counsel, last night, Mr. Saunders learned of the action of the stock exchange in granting a five days extension for settlement. In regard to this action, for which he said he had not heard of a precedent, his comment was:

"As I understand it, the failure of a broker to meet his clearings through the stock exchange at the appointed time is the same as a bank that would be unable to meet its clearings and all of us know what would happen to that kind of a bank.

"There would not be any five days wait, as the bank examiners would have a sign stuck upon the door with the word 'closed.'"

The Piggly Wiggly head declined to reveal the identity of persons operating with him in support of the pool, whose resources he said were "around $100,000,000." Members of the pool however, are known to be capitalists of Memphis and other southern cities.

NEW YORK, March 23.—There was much speculation in Wall street today as to the profits of Clarence Saunders, presiden. of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., and his associates, in the corner of the Class A stock, which has been permanently stricken from the list of the New York stock exchange after sensational fluctuations last Tuesday.

Experience traders estimated his paper profits from $2,500,000 to $7,500,000. Saunders' main problem, according to these men, will be to find a market for the 200,000 shares he bought in the open market.

E. W. Bradford, New York representative of Saunders, said a large number of shorts had come to him before 3 p. m. yesterday to make a settlement at the stipulated price of $150 a share. There is still a large short interest outstanding, he added, and he insisted that the price of $250, set by Mr. Saunders as the price after 3 p. m. yesterday, would be demanded.

Mr. Bradford said no settlements had been made at less than the price mentioned but ther were reports of sales of odd lots at prices ranging from $100 to $145 a share by individuals.

WANTS BUSINESS MEN TO WORK OUT SETTLEMENT PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A proposal that European business men work out a plan for reparatioins settlement, based on American financial cooperation, was laid today before the delegates to the second meeting of the international chamber of commerce in Rome by Fred I. Kent, vice president of the Bankers Trust Company of New York, and a member of the American delegation.

Coupled with the proposal was the assertion by Mr. Kent that there was "a great waiting group" in the United States ready to support such a move before the American public.

Mr. Kent suggested that a portion of allied indebtedness to the United States might be exchanged for "positive agreements between the allies and Germany on reparations that included the amount and methods and times of payment that can and will be lived up to."

The American banker urged that his European colleagues beg a work immediately. The speaker declared emphatically that "no loan could be made to Germany in which the United States had a part that did not come ahead of reparations," and such a loan could b made only if the allies desired it, he said, as their assent was necessary to place it ahead of reparations.

Some people spend money on traveling, but others have learned how to travel at home.

Do you realize that fresh paper on the wall really amounts to a "change of scene?" People who get sick of their homes and who are constantly anxious to get away from them would have a different attitude if they would just change their rooms and make them more attractive.

You cannot imagine how I transfigure a room when I am selected under the guidance of a Sherwin-Williams expert.

If you and I could get together we would make it much more worth while for the people who live with you.

The Art Association's exhibit is becoming a very attractive meeting place these days, with club members, school children and just plain citizens meeting in relays at the hall on Tenth street.

Because of the meeting of various groups the Association has been furnishing a group of hostesses for each day at the hall, and Thursday Mesdames R. A. Thompson, J. A. Richolt, Luther Hoffman, A. L. Gibson, Emil Hermann, B. H. Donald, W. P. Killingsworth, L. R. Buchanan, W. W. Silk and Miss Willie May Kell assisted in receiving the visitors.

W. L. Davidson, president of the Association, has made arrangements with Miss Jennie Roberson, art director of the public schools, to have all the school children visit and enjoy the paintings at times most convenient to them, when talks on the artists and their work will be made. The Junior High students visited the exhibit Friday, and the Senior High boys and girls Thursday. The National Business College students attended Friday morning over 100 strong, making the visit take the place of their weekly program at school.

Mrs. George K. Meyer addressed the club women who met at the exhibit Thursday.

It was announced that the Austin school children will meet at the exhibit in relays every hour Monday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock, with the other school pupils coming in the remainder of the week. Mr. Halaby, in charge of the exhibit, and Mrs. Meyer, have offered $5.00 prizes to the children who write the four best essays on the painting in the collection, papers to be submitted by Wednesday night. The awards will be made Friday evening next week.

NORMA TALMADGE'S Manners By Norma Talmadge

© 1923 by NEA Service Inc.

Every woman admires a well-dressed man. She grants him wide latitude in selection of materials, but she is exacting about cut and fit. American tailors are guilty of many unhandsome freak styles, and many American men are guilty of wearing them. But any man can have distinctive clothes, and yet have them within the confines of good taste.

Men's Clothes.

1—The full dress suit must be perfect in fit, cut and material; it should be made of dull-faced black worsted, with satin facing and collar and wide braid on the trousers, but no other trimming.

2—With the full dress suit wear a white linen waistcoat, white lawn tie, white handkerchief, white gloves and white boutonniere. English silk hat, white or black-and-white muffler, patent leather pumps, shoes or ties and plain black silk socks, black or dark blue overcoat, plain wood stick. The patent leather pumps should be worn only when it is the intention to dance.

3—With the dinner coat wear trousers with braid narrower than the full dress trousers; white or black waistcoat, plain black silk or satin tie.

4—Business suits should be conservative, and whether a man can afford two or two hundred, if he wishes to be exactly proper and to appear to best advantage, he never should wear the same suit more than a day consecutively, but should alternate.

5—Jewelry should be worn conservatively; there should be nothing extreme, brilliant or garish.

It's bad manners for a man to wear a jeweled ring on his third finger; it should be worn on the little finger.

Letter From Priscilla Bradford to Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott

MY DEAR FRIEND:

As you wished me, I have taken very good care to analyze the young woman who is to marry your son. Otherwise, I confess, she would not have interested me much. She invited me to the Country Club for tea; you remember I told you about the invitation in my last letter. Mary Alden went with me.

Dear friend, I hope you will forgive me when I tell you that I am very much worried about this marriage.

I could see easily that John and this girl have nothing in common.

She is very pretty and conscious of it. She is quite clever and wants you to acknowledge it. She is rather rude and fond of beautiful clothes; those she was wearing were much too fine for one in John's circumstances—and I hate to tell you this—while we were drinking our tea she calmly opened a gold cigaret case, lighted and smoked a gold-tipped cigaret, which had her monogram on it. To say I was shocked would be putting it mildly. I wanted to ask her if she ever had smoked before John. Surely, Mrs. Prescott, no man would ask a woman to be his wife whom he knew smoked cigarets, even in these lax days.

While we were at the Country Club, a very good-looking young man came into the dining-room and Leslie's young sister, Alice—who also was smoking—beckoned him over.

One could see that this man was desperately in love with Miss Hamilton. He never took his eyes off her. Poor fool, she must have encouraged him much before she turned him down for John. He is giving her a fancy dress party next week, but neither of them saw fit to invite me. Perhaps it is to be so wild that they knew I would not approve.

Dear Mrs. Prescott, I know you will be grieved, if not heartbroken, at this marriage. It is not at all what you could have wished for your beloved son.

Mary Alden sends her love to you and we will both go to the wedding. It is to be a grand affair—a great show of money.

Miss Hamilton is still indulging in an orgy of clothes buying; perhaps this is a good thing, as I learned in a roundabout way that she will go to John with only a modest check from her father—enough perhaps to buy a grand piano, but nothing more.

You had better burn this letter as soon as you read it, for it would get me into dreadful trouble, and only my love for you and interest in John would induce me to be so confidential. Sincerely yours,

PRISCILLA BRADFORD.

Letter From Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott to Miss Leslie Hamilton

MY DEAR MISS HAMILTON:

Although you have been so busy that you have had no time to write to me, I am using the privilege of being the mother of the man you are going to marry to send you a letter of explanation anent the gift which I am dispatching to you by express today.

It is a first empire desk and has been in our family ever since Lafayette brought it over as a gift to the wife of my great-grandfather.

This desk always has been given since that time to the first daughter in the family. I, however, having no daughter, am giving it to you and to my son.

It is supposed to be the best example of Napoleonic cabinet work. Indeed, it is said that the first Napoleon himself gave this desk to Lafayette. There is a tradition to the effect that there is a secret drawer in it somewhere, but I never have been able to find it. You will see for yourself when you see the desk that there is a great deal of room that is unaccounted for, but how to get into it is a mystery to me and I have spent hours trying to solve it. I never felt justified, however, in having the desk taken apart.

I do not know who her your taste runs to antiques, but this is not so very old, you know, not nearly as ancient as some of the things that came over in the Mayflower that are in my home and which will be yours some day.

I have received a letter from Miss Bradford in which she tells me that she has had a most charming visit with you. I hope that you like her as well as she seems to have liked you, for I know that Priscilla would like to be as great a friend to my son's wife as she is to him.

I shall be in your town the morning of the twenty-first. If you can find a moment's time to come in with John during the day I shall be as happy as it is possible for me to be on the day before the one when I shall be losing my son forever.

Yours very truly,

MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

This Weak Little Woman Is Now Well and Strong

Another Dallas Resident Testifies to the Remarkable Efficiency of Stella Vitae in Treating Female Troubles.

"If the weak and ailing women of this city only realized what Stella Vitae will do for them they would not be a bottle of it left in the drug stores by this time tomorrow," recently declared Mrs. D. Bennett, who lives at 209 Melba street, Dallas, Texas.

"The reason I say what I do is because I have tested it and found it to be the best strengthening tonic for weak and run-down women I have ever taken. After my baby was born it looked like I just couldnt get back my strength and could hardly nurse the child.

"I had no appetite and fell off to a shadow. I suffered from dull, lingering headaches and often my back would nearly kill me it hurt so bad. There were awful pains all about my stomach and I would get so dizzy at times as to almost fall. My nerves were in such a wretched state that it would excite me dreadfully to hear people talking and noises in the street would get me so wrought up that I could hardly contain myself.

"I had tried various other medicines without getting any better, and when Stella Vitae was recommended I just thought it would be a waste of time and money to experiment with it. But I finally gave in to the advice of my friends and started taking it. It was not long before I began to feel stronger and those aches and pains gradually began to leave me. My appetite picked up and I could relish my food and it seemed to be doing me good, for I felt I was getting stronger every day and soon I was able to look after my baby and attend to my household duties without getting all tired out like I did before.

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.—adv.

Quick oats now— 3 to 5 minutes

If you want oats that are almost ready, ask for Quick Quaker Oats.

This style cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

Just like regular Quaker Oats in that matchless quality. Flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. They have the flavor which has won the world to Quaker.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles. The Quick style is marked "Quick" on the label.

URUGUAY WILL NOT INSIST ON LEAGUE AMERICAN NATIONS

SENTIMENT OF MAJORITY OF DELEGATES OPPOSED TO PLAN.

MONROE DOCTRINE IS INVOLVED IN PROPOSAL

Pan American Conference to Open at Santiago, Chile, On Next Sunday.

By Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, CALIF., March 23.—With the arrival of the Uruguayan delegation, it has become generally known that Uruguay is not disposed to press upon the Pan-American conference opening here Sunday, its scheme for a league of American nations.

It is reported that the sentiment of a majority of the delegations, including the United States, is opposed to considering the plan at this conference.

There seems to be general agreement that the proposal could not be discussed without considering the Monroe doctrine and it is pointed out that its adoption would virtually make the doctrine a pan-American pronouncement.

As drafted by former President Irdin the Uruguayan suggestion says:

"It would be established that the association considers it dangerous for its peace and security that any attempt be made by any nation of another continent to extend its domination either in the form of colonization, mandate or protectorate to any region of the American hemisphere; also that any infringement of the rights of a member of any country of another continent would interest the association, which would try to find a solution of the question."

This clause is interpreted in most quarters as meaning that the protection afforded by the Monroe doctrine would be expanded into a mutual agreement among all American nations for defense against possible European aggression or attempts at domination.

Senor Edwards, head of the Chilean delegation, who will preside at the opening session of the congress Sunday, said there was a mistaken belief among the peoples of Europe that pan-American conferences were exclusive affairs antagonistic to everything European. He said he believed the spirit of every American nation might be truthfully interpreted in the statement that although the object of the conferences was mainly the welfare of pan-America, it was ultimately that of the whole world.

PRAISES WORK OF AMERICAN RELIEF IN THE NEAR EAST

ATHENS, March 22.—Colonel Plastiras, chief of the revolutionary government, has begun a series of inspections of American relief activities in Greece. After visiting the orphanages maintained in Athens by the near east relief where he saw 2,000 child refugees from Anatolia being cared for, he declared to the director, Miss Glee Hastings of Spencer, Iowa:

"The Americans lead the world in organizing ability; the bigger the job, the better they like it. Thoroughness and efficiency in a world like this is a great comfort and inspiration to Greece, especially in these difficult times, as it is undeniable evidence of America's interest, sympathy, good will and friendship."

Noted African Big Game Hunter Used "Cave Man" Tactics on Wife And Court Grants Her a Divorce

By WILEY S. SCRIBNER
Universal Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, March 23.—Carl E. Akeley is not only an African big game hunter but a "cave man" as well, according to Delia J. Akeley. The couple were married in 1902 and Mrs. Akeley has won a divorce.

"He choked me until I was black in the face, then turned on the gas and left me to die in a room of a New York hotel," Mrs. Akeley told Judge Walter P. Steffen in superior court when the case came up for a hearing.

Mr. Akeley is curator of the New York Museum of Natural History, a noted naturalist, African hunter and explorer and sculptor of natural reputation.

Herbert E. Bradley, who was Mr. Akeley's co-worker and companion on his African explorations testified that Mr. Akeley had lived at his home in Chicago, that he believed the charge of cruelty unlikely.

The divorce action was originally filed by Mr. Akeley May 5, 1922. He charged desertion.

A cross bill was filed by Mrs. Akeley, also alleging desertion. It was expected the divorce would be granted quickly. But at the last minute when the case was called, Mrs. Akeley amended her complaint charging cruelty. Then she unfolded the story of her unhappy life.

Trouble Starts.

"We were married December 23, 1902," she testified. "We lived together happily until the fall of 1917 when our troubles started. Meanwhile, on two occasions I had accompanied my husband to Africa on big game expeditions, once in 1905-1906 and again in 1909.

"In December, 1917, Carl choked me until I was black in the face. On February 1, 1918, he slapped me and knocked my glasses off. He also used foul language to me on several occasions.

"Finally in May 1918 the attack in the New York hotel occurred, when my husband tried to asphyxiate me. I was forced to leave him then.

"I went to another hotel and borrowed money from some friends. Then I went out and sold my precious elephant tusks, trophies of our African game hunting, which he had given me.

"Later I joined the Red Cross and was sent to France.

"I was always a kind, loyal wife and never gave my husband cause to do the cruel things he did to me."

Mrs. E. D. Waters of Chicago corroborated Mrs. Akeley's statement.

"He struck her, left her lying on the bed with the gas turned on in the room," she said.

It was shown that Akeley received a salary in excess of $6,000 a year as curator of the New York Museum of Natural History and Judge Steffen granted Mrs. Akeley allmony of $250 per month.

MOTHER ANXIOUS FOR SON WHO WAS IN CITY LAST MAY

Mrs. H. G. Allen of Grand Isle, Vermont, in a letter to J. Huckins III of the Kemp Hotel, is most anxious to locate her son, Walter J. Allen, who was in this city last May and wrote a letter to his mother, dated May 12, 1922.

The aged woman stated in her letter to Mr. Huckins that she has not heard a word from him since that time and asked assistance to locate him. She told in her letter that her boy was all she had to live for.

It appears from the letter the man wrote his mother that he was either following the harvest or was working on a farm.

Anyone who might know the whereabouts of the man would be extending the aged mother a favor by either writing her or getting in touch with Mr. Huckins.

$100,000 DAMAGES DEMANDED IN SUIT AGAINST COLONEL

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, March 23.—Alleging that an attempt has been made to break up her home, that she has been publicly accused of immorality and held up for public ridicule, hatred and contempt, Mrs. Agnes Karnes Randle, joined by her husband, Captain Edwin H. Randle, 20th infantry, brought suit in 73rd district court yesterday against Colonel Arthur Conger, commanding officer of the regiment, for $100,000.

The action is said to have grown out of a public reprimand administered by Colonel Conger in which he referred to two parties alleged to have been held at the Randle home. According to excerpts from the alleged order quoted in the petition of plaintiffs, Colonel Conger referred to the conduct and language at the two parties as "odious to read to these officers."

It is set out in the petition that Colonel Conger gave orders that no officers or ladies of the regiment should associate with Captain and Mrs. Randle and that the couple was virtually ostracized. The petition also alleges that Colonel Conger endeavored to force Randle to divorce his wife, with the promise that he would be restored to his "position and duties" if he did so. Randle, the petition alleges, was given the option of divorcing Mrs. Randle or resigning from the army.

NEW TREATMENT FOR PNEUMONIA PERFECTED

HOBOKEN, N. J., March 23.—Perfection of a new treatment for pneumonia whereby high frequency electric currents are induced into the patient's body, is announced by Dr. H. V. Droesner, a Roentgen ray specialist attached to St. Mary's hospital, who has been carrying on experiments with pneumonia patients under the observation of a group of New Jersey lung specialists.

The new treatment, known as the diathermic method, was said by Droesner to relieve congestion electrically producing body heat and by drying blood to the affected organs.

FOOD robbery is often disguised. Vital essentials of diet are left out and the defect hidden by quantity, looks and taste.

Phosphorus is a food element necessary to the body. Nature provides it in her good grains—but extra "refinement" in the milling processes throws it away.

Grape-Nuts supplies phosphorus as a part of the well-rounded, perfected nourishment from wheat and malted barley—together with iron, vitamin, and a bran content so often lacking in modern food.

AWAIT ACTION ON PLANS TO DEPORT SURPLUS MEXICANS

FORT WORTH, March 23.—Local authorities today were awaiting word from Secretary Davis of the department of labor before taking action toward deportation of more than 150 Mexican laborers, who it is declared, have entered the United States through an illegal method and have been brought to Fort Worth with the promise that work await them here.

That Mexicans in wholesale numbers have been dumped here through a scheme which is now being investigated by the federal authorities here and along the border was brought to light recently when several truck loads of Mexicans were unloaded on the outskirts of the city. Upon questioning it was found that the Mexicans were without funds and that a great per cent of them could not pass the literacy test.

EXPECT 400 MEN FRIDAY NIGHT AT BAPTIST BANQUET

Preparations have been completed for the annual men's banquet to be given at the First Baptist Church Friday night; plans have been made to serve 400 male members and friends of the church. According to an announcement made by Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the church, the banquet will be served by the women of the T. E. L. class and will be one of the most elaborate church affairs of the season.

A special program, including the best musical talent of the city, and a number of out of town speakers who are prominent in state and denominational affairs, has been planned for the occasion. Music will be furnished by the "Dipper male quartette," under the direction of Vaughn Ray. Among the speakers who are scheduled to take part on the program are: Walter Splawn, recently appointed railroad commissioner, Dr. F. S. Groner, Dallas, Dr. J. D. Sanderford, Abilene, and Dr. H. W. Virgin of Amarillo.

Members of the local church, members of Baptist churches in other cities, "in-laws" of the church, and those connected in any way with the denomination are invited to attend.

BUSY BEE PROPRIETOR RETURNS FROM EL PASO

N. Marantz, proprietor of the Busy Bee Fruit Store, has returned from a week's business trip to El Paso, Fort Worth and Dallas territory.

In speaking of his trip Friday Mr. Marantz said that although El Paso is the center of an irrigated section where a great deal of fruit is raised there are no large fruit stands or stores there. He said "There is a splendid opening for an up to date fruit store such as the Busy Bee, in El Paso and I might be tempted to go there if I had never lived in Wichita Falls."

Mr. Marantz declared that in spite of the 50,000 population by El Paso he belives more business is done here and that this holds true generally in his estimation.

"I believe that our business conditions are and have been much better here than in almost any other place and every time I go away on one of these business trips I come home better satisfied with Wichita Falls."

Mr. Marantz declared that he did not visit Juarez while in El Paso.

DAYTONA, FLA., March 23.—Somewhat late on the schedule of her cruise the houseboat Pioneer, carrying President Harding and his vacation party northward, today was on the Halifax river, slowly pushing towards St. Augustine, the terminues of the water cruise.

President Harding diverted from his routine to considerable degree yesterday when his boat stopped at Titusville for gasoline and supplies, by making a tour of the town in a shiny new Ford driven by a young man in khaki. The president was accompanied only by Dick Jervis, one of the secret service detail.

Orders Reveal Hero Is Retired Without Medal

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Army orders today revealed the retirement without medals of Sergeant Levi E. Folk, who with Walter Reed, was a pioneer in the conquest of yellow fever.

When yellow fever appeared in 1900 among the troops at Columbia barracks, Cuba, the surgeon general of the army said in a summary of Folk's services, Private Folk volunteered to have the patients with the dread disease. He served as a volunteer for experimentation, slept in a room with bedding from patients sick with yellow fever, submitted to inoculation from mosquitoes infected with the disease and contracted it. On his recovery he was inoculated repeatedly to determine the possibilities of reinfection Sergeant Folk enlisted in Company B, first South Carolina volunteers in 1898. He was born at Newberry, S. Pleaded to Serve Term for Friend But Law Forbids

WAUKEGAN, ILL., March 23.—Ties of friendship brought Ramon Del Toro, of North Chicago, into circuit court here to plead that he might be permitted to serve a prison sentence for his friend, Simon Rodriquez, found guilty of the murder of a fellow laborer. Rodriquez was sentenced from one year to life in prison. While Rodriquez stood before Judge Edwards yesterday to receive sentence Del Toro rose from a seat behind the convicted man's wife and six small children and placed himself in front of his friend. He pleaded earnestly to take the convicted man's punishment, finally falling to his knees in supplication.

Rodriquez stood by silently and then Judge Edwards pronounced sentence. As Rodriquez was led to a cell, Del Toro carrying the convicted man's smallest child, left the court room with Mrs. Rodriquez and her children.

Judge Edwards explained to Del Toro that the supreme court has ruled that none except the convicted person can serve sentence for a crime.

Spoonful for a Penny Brings Quick Relief

Proves splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

A SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days. Within 43 hours the men had coated tongue and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 28 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Pains

This is the report of how Mrs. A. P. York, of Swepsonville, N. C., suffered, as many women suffer, and how she obtained relief by the use of CARDUI, the Woman's Tonic:

"Before the birth of my daughter, who is now 17, I was weak and very run-down, and I found I needed a tonic. I was advised by a friend to use Cardui, which I did with beneficial results. Since then, when I would have pain at . . . from colds or standing on my feet, I would use a bottle or two of Cardui. It always helped me, and it would be a year or two before I would have to take anything again, so have used Cardui off and on for 17 or 18 years.

"Cardui always seemed to strengthen me. It always seemed to give me an appetite. It wasn't hard to take—and there are so many times in a woman's life when she doesn't realize, until too late, that she can stand too long, or over-do, and then she has to suffer the consequences, which I found I did at my . . . I would hurt in my back, and pain in my side and lower part of my body. But when I took Cardui for a month or so, the pains would leave me, and I felt just as strong and well as ever."

Womanly pains cause great suffering to thousands of women, and a medicine that will help relieve them is indeed worth knowing about.

Thousands of women have written to tell that Cardui has helped them, relieving such symptoms as those described above. Perhaps you, too, suffer in this way. If so, take Cardui. It may be just what you need. Sold by all druggists.

COYOTE TRACK TEAM WINS FROM IOWA PARK; TO HOLD CITY MEET HERE FRIDAY

Wichita Hi trackers won the first dual meet of the season Thursday afternoon when they defeated the Iowa Park team by a score of 67 to 47. The Coyotes took most of the first places, and a majority of the second and third points.

Baldwin and Neal were the high point men for the Red and Black scoring 18 points by taking the 50 yard dash, the high jump and the pole vault, and second in the 220 yard dash. He unofficially broke the record in the 50-yard dash, in 5 1-5. Neal, a new man on the Coyote team took first places in the mile and 880-yard run.

Other first places taken by Coyotes were: High hurdles, "Hunkey" Walker, discus, Lowry Crites; shot put, Steve West.

The city meet will take place next Friday, according to Coach Jones, and a return meet will be staged on the local field with Iowa Park the following day.

SUIT BROUGHT TO RECOVER DAMAGES IN AUTO SMASH UP

J. A. Tubbs of Burkburnett Friday instituted suit against W. S. Langford owner of the Caro Motor Company at Burkburnett for $4500 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been suffered on or about February 15, 1923.

The plaintiff complains that he and two other men were crossing the main street of Burkburnett on a hand car on the railroad and that the crossing watchman had stepped out to stop all traffic while the hand car and a freight train crossed the street.

It is alleged that despite the warning issued by the watchman that A. Z. Cato, driving an automobile belonging to the defendant, put on speed and crossed the track ahead of the freight train but struck the hand car throwing the plaintiff and two other men to the pavement.

Mr. Tubbs states in his petition that he suffered internal injuries the nature of which he cannot describe, and asks judgment in the sum of $4500.

FILE INCOME TAX SUITS AGAINST HORSE TRADERS

KANSAS CITY, March 22.—Four suits totaling $10,112,540 plus interest were filed in federal court here late yesterday against local horse and mule traders for the collection of income taxes and interest alleged to be due the government. The action was brought by C. C. Madison, United States district attorney, against the Guyton-Harrington Mule Company, the Stockyards Horse and Mule Company, J. D. Guyton, W. R. Harrington, J. Frank Guyton and Herman M. Lees.

PLANT INSTALLED IN WICHITA FALLS BY STEEL COMPANY

A recent addition to Wichita Falls manufacturing concerns is the J. D. Shearer Manufacturing Company, with location at the corner of Sixth and Ohio. A complete line of sheet steel products, including gas pipe and welded steel tanks, wagon tanks, gasoline storage tanks and underground tanks will be made, according to statement Friday.

J. D. Shearer is manager of the new concern. Mr. Shearer was connected with the Butler Manufacturing Company, a well known tank concern of Kansas City for 12 years.

Mr. Shearer said Friday that the tank which the new concern is putting out is practically indestructable and is guaranteed to be gastight and free from leaks. He declared that any pressure from a few ounces to five pounds may be carried and that these tanks may be readily hauled on trucks.

This will be the distributing point, as well as the manufacturing center covering southern Oklahoma and the immediate oil territory, it was stated.

The company is prepared to do all kinds of heavy welding and are agents for the Burdett Oxygen Company welding supplies, Mr. Shearer said.

Actress Denies Being Intimate With Tellegen

NEW YORK, March 23.—Official denial that Miss Stella Larrimore, 19-year-old acrtess and sister of Francine Larrimore, Broadway star, was guilty of intimate relations with Lon Tellegen, was made today by her counsel at a hearing in the divorce suit brought against the actor by Geraldine Farrar, former prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Lewis B. Brodsky, counsel for the young girl, obtained from Referee Mahoney an adjournment of one week in order that he might peruse the record pertaining to the alleged courtship of "Miss L." by Tellegen and produce his client at an open hearing to make public denial of the charges in which her name appeared.

"Miss L." was one of three co-respondents named by the diva and testimony was given at the last hearing by detectives employed by Miss Farrar that while Tellegen was playing here in 1921 in the title role of "Don Juan" he many times escorted "Miss L" to her apartment on Riverside drive and once spent the night there.

After this evidence had become public Miss Francine Larrimore and other members of the family denied the charges vigorously contending that the evidence was simply "the dirty frame up of hired detectives."

Galli-Curci Says, "Music Stirs the Heart; Jazz But Kicks the Shins"

MADAME GALLI-CURCI

It is a far cry from the queen of opera to the "jazz" artist, but extremes meet in music, as well as in other things. The favorite of opera goers, Galli-Curci, who will be heard here April 2 at the Palace Theater is not a musical high-brow, though she occupies a foremost place among the world's artists. Interviewers have a habit of asking celebrities for their opinion upon any subject ranging from politics to the customs of the Malays so Galli-Curci was asked to tell what she thought of "jazz."

"Music is music, and 'jazz' is 'jazz,' and there isn't the remotest resemblance between them," she said. "Music is red roastbeef with a balanced meal, while 'jazz' is Danish pastry. I confess I like moments of jazz. I love it because it is so amusing and so refreshing, and its production is symbolic of a true understanding of rythm on the part of the American. It is by no means a primitive form of music. But I can't imagine an audience sitting through a whole evening of such grotesque syncopation, say in the form of an opera at the Metropolitan.

"There will be no American music," the singer declared. "There is no tiet-man, French, Italian or Russian music. Great music is a citizen of the world. It has no nationality.

"The English have no real grand opera, because the Anglo-Saxon reticence represses their theatricalism. The same is true of America, but America will one day have her grand operas—after she forgets all about 'jazz'—because America is not entirely Anglo-Saxon.

"America has already produced much good music that will live and also folk songs of deep appeal. I can sing 'Swanee River' to the most cosmopolitan audience. It is possible to find and make the people weep. 'Swanee River' is many years old, every American has heard it many hundreds of times, yet we never grow tired of hearing it. The song always stirs us. In twenty years one of the jazz hits of the day would bore us to madness. 'Jazz' is interesting—it tickles, but it has no sublimity. Music stirs the hearts—'jazz' kicks the shins."

FIVE HUNDRED METERS ORDERED FOR ELECTRA

ELECTRA, TEXAS, March 22.—Five hundred meters have been ordered by the city authorities, to be installed at the rate of 100 a month. This will give a meter to every water user in the city and it is hoped will keep up with the growth of the place for the next six months.

About 60 per cent of the water users have been on a rated, the remaining number paying a flat rate of $1.50 a month. As a result the municipality has been losing a large revenue from this source.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him: but I will maintain mine own ways before Him.

He also shall be my salvation: for an hypocrite shall not come before Him.—Job 13:15 and 16.

If our faith in God is not the veriest sham, it demands, and will produce, the abandonment sometimes, the subordination always, of external helps and material good.—Alexander MacLaren.

THE COUNTRY'S BUILDING BOOM.

The country is on the greatest building boom in its history. Building permits in the larger cities are larger than ever before known. Building is general throughout the country. The lumber trade as a whole is busy. Contractors have all they can handle. Building trades' labor is fully employed.

The last ten years have seen a big increase in the country's business and industry and population without a corresponding increase in buildings to take care of this increase in business and in population. The war was in part responsible for this. The result has been that the country was short thousands of business buildings and considerably more than a million dwellings. The present great building activity results from the efforts to fill these shortages.

This building activity has played a considerable part in the revival of business generally. Without it the country probably could not now be pulling out of the depression which reached its depths in 1921 and 1922. That, of course, was an indirect although highly important result.

One of the biggest and best results of the great building activity is that it will provide better dwellings for the people of the country at more reasonable costs. With a shortage of more than a million dwellings, which would mean that between five and ten million people could not be adequately housed, rents were rapidly becoming unreasonable and impossible and housing conditions were steadily becoming poorer with all the bad results that might be expected from such conditions. Building activity has at least checked the general advance in rents and is improving housing conditions and in time will bring relief from the high rents that now prevail.

Another good thing that has resulted from the building activity is that there are more home owners. A home owner is more likely to make a real home than one who is not, and homes are the foundation of our civilization. Ownership of a home has changed many men from radicals to conservatives and in many ways has made them better citizens.

"The ownership of homes," says the Houston Chronicle, "has a stabilizing effect on society. Every man who owns a home has become a partner in the enterprises of the community. He has given hostage to society for his good behavior.

"He enjoys the consciousness that when he passes on the children he leaves behind will inherit the same property and the same comforting sense of possession that he enjoyed.

"He is interested in the preservation of domestic peace and social order. The violator of law becomes at once to him as his enemy and the enemy of the community of which he is a member.

"As has been said before in these columns, the bolshevist never owns a home. The strife-breeder and agitator never comes from 'under his own vine and fig tree.'

"The I. W. W. is a nomad—a social vagrant without any tie such as binds a man to his home, hence he has no interest in social peace, but strife and bitterness is as his vital air.

"There is a sanctity about a home which it is impossible to equal in a rented tenement. The latter is a transient, temporary shelter. It has none of the elements of permanency. It shelters one family one day, another the next, and it means to neither nothing beyond shelter. The home means all that makes for contentment and hope and satisfaction.

"There is in building a blessing, both for the individual who secures a home and for the community to the peace of which that home so materially contributes."

FAILURE OF JUSTICE AN INVITATION TO CRIME.

While a legislative inquiry is proceeding into the mob which lynched a striker and drove other strikers from the community, it is reported that danger of a clash between railroad strikers and members of the citizens committee is menacing at Harrison, Arkansas.

Strikers are said to expect that the report of the legislative committee will absolve the citizens committee from responsibility as did the jury's verdict in the case of the miners at Herrin, Ill. It is when this report is made public that an outbreak is feared.

An horrible crime was committed in the slaughter at Herrin, Ill. The crime at Harrison, Arkansas, was less only in the number slain. They cry to heaven for justice. And so long as local sentiment and sympathy prevents justice, so long will they remain black spots on our civilization and invite similar outbreaks.

Curiosity killed a cat and a cat has nine lives.

Shoot dice for a living is a shaky business.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GREATNESS.

There is nothing so fascinating as the mountain stream. Its trinkles are the song notes of wide possibilities.

Its natural state is as unspoiled as a child's laughter. Wherever it tumbles its way, there freedom is evidenced.

But just follow that tiny stream. Learn its frolics. Melt yourself into its moods. Get its language early in its life.

It's on its way to greatness!

For before you know it, the streamlet has enlarged—the river appears. It deepens and widens. Boats of pleasure and commerce appear on its surface, and great bridges span its shores. It has grown up.

And with maturity comes the consciousness of responsibility, and the desire to serve.

With the carefree mountain stream, nothing mattered. But when it becomes an important river, it takes its place in the world as something to be used and finally empties all into the vast ocean which knows no springs, no streams, or rivers, but is just one marvelous body ready to render service to all.

That's the way with greatness when it comes to a man—the man himself is lost in the thing he has espoused, melting his desires, ideals, and service into the general good of all mankind.

And when that happens to a man, he is great.

But greatness isn't something set apart. Every earnest, honest working man or woman is a contributor, be he or she the humblest possible striver.

Like the tiny stream that is finally merged with the ocean, so is true greatness the heritage of us all—for it is the essence of every fine and noble effort that has ever been put worth.

Your first step toward greatness is to desire to count for something in this world.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

THE CREPE ON THE DOOR.

I hear the fluttering ribbons say:
"This house is shedding tears today.
Above its roof the skies are blue,
The sparrows twitter on the lawn,
Life has its daily tasks to do,
But here the shades of grief are drawn.
This house is shedding tears today,
For one it loved has gone away."

To young and old the solemn crepe
Proclaims the prisoned soul's escape.
The peddler on his morning round,
The salesman with his eager eye,
Seek fortune on some happier ground—
They, too, have seen a loved one die,
They, too, have heard Death's symbol say:
"This house is shedding tears today."

The children playing on the street
Whisper the story when they meet;
They watch the callers come and go,
Sad, solemn faces, stained with tears.
Too young to understand or know,
They only hear the ribbons say:
"This house is shedding tears today."

No house, however strong, can keep
The days away when it must weep,
And knowing this, with softer tread
Men walk the home in sorrow by;
They, too, have wept beside their dead,
They, too, shall see a loved one die;
For all the fluttering crepe shall say:
"This house is shedding tears today."

Vendetta begins between Michael Sayers, noted criminal, and Sir Norman Greyes, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, Janet, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead the officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Sayers' wife and accomplice. While Sir Norman is living at his country house the police ask him to help capture a criminal whom they believe to be at the head of a dangerous gang. On his way to London, Greyes' car is stopped and he is shot through the shoulder. Greyes asks Janet to dine with him. Janet accepts. Acting upon Michael's command Janet puts poison in Sir Norman's coffee, but regrets her act and purposely upsets the cup. Sayers tells this episode:

I was at St. Pancras Station to meet Gorty and Metzger on their arrival in England. I saw the seven black tin boxes with brass clamps, handed out of the guard's van and placed on the roof of a taxicab. I knew as though it were foredoomed that the contents of those boxes would be mine before the week was out. I felt certain, too, that one at least of the two men would fight to death before I obtained possession of them. They were well worth it, however.

It was a foggy night, and I lingered with perfect safety on the outskirts of the little throng of people who had come to greet these two men. They were a rough lot on the whole—men of the lowest type, swarthy and unclean. I saw hungry glances directed toward those black boxes, and I knew that, given sufficient cunning and address, I should not be the first by a long way to strike a blow for their acquisition. But of these others I had no fear. Gorty and Metzger knew their friends, knew them well enough not to trust them.

I walked back through the fog to my humble little flat in Adam street. Those were gloomy days, even for me, who cared little about the physical comforts of life. I was passing as Mr. Arthur Younghusband, LL.D., a cousin of the well known solicitor of Lincoln's Inn, in town to consult works of reference at the British Museum. Day by day I walked to that gloomy mausoleum of dead knowledge, spent an hour or so there, and back to my rooms. No one dogged my footsteps. By devious ways I had shaken off all pursuit and suspicion. Yet life was a wearisome thing. I am not a man with many human weaknesses, but I should have welcomed a visit from Janet—a little dinner, perhaps, at the Cafe Royal, a peep into the world of many-colored pleasure outside of which my path lay. Those things, however, I knew were not for me. Janet was watched, as I knew beyond a doubt; even if she were not, she had failed me in my last demand. Janet presented a problem to be solved.

On the third day after the arrival of Gorty and Metzger, I visited my solicitors, the firm of Younghusband, Nicholson and Younghusband at Lincoln's Inn. My reputed cousin granted me an interview within a few minutes of my arrival. We spoke for a time of my studies and their progress. Then there was a pause. The door was closed; the walls of the room were thick.

"Things progress?" I demanded, leaning across his wide, untidy table.

Mr. Youngblood smiled benevolently. In these moments of direct speech I was accustomed to forget my assumed personality and to speak with all the quick incisiveness that was natural to me. My legal adviser, however, never altered his manner of reply or deportment. He was always the same, unctuous, legal courtly.

"Your affairs are in excellent train," he assured me. "Of the two people in whom we are interested, one leaves, as we have surmised, for Manchester tonight; the other remains alone."

"They have made no arrangement with any bank yet?"

My companion shook his head.

"They are both, under the circumstances, suspicious," he said. "Their position, of course, is—er—peculiar. They are custodians of a hundred thousand pounds in gold, with which they hope to establish a few private credits in this country. On the other hand, the country to which they belong owes us something like a hundred times that amount. They have a somewhat natural fear that any bank with whom they might deposit their treasure might be disposed to hand it over to the government, or that the government, by some legal means, might attach it."

"Therefore," I observed, "it remains in their rooms?"

"Precisely! They consider it the lesser risk."

"And Gorty goes to Manchester tonight?"

"That is so," the lawyer murmured.

"So far all seems well," I said. "The great thing is that the gold has not been removed and that Metzger will be alone. There were other little details."

"Just so!" Mr. Younghusband assented, leaning back in his chair with his finger-tips pressed together. "So far as regards the setting of the affair, I think you will find it in order. Metzger and Gorty occupy suite 59 at the Milan Hotel, which suite consists, as you know, of two bedrooms, a bathroom and a sitting-room. The sitting-room

"There is one hour that my husband will be away," she whispered. "You may kiss me."

is on the extreme right-hand side of the suite, and the gold is kept in Metzger's bedroom, which opens from the sitting-room. The bathroom is between the two bedrooms."

"I have had the plan," I interrupted a little impatiently.

Mr. Youngshusband declined to be hurried. He had the air of giving difficult legal advice on a technical point.

"Suite 90," he continued, "consists of a bedroom, bathroom and sitting room only, and is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jose de Miguel, very rich South Americans. They are leaving tonight by motorcar for Southampton to catch the steamer there for Buenos Aires in the morning."

"Their luggage is already packed?" I asked.

"Already packed," Mr. Younghusband agreed. "The porters have commented upon its weight."

"And Madame?"

"Appears to have fulfilled her task," was the somewhat hesitating answer.

I detected signs of uneasiness in my companion's speech, and I questioned him about it promptly.

"Have you doubts of the woman?" I asked.

"None whatever," Mr. Younghusband assured me blandly. "At the same time, she is, without doubt, the weakest link in the chain. She has temperament enough—Metzger seems to have been an easy victim; but I should have had more confidence in the lady who visited me the other day."

"I can no longer put complete faith in my wife," I replied coldly.

Mr. Younghusband was startled out of his dignified serenity of manner. He learned across the table.

"What do you mean by that?" he demanded harshly. "Do you know that she has been here, the one place in London you should have been careful to keep her away from, if you had any doubts?"

"I have no doubts whatever as to her fidelity," I declared. "You know what I mean when I say that, in the parlance of our friends, she has gone soft. It is a pity."

Mr. Younghusband seemed relieved but puzzled.

"A woman who could do what she did on the golf links at Woking," he murmured reminiscently, "must have changed very much if she merits your present criticism."

The subject was by no means a pleasant one to me. I abandoned it.

"In any case," I reminded him, "she is in touch with Greyes, and Metzger and Gorty are not. Greyes is a man of resource, and he is not a man to forget. Sooner or later he will find out that Metzger and Gorty are in London, and he will guess why. Then he will be after that gold. Remember, Mr. Younghusband, that gold belongs to Russia. It is the treasure of the Romanoffs, and it is our duty to see that it is restored to the Soviet Government."

"Our duty," Mr. Younghusband repeated, with a slight sneer. "Our duty is to our clients, and to them only. Our clients have entrusted us with the task of finding a purchaser for that gold, and we shall do it. Whether the Soviet Government or the Romanoffs get it is no concern of ours."

"Very well," I said. "Then I will ask you to remember that I am your client, and that I have entrusted you with the task of finding a purchaser for that gold, and that I shall do it. Whether the Soviet Government or the Romanoffs get it is no concern of mine."

Mr. Younghusband looked at me curiously.

"Your interest in the matter is, then, entirely a financial one?" he asked.

"Entirely," I replied.

"Then I will ask you to remember that I am your client, and that I have entrusted you with the task of finding a purchaser for that gold, and that I shall do it. Whether the Soviet Government or the Romanoffs get it is no concern of mine."

Mr. Younghusband looked at me curiously.

"Your interest in the matter is, then, entirely a financial one?" he asked.

"Entirely," I replied.

"Harsh deeds—I am not a lover of them. I seldom go out of my way to kill, or allow my subordinates to do so, if my ends can be obtained otherwise. At that moment, however, I felt a sudden resurgence into my brain of that one bloodthirsty desire of my life.

"As soon as this affair is safely concluded," I said, "and we are in funds once more, I shall take occasion to deal with Norman Greyes myself."

"It occurs to me that you would be well advised," my companion acquiesced. "The person in question possesses the one gift which might make him dangerous to us. He has imagination."

I nodded. I was tracing figures upon the blotting-paper, debating with myself different methods of dealing with Norman Greyes.

"Every channel which might lead to the firm of Younghusband, Nicholson and Younghusband," the lawyer continued meditatively, "seems, so far as human ingenuity could arrange it, permanently blocked, but a man with imagination who is not afraid to work on guesswork is always to be feared."

"It will not be my fault" I promised, as I took my leave, "if you have any cause to fear Norman Greyes after the next month or so."

That night, in the language of those forgotten war communiques, everything happened according to plan. At a quarter a nine Metzger, who was writing alone in his sitting room, heard a soft knocking at the door which communicated with the adjoining suite. He rose promptly, locked the outside door of his own room, and softly withdrew the bolt of the door to the next suite. He stood there with an inviting smile upon his ugly face. Madam de Miguel laid a cautioning finger upon her somewhat overpainted lips as she stole over the threshold.

"There is one hour that my husband will be away," she whispered, gliding past him. "You may kiss me."

No one can find the subject of this riddle;
All their search for it will be in vain.
Yet break it, just before the middle,
And in our very midst it will be plain.

Desire to increase endurance is becoming an international psychic wave. Its meaning? Probably that the world is getting ready to buckle down to hard work to unshoulder the war debt. Watch dancing. It's humanity's weathervane. The maniacal restlessness that precipitated the world war started with the tango craze in Buenos Aires.

ARREST MADE IN CONNECTION WITH ALLEGED BRIBERY

WACO, March 23.—Officers about noon arrested Ervin Mosley, a Waco man, on a charge of bribery in connection with the suits of Mrs. Jennie D. B. Dossett vs. the Franklin Life Insurance Company. Mosley was granted bond in justice court in the sum of $1500.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. (adv.)

JUDGE SUDDENLY DISMISSES CASE; BRIBERY CHARGED

MISTRIAL IS ORDERED BY THE WACO COURT AND MAN IS ARRESTED.

EFFORT WAS MADE TO TAMPER WITH JURORS

Trial Involved Claim of Woman Against Life Insurance Company.

WACO, March 23.—A civil case, the style of which is Mrs. Jennie D. B. Dossett vs. the Franklin Life Insurance Company came to a sudden ending this morning when Judge James P. Alexander, before whom the case is being tried, addressed the jury and declared a mistrial.

"It has come to the attention of the court," Judge Alexander said. "That there has been an effort on the part of somebody to tamper with some of the jurors. It was not any fault of the juror, because he was honest enough to report the matter to the court. However, under the circumstances, I do not feel that it would be safe to continue the trial of the case. It is useless for me to say what I think of a man who would undertake to do a thing of that kind."

Mrs. Dossett is suing the Franklin Life Insurance Company for the collection of a $38,000 policy on the life of her late husband, 10 per cent penalty and reasonable attorneys' fees. The company is suing Mrs. Dossett for cancellation of the policy.

Immediately after the case was dismissed a warrant was issued for the arrest of a man charging him with bribery.

In dismissing the jurors, Judge Alexander told them that this was the first time since he had been on the bench that a thing of this kind had occurred, which had come to his knowledge.

"I have not been locking the jury up," he said, "because I did not want to deprive you of the privilege of going to your homes. Of course, I will have to do that in the future in the trial of cases of this kind."

GLASS COMPANY IS ENLARGING PLANT, TO DOUBLE OUTPUT

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM OF IMPROVEMENTS IS NOW UNDER WAY.

1200 TON TANK IS NOW BEING INSTALLED

Company to Return to Machine Blowing With Capacity of Two Carloads Daily.

Improvements which will double the capacity of the plant are being made by the Wichita Falls Window Glass Company. Work started this week, and it is hoped to have the changes made and the enlarged plant in operation by May 1.

The improvements will enable the company to return to the method of blowing glass by machinery, which it formerly employed. The improvements include the installation of a new tank, with a capacity of 1,200 tons of glass, with other new equipment in proportion.

The capacity of the plant will be two car loads a day when the work is finished, George D. Fox, manager of the company, said Friday.

The plant was formerly operated with a machine blowing equipment, but in 1921 changed to the hand blowing system. This was found not satisfactory, and arrangements were made early this year to return to the machine system, with double the former output.

LARGE NUMBER TO UNITE WITH CHURCH ON EASTER SUNDAY

The first week of the pre-Easter evangelistic campaign being conducted by the First Methodist Church, South, has borne much fruit says a report to the Times, which adds:

"The individual work for individuals has been very intense and as a result scores of people have stated their purpose to unite with the church on Easter morning. Many of the workers are physically weary from the hard campaigning, but they do not give any evidence of letting up in their endeavors until the day appointed for the special effort to close.

"They all feel that the vision of so many taking the obligations of the Christian life and church membership on Easter Sunday, will abundantly reward them for the sacrifices they have made in carrying the gospel to the people in a personal way.

"Dr. C. M. Simpson, pastor of First Church, is kept more than busy with the many duties coming to him out of the campaign. Naturally he has a very large number of names of people whom he feels that he must see personally and urge them to accept Christ and unite with the church. But in addition to these, the workers are constantly meeting with situations which demand the aid of the pastor, and so Dr. Simpson has all his days and all the waking hours of the nights fully occupied. But he says that the joy of knowing that so many are turning to the Lord and church membership is sufficient to sustain any preacher under the heaviest tasks.

"Preparations are now being made for the reception of the large class of new members. A great deal of work is necessary in order to arrange the program in a manner to avoid confusion and to conserve the beauty and sanctity of the reception service. This will all be arranged and in perfect working order by the dawn of Easter, which is to be the high day of the campaign.

"There will be no service at the church Saturday night, as it is desired to give the faithful workers a brief rest from their arduous labors so that they may enter the Sabbath services with fresh strength and new determination. Dr. Luther Todd will preach Friday night at 7:45.

INJUNCTION SUIT AGAINST COUNTY IS PASSED OVER

Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court was engaged in the trial of a civil suit for damages Friday morning when it came time to hear the testimony in the injunction suit against the county sued out by the Waggener brothers.

The petitioners ask that the county be enjoined and restrained from molesting a fence which they have erected in a pasture field and which the county claims is a public road.

The matter has been pending in the commissioners' court for nearly a year and two weeks ago the court passed an order instructing the Waggoner brothers to remove the obstructions which had been placed on the right-of-way.

Commissioner Kuntz saw that the order had not been obeyed and accordingly tore down the fence and cattle guard. A new gate was erected and the writ of injunction sued out. Judge Martin did not grant the injunction at the time it was presented but set it down for hearing last Monday, when it was passed over until Friday morning.

The matter will be heard some time next week.

OMAHA BEES START 3 DAYS STAND HERE WITH SPUDDERS

SALM'S TRIBE IS READY FOR OPENING TILT TODAY; RABBIT DARROUGH MAY START IN BOX

Winding up with a snappy practice at Athletic Park Thursday, Walter Salm's Spudder tribe announced "ready" for the opening tilt of a three-game series with Barney Burch's Omaha Bees here today. The Spudders are in the best of trim and Omaha has been playing almost every day this week. The Bees defeated Fort Worth last Sunday in a 13-inning game with Tex McDonald putting his team in the winning row. At Dallas the Bees failed to fair so well. They took the first game due to a batting rally in the ninth, but dropped the next two. In the three games with Dallas Tex didn't do so well at the bat. A single was the best he could get in the three games.

Manager Walter Salm said this morning that Rabbit Darrough would probably be his choice to start the game today but that any of the pitchers are likely to draw the starting ticket as they are all in good shape. Little Rabbit however, seems to be in better form than any pitcher in the lot. Salm will use his regulars in the game today and also in games on Saturday and Sunday.

The game today will be the first of the real exhibition games that are to follow in thick order. The tilt with Sherman last Saturday was no more than a practice affair but the Spudders will find their hands full when they tackle the Bees today.

Burch has a squad of veterans and youngsters that will make any team hustle and if Walter Salm's crew walk off with the glory they will have to show some real baseball to do it. The games will also go to give the fans a line on the new material that has arrived in camp and will sport a Spudder uniform this year according to all indications. Doc Silva, the fleet little outfielder from Birmingham that arrived last Monday will be in the lineup as well as Ace Elliott, the new first-sacker from Saginaw.

Salm may use any of his pitchers in the game today but it is thought that he will pick Rabbit Darrough to start and Uptmoore and Muller, two rookies, are liable to get a chance to strut their stuff against the Western Leaguers.

INELIGIBLES WIN RIGHT TO MEET C. & L. FOR TITLE

The Junior College Ineligibles won the right to meet the Collier and Landon five for the City League basketball title by defeating the Knights of Columbus, 21 to 17 at Legion hall Tuesday night. The game was hotly contested throughout and was one of the best battles that has been pulled off on the local battle ground this season.

Both teams started with a rush and neither five was able to score until the first half was well under way. Baldwin and Ray started the marking for the Ineligibles and their teammates held the lead. The first half ended with the Ineligibles on the big end of a 12 to four count.

The Knights came back strong in the second half and although they narrowed the margin they were never able to tie the count.

The Ineligibles will play the Collier and Landon five, winners of the first half of the race for the city title at Legion hall, next Wednesday night.

Lineup and summary:

Ineligibles—Baldwin and Ray, forwards; Haney, c, and Ferguson, g; E. Powell, Walker and O. Powell, guards.

Knights—Kubecker and Colligan, forwards; Dee, center; Alexander, guard; Coffee, Howell, J. Coffee, guards.

Scoring, field goals—Baldwin 3, Haney 2, E. Powell 1, Kubecker 2, Colligan 1, Dee 1, Alexander 1, J. Coffee 1, Howell 1. Free throws—Ray 2, Dee 2, Alexander 1.

Says Damon Runyon

Bootleg Whiskey
What "Jawn" Says
The Bootlegger
Confidence
Trouble with Laws

BY DAMON RUNYON
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

Copyright 1923 by Universal Service

NEW YORK, March 23.—Two of Mr. McGraw's Giants get tangled up with bootleg whiskey at San Antonio, one is fined, the other sentenced to what is ignominy for a man who considers himself a regular big league player—the second team.

An interior view of the heads of these young men would be interesting.

Their living expenses at San Antionid, most delightful of winter resorts, are paid by the New York Club that they may get into physical condition to earn money by playing baseball all summer.

It happens that in the case of these particular young men, they do not have to play baseball every day. One is a pitcher, the other a catcher, who alternates with another catcher. They could not have "softer" jobs in this world, yet they jeopardize their jobs, their physical condition, for whiskey.

Mr. McGraw, in announcing the punishment of the erring players, which is mild enough, talks largely of discipline. His words are quite true, worthy of earnest consideration by all young men.

You know Mr. McGraw must not smile as you read what he says and reflect that Mr. McGraw has been noted for maintaining discipline. This very fact makes his little sermon all the weightier.

With Mr. McGraw—and he speaks out of the depths of varied experience—it is the old story of "don't do as I do—do as I say."

The writer often wonders after reading of the pains and penalties incurred by young men who drink bootleg whiskey, what becomes of the bootlegger?"

We know what becomes of his whiskey, what becomes of those who drink it, but we never read of what happens to the bootlegger himself.

That would be the most interesting part of the story.

John Scott, of North Carolina, an epic figure in the last world's series, was one of the players disciplined by McGraw. Earl Smith was the other.

Scott is the man who was released by the Cincinnati Club because the x-ray showed that he had a "bad" arm.

Scott refused to believe the x-ray. He had confidence in himself. He asked McGraw to give him a chance with the Giants. He proved his case by pitching the Giants to victory over the Yankees last fall.

Strange that Scott, with confidence enough in his own ability to write a stirring chapter in baseball history, should now figure in an episode not to his credit. You would think the confidence that brought him back from the baseball graveyard would carry him over such obvious pitfalls as bootleg whiskey.

The trouble with a lot of laws with respect to sport is that they seem to conflict with the desires of a majority of the public.

Sunday baseball was not permitted for a long time in New York City. The amazing attendance at Sunday games since they were legalized would seem to indicate that the public in general favors them.

In Chicago, boxing is not permitted. Without presenting a brief in favor of boxing, the attendance at shows held in Chicago recently under injunction suggests a sentiment for the game that would seem to warrant consideration.

Stephenson, .350 Batter, Is Without Regular Berth

LAKELAND, Fla., March 23.—A man without a job.

There you have the baseball status of Riggs Stephenson, one of the greatest right-handed batters in the major leagues.

Stephenson is one of those right-handed batters who takes a healthy cut at the ball, a la Rogers Hornsby or Harry Heilmann.

The former collegian is a player capable of hitting better than .300, probably close to .350 if used as a regular. There's the rub.

Stephenson is a man without a job, although Manager Speaker of the Indians is busily engaged in trying to find a title that will fit him.

Stephenson came direct to the Indians from University of Alabama. A few years back, when an injury to Bill Wambsganss kept him from starting the season Speaker surprised the baseball world by announcing the unknown college recruit as his second baseman. Right well did he fill the bill. His great hitting featured the early play of the Indians.

In a desire to work Stephenson into the regular lineup, Speaker has used the youngster at second, short, third and in the outfield. Some slight fault crops out that keeps him from winning a regular berth. Speaker hasn't lost faith, neither has Stephenson. Eddie Collins didn't arrive overnight.

The tough part of it is that batsman capable of whaling the ball to the extent of a .350 average or as regular is viewing the games from the bench.

World's Greatest Steeplechase Is on In Liverpool Today

LIVERPOOL, March 23.—Every Englishman who knows anything about steeplechasing was either in Liverpool today or would like to be here, for it was the day of the grand national, the greatest and most valuable steeplechase in the world.

Four American owned horses were entered among the score or more of probable starters over the four and a half mile course at Aintree, a course so difficult that only one mount got around last year without falling. There are 46 fences, fourteen of which must be jumped twice. Each of these obstacles stands higher than a man and the approach to many is over a stretch of water wide enough to accommodate a family of ducks.

The American entries were J. E. Widener's Duettiste, Stephen Sanford's Sergeant Murphy, Foxhall Keene's Masterful and A. S. Cochran's Libretto.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Wallace came from Paris to join the group of distinguished spectators, including King George and Queen Mary, who are Lord Derby's guests at a house party. The prince of Wales had a stahd reserved.

The stakes amounted to approximately 10,000 pounds.

M'TIGUE SAYS HE HAS SIGNED TO MEET CARPENTIER

DUBLIN, March 23.—Mike McTigue told the correspondent last evening that he had accepted an offer to fight Georges Carpentier but that it had not been decided whether the match would be staged in the United States or in Ireland.

RICHARDS TELLS HOW DAVIS CUP DOUBLES LOST

BY VINCENT RICHARDS
National Tennis Doubles Champion
Universal Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 23.—Ever since the passing of such doubles teams as Hackett and Alexander, Ward and Wright, and hosts of other well known combinations of a few years ago, America has been woefully lacking in first class doubles play.

Many of the socalled tennis critics are willing to bet that we are not in the same class with our foreign visitors in doubles play. They say that, although we reign supreme in the singles competition we do not even run a close second in the doubles encounters. One of the strongest arguments that the "wise ones" have along these lines is the Davis cup doubles match that Wm. T. Tilden and myself played against Pat O'Hara Wood and Gerald Patterson last summer at Forest Hills. The Australians gave us the most decisive trouncing that we have ever received in tournament competition.

There will always be many different versions why Tilden and myself were defeated in this important match. Following the staging of this encounter, the newspaper critics took a fall out of both Tilden and the writer. Some placed the blame on "Big Bill" while others were certain that it was I who faltered badly.

Too much praise cannot be rendered Patterson and Wood for their sensational exhibition on that day. They managed to get the jump on us from the outset. They took us by surprise. We underestimated their ability.

Employing what is known as the English formation the Australians threw a large sized monkey wrench into our proverbial mechanism. This variety of game provides for one man at the net and one in midcourt. Against us, Wood was the net partner and the way this super-player cut off our well meant returns to the first set was most discouraging.

Tilden and I were unable to reach the net, the place we usually get in our deadly work. Let me state right here that a doubles team will be beaten nine times out of 10 unless one of the partners can perform at the net position.

Norman E. Brookes, rated as one of the most phenomenal tennis exponents of all time, has always been considered the premier man at the net in doubles, but I am firmly convinced that Pat O'Hara Wood is even greater in this particular respect than Brookes. And so I say that Wood's playing in that Davis cup match last season at Forest Hills was the real reason why the colors of the United States team were lowered.

Tilden and myself decided the other day that we would again play the national doubles championship and the other important tournaments together, this coming season. We will, naturally, be nourishing the hope that we meet Patterson and Wood again, but much depends, of course, on the condition of the world's champion's finger.

STEEPLECHASE IS WON BY SERGEANT MURPHY

CARDS CHANCE FOR PENNANT DEPENDS ON PITCHING THIS YEAR; FIELDING STRONGER

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY
Universal Service Sports Editor.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 22.—The St. Louis Cardinals have averaged over five runs a game for the past four years through the medium of heavy hitting in the greater part.

If the Cards had good pitching and fielding it is likely they would come through for a pennant in one or another of these years. But they didn't and floundered around threatening often. They finished in a tie for third place last season, with the Pirates and a game behind the Reds.

A big blow to their chances then was the illness of Austin McHenry, eventually causing his death. This made a big gap in center field and in hitting, particularly the latter. Rank fielding in many games and poor pitching, really knocked them out of the chase.

Now Manager Branch Rickey has Hy Myers, ex-Brooklynite, for center, a hard hitting and capable fielder to take McHenry's place. He also has Pitcher Fred Toney, former Giant, and expects a lot from the big Tennessee mountaineer. The club began training here February 5, earlier than any other, and every man is in superb physical condition.

In four exhibition games with other major league clubs the Cards have been showing brilliantly at bat, having the splendid team average including nearly every man here of .325. Pitching, too, has been of a highly promising order.

Another encouraging feature for Rickey is the improvement in the field, including Myers, in the outfield, Jim Bottomley at Jacques Fournier's old place at first, and Johnny Lavan, the veteran, now in great condition. Rickey was dubious about short until he saw Lavan performing. He says now he never saw him as good in his career, and attributes it to the Oriental barnstorming tour of which Jimmy was a member.

Bottomley in sixty games last year hit well over .300 and fielded smartly. At second is Rogers Hornsby, who smacked the ball at a .401 last year, including the season's record of 42 home runs. Lavan at short is expected to improve greatly over his .225 hitting percentage of last year and also in the field. Milton Stock, a .309 walloper and a good fielder, will be at third again.

For the substitutes there is Del Gainer with a punch in his bat, for first; George Torporcer, who rapped for .322 last season, for second; Roscoe Heim, an Iowa University lad, likely to be kept for short, and Ray Blades, obtained last season for third.

The regulars of this crew can smash the ball for a combined average of .325. The outfield will be Max Flack, right; Myers, center, and either Leslie Mann, Joe Schultz, Jack Smith or Clarence Mueller in left. Each of the latter quartet have little to choose at present. All these men are .300 swatters. They average about 330. Myers and Flack, who came from the Cubs last year, are depended on to do some smart fielding. Outpost fielding has been a bugaboo for the Cards in the past. The veterans, Eddie Ainsmith and Vernon Clements, will do the catching. Harry McCurdy, back from Syracuse, is pretty sure to stay on.

The pitchers will be the veterans, Bill Doak, a spitballer; Jeff Pfeffer, most consistent performer last year; Jess Haines, Bill Sherdell, southpaw; Toney, Bill Pertica, and Lou North, the relief man. Then there is Clyde Barfoot, with the club last season; Leslie Sell, taken from Syracuse last season, and Carol Grimm, from Lansing, Michigan.

Doak's arm bothered him last spring but is now O. K. All the pitchers are in fine fettle, thanks to weeks of training.

Toney is working like a Georgia mule. He insists John McGraw made a mistake in thinking his arm had gone back. "I'll show Mac he's away wrong," says Fred.

Rickey plans carrying nine pitchers. It's a question if Grimm will stick. He seems to need seasoning.

They are advertising Hornsby as a $200,000 star down here. He's busy living up to the part.

Eddie Dyer, pitcher and outfielder from Syracuse, is doing fine fielding and hitting and seems sure to be kept.

In Howard Freigan, from Ohio Wesleyan, Rickey's old college, the Cards have a man who can do anything but pitch and catch. He has been in fine style and Rickey is enthusiastic over him.

The club walloped for .301 last season, third in the Pirates and Giants respectively. There is no question the Cards have a chance for the pennant. It seems all up to pitching now that fielding has been much strengthened.

THE TIMES' GROCERY-MARKET DEPARTMENT

With Approach of Spring Weather Healthy Man's Appetite Turns to Turnip Greens and Head Lettuce

FRESH VEGETABLES MORE PLENTIFUL AS WEATHER WARMS UP

Fresh California English peas and new potatoes with some Colorado parsley and parsnips make the market look like spring is really here at last. Rhubarb and artichokes which have been off the market for some time are back also.

Carrots and radishes are 10 cents per pound this week with cabbage at 7 to 8 cents a pound and string beans 30 to 35 cents a pound.

Lettuce can be had for two bunches for a quarter, onions two bunches for 15 cents, celery 20 cents a bunch, mustard and spinach greens 10 to 15 cents a pound, and cauliflower, which is new on the market, for 25 cents a pound.

Fresh tomatoes are running 20 to 25 cents a pound, the English peas are 30 cents and new potatoes 15 cents a pound. Artichokes run 40 cents each, parsley 10 cents a bunch and parsnips 15 cents a pound.

Sweet potatoes are 6 cents and old potatoes 2½ to 4 cents a pound. Horse radish root is new on the market for 40 cents a pound.

The grocery men are expecting more fresh vegetables and more and more home grown produce from now on, according to reports Thursday afternoon.

That old familiar verse, "In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love" has been paraphrased to read, "When the March winds start to blow, the healthy man's appetite turns to thoughts of turnip greens and head lettuce."

As the days grow more balmy and the sun's rays begin to warm up the old earth the full grown man starts having visions of squash and string beans. All through the winter he has been content to shovel huge quantities of bacon and dried beans into his system, but when the trees begin to bud the old human appetite begins to crave green peas and corn on the cob. This craving for green stuff which begins to show itself in the early spring is undoubtedly a heritage from our ancient ancestors who in the early spring, came forth from their caves after a winter on embalmed beef, and started foraging for the succulent green stuff which grew along the edges of the primeval marshes.

Grocers and produce handlers, those who cater directly to the appetites of the populace, declare that at this season there is always a distinct falling off in the sale of canned goods, ham, dried fruit, etc., and that the demand for lettuce, celery, peppers, cabbage and the like far exceeds the supply.

Further evidence of this mysterious sudden craving for the green vegetables is forthcoming when it is remembered that while under present modern systems of marketing, tomatoes, peppers, lettuce and such truck, are available the year round, there is not nearly the demand in the winter months for such stuff as there is in March and April.

The human appetite, a slave to habit, has, through the ages, accustomed itself to demanding certain articles of diet at certain times of the year, and no amount of artificial stimulation, in the way of winter time green stuff will change the habits of ages. People want their green stuff in the spring, their peaches, pears, etc., in June and July, their watermelons and cantaloupes in July and August, their fresh hog meat in late October, turkey and cranberries in November, and so on.

Now is the time for early greens, radishes and other green stuff and folks are buying them.

EAST WIND PLACES DOUBTFUL ASPECT IN WEATHER PLAN

An east wind that showed some tendency early Friday morning to swerve to the north placed a doubtful aspect on weather conditions. Other interesting elements were also noted in the reports of railroad agents.

Although the sun Thursday showed its strength and run the mercury in the tube to the 68 degree mark, the icy touch of the wind during the night brought the temperature back to the 40 degree mark, locally, for the minimum reading. Points on the north end of local railroads reported minimum temperatures around 35 degrees.

The half inch of snow that fell at Forgan and Woodward Wednesday night did not altogether disappear Thursday, but a trace was left Friday morning.

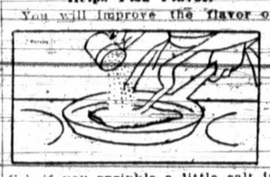
Thin sheaths of grey clouds appeared in the northern and eastern horizon Friday morning.

Household Suggestions

Makes Crust Flaky.

Add half a spoonful of vinegar to the cold water you use in making pie crust. See if you don't have a flaky crust as a result.

Helps Fish Flavor.



You will improve the flavor of fish if you sprinkle a little salt in the fat in which it is fried.

Use a Little Borax.

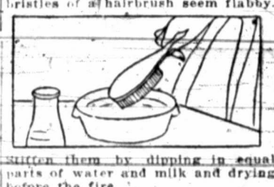
Shoes frequently stain tan or gray stockings and ruin their appearance. The stain can be removed if you add a tablespoon of borax to the water in which you launder them.

It Needs Turpentine.

Sometimes shoe polish becomes hard in the box and not fit to use. You can soften it and make it as good as ever if you add a little turpentine and let it stand for a short time.

Water and Milk.

Sometimes, after washing, the bristles of a hairbrush seem flabby.



Soften them by dipping in equal parts of water and milk and drying before the fire.

To Set the Color.

If you will dip your pink or red blouses in turpentine after dying them, this will set the color so you will not need to worry about fading.

Makes Them Wear.

If you would like to have your silk stockings last longer rinse the toes and heels in cold water and let them dry before you ever wear them.

Saves Your Books.

When water is spilled on a book the leaves may be saved from warping or crinkling by slipping a blotter on each side of the wet pages and pressing them with a medium hot iron until they are thoroughly dry.

Cleaning the Tub.

Just common baking soda on a damp cloth makes a very effective and efficient cleaner for the bathtub.

Dip In Milk.

Stiffen your fine muslins, organdies or dainty laces by dipping them in skimmed milk.

To Set Colors.

Salt water will set all shades of pink. A strong salt solution will set dark blue, gray or black.

Crisp Cookies.

Sprinkle sugar on your cookies before baking to make them crisp.

Whitens the Washing.

Your white clothes will be much whiter if you add a teaspoon of powdered borax to the water in which the clothes are rinsed.

Better Than Soap.

Ornaments of mother-of-pearl are most successfully cleaned with whiting and cold water. Soap is apt to discolor them.

Stains Off Porcelain.

Stains on a porcelain bath tub that obstinately refuse to yield before scouring soaps sometimes vanish when fine sandpaper is employed.

Ties Easy to Clean.

Line your cake tins with waxed paper and you won't have to scour them so hard after using.

Brush Is Best.

A brush is better than a cloth for removing dust from window sashes, baseboards and corners. You can have assorted sizes.

Sprinkling the Wash.

A good way to sprinkle your clothes is to dip a whiskbroom in water and use it instead of distributing the water by hand. It is a quicker method.

BRADLEY WELL ON HIRSCHI LEASE IS A 500 PRODUCER

Flowing a steady stream of oil at the rate of 500 barrels daily, the Bradley Oil Company Thursday completed their No. 9 on the Hirschi tract in block 824, which is producing from the usual pay at 1886 feet.

The well is located the farthest to the south on the lease.

ROXANA WELL IN YOUNG COUNTY IS BETTER THAN 1000

GRAHAM, TEXAS, March 23.—Roxana Oil Corporation No. 2 Bunger, touched the pay at 3800 feet yesterday afternoon and at one foot in the sand is gauging 45 barrels per hour or better than 1000 barrels per day. This well is just south of Oil City.

The Sinclair Oil Company's No. 1 Moran has jumped at 1750 barrels daily.

RATED ONE OF BEST WELLS IN IBEX POOL

The No. 2 well of Landreth & Company, which came in a few days ago with an estimated production of 700 barrels daily has steadily increased and is now flowing at the rate of 79 barrels per hour, making it one of the biggest wells ever drilled in the Ibex pool.

The lime was encountered at 3516 feet which was penetrated 75 feet when a shot was given and the well responded with a flush production of 700 barrels.

PETROLEUM PRODUCERS HAVE MADE A LOCATION

The Petroleum Producers Company have made a location for a test 150 feet each way from the northwest corner of lot 41, Meade Pasture survey in Archer County, and the material is on the location for the derrick.

COHEN-LEBOW TEST DRILLING AROUND 1000

Drilling on the Cohen-Lebow test, located to the east of the Petersen well in block 40, is going down in a satisfactory manner and have reached a depth of 1,000 feet. This property was recently purchased from the McCarty Oil Company for a consideration of $105,000.

SHIPLEY TEST WILL BE WATCHED WITH INTEREST

After cleaning and bailing the hole dry, showing both oil and water in a sand picked up at 1451 feet the No. 1 test of Shipley and others in block 40, lot 14, of the Luke Wilson land in Archer County will ream further into the sand in an effort to get a more favorable core. The outcome of this test is being watched with interest by the operators as it would add a big scope of territory to the producing area by bringing in a producer in that locality.

HAVE LEASED OFFICES IN WAGGONER BUILDING

The Producers Drilling Corporation of Fort Worth have leased offices on the fifth floor of the Bob Waggoner building and will move to this city; the company is represented by Ben Wofferd and Elmer Gatewood both well known in the oil industry.

The Texas, Magnolia, and Gulf companies have two plants each, and the Red River Oil Company and Bellby Natural Gasoline Company each have one.

The new Texhoma plant is a two-unit construction, having a capacity of 1,500 gallons a day. The 10 plants will produce about 45,000 gallons of casing head gas daily.

VERNON DEBATERS MEET DEFEAT HERE IN FRIDAY'S EVENTS

Both the Vernon debating teams, girls and boys, met defeat by the strong argument of the local debaters at the high school Friday morning, when the latter speakers took the unanimous decision of the judges.

In the first debate, which was held in the auditorium before an audience of 500 students, Joe Bashara and Don Hallman, Wichita hi debaters who were upholding the affirmative side of the state question, that of a three mill tax for the support of the higher educational institutions of the state, defeated Paul Wilhelm and Arless Hawkins. The judges for the debate were Rev. Hancpek, Judge Joe Hatchitt, and J. Clyde Penrod.

The second debate of the morning was held in one of the classrooms. Miss Marguerite Thomas and Dorothy Barrett of Vernon were the affirmative speakers, while Misses Stella Winters and Marjorie Woolsey, high school girls team, supported the negative. Judge R. D. Sartin and Arch Dawson judged the contest.

Other dual city debates have been scheduled to take place before the district meet, early in April, according to Miss Juanita Kinsey, debate coach of the high school.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET

New York Cotton

NEW YORK, March 23.—The cotton market showed continued nervousness and irregularity during today's early trading. The opening was steady at a decline of four to six points on old crop positions which were influenced by relatively steady cables, while the new crop was unchanged to one point lower on rather an unfavorable weather map. There was a good deal of scattering liquidation and New Orleans was an early seller here as a result of which active months soon showed net losses of 18 to 23 points, with May selling off to 30.22 and October to 26.16. Covering then became a little more active, while there was a little trade buying which helped to steady the market and caused moderate rallies.

The early decline was followed by rallies of 8 or 12 points on covering, but otherwise there appeared to be little buying and the market weakened again around midday under renewed liquidation. This was accompanied by reports of a continued slow spot demand in the south and rumors that the southwest was offering cotton a little more freely. A few stop orders were uncovered around the ring here as prices worked lower and the decline extended to 30.11 for May and 26.10 for October shortly after midday, or about 24 to 27 points net lower. The last sale of March contracts was 30.20, or about 15 points under the price then ruling for May deliveries.

The decline extended to 30.15 for May and 25.94 for October, or about 40 to 49 points net lower during the early afternoon, after which there were slight rallies on covering with the general market showing net losses of about 23 to 24 points at 2 o'clock.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—Better weather conditions over the belt and a poor Liverpool encouraged selling in the cotton market today and in the first half hour prices fell from 20 to 27 points. This carried May off to 29.63 and October to 25.68. Liquidation of long contracts again appeared and the market did not appear to attract the trade support which it has been getting.

Talk of higher money rates increased offerings and widened the decline to 32 to 40 points by late morning, May sank to 29.52 and October to 25.56. The tone was steadied by the bullish look of week-end statistics, pointers to mill takings being large while prospects were for an unusually great reduction in the visible supply of American cotton.

In the early afternoon the decline was widened to 41 to 47 points in the face of extremely bullish statistics, May dropping to 29.45 and October to 25.46. Mills of the world took 220,000 bales of American cotton this week against 190,000 this week last year, and the visible supply of American cotton decreased 112,562 bales against a decrease this week last year of 48,557. At 1:30 o'clock the tone was steadier with prices 10 to 20 points up from the lowest.

Cotton closed barely steady at net losses of 47 to 71 points.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, March 23.—Wheat averaged a little lower in price today during the early dealings, buyers appearing rather listless and Liverpool quotations being downward. On the other hand, there was no decided pressure to sell. Indications of moist weather in the domestic Winter Wheat territory however, tended to give some advantage to the bear side of the market. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged to 1c lower, May 1.21½ to 1.22, and July 1.16¾ to ⅞, were followed by a slight rally and then by a down turn all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Scattered liquidation sales on the part of holders led subsequently to further declines in price. Export demand was less active and there was selling of wheat to go into storage here. The close was unsettled, ⅛ to 1⅛c net lower, May $1.20¾ to 1 and July 1.14¾ to ⅞.

Corn and oats weakened with wheat. After opening ⅛c off to a shade advance, May 71½c, soon hardened a trifle and then under went a moderate general sag.

Later the corn market continued to drag, notwithstanding that other cities were outbidding Chicago in the country. Prices here closed unsettled to ¾ to 1c net decline, May 73½c.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c lower, May 45½c, and after a bit of a rally, showed a slight loss for all deliveries.

Provisions lacked support despite an upturn in hog values.

STOCKS AND FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, March 23.—Conflicting price movements took place at the opening of today's stock market but the main tendency was upward. A revival of heavy buying in the new group sent Tidewater up 1½ points with the other domestic oils improving fractionally on initial sales. Keystone Tire and Granby Copper each sold at new high records for the year. Slight heaviness was noted in some of the popular industrial favorites.

Marland Oil, selling ex dividend 1 per cent, made up its dividend and advanced 1¼ points above yesterday's closing price, creating a new high record. New peak prices also were established by Barnsdall A, up one, Union Bag and Paper up one, and Computing Tabulating and Recording, up 2¼. California Petroleum and Hays Wheel, each advanced 1¼ and American Ice and United Railways and Investment preferred each rose 1½. Mack Truck dropped a point.

Marking up of the call money rate to six per cent and apprehension of a possible early increase in the federal reserve rediscount rate caused extensive selling after midday in which few stocks escaped losses of a point or more, Bosch Magneto dropped 4½, South Porto Rico Sugar 3½, Manati Sugar and Kresge 2¼. A considerable number of the active shares were quoted at new low levels under yesterday's final figures.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 1,300,000 shares.

ARREST MAY LEAD TO UNCOVERING OF CHICKEN THEFTS

An arrest was made Thursday night that is expected to lead to the solution of a number of chicken thefts that have occurred in this vicinity recently. Police Officers Shook and Windham located 20 chickens that were stolen from a residence on Third street Wednesday night.

The man who was in possession of the poultry told officers that he purchased the chickens from a friend. The friend was located and was found to have several of the fouls on hand. He was taken to the county jail and charges of burglary will be filed against him. It is probable that charges will be filed against the man who was in possession of the poultry.

Officers are of the opinion that the arrest made Thursday night will lead to recovery of a number of chickens that have been stolen here recently.

RACE TRACK SITE AT FAIR GROUNDS PICKED BY COMMITTEE FRIDAY

Members of the executive committee of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair Association Friday morning approved the location proposed for the race track and grandstand at the grounds. A slight change was made from the original survey, on account of the irrigation ditch.

The entrance to the track enclosure will be between hangars 9 and 10 with the grandstand to the west of the entrance. The stretch of the track will be 80 feet wide, giving ample space for harness races and for automobile events.

Grading and other work will start Monday, and it is hoped to have work under way on the grandstand early in April.

KNIGHT TEMPLAR DEGREE CONFERRED ON 85 YEAR OLD; VERNON MEMBERS ATTEND

Benjamin Ferguson, 85 years of age, and for 64 years a Mason, father of W. R. Ferguson, was the honor candidate for the Knights Templar degrees conferred by officers of Vernon Commandery and Wichita Falls Commandery at one of the largest meetings of the year held in the asylum on Thursday.

At 2 p. m. the officers of Vernon Commandery, under the leadership of Past Commander L. E. Kester, and Prelate E. L. Witty, opened the commandery in the Red Cross degree and conferred this degree upon the following candidates:

Benjamin Ferguson, Chas. R. Bock, Otis G. Stephens, D. Van Dorn Grift, Edward S. Carey, Wm. K. Niles, Lyman C. Holloway and Walter C. Fowler.

At 4 p. m. the Malta degree team of Wichita Falls Commandery, under the direction of Sir Eminent George Lawler, conferred the Mediterranean Pass and Malta degree in long form, preceding the supper hour.

All repaired to the dining room where a splendid supper was served to between 100 and 150 Sir Knights. The register showed visiting Sir Knights from several other jurisdictions, one from Washington, D. C., in the person of Geo. L. Armstrong, national bank examiner, who was called upon for remarks, and H. W. Austin of Fort Worth Commandery, Fort Worth.

Sir Knight W. D. Cline welcomed the Sir Knights in behalf of the local commandery.

J. D. Avis, Grand Thrice Illustrious Master of the Royal and Select Council of Texas, who returned from Austin and Mexico City, gave a splendid but brief talk on his work in Austin as a representative of the people of this section, and from there told of his trip to Mexico City in the interest of the organization of a chapter of Royal Arch Masons and a council of Royal and Select Masters. He referred to the smoothing out of difficulties in Mexico along all lines, and told how gratifying it was that Masonry in Mexico had been recognized, and especially by the grand bodies of Texas.

A number of other good talks brought the social features to a close. All Sir Knights retired to the asylum, and the Temple degree was conferred in full form by the officers of Vernon Commandery.

Much attractiveness was added to the work through the musical numbers rendered by the commandery quartet. Ben Neal substituted for Paul Von Allmen, and Miss Lucy Huggins was the accompanist of the evening.

Wichita Falls Commandery will go to Seymour on Monday to confer the work upon candidates for Seymour Commandery, and other pleasant features are looked forward to during the Templar year under the leadership of Sir Knight Stehlik, commander.

Oklahoma Horse Wins in Interstate Race Thursday, And Bettors Pay Fines

The thudding beat of eight hoofs as they struck the turf in lightning speed touch only to be off again sent a pulsative strain through the blood circulation system of 500 spectators, including five county officers Thursday afternoon near Sunshine Hill.

"It was a fine race," each and everyone declared.

As soon as the horse race had been concluded and the stake holders, for there were such persons present, according to the officer, had fulfilled the trust which had been placed in them, Chief Deputy Sheriff Jack Miller and Deputies Belcher and Snyder and Special Officer Ecbout and Sheriff Pat Murphy withdrew from their secluded spot among the spectators and placed 25 men under arrest on charges of gambling.

Two extra cars were pressed into service by the officers and the arrested parties brought back to Wichita Falls where all pleaded guilty to the charge and paid fines. Twenty paid fines of $10 and costs; two paid $25 and costs and one deposited $15 and costs. The pleas were taken by Justices of the Peace R. V. Gwinn and O. L. Gibbs.

The horses which furnished the excitement for the afternoon and the incentive of depositing certain amounts with stakeholders, represented Texas and Oklahoma. The Oklahoma horse which hailed from Sulphur was the victor of the half mile straight away, crossing the wire a full length and a half in the lead.

A double track had been prepared for the half mile course. The sod had been scraped aside and the soft dirt beneath packed and leveled. According to the raiding officers the track has been used several times before for similar events.

As the story runs, the Texas horse which is owned by a man living near Sunshine Hill had carried off the derby stake with monotonous regularity. In former events the Oklahoma delegations had re-crossed Red river several times heavy at heart and light in purse.

At the conclusion of the race Thursday afternoon the Oklahoma parties were elated over the outcome as they were soon to carry back some of the money which they had deposited here before. But, before leaving they were forced to leave a portion of it deposited in the treasury of Wichita County.

The owner of the Oklahoma horse told officers that he had not bet one penny on the outcome of the race but that he had consented to racing his horse with the understanding that if it won over the Texas steed that $500 would await him to transfer ownership in the animal. This he said was what induced him to bring the horse and a jockey to Texas soil.

The owner returned to Oklahoma last night with his proud horse, but the jockey was missing. This little fellow got a start when he saw the officers rounding in those who were cashing in and cashing out. Probably he did not stop until Texas sands were far behind because no trace of him could be found.

Along the straight away course, officers stated that two lines of automobiles were parked. Business and professional men from Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Sulphur Springs, Okla., Vernon and Wichita Falls were in attendance.

There was a quick starting of motors, the officers said, as soon as they stepped out and took charge of the situation.

CAR STOLEN IN OKLAHOMA RECOVERED HERE THURSDAY

A Ford automobile stolen from the L. R. Ross of Lawton, Okla., was recovered here Thursday night by State Ranger Koonsman and Patrolman Smart. The car was found abandoned on the Call Field road; no trace was available of the persons who left it there. The car was stolen in Lawton Tuesday night and officers here were given a description of the vehicle and located it Thursday night; the owners have been notified.

HABEAS CORPUS IS SET FOR HEARING SATURDAY MORNING

Hearing on the writ of habeas corpus filed by A. Luecke will be had before Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Luecke is being held a prisoner in the county jail having been denied bail bond following a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs last Tuesday morning.

The man stands charged with a statutory offense in which his 11-year-old daughter is the complaining witness. In his application the defendant recites that under the testimony that he is entitled to bail and asks the court to hear the evidence and set a bond which is reasonable and just.
