ROGER W. BABSON
Babson Discusses New Opportunities

GLOUCESTER, Mass.—I recently walked by Lord & Taylor's beautiful Fifth Avenue show windows. Behold, I saw an elaborate exhibit of Polly Cove designs. When a boy here in Gloucester I had a girl friend at a place on Cape Ann known as "Polly Cove." When I went down there my father used to call it "Roger's Polly." As I had never since heard of any other Polly Cove, I stopped at Lord & Taylor's and examined the goods. Sure enough! They were from my own Polly Cove of Gloucester. Furthermore, I was again proud of this. The goods were as pretty as the girl I used to go with.

Better Living for Less Money

So, at my first opportunity I hiked back to my old home at Gloucester where I am writing this column for my 400 friendly newspapers. Well, here is the remarkable story:

AT AN AIR FORCE SERVICE

Command Depot in Naples, Italy—Staff Sergeant Irvin L. Lilly, Perryton, Texas, member of the 41st Depot Repair Squadron, is celebrating his two years of overseas service. On March 4, 1942, the 41st Depot Repair Squadron was activated at Duncan Field, San Antonio, Texas. In May 1942, the squadron was ordered to Albuquerque, N. M., where the men received on-the-job training in their various duties. The squadron was sent to Camp Kilmer, N. J., August 1943, to await overseas shipment, arriving at Bizerte, Tunisia, September 1943. After a few days, the squadron was sent to Sidi Ahmed.

Joy of Creating Something

The second requirement was that to hold these mothers' interest they must be encouraged to use their hands as well as their heads. Hence, Virginia had them actually design and create something themselves. Yet, all of the townspeople—except Dorothy Norton and Louise Kenyon—thought this was impossible. Only these two believed that untrained people could design original patterns (and they must be able to judge).

Park Dedication Being Held Today

The dedication of the Ochiltree Memorial Park as a recreational area, previously scheduled for Friday, Sept. 21, was postponed due to inclement weather and is being held this afternoon from 5 until 8 p. m., states Mrs. Virgie P. Wheeler, county demonstrator.

Members of the First Christian church will gather Sunday, Sept. 30, to commemorate 25 years of endeavor and progress with a Silver Jubilee program under the direction of Rev. Ward H. N. Gregg, pastor. Erected in 1925 at a cost of $20,000, the edifice now houses a membership totaling 241.

Legion Auxiliary Membership Drive

The American Legion Auxiliary enrolled 133 members for 1946 before the State Convention held this week in Fort Worth. Practically every woman is now eligible to the Auxiliary thru their husbands, brothers and sons, who served in World War I and World War II.

Rangers Take Dumas Demons Friday, 18-0

With two games and two wins, the Perryton Rangers nosed out comparatively weak opposition Friday night at Ranger Field when they trampled the Dumas Demons 18-0. The Dumas eleven threatened only once during a game controlled by an aggressive Ranger team.

Legion to Initiate New Members Mon.

Commander A. N. Dowers of the Perryton American Legion Post announces the formation of an initiation team for the conferring of degrees on new Legionnaires. The initiation ceremony is a beautiful and impressive ritual and will be conferred on all new members as they enroll in the Legion.

The bride was attractive in a maize and brown gabardine dress with brown accessories.

Mrs. James Bruner, Independence, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and James Bruner attended the groom.

Mrs. Pittman received her B.A. degree from Northwestern State College and for the past three years has taught in the Waynoka school system. She is a member of the Delta Kappa Gamma society.

Mr. Pittman received an honorable discharge from the army Aug. 11. He was a member of the 24th Infantry Division of the armed forces for over three years. He received the Asiatic-Pacific campaign medal with three bronze stars and the Philippine liberation ribbon with two bronze stars. Before entering the army Mr. Pittman was engaged in farming and ranching in Oklahoma and Texas.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bruner complimented the couple with a wedding dinner at the Hotel Huron in Independence. They will be at home near Beaver, Okla., where the groom will engage in ranching.

Child Rearing Studied by Club

"Parents should show cooperation in discipline of their children", This and many other hints on child rearing were given by members of the Waka Home Demonstration Club which met with Mrs. Teeter at the lounge, September 19.

Hereditary and environment was another subject under discussion with this excellent thought presented. "Nothing can change the heritage of the child, but we as parents can give him good environment." Education in the home: "Train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Those enjoying the afternoon were Mesdames J. R. Stump, P. W. Wernake, Allen Dennison, Walt Preston, Dan Manning, P. E. Rhine, C. B. Barber, L. R. Conner, S. E. Stump, H. N. Elledge and the hostess.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Manning's. Members and visitors are invited to attend.

Amber Hill Weds Joe Lilly at Olathe, Colorado

Of interest of a wide circle of friends was the marriage of Miss Amber Hill of Olathe, Colorado, to Joe Lilly, son of Mrs. Ida S. Lilly of Perryton. The wedding occurred Sunday evening, September 9, at the Hill home in Olathe. Rev. Clayton Rees, a close friend of the groom officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Miss Edna Hill, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Robert Hill, brother of the bride was best man.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Robert Hill sang, "I Love You Truly", accompanied on the piano by Miss Mary Schrimpf. Mrs. Clayton Rees played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party took their places.

The bride was attired in a lovely street length dress of blue wool with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The maid of honor wore a pink crepe dress with a corsage of talisman roses.

Colorful autumn flowers were used profusely throughout the reception rooms at the Hill home.

The bride has been dental assistant to Dr. J. H. Profit for the past six years and was active in church and music circles.

The groom has traveled as a gospel singer and chorister for the past 17 years in evangelistic work.

A reception followed the ceremony, and the couple accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Rees to Idaho, where they will be in gospel meetings.

Huntoon Club Met With Mrs. Trosper

Mrs. Corwin Trosper was hostess to the Huntoon Home Demonstration Club Wednesday, Sept. 19. After the business session, in the absence of the county demonstrator, Mrs. Amos Morris, county vice chairman of the council, demonstrated making a mattress protector by using feed sacks.

She stated that a neater protector can be made from sheeting but since sheeting is almost impossible to find, feed sacks make a good substitute. Mrs. Morris also exhibited a portion of a quilted pad and told how it was made.

A print covered wooden box, designed with a hinged, padded lid and outfitted with sewing necessities, was exhibited. Mrs. M. S. Hummer gave a helpful talk on the articles every sewing box should contain.

Mrs. J. S. Thrasher discussed child training in the home and problems in adolescence. She also talked on the contents of cereals from the vitamin and nutritive standpoint, urging the members to examine the labels on cereals.

A refreshment plate was served to the following members and visitors: Mesdames Thrasher, D. D. Hummer, Martin Duke and daughter, Rhodie Stollings, M. S. Hummer, Roy Dorrre, Amos Morris, J. H. Latham, J. O. Cooke, George Graves, H. J. McCormick and Billie, and Miss Virginia Plutt and the hostess.

Mrs. Brillhart Bridge Hostess

Lucky Thirteen Club Reorganized At Dinner Party

The single ladies of the Perryton school faculty were entertained with a dinner in the home of Mrs. D. D. Shanks, Tuesday evening.

Sept. 25, at 7 o'clock.

The guests were greeted by Miss Jean Ann Essex. Assisting the hostess in the dining room were Misses Madeline Colbert, Mary Dean Dozier and Nova Mayo. Dinner was served from a large covered table centered with dahlias.

After Mrs. Shanks had given a brief history of the Lucky Thirteen, the club was organized for the coming year. Names were drawn for the exchange of gifts on the 13th of each month.

Games were enjoyed by the following: Misses Inez Franz, Flo Rhine, Elizabeth Mizell, Jane Moore, Monnie Kemp, Jan Rodgers, Beth

Dinners Honor Pvt. Gale Rogers

Pvt. Gale Rogers who spent a furlough here last week enroute to Port Ord, California for shipment overseas was complimented with two dinners.

On Friday evening, his mother, Mrs. C. B. Rogers entertained several of his friends. Plates were laid for Kenneth LaMaster, Edwin Fletcher, Bill Allen, Jack Igou, Cpl. Arthur Schroeder, Don and Gail Rogers.

A family dinner at the home of Gale's maternal grandmother, Mrs. F. C. Spencer, was held Sunday. Relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thurman, DuWayne, Cavita, Roland and Donnie; Mrs. Glenn Tindie, Kate Ellen and Jay of Pritch, Texas; Mrs. Ruth Leavelle of Borger; Pauline Spencer of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rogers, Jane, Gale and Don.

George Leathermans Have Houseguests

Mayor and Mrs. George Leatherman had as houseguests this week three of Mrs. Leatherman's sisters. They were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duncan, Wetumka, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, Coachella, California; and Mrs. Nattie Learman of Chicago, Illinois.

The sisters were together for the first time in several years, and they left for their homes Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hibbs of Borger were week end visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hibbs. When they returned home Sunday evening they took their son, Frank Thomas, who had been visiting his grandparents, and Miss Mary Hibbs. The group returned to Perryton for the night Tuesday and left Wednesday for California, where they will visit Mrs. Frank Hibbs' brother, Howard Seabridge, an air corps mechanic, who is hospitalized there.

Floyd, Earnestine Gary, Maurine Turner, Reba Gowin, Florine Nicholson, Lucile Cooper, Charlene Weissel, Terry Moorhead, the hostess and the assistants.

Miss Naylor Is Sunday Bride of Ray C. Wahl

The marriage of Miss Nellie June Naylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Naylor of Balke, Okla., to Ray C. Wahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wahl of Boyd, Okla., took place in the Balke Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, Sept. 9. The Rev. John N. Goss of Kentucky Avenue Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, was the officiating minister.

The church was made festive with arrangements of fern and seasonal blossoms.

The bride was gown in white chiffon fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, and her veil of illusion was of finger tip length. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Miss Mildred Sagar, the maid of honor, wore a blue frock of marquisette over blue taffeta and her flowers were ailanthus roses. Olen Smith was the best man.

Estelle Sue and Edna Lou Naylor, nees of the bride, were flower girls. Their floor length dresses were of white satin accented with pink trim. Jimmie Ray Naylor, San Antonio, Texas, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer. He wore a white suit and carried the ring on a satin pillow.

Music which preceded the double ring ceremony included selections by John Goss Jr. of Oklahoma City, and he accompanied M. S. Dorothy Lee Connell and Devel Reunro, who sang "I Love You Truly," and Mrs. M. L. Campbell, who sang "Always." Ethel Marie and John Goss Jr. sang "Because."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement for approximately 100 guests. Miss Bonnie June Disney, Borger, presided at the guest book.

The wedding cake was three-tiered, topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom.

The couple left for a wedding trip to parts of Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

Mrs. Wahl graduated from Balke high school with the class of 1943 and attended Oklahoma Beauty College, Oklahoma City, where she graduated in April, 1944. She was employed at Luttrell's Beauty Shop, Oklahoma City until February, 1945.

Mr. Wahl graduated from the Bethany high school and is now actively engaged in farming.

RELEASED FROM SERVICE—

Flight Officer Doyle E. Rorabaugh was awarded a discharge from the Air Forces at the Separation Center, Camp Chaffee, Ark., Sept. 17. He returned this week to the Gray, Okla., community where he intends to resume business as a farmer-stockman. Called into service July 8, 1942, Doyle was assigned to the infantry, later transferred into the Air Corps and becoming a flight officer after ten months extensive training. His last station before release was at an army air base, Maxton, N. C., as a bomber pilot. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rorabaugh, Gray, Okla.

Mrs. Lester Barnes of Pollett was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Barnes Sunday.

Airport, Bizerte, where they remained until November 1943. Here the men constructed supply warehouses and hangars and repaired battle-worn aircraft.

Leaving Bizerte, the squadron sailed for Italy and their new home, Gioia del Colle Airfield, where they were to remain for 19 months. During the period from VE-Day until the middle of July 1945, Sgt. Lilly and the rest of his squadron were instrumental in processing and redeploying 1500 Fifteenth Air Force aircraft and their crews to the states and the Pacific. Again receiving orders, the squadron moved to Air Force General Depot No. 3 in Naples, where they are helping in shipping material to the states and to the Pacific. Now that World War II is at a close, Sgt. Lilly is looking forward to returning home and resuming his life where he left off, as a civilian.

T/Sgt. Wilbur Holland called his sister, Mrs. T. O. Pugh, Monday night from the separation center at Ft. Bliss and stated that he expects to be discharged within a few days. Wilbur has been in the South Pacific and Philippines for many months with the 6th Army and only recently was returned to the west coast.

Pvt. Bob Beckett and wife of Glendale, Calif., stopped this week for a short visit in the home of her grandfather, E. O. Bruner, while enroute to their home. Pvt. Beckett returned to the east coast Aug. 23 after serving 10 months in Italy with the 405th Engineers. He will return to Camp Poik, La., upon completion of a 30-day furlough. Mrs. Beckett will remain in California.

Drew Ellis came in Saturday from Bolling Field to attend the funeral of his wife's mother, Mrs. O. R. Wilson. Drew states that he has a 30-day furlough and expects to be discharged within a short time upon return.

William C. Wilson, MoMM 2/c, USNR, has notified his wife that he arrived in San Francisco, Calif., Friday aboard a battleship and expected to be home shortly. Bill has been in the Pacific for many months. He left Okinawa Aug. 31 enroute for home.

In a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rupprecht Jr., G. K. revealed that he was aboard ship bound for Japan. G. K. left the states this summer after completing his infantry training.

Cpl. Archie Correll, stationed at McCloskey Hospital at Temple, is spending a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Correll. Mrs. Louis Lammers Jr., Randy Correll and Mrs. Correll went to Amarillo Saturday to meet Archie and his buddy, Sgt. Eldridge French of Arlington, Texas, who is also a veteran of the Italian campaign. Sgt. French is a guest in the Correll home.

It's First Sergeant M. R. Coffey Jr., now Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Coffey have had recent letters from Manuel written from the Hawaiian Islands where the 4th Marine Division is resting after the battle of Iwo Jima. He reveals his new assignment and the fact that he expects to be home on furlough next month before returning to the Pacific for service.

Pvt. Charles E. Brillhart is furloughing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Brillhart. He arrived Saturday from Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, where he is undergoing hospital treatment. Charles returned to the states June 9, 1945, from the European theater after several months' overseas duty.

First Lt. and Mrs. P. D. Mays were through Perryton last week enroute from the Salina, Kansas Army Air Field to his new station, at Pyote, Texas. Lt. Mays is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mays.

Mrs. Clara Allen has received word that her son, T/Sgt. Gail D. Allen, has landed on Luzon in the Philippines, making the trip direct from France. Gail writes that they left France July 20, sailed through the Panama Canal, and landed in the Philippines early in September. The only place they were off the boat on the long trip was in the Canal Zone. Gail left the states for France in October of 1944. His address is: T/Sgt. Gail D. Allen, 38346892, Co. B, 361st Eng. Regt., S.S., APO 74, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. W. C. "Dub" Williams arrived in Perryton Saturday. "Dub" received his discharge Sept. 15 at Fort Lewis, Wash. He has been back in the states for several months following many months of service in Europe. Mrs. Williams is the former Miss Gertrude Glasgow.

Troy Bolerjack is probably in Tokyo at the present time. His brother, Rufus Bolerjack, received a letter from Troy, dated Sept. 18. He was at Yokohama at that time and was preparing to go on to the Jap capital. Troy has been in the Pacific since shortly after he entered service Aug. 6, 1942.

degree of use. The effect of some green growth on winter grains was studied by grazing two reserve pastures containing considerable quantities of cool-weather grasses in comparison with other pastures that possessed greater amounts of dormant forage.

A method-of-weighting test was also conducted during the winter to determine the effect of trailing distances, dry lotting, and watering on the uniformity of weights. Other studies, Savage explains, included a detailed inspection of the experimental design to determine its adequacy for statistical interpretation of the data.

Visitors to the field day Oct. 6 will see and hear the results of much of this work, the senior agronomist promises. The work is the result of co-operative efforts on the part of the stations at Woodward and Fort Supply, the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station at Stillwater, the Bureau of Plant and Animal Industry, and the Soil Conservation Service.

VETERAN'S SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

APPRENTICESHIP FOR VETS

With many labor unions suffering from lack of apprentice help, particularly the building trades unions, the federal committee on apprenticeship has, through a survey of industry, learned that 300,000 apprenticeship positions can be handled by industry from the ranks of returning servicemen.

The committee consists of representatives of management, labor unions, the U. S. Department of Labor, U. S. Office of Education, the Federal Security Agency and the War Relocation Administration.

The committee has recommended that to protect veterans and to maintain high standards of apprenticeship, adequate safeguards be set up by state agencies authorized to approve business establishments for apprentice training to assure veterans thorough training in all skilled trades. The committee has ruled out as apprenticeship training programs for occupations such as salesman, managerial positions, professional and semi-professional positions and clerical work.

Definitions for true apprenticeship which are reserved for all-round skilled trades and which have been adopted by WMC's apprentice training service include the following basic standards: (1) An apprenticeable occupation is considered one that requires 4,000 or more hours to learn; (2) A schedule of the work processes to be learned on the job; (3) A progressively increasing scale of wages that should average not less than 50 per cent of the journeyman's rate over the apprenticeship period; (4) Provisions for related classroom instruction of about 144 hours per year; (5) Terms of condition of employment and training to be stated in a written agreement and registered with the state apprenticeship council; (6) Review of local apprenticeship by the state or federal apprenticeship council; (7) Apprenticeship to be jointly established by the employer and employee; (8) Adequate supervision and the keeping of records for all apprenticeship programs.

Q.—What information must a veteran submit in order to apply for guaranty of a loan under the GI Bill of Rights?

A.—The veteran first executes a form called a certificate of eligibility. In this he gives a summary of his service record, the amount of the loan, and the purpose for which it is to be used. This is submitted to the Veterans Administration by the lending agency.

Q.—If a blue discharge from the Army is neither honorable nor dishonorable, under what circumstances is it given?

A.—The War Department informs us that an honorable discharge certificate is given when a soldier's service has been honorable. A dishonorable discharge is given in compliance with the sentence of a general court martial because of a military offense of a serious nature. A discharge "other than honorable" (blue) is given for in-between cases.

Q.—Is there a plan to release from the Army men who have had four to five years' service without regard to other factors?

A.—No, there is no plan for release because of length of service. There is authority for retirement of a soldier after 30 years service or if he is disabled in line of duty after 20 years service.

Q.—I am in a veterans hospital receiving domiciliary care. Can I also receive educational or vocational rehabilitation benefits at the same time?

A.—Yes, the Veterans Administration has ruled that a veteran receiving vocational training or education under either Public Law 346 or Public Law 16 of the 78th Congress while receiving domiciliary care is not receiving duplicate benefits, which is prevented by law.

Q.—There seems to be some difficulty over seniority rights in obtaining my old job. Is there anything I can do about it?

A.—Yes, if you fill all other qualifications of the selective service act you are entitled to your old job as a matter of right, regardless of any question of seniority. This is the ruling of the Federal Court and of the National Headquarters of the selective service system.

Q.—What is the ratio of disabled veterans applying for jobs?

A.—The War Relocation Administration reports that of more than 1,000,000 veterans who have sought employment at U. S. Employment service offices, approximately one-fourth were physically disabled and required selective placement techniques.

Q.—How many loans and in what amount has been made under the GI Bill of Rights?

A.—The Veterans Administration reports that through June, 1945, 10,441 loans for a total of $17,241,457.43 had been guaranteed.

lately original) for which great Fifth Avenue stores would scramble.

Well, these women have no company nor organization. They call Mrs. Demetrios, "President"; while all the others are "Vice Presidents." They also elect a jury of five to settle any disputes which may arise. Each woman makes and owns her own designs; she carves the blocks (out of battleship linoleum), mixes the ink and rolls it on the blocks. Then the blocks are put over the cloth laid upon the floor and stamped; yes, literally stamped upon because a woman must jump up and down on her block to make a good print! They began by making only table doilies, scarfs, etc., but now they make yard-goods for dresses, curtains and exquisite wallpaper.

Eliminating Overhead

But there is one more feature which should be noted. It usually costs more to sell goods than to make them; but not so at Polly Cove. The overhead advertising and sales expenses of these women amount to only 1 1/2 per cent. Hence, each woman gets 98 1/2 cents of every dollar which the retail stores pay for the goods. These women certainly are teaching manufacturers something in connection with

Navy Discourages Travel to POE's

The quickest way to see your or husband being returned overseas, is to remain at home. That was the sage advice offered by the Navy Department to relatives who are anxious to welcome their "boys" coming back to states for release.

In the first place, if relatives travel to debarkation ports it is highly improbable that they will even their sailors because the navy mobilization plan calls for returning men to separation centers their own naval districts. In sequence, men will not be free to visit their families at coastal ports but will move without delay to their own districts.

Secondly, travel by dependents will only crowd the already overloaded transportation system, hamper the orderly operation of discharge.

And last, living accommodations in coastal ports are not and not be available.

distribution. This lesson alone titles this story to be in this financial column. But most important of all, this is proof that succeeding like true co-operation. Here all have the same powers, opportunities and yet the increase of each is based upon her own individual efforts. Questions: cannot this co-operative principle be applied to many other products? May there not be a suggestion for returning veterans who to be both independent and use

Christian Science

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 30.
 The Golden Text is: "Thou, O Lord, remainest for ever; thy throne from generation to generation" (Lamentations 5:19).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God" (Isaiah 44:6).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made" (page 472).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made" (page 472).

LESSONS dealing with the migrations of peoples, exiles and enslavements in the ancient world have particular timeliness in these modern days.
 What happened to Jews in Germany during the past decade conforms almost exactly to what happened to Jews in Egypt in the years following the time of Joseph. When Jacob and his company went down to Egypt, they were received with honor, and all went well for a time. Then there arose "a Pharaoh who knew not Joseph," and trouble began.
 I suppose that much of it was as in modern times. The prosperous Jews evoked the envy of less prosperous, less efficient Egyptians, who, for their own self-interest and aggrandizement, made trouble for the "foreigners." It is the thing that has happened in Germany.
 In Germany, from prosperity and prestige, Jews regardless of their character and achievement were suddenly plunged into persecution and ruin. Artists, writers, musicians, along with unfeeling humble people, were suddenly assailed with hate and brutal violence, for no reason except their being Jews. Even the oppression in ancient Egypt did not compare with this organized hatred.
 Against all such hate, and base treatment of minorities, is the true spirit of Christianity, and of democracy itself. Joseph had saved and blessed the very Egyptians who persecuted and oppressed his people.
 Two things are necessary if we would avoid the pitfalls that have plunged the world into war, and the hates and prejudices that have produced strife and defeated social welfare. To all alike, who live peaceably and in law-abiding ways, we must (1) assure the full protection of the law and the rights and privileges which the State accords; and (2) upon all alike lay the duty of loyalty to the country. Democracies cannot continue and be strong where there is divided allegiance.

G. Cota, they infiltrated through German lines with heavy engineer equipment, including steam shovels and bull dozers, to rehabilitate Port Dubouc, thereby relieving the gasoline shortage of the 7th Army during the first few days of the invasion of southern France last August. At Port Dubouc, the engineers berthed the first Liberty ship within four days, and five Liberties in the short time of 10 days. The gasoline supplies unloaded from the ships were of extreme importance to the 7th Army for the great ports of Marseille and Toulon had not then been clear.

After training at Camp Gruber,

The company then jumped to Corsica, one of the first army service troops on the island, and constructed LST docks and set up the base headquarters. From there they landed at St. Maxime, France, from where they were hurried to Port Dubouc.

College Chapel Fund Increased

CANYON — Eighty persons have contributed more than $13,000 in cash and pledges to the West Texas State chapel building fund, it is announced by Dr. J. A. Hill, president.

Gifts to the fund are being received at the rate of more than a thousand dollars a week without personal solicitation, Dr. Hill said.

The chapel building, chimneys and organ will cost $50,000. The structure will be located on the campus on the site formerly occupied by the president's home.

One of the largest recent contributions was a check for $1,000 from White & Kirk, pioneer Amarillo store firm.

The chapel, which will serve faculty and students and provide a conference center for Panhandle ministers and student members of their congregations, will be the site for lectures, recitals, marriage ceremonies and special services. Its program will not conflict with the services of any local church.

The chapel project has been widely endorsed by Panhandle ministers and churches.

Flying Instruction Now On Curriculum WTSC

CANYON — Instruction in flying will be available to students as a regular curriculum offering at West Texas State College in the long session which opened Sept. 18.

To ground school work done on the campus will be added aviation mechanics and flight training at the West Texas State flying field on the Canyon-Amarillo highway.

"We are happy to commend these aviation opportunities to the youth of this country and feel confident that those who take this work will be amply rewarded for their investment of time and money," said Dr.
J. A. Hill, president.

Dean R. P. Jarrett announced that a credit of three semester hours will be granted to students who complete the necessary flight training to qualify for a private license. Similar credits will be given for completed ground school work and for aviation mechanics. Licensed aviation mechanics and experienced flight instructors are available.

Flying training has been offered at the college field since 1939. More than 1,800 students, most of them of the military service, have been instructed. In the more than 35,000 flights, involving more than 20,000 flight hours, no injury was suffered by a student.

It is emphasized that flying weather and terrain in the Panhandle are favorable for rapid progress in aviation training.

TWO VETERANS ARE BACK SINCLAIR H-C and SINCLAIR ETHYL GASOLINE BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE

Sinclair H-C and Sinclair Ethyl Gasolines are back from the wars ... better than ever before.

BETTER because of improved refining processes developed in producing 100-octane gasoline for warplanes.

BETTER because Sinclair is now able to put into Sinclair Gasolines certain important components heretofore used exclusively for fighting gasolines.

As a result, the new, higher-octane Sinclair Gasolines will give you better mileage, speedier take-offs and less ping or knock in your motor.

SO drive in for Sinclair H-C or Sinclair Ethyl Gasoline today and notice how much better your car performs.

Hawaiian Islands
3 September 1945

Dear Van,
It's been a long time since I've written and given a report on myself—so I'll say, I'm sorry and I'll try not to be so long next time. Things have been going nicely here on Molokai. My job is easy although there is a great responsibility attached to it.

Since I've been in the Hawaiian group I've been assigned to Wheeler Field and I still receive my orders from there. I've been here on Molokai since May 15 and when I was first assigned here my job was that of Adjutant, Operations O., Supply O., Mess O., Base Censor, Special Services O., Library O., Orientation O., Information and Education O., and various other assigned duties not mentioned.

We have in the neighborhood of 150-200 men on the field (Homestead Field) of which approximately half are navy. The primary mission of this field was navy rocket training. There are nine navy officers on the field and five army officers including the island commander, medical officer and the three base officers.

On Aug. 7, I received my promotion to first lieutenant and on Aug. 29, I was appointed commanding officer of Homestead Field. My duties are varied with mostly just the responsibility attached. I have the job of co-ordinating the army and navy operations on the field and am responsible only to the commanding general 6th Air Force Area Command. I have two officers under me—a 1st Lt. and a 2nd Lt.—and about 100 enlisted men who comprise the air force personnel of the field.

I have a 1st Sgt. who knows his job, so about all I ever have to do is sign my name to papers after they are prepared. All the section heads are capable men, mostly staff sergeants and I just leave them alone and let them run their section. They know what is expected of them and they do their job, so there is very little to do among the departments other than making a check every other week or so to see that things are being run properly. As an air base commander I have a great many reports to make regarding the various activities on the field. A great many of them are negative reports, however, and we're generally through with our monthly reports by the 3rd or 4th of the month.

The morale here on the island is very high. I give the boys passes any time they off duty and I let them have transportation to go into town every evening. We send two trucks in each night and they come back to the field at 1030. In town (Kaunakakai) (remember the song, "The Cockeyed Mayor of Kaunakakai") they have a USO where there is a dance every Saturday night and bowling alleys, pool tables, tennis courts, softball diamond, gymnasium, and a canteen where meals are served on a non-profit basis. There is swimming at three different beaches and off the dock in Kaunakakai. There is a golf course about five miles from the field and we have golfing expeditions almost daily (the clubs are furnished by the USO).

Wild goat is very plentiful on the island, as well as Hindu deer—a spotted variety imported from India and presented to King Kanehameha V by an Indian prince in the 1880's. There are also pheasant, quail and dove to hunt, so you can see we never have any shortage of game meat in our mess hall. If you prefer to fish rather than hunt there is water all around the island (who am I kidding?). It is really a sportsman's paradise, and also for the enlisted men. We have no formations, no physical training, no drill, no reveille, nothing at all to remind the men that they are in the army except their jobs, barracks and GI chow, and the GI chow is very good here, too. The mess sergeant is strictly on the ball and we have fresh vegetables every day. Ice cream is flown over from Wheeler Field twice weekly and we have an excellent baker who keeps us well stocked with pies, cakes and puddings. All I require of my enlisted men is that they be on the job at 8:00 every morning and stay on it until 4:30 every afternoon, the rest of their time is their own. I guess that's about as much as I can safely let you print about Homestead Field, Molokai, T. H., even if censorship has been lifted, so now I'll give you the latest dope on my airline.

The record was closed in the Texas-Oklahoma case on May 9, and the examiners' report will be out probably in October or November. After the report is presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board the board will grant such routes to such applicants as they deem best suited to fill the requirements under the Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity to be issued.

I have high hopes that my application will be one of those recommended by the examiner. At any rate, I plan to stay in aviation after the war, or that is after I get out of the army. I have been given a wonderful opportunity while in the army to learn all phases of operation and administration of an airfield and I intend to make the most of this opportunity which has been given me.

I guess you are tired of this loneliness so I'll close and let you have a breathing spell. Best regards to all my friends in Perryton. I hope I'll be with you soon, but I can't expect it for at least four months and probably not before April or May of next year.

Best wishes to all.
Wayne B. Lee
1st Lt. AC

Philippine Islands
August 26, 1945

Dear Van,

You no doubt wonder why I haven't written and thanked you for those pictures of the ship. Well, I'll try to think up enough excuses to clear myself. The fact is that I have been on the move again. That is the reason it has been so long since I wrote last. The pictures and Carmen's letter were awaiting me when I got here. Then of course I had to catch up on my writing to Dorothy (whenever I could snatch a few minutes) and consequently just got around to writing you and several others today.

Get the August 16th issue of the Herald today. Boy that big banner looks good even now! I didn't do much celebrating when the news came that the Japs wanted to surrender, in fact was aboard ship and didn't have room to celebrate. Ha. It is hard yet to realize that it is done. There is little difference in our routine, except that we are subject to more restrictions, more military discipline—more GI "crap" we say—and so forth, than we ever have had since coming overseas.

I am truly thankful that the people and towns such as Perryton and its citizens who saw in the end of hostilities a cause for sober thought and humble thanks to God for deliverance from such a horrible waste of human lives and such untold suffering of so many, instead of cause for riotous celebrating.

No one can be more thankful than I, that it is over and I do feel like celebrating, but I can't help remembering those thousands who gave their lives and those thousands who will carry the marks of war the rest of their lives. Then I don't feel so much like celebrating—just like being humbly thankful that so far I and my loved ones have come through this with no more suffering than we have.

Saw Gabby's letter in this issue of the Herald. Van, I certainly agree with him about the ship and the deal you are giving all of us. I only wish it were possible for me to express my gratitude to you and Jesse. Your community certainly should appreciate having such a swell paper and firm in their midst—and not forgetting the heads of the firm either.

Gee, those pictures were swell. And does that place look snazzy. I've shown them to several fellows, including two ex-printers, and they all marveled at such a plant in a town the size of Perryton. Boy, I can hardly wait to get back in it either. Wish Uncle Sam could see your point about how badly you need help, and let me go help you. Ha.

The plant arrangement looks awfully good too. What disposition was made of the basement? I don't believe your plan showed that. Remember the dark room we wanted in it? Just wonder if the damn thing has been flooded again. Ha. I won't forget that experience for a long time, you can be sure.

Maybe the remark I made above needs clarifying a little. It seems my chance of getting out very soon are getting slimmer and slimmer. You would think that a unit like mine with as much time as we've had in actual combat zones and lived as long under combat conditions would get some consideration about getting back to the states, but it looks now as though that will not be the case. And if I have to wait on points, I'll probably have a long gray beard by the time I get out! The more they meddle with the point system, age, redeployment, etc., the slimmer my chances look. In other words, you may be short this hand for some time to come.

Guess Bat will be back by the time you get this, and that will help you a lot. He certainly put in his time all right. Gabby has a lot of time in, too. Expect he will beat me out, and probably Gerald.

Tell Carmen I will try to answer her letter soon—but won't promise how soon! How is she doing as a reporter? OK, I'll bet. School days will be starting for her again soon though, won't they?

I've been trying to write, hand cut parts and keep cool at the same time, so this may be a little muddled. Maybe you can make it out, however.

Oh, yes, I got a letter from Myrtle the other day. And a snapshot too. Guess she will get out before so awful long too. She didn't seem to have intentions of getting out when she wrote, but that was before the commencing of the end. Maybe she'll want to now.

Ed's letter sounded like he was doing all right in the navy. I expect he will like it all right. But it still seems to me that men with responsibilities like his and of his age could be left alone.

I was pretty well strung out before chow but now I can't seem to think of much.

Got a letter from Dorothy today. She had just returned from Perryton, but didn't say what all she had done. However, she had sent a letter from there which I haven't received yet, so will probably get the lowdown soon.

Well, I guess I'd better sign off. Hope it won't be too long before I can see you and tell you just how swell I think you have been for the gang, and what a good job you've all done on the paper under such handicaps for the past couple of years. Regards to all the gang.

As ever, Jake

Sept. 8, 1945

Dear Folks,

Transferred bag and baggage to Terminal Island. Spent 48 hours there, 36 of that was in Los Angeles with Frank's folks. The next morning was told I would leave that afternoon for another ship. Climbed aboard a truck at 2:30. Left for here at 5. Guess what on? The commanding officer requested that I be reassigned to this ship as we were going overseas and he needed a material man. The only man that knew the gear was transferred to the radio tech school. So I now have sound radio and radar. Three logs, three daily checklists of daily routines, three men to take care of each part, while I twiddle my thumbs and look wise. Nice job until something goes wrong and then I'll be up-creek and no paddle. I don't know one thing about radio. Eight different pieces of radio along, four in radar. Nice work if you know what you are doing and I darn sure don't.

Can't seem to find the silver lining in this dark cloud they call the point system. Hearsay goes we are to get 1-3 of a point for overseas duty. If so, will be home post haste. If not, 12 months to reach the all high of 44, and they do mean 44. One fellow shoved off for China with 42½ points. They either cut the top off or give up 1-3 per month for sea duty, or little boy Ray is here for some time to come.

Hello, John, how does it feel to have Texas farm land under your feet again? Do you have a cool piece of fried chicken in the 1-3 box? If so, go right on and eat for me. Only you know what I mean by fresh chicken.

My buddy here says, give him hell, for by now he is a poor civilian and don't know where his next meal is coming from. Have you been reclassified as 4P as yet? Get on the band wagon, join the navy and see the world. (Through a porthole). And I say, so this is Pearl Harbor. Land of soft moonlight, music, beautiful dancing girls and liberty is up at 6:30 at the main. The town is 12 miles away, the beach here isn't. Every possible space is filled with floating wash tubs called ships. The wind blows in the opposite direction, so that there isn't ever a remote chance of hearing one note of that music. And it's a sure cinch that it has to be dark before most of the beautiful dancing girls are beautiful.

Can say one thing, the days are slow and lazy, just enough movement to keep one from going sound asleep. Warm in the day and cool at night for good sleeping.

Seems as though I remember that Greg is here some where. Shop 210, Ford Island. If not, please send other address. Will try to find him if possible.

From now on would be pleased to have you know we are to be known as the Pearl Harbor fruit and vegetable express. We are the milk men sort of. From one island to another collecting, then return to the base with the spoils.

The milk man has to rise mighty early so had better catch a beauty sleep before time to start.

As ever,
Ray Houston, SOM 2/c.

Movie Director Robert Siodmak likes to work on dark, cramped sets where the players are close together. He believes this creates intimacy between characters and audience.

Siodmak is said to have outdone himself for a scene in Universal's "Uncle Harry," showing at the Ellis Theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 4-5. It was a corner of a small bedroom where George Sanders and Geraldine Fitzgerald find the corpse of their sister.

Once camera and sound equipment were brought in, the set walls were closed, and workers had to get in by climbing a ladder. When the scene was being shot, there was only room for players, camera crew and sound man. Siodmak watched from a-top the wall.

The take over, Siodmak sat down wearily in a chair.

"Tired?" asked Sanders. "Yes,"

Soldiers' Letters

Neustadt-Altsch
29 August 1943

Dear Van and Jessie:

I have just returned from what is known in literary circles, I believe, as "A most exasperating experience." You see, in addition to several other little duties, I have charge of our motor pool. This motor pool has some six drivers, German civilian drivers, and it is my job to hire the new ones, fire the no-good ones, and generally check the transportation. A few days ago, I canned a Kraut for driving a car home to dinner, and have been looking for a replacement. So this morning a man came in and stated that he was a driver, an excellent driver, an A-1 man, knew driving from all angles, in other words, a key-man. So I arranged to try him out this afternoon. I selected an automobile, seated myself, and with an airy wave of the hand, told the man to drive on.

We started out the driveway, cut sharply to the right, and took off down the street, bobbing, careening and exhibiting a change of pace that would have made old Ben Grange look pretty silly on a football field. We passed the first two MPs before I could force my vocal cords into action, but brother, when I did start yelling, I scared the old boy so much that he slammed on the brakes, throwing me abruptly into the windshield. I explained that we were not attempting to set any speed records this particular afternoon, but that when I decided to try him out, I'd let him know. He answered with a resounding, "Yah Vohl!" and we started on out of town.

After we left the city limits, the driver did all right, with one or two minor deficiencies. Aw, these minor things are so trivial that I hardly feel like mentioning them, but to make the record clear, I will state that outside of passing on a curve, keeping on the wrong side of the road when rounding a blind corner, and persistently driving in the exact center of the road, he did all right.

What I really objected to was the incident that occurred when we were about five miles from town. We were coming down a slight grade, and at the bottom was a wagon load of hay. Approaching us was a 2½-ton army truck, and it the director replied, "I had to walk up four stories to my attorney's office this noon."

"Wasn't the elevator running?" said Sanders.

"Yes, but I don't ride elevators. You see, I've got claustrophobia."

"Uncle Harry," adapted for the screen from the famous Broadway play, was produced by Joan Harrison. The widely-discussed picture is presented by Charles K. Feldman.

looked as if we'd both arrive at the same time at the hay wagon. Sure enough, as we approached the wagon, the truck came on. But that didn't perturb my driver; he nonchalantly tooted his horn, swung left and started around the wagon. Now, the GI driver didn't give any ground, and probably was chuckling with fiendish glee at the thought of being able to smash into a German civilian car, and I became excited. I became so excited that I grabbed the wheel, turning the car to the left, across the ditch, and we stopped in a field, having just time to notice that the truck roar by the wagon. I put the driver out, took the wheel, made him push to get the car out of the field back on to the road, then bid him adieu as I shifted gears on my way back to town. If he ever comes around again, I'll give him a job-breaking rocks down at the jail. It is against the rules for U.S. Army personnel to drive civilian vehicles, and is also against the rules for officers to drive any vehicles, so we must trust our lives to the Krauts. We don't have enough enlisted men to waste at drivers. But maybe we can work something out.

We are having a lot of excitement tonight. Two of our enlisted men have received orders to hit for home. We're having a big blowout and party tonight, with FREE beer! One of our officers is quivering with anticipation, hoping that he, too, will hit the jackpot. You see, he is a Florida politician, and hopes to get home in time to cultivate the dear old constituents ere election time. Personally, I think he's just skidding his wheels, and had better make more long range plans.

I got two copies of the Herald today—the 16th and 23rd—so you can see that I'm going all right on the mail. I'm saving the meaty reading for after supper, having awakened my interest by a quick scanning. I'll write again soon.

Yours, Harold.

Lighting Tips

For the Longer Evenings Ahead

Keep bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes clean. You'd be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your portable lamps and fixtures. Just by washing bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes you can get up to 30% more useable light. Disconnect portable lamps before washing and be sure bulbs and bowls are dry before reconnecting.

Brush or clean lamp shades regularly. If lamp shades are dirty or turning yellow inside, you may be losing as much as 50% of the light you're paying for. Clean or brush lamp shades regularly. If they are too dark or discolored, relink them or replace them with fresh shades with white or very light linings.

Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs. Bulbs that have turned black with age rob you of light. Replace them with bright, new bulbs of right size and you'll get a lot more light at little or no increase in cost. Fill empty sockets, too. They're eyestrain breeders!

Hawaiian Islands
3 September 1945

Dear Van,

It's been a long time since I've written and given a report on myself—so I'll say, I'm sorry and I'll try not to be so long next time. Things have been going nicely here on Molokai. My job is easy although there is a great responsibility attached to it.

Since I've been in the Hawaiian group I've been assigned to Wheeler Field and I still receive my orders from there. I've been here on Molokai since May 15 and when I was first assigned here my job was that of Adjutant, Operations O, Supply O, Mess O, Base Censor, Special Services O, Library O, Orientation O, Information and Education O, and various other assigned duties not mentioned.

We have in the neighborhood of 150-200 men on the field (Hemstead Field) of which approximately half are navy. The primary mission of this field was navy rocket training. There are nine navy officers on the field and five army officers including the island commander, medical officer and the three base officers.

On Aug. 7, I received my promotion to first lieutenant and on Aug. 29, I was appointed commanding officer of Hemstead Field. My duties are varied with mostly just the responsibility attached. I have the job of co-ordinating the army and navy operations on the field and am responsible only to the commanding general 6th Air Service Area Command. I have two officers under me—a 1st Lt. and a 2nd Lt.—and about 100 enlisted men who comprise the air force personnel of the field.

I have a 1st Sgt. who knows his job, so about all I ever have to do is sign my name to papers after they are prepared. All the section heads are capable men, mostly staff sergeants and I just leave them alone and let them run their section. They know what is expected of them and they do their job, so there is very little to do among the departments other than making a check every other week or so to see that things are being run properly. As an air base commander I have a great many reports to make regarding the various activities on the field. A great many of them are negative reports, however, and we're generally through with our monthly reports by the 3rd or 4th of the month.

very high. I give the boys passes any time they off duty and I let them have transportation to go into town every evening. We send two trucks in each night and they come back to the field at 1030. In town (Kaunakakai) (remember the song "The Cockeyed Mayor of Kaunakakai") they have a USO where there is a dance every Saturday night and bowling alleys, pool tables, tennis courts, softball diamond, gymnasium, and a canteen where meals are served on a non-profit basis. There is swimming at three different beaches and off the dock in Kaunakakai. There is a golf course about five miles from the field and we have golfing expeditions almost daily (the clubs are furnished by the USO).

Wild goat is very plentiful on the island, as well as Hindu deer—a spotted variety imported from India and presented to King Kamehameha V by an Indian prince in the 1880's. There are also pheasant, quail and dove to hunt, so you can see we never have any shortage of game meat in our mess hall. If you prefer to fish rather than hunt there is water all around the island (who am I kidding?). It is really a sportsman's paradise, and also for the enlisted men. We have no formations, no physical training, no drill, no reveille, nothing at all to remind the men that they are in the army except their jobs, barracks and GI chow, and the GI chow is very good here, too. The mess sergeant is strictly on the ball and we have fresh vegetables every day. Ice cream is flown over from Wheeler Field twice weekly and we have an excellent baker who keeps us well stocked with pies, cakes and puddings. All I require of my enlisted men is that they be on the job at 8:00 every morning and stay on it until 4:30 every afternoon, the rest of their time is their own.

I guess that's about as much as I can safely let you print about Hemstead Field. Molokai, T. H., even if censorship has been lifted, so now I'll give you the latest dope on my airline.

The record was closed in the Texas-Oklahoma case on May 9, and the examiners' report will be out probably in October or November. After the report is presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board the board will grant such routes to such applicants as they deem best suited to fill the requirements under the Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity to be issued.

I have high hopes that my application will be one of those recommended by the examiner. At any rate, I plan to stay in aviation after the war, or that is after I get out of the army. I have been given a wonderful opportunity while in the army to learn all phases of operation and administration of an airfield and I intend to make the most of this opportunity which has been given me.

I guess you are tired of this loneliness so I'll close and let you have a breathing spell. Best regards to all my friends in Perryton. I hope I'll be with you soon, but I can't expect it for at least four months and probably not before April or May of next year.

Best wishes to all,
Wayne B. Lee

Dear Van,

You no doubt wonder why I haven't written and thanked you for those pictures of the ship. Well, I'll try to think up enough excuses to clear myself. The fact is that I have been on the move again. That is the reason it has been so long since I wrote last. The pictures and Carmen's letter were awaiting me when I got here. Then of course I had to catch up on my writing to Dorothy (whenever I could snatch a few minutes) and consequently just got around to writing you and several others today.

Got the August 16th issue of the Herald today. Boy that big banner looks good even now! I didn't do much celebrating when the news came that the Japs wanted to surrender. In fact was aboard ship and didn't have room to celebrate. Ha. It is hard yet to realize that it is done. There is little difference in our routine, except that we are subject to more restrictions, more military discipline—more GI "crap," we say—and so forth, than we ever have had since coming overseas.

I am truly thankful that there are people and towns such as Perryton and its citizens who saw in the end of hostilities a cause for sober thought and humble thanks to God for deliverance from such a horrible waste of human lives and such untold suffering of so many, instead of cause for riotous celebrating.

No one can be more thankful than I, that it is over and I do feel like celebrating. But I can't help remembering those thousands who gave their lives and those thousands who will carry the marks of war the rest of their lives. Then I don't feel so much like celebrating—just like being humbly thankful that so far I and my loved ones have come through this with no more suffering than we have.

Saw Gabby's letter in this issue of the Herald. Van, I certainly agree with him about the ship and the deal you are giving all of us. I only wish it were possible for me to express my gratitude to you and Jessie. Your community certainly should appreciate having such a swell paper and firm in their midst—and not forgetting the heads of the firm either.

Gee, those pictures were swell. And does that place look snazzy. I've shown them to several fellows, including two ex-printers, and they all marveled at such a plant in a town the size of Perryton. Boy, I can hardly wait to get back in it either. Wish Uncle Sam could see your point about how badly you need help, and let me go help you. Ha.

The plant arrangement looks awfully good too. What disposition was made of the basement? I don't believe your plan showed that. Remember the dark room we wanted in it? Just wonder if the damn thing has been flooded again. Ha. I won't forget that experience for a long time, you can be sure.

Maybe the remark I made above needs clarifying a little. It seems my chance of getting out very soon are getting slimmer and slimmer. You would think that a unit like mine with as much time as we've had in actual combat zones and lived as long under combat conditions would get some consideration about getting back to the states, but it looks now as though that will not be the case. And if I have to wait on points, I'll probably have a long gray beard by the time I get out! The more they meddle with the point system, age, redeployment, etc., the slimmer my chances look. In other words, you may be short this hand for some time to come.

Guess Bat will be back by the time you get this, and that will help you a lot. He certainly put in his time all right. Gabby has a lot of time in, too. Expect he will beat me out, and probably Gerald.

Tell Carmen I will try to answer her letter soon—but won't promise how soon! How is she doing as a reporter? OK, I'll bet. School days will be starting for her again soon though, won't they?

I've been trying to write, hand out parts and keep cool at the same time, so this may be a little muddled. Maybe you can make it out, however.

Oh, yes, I got a letter from Myrtle the other day. And a snapshot too. Guess she will get out before so awful long too. She didn't seem to have intentions of getting out when she wrote, but that was before the commencing of the end. Maybe she'll want to now.

Ed's letter sounded like he was doing all right in the navy. I expect he will like it all right. But it still seems to me that men with responsibilities like his and of his age could be left alone.

I was pretty well strung out before chow but now I can't seem to think of much.

Got a letter from Dorothy today. She had just returned from Perryton, but didn't say what all she had done. However, she had sent a letter from there which I haven't received yet, so will probably get the lowdown soon.

Well, I guess I'd better sign off. Hope it won't be too long before I can see you and tell you just how swell I think you have been for the gang, and what a good job you've all done on the paper under such handicaps for the past couple of years. Regards to all the gang.

As ever, Jake

Dear Polks,

Transferred bag and baggage to Terminal Island. Spent 48 hours there, 36 of that was in Los Angeles with Frank's folks. The next morning was told I would leave that afternoon for another ship. Climbed aboard a truck at 2:30. Left for here at 5. Guess what? The commanding officer requested that I be reassigned to this ship as we were going overseas and I needed a material man. The only man that knew the gear was transferred to the radio tech school. So I now have sound radio and radar. Three logs, three daily checklists of daily routines, three men to take care of each part, while I twiddle my thumbs and look wise. Nice job until something goes wrong and then I'll be up-creek and no paddle. I don't know one thing about radio. Eight different pieces of radio along, four in radar. Nice work if you know what you are doing and I darn sure don't.

Can't seem to find the silver lining in this dark cloud they call the point system. Hearsay goes we are to get 1-3 of a point for overseas duty. If so, will be home post haste. If not, 12 months to reach the all high of 44, and they do mean 44. One fellow shoved off for China with 42 1/2 points. They either cut the top off or give up 1-3 per month for sea duty, or little boy Ray is here for some time to come.

Hello, John, how does it feel to have Texas farm land under your feet again? Do you have a cool piece of fried chicken in the box? If so, go right on and eat 'em. Only you know what I mean by fresh chicken.

My buddy here says, give him hell, for by now he is a poor devil and don't know where his next meal is coming from. Have you been reclassified as 4F as yet? Get on the band wagon, join the navy and see the world. (Through a porthole). And I say, so this is Pearl Harbor. Land of soft moonlight, music, beautiful dancing girls and liberty is up at 6:30 at the main. The town is 12 miles away, the beach here isn't. Every possible space is filled with floating wash tubs called ships. The wind blows in the opposite direction, so that there isn't ever a remote chance of hearing one note of that music. And it's a sure cinch that it has to be dark before most of the beautiful dancing girls are beautiful.

Can say one thing, the days are slow and lazy, just enough movement to keep one from going sound asleep. Warm in the day and cool at night for good sleeping.

Seems as though I remember that Gregg is here some where. Shop 210, Ford Island. If not, please send other address. Will try to find him, if possible.

From now on would be pleased to have you know we are to be known as the Pearl Harbor fruit and vegetable express. We are the milk men sort of. From one island to another collecting, then return to the base with the spoils.

The milk man has to rise mighty early so had better catch a beauty

Movie Director Robert Siodmak likes to work on dark, cramped sets where the players are close together. He believes this creates intimacy between characters and audience.

Siodmak is said to have outdone himself for a scene in Universal's "Torch Song" showing at the Ellis Theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 4-5. It was a corner of a small bedroom where George Sanders and Geraldine Fitzgerald find the corpse of their sister.

Once camera and sound equipment were brought in, the set walls were closed, and workers had to get in by climbing a ladder. When the scene was being shot, there was only room for players, camera crew and sound man. Siodmak watched from a-top the wall.

The take over, Siodmak sat down wearily in a chair.

"Tired?" asked Sanders. "Yes,"

Dear Van and Jesse:

I have just returned from what is known in literary circles, I believe, as "A most excruciating experience." You see, in addition to several other little duties, I have charge of our motor pool. This motor pool has some six drivers, German civilian drivers, and it is my job to hire the new ones, fire the no-good ones, and generally check the transportation. A few days ago, I cussed a Kraut for driving a car home to dinner, and have been looking for a replacement. We started out the driveway, cut sharply to the right, and took off down the street, bobbing, careening and exhibiting a change of pace that would have made old Ben Grange look pretty silly on a foot ball field. We passed the first two MPs before I could force my vocal cords into action, but brother, when I did start yelling, I scared the old boy so much that he slammed on the brakes, throwing the abruptly into the windshield. I explained that we were not attempting to set any speed records this particular afternoon, but that when I decided to try him out, I'd let him know. looked as if we'd both arrive at the same time at the hay wagon. Sure enough, as we approached the wagon, the truck came on. Now, the GI driver didn't give any ground, and probably was chuckling with fiendish glee at the thought of being able to smash into a German civilian car, and I became excited. I grabbed the wheel, turning the car to the left, across the ditch, and we stopped in a field, having just time to notice the truck roar by the wagon. I put the driver out, took the wheel, made him push 'o get the car out of the field back on to the road, then bid him adieu as I shifted gears on my way back to town. If he ever comes around again, I'll give him a job-breaking rocks down at the jail. It is against the rules for U.S. Army personnel to drive civilian vehicles, and is also against the rules for officers to drive any vehicles, so we must trust our lives to the Krauts. We don't have enough enlisted men to waste as drivers. But maybe we can work something out.

We are having a lot of excitement tonight. Two of our enlisted men have received orders to hit for home. We're having a big blowout and party tonight, with FREE beer! One of our officers is squawking with anticipation, hoping that he, too, will hit the jackpot. You see, he is a Florida politician, and hopes to get home in time to cultivate the dear old constituents' election time. Personally, I think he's just skidding his wheels, and had better make more long range plans.

I got two copies of the Herald today—the 19th and 23rd—so you can see that I'm doing all right on the mail. I'm saving the meaty reading for after supper, having awakened my interest by a quick scanning. I'll write again soon.

Yours, Harold.

Lighting Tips

For the Longer Evenings Ahead

Keep bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes clean. You'd be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your portable lamps and fixtures. Just by washing bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes you can get up to 30% more useable light. Disconnect portable lamps before washing and be sure bulbs and bowls are dry before reconnecting.

Brush or clean lamp shades regularly. If lamp shades are dirty or turning yellow inside, you may be losing as much as 50% of the light you're paying for. Clean or brush lamp shades regularly. If they are too dark or discolored, relene them or replace them with fresh shades with white or very light linings.

Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs. Bulbs that have turned black with age rob you of light. Replace them with bright, new bulbs of right size and you'll get a lot more light at little or no increase in cost. Fill empty sockets, too. They're eyestrain breeders!

Soldier Letters

Yokohama, Japan
 7 September 1945

Today I have a little time on hand and will write you again and let you know everything is okay. I don't believe there is any mail leaving the island yet so you may get several of my letters at the same time. It seems like months since I have received any mail and am looking forward to the time when it all catches up with me.

Things are still in a sort of mess-up fashion, but should soon begin to quiet down. We have been working pretty hard on our sleeping and living quarters. And now that we are about through, some big shot may come by and decide it's just the place for his company. Then he pulls his rank on us and the next thing is to find other quarters. Thus you have a game known as "The Old Army Game." That's one of the few things you learn to endure while you are in uniform.

I got to run around a little today and looked everything over pretty good but when I got back there seemed like something was missing. After awhile I realized what it was. There are no churches and schools. In the Philippines, the largest and nicest building in town was usually a church and they had schools in every village. But not here. The children are taught their father's vocation and thus follow him throughout life. They have some nice big horses and they are very well kept. A good horse is worth more than a man's wife. Also a cow is a prized possession of any Japanese.

You see no Japs playing and very few smiling. You never see Jap children gathered on a street corner playing marbles or hide-and-go-seek. In fact, you very seldom hear them. All Japs are quiet. How they keep the kids so quiet is beyond me.

As for clothing, the men all have army clothing and I guess have very little besides it. I have always heard so much about the Japanese silk but there is none to be seen anywhere now. Maybe they have some somewhere, but it's sure kept out of sight.

I also thought all Japs had slant-eyes but that is not true. Lots of Jap women have nice eyes and are far from the small narrow eyes of so many men. However, they, of course, wear very queer clothes, mostly slacks and not the neat well-fit slacks of the American type. They are very full and sloppy looking and usually gathered tight at the ankles.

As for hats, the women have so much hair that hats are out of the question. They usually stick in a few flowers or a comb or two. The men all keep their hair clipped very close and wear anything they can find on their heads. Sometimes rags, that are finally tied under their chins. However, most of them have a small pointed-topped army cap.

We also see a lot of Russians, Australians, English and French soldiers. The British have the funniest looking uniforms—short pants and white knee socks. I can just see myself in a get-up like that with these bow-legs of mine.

The weather here has been very nice so far—cool and cloudy, and the nights very nice. However, they raise huge mosquitoes here and they are really hungry for American meat. Also fleas are plentiful and spend most of their nights eating on some sleeping soldier. We are very close to the beach, so I guess they are sand fleas.

Our food has been pretty good and I have been eating like a horse. I suppose the change in climate has caused it. Anyway, I hope I gain a little weight back. I can sure use it.

In your last letter you asked me what I wanted for Christmas and I can think of nothing I need. We are getting about everything we have to have from the army. I guess you can save your money this year. I know you would like to get me something but maybe this year we will have to let it go. It will be impossible for me to get even a Christmas card.

Well, I have raved on and on but have about run down for this time. Write often, and until the next time. Lots of love,

Dearest Mom and Dad:

I'll bet you think that your son has forgotten that he has a Mother and Dad but really I haven't. Have just been too busy to write you. We arrived here at Yokohama on the 2nd after we had just completed a nice long boat ride. I say nice—but really it was far from nice.

We left Batangas Bay, P. I., and were only out a few days when we hit a storm and things really got rough. My stomach moved up in my throat and everything that I ate bounced right back. Man! Things were really rough there for awhile and I thought for sure I could never live through it and I wasn't sure I wanted to. It finally got so bad that we had to pull into dock on the northern tip of Luzon and waited for 36 hours. The peace had been postponed 48 hours and that would put us there too early. During that 36 hours I managed to get a little food to stay down and when we did pull out again the storm was over and the water was pretty nice but it still didn't agree with me very well.

We pulled into Tokyo Bay about 0600 on the 2nd of September and since it is very large it was around 1130 before any troops were sent ashore. As we pulled into the bay we passed the USS Missouri and it looked like a Christmas tree with white uniforms all over it, and it was buzzing like a bee hive. The sailors sure did look nice, all robed out in white. All the dock area was isolated and not a living soul could be seen anywhere. I think that our company was about the first company to arrive because there were LEAVES SERVICE — Captain Clifton L. Bell, a native of Gray and veteran of 2½ years overseas, was discharged from the army Sept. 20 at the War Department Personnel Center at Camp Chaffee, Ark. This announcement was made by Col. Benjamin O. Murphy, commanding.

Bell served overseas with the 14th Field Artillery Battalion and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious achievement. He wears the European Theatre of Operations Ribbon with seven bronze stars, the Purple Heart Medal for wounds received in action and the Belgian Fourragere, a unit citation.

Capt. and Mrs. Bell arrived in Perryton Saturday for a visit with relatives before going to Jackson, Miss., to make their home.

no jeeps nor trucks and only a few troops that were still standing around with their equipment trying to find a place to sleep and cook something to eat.

We lived out of "C" rations for several days but now have gotten the kitchen set up and going pretty good. "C" rations aren't so bad, especially when there isn't anything to eat.

The Japs that I have met have been very kind and polite to us but, of course, they have to be. We are not allowed to talk to them only on business and we are not supposed to speak to them or even nod to them. This place is pretty torn up but not nearly as bad as I had expected. I don't know where we are going to be set up for good. I have never seen one in a dress, but it will be some where here at Yokohama.
