

CONGRATULATIONS -- W.B. Dickenson Sr. was presented gold lettered mugs as an award for having lived in Lamb County the longest. Bub Holt was named as president of Lamb County Pioneers for the next year.

Longest Resident

W.B. Dickenson Wins Award

W.B. Dickenson Sr., has again been named award winner. At the 28th annual Lamb County Pioneer Reunion held Tuesday in Littlefield, Dickenson was hailed as the person with the longest continuous residency in Lamb County.

Born within the County Aug. 31, 1904, and having lived here all of his life, the Olton pioneer has little chance of contest when awards are passed out. He has, however, stepped aside several times and allowed the next in line to claim the honor. Tuesday he was presented two gold cups inscribed "Lamb County Pioneers 1977". These he will add to other trophies received on earlier dates, for this longest term of life in Lamb County.

Some 290 residents and former residents registered for the event held in Lamb County Agricultural Center, Littlefield. Former residents from Connecticut, Washington and New Jersey, joined Texans from over the state as they were welcomed by area residents.

Directing the program of the day was Joe Bitner, standing in for D.W. Bawcom, president, whose wife was killed in a recent automobile accident. Flags were presented by members of Boy Scout Troop No. 600, Littlefield.

The registry shows 18 who first came to the county at least 60 years ago; 135 who first came at least 50 years ago; 55 who arrived in the county at least 40 years ago; and 48 who first made Lamb County home at least 35 years ago.

Ray Smith of Littlefield extended welcome to all guests. Invocation was pronounced by Floyd Rowell of Amherst.

Judge Pat Boone Jr. directed a short memorial service "remembering those who are no longer here, but recognizing their influence.

Special music was furnished throughout the afternoon by a group playing guitars, violins and piano. The Dunn brothers, and a sister, Mrs. Coy Dunn Ivy of Dimmitt, presented vocal selections. Others furnishing entertainment were Weldon Findley, Littlefield; Dan Atkins, Sudan; and Mrs. Frances Frazier, Dimmitt. Mrs. Grace Findley, Littlefield, was also soloist.

A barbecue dinner was served and cooks recognized were F.E. Yohner, D.M. Holt, Cal Harvey, Joe Bitner, J.W. Bitner and L.B. Elms.

Other award 'mugs' were presented to Mrs. J.W. Emfinger, 89, Littlefield, eldest woman present; and to W. L. Key, 91, of Amherst, eldest man. Also to the woman coming the greatest distance, Mrs. Lela Lee Roberts, Tacoma, Wash. and to the man who traveled greatest distance, Elwood Dow of Connecticut.

Named as new officers for the coming year were D.M.(Bub) Holt, Olton, president; H.A. Carter, Littlefield, vice-president; Mrs. Hollis Smith, Littlefield, secretary; Mrs. F.E. Yohner, Littlefield, treasurer and Mrs. Gladys Terry, Sudan, scrapbook custodian.

The reunion is scheduled to be held again next year at the same location on the fourth Tuesday in August.

Among other Oltonites attending were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Franks, Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Eby and Mmes. Helen Bohner, Linnie Campbell, Pearl Schreier, and D.M. Holt.

New Trash Containers Being Set Up In City

Dumpster trash containers are being set up in city alleys, a major step in helping keep Olton a cleaner, neater place to live and to aid in the city's trash collection work.

Some containers are already in place and residents may begin using the receptacles as soon as they are in place. Some rules have been set forth, however, and must be followed.

Water Superintendent Orian Hackler states that persons must not place rocks, iron, cement, bricks or wire in the trash containers. Tree limbs are also prohibited. Grass clippings and leaves must be placed in trash bags before they are to be put in the Dumpsters.

Dead animals must not be placed in the containers.

Lids should be kept closed except when in use. Misuse will not only cause damage to the containers but might also damage the trash collection truck.

If residents require extra pickups, they may phone the city hall and that service will be provided but extra charge will be levied.

The Dumpsters have been obtained for the benefit of the city. All residents are asked to use these with the same consideration as though they were private property of each individual.

Modification Opposed

Disappointing to both sides in the campaign, was the light turnout of voters on the issue of Weather Modification Saturday which split Lamb County half-and-half precinct-wise. But by total vote, a large majority of the voters were against weather modification - about 70 percent as against 30 percent.

A total of 2,360 voters went to the polls in the 16 county precincts. Favoring the Water Development Board's granting permits for weather modification were 712 voters. Opposing the issuance of permits were 1,648 ballots.

Eight precincts were in favor of the operation, eight were opposed.

Of the nine precincts which are wholly within the target area, only Spade was against the operation. Voting for the operation were Olton, Earth, Pleasant Valley, Fieldton, Hart Camp, Springlake, West Springlake and North Fieldton.

All seven of the election precincts of which any part is located in the operational area were against the operation, they include West Littlefield, Sudan, North Sudan, Amherst, Littlefield, Beck Gin and North Littlefield and Spade.

Ross Lumsden, member of Citizens for Natural Weather who presented the petition calling for the election said, "I think this was a mandate to the Water Development Board to get these people out of here . . . . we want to thank the people for getting out the vote."

The Water Development Board will actually have the last opinion on the matter.

Jerry Kirby, legal representative for Atmospherics Inc., of Littlefield and Plains Weather Improvement Association of Plainview said "the election came out about like I anticipated." He continued "This was little more than a straw vote . . . its kinda a hybrid vote which reflects the general opinion of the public."

Lamb County Commissioners in session Monday morning voted to return the $3,029 election deposit to the Citizens for Natural Weather. The deposit was made to the County Judge when they turned in the petitions asking the commissioners to call the election. If the election had been lost to the Citizens for Natural Weather, the money would have gone to cover the cost of the election.

A review of all counties voting upon this issue shows the following results:

Grid Guessing Game Begins In This Issue

Pigskin prediction time has arrived again. The Olton Enterprise's ever popular football guessing game begins with the contest printed in this edition. Deadline for entering this first week's game is 4 p.m. Friday, Sept. 2. All deadlines, thereafter, are 4 p.m. succeeding Fridays.

Grand prize for the best predictor of the season, which is as long as the Mustangs are in competition, will be $50 cash. Weekly prizes are offered, too, for the three best guesses each week. The contestant with the most correct picks for the season will win the grand prize.

Five dollars will go to the week's best predictor, the contestant who picks the most games correctly. Second and third place contestants will claim $3 and $2, respectively. In the event of ties, the tie-breaker score will determine the winner. If a tie still exists, winnings will be divided equally.

Any one may enter the contest and one does not have to be a "football expert." Frequently the winner is determined by someone's lucky guess. Contestants should keep trying throughout the season for the grand prize even though they trail by several points. In the course of the season, winners often suffer "slumps" and others hit "lucky streaks."

The contest is fun and entire families may compete against themselves, friend may challenge friend and neighbor vie with neighbor.

It's easy to enter. Pick a winner in each of the games listed in the ads of sponsoring merchants on the contest page in this issue. Circle the corresponding number of that term on the entry blank provided. Then predict a score in the tie-breaker game which features the Mustangs and Tulia. That game will also count as a game in the contest. Then fill in the entry blank with name and address and deposit the entry blank with any of the merchants whose ads appear on the contest page.

The contest would not be possible if it were not for the local merchants who provide the sponsorship. In addition to those appearing in this issue, four others alternate as sponsors. Those merchants who make the contest possible are Toro Grain Incorporated, Leon's Grocery, Olton State Bank, Don's Super Market, Thompson Cheverolet, Olton Coop Gin, Wood-Jordan-Davis Incorporated, High Plains Grain, Enterprise Studio, Davis-Pyle Pump Company, Potts Agency, Sluder Insurance and Real Estate, Nixon Western Auto, Ratliff Upholstery, Olton Butane, Thompson Implement and Olton Feedyards Incorporated.

Express you appreciate their making the contest available. Trade with them, they appreciate your business.

TULIA IS FIRST - This unique packet is being sold by the high school cheerleaders. A bumper sticker, supporting the Mustangs, is changeable each week with the name of the opponent being placed on the sticker. They are available from any of the cheerleaders at the price of $1.

Foreign Students Tell Of Home

Visits of three young ambassadors, members of the Lions International Youth Exchange Program, are over and the young people are enroute to their

Mary Anne Vervaeke, 15-year-old miss from Hillsburgh, Ontario Canada, has been a guest in the Wendell Potts home with the exception of a few days in Petersburg.

Houseguests of the Leon Noack family have been Don Edmunds of Mitchell, Ontario, Canada and Masahide "Mike" Koizumi of Osaka, Japan. Another Japanese youth, Morito "Rock" Ishee stayed more than a week in the Noack home before going on to Tulia for the remainder of his Texas visit.

The two young Canadians and two others who visited in Petersburg were the only ones from their country to visit this area although nine or 10 are participating in the Lions Exchange Program.

Mike says that some 20 Japanese youth made the journey to Texas including two girls from the same prefecture (state) in which he lives.

Both Mary Anne and Don live in an agricultural area although neither lives on a farm. Don says corn and wheat are principal crops. Dairy cattle are also raised.

Mary Anne's parents have a hardware store and grocery store, separate shops, with living quarters over the grocery store. She helps out after school and Saturdays and helps about the house a good bit since her mother is kept busy in the stores. She often cooks for the family, having been introduced to home economics in school already.

Canadian schools, she says, offers home ec in grades seven through 13 although no credits are earned until grade nine. Mexican and Polynesian foods were new for Mary Anne and she says she likes both. The Polynesian restaurant was "beautiful," she says.

Don speaks for his dislike for his first taste of Mexican food.

Mary Anne rides a bus to school and says there's very little for teens to do in her home town which has a population of about 1,000. She enjoys television and is absorbed, this summer, in a soap opera which is popular here, "Another World." Many of the popular TV shows of the states are carried by the cable TV which they have in Hillsburgh. "All's Fair" is another of her favorites.

Don's home town is a good bit larger, population some 2,800, although they have no cable TV, he says. He has no favorite show but admits he watches quite a few of the U.S. shows.

Figure skating is his favorite sport. He doesn't skate much in summer although Mitchell has a year-round ice rink. He tries to take advantage of skating schools offered in spring or fall and skates at every opportunity during the winter.

Although his school did have football at one time, it is no longer offered. They do have soccer, basketball, volleyball, badminton, gymnastics and track.

Much like their counterparts to the South, Canadian boys go for "blue jeans, skimpy tops and ricky runners (sport shoes such as our tennis and track shoes)."

Don rides his bike to school and says that although he has just become a licensed operator, his mother says he cannot have a car before he is 18. His father is a garage mechanic.

The trip to Texas was not Don's first visit to the United States. His family, he has an older sister and a younger brother, visited in Florida in 1968.

Mary Anne not only experienced her first airplane ride, it is the first time she has been out of her native Ontario.

Both young Canadians are enthusiastic about their visit to Olton.

"Everybody is so friendly," Mary Anne says. "There's been no one I haven't liked! Really, it's wonderful. Back home, kids sort of group off but here, everyone is friendly."

"I think I'm going to find it hard to leave Olton," Don said early in this final week of his Texas visit. He, just as Mary Anne, expressed hope that they might make a return visit next summer.

Mike has one more year of high school remaining and

Break-Ins Reported Here

Investigation is continuing this week and leads are being checked out in Sunday's early hour break-in of two local businesses.

The sliding window of the Dairy Mart Restaurant was broken for entry into the first target of the thief or thieves. The cigarette and juke box were broken into and the money taken.

White Auto was the second prey and officers believe the intruders may have been scared off before they could escape with even more merchandise than was found missing. An assortment of watches and stereo equipment was stolen.

Hoover Crowder, arriving at Crowder Grocery Store east of Whites, discovered the break-in and called Patrolman Ruben Garcia. Garcia notified Night Patrolman Bill Green who joined him in the investigation shortly after 7 a.m.

Entry was made into Whites through the air conditioning unit atop the building. Escape was by breaking the garage-type door at the back.

Dislike Taxes?

If you like your share of the federal income taxes and how it is spent --

If you think it is fine that the federal government redistributes 28.8% of our national income in the process of spending our tax money --

If you like the idea of taxes held as a club over your head --

If you do, then you will love President Carter's program for solving the nation's long-term energy crisis.

The cost of waging war, even the moral equivalent of war, is staggering. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States and its economists state that the Administration's energy plan requires the largest increase in peacetime taxes in the history of the United States.

The plan calls for massive efforts to reduce U.S. reliance on high-priced, uncertain supplies of foreign oil. To discourage waste and encourage conservation of energy, the plan places large tax increases on industry and utilities that use crude oil and natural gas. In turn these taxes will increase taxes paid by American consumers. The plan also would include provision for higher taxes on gasoline and a special tax on gas-guzzler automobiles.

By 1985 and thereafter, according to the Chamber, these taxes would average $1,320 for a family of four.

According to the Tax Foundation, the average worker now spends two hours and 42 minutes each working day to pay his taxes. He would have to work an additional 45 minutes each day to pay for higher energy taxes, or a total of three hours and 27 minutes of each working day to pay for all taxes.

Moreover, says the Chamber, most of the burden would fall on low and middle-income families.

The Chamber endorses President Carter's conservation goals but says he offers only half an answer to the problem -- conservation. The other half is greater production of energy.

Instead of relying on taxes, the Chamber believes the natural forces of supply and demand in the marketplace can achieve conservation and greater production simultaneously. If prices rise with market demands, the Chamber argues, the public will consume less because energy costs more. Producers will be motivated to explore and increase supplies because it is profitable to do so. The Chamber estimates a 6% yearly rise in prices would serve the two-fold purpose of conservation and production.

"The modest increase in prices would cost about $420 per family of four in the form of revenues for gas and oil producers which would then be used primarily for job-creating investment," the Chamber says.

Whereas the White House plan would cost $1,320, or $900 more a year, slow the economy and raise consumer prices by 2.4%, says the Chamber, the marketplace approach would increase jobs by nearly half a million and hold the rise in consumer prices to 1%.

Congress is debating its own energy program. Your Representative in Congress should know how you feel. Who knows, he may dislike taxes, too.

MRS. BILLY HAROLD JORDAN

Mr. Jordan-Miss Berry Wed In Littlefield Church

Wedding vows were solemnized Aug. 12 in Praise Temple in Littlefield for Miss Lesa Dawn Berry and Billy Harold Jordan.

The double ring ceremony was read by the bride's father, W.H. Berry Jr. and the Rev. Larry Helms of Praise Temple.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Berry of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jordan.

Vows were pledged before an altar decorated with a flaired candletree with huckleberry foliage intermingled with baby's breath and blue candles. Framing the candletree were column arrangements of blue and white gladioli and baby's breath. Votive candles were nestled among English ivy at two levels on the altar. Pews along the bridal aisle were adorned with white satin bows. Sky blue satin bows marked the parents' pew.

As the bride approached the altar, she presented her mother with a long stemmed pink rose. Following the exchange of vows, she presented a long stemmed pink rose to the mother of the bridegroom.

Pre-nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Larry Sanderson and included "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "Be My Love," "Shadow of My Smile," "Somewhere My Love" and "The Bridal Chorus." She also accompanied Mrs. Charles Kimmel who sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Escorted by her brother-in-law, Doyle Reeves, and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of white crepe of her own design and fashioned by her mother. It featured a lace covered bodice with full sleeves caught at the wrists by self-ruffles. A deep ruffled flounce encircled the hemline of the full bouffant skirt which flowed to a chapel length train.

Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was held by a petal shaped headpiece encrusted with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a bouquet of blue and white daisies, pink roses, baby's breath and stephanotis encircling a cymbidium orchid. She carried the bouquet atop a white Bible, a gift from her parents.

Keeping traditions, she carried as "something old," a handkerchief belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. W.H. Berry of Amherst. Her gown was "new" and she "borrowed" the veil headpiece from Mrs. Aaron Williams. She wore the traditional blue garter and carried, in her shoe, pennies coined the the years of her own and the bridegroom's birth.

Mrs. Doyle Reeves was her sister's matron of honor. Shila Reeves, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore floor length dresses of blue crepe-backed satin with blue and white floral design. The dresses were designed and made by the bride's mother and were fashioned with butterfly sleeves and sashes. They wore large picture hats of sheer blue braid adorned with blue silk flowers, white ribbon and baby's breath. They carried multi-colored summer flowers atop white bridal Bibles opened to Psalms 103.

Kayla Reeves, also a niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress identical to the matron of honor and junior bridesmaid. She carried a white basket decorated with blue ribbon and white wedding bells from which she scattered blue and white flower petals.

Best man and junior groomsman were Royce Jordan and Mark Jordan, both of Earth, cousins of the groom. Shawn Streety of Littlefield was ring bearer. He carried a white satin and lace pillow made by Mrs. Aaron Williams.

Guests were seated by Dale Berry of Amherst, cousin of the bride, and Larry Murrell.

Deborah Mason of Plainview, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests at a table laid with a lace cloth belonging to the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. A.F. Wilson. Guests registered in a bride's book which was a gift from the mother of the groom. They were given blue and white rice bags tied with sky blue ribbons.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyl Reeves. The bride's table was laid with a floor length cloth of sky blue with flounce overlay of sky blue net gathered into swags with white flowers, bows and wedding bells.

Names of the bride and groom were on the light blue and white double heart shaped cake. Roses intermingled with white wedding bells, doves and silver wedding rings to decorate the cake. Frosted white punch, nuts and mints were served from crystal and silver appointments.

Decorating the table was a bride doll, a keepsake belonging to the bride, and white candles in a star shaped crystal holders. The bridal bouquet completed the table decor.

Presiding at the table were Deborah Mason, Lavonna Sanderson, Marilyn Kimmel and Linny Sanderson.

For travel, the bride chose a pale blue pantsuit trimmed with white lace and light blue accessories. She added a cymbidium corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple is at home in Olton.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Littlefield High School and attended South Plains College. She will continue her studies at Wayland Baptist College.

Jordan graduated from Plainview High School in 1976. He is employed by Olton Auto Supply.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Sagebrush Inn in Littlefield Thursday evening.

Painting Is More Than Hobby

Painting is one of Lorenda Couch's favorite pastimes and her work clearly proves it comes from a natural talent although she has had one year of lessons. She has been painting four years.

Fitting in with her artistic talent and interests, Lorenda plans to major in interior decorating with as many art courses as possible. She has enrolled in Texas Tech Univesity, moving into a dorm this week and a brand new milestone of life.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Couch, the new college freshman graduated as valedictorian of the OHS Class of '77. She was a member of National Honor Society, the Student Council and Future Homemakers. She was selected as Most Likely to Succeed and Most Dependable during her senior year.

She has an older sister, Doretta, who lives in Floydada. A younger sister, Kaylene, is a fourth grader. With her family she has been active in her church, Main Street Church of Christ, and has worked with five and six-year-olds on Wednesday evenings.

Lorenda also likes to ride motorcycles and, in quieter times, loves to read. She likes basketball and participated four years in high school, earning a letter her senior year.

Basil Sherman Visits Sam Rayburn Memorials

Basil Sherman recently visited The Sam Rayburn Library and Sam Rayburn Home in Bonham.

The Sam Rayburn Library was established to preserve the books, papers and historical mementos collected by Speaker Rayburn during his more than fifty years in public office.

Sherman was especially impressed with the Speaker's Office which is identical to the office in the Capitol building occupied by Rayburn. The original furniture is in this room, including the crystal chandelier which was at one time in the White House.

The Library contains mementos tracing Rayburn's career from a Fannin County farm boy to his position as the second most powerful man in the country, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, a position which he occupied longer than any other person in the Nation's history.

Also visited was the Sam Rayburn Home which is about one mile west of the Library on Highway 82. All of the original furnishings are there and it is a tribute to his love of simplicity. It in itself is mute testimony to the greatness of this outstanding human being.

Free Lunch Program Explained To Parents

Letters to parents and guardians of Olton school students this week explains the lunch program. Nutritious meals are served in the school cafeteria daily. Students may buy lunch for fifty cents and extra milk, five cents for white and five cents for chocolate.

Children from families whose income is at or below levels shown in the accompanying scale are eligible for free or reduced-price meals. Reduced price for lunch is twenty cents. Conditions are fully explained in the letter to parents.

The program for the lunch program is more liberal this year than last. The scale here published indicates eligibility for free meals, free milk and reduced price meals for children.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Application must be made on the form accompanying the letter to parents, according to Joe Turner, superintendent.

Concert Memberships 'First Come, First Serve'

Three top attractions -- the world-famous Roger Wagner Chorale, Les Brown and the Band of Renown with The Modernaires, and The Young Americans performing the Broadway musical "West Side Story" -- will highlight the 1977-78 season of Plainview Community Concerts.

Additional attractions already booked are the Franz Liszt Chamber Orchestra of Budapest and Rostal and Schaefer, duo-pianists, who round out the five-program season.

Plainview Community Concert memberships, traditionally a sell-out, are once again being offered on a first-come, first-serve basis with both new and renewed memberships available in Olton from Mrs. Leon Noack, 285-2315 or 285-2473.

Season memberships are $12.50 per seat and no tickets are sold at the door. All concerts will be held in Harral Memorial Auditorium or Plainview High School Auditorium. Members will receive detailed brochures listing the season's attractions and dates following completion of the membership drive.

The Roger Wagner Chorale will feature works of Renaissance, classical and contemporary composers, spirituals and scores from the Broadway stage in a truly varied program of good music. Les Brown's big name band will be presenting a special Salute to Glenn Miller with the 17-member band joined by Ray Eberle, Paula Kelly and the Modernaires, all original singers with Glenn Miller. Having previously toured with "Oklahoma" and "The Music Man", The Young Americans, making a return appearance in Plainview, will this year present one of the all-time top Broadway musicals, "West Side Story."

For lovers of classical music, the Franz Liszt Orchestra's concert follows successful tours of major American and European cities. British pianists Rostal and Schaefer, whose concerts have included a command performance for the British royal family, likewise have gained an enviable reputation wherever they have appeared. In addition to classical composition, the pianists will also show off their techniques for pop, Bacharach and even the Beatles.

then plans to go to medical college. His father is a doctor and he has already chosen the same career.

When asked what field of medicine his father was in, Mike replied "a children's doctor." On hearing the word "pediatrician," Mike laughingly admits, "I never heard that word before." His father's office is in their home.

Following the age-old tradition, Mike's paternal grandparents live with his family. His grandfather, he says, "is doctor too. He's dentist but he don't work now."

Mike's family also follows the Japanese custom of sleeping on mat beds which are rolled and put away in the closet during the day.

Although Osaka is quite a large city, Mike attends school in Okayama and describes his school as "very small." Students wear uniforms which, for the young men, includes grey pants and white shirt with a blue blazer in the winter. He admits he likes blue jeans and says that Wranglers, Levis and Lees may all be found in Japan.

McDonalds and Colonel Sanders Kentucky Fried Chicken have gone to Japan, he says.

"But Kentucky fried - in Japan we don't cook chicken like that," and using his hands to help tell the difference, indicates that Japanese fried chicken is not battered before cooking.

Mexican food was also something new for Mike, something he found good. He commented that Japanese eat beans less frequently than Americans and says that, in his country, okra is dipped in soy sauce and eaten raw.

Mike and Don say their fathers are members of Lions Clubs but both point out a difference in the clubs in their countries and the club they visited here in Olton. Each says his father's Lions meetings last for three hours and are evening clubs which include dinner, business meeting and a program.

Just as his new Canadian friends, Mike also expressed a desire to return to Olton.

"I want to stay here," he said Tuesday. "I don't want to come back to Japan."

Superintendent Turner said, "The second period this year will be most important for all students. If a student this year is present the second period they will be counted present all day. You, as a parent, can help keep our average daily attendance up if you will schedule all doctor appointments after the second period.

"The school district is allocated teacher units based on average daily attendance, so it is very important that your child attends school every day."

On windy dusty days . . .
your filter can get dirty, clogged, waste energy . . .
but a clean filter saves energy, money.
Clean or replace dirty Air Filters on your furnace or air conditioning!
The purpose of a filter on your air conditioning or heating air blower is to keep the air inside your home clean. The filter catches dust and dirt before it can enter your home. In time, the filter will accumulate dust and dirt . . . if it gets clogged, it can't do the cleaning job it's supposed to. Then it begins to shut off the air flow and has the effect of making your air conditioning or heating unit work harder. When the unit works harder, it uses more electricity . . . and if it works too hard because of a dirty filter, it can be damaged.
To avoid damage to your unit, to keep your home cleaner, and to save energy and money, be sure filters are clean. Permanent types can be cleaned according to the manufacturer's instruction. Non-permanent types are replaced, since they are inexpensive. It is wise to check filters every 30 days.
Save energy . . . save money . . . use clean filters.
