One injured in car, train collision

A 23-year-old Mitchell County woman was injured when her car struck a Union Pacific train on Mitchell County Road 260 Wednesday night at approximately 8:50 p.m.

According to Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs, Rhonda Kay Carter suffered a broken collar bone when the 1992 Pontiac four door she was driving collided with the train.

Although the damages to the three-car train were minor, the automobile operated by Carter is a total loss, Toombs said.

"With the way that car looked it's amazing she was even able to get out and walk," he said.

Toombs said that when sheriff's deputies arrived on the scene there was no one in the car. According to officers, after the accident Carter got out of her car and walked approximately 1.4 miles to a friend's home for help.

Toombs said this was the second car-train collision to occur at that particular train crossing within a year's time span.

He added that there are no arms or flashing lights at the crossing.

However, there are railroad crossing signs posted, he said.

Toombs said part of the reason for these types of collisions occur because people who cross the same railroad crossing every day will eventually stop thinking about whether or not a train is coming.

"You always have to be alert and watch," he said. "You're very lucky if you can walk away because if you hit a train you're not going to win."

The cause of the accident is still being investigated by members of the Sweetwater highway patrol.

Old Timers Reunion
set for September 17

The 38th Annual Old Timers Reunion is set for Saturday, September 17 at Colorado City's Civic Center.

Registration for the event will begin at 9:30 a.m. following a Chamber of Commerce sponsored breakfast at Kiwanis Park.

There will be refreshments and visiting all morning and a catered meal will be served at noon. The cost of the meal is $5.

The program's theme will be "Memories of 50 Years Ago" and will begin with the musical combo of Gus Armstrong and Sarah Smith playing tunes from the 1940s.

Three speakers will discuss events that occurred during WW II and a special salute from two veterans will finish off the program.

According to Ray Ann Carlock, the event actually began years ago when a group of early Mitchell County settlers began to meet annually at the old Barcroft Hotel.

The event was a social gathering that gave settlers the chance to dress up and meet with their friends.

Although the event is called the Old Timers Reunion it is not limited to the elderly, Carlock said.

"We're stressing that all persons, any age, who have ever called Mitchell County home are invited to attend," she said.

Every year people who live out of town as well as in town attend the event in celebration of Mitchell County's heritage.

Reservations for the event can be made by contacting Shirley DeLaney at City National Bank.

THE CITY OF COLORADO CITY started spraying for mosquitos Thursday, five days after the rain. Supervisor James Rich said the fogging will continue all next week.

ETTA LEE GIBSON is a regular player in the Colorado City Record's Jackpot Football Contest. She enters the contest every week during the Wolves football season -- and usually wins at least once. Last week she won $20 in football bucks. The football contest appears each Thursday in the Record during football season.

Etta Lee Gibson hard to beat at football guessing

Eighty-year-old Etta Lee Gibson has been playing the Record's Football Guessing Game every since the contest began.

And, for someone who claims not to know too much about football, she knows how to pick the winners.

According to Gibson, she has won the contest at least one time every year since it first came into existence.

"About all I really know is what a touchdown is," she said.

Gibson, who has been a Mitchell County resident since 1920, said she saw her first football game in 1926.

However, she didn't really start watching the game until her two children entered high school.

"They were both members of the [Colorado High School] band and I would go to the games as a sponsor," she said.

Gibson said when she has the time she likes to watch the Cowboys play and added that she wants them to pull another Super Bowl victory out of the hat.

And although they may not be very good, she said she enjoys watching Baylor play college ball.

FOR YOUR HEALTH

Better nutrition benefits preemies

According to research conducted by the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center, Baylor College of Medicine and Texas Children's Hospital low-birth-weight babies are benefiting from a new nutrition plan that improves weight gain.

Dr. Richard Schanler, an associate professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine, said "Premature infants fed human milk show a significant increase in weight when they are exclusively fed 'hindmilk,' milk produced two to three minutes after the initial flow."

The new feeding strategy requires expressed breastmilk to be divided into two portions called foremilk and hindmilk.

The foremilk or initial milk is collected and frozen for later use. Infants are fed the hindmilk, which is three to four times higher in fat.

"Premature infants may have difficulty gaining weight on breastmilk," Schanler said. "We suspected that they were not getting enough calories."

He explained that fat is a major calorie source and that the fat content of human milk varies from mother to mother, from feeding to feeding and within a single feeding as the milk changes from foremilk to hindmilk.

According to Schanler, premature babies cannot suck or swallow and must rely on breastmilk fed to them in regulated amounts through a tube.

"This is not a problem for full-term, breast fed babies who can fill calorie needs by drinking more milk," he said.

In the past, babies who did not gain weight on human milk were placed on formulas which have a consistent composition and is homogenized so the fat does not separate.

"The switch from breastmilk to formula meant that infants lost out on the protective qualities of breastmilk," Schanler said.

Because evidence suggests that breastmilk protects premature infants from potentially life-threatening infections, the nutrition investigators decided to place the infants on the fat-rich hindmilk.

This study followed 15 infants who were eight to 12 weeks premature. Lactation Support Program counselors at Texas Children's Hospital taught mother's to divide their milk during routine expressions.

The hindmilk was then delivered to the hospital each day where it was fortified with protein and minerals.

Schanler said the mothers were pleased with the results.

"Mothers loved doing this because they could see their efforts paying off," he said. "Their babies were gaining weight."

Brenda Aguillon, president, introduced Mrs. Gertrude (Joe) League of the Snyder Garden Club. She is a national flower show master judge and a lifetime member of both the national and Texas Garden Clubs. She was accompanied by Geleska Baze, also from the Snyder Garden Club.

Ready! Get Set! was the theme of her presentation, which referred to the preparation and presentation of plants for the Mitchell County Fair Horticulture Exhibition.

She gave hints on properly exhibiting flowers and arrangements and classifying the plants. She clarified the rules used in judging the plants, flowers and arrangements and gave suggestions to make individual entries meet the standards for a winning exhibit.

It was helpful, interesting and entertaining. These suggestions and rules will appear in the Colorado RECORD before the fair so that exhibitors will be better able to prepare their entries.

Plans were made for the two major fall projects: decorating the Civic Center for the Old Timers' Reunion and the Mitchell County Fair Horticulture Show.

C. Maye Strange and Leslie Scott were welcomed as new members. Other members attending were Faye Daniel, Frances Myers, Dorothy Johnson, Catherine Bell, Dovie Brownfield, Terry Anne McAdams, Glenda Alford, Carolyn Witten, Erna Lou Burt, Peggy Ratliff, Ray Anne Carlock and Betsy Lee Aycock.

SPORTS

Columnist offers C-City as option

By Anthony Chastain

1994 was supposed to be the year of heavy bats in baseball. Three homerun sluggers were swinging for Roger Maris' 1961 homerun record of 61 homeruns. At the pace they were going, one if not all of them probably would have broken that long standing record. However, there's one problem with the scenario....THEY WALKED OUT!

Yes, that is correct....players everywhere are at the top of their game and they decide to strike! Maybe I'm just not on the same intellectual plateau to understand the current baseball strike....

Now let's see if I've got this right....a bunch of millionaire, hot-shot ball players, who are actually getting paid for recreation time, are throwing temper tantrums because the owners want a salary cap. Now, the purpose of this salary cap would pretty much stop players from demanding outrageous salaries year after year. Hmmm....

Okay, I think I understand so far....So now the owners are pretty ticked off because the players are "chasing the American Dream" by trying to earn as much money as possible.

Hey! I think I really do understand! The bottom line is really very simple-GREED!! The players want more money and the owners want to keep the money.

New York Mets outfielder Bobby Bonilla, the league's highest paid player, has already lost over $200 thousand. And the owners....well, they've lost over $200 million in revenues. Ouch! That's gotta hurt!

I guess this is just dumb ole' Texan logic, but why are they striking for more money when they're actually losing money in the process?

Let's analyze this a little further....the minimum salary for a major league baseball player is about $109 thousand. That's the least they can make a season! The average U.S. citizen's salary is only about $18 thousand....and these guys are throwing fits because they don't want to settle for smaller salaries? I know several people, including myself, who would kill to make $109 thousand a year simply by playing a game we all learned as kids.

Hey owners! Down here....West Texas....Colorado City....exactly how many players do you need? C. City, population 5,000 and guess what? We'll all play for the measly $109 thousand you have to offer. What's that? Doubleheaders for a week? No problem....we've gotcha covered! By the way, where do we sign up?

The reaction of the public to the strike has caught everyone by surprise. The players, owners and possibly the public itself expected someone to take sides. But guess what guys? No one seems interested! With football season starting and the basketball and hockey seasons looming on the horizons, this has got to be the stupidest time to strike! The public's not going to demand a quick settlement with these other forms of entertainment to preoccupy us. Not even Bill Clinton could settle this - as if he ever settles anything.

I get the feeling that the players didn't really think the owners would stand out this long. They probably assumed that this would be another pushover strike that would end within 72 hours....and the owners probably assumed the Players' Association would give in, as did the National Football and National Hockey Leagues Players' Associations a few years ago.

And so this interest lacking ordeal continues, somewhat like a bad soap opera. The thing is, both sides are hurting financially. I really think one of the contributing factors is foolish pride....neither side wants to give up now for sake of losing public admiration. Wait a minute! What public admiration? That went out the window weeks ago....Greed is simply an unacceptable characteristic of any professional league.

Here's your solution....ballplayers can go chase that "American Dream" into the right field corner and throw it out at the homeplate window. STOP YOUR WHINING and just play the game for its real purpose....Fun!

Oh, well. At least we have the minor league ball players who are more than happy to just play the game. Let's go Midland Angels!

Mistakes force Wolves' loss

By Anthony Chastain

The Merkel Badgers defeated the Colorado City Wolves Friday night in Merkel 30-10. The loss left the Wolves 0-2 for the year.

The Wolves scored first following Frank Espinoza's 88-yard run in the first quarter. Espinoza scored from the one giving the Wolves a 6-0 lead. Ramirez kicked the PAT.

Merkel came right back scoring on a 43-yard run by Justin Davis. The PAT was good. The first quarter ended in a 7-7 tie.

In the second quarter Merkel scored their second touchdown on a 16-yard touchdown run by Scott Walsh. The PAT was good. Merkel's final score in the second quarter came when quarterback Brady Satcher threw a 24-yard touchdown strike to Sam Hooks. The PAT was good and Merkel led 21-7 at the half.

In the third quarter, Phillip Garcia intercepted a Merkel pass and the Wolves drove deep into Badger territory. But the Wolves had to settle for a Chris Ramirez 28-yard field goal. On Merkel's ensuing possession the drive stalled just inside the Wolf 20. Merkel opted to go for three points and the field goal unit came on. The snap to William Donaldson, the holder, was low and short. Donaldson tried to run but fumbled. Ryan Costabile recovered for Colorado City and returned it to the Wolf 48. The Wolves could do nothing with the ball and the 3rd quarter ended with the Wolves trailing 21-10.

Bryce Bentin, the Merkel kicker, booted one of his 6 punts to begin the 4th quarter. The Wolves and Badgers traded possession and Colorado City fumbled the ball away again. This time the Badgers were all but given six points getting possession at the Wolf 21. Three plays later Satcher threw to tight end Brad Teaff for a 4-yard touchdown pass on the following possession for the Wolves, quarterback Jason Castillo was sacked for a safety by a Merkel defender. Backup quarterback Lance Dockrey came in for the Wolves last possession.

Penalties and turnovers were the obstacles in the way of victory for the Wolves. The Wolves were penalized 7 times for 40-yards fumbled the ball away four times and threw one interception. The Wolves intercepted a pass of their own and recovered three of four Merkel fumbles.

Emerson, one.

JV WOLVES PLAYER #10 JUSTIN SPARKMAN scrambles for yardage in Thursday's game against Merkel.

#34 CHRIS FAMBRO GOES IN FOR A TOUCHDOWN against the Merkel Badgers. The extra point failed and the JV Wolves lost to Merkel 28-6.

Badgers hand JV Wolves second loss

The Merkel Badgers handed the Colorado City JV Wolves their second loss of the year Thursday night at Wolf Stadium 28-6.

Both teams were scoreless in the first quarter. The Wolves did mount one good offensive threat late in the first quarter, marching to the Badger 8 only to give the ball up on downs.

The Badgers scored twice late in the second quarter to take a 14-0 lead with 2:54 left in the first half.

On the Wolves' next possession, quarterback Justin Sparkman hit Brad Anderson with three straight pass completions. On Anderson's third catch, he broke two tackles inside the ten yard line, getting the Wolves a first down on the one yard line.

On the first down, the Badger defensive penetrated the Wolf backfield, pinning the Wolves for a three yard loss. However, hard-running Chris Fambro took a pitch and scooted around the right end for the Wolves' only score of the night. The two point conversion failed and Colorado City trailed at halftime 14-6.

Merkel added two additional touchdowns in the fourth quarter to finish out the scoring for the night.

JV coach Jerold Epperson had high praise for a couple of Wolves. "I think John Erwin and Chris Fambro did a good job on both sides of the ball; they really played hard offensively and defensively," Epperson said.

The JV Wolves travel to Clyde next Thursday to take on the Clyde Bulldogs. The JV record this year is 0-2.

Safety recall announced involving child safety seats

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration announced a safety recall involving more than 300 thousand child safety seats produced by Evenflo Juvenile Furniture Company, Inc., of Piqua, Ohio.

Evenflo's Champion Model No. 224, Ultra I Model No. 231 and Ultra II Model No. 232 have all been recalled by NHTSA.

The models involved in the recall were produced between February 8 and August 4, 1993.

The recall is a result of a NHTSA investigation that found that a plastic sleeve intended to serve as a latching aid sometimes slips over the buckle tongue, causing difficulty when buckling a child into the seat.

It was determined that without proper buckling, the seat may not provide adequate protection in the event of a crash.

However, NHTSA said owners should continue use of the seats with the latching aids until they receive instructions from the manufacturer to remove it.

Owners of these child safety seats who have questions should call the Auto Safety Hotline at 1-800-424-9393. Owners are also urged to contact the manufacturer at 1-800-837-4002.

Westbrook Golden Age Club met Tuesday, September 6

Members of the Westbrook Golden Age Club met September 6. The meeting was called to order by the president, Lula Leach. The August minutes were read by Helen Oglesby and the financial report was read by Frances Proctor.

Lula reported that Inez Oliver was not very well and Edna Brown had broken her arm.

Frances Proctor had bought a microwave for the Club. Lula asked if there were any objections and there were none.

September is officer election time. Frances Proctor nominated Roy Petty as vice president. Rae Fortenberry seconded the motion and it carried.

Mr. Petty asked for the offices of president and secretary to be reelected by acclamation. The crowd voted in favor.

September is dues time and the crowd paid their dues.

Lula asked Cliff Cox to give the blessing and a delicious supper was served to 20.

Stenholm staff member to pay visit to Big Spring

A member of Congressman Charles W. Stenholm's staff will return to Big Spring on Wednesday, September 21 to visit individually with constituents.

Jayne Schoonmaker of Stenholm's San Angelo office, will be at the U.S. Federal Building, 501 Main Street, in the 2nd floor conference room from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The purpose of Ms. Schoonmaker's trip is to make the Congressman's office more accessible to people in the Big Spring and surrounding areas by offering a one-on-one meeting with citizens.

This is an opportunity for anyone having a problem with a governmental agency such as Social Security Administration, HUD, Department of Veterans Affairs, etc. to seek assistance. It also provides a listening ear for persons who wish to express an opinion on current governmental issues.

He is presently serving his church as an approved Conference Evangelist, this coming after 25 years in the pastoral ministry in Mississippi and Georgia.

Charles is married to the former Verna Clements of Louisville, Georgia. They have three children, two sons, Jimmy and Van and a daughter, Tiffany.

Charles received his education at Young Harris Junior College, the University of Mississippi and The Candler School of Theology at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. His background includes a time of radio broadcasting. He holds a radio telephone First Class certificate and diploma from Elkins School of Electronics also in Atlanta, Georgia. The Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tennessee honored Charles by naming him Mr. Dee-Jay USA in June of 1963.

His ministry has carried him across the United States and into several other countries. He has now ministered in over 400 churches in his own conference.

Music is a part of what Charles Dennis is. He started singing at a very early age and is very grateful for the song in his heart. He has written, with God's help and inspiration, over 200 songs and has seen many of them recorded and sung by quartets and singers across the world.

A SPECIAL LOVE OFFERING WILL BE TAKEN AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE SERVICE.
