

On The BEAM

J. W. KING, SR

I am glad to see the leaders of boys throughout the nation also taking the lead in trying to get the public to have more respect for the flag of the United States of America.

Burning and other forms of desecrating the flag have been in evidence in our country the past several months and these are terrible. There are other means of showing disrespect for the flag and the general public is guilty of some of these. Did you ever notice how many people at a football game or any other place where the flag is being raised do not salute the flag but continue to talk or do something else. Perhaps these people do not mean to be disrespectful to the flag but are only ignorant in flag etiquette. If it is ignorance, means of education is in order. If it is really disrespect then these people need to be shown that their action is not appreciated by the majority of our citizens.

In this connection it would not hurt to publish here the pledge of allegiance to the flag. If you do not know the words your ought to learn them. "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

The next time you are where the flag is being presented, if you want to render proper respect for it, you will, if you are a lady, stand perfectly still, keep quiet, and place your right hand over your heart; if you are a gentleman you will also cease talking, stand at attention, if wearing a hat take it off and hold it over your heart with your right hand; if you wear no hat do the other things and hold your right hand over your heart.

Can Cotton Products Be Made In West Texas Cheaper than Elsewhere

Can certain cotton products be manufactured right here in West Texas more economically than in other parts of the country?

That's what research economists are trying to find out in a study sponsored by the Texas Electric Service Company.

The Cotton Research Committee of Texas and its Cotton Economic Research Division of the University of Texas are in the process of making a cotton utilization study in the cotton-growing areas served by Texas Electric Service Company in West Texas.

"Helpful information obtained from this study will be made available to major textile manufacturing companies and to chamber of commerce and industrial development groups of the communities served by Texas Electric Service in West Texas," said Burl B. Hulsey Jr., president and general manager of the company, in announcing the program.

The study will determine the quality of cotton grown in this area and what products can be manufactured from it. Market consideration will be explored to determine which products could be most logically manufactured in the local community and profitably marketed throughout the southwest and entire nation.

"Cotton authorities and others involved in the textile industry have indicated that a study of this type will be most helpful in encouraging textile manufacturers to establish facilities in West Texas" Hulsey added.

"This study is part of Texas Electric Service Company's continuing industrial development program to help attract industry and create new jobs which are compatible with the raw materials and economy of the West Texas area we serve," he said.

WHY is 4-H unique? Because Mary and Sue, Bill and Jim and all the other 2½ million 4-H'ers do things. In fact, the 4-H way is "learn-by-doing."

And what do they do? They work on projects. They have well over 50 projects and activities to choose from. Among them are garden, electric, horse, livestock, crops, dog, poultry, photography, entomology, automotive and home economics.

With few exceptions, boys and girls participate in all projects with equal skill and success.

For more than a half century, publicly supported 4-H has served the needs of youth through programs set up by the Cooperative Extension Service of the state land-grant universities.

Since the first 4-H Clubs were organized to teach boys how to farm better and girls how to preserve foods better, private industry and community-minded citizens have backed 4-H. Industry provides incentive awards, recognition, educational aids and technical assistance.

Collaboration between private interests in support of this youth program open to all is probably without parallel. Success of the "partnership" is evident in the long tenure of business donors.

Today nearly 400,000 men and women serve as volunteer leaders, using their special skills to guide the youngsters. Many of them are parents of 4-H'ers.

Through the National 4-H Service Committee of Chicago, nearly 60 business firms and foundations annually contribute large sums as sponsors of national and regional 4-H award programs approved by the Extension Service. In addition they host some 1,600 of the nation's finest teenagers at the National 4-H Club Congress. The 1967 congress, tabbed "the showcase of 4-H," will mark its 46th straight year.

Among the 4-H sponsors are: Eli Lilly and Company; General Motors; General Foods Corporation; Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation; Coats & Clark Inc.; Chicago Board of Trade; Allis-Chalmers; Westinghouse Electric Corporation; Merck & Co., Inc.; Wilson & Co., Inc.; Moorman Mfg. Co.; Oliver Corporation; E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company; Amchem Products, Inc.; Ralston Purina Company; Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc. and Eastman Kodak Company.

Others include: Hercules Incorporated; The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company; Montgomery Ward; Armour and Company; Carnation Company; American Oil Foundation; Humble Oil & Refining Company; Standard Oil Company (Kentucky) and The Standard Oil Company (Ohio).

Miss Iona Cochran Becomes Bride Of Arlie Jack Neel in Oklahoma City

Crown Heights Church of the Nazarene, Oklahoma City, Okla., was the scene of the candlelight wedding of Miss Iona Marie Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Cochran of Manzanola Colo., to Arlie Jack Neel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Neel of Loraine, Saturday, May 27.

Two large candelabra entwined with vines and green leaves and holding seven candles each, and two large baskets with white ribbon bows and filled with white gladioli, decorated the front of the church and were set on either side of the platform. Two small candelabra, each holding three candles decorated the organ. There were also two boxes of growing vines and greenery on either side of the church which added to the decorations. Lighted candles were placed in the windows on either side of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length wedding gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. The bodice was fashioned with scalloped neckline with sequins. The long sleeves pointed at the wrists and bodice came to a point the waist line.

The full skirt was topped with a divided lace skirt edged with sequins and coming together at the front, revealed ruffles of lace and sequins from the underneath skirt.

Her bridal bouquet was of feather mums and detachable red roses, and her fingertip veil was held in place with a seed pearl crown.

She carried out the tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and blue."

Bridesmaid was Miss Fartha Long of Parsons, Kans., former college roommate of the bride. Matron of honor was Mrs. Ronald Grossman of Manzanola, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaid and matron of honor were dressed alike in blue lace street length dresses, designed with scalloped necklines and short capped sleeves. They wore long white gloves and white pumps. Their hats were of blue lace netting with blue ribbon bows and each carried a long-stemmed red rose.

Candlelighters were Nancy Neel of Bethany, Okla., niece of the bridegroom, and Ruby Cochran of Manzanola, sister of the bride.

Their dresses were of blue nylon with lace skirts and overlay of lace forming an undercollar and extending to the waist line joining a cummerbund. A blue rose was attached at the waist line. An edging of white lace trimmed the lace overlay and short puffed sleeves. They wore hats like those of the maid and matron of honor. Their flowers were pink mums tied with pink ribbons attached to bracelets which they wore on their left arms.

Flower girls were Cindy Ryan, niece of the bridegroom and Ronda Grossman of Manzanola, niece of the bride. They wore white dresses and hats made like those of the candlelighters and carried nosegays of pink mums.

Hats worn by the attendants were all designed by the bride. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cochran wore a mint green suit with brown accessories. Mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue dress and beige accessories. Mothers corsages were pink mums and pink ribbons.

Bill Ryan, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Ronald Grossman of Manzanola, brother-in-law of the bride, and Robert Barr, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Groomsman was Perry Neel, of Bethany, Okla., brother of the bridegroom.

On her way to the altar, Miss Cochran paused and kissed her mother and presented her with a long-stemmed red rose. Betty Bloomer played organ music, and Rosie Long sang "Because."

Rev. A. W. McQueen, pastor of the church, officiated, and gave communion to the couple while they knelt at the altar. Rev. McQueen prayed, then Miss Long sang "A Wedding Prayer." Bridegroom gave wedding vows by repeating after Rev. McQueen. The bride recited wedding and other vows to her husband to be, stating, "Whither thou goest I will go, whither thou lodgest I will lodge, thy people shall be my people and thy God, my God." Mrs. Grossman sang "Whither Thou Goest I Will Go." Rev. McQueen concluded the ceremony and pronounced the couple man and wife.

As the couple left the altar, the new Mrs. Neel kissed her new mother-in-law and presented her with a long-stemmed red rose. Reception was held at the Mederian Park Nazarene Church.

The reception table was covered with white cloth with silver wedding bells. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue wedding bells, white roses and silver wedding bands and topped with a miniature couple. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

For her going away dress, Mrs. Neel chose a three piece navy blue suit and wore a corsage of red roses, which she detached from her bridal bouquet.

After the honeymoon at Tulsa, Okla., the couple are residing at 4304 N. Donald, Bethany, Okla.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Air pollution is the prime factor of conversation in the Capitol at the moment.

After talking a look at the air pollution law just put on the books this year, members of the new Texas Air Control Board say the Texas law permits 80 times as much air pollution as do similar laws in some of the other states.

Elbert Hooper of Austin, the Board's attorney, told the directors that an exemption from control supposed to apply to cotton gins (limiting air emissions to a maximum of eight per cent of the process weight of any agricultural product) may exempt many industries.

He named the following as possibilities: lumber mills, rice mills grain elevators, paper mills, produce plants, food processing plants, citrus processing plants, cotton seed delimiting plants, flour mills, soybean oil mills, corn syrup plants, slaughter houses, wool scouring plants, nut processing plants and, possibly, rendering plants.

"We might as well fold up and go home," said Board Member Henry LeBlanc of Port Arthur. "Maybe it would be easier for you to tell us what's left that we can control," he told Hooper.

Some members observed that cotton gins would have to pro-

Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Combs and children of Andrews spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Combs, and Johnny remained to spend two weeks with his grandparents.

Perry Neel brought his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Neel, home during the home Friday after they had been visiting in the home of Perry and another son, Arlie Jack Neel in Oklahoma City since May 27. While there Mr. Neel had eye surgery for removal of cataracts.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hendershott, James and Patricia of Eugene, Ore., visited with her aunt Mrs. J. B. Bruce. Mr. Hendershott is City Attorney in Eugene. Also visiting last week were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Bartlett and Mrs. Oma Lee Johnson of Los Raveles, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Eaves and children of Brownsville visited his aunt, Mrs. Harvey Leach Saturday and Saturday night and went from here to Crane to visit another aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson before going to Plainview to visit his mother, Mrs. W. W. Eaves.

FOR MENTALLY RETARDED — Deputy Commissioner Charles D. Barnett says the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has been allocated $18,400,000 in federal funds for the mental retardation program with another $1,000,000 likely to be allocated.

Funds include grants-in-aid for care programs and grants for construction of new facilities.

THE COURT SPEAKS — Sonoco Mobil Oil Co. Inc., of Midland will have to bear the burden of a $167,789 judgment for damages to equipment owned by two New Mexico firms because the State Supreme Court has affirmed an appeals court decision. Damages resulted from an oil field fire which started while a Mobil well near Seminole in Gaines County, was being acidized.
