Preparations For War By British And Egypt

BRITISH PREPARED TO FIGHT IN EGYPT

A barbed wire barricade separates four British soldiers, two in shooting position, from a truckload of Egyptian soldiers in the Suez Canal Zone city of Ismailia. Britain further strengthened its forces in Egypt, and Egyptian troops carefully kept out of range of British forces in most of the canal zone. Reports from Cyprus said the British garrison on the island had left to reinforce the 40,000 Tommies in Egypt. The Egyptians have publicly sworn to throw the British out of the Suez canal area.

Jail Escapees Still At Large; No Action on New Building

State, county, and city officers at noon today still had no trace of any of the five felony prisoners who broke out of the county jail here late Saturday night.

The men—two Negroes, two white men, and a Latin American—are believed to have escaped in a 1946 Chevrolet belonging to one of them, J. M. Steward, 25, who was being held on a charge of making a false statement to secure a bank loan.

THEFT CHARGES

John Willie Baker, 30, and Wilbur J. Lee Williams, 45, both Negroes, were placed in the jail late Friday after charges of burglary and felony theft were filed against them.

The other white man, William C. Kidd, 25, and the Latin American, Gilbert M. Contreras, 27, were charged with car theft.

These made a total of 10 felony prisoners to escape this jail by the same method in the last seven months. They escaped by removing bricks from an outside wall.

At the time of the escape, only two officers of the sheriff's department were in town: L. E. Haynes and O. O. Devers, deputies. The sheriff, Lloyd H. Merritt, was in Utah on a game hunting trip. Haynes said today that Vernie Head, chief deputy, was on a trip to Reno, Nev., after a felony prisoner at the time of the break.

Also working in the search Saturday night were a number of city policemen. J. L. Rogers, ranger from Lamesa, was in Snyder this morning working on the case.

COMMISSIONERS

The county commissioners, who repeatedly been asked by various grand juries to see that an ... jail is built, met for their ... bi-monthly session today ... no action on the matter. ... of the jail was connected to last - minute remarks before the session ended at noon when Thomas Y. Pickett, tax valuation engineer, took the commissioners to lunch. He advised them to build a jail, stating that he had heard much criticism of the court from this standpoint in various parts of West Texas.

In a letter written for publication in the Daily News Aug. 14, four days before the defeat at the polls of the county park and courthouse annex bond issues, of which a new jail was a phase, the four commissioners stated:

"We realize and heartily agree that we need a new jail house, but contend that it should not be annexed to the courthouse. The estimated cost of a jail built separately from the courthouse is approximately $200,000."

Finds New Pay, Drills Deeper In Vealmoor

Lario Oil & Gas Co. No. 2 Cairnes, which flowed an estimated 20 barrels of oil per hour from a new and higher pay on the northeast side of the East Vealmoor field in Central - North Howard County, is making more hole.

The flow was from the interval at 7,101 -38 feet. The section is about 300 feet above the regular Pennsylvanian reef lime pay of the field.

The section which made the oil and gas is a sandy detrital in the lower Wolfcamp of the Permian or in the Cisco of the upper Pennsylvanian.

The new pay does not appear to be too important, as recovery when the tool was pulled was 6,850 feet of pipeline oil and 580 feet of salt water.

The project will go on to try to make an oil well from the reef lime. If it fails to produce there it will be plugged back to the 7,101-38-foot section and completed there.

Location is 1,200 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 18-27-H&TC It is five miles northwest of Vincent.

DAWSON WILDCAT

Gulf Oil Corp. recovered 3,260 feet of clean oil, 545 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 2,680 feet of slightly salty water on a drillstem test at the No. 1-A Dean, Northeast - Central Dawson County wildcat.

The test was run from 10,280-10,303 feet. The mud recovered was oil and gas cut, about 50 per cent oil.

Tool was open three and one-half hours on the test. Operator is now coring below 10,304 feet in lime and chert.

This project is one location southeast of James H. Snowden and associates No. 1-30 Dean, recently completed Spraberry opener, and in section 29-1-J, Poitevant survey. It was drilled to 7,530 feet by Snowden and others as the No. 1-Y Dean. It was abandoned there in the Spraberry, and Gulf took it over on a contract to drill to 10,800 feet.

IN KENT COUNTY

Seaboard Oil Co. of Delaware and Republic Natural Gas Co. No. 1-C Girard, Kent wildcat northeast of the Salt Creek field, is at total depth of 6,818 feet in lime and preparing to core deeper.

Recovery on a one-hour drillstem test run from 6,816-6,868 feet was mud. There was a slight blow throughout the test. Flowing pressure was zero and shutin pressure was also zero.

Elsewhere in Kent County Sun Oil Co. No. 1-A Davis has reacidized pay 2,000 gallons of acid and flowed 275 barrels of oil with 11 barrels of wash water in 21 hours. Operator is continuing to test to complete.

Humble No. 2, McLaury, East Polar - Pennsylvanian field location, is drilling below 3,316 feet.

BORDEN TEST

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1-5 Clayton, Southwest Borden, is at total depth of 8,214 feet in Pennsylvanian lime and preparing to drillstem test.

City, County Officers Invited to Meeting On Paving of 37th Street

Plans have been completed for the meeting at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night of all property - owners and residents of Snyder interested in the paving of Thirty - seventh Street west from the Big Spring highway.

The meeting will be held in the recreation hall of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., and organizers of the meeting are anticipating a big turnout from residents of Highland Park, Towle Place, and other additions bordering on Thirty-seventh Street.

Mayor Forest G. Sears and Edgar Taylor, county judge, have agreed to attend, to answer questions on what the property owners can do to speed up the pavement work. An invitation also has been extended to all city councilmen and county commissioners.

Reds Hold Key To Resuming Talk Tomorrow

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 22 (AP)—Korean truce talks are expected to resume Tuesday or Wednesday.

Liaison officers today completed an agreement for reopening negotiations after a two-month break. The United Nations command promptly ratified it.

If the Communists OK it today, armistice talks will reopen at 11 a.m. Tuesday (8 p.m. tonight CST).

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman for the U. N. command, said if Red approval is received Tuesday morning, delegations "may well agree on initiating the sessions Tuesday afternoon."

MEETING IN TENTS

The two five-man negotiating committees will meet in a faded yellow tent at Panmunjom, midlines. They will take up right where they left off at Kaesong — on the question of where to create a demilitarized zone for the armistice. The Reds suspended the Kaesong talks, Aug. 23. They charged the Allies bombed the Kaesong neutral zone the day before but the Allies denied the charge.

U.N. and Communist liaison officers completed their arrangements for renewal of negotiations by signing an eight-point security pact at 10:45 a.m. Monday.

Three hours and 20 minutes later the U. N. ratification was delivered to the Reds at Panmunjom.

It called on the Communists to renew truce talks "without further delay."

The U. N. ratification was signed by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. delegate. He told North Korean Lt Gen. Nam Il, head of the Red delegation, the Allied negotiating team was prepared to meet with the Communists the day after the Red reply was received. He set the hour for meeting at 11 a.m.

Joy's purpose in ratifying the security agreement before talks actually begin, and asking for the Red endorsement in advance, was to prevent a possible reopening of discussion of the "ground rules" by the Communists.

Congress Fight Over Vatican Appointment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A wave of protest against President Truman's decision to enter regular diplomatic relations with the Vatican promised today to touch off a heated battle when Congress reconvenes.

There was little if any criticism of the President's selection of Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Roman Catholic Church state. The protests, some of them from the pulpit, were from Protestants who argued that the establishment of diplomatic relations violates the constitutional injunction that church and state shall be separate.

The United States has never had a full ambassador at the Vatican, although Myron C. Taylor served there as personal representative of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman from 1940 until last Jan. 18, when he resigned.

Last Saturday Mr. Truman announced that he had selected Clark, an Episcopalian who now is commander of Army field forces, to be ambassador.

The White House statement noted that 37 other nations maintain diplomatic representatives at the Vatican.

Unofficial comment from the Vatican indicated delight at Mr. Truman's move. That was the reaction of Catholic churchmen in this country.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York said the Vatican and the United States hold "identical objectives of peace."

Showers And Cool Weather

(By The Associated Press)

Texas, which has been having "mild summer" weather during most of October, is getting a touch of "mild winter."

A cool front moving across the state has brought a drop in temperature and scattered showers over most of the state. All parts of Texas, except the El Paso area, reported considerably cloudiness today.

Freezing weather was reported at Dalhart this morning where the mercury dropped to 31 degrees. The maximum reported Sunday was 92 at Cotulla.

The forecast for Texas is slightly cooler with continued cloudiness and scattered showers.

Sunday High of 90

The temperature rose to an uncomfortable 90 degrees in Snyder yesterday despite winds which brought blowing dust. The minimum temperature recorded before dawn was 50 degrees, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said, and the tempeature was the same at 7:30 this morning.

Atom Bomb Set Off Early This Morning

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 22 (AP)—The smallest U. S. atomic explosion on record was set off at sunrise today by Atomic Energy Commission scientists.

Signalling perhaps the start of a new atomic weapon era, the infant A-bomb — if bomb it was — flashed sharply for about one-tenth of a second. It was seen on a mountain about 50 miles away.

To eager onlookers in Las Vegas, the flash was obliterated by the bright early morning sun.

It was a letdown in contrast to the five brilliant flashes which lit up the desert sky in tests here last winter.

To scientists, it probably was a better thrill than many of the previous larger blasts.

NUCLEAR MILESTONE

To control the atom and its fissioning so that it goes "poof" — without much more force than a large artillery burst — that would stand as a milestone in nuclear science.

One of the few men outside the AEC test site to see the tiny weapon perform was Joe McClain, telegraph editor of the Las Vegas Review-Journal.

"It was hardly larger than the TNT blast set off an hour earlier to test instruments," McClain said. "There was a short, bright flash and then a column of white smoke rose from it, narrow at the base and mushrooming finally into a small cloud. The cloud drifted upward for about 10 minutes before disintegrating."

Today's detonation took place about 6 a.m. (8 a.m. CST).

The AEC made only this statement:

"One of the nuclear detonations announced by the Atomic Energy Commission on Aug. 28 was held this morning at the Nevada test site."

An AEC spokesman confirmed that the shot was made from the top of a 100-foot steel tower, similar to the structures used in the original A-bomb blast at Alamagordo, N. M., in 1945 and also later at Eniwetok.

King Home To Divorce Wife, Marry Dancer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Sheppard King III, whose wife has smiled benignly on his European romantic ventures, came home today to divorce her so he can pursue those ventures further.

King, Texas oil heir, said he will leave for Houston this afternoon to start divorce action against his wife, Gloria, so he can wed Samia Gamal Egyptian dancer.

"The very day I get the divorce, I'm going to hop off to Cairo to marry Samia," he said, adding that he hoped to get the decree in four to six weeks.

King, on a European holiday with his wife, met Miss Gamal in a Paris night club and vowed his intentions to marry her. His wife came home ahead of him, saying she approved his plans.

His mother, Mrs. Bonner King, has threatened to disinherit him if he goes through with the marriage.

The 26-year-old Texan said he didn't expect any difficulty reconciling her to the marriage, however, particularly if he threatened to expose some "family skeletons," which he didn't describe further.

"I think she will find it necessary to settle without any trouble," he said. "She objects to anything I do. She just wants me around her so she can tell me what to do."

King said he wasn't sure whether he or his wife will initiate the new divorce proceedings. They were divorced once before, and remarried. Asked what the grounds would be, he said:

"Oh, any kind of grounds, but for us it might be incompatability."

He said he probably would make a larger settlement on his wife than he did the first time.

King said he expects to marry in Cairo, honeymoon in Capri and Spain and bring his bride to the United States to live.

"I am very positive Samia is not marrying me for my money," he said. "She has gotten better marriage offers than mine."

King became a Moslem to be eligible for the dancer's hand.

He said she is "very determined to continue her career and I have no objection."

Allies Plow Ahead In Front Of Kumsong; Airmen Have Big Day

EIGHTH ARMY, Korea, Oct. 22 (AP)—American tanks rumbled into flaming Kumsong today for the second time in three days as Chinese retreated before advancing Allied infantrymen.

For four hours the M-46 Patton tanks shot up the former Red stronghold on the General Front. Then they lumbered back through mud and heavy mortar fire to their own lines.

Allied infantrymen, striking out of the fog, overran two hill masses including the highest yet taken on the 15-mile Kumsong front.

The Reds put up a hot fight on one ridgeline for a little while. Then they withdrew, and the United Nations infantrymen advanced unopposed through the mud.

ADVANCE IS RAPID

Despite the soggy going, the advance was so rapid engineers had a hard time keeping up with the infantrymen.

Forty-two Chinese didn't bother to retreat. They surrendered.

An officer estimated Red casualties in the ten-day offensive would exceed 15,000.

Ground action quieted all along the front as liaison officers completed arrangements for resuming truce talks, but the air over Northwest Korea flamed with six jet battles.

Returning American pilots reported they probably destroyed two Russian-type MIG-15 jets and damaged another. The Fifth Air Force said all American planes returned safely.

The two probables were reported after a 20-minute battle Monday afternoon between 35 American F-86 Sabre jets and more than 50 MIGs.

A total of 182 Red jets were involved in the six battles. Most engagements were between MIGs and Thunderjets or F-80 Shooting Stars after the Allies raided Red rail lines.

Nine B-29 Superforts from Okinawa on a "very special" mission knocked out a brand new Communist air field at Taechon, 60 miles north of the Red capital, Pyongyang. The Superforts flew through heavy flak and fought off Red jets. They cratered freshly laid concrete runways with 96 tons of high explosives.

The Navy reported the U. S. Cruiser Helena steamed to within 30 miles of the Soviet-Siberian frontier, blasting a 175-mile stretch of rail lines with her eight-inch United Nations artillery kept the battle blazing on the Central Front. A front line dispatch reported an estimated 500 Chinese were killed by artillery firing over flaming Kumsong into Red troop concentrations in the hills to the north.

A U. N. tank patrol entered the former Red strong-hold briefly Saturday.

DOUGHBOYS SWEEP AHEAD

Allied infantrymen swept unopposed over a mass of fog-shrouded hills five to seven miles southeast of the city.

AP Correspondent Sam Summerlin reported green-cloaked doughboys pushed out in two separate columns. One moved east along a ridgeline about two miles long. The other column swept the southern slopes of the hills.

Allies forces directly south of Kunsong held their positions although an officer said "the Chinese may have withdrawn." At this point the U. N. line is about a mile to a mile and a half from the Kumsong River, which skirts the southern edge of the city.

The town, to the east of the Reds former Iron Triangle, is 30 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Elsewhere along the front only patrol actions were reported.

Supreme Court Reverses Self

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Supreme Court today reversed itself and agreed to hear an appeal by six attorneys who got contempt sentences for their conduct during the New York trial of the 11 top Communist Party leaders.

The six were counsel for the Red leaders at the trial before Federal Judge Harold Medina. Medina gave them sentences ranging from one to six months.

The Supreme Court first denied the attorneys a hearing last June. They then petitioned the court to reconsider the denial, and give them a hearing. This request was granted today and a date will be set later for the hearing.

Justice Jackson last June granted the attorneys a stay of the prison sentences pending the Supreme Court's final action in their case.

The court's order today granting a hearing noted that Justice Clark of Texas took no part in the consideration of the request.

The attorneys are Harry Sacher, Richard Gladstein and Eugene Denis, six months each; George W. Crockett, Jr., and Abraham J. Isserman, four months each. Louis F. McCabe, 30 days. Dennis was among the 11 leaders convicted and is now in prison on a five-year sentence given him in the main case.

NATIONAL SPIRIT SEEN IN EAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson says the United States recognizes the "awakening national spirit" of the Middle East countries and is doing what it can to help their problems "with common sense and justice to all."

At the same time, Acheson said in an NBC television program Sunday that he is "worried" over conditions in the Middle East.

Acheson said the United States, through the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, is "trying to make sure that what happens there doesn't jeopardize the rest of the world."

Movement Of Cotton Into Gins Is Slow

A shortage of cotton pickers is causing Scurry County's light cotton harvest to trickle slowly into the gins, managers report.

A survey made this morning indicated that about 1,500 bales have been ginned in the county.

At Hemleigh only one of the two Planter's Gins is in operation. The other gin will probably not be opened this fall, the manager said.

The Inadale Gin reported having ginned 398 bales of cotton this season—making it the leader in the county by more than 100 bales.

Other gins reporting were: Snyder Co-Op 71 bales, Snyder Planters gin 145 bales, Hermleigh Planter's No. 1 gin 137 bales, Chinagrove 238, and Dunn Planter's gin 126. The total for those gins is 1,115 bales.

Other gins in the county which could not be contacted were: Snyder Paymaster Gin, Ira, and Fluvanna.

M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of Snyder schools, said that there is no indication that school pupils are being held out of school to help with the cotton harvest here. His last report showed that there was more than 93 per cent attendance in Snyder schools, which is good normal attendance, he said.

Tax Collector In Car Trades Witness Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A Treasury agent testified today that Denis W. Delaney, ousted former tax collector at Boston, once obtained a new Cadillac and two new Chevrolets for $750 and a two-year-old Cadillac. He said two dealers who supplied the new cars were in tax difficulties.

John J. Callahan of Medford, Mass., special agent of the intelligence division, Boston revenue office, related the story to a House Ways and Means Subcommittee. The Congressional group is investigating charges of corrupt practices by income tax collectors.

Callahan said Delaney went to Ferry Street Motors, Malden, Mass., in March, 1949, and offered to trade his 1947 Cadillac on a new 1949 model with a list price of $4,500. He offered his old car and $250 in cash.

Callahan said Jordan Patkin, now principal stockholder of the motor company, turned down the deal, but that Delaney and a third man whom he couldn't identify, returned later and conferred with Patkin's father, Lewis, now dead.

Mistrial In Sanity Hearing On McGee

MIDLAND, Oct. 22 (AP)—A mistrial in the sanity hearing of Richard McGee, convicted slayer, was declared here today in district court after a juror became ill.

W. E. Glober became ill Saturday night and is still in a hospital where he was ordered by his physician.

McGee showed no emotion when Judge R. W. Hamilton announced the mistrial.

Gas Tax Paid Under Protest

AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—The first protested payment under Texas' new natural gas tax law was made to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert today.

It was a check for $26,762.47 from the Texas Gas Transmission Corp., of Owensboro, Ky. Across the stub in red typewritten letters was the notation:

"Payment made under protest."

Accompanying the check was a formal protest alleging that the new tax of 9-20ths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet is unconstitutional and "an unlawful burden on interstate commerce."

The protest further claimed that the new tax law violates existing contracts between the Texas Gas Transmission Corporation and parties from whom it buys gas.

It gave notice that the company intends to persue "all legal remedies" to get its $26,762.47 back.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Considerable cloudiness in Panhandle, South Plains and Pecos Valley eastward. Scattered showers and cooler South Plains, Pecos Valley eastward tonight and Tuesday. Partly cloudy and cooler El Paso, Big Bend, Del Rio-Eagle Pass area tonight and Tuesday. Lowest temperature 32-38 Panhandle, 36-40 South Plains.

EAST TEXAS: Considerable cloudiness, scattered showers and cooler north and west tonight and Tuesday.

British Guard Both Ends Of Canal Section

CAIRO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Egypt, her forces reported moving rapidly toward mobilization on a war basis, accused Britain anew today of "acts of aggression." Britain sent fresh troops into the disputed Suez Canal Zone and a Cairo newspaper said an Egyptian guerrilla movement was forming to drive the Britons out.

Egypt's government sent a new note from the ministry of foreign affairs to the British embassy, accusing the British of "new acts of aggression." It said:

"Not satisfied with defying the feelings of the civil population, British authorities in the Canal Zone wish also to provoke the Egyptian Army, which thus far has avoided all cause for friction."

SENTRY SAID KILLED

The note said British troops Saturday at Port Said mortally wounded an Egyptian sentry at an Egyptian Army camp, and also fired on an Egyptian sentry before Egypt's governorate office in Port Said.

A short time before, the Egyptian government made public a note charging that the British actions in the Suez area made it look as if the British were "moving into conquer the country."

A British spokesman said the British Royal Navy now was controlling movements of shipping in the Suez area and carrying supplies for Britons guarding the strategic 104-mile canal, vital link in the Commonwealth's lifeline.

British warships were guarding both sides of the canal and more troops were on the way to strengthen British control of the gateway to the Orient.

UNDERGROUND FORMING

Formation of the anti-British underground, similar to Jewish forces which fought the British in Palestine, was reported in the pro-government newspaper Al Misri and in the leftist weekly Al Comhour Al Misri.

The daily Al Misri reported Gen. Aziz Il Masry Pasha had been asked to command the Egyptian "liberation legions."

Cairo newspapers reported a general mobilization order has been approved by the Egyptian Supreme Court. The next step would be parliamentary approval, providing also for establishment of a high council of war.

The bill calls for a general rallying of manpower for military and industrial production and for organization of communications.

The Egyptian note originally delivered last Thursday, demanded that British troops "evacuate all places they have occupied unrightfully and without reason in cities and other areas of the Suez Canal Zone."

ZONE SEALED OFF

The British have sealed off the canal zone. They guard the two entrances to it and control key spots along the waterway.

BABY SITTER ACCUSED IN THEFT

Roberta McCauley (center), 15-year-old baby sitter from Nahant, Mass., and her two companions display some of the clothing and jewelry they purchased in New York. They are accused of fleeing with $21,000 from the home of a Nahant doctor where Roberta was baby sitting. They posed in a police station after they were taken into custody. Roberta had a $235 Christian Dior suit and $25 blouse. Left to right are Eileen Jeffrey, 17; Miss McCaulev, and Marilyn Curry, 16.

GALLUP POLL

Many Voters Fear Government Spending U. S. To Bankruptcy

BY GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22. —A substantial majority of Americans think there is a danger of Washington spending the country into bankruptcy.

Although most voters have no very specific knowledge about the rate of government spending, nearly six out of every ten have the impression that it is excessive and is a threat to the nation's financial security.

A person's views about this depend to a great extent on whether he is a Democrat or a Republican. However, even in the ranks of the Democratic party, one person in every two thinks there's danger of spending ourselves into bankruptcy, and only one Democrat in four thinks the Truman administration is trying to cut down on unnecessary government expenses.

Those opinions were revealed when a corps of more than 200 interviewers throughout the country questioned a representative sample of the voting population on farms, in small towns and big cities from the Maine coast to the shores of California.

These interviewers carried to the public a controversy which has long been raging between Republican and Democratic leaders and in which President Truman himself recently took part.

The President emphatically denied that his spending policies are leading us to the brink of "national bankruptcy," as charged by Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (R.) of Massachusetts and other administration critics.

To find out what impression the average voter has on this subject, the Institute put a series of questions in its survey. The first:

"1. Do you think the Administration in Washington is trying to cut down on unnecessary government expenses?"

Only 18 out of every 100 persons said "yes" to this question, while 11 said the government is not trying to trim expenses and 11 were undecided.

Virtually all Republicans said "no" to this question, while among the Democrats the vote was 27 per cent "yes," 60 per cent "no", and 13 per cent undecided.

Those who answered "no" were asked a second question designed to pin down their ideas further:

"2. Where do you think the government can cut down on expenses?"

A large number of suggestions were offered by the voters.

The replies grouped themselves around the following main points:

Cut Federal payroll, too many unnecessary employees; cut out unnecessary agencies, combine others	33
Cut budgets for all dept's., cut "across the board"	11
Cut waste, red tape, graft	9
Reduce aid to foreign countries	7
Miscellaneous	8
Don't know	11
	79

While 71 per cent said the government was not trying to cut unnecessary expenses, the above table adds to 79 per cent because some of those persons named more than one expense.

It is noteworthy that virtually no one came out for cuts in military spending—which constitutes the lion's share of the present Federal budget.

57 Per Cent See Trouble

The third question, dealing with the "national bankruptcy" charge, was put to all persons in the survey as follows:

"3. Some people say the United States is spending so much on national defense and aid to other countries that the country is in danger of spending itself into bankruptcy. Do you agree or disagree?"

The vote:
Agree	57
Disagree	30
No opinion	13
	100

As might be expected, there is a marked difference of opinion among Republicans and Democrats on this issue. Here is the party vote:

	Republican	Democrats	Independents
Agree	67	50	56
Disagree	23	38	29
No opinion	10	12	15
	100	100	100

In his speech last month at the dedication of the new General Accounting Office building in Washington, President Truman declared:

"Now, I would like to say a word to comfort and console those who fear that we are spending our way into national bankruptcy. This alarming thought has some currency in certain circles, and it is used to frighten voters.

"The country is stronger economically than it has ever been before. Its people are more prosperous. After paying their taxes, the people have an average per capita income that will buy 40 per cent more than it did in 1939, in spite of increases in prices. Corportaions are making more money than they ever did."

Christmas Is Beginning At Post Office

The flow of overseas Christmas packages is becoming noticeable at the post office this week as H. D. Moreland, postmaster, issues a reminder to Snyder residents to get holiday packages in the mail.

Moreland said that if local packages are mailed before Nov. 15, they will reach their destinations, under normal mailing conditions, by Christmas.

The postmaster also calls to attention several points to be remembered in Christmas mailing:

Parcel post packages are limited to seven pounds or under. Air mail packages should not weigh more than 22.

Parcels should be sturdily wrapped, bound securely, and have contents thoroughly packed.

If sealed, the package must bear a parcel post sticker permitting postal inspection.

"All these points help to insure good mail delivery," Moreland said, "and there is one more thing I'd like to add—I'd like to see each package have one good, plain address."

Former Resident, Mrs. Annie Virginia Conroe, Buried in Fluvanna

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Virginia Conroe, 71, a former resident of Fluvanna and Snyder, were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Bolger - Barnes chapel.

Mrs. Conroe died Saturday in Fort Worth, where she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mabel J. Cooper, in recent years. The Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the rites. Burial was in the Fluvanna cemetery.

Mrs. Conroe was the widow of B. B. Conroe, who died in 1925. They lived in Fluvanna while Mr. Conroe operated a hardware store there. Mrs. Conroe moved to Snyder to live with a daughter shortly after the death of her husband and later moved to Fort Worth.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Cooper include two sons, J. L. Conroe of Crosbyton and E. W. Conroe of San Diego, Calif., a brother, Walter Cannon of Anson, and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Fred Davis, Jimmy Dyess, Jessie Clements, Jack Davis, Earl McDow, Truman Smith, Walter Smith, and Tom Colwell.

Paul Mathew Davis Funeral At 3 Today

Funeral services for Paul Mathew Davis, 55, of route No. 1, were to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Church of Christ.

Lou Boudreau Signs On As Manager For Boston Red Sox Team

BOSTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Red Sox appointed a new manager today — Lou Boudreau, who for many American League seasons was a nuisance to the Boston team. Boudreau, who joined the Sox last spring after his release as Cleveland manager, succeeds Steve O'Neill for whom he once played.

Boudreau, 34, was signed to a two-year contract.

O'Neill, who was a coach at Cleveland when Boudreau led the Indians to the world championship in 1948, will continue in the Sox organization's fary system, it was announced.

Mexicans Theft Victims

DALLAS, Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Manuel Avila Camacho, wife of the former President of Mexico, reported Sunday the theft of $1,000 from her hotel room.

Adolphus Hotel Fire Put Out

DALLAS, Oct. 22. (AP) — Occupants of the 13th floor of the 25-story Adolphus Hotel were evacuated to the hotel lobby early today when a $12,000 fire swept through a room and hallway and damaged several other rooms.

It was the second Dallas fire in 12 hours. A wind-whipped blaze caused $85,000 damage to a two-story building in the 1600 block of Main St. Sunday afternoon.

Two women were overcome by smoke, a man suffered head and face burns and another man collapsed from shock in the hotel fire.

Investigator D. C. Dabbs said the hotel blaze started in a room occupied by Frank Phinney of Big Spring. Phinney told investigators he had left the room about an hour before the blaze was reported at 2:58 a.m. It was not learned how the fire started.

W. Stickler, 52, of Alice, a patron of the 15th floor walked down an outside fire escape. He suffered an attack possibly from the strain and excitement, upon reaching the street and was given hospital treatment.

H. L. Borden, 45, of Philadelphia, was burned about the face and head. Investigator Dabbs said he was directly across the hall from the room in which the fire started.

Helen Inge, 28, and Louise Guyer, 23, both of New York were overcome by smoke and given hospital treatment.

The fire was brought under control at 3:33 a.m. and most of the people in the lobby returned to their rooms.

Investigators were seeking the cause of the four-alarm fire which broke out at 3:52 p.m. Sunday at the National Shirt Shop, 1600 Main St.

Woman Found Dead In Her Hotel Room

DALLAS, Oct. 22. (AP)—Mrs. A. G. McRae, 41, of Denison was found dead in her hotel room here Sunday afternoon.

She and her husband, Denison manager for the Texas Power & Light Co., had come to Dallas for the SMU-Rice football game Saturday.

A porter discovered the body when he went to the room at 5:20 p.m. to pick up luggage.

Her husband was away at the time.

COULDN'T HEAR IT

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 22. (AP) —While Bishop Ealzar Guerra spoke on "thou shalt not steal" in the La Trinidad Methodist Church, last night, a thief broke into his car parked outside and took $150 in clothing.

Guerra Bishop of the Methodist Church of Mexico City, was guest speaker at the church. He stopped in San Antonio en route home from a Methodist meeting in Oxford, England.

Newsmen May Get Ruling On Their Motion

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 22. (AP)—A New Orleans judge is expected to rule today on motions challenging his right to try five crusading Lake Charles newsmen accused of defaming 16 public officials and three admitted gamblers.

The newspapermen were indicted, Aug. 27, on charges of defaming the public officials and gamblers during a crusade against gambling.

The newsmen are Thomas Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press; his son and co-publisher William Hugh Shearman; Kenneth Dixon, managing editor; James Norton, city editor; and Carter George, court house and police reporter.

They were called up for arraignment on the charges last Monday. Before the newsmen were asked to plead, their attorneys filed a group of motions questioning the right of New Orleans Criminal District Judge J. Bernard Cocke to try the cases.

Cocke had been appointed to fill the Lake Charles district court bench in place of Judge Mark Pickril, who is ill.

The motions claimed Cocke's appointment by the Louisiana Supreme Court deprived the newsmen of the right to be tried by a judge elected in the Lake Charles district. The district has two other judges besides Pickril.

The newsmen were indicted, after a heated anti-gambling campaign, on charges of defaming Dist. Atty. Griffin Hawkins, Sheriff Henry Reid, assistant District Attorney Melvin Botherill and the 13 members of the parish (County) police jury, the county governing body.

The newsmen were also accused of defaming Claude Williams, Sam Smith and E. J. Miller, three Lake Charles men who pleaded guilty to gambling charges shortly before the newsmen were indicted.

placement officials from Arkansas and Louisiana scheduled a meeting in Hot Springs, Ark., today to discuss with Labor Department officials the use of imported Mexican farm laborers.

Huge Tasks Face Congress All Over Again When It Returns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The second session of the 82nd Congress convening Jan. 8 will face a crowded work docket, topped by two continuing major problems — national defense and how to pay the huge cost of it.

The first session which ended Saturday night dealt for nine and a half months with those key issues plus a variety of others, and the lawmakers chalked up a spending record for what technically is called peacetime.

Congress went home after appropriating $91 billion. That was the figure most members used, although Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said $8 billion should be added to it to cover so-called permanent appropriations — mostly interest on the national debt.

In any event, only during World War II was the total for a single year greater. In 1943 Congress voted $147 billion, the record.

As Congress was closing up shop, Mr. Truman signed the $5,691,000,000 tax-increase bill which the lawmakers sent to him Friday. He said in a statement that the half loaf he got was not enough, indicating he may seek an additional increase.

In the next session, spending may run even higher than it did during the one just closed. Mobilization officials have made it clear they feel the crest is yet to come.

With the new tax boost unlikely to balance the budget — a deficit of about $5 billion has been predicted — Congress appears certain to be in for more wrestling next year with the same knotty problems, taxes and the defense program.

And the lawmakers undoubtedly will have less time to devote to them in 1952. That's a presidential election year and all House seats and a third of the Senate will be at stake in the election.

At the last session, Mr. Truman fared well on defense and foreign aid appropriations but he ran into a good deal of trouble on his domestic program.

Jail Sentence Given Man Pleading Guilty

Frank James, 18-year-old Negro, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting Will Clay, Snyder Negro, with a knife early yesterday.

James told Edgar Taylor, county judge, the incident occurred during an argument between 5:30 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Rubber-Base Paint Versatile New Product

Wall-Satin, a new interior paint, is being introduced here this week by Forrest Builders Supply, 2109 Twenty - fifth Street.

Its outstanding features is that it is "rubberized," —that is, it has a rubber base that makes it more pliable, longer lasting, easier cleaned, and quicker drying.

Wall-Satin can be applied over almost any surface with complete success from only one coat, Marshall Erwin, head of the paint department at Forrest Builders Supply, says.

It can be applied with a brush, roller, or paint spray gun, and is excellent for painting over wall paper, new or previously painted plaster walls and ceilings, wallboard, interior wall surfaces of concrete block, brick, or cement and on primed or painted wood or metal trim.

"But the thing most persons like about Wall-Satin is its pleasant, perfumed odor while it is new," Erwin says. "It does not have the unpleasant odor most paints have while they are fresh—and it dries dust - free in about 15 minutes."

With all these features, Wall-Satin sounds like a high priced paint, but it is not.

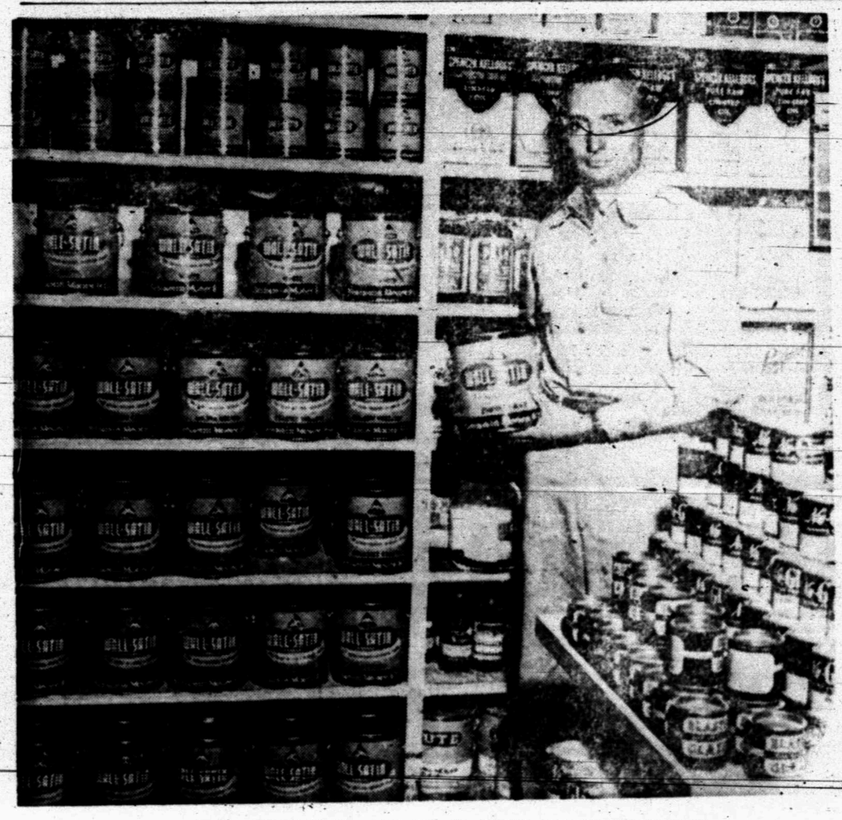

"Actually it costs no more than ordinary paints, and is less expensive than paints which must have two coats applied to cover the surface," he said.

Wall-Satin is obtainable in 12 popular pastel colors to give you the combinations you have been looking for.

'LIKE SLEEPING ON A CLOUD'

Thats how B. W. Dunnam, owner of Dunnam Bros. Mattress Factory, 2302 Avenue S, describes sleeping on the Body Rest mattress he is completing in his factory. It isn't tufted so its smooth surface over responsive inner springs provide comfort rarely equalled.—(Lee Watson photograph.)

NEW RUBBER BASE PAINT INTRODUCED

Marshall Erwin, head of the paint department of Forrest Builders Supply, is shown with a shipment of Moore's Wall-Satin, the ultra-modern rubberized interior finish. In 12 colors it can be applied quickly with a brush, roller, or spray—and dries dust free in 15 minutes leaving a pleasant odor rather than the usual fresh-paint smell.—(Lee Watson photograph.)

Mrs. O'Dwyer Is Promoting Good Relations With Mexicans

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22. (AP) — Mexican and American women are beginning to get together socially at the invitation of Mrs. William O'Dwyer, wife of the U. S. Ambassador.

Mexico City has a big American colony — about 9,000 families — with its own society. Americans seldom go to Mexican parties. Comparatively few Mexicans have gone to American parties.

Mrs. O'Dwyer, the former Sloan Simpson, a New York model, says the mixing now begun is long overdue.

It started when she took an interest in the Garden Club, an old established American group whose annual flower shows sometimes drew as many as 600 people. This year, Mrs. O'Dwyer and Mrs. Beatriz Aleman, wife of President Miguel Aleman, both announced they would attend.

BIG TURNOUT

American women and Mexican social leaders were asked to prepare exhibits. For the first time it was a mixed affair. And, for the first time, 2,000 persons turned out to see it.

Mrs. O'Dwyer also has prodded the U. S. colony into supporting at least one Mexican cultural institution. Mrs. Aleman asked her to head a drive among the Americans for funds for the Xalapa Symphony Orchestra. They thought she might be able to raise 60,000 pesos ($7,000). Actually, she raised 110,000 pesos, nearly twice the quota.

"Then there was the dance we gave for Joan, the ambassador's niece," Mrs. O'Dwyer recalled. "I started out with a list of 200 young people, three-quarters of them Mexicans, but we ended by inviting 300. Nearly all the Mexicans asked if they could bring a friend or a relative.

PRESIDENT'S KIN ATTENDS

"Some of them were in the embassy for the first time. I expect some of them were meeting the American young people in the colony here for the first time. Beatriz Aleman, the President's daughter, was here and so were the children of some of the other officials."

Another project is the Benjamin Franklin Bookmobile, a truck which carries children's books from the U. S.-sponsored library to towns within driving distance of the capital.

"On the last trip we had Maria Elena Ramirez, the woman mayor of Xochimilco, and Mrs. Aaron Saenz — her husband is head of the sugar industry," Mrs. O'Dwyer said.

"Now if we could just get some of the American women to go out on those trips. . ."

New Cars Will Get Changes

DETROIT, Oct. 22. (AP)—The first of the 1952 model automobiles will begin to roll from assembly lines within the next week or 10 days. It probably will be well into next spring before the last of the new model changes have been disclosed.

Most of the new models will have enhanced eye - appeal largely through sheet metal and radiator grille changes. This embraces what the industry calls "face lifting." Heat and glare-proof glass are scheduled for some.

Funds Roll In To McCarthy

HOUSTON, Oct. 22. (AP) — Oilman Glenn McCarthy had two offers today from wealthy Texans to clear up the unpaid expenses of Gen. MacArthur's trip to Texas last June.

McCarthy, himself wealthy, gave no indication which offer, if either, he would accept.

McCarthy was chairman of the MacArthur Arrangements Committee. His figures showed the MacArthur trip cost $8,010.55. He told the city council a donation of $1,000 was all that had been received for the expenses. He asked, and got, $2,500 from the council.

Houston Mayor Oscar B. Holcombe wrote the mayors of Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio suggesting they might like to pick up part of the check. The famous general also visited those cities.

No answer has come from the three cities.

Oilman H. R. Cullen of Houston, chairman of the MacArthur Reception Committee, offered Friday to pay any or all of the unpaid expenses.

The other offer came from Sam E. Wilson Jr., wealthy independent oil man of Corpus Christi. The Houston Post received a check for $5,010.55 from Wilson with this condition:

"To be used in paying the balance of expenses incurred only by the visit of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to Houston, Tex., if the persons responsible and the City of Houston refuse to pay the balance of $5,010.55."

Preacher Roe is Brooklyn's first southpaw 20-game winner in 19 years. The last lefty to do the trick was Watson Clark in 1932.

No Franchise Changes In Gulf Coast League

GALVESTON, Oct. 22. (AP) —There are no indications of any franchise changes among the eight teams of the Gulf Coast Class B Baseball League.

At the loop meeting Sunday, the main discussion was a better-regulated schedule.

President Howard Green said the new 154-game schedule would be drawn up before the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues meeting this winter.

The league's player limit was cut from 17 to 15 per team, including 12 veterans and three limited service.

Talented Girl May Get Sight

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP) —This is the story of a young Texas girl, the piano-playing winner of a television talent program.

Her prize was a trip to Hollywood, but she was brought to New York instead. She wasn't choosing between a movie career and a Broadway concert career. Her choice was a chance for eyesight.

Nanette Tyson, 21, has been blind since birth. The Dallas typist will be examined today by Dr. Ramon Castroviejo, a corneal transplant specialist at St. Clare's Extension Hospital.

She arrived Sunday with her mother and Seeing-Eye dog, "Hope." Miss Tyson said she was "very excited" and "very hopeful."

The sightless girl, who learned to play the piano and to type while in school and at college, said she had been treated here about two years ago and had been saving up ever since for corneal transplant operations.

When she won the TV talent program last week sponsored by Vitamin Corporation of America, the chance she had been waiting for had arrived.

Doak Walker, Detroit Lions' halfback in the National Football League, is called "Saint Doak" by his many admirers in Texas.

Upsets All Over Country Put Titles In Doubtful Position

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The old maxim that most accidents take place right in your own back yard is something to ponder. Ask California, Texas, Texas A&M.

They were rolling merrily along winning game after game some from rivals all over the country — but they awoke with a start today to find their proud records smashed to smithereens by foes they [illegible] camp with no trouble.

The biggest reversal Saturday was Southern California's 21-14 victory over California, a team that had been tied only once in the past four years of regular season competition and which had held a virtual stranglehold on the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

That's all over now if the Trojans can get past Stanford and UCLA, their two remaining league foes. Further, those victories would assure Southern Cal a Rose Bowl bid, which automatically goes to the conference winner provided it has not played there the previous year.

NO PREDICTION DARED

In the Southwest, where the annual [illegible] the Cotton Bowl bid is in full swing, no one would dare make a prediction on the future after Saturday's shenanigans.

Texas was supposed to have no trouble with doormat Arkansas, The Razorbacks won, 16-14. Texas A&M was a cinch over Texas Christian. The underdogs won, 29-14. Southern Methodist was set to sail past Rice. Rice won, 28-7.

Now the standings look like something dreamed up on Mars. Texas Christian is in first place with a 2-0 slate and Texas, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist share the cellar with 0-1 records. Baylor which whipped Texas Tech, 40-10, is the only league team with a clean record, 4-0. However, only one victory has been scored over a league opponent.

BUCKEYES 'NOSEDIVE

Ohio State was the choice to win the Big 10 crown in preseason forecasts. But the Buckeyes have been staggering and after their 32-10 shellacking at the hands of Indiana, one of the league have-nots, they will be lucky to make it.

Defending Champion Michigan heads the class with two wins and no losses after polishing off Iowa, 21-0. But the Wolverines still must play Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern and Ohio State, so the race is far from settled.

In the South, Tennessee, Maryland and Georgia Tech still are in the thick of the fight for top national honors. Tennessee was the prediction for the No. 1 team in the land before the season started, and the Vols have held up admirably, their latest conquest being a 27-13 operation on Alabama.

SOUTH IS WEAKER

But the South in general has been weaker than expected and this more than any other factor, probably has kept the Vols from going to the top in the weekly Associated Press poll. Maryland, which probably will win the Southern Conference title, roared past North Carolina, 14-7, and Georgia Tech knocked Auburn from the ranks of the undefeated, 27-7.

In the East in general, and the Ivy League in particular, the situation also is confused. But it should be ironed out come Saturday when Princeton and Cornell clash. The winner should wind up with the crown. The Tigers warmed up to their task by winning their 17th straight, this one from Lafayette, 61-0, while Cornell polished off Yale, 27-0.

Harvard beat Army, 22-21, and Penn squashed Columbia with a 28-13 trouncing.

In the Big Seven, Oklahoma, last year's mythical national champion, stopped Kansas, 33-21, and Colorado thrashed Kansas State, 20-7. The two winners meet Saturday, and the game will have a major bearing on the conference race.

Notre Dame overwhelmed Pitt, 33-0; Kentucky halted Villanova's streak, 35-13; San Francisco turned back Fordham, 32-26, and Dartmouth upset Syracuse, 14-0, in other major games.

Howard Payne And ACC Are Tops In Loop

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas Conference championship may not be decided until Nov. 22 when Abilene Christian and Howard Payne meet at Brownwood.

Howard Payne has two conference victories. Abilene Christian has one. The Yellow Jackets have chalked up triumphs over Texas A&I and Austin College. Abilene Christian began defense of its 1950 crown Saturday with a 58-to-13 victory over the McMurry College Indians.

Howard Payne has only McMurry in its path, Nov. 10, before meeting Abilene Christian, while ACC has to get past Texas A&I and Austin. McMurry, A&I and Austin can prove stumbling blocks to both Howard Payne and ACC.

Only one conference game is scheduled this week. It is between McMurry and Austin College at Sherman, and will be the Kangaroos' homecoming contest. The game may decide the occupant of the cellar. McMurry has lost two while Austin has one loss.

The other three conference members will strive to gain further recognition in games with Gulf Coast and Lone Star Conference opponents. Probably the most important of the three will be the contest between Abilene Christian, holder of a 3-3 record, and Midwestern at Wichita Falls. ACC took a 14-to-6 win from East Texas in September, while Midwestern last week lost a 26-to-46 game to the East Texans.

Howard Payne will catch the Southwest Texas State Bobcats on the rebound following their 20-to-27 defeat by Stephen F. Austin. The Yellow Jackets rested last week.

Texas A&T, also idle last week travels to Alpine to meet Sul Ross.

Giants Holding On To Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The New York Giants, only team holding an advantage over the Cleveland Browns, take their unbeaten record to the gridiron of the once defeated National Football League top game Sunday.

The Giants, with a 13-13 tie by Pittsburgh the only blot on their record, chalked up their third victory Sunday with a great third-period scoring splurge that downed the Philadelphia Eagles, 26-24.

The Browns' defense also proved their best offense as they blanked Pittsburgh's Steelers, 17-0, for their third success in four outings.

The battle for the National Conference lead was reduced to a two-team affair — Chicago's Bears and Los Angeles. A week ago five teams were deadlocked.

The Bears, with Johnny Lujack coordinating his passing with the running of Rookie John Dottley, defeated San Francisco 13-7.

The Rams, exploding for all of their points in the second half, shut out Green Bay 28-0.

Sammy Baugh, playing every minute the Redskins were on the the offensive, passed for the touchdown that gave Washington a 7-3 triumph over Chicago's Cardinals and the Skins first victory of the season.

Bob Celeri's aerial work was instrumental in bringing the New York Yanks from behind four times as they tied the Detroit Lions' 24-24.

Cutting Horse Tests At State Fair Sunday

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP) — Snipper W., owned by E. P. Waggoner of Fort Worth and ridden by Pine Johnson, won the open cutting horse contest at the State Fair Sunday night. He had 428 points.

Other winners in order included Straw Boss T., owned and ridden by Roy Tharp of Mesquite, 424 points; Chickasha Mike, owned and ridden by Buster Welch of Midland, 422; Buster B., owned by B. C. Bilbo of Dallas and ridden by Bob Burton, 420; Kinchie, owned by E. L. Glaspy of Ennis and ridden by Milt Bennett, 419.

Rice's Howton 60-Minute Man

HOUSTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Speak of the two-phatoon system in Bill Howton's presence and he might think you were talking about the Army.

Bill averages almost 50 minutes per game for Rice. His substitutes are the forgotten men of Southwest Conference football.

There's a reason why Howton plays so much. He has caught 15 passes for 428 yards and five touchdowns. That means every time he takes a throw at least 28 yards of enemy territory is covered.

On defense he's one of the finest in the country. He plays in the line against runs and goes back against passes.

Saturday night was one of his special occasions. He played 57 minutes against SMU. He caught three passes for 136 yards and three touchdowns in leading Rice to a 28-7 victory.

In his last two games — against Navy and SMU — he has played 108 minutes out of a possible 120, has snared seven passes for 268 yards and five touchdowns.

Howton, who weighs only 178 pounds, brings this comment from his coach, Jess Neely: "There just isn't anybody better than this Howton."

Bill is a senior from Plainview. He got his chance when Frank Allen broke his leg in mid-season last year. Allen was a defensive man. So Howton took over both offense and defense and managed 309 minutes in 1950.

In four games this season, Howton has totaled 196 minutes and would just as soon made it 240 — the maximum. His substitutes, Billy Fisk and Ab Boughton, won't play enough to earn their letters if graded on a time basis.

One of the reasons for Howton's ability is his tremendous speed. He runs anchor on the Rice sprint relay team and was third in the Southwest Conference high hurdles last year.

Coach Is Arrested

WEST LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 (AP) — Coach Henry (Red) Sanders of the UCLA football team was arrested and booked on a drunk driving charge Sunday night.

Arizona-Tech Game Tops In Border League

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 22 (AP)—A head-on collision of mighty Arizona and Texas Tech may decide the Border Conference title race Saturday.

The Wildcats, who have been pointing for the contest as their toughest of the season, fly to Lubbock for the afternoon battle. It will climax a home-coming day celebration on the Tech campus.

Arizona is currently at the top of the loop standings, but Tech is rated a two-to-three-touchdown favorite, having marked up an earlier 33-19 victory over TCU and scored rather freely in losing to Baylor, 49-19.

Arizona is showing signs of getting steamed up over the impending battle and will be out to make history repeat itself.

Two other conference games will also be on the docket. West Texas State will be at home to Hardin-Simmons, and Arizona State College at Tempe is host to New Mexico A&M.

Arizona State College at Flagstaff battles Idaho State at Pocatello and Texas Western goes to Ohio to meet Cincinnati.

No conference games were played last week. Texas Western came through with the only victory in the five games against non-conference foes. The Miners trimmed New Mexico University, 32-7, at El Paso.

Arizona State at Tempe led San Diego State with four minutes to go in the California city only to have Art Preston run a kickoff back 96 yards for a touchdown and a 27-27 tie.

Hardin-Simmons' Dunny Goode scored three touchdowns for the hard-riding Cowboys at Houston, but Houston ended up on the big end of a 35-27 score.

The New Mexico Aggies took their sixth defeat of the season at Peoria, Ill., losing, 34-6, to Bradley.

Arizona State at Flagstaff lost a 13-12 heartbreaker to LaVerne College of California.

House Committee Winds Up Baseball Hearings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A House committee trying to find out if organized baseball is monopolistic started today its last series of hearings.

J. Taylor Spink, publisher of the Sporting News, was called to give his views on the reserve clause.

Committee counsel indicated the head of the baseball periodical will be sounded out on other issues such as the desirability of farm systems and the draft rules.

ARKANSAS COACH DIDN'T PUSH BOYS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 22 (AP) — Coach Otis Douglas said today he did nothing special to inspire his Arkansas Razorbacks for their 16-14 upset of Texas Saturday.

"I didn't even talk to them in the dressing room before the game," he added. "The boys just had a quiet determination to win."

"This team," Douglas said, "has had a fine spirit all season. I didn't feel they needed to be inspired any higher. We've been strong enough to have won all our games but have been giving 'em away with our mistakes. We didn't make so many mistakes Saturday [illegible] won.

"It was the best game we've played since I've been here."

To celebrate the victory, Arkansas declared today a holiday at the University. Classes will be resumed Tuesday.

Board Meets On Arrest Of 3 More Cagers

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP) — The octopus-like college basketball scandal tightened its tentacles on two of the game's greatest modern players today and sent cagedom's top pro circuit into an emergency session.

Former Kentucky All-Americas, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, were to be arraigned this morning on a fugitive warrant charging bribery in a 1949 game at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The executive board of the National Basketball Association will meet in New York to consider a policy for the hard-smitten Indianapolis Olympians, from which Groza and Beard, stock-holder stars, already have been suspended.

Seized here Friday night by officers of the New York district attorney's office, Groza and Beard were expected to waive extradition in court today.

With another former Kentucky star, 1949-50 captain, Dale Barnstable, they will face bribe charges before the New York grand jury. Barnstable Sunday went from Louisville, where he coaches at a high school, to New York.

The three have admitted accepting $500 bribes each from a ring of gamblers to rig the point spread against Loyola of Chicago in a 1949 invitational tourney game at Madison Square Garden. Underdog Loyola won, 67-56, in what was regarded as a prime upset.

Quarterback Club To Hear By-laws Read At Meeting Tuesday Night

Reading of the by-laws for adoption of the Quarterback Club members is scheduled for their Tuesday night meeting at the high school cafeteria, M. R. Estes, chairman of the program committee, announced today.

Estes said he had assisted Wayland Holt for the past month in preparing the by-laws, which were worked up from those of other clubs of the same type.

The club also plans to have an Abilene football coach speak to the members, but the coach has not yet been contacted.

New Names Take Limelight In Southwest Conference Battles

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

The Southwest Conference divides its time this week between throatcutting at home and scalping afield.

Two more conference games — considered as the most crucial of the season until Saturday — are scheduled with Baylor, the last undefeated untied team in the league, meeting Texas A&M at College Station and Rice, one of three unbeaten teams in the conference race, going to Austin to battle Texas.

The shine was removed from [illegible] most complete round of upsets in football history had the coaches talking to themselves, the fans shouting at each other and the gamblers hunting holes to hide in.

RICE COMPLETED PICTURE

Texas, the nation's No. 4 team, was toppled by twice-beaten Arkansas, 16-14. Texas A&M, the No. 6 outfit, was slugged into a 20-14 defeat by a last-quarter TCU revival.

Rice completed the upset picture by slamming SMU, 28-7, after being a 13½ point underdog.

The conference is in a mess except in intersectional play. Against the powers from outside, the league has the gaudiest record in the nation — 13 victories against five defeats.

Saturday it will have a chance to make the margin prohibitive. TCU battered but happy, journeys to Los Angeles to play Southern California, the team that licked the nation's No. 1 eleven — California — last Saturday. Arkansas, busting its buttons over shooting down mighty Texas, plays Santa Clara at Little Rock in a night game.

Ray McKown, the "substitute" tailback of TCU, Bill Howton, the iron-man wing of Rice; Lamar McHan, the dazzling Arkansas sophomore, and Larry Isbell whized of Baylor's T, had the plaudits Saturday.

McKOWN BIG SENSATION

McKown quarterbacked TCU to whip A&M, scoring one touchdown on a 49-yard run, another on a line plunge and, setting up another with [illegible] He stepped into star [illegible] when two tailbacks, Gil Bartosh and Malvin Fowler, went out with injuries.

Howton caught three passes for 136 yards and three touchdowns in the rout of SMU.

McHan piloted Arkansas to its smashing upset of Texas, his passing and running providing the heart of the frenzied Razorback offense.

Isbell completed 13 of 18 passes for 155 yards and two touchdowns, then scored a touchdown in carrying Baylor to a smashing 40-20 triumph over Texas Tech.

Gil Dawson of Texas got a touchdown against Arkansas to keep the conference scoring lead. Dawson has 36 points; Howton is second with 30.

Princeton, with a 17-game winning streak, took similar orders but not from the governor . . . Before the game with Lafayette at Palmer Stadium the Princeton band spelled out: "Murder the Macoon" . . . Princeton won, 60-7 at a point-a-minute pace . . .

Quote-unquote: Col. Earl (Red) Blaik, coach of Army's winless team: "This isn't the best team I've ever coached, but it's the most generous."

Boys who have been wearing their trousers thin on the bench came in for a lot of glory . . . Ray McKown, a third-string quarterback who went in when the two top signal-callers were injured, sparked TCU to its three-touchdown rally in the final quarter that beat the Texas Aggies . . . Allen Muirhead, a 19-year-old freshman replacement for the injured Dick Westerman, led Mississippi to its 25-6 triumph over Tulane . . . Chet Corning, a sub tailback from Summit, N. J., was the big cog in Penn's 28-13 win over Columbia . . . A sub, Dick Jennison, scored both touchdowns in Dartmouth's 14-0 victory over Syracuse.

Kick Favorite Club In Shape

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Hanging Monday's football wash out to dry, and who said there's nothing sure but death and Texas?

Texas is about the unsurest thing in football, with everybody in the Lone Star State a member of the kick-the-favorite club . . . Texas and Texas A&M had their perfect records spoiled Saturday by conference members . . . Texas lost to Arkansas, 16-14, and the Aggies went down before TCU, 20-14 . . . Also Rice won, 28-7, over SMU, the team that beat Notre Dame . . . But it took a governor's proclamation to beat Texas . . . Last week Arkansas' chief executive, the Razorbacks' snap Texas' 13-Sid McMath, issued an order that the Razorbacks snap Texas' 13-year victory string in the series . . . The Razorbacks obeyed.

Baylor Makes Defense Pay

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—The games produce high scores and astronomical yardage afoot and in the air, but there still is such a thing as defense in football.

Baylor is the only undefeated, untied team left in the Southwest Conference and has done it by keeping the opposition from scoring.

Baylor's defensive record is the best in the conference. It has allowed less yardage — just 198.5 per game — and fewer points — only 41 in four games.

The Bears have a sharp enough offense although it has not produced the most points. Baylor is second in offense with an average of 322 yards per game.

Texas A&M tops in that department with 365 per game but the Aggie defense almost matches.

Conference statistics today show Glen Lippman of A&M topping the ground-gainers with 334 yards on 59 carries. Gib Dawson of Texas is second with 294 on 36.

Fred Benners of SMU is No. 1 in passing with 68 completions out of 132 throws for 780 yards. He is first in total offense although he has a 22-yard deficit in rushing. He has 758 yards on 151 total plays.

Larry Isbell of Baylor is second in passing with 40 connections in 82 throws for 571 yards and Lamar McHan of Arkansas is second in total offense with 624 yards on 134 plays.

Leaders Play In Lone Star

(By The Associated Press)

A battle between the leaders features this week's play in the Lone Star Conference.

Sam Houston State, ahead with a 2-0 record, clashes with East Texas State (1-0) at Huntsville Saturday.

Other members of the conference take on outsiders and they all have tough games. Southwest Texas State, which lost its first game of the season last week — 27-20 to Stephen F. Austin — clashes with Howard Payne at San Marcos.

Sul Ross takes on Texas A&T at Alpine. Lamar Tech, three-time loser, tackles Trinity at Beaumont. Stephen F. Austin plays Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Nacogdoches.

Sam Houston State pushed to the top of the standings by whipping Lamar Tech, 33-14. East Texas State blasted Midwestern of the Gulf Coast Conference, 46-26. Sul Ross took a 35-13 licking from Florida State.

Lamar Tech's little Sammy Carpenter continues to roll along in the race for individual scoring honors.

The break-away speedster picked up another touchdown in a 33-14 loss to Sam Houston last week to give him 48 points for the season.

Beauty Contest Judges Need Set Of Standards To Go By

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Some colleges have courses that teach the best way to catch a fish, or instruct a lady in how to get along with one after she marries him.

You can also go to college and learn how to play an old Roman band instrument, figure your income tax, cook without garlic, or run for public office.

But so far no university has started a class in how to judge a beauty contest. It's about time for a few to do so.

Judging beauty contests is one of America's most rapid-growing industries. If you haven't been asked to be a judge in a beauty contest yet, don't sulk. You will be. There are too many for you to escape.

WANTS TO BE FAIR

In judging beauty every man wants to do his duty. He is as wholly honest then as he ever will be in his life. He wants to be fair to the fair.

But the trouble is he doesn't have any standards to go by except his own.

Judging a heifer is a different matter entirely. The stock experts look the critter over for certain fine points everybody agrees are prime requirements of the breed. Then they slap it on the flank to be sure it is round and firm and fully packed. And they are then ready to score it.

You can't operate in a beauty contest in this scientific manner. When it comes to judging ladies, every man comes to the tournament with a different idea.

NO AGREEMENTS

There is no advance agreement among them as to what they are looking for. And the contests are altogether too formal. The beauties parade back and forth in a stilted walk.

Research by judges is discouraged. They are no longer allowed to bring their own tape measures to check on the figures given. If they have a suspicion that some of the statistics are false or padded, they can do nothing about it. The girls are anything they say they are — and that's that.

The whole problem ought to be dumped in Harvard's lap. The profs there are good at figures.

But the way beauty contests are run now the average winner isn't necessarily the most beautiful. She is merely the one that a majority of the judges would most hate to be caught out with by their wives.

NIGHTMARE DROP

BOSTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Francis Curran, 34 went to bed Sunday night and when he woke up he was a trapeze act.

Curran told police he woke shivering and found himself hanging by his fingers from a window on his third floor room.

He was naked. Curran said he yelled for help but finally decided to risk a drop of about 35 feet to the ground.

Police said a patrolman found him unconscious and a hospital reported he suffered a broken leg and cuts.

Freeze On TV May Be Lifted Next February

By JACK ADAMS
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—When do we get television in our town?

You hear that question every day, in places large and small, scattered over more than half of the United States.

For more than three years it has been the most frequent inquiry received at the offices of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). Officially, FCC says only: "As soon as we can arrange it." That agency, all-powerful in the station-licensing field, does not want to be pinned down to promises it may not be able to keep.

However, you might make a big red check-mark by the month of February, 1952. It now seems pretty certain that the commission will act during that month to lift the freeze on new TV station grants which has been in effect since Oct. 1, 1948.

CHANNEL ASSIGNMENTS

The "unfreeze" will be accompanied by publication of a final table of local channel assignments, which will settle what your community is to get by way of operating space in the broadcasting spectrum.

A "reasonable period" — 30 to 60 days — will then be allowed for the filing of new applications and the amendment of applications now in hand, in the light of the final local assignments.

FCC expects to start processing these applications by April 1. That means some actual grants by midsummer.

If someone in your town — who has the $250,000 to $500,000 necessary to build a station — applies to the FCC and gets a break in his favor on every possible factor, you may see your station in operation by sometime late next year.

But that will be the exceptional case. Largely, it can apply only where there is no contest over the channel sought and where the applicant has "taken a chance" and placed an advance order for his transmitter and studio equipment.

The talk in the trades is that possibly as many as 100 of the current applicants for new stations have quietly bought everything they need to start up in business. The equipment is in warehouses while the owners keep their fingers crossed for the requested construction permit. There is going to be a great race to be first on the air after the freeze.

The big delays in new station operations will occur in those areas where there is a battle over the channels, where the number of applicants exceed the local channel assignments. In such places, initial or additional TV may be years away — competitive hearings often take that long.

Vatican Wants Sailing Fleet

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 22. (AP)—The Vatican — with no seaport or air field — plans to have a fleet and maybe an air flotilla.

The Holy See in a decree Sunday announced its participation in an international convention covering ocean fleets for states which have no seaports.

The decree did not specify how many ships the Vatican intends to build or buy or what size of type they will be. It said only that the convention would cover "any ship carrying goods and passengers to or from the Vatican City State to or from any port abroad."

The vessels, the decree said, will fly the Vatican flag and will have civilian commanders. The ship chaplains will be second in command.

A Vatican source said the Holy See also is considering establishing an airport. To date the Vatican has owned no planes, he said, because of lack of landing space on the Papal state's 108.7 acres of territory.

Borden County Field Well Is Completed

Lario Oil & Gas Co. No. 1-B T. L. Griffin has been completed as a new oiler in the Hobo field of Borden County.

The well flowed eight hours on the completion test to make a potential of 663 barrels of 45.8 gravity oil. Gas - oil ratio was 1,122-1. The flow was through an 18-64th-inch choke with casing pressure 600 and tubing pressure 1,000 pounds. No water was present.

Top of the pay was at 7,070 feet, with five and one-half inch casing set at 7,079 feet. Total depth is 7,095 feet.

The No. 1-B Griffin is in section 46-25-H&TC.

Salt Creek Well Makes 504 Barrels Per Day

General Crude Oil Co. and Percy Jones No. 5-4 Percy Jones, Kent County Salt Creek field location, has been completed for 504.24 barrels of oil flowing natural from open hole above 6,476 feet, total depth.

Gravity of the oil is 39.6 degrees. Gas - oil ratio on the test was 252-1. The well was flowed 20 hours on the potential test.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of the lease in section 5, John Rodman survey.

Chapman & McFarlin Complete Cogdell Well

Chapman & McFarlin Producing Co. has completed the No. 51 D. M. Cogdell from the Canyon reef in the Cogdell field of Kent County.

The well flowed 12 hours on the completion test to make a calculated potential of 502.32 barrels of 40.7 gravity oil. Gas - oil ratio on the test was 678-1. The hole had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

The flow was through a three-quarter inch choke with casing pressure zero and tubing pressure 110 pounds. Pay was topped at 6,990 feet. Total depth is 7,028 feet.

The No. 51 Cogdell is in section 46-97-H&GN.

Cities Service No. 4 McLaughlin Is Finaled

Cities Service Oil Co. No. 4-B McLaughlin has been completed for a potential of 812 barrels of oil flowing natural through a three-quarter inch choke.

Fluid on the test was .6 of one per cent water. Gas - oil ratio was 570-1. Gravity of the oil was 43.9 degrees.

The flow was for a six - hour period. Casing pressure was zero, with tubing pressure 130 pounds. Top of the pay was at 6,684 feet. Total depth is 6,740 feet.

The well is in the B lease in section 184-97-H&TC.

Earthquake On Formosa

TAIPEH, Formosa, Oct. 22. (AP)—Two persons were reported killed and seven injured today in Formosa's sharpest earthquake in many years.

The death and injuries were reported from Tainan, a bustling port and railroad center on the southwest coast.

Kent County Gains Two Well Locations

Locations for two new projects in Kent County fields have been announced.

Texas Gulf Producing Co. of Midland is to begin operations by Oct. 21 on the No. 1 Frank Stewart, located about 10 miles northwest of Clairemont. Drillsite is 2,090 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of section 3, John Rodman survey. Projected depth is 7,000 feet.

General Crude Oil Co. and Percy Jones No. 79-2, tract 2, Percy Jones is to be dug in the Clairemont -- Lower Pennsylvanian field one and one-half miles south-southwest of Clairemont. Operations are to begin immediately.

Location is 570 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 79-G-W&NW. Rotary tools will drill to a possible bottom of 6,775 feet.

Cogdell Field Pumper Makes 107 Bbls. Daily

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 A. J. Riley, Cogdell field location in North Scurry County, pumped 24 hours on the completion test to make a potential of 107.51 barrels of 41 gravity oil.

Gas - oil ratio on the test was 528-1. The well had been acidized with 3,000 gallons.

Pay was topped at 6,971 feet. The well was drilled to 7,083 feet and plugged back to 7,062 feet. Five and one-half inch casing was set at 7,075 feet. Casing perforated from 6,980-6,992 feet.

The well is in section 653-97-H&TC.

Kelley-Snyder Location

Magnolia Petroleum Co. is to begin operations by Oct. 22 on the No. 2-F LeFors - Mooar, five and one-half miles northwest of Snyder in the Kelley - Snyder field.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 341-97-H&TC. Projected depth is 7,000 feet.

Tories Plan Changes, But Not As Drastic As Some Believe

LONDON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Most of Britain's nationalized industries will remain nationalized — even if Winston Churchill's Conservatives win the general election next Thursday.

The Labor Government has taken over many of the nation's key resources: coal mines, iron and steel mills, railroads, docks, airlines, canals, power and gas plants and long distance trucking.

That's an estimated 20 per cent of the nation's industry, but the conservatives say, if they oust Labor, they will return to private owners only the iron and steel plants and some of the 40,000 trucks. All the rest would remain in state hands.

That doesn't mean the champions of private enterprise have fallen under the influence of Karl Marx. But the Socialists have been thorough and, as Churchill's deputy, Anthony Eden, puts it, the Tories have more important things to do than to try to "unscramble the eggs."

BEYOND RECOGNITION

There has been too much reorganization in the nationalized industries that the nature of the investments has changed beyond recognition and even with the best will, it would be impossible to bring the old shareholders and their assets together again.

That applies to the power plants, for instance, and the docks, canals and airlines. There are also national development programs which the government — whatever party it came from — would not like to interrupt. British Electricity Authority, which runs all power plants, is in the middle of building 43 new electricity stations and expanding 27 others.

In some cases, such as the airlines, the pre-nationalization business enjoyed a government subsidy, so that was practically government-controlled anyway.

Nor is there any big public demand for denationalization. Many consumers complain of high prices, but no private industrialists have come forward with offers to do the job in competition with the government — and bring prices down.

Some Conservatives say privately that state control of coal mines and the railways was inevitable. There's no doubt now that it's permanent.

INTERVENTION NEEDED

At the end of world war II a weary, battered Britain needed extra coal supplies to raise the groggy country off her knees. But the mines themselves were in hardly better shape.

That's why all Conservatives needed, and today, nearly five years after the mines were socialized, Tory strategists are not disposed to argue about who ought to own them. The main job, they say, is to push ahead with the national coal development program and make the mines administration more efficient.

The National Coal Board—which runs the mines — is spending $1.45 billion on the development projects.

So far deep-mined coal production has been boosted from 181 million tons a year before socialization to some 204 million tons. The aim is to reach 240 million tons by 1961 — and Britain is likely to need every ounce of it.

BETTER ORGANIATION

The increase is due entirely to better organization and equipment. Tens of millions of tons actually have been lost to the nation because there are not eough men in the pits to fill the jobs going.

Lack of manpower is only one of socialized mining's headaches. Higher output hasn't avoided frequent fuel shortages because consumption increased just as fast. London was blacked out by fuel shortages in February 1947 — two months after nationalization — and Britain only avoided the same fate last winter by buying American coal. It's nip and tuck whether the nation will get through this winter without a similar shopping expedition.

Consumers have three big complaints about nationalized coal.

The first — they don't get enough of it. Secondly, that prices keep rising. The third kick is about the quality. There's no doubt that some pretty poor fuel is being hauled laborously out of the depths of England.

Even the miners are not completely happy about nationalization—which they strongly urged in the past. They say they've changed the boss they knew for a remote bureaucracy that sits in London and gives orders.

TORIES PROMISE CHANGE

It's here that the Tories say they will make changes if they are elected. Instead of one administration centralized in London, authority would be divided amongst numerous regional groups in close touch with their own workers.

The coal mines pay their own way, but they are not likely to be money makers for a long time owing to the big development expenditure.

There's no money at all in the nationalized rail system, however. They were $30 million in the red last year. But Britain's railroads were running at a loss long before nationalization.

Apart from a few prosperous war years, when they earned big sums hauling troops and ammunition, the four privately owned railroad systems had been getting deeper into debt almost since World War I.

That's why many Britons who aren't Socialists long regarded nationalization of railroads as inevitable. The railroads are essential national communication links — and could not be allowed to run down. Private enterprise was not inclined to invest sums which brought no returns.

MERGERS TRIED

Since it took over on January 1, 1948, the Nationalized Railway Executive has tried to plug operating losses by merging the four original companies standardizing every aspect of railroad administration.

So far that policy hasn't pulled the railroads out of the red — but it's made lots of rail employes see red.

Railroad men, like the miners, complain the centralized board running the railroads hangs like a deadweight round the necks of the men who do the work.

The Conservatives agree. They don't plan to denationalize the railroads — because it's pretty certain they wouldn't find a buyer.

But, as in the case of the mines, they promise to decentralize, restoring authority to regional bodies.

Unlike coal mining, railroads and power plants, iron and steel has not undergone any radical changes last industry taken over by the Sovialist state — only eight months ago.

LABORITES CAUTIOUS

With only a tiny majority in parliament and facing a barrage of criticism that they were threatening Britain's highly feared engineering industries, the Laborites devised a cautious method of State Ownership which left the set-up of private firms unaltered.

The 92 companies — who own every steel mill in the country except those operated by automobile manufacturers — are still churning out metal under the immediate leadership of their old private enterprise directors in most cases, but ultimate authority has been transferred from the shareholders to the British iron and steel corporation and its Socialist millionaire boss Steven Hardie.

Hardie hasn't interfered much, although he has replaced some 40 directors, out of a total of several hundred, with his own nominees. Hardie's corporation compensated private investors by swopping their steel shares for more than $7,84 million worth of government stock.

All the Tories plan to do under denationalization is reverse the Socialist procedure. First they would repeal the Iron and Steel Nationalization Act. That would entitle them to fire Hardie and dissolve his corporation. Then they would swap those shares back again.

THOUSANDS NATIONALIZED

Long-distance trucking was taken under the wing of the labor government in January 1948. Since then more than 3,000 trucking firms with 40,000 vehicles have been taken over by British road services, the state monopoly on the roads.

To avoid its monopoly being threatened by 54,500 private enterprise trucks still left on the road, the Labor Government limited them to runs of not more than 25 miles.

The Tories plan a gradual return to full competition on the roads, although their government would not necessarily go out of the trucking business altogether.

As truckers gradually buy their business back from the government, the Tories say they would simultaneously increase the 25-mile distance limit by stages until, when enough private truckers have been denationalized, it would be abolished altogether.

The Tories favor this gradual approach the best way of avoiding disruption in road shipments and freight charges.

Bomb Scares In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Two anonymous tips that the fashionable Stork Club would be blown up brought police squads to the restaurant twice over the weekend.

Both times emergency squads went through the eight-story building housing the club, but they found no explosives. The first scare was Saturday night, the second Sunday.

One caller said the club would be bombed because it refused to admit Negroes.

Singer Josephine Baker, a Negro, has complained that she was ignored by Stork Club waiters when she visited the place last Tuesday.

Meanwhile, police bomb squads received another workout Sunday night after a anonymous telephone caller told of a time bomb at Pennsylvania Station. Officers searched for four hours without finding an explosive.

On Friday, a similar bomb scare sent police squads to City College of New York for a five-hour search.

Snow, Rain In North States

(By The Associated Press)

Snow, rain and some freezing temperatures appeared on the weather map today — but a large portion of the country enjoyed mild weather.

South Dakota and Nebraska had some snow — not unusual weather in the area for this time of the year. It was quite cool in most of the Plains States and the New England States.

The heaviest rain belt — with showers and thundershowers — formed a band from the Northern Great Lakes southward to the Middle Mississippi Valley and Southern Plains States. Rain also fell in the Pacific Northwest and Georgia and Northern Florida.

Mild weather ranged from the Eastern Great Lakes southwestward to Texas.

Ely, Nev., had an early morning temperature of 20, the lowest in the nation. Other readings included Rumford, Me., 29; Chicago, 62; Minot, N. D., 22; Goodland, Kas., 31; Los Angeles 60 and Miami 72.

News Withheld From Public Is Coming Out Now In Book Form

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON. — The American people have been the victims of so much suppression of inside news by the administration in power, which has the right to deny confidential data to investigating committees of Congress, that the disclosures in books of memoirs have often furnished the missing link in information to which the public is entitled.

Two books — the diaries of James Forrestal and now the memoirs of Jesse H. Jones, former head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation — reveal news somewhat different from the expressions of piety and high-mindedness which are to be found in the official propaganda of public statements and speeches.

For both Mr. Forrestal and Mr. Jones now confirm what the American people have long suspected but upon which they have had little first-hand knowledge — namely, that politics is played by Presidents of the United States with the most serious matters of public policy. Thus, in the diaries just published by the Viking Press, Mr. Forrestal wrote in July, 1948:

"He (President Truman) told me that he would make a negative decision on the question of the transfer of custody of atomic bombs and said that political considerations, at the immediate moment, had influenced this decision. He indicated that after election it would be possible to take another look at the picture."

The American people will be amazed to learn that on such a subject as the custody of the atomic bomb — whether it should be in the military or in the civilian side — the decision should be influenced not by the merits of the problem itself but by what is good or bad from the standpoint of the President's own political fortunes.

Much more extreme is the statement of Jesse H. Jones, who made an enviable record in the RFC, not only because he handled the affairs of that institution without political influence but because he insisted that any order he got from the President in managing the affairs of the RFC should be in writing.

Mr. Jones, in his book entitled "Fifty Billion Dollars," just published by the MacMillan Company, says the late President Roosevelt tried to get the RFC to buy the Empire State Building at what Mr. Jones thought was an inflated price. Mr. Roosevelt's purpose was to bail out Al Smith and other Democrat personages who were at that time involved in the tangled affairs of a real-estate venture which in recent years has happily turned out well but which at that time was a worry to the backers. It is not clear whether Mr. Roosevelt wanted to help the Democratic leaders because of party reasons or to get a leverage on them so that they would be less hostile to him politically. At any rate, Mr. Jones in his book calls Mrs. Roosevelt a "total politician" and goes so far as to say that "Regardless of his oft repeated statement 'I hate war,' he (Mr. Roosevelt) was eager to get into the fighting sized that would insure a third term. . . . He changed his tactics whenever politics seemed to dictate, and with no intention of leaving the White House until voted out — or carried out."

Mr. Jones' dramatic comments are in line with what several of the leaders of the so-called "isolationist" group have always claimed were the motivating reasons for American involvement in World War II. The revelations will be disappointing to all those persons, including this correspondent, who have heretofore defended Mr. Roosevelt's policies in 1940 and 1941 and who have insisted that Mr. Roosevelt's political ambitions were merely coincident with a situation developing in the world that was beyond his control. There's no doubt, however, that Mr. Jones' comments will weight considerably with the group who have argued, as Mr. Jones does now, that "in the beginning his (Mr. Roosevelt's) purposes were undoubtedly high, but as the years went by and the mill seemed to require a new kind of grist to keep him in the driver's seat he never hesitated to provide it."

Second Revolt Quelled In Venezuela Sunday

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 22. (AP)—Venezuela's military government put down the second unsuccessful revolt in nine days Sunday. It announced that one person was killed, two were wounded and 40 taken prisoner in a dawn rebel attack on an officer's training school near Caracas.

Attempts also were made to bomb the transmitters of three Caracas radio stations Sunday night, however, the National Press office announced that order had been restored.

Piano Tips Over And Kills 5-Year-Old Girl

LEVITTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 22. (AP)—At the modern public school here, where the St. Francis Episcopal Church meets, virtually everything is new — but not the upright piano.

After Sunday School class Sunday, several children climbed up on the piano to play.

The upright, standing on three casters and a book, suddenly tipped over — and crushed to death five-year-old Jennifer Ann Hume, the daughter of an Air Force staff sergeant.

Six-Year-Old Killed; Playmate Injured

LARCHMONT, N. Y., Oct. 22. (AP)—Two six-year-old boys tied a rope around their waists and pulled it taut between them yesterday as they stood on opposite sides of the street.

A car came along and hit the rope. The children were thrown to the pavement. John H. Edwards Jr. was killed. His friend, Shahin Akhavi, suffered a fractured skull.

A chain of towns in the Ruhr valley of Germany is called the "Wuppertal" (witches' valley) because of the eerie glaze of its steel mills.

BULL BRINGS $160,000

Handler Henry McGhee holds the halter of Larry Domino 107th, Hereford bull valued at a world's record $160,000 after a half ownership brought $80,000 at a dispersal sale of Honey Creek ranch's herd at Grove, Oklahoma. The half share was purchased by Joe Birdwell, Wichita Falls oilman and rancher. The other half interest is held by Milky Way Farm, Phoeniz, Ariz. The late Harry Stekeell, Honey Creek founder, originally paid $35,000 for his share.

John L. Lewis Thinks Unions Played Part In British Plight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP) — John L. Lewis, America's No. 1 coal miner, thinks coal is still king of industry and that it will be a long time before atomic energy displaces it.

The leader of the 400,000 soft coal and 80,000 hard coal miner members of the United Mine Workers of America (UMW) thinks Britain's economic plight might have been avoided if it could dig coal faster.

The threatened expulsion of British interests from Egypt and Iran, and even the loss of India, might not have occurred had Britain been economically stronger at home, suggests this son of a Welsh coal miner.

If Britain could turn out another 200 million tons a year, its economic security could be assured, Lewis suggests. It has the coal in the ground.

U. S. SUPPLY HUGE

The U. S. has enough coal to last several hundred years and knows how to get it out of the earth at an average rate of seven tons a day per man for bituminous and about three tons a day for hard coal.

Britain, on the other hand, gets about one ton of bituminous coal a day from each of its 750,000 diggers. Union policy has been partly responsible, Lewis says. The UMW has encouraged mechanization, but the British coal miners union in the past has opposed it.

Lewis has talked these issues over with British coal mine union and industry representatives both here and in London.

In conversations with Lewis one gets the idea this is his favorite topic—the future of the coal industry and the importance it may play in keeping the U. S. economically sound.

"This country, and the world, are still on a coal economy," he said in an exclusive interview. "Atomic energy will not be a competitive power threat for many years to come, because we have had to devote almost all atomic research to military uses. And that will continue for some time."

Lewis points out that supplies of uranium, on which mastery of the atom has depended in experiments to date, are extremely scarce.

Even water power is insufficient to constitute a real threat to coal for industrial purposes, Lewis contends. The water just isn't there when you need it most, he says, and that's why steam stand-by plants, geared to coal, have had to be constructed at major power dams.

As with atomic energy, the military demands for oil also cut down the threat of petroleum as an industrial competitor to coal.

Lewis is confident that coal is the industrial fuel of today and of the foreseeable tomorrow.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Rattlesnakes around here aren't particular whom they bite.

Last week a Dallas family en route to the Carlsbad Caverns stopped here to eat. While the children were playing in a ravine near the restaurant a rattler struck six-year old Mike Vaughn.

His father, Dorman Vaughn, a Dallas fireman trained in all first aid techniques, was credited with saving the boy's life. He quickly slashed the bite with a knife, drained most of the lethal venom, then rushed Mike back to town for medical treatment.

According to a recent article in a Dallas paper, Mike holds no grudge against Snyder, his main concern being missing school for the first time.

The party introducing Mrs. ELI-LY JAY EILAND Saturday afternoon brought out a collection of attractive formals which members of the houseparty wore.

Red nylon net was swirled into a floor - length dress worn by the young Mrs. EILAND. The dress was covered with pearl teardrops.

Mrs. HORACE EILAND, at whose home the party was given, wore a mauve floor - length gown of lace and crepe. Mrs. WADE WINSTON, also a hostess, wore a black crepe and chiffon gown beaded in black. Another hostess, MRS. W. D. HARRAL, wore dress of a pink taffeta sown trimmed with crystal bugle beads.

Ballerina length was the dress worn by Mrs. J. P. MEADOWS, Jr., a member of the honoree party. The dress was of pink nylon and net. Also in ballerina length formals were Mrs. J. SCOTT CASEY and Mrs. SAM JOYCE, who wore black net embellished with gold flowers.

Mrs. JOE GRAHAM'S gown was deep rose crepe beaded with pearls. She, as did all the other members of the houseparty, wore carnations in her hair.

FULL-TIME FIREMEN IN NEW UNIFORMS

Snyder's paid firemen look like a fire department since the arrival of uniforms for the entire staff. From left above are: Bill Butler, G. L. Autry, H. Cunningham, Warren Boyd, Ed Schuler, Paul Spittle, and Ivan Gatlin. Butler and Spittle man the sub station in East Snyder. Autry has been on the department longer than any other one man, and Gatlin is supervisor of the fire department and fire marshal.

Tea Is Given In Honor Of Mrs. Eiland

Mrs. Wade Winston, Mrs. W.D. Harral and Mrs. Horace H. Eiland were an introductory party Saturday afternoon honoring Mrs. Billy Jay Eiland, the former Miss Nancy Morgan.

About 125 guests called at the Horace Eiland home, 2901 Avenue U, which was decorated throughout with chrysanthemums. Carnations were used on the registry table.

The tea table was appointed with silver and centered with an arrangement of pink delight roses. White candles were also used.

Members of the houseparty, in addition to the hostesses, included Mrs. Sam Williams, Mrs. C.W. Popnoe, Mrs. Joe Graham, Mrs. Sam Joyce, Mrs. J. Scott Casey, Mrs. J. R. Meadows, Jr., Mrs. D. M. Cordell, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Roberts, Mrs Wilson Howell, Mrs. Jimmie Walker, Mrs. J. W. Headsteam, and Miss Durelle Stokes.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Guy Eiland, Stanton; Mrs. C. V. Morgan of Olney, the honoree's mother; Mrs. Charles T. Wolverton, Mrs. L. N. Hays and Mrs. Si C. Jeffery, Olney.

ASK MILDRED

Mail or phone your questions to Mrs. Mildred Sparks, Home Demonstration Agent, Courthouse, or to the Daily News.

We have been given wild game from time to time, but my family does not care for the wild flavor. I have heard that cooking the meat with an onion removes the unpleasant flavor, and I wonder if you could give me some recipes for preparing the meat.

Experience proves that almost every person likes game when it is properly prepared and cooked. Since your family objects to the wild or "gamey" flavor in some of the meats, try one of the methods for removing part of that flavor suggested by home economists of the Lone Star Gas Co.

For venison, moose, elk, large rabbits: Marinate small cuts of meat or small animals for three or four hours in a solution containing one part vinegar or lemon juice to three parts salad oil and season with any spices preferred. Dill seed, garlic, onion, thyme, bay leaves, cloves, celery seed are good. As well as giving a milder flavor, marinating tenderizes meat fibers.

For large ducks, geese and pheasants parboil 15 minutes in a deep kettle of water to which whole peeled onions, carrots and apples have been added.

For small ducks, geese or pheasants, place a whole peeled onion, carrots and apples in the cavity of the bird and prepare as desired. Parboiling is not recommended for doves or quail, since these are tender birds and have a delicate flavor.

Now for the actual preparation of the game. Wild Duck, Texas Style, is based on the premise that you have two wild ducks, each weighing about 2½ pounds.

Combine 1 cup each of diced celery, minced onion, seeded raisins and coarsely chopped pecan meats with 2 eggs and 4 cups soft bread crumbs. Mix well, add and blend ½ cup scalded milk. Stuff ducks with the mixture, skewer or sew the opening and place 3 strips of bacon across breast of each duck.

Place ducks on rack in an uncovered roasting pan. Roast in very hot oven (500 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to 350 degrees F and roast for 1 hour and 45 minutes. Serves 4.

If the deer hunter brings back a touch old buck this recipe for Venison Swiss Steak is especially suitable.

Dredge with flour, salt and pepper 1½ pounds venison steak; brown the meat in fat in a heavy skillet and add 3 large onions sliced, 1 medium piece celery, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon salt.

Cover tightly and cook over medium flame 1 hour. Add additional tomatoes during cooking, if necessary.

THE STARS

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22. (AP)—Director Mark Robson offers the reassuring news that kissing is on the upswing in Hollywood.

We engaged in a clinical discussion of movie kissing and love scenes over lunch and the distinguished director observed that film smooching runs in cycles.

"There seems to be a re-birth of kissing on the screen now," said Robson. "It happens every five or 10 years and then dies out for a period of time. The trend is evidenced in the movie ads. Now you'll find wide use of photographs in which Marlon Brando, Elizabeth Taylor or Kirk Douglas are in warm embraces with their co-stars."

The renewed accent on love makes more work for the directors, he indicated. The reason: Love scenes are harder to film than any other kind.

"You have to make a great deal of preparation in order to make them real," he said. "I always do a lot of rehearsing with the actor and actress so their love-making will seem natural. Often they know each other only slightly and there is a reticence to let themselves go. But if they are competent performers, they realize it is part of their job and lose themselves in their roles."
