Girl Scouts Meet At Home Of Mrs. Newton For Recent Party

Girl Scout Junior Troop 25 got together again for an old-fashioned home-made ice cream party at Mrs. Louise Newton's home on Rosewood.

There was games and songs and the fun of turning the crank on the freezers.

They started their evening with a meeting. They elected new patrol leaders and scribe.

Those elected were Miss Linda Martin (Flamingo), Miss Barbara Sutherland (Parrot), Miss Shannon Burdett (Blue Bird) and Miss Pam Civileto as scribe.

After this was decided, the girls went to work on the Kaper Charts for the Camp in July, which will be held at Camp Stonewall Jackson, Holiday, on July 14, 15 and 16th.

They also set up their own program as to what they would be doing while at camp, and what the menu would be, and what time they would go to bed, and what time they would get up in the mornings.

Then the meeting turned to talk about the "Day Camp" that they had just finished attending. They told about the crafts, arts and songs that they had learned and how much they had enjoyed it.

While on the subject of "Day Camp" let me tell you about a woman that lives in our vicinity.

She was the director and teacher for the first Day Camp of Girl Scouts of America. Her name is Mrs. Amy Benner.

It took place on her farm just out of Sioux City, Iowa. They called it "Happy Jack Day Camp."

Sixteen girls attended. They did not have any way to get to the farm, so the Girl Scout Leaders went to the street-car lines and ask permission for the girls to ride free of charge which they did.

Some of their projects that week was fixing a bean-pot and weaving a mat out of "Cat Tails" from a home-made loom. All of this took place back in 1938.

There are lots of things about Scouting to be learned and appreciated.

The arts and crafts and patriotism and loyalty to God and Country and the learning to work and to live together with our fellow man.

The leaders are Mrs. Mamie Ward and Mrs. Louise Newton.

Cooper HD Club Meets Recently In Stewart Home

Mrs. Bob Stewart was hostess to the Cooper Home Demonstration Club when they met in her home for their June 23rd meeting.

Mrs. Bee Bryant, president opened the meeting by singing "This Land Is My Land" followed by praying "The Club Prayer" in unison.

Fourteen members answered roll call, "My Favorite Safety Rule."

During the business session reports were given. Another auction sale was discussed and planned. Mrs. R. R. Swinford was elected to represent the Cooper Club at council for our delegate to go to the state meeting at Dallas. Camp Day was discussed. It will be held August 12th at the Valley Farm Community House. The theme will be County Fair. Each member will receive a letter later on telling about Camp Day.

Mrs. Mae Ketch presented the program on "Key To Safety." She showed how the carelessness of adults in the home cause accidents to children. The bathroom, bedroom and kitchen are the most common places.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Bob Stewart to the following club members, Mmes. Gertrude Barfield, Mae Ketch, Herbert Miller, Loma Vollmer, J. H. Gill, O. J. Cooper, Anna Mae Emmert, J. H. Musgrave, H. E. Clayton, Bee Bryant, Dawson Owen, Sam S. Spencer and Miss Amelia Spencer.

The next meeting will be July 14 in the home of Mrs. Dawson Owen. Mrs. Bob Stewart will give the program on "Food Additions."

MISSING THE POINT

An article in The Reader's Digest noted the dollar increase in the income of the average doctor since 1961 and commented that the doctors are "... doing well financially." In making this observation, the article missed a number of important points. First, no notice was taken of the fact that doctors are no different than anyone when it comes to making both ends meet as inflation whittles away at the value of the dollar. As one authority has pointed out, at the 1968 rate of inflation a physician must increase his net earnings by 10 per cent a year just to break even. The authority listed six major problems that face the medical practitioner. They are the demand for higher productivity; the boom in malpractice cases, necessitating that the physician keep more detailed, and costly records; increased paperwork; the necessity to stay up with the growing volume of Medicare and Medicaid claim forms; the necessity of additional office help to keep up with the increased workload; and "increasing governmental controls."

There is another item that is seldom mentioned by critics of the medical profession in discussing the economics of being a physician. Gaining a medical education is a costly and time-consuming business. It takes years of training and internship beyond the mere four years of college, to which most young people aspire, to become a doctor. Today, many people act as if these hard-won skills in the medical arts are merely another form of property to be taxed or seized, at the whim of the state, in the name of social welfare. We seem to forget that lasting progress is never attained through confiscation of either the property or the talent of another person.

GOOD MEDICINE

The first Negro Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Thurgood Marshall, has said:

"Anarchy is anarchy is anarchy. It makes no difference who practices it. It is bad, it is punishable and it should be punished. ... The seeds (of anarchy) are here, but nothing will be settled with guns, fire bombs or rocks. The country can't survive if the perpetrators go unpunished. It's that simple."

The nation owes Justice Marshall a vote of thanks for his statement of unchanging principles on which the security and freedom of U.S. citizens rest.

FACT AND OPINION

"A sharp decline in exploratory drilling and a rapid increase in energy consumption have cut deeply into the adequacy of the nation's proved reserves of oil and natural gas," comments the American Petroleum Institute. "Years of supply are determined by comparing proved reserves with production."

VACATION TIME LUNCHESES

One of a mother's joys — or chores, depending on your viewpoint — is dreaming up nutritious and interesting lunches during summer. The kids are away from the school lunch program and it's a challenge to see to it that they eat as well during vacation.

Actually, there's nothing too difficult about it, if one prepares in advance. This means having a good supply of a wide variety of the foods needed for attractive lunches with a minimum of time and labor.

If mother sighs with relief when the summer's over that the children are back in school, it may be justified from the standpoint of the summer's constant barrage of juvenile activity. But if it's from difficulties of feeding the family it may be she's not organized.

So let's discuss the subject. What are some of the things that will make it easier?

Kinds of Food

It helps to have several kinds of bread — white, rye whole wheat, raisin — and some rolls, crackers and English muffins. Milk is a must. And it comes, as you know, whole, skim, butter-milk or chocolate. Cream or half-and-half for summer fruits and cereals. And what would your home be without peanut butter? Luncheon meats hot dogs and chopped meat are essential.

Cheese, ice cream, nuts and toppings such as chocolate and butterscotch sauces. Fruits and fresh vegetables are in season and will perhaps be the most valuable items of all.

Canned tuna or salmon, canned baked beans, hard cooked eggs, bacon, and juices galore.

With all these items — all of which are easily storable with today's packaging and refrigeration — you can have infinite variety.

Let The Children Help

Your smallest children will need food prepared for them. Your older children can, don't forget, fix lunches for themselves. Your supervision so that they don't mess things up too much, or fail to clean up afterwards, will be good training for them.

Kids love hot dogs, hamburgers, toasted cheese sandwiches, warmed fish sticks, crisp bacon and tomato sandwiches, berries with light cream, fresh and canned fruits, raw vegetables like carrot sticks, cucumbers or celery, milk shakes, jelly, butter or honey on bread. Even baked beans make a good sandwich spread. And milk and fruit juices are sensational for beverages.

With these foods, it isn't hard to give them a meal that represents the four food groups — the meat group, the milk group, fruits and vegetables, and breads and cereals.

Check Passer Is Nabbed Quickly

It took just nine minutes for the Burkburnett Police Department to apprehend a man for passing and attempting to pass forged instruments here.

Don Lee Sparks was being held in Wichita County jail on the charges, after passing a worthless check for the amount of $36.44 at the Burkburnett Bank and attempting the same procedure at the First National Bank here.

From the time the police department received the call and description of the man, he had been apprehended, returned to the bank and positively identified, nine minutes had elapsed.

Sparks is being held on $2500 bond.

near Southside School will begin in about a week, City Manager Gary Bean reported to The Star yesterday.

The section of street, now about 18 feet wide, without curbs and gutters, will be widened to a 30-foot street, with curbs and gutters.

The street will also be lowered to the level of the new extension of Dana Street, which has already been completed, paved, with curbs and gutters.

Sidewalks, forty inches wide, will also be constructed along both sides of the new section of Dana, to allow Southside School students to reach the expressway with greater safety, Bean said.

The project is being done by R. B. Swinford Construction of Burkburnett.

Paving projects for the summer include 2500 feet of paving on Berry Street and Avenue B, plus 5000 feet of curb and gutter, sealcoating on about two miles in various sections of the city, and double sealcoating on Bradley Street, now unpaved.

The projects will be handled by city crews, Bean said.

CRACKDOWN ON THE SDS

Though the misnamed Students for a Democratic Society is a clear threat to good order and academic freedom at every American university, few institutions have yet taken an absolutely firm line in dealing with this destructive organization. The kind of measure needed to prevent campus disorders is taken by the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors at the close of the academic year. The board approved a resolution banning the SDS from all campuses within the LSU system.

The LSU board resolution said that "its current activities throughout the United States make it apparent that SDS is a radical, revolutionary organization dedicated to the destruction of American institutions, beginning with American universities. It, therefore, constitutes a clear and present danger to the entire Louisiana state university system."

The SDS was formed in 1962. It has been the spearhead of revolutionary action from coast to coast. Only now, seven years after its founding, are colleges and universities beginning to wake up to the SDS' destructive goals. In the past, the SDS didn't have any difficulty finding a campus on which to hold its annual national convention. This year, the SDS admitted, it was turned down by 37 colleges and universities and at least 25 meeting halls, parks and campuses.

Some institutions have yet to demonstrate courage in dealing with the SDS. Harvard, the nation's oldest university, actually allowed an SDS spokesman to deliver a harangue at commencement exercises. The speaker poured abuse on the United States and, finally, had to be removed from the platform. At Radcliffe, Harvard's sister college in Cambridge, Mass., the SDS also was given an opportunity to have a spokesman address the graduates.

Indeed, Radcliffe authorities seemed determined to give offense to patriotic, law-abiding citizens. Its commencement speaker was the Rev. William S. Coffin, Jr., the Yale University chaplain who last year was convicted by a federal court jury of conspiring to violate the selective service law.

Yale showed no more concern than Radcliffe for the feelings of its patriotic alumni. A member of the graduating class was allowed to deliver a speech attacking America's involvement in the Vietnam War. No one was given an opportunity to speak in behalf of the Yale alumni proudly serving in Vietnam or who rendered loyal service to their country in past wars in defense of freedom.

At Princeton, the valedictorian, Michael A. Bernstein, called the United States "sick." He expressed solidarity with Black Panthers in New York, mutinous soldiers in California, and SDS members involved in a disturbance at a New Jersey plant. He said "their options open up possibilities for us, and... their defeat would be ours as well."

By allowing a handful of students to give such speeches, these universities give the country a false picture of attitudes among young Americans in college. The SDS has only about 35,000 members, a small number in a country of more than 200 million people. The militant minority is just that, but the prominence they get — often with the support of radical faculty members and administrators — helps the extremists build up their image as a powerful force.

The vast majority of college students want to get an education and firmly disapprove of

News From The County Agent

Are you interested in going to the Montague Fruit Experiment Station? If you are, you will want to come to the front of the 4-H barn on Monday, July 7. We plan to leave in cars at 7 a.m. Mr. U. A. Randolph, Superintendent of the Montague Experiment Station, has arranged a special tour for the interested people in Wichita County. You will see primarily peaches and apples. If you like you will also be able to buy some peaches. We would like to invite anyone interested to join us to go on the tour. If you have question, please call me.

There are controls for cattle grubs and they work. These livestock pests are the larval stages of the heel fly which annoy cattle during the late winter and early spring, explains county agent B. T. Haws.

Losses from heel flies and cattle grubs are many. The instinctive reaction of cattle heel flies interferes with normal the destructive outlook of the SDS and similar groups. Often, they want to take counter-action against the extremists.

At Ohio University recently, members of the Young Americans For Freedom, a patriotic group expressing the will of the majority of students, successfully frustrated the attempts of SDS members to break up an ROTC parade. Such counter-action is growing in importance as the SDS becomes more aggressive.

The Student Council at Palm Beach Atlantic College, in Florida, said "The students here believe it is high time some student body spoke up for the huge majority of students and let it be known that they are strongly opposed to the disruptive actions of small groups of students."

grazing and causes weight and energy losses, says the county agent. The grubs, as they migrate through the animal's body cause annoyance and irritation and compete with animal for nutrients, resulting in reduced production of meat and milk. Grubby slaughter animals are frequently docked because the carcass-blemishing warbles must be trimmed resulting in meat waste and unattractive, less valuable carcasses. Holes downgrade the value of hides for leather use.

Effective grub control, points out Haws, depends upon the proper use of systemic insecticides; chemicals fed or applied to the animal's body which are then distributed through the body tissues to control grubs inside the animal. Best results are obtained when animals are treated as soon as possible, after the termination of the heel fly activity and when the grubs are small.

Several chemicals and methods of treatment are available, including dips, sprays or black-line pour-ons. Others can be used free choice block or granular mix for range animals or other are available which can be used in the animal rations.

Because of the number of insecticides available, the county agent suggests that interested person come by his office and pick up a copy of MP-961, Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry.

Brush and weed control is necessary for greatest returns from forage production and for improving pastures and ranges a poor to fair condition.

Generally, says county agent B. T. Haws, weeds are a minor problem on ranges supporting a vigorous and dense stand of grass. The problem is to properly balance weeds and grass by using management, control and grazing management to maintain

Weight Limits On Parcel Post Up

The parcel post weight limit will be raised to 40 pounds for shipments between first-class post offices after July 1, Postmaster W. T. Zimmerman announced today.

The maximum parcel post weight limit will be increased from 30 pounds on shipments between the larger post offices in the third through eighth parcel post zones. (More than 150 miles.) On packages sent locally and to offices in parcel post forage production and sustained range improvement, explains Haws.

While weedy plants furnish food and cover for wildlife and some young plants are utilized by livestock, other weeds at different growth stages are poisonous to livestock.

Brush and weed control programs should be planned to leave necessary food and cover for game animals and birds, says the county agent, since wildlife is a valuable source of income. Thus, control, good grazing management and soil and water conservation should be worked into the over-all plan for improving forage production and income from livestock and wildlife resources.

zones on and two, the ceiling has been 40 pounds. The maximum size of packages sent between all first-class offices remains 72 inches in combined length and girth.

The size limit on parcels sent to or from small offices, rural or star routes, military post offices, and all Alaskan and Hawaiian post offices stays at 70 pounds, with a combined length and girth of 100 inches, Postmaster Zimmerman added.

Public Law 89-593, enacted September 20, 1966, authorized the postal service to increase weight and size limits on shipments between larger cities. On July 1 of 1970 and 1971, the length and girth limits are scheduled to rise to 78 and 84 inches, respectively, on shipment between first-class post offices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Early churches used steeples to make the building higher than all others in the city. People could see God's House from any direction, and could easily find their way to a place of worship.

Today, with many office buildings towering into the sky, churches are not always the tallest buildings. However, churches still point the way to God, and provide a place of worship.

130 Friends, Former Students Attend Fairview Reunion Here

Charles Goins of Burkburnett was elected president of the Fairview ex-students association at the bi-annual reunion here Saturday.

Vamvoras Wins In Nebraska Rodeo

Clyde Vamvoras, of Burkburnett, won first place in the bareback bronc riding event at the North Platte, Neb., rodeo, which ended Sunday, according to the Rodeo Cowboys Association, which sanctioned the rodeo.

The association, based at Denver, Colo., said Vamvoras won $350. So far this year he has won nearly $9,000 in the event, leaving him in the number three spot for world bareback bronc riding standings, the association said.

Vamvoras was the world champion bareback bronc rider in 1967 and '68.

Named secretary was Mrs. Gerald Goins of Wichita Falls. Y. C. Paschall, superintendent of the school for 12 years, was the main speaker.

The school was operated until it was consolidated with the Burkburnett schools in the mid-'40s.

Singled out for special honors during the gathering was Dr. Lloyd Roy Ferguson, now head of schools at Clear Lake, Texas, near Houston. Dr. Ferguson numbers many children of NA-SA personnel among his students. He is the son of Mrs. Virgie Ferguson of Burkburnett.

Also honored was Lilly Mae Armstrong, a long-time home economics teacher at Fairview. The entire group sang 'Let Me Call You Sweetheart' in her honor. Mrs. Armstrong is now teaching in the Longview schools.

Registrations began at 10 a.m., lunch was at noon, and many stayed to visit and talk until 4 p.m.

The next reunion will be on the last Saturday in June of 1971.

Many of the former students brought old pictures of school activities, teams and graduating classes for display.

Burk Man Earns 30-Year Honors

SHEPPARD AFB, Tex. — A Sheppard Air Force Base civilian employee received 30-year length of service certificate and emblem from Maj. Gen. John M. McNabb, center commander, in the Center Conference room Monday morning.

Everett B. Shaul, a training instructor, Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training, 3750th Technical School, received recognition for his lengths of service.

Mr. Shaul, who completed 30 years on June 22, retired from the Air Force in August 1959 after more than 20 years military service and was then employed at Chanute AFB, Ill. In September 1961 he was transferred to Sheppard and has served here since. He is married to the former Miss June Proctor and they have one son, Roger Allen Wendt. They reside at 750 Brenda Lane in Burkburnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Martin of Ft. Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clayton, here over the weekend.

Mrs. Ted Crosthwait of Bardstown, Ky., will arrive here Tuesday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. S. S. Reger.

City Police Chief Promises Steps To Eliminate Old Abandoned Cars

Burkburnett Chief of Police has promised — or threatened — strict enforcement of an ordinance which prohibits abandoned cars on city streets and other places this summer.

The ordinance, which has been in effect for several years, makes it unlawful to leave or permit to remain upon any lot, tract of land, or any public street or alley, a wrecked, damaged or demolished or disabled motor vehicle, or parts or portions thereof for a period of time exceeding 30 days!

The ordinance further states that such a practice is a public nuisance detrimental to the public safety, and subject to a fine not to exceed $200 for failure to comply. Parking of a car in the same spot each night is not illegal, Chief Abbott said. The ordinance applies to cars which have been abandoned, and in many cases stripped of engines and other parts. Some he said, carry old license plates.

One such instance Monday revealed that five vehicles had been parked at one place.

These were moved to allow street crews to go to work.

Abbott also stressed the part of the ordinance which states that leaving such abandoned cars in public view, also violates the law.

Not only are these an eyesore, he said, but they are dangerous as attractive nuisances for children, and often breeding places for mosquitos when water settles on the floorboards.

Written notice shall be served upon the owner of any vehicle so discovered, or if he cannot be located, upon the person in custody of the vehicle.

If the law is not complied with, the vehicle will be removed by the city, and held for 90 days. Storage charges will be made for that period, and, if not claimed, sold at public auction.

The ordinance was passed by the Burkburnett City Commission on July 17, 1967.

Assistant County Agent Resigns

Robert Ransom, Assistant County Agricultural Agent in Wichita County since April 11, 1968, has resigned effective July 15, 1969.

Mr. Ransom has accepted a managerial position with a firm in Wichita Falls.

A successor to Mr. Ransom will be announced later by the Wichita County Commissioners Court and J. G. Simmons, District Agricultural Agent, Agricultural Extension Service.

BUTTER AND FRESH CORN

Is there anything sweeter than fresh corn on the cob — with butter?

If there is, it's news to me. Corn is one of the traditional American delights. And butter — well, butter traces back to the earliest days of man.

Butter probably was first made by prehistoric herdsmen. When they poured milk or cream into animal skin bags and hung them over horses, or camels, or other domestic animals, the animal's stride shook the bag agitating the milk or cream until butter was formed.

An Accident?

This may first have happened by accident. You can be sure, thereafter, it was done on purpose.

Many Biblical References

There are many references in the Bible to butter. Hindus recorded their fondness for butter more than 3,500 years ago.

Butter is a rich source of vitamin A. It also contains vitamin D, vitamin E, calcium, phosphorus, sodium and potassium. The energy value of butter is 33 calories per teaspoon, the same as margarine, but less than that of cooking and salad oils. Butter consist chiefly of milk fat, milk curd, and water. On the average, the fat content of both salted and sweet butter ranges around 80 percent. The moisture content is as high as 18 percent. The curd content, containing protein, mineral matter, and lactose (milk sugar), averages as high as 1.5 percent.

From Pasteurized Cream

In the U.S., virtually all commercially prepared butter is made from pasteurized sweet cream. The cream from more than 10 quarts of milk is needed to make 1 pound of butter. Modern cylindrical or barrel churns are capable of producing as many as 5,000 pounds of butter per churn per hour.

Federal Standards

Federal standards employ a numerical score that is based on butter's texture, flavor, and other characteristics. U.S. Grade AA, the grade generally available in most stores, has a score of 93. Grade A butter has a score of 92, indicating a slightly lower quality. Grade B scores 90. Grade C is 89 and is used for commercial purposes only.

Now where is that slice of bread I was about to spread with some tasty butter?

Clayton To Retire From Electric Co.

Selling bait and fishing tackle will occupy the full time now of W. K. Clayton, who retires July 1 from the Wichita Falls power plant of Texas Electric Service Company after nearly 24 years of service.

Clayton was chief engineer at the Burkburnett municipal power plant when he left to start with TESCO on Aug. 15, 1945 as a repairman. Six years ago he was promoted to machinist. He and his wife operate a bait and tackle shop in Burkburnett, but Clayton has been able to spend only his off hours helping her run the business.

Now, Mrs. Clayton will be able to have some "off" hours while he watches the shop, where they sell minnows, worms (which they raise), fishing tackle and other bait.

Clayton is a native of Eskridge, Kan., where he worked on the family's wheat, corn and livestock farm until he was 21 years old. He was an auto mechanic at Topeka, Kan., and Bristow, Okla., before going to work for an automobile dealer in Burkburnett.

He and Mrs. Clayton, the former Leora Waiström, were married in 1930 in Topeka.

They are members of the First Christian Church in Burkburnett. He is past master of Masonic Lodge 1037.

Clayton also is secretary of the Red River Rifle and Pistol Club, and one of his hobbies is rifle bench-rest shooting and loading ammunition.

Fishing, of course, comes first.
