Vol. 19, No. 23 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367

Thursday, February 18, 1988

HEAD COACH KEN WILLIAMS AND WIFE ADMIRE GREEN JACKET AND CAP
... Tuesday night in Fort Worth after signing his contract with Iowa Park.

LEN WILLIAMS

Mart mentor hired Tuesday

Len Williams is the new head football coach and athletic director of Iowa Park High School.

Iowa Park school trustees Tuesday night unanimously voted to hire the 38-year-old Wichita Falls native, effective Feb. 29 and extending through the 1988-89 school year.

Trustees had wanted to take the action in a called meeting Friday night, but had to wait until he received his release from contract by the Mart school board Monday evening.

Following the Iowa Park meeting, a delegation of six travelled to Fort Worth to meet with Williams and his wife, and secured his signature on the contracts.

Williams told the delegation of Supt. Glen Mitchell, trustees Jerry Reed, Wendall House and John Sibley, Booster Club president Denny McCarthy and Leader publisher Bob Hamilton that he expected to be in Iowa Park as early as Thursday of next week, to acquaint himself with the community before starting to work the 29th.

Low water pressure expected next week

City workers will begin Monday flushing the water system by turning on fire hydrants, Mike Price, public works director, announced.

Flushing will be done between 9-11 a.m. and 2-4 p.m. over an expected four-day period, Price said, to alleviate dead water at the ends of some lines.

Water patrons will experience low pressures while flushing is in progress, Price warned.

The flushing program is being planned as a quarterly project.

Trustees set Williams' salary at $15,050 for the remaining 83 days of the current school year, plus $100 a month in-district travel and $1,000 moving expense.

His full-year (202 days) contract for 1988-89 was set at $36,500 plus $1,200 annual in-district travel.

Both Williams and his wife, Sherry, are graduates of Rider High in Wichita Falls. They have two children.

Mrs. Williams is employed as a teacher's aide in pre-kindergarten at Mart.

Williams received his BS degree in education from Midwestern State Univ. in 1973, majoring in political science and minoring in health and physical education. He has done graduate work at Texas Tech Univ.

He holds teaching certificates in American government, health and physical education and drivers education.

He began his coaching career in 1974 as eighth grade football and track coach at Lamesa. His football teams went 15-3 in two years.

In 1976 he was hired as assistant football coach and head boys basketball coach at Granger High School, positions he held through 1978. He also took the head girls' track position in 1978.

Williams moved to Mart in 1979 as assistant football coach and head girls' basketball coach. The following year he took over the boys' basketball head post.

Since 1981, when he was named head football coach at Mart, his teams accumulated a 64-20-2 record.

The Panthers, despite a 5-4-2 record in 1981, earned the district title. The following year, Mart was district, bi-district and area champion with a record of 10-2.

Mart shared the district title with two other teams in 1983, but did not get into the playoffs due to losing a coin toss. The Panthers were 8-2 that year.

Mart went 12-2 in 1984, winning district, bi-district, area and regional championships.

Following a 5-5 season in 1985, the Panthers shared the district title, but went all the way to the Class AA state finals, but lost 18-0 to Shiner.

That was the season his Panthers knocked off Holliday 35-21 for the regional crown, went 20-7 over Eastland in the quarter-final and 35-15 over Reagan County in the semis.

This past season the Panthers were 11-2, earning district, bi-district and area titles.

His five-year record as a head basketball coach was 90-37, earning the district crown with his boys' team in 1977 at Granger.

The Waco Tribune Herald named him Cen-Tex Coach of the Year three years, 1981, 1982 and 1986. The Texas Sports Writers Association named him the Class AA Coach of the Year.

As a member of his community, Williams has been a member of the Mart Volunteer Fire Department and a charter member of the "Medic Alert Rescue Team," a volunteer ambulance service.

The family's church affiliation is First Baptist Church of Mart.

Williams, who was relieved of his classroom teaching duties Tuesday, said he would be spending the balance of the week putting his home on the market, and getting ready for the family's move here.

He said he will meet with each member of the Iowa Park coaching

Bradford construction bid gets approval of trustees

Iowa Park school trustees Tuesday night accepted a bid to construct a four-classroom with restroom wing onto Bradford Elementary.

Of 13 bids received on the project, the offer by Nathan Phillips Construction of Wichita Falls for $217,600 was the lowest and received the board's approval.

Architect Don Daughterity told the board the bids were all lower than he had anticipated and said he was delighted both with the bids and the companies submitting them.

"I'm very well pleased with the prices," Daughterity told the board, pointing out the per-foot cost was $44.22.

The contractor's bid was to begin Mar. 1 and be completed within 150 days.

Phillips, Daughterity mentioned, was the contractor that renovated the Tom Burnett Memorial Library building.

High bid on the project was $241,600, which still was below the architect's anticipated cost.

The addition will be onto the north end of the east Bradford wing.

Also approved by the board was a list of excess items to be offered on consignment at an auction to be held Saturday by the Wichita County Young Farmers.

Commission received from the auction, which is to be held just east of the "Kamay Y" on Seymour Highway, will be used to help finance the Wichita County Livestock Show, Jimmy Howell, board chairman and also president of the Young Farmers, told the board.

Among the items offered by the school will be several woodworking tools, light fixtures, bookshelves, automobile, pickup, riding mower, copy machine and four pianos.

Chamber directors like new building proposal

Chamber of Commerce directors Monday took a straw vote whether they would be interested in accepting an alternative office space if one were built by the city.

While their approval was not binding, directors said plans that were explained would be acceptable to them.

A tentative plan being considered by the city council is to build a structure on the vacant lots west of city hall, in exchange for the city taking over the Chamber's office.

Plans for a 1,000 square foot structure were explained by Administrator James Barrington and Architect Don Daughterity. The presentation was similar to one made before city council at its latest meeting.

At that meeting, Mayor Tim Hunter pointed out that if the building could be completed for no more than $28,000, using city personnel to do much of the work and the city being its own general contractor, the additional office space gained from the Chamber office would be less than any addition to city hall would cost.

Barrington and Daughterity were instructed to gather cost figures for council consideration, and if that is approved, formal consideration will be given the proposal by Chamber directors.

Chamber board members voted their approval of a budget committee and purchasing a telephone answering machine.

City, school meetings are slated next week

Meetings of both the city council and school board have been slated next week.

The city meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers. School trustees will hold their regular monthly meeting, which was postponed from Feb. 9, starting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Two public appearances are on the agenda of the council. Jerry Spruiell, representing the Iowa Park Athletic Alumni Association, will ask permission to use Lake Iowa Park for a boat race this summer, and Max Henderson, representing Iowa Park Little League, will discuss use of the Will Burnett ball park, next to the Recreational Activities Center.

The boat race, if approved, would be held the second weekend of June. Organization representatives said after last year's races they were very happy with the project.

Council members will consider authorizing purchase of lights for city hall park and advertising for bids for fencing materials to be used at the landfill.

Under the heading of "Administrator's Report" are three topics:

- * Consider offering assistance to the Iowa Park Industrial Development Board;
- * Consider a response to the Texas Water Commission on the Buffalo and Iowa Park Lakes dams;
- * Consider amending the fire mutual aid agreement with the Sheppard AFB fire department.

Mayor Tim Hunter is to sign a proclamation declaring the week of Feb. 28 as "Severe Weather Awareness Week in Iowa Park."

School trustees will consider extending contracts for all key personnel, including the assistant superintendent, principals and assistant principals, tax collector and counselors.

A request will be considered from the Athletic Alumni Association to use the junior high gymnasium for a basketball tournament.

IOWA PARK FIREMEN helped save a building containing animal feed Friday morning in Pleasant Valley, just east of FM 369. The structure is owned by Ed Harvill.

TERRY DENNER AND ROBERT HARPER

Couple sets May date

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Denner of Burkburnett announce the engagement of their daughter, Terri, to Robert Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Harper of Iowa Park. They will be united in marriage May 28 at the Grace Church in Wichita Falls.

The bride-elect was graduated from Burkburnett High School and is employed at Independent American Savings in Burkburnett. The prospective groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School and is employed at Cryovac.

Laughter 'good medicine'

Forty-six members of the Iowa Park Garden Club and their guests attended a Valentine social Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. George. Hostesses for the covered dish meal and social were Mmes. Liz Cabe, Lavina Harlin, Bea Boles, Billy C. Gilmore, John Clapp and A.E. Young.

Tables were decorated in a Valentine tradition using red place mats, white napkins with red hearts and Valentine floral arrangement centerpieces.

Dr. and Mrs. Larry Stutte were special guests and he provided a humorous talk, "Laughter Is Still the Best Medicine," for the entertainment.

Using Webster's definition of humor, he told the group of all the physical benefits of being in good humor and feeling good about himself each day. He said that it is a proven fact that people in the hospital with heart problems recover more quickly if they are placed in a room with a view of the outdoors as opposed to a room with no view.

He stated that a person can actually lower his blood pressure just by being in a good mood and expressing a few good laughs each day, and that people are less likely to have ulcers if they can look at things in a positive light.

Continuing, Dr. Stutte stated that stress can only cause harmful physical effects on the body. Also, when one becomes angry or tense, the blood pressure begins to rise, the heart begins to pulsate, and the stomach produces more acid. He said that stress over a period of time can cause heart disease, headaches, ulcers, and high blood pressure, to name a few. Concluding, he said, "Since it takes more muscles to produce a frown than a smile, I challenge everyone to be lazy and smile."

Mrs. Don Decker, vice-president, presented Dr. Stutte with a bouquet of red and white helium-filled balloons tied to a heart-shaped box filled with chocolate candy at the conclusion of his talk.

Cindy (Mrs. Bill) Eaton, like so many Americans, has a high opinion for chicken. Two of her recipes for this week attest to that.

Today, chicken is probably the most universally eaten of all meats, including beef. It is singularly versatile and very good fried, broiled, roasted, steamed, fricasseed, barbecued, used in stews, casseroles, pies and soups.

It seems that man has had a close association with chicken since 2000 B.C., beginning in India where the wild fowl was first domesticated. A very early cookbook in Italy contained recipes for chicken soup, and a German cookbook a little later gave direction for making chicken stew.

Chicken appears today in many national dishes, and some of them have been named for an opera singer, opera composer and even a Roman dictator.

Cindy was graduated from high school in Louisville, Ky. She met Bill in California where they were married. They moved to Iowa Park in November, 1979. He works as a perforator for Western Atlas and they are members of the Pacific Avenue Baptist Church. They have two sons, Steve and Scott, both of Irving.

Cindy belongs to a knitting club. Her hobbies are knitting, bowling and ministering to residents at Heritage Manor.

Mission book is reviewed

Mrs. C.L. McKinnon gave the introduction and first chapter of "The Church Starts Here" by Dan Martin, a home mission book, for a meeting of the Night BW of First Baptist Church held Monday at the church. She noted that the book is about people who give themselves sacrificially to create and recreate churches.

The introduction described how two men met one fall day in a little Colorado town, and despite dramatically different experiences, dedicated themselves to starting new missions and churches.

The first chapter, entitled "The Wilcocks in Connecticut," featured the work of Dave and Donna Wilcock and New Milford. When they felt led to surrender for mission work neither one had any formal theological training, so they could not be appointed as paid missionaries. They turned to the Home Mission Board Service Corps where they had to raise money to support themselves or depend on offerings from local churches. Within a few years, five other volunteers joined them at New Milford, and the work is steadily growing.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin was in charge of the period devoted to business which was opened by the missionary birthday calendar led by Mrs. E.T. Patterson. Mrs. Woodfin announced that WMU Focus Week would start Sunday and since 1988 is the centennial year for Southern Baptist Woman's Missionary Union, she suggested that members wear colonial dresses to the morning service.

The hostesses were Mrs. S.B. Reaves and Mrs. Woodfin. The refreshment table decorations featured "Around the World" theme deftly carried out in dolls dressed in native costumes from Africa, Mexico, Russia, Quebec, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Hawaii and the Netherlands. These were supplemented with Amish dolls and slavery dolls in observance of Lincoln's birthday. Fifteen members were present.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

The fact that a person is married to, or a relative of, a politician does not necessarily make the person a deserving and eligible replacement.

It only means that the prospect wants to use the established name to serve.

That's my opinion of Helen Farabee's announcement that she will run as a candidate for the state senator position being vacated by husband Ray.

Shades of Ma Ferguson and Robert Kennedy!

Of course, if she is elected, she only needs to pick up a phone and make a local call to her husband when a decision on a bill is called for on the senate floor.

That way, Ray could continue to serve as senator after taking on his new job as chancellor of the University of Texas, and the Farabee family would have two sources of income, instead of one.

And while I've got my grumpy thoughts churning, I'll take another swipe at my favorite whipping post, that paper.

I wish to heck they'd find someone who could write a headline that spells out "Iowa Park," instead of using "IP" in their heads.

Have you ever seen a headline in that paper such as "WF mayor wants to rebuild Wichita River."

Nope. And you never will.

Two major surprises relating to weather last week.

The snow we found Thursday morning was a big surprise, especially after the forecasters said there would be none.

But have you ever seen the temperature warm more rapidly, as it did Friday?

Had anyone told me at noon Thursday it was going to be as warm as it was only 24 hours later, I'd have thought them to be an escapee from the state hospital.

I've seen that type of drastic temperature change in a 24-hour period, but only lowering. Not rising, like it did.

A friend told me this week that a hospital will be built in Dallas for treatment of AIDS patients.

The Dallas group is impressed with a money-making facility located in Arlington, and is going to make a play on its name.

So the hospital, when built, will be named "Sex Fags Over Texas."

Sales tax settles to acceptable sum

Iowa Park's sales tax report has settled down to a more acceptable amount, following last month's exaggerated 141-percent increase.

The city received a check this week in the amount of $25,008.23, increasing the two-month total to $37,098.25, which is an 18.43-percent increase over the same period in 1987.

February's check represents taxes collected in December and reported to the state comptroller's office by Jan. 20.

Wichita Falls, according to the report, is 10.8-percent behind the same period in 1987, but Burkburnett has a 4.88-percent increase and Electra is .71-percent over last year.

Holliday's check this month is $7,047.83, making the two-month sum $11,837.37, which is 50.32-percent over the $7,874.84 in February of 1987.

Some post offices will not close Wednesdays

Post offices in communities that do not have home delivery will not be affected by the new policy of closing half a weekday.

Iowa Park Postmaster Ken Turman said he had overlooked that part of an announcement when providing the Leader with information for a story in last week's Leader.

Whereas most post offices in the Dallas district will not open their business windows until 1 p.m. on Wednesdays, the ruling does not affect communities like Holliday and Kamay, Turman said.

Worth Quoting

Is there any incentive to own your own business anymore? It is a question that I hear more and more small business owners ask themselves. Unfortunately, the free enterprise system on which our nation's economic system is founded has degenerated to the point that much of the enthusiasm is removed from old time entrepreneurship.

There once was a time when the hard working business owner enjoyed enviable independence and prosperity, but many independent business people today are burdened with ever increasing government regulations and skyrocketing operational costs over which they have little or no control. "Independent" has come to be somewhat of a misnomer.

There are several reasons for this unfortunate change in our economic system, and each type of retail, service and professional enterprise is plagued by its own set of problems.

Retail and service businesses required to collect the state sales and use taxes received a one-two punch during the last session of the Texas Legislature. Businesses that collect sales and use taxes now are required to pay a $25 annual fee for the privilege of collecting the taxes that benefit state and municipal governments. Businesses already must provide employees to collect the taxes and maintain the appropriate bookkeeping and send all of the money to the state. Businesses also get to field complaints from their customers who are charged the taxes. Now, they have added insult to injury by imposing the $25 annual fee.

Traditionally, the state has offered businesses a small discount for remitting their sales tax collections on time. Up until Oct. 1, 1987, the timely filing discount was one percent of the sales taxes collected. But now the legislature has cut that in half.

Another proposal that threatens to destroy many small businesses is Congress' consideration of forcing companies to insure their employees. Most small businesses do not offer paid health insurance benefits to their employees because they simply cannot afford the luxury.

However, Senator Edward Kennedy has sponsored a bill that would force most employers to provide basic health insurance for any employee who works more than 17 and one-half hours a week. Small business owners are gasping at the proposal, wondering if they could pay the insurance premiums without going bankrupt.

If Congress approves Kennedy's insane idea, it will mean lower wages, fewer full-time employees and probably force many marginal businesses out of operation. According to one estimate, health insurance coverage for full-time employees could gobble up to 39 percent of the payroll.

With regard to ad valorem taxes, Henrietta ISD Superintendent Tom Davenport recently hit the nail on the head when he observed that small businesses and homeowners are "taking it on the chin" due to a great shift in the local tax burden.

According to the school district's 1987-88 annual performance report, businesses pay 29 percent and homeowners pay 38 percent of the ad valorem taxes collected by Henrietta ISD. Rural landowners pay 19 percent, oil and gas properties pay nine percent. Statewide, business owners pay 37 percent, homeowners pay 41 percent, land owners pay 12 percent and oil and gas properties pay nine percent.

These examples of the problems faced by small business owners don't even begin to scratch the surface of the multitude of headaches, associated with entrepreneurship. It's no wonder that many merchants complain that doing business today isn't as profitable as it was as much fun as it used to be.

LEWIS SIMMONS
Clay County Leader

The dictionary explains the word "covert" as meaning "not openly shown, engaged in, or avowed."

We overheard a conversation between three young men discussing the covert operations of Lt. Col. Ollie North and his buddies. The trio were registering their surprise at the idea of our government carrying on "covert" operations.

Shades of Benjamin Franklin!

Old Ben, back during the Philadelphia convention in July, 1787, carried on a covert operation to hide most of the proceedings of the delegates not only from the press but also from some of the other delegates.

In more recent time, President Franklin Roosevelt put together a scheme that made Colonel North's operation tame by comparison.

Roosevelt faced about the same kind of meddling, cantankerous Congress as does President Reagan. In 1941, Congress came within one vote of killing the draft.

Secretly, Roosevelt bought a plan outlined by Claire Chennault, a retired officer serving as a free-lance adviser to the Chinese government, to organize a surprise attack on Tokyo and other Japanese industrial cities.

Chennault had gone to the White House and sold the president's aides on a plan to make a pre-emptive air strike on a nation he believed was planning aggression against America.

The plan was to form a task force of bombers and fighter planes which would be flown by American pilots. The United States, formally at peace with Japan, supposedly would not be blamed, since the planes would bear the markings or insignia of Chinese planes -- and the Chinese were already at war with Japan.

President Roosevelt signed a secret executive order permitting Chennault and his friends to recruit military and naval aviators, who would be allowed to fly and fight as highly paid civilian mercenaries for the special mission, then return to the U.S. services with no loss of rank.

On December 1st, 1941, the First American Volunteer Group fighter pilots were in Asia and undergoing the training and the Second Group was on the way.

On Dec. 7, 1941, when the Japanese navy hit Pearl Harbor, 49 bomber group crewmen were on their way by ship to Chennault's training site.

Did this nation ever hold congressional hearings on Roosevelt's secret covert operation in China? Nope!

President John Kennedy had his "Ollie North" in brother Robert who carried out the planning and covert operation known as the "Bay of Pigs" because President Kennedy could not convince Congress of the communist threat in Cuba.

Newspapers and television were painting Castro as the savior of the downtrodden in Cuba and pooh-poohed ideas that he was a Communist.

The "Bay of Pigs" was a disaster from the beginning. But did we ever hold congressional hearings to pinpoint the blame or "get" the president? Nope!

President Carter had his covert operation in the rescue of the hostages in the Middle East -- and the rescue effort failed in a half-dozen different places.

Did we hold Congressional hearings to try and pin the blame on the chief executive? Nope!

Back when we had the George Mahons, the Vanderbergs, the Connallys as chairmen of the powerful committees in the House and Senate, a president could keep Congressional committees informed and in on the secret operations.

But nowadays, anytime an executive briefs a congressional committee on any secret issue, it usually makes the six o'clock evening news.

As long as we have congressional committees trying to dictate foreign policy, we'll have a need for the "Ollie Norths" of this world.

Twelve Inches From God

A number of years ago a preacher delivered a message, "Twelve Inches From God". The difference between sin and salvation is found in those twelve small inches. The measurement is the approximate distance between the lips and the heart. Many people have God on their lips but not in their hearts. As Jesus said, "This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far from me." (Mark 7:6).

On the surface "lip religion" may look good, but it lacks substance which genuine Christian living demands. The practitioners of lip religion reveal themselves in a variety of ways: quick to tell others how to live, but seldom follow their own advice; may even do good deeds, but only to be seen by others; emphasize externals of religion, but care little for the weightier matters; work hard at displaying an outward show of respectability, but are little concerned about their inner thoughts and motives; preach, but do not practice.

We must be careful not to slip into this kind of religion. It is so tempting and easy to do. No wonder the first and great commandment begins, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart..." (Matthew 22:37,38).

Some farmers haven't filed plan with SCS

Farmers with highly erodible cropland have less than two years to begin meeting the conservation requirements of the 1985 Farm Bill to remain eligible for USDA benefits.

Michael Isbell, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Iowa Park, said these provisions require farmers who have highly erodible cropland to have a conservation plan approved by their local soil and water conservation district by 1990.

"The plan must be prepared by Jan. 1, 1990, if they want to remain eligible for farm program benefits, loans, or guarantees on all their land," Isbell said.

"We estimate that about 50 new conservation plans still need to be prepared for local farmers by our staff by 1990. Our goal is to get all 50 written by the end of this year.

"Then we will try to schedule any remaining plans and reconstitute operating units during 1989," he said.

Isbell said the planning workload will be difficult for the local SCS staff, especially if farmers wait until the end of 1989 to begin developing plans. At least one planned practice has to be initiated by Jan. 1, 1990. Application work has already started on structural measures needed to keep producer in compliance. Completing these practices will require additional time of SCS personnel during 1988-89.

"The sooner farmers ask SCS to help them develop a conservation plan, the greater the chance we will have to get to everyone by the deadline," he stressed.

Isbell said since highly erodible land is not always obvious, farmers should check with their local SCS office to see if they have land that meets the criteria if such a determination has not already been made.

Another option is to enroll highly erodible land into the Conservation Reserve Program. Under CRP, farmers receive annual rental payments for putting such cropland in grass or trees. The current CRP sign-up ends on Feb. 19, 1988.

"If people who grow commodity crops on highly erodible cropland do not want a conservation plan and want to give up USDA benefits, that's their business," Isbell said. "But we intend to do our best to help farmers who want to keep those benefits."

Sheriff's Report

The Wichita County Sheriff's Deputies fielded calls on several different incidents occurring in this area during the past week and recovered a stolen vehicle.

Thursday, deputies received a call from the personnel at the Calico Inn on Seymour Highway who reported patrons fighting. This resulted in one of the customers being hit in the head with a beer bottle. The culprit, however, left the bar and deputies are still investigating the assault.

Friday, deputies were called to a residence on FM 367 in reference to a family dispute. Investigation is still underway.

Saturday evening, Tressa Parks reported that a person had broken into a building next to her home on FM 1206 and broken out a window in an automobile parked near there. Nothing was taken in the break-in.

Deputies recovered a stolen vehicle Tuesday on Old State Road. The vehicle, belonging to Homer Brown of Wichita Falls, was found parked in the middle of the road with the tires, wheels, doors and seats missing.

Also on Tuesday, a storage barn east of Wiley Road was reported broken into by owner Cecil Parker. Items inside the barn had been stacked next to the door, but the burglar was apparently scared off, and left the items.

Lt. Grady Smith of the Sheriff's Department urges citizens to call law enforcement officials if they see any suspicious activity in their area.

AT SAFB

Civilian hiring freeze no impact on workforce

A civilian hiring freeze, which took place on Jan. 29, should have little impact on the civilian workforce at Sheppard AFB.

The freeze only applies to directly-hired government civilian and temporary employees. It will not affect contract workers and other employees on base.

Air Training Command, parent headquarters for Sheppard and 12 other training bases throughout the United States, invoked the hiring freeze until the Command can assess the impact of recent budget cuts from the Air Force and Congress.

The Air Training Command budget was cut $122-million; Sheppard absorbed $12-million of that sum. This is a 12-percent reduction of the base's $106-million straight-line budget estimate based on fiscal year 1987 funding, according to Col. Warren E. Cockerham, Sheppard's comptroller.

Because Sheppard managers implemented stringent hiring procedures last July, the base shouldn't be faced with having to lay off members of the current workforce to stay within funding limits.

"Money is getting tight. But with prudent management of what we have left after the cuts, we should be able to continue doing our jobs without any really drastic changes in procedures," the colonel said.

Finnell senate candidate

HOLLIDAY - State Rep. Charles Finnell announced today for State Senate, 30th District, in light of Sen. Ray Farabee's resignation last week.

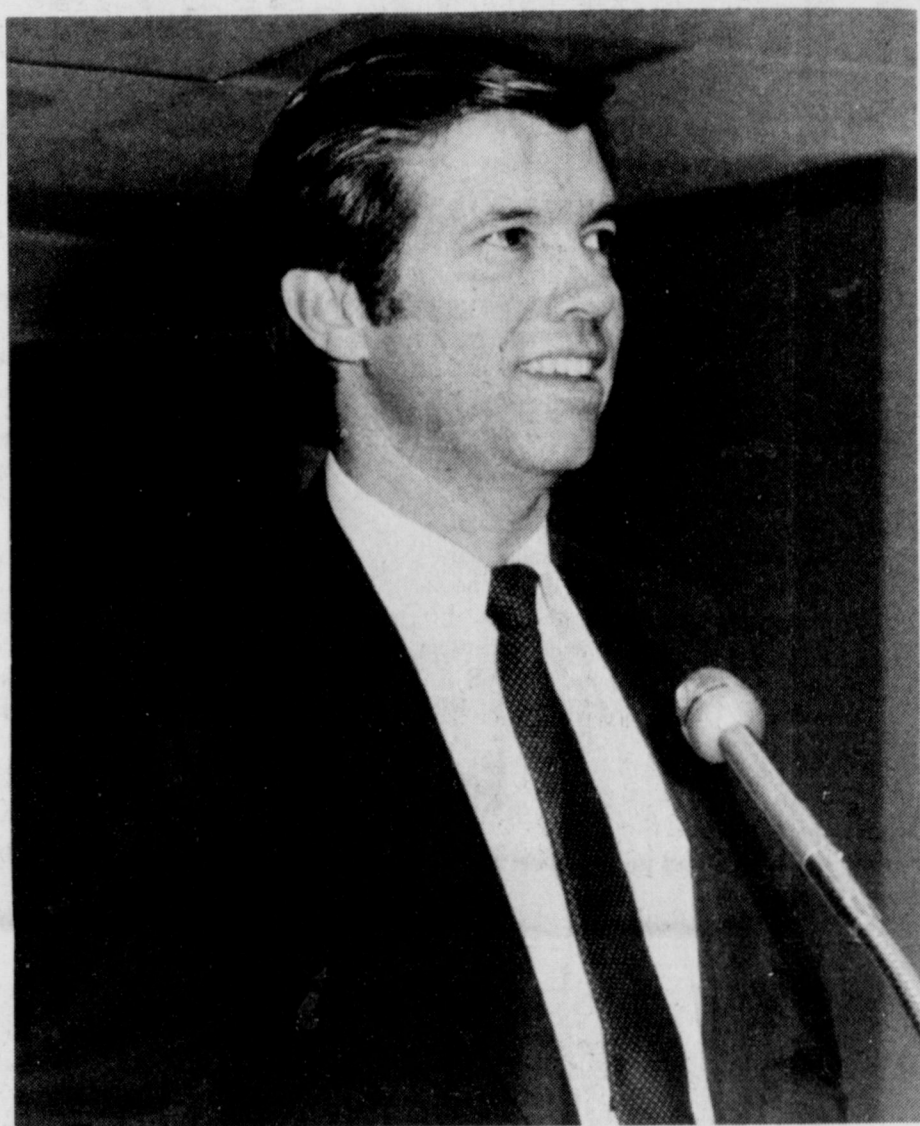

"The opportunity of meaningful public service is greater today than ever before, especially in light of the current state of our Texas economy," said Finnell in stating his intention to seek the office of the 29-county district, which includes Wichita County.

Finnell, an Archer County businessman and veteran member of the Texas House of Representatives, stressed his legislative experience and his strong stand in support of local school district funding and essential services for older Texans.

"It is vital that we provide adequate funding for our 114 independent school districts so that local programs of excellence will be maintained. And we must continue to oppose judicial attempts to overturn our present method of funding public education in Texas," said Finnell, fourth in seniority of the Texas House.

"Other leading issues concern the economic revitalization of our state through the new Texas Department of Commerce, as well as the needs of the elderly and their families. But it is important that a conservative approach be taken to contain the cost of state government, given the difficult economic times affecting the hard-working people of our region," added Finnell, chairman of the House General Investigating Committee and founding chairman of the Committee on Retirement and Aging.

In addition to his long-time support for senior citizen centers and independent school districts, Finnell is the recognized leader in the field of rail-crossing safety and has champion-ed the 4-H programs of the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service.

"Kay and I are a team and look forward to visiting with the people of the 30th District in the coming weeks," he said.

His wife, Kay, was recently elected president of the 97-member Legislative Ladies' Club.

Dropping final three games eliminates playoff chances

One-point losses in their final two games of the season dropped the Hawks out of the playoff picture.

Iowa Park fell 51-50 at home Saturday night to Breckenridge, and closed out the season with a 62-61 disappointment Tuesday at Bowie.

Those two, coupled with Friday's 68-61 loss here to Dist. 6-AAA champion Decatur, gave the Hawks a season record of 12-14 and 4-6 against conference opponents.

In the Decatur game, which was close throughout the entire match until the final minute of play, the Hawks gained a 61-60 lead with 1:48 remaining on a pair of free shots by Toby Brown.

But the Eagles went ahead 62-61 at the 1:08 mark and went into a stall offense to force the Hawks to foul.

After a Decatur player missed his chance at the foul line with 36 ticks remaining in the game, Decatur scored an insurance field goal to go ahead 65-61 with 29 seconds on the clock, added a pair more at the 13-second mark, and a free shot with four seconds remaining.

Jimmy Duggins led Hawk scoring with 24 points. Marc Johnson had 14 and Brown 13.

Johnson had an opportunity to send the Hawks into a one-point lead of their own Saturday, but the ball failed to drop through the net.

The lead changed hands twice in the final 19 seconds of the game.

After the Hawks gained a 50-49 advantage with 19 seconds remaining in the game, the Bucks' Rich Kit-chens put up a shot just inside the three-point mark at the seven-second mark.

Johnson worked the ball the length of the court and fired a short jump shot as the buzzer sounded. The ball bounced on the rim, but fell out instead of in.

Johnson, who scored 10 points in the fourth period, including three consecutive three-pointers to pull Iowa Park into a tie after trailing 43-37, finished the game with 25 points.

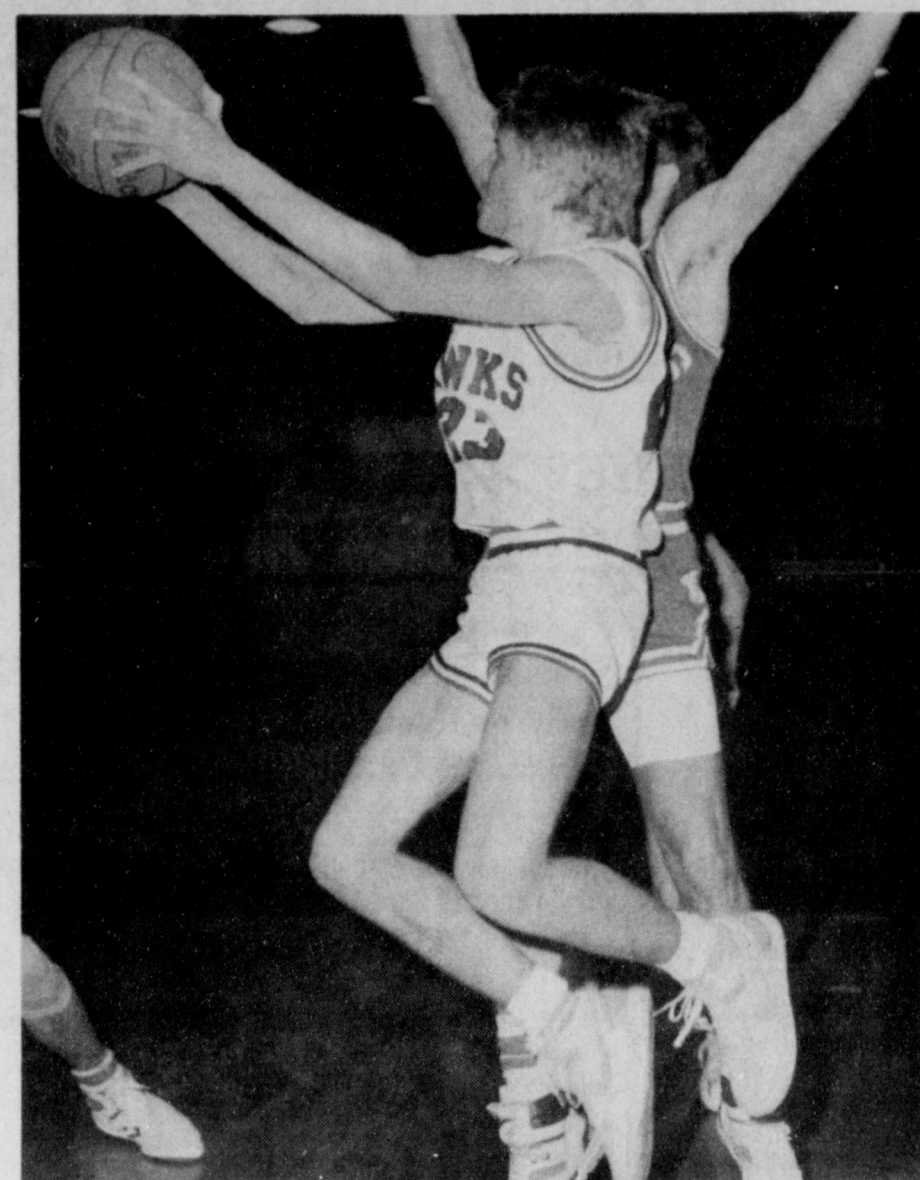

Duggins was the only other Iowa Parkan in double digits, 10, that were all recorded in the first period.

Iowa Park carried a 34-30 lead into the third quarter Tuesday against the Jackrabbits, but the hosts out-scored the Hawks 20-6 during that eight-minute period to lead 50-40.

Iowa Park made a game of it in the final stanza, outscoring Bowie 21-12, but came up a single point short.

Johnson, Duggins and Brown each scored in double figures: 18, 15 and 13, respectively.

Saturday's win gave Breckenridge a 17-9 record for the season and 7-2 in district play, assuring the Bucks their first shot at a playoff spot since 1977.
