Lubbock Building Valuations Near Million Dollars

Two Permits Issued Here Tuesday For Additional Boost To Total; Expect Million Mark This Week

With two permits issued yesterday a slight stimulus was given Lubbock building and again brought valuations nearer the $1,000,000 mark. This total is expected to be reached by the end of the week.

Yesterday's permits were issued as follows: $8,250 to John W. Burson for erection of a brick veneer residence at 2308 18th street, J. J. Clements, contractor; $200, to A. G. Odem, for erection of garage at 2401 Main street.

April's valuations now aggregate $37,350 for 14 permits, as against the present year are $970,483 for 96 permits.

While other cities of the state are recording figures which indicate a general slump in business conditions, Lubbock is maintaining a general trend that places it at the head of other cities in West Texas.

During the closing week of March valuations in this city swelled by the $50,000 Lubbock high school building and improvements to the Burrus elevators, ranked Lubbock as second for that week in Texas.

Nevada's New "Gas Death House" Is Ready to Claim Life Of First Victim; Offers Innovation in State Execution

Slayer To Be First To Enter Strange Execution Room

BY PHIL J. SINNOTT
NEA Service Writer
CARSON CITY, Nev., April 8.—Nevada's brand new "gas house"—the only execution chamber of its kind in the world—has been completed at the state penitentiary here and is ready for its first victim.

The victim will be "Bob" White—ambler, murderer and all-around bad man—unless his attorneys succeed in a new line of defense. But this appears improbable, as the state supreme court recently upheld the sentence that White must die.

Since 1921 gas poisoning has been the legal method of execution in Nevada, but in the two previous cases only a make-shift arrangement was used. Now the completely equipped "gas house" erected by convict labor, is ready.

Law Requires Witnesses
In one corner of the little stone building is the death chamber itself. Extra thick insulation covers the white walls. Large single-pane windows—of unusual thickness—look in from three sides. For it is through these windows that the witnesses, required by law, must watch the prisoner's last moments.

Instead of the ghastly gloom of the old hangman's quarters, the gas death room is bright—cheerful almost—with more the appearance of a finely built little surgery.

Think white walls reflect the sunlight from windows. Save for a few small jets in the wall and the one door being constructed to close and seal itself like a refrigerator door, there is nothing to indicate its sinister purpose.

Strapped in Chair
The condemned man's last moments are spent strapped in a chair, muffled fast to the concrete floor. A pumping apparatus fills the execution room with hydrocyanic gas. Almost the first breath of it, according to Warden M. R. Penrose, will cause painless death.

Two already have so died. First was Oee Jon, Chinese tongman, in

The schematic diagrammatic sketch shows the interior of the new "gas death house" at the Nevada state prison, pictured above. At the left is "Bob" White, doomed to die as its first victim, and at the right is Warden M. R. Penrose, who will start the pump that floods the tiny compartment with deadly hydrocyanic gas.

1924. He appeared unconscious after five seconds but moved his head for six minutes. There was no struggle, no evidence of pain. Stanko Jukich was executed in 1926, dying in three minutes.

In those executions a building erected for other purposes was used. Thus, it was necessary to wait some time after death before it was safe to enter the death room. In the case of the Chinese, the wait was nearly three hours.

Now, however, necessity of waiting and the danger of the poisoned fumes killing others in the prison yard, is practically eliminated. A special pump system is provided to draw the gas from the room. A long pipe is provided to carry the fumes high into the air.

The air-tight death room is but a few feet in area, with a low ceiling so a smaller amount of hydrocyanic gas is needed.

New Church Will Be Erected Here

Calvary Baptist Church To Be New Name Of Institution, Formerly Known As 19th Street Baptists

A new church will be erected in the near future on the corner of 18th street and Avenue T by members of the 19th Street Baptist church, according to plans announced yesterday. Calvary Baptist church has been selected as the name for the new structure.

The church has bought six lots and the ground not used for building purposes will be used for parking.

Three years ago last March the 19th street church was organized with a roll of 11 members. Today there are nearly 400 names on its roll, and for several months the present building has not been large enough to accommodate the congregation.

The new edifice is to be built of brick and tile and have two stories and a basement. Work on excavation probably will start next week.

NEW WELL COMES IN
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 8. (P)—A gusher neighbor to the huge No. 1 Mary Suddik well was brought in today—the No. 4 Hoopes well of T. B. Slick and the Anderson Petroleum Oil Corporation, which flowed 250 barrels of oil into tanks in the first 15 minutes after it had cleaned itself. Gas was gauged at 185,000,000 cubic feet daily.

who have studied the Nevada death system declare it is the most humane yet devised.

Whether or not the gas execution is a crime deterrent is a much-discussed question in Nevada. But perhaps it is significant that there have been only two executions since the deadly fumes superseded gallows and firing squad in 1921. Formerly the condemned man had his choice of the two.

White, a gambler, whose fight for a retrial was denied, was sentenced in Elko, in October, 1928, after conviction in connection with the killing and robbery of another gambler.

Postoffice Lease Scandals Charged

Senator Says Government Pays Millions Annually As Result; Fraud And Corruption Alleged

WASHINGTON, April 8. (P)—Scandals in the leases of postoffice buildings throughout the country, said to be costing the government millions annually, were charged by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, in a speech today in the senate assailing the St. Paul commercial station lease.

Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, offered a resolution for a senate investigation of postoffice leases. His resolution charged that "fraud, misappropriation and corruption" had entered into the negotiations for the Senator Nye called upon the state to adhere to a provision house appropriation bill for postoffice department which out the $120,000 fund for rent the St. Paul commercial office.

"The story at St. Paul goes high heaven," Nye told the senate. "If all other postoffice leases are on a par with that Paul, the situation is rotten, unconscionable. It is a story possibly rivals the Teapot Dome other naval oil reserve leases."

Once you sense the delight and satisfaction that is to be found in sewing, you will not only be willing, but anxious to take the time and put forth the effort to sew well. For the thrill that comes with the admiration of your friends is a reward that compensates in abundance for the thought you have put into acquiring your results. Two outstanding advantages in making your own clothing instead of buying them ready made is to express your individuality in dress . . . and to have more dresses at less cost. ### Miss Marguerite Twohy, Director of Cactus Region Addresses Girl Scouts

The joy of arising early with the birds and the pleasures of stories told around a camp fire, as well as the more practical lessons in house-keeping, all of which is included in the mystic appeal of Girl Scout activities, were told girls of the local organization and their leaders at a meeting held in the junior high school building Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Miss Marguerite Twohy, director of the Cactus region, including Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, made the address. She told of Camp Mary White, the regional camp which will be held from July 13 to August 10, inclusive, at a level spot 90 miles southeast of Roswell. The camp is divided into two two-week periods, and it is possible to attend either session without attending the other.

Girl Scout songs and games were taught, and the leaders and Girl Scouts committee were instructed in their duties. Mrs. W. M. Brawley now is head of the local work.

Miss Twohy, who is from Portland, Ore., has been active in Girl Scout work for a number of years, but has only recently devoted her full time to the work. She has been assistant director of Greenwich house in New York City, one of the largest settlement houses in the world. It is famous for its clinic work. Its club work, children's theater, thrift shop, and art department, which includes wood carving, stone cutting, and iron work. The art department is especially popular with the Italian boys, said Miss Twohy, and if there is artistic temperament it is revealed here.

Development Plan
A new five year Girl Scout development plan is to be put into practice next year, said Miss Twohy. It will be carried on from the standpoint of quality, she said, and through quality there will come quantity. There now are 297,000 Girl Scout members in the United States, and it is estimated that at the close of the five years there will be 500,000. An effort will be made to expose the girls to a wide range of interests and to help them set themselves to the kind of lives they will have to live when they grow older.

Honored by Indians
Miss Twohy has had a number of interesting experiences since she has been engaged in her present profession. While in Muskogee, Okla., for instance, she was honor guest at a tea given by a group of Indian Girl Scouts who attend the Boone school. Five tribes, Cherokee, Seminole, Creek, Osage and Chickasaw, were represented.

You never need feel self-conscious . . . wearing this sanitary pad

WHAT a relief to know that you can depend completely on Kotex! You aren't handicapped by self-consciousness or embarrassment.

Kotex, you know, is the sanitary pad that is fashioned to fit. It is just wide enough, just long enough and it's made of a remarkable substance known as Cellucotton absorbent wadding, which is not cotton, but a cellulose substance that's really five times more absorbent than cotton.

Eighty-five per cent of our leading hospitals now use this very same Kotex absorbent.

Here's the reason so many women began to use Kotex: it is easily disposable. Buy a box. Try it.

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—President Hoover today characterized Dr. William Henry Welch as "Our greatest statesman in the field of public health" at the Washington exercises of the international celebration marking the 80th birthday of the Baltimore pathologist.

The dean of American medicine who now holds the chair of history of medicine at Johns Hopkins, was honored in many parts of the world today. 39 other cities reported joining with the nation's capital in tribute.

Texas League Opens 1930 Diamond Campaign Today

Fair Weather Is Due For Opening Of Pennant Scrap

Fort Worth Cats, Favorites To Cop Flag, Expected To Play Before Largest Crowd This Afternoon

By GAYLE TALBOT JR., Associated Press Sports Writer. DALLAS, April 8 (AP)—Experts, real and fancied, have made their official selections, and John Pan has been exhorted to turn out and help win the attendance prize. All that remains is for the eight Texas league units to get out tomorrow and start things rolling.

Prospects were that fair weather would attend the blow-off, sending the attendance high. The Fort Worth Cats, present favorites to cop the bunting, likewise were favored to play before the greatest audience. Pantherville officials have waged a vigorous campaign and enthusiasm in this city is said to have reached a high pitch.

Battle of Southpaws
A battle of southpaws was in prospect at Fort Worth, where the Cats tie up with the Dallas Steers in general and Jakey Aiz in particular. Jimmy Walkup, one of the league's most effective pitchers last year, was manager Frank Snyder's logical choice. He probably will be opposed by Dave Danforth, an ancient leftie obtained by Dallas during the winter. Danforth has been pitching great baseball in exhibitions.

The Steers and Cats will hop back here for Thursday's tussle. Shreveport and Wichita Falls open hostilities with a three-game series in Spudderville. Howard Williamson has been nominated to take the mound for the Sports, with either Hal Wilton, a southpaw, or Mill Steingrate favored to toil for the Oilers. The Sports again are the "dark horse" of the loop. A majority of the boys have picked it out around the top, but to a man they are worried about Art Phelan's nine. Little will be known of the new Spudder club's strength until the season is a week or two advanced.

Cubs at Beaumont
Waco opens with a pair at Beaumont. Bill Harris probably will toss for the Exporters. Martin is one of the new Denny Burns or Abe Martin, a promising southpaw, doing duty for the Exporters. Albrit is one of the new crop of hurriers that Beaumont is counting upon to lift the Shippers out of the basement.

Manager Joe Schultz of the Houston Buffs was expected to send Floyd Rose, stocky little righthander, against San Antonio in the first of the Dallas steers. In the latter city, "Hobo" Carson, the former Texas Christian university hero, was a good bet to take the mound for the Indians.

Most of the clubs have received some last-minute reinforcements; particularly the Dallas steers, if they keep coming at the present rate it will necessitate some healthy revisions in the predicting league. The Indians in their final exhibition today enjoyed a hot weather romp with St. Mary's Redsters and won by a score of 13 to 1.

Cat Squad Cut
The Fort Worth Panther squad was cut to the required 25 men tonight with outright releases handed to two recruit catchers, McTavish and Thurman.

Manager Del Pratt, before departing for Beaumont tonight, declared "the Waco Cubs have the best balanced ball team in the history of this city's class A baseball."

President Fred Tankeman of the Houston Buffs today announced the unconditional release of Willie Carr, catcher; Ben Zoch and Floyd Biggers, pitchers. A deal on Klor, young shortstop from Louisiana, and Roger Trawek, pitcher, may be announced tomorrow.

FROGS SWEEP SERIES
S.M.U. Mustangs Are Again Defeated By Purple

DALLAS, April 8 (AP)—Texas Christian University Horned Frogs cleaned up in their two game series with Southern Methodist University, taking the second game of the series today 4 to 2.

T. C. U. . . . .001 020 010—4 6 2

Race in National Loop May Take Spotlight in Big League Struggle

By JAY VESSELS, Sports Editor (Associated Press Feature Service) NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—These super-clubs the American league has been turning out in recent years are all very fine; they are sure-shot world's series winners and they unquestionably have established the junior loop's superiority for the time being.

But for bang up pennant races the National league seems to have the edge, and all indications point to further progress in that direction this season.

FROM THE GREEN

DO YOU FINISH LIKE THIS OR THIS

BY ROY GROVE, Central Press Sports Writer. How do you finish your stroke? Every professional can tell you the direction of your tee shot by watching the direction of your backswing. They can tell you accurately whether you are going to hook or slice the instant they see your club leave the ground on your backswing.

Therefore, the backswing must be an important factor in driving a straight ball down the fairway. The arc described on the down-swing is the same arc after you have hit the ball, or more commonly known as follow-through. You cannot take a flat backswing and finish with an upright swing without losing your balance, resulting in a terrible tee shot.

Now — if you pull back in your backswing then the forward swing is going to be forced forward (as you will note in the small illustration). Compare the two illustrations. You can tell at a glance which one is correct.

Do not pull the shoulder around as shown in (C). The hands in (A) have fallen down and dropped the club, the power is lost. Note how the left and right elbow are broken and sticking out at the hole in (B). There is no hip action at the point (D) and the right knee is stiff. The figure is tight all the way through. To top it off the player is up on his toe, with his right foot.

There has been plenty of freedom and whip in the drive of the larger illustration.

SOX DOWN GIANTS

Chicago Takes Lead Over New York In Series

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 8 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox once more took the lead in the exhibition series with the New York Giants winning today's game 7 to 4. The count now stands six to five with one game having been tied.

Bill Walker and Ralph Judd were found for ten hits at the opportune time while the Giants fell on Ed Walsh, Jr., and Hal McKain for 12 safeties. Home runs were made by Eddie Marshall of the Giants and Carl Reynolds of the Sox.

Trouble Brewing For Giant Primo

SAN JOSE, Cal., April 8 (AP)—Trouble was brewing here today for Primo Carnera, giant Italian heavyweight, because one of his many managers cancelled an engagement to show here after making the date. Ora Forman, local promoter, declared he would not call off his show, set for April 16, and that he would take the matter up with the state athletic commission at once.

If he does not get any satisfaction from the commission, Forman said he would attach Carnera's purse when he fights in Oakland April 14.

CARDS DOWN REDWINGS
BRADENTON, Fla., April 8 (AP)—In their final game of the season in Florida, the St. Louis Cardinals today defeated the Rochester International League club, 7 to 4. It was the fifth victory for the Cardinals in the seven game series.

1929, show vast added strength, far out of proportion to Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York and St. Louis, the first division finishers last year.

Fisher's Injury Dims Tech Outlook

Wrestling Takes Blow From Group

New York Solons Decide Term "Match" Will No Longer Be Applied To Mat Shows In Gotham

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—Wrestling, that highly entertaining but much abused sport, took a pummeling today from the New York State Athletic commission.

Taking the attitude that all wrestlers were guilty of hippodroming until proven innocent, the solemn solons decided that the term "match" — indicating "contest" — could not be applied to grappling carnivals in New York. The proper terms are "shows" and "exhibitions" and promoters must so label the ballyhoo.

Muldoon Leads Attack
Commissioner William Muldoon whose 85 years of wisdom include a complete understanding of wrestlers and their customs led the attack that coincides with the recent agitation against wrestling within the 22 states and territories of the national boxing association. Muldoon, a heavyweight wrestling champion, manager and promoter many years ago, has been conducting a one-man investigation himself at recent bouts here.

While no official statement of explanation was made, the commission indicated that stronger action against suspected "hippodromes" awaited only stronger and more definite evidence of collusion between combatants.

Bruins Beat Out Owls Again, 7-6

WACO, April 8 (AP)—The Baylor Bears made it two in a row over the Rice Owls here today when Ray Hart, Rice's star flinger, was out-pitched by Jake Wilson. Rochev Koch was the hitting hero with two singles and a home run, all figuring in the score of 7 to 6. With two runs in the eighth and one in the ninth the Owls tied the score at 6-6, but Wilson scored the winning run on Joe Potter's single with one out in the last of the ninth.

The score by innings:
Rice . . . . .110 001 021—6 11 2
Baylor . . . . .201 003 001—7 9 3
Hart and Bucholz; Wilson and Koch.

YANKS DEFEATED

Memphis Wins 3-1 Decision From New York Crew

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—The New York Yankees string of minor league victories was snapped today by Memphis, the Southern Association club winning 3 to 1. It was the tenth defeat in 30 exhibitions for the Yanks.

Southpaw Clarence Griffin held the Slugging American Leaguers to six hits while Roy Sherd, working well for the losers, granted only eight safeties. Babe Ruth appeared in the starting line up, but was in only long enough to slam a single off the right field fence. He hobbled down to first and then gave way to Sammy Byrd.

BROWNS STILL HITTING

St. Louis Sluggers Slam Oklahoma City Team

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 8 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns continued their heavy hitting today and defeated Oklahoma City of the Western League, 13 to 1. The major leaguers collected 22 hits. Stewart and Crowder had no trouble holding the Western League hitters in check.

REDS SWAMP COLONELS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds blasted sixteen hits off Roy Wilkinson here today and whipped the Louisville Colonels of the American Association 9 to 6 in a game devoid of features.

TWO WORKMEN KILLED

PONCA CITY, Okla., April 8 (AP)—Two employes of the Continental Pipe Line company were killed and three seriously injured in the overturning of a company truck on which they were going to work today in Osage county.

Battling for National Title

Knute Rockne Off For Mayo Clinic

CHICAGO, April 8 (AP)—Tanned by two months on Florida beaches and expansively cheerful, Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's famous football coach, tonight left for the Mayo Brothers Clinic at Rochester, Minn., after a brief stop in Chicago.

Dr. C. J. Barborica, who recently was summoned to Miami, Fla., to consult with the famous coach on his program for the summer, said Rockne virtually had recovered from an acute attack of esthmatic bronchitis, and was on his way to Rochester for a complete physical check-up and treatment for his ailing right leg.

Developing young pitching material of class is the new policy of Manager Stanley Harris for the Detroit Tigers.

Bold Buccaneers Beat Steers, 8-5

DALLAS, April 8 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates drew up to even terms in their exhibition battles with Texas teams by defeating Dallas of the Texas League today, 8 to 5. The Pirates now have won three games and lost three against Texas League opposition.

Pittsburgh . . . . .104 000 003—8 10 2
Dallas . . . . .401 000 005—5 12 4

ROBINS SWEEP SERIES

ATLANTA, April 8 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers hit hard and timely today to defeat the Atlanta Crackers 15 to 1 and make a clean sweep of the two game series.

American tourists visiting Switzerland last year numbered 160,000.

Player Is Hurt Nightmare Puts Rumler to Bed

OAKLAND, Cal., April 8 (AP)—Bill Rumler, big swatsmith and outfielder of Hollywood's stars, did not participate in today's opening Coast league game with Oakland on account of a nightmare and a Pullman car window. Coming up from Hollywood, Rumler had a restless night and jammed his feet through the window. Suffering severe cuts, he will be out of play about a week.

Ty Congratulates Bobby Jones

As one good Georgian to another, Ty Cobb was glad to see the success of Bobby Jones in the Southeastern Open golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., and here he is telling him so. That's Bobby on the left.

Matador Star To Be Out Saturday In Canyon Meet

Buffaloes From West Texas Coming for Dual Skirmish With Local Thinlyclads; Buffs Have 4 Veterans

A leg injury to Leon Fisher, Matador track and field star, has lessened considerably the chances of the Texas Tech tracksters in the sole home meet of the season here Saturday with the Canyon Buffaloes.

Fisher pulled a tendon in his leg last Saturday in practice and is not likely to see action in the dual skirmish with the Teachers. Coach Vic Payne had planned to enter the elongated Fisher in at least five events, including the 100-yard dash, high and low hurdles, javelin throw, broad jump and mile relay.

May Throw Javelin
There is a possibility that Fisher's injury will not prevent his throwing the javelin, but he is certain to be kept out of the running events.

The team Coach Burton is bringing here for the dual engagement with the Matadors is built around four veterans of the track and field. Captain Sloan Miller, giant weightman of the Buffalo squad, who placed first in the T. I. A. A. discus throw last season, heads the list.

Fuller Is Star
Fresch Fuller, who lettered several years ago in the pole vault, is reported going strong again this season. Penick, a two-miler, and New Crain, a miler, are the other letter men on the team that will come here.

First-year men who are showing up well on Burton's squad are Powell, C. Keith, Terry and Fox in the sprints; Shirley, Monroe, Nafziger and Cox in the hurdles. Burk, Dubbs and Dougherty in the middle-distance runs. Swafford and Morris have shown marked ability in the distance races.

St. Louis Browns Pin Hopes on New Players on Roster; Killefer Hopeful

By BRIAN BELL, (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—Bill Killefer, manager of the St. Louis Browns, believes in "old men" for counsel, young men for war.

He has two veteran coaches Jimmy Austin and Russell Blackburn to assist him in giving advice and is sending the youngsters to the front to do the baseball fighting.

"We must depend on the young fellows," said the ruddy faced Bill as he talked of his prospects as he starts his first year as an American league manager. When he last directed a club it was the Cubs of the National league.

"We have to a large extent weeded out the old-timers, even on the farms the club owns or controls. We are prepared to go along with the promising youngsters we have and hope to get others who will develop later.

"Our faith in the youth of baseball is shown by the selection of Rick Ferrell, 24 years old, to be our first string catcher. I think he is one of the greatest catching prospects I have ever seen and I am sure he will come through for us in fine style."

"We have a good pitching staff and if we had nothing to do but get our pitchers ready, our job would be simple."

COLUMBUS 8; RED SOX 6
COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 8 (AP)—The Columbus Senators opened their home season today with an 8 to 6 victory over the Boston Red Sox of the American League.

We Know Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

... the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency . . . join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

More than a damning social fault . . . spitting is a filthy, menacing habit . . . especially when it fouls the things you put into your mouth! Why run the risk of cigars made by dirty, yellowed fingers and tipped in spit? Remember, more than half of all cigars made in this country are still made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Certified Cremo protects you against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrapp and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Proverbial Rush For Almighty Coin Not So Important For Medicine And Law, Interviews In City Indicate

In America's proverbial mad rush for the "Almighty Dollar," there will be found some whose goal is not wholly financial gain, if interviews with leading professions—law and medicine—may be taken as a criterion.

Interviews with local physicians point out that once a person enters the medical profession his motives become more unselfish, with financial remuneration necessary yet secondary object.

Increased hardships over past years were pictured in both law and medical professions before the "arm success" can be applied.

Slave to Humanity
"The doctor is a slave to humanity," said Dr. J. Hooper Stiles. A physician makes an ordinary living, but you seldom see one who really has a great deal of money. It is for the love of the profession and the desire to serve that a man enters the profession of medicine.

And once having decided to enter the field one must work, work, work. It is becoming harder every year to become a successful physician.

In most of the outstanding medical schools, it is now required that a person hold a Bachelor of Arts degree before entering, and then must remain for four years before being allowed to practice. After this, he must spend several more years before he becomes established.

"There are more people studying medicine now than ever before, and many who get a degree do not practice."

In Field of Law
"Yes indeed, it's harder to get started in the profession of law now than was formerly the case," said W. H. Bledsoe, local attorney. "Regulations are stricter, and there is more competition."

"It has not been many years ago when a man could enter law school before finishing high school, but now he must have two years of pre-law work in college, before taking his three-year course in law school. True, it is not required of a man to be an accredited law-school graduate before he begins practicing, but if he is not such a graduate, he must pass an examination given by a centralized board of examiners composed of five lawyers having the qualifications required of members of the Supreme Court and being appointed annually by the Supreme Court. This board, which convenes at Austin, is a great deal stricter than the boards of examiners were a few years ago."

Misty Office Gone
"The misty, unsystematized law office has served its day," said George Dupre, another Lubbock attorney. "The lawyer no longer has paper of every description strewn carelessly about his desk, and he no longer depends on his memory for necessary details. All papers relating to every case are carefully filed and may be found in a few moments. These papers are kept as long as the lawyer practices. The law business is just as much of a business as the newspaper business."

More Study Law
"There are more students studying law at present than was formerly the case," continued Mr. Dupre. "One reason for this is that there are more students receiving a college education now than formerly. In spite of the fact that more study law, however, it is true that there are fewer successful lawyers. With the increased qualifications, many students become discouraged and give up the study."

Missing Man Is Found At Sinton

FORT WORTH, April 8 (AP)—Lambert L. Quinn, former filling station operator at Sinton, when officers of two states searched for while his family feared the man was a victim of foul play after disappearing here last December 14, was arrested in Sinton yesterday and held for Tarrant county on a charge of wife and child desertion.

While his family lived in Fort Worth, Quinn went into partnership at Sinton to operate the filling station. December 5 he returned to Fort Worth to raise money to operate the station. December 14 he disappeared. His automobile was found in south Texas in storage at a garage in Ingleside and the garage owner did not know who placed the car in storage. Belief of foul play arose when this discovery was made.

Quinn's relatives in Boxite, Ark., became interested in the search. Police Chief Jeff Davis of Boxite has been in Fort Worth several days in efforts to clear the mystery of the man's disappearance.

Court Action Is Reversed Monday

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Holding that the secretary of the Interior has the right to take the price at which oil taken from government owned lands under lease may be sold, the District of Columbia court of appeals today reversed an action by the District of Columbia supreme court granting to the Texas company a permanent injunction against Secretary Wilbur.

Secretary Wilbur refused to approve a contract made by the Cody Petroleum company to sell oil from the Oregon basin in Wyoming to the Texas company for 35 cents a barrel at the well and insisted on a price of 85 cents per barrel. The Texas company sought and was granted a permanent injunction against the secretary by the District of Columbia supreme court.

Clash Is Averted In School Voting

MALLEN, April 8 (AP)—Embarrassment over the school election averted here today after armed members of two factions narrowly averted a clash over the school trustee election at the little Mexican settlement of Penitas, 30 miles west of here.

While the election was being held Saturday armed members of the Good Government League and of the administration lined up opposite each other and stood around the polls all day. The league candidates were defeated. Hardly more than 10 Anglo-Saxon voters reside in the district, the others being Mexican.

Mooney Forced Down With Broken Fuel Pump

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 8 (AP)—After a broken fuel pump on the light monoplane he had attempted to fly to a new transcontinental non-stop record had been repaired, A. W. Mooney, Wichita, Kan., airplane manufacturer, late today piloted his craft to the municipal airport here from the field five miles distant where his proposed coast-to-coast flight ended abruptly this morning. He said he would return to Wichita tomorrow.

She Chose Politics In Preference To Marriage And Now May Be South Dakota's Next Chief Executive

Gladys Pyle Will Be Candidate Against Four Men

HURON, S. D., April 8.—A woman who chose politics instead of marriage for her career when she was but a young school teacher, now stands a good chance of being South Dakota's next governor.

She, Gladys Pyle—39, attractive and single—who has just announced against a field of four men candidates for the Republican nomination.

And politicians throughout South Dakota are of the belief that Gladys (they are that familiar here in the friendly west) has just as good a chance as anyone in the race. Many are convinced that her chances are the best.

In the first place, Gladys Pyle is rather an unusual woman. It is a bit difficult to understand why she has never married, for there are multitudes of women—not as good-looking as Gladys and with far less personality than she—who are married. The conclusion is, of course, that Miss Pyle did not care to take marital ease, that she was more interested in other activities than housework.

Began as School Teacher
Miss Pyle started out as a school teacher after receiving her degree from Huron College and University of Chicago. She taught civics and American history in South Dakota high schools.

Coupled with her interest in governmental problems was an interest in politics that she inherited from her father, the late John L. Pyle, who was attorney-general of South Dakota. So she decided to take up politics as her career.

Her first step was to announce herself as a candidate for the state legislature from Beadle county, her home county. She was elected and came South Dakota's first woman legislator. She served so well that she was re-elected for another term.

During her second term she was appointed deputy to the secretary of state, being the first woman to hold such a job. She remained in the office for two terms and then she decided she knew enough about the office of secretary of state to run it herself. She announced as a can-

Survives Democratic Year
In this campaign the Republican party of the state suffered a setback and the first Democratic governor in more than 25 years was elected. But Miss Pyle did not go down in defeat; she led her ticket and became the first woman second made her decision. There were four retary of state and the highest Revey of the field, decided that the state couldn't unite on any one of her opponents, tal of it over with political leaders, wrote the other four candidates and their supporters.

Ignores Prohibition as Issue
She made a statement in a positive platform, although it made no mention of prohibition, a subject one would expect a woman politician to emphasize. But she wasn't trying to dodge the issue. Gladys is personally and politically dry. She believes prohibition is not an issue in the state campaign.

Instead, she concurred largely with fiscal and taxation reform. She laid down what her supporters say is a sound, definite and original policy.

One of the secrets of Miss Pyle's success as a political campaigner is that she set along with the men as well as the women of course, she engaged in the luncheons and teas and other social affairs women enjoy, but she gets along equally well with men. She is as much at home in a conference with a group of chairmen as in a group of tea-giving women.

Appeals to All Voters
"I do not want to bring the question of a candidate into this campaign," Miss Pyle said. "I am going along to the voters, not to one side or the other. I will campaign for all voters."

Gladys has courage—proof of it being the last session of the legislature at a certain fact, stating the information that she was not with the office of secretary of state and suggested an investigation. Miss Pyle announced that she would welcome an investigation, and talk died down.

But this didn't satisfy her. At the session nearest its close and it seemed apparent that her department would not be investigated. Miss Pyle demanded an investigation. Her office was then investigated and the charges were found to be without foundation.

Financier Denies Paternity of Child In Extortion Trial of Olga Edwards

NEW YORK, April 8.—(AP)—His denial of the paternity of the defendant's child in the record, Nathaniel L. Amster, 60-year-old financier, today had to undergo cross-examination in the trial of Olga Edwards, whom he accuses of extortion.

Amster told a jury yesterday the story of his association with Miss Edwards. He said they began in 1917 and ended last November, when he said he found himself obliged to "turn her over to the law" to end her demands for money.

Tells Of Gifts
He told of his series of gifts of money to her, voluntary at first, then after 1924 under compulsion of her threats to go to his wife and to the newspapers with her story that he was the father of her child. He said he set up a trust fund of $100,000 for her which provided an income of $500 a month.

In connection with his denial that he is the father of her son Lee, now six years old, Amster said that in 1923 before the birth of the boy she told him she believed in having children the way Ladora Duncan did.

"She's an artist like me," Amster said Miss Edwards told him, "a genius like me. Such a child would be mine, every inch of me. Nobody else would have any interest in it."

Body of Negro Pullman Porter Found Hanging to Tree in Georgia Section

'Chute Saves Her

Mildred Kaufman, above, diminutive Kansas City aviator, is the third woman to join the exclusive Caterpillar Club, composed of flyers whose parachutes have saved their lives. She was hurled from a plane at Buffalo while attempting to break her own woman's record of 46 inside loops.

(By Associated Press)
LOCUST GROVE, Ga., April 8.—The body of a negro pullman porter, his neck tied to a small tree and his knees touching the ground was found early today in a grove of trees a short distance from the track over which the train on which he worked had passed a few hours earlier.

He was J. H. Wilkins, porter of the Southern Railway's Kansas City Special. His skull was fractured in two places and the body apparently had been carried across a plowed field over a quarter of a mile from the tracks to a woods.

Coat Used To Tie
The porter's white coat had been used to tie his neck to the tree, which was a slender sapling. Tracks led from the railroad to the spot. At the railway right-of-way were drops of blood and signs of what officers think had been a struggle.

Officers investigating the mysterious affair thought from the fractured skull the negro might have been hit on the head and thrown from the train or been struck after he was taken from the train. A wound under his arm, at first said by officers to have been deep enough to cause death, was described later as a jagged cut without necessarily having been fatal.

In the negro's pockets was found $38.60.

A coroner's jury was impaneled late today and, after questioning a few witnesses, adjourned until Tuesday without determining the cause of death or obtaining a solution of the mystery.

"Is her so unhappy?" Dundee suggested. Then, as Mrs. Lambert excused her soon only with her eyes, "Will you tell me whether to your knowledge Mrs. Gigg was jealous, or had cause to be jealous of any other woman?" "No! I can swear that such a thought never entered Phyllis's mind!"

Dundee was silent for a while, his face narrowed in thought. Then he said to Mrs. Lambert: "No, not until she came to see upon my return to New York." "I answered 'Her mistress's death was a terrible blow to Doris, and the strain of the inquest she had to go to the home of an aunt, in a suburb of New York, a note of her aunt's name and address and flowers and delicacies to her, but did not go to see her. I myself was suffering from a strain and from grief. I went to the village in the south of France, where I remained there, in seclusion, until I called for America early in the year."

"Did you see Mr. Crosby during that time?"

"No, but I had several letters from him. He was traveling over the continent, making a brave effort to conquer his despair. For several months I feared he would follow Phyllis. In my own letters, I said everything I could to make him happier."

"And yet, just 16 months after a wife's death, Seymour Crosby comes engaged to be married to another girl. Dundee reminded her: 'No fair!' Gigg protested, making a face at the detective and baring her teeth. 'I've always heard that flowers who were crazy about their husbands got married again quick.' Mrs. Lambert smiled, dropped a grateful kiss upon the tumbled curls then explained to Dundee:

"It was I who introduced him to Doris, and I who encouraged him to try to find solace in a new life with a girl whom I esteem highly. When I wrote Seymour that he was returning to America, he replied that he was to be married and would join me on the Mauretania. In shipboard I became acquainted with Mrs. Berkeley and her daughter, and introduced them to Mr. Crosby. Seymour and Gloria were obviously in love. I thought, though I should not say that there was tempestuous love. Mrs. Berkeley encouraged the attraction."

"But she did!" Gigg giggled.

"Again, Mrs. Lambert, an expression which made her look beautiful. When it became fairly obvious that an engagement would be the result of social secretary, had never worked for money in my life, and the prospect dismayed me. She hesitated, then flung up her silver-crowned head defiantly. 'I am not a fortune teller, and my husband's estate was almost completely exhausted, and it was necessary for me to earn money in some way.'"

"Why didn't you get married again yourself, Tab?" Gigg began eagerly. "You're so beautiful and such a lamb I should think every autocrat that looked at you—"

"Mrs. Lambert's delicate cheeks flushed, and she stopped the rush of words by laying a hand over the child's mouth. "I accepted the position and Mrs. Berkeley asked me to begin my duties by engaging a butler and a thoroughly competent girl's maid for herself and Gloria. I had had a letter from Wickert while I was still in France, telling me that he was returning to America, and saying that he wanted to serve me if I should again set up an establishment. Of my arrival in New York I located Wickert through an employment bureau and offered him this post, which he accepted. A day or so later he sent word to me, that he was employed on Long Island estate, but wished to see me with Wickert."

"She simply adored you!" Gigg said in.

"And I—loved Doris," Mrs. Lambert said quietly, for the second time during the interview. "I think that is all I can tell you, Mr. Dundee. As you probably know, Gloria and Mr. Crosby became engaged on the last day of the voyage."

Dundee was silent again for a minute. Then he asked abruptly: "Mrs. Lambert, was it you who had Doris expected to serve at the establishment of my beauty shop of her own?"

"From me!" Mrs. Lambert was obviously surprised. "That is absurd. Doris knew quite well that I have nothing now except my salary as Mrs. Berkeley's secretary."

"Do you know whom she had in mind as her benefactor?" Dundee pressed.

"Why, no! I haven't the least idea. Mrs. Lambert, did Doris tell you at night that Mrs. Berkeley had snipped her hair?"

The effect of the question was startling. The woman's tired eyes shined with anger, and her lips were shaking as she repeated: "Snipped Doris' hair? Oh! Then, remaining a measure of control she answered: 'No Doris did not tell me that.'"

"Don't mind so, Tab!" Gigg pleaded, stroking her friend's flushed cheek with tender brown fingers. "Abbie has a rotten temper, you know. She fits off the patrician and goes banging around, but she really doesn't mean any harm. I got biffed myself last night, remember, and I'm not harboring any bad feelings against my peppery parent."

"I remember," Mrs. Lambert said quietly, but her arms tightened about the child's body.

"Forgive what must seem like unwarranted prying, Mrs. Lambert, please wait on 'till last night I happened to overheat Mrs. Berkeley's maid. All right, I promise you. Will you tell me, please, what time you extracted from Mrs. Berkeley—"

"Really, Mr. Dundee, I must request to answer that question," Mrs. Lambert returned coldly. "It was a purely personal matter, having nothing at all to do with the tragedy you are investigating."

GOOFY MOVIES

Dundee shrugged slightly, then smiled at her disarmingly as he took a rather crumpled package of cigars and a patent lighter from his coat pocket. He was snapping unsuccessfully at the flint when Gigg scrambled out of Mrs. Lambert's lap and snatched the lighter from his hands.

"Set it needs filling!" she told him. "Let me do it! See 'is funny little fountain!" and she ran around the big desk to where an ornamental little keg with gleaming brass bands held a prominent position among writing accessories. "It's a filling station for starting lighters, but we feed 'em wood alcohol instead of gas. Watch!" and she jerked the lighter apart, and held the tiny reservoir directly under the miniature spigot whose tap she turned. "Now see if it will light."

Lundee accepted the refilled lighter with thanks, then remarked admiringly: "That's neat! I never saw one before."

"Say that to Dad and he'll make you a present of one," Gigg assured him. "He paints the thing himself and one of his factories turns them out by the thousand. He's awfully proud of it, too. Designs a new type of 'body' every week or so. The house is full of them. Abbie has a gorgeous one for her sitting room—a modernistic urn, the darndest thing. But poor Dad has a beetling worry about them. He's afraid some thifty and insatiable member of his precious family will take a swig of the wood alcohol and fill an untimely grave. Therefore he delivers periodic lectures on the horrible effects—"

The ringing of the house telephone interrupted her torrent of words. Scatching up the receiver, she cooed "Hello!" and winked at Dundee. "Abbie—on the rampage!" she whispered after a moment. "Aloud: 'Yes, darling! she's still being quizzed.' On me? Why, Abbie! How can you? I'm bring my most charming self—your dear, little wife-eyed daughter. Of course I'm not giving away family secrets! ... All right, darling. Keep your shirt on. I think they're almost through."

"She wants you to hurry, because she needs Tab," she explained unnecessarily.

"I'll hurry," Dundee grinned at her. "Now Mrs. Lambert, will you please tell me when you last saw Doris Matthews?"

"At exactly what time, you mean?" Mrs. Lambert asked. "Let me think. It was about 11 when I came upstairs to my room first and was reading a long letter from one of my New York friends which I had been too busy to open when it came on the late afternoon post, when I suddenly remembered that I had neglected to enter an important engagement for this morning on Mrs. Berkeley's desk calendar. As I was opening my door to go to Mrs. Berkeley's sitting room, I saw Doris hurrying past on her way to the backstairs. She looked as if she had been crying."

"Did you stop her—speak to her?" Dundee asked.

"Yes, I called to her. She stopped in my door and I asked her what was wrong. She said, 'Nothing. It's just that I've been talking with Mr. Crosby and—remembering.' I saw that she was emotionally upset and did not detain her. She ran up the backstairs to the servants' quarters and I went to Mrs. Berkeley's sitting room."

"You did!" Dundee exclaimed. "We had no idea—How long were you there, Mrs. Lambert?"

Anarchist Sought For Deportation

One Killed and Detectives Beaten In Fight During Speaking; Italian Runs As Crowds Hold Cop

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—An Italian anarchist, wanted for deportation, was sought today after he escaped arrest under cover of a fight in which one man was killed and a detective was beaten at an anti-Fascist meeting.

Armando Borghi, the anarchist, had finished a speech at the meeting in Cooper Union auditorium yesterday when Vincent Pezaga, immigration inspector, walked on the stage with a deportation warrant for him.

Shouting "Stop the police," Borghi fled while sympathizers in the audience swarmed about Pezaga.

Detective Thomas Lilienthal, in the back of the hall, went to Pezaga's aid. He was knocked down and kicked and beaten. Regaining his feet he drew his pistol and fired one shot, killing an unidentified man.

Three men were arrested for felonious assault. Police reserves dispersed the crowd.

Financier Apes Count Of Monte Cristo In Running Down Enemies One By One

CHICAGO, April 8.—Like another Count of Monte Cristo, Arthur W. Cutten, the financier, is running to earth his enemies, one by one.

If the man arrested in Cleveland, O., yesterday is really Simon Rosenberg, another of the bandit hand that robbed the Cutten household March 17, 1922, has been found. He has been called the leader of the robbers, though the man held at Cleveland denies he is Rosenberg at all. He gave his name to arresting officers as Charles Davis.

Voices of Vengeance
When a man comes into my house and robs me and my family, and then locks me in a vault where I might have suffocated—well, I'll get him," said Mr. Cutten last night at his Downers Grove, Ill., estate.

And he has gotten the robbers, one by one; has pushed the prosecution, has sent them to prison. If the man in Cleveland is Rosenberg—and Cutten feels certain he is—only one member of the robber gang remains at large. He is Kasper Rosenberg, brother of Simon.

Gets Number Five
"Simon Rosenberg is number five," Cutten said. "When I get his brother, the job is done."

The Cutten robbery was at the Downers Grove estate. Jewelry valued at $20,000, a small amount of cash and 25 cases of whiskey were taken. Mrs. Cutten and other members of the household were bound and gagged, and the financier was locked in a vault. Two servants freed themselves and released Cutten.

The largest power shovel in the world will scoop up a dozen wagon loads of material, raise it 25 feet and dump it, all in one minute.

THE FIRST REALLY NEW OIL IN 25 YEARS

THIS is the simple story of the new oil that is now enjoying such remarkable acceptance: Conoco Germ-Processed... In the first place, this new oil is an extraordinarily fine paraffin-base lubricant. And then... under exclusive Conoco patents, this oil is endowed with the unusual faculty of penetrating and combining with metal surfaces. This faculty, we call "Penetrative Lubricity." The Germ Process, by adding a precious oily-essence lacking in all other oils, does this... And so provides constant un-failing lubrication for your motor under any conceivable strenuousness of motor operation. Germ Process is the first fundamental improvement in refining methods in the last quarter century.

So won't you come into the next station you see bearing the Red Triangle and join the thousands of other motorists who have changed to Conoco Germ-Processed Oil in the last few weeks?

Boycott Charges Will Be Probed

AUSTIN, April 8 (AP)—Claims of Ed Cran of Dallas, member of the University of Texas land leasing board, that oil companies have combined to boycott sale of oil and gas leases in West Texas state lands will be investigated by the attorney general's department.

Governor Moody said he had referred to Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt the letter of Cran complaining that the companies had agreed not to bid so long as the state insisted on reserving more than one-eighth royalty. The board had fixed a minimum royalty of one-sixth of the production on lands regarded as proven territory.

BONDS APPROVED
AUSTIN, April 8 (AP)—The attorney general's department today approved bond issues including Wichita Falls independent school district, Wichita county, school-house, $100,000.

LADY'S HEALTH WAS WRETCHED

Had Suffered So Much Pain She Was Almost Desperate. Says Cardui Helped Her.

Denison, Texas.—"Before I took Cardui, it seemed like I had tried everything, for my health was wretched," writes Mrs. Mamie Davis, of 418 West Woodard Street, this city.

"I was in bed most of the time," explains Mrs. Davis, "suffering so much with pain in my side and back, and weakness. I was so discouraged, I was almost desperate. I knew there ought to be something to reach my case. I only weighed about 110 pounds. My eyes were hollow and I looked awfully bad.

"A good friend told me about Cardui. After taking my first bottle, I felt better, but I kept it up until I had taken four bottles, and now I am well, have no pain in my side or back, and feel like a new woman. I can work most of the time, and feel fine.

"For three years, I have been free from pain. That is why I recommend Cardui."

Experience of many thousands of users testifies that Cardui helps women to health.
