CANNON ACQUITTED ON SPECULATION CHARGES

Indictments Name Former Borger Officials In Prohibition Conspiracy

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The Texas supreme court orders the Democratic state executive committee to certify the name of Tom Love as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. The ruling of the court in the Love case means that no candidate, whether for state or county or precinct office can be barred from the Democratic primary because that candidate bolted the ticket in any preceding election.

Mr. Love says that if he is nominated he will excuse anyone who participates in the primary from voting for him in the general elections if it will be against their conscience to do so. Mr. Love has an elastic conscience about the pledge to support the nominees of the primary. Talker intends to vote in the primary; he believes Mr. Love is seeking to raise false issues and that he is not a good Democrat, but he is not asking to be excused from the pledge to vote for Mr. Love in the general election.

If Tom Love is the kind of a Democrat the majority want Talker is willing for them to have him.

Mr. Love annouces that he will wage a relentless fight against Tammany. Tammany is about as much of a menace in Texas as the revolution in India and if Mr. Love is unable to find an issue that has more to do with the government of Texas, why let him go after the deer's skin.

Mr. Love impresses Talker as a man who would rather make an issue than to really accomplish something. Our present situation in Texas seems to call for accomplishment rather than the development of issues.

At the same time the supreme court ordered the Democratic state executive committee to certify the name of Mr. Love for the primary ballot, it held that both the district court of Wichita county and the court of civil appeals erred in not dismissing the application of J. W. Nicholson and others for an injunction to prevent the Wichita county Democratic executive committee from ousting them from the committee after they had refused to pledge support to the ticket in 1928.

So far as Talker has seen from reports of the court's opinion in this case it did not go into the question of whether a committeeman who is not loyal to the ticket has the right to sit in the party councils. Here is a quesion that seems vital to party organization. We will have to wait for the text of the court's opinion to learn whether this question was discussed. Anyway, so far as the Wichita county committee is concerned, it appears that the bolting members are off the committee and out of court, and that the committee can now be filled with those who will support the ticket, which probably means those who voted the Democratic ticket in 1928 and who will vote the ticket in 1930, even if Mr. Love, the apostle of bolting, is the nominee for governor.

The home is the greatest source of non-fatal accidental injuries in the United States, says a bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, just topping the streets and other public places, but far outclassing the office, the factory and the shop. Slipping in the bath tub, falling over rugs, off chairs and step ladders, and burns from lamps, matches and tea kettles are some of the domestic misadventures making the home a place of peril. A little accident prevention education in the home would prevent many a minor injury and some that are more serious.

Mrs. Northcross who is conducting the Times and Record News free cooking school at the Memorial auditorium this week promises to tell and show housewives how to take some of the monotony out of cooking. Mrs. Northcross will lecture and demonstrate the buying, preparation, cooking and serving of new dishes, new ways to cook familiar foods and new ways to plan varied meals.

The more we know about what we are doing the more interest we have and the better we can do it. This applies to cooking as well as other activities. Talker would say that women who attend Mrs. Northcross' lectures and demonstrations will turn to their kitchens with a great deal more zest and interest in their cooking.

Wales Denies He Plans United States Visit

Persons closest to the royal family insist that the prince's program for June and July is well-filled, and that no arrangements have been made for any such trip in the autumn.

EX-MAYOR AND TWO DEPUTIES FACE CHARGES

Ten Bills Returned by Oil Town Grand Jury in Liquor Probe

NEUTRALITY CHARGE

Amarillo Oil Man Billed for Delivering Planes to Rebels

AMARILLO, Texas, May 19. (AP)—Ten Borger citizens, including former Mayor Glenn Pace and Sam Jones, Burlin Milholland and Cal Baird, former deputy sheriffs, were indicted today by the federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate prohibition laws.

The indictments also named Louis Crim, Johnny Jones, C. A. Mitchell, H. O. Taylor, John Ware and Mrs. Ethel Ware.

Neutrality Case

Another indictment, charging violation of neutrality laws of the United States, named Otis L. Williams, oil operator active in business circles. He was charged with delivering two airplanes from Amarillo to rebel forces in Mexico during the revolution there last summer.

The Borger residents were charged under one blanket indictment alleging 14 overt acts.

It alleged that the former public officials had organized a "liquor line" for the purpose of selling and distributing liquor to retail dealers in Hutchinson county and also that they arranged protection for such retail dealers on the condition that they would deal only in such intoxicating liquors as might be furnished by persons named in the indictment.

"Protection" Charged

They were charged with having an understanding that a considerable portion of this liquor would be distributed to various officials of the city of Borger and of the United States government in consideration for protection and immunity.

The defendants, already under bond made several months ago when they were arraigned, will be brought into court again this week to enter pleas, Alex Mood, prosecuting attorney, said tonight. Their trials were set for the present term of court.

RECOVERY OF BODY DOUBTED

Search Goes Ahead While Confidence Wanes

Special to The Record News

SEYMOUR, Texas, May 19.—Possibility that the body of J. H. Carter, well known Crowell farmer who disappeared from his home last Thursday morning, might not be found in the waters of Lake Kemp was suggested by John Crawford, game warden, Monday night after three days of search had failed to reveal any trace of the missing man.

While four boats equipped with chains and fish hooks dragged the lake within a mile and a half of the spot where Carter's abondoned truck was found, Mr. Crawford expressed doubt as to whether the body was, or had been, in the lake. The search was nevertheless continued until a late hour Monday night and will, if necessary, go on until nine days after the disappearance, the warden said.

About 30 men and boys, mostly friends and relatives of Carter, persisted in their unavailing search all day Monday. Members of the searching party were sure the body would be found, Mr. Crawford said.

Search for the body began after Mrs. Carter received a letter from her husband, mailed in Vernon, telling her he was "going for a swim in Lake Kemp" and instructing her repeatedly not to look for the body. The letter included $9 and gave detailed instructions about the handling of a $12,000 insurance policy.

Carter was last seen at the toll gate of Flippen park, between 5 and 6 o'clock last Thursday afternoon. His truck was discovered on top of

STORM - TOSSED ZEP ARRIVES AT SEVILLE

Graf Moored at Spanish City After Journey Through Winds

IN AIR AGAIN TODAY

Andalusians Extend Great Welcome to Eckener And His Crew

SEVILLE, May 19. (US)—Wind-tossed and storm-drenched, driven far off its course by squalls, the Graf Zeppelin, guided by "the storm king," Dr. Hugo Eckener, was landed safely here at 6:03 p. m. today (2:03 p. m. E. S. T.)

"It was a fine trip," was Dr. Eckner's terse comment as he followed the 22 passengers down the gangplank after everything had been made safe aboard.

The thousands gathered at the landing field, though they had cheered themselves hoarse during the hour that the silver "count" floated magnificently over the city before landing, managed to rally a welcoming shout at the sight of the grizzled commander.

For though his words did not admit it they sensed that the 25 hour and 44 minute flight from Friedrichshafen had been made through some 1,600 miles of stubborn headwinds, treacherous thunder squalls, and at one time a downpour of rain.

Flight Holds Interest

They had followed with tense interest the Graf's battle down the Rhone valley through the night, they had waited anxiously as the dirty weather forced Dr. Eckener to take his craft along the shores of Morroco, pass throught the Straits of Gibraltar, north of which he had first planned to cut, and first cross Spanish soil at historic Palos.

It was from the latter port that Columbus sailed on his voyage that discovered a new world. It is the Spanish belief that the Zeppelin's arrival here will again raise a city, once the emporium of trade with America, to a position of prominence in a modern world.

Circles Tower

Watchers on the Giralda tower, above this city and beneath which lies the tomb of Columbus, first sighted the blunt-nosed mammoth of the air at 4:30 p. m. (1:30 p. m., E. D. T.) A half hour later the dirigible was casting its shadow over the city.

Thrice it circled over the tower, over the ancient gothic cathedral and the building housing the archieves, where Spain keeps its

Sweating Police Fight Indian Salt Raiders

BOMBAY, May 19. (AP)—India's battle against the government salt monopoly continued unabated today, but there was no mass violence nor were there serious clashes with the police.

The activities of civil disobedience volunteers centered chiefly around the salt pans of Dharasana and Wardala. At the latter place the police used their sticks to drive the raiders away from the salt pans, injuring several. They perspired heavily at this task, for the volunteers worked in small groups, one batch rushing to get into the barbed wire enclosure while the police wer busy driving another out.

Coolidge Balks (Silently) When Borglum Alters Tabloid History

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Calvin Coolidge's disinclination to be criticized for the acts of another brought the fact that his 500-word history of the United States had been altered by Gutzon Borglum, sculptor who is to cut the history into the granite of Mount Rushmore, South Dakota.

Mr. Borglum, who is chairman of the committee on publicity and design of the mountain memorial as well as its sculptor and engineer, himself invited Mr. Coolidge to write the tabloid history, the first chapter of which is to be carved beneath the granite portrait of George Washington. Some time ago what was said to be the text of this chapter as Mr. Coolidge wrote it (but was not) was made public.

There was no comment at the time, either by Borglum or by Coolidge. It is not known whether Mr. Coolidge was then aware of the changes and withheld public remark pending discussion of the matter with Borglum, or whether he had not been notified and did not read the published text, taking it for granted that it was as he wrote it. But recently something happened which brought the whole affair into the open.

John Corbin, veteran newspaper man and author of a study of Washington, in preparing which he had for four years studied the period of the declaration and the constitution, wrote a letter to the New York Times, on which he was formerly an editorial writer, challenging the accuracy of several parts of what he supposed was Coolidge's text.

"Knowing nothing of any changes," Corbin told the Associated Press today, "I called Mr. Coolidge to book in that letter—politely, I hope, but rather sharply for all that."

Borglum took no immediate action, the Corbin letter presumably not having come to his attention, but Mr. Coolidge wrote Corbin that the text as criticized in the Times letter was not his, his original having been altered "without any consent" on his part. A few days later he wrote suggesting that Corbin write another letter to the Times setting forth that the passages criticized in the first letter were not from the Coolidge pen.

This Corbin did, saying that he had learned "on the very highest authority" that changes had been made in the Coolidge text. The implication that this "highest authority" was Coolidge and not some official spokesman for the former president, was verified today.

Borglum did not take the matter up directly with Corbin, but he gave a statement to the Times, explaining the changes he had made in the text in detail. He also wrote to the Times that Corbin's statement as to the declaration of independence and the constitution was

SENATE FARM FORCES BURST

Debenture Killed as Flexible Tariff Is Voted

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, May 19. (US)—President Hoover will have the $1,000,000,000 Smoot-Hawley-Grundy tariff bill in his hands for signature or veto by June 1. It was indicated today as the senate paved the way to break the conference deadlock with the house.

What amounted to the surrender of the senate on the export debenture provision and the repeal of the president's rate making powers under the flexible feature was wrung from the old coalition by eyelash margins when four Democrats switched from their former positions.

After five hours of bitter debate on the two major points of controversy between the two houses, the senate voted 43 to 41 to release the senate conferees from their pledge to hold out for the debenture plan.

A few minutes later, the senate also released the conferees on the flexible provision when Vice President Curtis cast the deciding vote to break a 42 to 42 tie. It was the first opportunity Curtis has had to vote on an important legislative measure.

Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, immediately called a meeting of the conference committees of the two houses for tomorrow. The prospects are that the debenture will be knocked out and a compromise effected on the flexible feature before the end of the week.

While several compromises have been suggested on the flexible feature, the most likely of adoption is a provision allowing the president to continue raising or lowering rates by 50 per cent of existing duties, based on facts found by the tariff commission, with congress reserving the veto power within 90 days after the president acts.

The Democrats who deserted the coalition and made the compromise possible by their switches were Senators Fletcher and Trammell, of Florida. Broussard, of Louisiana, and Dill of Washington. Fletcher, Trammell and Broussard switched on the debenture, while Dill and Trantmell changed on the flexible.

Cookery Expert To Open Free School Here Today

Woman's Forum President to Introduce Mrs. Northcross At First Session at 2 p. m. at Auditorium

Mrs. W. N. Maer, president of the Woman's Forum, will introduce Mrs. Frances Northcross, noted culinary and household expert, to women of Wichita Falls Tuesday afternoon to formally open The Record News and Daily Times free cooking school at the Memorial auditorium. The cooking school is being conducted by the two Wichita Falls papers in the interests of better cookery and simpler housekeeping for the women of Wichita Falls and this area.

Mrs. Northcross

There is no cut and dried program for any day's proceedings Mrs. Northcross will handle the various phases of each lecture and demonstration in a sort of conversational way, answering questions presented on blanks furnished for the purpose, while cakes and pies and other goodies are being demonstrated, and the modern stage equipment explained as they are being used. The cooking school is held in an informal manner, putting everyone at ease, with an interesting and instructive explanation of methods to be used in the normal home.

Housewives of Wichita Falls have indicated to Mrs. Northcross a keen interest in money and time-saving methods, and in the uses of ingredients and appliances for better and easier housekeeping. It will be shown at the school that modern devices and cookery principles have cut woman's housework almost in half, as compared with the tiresome hours heretofore spent with awkward tools, overheated kitchens and inefficient ice boxes that do not keep foods safely chilled below the spoilagle temperature.

Progressive Ideas

The main portion of the lectures will be devoted to the most progressive ideas in cookery, such as the preparation of new salads, fancy pastries, broiling, variety in vegetable preparation, entertaining, serving, budgets, diets, etc, etc. All recipes to be prepared will be furnished the audience in printed form so they may be taken home and applied. Similarly, all recipes prepared will be open for inspection upon the platform at the close of the talks, and an opportunity given to inspect these very appetizing new dishes.

Marketing costs will be emphasized each day, since almost every woman is interested in holding down the family overhead of food costs. These suggestions will embody knowledge of how to buy, how

ACCUSED MAN PROMISES 'NOT TO DO IT AGAIN'

Bishop Tells Inquisitors He Was Victimized by 'Bunch Of Sharpers'

DANIELS ASTONISHED

Former Cabinet Member Says Cannon 'Penitent' Under Charges

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—By a vote of 54 to 11, the episcopacy committee of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, tonight exonerated Bishop James Cannon Jr., of Washington, D. C., of charges of stock market speculation.

The committee found that the allegations filed by Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, Josephus Daniels of North Carolina and a score of other laymen were not substantiated by the evidence these men presented.

Report Ordered

A committee was appointed to draw up a formal report for the conference, in which the accusations will be listed, and the committee's findings upon them will be listed.

The formal resolution adopted was "that the character of Bishop Cannon be passed, and that a committee of five draft a statement for the conference, which shall include Bishop Cannon's letter."

"Victim of Sharpers"

Cannon told the committee, it was revealed, that he had "fallen into the hands of a bunch of sharpers" —referring to Kable and company, the New York firm with which his stock market transactions were carried on. He said he was "sorry" and that he would not "do it again."

Although the letter to which reference was made was not available, the gist of it was obtained. In it, he told the committee that in regard to his business dealings with Kable and company he had been accused of immoral conduct, in that he knowingly engaged in stock market gambling. He said that he thought he was dealing with a "proper" investment company, and that when he realized he was not, that he had made a mistake, he cancelled all his contracts with the company.

He said he was sorry his action had caused any embarrassment to

Ferguson Case Set Thursday

The special state supreme court hopes to announce Thursday whether or not former Gov. James E. Ferguson can have his name printed on the Democratic primary ballots as a candidate for governor, according to an announcement here Monday from Judge Alex H. Britain, member of the court.

That day has been tentatively set for a hearing on Ferguson's application for a mandamus writ compelling the state executive committee to accept his name as a candidate. The special court, of which Judge Britain is a member, was appointed to act upon the application.

The decision will be announced if every member of the court is able to be in Austin on the day set, Judge Britain explain. He was not sure Monday night about the possibility of his own attendance.

Cumberland Presbyterian Assembly Goes on Record Against 'Dry' Repeal

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, May 19.—Vigorous opposition to the repeal or modification of the 18th amendment or any of its enforcing acts was voiced here Monday morning by the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

The assembly proclaimed its position in unanimously accepting the report of the prohibition and law enforcement committee, presented to the general body by Rev. Hardy Copeland, Nashville, Tenn., chairman.

While admitting through the accepted resolutions that prohibition enforcement has not yet been perfected, the delegates declared that the partial enforcement had wrought an improvement over old conditions and expressed the hope that a strict enforcement would bring more changes for the better.

The report was one of many laid before the general assembly Monday as Moderator O. A. Barnee pushed the work of the conference to a close. The regular program was dispensed with for the day to allow consideration of committee reports in an effort to conclude the

Last Big Review of U. S. Navy as Now Constituted Takes Place Today

WASHINGTON, May 19. (US)—The United States fleet cruised down the Atlantic coast today to rendezvous off Hampton Roads tomorrow for a review by President Hoover and maneuvers in battle practice.

President Hoover and a small party of friends tonight were en route to Norfolk by special train. Arriving there early tomorrow morning, they will board the Salt Lake City, America's most modern light cruiser of the 10,000 ton class, and speed to sea. Somewhere about 50 miles off the capes they will meet the fleet and watch the ships pass in review.

It is to be the last big review of the American navy as it is now constituted. Three of the stately battleships which will pass by and fire a presidential salute of 21 guns, are to be scrapped under the provisions of the London naval armaments treaty. Many of the destroyers and light cruisers are to be decommissioned or abandoned as obsolete.

However, the navy is planning to give the president and the hunto select inexpensive foods for their nutritious value, as well as for variety in planning of meals, and finally how modern cookery can retain the wholesomeness and appetizing appeal of less costly meats and vegetables.

Since cookery, foods, ingredients, diets and menu planning will be the heart of cooking school lectures, housewives are not going away with confused ideas for refurnishing kitchens and dining rooms. It will be important, however, to get ideas as to how best to use the tools, equipment and furnishings in hand, and what to look for in new appliances and modern furnishings all women visualize as some day being added to the home.

Nothing for Sale

In this connection, it must be again stressed that nothing will be sold at the cooking school. No prices will be quoted on anything, nor any attempt made to commercialize a strictly educational and enjoyable event sponsored by The Record News and Daily Times with the one object of bringing to the women of Wichita Falls fresh inspiration at the hands of a very capable and greatly admired authority on subjects pertaining to housekeeping. The sessions will be entirely free, no tickets required, and everybody interested in the big job of keeping house in the most efficient manner will be heartily welcome, and under no obligation to anyone.

This opening session today will afford those present opportunity to see the contents of the half dozen big market baskets to be awarded as gifts, and to inspect the fine array of handsome and useful gifts donated by Wichita Falls merchants for distribution on Friday afternoon. Special provision has been made for inviting the audience upon the platform at the close of the talk today, at which time closer observation may be made of appliances and material used in demonstrations. Mrs. Northcross and her very capable assistant, who is also an experienced domestic science expert, will be glad to answer any questions within the scope of the cooking school.

So the big treat of the season is ready. It will be an unusually interesting and entertaining occasion. Incidentally, be sure to bring pencil and note book, and those who plan to come to the Memorial auditorium early are going to be fortunate in securing the best seats right down in front. There is going to be a big turnout and the doors will open at 1 o'clock.

Then, tomorrow, the second session will be held in the same place, the Memorial auditorium, starting again at 2 o'clock under Mrs. Northcross' direction.

Seats have been provided in the balcony of the auditorium for colored people, who are also welcome to attend the free school conducted by Mrs. Northcross.

The subject was tabled for further consideration.

CAL'S HISTORY TEXT ALTERED

Coolidge Disclaims Words As Published

In reply to this, Corbin asserted that by the alterations he made Mr. Borglum "abrogate the supreme law of the land" and that the revised text "reads out of the constitution its very soul and spirit."

"It may all seem like a tempest in a teapot," Corbin said today, "but you see the serious thing about it is that this inscription is to be carved in granite where it will remain for untold thousands of years. The inscription of Darius of Persia at Behistun is already 2,500 years old and almost as clear as when first cut."

He repeated what he said in his reply to Borglum that "the stone face of Washington seems destined to preside over words that flout his strongest convictions and knock the charter of our republic into the cocked hats of the men who framed it."

These excerpts from the history show what Mr. Coolidge wrote and how Mr. Borglum edited it:

Coolidge text: "The declaration of independence—the eternal right to seek happiness through self-government and the divine duty to defend that right at any sacrifice."

Borglum revision: "In the year of our Lord 1776 the people declared the eternal right to seek happiness—self-government—and the divine duty to defend that right at any sacrifice."

Coolidge text: "The constitution—charter of perpetual union of free people of sovereign states establishing a government of limited powers under an independent president, congress and court, charged to provide security for all citizens in their enjoyment of liberty, equality and justice under the law."

Borglum's revision: "In 1787 assembled in convention they made a charter of perpetual union of free people of sovereign states establishing a government of limited powers—under an independent president, congress and court charged to provide security for all citizens in their enjoyment of liberty, equality and justice."

It is planned to unveil the inscription on the fourth of July. What action, if any, Mr. Coolidge intends to take to have the history cut into the mountain as he wrote it remains unknown.

RIVER SEARCHED FOR BOY'S BODY

Special to The Record News

TIPTON, Okla., May 19—Most of the male population of Tipton, in boats and along the banks of Red river Monday night continued their search for the body of Herbert Allred, 20, drowned in the swollen river waters in an effort to rescue his younger brother Sunday afternoon.

The younger boy was saved, but his brother, apparently stricken with cramps and caught in the swift current, was drowned.

In boats equipped with rods and hooks the friends and relatives of young Allred battled with the treacherous current even after darkness hampered their efforts.

Allred was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allred, farmers living eight miles west of Tipton.

Best Way Known To Heal Toe Itch

This condition of the feet, cracked skin between and around the toes; inflammation and severe itching; water blisters and burning, is now known to be caused by a germ, or fungus growth.

The only way to get relief is to kill these fungus germs, which you can do in from 24 to 72 hours, with a pleasant-odored, delightful-to-use ointment, known as "Tetterine," prepared by Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

Tetterine is almost infallible in bringing prompt and comforting relief in these distressing conditions of the feet, and it may be had at any drug store for 60c, with a guarantee of perfect relief or money refunded.—Adv.

dreds of visitors a show never before paralleled. Ordinarily the ships pass at review at some 12 knots an hour. Tomorrow they will go by at battle speed, the destroyers and the cruisers and submarines averaging 21 knots, the two aircraft carriers, Lexington and Saratoga, with their mighty armada of airplane will steam at 35 knots, launching planes. Destroyers will lay down a smoke screen baout the battleships in an effort to "protect" them and the planes will endeavor to penetrate the defense.

Admiral W. V. Pratt, commander of the fleet, will be aboard the Texas, a battleship and flagship of the fighting craft. When his ship passes the Salt Lake City he will swing alongside and the admiral will aboard to pay his respects. The ship will probably anchor about two miles off. This is to be determined by weather conditions.

From the deck of the Salt Lake City Admiral Pratt and the president will review the ships. As each division goes by the men will man the rails. On the larger ships the marine guard will be paraded and the band will play the Star Spangled Banner. From the president's reviewing ship the courtesy will be returned. On the smaller ships, such as the destroyers and submarines the only formality will be the men lined up against the ropes, probably with the decks awash, while a lone bugler will sound off to the colors.

FRECKLES

This Safe Method Removes Disfiguring Rusty Blemishes

No matter how stubborn or numerous your freckles may be, you should fade them out completely in only a few days and make your skin as white and flawless as a gardenia!

Simply get a jar of Othine double strength and spread a little of the dainty white cream over your freckles at night before you go to bed. Doesn't take two minutes. Then look for results in just a day or two. The lighter freckles vanish almost at once and the others follow in a few days. You'll hardly know your own skin! Even the worst case of freckles rarely requires more than an ounce of magic Othine.

Don't be afraid to use it generously. All drug and department stores sell Othine, but be sure to ask for the double strength, for this is sold with a positive guarantee of money back if it does not remove even the worst freckles and give a beautiful complexion.—Adv.

ZEP ARRIVES AT SEVILLE

Dirigible to Resume Trip Early Today parchment evidence of its leadership in the pioneering days of world discovery, before turning its nose toward the landing field.

It was dusk before the dirigible was finally grappled to earth again by the steel mooring tower. Officials explained that the landing had been purposely delayed in order to avoid the terrific heat of Seville's day, heat that would effect the bouyancy of the dirigible's gas bags.

So ended the first leg of the 16,000 mile flight that will take the Graf to Rio de Janeiro, New York and Lakehurst by way of Havana. Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock is the tentative time set for the some 6,000-mile trans-south Atlantic hop to Rio, via the Canary and Cape Verde islands and Pernambuco, a trip that will end on Saturday, according to present plans, when the Zeppelin moors at Pernambuco for a two-day stay.

From there the Graf will fly northward over the West Indies to New York and Lakehurst, where Dr. Eckener plans to moor Thursday, May 29. Two days later it will start the return trip to Friedrichshafen, via Seville.

Tonight, while the 22 passengers who made the flight from Friedrichshafen, were busy taking in the sights of this picturesque medieval city, the Zeppelin's crew was engaged in preparing for tomorrow's take off for Rio de Janeiro.

They had an all-night job ahead of them. There are 16,000 litres of hydrogen to be pumped into the Graf's millowing bags, 10,000 litres of gasoline, 500 of oil and 3,000 of water to be stored aboard, in ballast, drinking and fuel tanks.

Don't fool yourself!

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Halitosis makes you unpopular

If you are not as popular as you wish to be, look for the cause. Possibly it is halitosis (unpleasant breath)—the unpardonable social offense.

It is impossible for you to tell when you have halitosis. It never announces itself to you.

The one way to be sure of not having it is to rinse the mouth systematically every day with full strength Listerine — especially before meeting others.

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant.

Keep a bottle handy in home and office. Use it every day. It puts you on the polite, popular and profitable side. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

HOUSTON MAN IS TAKEN FOR RIDE

Former Airport Owner Shot By Foes

HOUSTON, May 19. (UP)—W. L. Edwards, former owner of the Main street airport here, and well known in aviation circles, was "taken for a ride" last night.

His body was found under a tree in the residential section, a hole blown in his head by a shotgun charge.

A few days ago Edwards went to Justice of the Peace Campbell Overstreet and told him:

"I'm being framed. A couple of out of town gunmen have been hired to murder me."

Edwards, on bond on a federal charge after liquor was found in a car under his name, claimed he was framed by "enemies," that he never had owned the auto but it had been transferred to his name and liquor placed in it.

Ice Cream Industry Described in Talk

WASHINGTON, May 19. (INS)—Few of the millions of consumers of ice cream and few of the dairy farmers of the country who furnish the milk for this commodity realize the magnitude of the ice cream industry, O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of dairy industry, department of agriculture, said today in a radio address.

"About 6,000,000,000 pounds of milk are utilized annually in this country in the commercial manufacture of this food, which was once regarded as a luxury but which now holds a well-established place in the American diet," he said.

"There are about 4,000 ice cream factories in the United States today and in 1928 they manufactured more than 1,750,000,000 pounds, or about 348,000,0000 gallons, of ice cream. These manufacturers required about 6,000,000,000 pounds of milk, or the product of about 1,250,000 dairy cows.

Aviatrix Forced Down Near Samarang, Java

LONDON, May 19. (INS)—Miss Amy Johnson, daring young British aviatrix attempting a solo flight from England to Australia, was forced down today at Tjomal, 70 miles west of Samarang, Java, according to dispatches to the evening newspapers.

Lack of gasoline necessitated the landing, the dispatches said. The plane was not damaged.

N. Y. Mother Finds A Real Weight Builder at Last

If you are tired of being bony, scrawny and weak, read how Mrs. Henry A. Thaler of Richmond Hill, N. Y., and her daughter gained weight and improved their figures:

"The writer of this letter and my daughter, Viola, have been using McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets for seven weeks, and in that time I have gained 4 pounds and am more full of 'pep' than ever. Viola has gained 3 pounds and she is beginning to get wonderful color in her face."

The reason is that McCoy's are genuine cod liver oil extract tablets. That is the same as saying that like the Norwegian cod liver oil from which they are made, McCoy's are hundreds of times richer in flesh and strength producing vitamins than even milk, eggs, butter or cream.

So take advantage of Renfro Drug company's offer of the safe, pleasant, easy, inexpensive way to gain the weight and energy you need. McCoy's must give any man, woman or child the increased weight desired or money refunded. Just ask for McCoy's—60 tablets 60 cents.—Adv.

Husband Hunting Classes To Be Inaugurated In Britain

LONDON, May 19. (INS)—"Husband hunting" classes are to be started in Britain which may be attended by "surplus" spinsters either personally or learned by correspondence.

These classes will teach women:

How to make themselves attractive to men.

How to fit themselves for matrimony.

The good points that men look for in women.

This novel idea of helping women to find husbands in a country such as Great Britain where women far outnumber men, has been started by a group of psychologists who have studied the lonely woman problem.

Women who fall victim to the cigaret habit are stated to be heavier smokers than men; many of them consume up to 200 cigarets a week.

AIMEE DESERTS PILGRIM BAND

Woman Evangelist Last Seen at Constantinople

PARIS, May 19. (UP)—The failure of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, California evangelist, to join her pilgrim band here after a visit to the holy land puzzled both the pilgrims and their tourist agency today.

Mrs. McPherson and her daughter, Roberta, were last seen at Constantinople, the 40 pilgrims who arrived here said. The pilgrims, who came to Paris via a visit to the Oberammergau passion play, said they saw little of the evangelist leader on the trip to Palestine, where Mrs. McPherson baptized in the river Jordan.

The pilgrims said Mrs. McPherson and her daughter were preparing, with two guides, for expeditions at Constantinople but apparently they were supposed to join the rest of the party here. The Montmarte cafes, which Mrs. McPherson visited and described as "the fleshpots of sin," on a previous trip here, were visited by the shepherdless flock of pilgrims, who were not particularly alarmed by the absence of the evangelist.

It was reported here that Mrs. McPherson had attended the passion play but the pilgrims said they did not see her.

Dominican Officials Pursued to Cover

SANTO DOMINGO, Republic of San Domingo, May 19. (AP)—Martin Moya, former minister of finance, and Angel Morales, recently vice presidential candidate, today took refuge in the home of the United States receiver of Dominican customs, following arrest of Federico Velasquez, for sedition. Velasquez was the opposition candidate for president who with Morales withdrew from the race.

Valesquez was charged with fomenting a revolution and was imprisoned in the old Santo Domingo fortress.

The arrests, including Morales and Moya, were ordered by Octavio Enriques, judge of instruction, who was reported to have acted upon evidence obtained in intercepted letters.

Banker Confesses Appropriating Fund

ST. LOUIS, May 19. (INS)—George A. Lubeley, vice-president and cashier of the Natural Bridge bank, has confessed to taking $45,000 of the bank's funds for his own use, Otto Koenig, president of the institution, said today.

When state bank examiners visited the bank Friday, Luberley suffered a nervous breakdown and went home ill, it was learned. Saturday the $45,000 shortage was discovered and Lubeley called Koenig to his home and confessed to taking bonds to use as collateral in obtaining money to finance an enterprise in Ohio. Whether Lubeley will be prosecuted depends on the bank examiners' investigation. The loss is covered by a blanket surety bond.

Lubeley, father of five minor children, has been with the bank since its organization in 1920.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19. (UP)—Attorney General J. Berry King approved Oklahoma City's $425,000 airport bond issue today dependent upon acceptance of the issue by marketing attorneys.

G. O. P. Candidate Seeks Tillman County Post

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., May 19.—The first Republican candidate to file for the primary July 29 is G. M. Sizer of near Chattanooga who desires to be nominated for commissioner of district No. 3. Sizer was raised in Virginia where he obtained a common school education. When grown he moved to Briar Cliff, Westchester county, New York, but a few miles from Gotham, where he worked at his trade of carpenter for a number of years.

He came to this country in 1910 and settled on the northweast quarter section 8, township 2 south, range 15, which has since been the home of himself and family. In addition to farming he has built a number of houses in the east part of the county.

Sizer has been urged by some of his friends to make the race as that section of the county has not been represented on the board of commissions since the election of Squire Humble about 20 years or more ago.

Stop Rheumatic Pains With R/ A-2851

Local druggists who are dispensing Prescription A-2851 are all loud in their praise of what it will do. It doesn't seem to matter whether the condition is of long standing and the pain constant, or whether only occasional twinges are felt—Prescription A-2851 seems to go right to the seat of the trouble and knock out the pain.

While this particular prescription was compounded especially for rheumatic conditions—it has also proven successful in many forms of gout, neuritis and sciatic nerve pain.

Tear out this announcement and hand it to your druggist, or be sure to to remember the name—Prescription A-2851. In liquid or pill form. There is nothing else as good to drive out rheumatism.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE
By MRS. L. N. CASON

"Darling," said a mother we know to her married daughter who had not told her of an operation the doctors thought necessary, "I do not want to be shielded; I want to be needed."

There spoke the very spirit of motherhood. When a mother who has reared a family, feels that all of them have outgrown the need of "mother," she is ready to pass on.

Motherhood is more in spirit than in name. We have known women who have given birth to children who never had the feeling that makes true mothers wish to minister to those whom she loves.

We know women who have never borne children who were innately mothers to those with whom they came in contact. Childless wives often "mother" their husbands. The feeling is rooted deep in a true woman's soul and she must be needed by some one.

How much wisdom, though, motherhood does take! In the last few decades, it is not only the young people who have begun living in a new way. Where once a mother buried herself in the home—sacrificed herself for her family and had the recompense of "she was a good mother," read over her grave, she has learned that it is sometimes selfishness to be altogether self-sacrificing.

That boy or girl who can look with pride upon his mother as she appears in public life is more to be congratulated than one whose mother never shines for him.

Another commandment should be added to "honor thy father and thy mother." It is necessary for parents to honor their children. A young strong body and mind that never requested to be born, has a right to develop initiative in thought.

It is a wise mother who realises this. The world of today cannot be guided altogether by sentiment, beautiful as the sentiment of motherhood is.

There's many a girl or boy who has been smothered with what the mother feels is "mother love." And mother love, when a child has grown, can be shown so much more in comradeship than in management.

Woman is learning to be wise in motherhood. That deep need of hers to be always needed is bringing about an education in sentiment.

As the world grows older, the world grows wiser. But the primeval urge of motherhood is just the same. No matter how she manages the result, a mother to be happy, must be needed.

When Critical Women Get Together

And what woman isn't competent to be critical of clothes in this day! She reads of the newest fashions in her smart women's magazines and sees what well-dressed women are wearing as she travels around.

But no matter how clothes-conscious or critical she is, a dress, a coat, or hat, chosen here will win her admiration because all of our apparel is chosen according to high standards of good taste, good style and good value.

American Legion Auxiliary Plans Sale of Poppies

Red poppies will bloom on millions of coats throughout America on Saturday, May 24. As the annual day for the wearing of the poppy draws near it is well to bring to mind the significance of this little flower.

First, a poppy is worn once a year to express the feeling of reverence for the men who died in France and Belgium during the world war. The poppy is their flower. It grew on the battlefields where they fought and died; it grew over their fresh graves, the one touch of beauty and life in all that region of destruction and death known as the front.

Second, the poppy is worn to help lighten the burden for those who are still undergoing suffering and hardships because of the war, the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled. The poppies give employment to hundreds of disabled men throughout the winter who otherwise would be unable to earn anything toward the support of themselves and their families. Having these little flowers made by the disabled is one of the largest pieces of welfare work done by the American Legion auxiliary. What form of aid could be more effective than helping the disabled men to help themselves by worthwhile work?

The funds derived from the poppy sale constitute the largest source of revenue for the rehabilitation and child welfare work of the legion and auxiliary. Poppy day is the one day when the public is privileged to contribute toward this great work.

"I decided to find out"

"I HAD heard of Black-Draught for years. One day while feeling bad (my head ached, I had a bad taste in my mouth and felt all out of sorts) I decided I would take a few doses and see if it was really so good. I found it so. It seemed to cleanse the system. My head was easy, the bad taste was gone and I felt fine. Since that time, when I have needed a laxative, I have taken Black-Draught. It is good for colds, too, and for indigestion. I consider it an all-around good medicine for family use, and I am glad to recommend it to others. I hope to help them by doing so."—Miss Ruth Keller, New Orleans, La.

FAMILY DOCTOR LEARNED THIS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

Dr. Caldwell loved people. His years of practice convinced him many were ruining their health by careless selection of laxatives. He determined to write a harmless prescription which would get at the cause of constipation, and correct it. Today, the prescription he wrote in 1885 is the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, biliousness and lack of appetite or energy showed the bowels of men, women and children were sluggish. It proved successful in even the most obstinate cases; old folks liked it for it never gripes; children liked its pleasant taste. All drug stores today have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in bottles.—Adv.

Supreme Court Revives Jackson Barnett Case

WASHINGTON, May 19. (UP)—The supreme court today granted Marshall Mott, Tulsa lawyer, review of another phase of the famous Jackson Barnett case, involving the question whether the interior secretary's approval made valid gifts which the aged and incompetent Indian made. Lower courts in this case upheld a government suit to recover $15,000 which Mott received, and he appealed. Decision of this case may set a precedent for the government in other suits involving nearly $1,000,000.

Ex-Queen of Greece To Seek Divorce

BERLIN, May 19. (INS)—A report that Ex-Queen Elizabeth of Greece would shortly introduce divorce proceedings against Ex-King George was published by the Berling newspaper, Tempo, today.

The report declared the ex-queen would institute suit unless her husband returned to her immediately. Since his enforced abdication, Ex-King George has been living in various parts of Europe, spending most of his time on the Riviera.

CAPITAL MAY SEEK RECOUNT

Washington Dissatisfied With Population

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Suggestions for a recount of the capital's population today followed the announcement by the census bureau that the 1930 total was 485,716, a gain of only 11 per cent over the 437,571 count 10 years ago.

Compilers of the city directory recently estimated the population of the District of Columbia at 591,616.

INCREASE SHOWN IN CLEVELAND POPULATION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 19. (AP)—Cleveland, one of the first of the country's leading cities to submit its census report to Washington, has a population of 897,458, census supervisors announced today. Greater Cleveland, which includes all of Cuyahoga county, caught a large overflow of growth from the city proper and grew to 1,197,818.

While greater Cleveland was showing a percentage increase of 26.76 from the 1920 population of 943,495, the city itself found a growth hardly half as rapid from its previous total of 796,841, with 12.63 per cent. Actual growth was 100,617 and 254,323 respectively.

Shifting of urban population to suburbs due to natural migration and abandoning of large downtown housing areas to make room for business and transportation facilities was ascribed as the reason for smaller gains in the city.

Chinese Peasants Flee From Bandit Hordes

HANKOW, China, May 19. (UP)—Thousands of peasants are fleeing from bandits in the interior of Hupeh province, seeking shelter and protection here.

So desperate is the plight of the refugees that 40 women attempted to commit suicide by throwing themselves into the Han river. Several threw themselves on the railway tracks in front of trains and were killed.

The refugees are in a pitiable condition, having been without food and water for days.

Druggists Seek Time In 'Jake' Sales Cases

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 19. (AP)—Demurrers holding there is insufficient cause for government action against wholesale and retail druggists, charged with conspiracy for the alleged sale of jamaica ginger for beverage purposes were filed in the U. S. district court here today.

Dr. Richardson Ray, Kansas City president of the Amerson Wholesale Drug company, and 28 Oklahome City retailers later in the week will seek delay to enable them to obtain depositions in eastern states where the jamaica ginger was manufactured, in case the demurrer fails. This was the announcement of defense counsel.

Prizes Well Earned
Jobs for Slim Girls
The Death of Nansen
Fatal Ignorance

By EMILE GAUVREAU

There will be general approval of the Pulitzer prize awards this year. Marc Connolly, who wins the $1,000 prize for "The Green Pastures" has written the best American play of the year and of many years to come. The judges could find no runner-up. There is no better play on the boards today anywhere in America. The newspaper fraternity will also hail the award to Charles Macauley, great cartoonist, whose work has the mellow flavor of a master of the pen.

An employment supervisor for L. Bamberger & Co. tells a dry goods convention in Chicago that the Newark department store often makes weight the deciding factor in hiring salesgirls. Stout girls cannot be used efficiently because they take up too much room behind the counters. Girls without flawless complexions cannot get jobs in the toilet goods sections. The girls who use and sell cosmetics are in less danger of ruining their health than the fat young ladies who try a disastrous diet to fit behind the dry goods tables.

The world loses a useful courageous man by the death of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, great Norwegian and famous explorer, whose end comes in the midst of preparations for a flight over the north pole. His explorations enriched science, his fine courage fired the ambitions of younger men. At 68 he still was eager for new worlds to conquer. Such men from the time of the Vikings have thrilled new generations.

The Greeks said, "Better have disease in the body than ignorance in the mind."

Louis Capetta of the Bronx, who could have gone to a number of good surgeons, decides to operate upon himself for appendicitis. He traces the position of his appendix by reading a cheap medical book. Then, making an incision with a razor blade, he slices off part of his appendix, sewing up the wound with ordinary basting thread. The pain returning, he repeats the operation, cutting more of the appendix. Peritonitis quickly develops and he dies. In this advanced day of medical science there will be little sympathy for him.

The Dowager Begum of Bhopal, last of a great female dynasty, dies in India, intrusting her state to the "blessings of Allah." She brought her kingdom, once a backward rural state with a small income, to the status of a modern European state with an annual income of 5,000,000 rupees. England might have learned much about ruling India from such a woman.

Another daring and history-making achievement establishes a new record of transportation of mail across the South Atlantic. Flying a seaplane, Jean Mermoz, French aviator, hops from France and, with a few stops, flies clear to Rio de Janeiro. Not as spectacular as Lindbergh's great feat, but fully as important to the progress of aviation.

Three Banks' Assets On Auction Block

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19 (AP)—Assets of three insolvent state banks, potentially totaling $375,046, were offered from the auction block today by agents of C. G. Shull, state bank commissioner. The sales were the first of nine in which nominal assets of $1,419,038 will be sold.

Today's sales include assets of the First State bank of Bristow, $305,099; the Security State bank of Morris, $31,708.97, and the Security State bank of Kiefer, $38,238.64. The last two sales are at Okmulgee and Sapulpa, respectively.

FIRE CLAIMS 22

LONDON, May 19 (INS)—Twenty-two persons are known to be dead as the result of a disastrous fire in the Manfault district of Cairo, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo.

Abe Martin

(Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

"Jest think o' the country clubs you could belong to an' the beads that would buy," said Mrs. Leghorn Tharp, when she read about Ruth McCormick's $252,000 senate campaign. A handsome new machine has succeeded Burley Sap at the C. & C. stays factory.

Buried for 35 minutes under 15 feet of sand, a New York laborer asked the three policemen who rescued him for a couple of highballs. Of course the man had an extraordinary amount of grit.

The Soviet football team which was recently denied permission to tour England was probably considered better at Russian than the home talent.

No Reason for Alarm

NOW THAT the London naval treaty is being put under the senatorial microscope, certain easily-worried Americans are wondering audibly if Uncle Sam, once more, has not sat in at a conference where scheming foreigners took advantage of his innocence and made off with his last shirt.

It was to be expected that the arrangement between America and England would be closely scrutinized. The fear of England, apparently, like the poor, is always with us—or at least is always with some of our super patriots.

But now it is being charged that the Japanese have hoodwinked us, too. The Japanese got their cruiser ratio raised, and at least two influential senators are beginning to wonder if this should not be viewed with the traditional senatorial alarm.

Perhaps the best answer that can be made comes from Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson. Read what he had to say to the senate naval committee:

"There was this situation in cruisers. We had two eight-inch cruisers in the water, one nearly ready for launching and five on which a certain amount of construction had been done. Whatever else was done had been merely begun, but there were two in the water. Japan had eight eight-inch cruisers in the water and four more which were very much nearer completion than any of ours, making 12 in all. In six-inch cruisers she had 98,000 tons where we had only 70,000 tons.

"Our problem was to ask Japan to stay still for six years and let us build past her until we had 15 cruisers of the eight-inch class in the water to her 12, and three more so closely finished that all of them would be completed in the year 1936. In respect of the six-inch cruisers, we had to ask her to stand still at an increase of only 2,000 tons, bringing her from her present 98,000 tons to only 100,000 tons, which the treaty gives her, while we built past her from 70,000 tons to 143,000 tons.

"I speak deliberately when I say that the Japanese delegation, and the Japanese government which confirmed the action of the Japanese delegation, had a harder problem and solved it with a greater faith in the pacific relations of the three great powers, than any other nation at the conference."

There's one more bit of testimony to add to this. Admiral William V. Pratt, commanding the U. S. fleet, told the senators this:

"It suits me. I say that, realizing that if any fighting comes off now I will have to do it."

All in all, it seems almighty hard to work up much uneasiness about the situation in respect to Japan. The Japanese war bogey seems to be dying quite rapidly. Why not let it die, forever, and see that it is given a good burial?

Concerning Mr. Cagle

CHRISTIAN CAGLE, football player, spends four years at the U. S. Military academy, presumably with the intention of becoming an officer in the U. S. army. As his graduation approaches he wishes to resign so that he can become a combination football coach and bond salesman.

Permission is refused him. Thereupon it is discovered that he has been married, in violation of regulations. Thus he gets his wish and is cut loose from the army automatically, and is free to go ahead with his plans.

This young man has roused our high admiration as an athlete; but somehow this transaction leaves a terrible taste in our mouths. The country has spent rather more than $4,000 on Cagle's education, and he put himself under a bond of honor to repay this generosity by serving as an army officer. It becomes evident, now, that it was football and not a military life that chiefly interested him. The affair reflects very little credit on the famous football player.

The Weakness of the Reds

MAY DAY has passed, and the American flag still seems to be flying. The tremendous Red demonstration that was to have been staged seems to have missed fire somewhere. The alarm that various good people felt, in advance, was not quite justified. Allowed to march and talk as freely as they pleased, the Communists made a most miserable showing.

All of which is highly reassuring; and, incidentally, a testimony to the practical value of that old-fashioned and somewhat unpopular institution known as free speech. If the authorities all over the country had decided in advance to suppress these demonstrations the Communists would have been tickled to death. They would have had ammunition for a whole year of talking.

Instead, they were allowed to demonstrate to their hearts' content. And the weakness of their demonstrations proved amply that the safest, wisest course is to let them display their own weakness.

New Light on an Old Crime

WELL, we live and learn. The latest bit of knowledge to come our way is the disclosure that as long ago as 1907 the French and British general staffs had plans for the violation of Belgian neutrality in the event of war with Germany.

The knowledge is indisputable, being contained in a volume of official documents on the origin of the war published by the British government.

To be sure, this revelation does not make Germany's plunge into Belgium much less heinous; but it does shed a new light on the piteous cries of outraged virtue which the French and British governments emitted in the summer of 1914. It is worth noticing, too, that it was none other than Georges Clemenceau who told the king of England—Edward VII—to have 300,000 British soldiers ready to march through Belgium as soon as war was declared.

Quotations Worth Noting

"I have been through five business depressions. They all act alike. The men who, if business fell off 66 per cent increased their selling effort 75 per cent, managed to pull through, as if there were no depression, and the efforts of such men tend to shorten the periods of depression."—Thomas A. Edison.

WALTER WINCHELL

On Broadway

(Copyright, 1930, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

"Ten Cents a Dance" Hall-Hostess

I don't suppose that he'll come back again,
A dump like this was never meant for him;
His kind don't have to worry 'bout a Jane—
Who wouldn't fall? So clean and brown and slim.

We waltzed just once—he didn't hold me tight
Or have a line—just sort of smiled at me.
Gee, I'd have danced on that way all the night,
But breaks like that don't happen often, see?

It sure is strange—the difference in guys,
I hate the gang that clutters up this place;
The clammy hands—the beady little eyes—
It's pretty hard to find a decent face,

Each night they play that waltz my heart's a drum—
I wish—I wish to God he hadn't come! —Jackson Hites.

Observation

Among other little things that make big paragraphs is discovering that John the Barber's place on West 44th, has a diverting past. The place was once the scene for "Honest" John Kelly's famous gambling house—where one night a Wall Streeter dropped $400,000 and where Nick the Greek, made his first huge winnings. Later on the location was where one of New York's night clubs prospered—Ciro's, a typical sucker rendezvous, and they clipped the chumps in style. Then it became a "steer" joint speakeasy, and now it is a barber shop, where (you just took the words out of our mouth) they are still being trimmed.

Haw!

Among several items forced out of Monday's "Making Scoopee" col'm was this very amusing fact. Niles Bruce, former reporter on the Morning Telegraph and the Times, was fired from the New York staff of the Christian Science Monitor because he was caught taking an aspirin tablet during working hours.

The New Version

Albert Cass overheard it on a train away up in St. John, New Brunswick. Two lovely ladies (apparently from New York) were discussing a "dear" Scotch friend.

"That one? She is so close she wouldn't give a dime to see Walter Winchell executed."

Anything for a Laugh

Mr. Donald Pond, one of the Evening Telegram's dramatic staff, reviews the new play "Courtesan" and says in part: "Then things begin to happen. The husband, who she thinks will take her back any time, comes to town with their 6-year-old son, whom she has never seen."

Motherhood in the modern manner.

Merciless Truth

Overheard in the Silver Slipper night club: "What is the night club definition of a good girl?"

"One about seven or eight years old—I think seven."

Boomerang

It was one of those undressing room quarrels and two terpsichorines were at it again. "Oh, you and your big shot friends," said the first, "I wouldn't trade all of yours for my movie star friend whom I have eating out of my hand!"

"Huh!" sassed the other, "what's so grand about knowing Rin-Tin Tin?"

Gag

Then there's the one about the check that came through on a man's estate and the estate hadn't been settled, so the bank teller returned it after marking it: "Payee Dead." Two weeks later the same check came through and as the estate still hadn't been settled the clerk was in a quandary. Finally he arrived at a decision. He again returned the check making it: "Payee Still Dead!"

CARESSE ⚜ A Complete Novel By RUTH TAYLOR

CHAPTER XIX

It was to be a night Caresse would long remember.

She thought she had plumbed the depths of emotion in her scene with Ted, but there was more to come.

She had turned toward the door when she heard shouts at the gate. In the gloom she saw a crowd of people pushing through it. They had appeared silently, but now they all seemed to be laughing and talking at once. They good-humoredly pushed and shoved in their efforts to be first through the gate.

Caresse stared at them wonderingly.

A crowd of boys and girls rushed pell-mell up the path. Caresse could see there were older women, and men, too, in the throng.

Miriam was in the vanguard. She rushed up the steps and threw her arms about Caresse's neck.

"Surprise, C'resse!" she squealed, jubilantly. "Surprise!"

Greetings assailed Caresse from every side. She was too astonished and overcome for a minute to answer.

Mother appeared in the doorway, making her usual gesture of wiping her hands on her apron. She had been drawn by the noise and excitement, wondering what had happened. She was borne off into the parlor by the laughing crowd, as others fairly pushed Caresse on ahead of them.

Caresse's eyes were shining as she realized what it was all about. They were being given one of Riverton's famous surprise parties. She and her mother!

"To show how sorry everybody is they acted like they did to you and your Moms," whispered Miriam, eagerly, when she got a chance at Caresse's ear. "Everybody's so ashamed, and—well, it's going to be some party!"

Caresse was pulled into the parlor just in time to see Mrs. Horton standing in the middle of the floor. She was making a speech. As president of the Ladies' Guild, she had been chosen to make the community apology, and she did herself proud.

"It's kinda hard for us all to say, Miss O'Neill," she was saying, "but it's got to be said, and the sooner the better. We all want you and C'resse to know we know all about what happened that time Ted Branard got smashed up. You see, if it hadn't 'a' been that C'resse's dress got all messed up with that Scotch stuff Ted was carrying, they might 'a' been a dif'rent story. Folks is so like to believe the worst, and when Ted wouldn't say nothin'—

"Well, however that may be, we know now how it come about, and—well, I'm kinda ashamed to say it—I guess they's a lot of us pretty much ashamed of ourselves—but if they is anything we can do—"

Mrs. Horton found herself floundering a bit in her delivery of the blanket apology, and looked about her for assistance. Mrs. O'Neill came to her aid.

"I guess the best thing any of us can do, now, folks, is just forget it. I wish I had known you was coming," she added, regretfully. "I'd a had some cocoanut cake."

At her words a shout went up. All over the room arms were lifted to display baskets and packages. It seemed that there would have been no need for Mrs. O'Neill's cocoanut cake, if she had had it. What would a Riverton surprise party be without the choicest offerings from all its kitchens?

Caresse's old piano was called into action, and in a few moments the floor was filled with a laughing, jolly crowd of the younger members of the surprise party. They never waited on the order of their dancing.

The guests were leaving when the telephone rang.

"It's for you, C'resse," whispered mother. "Some man. You'd better shut the hall door. I shouldn't want none of the folks to hear. I can't imagine who it is."

Caresse could not imagine. For a minute she feared that Lee might be in trouble, or hurt, and need her. She sped to the phone.

A strange voice answered her "hello,"

"I want you to marry my son," said Mr. Branard.

"Miss O'Neill? Miss Carresse O'Neill?"

"Yes."

A moment's hesitation.

"This is—er—Cyrus Branard speaking."

Carresse caught her breath sharply. Now what?

But his voice held no menacing note, no chill, as he went on. It sounded plaintive, appealing.

"Miss O'Neill, I—I—er—want to ask you a favor. A great favor. I know you may think that hardly becomes me, but if you knew the circumstances—er—I think I can explain——"

"Yes?" again said Caresse, monosyllabically querying.

"I can't explain over the phone. It's something personal. Quite personal. I want to ask you this: Will you come to my house for a few minutes? There is something I must talk to you about. Something vital. If I send a car for you, will you come tonight? You can bring your mother with you, if you choose, though of course Mrs. Branard will be here, and——"

His voice trailed off in a rising note of inquiry.

Caresse hesitated. What could he want? Something about Teddy, undoubtedly. It must be serious for his father to take this humble attitude toward her. She made up her mind quickly.

"I'll come, Mr. Branard," she said, and hung up the phone on the last of his thanks.

She went in to her mother to bid the last of their laughing, effusive guests good-night.

Mother wasn't greatly pleased by Caresse's decision to go up to the Branard house so late at night. Or at all. She wanted to go with her, but Caresse insisted it was unnecessary.

It was the first time Caresse had even been in the Branard house. Mr. Branard himself met her at the door and took her into his magnificent, mahogany paneled library. Caresse marvelled at the beauty of the place, but she had not one pang of regret at the thought that the place had so nearly become her home.

For a moment, Cyrus Branard was silent, considering how best to begin what he had to say. His eyes never left the girl, and he seemed to be taking stock of her, analyzing her soul.

"Miss O'Neill," he said, finally, "I'm a man of a few words. I have made it my habit, as a business man, to be concise. I have always found it best to come straight to the point, but I find what I have to say a little difficult. It's about Ted——"

"If there is anything I can do—" murmured Caresse, politely.

"You can. You can marry him!"

The pronouncement came with such suddenness and fervor that Caresse all but toppled from her chair.

"Mr. Branard!" she cried. "I—I——"

"I can understand your feelings, my dear—quite well. And I am ready to humble myself all you wish, to make every apology and any atonement possible. But I have reached the point of begging you—begging you!—to marry my boy. I have come to learn that you hold his salvation in your hands. Ted has not—er—he has not been himself since—since——"

"I can quite understand that, Mr. Branard, but——"

Ted's father waved his hand to put aside the interruption.

"I must tell you that this evening—something had happened, I'm not sure what—but he came to me, and we had—Well, it was a stormy session, to say the least. It seems that Ted blames me for his unhappiness. He blames me that he was not allowed to marry you, and says that now you have definitely refused him. I must apologize for calling on you to come here so late tonight, but it was necessary. Ted declares that tomorrow he is going off to Paris, and goodness knows what will happen to him there!

"I have offered him everything, if he will quit his way of drowning his sorrow and chagrin, but he will listen to nothing. He declares that life for him is over if he cannot marry you. So I have sent for you to see if you will not listen to my added plea, and give us all a little happiness. Will you?"

Caresse hid her face in her hands, and shivered.

"Oh, Mr. Branard!" she cried, tremulously. "I can't! I can't!"

"You can't be big enough to forgive, when we are all humbling ourselves at your feet?"

"No! No! It isn't that! Oh, Mr. Branard, please believe me! I'd do anything in the world for Ted—or for you—except marry him! That, I cannot do. Cannot! It's because—don't you see?—I don't love him!"

For a long minute Ted's father stared at her, deep in thought. Then he dropped his eyes. He sighed with resignation, and the recognition of his failure in his intercession in his son's behalf.

"My dear," he said, simply, "I believe you. And I honor you for your stand. You're a new type in my experience, though. For many years, that is. I can remember that there were girls like you, back in the days when I was a poor boy, with ideals of my own."

Mr. Branard stood up, as Caresse hesitatingly arose.

"You're quite right. But it's unexpected. My only regret," he added, as he ushered her to the door, "is that I did not know the real girl you are a long time ago. I didn't know your sort of girl still existed. It's a regret, I fear, that Teddy and I will carry all our lives."

Crime's Place in Newspaper Told By Editor in Church Club Address

Donnell Reviews Methods of News Gathering in Talk to Episcopal Group; Masters Named New President

Extensive replacement of crime news by well-written stories of the "modern world of science and philosophy, education and religion, industry and commerce" was urged as a much-needed development in the publication of newspapers in an address by B. D. Donnell, editor of The Times and Record News, before members of the Episcopal Men's club in their closing meeting of the spring at the parish house Monday night.

Election of officers for the 1930-31 fiscal year of the club resulted in the choice of Dr. Wallace J. Masters as president, Don Bowie as vice president, and E. C. Jordan as secretary-treasurer. Dr. Masters will succeed Merrill W. Blair, taking office at the opening fall meeting to be held in October.

Mr. Donnell's address on "Crime News in the Newspapers," was designed to answer, he said, questions which often are raised relative to local papers, and the daily press generally, giving such apparent front page pre-eminence to accounts of crime.

"If You Were Editor"

"Prominence of crime news on the front page of the papers you get is not due to a natural perversity of newspaper men. To understand that situation, it might be helpful to consider what you would do if you were editor, had to get out each edition right on the minute it is due, and found your press wires bringing you practically nothing but a flood of crime stories," Mr. Donnell said. "You would use stories of a lynching in Texas, a battle with bandits at a nearby Oklahoma town, and the trial of a former Texas judge for killing a girl because you would know that those stories would be read with more interest by more people than anything else in the paper."

Great literature and great drama, the speaker continued, are portrayals of conflict. The dramatic elements which burn in the plays of Shakespeare, and in the Bible, often are present in a trial for life, he said, and there are lessons to be learned from knowing the facts concerning a crime.

"There is another good reason why newspapers ought to print news of crime," Mr. Donnell said. "That is to let the people know what crimes are being committed numerously, and to learn if law enforcement agencies are functioning. Excessive publicity given to a local "crime wave" often stirs the police department to action, and effects a material improvement."

Factors which deter newspaper editors from using crime news were outlined by the speaker as including the possible effect of suggestion upon criminally inclined persons who may read of ingenious or peculiar methods used in crimes described in the papers. Suppression of such a story, however, often arouses such a public demand for more information that the paper is compelled to surrender and give the maximum of news on such a case, according to Mr. Donnell.

Particular condemnation was expressed for the tendency of some newspapers to play up the identity of personality of some criminal by frequent use of such nicknames as "Lone Wolf" for a bandit, or to invest him with a personality and glamor that magnifies him and makes him something of a hero.

Public Likes "Shock"

"This is a low trick," Mr. Donnell said, "but it is one through which papers of that kind gain circulation. In my opinion, this sort of thing is about as low an offense as other kinds of commercialized vice which decent men abhor."

Crime news has become such regular and voluminous grist in the mill of news-collecting, Mr. Donnell continued, that it almost lacks the qualification of having news value.

"The public rather likes a shock," he said, "and there is a deep-seated tendency in mankind to be attracted by unusual and extraordinary happenings. Newspapers respond to this tendency by printing reports of a large number of shocking and unusual events. I think they are doing it so much that it is ceasing to shock or interest. Yet we can not but observe that it is read, and is often the only news available. This latter fact is due largely to the fact that the news-gathering associations gulp in mankind's daily doings, somewhat in the manner of a whale gathering its food, strains out the shocking and the extraordinary, and flash these items constantly over a network of leased wires all over the country."

The volume of crime news gathered by press associations may be in part attributable to the ease of its assembly, Mr. Donnell said. Preparation of news of other activities in an interesting style would require much more work, more skilled writers, and a more interested public, he said.

Mr. Donnell expressed the opinion that newspapers are failing to keep pace with world development, except in its immediate adoption of scientific and mechanical improvements in methods of news transmission, printing, distribution, etc.

Graham Presented Cake

"I think we shall have better newspapers and more vital and useful papers when we get away from the idea that news must be shocking or unusual or extraordinary in character. I think that there is a splendid field for newspaper endeavor in interpreting this new world of ours to the man in the street. There is a lot in the life about us that may not be extraordinary or unusual about which we would like to know, and of which we should read if it were presented to us in an interesting manner. It will take a higher order of editing and reporting to do this than we now have. It is a challenge that I hope we will meet."

Informal talks were made by John Long, Rev. W. D. Bratton, Dr. R. H. Graham and Willis Maxson following Mr. Donnell's address. Musical entertainment was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robbins. Mrs. Robbins, pianist, played Fritz Kreisler's "Viennese Waltz" and McDowell's "Hungarian," and accompanied Mr. Robbins in two vocal numbers, "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," by Tate, and "Blue Heaven" from "The Desert Song." Mrs. Ewing Watkins and Jimmy Fox, members of the Little Theater, presented a dramatic humorous skit, "Between Trains in the Union Depot." Ladies of the Women's Guild served the dinner, and presented Dr. Graham with a white cake in honor of his recent election as governor general of Lions clubs in Texas.

Burk Asks Court To Help Uphold City Fire Rules

The possibility of having its key rate on insurance raised resulted Monday in the filing of a petition for an injunction by the city of Burkburnett against three defendants involved in the construction and ownership of a frame building said to be inside the fire limits of the city. The petition was filed here in the 78th district court.

Defendants named are Mike Begun, W. D. Barrow and H. S. Grace. Mr. Begun is the owner of the property on which the frame structure stands and Mr. Barrow and Mr. Grace are operators of the Barrow-Grace Chevrolet company, in the rear of which the building stands. The petition alleges the defendants were warned by the city fire marshal not to construct the frame building inside the fire limits. It claims further they proceeded with the construction but left the building only partially completed, in which state it is now used constituting a fire hazard which will penalize the city by having its key rate in insurance raised.

A new ironing board is intended to be hinged to the under side of beds that fold out of sight into recesses in hotels or apartment rooms.

He rode 10 miles and crossed a river to get Lemon Pie like this

I CALL this "Matty's Lemon Pie" because a man from Missouri told me it was as good as that made by an old colored cook named Matty—and he once rode 10 miles on horseback and rowed a mile across the Missouri River just to eat her lemon pie.

"Matty's Pie" is just sweet enough—with an overtone of fresh, piquant fruit, crowned with a pert meringue, browned to a golden glow and served in a Crisco pastry shell, as crisp on the bottom as it is around the edge—as only Crisco pastry can be.

MATTY'S LEMON PIE

1 lemon, juice and grated rind	1 cup granulated sugar
1 orange, juice and pulp	½ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, beaten light	2 tablespoons Crisco
3 tablespoons cornstarch	1½ cups water

Beat egg yolks light and stir in mixed dry ingredients. Add liquids, lemon rind and Crisco. Cook in double boiler until thick. Cool. Pour into baked shell. Cover with meringue (2 egg whites beaten stiff blended with 4 tablespoons granulated sugar and 1 teaspoon lemon juice). Brown in moderate oven (350° F.) for 15 minutes.

FLAKIER PIE-CRUST
(and a short cut)

If you haven't made pie-crust with Crisco, you've yet to discover how really tender and flaky pie-crust can be! Sweet-tasting, too, because Crisco tastes sweet and pure all by itself—and comes to you fresh in an air-tight can.

To save time in pie baking you can keep this pastry dough, already mixed, in the ice-box and bake a crust just when you need it. It will stay sweet, because Crisco itself stays sweet. And the thorough chilling will make the crust even flakier than usual.

2 cups flour	¾ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup Crisco	6 to 8 tablespoons cold water

Sift flour and salt together. Cut Crisco in well with two knives until consistency of small peas. Add only enough water to hold mixture together. Roll ⅛ inch thick on floured board.

For baked shell, use half of recipe and cover inverted pie plate with pastry. Leave enough dough to fold back to make a firm edge. Prick well with fork to prevent bubbles. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes.

For two-crust pie, bake 10 minutes at 450° F., then reduce heat to moderate (350° F.); bake until filling is done.

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL. Recipes tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. Crisco is the registered trade-mark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

©1930, P. & G. Co.

Taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor will tell you why things made with Crisco taste so much better.

100-Year-Old Irish Preacher Wants To See the World From an Airplane

Special to The Record News

LAMESA, Texas, May 19.—Never been up in an airplane but wants to go, is the experience of the Rev. T. A. Boycan, 100-year-old preacher who lives in Dawson county. The aged pastor was born in Belfast, Ireland, Feb. 10, 1830. His parents brought him to America at the age of five years, one year before Martin Van Buren was elected president of the United States.

He was educated in the Catholic schools of New York for the priesthood but later became a Protestant. He has been preaching as a Baptist minister for 82 years.

Boycan says he has walked 17,000 miles on preaching tours and that he has baptized 11,000 people. At the age of 100 he still preaches and his voice can be heard easily by a crowd of 3,000 people. He reads without glasses and hears well. His daily attire is a modest suit of grey which is lighter in color than his hair. He wears a boys' cap and uses a cane only when going up or down stairs.

Slightly bent, he appears to be a man of about 40 years. He can speak three different languages fluently. His library consists of some of the greatest works of literature. His greatest interest is reading.

Boycan has been married three times in his life and has one daughter, Mrs. F. E. McEdhannon, also a resident of Dawson county. The centenarian's father was killed when 45 years old and his mother died a natural death at the age of 76.

Boycan attributes his longevity to "obeying the laws of nature."

His statement regarding aviation shows his modern views. He believes that America's latest industry will surpass all former modes of transportation. He states that he has traveled in every type of land vehicle and sea-going vessel, but has yet to take an airplane ride. He is anxious to see what the world looks like from the clouds.

Asked if he wasn't afraid of an accident while riding in the plane he readily replied, "You can't kill an Irishman!"

The preacher fought during the civil war on the union side. He survived the first skirmish of the war of the states, which was the battle of Bull Run.

WASHINGTON, May 19. (INS)—The supreme court today held constitutional the portion of the cooperative marketing law of Oklahoma requiring cooperative cotton gin companies to set up a reserve, limiting dividends to 8 per cent and permitting deduction of 5 per cent of profits for educational purposes before distributing net earnings to members and non-members.

The Capitol Gin company, which attached the law, claimed that the system of distribution of profits amounted to a rebate which is forbidden to private corporations. The court, however, found this contention was not true.

William Lowe sought to prevent the state corporation commission from licensing cooperative gins on the contention that distribution of surplus profits to members on the basis of patronage was a rebate and unfair competition.

The commission appealed to the United States supreme court where its case was argued by E. Ratliff.

The commission took the position that there is no law preventing private-owned gins from distributing their surplus to customers on the basis of patronage if they so desire.

The circut court of appeals, however, recently held that cooperative gins must obtain permits from the commission as the law exempting them from this is unconstitutional.

Apartment Owner Not Liable for Damages Goods Stored Basement

A recent court decision has held that an apartment house owner was not liable for damages caused by rain water which damaged two trunks stored in the basement of the apartment building as an accommodation to the owner of the trunks, a tenant in the building.

The plaintiff asked damages, which were denied in their entirety because the judge held that the defendant could not be held liable, inasmuch as the goods were stored only as an accommodation and at the owner's risk.

Under such a decision the landlord would no doubt not be held liable for damage of any nature. The fact that many apartment buildings have such accommodation storage makes the decision of far-reaching importance and suggests itself as a strong talking point for storage in a reliable, fireproof depository, such as the Tarry Warehouse & Storage Co., rather than trusting valuable belongings to uncertain conditions. Trunks stored in the Tarry Warehouse are easily accessible, with plenty of light, clean surroundings, and a courteous warehouse employee to assist you at any hour of the day.—Adv.

A Better Treatment for Appendicitis

Doctors who are unacquainted with the natural methods of treatment such as fasting and hydrotherapy are usually of the opinion that an operation is the only treatment for appendicitis. This is not the case, however, as I have personally directed the care of several hundred cases of this dreaded disease without having a single death result and I know that other doctors are doing the same thing.

If operations were an infallible cure without the danger of post-operative complications, there might be some excuse for rushing these cases to the hospital. But operations are not infallible and complications ensue, even when the patient recovers. There are no doubt many cases where the patient feels vastly more improved following an operation but equally good results can usually be obtained without the operation if the right treatment is used.

Almost every day the newspapers record operations upon prominent people and occasionally the report that death occurred. Sometimes one hears that a later operation was necessary to remove the adhesions that resulted from the first. There are many other cases of less prominent of which no account is given.

It is considered almost sure fatality if the appendix has burst before the operation. On the other hand I have seen a number of cases where the appendix had apparently burst and a complete recovery occurred without an operation when the correct treatment was used. You will undoubtedly be interested in knowing of the treatment used in these cases, and I will explain it in tomorrow's article but first let us understand some of the causes leading up to a case of appendicitis.

The appendix is a worm-shaped hollow organ located near the bottom of the ascending colon at a point from which the bowel contents must be pushed upward. If there is any packing of slowing up from constipation, or if there is an excessive putrefaction, an inflammation of the colon is likely to ensue. This occurs most frequently in the ascending colon because of the extra pressure of gravity which is made worse by a sharp kink at the top end of the ascending colon where it makes a downward curve to form the transverse colon. For this reason the anpendix comes in for its share of inflammation that so frequently occurs in this region. Sometimes the small opening of the appendix may be completely closed by the spread of this inflammation, or it may be blocked by small pieces of hardened fecal matter which have been forced into its entrance. When not inflamed the appendix usually succeeds in forcing these particles back into the colon.

The symptoms of appendicitis are fairly constant. First, there is usually a sharp or colicky pain through the right side. It may begin with the stomach or be diffused over the abdomen, but toward the end it settles down somewhere near the right iliac fossa. The next symptom is that the patient is nauseated and may begin to vomit. Constipation ensues the muscles of the lower right side are rigid, and the patient usually raises the right leg to ease the pressure. The patient has a fever, usually moderate at first. Upon pressure there is a tenderness and soreness in the side, and the blood shows an increase in the number of white corpuscles. Most of the patients have an attack of the acute catarrhal type which may be mild and often heals spontaneously within a week or two. After several of these attacks there is a danger that future attacks will be accompanied by the formation of pus and a real abscess may form in the appendix which if not treated correctly sometimes results in a perforation into the abdominal cavity and finally the development of peritonitis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Rash on Face

Question: Mrs. M. E. asks—"Will you kindly tell me what is the matter with me. I have a rash on my face which burns and itches slightly. Does not go farther than face and neck. Is it caused from the nerves? What can I do for it? Have had it before, but not so bad."

Answer—I could not determine exactly the cause of the rash without examining you. Most rashes of this type will clear up on an acid fruit or orange juice fast, and I would advise you to try this. If it does not clear up within a week's time have a thorough examination and send me your doctor's report so that I may advise you more definitely.

Rhubarb Greens

Question: K. M. writes—"I would like to know if the leafage of rhubarb is edible as a green vegetable."

Answer: The leaf of the rhubarb should not be used as it contains an excess amounts of oxalic acid, and many cases of poisoning have been noted using the leaves of rhubarb as greens.

Sleeping Alone

Question: H. C. B. writes "Please give me your opinion on a one-time general impression that a slender person sleeping in the same bed with an extremely healthy person would become thinner. Is this a superstition, or is it founded on scientific merit?"

Answer—The impression that a slender person sleeping in the same bed with an extremely healthy person, would become thinner, is merely a superstition. However, it is always a better policy to sleep alone if possible, as one obtains a better rest.

Woman Asks Mercy For Slayer of Kin

NEW YORK, May 19 (UP)—A gray haired kinswoman of Henry Gaw who was murdered here last year, came from Denver today to plead for mercy for the man who has confessed, authorities say, to that murder and also to killing nine other persons.

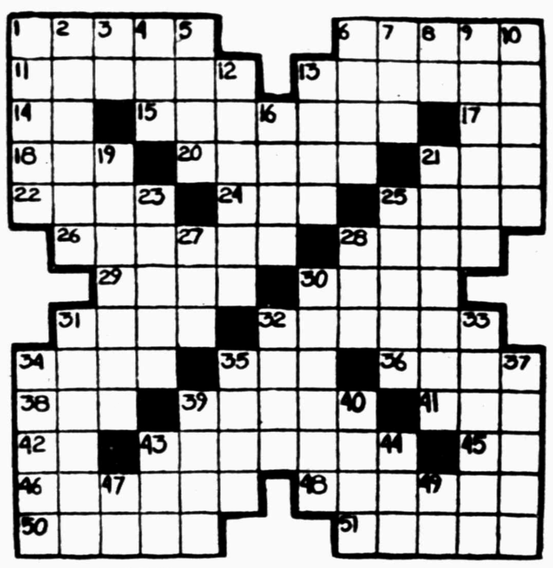

The woman, Mrs. Clara Gaw, arrived at the office of Assistant District Attorney James E. McDonald to plead for James Baker, 25-year-old youth who calls himself "Texas Jim" and who boasts that he has killed 10 persons. Baker went on trial today, charged with murder December 27, 1928, of Henry Gaw, employed at night watchman at the Guggenheim laboratories.

"I hope they are merciful to him," she told McDonald, in charge of presenting the state's case. "I think he must be the victim of some terrible unhappiness that makes him do things like that."

WILTSE'S THIRD CONSECUTIVE SHUT-OUT SUBDUES STEERS, 5-0

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

One of the boys in the office was back on the job Monday somehow getting his work done in spite of thinking about our Spudders. He saw the game down at Dallas Sunday. That was the cause of it all. He said he would rather see a game like that Sunday affair than a 1 to 0 game. It was packed with thrills, he said.

He was observant of the crowds, too, and this is the dope he brought back: "Nearly everybody I heard talking in the grandstands said 'this is the club that's got to be beat before anybody can win the pennant.'"

"And at a certain period in the game when Levey, on third, made out like he was going to steal home, a woman in a box "let out a Comanche yell that could be heard four miles," this observer said.

Guy Airey, Spudder secretary, was back in town for a brief stay Monday, and he had similar glowing tales to tell of the Spudders. Skipper Williams, said Guy, is bursting with pride over the harmonious manner in which the club plays ball, each man working hard every day, regardless of how many games they have won or lost. Guy planned to leave here early Tuesday for Dallas, and then journey to Fort Worth and Shreveport with the boys. He has been with them on the whole road trip.

One development in Sunday's game which should be a cause for rejoicing is the terrific swatting of Mr. Kloza, the enigmatic left fielder who has been hard to figure out. One day he's a mauler, swatting every thing that comes his way. The next he can't hit anything. But Sunday Big Boy Kloza showed great hitting form, and it is to be hoped that he keeps up those slugging ways. He got three hits out of four times to bat, two of them lusty homers.

It is also good to notice that Spider Levey's swing is getting better. Down at Beaumont and Houston he did only fairly well. Naturally he couldn't do wonders against those two clubs. Nobody else did so wonderful either. The pitching is better than that offered by the Steers. Nevertheless, Spider faced some pretty good twirlers Sunday and came out with four swats out of six times up, one of them being good for four bases.

To say nothing of Burns, the first sacker, who duplicated Levey's feat. And Bettencourt, of course, is maintaining his stride.

San Antonio, we notice, is to follow Houston's plan and install equipment to give the public night baseball.

After three days of fasting and prayer, this department has come to the conclusion that night baseball is going to take at least one glamorous and romantic element out of the game. The element, to-wit, of perspiration. At least so far as the onlookers are concerned. The players, doubtless, will offer upon the altars of the baseball dieties the usual number of liters of perspiration, but the thing is, the public will deprived of witnessing the ceremony. And that ceremony, we maintain, is half of the game.

What is more stimulating, more conducive to a feeling of manliness than to watch a team fighting for dear life to preserve their prestige on the diamond—their uniforms blackened by hitting the dirt, and an avalanche of perspiration rolling from their faces! Who does not root for the pitcher who has to call time out to mop his brow! Indeed, the spectacle of a good, old fashioned sweating ball club is stimulating to the carefully groomed and soda-pop drinking customer, because he can compare himself to the players. There he sits relatively comfortable, while out on the field men are doing what he would like to do but can't, i. e., really work up a shower of perspiration in a noble sport. At least some of them will feel that way. Others will enjoy the spectacle simply by congratulating themselves that they don't have to get so grimy. But even at that, there is a certain amount of envy in these persons.

All this will disappear when the games are played by night. No matter how hard a player might be mopping his face to keep from being blinded by the flow, he will look as cool as a retired banker promenading among the Everglades at Palm Beach. And what will become of the appealing sun-tans the players now have as the result of their vigorous life in the sun? Alas, a few weeks of night baseball and the whole squad will look like a group of cold cream advertisements.

SPUDS AGAIN LEAD LEAGUE

Hal Allows Opposition Only Two Hits

Special to The Record News

DALLAS, May 19.—The Dallas Steers today fell victims of Hal Wiltse's third consecutive shutout and his fourth of the season, the Wichita Falls Spudders defeating Atz' Herd, 5 to 0. Wiltse allowed only two hits, one of them a double by Eddie Brown, Dallas outfielder, who has hit in 30 straight games, and the second a single by Jones, who hit for Karr in the eighth.

The victory gave the Spudders undisputed possession of first place in the Texas league standings, Houston having bowed to the Waco Cubs, 3 to 1, at Houston. The teams were in a tie for first place.

Wiltse carried his shutout tactics through to perfection, maintaining the stride set at San Antonio, where he chalked up his first no-run game of the present Spudder road trip. The next shtuout was at Beaumont. His first was against Fort Worth at the beginning of the season.

Larry Hits Another

Larry Bettencourt accounted for two of the Spudder runs today, his homer in the fifth driving in Kloza ahead of himself.

The Spudders in all got 11 hits, 10 of them off Karr, and one off Holmes, who relieved Karr in the ninth.

Storti flied out to left to open the third, which also was productive. Fitzgerald strolled. Kloza doubled to center, advancing Fitzgerald to third. Burns popped out to second. Bettencourt was walked purposely, filling the bases. Bradbury singled to center, scoring Fitzgerald and Kloza and advancing Bettencourt to second. Euller flied out to right.

The Final Tallies

The final tallies came in the fifth. Fitzgerald grounded out to first unassisted. Kloza walked and Burns was called out on strikes. Kloza stole second and then came Bettencourt's long home run which sailed over the left field screen, scoring both runners. Bradbury singled to center, but Euller flied out to right, closing the period.

The two teams meet Tuesday in the final game of the series.

Mayor Nelson Opens Hoss Shoe Pitching Season

Mayor Nelson threw a perfect strike out to open the baseball season here April 9, but he was decidedly off color Monday night when he opened the 1930 horseshoe pitching season before a crowd of about 300 persons at Scotland park. Nevertheless, he made a good try and was roundly applauded.

His wild hurl in the direction of the pin was the sign to begin, and six teams did so forthwith. The First Methodists defeated the American refiners, three games to two; the Presbyterians won over the Continental oilers, four to one; the Katy team beat the Presbyterians, three to two; and the city firemen defeated the Panhandle steel workers, five straight. The First Methodists and the firemen won over the Grace Methodists by default.

The games are being sponsored by the city park department.

Americans Reach Third Round in French Play

AUTEUIL, France, May 19. (AP)—Led by Bill Tilden and Wilybur Coen, the favored teams advanced without difficulty today as the French hard court tennis championships opened at the Roland Garros stadium. The day was devoted entirely to doubles—men's, women's and mixed.

Tilden and Coen were the only Americans in action. With the aid of a first round bye and a second round victory over the French combination of Pierre Albaran and the famous ocean navigator, Alain Gerbault, at 6-0, 6-3, 6-3, they reached the third round.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and her partner, Elizabeth Ryan, were not scheduled and the match in which Helen Jacobs was to appear with her Belgian partner, Irene Sicard, was postponed until tomorrow.

SHREVEPORT DEFEATS PANTHERS, 9 TO 4

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 19. (AP)—Wildness of the Fort Worth hurlers enabled Shvereport to score a 9 to 4 triumph in the second game of the series this afternoon at La Grave field. JOHN BURNETT

CLEVELAND, May 19. (AP)—John Burnett was forced to fill the shoes of a slugger and he slugged, too.

Burnett, who has appeared intermittently in the Cleveland lineup, a short time ago was sent in to substitute for Joe Sewell, when illness finally forced the little infielder to give up his chance for a record of consecutive play.

The former collegian immediately started hitting hard and at one time was leading the league, with a mark of better than .400.

Though Burnett was obtained by the Indians in 1927, he was farmed out the two past seasons. In 1928 he was optioned to Terre Haute, and last year Cleveland sent him to New Orleans for further seasoning. With the Southern association club, he hit .311.

Burnett formerly starred on the diamond and at football for the University of Florida. Burnett, who will not be 24 until November, weighs 175 pounds and is 5 feet 11 inches tall.

HUNT LEADS TEXAS GOLFERS

Wichitan Lags in First Round of Play

RIVER OAKS COUNTRY CLUB, Houston, May 19. (AP)—A graying veteran was medalist today in the first qualifying round of the Texas amateur golf association's annual tournament.

W. C. Hunt of the Houston Country club fought a wet course and a bit of wind to take a 73, two strokes ahead of his nearest competitors, George Rotan, another old timer, and Preston Moore, both of Houston.

With the triumph of the experienced ones came ill fortune to the younger and more brilliant. Ossie Carlton, the favorite, took a 78 and counted himself lucky; Bub McKinney the Del Rio star, got a big 81; Gus Moreland of Dallas, another youngster, had an 82. Tommy Cochran of Wichita Falls was one of the old heads who failed to keep up the tradition. He came in with 85.

L. L. Atwell of Houston, one of the early finishers, was up toward the front with a 76.

Everybody will go 18 holes again tomorrow before completing the qualifying.

Tomorrow's play will weed out all except 32 men from the first division and the next 64 will go in second and third flights. If the golf is no better, several men in the 80's should make the first detachment, but the prospect of drier fairways made this morning more than a possibility.

Sir Thomas Lipton Cup Entry Wins Race

HARWICH, England, May 19. (AP)—Sir Thomas Lipton's American cup racer, Shamrock V, easily won her second race in the Harwich regatta today on a time allowance basis against larger craft. Observers agreed the Shamrock showed she can more than hold her own with the best in fairly strong winds.

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league; Robert Tarlton, business manager of the Dallas club of the league, and "Steamboat" Johnson, Southern association umpire, today appeared before Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, to make statements in connection with the attendance and receipts at the final game of the Dixie series last year.

Commissioner Landis said it had been reported that true figures had not been given on the game between Dallas and the Birmingham club of the Southern association but that the statements had satisfactorily cleared up the report. No other action was contemplated, he said.

SQUABBLE STARTED BY DALLAS PLAYERS

The investigation of the attendance and receipts of the last Dixie series game between Birmingham of the Southern association, and the Dallas Texas league club was occasioned by the claim advanced principally by players of the Dallas club, that they had been deprived of a large slice in the receipts through an erroneous report of the day's attendance, according to statements made by officials of the Texas league.

Later it developed that the players apparently had used newspaper estimates of the crowd at the Texas league play-off a week before to compare with the official figures on the Dixie series game. A week before the final Birmingham-Dallas game the Wichita Falls team met the Steers in the Texas league play-off before a crowd estimated by newspaper men and others to be around 18,000, whereas accurate figures on the attendance at that game showed the count to be approximately 13,000, league officials said. The popular estimate of 18,000, however, gained circulation and was generally accepted as true by the majority of the public. Then the next Sunday came the Birmingham game. The players judged the crowd to be as big if not bigger than the crowd that saw the Texas league play-off, and were disappointed when the official figures, showing an attendance of about 13,800, were announced. An uproar ensued, following which an investigation was ordered.

Previous to the Dixie series play-off there was a note of dissatisfaction among the Dallas players because the management of the Dallas club refused to sponsor a pennant fund to reimburse the players in the event a tie for the championship resulted. When the Sunday game in question came, it found Birmingham in the lead with three games and Dallas trailing with two. Should Dallas have won the Sunday game a tie would have resulted, and the players would not have been entitled to a share of the receipts forthcoming from the extra game necessitated by the tie. The Dallas players therefore requested that a pennant fund be raised from which they might be paid in the event the Steers won the sixth game and created a tie for the leadership. The pennant fund was not sanctioned by the Dallas baseball club.

The Steers lost the Sunday game, thereby losing the Dixie championship and obviating the necessity for a seventh game.

High School Gridders to Close Spring Training With Game Today

By JACK ALLEN

Dutchmen will meet Irishmen on the gridiron today at 3:30 when the two teams which make up the spring football squad of Wichita Falls high school will battle it out for the supremacy on the field at the rear of the school building. This game will mark the official closing of the spring training which has been in session approximately three months.

Excitement is running high in the school corridors as the time draws near for the battle. The high school band, directed by Leo M. Underwood, will assemble its 40 or 50 pieces and enliven the occasion with pep songs. Students are planning to attend the game en masse.

The two teams with their substitutes have been under the watchful eye of Coach Barry Holton for the past season and the entire squad is in fine condition and ready for the fray. The names of the two teams were a gift from the coach. The Irish eleven are clothed in black jerseys, while the opposing aggregation wears white jerseys. Each team has its respective manager to take charge of the equipment and control that team's interest. Morrison will act as manager for the Irish and Howell and Jenkins will be the caretakers for the Dutchies.

Apparently the Dutchmen are the slight favorites on the eve of the big battle. Although having a comparatively weak line the backfield is first class and a real asset to the dike-builders.

The game is to start at 3:30 o'clock sharp and is to be refereed by the leading official of district games here last fall, Dayvault of Texas university. Other officials include Baggett, Washita university; Johns, Southwestern, field judge; and Mosley, Baylor. The field was marked off by the staff of managers Monday and everything is in readiness.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—An early advance in cotton on reports of heavy rains and floods in parts of the central and western cotton belt states was followed today by a very rapid decline under liquidation prompted by a more favorable weather forecast and weakness in the stock market. July closed at 16.22, a decline of 18 points. New October at 14.79, a loss of 21 points, while the general market closed barely steady at 18 to 31 points net lower.

Certificated stocks at the designated delivery points including Savannah were reported at 515,763 bales while May notices in all of the market so far were estimated at 428,700 bales. The Liverpool market was steadier and was said to have been influenced by continental buying and covering. Cloth and yarn sales were reported below production. Exports today 8,258, making 6,409,121 so far this season. Port receipts 13,149. U. S. port stocks 1,687,578.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (AP)—The cotton market was again entirely a weather affair today, gaining nearly a dollar a bale in the early trading owing to damaging rains over the week-end in the Mississippi valley and in the Southwest and later losing the gain on prospects for better weather in the Southwest and lack of sustained support. The general market closed steady at net declines of 8 to 27 points. The new crop months showed the greatest declines.

July closed at 15.91 down 11 points net for the day and October closed at 14.81 down 26 points net.

Market Closes at Bottom Level After Prices Crack Under Pressure

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 19. (US)—Pressure against the stock market maintained throughout the session today brought about a sharp setback in prices. The market closed virtually at the bottom levels of the day and while there were no signs of disorder prices yielded steadily before the offerings which on the whole were comparatively light, although somewhat above the total of the quiet days of last week. Approximately two and one-half million shares changed hands, but according to well-informed observers the selling in volume appeared to be concentrated, as if a powerful clique were endeavoring to upset the market. The character of the selling was suspiciously similar to that employed by the supposedly innocuous "white-haired boy" plunger of yester-year. Steel common was the conspicuous target of the selling and the bears succeeded in driving the stock down to a new low on the present reaction and close to the low reached on the last general setback in the market. While the net decline for the day in itself was quite severe, the more discouraging factor was the market's failure to rally at any stage. The setback moreover was accomplished eighth by eighth.

Public Utility stocks as a group performed particularly discouragingly, in view of the general hope that these issues would prove stubborn to selling pressure. However, after opening firmly, the leading Utilities evidenced considerable pressure which was inspired in great part by the advice of a leading statistical service to liquidate the Utility shares because of the high earnings ratio at which they have been selling. The advice apparently unnerved many holders of Utility stocks who had been temporarily encouraged by the various merger steps and exchange offerings recently disclosed. The Utilities have been selling at such high ratios to their present or nearby income that the only explanation that could be advanced to warrant their quotations was the loudly-proclaimed advantages to accrue from consolidation, absorption, merger, etc. In these proclamations earning power have little consideration apparently.

Few stocks were strong enough to resist the selling pressure and in some instances unusually large declines were suffered. This was the case with United States Freight, a specialty which had been held strong for months purely by artificial methods. Motion picture stocks continued under pressure, the group seemingly having lost much of its speculative appeal which had carried most of these issues up sharply in recent weeks. Railroad stocks as a group displayed greater firmness to selling than did the industrials and the utilities. National Biscuit was a relatively firm stock but its resistance to selling was not shared by other food stocks which joined the general downward procession for the day at least. But it was Steel common's performance that proved the most disheartening development. It was obvious that professional pressure was directed particularly at Steel, but the bears could hardly anticipate any marked success if the stock's sponsors were inclined to support it.

Oil shares suffered along with the remainder of the market as anticipated good news has failed to develop thus far. The highest authorities in the oil industry declare that nothing fundamentally has happened recently in the trade to change the hope for sustained betterment in conditions. They admit, however, that some of the recent price adjustments are not sufficiently clear to permit of interpretation with respect to the general position of the industry. Consumption, however, has been increasing at a rate fully up to expectations. Production has not been curtailed as substantially as might be necessary in view of the large inventories.

Commodities also were under pressure, wheat options selling off almost two cents per bushel while corn yielded close to a cent. Cotton prices suffered declines of more than 15 points. Exchanges were generally irregular.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, May 19. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Curtailed receipts of cattle around the eleven market circuit stimulated demand for most killing classes and a general price advance of 25 was put into effect. Lighter weights of fed steers and yearlings continued to comprise the bulk of receipts. Chicago scored 14.35 on 1,550 pound steers and realized 13.75 on choice light weight steers. A six car string of 959-1250 pound horned Texas cake fed steers on the Kansas City market went at $10.00@10.10.

The movement of stocker and feeder steers was the lightest in several months with hardly enough available at Kansas City to make a test of market conditions. Shipment of thin steers will probably be light until the middle of July when grass cattle start coming. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 48,700, a decrease of 12,000 from a week ago and 10,000 short of the corresponding day last year.

Moderate activity developed on hogs at prices unevenly strong to 25c higher with strong weight butchers generally showing the most advance.

The supply of sheep, numbering around 51,500, was 16,000 less than a week ago and 9,500 under a year ago. Killing classes found a fairly active outlet at firm to 25c higher values.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 19. (AP)—Steady to higher prices were paid for all classes of cattle today. Steers were slow but there was little indication they would be lower, calves and yearlings steady to 25 cents higher, cows and bulls steady. Stocker cattle unchanged. No rail hogs offered but truck hogs sold 10 cents higher. Sheep steady.

Slaughter yearlings active strong to 25 cents higher with about half a load at $11.85 and load lots at $11.75, $11.25 and down.

Cows sold at $7.50 or a little better; canners from $4.25 down, with cutters around $4.75.

Bulls in carlots sold at $6.25. Common light bulls sold from $4.50 to $5.25.

Not many good calves arrived. The extreme top for heavy calves was $11.25. Veals at $12.60. Most of the calves sold from $8.00 to $9.50 with culls around $5.00. Most of the better calves around 25 cents higher.

Some good stocker yearlings sold from $10.50 to $10.75.

Truck hogs made a top of $9.25 or about a dime higher. Packing sows $8.00 to $8.25.

A light supply of sheep sold at steady prices. Medium grade shorn fed lambs sold at $7.25; shorn aged fed wethers sold at $5.00; eight decks of shorn feeder lambs at $6.25.

Hogs—Receipts 1,600; truck hogs 10c higher; top $9.25.

Cattle—Receipts 2,900; slaughter steers slow, quotably steady; offerings value to sell $7.50@10.25; good fat cows up to $7.50 and above; butcher grade $6.00; stock yearlings $10.25@10.75.

Sheep—Receipts 1,300; market steady; medium shorn fed lambs $7.25; few aged shorn fed wethers $5.00.

CHICAGO, May 19. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 38,000; market 10@15c higher; top $10.35; bulk $9.75@10.25; heavyweight $9.75@10.30; medium weight $9.85@10.35; lightweight $9.80@10.35; light lights $9.75@10.30; packing sows $9.90@9.75; pigs $9.25@10.25; holdovers 1,000.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 19. (AP)—Cash grain good demand continued for wheat, corn and sorghums on the Fort Worth cash grain market as the week started. Wheat prices were a little lower in sympathy with the contract markets; mills bidding $1.14@1.15, basis ordinary No. 1 hard delivered Texas common points. Sorghums were higher and dealers said more milo and kaffir could be sold than were arriving. Barley continued dull and sagging, though no sales were reported.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carlots delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 3 mixed 94½@95½c; No. 2 white 99c@$1.00; No. 2 yellow 99½c@$1.00½.

Oats—No. 2 red 56@57c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally, 70@71c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per hundred pounds $1.98@2.00; No. 2 kaffir $1.64@1.66.

Cane Seed—Market nominal. Bulk country run red top per 100 pounds according to type, germination, origin and cleanout, $4.25@4.50.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivery Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 92½@93½c; No. 2 white corn 96@97c; No. 2 yellow 97@98c; No. 3 white oats 53@53½c, to which add one cent for delivery Texas group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Wheat suffered a material setback in price today, owing largely to assertions that Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Nebraska crops showed big improvement. A leading private crop expert came out with a forecast that the states named would produce 10,000,000 bushels more wheat this season than has been indicated by the official May returns. The United States wheat visible supply total showed 4,064,000 bushels falling off, but the decrease was less than was generally expected.

Closing quotations on wheat were weak at virtually the day's bottom level, 1⅝@2⅛c a bushel under Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1½c down, oats ½@1⅛c off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 20.

Special attention was given a report asserting that 1930 wheat yields from Nebraska to Texas inclusive would aggregate 265,000,000 bushels, compared with the latest Washington figures, 255,000,000 bushels. In addition to this forecast, the market here was influenced by lower Liverpool quotations than were looked for, and by renewed slackness of export business besides.

Corn and oats prices eased down with wheat, notwithstanding that corn belt weather conditions were unfavorable for field work.

Provisions although dull were studied by upturns in the value of hogs.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July $1.03¼@⅜, $1.05⅛@1.06; Sept. $1.06⅜@½, $1.08¼; Dec. $1.10⅞, $1.13¼. Corn—July 79¼@⅜, 81½, 82c; Sept. 80⅛@81c, 72¼@½c; Dec. 74½@⅝c, 76½c.

MILK PLANT STARTS WORK

40,000 Pounds Available For Condensing Here

Powdering of whole milk began Monday afternoon at the rebuilt Kraft cheese plant by the Southwest Dairy Products company with about 40,000 pounds of milk available daily for the new manufacturing process, according to P. R. Freeman, local manager for the concern.

Monday's operations were in a measure experimental, Mr. Freeman said, devoted largely to "tuning up" recently installed machinery and making ready for the beginning of regular production of commercial powdered milk Tuesday.

In excess of the whole milk used in the Producers' creamery plant for butter, cream, bottled milk, etc., approximately 40,000 pounds of milk is available from present daily receipts for conversion to powder, providing for a daily output of about 4,400 pounds. The dehydrated product is packed in barrels for shipment to northern and eastern parts of the country, it was said.

Another new delivery route was opened Monday morning, bringing milk from the vicinity of Duncan, Okla., and intervening points. It will produce about 400 gallons daily, according to present indications. The route recently established from Olney and Archer City is maintaining a heavy and regular yield, it was said.

COTTON CHIEF'S ADDRESSES SET

Carl Williams to Deliver Three Talks

Special to The Record News

DALLAS, May 19.—Announcing dates for addresses in Texas by Carl Williams, cotton member of the federal farm board, the Texas Cotton Cooperative association today made public its plans for a statewide membership campaign which will start simultaneously with the tour of the farm board member.

The campaign will open the first of June and Williams is to arrive in Abilene for an address before the West Texas Chamber of Commerce May 30, following with addresses before farmers' and business men's mass meetings at Paris Saturday, May 31; Waco Monday, June 2, and Corpus Christi Tuesday, June 3.

Sweeping changes were made in the Texas Cotton cooperative system during the past week's annual meetings of members and directors. The old Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, after 10 years of pioneering, was reorganized into the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, and its sales plan placed on an entirely different basis. Instead of contracting to deliver all his cotton for sale by the association, the member will now contract for delivery of only one bale in every two, and this amount only until he has delivered 10 bales. After delivery of the 10th bale, he may sell all the remainder on the open market, if he so desires.

A "decentralized membership" program is another new feature, with district and branch offices at larger points, and receiving agencies at smaller points, to allow the member to carry on his dealings in person with association representatives near his home, rather than by long distance relations with state headquarters as before. On the other hand, sales will be on a more centralized basis than ever, the Texas association being one of 12, covering the entire cotton belt, which will sell their cotton through the American Cotton Cooperative association, set up and supervised by the federal farm board.

Corpus Christi will be the scene of the first membership drive, 41 counties of that district to begin organization June 3, with preliminary work already under way. As rapidly as possible, the organization movement will be transferred to the other districts, in order to be ready for actual operation by the beginning of the cotton season.

It was stated at T. C. C. A. headquarters that 75 towns and cities have applied for branch offices of the association, indicating their willingness to underwrite the maintenance of the offices and the enrollment of a membership quota. The general trend of sentiment toward the reorganized cooperative has been so favorable, it was added, that instead of having around five per cent of Texas cotton farmers, as in the past, the association is expected to enroll several times that many the first season.

BISHOP CANNON IS ACQUITTED

Virginia Church Leader Explains Actions

the church or his friends; that his motives could not be questioned; and that he would never again engage in any such transactions.

J. H. Therrell of Ocala, Fla., secretary of the committee, disclosed that Cannon himself first asked for a "complete investigation" of the charges against him in a letter dated May 2, a week before the conference opened.

Secretary Terrell characterized the charges as "a pile of allegations enough to fill a 30-page newspaper, without evidence to support them."

Daniels Astonished

Under the rules of the church, Cannon will be entirely free of the charges when the committee makes its report to the conference, since the committee's actions in regard to these specific accusations, are final.

Mr. Daniels said he was "astounded and astonished" when he was told tonight of the decision.

"I never believed it possible," he exclaimed, adding, as if in after thought, "Cannon defended himself when it started. The charges evidently brought about his penance."

The episcopacy committee earlier had rejected a report brought in by its sub-committee that found the charges against Cannon well-founded and merited. The sub-committee was dismissed, it was learned.

New Attack Launched

Fresh attacks upon Bishop Cannon were made before the episcopacy body late today and tonight.

The group charged that Cannon, in addition to maintaining a marginal account on the stock market, also had violated the laws of New York state by speculating with Kable and Company, a New York brokerage company. They pointed out that Henry Goldhurst, an official of the now defunct company, had been sentenced to a prison term and that Cannon, because he maintained an account with Kable and company, also was guilty.

McKinney Heads Retail Clerks

More than 30 retail clerks of Wichita Falls met Monday night at the Labor temple for the purpose of organizing and chartering a local chapter of the Retail Clerks International Protective association, an organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Bill McKinney was elected president in the business session following installation of the charter and obligation of the members. Other officers elected were J. A. Bell, vice president; Joe Johnson, recording secretary; L. A. Duke, financial secretary and treasurer; Joe Brown, guardian; and Louie Malone, guide.

John D. Schulte officiated at the installation of the charter and occupied the chair during the session preceding the election of officers. W. R. Wilcke acted as recorder during the organization meeting.

Couple Hurt in Crash Reported Improving

The condition of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Granger, 1901½ Fillmore street, who were injured in a street car and automobile collision Monday morning, was reported good at the Wichita General hospital late Monday evening. Both suffered severe lacerations on the face and head from flying glass and were taken to the hospital in an unconscious state by ambulances from the Hines mortuary and the Alberts Funeral home.

The crash occurred at Avenue G and Taylor street about 7:30 o'clock Monday morning. Considerable damage was done to the street car, which was derailed, and the coupe in which Mr. and Mrs. Granger were riding. Mr. Granger's head went through the windshield and Mrs. Granger was cut by flying glass, it was reported. Occupants of the street car were not injured.

Transfer of Funds in Electra Precinct Approved by County

The county commissioners court Monday virtually granted the right of precinct No. 4 (Electra) to have $44,323.12 now in the county treasury, the balance remaining from sale of road bonds voted by the district, transferred from the treasury into the sinking fund to pay off the bonds and a portion into the precinct road and bridge fund for road maintenance.

The court had previously set a date for an election to determine whether the transfer should be made, but an opinion from Wayne Somerville, county attorney, advised the commissioners there was no law to allow, even by election, the transfer of funds remaining from bonds voted into a fund for maintenance of roads other than those for which the bonds were voted. The money may be transferred to the sinking fund to apply on payment of the bonds and into a fund for maintenance of the roads for which the bonds were voted without an election, Mr. Somerville said.

Judge John P. Marrs of the county court stated he had communicated with the attorney general and found the transfer as requested by residents of the precinct could be made without an election. An opinion from the attorney general is being sent here, the judge said. A petition filed with the court asked that $30,000 of the amount be placed in the sinking fund and $14,323.12 in the road maintenance fund of the precinct. The original issue was $500,000 in 5 per cent bonds.

A balance of $561,416.37 was shown in the county treasury April 30, according to the report of Paul Barnett, county auditor, who filed his March and April reports with the court Monday. Receipts during April were given at $27,953.06 and disbursements at $211,383.43.

Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, district clerk, also filed her February report with the court. A total of $4,396.75 was shown in the trust fund of the district clerk's department.

The court authorized the purchase of a rock crusher for road work in precinct No. 4. The machine was bought at a cost of $4,076.96 from the R. B. George Machinery company.

CITY CLERK FILES REPORT

April Water Collections Total $18,460

A total of $36,164.58, of which the major portion of $8,460.00 was for water sales, was collected by the city of Wichita Falls during the month of April, it was revealed in the regular monthly report released by W. E. McBroom, city clerk, Monday afternoon. Delinquent taxes and penalties amounted to $8,458.25 and $9,138.33 came from miscellaneous sources.

Expenses for the month amounted to $104,642.27 for which the general administration was $6,305.10. The police department, fire department and street lights used $21,950.54 while $9,540.24 was spent by the health department and the General hospital. Other expenditures included street maintenance, $6,107.19; equipment and maintenance of parks, $7,189.22; improvements and maintenance of water works, $5,572.65; bond interests, $34,857.50; and airport operation and gasoline resale, $1,480.49. Refunds on receipts in error amounted to $300.

Disbursements for last month were unusually high, Mr. McBroom pointed out, due to fact that the bond interest which only comes due twice each year, was payable at this time. The expenditures also include approximately $10,000 worth of new trucks and new automobiles.

Court Denies A. B. Fall Plea

High Tribunal Refuses to Decide Case

WASHINGTON, May 19. (INS)—The supreme court today refused to take the appeal of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, from the District of Columbia court of appeals, and make an immediate decision in the case. The government's special oil prosecutors had asked the court to receive the case because of Fall's present illness.

Fall was sentenced to serve one year in jail and pay a fine of $100,000 for accepting as a bribe a like amount from Edward G. Doheny, California oil magnate. Doheny was acquitted of a charge of giving the money to Fall with intentions to bribe him for possession of the navy's Elk Hill oil leases.

Martin Presides At Bribery Trial

Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court left Monday morning for Breckenridge where he occupied the bench in the 90th district court at the opening of the trial of the bribery case against County Judge W. J. Arrington, charged with accepting a bribe from George T. Adams former tax collector of Stephens county. Adams will be called for trial following the Arrington case.

Both men were indicted by a grand jury at Breckenridge in April as a result of investigations growing out of an audit of the county's books last year. Judge Martin of this city took the bench in the 90th district court through an exchange with Judge C. O. Hamlin, who Monday occupied the bench in the trial of Larry Kilroy in the 89th district court here.

The body of Burt Godfrey, son of Mrs. W. K. Starks of this city, who died in Little Rock, Ark., last Saturday, will arrive in Wichita Falls at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and will be taken in charge by the Hines mortuary, according to word received here late Monday.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the chapel of the Hines mortuary with Rev. L. S. White, pastor of the Church of Christ, officiating. Interment will be in Rosemont.

For one invention alone—a new electric light—Edison made notes extending to 40,000 pages.

JURY CLEARS LARRY KILROY

Wichitan Acquited on Statutory Charge

Larry Kilroy, charged with a statutory offense against his step-daughter, was acquitted early Monday evening by a jury in the 89th district court. The jury deliberated about one hour. Attorneys for the state had asked for the maximum penalty in arguments before the jury late Monday afternoon.

Kilroy is still charged with possession of whisky for the purpose of sale and trial on that charge was also set for this term of the 89th district court. The bench in Monday's trial was occupied by Judge C. O. Hamlin of the 90th district court at Breckenridge through an exchange with Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district here. Judge Martin occupied the bench at Breckenridge Monday in the trial of a bribe case against a county official there. Kilroy was represented in Monday's trial by Alton V. Grant, Wichita Falls attorney appointed by the court. George W. Anderson and Mike Anglin, assistant district attorneys, represented the state.

City Delays New Buildings

Contractors' Bids $1,000 Above Appropriations

Acceptance of bids for the construction of a new registry building at the Municipal Golf course and a new building at fire station No. 3 was deferred Monday night at the regular meeting of the city council because in each case the appropriation for the construction work was about $1,000 less than any of the bids submitted. Action on the bids was indefinitely deferred.

The appropriation for the registry building is $3,000, and for the fire station $8,000.

Following a public hearing on the application of Short Brothers for a permit to construct a creamery plant at 1409 Sixteenth street, the council rejected the application on the grounds that a majority of property owners in that vicinity protested establishment of the plant. A petition signed by 32 property owners was presented in protest to the structure by Temple Shell, Wichita Falls attorney. A petition bearing seven signatures of persons favoring the creamery was offered, but the council refused the permit, although it was pointed out the structure could be built in spite of the city's refusal to grant a permit.

A hearing on the application of D. A. Cameron for a permit to construct a grocery store at Eighteenth and Burnett streets resulted in no opposition and the aldermen granted the permit.

TRENTON, N. J., May 19. (AP)—Dwight W. Morrow became assured today of Republican nomination to the United States senate to complete the unexpired term of Walter I. Edge, resigned. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, who like Representative Franklin W. Fort and Morrow is a candidate for the full six-year term beginning in March, 1931, withdrew his petition for the short term nomination, leaving Morrow the only candidate.

Vogel to Oklahoma

Judge Irvin J. Vogel of the county court at law left late Monday afternoon for Vinita, Okla., following receipt of word of serious illness in his family in that city.

COLLEGE HEAD GIVES ADDRESS

Kiwanis Club Observes Founders' Day

"Founders' Day" was observed by Wichita Falls Kiwanians in their weekly meeting Monday noon with a country-school setting for furthering Kiwanis education, and by an address given by Dr. W. H. Bruce, president emeritus of the North Texas State Teachers college at Denton.

Doctor Bruce pointed out that methods of education have changed materially during the past few years. Schools formerly sought to bend the child to suit the system, he said, but now seek to enable the pupil "to see for himself," making human experience constitute education.

"Education is what enables a man to get along without intelligence," the speaker continued. "Intelligence is what enables him to get along without education. Kiwanis is what enables him to get along without either education or intelligence."

Kiwanis education was administered by Schoolmaster Walter H. Caldwell to a class composed of Jack Chewning, P. P. Langford Jr., H. T. Wood, J. N. Sherrill, Tom Medders, P. M. Cordell, J. T. Yeargin, Ralph Roden and M. E. Wallace. Mike Ellis acted as teacher of music. The education committee had charge of the program.

Charter members seated at the head table included Dr. F. R. Collard, H. O. Cravens, Wiley S. Brown, J. T. Yeargin, C. J. Pate, H. J. Naylor, W. F. Crouch, Grover Bullington, Dr. R. H. Peterson and Eli F. Morgan. Guests were introduced by Paul Pearson.

MAJESTIC: Norma Shearer and Chet Morris in "The Divorcee." Strong in all details save its ending—and that will be popular. Talking comedy, matrominial farce. Sound news. Song feature.

STRAND: "Under a Texas Moon." Frank Fay and many sparkling brunets playing at love. "Radio Kisses," comedy. Sound news.

STATE: "Cohens and Kellys in Scotland," all talking comedy, with George Sidney, Felix the Cat. Novelty. Pathe sound news.

GEM: Jack Holt and Lila Lee in "Flight." "New Aunt," comedy.

Since interest in a current screen production is more or less accurately measured by its discussion on the curb, over coffee cups, and across t.b.m.'s desks, Norma Shearer's performance of "The Divorcee" may be credited with scoring at least a little slam. A part of which interest of course springs from a curiosity to see just how Ursula Parrott's "confessions" in "The Ex-Wife" are adapted to the screen. For the book was a best-seller, after which, with its title already given, it is superlative to report that it discussed its subject with exceeding frankness.

Those who really make a serious study of the growth of motion pictures date the entrance of extreme "sexology" into the theme-stream at about 1914. Prodding about in the earliest beginnings of photographed motion, however, reveals that scenes conventionally termed risque were used almost two decades prior to 1914 to introduce the first elements of prepared action into "peep-box" films, the embryo motion picture. Penny arcade owners in the early '90's found in the Biograph catalog the following.

No. 539. "How Bridget Served the Salad Undressed." This is an old and always popular story told by motion photograph. Bridget of course mistakes the order and brings in the salad in a state of dishabille hardly allowable in polite society." Another, "The Pretty Stenographer, or Caught in the Act," depicts "an eledrly but gay broker seated at his desk dictating to his pretty typewriter. He stops in the midst of his letter to bestow a kiss upon the not unwilling girl." At which moment the wife entered, became enraged, took the husband by the ear, and throws him to his knees; the pretty typewriter bursting into tears.

Those are samples of complete scenarios, picturing of which required only a few feet of film. But they serve adequately to show that from the beginning of motion picture entertainment, contra-conventional relations of the sexes have been the favored motif.

Over at the State, George Sidney and Charles Murray extend the usual 15-minute comedy to one hour's duration for the feature in "The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland." Puns never seem new, nor does play upon the traditional Scotch economy contain any great punch. There is a good horse-race, however, and that feature, if well done, is always able to carry much ballast.

Mussolini Reviews Italian Soldiers

FLORENCE, Italy, May 19. (UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, mounted on a spirited charger and wearing the uniform of commander-in-chief of the Fascist militia, reviewed a long column of Italian troops here yesterday as he continued his tour of Tuscany.

Il Duce was given a nine-minute ovation Saturday when he spoke from the balcony of the historic Palazzo Vecchio. The speech contained an emphatic promise to build every one of the 29 Italian warships announced in the last naval program.

"There is gross ignorance of us beyond the frontiers," he told the thousands in the square below. "They think we are a minor people, but we are a nation of 40,000,000. They believe we are governed by tyranny, but it is the people who govern. We are capable of the greatest sacrifices."
