Wichita Falls High Wins All-Round District Honors

VERNON SECOND AND ELECTRA THIRD WITH TIGERS WINNING TRACK MEET BY WIDE MARGIN

Scoring heavily in public speaking events and in tennis to offset a fourth-place ranking in track and field competition, Wichita Falls High school won 133 points to take first place in the three-day annual meet of the state interscholastic league, district four, which was concluded Saturday afternoon on the Junior college athletic field.

With a total score of 71 points, 40 of which were compiled by victories in literary contests, Vernon High school captured second place honors, while Electra, again top-heavy winners of the track and field meet, compiled a total score of 57 points for third ranking. By virtue of a surprisingly strong showing in athletic events Saturday, Graham rolled up a total score of 43 points for fourth place. Petrolia ranked fifth with 39 points, all of which were in athletic competition, while the sixth place was won by Burkburnett, whose 19¾ points were won largely in literary contests. Wichita Falls also won 10 points in girls' volley ball, losing to Petrolia in finals held several weeks ago.

In one of the most brilliant track and field meets ever staged in this district, the Electra Tigers not only fulfilled advance predictions, but actually surprised their own followers by scoring 37 points to win first place by a wide margin. The victorious team was paced by its versatile star, C. Rodawalt, who lacked only one-fourth of one point to score exactly half his team's total count for the day.

Rodawalt Shines

Rodawalt captured first in the 220-yard low hurdles, broad jump, and high jump, third in the 440-yard dash, and was a member of the Tiger quartet which won the mile relay. His individual score was 18¼ points. H. Thompson, Vernon speedster, captured second individual honors with 10 points, won by breaking the tape in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Since an ultimate triumph by the Electra entry was generally conceded even before the meet began, interest of the large crowd present throughout the day soon was centered on the competition offered by "dark horses" from smaller cities, and upon the style displayed by Electra's heavy winners. On the latter score, Rodawalt, Cloninger, and Parr gave the crowd plenty to look at. Participating in five events, including the man-killing 440-yard dash, Rodawalt exhibited an amazing endurance. But the form in which he accomplished his

BOTH WYOMING SENATORS JOIN PLEA OF WETS

Statement Issued Calling For Resubmission of 18th Amendment

SPURS DRIVE FOR VOTE ON PROHIBITION ISSUE

Drys Will Take Stage on Tuesday When Hearing Resumed

WASHINGTON, April 16. (INS)—The declaration of Wyoming's two senators for resubmission of the 18th amendment to the states today spurred the wet drive for a popular vote on prohibition.

Senators John B. Kendrick, veteran Democrat, joined with his Republican colleague, Senator Robert B. Carey, in issuing a statement calling for resubmission. It was the first time since prohibition that two senators from a single state, both regarded as rather dry, united in calling for a referendum on the issue.

This development greatly heartened the senate group of wets who are fighting for repeal of the 18th amendment. Senate hearings on the subject were adjourned until Tuesday, after scores of wet leaders, men and women, denounced prohibition, emphasized its alleged evils and demanded its repeal. The drys will take the stage next week to defend current conditions and the amendment.

Senator Bingham, Republican of Conecticut, the wet leader, declared the Kendrick-Carey statement reflected the "growing sentiment in every state for a new deal on prohibition."

Hyde for Resubmission

WASHINGTON, April 16. (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, a long standing dry, today declared his sympathy with the principle of resubmission of the 18th amendment to the country.

"As a dry I would not oppose the right of my fellow citizens to vote on this question," Hyde told the United Press.

Baering Down on News With 'Baer'

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Governor Byrd of Virginia stepped right out of the dry line this week when he paged a prohibition referendum.

You know Virginia had local option long before we got national soption.

We don't claim soption is a word. But it kinda sounds like the shape we're in.

The drys of Virginia are wailing and gnashing their procelain grinders over Harry Byrd's desertion.

They say no presidential bee can live in alcohol.

But he can have a lovely time right up until the minute the lights go out.

Governor Byrd deserves some credit for his courage. And he's very correct.

The difference between local option and the local boy is that the boy always has a chance to make good in the big city.

HONOLULU, Hawaii, April 16.—"Yes, we done it."

With this terse confession that he criminally attacked Mrs. Thalia Massie last September, Joseph Kahahawai, half-caste native fell dead under a blast from a pistol held by the victim's handsome husband, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie.

At least that was the graphic picture painted before a mixed-blood jury today by the navy officer in the most dramatic moment of his trial with Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, New York and Washington society matron, and Albert S. Jones and E. J. Lord, enlisted men of the American navy, charged with the "honor slaying" of the native.

PROMINENT MUSICIAN DALLAS PLUNGES FROM 16TH STORY TO DEATH

DALLAS, April 16. (AP)—Miss Lucy Renard, 24, prominent Dallas musician, was killed instantly in a 16-story plunge from the north side of the Woer Petroleum building at Elm and St. Paul here late today.

Her body struck the pavement in a narrow court head first.

The young woman was identified by a note found in her purse. The note asked that R. H. Renard, a brother, be notified.

Miss Renard spent an hour and a half in the 16th floor hall before the fatal plunge, elevator girls of the building said. She went to the floor about 4 p. m.

Miss Mary Jane Jack, elevator operator said, "she told me she was waiting for her brother. The last time I stopped at the floor she said, 'He's late, isn't he?' and that was all."

Miss Renard was a daughter of Frank Renard of Dallas, noted Texas musician and piano instructor. He once was head of the music department at Kidd-Key college, Sherman, and had conducted classes for piano instructors at Waco, Wichita Falls and elsewhere.

Justice E. John Baldwin began an inquest into the pianist's death. He said he would not reach a verdict until tomorrow.

Miss Renard was regarded as one of the most accomplished of Dallas' musicians. Miss Renard and her father this season perfected a two-piano team which has been heard frequently over radio and in concert appearances.

Miss Renard played as accompanist for the Cecilian singers in a Texas federation of music clubs contest ending at noon. The Cecilian singers lost and Miss Renard was among the first to congratulate the winners.

BANDIT LEAVES WADE PERKINS TIED TO TREE

Hitchhiker Takes Watch, Money and Escapes In Auto

FIFTH MAN KIDNAPED IN ELECTRA IN WEEK

Victim Hears of Home Burning in Vernon as He Reports Misfortune

ELECTRA, Texas, April 16.—Wade Perkins, employe of the Kell Mill at Vernon is a convert to the old adage that "trouble never comes single-handed."

Saturday night Perkins was held up on the Wichita Falls highway, relieved of his automobile, his watch and a small amount of money, and left tied to a tree in the Burnett pasture. When he eventually reached Electra and called his family in Vernon to report his misfortune, he learned that his home and furnishings in that city burned.

Perkins was the fifth kidnaping victim in Electra in the past week.

Perkins left Vernon at 6:20 o'clock, Saturday night to go to Wichita Falls. At the outskirts of Vernon he picked up a hitchhiker, who asked for a ride to Wichita Falls. They passed through Electra at 7:20 Saturday night and eight miles east of Electra, the hitchhiker put a gun in Mr. Perkins' ribs and ordered him to drive 50 yards off the highway. With some old flour sacks in the car he bound his victim's hands and feet and then took off his shirt and tied him to a tree in the pasture.

After Perkins was safely bound, the hijacker relieved him of his 19-jeweled Illinois watch, $3.50 in money and drove away toward Wichita Falls in his automobile, a 1929 Chevrolet cabriolet.

Crawls to Highway

Eventually Mr. Perkins succeeded in freeing himself from the tree but was unable to release his hands and feet and crawled to the highway, where he attracted the attention of Alvin McCarty, who brought him to the city hall in Electra.

Mr. Perkins reported his experience to Electra officers and imme-

Schoolboy Takes Own Life When Kept From Play

NEW YORK, April 16. (US)—A 10-year-old school boy killed himself today over what, to his childish mind, was the disgrace of being kept to his room while his brother and other boys were playing.

A sister found the body of William Schneider hanging by a cord from a hook on the door of his room. The lad had left two pitiful notes, to one of which he had attached a medal he received last summer at a camp, for his skill in canoeing. One note said:

"Don't blame Albert. Let Albert have my things. Billy."

Albert is his brother, 12. The second note said:

"Goodbye, goodbye, Albert. I go to hell. Billy."

On Friday his mother, Mrs. Anna Schneider, was summoned to school and informed by a school official that William had been restless during classes. The parents considered it a trifling matter, but decided some light discipline should be given.

TONE OPTIMISM STILL PREVAILS HUNT FOR BABY

Lindbergh Has Utmost Confidence in 'Jafsie' Work in Case

COLONEL BRECKENRIDGE VISITS HOME OF CONDON

Aged Educator Has Made Only Direct Contact With Criminals

NEW YORK, April 17 (US)—The kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby have increased their total ransom demands to $150,000 and as a result Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has made an additional $100,000 available in currency and gold, it was learned tonight.

But the flier, in entrusting this money to his attorney, Col. Henry C. Breckenridge, has given him definite instructions that not one cent is to be paid until the baby is actually placed in the hands of its parents or their representatives.

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 16. (AP)—The optimism of three Virginia intermediaries in the Lindbergh kidnaping, and indications of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's utmost confidence in the "Jafsie" of the case were the centers of interest today in the dogged hunt for the missing child.

For most of the week Col. Henry Breckenridge, the famous flier's attorney and advisor, has been making periodic visits to the New York home of Dr. J. F. Condon, who paid the $50,000 ransom to a man in the shadow of a Bronx cemetery April 2, but failed to obtain return of the baby.

It was late last night before the lawyer left. He was back at the Condon home again today.

Seeks New Contact

He made it clear that 72-year-old educator is seeking by every means possible to re-establish the contact he made through notes and advertisements.

Then he said Dr. Condon had made the only direct contact there had been with the criminals.

While hope of obtaining return of the infant Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., now missing 45 days, appeared to center in Dr. Condon's activities, two other cases in widely separated parts of the country drew attention.

Richard Read, 53, bachelor-farmer and ex-convict, confessed at Colby, Kan., he kidnaped, attacked and then Killed Dorothy Hunter, 8.

Young Japanese Girl Leaps to Death In Paris to Allow American Husband To Rejoin Family in United States

By STANTON B. LEEDS
Universal Service Special Cable

PARIS, April 16.—For love of her American husband, who could not find a way through the maze of western laws, a pretty 23-year-old Japanese girl jumped to her death today, making the supreme sacrifice so that her husband could rejoin his family in Oregon.

Her death was the tragic climax to a long struggle against civilization's racial barriers against which Rudyard Kipling warned the world when he wrote:

"East is east and west is west, "Never the twain shall meet."

A. G. Angel, 26, son of a Gold Beach, Ore., clergyman, went as a missionary to Japan several years ago, and while there married an artistic, educated Japanese girl.

Angel tried to take his bride to America, but was unsuccessful because immigration officials barred her entry. They came to Paris recently, while Angel's father continued efforts to have his daughter-in-law admitted to the United States.

Mrs. Angel developed tuberculosis of the bones but could have lived for years. She was taken to the Neuilly clinic, where she had a room on the fourth floor. This week, just as she learned her husband owed the clinic $250, her father-in-law cabled from Oregon that his ministrations with immigration authorities had been in vain.

This morning, Angel visited his wife. She was apparently gay and happy. When he walked out the front door whistling attache's shout called him back. Angel saw his wife leap from the window to be killed instantly—removing herself from life that her husband might return to his family.

Wichitans Face Real Crisis in Operation Public Schools Here

Citizens of Wichita Falls are faced with a distinct crisis in operation of the public school system. Payments of teachers' salaries and of other debts are far behind schedule, with the situation rapidly growing more serious, members of the board of education declared Saturday in discussing the problem.

Members of the board are C. H. Clark, president; Carter McGregor, Mrs. W. W. Silk, Luther Hoffman, Rhea Howard, W. L. Robertson and J. T. Harrell.

A personal letter to taxpayers of the city has just been issued explaining the situation in detail. Not only is the board faced with the problem of continuing operation of the school system for the remainder of the current term but a strong question exists as to the possibility of operation for the 1932-33 session.

Teachers now have due them salaries for the past six weeks and funds for payment of these workers depend solely on the collection of 1931 taxes and the income from the state. At present the situation is that the instructors will have three months' salaries due them at the close of the term in May.

Board members are frankly worried over the problem of continuing operation for the remainder of the term. Quarterly tax payments are due on or before April 30, and it is up to taxpaying citizens of Wichita Falls to meet the emergency if they desire to keep the schools in operation, members of the board declared.

Only 48 per cent, or $249,332.87, of the total tax levy of $517,678 has been collected, leaving an unpaid

Woman Dead and Husband Seriously Wounded in Shooting Near Houston Deputies Seek Neighbor Accused

HOUSTON, April 16. (AP)—Mrs. C. McGivney, 54, was shot to death this afternoon and her husband, 50, was perhaps fatally wounded. Sheriffs' deputies sought a neighbor, with whom the McGivneys jointly operated a strawberry farm several miles from here, where the shooting occurred.

The neighbor was reported armed.

McGivney, unconscious when he first was brought to a hospital here, later recovered consciousness. He named the slayer and said the shooting grew out of an argument over the strawberry patch.

"I heard my wife say 'we just aim to pick every other row of the strawberries.' I didn't listen closely for I wasn't paying much attention. I was in the house and my wife was outside. Then I heard some shots fired. My little daughter, Marjorie, screamed and I grabbed my shotgun and ran to see what was the matter," said McGivney.

"Jusit as I ran out of the house, he shot me."

W. G. James, employed at a pipe line station near the farm, said he saw the slayer "walking away, reloading his shotgun."

STATE TO JOIN T. & P. IN PLEA FOR REHEARING

Attorney General to Press Application to Build New Texas Line

STOPS EXPENDITURE OF 13 BILLION IN TEXAS

Official Deplores Trend Toward Further Bureaucratic Government

AUSTIN, April 16. (AP)—The Texas attorney general's department will join the Texas and Pacific Northern Railway company in a motion for rehearing before the Interstate Commerce commission in its application for construction of 333 miles of new railroad in the Panhandle Plains country.

The commission recently denied the company's application to build the new railways.

T. S. Christopher, assistant attorney general, who announced the state would take an active part in pressing for reconsideration, said "while the commission was approving loans to eastern railroads from the reconstruction finance corporation to relieve economic conditions, denial of the Texas permit prohibited the expenditure of $13,000,000,000 in Texas by a railroad which was ready and willing to spend that sum in new construction and which would have a material bearing upon economic conditions in Texas."

Christopher attacked the commission's "autocratic powers of government" and deplored "the trend toward further bureaucratic government at Washington as opposed to the principles of state rights and local self-government."

Christopher said the records and proceedings showed a clear demand for the construction and a need for this additional system of transportation but that "the denial of the application showed the unresponsiveness of the bureaucratic government at Washington to popular demands and local needs as well as the discriminating sectional administration of government."

SARTIN OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN SATURDAY

in to form the nucleus for Sartin clubs in Stamford and many other communities in that section.

Among other things Judge Sartin told his audience that when the problem of unemployment is solved the depression will be over. He included among the causes of unemployment the rapidly rising burden of taxation, immigration, and machine age, child labor and the restriction of credits. He advocated the overhauling of the federal reserve system to give broader representation to business interests other than banking.

He advocated the payment of the remainder of the soldiers' compensation in certificates on the ground that it would place a larger volume of currency in circulation without increasing the debt of the nation and at the same time discharge an obligation to the veterans of the world war.

Judge Sartin spoke, in part, as follows:

"The present business depression will end when the ordinary citizen solves the problems confronting the country, and not until then. Big business will never solve the problem nor correct the wrongs that are committed against the masses of our people. Too long the common people have sat idly by expecting the big corporation, the capitalist and big business to restore our economic ills by giving the crumbs that fall from the table of Dives. Shall we expect Wall street and special interests to right the wrongs of our country and to restore justice to the masses of our citizens? If so, we wait in vain.

"We must look to the common people for the solution of this perplexing question as we have for all political and social reforms. History shows that all great reform for the good of humanity has originated with the common people, the toilers and the masses. And from these plain common people have come all political and social reform measures which the world accepts today.

Fears Realized

"Today we witness the realization of the fears expressed by that great president, Theodore Roosevelt, for America is truly worshiping at the shrine of the golden calf. Concentrated and unscrupulous wealth is destroying democracy and liberty. Mergers of wealth have piled up like mountains to crush individual enterprise and vast combines have destroyed the opportunity of our forefathers that made our country great. In congress I shall fight the condition that makes the rich, richer and the poor, poorer.

"The present economic condition may be attributed to the following causes: First, to taxation. Unjust and unreasonable taxation will destroy any government, and to this subject may be traced much of the present economic disorders. In the past 50 years the cost of government has increased 1,400 per cent and with each new session of our national congress, our state legislatures, and other municipal and local governments, the burden becomes more intolerable until today the American government is reeling under a burden that makes our wisest statesmen question the financial stability of this the greatest nation in the world. Taxes must come down. The people must have relief, and I favor the elimination of countless bureaus and commissions at Washington and the reduction of salaries over $3,000 per annum, including congressmen.

Immigration

"One great contributing factor to the unemployment menace in America that should be studied and analyzed is the immigration question. America has been lenient too long on the question of admitting aliens to the shores of our land and making them citizens of this republic. Great cancerous sores are formed on the body politic in many metropolitan areas as well as creating an intolerable condition for the American wage earner, who must have a decent and fair American wage in order to support his family and to care for his home on the American plane of living.

"A contributing cause to the great army of unemployed is that of monopolies, mergers, trusts and combinations. The time will not permit me to discuss this question in detail, yet it is one of the main contributors to the army of unemployed in America. The rise of monopoly, while not of recent origin, has gained its greatest growth and foothold in this country in the past 10 years. The question of wealth and supermonopoly is a live issue before the people of the east and has been for some time.

"That such a merging policy in big business has developed—ahead of either federal or state law for regiation in the interest of consumers, is conceded by both friends and critics of the movement. Advocates stress the advantages of cooperating units, 'high wages, low prices, mass production and prosperity,' under newer and more intelligent management. Critics find disadvantages in piling up mountains of public utilities, stock obligations requiring profits for dividends before all else, and point to the menace of monopoly-building that senatorial investigations reveal in some states does not stop short of buying 'newspapers, college professors and politicians in order to still the criticism of the public.'

"I favor strong antitrust laws to cope with the present dangers of monopoly.

"And there are some people in our country today who are blaming all of our troubles on the 18th amendment and offer as a remedy for all of our social problems the return of the liquor traffic in the United States. I want to go on record here and now as being unalterably opposed to the return of the outlawed liquor traffic in America. Strong drink has been a curse of the human race since the dawn of civilization. It has blighted more lives than wars, famines and pestilences. It has wrecked more homes, caused more sorrow, brought more tears and heartaches than any curse that has ever blighted the human race, and may God forbid that America that has taken the most forward step in behalf of social righteousness shall ever retreat from her exalted position. No longer shall the American flag float over the whisky barrel, giving license and sanction to debauching drugs that enslaves both body and soul. Bread and not booze is the need of today.

Financial Pirates

"The last contributing cause to the present economic chaos is the money problem and this is by no means the least contributing factor in our economic life. The Democratic party itself grew out of the fight that Jefferson made against the establishment of the first central bank of the United States, which only sought in a limited way the power that is now held by the money lords of this nation, and but for this fight there might never have been a Democratic party. Our government today is in the hands of a group of financial pirates and international bankers who are in fact the real dictators of this country.

"I emphatically charge that our present economic conditions are in main the outgrowth of a deliberate conspiracy of Wall street and international bankers. The program of deflation adopted by the federal reserve board has bankrupted the nation.

"No one group of men regardless of how wise or patriotic should be given the power to regulate the supply of money and credit in the nation. Something must be done and quickly or the equality of opportunity that made America great and inspired the early founders of this republic, will have passed forever. At a time when this nation is governed by the almighty dollar instead of a government with a heart and with the interest of the masses at heart then can be seen the death of liberty and economic slavery will begin.

"What the people need is not charity but justice. If we fail, then democracy fails, and America will be numbered among the wrecked empires along the shores of time. God grant we may not fail, but armed with truth and righteousness, march forward to a triumphant victory in the name of justice, democracy and humanity."

OCHILTREE COUNTY VOTES ROAD BONDS FOR THIRD TIME

PERRYTON, Texas, April 16. (AP)—For the third time in less than three years, Ochiltree county citizens today voted a successful bond issue to pave 66 miles of highways 117 and 4 criss-crossing the county. The bond amount was for $400,000 and carried by a vote of 1,077 to 486.

Twice previously bond issues had carried and were declared illegal on technicalities. The first election was for $700,000 in bonds and the section, last December, for $400,000. Grading is ready on half of highway 117 and blue-prints have been prepared for most of the other construction work.

Supporters of Cash Bonus Payment Heartened by Statement of Young Who Opposes Plan to Print Money

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Bipartisan forces battling the two billion dollar soldiers bonus outlay gained new strength today but failed to lessen confidence of ultimate victory among sponsors of a new-money payment.

From Owen D. Young, financier and prominent Democrat, came word that to print money to pay the bonus was not "the sound and helpful way" toward a desirable increase in money volume.

This message was made public by Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, leading sponsor of the bonus payment, just as acting Chairman Crisp disclosed that Representative La Guardia of New York, progressive leader, would be a leading opposition witness before the ways and means committee.

Favorable, Says Patman

Young's telegram, which was received by Patman as "very favorable to our cause," reiterated his sympathy "toward repayment of adjusted service certificates to meet the needs of veterans."

Then he added:

"I believe now that it is impossible to increase the budget of the United States by $2,000,000,000 to meet such payment and that an attempt to do so would be injurious to the general welfare.

"While I believe that an increase in our money volume which includes bank credit as well as currency is essential to increase our commodity prices and therefore highly desirable, I do not think that the printing of money and the distribution of it in payment of service certificates is the sound and helpful way to increase our money volume."

Played Trump Card

Advocates of the bonus payment admitted administration and Democratic leaders "played a trump card" in gaining the support of La Guardia in the bonus fight. The New Yorker is a veteran with air service experience and recently demonstrated his power in the house by leading the successful effort to defeat a general sales tax in the revenue bill.

Patman announced, however, that cashing the bonus now was more certain than ever.

"Mr. Young's endorsement of prepayment and the expansion of the currency is very favorable to our cause. They are the principal issues in our program," he said.

Crisp said Young would be invited to testify.

formed as Read led officers to a haystack where he had hidden the body.

Meantime, police of Wilmington, Del., were mystified over the strange disappearance of Hilda Brodsky, 9, daughter of a reputedly wealthy dry goods jobber.

The girl vanished on the way to school yesterday. Her parents at noon received a letter saying she had been kidnaped and would be killed if the fact were made public.

The family did not notify police, who became aware of the case for the first time late today. It was reported without confirmation officers were seeking a relative of the family and a former employe of Brodsky's for questioning.

While Colonel Breckenridge came and went from the Condon home, Colonel Lindbergh's own movements were cloaked in secrecy. For nearly seven weeks he and his attorney have been directing private attempts to regain the child.

Official developments were all of a negative nature.

Regarding a conversation Colonel Lindbergh had last night with another woman, Grety Gray, Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police head, said "nothing of significance in this case was reported to us by the colonel."

Irey Flew With Colonel

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Elmer L. Irey, chief of the internal revenue's bureau's intelligence unit, who directed the investigation that put Al Capone in jail, was revealed tonight by the Washington Star in a copyrighted dispatch from New York as one who flew with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to Martha's Vineyard in the futile quest for the lost baby.

Lured by a bit of baby Charles' sleeping garment, which had led to the payment of $50,000 ransom, Lindbergh spent April 3, in the air searching the New England coast for the "Nellie," a yacht on which he expected to find the baby in custody of two women.

In addition to Lindbergh, and Irey, the other two occupants of the plane were Colonel Henry Breckinridge and Dr. John F. Condon (Jafsie), who established the contact with the kidnapers through newspaper advertisements.

"Through it all, The Star's dispatch said, "Colonel Lindbergh held to a determination to play fair with the kidnapers if they kept faith with him under the solemn contract entered into by Jafsie in the melodramatic surroundings of a graveyard" where he kept a rendezvous with the kidnapers and handed over the ransom money while the hopeful father sat in an automobile nearby.

POLICE MAKE SEARCH FOR INJURED MEN WHO LEAVE SCENE OF WRECK

City police authorities Saturday night searched for four unidentified men who suffered injuries in an auto crash on the Seymour road, seven miles from Wichita Falls.

According to reports, the car occupied by the four crashed into a machine parked at the Hillview filling station, operated by Norman Kuykendall. The parked car was occupied by Mrs. F. M. Brown and two children of the Seymour road. Mr. Brown was not in the car when the accident occurred. State Officer R. L. Wood, who investigated, stated that the vampire car crossed from its side of the road to the left side and hit the Brown car, parked five feet from the highway. The car that contained the four men was wrecked, turning over several times. The four were brought to Wichita Falls by a passing motorist but were not listed at any local hospital. The car was registered from Knox county.

Other police reports told of the theft of two cars. H. B. Dudley's Ford roadster, license N 08-807, was stolen from 1300 Lamar Saturday afternoon. Mr. Dudley resides at 1606 Dayton. A Chevrolet coupe, owned by Anderson Rines, 713 Watford, was stolen from the 600 block on Seventh. The license number was N 08-896.

PRESIDENT FOR FIVE-DAY WEEK BASIS ECONOMY

Would Provide for Annual Leave Without Pay U. S. Employes

FURTHER DELAY LOOMS IN PRESENTING PROGRAM

Committee Struggles to Reach an Agreement On Omnious Bill

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Further delay in presenting a $200,000,000 retrenchment program before the house loomed today while the economy committee struggled to reach an agreement on an omnibus bill embodying President Hoover's and its own recommendations.

Indications were the chief executive's proposals for a five-day work week and annual leave without pay for federal employes were preferred over the McDuffie plan for a salary cut after Director Roop of the budget explained the administration bill to the committee.

The committee sought to agree on a plan to postpone reporting it Tuesday as a rider to the legislative supply bill that carries salaries for members of congress.

The appropriations committee tentatively planned to place the naval supply bill before the house as a substitute for the legislative measure.

Memorandum Issued

At the White House a memorandum was issued, saying the omnibus bill sent last night to the economy committee should "ultimately reduce expenditures by upwards of $225,000,000 and possibly $250,000,000."

On the president's employment plan, the memorandum said "it establishes the principle of the five-day week in the government; maintains the present scale of salaries and would save around $13,000,000 more than the straight pay-cut proposals."

Chairman McDuffie said the president's plan, not including the $16,500,000 to be saved from allowances to rural mail carriers, would reduce costs $64,000,000, while his 11 per cent cut with a $1,000 exemption, would net $67,000,000.

After a White House conference, Representative Snell of New York, the Republican leader, said he had told President Hoover a majority of the house Republicans would support the five-day week and the furlough proposal. Outside of the economy committee, Snell said, he believed a majority in the house favored an omnibus economy bill.

MASSIE TELLS OF SLAYING HAWAIIAN

ens of famous court battles, Clarence Darrow, did not say he actually fired the fatal shot, but the inference was plain.

Lieutenant Testifies

"The last thing I remembered was that picture that came to my mind of my wife when Kahahawai assaulted her and she prayed for mercy and he answered with a blow that broke her jaw," declared Lieutenant Massie, electrifying the courtroom with his sensational story.

"Did you have a gun in your hand when talking to him?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you remember what you did?"

"No, sir."

"Do you know what became of the gun?"

"No, I do not, Mr. Darrow."

Thus did the trial come to a most spectacular climax as Massie, laboring under great emotion, unfolded for the first time the inside story of what happened at the flower-bedecked Fortescue bungalow that bright sunny morning of Jan. 8, after Kahahawai was waylaid and kidnaped.

Darrow made clear at the outset of the trial that the defense is relying on the insanity of Lieutenant Massie to clear the co-defendants.

Prosecutor John C. Kelley, anticipating this move by Darrow, had his own alienists in court to study the young navy officer and later combat his testimony.

HULL PLANS TO OPPOSE TARIFF ON IMPORT OIL

Will Move to Strike Out Provision in Bill Levying Tax

SUCCESS OF PROPOSED MOVE IS PROBLEMATIC

Commtitee Closes Testimony at Session On Saturday

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—A fight against including tariffs in the billion dollar tax bill was promised by a Democratic member today as the senate finance committee plowed ahead through tumultuous testimony on the question of taxing oil imports.

From Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee—implacable foe of protective tariffs—came the assertion to newspaper men that immediately on conclusion of the hearings he will move to strike out the import duties and bind the committee not to add any more.

The success of such a move is problematic. Besides the drive for duties on oil and coal, called for in the house bill, agitation has sprung up in senate quarters for tariffs on copper and lumber.

Democrats Divided

The Democrats on the committee are far from solid behind Hull. Vigorous prouponents of the tax on imported oil are his fellow Democratic members, Senator Connally of Texas, and Gore of Oklahoma.

Handling a long succession of witnesses for and against the oil import tax, the committee closed testimony on that provision today, and prepared to hear representatives of the automobile and radio industries Monday.

Opposition to the oil import tax came largely from residents of the eastern seaboard, who contended raising the price of oil and gasoline would hurt their business.

When they concluded, Wirt Franklin, of the Independent Petroleum Producers association, who testified yesterday, took the stand again in rebuttal. He told the committee in emphatic tones the present over-supply of oil in this country results from foreign importations rather than domestic overproduction which he denied exists.

Foreign oil, he asserted, is "used as a club" to drive down the price that the domestic producer can get.

CITY FACING CRISIS OPERATION SCHOOLS

balance on the 1931 tax roll of $267,345.33. In the total collection of $249,332.67, 85 per cent of the taxpayers have paid their full amounts, leaving however, payments due of $16,000 with only 50 per cent of the amount paid, and $19,000 with only 25 per cent of that amount paid.

Wichita Falls schools are due $85,949 from the state income, but the state is slow in meeting the payments this year and less than half of the scheduled state aid money has been paid. In addition anticipated receipts from the state for April will amount only to $10,000 or $20,000, or scarcely enough to meet pay roll requirements for two weeks.

School Board's Letter

The letter issued by the school board states in part:

"The current debt of the school system of $188,940.86 on Sept. 1, 1931, was reduced by collection of back taxes to $75,279.63 on April 1, 1932.

"In October, November and December, 1931, taxpayers of this district paid $175,000 in advance to keep the schools open.

"School operation costs have been cut $90,000 by contribution of their salaries by teachers and all other workers in the schools and by all other economies. This saving amounts to $10 per child attending school.

"Current bills are unpaid amounting to $14,000."

The life of a city depends on its schools and failure to maintain the present high standards of education would damage the reputation of Wichita Falls as a city of good citizens. In addition it would ruin the city's chances of adequate business recovery, board members declared.

The fear of being unable to operate the schools of the city in 1932-33 is in the minds of every board member, despite a wide reorganization plan and drastic cuts in operation costs.

Expenses for the 1932-33 term must be cut $130,000 under the cost for the current year if the schools are to be continued, it was emphasized.

A child must have a chance in school while he is a child. Five years from now the educational opportunity of these children will be done. The purchase of material things can be postponed for a few months or for years. But the children of our city must be educated now, board members said.

MAN KIDNAPED AS HIS HOME BURNS

diately attempted to telephone his family that he would be delayed in returning. He was informed by the long distance operator that his call could not be completed because of fire which damaged the A. L. Vessel home, where the Perkins family lived.

He described his assailant as short, dark complexioned, shabbily dressed and weighing about 135 pounds.

Perkins' abduction was the fifth in Electra in the past week. J. T. Taylor, J. C. Harris, and A. F. McCormick were kidnaped on the streets of Electra and left stranded in a pasture 10 miles from the city, after being relieved of a car and gun. Later in the day, W. N. Owens, a rural mail carrier, was kidnaped by the same men, and held captive for more than 12 hours, during which he was carried into Comanche county, Oklahoma.

Police in nearby towns joined Electra and Wichita county officers in the search for Mr. Perkins' abductor late Saturday night but no trace of him had been found.

PARTY PLEDGE SUBMITTED TO HIGHER COURT

Love Appeal Presented To Supreme Tribunal Of The State

COURT MEETS THURSDAY AND DECISION EXPECTED

Former State Senator Protests Pledge For Primary

AUSTIN, April 16. (AP)—The Texas Democratic squabble over, legality of a fealty pledge one faction would impose on participants in the party's precinct presidential conventions of May 7 was submitted to the state supreme court for determination today.

Former Senator Thomas B. Love, leader of a faction in the party that repudiated the Democratic presidential nominee in 1928 and helped carry Texas for Herbert Hoover, brought suit to restrain the state democratic executive committee from requiring a promise of convention participants that they would support the nominees of the Democratic party for president and vice president by voting for the Democratic electors of the state of Texas.

Love claimed the party managers were not legally authorized to require and pledge except the statutory one which read: "I am a Democrat and agree to support the nominees of its primary." That pledge is required to be printed at the head of ballots in Democratic primaries in which state officers are chosen.

Committee Side Presented

J. Hart Willis and Albert Sidney Johnson, both of Dallas, the latter secretary of the state democratic executive committee, argued before the court that the presidential primary was a matter exclusively within control of the party managers.

That view had been taken by a Dallas county district court in dismissing Love's application for a mandamus to compel the executive committee to rescind its fealty pledge. The trial court held there were not any states restricting the party managers in administering political party affairs. Appeal was taken to the fifth court of civil appeals which certified the question to the supreme court in order to get a final decision as soon as possible.

After listening to arguments the supreme court adjourned until next Thursday when it is possible the case will be decided.

ORGANIZATION OF BOYS 4-H CLUBS IS MAKING PROGRESS

The largest boys 4-H club in Wichita county has been organized at the Valley View school. Twenty-six boys have enrolled for the year 1932. Most of the boys are in the feed crop club and will compete for premiums in growing of feed crops. With few exceptions, the boys in the feed crop club will feed either calves, pigs or lambs during the winter of 1932-33 and exhibit the livestock fed at the Fat Stock and Meat show to be held in Wichita Falls early in 1933.

Premiums for the feed growing contest will be given by the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce.

Bennett Cooksey was elected chairman of the club until all boys have enrolled.

Other clubs being organized in the country are at Clara, Weeth, Cashion, County Line, Friberg and Allendale.

MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY OF YOUNG COUNTY NOMINATED FEDERAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY

A pioneer citizen of Graham and Young county, and the son of one of the oldest families in North Texas, C. W. Johnson Jr. has been appointed United States attorney for the northern district of Texas and only the formal approval of the senate is lacking to make the appointment final.

He was born in Graham in 1894 and graduated from the Graham high school. He then went to the New Mexico Military institute at Roswell and later took his law degree from Northwestern university in Illinois, receiving a law license in 1916.

He served on the Texas border with the national guard during the punitive expedition into Mexico and remained in the army during the world war.

Mr. Johnson is the nephew of Mrs. C. Joline and the cousin of Mrs. Claude Woods and Mrs. J. Y. Holbrook, all of whom are residents of Wichita Falls.

He has been practicing law in Graham since the war and is a prominent member of the Young county bar, ranch owner and sportsman.

Mr. Johnson's father, an active Republican leader, was dean of the Young county bar in the early days when Graham was the legal center of North Texas and Oklahoma. At that time federal court met in Graham for all of the Oklahoma territory north to the Kansas line and for all of North Texas and the Panhandle.

The elder Johnson came to Young county in the early days and was the first subscriber to the Graham Leader, founded in 1876. He was at different times Republican candidate for governor, attorney general, congressman and county judge, but was never successful in defeating his Democratic opponents.

The father also received his law training at Northwestern. The younger Johnson was candidate for state treasurer on the Republican ticket two years ago.

Legion Asks Citizens To Aid 'Man-a-Block' Campaign in Wichita

Appealing to the famous "will to serve" of the residents of Wichita Falls, H. H. Bailey Saturday asked the cooperation of every citizen in helping to make the "man-a-block" plan sponsored by the American Legion in Wichita Falls a success.

As chairman of the legion's working committee, Mr. Bailey is cooperating with the federal employment bureau, 1008 Scott.

"Citizens of Wichita Falls can help put 100 men back to work," Mr. Bailey declared.

"Work, not charity, is the vital need of today. Work for today, not for sometime in the distant future. Every property owner or person of income here is expected to do his or her part. The past few months have been critical ones for the unemployed, and it is squarely up to the citizens to come to their relief.

"The property owner can accomplish a twofold purpose in aiding the "man-a-block" plan—improvements can be made while prices are at rock bottom and work can be provided for those who especially need it.

No Matter How Small

"No matter how small the tendered work may be, it will be a valuable contribution to the welfare of the community. There are jobs concealed in every attic, basement, house and grounds. Repairs, alterations and improvements are needed, and there are competent, needy men who are eager for the opportunity to do them. Hundreds of Wichitans want work and there is enough necessary improvement work in town to put welcome money into their pockets.

"At least 5,000 homes in Wichita Falls need painting and papering," Mr. Bailey continued. "There are innumerable types of carpenter work and general cleaning jobs. There is plenty of work to be done, and plenty of willing men to do it.

"The purpose of the "man-a-block" plan is to bring closer together the property owner and the worker.

"Soon every resident of the city will be visited by a "block captain" and it is asked that each property owner estimate work to be done so that complete cooperation between the 'block leader' and the owner may be reached."

According to Mr. Bailey, already 38 men have been given employment, while 80 blocks are being canvassed. To date Grover Bullington, "block captain," has secured 40 hours of work each week in his block.

Every man who applies at the employment bureau for work is carefully considered and his abilities and standing are investigated before he is listed as an available worker. Consequently, no person offering work need fear a lack of ability in the one sent out.

MUNDAY COUNCIL SEEKS VALUES OF GAS CONCERN

MUNDAY, Texas, April 16.—Instructions to obtain estimates of costs of making an audit of city books of the last two years and of obtaining a valuation by engineers of properties of the Stamford and Western Gas company here had been given by the Munday city council Saturday to the city clerk, according to Mayor J. A. Kennedy. The city desires as many estimates as possible, the mayor added.

The valuation of gas company properties is desired in connection with the assessment of city taxes, the mayor said. Abilene and Wichita Falls auditing and engineering firms, in particular, are invited to submit estimates, Mr. Kennedy said.

8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

At the risk of incurring the grief which almost always overtakes a newspaper when it mixes in local politics, we want to indorse the suggestion offered by "Voter" in a letter apeparing in The Times of Thursday, that Judge Harvey Harris be called upon to represent this district in the legislature.

He is the type of man we need at Austin.

MULTIPLYING DOLLARS

Miss Florence E. Weaver of Oklahoma City, who died several months ago, left $500,000 to the city of Cincinnati, with the provision that the fund be kept intact and the interest added to it annually, for 500 years.

If the money were to earn five per cent annual interest, the end of the 500-year period would find something like three trillion dollars available for Cincinnati.

The Cincinnati of half a millennium hence can afford solid gold lampposts, if it gets that much money. And platinum cuspidors in the city hall.

However, there are several howevers. For one, the testator's relatives are vigorously contesting the will.

MR. HOOVER'S CANDIDACY

Writing in the current number of the Liberty weekly, Jay Franklin sums up Mr. Hoover's prospects of re-election in this fashion:

At the moment of writing his chances of being elected still seem rotten, judged by the usual standards. Not once in our history has the president of a panic year been re-elected.

His only chance of breaking the charm and retaining office must lie beyond the normal calculations of politics. With the mechanical odds against him, he can be saved only by a sort of chemical change in the electorate—an apeal to the darkest fears and purest patriotism of the American people. He must somehow manage to make the campaign a struggle between Good and Evil. He can embark on a second term only if he is prepared to use the Stars and Stripes, the Ten Commandments and the American Constitution as a gangplank. Some of us believe that he is too honest and too big a man to pay that price for re-election.

Well, he might find it difficult, even if he were to pitch the campaign on that plane.

It was that sort of campaign that put him into office four years ago. One is entitled to doubt if it could be done again. It might be hard to again appeal effectively to the prejudices that were aroused in 1928, especially as there probably will be no occasion to try to convince people that the papal navy is lying in wait, ready to sail up the Potomac and seize the capitol.

If Mr. Hoover's chances of re-election depend upon the sort of campaign that the Liberty writer describes, certain defeat awaits him. If he is re-elected, it will be by methods diametrically contrary to those of four years ago. His chance of winning depends upon his ability to convince the public that while the ship of state is battling with adverse tide and wind, it is best, after all, to retain a pilot who will not do anything rash or adventurous, but just keep tacking and trimming and doing his best. That sort of campaign might win, because the American public has about quit believing in miracles and in supermen, and is by way of realizing that there is no short cut back to prosperity.

But a campaign that offers Mr. Hoover to the country as a combination of Sir Galahad, St. Simeon Stylites and the boy who stood on the burning deck cannot win.

THE STATE'S TROUBLED FINANCES

Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches, veteran legislator, is already worrying about what will happen to the state's finances if the homestead exemption amendment is adopted in November. In an interview at Waco, he discussed some aspects of the problem that the legislature will face in balancing the budget without that revenue.

The amendment, which exempts from state ad valorem taxation all homesteads up to the value of $3,000, is virtually certain to be adopted. There are, as we have said before, some good academic arguments against it; but none of these will have weight with the several hundred thousand voters whose tax bills the amendment will reduce. There may be an organized effort to defeat it, but legislators might as well start right now grappling with the problem that its adoption will create, for it is going to be adopted.

Balancing the budget would be a big problem for the next legislature, regardless of the amendment. There already is a fat deficit, delinquencies are heavy, the severance, franchise, excise and other special taxes are producing less than normal revenue. The problem, generally speaking, is the same as that which confronts congress. First, more money must, somehow or other, be raised. Second, state expenses must be reduced until they fit the state's income.

The taxpayer will be penalized heavily in the next two or three years for his indifference to the state's extravagance and for his failure to send to the legislature men who would do something about reorganizing the state departments and introducing something of business efficiency into the state's affairs. Something should have been done 10 years ago. Now it must be done. The homestead exemption amendment makes it unavoidable. The taxpayer must make up his mind to send to Austin legislators competent to perform the task wisely. Otherwise he will find himself called on to pay, several times over, the few dollars that the amendment will save him.

TOO MANY CIPHERS

Congressman John O'Connor of New York, sponsor of the bill to legalize 2.75 per cent beer, declares that the proposed tax of three cents per pint would bring $500,000,000 annually in revenue.

As it would take 33 1-3 pints of the beverage to bring in one dollar in revenue, the consumption of 16 2-3 billion pints would be necessary to yield half a billion dollars in revenue. That figures about 128 pints annually for each man, woman and child in the country.

Our guess is that Mr. O'Connor has about three ciphers too many on his estimate. For 2.75 per cent beer will not appeal to the palates of those whose tastes have been corrupted by the much more potent home brew, and there are a few million folks who don't drink beer at all.

Any discussion of the liquor question seems to give rise to extravagant claims of that kind. Of course, no wet claim is as extravagant as that which the prohibitionists made before the 18th amendment was adopted, that prohibition would empty the jails. But there is a tendency to try to match that claim.

THE QUESTION OF SOVEREIGNTY

If the Philippine independence measure becomes law, interests opposed to it are planning to challenge it in the courts. They plan to contend that congress lacks the power under the constitution to set the islands free.

This contention will be based upon a decision written by Chief Justice John Jay in the earliest days of the republic. He held that territorial sovereignty was vested, not in congress nor in the president, but in the people. If the plea is a valid one, it means that the people of the United States must in some way relinquish their title to the Philippines.

It is an interesting legal point, but probably it would make no difference, eventually, if upheld. For the same factors that prompt congress to vote for Philippine independence would prompt the voters to do so if it were put up to them.

The Lucky Small Man

President of University of Wisconsin and Former Editor of the Century Magazine
(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)
By GLENN FRANK

A while ago we were singing a requiem over the grave of the small business man.

We were handing the future to the big business man.

We were gripped by the merger mania.

Businesses that had not grown big were made big overnight by all sorts of combinations.

The phase of depression through which we have been passing has given the small business something of the edge.

There is, at the moment, not a little uncritical assumption and assertion that the big business is destined to go the way of the dinosaur whose bigness spelled his doom.

This is by no means certain, but it should be encouraging to the small business man to remember that, for the time, he has certain very definite advantages over the big business man.

Here are some of the more obvious advantages the small business man may now turn to good account:

1. The small business can be far more flexible than the large business.

A big organization must resort to rather rigid rules. If too wide discretion is farmed out through a big organization chaos may result, the parts may fail to click, and efficiency be slowed down. The greater flexibility of the small business is very important in a time of rapid change and real difficulty. Like the small and more mobile animals that could evade danger and survive while the great dinosaur could not, the small business has great adaptability.

2. The small business can retrench on its management expense in the face of drastic reduction of income more easily than the large business.

The big organization, with its high specialization of function, finds retrenchment of management expense an involved process. Various officials must be dropped and the remaining men must be retrained to take over the extra work. The small business finds it a simpler process.

3. The small business has an advantage over the big business in that it does not have to buy raw materials in such large quantities and so far ahead of actual use. When the prices of raw materials are in rapid fluctuation, this is a marked gain.

All in all, the small business may take courage!

Pretty Soft

Far, far away from budgets and things
Like deficits, taxes and all that,
Uncle Andy sits and drinks champagne with kings,
And is happy to be where he's at.

Heart-Breaking

It's tough to be a mayor and proclaim
That all the men in straw hats must be clad,
And then to see so many wear the same
Old winter hats that they already had.

"Now I know what the trouble is," Governor Murray might say, "those folks just don't want me to have the nomination."

If the brown derby is big enough to fit the kind of head its owner seems to have, it must be about ten and seven-eights.

Just One Day

The Democrats meet on Jefferson's day,
His name and works to revere,
Then put all thought of him safely away
On the other days of the year.

The depression isn't going to end until more of us realize that we can't get well by letting the other folks take the medicine.

The Birds

Each spring we notice and are beguiled by one of the recurring mysteries of Nature. It is when we see the birds building their nests and getting ready to set up housekeeping.

The mystery of it is how the male bird gets by with it. For he does no work at all, unless you count the supervisory duties he assumes. He doesn't help to rustle the twigs, the straw, the feathers or any of the rest of the building material. He does, in a condescending sort of way, look on and see that the work is done according to his taste, but the actual labor, from start to finish, is performed by the female bird. The male offers a little advice, presumably of a helpful nature, from time to time, and occasionally, perhaps by way of reward, he sings to her as she labors. The lady seems abundantly satisfied that she gets that much attention. Her one desire in life apparently is to please him.

When he finds fault with the material she has gathered or with the way she is putting it together, she doesn't talk back. Instead, she corrects her mistakes quietly and promptly. There is none of this foolishness about equal rights or the emancipation of women, on her part. She knows her place and she stays in it. If the fact that the male is provided with the brightest colors and the prettiest adornment irks her, she never lets on. If she is ever troubled by the fact that he can sing while she cannot, she shows no sign of resentment at this rank indiscrimination.

Civilization

It is that way all through Nature, all through the ranks of savage and barbaric human beings, until you come to civilized man. The higher degree of civilization a people have, the easier it is on their females. Civilized man is the only being in all creation that doesn't let the woman do the work. What price civilization, anyhow? What does it profit the male to make this a better world, to acquire comforts and conveniences, to promote culture, if, in the end, he isn't as well off as a bird?

Perhaps what is needed is a new kind of back-to-Nature movement, one that will restore the male to the place that Nature, quite obviously, intended him to have.

We have at various times pondered the idea of inaugurating such a movement, with the thought that we might take the lead in it ourself. A number of things, including modesty, have prevented our doing so. So far we haven't been able to get around it, and have had to be content with watching the birds in spring, and wondering how about it.

There was a time when human males enjoyed the same status as the birds and beasts, in this respect. Today, you can journey to some parts of the world where the male still has that status. They wear all the feathers and finery and they sit back and let the women perform all the hard labor. And seem to get by with it. But such countries aren't considered civilized.

How It Started

It might be interesting to trace mankind's history back a few million years and find out how it was that our ancestors ever broke away from the old and natural idea of letting the women do things. Somebody made a mistake, away back yonder, and didn't insist on his masculine prerogatives and then it started. The less they made women do, the less the women wanted to do.

Maybe that explains how civilization has come about. When the time came that men couldn't keep woman in her place, and had to take on various wearisome tasks for himself, he got to thinking about possible ways to make the work easier. One invention led to another, and the first thing anybody knew, the world was getting civilized. That was all right, up to a certain point. The trouble has been that the more civilization we've attained, the harder we've had to work, and the harder it's been to make women work.

There isn't anything that can be done about it, at this late day. But whenever we see Mrs. Bird slaving away trying to get the nest in shape, with Mr. Bird sitting idly by and bossing the job and perhaps offering a little constructive criticism and occasionally singing a little song or two, just to cheer her at her labors, we get to puzzling about it.

There is one good thing about this way financiers have of saying that things are going to get better. If they keep it up long enough, some day one of them will be telling the truth.

Mr. Hoover is willing to work for a dollar a year. However, the Democrats are ready to relieve him of the necessity of making such a sacrifice.

In one respect, anyhow, conditions are normal. The Democrats are wrangling among themselves.

It would take more than a depression to stop that.

TITANIC THOMPSON FACES NO CHARGES IN TYLER SHOOTING

TYLER, Texas, April 16. (AP)—Titanic Thompson, known internationally as a gambler, achieved more publicity today than at any time since he was reputed to have sat in on the last game of cards Arnold Rothstein played before he was shot and killed in New York.

Thompson, not so well known under his proper patronymic of A. C. Thomas of Kansas City, Mo., was questioned but not held in connection with the fatal shooting of Jimmy Frederick, 16-year-old caddy.

He told police that as he left an apartment house last night in his automobile the lad leaped upon the running board and demanded he throw up his hands. Instead of complying, Thompson said he fired. Young Frederick died today from the effects of four bullet wounds.

The gambler, with a reputation for willingness to bet large sums upon a turn of a card, a roll of the dice, or virtually any other circumstance or condition, has been in Tyler about six months. Much of his time has been spent upon the golf courses, where he has attained a far better than average proficiency, with the same willingness to wager marking that aptitude.

After asking Thompson a few questions, the Tyler police stated their investigation was ended.

Frederick's sisters said the lad had read too much vivid fiction and seen too many movies based on detective stories.

Mystery Shrouds Identity of Girl In Gem Robbery

NEW YORK, April 16. (US)—Mystery surrounding the identity of Helen Smith, arraigned in court today in connection with the robbery of $300,000 in jewels from the home of H. C. Glemby, beautician. Detectives agreed that the young woman, fashionably dressed, extremely attractive, and of evident refinement was listed under an assumed name.

Police said that she was the wife of a wealthy New Yorker and they were under instructions not to reveal her identity.

"Miss Smith", apparently little older than 30 years, is accused of possessing the Glemby jewels which detectives said were found on her when she attempted to sell them. With her were arraigned Ruby Golet, Joseph and Anthony Indelicato and Sam Appolito, arrested also on suspicion.

BEER PARADE PROPOSAL GAINS AN ENTHUSIASIC RESPONSE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 16. (US)—Mayor Walker's proposal of a big beer tax parade in New York drew today an enthusiastic response.

Scores of organizations and innumerable prominent men and women telegraphed or telephoned their assurances of participation in the mammoth demonstration he has suggested for May 14.

Suits of Hale County and 24 School Districts to Recover Funds Tied Up In Insolvent Bank Moved to Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 16. (AP)—A quarter of a million dollars or more is in controversy in a suit transferred Saturday to the Lubbock division of United States northern district court from Hale county district court, in which Hale county and 24 of its independent and common school districts had instituted proceedings against the insolvent Plainview National bank, four of its officers, its receiver, and seven surety companies. Three additional sureties were named as defendants in a second amended petition filed in federal court here Saturday.

The petition stated the bank, as principal, and the other defendants, as sureties, were indebted to the county and school districts in the sum of $309,224.89, less amounts realized from the sale of securities. The amount actually at stake approximates $250,000 to $260,000, C. C. Crenshaw, Lubbock attorney, stated.

Hale county, with E. C. Abernathy as county judge, sued for itself and for independent school districts and common school districts trustees also named as plaintiffs. Five independent and 19 common districts joined in the action.

Defendants named, in addition to the bank, were A. G. Hinn, Dave Collier, D. P. Bates all of Hale county; Frank A. Blankenbeckler, receiver of the bank; J. D. Steakley, and 10 surety companies.

Rich or Poor Man's Gout

While many people consider that gout is only a rich man's disease, it really isn't as important how much money one has in the bank as how much poison he has in his body. Gout is usually preceded by many years of disorders of the digestive, urinary or nervous systems. A severe attack of gout may appear without any previous local symptoms. The patient may retire feeling quite well, but he awakened in the early morning by an excruciating pain in some of the small joints of the body, usually in the ball of the great toe. This intense pain as accompanied by shivering and followed by a fever which may rise to 102 or 103 degrees Fahrenheit.

The pain of a gouty attack is intensely agonizing and feels as though the joints were being screwed in a vise. The affected joint swells rapidly and assumes a reddish hue. The skin is hot, tense, and has a shiny surface. After a few hours the pain lessens, the patient perspires gently and falls into a refreshing sleep. The pain returns in all its severity every night during the continuance of the attack which may last for nine or 10 hours. Then the symptoms of tenderness in the joint disappear. The skin will pit upon being pressed and sometimes scales.

After the attack is over, the patient may feel unusually well but there is a saying that once gouty, always gouty. This is true unless the proper dietetic measures are used to clear the system of the uric acid poisons. When the disease is not cured by dietetic measures, it becomes chronic, and the first attack is always followed by recurrent attacks, each more severe than the previous one.

A deposit of chalk stones or "tophi" forms around the affected joints, and may even be ulcerated out through the skin. These tophi consist principally of bi-urate of soda. At first soft, they become more dense and cause a stiffening and knotting of joints. The hands and feet are most commonly affected. Usually these tophi can be felt on the ears and are one of the diagnostic indications of gout.

Since this disease seems to be especially caused by the retention of uric acid and other purin bodies, which are combined with sodium and deposited in the tissues, in order to free the blood as much as possible of the excess of purins, the proper treatment is to eliminate all food for a time except large quantities of distilled water to which some of the acid fruit juices has been added. In this way, no additional uric acid will be taken into the system, and the body will be able to dissolve that which has been deposited in the tissues and excrete it through the kidneys and pores of the skin.

Sometimes the gouty area becomes more sensitive during the first few days of the fast while the toxins are being dissolved, but this disappears in the course of time and one will actually observe the tophi becoming smaller as the fast progresses. In severe cases it is sometimes necessary to repeat a 10-day fast, such as I have described, at intervals of about a month apart.

Between the fasting periods the diet should be especially rich in foods containing large quantities of sodium and postassium. Here is a list of some of the sodium foods:

Swiss chard, spinach, strawberries, pumpkin, asparagus, carrots, dandelions, lettuce, white of egg and dried figs.

The foods rich in postassium are lettuce, kale, tomatoes, celery cucumbers, cress, turnips, egg plant, lemons and currants.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Protein for Worn Tissues

Question—Mrs. Gloria writes: "I would like to know if it is better to leave protein out of the diet after the gall bladder has been removed. I eat meat once a day but am unable to drink milk at all. I am troubled with a great deal of gas."

Answer—Protein should not be left out of the diet even if the gall bladder has been removed. Protein is probably the most necessary food for replacing worn out tissues. Meat and egg whites are seemingly the two most easily digested types of protein. If the gall bladder was affected, it is more than likely that the liver is not functioning properly. This may be the reason you are unable to drink milk. You probably have some organic trouble, such as prolapsus, which is causing the flatulence even though you may be eating correctly.

Slippery Elm Bark Tea

Question—O. V. writes: "I am taking slippery elm bark tea for lubrication of the colon. Would its use over a period of time prove injurious?"

Answer—Slippery elm bark tea is used principally for its mucilaginous property, somewhat like flax seed or pyalla seed. While such products are often serviceable as a temporary relief, I do not consider them a permanent cure for constipation.

Measles

Question—Constance G. asks: "Should a child that has had the measles be kept in a dark room to prevent injury to the eyes?"

Answer—It is best to keep the child in a dark room most of the time, but several times a day the eyes should be exposed to some kind of light for only a few seconds at a time. This will prevent a chronic contraction of the iris and help to avoid future eye troubles caused by the forming of adhesions.

FARMER INJURED WHEN TWO AUTOS RUN INTO WAGON

GRAHAM, Texas, April 16.—John Worley, farmer of the Senate community, is in the Graham hospital with serious bruises as the result of a wreck in which his wagon and two automobiles figured early Saturday evening.

Mr. Worley was returning from Graham to his farm home between Jacksboro and Bryson, at the time of the accident. John Cozart, who is connected with a Graham refinery, was traveling in the same direction and was blinded by the lights of a car driven by Steve Lindley, approaching from the other direction. Neither driver of the cars saw the wagon and both cars struck it and overturned.

The wagon was demolished and Mr. Worley sustained severe bruises and scalp wounds. Cozart and Lindley escaped injury but both cars were badly damaged. Worley's team ran away following the collision and had not been found late Saturday night.

FLASHES of LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK.—Dulio Cacasina, somnambulist, walked out a second-story window, picked himself up, mounted two flights of stairs and went to bed again—all without waking up. His wife found him covered with cuts and bruises and still snoring.

STOCUMBER, Somerset, England.—A moratorium is feared because the parish council here got reckless and spent 15 shillings. Apart from the clerk's salary, which is about $20 a year, the council usually spends two shillings and six pence. But because of the extravagance this year the budget won't balance, and the clerk may not get his pay.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Francesco Mastrostefano, 70, has filed a $2,000 suit for assault and battery against Philip Reitano, barber. It's all about a mustache which for 47 years never felt the touch of shears. The complainant alleges he asked for a haircut and shave and when he woke up his pride and joy, the mustache, was gone.

SIMSBURY, Conn.—Fishing's good in these parts, Calvin Coolidge finds. Other fishermen complained of roiled waters and poor catches, but the former president took home 13 trout weighing 10 pounds.

Rabid Dry

It is said that the gemsbok, a large South African antelope, never drinks water, the moisture which it requires being obtained from the succulent plants on which it feeds.

Rumored Willys to Resign

WASHINGTON, April 16. (UB)—En route to New York on his second leave of absence in six months, John N. Willys, of Ohio, U. S. ambassador to Poland, is rumored to be ready to resign his post.

SHERIFF PROTECTS CONFESSED SLAYER FROM ARMED MOB

Kansas Slayer Leads Officers to Body of Kansas Schoolgirl

SAVED FROM LYNCHING TWICE IN 12 HOURS

Ex Convict Admits Kidnaping and Killing Eight-year-old Child

COLBY, Kan., April 16. (AP)—After confessing he kidnaped and killed Dorothy Hunter, 8-year-old Selden, Kan., school girl, Richard Read, 53, was saved from mob vengeance today by Sheriff Ed McGinley of Thomas county.

Read led a group of officers to the hiding place of the violated body of his small victim in a haystack near the neighboring town of Achilles. A moment later McGinley was speeding away from an approaching mob of enraged Selden citizens traveling in 50 motor cars.

The slayer, an ex-convict, thus was saved from lynching for the second time in a dozen years. The excited citizens began to disperse several hours later after the coroner had ordered the bruised little body in disheveled school clothes removed to Atwood.

After a preliminary examination, Dr. Charles E. Hennenberger, coroner of Rawlins county, said the girl had been attacked and later slain by a blow on the head which caused a skull fracture.

Mob Carries Rope

She was kidnaped Thursday evening as she left the school grounds in Selden. She had returned to the building for a forgotten lunch kit.

When informed yesterday the girl was missing Sheriff McGinley immediately arrested Read, bachelor-farmer near Rexford.

The arrest brought a mob of armed citizens from Selden, bearing a rope and demanding the life of Read. They were persuaded to spare the prisoner because of possibility he might be able to reveal the missing girl's whereabouts.

The mob reassembled today and were near at hand when McGinley dashed away with his prisoner.

The officer returned to Colby, refusing to say where he had concealed Read.

McGinley said the prisoner had confessed luring the child into his car with a string of beads, attacking and slaying her.

Court officials at Burlington, Colo., said the prisoner, as T. R. Read, pleaded guilty there in 1926 to assaulting a 15-year-old girl and was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Colorado penitentiary.

Thirteen players have been signed for the Wichita Falls team in the Texas-Oklahoma league. The salary limit of $1,000 per month has been reached and no additional men will be signed.

Hope has been abandoned that there are any survivors of the Titantic disaster other than those being brought in on the Carpathia. Most of the survivors are women and children, and it is declared that no women are among the lost. The final message from the Titanic was, "Sinking by the head. Have cleared boats and filled them with women and children."

Nothing could show more clearly the heroism of the crew and the man passengers who stood by the doomed ship, facing practically inevitable death, and sent the women and children away in the lifeboats. Some would have to be left; that was a certainty. Hundreds, in fact, were left. But to all appearances the men who were left stayed behind deliberately, calmly stepping aside to let the weaker ones, those to whom they owed protection, take their way to safety.

CLOSED VERNON BANK WILL PAY DIVIDEND

VERNON, Texas, April 16.—Permission was granted by the 46th district court Thursday for the payment of a dividend of 15 per cent to depositors in the Farmers State bank, defunct. Checks will be mailed within a few days from Austin to depositors.

The total amount of the payments to depositors of the closed bank will be approximately $20,000.

METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE BOHEMIAN PARTY

Members of the young people's department of the First Methodist church enjoyed a "Bohemian party" in their department of the educational building Friday evening, which was planned by Mrs. A. K. Presson's class of girls, with the boys guests. All wore colorful smocks. Modernistic paintings and silhouettes made by Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence and Miss Marguerite Gerhardt, were hung around the walls, lending the setting Bohemian atmosphere.

Artistic ability was displayed in the drawing of portraits, the modeling of animals from chewing gum, the producing of one-act plays, and the manipulating of improvised musical instruments. A spirit of abandon added zest to the party.

Those present were Laurette Erwin, Marie Yeager, Kathryn Fletcher, Hattie Stinnett, Mildred Burge, Hal Ray, Alvin Smith, Leonard Smith, Lester Prothro, Philip Miller, Pauline Sloan, Gwendolyn South, Harold Kimmell, Amie Ruth Highsmith, Margaret Alice Pease, Janette Russell, Miss Josephine Smith, Mrs. J. C. Russell, Ruth Downing, W. B. Hamilton, J. L. Walker, Dr. S. S. McKenney and Mrs. A. K. Presson.

Mrs. Parker Will Direct Program For Graham Club

The Music club of Graham will present "Twilight in Gypsyland" Monday evening, May 9, at the Municipal auditorium, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Parker.

"Twilight in Gypsyland" is a very elaborate musical production featuring beautiful Gypsy music in solo, duet, trio, quartet, and choral form with colorful costuming and stage arranged as a gypsy camp. Compositions by Brahms, Schumann, Paul Bless, Victor Herbert and modern popular song writers with excerpts from Il Trovatore and Countess Maritza, combined with tambourine dances make this an exceptionally entertaining program for every lover of music.

This production was originally arranged and staged by Mrs. Parker for the Olympic theater in 1927 as a prologue for Pola Negri's picture "The Gypsy." In the cast were local singers, pupils of Mrs. Parker's whom have become internationally known. Virginia Hotchkiss, as Princess Wantura, has been booked with an international entertainment circuit for the past three years, singing in all the leading European cities, featuring American Indian music in costume programs. In addition she has made two moving pictures in Germany. Carleton Bowman, baritone, has had a splendid record as a church, radio, and concert artist. Two local favorites, Hallie Adams and Baldwin Montgomery were also featured soloists in this production.

The Woman's Forum sponsored the second production in the season 1928-29. The program was made more elaborate with additional songs and dances, under Mrs. Parker's direction. Enthusiastic praise was given this performance. Mrs. Wayne Holmes, R. E. Shepherd, Will Gray, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, Baldwin Montgomery and many other local favorites were soloists on the program.

The Graham Music club, with Mrs. N. B. Crenshaw as president, will close the musical season with "Gypsyland" elaborately staged. Graham and the surrounding towns have a large number of excellent singers. The Unity Choral singers under the direction of C. A. Russell have presented many excellent programs for the past two years. Mr. Russel will be the assistant director for this performance. Rehearsals are being held every Friday evening at the Baptist church. Mrs. N. B. Crenshaw is the accompanist.

Committees have been appointed as follows:

Properties, chairman, Miss Mattie Queen Price; Misses Ina Mae Bullock, Kathleen Criswell, Evelyn Hinson; Mesdames Joe Neely, R. Schlittler, A. E. Lynch.

Publicity, chairman, Mrs. W. J. Gruby, clubs and ads: Mesdames R. B. Allison, schools; T. C. McCloud and W. E. Braddock, missionary societies; Walt Blanks, newspapers; T. A. Morrison, South Bend; Florence Wray, Newcastle; I. T. Gilmer, churches.

Tickets, chairman, Mrs. N. B. Crenshaw; Misses Erline Marshall, Alwana Woods, and Marguerite Carter; Mesdames H. M. Tebay and C. E. Murray.

PEGGY of PIEDMONT

CLUB women's favorite reading is about other women, particularly successful women in the world of business, the theater, the literary world, and even the out-of-doors world. "I think the real reason for their interest in women who have made a place for themselves outside the realm of domesticity is because of the vicarious pleasure each small-town woman gets from saying to herself, "Had I not chosen domesticity, I might have been running that business, writing that novel, been acclaimed on the stage or discovered that scientific fact," says Miss Helen Bramble, founder and head of the women's bureau, which has worked out programs for clubs in every state in the union and even sent material by dog team into Alaska.

AND beginning Wednesday, Wichita Falls will be veritable mecca for club women of the first district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Delegates and visitors will be here from Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Stephensville, Olney, Archer City, Burkburnett, Vernon, Henrietta, Iowa Park, Electra, Nocona, Bowie, Bellevue, Decatur and numerous other towns and communities included in this district.

MRS. PERCY PENNYBACKER of Austin is also expected as are several other state officers, and club women in this city are not thinking of much of anything else at present except the convention and the entertainment of the visitors.

DELIGHTFUL social affairs are also being arranged for beginning with the board luncheon and meeting honoring the district president, Mrs. Bob Barker of Fort Worth, and her board. Mrs. Grover C. Johnson is chairman of arrangements for this luncheon which will feature products of Texas, especially cotton. Mrs. Barker's slogan is "What Texas Makes, Makes Texas," and as the principal agricultural product of the state is cotton, the fleecy staple will hold a prominent place in the decorations for the luncheon, and the board members and hostesses will wear cotton gowns.

A SAN JACINTO day luncheon will be a social event for the club women Thursday at the country club, and members of the Unity club will be in charge of the decorations. Mrs. W. N. Maer is chairman of arrangements and Mrs. Marvin Smith will preside. During the woman's hour over KGKO the past week, Mrs. Smith spoke on this luncheon and said in part: "Just as the United States tried to arouse and create that invincible something called patriotism through the renewed knowledge of Washington, in order to create a deeper love of country and citizenship, we the women of the federated clubs of the first district, representative of the womanhood of the Lone Star state, will be gathered around the banquet board April 21 in Wichita Falls. On this occasion we will show this loyalty to our United States of America, and then to our own native state—Texas. This—San Jacinto day, is recognized as one of the outstanding days that has made American liberty. It is most fitting that on this sacred day to all Texans that historic treasure should be assembled, to reflect the pioneer life of men and women who made the San Jacinto holiday. Who braved the hardships of that era, and who made the victorious battle cry, "Remember the Alamo."

"THE combined women's clubs of Wichita Falls are to be hostesses in general for the entire convention, but for this historic luncheon, the Unity club, the pioneer club of the city is responsible for the decorations and arrangements. The invocation will be given by Mrs. H. C. Young, senior member of the club and pioneer woman who is 80 years advanced in culture.

"THE tables will be adorned with bluebonnets from Mrs. T. R. Boone's home on Bluebonnet hill and of the documents in Sam Houston's own handwriting. There will be a biography of David Crockett by his granddaughter, in her own hand writing—a powder horn and branding irons from Travis county, some of which are 100 years old."

MRS. P. P. LANGFORD is in charge of the pages for the convention and announces that they will wear Sweetheart dresses, a Texas made product, at all the meetings. Jessie Lucille Raley is captain.

ONE who will be missed at meetings is Mrs. Ben G. Oneal who will at this time be in Chicago where she will attend the 10th national convention of the Izaak Walton League of America. Mr. Oneal is president of the local league, and Mrs. Oneal will accompany him to the convention and has the honor to be one of the few women speakers. She will talk over the N. B. C. network on the subject, "Youth and Conservation." Friday from 11:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Preparations are being made for 1,000 delegates, members and visitors at this convention, which will include noted con-

Carrigan School P.-T. A. Sponsors Annual Carnival

A program in the form of a vaudeville delighted a well filled auditorium Friday night at the annual spring carnival of the Carrigan School Parent-Teacher association. A group of clowns directed by Miss Rimmer brought gales of laughter from the crowd and dances and songs by pupils of Misses Swenson and Norman were pleasingly given.

George Anderson Jr. gave a clever reading in a delightful manner and Doris Anderson read a humorous skit which was also enjoyed.

A clever toe-tap and song number beautifully done, which won her an encore, was given by Faith Galmiche.

The school orchestra under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Wright gave three numbers showing much improvement in their playing since their first appearance.

A chorus of girls, in gay Japanese costumes gave two delightful song numbers.

Louise Brackett and Faith Galmiche entertained with a clever tap dance routine directed and assembled by Faith Galmiche.

The fish pond under the direction of Mrs. R. Monarch proved the most popular of the outside attractions and kept members busy getting the fish to bite for the many boys and girls with poles and lines.

Charlestoners, under the direction of Miss Rimmer and Miss Henson, also proved popular. These two tiny colored misses were cunning as could be as they performed their many steps.

A mysterious valley with all sorts of hair-raising things inside, attracted a large crowd. This room also included a trip to national park which was well illustrated by replicas of some of the wonders of the park. This room was under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Hubbard and Mrs. J. M. Farrell.

A fortune teller, gay in gypsy costume, furnished a number of folks with tales of what had happened and what they could expect in the future. Seated in her little tent, lighted only by a dim glimmer, she seemed realistic and reminiscent of real old-time gypsy fortune tellers.

Alex Michael and G. Galmiche, in white aprons made excellent icecream, candy and lemonade dispensers, both before and after the auditorium feature.

Gay booths, decorated rooms and halls, happy Charlestoners, snappy dances, good music and songs made this evening a pleasant one.

The local nurses association expressed a wish to have a part in the entertainment and sent a special donation for that purpose. The chamber of commerce has shown every courtesy and the conference promises to exceed any previous meeting of the first district of federated clubs.

Texas Theme

In making plans, the local committee tried to work every detail with memory of Mrs. Bob Barker's slogan for the district in mind, "What Texas Makes, Makes Texas." Decorations and souvenirs have been chosen to that end.

The luncheons and dinners will be open to the federated clubwomen of Wichita Falls but delegates will be taken care of first, and if any space is lacking, the home women will allow procedure to visitors. Reservations should be made as soon as possible with Mrs. O. W. Harvey, who has charge of the tickets.

The art department and manual training departments of the schools have cooperated beautifully with the entertainment committee; they are preparing the miniature Alamo, the small cotton gins and place cards that will be used as features of decorations at various times.

Musicians Club Will Present Group of Artists in Program At Junior College Auditorium

Another of the impressive musical programs prepared by the Musicians club for public presentation this year, and to which the public has taken with enthusiasm, has been announced for Tuesday night at the junior college auditorium.

Continuing the high standards which have been established definitely by the organization in recent years, public musicales in the 1931-1932 year have been a conspicuous contribution to civic life here. The concert planned for Tuesday night will prove no exception. Arranged by Mrs. J. E. Hall, it will utilize the talent not only of several Wichita Falls musicians, but that of Mrs. Harwood Stacy, pianist, of Austin.

Mrs. Stacy arrived in this city about a week ago, and played two numbers on the Music Study club's annual spring musicale last Tuesday. An improved clarity in tonal enunciation and a more profound musical quality generally in her playing were declared immediately by her listeners. Mrs. Stacy quickly avowed that the past year has been spent in persistent study under the genius of Walter Gilewicz of the Baylor university department of music.

In her group Tuesday evening, Mrs. Stacy will play two Chopin numbers, "Impromptu in F Major," and "Nocturne in G Major." Her third number will be one of her own, recently completed, which she has styled "Waltz in maniera di Godowsky."

One of the most brilliant performances of the evening should be inspired by the compositions chosen by Eithel Allen Nelson, local violinist and instructor, as the closing group on the program. Mr. Nelson will play first, Kreisler's transcription of "Praeludium and Allegro" by Pugnani, and will follow with the same artist's adaptation of Chaminade's "Serenade Espagnole." Of excellent musical quality and great local interest, however, will be the "Gypsy," written by Mr. Nelson during the past winter. Based upon the variegated moods of a racial type which invariably fascinates more conventional classes, the "Gypsy" stages a veritable parade of emotions. Notation accomplished by the composer delightfully attains that objective.

Piano Group

A second piano group announced for Tuesday evening will be played by Miss Erma Nala Voss, local public school music supervisor. Several brilliant performances already to her credit in earlier programs this year assure musical entertainment of the highest order in Miss Voss' two numbers on the Musicians club program. She will play Chopin's "Polonaise in C Minor" and "In Autumn" by Moszkowski, offering a sharp and pleasing contrast in mood. During the 1931 summer recess between scholastic years, Miss Voss studied with Paul Van Katwijk of Dallas, and is to give a graduating recital in piano at McFarlin hall, Southern Methodist university on May 9.

A string quartet group and one vocal number will complete the program arranged by Mrs. Hall. Directed by Stanley M. Raub, the quartet composed of Mr. Raub, Mrs. A. M. Miller, Mrs. Edwin A. Bebb and Edwin A. Bebb will play three movements from Mozart's quartet No. 21. The composition is one of the most delicate and appealing numbers available to chamber music organizations.

The only vocal number for the evening will be a duet from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," to be sung by Willard L. Underwood, tenor, and Jack McWilliams, baritone. The number uses a text of dramatic content, and its musical score contains a full measure of Verdi's florid emotionalism. The singers will be accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey.

An invitation to the general public has been extended by the Musicians club to attend Tuesday night's recital, which is to begin at 8:15 o'clock.

PIANIST AND COMPOSER

MRS. HARWOOD STACY

will be artist guest on the program to be given at the Junior college auditorium Tuesday evening when the musicians club entertains the public with numbers given by leading local musicians. Mrs. Stacy is formerly of Wichita Falls and is now making her home in Austin. She is one of the outstanding pianists and composers of Texas.

VARSITY NEWS

By BETTY LOVE RUGELEY

AUSTIN, April 16.—The Longhorns are coming back to Texas and the campus will echo the days of the old West when the ex-students of the university and "the folks"—dads and mothers of the present students—come to Austin Friday for the first day of the third annual round-up.

In spite of the fact that the round-up will be over by the time this article is read, I want to describe some of the outstanding features of the official program. Friday will be given to registration and an inspection of the university. Of first interest to all of the homecomers and visitors is a survey of the construction work which is being actively carried on at present. In the afternoon the Longhorns will play the conference baseball game with Baylor. The round-up revue and bill will constitute the evening program. At this time there will be the revue of the beauty nominees of the campus and the presentation of the Southwestern conference sweethearts, and finally, the presentation of the sweetheart of the University of Texas.

On Saturday morning informal meetings will be held by the reunion classes and at noon the famous barbecue-rodeo. A dude ranch will be put on freshmen field, with corrals with horses for the rodeo and wagons with food for the barbecue. The cowboys will march onto the rodeo field in uniforms, followed by some of the Texas rangers, led by Ross Sterling. A square dance on horseback, under the direction of Adj. Gen. Bill Sterling, will be the feature of the evening. Saturday evening there will be a gala presentation of the musical comedy, "Firefly," given by the Light Opera company.

Sunday there will be dinners and receptions at dormitory, sorority and fraternity houses.

Many visitors are expected to be in Austin but a list of those from North Texas has not yet been received.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Harvey are expected in Austin from Wichita Falls to be the guest of their son, Ralph, for the round-up.

Miss Frances Bone will be the week-end guest of Miss Marjorie Vincent at the Scottish Rite dormitory over the week-end. Both girls are from Wichita Falls and Miss Bone is an ex-student of the university.

Yance Moller of Wichita Falls will be the guest of Miriam Cooper this week-end. Mr. Moller is at present a student of Yale university and is visiting in Texas during the spring holidays.

Miss Joyce Samuels of Wichita Falls will arrive in Austin on Friday to spend several days as the guest of Alexander Cameron and Jane Cameron, formerly of Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bennett, formerly of Wichita Falls, will come from Dallas to visit their daughter, Dorothy, for the round-up.

The Nu chapter of Chi Phi fraternity entertained with a spring formal dance Friday night at the chapter house. Steve Gardner and his orchestra furnished the music and presented several cabaret numbers during the evening. At midnight a supper was served to the 125 guests. Favors for the ladies were silver cigaret or jewel boxes in the shape of a book.

Miss Marjorie Vincent, who is a junior in the university, was a guest of the Chi Phi fraternity on this occasion. Miss Vincent is from Wichita Falls.

James Moore, Bill Hood and Raymond Strong, all of Wichita Falls, are members of the Chi Phi fraternity and acted as hosts at the dance.

Edwin Luecke of Wichita Falls, who is an ex-student of the university and a member of the Chi Phi fraternity, was unable to be in Austin for the spring dance.

Clarence Moore of Wichita Falls was the guest of his brother, James, at the Chi Phi house last week.

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity held its spring formal dance at the Austin Country club on Friday night. A midnight breakfast was served to the many guests. Macon Boddy of Henrietta was one of the hosts at this affair.

Omega chapter of Alpha Phi held initiation service Saturday afternoon at the chapter house. Following the formal services a buffet supper was held in honor of the newly initiated girls.

Miss Marguerite Sheldon, formerly of Wichita Falls, was initiated at this time.

Honoring its pledges, Alpha Tau Omega fraternity entertained with a spring formal dance at the Austin Country club on Saturday evening. Preceding the dance a buffet supper was served at the chapter house. I. D. Brown of Wichita Falls was among the pledges honored at this occasion and Frank Bains, who is a member of the fraternity, was also present.

Virgil H. Shepherd of Houston, who was formerly of Wichita Falls, was one of the week-end guests of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, who attended the spring formal dance.

The university track team journeyed to Dallas this past week-end to cop the S. M. U.-Baylor-Texas triangular meet. Texas had 12 men entered in events and all 12 men placed.

Of the 3,000 ballots sent to ex-students for the purpose of voting on the new officers of the ex-students association, over 300 have been returned. It is urged that all ex-students send in their votes immediately. Charles I. Frances of Wichita Falls has been renominated for president of the association.

Miss Helen Lyles of Stamford has been appointed by the president of the co-eds' assembly to serve on a committee for the junior-senior swing-out which is held annually in May.

Mrs. Dorothy Peckham is slowly improving from the injuries she received in a fall last week. Mrs. Peckham has been suffering with a sprained ankle, especially, but in spite of her handicap she continued to take her part in the play given by the University Curtain club last week.

Robert Maxey of Lubbock is expecting his father and mother to spend the week-end and to participate in the activities of the round-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Krueger of Wichita Falls are expected to arrive in Austin to spend the week-end and take part in the program arranged for the dads and mothers of university students. They will visit their son and daughter, Aaron and Bertha Mae.

The Sigma Tau Delta fraternity of Southwestern university initiated the largest group of embryonic journalists in its history recently when 11 members were initiated and three new pledges received. Miss Dorothy Bryan of Decatur and Maurice Monroe of Iowa Park were among the 11 people to be initiated.

Completing what is commonly called "hell week," the pledges of Kappa Sigma fraternity have finally won the right to be formally initiated. Initiation services were held on Wednesday evening at the Driskill hotel and were followed by a banquet given in honor of the new members. Ed Graham of Graham and Bob Maxey were among the newly initiated, while Jimmy Harvey of Wichita Falls, an active Kappa Sig, assisted with the services.

A general report revealed numerous plans for unique decorations. All will follow the idea of welcome to the return of ex-students, dads and mothers. Prizes will be awarded to the sorority, fraternity and boarding house which has the cleverest decoration.

The quarterfinals are being played off in tennis this week, in the intramural sports. The first elimination series in golf will begin this week. Mr. Aaron Krueger of Wichita Falls will represent the Phi Sigma Delta fraternity in this tournament and Fred Couper of Wichita Falls will play for the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Drama Department T. F. W. C. Sponsors Play Contest

By MRS. PAUL DONALD, Bowie
Chairman of Drama, T. F. W. C.

It is our intention during this administration to assist in carrying forward the program of the national chairman of drama, Mrs. Clara Cox Epperson, of Tennessee. She has asked that federated clubs observe the annual drama week with special programs, and include these in their year books; also that clubs sponsor contests, offering prizes locally for the best plays written, and for the best plays presented during drama week.

In addition to these suggestions made by Mrs. Epperson, the Texas drama committee is stressing the observation of the George Washington bicentennial with community dramas or pageants. Many lovely plays have already been produced by clubs all over the state, but we are hoping that every club and every community will have an appropriate dramatic program depicting scenes from Washington's life, and commemorating his immortal service to his country. Then report these programs to your district chairman of drama.

We are suggesting too, the use of plays in presenting programs of the other departments of work in the federation or in local clubs. As it has often been said "Drama has the universal appeal, and a truth once acted out before us is not soon forgotten."

The National Recreation association has some good material on community drama, and Mrs. Mabel F. Hobbs, their drama consultant will be glad to give free advice on suitable plays and on problems of production to those who write her at the National Recreational association, 315 Fourth avenue, New York City.

Drama Indoor Sport

Mrs. Hobbs says that the drama, as a popular indoor sport, is capturing America. Social groups, tired of the usual amusements, have taken to reading plays together and trying them out informally at their meetings. Homes, churches, schools and whole communities are finding in drama a solution to the problem of the satisfying use of leisure time. In fact, never before has there been so widespread an interest in producing amateur plays and pageants. Mrs. Hobbs, who is in touch with amateur drama interest all over America, says that this development is more than a fad. Where once groups put on annual productions just to raise money, now they are staging series of plays each season for the education, recreation, and good fellowship there is in it.

Another change in the drama situation is that young people no longer corner all the fun. Time was when dramatic honors were restricted to the youngsters who not only shone in high school productions, but put on the church or club plays, while the older folks supported merely as audiences. But it is no longer the fashion to make up a 20-year-old to look middle aged behind the footlights. His dad plays the part and gets self-expression that means as much or more to him than it would to the boy. The trend in neighborhood and community plays now is for casts of both young and older people—the right person for the right part.

For young people drama has remarkable possibilities for character building. Taking part in a play under good direction can give a boy or girl as valuable training in team work and sportsmanship as basket ball or any other sport.

We will give amateur groups about to start drama a few suggestions from the bulletin of the National Recreation association, that will help them to success. "First appoint as a director some one who either has technical knowledge of play production or is willing to obtain it. This director need not be a professional, but by no means can "just any one" direct a play. Technical knowledge may be obtained by attending a drama institute, or by reading a selected list of books.

A director should know his group thoroughly before he casts a play. A good way to start is putting on very short plays, "capable dramas," that run for only two or three minutes. This will show not only where talent is, but where the dependable person is who often cannot be relied upon to attend rehearsals or cooperate with others. A few of these sketches make an interesting evening's entertainment. Later, one-act plays may be tried.

"The right play is indispensable to success," says Mrs. Hobbs. "The director's job is to choose a play that will fit the group and appeal to the audience."

Most of what we've said was for beginners in the study of drama, but in closing, we want to appeal to writers and dramatic study groups to sponsor and encourage playwriting in the their communities.

Play Contest

The drama committee of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs is fostering a play contest, and hopes that many original plays will be entered by club women of the state.

The following rules will govern in the contest:

1. Contestants must be residents of the state of Texas, and members of federated clubs.

2. Plays must be original and owned by the authors, and must not have been previously produced or published professionally.

3. The treatment may be in any manner, burlesque, farce, comedy drama, tragedy or mystery, but neither treatment may be offensive to good taste.

4. Preference will be shown for plays in some way depicting Texas scene setting or color.

5. The plays should be in one act and require from 20 to 40 minutes to perform.

6. Each play should be typewritten on one side of the paper with name and address of the author together with return postage in separate sealed envelope, attached. Three copies should be sent in and the author should retain one copy of the play.

7. Authors should send plays to the drama chairman of the district of T. F. W. C. in which they live by Sept. 1. The various chairmen will in turn submit manuscripts to judges.

8. The winning play will be announced at the state meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and if possible produced before the delegates there assembled. After the state meeting the play becomes the property of the author, to do with as she desires.

9. The first prize of $10 will be awarded to the manuscript which the judges shall declare the winner.

10. The rules herein stated constitute the terms of contract between the author and the drama department of the T. F. W. C.

11. Plays not declared the winner, but which are considered worthy of production by clubs, dramatic groups, etc., will be listed by the drama department and submitted to various organizations, after the author's consent is secured. There is to be no royalty charge for these plays so listed.

We hope that all members of federated clubs, will assist in interesting their local writers in this contest. The rules will be printed in the Federation News.

The district chairmen are Mrs. F. O. Moore, Henrietta, Texas; Mrs. Ewin Ellis, Denison, Texas; Mrs. R. T. Lutz, 851 S. Kennedy street, Tyler, Texas; Mrs. J. Leo Garrett, 303 Crescent avenue, Waco, Texas; Mrs. C. J. Smith, Cuero, Texas; Mrs. J. H. Moyer, Cisco, Texas, and Mrs. C. M. Holt, Amarillo, Texas.

THE annual convention banquet will be held in the grand ball room of the Sherman hotel the evening of April 22, when the feature speaker and entertainer will be Sir Hubert Wilkins, famous explorer of the polar regions and world traveler, whose strange Jules Verne craft, Nautilus' attempted to penetrate the under sea mysteries of the stark and frozen northland. An article in the Outdoor of America says that never in the history of navigation was a more marvelous or more perilous trip suggested or undertaken by man. It says that he will also show several thousand feet of interesting movies of his adventures as he lectures on his unusual experiences. His flight across the north pole, flights in the frozen antarctic, and many other thrilling adventures will be related by this famous individual character of the world of mystic adventure.

YES, Mrs. Oneal who is always among "those present" at first district Texas Federation of Women's clubs conventions, and who is past president of the district, and chairman of distinguished guests for this meeting, will be missed. But after reading about only a few of the unusual attractions and the prominent speakers for this huge meeting at Chicago on this same date as the first district convention, one who can not blame Mrs. Oneal for accepting the honor of being a woman speaker on the program, and for accompanying her husband, Senator Ben G. Oneal, on this occasion is—

Junior Garden Clubs Organized For Purpose of Beautification

By MRS. FLOYD RANDEL
Chairman of Wichita Falls Junior Garden Clubs

We know that the future of a more beautiful America depends upon instilling in the minds of the youth of our land a vision of a gardened home and the value of planting trees. An opportunity to carry out this vision has never been greater than this year of 1932.

The appreciation of the great outdoors and the value of gardening is recognized as a potent factor in character building and the development of good citizenship in the youth.

A sense of the presence of the "Great Infinite" comes to children through planting seeds, digging and caring for gardens. They come to realize that they are a part of this great universe.

The Junior Garden club has been evolved to "educate through play," and while children are engaged in Junior Garden club activities some may take over an avocation or hobby that will be lasting through manhood or womanhood.

Such clubs have been organized in our city under the direction of the Senior Garden club of the Woman's Forum, with Mrs. Floyd Randel as Junior Garden club chairman. At present there are 11 schools with an organized club. The membership is approximately 4,000.

The Historical George Washington Tree chapter idea was sent out by the Better Homes and Gardens magazine, in which each child participating in the planting of a tree has been permitted to place his own signature in a book to be sent to Mount Vernon. This book will be a dedication of the Junior Garden Clubs of America to the Washington bicentennial.

There were 3,150 children from the Wichita Falls Garden clubs whose signatures will be registered in this book.

There are many interesting flower and vegetable gardens being planted by the children on the school grounds.

The boys of the Benjamin Franklin school have planted onions, corn, beans, okra and turnips, while the girls are arranging a lovely mixed flower bed.

Teachers and chairman have been working along the side of the busy little club members. The seeds and plants are purchased and donated by the senior club.

Miss Leva Davis of the Alamo school, Miss Pounds of the Huey, Miss Crain of the Crockett school, Miss Crider and Mrs. Barnett of the Fannin school are supervising most interesting gardens of flowers and vegetables.

The chairman announces a beautiful bird house will be given as a reward to the club doing the most outstanding work this spring. The children are working diligently and at the same time building character. Mothers who have children in the grade schools are urged to encourage them in this "education through play" by giving them space to have their own individual flower and vegetable garden.

HUEY P.-T. A. GROUP MEETS WITH MRS. LEWIS

Members of the group from Huey Parent-Teacher association that participated in the state birthday and Founder's day programs met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. D. Lewis to cut the cake presented at the district conference held in Quanah the past week for the second best state birthday and Founder's day programs in the district.

Mrs. W. L. Goodson gave a history of the Texas congress of parents and teachers at the program in October. Mrs. J. H. Long sang "A Little Child Shall Lead," the state parent-teacher song.

The mother singers took an active part in the candle lighting ceremony at the Founder's day program. Mrs. Frank B. Creighton gave the address on "The Dream of the Founders."

Birthday cakes with candles were featured at both programs.

Those taking part were Mesdames L. W. Carrow, A. G. Duncan, W. E. Rutledge, J. O. Hall, J. C. Harrington, W. L. Goodson, E. E. Wilson, R. D. Lewis, W. I. Stephens, Earl Estep, J. B. Scarbrough, Miss Esther Berry.

This association also received second place for their story of activities at the conference. These stories were graded on addressing the chair, giving the name of the association, number of members, audibility and the story itself, with a time limit of three minutes. This story, given by Mrs. R. D. Lewis, was in clever rhyme and covered every phase of parent-teacher work in the year's activities.

Honorable mention was given the year book, which contained an outline of the programs for the year.

Delegates attending the conference were Mesdames Eugene Wilson, president-elect, C. C. Piper, Ralph Henderson, R. D. Lewis, W. L. Goodson, J. O. Harrington, W. E. Rutledge and visitors from the community were Mrs. A. G. Duncan and Mrs. C. W. Delp.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 pounds. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 pounds—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way.

"I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which in August last were Bust 40, hips 43½, waist 33½ inches which is normal for my height, which is 5ft. 3 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. R., London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—but down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—

But remember this: to take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Allison's Drug Store or any drug store in the world and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not joyfully satisfy you—why money back.—Adv.

Mrs. Ben Oneal Austin Mothers' Guest Speaker

One of the most interesting talks of the year was given by Mrs. Ben G. Oneal at the Austin School Parent-Education club which met Friday morning at the schoolhouse.

Choosing as her subject "Government in Child Welfare," Mrs. Oneal gave an address that left no doubt in the minds of mothers of the importance of the child welfare bill.

She stated that the first child welfare conference was held during Roosevelt's administration and that this small conference inaugurated the child welfare movement which led President Hoover to call the conference of 1930, in which suggestions were made to do things for the child not possible in the home.

The importance of the child welfare bill was stressed by the speaker in the statement that one-third of the children of the United States are defective and 8,070 of that number are not receiving proper treatment.

Due to the fact that the machine age gives children as well as adults more leisure time, that age was named as the cause of the greatest problems. According to Mrs. Oneal, some of the greatest influences to be studied are motion pictures, automobiles and the unemployment situation. She suggested a plan that mothers may follow in the betterment of motion pictures. The motion picture companies employ Miss Alice Ames Winters to represent women in Hollywood. If parent-teacher associations and federated clubs express their desires and opinions to Miss Winters by letter, they make a movement toward improvement.

A proposed amendment to the state constitution was explained by the speaker, who said that by this amendment, all homesteads in the state up to $3,000 assessed value, shall be exempt from taxation. She stressed the fact that the passage of this amendment would help stabilize the home and promote home ownership.

State Welfare

The state welfare bill, Mrs. Oneal said, comes as a direct result of the White House conference; a special welfare board consisting of three members has been created; each county is to have a board consisting of seven members to serve without pay; the duty of the county will be to look after the orphans, illegitimate and abandoned children. $30,000 has been appropriated to be used by the state board, with the help of the counties, in this work. Mrs. Oneal urged that parent-teacher groups be interested in the appointment of wide awake and interested persons to serve on this board. She explained how the state was protected in case a child is defective, by a bond of $1,000 that must be made by children brought from out of the state for adoption. In closing the speaker urged that mothers be thankful for the child welfare bill, strive to help those about them and above all, give happiness to less fortunate people.

Mrs. R. L. Underwood discussed "Motion Pictures," from a child welfare magazine article and Mrs. E. H. Ames, chairman of the study club, announced the next meeting to be held April 26, at which time Miss Mary Quinn, executive secretary of the tuberculosis clinic, will talk.

Those present were Mesdames Ben G. Oneal, J. B. King, E. H. Jackson, E. H. Ames, J. T. Watson, W. P. Griffis, O. F. Bagwell, Ray Keith, R. L. Underwood, C. A. Vaught, Martin Smith and J. R. Kolb and Miss Bessie Stewart.

Nutrition Service Works With May Day Child Health Day

By MRS. HARRY TEN BRINK
Chairman Nutrition Service, Wichita County Red Cross

The May-Day Child Health day program this year is very closely associated with the objectives of the nutrition service of the American Red Cross. The three points upon which attention will be especially given are the nutrition of children, the importance of a safe supply of milk, and the protection of motherhood.

Neither one alone can assure it. In stressing community responsibility and cooperation the fact is recognized that one of the weaknesses of community cooperation as now practiced is the failure of the home in many instances to realize that it has a major role to play in the community program. Perhaps the nutrition of the child is more dependent upon the home than any one factor. If this is true the community is often called to present such nutrition facts as is needed for this home program. The safety of the milk supply lies farther from the home. It is secured not so much from the effort of one home but from combined efforts from many homes. The protection of motherhood is both an economic and civic duty. The value of the care a mother is able to insure for her child physically as well as socially cannot be measured.

The findings of the White House conference from the basis of the suggestions for the observance for May day programs. These findings as you know have been summed up in a general way in the Children's charter and it is desired that the 19 points be put into practice in every community. To make it more specific all groups and workers interested in the health of the child are urged to carry their plans to include something that will further these needs of the child. The American Red Cross is one of the many national organizations cooperating in the observance of this day.

The nutrition service has as its goal the health of the family desiring that every member have the highest health possible for him; further, it desires, that as far as possible, a community made up of healthy families.

Dr. Heyman Is Speaker P.-T. A. Health Meet

Dr. J. A. Heyman was the principal speaker at an enthusiastic meeting of the Reagan Junior High School Parent-Teacher association when a "health" program was observed. The speaker said that good health is dependent upon three main things, the mental capacity of the individual; his adaptability to environment, and his capacity to strive for health by means of his own resourcefulness and by means of medical advice.

Dr. Heyman said that most of the patients frequenting the office of physicians are suffering from imaginary ills, rather than from organic troubles. He stated that imaginary troubles or worry reacts on the mind in such a way as to make the patient believe she must have a bodily ill. He spoke of the importance of keeping the home cheerful and free of petty bickerings, as most of these cases can be traced to early nervous impressions given the patient in childhood. He gave examples of how many illnesses are caused by mental suggestion alone, and urged that every one practice the habit of cheerfulness in his everyday contact with his fellowman. He stressed the importance of taking time for proper habits of living, and closed his talk by suggesting that everybody keep busy, that idleness gives too much time for people to imagine that they are sick.

Mrs. O. R. Dunn opened the meeting with a splendid devotional, and during a brief business session which followed the program, Mrs. Walter Daugherty reported on the organization of the Wichita Falls Civic Music association movement, and asked the teachers to inform their students about the immunization for typhoid, smallpox and diphtheria, which will be furnished by the state to those children whose families are unable to secure medical care.

Miss Virginina Tabb reported on the outcome of the interscholastic Latin tournament in which students of the John H. Reagan participated and said that the school won one cup and two second places.

The team winning the cup was composed of Ruby Yeakley and Irene Jones of the low eighth; Elizabeth McGee won second place in the essay contest, and Ferrell Von Trotho also won a second place. The P.-T. A. financed this trip of the Reagan students to Paducah where the tournament was held.

A charming group of readings was given by Chaney Gale Hinze, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Hinze, which were enthusiastically received.

The association voted to pay manual training fees for worthy boys so that they can keep the articles of furniture that they make in the shop.

Mrs. Carr's room received the attendance prize.

AMUSEMENTS

'Girl Crazy' Featured at Majestic '—But the Flesh Is Weak,' on Tuesday 'Amateur Daddy' Showing at State

Pepped up to the cadence of rippling Gershwin melodies, a merry melange of comedy opened at the Majestic Friday in RKO-Radio Pictures' all star comedy, "Girl Crazy."

The film which marks the rebirth of film comedies made under the new ideal sound reproducing conditions, presents one of the finest all-star comedy casts of the season in a screen rendition of the famous Broadway extravaganza of the same name.

Heading the imposing array of talent are the inimitable Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, who start the film as city slickers and wind up as rough and ready westerners. Eddie Quillan carries the romantic lead of a girl crazy youth who transforms a respectable cattle ranch into a whoopee dude ranch. Mitzi Green, Hollywood's child mimic wonder, plays a pestiforous little sister and the romance and beauty brigade is headed by Dorthy Lee, Arline Judge, Kitty Kelly and Lita Chevret. Stanley Fields and Chrisp Pin Martin play the shoot and run villains.

To add to your enjoyment you will see a special short subject entitled, "War in China," "Trouble Shots" with Bobby Jones and Majestic news events.

"—But the Flesh Is Weak"

Comedy in the continental manner will be seen at the Majestic when Robert Montgomery's newest picture, "—But the Flesh Is Weak," begins its run next Tuesday at that playhouse.

C. Aubrey Smith, who played in "Tarzan, the Ape Man," "Bachelor Father" and other films, plays the hero's father; Nils Asther, after a long absence from the screen, returns to play a Russian prince, and Edward Everett Horton, Frederick Kerr and other players of prominence appear in the new offering.

In addition you will see "The Dunker," a Billy House comedy; "Red Headed Baby," a Vitaphone act, and Paramount news events.

"Behind the Mask"

"Behind the Mask" is a shocker that will shock even those who are naturally equipped with mental shock absorbers. This Columbia picture that opens next Friday at the Majestic theater is terrifying, electrifying, horrifying, mystifying! It's a daring tale of horror that will glue you to your seat with fright, but at the same time fascinate you.

To ad to your enjoyment you will see "Speed in Gay Nineties," a comedy; "Practice Shots," featuring Bobby Jones and Majestic news events.

And that is not all. Starting Saturday on the stage, you will see the Chicago Follies and there will be a special midnight show Saturday night at 11:30 p. m. with the Chicago Follies on the stage and with a complete change of program including the feature picture, "Cohens and Kellys in Hollywood."

"AMATEUR DADDY" AT THE STATE STARTING SUNDAY

Similar in many ways to the outstanding role he played a few months ago in "Daddy Long Legs" opposite Janet Gaynor, Warner Baxter comes to the State today for a three-day engagement in "Amateur Daddy," but this time with a different, but equally as charming a young lady playing the leading feminine role. She is Marion Nixon. "Amateur Daddy" is one of those pictures that appeals to every member of the family. It has the light cheerful romance that puts a smile on the face and joy in the heart of every one who sees it. It has the he-man action commonly known in Warner Baxter's previous pictures and for the kiddies, they're going to get a great "thrill" out of the juvenile characters that help to make up the cast. They are Frankie Darro, and Joan Breslaw, and . . . oh, yes, we almost forgot to mention the fuzzy nosed little dog whose ability to make people laugh rivals that of any of the great comedians of the day.

Baxter is seen in "Amateur Daddy" as a constructive engineer, pushing his men beyond endurance in the erection of a bridge. An accident which follows results in the death of a dear friend and assistant. Filled with remorse and sympathy, Baxter goes in search of the family left behind by his friend, determined to give them the care they were rightfully entitled to. Incidentally the family name is "Smith" and Baxter finds three "Smith" families, all of whom need the care of a father. We'll leave the rest to your imagination.

"The Sins of Madelon Claudet"

Wednesday the feature attraction will be "The Sins of Madelon Claudet," featuring an all star cast including Helen Hayes, Neil Hamilton, Lewis Stone, Cliff Edwards, Marie Prevost and Jean Hersholt. The story of "The Sins of Madelon Claudet" is one of tremendous emotional sweek, depicting the melodramatic career of a woman who sinks to the lowest depths of humanity for the sake of her child. But to offset the tragic background of the story, it has a riotous comedy team that keeps you in high spirits throughout the entire picture.

"The Gay Cabellero"

Saturday for one day only the State offers "The Gay Cabellero" featuring George O'Brien in the leading role and supported by Walter McLaglen and Conchita Montenegro. The story was taken from a very popular Cosmopolitan magazine serial by Tom Gill, commonly known in literary circles as the "second" Zane Grey.

'Private Lives' Coming to Gem Starts Sunday

The screen version of "Private Lives" will open Sunday at the Gem theater for two days. Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery are costarred in the production in the roles played in the Broadway version by Noel Coward and Gertrude Lawrence. Prominent supporting roles are filled by Reginald Denny, Una Merkel, Jean Hersholt and George Davis.

This delicious farce, which depends almost as much for its humor on its amusing dialog as its riotous action, concerns the diverting complications which arise when a divorced couple makes another try at marriage with fresh partners and find themselves sharing adjoining suites on their second honeymoons.

Rough House Action

A good share of the action is taken up in fights between the respective husbands and spouses. These are by no means restricted to verbal battle and as a consquence movie patrons will be treated to the unusual sight of viewing Miss Shearer and Montgomery wrestling with each other, rolling around on the floor and hitting each other over the head with victrola records. Miss Merkel and Denny, likewise, are given opportunities at the gentle art of hurling crockery as well as the most appalling epithets. The whole thing is done in the engaging satirical vein for which Noel Coward is famous.

Short Reviews of New Books

Youth's Violent Years

Just as "This Is the Missus" is different from "Believe me if all those endearing young charms" so the life of the rich as depicted by Felicia Gizycka is not like that portrayed by such a writer as Olive Higgins Prouty. Whereas Prouty sings a sweet romantic melody about her aristocrats, Gizycka presents a mad jazz tune, realistic in trend, about her society modern.

Gizycka, whose first book, "The House of Violence," has been published by Scribners, writes of the violent years of youth through which her heroine, Connie, emerges. A double wedding in which two sisters, Marcia and Elida Jones, are married to two brothers, Hadley and John Brandon, opens the plot of the story. Not many paragraphs later one realizes that the marriages have been arranged (and badly arranged) by a managing parent.

The foursome go together to New York for a honeymoon where John and Marcia leave together for a while. Eventually both couples divorce each other and both homes are disputed despite Connie and Millicent, children of Hadley, and Christopher, the child of John.

Connie's childhood as an unattractive child who suffers because of her unpopularity, who bullies her sister, and who has to cope with the violent temper fits of a father who is drunk most of the time form the nucleus for the next parts of the story. She falls in love with her double cousin, Christopher, and is to marry him until her mother returns and brings the story to its climax.

This author uses the stream of consciousness method of telling the reactions of her characters, and in spite of the careful punctuation it is difficult to follow her quick jumps from the action of her story to the thoughts which her characters are having.

Here is a fair example of Gizycka's descriptions:

"She looked as though she'd been modeled slowly, because the sculptor couldn't keep his hands off such perfection."

By reading the jacket of the book one learns that Felicia Gizycka was born in 1905 at Blansco, Austria. She is the daughter of Eleanor Medill Patterson and Count Gizycka, a Russian Pole who became an Austrian citizen when he entered the cavalry of that country. She came to the United States at four when her mother divorced her father.

Her mother (writing as Eleanor Gizycka) wrote "Glass Houses" and "Full Flight."

The author of "House of Violence" was reared in Washington and Chicago and was educated in Virginia. She is married, divorced, has one child. She now lives in New York and has stated that her next novel will be about life in that city.

With the Magazines

By L. N. C.

There's a splendid review of Charlotte Kellogg's biographical romance, "Jadwiga, Poland's Great Queen," in the April Good Housekeeping magazine in the "Good Books," selected by Emily Newell Blair. It makes us glad we were quite as enthusiastic over the same book in a review we wrote some three months ago. It is nice to have celebrities agree with one.

"God Gave Me a Son" concludes the "Bad Boy" series by Jennie Harris Oliver in the same magazine. It is a good enough story to leave the reader with a lump in the throat and tear dimmed eyes—happy at that.

And in our own opinion, quite the opposite effect is that tale of the newly famed William Faulkner of Mississippi in the April Harper's magazine—a tale called "Smoke." Mr. Faulkner has an infinite capacity for selecting themes that leave one disgusted with men who are "twisted shapes." He does not appeal to one reader and reviewer.

The editorial in Collier's of April 16, "Something to Bank On," is worth thoughtful reading. "There were no bank failures in England last year," it starts, and the closing paragraph reads, "Think of the difference to us and to our property, if at the end of such a year as 1931, we could have said that not a single American bank had been compelled to close its doors."

Mr. Freling Foster, in the same weekly in his "Keeping Up With the World," must have been sad over our decision not to read him again because we knew everything in the column one week. He has begun to give us food for thought. For instance, "European trends: Italy has banned all beauty contests; Portugal, through overproduction, is selling wine as low as three cents a quart (would you not like to visit Portugal?), and the Paris fire department is taking movies of all conflagrations for the study and possible improvement of present fire fighting methods." Mr. Foster also says, "The Dutch government has never allowed a missionary of any creed on Bali, that enchanted isle in the Java sea, which is today one of the last spots on earth where every one is natural, carefree and serene."

Mary Roberts Rinehart has found a new field in the series of radio car police officer stories she is running in the Saturday Evening Post. With drama and adventure, she has in the current story, a rare expression of the feeling of humanity. Almost every one is interested when babies or children are touched upon.

A "Happy Husband" writes of 10 things he wishes his wife would or would not do, in the May Ladies Home Journal.

First, and this seems the only thing over which he really needs to worry, he wishes his wife would learn to handle finances seriously; second, be punctual; third, wear clothes to make her look sweet instead of stylish. (shades of Queen Victoria!); fourth, squeeze tooth paste from the bottom instead of the center of the tube; (of such are the tragedies of married life made!); fifth, leave his den alone. (and if she misplaces his papers, she does need correction); sixth, not rearrange the furniture so often, (cruel man! Rearranging furniture is almost as good as a summer trip for a woman); seventh, not try new dishes on him, (umph!); eighth, not make him play bridge each week; ninth, not make him go shopping, and 10th, not make him go to lectures that are "good for him."

The brute should be happy; he has a strong wife if she can make him do things and he still owns to happiness.

"Some one," writes the joy of our heart, in the New Yorker's "The Talk of the Town," "tried to sell us an electric clock recently, but we balked. A clock that has no faithfulness is singularly unattractive to us as a timepiece. We doubt if we could live with a clock that was always right, any more than with a person who was always right." The writer of these editorials may be a man, but male or female, he would make an everlastingly interesting friend.

The same writer tells of the wife of a prominent baby specialist who found a sick baby in an Italian family whom she visited regularly. She called her husband who went to see the baby, found a minor ailment and noting the family was impoverished, enclosed a $20 bill with the prescription he handed the Italian mother. Two or three days later, the doctor and his wife went again to see the family and found the baby quite well. Looking about he saw a bottle of patent medicine.

"Where did this come from?" said he. "From da doctor," the parent explained. "Before you come, we got no money to fix up da baby. My husband take the twenty dollar, and get a doctor, and da doctor give him da medicine. Now, everything O. K."

L. L. in "On and Off the Avenue" tells of everything from simple smart dresses one may purchase starting at only about $75 and concludes with the tip top drink measuren put out by an American firm which put in a bottle as a cork, automatically fills up with exactly enough whisky for one highball, and, pours exactly one. In these days, whence comes the whisky?

One of the most interesting things in the April Harpers Magazine to this reader was an article "Confessions of an M. P.," by Mary Agnes Hamilton, who should go back to the house, according to our idea of her. We quote an opinion of hers that tickled us mightily:

"When an unfriendly journalist said to me, 'MacDonald is the greatest British actor since Garrick,' he thought he was disposing of him, as did many of his hearers. His stared at me, as though I were talking in my sleep, when I suggested that any and every leading politician could be described as an actor, although some of them played their chosen parts better than others; that, for instance, Mr. Baldwin had cast himself as the 'plain man,' with his pipe, his false appearance of simplicity, and his insistence on being the British gentleman, and had worked himself thoroughly now into a role from which he could not escape if he would; or that Mr. Churchill's career had been largely determined by his early adoption of the part of enfant terrible."

"I do not pretend," she writes, "that I have learned how to speak in the house, but I have at least learned how not to!" Would you not agree that is a crowning achievement of woman in public as well as in private?

We quote also three paragraphs from the Pathfinder's April 16 "Americana."

"President Hoover urging the public to buy new autos and Vice President Curtis formally opening the sales campaign of a certain auto manufacturer!

"Politicians leaving the bringing back of prosperity to the taxpayers.

Using a stretcher to convey a man dying from heart trouble and tuberculosis to Bellefontaine, Pa., to electrocue him for murder!"

Under the head of "Science" discussed each week by this periodical, we read:

"Farmers whose corn yield has been hit by the devastating work of the corn borer can hope for some measure of relief. Natural enemies of this European pest are being introduced in increasing numbers into the United States. In 1931 approximately 371,000 imported corn borer parasites were liberated in infested areas by entomologists of the department of agriculture. In the past 16 years more than 4,500,000 of these parasites have been liberated. Twelve of the 20 different species liberated have been recovered in the field indicating that they are becoming established."

'Human Stupidity'

A Short Introduction to the History of Human Stupidity by Walter B. Pitkin is a new book announced by Simon and Schuster.

Professor Pitkin's chronicle covers the entire span of history—touching on the highest promonteries of human error.

He sees mankind moving like a blind and stricken beast further downward into bogs of dullness, inferiority and miserable bungling.

He sees three out of four members of our species worthy of dishonorable mention in his odyssey of obtuseness.

He estimates, roughly, that there are one billion four hundred million persons in some respect stupid enough to be worthy of mention in this titantic roll call.

He sees fads, superatitions, cults, quackeries, swindles and dull stupidities holding their own, if not actually increasing over the western world.

He unrolls the pageant of history and sees the same endless caravan of home stultus dawn through the ages.

He sees it in emperors and in serfs, in field marshals and in peons, in multi-millionaires and in charlatans, in mountebanks and in cannon fodder—the infinite legion of potentates and man in the street.

He gives all the intimate and fascinating details in all his case-histories.

He spares neither sage nor savant.

He calls a fool a fool, and gives the authentic particulars we all crave to know.

He names names and mentions places.

Individuals can learn much and empires can trace their destiny in this short introduction to the history of human stupidity.

We must read it to see how we classify. It will be published in April.

PEEPING AT NEW BOOKS THROUGH UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

LITERARY KNOT-HOLE

By LORENA DRUMMOND

UNCONVENTIONALITY A HUNDRED YEARS AGO

This purports to be the authentic autobiography of the famous Peggy Eaton, about whom the political pyrotechnics burst during the troubled years of Jackson's first administration. The indomitable Mrs. Eaton was supposed to have dictated the manuscript in 1873, when she was 74 years of age. When completed, the manuscript was given to Rev. Charles F. Deems of New York, the pastor of the church which she attended for some time. He advised postponement of publication. At his death, the document passed to his son, also a minister, who also died before its publication. There exists, of course, grave possibility that this is not a genuine document, though I doubt not that the publishers who bring it out have satisfied themselves as to its authenticity. Because an hundred years have passed since this stormy controversy raged throughout this country, I can see no valid reason why the names of many of the actice participants are omitted. The book would be much more exhaustive if editorial notes had been included. The absence of such notes and the more or less mysterious explanation of its origin create some doubt as to the historicity of the whole document.

Margaret Eaton had the fortune of misfortune of being born too early or too late. Reaching physical maturity in the schismatic twenties her personal actions became the subject of slanderous conversation. Puritanism, more evangelical, more intolerant than ever, was standing on its hind-legs, pawing the air in frenzy of uplift. Into this milieu came Margaret O'Neil, the free spirit, the daring, sweet little spitfire, who cared not one whit for the rules of social decorum. In her over-dramatized and foolhardy behavior, she reminds one of the modern doctrinaire feminists who, leaning over backward, prefer to galvanize their own utter disregard for the traditional social mores to the point of creating a distinctive cult of nothing more sumstantial than their own ineffective unconventionality. Poor Margaret was forced, by circumstance, to play a solitary role. There was none other who could match her in originality of action and adventurousness of spirit. General Jackson may well have thanked the fates that he had only one secretary of war with a wife such as Peggy O'Neil Timberlake Eaton.

In this contentious and prejudiced account, a new picture of Jackson is outlined. To Peggy Eaton, Andrew Jackson was the greatest American who ever lived. He is shown as conciliator, moderator, as a protector of an innocent woman from base and unjustified slander, as one who studied the course of his future action. Thus, the traditional characterization of Jackson as a fool of passion, as an impetuous, rash, domineering, heroic figure is slightly leavened. He becomes more lovable when cast in the mold of genuine nobility. Because, as Jackson believed, Mrs. Jackson had been forced into her grave by equally malignant slander, he naturally supported Mrs. Eaton.

The persecution of Peggy Eaton, largely the product of political expediency and her own foolhardiness, is now of little importance, except as an understanding of it may serve to make the dominant motives of those maligners of public figures less fugitive to our grasp. I doubt if we, as a people, have purged ourselves of the capacity and of the pleasure of becoming obsessed with the head-hunting mania, that featured this spectacular episode of a hundred years ago. If a prospective cabinet member were to marry a woman, who had worn her widow's weeds for only four months, tongues would wag again and with abandon. The right of a public man to live his own life in his own way is not absolute, and probably never will be in this democracy. The right to criticize a public official is an inalienable right of an American citizen, as inviolable as the right of bleacherites to hurl epithets out across the baseball stadium. Peggy Eaton was merely the victim of a hail of "razz-berries" from the political opponents of President Jackson. That she was victimized is incontradictable; that she resented it is only natural.

By DR. CORTEZ A. M. EWING, associate professor of government, University of Texas, (visiting from University of Oklahoma).

A Dramatic Life Story

"SAMUEL SEABURY, A CHALLENGE," by Walter Chambers. (The Century company, New York. $2.50.)

A tale of 20th century adventure in the world of reality that in form is decidedly readable and in content is at the same time amazing, bewildering, disgusting and inspiring is "Samuel Seabury—A Challenge," by Walter Chambers, newspaper man and political writer. Whether for enjoyment of for more serious contemplation of the flaws in our present political and social mechanisms, the reading of the book will furnish several hours of diversion with few dull moments.

Is is dramatic a life story as anywhere discoverable in American history. From childhood, with its strict character-building discipline grounding in reading and experiences that were just the thing to bring out a naturally strong mind, through the successive steps of young lawyer, city judge, state supreme justice and crusader for social reform, one sees the spirit of Samuel Seabury diving forward through the maze of social and political confusion, incredible corruption, and degradation of human nature almost unbelievable for 20th century society, with the hard but worthy goal of safely established fundamental human rights ever ahead. Here are pictured a strong purpose and a clear conception of the rights of the common man in the fight against privilege and greed—a personality that knows no defeat in temporary setbacks on the road of human justice.

Born and reared in the big city of New York in the very shadow of the age of Boss Tweed and early Tammany, schooled in the arduous tasks of battling the astonishing corruption of the succeeding Croker and Murphy dynasties, who could be more fit to fight the battles of the people in 1932 against the equally astonishing corruptions of the Tammany of Sheriff Farley, of the wholesale buying of magistracies and legal powers, of the muiciting of thousands of innocents, many of them visitors, on trumped up vice charges, of political swindles that are rocking the very foundations of our political and social stability? All the way one sees this independent Democratic spirit aligning itself with the powers for good, whether of one party or of another—getting its inspiration first from Cleveland and Tilden, then from Teddie Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

In his management of campaigns and in his courtroom methods Seabury demonstrates an insight into the psychology of law and politics that contains many lessons for any one interested in these fields. Chambers may in places idealize his hero a bit too much, but there is ample material which makes the reader feel the genuineness of every bit of the story.

If one likes to read for amusement, the book is not without its merits. The fiction writer would have to think a long time to manufacture more laugh-provoking situations than those brought out in the most naive testimony of Sheriff Farley and his gang in seeking to explain how $6,000 salaries made possible $100,000 bank accounts. Also the keen-witted thrusts of Seabury himself as he quickly analyses tactics of opponents make one see readily why the Tammany crowd is now so anxious to build up the fiction that Seabury is just using the investigation of office-holders as a means to ride into higher office. Yes, the story of Samuel Seabury is interesting and inspiring enough for anybody who still has hopes that the virus of corruption in our society may some time be conquered.

Maids and Mistresses

Beatrice Kean Seymour, whose "MAIDS AND MISTRESSES" (Knopf) is the May choice of The Book League of America, writes:

"I was a judicially-minded child; the scales were everlastingly in my young hands. I had a passion for justice and a most touching belief in other people's passion for it. I saw life as the poets of our Anglo-Saxon forefathers saw it, in simple lines of black and white, and I think I never quite forgave the fates for giving to the genus boy by simple virtue of birth something which, for the same arbitrary reason, I could never hope to share. Not that I ever really believed that. You couldn't believe a thing as silly as all that. But it roused in me a fighting spirit that probably accounted for the fact that as a child I had no boyfriends at all. I believe I never really liked a single boy of my schooldays. Perhaps you cannot really like people of whom you are perpetually in a state of envy; perhaps my analytical faculty was even then awake and pondering over the strangeness of envying the folk you despised. But neither, I fancy, did boys much like me. They wrote me no love letters. Perhaps my proud and haughty spirit even then affronted their masculine dignity; perhaps I retaliated too hard when my hair was pulled, resented too bitterly their eternal gibe 'You're only a girl!' Or perhaps it was merely that I was a really objectionable, stuck-up child!"

The STORY OF SUE

By Margery Hale

Sue wondered why she couldn't accept Ruth's story that Arnold Page's check had been destroyed. Of course it had. And if it hadn't, it would be picked up and thrown say. Just the same, she suddenly made up her mind to call the bank and have payment stopped on it, if it should come in.

She reached for the telephone. She couldn't quite make the directory. She had to try several times. When she hunted for the number the words swam together. She pushed it away.

Ruth came in just as she did so.

"Will you call the bank for me?" Sue asked. "That check is worrying me. I know it's all right, but . . ."

"On what bank was it drawn?" Ruth asked.

Sue changed her mind suddenly. "Don't call. It's the bank where my father used to work. I would just be getting some curious interest aroused. Forget it."

Several days passed. Sue was well again. Ruth was undecided about her future. Grace wrote that she had a secretarial position for a few weeks. She wondered if Sue had seen Jimmie and Natalie Webber. Jack was being detained on his case longer than he had thought. Sue's father and mother were coming to her house now. She was going home for her daily visits. But she still felt that her mother held the conviction that she, not Corrinne, had erred. She had not mentioned the affair of the money. She knew that Corrinne had kept still about that, too.

And then Arnold Page came home.

Along about twilight one day the long car turned in at the Thornton drive. Sue, idly reading, and wishing that there was something that she could do to make the time go faster, saw the car coming.

"Good looking car," Ruth observed. "I wonder who's driving it? I never saw it before."

"I hope whoever it is takes us driving," Sue answered. "I feel stuffy from staying in so long. I must see about the insurance on our car tomorrow. It will be ready in a day or two."

The car had stopped. The girls, watching through the window, saw a tall figure swing itself to the ground. Swing itself with the aid of crutches.

"Arnold Page," Sue said. "He came to offer sympathy because I turned a somesault. But it is nice of him."

Page came in. He was very charming. Very courteous. Very solicitious about Sue's health and Ruth's health.

Sue remembered the check. She must tell him about it. Of course he would think that she was very stupid and careless. Still, she would feel better when he understood that she had tried to destroy it.

She was just starting to speak when there was the low, silvery siren of another car. A long gray motor flashed through the drive. Came to an easy stop. Sue noticed that a liveried chauffeur was driving. Nancy! She almost said the word out loud. She knew that Page, from his position with his back to the window, had not noticed. She wondered how he would react to Nancy's presence. How Nancy would react to his. This was the first time that the older woman had been out of the house since her own accident. Sue knew. She really wasn't able to leave her room yet. She must have been unbearably restless to come. Sue's thoughts went on. She stood up. Crossed the floor. Opened the door for Nancy.

If Your Child Won't Eat Vegetables

—Here's How To Make Him Hungry For Them

By creating the sensation of hunger, by furnishing added nourishment —Ovaltine often increases a child's weight a pound a week or more.

A Swiss Discovery Actually Creates "Vegetable-Hunger." Makes Children Eat Such Foods as Spinach, Lettuce, Carrots Without Coaxing—Increases Their Liking for Milk And Adds Nourishment and Digestibility to Every Bite They Take!

Accept Sample Package . . . Learn How This Swiss Creation Solves The Problem of The "Poor Eater"

HERE is an amazing, natural way to make "poor eaters" hungry. Not just "tempt" the appetite but actually create the sensation of hunger.

A way to make a child relish any normal, healthful food; even such vegetables as spinach, carrots and lettuce—and to double the amount of milk he'll willingly drink each day.

It is a remarkable discovery from Switzerland, leader in child-welfare research. It is called Ovaltine. You simply give it mixed with milk, either hot or cold. And children love its taste.

How It Makes "Fussy Eaters" Hungry

Ovaltine is created by a special, vacuum process which makes it utterly different from any other food-drink in the world.

First—besides being extremely nourishing and easy to digest—it is particularly rich in the appetite-producing Vitamin B.

Second—and much more important—Ovaltine contains a high proportion of a remarkable food property called "diastase." This substance has the power to digest the starch content of other foods in the stomach. Ovaltine will actually digest 4 to 5 times its own weight of starch in other foods a child eats. No other general health food in the world has this power.

This means that Ovaltine not only aids a child's digestion, but speeds up the processes and empties the stomach sooner. This makes a child hungry. For hunger is a sensation caused by the walls of an empty stomach drawing together.

Quicker Digestion

This speeding up of the digestive processes is tremendously important. For specialists will tell you that the child with slow digestion is the one who eats poorly—who shuns vegetables—who objects to drinking milk.

But once digestive processes are accelerated by the diastatic action of Ovaltine, a definite change takes place. You see the result immediately. The old objection to everyday foods gradually disappears. And even a "vegetable-hunger" is built up day by day.

Milk, too, is taken twice as readily when it is mixed with Ovaltine. And Ovaltine has a delicious taste that the fussiest child is unable to resist.

See For Yourself

Today Ovaltine is used in thousands of hospitals and sanitariums. During the World War, it was used as a standard ration for rebuilding nerve-shattered, shell-shocked soldiers.

For this delicious food-drink digests almost without effort. Thus it is a tremendous aid to weak stomachs. And is digested and assimilated quickly when nothing else "agrees."

Already this extraordinary scientific creation has received the approval of more than 20,000 doctors. Not only does it make "fussy" children eat, but (when given regularly) it curbs nervousness to a marked degree. And usually puts weight on a child at the rate of a pound a week or more!

For the sake of your child, we urge you to try Ovaltine. Results will surprise you. Notice the immediate difference in appetite—in the way he acts at meals. Note, too, the increase in weight, in nerve poise and in strength.

Give Ovaltine at breakfast always. At meals, and between meals. Simply mix it with milk—either hot or cold—directions are on the can.

You can get Ovaltine at any drug or grocery store. Or, if you like, send the coupon for a sample package.

"In 1929, I Couldn't Have Built This Car"

WALTER P. CHRYSLER TELLS HOW THE NEW AND FINER PLYMOUTH WAS MADE

Two years ago, the New Plymouth could not have been built. If you had told me then that such a big, powerful, beautiful automobile could be made to sell for as low as $495, I'd have said, "Impossible."

But the depression gave us an entirely new viewpoint.

We realized that if Plymouth was going to take part in the big parade, we must think faster, work harder and build better than we'd ever thought, worked and built before.

Fortunately, we had the stuff to work with—the experience, the engineering brains, the modern production methods.

It wasn't an easy job we tackled, but now it's done, I can't help but take pride in its accomplishment.

The New Plymouth, I honestly believe, is the finest low-priced automobile that ever rolled off any assembly line, bar none.

Just compare it with the other two cars in its price class. You'll agree the Plymouth is a bigger car, a better-looking car, a longer car, a finer car.

Look at all three cars in the lowest price-field and don't buy any until you do. That's the sure way to get the most for your money.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL DEDICATE NEW BUILDING

New Edifice First Southern Presbyterian Church Opposite College

ERECT BUILDING WITHOUT INDEBTEDNESS ANY SUM

Dr. Gaines B. Hall, Pastor Past Six Years, in Charge Of Dedication

By W. L. UNDERWOOD

Housed after several years of planning and persistent accumulation of funds in a new home, the congregation of the First Southern Presbyterian church will dedicate its recently completed building at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.

Dr. Gaines B. Hall, who resigned his post as home missionary worker in the Dallas presbytery more than six years ago to become pastor here, will officiate in the dedication ceremonies. The church is located upon a large plot of ground opposite the Junior college building, a site procured by the congregation in 1926 as a permanent location.

The structure recently completed provides the congregation with an auditorium capable of seating approximately 300 persons, and with four large rooms for class and departmental work of the Sunday school and other organizations in the church.

Following the Spanish style of architecture, the edifice presents an unusually attractive appearance. It is finished in light face brick, with a dark green roof. Windows are finished with ornate Roman arches. The floor plan forms a T. Sunday school classrooms and departmental rooms extending across the rear of the building to form a wing on each side. The church is set back a considerable distance from the streets in anticipation of a larger edifice to be built at some future time on the corner. Landscaping of the extensive lawn already has begun, and is expected to provide that section with permanent beautification.

Finished with insulite and celotex, the interior of the auditorium follows a color scheme of light grey and tan. Walls are of grey, the ceiling of the lightest tan, and woodwork is of pearl grey. Excellent acoustical properties have been obtained in construction of the room. The auditorium provides also a spacious choir loft with places for 18 singers, elevated slightly in the rear of the pulpit.

Thoroughly Modern

The new building is thoroughly modern in every respect. Ventilation and lighting are of the most up-to-date design. Oak floors prevail throughout the structure. A completely-equipped kitchen has been built in the rear of the building, with convenient connections to the large east wing room.

The present location of the First Southern Presbyterian church is the third upon which it has been established here during the history of this city. Originally, the congregation used a small building near the corner of Tenth and Travis streets. As the city grew westward, the church moved to Eleventh and Bluff, where it was maintained until 1925. With the further growth of Wichita Falls, territory which earlier had been a remote rural section became the Highland addition. Into that thickly settled residential district the church went for its third and permanent location, choosing the present site across the street from the high school and Junior college building.

Local citizens have remarked the unusual feature of holding a dedication within one week after the building first was opened for use. No debt was incurred, however, by the congregation in erecting its new home. For five years, members of the church have been contributing regularly to a building fund. Early this year the building committee was authorized by the congregation to, convert the tabernacle into a permanent structure. Work began about the first of March. The completed property represents an investment of about $20,000, and is entirely paid for.

Officers of Church

With a present membership of 232, the church has the following officers: Pastor, Dr. Gaines B. Hall; elders, J. E. H. Railey, James Biggs, George Fleming, Dr. Douglas R. Venable, F. L. Storey, J. C. CROSS-ACTION IN SUIT ASKS $7,000,000 DAMAGES

HOUSTON, April 16. (AP)—The American Republics corporation asked damages totaling $7,000,000 of the National City Bank of New York in a cross action and answer, filed in district court here today, to a suit on a note, filed by the bank against the corporation on March 21.

In the original petition filed by the National City bank, the bank claimed the American Republics corporation owed it $497,490.78, plus interest, on promissory notes past due, and asked judgment for that amount.

The answer filed today by the corporation denied the bank's allegations, and asked $2,000,000 actual damages and $5,000,000 exemplary or punitive damages.

WICHITANS FIND 'PEP' ON THEIR DOORSTEPS

Several thousand breakfast-size packages of Kellogg's pep bran were left at the doors of Wichita Falls homes. J. A. Besides Pep, Kellogg features five other products, Corn Flakes, Whole Wheat Biscuits, Wheat Krumbles, Rice Krispies and All-Bran.

WILL ROGERS

CONGRESS DOES ITS WORST

(Copyright 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

By WILL ROGERS

Well all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what I see, but sure havent seen much lately. You would think anybody living out here this near to Hollywood would see quite a bit. Lots of folks come from far and wide to look us over, but I think they go back kinder disappointed. Hollywood for real up and doing is mighty delicatassen.

Depression has hit the devilment just like it has hit everything else. The persuit of life and liberty has been checked by this slow return to "Normalcy". So as I say I havent seen much lately. Keeping mighty close to home, riding the old Ponies out in the hills and looking Nature over and seeing how it was making out during this long spell of Republicanism. It just looks like everything is doing fine but humans. Animals are having a great year, grass was never higher, flowers were never more in bloom, trees are throwing out an abundance of shade for us to loaf under. Everything the Lord has a hand in is going great, but the minute you notice anything that is in any way under the supervision of man, why its "cockeyed".

And the more men that have anything to do with trying to right a thing why the worse off it is. If every man was left absolutely to his own method of wrighting his own affairs why a big majority would get it done. But he can't do that. The Government has not only hundreds but literally thousands in Washington to see that no man can personally tend to his own business. They go there to do it for him, and a mob always gets panicky quicker than an individual. They hear so much of how bad things are, and that something should be done, and they immediately feel that its up to them to do it, so they just get up in the morning determined to pass some bills that day that will attempt to do something. They dont know if they will or not, but they were sent there to pass bills, so they get to passing em.

That was one of the great things about Coolidge. Coolidge never thought half the things that are wrong needing fixing. You knew that over half the things just needed leaving alone. Its like writing a letter to everybody you hear from. He knew that if you leave nine tenths of em alone it dident need answering. Now here a couple of weeks ago Congress broke out and they just gloried in their devilment. If some one could point out anyone that looked like a rich man going down the street, why they just passed a search and seizure bill, and went out and not only plucked him, but added a little tar and feathers when they turned him loose. Well they got everybody sore at em and the big ones said, "Well if they are going to confiscate what I may earn, I just wont earn anything. Why should I take a chance investing in something when I will only be able to keep one fourth of it when I win?"

Well after Jack Garner got his strangle hold back on the boys again, and after they had sobered up, why he showed em that the Government was after all a sort of a co-operative affair, and that it wouldent be a bad idea to sort of distribute the cost around in proportion. Course everybody knows that one of our great ills today is the unequal distribution of wealth. You are either at a banquet in this country, or you are at a hot dog stand. There was no doubt that the ones with money were about the only ones that could pay anything, but after all these durn rich ones are the ones the rest of us got to live off of. If the government takes all their money in taxes it dont leave any for the folks that work for em.

Then to add to the confusion of everything Congress turned down the Sales Tax, then turned right around and had the same tax come up under a different name and passed it. Thats just like we do more things. The League of Nations everybody agreed that we had no business in it, but the first thing you know we were "advising" with em. The World Court, we wouldent put on a cap and gown, but we would sit on the bench with em. We are always doing something through the Kitchen door. We like the glory but not the responsibilities. But we are kicking along in spite of our handicaps. The East and the North got to get like the South has been for years, poor and used to it. Us folks down there have had to catch fish, or kill a possum before we eat for years. So the other part of the Country have got to learn to look to nature and to Wall Street for what goes in the pot. They got to find some other way making a living besides looking at a list of names in the paper every day. Stocks and bonds have got so now they dont go up and down only when there is a reason, not like they used to, go up and down when there was a wish on somebody's part. But the whole Country is taking it in good grace at that. If so many of em are not looking at our pictures as used too, we are mighty grateful to those that are. If they are not looking at us its because they are wise to us, and thats about the way it is with everything else.

ACTIVITY INCREASES IN WICHITA FALLS OIL DISTRICT

North Archer Producer Nine Miles From Wichita Falls Is Outstanding Feature of Week's News in Section

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Increased activity in all departments of the oil industry was reported throughout the entire district during the past week. New wells were spudded in, both in proven and in the outlying or wildcat sections. A few producers were finished in the Young, Archer and Wichita pools.

Location staked out totaled 24, these being scattered in Wichita, Young, Archer and Jack counties.

While plenty of development was under way, the outstanding feature of the week was the bringing in of the Fain-McGaha company's No. 1 fee in block 3, league 3, nine miles from Wichita Falls in north Archer county. The well, a wildcat estimated at 300 barrels, is the means of opening up a new and distinct deep pay in the Holliday area of the county. The sand was encountered at 1789 feet and was penetrated three feet. The new producer has been connected with the storage and will be given a 24-hour test to determine its actual capacity.

Development in the section of the county, four miles southwest of Archer City on the various Falls county school lands and adjoining farms, is under way in a speedy manner. Twelve wells are drilling in different stages of completion and three producers were added to that field in the last few days.

Young county's oil situation showed little change from the previous week's efforts. A number of wells are drilling in the shallow pools, two producers were finished and the usual quota of dusters was reported.

The failure of King Royalty and Bratcher to make a well from a sand at 2732 feet in their No. 1 Lowe deep test in block 15, section 3412, T. E. & L. survey, seven miles northeast of Graham, was much regretted by the operators in this area. The test, which is a diagonal south offset to the Dewey Knox, No. 1 Manning, producer, picked up the pay a little higher than the original well in the pool, but after testing had 60 feet of oil. Drilling at 2800 feet, the test will probably be abandoned.

Three Wichita Producers

Three producers were added to the number of wells in Wichita county as a result of an increase in the activities. Northeast of Electra R. R. Clark, No. 17 Bickley, in C. M. survey, is rated at 100 barrels from the 844-foot sand.

On the Waggoner Brothers land, section 8, block 6, G. H. & H. survey, C. W. Cooper and others finished No. 19 and it is showing for 95 barrels from the sand at 1346 feet. West of Iowa Park on the W. W. Overbey farm in the Sharpe survey, H. B. Hill No. 1 well is showing at 50 barrels from 1700-foot sand.

Wilbarger and Cooke counties both registered increases in the number of drilling tests but nothing of importance to the industry was reported.

In the refined market new strength was given by the advances in tank wagon prices posted by the Standard and other groups during the past few days. Throughout the mid-continent unusual strength was shown in gasoline, kerosene, fuel oil and other products.

Retail gasoline prices in the district advanced during the week when the major as well as several local refineries added one cent to the gallon at all stations. High crude prices made the raise necessary. Prevailing prices here at 21 cents for high powered brands, white 18, and combat grade 12 cents.

Pipe line runs from the pools average 49,585 barrels daily, a decrease of 267 barrels per day as compared with the previous week's runs, which were 49,852 barrels daily.

OIL MEN FIGHT TO AGAIN CURB STATE OUTPUT

Prepare to Enforce 60-Barrel Per Well Limit Over East Texas

WILL ASK DRASTIC CHECK IN SOUTH TEXAS FIELDS

Plan Campaign to Help Put Over Proposed Tariff on Oil Imports

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, April 16.—Oil men, dodging the specter of 25-cent oil, as rising production and a threatened dumping of import oil before the 42-cent duty is imposed, were taking aggressive steps here to lower Texas output and were getting ready for a 60-barrel-per-well limit in East Texas after Saturday.

E. A. Landreth, independent operator, was on his way to the Houston hearing of the railroad commission, where South Texas operators, whose 110,000-barrel output has been increased 3,000 barrels, were asked to cut the area to about 75,000 barrels a day to meet reductions in Texas fields other than East Texas.

Imports had jumped to 616,000 barrels daily and many importers had chartered ships to beat the new tariff law with huge imports, it was said.

F. G. Roeser was on his way to Washington to appear before a senate committee and urge adoption of the house tariff figures. He was urged to take part in this support of the import tax by Wirt Franklin, American Petroleum institute official.

The authority for cutting the East Texas output from 71 to 67 barrels was not applied, when it was decided the railroad commission could change the well allowables only on the first and 16th of each month. East Texas was found to be producing 343,414 barrels daily, despite the field limit of 325,000 barrels. Wells were being completed at the rate of 20 daily. Production by the end of the week was estimated to reach 345,200 barrels daily.

It was said East Texas will have to be reduced to 60 barrels daily; but at that, its 5,000 wells will produce more than those in other Texas sections. The production of the Eotor field, effective April 16, was to be 4,070 on a seven-day basis, or 51 barrels per well. Purchasers' nominations in the Howard-Glasscock field were to be cut 3,000 barrels daily. There was a reduction under way for the Hobbs, N. M., field. After the hearing in San Angelo on the Reagan county field, it was found the 25,000-barrel limit, voluntarily agreed to, was to be cut to a 23,000-barrel production.

"If the production can be brought under control and reduced to meet the threatened deluge, I believe we shall have $1.25 oil within 90 days," Mr. Landreth said at Austin.

YOUTH DIES RESULT OF AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

BRYAN, Texas, April 16. (INS)—H. J. Hortter, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hortter of near Normangee, died in a hospital here today from injuries sustained late yesterday in an automobile accident on the Madisonville road near there.

The youth was riding in a trailer en route to a fishing party when the trailer became disengaged and turned over several times.

Slight Loss Shown in Daily Pipe Line Runs

Crude oil movements from the Wichita Falls district for the week ended Saturday, April 16, averaged 49,585 barrels daily.—Compared with the week of April 9, a loss of approximately 267 barrels per day was registered. All pools showed only small changes from the preceding seven-day period.

The North Texas division, composed of Haskell, Jack, Throckmorton and the south half of Young county averaged 5,750 barrels daily a loss of 90 barrels per day under the runs, in the week before. Below are the deliveries by pools:

PACE PRODUCER EXTENDS FIELD EAST WATKINS

Two-Hundred Barrel Well Completed Mile East Of Comanche

WATKINS ESTATE POOL ONE COUNTY'S RICHEST

Previous Efforts to Extend Producing Level Had Met Failure

DUNCAN, Okla., April 16.—Production was extended one-quarter mile east of the Watkins pool, a mile east of the town of Comanche, during the last week when George Pace completed his No. 1 Dilley, in the NW NW SW SW of 22-2s-7w. The well swabbed 280 barrels in 24 hours and was estimated good for between 175 and 200 barrels daily on the pump. Sand is from 1734 to 1739 feet.

The Watkins estate pool, discovered in July, 1929, by Pace has proved one of the richest finds in Stephens county in recent years. Some of the producers have made as high as 600 barrels from the 1734-foot level. Tests were drilled in every direction from the pool, except east, but efforts to extend the producing level failed, although five small producers were discovered in section 27, three quarters of a mile southeast.

Pace made location for his No. 2 Dilley, in the SW SW NW SW of 22-2s-7w, and moved in derrick. He will drill a third test on the Dilley lease and then drill his No. 10 Watkins, in the SE NE SE SE of 21-2s-7w, a location made several months ago but never drilled.

Pace has rigged up star machine to drill plugs in his No. 5 Gilworth, in the NW NW SE NW of 2-2s-8w, in the new active area five miles south and two west of Duncan. Liner is cemented to test sand from 1550 to 1555 feet.

Pace was drilling at 200 feet in his No. 8 J. P. Houston, in the SE NE SW of 2-2s-8w, west offset to the Continental No. 2 Dare, completed a week ago at 2122 feet for 56 barrels daily.

P. L. Gilbert and associates were coring oil sand at 2170 feet in their No. 1 Medley estate, in the SW SW NE NE of 2-2s-8w, two locations north of their No. 1 Green, a 115-barrel producer at 1360 feet.

Shut Down at 1755

Crane and Rankin were shut down at 1755 feet, contract depth, in their No. 1 Dare, in the SW NW NW of 1-2s-8w, just northwest of production. They may go deeper.

J. D. Loofbourrow and associates were drilling at 1444 feet after drilling to get a showing of oil or gas in sand from 1434 to 1442 feet, in their No. 1 Dare, in the SW NW SW SW of 1-2s-8w, just southeast of production.

WALL STREET ENCOURAGED BY ADVANCES IN OIL AND REFINED OIL PRODUCTS

LETTER OF PIONEER RANCHMAN RECALLS TEXAS INDIAN RAIDS IN EARLY DAYS OF WEST TEXAS

ARCHER CITY, Texas, April 16.—Early days in Northwest Texas, before the organization of counties in this section, when wild game was plentiful and Indian raids were numerous, are recalled in a letter received this week by Ex-Sheriff Powell from Capt. Al E. Ray of Oklahoma City.

Captain Ray was a pioneer cowman, ranger and Indian fighter in the territory now embraced by Clay, Jack, Young and Archer counties. In his letter he vividly recalls Indian fights before Wichita Falls and Clay counties were organized and before Wichita Falls or Henrietta were on the map.

The interesting letter was inspired by the recent panther hunt in Archer county, which revived the story of Captain Ray killing a panther with a club in the early days here. The inquiry sent to Captain Ray also inquired into facts concerning the first murder indictments in Archer county. Milt Parks, his son, Theo Parks and Dollie Boyles, a half-breed Indian were indicted for the death of A. Brookout. Captain Ray was a member of the grand jury which returned the first indictment after the organization of the county in July, 1880.

Newt Jones, referred to in the letter, is a resident of Archer City and has lived in this county for 53 years. At the time of the Brookout murder he was a Texas ranger and took up the trail in search for the slayers. Two of the suspects in the slaying were arrested years later by Sheriff Powell, the third was never located.

Text of Letter

"Dear Mr. Powell:

"I will give you some of the incidents of the early days in Clay and Archer counties, 1886.

"I was on the Dumas & Emberson ranch a mile north of where the town of Henrietta now stands.

"Waggoner's ranch was a few miles above. These were the frontier ranches.

"The Indians got to raiding and killing people almost to Gainesville. Red River Station, Queen's Peak and Jacksboro were the frontier posts.

"We met at Red River Station and organized a company of cowboy scouts or Texas rangers. We went to the forks of Mud creek, had a fight with the Indians, then came back to Henrietta Springs, where we camped. Our grub was out so we started at 4 a. m. for Deer Creek, hoping to find a buffalo for breakfast. Instead we found a fresh Indian trail just at sunrise. We hit the trail in a dash; lots of time rode in a lope. At sunset we came in gunshot of them. A running fight was on until dark. We turned back by moonlight, gathering up the pack ponies we had left behind. It took us two days to get back to where we started from.

"This trail led us across Post Oak and Onion creeks. We crossed Wichita just below Three Forks, north of where Archer City now stands, four miles.

"We had a fight with the Indians that fall east of Archer near the head of Big Post Oak creek. This was where Chief Little Wolf was killed.

"I left the wild west in the fall of 1867, went back to my home in Grayson county. Then in 1878 I located my ranch on Onion creek, in Archer county. The next year my brother, Hez Ray, and I were fishing in Little Wichita about one and one-half miles above the mouth of Onion creek. The dogs struck a trail, went up in a thicket, soon bayed at a tree. We thought they had treed a wildcat until we came in sight. It was a large panther. I thought I could put a bullet through his heart, fired my pistol but it had gotten full of mud while we were fishing. It exploded and struck me in the head, but the ball broke the panther's hind leg. He jumped down, ran a few steps, then got up in the forks of a large elm tree. The dogs could almost reach him. Thinking I could break his back with a club I crept up behind him, struck with all my might and only knocked him out. The dogs clinched him, I followed and with my club beat his brains out. That was the panther story told over the county that you speak of in your letter.

Game Plentiful

"On New Year's eve, Buddy Morgan and I started out early to kill a deer. Before we got to Little Wichita river I killed a deer. We hung it in the fork of a tree and rode to the bank of the river and found panther tracks in the mud. Followed it to near the mouth of Onion creek where it met another track coming down Onion. The dogs took up the trail and soon treed a big panther which I shot out of the tree. The dogs turned back in the brush and soon treed the other one. I killed it, then we skinned both of them, went back and got our deer from the tree, getting back to the ranch in time for the noon meal.

"Later, on a camp hunt, I killed another panther on Little Post Oak creek. On another hunt I killed a bear at the mouth of Slippery creek. In a short time I killed another bear on Little Post Oak near the Bourland ranch with a .45 six-shooter.

"During the years I lived in the West I often attended Waggoner's round-ups where Wichita Falls now stands.

"At one time I sold deer, antelope, panther and wildcat skins for more than enough to buy a .44 Winchester.

"Just below the forks of Onion creek I killed a big buck at a distance of 307 long steps.

"I was in the organization of Archer county July, 1880, and was a member of the first grand jury of that county.

"I bought thousands of beef steers in Archer, Young, Clay, Baylor and Knox counties. Drove them first to Whitesboro to ship them, later to Gainesville and Henrietta to ship them as the railroad built out.

"Tell Newt Jones I would appreciate a letter from him about his history.

"I think the man, Milt Parks, you mentioned, charged with the first murder in Archer county, died in Indian Territory about 25 years ago. I remember when you arrested Dolly Boyles and Theo Parks in Indian Territory. Yours truly,

"A. E. Ray.

UNIVERSITY OIL TO ESCAPE U. S. INCOME TAXES

AUSTIN, April 16.—More than $100,000,000 worth of oil produced from University of Texas oil and state leases by private companies apparently will escape the levy of federal income taxes, according to a five to four decision of the U. S. supreme court this week.

The decision held that oil produced by a private corporation in Oklahoma from lands leased from the state was exempt from federal income taxes. The majority opinion of the court was written by Justice McReynolds and concurred in by Chief Justice Hughes and Justices Van Devanter, Sutherland and Butler. Justice Brandeis wrote a dissenting opinion, in which he was joined by Justices Stone and Roberts. Justice Stone wrote another dissenting opinion, in which the new Justice Cardozo joined the other two with Mr. Stone.

The decision does not affect state revenues, except that in future it might be the basis for the state to require a larger royalty or bonus because of the larger profits possible under state leases.

The federal government has ruled that salaries or income from the state are exempt from income taxes, so long as paid for administrative duties; but are not exempt when paid for the operation of some state-owned business, such as the state railroad.

SPUDDERS OVERHAUL EARLY LEAD TO SWEEP SPORT SERIES

J. Alvin Gardner has brought a lot of ideas into the office of president of the Texas league. One of these is that the players who take their livelihood from the game have not given sufficient attention to the little matter of entertaining the fans; of making the game more attractive. Baseball has become a highly competitive business, and it cannot overlook any bets and hope to compete successfully with the many other attractions that vie for the fan's six-bits. In these times of stress, it is doubly important that baseball stretch every point to cater to the whims of its public. This season of 1932 is certain to be a tough one, regardless of the kind of baseball the home team plays or its position in the race; and that goes for every city in every league.

In big red and black type on posters placed in every clubhouse in the league Gardner is pleading with the playing fraternity to take a more lively interest in the business of entertaining the fans. Here are some of the requests he makes:

"Every baseball player in the Texas league is urged to sell himself to the fans. The more friends you make personally the more interested followers your club will have, the more attractive the pastime, the more stable your own profession.

"Be friendly—Every one knows the ball player; therefore when off the field speak graciously when spoken to—make friends.

"Always hustle, do your best and give the game all you have. Impress the fans with your zeal to win. The league does not encourage rowdyism, nor does it permit visiting among opposing players. They are the enemy—fight them to win, and the league will not look with disfavor or punish with fine any disorderly demonstration of this attitude toward the opposition.

"The fans are paying the freight and they can't see a loafing alibiing ball player. They will come back to see the hustler, the player who puts his heart in his work. They will forgive your errors if you are aggressive, alert and really fight to win. They pay to see a fast, snappy game and dislike a slow, long-drawn out contest. Managers, please cooperate! Speed up every game!

"Conduct yourself in a sportsmanlike manner, but be a determined contestant. Try to establish your reputation when off the field as a clean sport and as a clean liver—you are the idol of many a young fan."

There is a worth while sermon for the players in Gardner's plea, and one that the thinking player is going to heed. After all, like Hank Severeid puts it, "It's the players the fans pay to see and not the manager, the clubowner, the league president or Commissioner Landis, and whatever the latter do is secondary to the performances of the player." If the game is to be made more colorful, more entertaining and more attractive as a source of entertainment and diversion, it rests upon the players to bring about that end. The clubowners can legislate against this or that, make rules that prohibit one thing and another, but essentially the player is the master of his own conduct, and by it he can make the game more attractive than it has been in the past.

Stormy Fred Vincent put in the greater part of six weeks in the training camp of the St. Louis Browns, and the thing that impressed him most in this camp was the spirit among the players. If Fred's account of relations among the players is accurate, this Brownie team, lacking as it does in so many vital points, is liable to be a tough customer no later than 1932. "Everybody in the Browns camp was on an equal plane, and there was no such thing as a 'star'; or at least you'd never be able to pick the 'big shots' by watching what goes on. The oldest veteran and the rawest rookie dug in together down there in Florida and worked like thunder all the time I was with the club. You would never see the oldtimers lounging around while the youngsters did the work. Nor would you find these veterans riding the rookies and making it tough on them. It's the first club I ever trained with where everybody was sociable and easy to get along with, and everybody did his part of the work without shirking. If a player would report to the Browns with the idea of 'gold bricking' his way through, he couldn't help but fall in with the spirit of things." That is not the only element required of a winning club, but it speaks well for the progress Bill Killefer has made as manager of the club and it might well lead one to expect better things of the Brownies in the future.

If there was ever any hope of Ashley Hillin's being returned to the Spudders from the Milwaukee Brewers, they were erased in Hillin's performance in the Brewer opened last Thursday. After being rained out for two days, the Brewers finally got in their opener and our Ashley proceeded to wallop Toledo, 5 to 4. It is quite an honor for a youngster of Hillin's limited years to be selected as the opening pitcher; particularly with a club that boasts the veteran mound talent that is Milwaukee's. Hillin not only got the assignment, but he won his ball game. The young man will last a long time on the reputation achieved in that game, even if he didn't win another game for a month, so there is absolutely no hope of his return to Spudderville any time soon.

There is every reason to believe that Hillin will keep right on winning for the Brewers, and no good reason to believe he will let down can be found. The big boy from Mount Calm pitched just about as well as any tosser in the league last season, regardless of what the records tell you. He didn't have the club behind him that helped Dean, Carleton, et al., to big seasons. He lost one tough luck game after another. Few of his defeats were the result of the enemy's ability to hit him, but of his own mates' failure to give him runs.

Another Texas leaguer who got away big last week, and this one in the majors, was Whitlow Wyatt, the Beaumonter of last season and now a Tiger who beat Cleveland with four hits Thursday. Wyatt had all the earmarks in this league. He pitched wonderfully for the Exporters after being shipped down in mid-season, and it is doubtful if the league has ever sent up a brighter pitching prospect. Messrs. Dean and Carleton have been getting all the publicity this spring, but keep your eye on this Mr. Wyatt.

Fuss and Byram Lead Defense in Victory by 9-7

Team Journeys to Ft. Worth To Open Three Games With Panthers

The Spudders were abreast of the best in the Texas league Saturday night after whipping the Sports, 9 to 7, at Athletic park for a clean sweep of the series here and three out of four for the season thus far. But that Saturday victory was not accomplished without much pain and anguish. Fifteen bases on balls issued to the Sports gave the invaders a five-run lead in the first two innings that required heroic efforts and considerable wildness on the parts of Oscar Tuero and Milt Steengrafe to overcome.

The little thing developed into a contest of pedestrianism, with three Spudders walking 15 and two Sports 10 for a total of 25 during the two hours and 20 minutes of baseball. The Spudders mixed more hits with their passes to gain the edge, but just as potent a factor in the result as the timely clouting was the defense set up by Rebel Byram, the big ex-marine from Oklahoma, Bob Fuss in right field, and a supporting cast, that if not as brilliant as Fuss, certainly was as deadly in the precision of its fielding.

Byram went on the scene after both Marv Ferrell and Fred Vincent had walked themselves out of the picture, and though he was not exactly tame, he pitched beautifully until the last two innings, when Fuss came to the rescue with two beautiful throws from the outfield that relieved the pressure of serious pinches.

Off to Fort Worth

Following the Saturday contest, the boys were off to their first invasions of Fort Worth and Dallas, three games being scheduled at each point before the team returns home for a long stand. Hank Severeid's flingers have been badly used in the four games with the Sports, but he has Tom Conlan and Howard Taylor with plenty of rest, and one or the other is slated to face the Panthers Sunday.

That which was lacking in pitching Saturday was more than offset by wonderful fielding, the high spot, of course, being reached with Fuss' throws in the eighth and ninth that came in time to nip threatening Shreveport rallies. Euller came up with a pip of a stop and throw and Nicholson robbed Byram of a hit with a genuine act of larceny. Both shortstops were busy, and Mueller, who had such a miserable day Friday, proved that he could do much better.

Byram went on the scene in the second and blanked the Sports with one out until the ninth, allowing only four hits over the stretch of the first six and two-thirds innings.

Sports in Front

When the Sports finished their second inning they had five runs without a hit. Ferrell walked five with only one out in between, forcing in two and Vincent kept up the parade by passing two for two more runs. Tuero ended it by hitting into a double play, Scharein to Owens to Green. Vincent passed Lanin and Hamilton to start the second. Sisler sacrificed and Stormy's fifth walk filled the bases and brought Bryan to the scene. Lanin scored as Nicholson lined to Garms—and the Sports had five runs without a hit.

Bejma's double in the home first failed to bear fruit when Fuss and Badgro were infield outs. Extra base blows by Green and Owens put the Spudders in the game in the second. Green's was a high looper that rode the wind out of the park for the first homer for the home cause. Owens followed with a double to left center. Scharein's and Euller's outs scored him. Nicholson's remarkable one-handed catch off Byram's bat retired the side.

The Spudders brought the count to 5 to 4 with another pair in the third after Byram had stopped the Sports with only a single by Mueller. It was Tuero this time who played Santa Claus and walked Garms and Bejma. Fuss beat out a bunt in front of the plate, filling the bases. Garms scored when Badgro hit into a double play, Ward to Mueller to Sisler. Owens popped a double over first, counting Bajma, after Green had walked.

The Rebel issued a couple of free trips in the fourth, but Sisler, Nicholson and Ward were outs. Garms' walk was the only riffle, and he went out stealing on O'Neil's perfect throw.

Sports Also Wild

The wildness of both Tuero and Steengrafe helped the home cause to an 8 to 5 lead at the end of the fifth, Byram pitching out after hitting Mueller and walking Lamm. With one out, Fuss singled through short and scored on Badgro's double off the right field fence. The latter took an extra base on Sisler's wild relay to the plate. Green walked and Steengrafe came in to walk Owens and fill the bases. Fuss chased across while Scharein was forcing Owens. Euller doubled off the center field wall to score both runners.

The Sports went down in order for the first time in the sixth, Euller making a great stop and throw of Nicholson's bouncer over the base for the third out. Fuss and Badgro hit for the home cause, but Steengrafe curved his way out of trouble.

A double play, Scharein to Bejma to Green, helped Byram in the next, and big Milt pitched out after Euller had opened with a single.

The Spudders picked up one in the eighth on a pass to Fuss, Badgro's sacrifice and Scharein's single, Green drawing his third walk in between.

In the Sports' eighth Hamilton was perched on third when Nicholson flied to Fuss, and Robert's throw beat him to the plate by a matter of feet. Ward and O'Neil hit safely in the ninth and Schang, pinch-hitting for Steengrafe, hit to right and made the mistake of trying to make it a double. Fuss' arm again came to the rescue. Lamm doubled for another run, but that was the end, for Scharein gobbled up Hamilton's grounder and tossed him out.

Iowa Park Winner Spudder Opening Attendance Prize

Temple, Okla., Runnerup, With Burkburnett Registering Greatest Number

With an official attendance count of 91, Iowa Park is the winner of the out-of-town attendance contest for Spudder opening day sponsored by the chamber of commerce, it was announced Saturday by Joe E. Ward, chairman of the contest committee. The winers were decided on a basis of registered attendance at the opening game in proportion to population and mileage from Wichita Falls, and though Burkburnett registered the greatest number of fans from any town at 112, Iowa Park's "batting average" was .453, as compared with .341 for Burkburnett. Temple, Okla., with 12 for a percentage of .406 won runnerup honors.

The contest in Iowa Park was sponsored by the Lions club and in Temple by the chamber of commerce.

The competition was adjudged a success by those who handled it from the Wichita Falls end, and helped to bring well more than 1,000 from out of the city for the opening festivities. The limited amount of time given the contest, however, was a handicap that held down the number of competing towns and led to misunderstandings at several points that prevented official registration of all the fans from the competing points, according to Ward.

Others that gave the two winners, Iowa Park and Temple, close races were Seymour, Burkburnett, Ryan, Okla., Mankins, Hollis, Okla., Olney, Archer City, Altus, Okla., Comanche, Okla., Clinton, Okla., Graham, Henrietta, Childress and Lubbock. Many others were well represented, but were not entered in the contest.

NEW SPORT OFFERED THRILL SEEKERS IN MOTOR POLO CONTEST

A new sport is to be formally introduced to Wichita Falls thrill seekers Sunday afternoon in the first motorcycle polo game ever played here. Two teams, the Reds and the Blues, have been organized and practicing for many weeks, and will battle through a regulation game to which an admission charge is to be made. The scene of the conflict is Featherston field, formerly Staley airport, on the Henrietta road and the starting time is 3:30 o'clock.

An added thrill is promised in the stunt of Bill Finger, Wichita Falls rider, who is piloting his machine through a board wall while traveling at the rate of 70 miles per hour.

HELEN JACOBS ENGAGED WHETHER SHE KNOWS IT OR NOT, AVERS SUITOR

CHICAGO, April 16. (INS)—Whether she knows it or not, Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking woman tennis star, is engaged to be married, according to her persistent suitor, Chester Speakman.

When Miss Jacobs arrived from her California home Friday to spend a few days visiting here before preceding to Europe, she emphatically denied the long-rumored betrothal.

But, young Chester feels otherwise on the subject. Saturday he refused to stray from his belief that Miss Jacobs will be his bride.

"I'm going to keep right on asking her to marry me until she says 'yes,'" he announced. "I'm going over to England this summer to see her play at Wimbledon and I not only hope, but believe, that some day she will be Mrs. Speakman."

Meanwhile, while the California net star is in Chicago she is a guest at the home of her friends who also happen to be young Speakman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howland Speakman. She will remain here until Sunday when she departs on her trip to Berlin where she will play in an invitation tournament.

Following the Berlin tournament Miss Jacobs plans to compete in the Wightman cup team play and then in the Wimbledon events.

GARDEN TO FACE STIFF SUMMER COMPETITION

NEW YORK, April 16. (INS)—There will be plenty of competition lined up against Madison Square garden's new bowl this summer if all the would-be promoters get into Polo grounds and the Yankee stadium with their proposed fistic extravaganzas.

Naturally the advent of the new Boyton club will be watched with more than passing interest.

Joe Boyton was Tex Rickard's trusted box office man and when the garden let Joe out a few days ago, it was natural to expect that Boyton forces interested in his knowledge of running the big shows, would combine to give Madison Square garden a fight for promoting supremacy.

Boyton won't be the only man in the field now that the garden has turned back ball park control.

Tom O'Rourke, long a stormy petrel in the promotion business and never without backing when there is a ball park on the loose, is certain to pop up with an "angel" and a new club.

Jack Fugazy, who had a stormy career as a promoter after having put over a whale of a show for the Italian hospitals, will move into the fray.

REDS AND BLUES TO CONTINUE POLO WAR

The Reds and Blues, "picked" polo teams will continue their series Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Fain field, it was announced Saturday by C. H. Featherston.

The public is invited to attend.

NEW RECORD IS SET FOR SEYMOUR COURSE

SEYMOUR, Texas, April 9.—Joe Tom Nuckles set a new record for the Seymour Golf club Friday when he turned in a 33 to top the record held by W. B. Alexander by one stroke.

Alexander has been ruler with a 34 for the past three years.

Nuckles birdied numbers one, two and three and parred the other holes.

He recently came here from Chillicothe.

The Seymour club has a 36 par course.

Houston's hard hitting Friday was responsible for a number of league leaderships for the semi-week of getting away from the Texas league post. The Buffs waltzed away to a lead in club batting, runs, hits and runs batted in and a tie for the top in doubles, triples and home runs. Also one Homer Peel, lugging the same old familiar bat, became the league leader in clouting with an average of .571 in three games, topped only by players appearing in single contests. Peel's eight base blows also started him off to a lead in hits, while the two home runs of his teammate, Medwick, Friday, is the best compilation of circuit swats. Medwick drove in eight runs Friday and took the first week's lead with nine. Medwick and Sanders, both of Houston, tie for the lead in runs with five. Several players have made three doubles but Zaepfel, San Antonio, is the only one with two triples and Fox, Beaumont, the only player with two stolen bases.

Club batting, the batting averages of all players hitting safely at least once, and the record of all pitchers charged with a win or loss, follow through Friday's games, less the Galveston-Beaumont night contest that date:

Bucs Whip Exporters

GALVESTON, Texas, April 16. (AP)—A two-run rally in the ninth inning by the Beaumont Exporters was not enough to overcome an early lead the Buccaneers had established and Galveston triumphed, 5-4, in the second game of the series here Saturday. The Bucs gained but four hits off the pitching of Jachym and Schultz, but five bases on balls, a hit batsman and a single by Allen let in four runs in the first frame.

The Exporters touched Art Seydler for 10 hits, but he kept them well scattered until the ninth when two hits and two errors scored two runs.

Greenberg, Beaumont first baseman, hit a home run over the left field wall in the sixth. Score:

TIGERS SHOW HEELS TO SPEED FIELD IN DISTRICT MEET

Rodawalt Sets Dizzy Pace For Champions

wins proved even more impressive.

With a beautiful stride, Rodawalt skimmed over the low sticks in the very good time of 25 seconds, considering the comparatively soft track upon which he ran. Prefacing his broad and high jump efforts with only a short, easy run, he took to the air with an exceedingly clean action. Pushed by Wichita Falls and Bitter Creep opponents, he cleared the bar in the high jump at six feet two, a leap which he never formerly had equaled.

Prelims Necessary

Parr in the half-mile and Cloninger in the mile run also provided smooth exhibitions. Parr leaped into the lead at the gun, and was never headed, running his own race against time with excellent endurance. In the longer trip, Cloninger trailed for three laps many yards behind Conley of Holliday, who set a terrific pace. On the final quarter, however, the Tiger star lengthened his stride. On the first turn he quickened his cadence, and finished the final 200 yards with a spirited sprint to win first by a wide margin.

More than 150 athletes were registered for Saturday's competition, and in many events, numerous preliminary heats had to be run. There was an abundance of sprinters, and almost as many entries in the hurdle races. Three preliminary heats Saturday morning produced six finalists in the 120-yard hurdles, selections being made on the basis of time registered by each competitor.

Eight finalists in the 100-yard dash were chosen from about 30 entries who competed in four heats during the morning. The group of six which competed in 220-yard hurdle finals was selected from almost 30 runners who formed three groups during the morning preliminaries. A similarly crowded field for the 220-yard sprint was handled in the same manner.

Although unable to show their heels to the Vernon ace, two young Coyote sprinters attracted much favorable attention by their brilliant performances Saturday. C. Creecy, in his first season as a track man, captured second place in the century, and in one of the preliminary heats for the 220-yard dash, D. Warren placed first with the good time of 23.2.

Electra Wins Relay

Events in the field division which commanded attention Saturday afternoon were the pole vault, shot, and discus competition. After a prolonged battle, E. Stewart of Masters, in Throckmorton county, finally left his competitors behind with a jump of 11 feet, two inches. Vernon entered "Too Tall" Jones, famed center on Lion football and basket ball teams, to win first honors in the discus. In his best effort, Jones unfolded to hurl the plate almost 106 feet. G. Lambdin of Electra vanquished more husky specimens than himself when he tossed the shot 43 feet and five inches for first place.

In the mile relay, the closing event as usual, Vernon lost an excellent chance to win when the baton dropped at the end of the first lap. The Lion's first runner had raced past Rodawalt, Tiger man-of-all-work, to give Vernon's second man a good lead. The takeoff overtaxed the incoming sprinter, however, and the baton was fumbled. Cloninger, Parr and Lee Parnell quickly established a lead which they maintained to give Electra a first place as the meet closed.

Saturday's events were run off under the personal direction of B. M. Dinsmore, Electra school superintendent and athletic director for district four. According to school officials present, it was one of the smoothest and most efficiently conducted meets ever held in the district. Mr. Dinsmore expressed his appreciation of courtesy shown by spectators and contestants in keeping both the track and field clear throughout the day.

North Texas Meet

Before the start of competition Saturday morning, Mr. Dinsmore explained to participants that winners of first, second, third and fourth places in the district meet will be eligible to compete in the state tournament in Austin. Only first and second place winners, however, will be entitled to expense rebates allowed by the league treasury.

Mr. Dinsmore also announced that a North Texas meet for high school athletes is being held May 6-7 at the North Texas Teachers' college, Denton, and that winners here may enter there in preference to competing at Austin if they choose.

The annual district meet opened Thursday morning with boys' and girls' competition in tennis. Petrolia captured first honors in both singles and doubles division in girls' competition, while Wichita Falls won first in boys' singles and doubles play. Literary events were staged Friday, continuing from 9 a. m. to almost 10 a. m. with over 200 pupils participating. Wichita Falls teams won first honors in both boys' and girls' debate. S. H. Rider, dean of the junior college, was director-general of the three-day meet.

TEXAS AGGIES CAPTURE TRIANGULAR TRACK MEET

FORT WORTH, April 16. (AP)—Although they failed to take as many first places as the Texas Christian university team, the Texas A. & M. Aggies of College Station defeated the Horned Frogs and the Baylor Bears in a three-way track meet here Saturday afternoon. The Aggies compiled 91¼ points to 70 for the Frogs and 7½ for Baylor.

The Frogs grabbed eight firsts and tied for another and the Aggies wan seven firsts and the tie for the other. Baylor failed to win a first and a second place in the pole vault was the Bears' best effort. Supremacy in the weights proved the deciding factor for the Aggies.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 16. (US)—Wilmer Allison, Austin, defeated Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Calif., national tennis singles champion, in the singles finals of the annual North and South tennis tournament. The score was 3-6, 6-4, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1.

Vines was the favorite at the start of the match and with his 6-3 victory in the first set, it appeared as if he would justify his backers. But the rangy Texan upon attack to take the next two sets. He loosened up in the fourth and let Vines take the set in 12 games, but came back again in the final for set, match and title.

In the finals of the women's singles, Mrs. John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, conquered Miss Virginia Hilleary, 6-4, 6-1.

City League Enters Second Week Of Race

A big crowd is expected to turn out Sunday afternoon at Katy park for the weekly City league doubleheader with two good games scheduled for the afternoon.

Sullivan's grocery will attempt to halt the fast stepping Red and White Stores in the first game, with Myers grocery attempting the same thing against the crack Star Transfer nine in the nightcap. The first game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

Who will start the opening game for Sullivan's grocery is somewhat in doubt, with three men standing in line for the opening assignment from Flip Hoskins, the new skipper. Steve Franklin, Hoskins and Cotton Eubanks all are ready to go and either one of the trio may get the nod. Red Nichols, the well known fire ball artist, will be the starting pitcher for the Red and White stores. Both teams present a formidable array of stars and a close contest is expected.

Skipper Storbeck announced Saturday that O'Dell McDuffy, curve ball artist, and just about one of the best known pitchers in this section, is slated to take the firing line for the transfer company in an effort to add another game to the win column. Skipper Albert Johnson likely will call on Archie Pittman to stop the transfer nine's sluggers. Pittman was a tough nut to crack last week and if he keeps up his pace Star transfer will find him hard to beat.

The hard wind last week never allowed any of the teams to put out their best baseball and if weather is favorable Sunday it will give the fans their first chance to draw a line on the Wichita Falls "major league."

RICE PITCHER'S PASSES LOSE GAME TO FARMERS

HOUSTON, April 16. (AP)—Rice Institute practically donated a ball game to the Texas Aggies in the second inning here Saturday. Terranella, Owl hurler, walking four men in a row, and Mitchell, Aggie shortstop, singling, to give A. & M. three runs. The Aggies won, 4-2.

Bob Sheer, Aggie right-hander, allowed nine hits, but scattered them effectively. "Smokey" Klaerner, taking up the hurling duty for Rice in the third inning, allowed the Aggies one run the rest of the way.

Great catches in the field by Captain Veltman and "Sweetie" Davis twice saved Sheer.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Texas Aggies	4	5	2
Rice	2	9	0

Batteries: Sheer and Gulasinski; Terranella, Klaerner and Hammett.

PULLET PRODUCES EGG RESEMBLING FOOTBALL

An egg resembling a football in every respect except size is the contribution of one of the pullets of the flock of Louis Kre, farmer residing four miles south of the city. The egg, bearing the likeness of the seams and stitching of the regulation football and closely resembling the pigskin in shape, was exhibited in Wichita Falls Saturday.

The producer of the queer egg is a crossed Rhode Island red and game pullet.

PAMPHLETS BOOSTING GARNER FOR PRESIDENT ARE PLACED IN MAILS

DALLAS, April 16. (AP)—An active move to interest voters of other states in the proposed candidacy of Speaker John N. Garner for president on the Democratic ticket was taken by his backers today when 50,000 pamphlets containing information about the speaker were placed in the mails.

Sillman Evans, national director of publicity in the Garner campaign, said the pamphlets were prepared because of demands from all parts of the country for information about Garner.

About 10,000 of the pamphlets were forwarded to the Garner-for-President club of California, which has been conducting a vigorous drive to send a Garner delegation from that state to the Chicago convention.

Federal Judge Bryant Refuses to Dissolve Injunctions Preventing Operators Exceeding Allowables

TYLER, Texas, April 16. (AP)—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant today told attorneys for six oil companies operating in East Texas that he would not dissolve temporary injunctions preventing them from exceeding allowables prescribed by the Texas Railroad commission.

The judge said the cases would be tried on their merits May 30.

"I do not feel," he said, "like taking the personal responsibility of disturbing conditions in the East Texas oil field at this time, pending the outcome of the three judge court decision on May 30, but at the same time I do not desire to deprive plaintiffs nor the court of the right to accumulate evidence."

Counter-Order Obtained

The six companies some time ago were granted an injunction restraining enforcement of the commission's orders. The commission then asked and obtained a counter-order preventing the companies from producing more oil than prescribed in the allowables.

Today's hearing was devoted largely to argument over tests the companies wished to make on their wells to determine oil-gas ratios.

Chairman C. V. Terrell of the railroad commission and Assistant Attorney General Fred Upchurch represented the commission at today's hearing. There were extended conferences over the proposed tests.

Both sides finally acceded to the judge's decision to allow several varying test runs at the wells. They ranged from a six-hour test at the rate of 75 barrels daily to a one-hour test at the rate of 500 barrels daily.

Present Allowable 67

The present allowable in the field is 67 barrels per well daily.

Upchurch insisted that excess oil run in making the tests should be followed by restrictions to provide a proper average flow.

Judge Bryant said the matter could be decided after the trial on the merits of the case May 30. Reminded that several other companies were seeking injunctions against the commission, the judge asked if there were any evidence they had violated or intended to violate proration orders. He was told there was none except their applications for restraining orders. He then said he would not at this time act on any such petitions for injunctions. He said if evidence appeared that any companies planned to violate proration orders he would grant the railroad commission an injunction prohibiting such violations.

New Magnolia Order

DALLAS, April 16. (AP)—Headquarters of the Magnolia Petroleum company announced today that, from Monday until further notice is given, the company would produce from its own leases in the East Texas oil field 62 barrels per well daily. The company will purchase from its connections on the same basis.

The Texas Railroad commission's new proration order, effective today, allows 67 barrels per well daily.

Gas Blows in Well

PAYETTE, Idaho, April 16. (AP)—Gas blew in the big Willow Creek well of the Boise Petroleum corporation 15 miles from here last night in quantities described by the officials as "commercial."

The well was down 1280 feet. The drill bit was hurriedly hoisted and the well capped.

Several wells have been drilled in the Payette section in the past several years, each showing gas, but none has been put to commercial use.

New Well Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 16. (AP)—Phillips Petroleum has added another producer to the north end of the Oklahoma City field. Its No. 1 Still, in SE NW NE of 3-11-3w, flowed 7,707 barrels of oil in three hours through a four-inch choke. Gas was estimated at 54,000,000 feet a day. Total depth is around 6,450 feet.

Her son-in-law, Mr. Tidwell, is cashier of the Graham National bank and the family is widely known in this section.

Hollywood Man Weds Daughter Of Tahiti Chief

HOLLYWOOD, April 16. (INS)—A romance that links the studio lots of Hollywood with the far-off islands of the South seas was revealed here today in dispatches from Douglas Fairbanks, telling of the marriage of Walter Pahlman, chief of the Fairbanks' technical staff, and Simone Terai, beautiful Polynesian princess and descendant of the great chief of the Tahitis.

Pahlman embarked on the voyage from Hollywood two months ago heart whole and fancy free. Even the noted beauties of Hollywood had failed to capture his heart.

But at Papeete, Pahlman met the beautiful Simone, daughter of chiefs and a princess in her own right. It was a case of love at first sight and under the magic of the tropical moon, the romance flowered.

Strange Pagan rites marked the two-day wedding ceremony. Feasting and dancing the first day and games of prowess in which Fairbanks joined; a moonlight wedding banquet which lasted all night and finally the bathing of the bride by her bridesmaids in the sacred pool preceded the taking of the vows.

DRY AGENTS AT DALLAS FACE MURDER CHARGE IN SLAYING MAN AT IRVING

DALLAS, April 16. (INS)—A Dallas county grand jury today returned indictments charging murder and assault with intent to murder against L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton, federal prohibition agents of Dallas, in connection with the fatal shooting one week ago of Marion McGlothlin, merchant near Irving, and the wounding of his wife, Nettie.

The shooting occurred in McGlothlin's store after the agents had failed to trap an alleged bootlegger who had named the store as a rendezvous.

The suspect, who was present during the shooting affray, escaped.

The grand jury returned the indictments today after a week of intensive investigation during which five federal prisoners, who were arrested by the two agents a few hours prior to the shooting, were called as witnesses.

Although Smith and Heaton were given opportunity to go before the investigating body and tell their version of the shooting, neither of them appeared for questioning.

Trials for the two agents on the charges named in the indictments are expected to be set for an early date.

NEARLY 1,500 EMPLOYES OF CHICAGO LOSE JOBS MEASURE OF ECONOMY

CHICAGO, April 16. (AP)—Nearly 1,500 city employes lost their jobs today to save Chicago $115,000 a month in salaries.

News of the discharge was not made public until last night although Mayor Anton Cermak ordered it before leaving for French Lick, Ind., Thursday night to rest after an arduous primary election campaign.

"The cost of government is too high. It must be cut," he remarked before departing, as he quoted figures to show he had already reduced pay rolls by more than $7,000,000 in the year ending April 1.

The eight persons known to have been killed were slain between Paso de Macho and Tepetlaxco. Uprisings also were reported in Ixhuatlan and Coscomatepev.

CONSTRUCTION AT UNIVERSITY KEEPS AUSTIN IN LEAD

DALLAS, April 16. (AP)—The sensational expansion program under way at the University of Texas gave Austin state leadership in volume of new construction again last week despite a sharp increase in building activity in several other Texas cities.

Included in Austin's total of $490,071 for the week was the $472,472 permit for erection of a new physics building on the university campus. Austin's total for the year reached $3,957,353, most of which represented new buildings at the university.

Dallas ranked second among state cities with $337,145 in new permits for the week. This figure included the estimated cost of constructing the new Trinity Heights Junior High school, $300,000.

San Antonio's total of $177,630 for the week was augmented by an expenditure of $168,750 for a new school. Houston was fourth on the list with permits amounting to $109,575.

DOCTORS BAFFLED OVER MYSTERIOUS MALADY IN SANTA PAULA, CALIFORNIA

SANTA PAULA, Calif., April 16. (INS)—Health authorities today were baffled over a mysterious malady that had increased its victims to 700, after analysis of the city water supply and a fish pond had revealed those sources to be uncontaminated.

Vegetables sprayed with poison, similar to the poison that may have speeded the death of Phar Lap, Australian wonder horse, were under investigation as 125 additional school children were stricken.

Caustic soda used to flush a fish pond on the E. L. Doheny ranch six miles up Santa Paula canyon could not have caused the malady health authorities said.

There was no trace of sewage in the city water.

TIMES' MARKET REPORT

REACTION SETS IN FOLLOWING ADVANCE IN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—Stocks reacted after some further recovery today, thus breaking early promises that a rise would be extended over three consecutive sessions.

Because it was a week-end and because extreme advances from Thursday's lows had, in many instances, been considerable, there was a natural assumption that profit-taking had stepped in to check the rally.

Doubtless the technical position worked against additional improvement, for considerable short covering was probably done in the previous two days. Bonds, on the other hand, went ahead enthusiastically; if their current strength is to be relied on, much has been accomplished toward the goal of better spirits.

Losses in stocks were on the whole fractional and the ground lost by the averages represented just half of Friday's gain. There was, nevertheless, noticeable heaviness in a few issues.

Firmness in the coppers lacked a ready explanation unless it was the better demand for export metal which might be taken as a forecast of another experimental price rise. Low priced rails stagnated.

Appeared to be based on reports that discussions were under way between that company's parent, Standard of Indiana, and Standard of New Jersey for an exchange of crude and joint participation in some of Pan-America's foreign activities. Flurries in Pan-American petroleum shares

March foreign trade statistics showed that imports, at $156,000,000, had increased only a million dollars over February, a shorter month. In March, 1931, the value of our goods sold abroad was $235,899,000, while two years ago the amount was thrice last month's business. In March, 1929, the rise over February was $48,100,000.

Taking a look ahead, Wall street wondered from what source it could next expect encouragement. Prompt action by the senate in putting its tax bill into shape and by the both houses in agreeing on measures of government economy, it was felt, would help clear the picture materially. Meanwhile, events at Washington will be closely followed.

BOND PRICES GAIN IN ACTIVE SESSION RAILS IN DEMAND

NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—Ignoring the reactionary trend in stocks, the bond market continued to wend its way upward today with trading the heaviest for a short session since Feb. 13. Sales totaled $7,557,000 par value.

The high class federals were almost ignored in the rush of investors and traders to acquire the fast moving rails, utilities and industrials. Government loans, however, while subjected to some profit-taking, closed but slightly under their previous highs.

The utilities, which led the recovery on Friday, were relegated to second place today when the carriers spurted forward near the end of the session. The industrials were not far behind.

Among the transportation issues that advanced from 1 to 5 or more points were some of Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Canadian Northern, Canadian Pacific, Central Pacific, Allegheny Corporation, Chesapeake Corporation, Chesapeake & Ohio, Burlington, St. Paul, Chicago & Northwestern, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, New Haven, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Frisco, Southern, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Wabash.

The utilities that recorded substantial gains included those of American & Foreign Power, American Telephone, Columbia Gas, Consolidated Gas, Detroit Edison, International Telephone, Kansas Gas, Laclede Gas, Postal, Western Union and New Jersey Power. Among the industrials that followed were loans of Armour & Co., American I. G. Chemical, California Petroleum, Chile Copper, Dodge Bros., Goodrich, Goodyear, International Paper, Sinclair and others.

The Argentines led the foreign department in raising prices. These were closely followed by the Germans, Belgians and Japanese. Firmness was shown by loans of France, Britain, Brazil, Columbia, Dutch East Indies, Italy and Poland.

TRADING IN COTTON QUIET ON SATURDAY AND PRICES LOWER

NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—Trading in cotton was comparatively quiet today but prices worked gradually lower under scattered selling which was evidently promoted by the decline in wheat and the stock market.

May contracts sold off to 6.12 and closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 5 to 8 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 1 point. There was little buying by the trade or houses with Liverpool and continental connections. This fact accounted for the relatively steady tone of the near months, while later deliveries were influenced by scattered selling which included a little selling for southern account as well as realizing.

Prices worked up a point or two after the call, but the demand was limited and the market soon turned easier under further scattered selling or week-end liquidation. Trade interests were moderate buyers and there was covering on scale down, but the lowest prices were reached in the late trading when October sold at 6.54 and the close was at the lowest of the day on nearly all positions.

Liverpool cables reported that trade calling had absorbed liquidation and hedging in that market and said the turnover in cotton cloths and yarns was unimportant. Recent complaints of dry surface soil delaying crop progress in the Southwest may have been reflected by some of the early buying but there was not much comment on the weather map and traders appeared to be awaiting further developments affecting the crop outlook or general conditions.

The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 149,000 bales against 57,000 last year.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, April 16. (AP)—Cotton became more active in the second hour of the short week-end session and prices eased off. The decline was due mainly to the long forecast of the weather bureau predicting showers in the western belt during the coming week where badly needed.

The market closed steady showing net declines for the day of 9 to 10 points. Prices rallied slightly after the start on a little week-end covering but soon turned easier and before the end of the first hour May traded at 6.20, July at 6.36, and October at 6.60, down 2 points from the previous close.

New lows placed May at 6.12, July at 6.30 and Oct. at 6.53. The close was at the bottom with May 10 points net down, July 8 net down and October 9 net down.

Port receipts 6,560, for season 9,296,281, last season 8,626,578. Exports 5,857, for season 7,099,824, last season 5,726,414. Port stock 4,253,036, last year 3,652,349. Boston Wool Market

BOSTON, April 16. (AP)—Trade in wool the past week was practically at a standstill on all lines. The few inquiries received during the week apparently were for the purpose of keeping in touch with the market as manufacturers showed little interest in buying wools. Quotations on wools were largely unchanged, but the lack of business to test prices made it impossible to determine whether quotations were representative of market values. Dealers, however, were not inclined to push sales under the current conditions of uncertainty.

SIGNS OF BREAK IN DROUTH DRIVE WHEAT DOWNWARD

CHICAGO, April 16. (AP)—Pitched downgrade by signs of possible general breakup of drouth conditions before Monday, wheat prices fell fast at times today.

Wheat closed nervous, ⅞@1¼c under yesterday's finish, corn ⅛@⅜c down, oats unchanged to ¼c off, and provisions showing 3 to 7 cents decline.

Word of showers at various points in domestic winter wheat territory southwest gave an advantage to bears, even though the trade as a whole regarded the moisture relief as too slight to be of material benefit. Bears emphasized advices that parts of the spring wheat belt, American and Canadian alike had received beneficial rains.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat market frailty. In addition corn belt weather was seasonable and corn sold to within one cent of the lowest record for the crop.

Provisions sagged, responsive to the course of hog values and of grain.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 16. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Cattle trade during the week under review was featured by a stability on the market on killing classes in face of a material increase in receipts. Several markets were able to maintain steady prices on fed steers and other points reported only slight losses. The better grades of light heifers and mixed yearlings at a few markets suffered an uneven decline. Heavy steers in Chicago cleared up to $8.40 and long yearlings reached $8.35. Country demand for stocker and feeder cattle and calves continued slow and a further weakening in prices was reported at several centers. Aggregate receipts at 11 markets were estimated at 164,300 as compared with 149,081 last week and 185,560 the corresponding period a year ago.

Although the week's supply of sheep showed an increase of better than 46,000 over last week, fat lambs found a moderately active outlet on most sessions and closing values are firm to as much as 50c higher. Aged stock, however, was under pressure at some markets.

Hogs are steady to 15c lower for the week with Chicago reporting a late top of $4.35. Total offerings for the week were around 444,000, an increase of 66,000 over last week and 12,000 more than a year ago.

FAVORABLE TRADE BALANCE REPORTED MONTH OF MARCH

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—The United States' favorable foreign trade balance for March was announced by the commerce department today as $25,000,000.

In a preliminary announcement the department said exports for March were $156,000,000, compared with $235,899,000 for March, 1931, and imports were $131,000,000 against $210,202,000.

Although the value of exports and imports shrank greatly during the period the favorable trade balance was only $697,000 less than in the same month a year ago.

For the three month period ending March 31, the favorable balance was $62,409,000, compared with $141,547,000 for the same period last year.

Exports for the three months were $459,917,000, compared with $709,843,000 for the same period in 1931 and imports $397,508,000 against $568,296,000.

Divorce Not So Easy in France Under New Rule

PARIS, April 16. (INS)—The French ministry of justice today acted to put a string or two on that commodity known in America as the easily-obtained "Paris divorce."

There will be no more "fast stuff," in the slang sense, although the decrees will still be issued as speedily as ever.

In a decree which applies to Americans as well as others, the department ordered that any attempt to obtain a divorce without the knowledge of the second party would be liable to imprisonment of from six months to two years and a fine of from 100 to 10,000 francs (about $4 to $400).

The same penalty also will hold for any one guilty of withholding information regarding the whereabouts of the second party or of preventing the court from serving papers on the second party.

TEXAS FEATURED IN PARADE OF STATES RADIO BROADCAST

Many of the leading historical and civic organizations of the state have assisted in supplying material for use in the Texas program to be heard on the nation-wide "Parade of the States" broadcast Monday night, April 18.

One of the featured songs of the program "Will You Come to the Bower" sung by Sam Houston's troops during the war for Texan independence, was supplied by Mrs. J. B. Chandler of Kingsville. The song is particularly appropriate at this time as the program coincides with the celebration of the Battle of San Jacinto.

Much of the historical material used in the tribute to Texas written specially for the broadcast by Bruce Barton, was sent to New York by Miss Doris Connelly of the state library at Austin, who took it from the files of the state library and historical commission.

Other persons and organizations cooperating included: B. A. Bandeen of Stamford, secretary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Herbert M. Harrison of Longview, secretary of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, Ray Leeman of Corpus Christi, secretary of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce; the chambers of commerce of many cities and the research departments of leading newspapers.

A musical dramatization of the battle of San Jacinto will be played during the program by the 45-piece concert orchestra under the direction of Erno Rapee.

The Texas program is part of the educational plan of the General Motors corporation to acquaint the people of the country with the advantages of each state and to focus national attention on their history and civic and industrial life.

Horsey Program To Be Broadcast Over NBC Chain

Horses and their owners and friends will be guests at the fourth annual horse lovers dinner to be broadcast over an NBC-WJZ network Wednesday, April 20, at 9 p. m., central standard time, from the Hotel Statler in Boston.

The radio program will include descriptions of the elaborate pageants by Clem McCarthy, NBC sports expert. Box stalls will be built around the ballroom to accommodate the equine guests and a small arena will be set up for the pageants. Speeches will be few and short.

The entrance of Gov. and Mrs. Joseph B. Ely in a carriage and with a cavalry escort and the entrance of Mayor Curley, of Boston, on horseback, accompanied by a mounted police escort, will be described on the air.

Other scenes to be presented during the broadcast period, from 9 to 9:30 p. m., will be a hunting breakfast scene, a Cinderella act, featuring a miniature coach drawn by six ponies; a show scene, and a tableau representing George Washington on horseback delivering an address about horses. Walter Cox, noted trotting race driver, will give an exhibition of sulky driving.

Music for the program will be provided by the Meister singers, famed chorus of 13 male voices, and Ives band. Songs of the chase will be featured.

Among the NBC associated stations in the Middle West through which the program may be heard are WJR, WCKY, KVOR and WREN.

Famous Negro Baritone Sings Sunday Evening

Paul Robeson, whose performances in "Show Boat," "The Emperor Jones," "Porgy," "Black Boy" and "Othello" and whose worldwide popularity as a concert singer make him one of the outstanding personalities of his race, will be heard during the third presentation of the "Ziegfeld Radio Show," to be broadcast over approximately 70 stations of the WABC-Columbia network from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m., central standard time, Sunday, April 17.

Appearance of Robeson on the program will mark his first engagement in this country for several months. He is scheduled to arrive in New York several days before the broadcast after scoring sensational successes in England and on the continent in "Othello" and on the concert platform.

A great favorite in this country since his first stage appearance in "The Emperor Jones," Robeson became an overnight favorite abroad as well following his debut in London in the production there of Ziegfeld's "Show Boat." It is expected that one of the numbers he will sing on the program will be "Ol' Man River" from "Show Boat."

Robeson's life has had many achievements crowded into it. In college he was an outstanding football player and was chosen for the All-American team. He also was awarded a Phi Beta Kappa key in his junior year. Following his graduation he studied law and passed the bar examinations with high honors. Several years later he made his professional debut on the stage in "The Emperor Jones," and overnight was catapulted to stardom.

The prisoners stabbed were Roy Archer, A. N. James and Louis Davis, all placed in jail last night on suspicion.

The prisoners were treated at an emergency hospital, later being returned to jail and placed in solitary confinement.

VERNON TO CHOOSE MAYOR IN RUN-OFF ELECTION TUESDAY

VERNON, April 16.—With much interest being manifested, Vernon citizens are preparing to vote Tuesday in the run-off election being held here to select a mayor. A record vote is expected.

Mayor H. D. Hockersmith is opposed in the run-off by A. D. Green. In the first election Mr. Hockersmith polled 533 votes to 484 for Mr. Green, but fell short of a majority, J. A. Birdsong polling 216.

Both candidates have been waging an aggressive campaign in the run-off, using considerable newspaper space to present their views. With little outward manifestation of interest in advance, the first election attracted almost a record vote, and added interest is being shown in the run-off.

OKLAHOMA REPUBLICANS DEFEAT PLAN TO REQUIRE ENDORSEMENT CANDIDATES

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 16. (UP)—Republicans rebelling at a plan to require party endorsement of all state candidates today claimed defeat of the proposal at the fifth district convention.

State Chariman Fred C. Clarke, sponsor of the proposal that has drawn fire form other party leaders, said he would not personally try to put it over.

The death knell of the movement was sounded when Mrs. Lola Pearson was named convention chairman instead of the "slate" candidate, A. Gray Gilmer, Oklahoma county chairman who favors Mr. Clarke's plan.

Charles Hocker, Norman, was named convention secretary.

Mrs. Pearson appointed Herbert K. Hyde, U. S. district attorney, head of the resolutions committee, and Hyde announced he would make sure the Clarke endorsement plan was not brought up at the convention.

"I'm not in favor of reading anybody out of the party," Hyde said.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE TO METROPOLITAN OPERA

NEW YORK, April 16. (INS)—A new lease of life was given today to the Metropolitan Opera association which ends the current season tonight.

There will be a 1932-33 season, even though some time ago this appeared doubtful as the opera sponsors lost $500,000 on their productions this year.

Lower prices will be charged next season to attract popular patronage. The season will be cut from the usual 24 weeks to 16.

PROMISE AND WARNING FROM POLICE TO JULIAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16. (UP)—A promise and a warning were given C. C. Julian, Los Angeles and Oklahoma oil promoter, by police today when he protested that Detectives were molesting him.

Julian, his secretary, Mrs. Juanita Campbell, and Edward Rollins of Los Angeles were arrested on vagrancy charges last week in company with Frankie Foster, asserted Chicago gangster. The charges against all four were dismissed, but Foster was sent to Los Angeles on another complaint.

Julian visited Police Chief Quinn and said he considered the dismissal a vindication, adding detectives were still making inquiries at his apartment.

"As long as Julian or any one else associates with characters like Foster they can expect closest police scrutiny," Quinn said. He denied, however, that officers were concerned about Julian. They are checking up on Foster's activities while he was here, Quinn explained.

CITY PHYSICIAN ASKS ALL CITIZENS TO BE VACCINATED

Six cases of chicken pox and three of smallpox headed the list of 12 quarantines during the past week. The other three were one each of mumps, scarlet fever and whooping cough.

Dr. R. B. Wolford, city physician, issued the following statement regarding the smallpox cases and urging all persons to be vaccinated:

"There are several cases of smallpox in the city and they are scattered considerably, showing that the opportunity for contracting the disease is rather widespread, so I am urging every one to be vaccinated, for a successful vaccination furnishes absolute protection and you owe it to yourself and your family to obtain such protection.

"Some people feel that because the cases are mild that they are not afraid of it, but by protecting yourselves by vaccination you not only avoid the disease but the necessity of quarantine, for even the mildest of cases must be quarantined.

"See your family physician and get the protection that vaccination affords.

"Those who are unable to have a private physician vaccinate them will be taken care of at the city health department."

SHRINERS TO VISIT IMPERIAL COUNCIL IN MOTOR CARAVAN

Members of Maskat temple plan to attend the meeting of the Imperial Shrine council at San Francisco, July 26 to 28, in a motor caravan, starting at Wichita Falls, according to Marshall Franklin, chairman of the caravan committee.

The object of this unusual means of reaching the imperial council meeting is to give Wichita Falls and Maskat temple all the publicity possible throughout West Texas and the western states between here and the coast.

Present plans call for a motor caravan of fifty cars. All these cars will, of course, be appropriately decorated to let everybody know that Northwest Texas and Wichita Falls are very much on the map of the country. Included in the caravan will be all the uniformed bodies of Maskat, with the Maskat Temple band especially prominent among these groups.

The caravan will be entertained en route by some six of the leading Shrines of the West. Expenses will be prorated among the members of each car so that the individual cost will be nominal. Plans are being launched for the caravan this far in advance so that every member of the Shrine will have ample opportunity to arrange his affairs and those of his family so that he will not miss one of the most interesting Shrine trips ever undertaken by Maskat temple.

Arrangements are already being made for special railroad and plane rates for the round trip to San Francisco so that those members who do not care to make the motor trip, may have other choices at a fee approximating that of the auto trip. Ed Peterson is chairman of the committee in charge of all types of transportation to the council meeting.

"People used to nail a horseshoe over the doorway to keep bad luck and plagues out of the house, but we know better than that today," said Miss Mary Quinn, executive secretary of the Wichita County Tuberculosis association, in explaining a campaign against tuberculosis which began April 1 and will continue the rest of the year.

"We are not trusting to luck to conquer this disease. Our method of attack is backed by proved scientific knowledge. The object is to trace every case of tuberculosis back to its source, which we know by experience frequently is another case of which nobody is aware, in the same family. This other case keeps on infecting people who are in close contact, and until it is found and precautions taken to stop its spreading the germs to others, it remains a constant menace and a perpetual obstacle to the final victory of society over tuberculosis.

"A hundred horseshoes, filled to the brim with good luck, will not keep tuberculosis out of a household. There was a time when people thought it struck by chance, but now we know there are good reasons why it attacks some persons and passes others by.

"Tuberculosis doesn't just happen; it comes from tuberculosis, just as weeds spring only from other weeds. The real cause of the disease is a germ. If a few tuberculosis germs get into a healthy body, they do no harm, because the body fights back. But if many germs get in, and if the person's resistance is weakened, they may grow in numbers and destroy the body. They are like the seeds of weeds which, if given a chance, destroy the garden.

"These germs are so small that dozens may ride on a speck of dust or a droplet of sputum. They may be passed from one person to another by kissing, coughing, or by using the same glass, spoon or towel. A child, playing on the floor in a home where there is a person sick with tuberculosis whose habits are careless, may carry germs into its mouth. Many are the ways tuberculosis germs get from one person to another. This is why children who live in a home where an older person has tuberculosis so easily get the disease.

Should Examine All

"Often tuberculosis is spread by some one who doesn't know he has it. When one person in a family is found to have tuberculosis, all others should be examined, too, especially those who are supposed to be suffering with bronchitis or asthma. The children should be examined with the tuberculin test and the x-ray, for that is the only way to find the very early form of the disease.

"If every case of tuberculosis that we know of was traced back to the case that caused it, we should soon stop the spread of the disease. Tracing the source of tuberculosis requires skill. The doctor, the health officer and the public health nurse know how. But they must have the help of the public. Be frank with them. If ever there is a case of tuberculosis in your family, place no obstacle in the way of your physician's reporting it to the health officer. The information is held confidential and is used to aid the patient and his family. Unknown cases may thus be discovered before they have become advanced and sufferers may be privately advised how to care for themselves and avoid infecting others.

"The vital problem today in preventing tuberculosis is to trace the source of cases which are known back to the cases which are unknown. Everybody who helps in the effort to have all tuberculosis cases promptly reported to the health officer is helping to advance the day when this disease will become rare and so well controlled that it will cease to be a menace to mankind."
