Officials Probe Explosion Under Big Baker Hotel

DALLAS—(AP)—The death toll from the flash explosion which demolished the Baker hotel basement here late Friday morning rose to eight yesterday.

Lectors at local hospitals are butting to save the lives of several others seriously injured.

James W. Thomas, 28, Dallas, died at 12:45 p.m. yesterday, seven victims died Friday.

Meanwhile, fire officials and consultants are continuing to probe the wreckage of the hotel's basement section in an effort to determine the cause of the explosion that resulted in an estimated damage of $500,000.

Fire Chief C. N. Penn is being aided by E. L. Mitchell of San Antonio, who is with the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and George M. Kintz of the United States Bureau of Mines in the investigation.

Firemen worked throughout the night clearing away wreckage after it had been erroneously reported that one victim was still pinned beneath the debris.

Shortly after noon yesterday 39 persons still were in local hospitals. Hotel officials have reported that, with the exception of food service, the hotel was closed Friday night.

Japs Thank Texan For Law Services

TOKYO—(AP)—A former Texas assistant attorney general and OPA enforcement attorney from Texas, Capt. Anthony J. Maniscalco, yesterday received official thanks from the Japanese government for attempting to revise that country's criminal laws.

By Japanese law, suspects are held incommunicado until confessions have been forced from them. Capt. Maniscalco, staff member of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's public safety division, spent six months changing this—transatlantic western rules of evidence into a procedure acceptable to Japanese courts.

His code has not yet been put into effect, because he is going home. Vice Minister of Justice Tadachiro Tanikura presented him with a letter of appreciation and a souvenir for "his work in democratizing the Japanese system of justice."

He was graduated from Rice Institute in 1927 and received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1931. He later was an assistant attorney general of Texas, assistant district attorney of Harris county and an OPA enforcement attorney.

Meat, Bread Scarcity Is Increasing

By The Associated Press

Meat and bread—two main staples in the nation's diet—were harder to find yesterday (Saturday) than at any time during the war. Prospects were that the tight supply would continue at least the remainder of the month.

In July, trade sources believe things should start getting better. Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles predicted more meat would be available for a few months after July 1, regardless of how congress decides on the question of future price ceilings. The bread shortage, Bowles added, should be "eased considerably" in 30 days.

The department of commerce supported Bowles' contention that some of the current meat shortage was caused by some shippers holding back livestock to see if price controls are reported after June 30.

The millers' national federation, a trade association of millers, echoed Bowles' prediction of an improved bread flour outlook in 30 days for parts of the country but said the full benefit of the current wheat harvest wouldn't be realized generally until about Sept. 1.

A federation spokesman said in a survey of local meat markets, it was learned that they, like other markets all over the nation, are virtually out of meat. Local butchers affirm the shortage of beef and pork, and say that, however the majority of larger markets have some beef. One meat market pointed out that they were on a quota and they get "so much and no more."

Smaller meat markets are filled with meat only about "half of the time," according to reports and word from the nation's markets. One butcher said the beef prospect looked good and that up until two weeks ago, cattle were available in hard to get. However, he doubted that pork and cured meat would be in his market in the "immediate future."

Smaller wheat crops harvest bumper winter wheat crop harvest is well under way in Texas and Oklahoma, but added that OPA price regulations prevent millers in other parts of the country from buying wheat in Texas, making each a transaction unprofitable under price ceilings.

Most midwestern and eastern states will start receiving this new grain when the harvest moves northward through Kansas. The harvest began in southeast Nebraska yesterday (Saturday) and already has started in Kansas.

Although relief was forecast, a spot survey of cities across the nation showed butcher shops either empty or with very little meat.

Westward Ho Is Texas Political Candidates' Cry

By DAVE CHEAVENS AP Staff Writer

Three of the "big five" candidates for governor will head west this week, one across South Texas as to the lower Rio Grande Valley, and another will continue to ride the air waves.

Candidates Bradford H. Jester, Jerry Sadler, and Grover Sellers make up the trio whose paths will cross in the west. Homer P. Rainey pushed south to the valley. John Lee Smith planned to continue his talks mostly by radio.

During the past week, the candidates were principally in east and southeast Texas. Already they were shouting victory. With the campaign still four weeks from the showdown, political oldtimers could not recall another campaign in which this traditional cry was raised by so many candidates so early.

Dr. Rainey went so far as to claim victory without a run-off. Jester, Sadler, and Sellers were claiming they each would get in the run-off scot-free.

Capt. March, the youthful war veteran candidate from Waco, on Friday he spoke at Anahuac, county seat of Chambers county. He there visited his 25th county seat, claiming he is the only candidate for governor in Texas history to have visited every county in the state during a campaign.

Sadler wound up his first week of campaigning Saturday at San Angelo, where he issued a statement in which he said current outbursts of polo are due in a large part to poor sanitation which possibly could be remedied by "co-opting" the community action under a vigorous public health program. He said he would discuss his public health plan in a Texas state newspaper broadcast at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Sellers was in Austin Saturday at his desk in the attorney general's office. He will spend Monday in Ft. Worth and hit the road again Tuesday.

Smith finished his week with a statewide radio broadcast Saturday night over the Texas quality network in which he plunged again into the University of Texas issue. "We must not permit conditions to exist in Spain which might make it a springboard for some future action be taken against Franco, despite the failure of the security council to act this week."

Parodi spoke as Poland was reported drafting some type of proposal to keep the issue on the agenda when the security council goes back into session at 2 p. m. (EST) Monday.

With the sub-committee recommendation for general assembly action against Franco wiped out by Russia's veto, only Poland's original resolution for an immediate council-ordered break in Spain remained in the calendar.

Parodi said he saw little chance of passage for that proposal. The French diplomat, who also is delegate to the atomic energy commission, called for "real" international control of atomic energy.

"Full rights of inspection everywhere in the world" for United Nations authorities, under whose control he would place the world's uranium supply.

Dr. Oscar Lange, Polish delegate, said that he would demand a veto resolution to put members "on the historical record." On the basis of past voting and statements, the proposal could not hope for more than three supporters—Russia, Poland and perhaps Mexico.

Somehow for the United States and Great Britain said those two delegations would vote against the measure, assuring it of defeat.

Dr. Herbert V. Evans, Australian delegate and chairman of the sub-committee which studied the Spanish issue for the Top of Texas Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair association, Inc. it was learned today. The show is set for August 16, 17 and 18.

The box seats, selling for $15 and seating six people, may be purchased at the show for the Top of Texas Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair association, Inc. it was learned today. The show is set for August 16, 17 and 18.

Box seats are good for all performances, but do not include general admission, a rodeo official pointed out.

Reds Reject U.S. Proposal At Paris Meet

PARIS (AP)—Russia rejected yesterday another American attempt to convoke the general European peace conference July 15 on grounds that the conference of foreign ministers was not yet far enough along in its work, an American informant said.

The ministers then decided to set next Friday as a deadline for work on the Italian and Balkan treaties, and to speed up their activities by meeting twice daily instead of once.

Food Ceilings Big Remaining Problem Faced

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Fourteen senators and house members working out differences in price control extension legislation, yesterday approved five out of six amendments denouncing as "booby traps" by Stabilization Director Chester Bowles.

Simultaneously, the conferees announced themselves in agreement on all but four major points of dispute.

They will meet again Monday night (7 p. m. CST) in an attempt to resolve those remaining differences, and push the bill first to the house, then to the senate for final approval.

Time was pressing the conferees. Price control expires at midnight Sunday, June 30, unless congress approves an extension. The President approves the legislation.

The four points still in dispute are fundamental in character. Senator Downey (D-Calif.) one of the conferees, told a reporter that "an impasse still is possible."

Still to be settled are: 1. How long to extend OPA. The senate voted for one year, the house for nine months.

2. Whether to end price control June 30 on meat, poultry and dairy products, tobacco and petroleum, as provided by the senate. The house did not specially take controls off any commodities.

3. Establishment of a decentral board with authority to override the price administrator on lifting of controls from non-agricultural products, and the secretary of agriculture on farm commodities.

4. The size and duration of food subsidies. The house voted to halt meat subsidies June 30, all others Dec. 31. The senate voted for a $1,100,000 subsidy fund with four subsidies barred after next May 1.

Five of the changes specifically approved by the conferees had been characterized by Bowles as "booby traps" and "delayed action bombs" at a news conference earlier this week. The conference eliminated a sixth which came in for similar criticism—a provision which would have required OPA to obtain the consent of the federal district attorney before starting enforcement prosecutions.

But a surprise move by Senator Hatch (D-NM), long-time friend of Mr. Truman, put the "anti-racketeering" proposal through the senate Friday without an amendment on an apparently unanimous voice vote.

Hatch told a reporter he is confident Mr. Truman will sign it as it stands. Another senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he was informed the justice department is recommending that the President permit it to become law.

If Mr. Truman takes that course, Capitol Hill observers say he again will have swung toward the middle of the political road after bearing right with his demands for strikes and veering left again with the case bill veto which the CIO and other labor organizations had demanded.

The bill defines robbery and extortion involving severe penalties for employment of such tactics to halt interstate commerce.

Motorcycle Race This Afternoon

Over 50 motorcycle lists of Pampa and Amarillo will compete today at 2:30 p.m. in a motorcycle field meet to be held at Recreation park starting at 2 o'clock.

The meet is being sponsored by the local Old Fellows lodge and has been officially sanctioned by the American Motorcycle association.

Over $200 in cash prizes will be awarded in the five events, which include a motorcycle polo game and a five-lap race.

Earl Noland, captain of the Pampa polo team, said the track at the park had been thoroughly re-conditioned and Pampans were promised a "great show."

Admission will be one dollar for adults and 50 cents for children, plus tax.

Friday's Rain Brings Little Relief to Pampa

Friday's rain, totaling 33 inch, brought little relief to Pampans yesterday as the temperature hit a 92-degree mark and still hovered at 98 at 1:30 yesterday afternoon.

Scattered showers were predicted over the Panhandle last night but most of West Texas was in a shirt-sleeves as temperatures stayed in the 90's.

According to the Associated Press, fog and low clouds hung over East Texas, while rains were reported from the Rio Grande valley to the Austin area.

Temperatures were expected to hang in the middle 90s over most of the state today, and general scattered cloudiness was predicted.

Truman Reported Undecided About Hobbs Labor Bill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman was reported yesterday as undecided what to do about the Hobbs labor "anti-racketeering" bill although many of his friends in Capitol Hill said they believed he would let it become law.

Officials who discussed the matter with the President after the senate unexpectedly passed the measure Friday said they gained the impression Mr. Truman would like to sign it but remains dubious about its effect without an amendment labor organizations had suggested.

Denouncing the bill as "anti-labor" in its existing form, the CIO proposed last week that it be amended to provide specific exemptions from the measure's felony penalties for legitimate labor activities such as picketing. The President himself had suggested the same sort of provision when he vetoed the case bill containing the identical wording of the Hobbs measure.

But a surprise move by Senator Hatch (D-NM), long-time friend of Mr. Truman, put the "anti-racketeering" proposal through the senate Friday without an amendment on an apparently unanimous voice vote.

Hatch told a reporter he is confident Mr. Truman will sign it as it stands. Another senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he was informed the justice department is recommending that the President permit it to become law.

Two of Kidnapped Officers Released

JERUSALEM—(AP)—British military authorities disclosed last night that two of the five British officers who were kidnapped from an official club in Tel Aviv June 18 had been released.

The announcement said the two officers were freed within a few days of the hotel from which they were abducted by an armed gang. The hotel housed the officers' club. Their identities were not disclosed.

The army would divulge no information concerning the other three officers still in custody of their abductors.

The officers were believed to have been seized by members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, an underground Jewish movement, as well as by members of the Irgun, an organization who are under sentence of death.

The officers were seated in the club in the hotel Yarkon when about a dozen men armed with tommyguns raided the house, the officers' club, and forced them into waiting taxicabs. Four of the officers were army men, the fifth a member of the RAF.

Moshe Shertok, head of the political department of the Jewish agency, appealed yesterday for the immediate release of the officers, terming their abduction "lunacy."

Another British officer, Maj. H. F. Chadwick, also was abducted under different circumstances early this week, but escaped his guards by leaping from a window in Jerusalem on June 20.

The kidnapping, occurred during the violent attacks on River Jordan bridges and on railway workshops in Haifa, and other outbreaks which took a toll of 25 dead, most of them Jews.

Unemployment in Switzerland Is One-Man Problem

By HAL BOYLE
ZURICH, Switzerland.—(AP)—The Swiss say there is only one unemployed in their industrially booming little land—Mr. Zippel.

Zippel is head of the federal unemployment commission. He has no work.

So short is Switzerland on workers that she is importing some 20,000 to 40,000 Italians to help her fill world orders for textiles, chemicals and machinery.

"Our primary problem is to fill the orders we have," said one textile manufacturer. "We are short of raw materials. Normally we import one-third of our fine cotton yarn but England has been unable to supply us. They try to sell but they don't ship."

The United States is now second only to Sweden as a customer and supply source for Switzerland.

One of the best out lets for the world-known embroidery industry centering at St. Gall is the American army of occupation in Germany.

"Your army post exchanges there take all the embroidered handkerchiefs we can ship," said Fritz Hug of the Swiss chamber of commerce.

Swiss embroidery exports last year amounted to $15,000,000. Seventy-five per cent of all ladies handkerchiefs made at St. Gall went to America.

Strikes are increasing in the textile trades, but there is no widespread labor unrest in Switzerland.

There have been no strikes in the engineering industry for six years, one leader told me. "Our contracts run for three years, and both labor and management post a 1,000,000 franc guarantee that the contract terms will be carried out."

Some 120,000 persons are engaged in selling scenery to tourists, a major source of income in rocky Switzerland's tightly integrated economy.

820 Rats Killed By Farmer in Day And Night Battle

SACRAMENTO—(P)—Adolphe Bufe, Wilton farmer, counted 820 dead large rats yesterday following a fantastic day and night battle reminiscent of the middle ages.

Aided only by a dog, a can of poison, and a club, Bufe said he struggled a day and night to save his flock of 50 chickens from the "invaders" and, though exhausted at the end of the fight, he said he was successful.

Bufe said he was working in his ranch yard when he glanced over to a hay field and beheld a sight "the like of which I had never seen before."

"Coming up the hill across the hay field was a gray horde of rats first singly, then by two's and three's, and then in droves," he said. "Not bothering to go around the hay shocks, but over them, they headed straight for my ranch buildings." Bufe said he ran into a chicken barn, emptied all the feed from the hoppers, and substituted a quick-acting rat poison, then armed himself with a club.

The rats ignored Bufe, his dog and cats, and swarmed into the hoppers, devouring the poisoned food. They were soon running around crazily, Bufe said, and he went to work on them with the club. While the dog and cats chewed them.

All day and night they fought, with wave after wave of rats appearing. Suddenly the migration stopped.

Bufe believes the rats, starved by the current feed shortage, had sent out scouts and picked his ranch as a promising spot for food.

Mexican Systems May Connect Exchanges

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico's two telephone systems may be ordered soon to connect their exchanges so one may reach all points over either line. This was ordered in 1936 but never enforced because equipment was lacking.

Department of communication officials said an order had been prepared giving the companies 30 days to complete connections. It is not known when the order will be issued.

German Youths Earn Keep Sniping Cigarette Butts

By HAL BOYLE

FRANKFURT—(P)—The Horatio Alger type heroes of postwar Germany don't shine shoes to support their widowed mothers. They do it by collecting cigarette butts.

In German slang they are called "Kippansammlers," or "stub connoisseurs."

In this tobacco-hungry country the youthful entrepreneur can earn more money picking discarded cigarette ends off the street than he can by working in a factory.

To Americans accustomed to buying any quantity of cigarettes, it is difficult to understand the lengths that luxury-starved Germans will go to induce in a smoke. Man and woman who would die rather than ask for food will stop American soldiers on the streets to request a cigarette.

They even invest their own slim stores of marks to buy black market United States dollars in order to be able to offer real cash to hard-pressed doughboys willing to part with their cigarette or pipe tobacco rations.

This insatiable market has made butt-collecting a major German industry.

Most workers are young boys and girls who scan streets and sidewalks long hours for German "tobacco fagins" who buy their daily butt collections and process them into new cigarettes or packets of re-tread pipe "fine cut."

An industrious young man with good legs and ambition can earn up to ten marks a day—one dollar—on a good beat.

Most of the kids aren't tramps. Their work makes a real difference in the family standard of living.

The "kippe" gatherer haunts theaters, postoffices, mess halls—where soldiers stand in line and while away the time by lighting up cigarettes.

Youngsters whose muscles don't enable them to carve out their own butt-beat against competitors hopefully follow every cigarette-puffing soldier they meet until he throws away the stub.

They swoop—and follow the next smoke trail.

Employees in allied clubs supplement their wages by harvesting ashtray crops. One old German attorney who humbly asked permission of the Berlin Press Club for its ashtray leaving had to be refused after the waiters protested this would cut into their own earnings.

Investigation of RFC Shaping Up

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A congressional investigation of RFC's multi-billion wartime operations shaped up today after the report of the general accounting office that the corporation "does not control its $7,000,000,000 investment in properties."

Investigation-bent lawmakers evidently were undeterred by RFC protests that the agency was being placed in a false light by the criticism, when it actually was discharging its responsibilities in a satisfactory fashion.

The GAO raised the question in a report to congress describing the RFC situation as "serious" and enumerating specific examples of what it termed "failure of the accounting function in RFC."

The report made no charge of loss to the government, but Rep. Case (R-SD), told newsmen "the conditions cited by the GAO seem to leave the door open for favoritism."

Movie on Average Guy Being Filmed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—You are about to see yourself in your full folly on the screen. That is, if you are the average Joe McDouakes.

Joe is the star in a series of one-reelers that ex-G. I. Dick Bare is making for Warners. A list of titles gives you an idea of how you will be cast: "So You Think You're Allergic," "So You Think You Need Glasses," "So You Want to Keep Your Hair," "So You Want to Stop Smoking," "So You Think You're Neurotic," "So You're Going to Have a Baby," and, of course, "So You Want to Be in Pictures."

The writer-director-producer had a good deal of difficulty selling his idea to the studios. It was feared the "smoking" film would antagonize the tobacco industry. He now has Carte Blanche to do just about anything he wants. In "So You Think You're Neurotic," Dick will parody both "Spellbound" and "The Outlaw." And "So You Think You Can Bent the Horses" does a take-off on "Lost Weekend."

The purpose of these 10 minute films is to discourage the average guy from quack remedies. Dick said, "The films are not training films, but they are educational." Dick goes into deep research before making any of the films. "After I finished reading up on neurotics," he said, "I found I was the most neurotic guy in the world."

Gold Bars For Sale By Bank of Mexico

MEXICO CITY—(P)—The Bank of Mexico offered gold bars for sale yesterday with permission for export at 5,750 paper pesos a kilo or approximately $36.92 a troy ounce compared with the U. S. price of $35 a troy ounce.

The air consists of 78 per cent nitrogen and only 20 per cent oxygen, but the oxygen is the only part useful to human beings.

The automobile industry, normally, directly or indirectly, employs one of every 11 workers in the United States.

Famine Campaign To Be Headed by Expert

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government's leading expert on international food problems, Dr. D. A. Fitzgerald, stepped out of his agriculture department job yesterday to direct a 20-nation campaign against famine.

The new international emergency food council picked Fitzgerald late yesterday as its secretary general. He will be in charge of efforts to round up more food in lands of plenty and divide it fairly among the world's hungry peoples. Operating chiefly through a nine-nation central committee, the council will recommend to its members plans for meeting the world food crisis during the next 18 months.

Then it is up to the members to cooperate, as best they can.

The simple truth is that war is no longer a possible course of action open to mankind—Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D) of West Virginia.

Army Reveals Possibility of Atomic Missile

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army is talking of the possibility of an atomic missile which, fired from the United States, can hit any part of the world within an hour.

This information was given to congress when the army went before the house appropriations committee to ask for money to carry on its work, including research, for the next year.

Then there is another kind of weapon the army has in mind: A missile which, fired from the American coasts at approaching ships, can hit them hundreds of miles at sea.

Col. S. B. Ritchie, acting chief of the research and development service, said a "project for detailed study of the problem was established last June with radio corporation of America and will be completed in the near future."

In his testimony Col. Ritchie summed up in a few words some of the army's thinking. He said the army has a contract with the General Electric company which is making the "Buck Rogers myth a reality."

He was speaking here of rockets, "long range, ground-to-ground controlled missiles," and he said:

"These giant rockets will travel more than five times faster than sound (sound travels about 1,100 feet a second in air), capable of streaking into space and then, controlled by complicated robot 'brains,' dive with uncanny accuracy on target thousands of miles away."

Early this week the army announced it is doing research on a weapon—a jet of molten metal—which might be used against atomic rockets or planes loaded with atom bombs.

Major Gen. Everett S. Hughes, chief of ordnance, thinks the high explosive bullets and projectiles used by fighter planes against enemy aircraft in World War II may be replaced in a few years by the metallic jet, traveling perhaps 25,000 feet a second.

On the week the market showed an average loss of 2.7 points at 78.3, the greatest since the period ended Feb. 23 which was the largest since the week of July 31, 1943. The week's aggregate of 5,334,330 shares, compared with 5,191,872 the week before and 16,087,550 in the corresponding 1945 period.

Rail obligations headed toward the lowest-price level of the year in a week of erratic fluctuations in the bond market.

Latin American bonds swung back and forth and ended the week with only minor variations either way.

U. S. governments in the longer maturity range tended lower in the over-the-counter market. The victory loan Dec. 2½ showed a net loss of about ¼ point at 105 26-32 bid. The same issue in the stock exchange declined 7-32 to 105 26-32.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—An Egyptian man-charger was a novelty to us.

We met an Egyptian snake-charmer once, and later learned that she was born in Chicago and sold ladies' underwear in a Michigan Avenue store before going into the business of charming snakes.

Tahia Kerim, the Egyptian man-charger, was legitimate.

She's Egypt's top movie queen, and has starred in 29 pictures there since 1939.

"She's really hot stuff in Egypt," her husband told us while Tahia giggled. "The theater admission prices go up from 40 to 80 cents when her pictures play in Cairo."

Tahia is honeymooning in Hollywood with Gilbert Levy, a former army officer from Newark, N. J. They met in Cairo, where he was a lieutenant colonel in order for three years.

"She danced at the Officers' Club one night," Levy said, "and I whistled the loudest."

Sure, black-haired, big-eyed Tahia would like to appear in a Hollywood movie.

"But only if I can dance," she said. "I must always dance."

"But I don't think her dance would pass the censors," he said.

HIS HEART IS BIG, TOO
Jimmy Durante, who just celebrated his 30th anniversary in show business, is shown as the softest touch among the stars. He just can't turn down any request, whether it be for a benefit or for a quick $10.

Lou Clayton, his manager, gets tough with Jimmy occasionally, but Jimmy always denies having done anything. As Clayton puts it, "How can you stop the guy? That's his pleasure in life, helping everybody."

The largest item in Carmen Miranda's monthly budget is her telephone bill. She likes to call home. And home, in case you don't know, is Rio in Brazil.

When she gets the connection, Carmen has to talk to her mama, her bruzzer-eeen-law, her seester-eeen-law, a seester, a niece, and a Brazilian boy-friend. The last talk with the folks lasted 45 minutes.

"PERILS OF PAULETTE"
Paulette Goddard has retitled her latest, "Unconquered," she calls it "The Perils of Paulette."

In the film she is: (1) tied to a prairie wagon and beaten; (2) sold on the auction block; (3) tortured at the stake by Indians; (4) swept over a waterfall; (5) made to scrub floors in a saloon while the wild wolves of the frontier make indecible passes.

Charlie McCarthy finds the arrival of Edgar Bergen's new daughter, Candy, a definite threat to his favorite occupation—talking. "How am I going to get a word in edgewise," he demanded of Bergen, "with your mouth full of safety pins?"

In the script: In the film "Night and Day," Monty Woolley walks up to another bearded actor and says, "You and I, my dear fellow, could make such beautiful cough drops together."

The scientific definition of a drizzle is a uniform falling of water droplets less than one-fiftieth of an inch in diameter.

Oxygen in compounds makes up about one-half of the earth's crust, and about nine-tenths of the weight of water.

Junior Oilers To Battle Sox Today

Pampa's Junior Oilers will meet the Amarillo Junior Gold Sox at Magnolia park here this afternoon at 2:30 in an American Legion baseball game.

The game was originally scheduled to be played at Oiler park but the infield there has been "wet down" and will not be dry enough to play. Pampa has won one and lost one in American Legion competition so far, having won from Shamrock and lost to Borger. The Borger team is currently leading the standings.

The winner of this district, which includes Amarillo, Borger, Vega, Shamrock, Claude, Hedley and Pampa, will meet the winner of the Lubbock district for the right to enter the state tournament.

Richardson Drops to .343 But Is Still Top Batter

Although his average slumped to a .343, his lowest this year, First Baseman Virgil Richardson continued to lead Pampa hitters through all games played to date.

Whitey Warren, obtained by the Oilers a few days ago, had a .335 average but had been at bat only eight times, while Richardson had stroked to the plate 201 times.

Jack Riley, erstwhile Oiler outfielder, hiked his average to .331 to take second place while Earl Harriman was only one point behind.

Warren Hacker, out the past two weeks with a broken finger, led the Phils with a .9-1 record. Other pitchers (with won-lost records in parentheses) were: Grover Ridgeway (1-0), Foster White (10-4), Bill Garland (8-3), Ed Lekker (5-3), John Dickinson (0-2) and Al Johnston (0-1).

Editorial Blames War on Fascists

MOSCOW—(P)—An Izvestia editorial marking the fifth anniversary of the German invasion of the Soviet Union, said yesterday "the second world war was unleashed by fascist aggressors and was not and could not have been accidental in the life of the people."

"It was an inescapable result of the development of a world economy and political forces on the basis of modern monopoly and imperialism," the editorial said.

The editorial added that Izvestia had said that when the war ended, "without losing one day the Soviet people had renewed their historic movement toward communism."

Calling the Soviet Union the most advanced virile social and state system human history has known, the editorial added that "the Soviet people do not want a repetition of June 22, 1941, a repetition of the brutal, aggressive wars which are profitable only for foolish imperialists who are ready to wade through oceans of blood only to gain world rule."

Fatalities Take An Upward Trend

AUSTIN—(P)—The sharp upward trend in automobile fatalities and accidents in which persons were injured continued in Texas during May, the state department of public safety reported yesterday.

During the first five months of 1946 a total of 708 traffic deaths and 5,550 injuries were reported, compared with 507 deaths and 2,529 injuries for the same period in 1945.

In May, the last month on which accident reports are available, there were 108 deaths and 730 injuries compared with 101 deaths and 408 injuries in the same month of 1945.

The safety department figured the economic losses, including damage to vehicles, totaled $20,380,550 for the first five months of 1946.

Figured in percentages, the increase in traffic deaths for the first five months of 1946 compared with the same period last year was 40.

There were startling increases in some types of accidents in which persons were killed, the public safety department's statistical division reported. The greatest jump was in accidents where vehicles ran off the road, with an increase of 633 percent over last year.

There was a gain of 200 percent in the number of persons killed when riding on bicycles on which they were struck by automobiles.

had no meat to offer or could meet only a small percentage of the demand. Bread supplies, although some what improved in some sections, still were far below demand.

In Chicago and Kansas City, two of the nation's major packing centers, slaughtering operations were at a record low. Most plants maintained skeleton crews.

Legislation to lift ceiling prices on meat, livestock and poultry has passed the senate and is before a senate-house conference committee. Bowles, however, contended that more meat would be available for the nation's dinner tables regardless of the final form of the OPA bill to be acted upon by July 1.

In his weekly radio address (ABC network), he said cattle and hog producers were holding up shipments until the price issue finally was settled. He added:

"If ceilings are taken off, prices are bound to be substantially higher. If they are kept on, you'll get meat at ceiling prices. But in either case, you'll get meat."

of procedure, informants said.

It was believed that the ministers were awaiting further developments in Washington and Moscow on Friday night's private dinner talks between Byrnes and Molotov, which were followed yesterday by a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation between Byrnes and President Truman. Molotov was expected to consult with Moscow.

TOO LONG DELAY

Byrnes declared that if they delayed too long there would be no peace conference at all.

British sources said that Molotov objected that the ministers had not yet agreed on any peace treaty drafts which would form the basis of a peace conference discussion.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin asserted that the conference should speed up its work so that these treaty drafts would be ready in time. He said the ministers should finish their examination of the proposed treaties with Italy and the Balkans by next Friday, June 28.

Molotov concurred and the ministers then agreed to instruct their deputies to draw up an agenda for his goal, beginning Monday morning with the Italo-Austrian frontier, the Franco-Italian frontier, and the Italian fleet disposal issues.

As the ministers met for yesterday's informal session a spokesman for the British foreign office in London acknowledged that some precautionary troops movements may have taken place in the Trieste area, but he described as "nonsense" Yugoslav reports that the present zonal demarcation line would be shifted eastward.

The foreign office spokesman declared he was authorized to deny there was any intention to move the line nine kilometers (5 1/2 miles) toward Yugoslavia, as charged by Tajug, the Yugoslav press agency.

He said Britain denied categorically that any Chekists were in American uniform among the British-American occupation troops.

The charges and denial underlined the gravity of the Trieste issue. In Rome the Italian cabinet appended to the conference not to take any action on the matter "which the new Italian democracy, set up as a republic, will absolutely be unable to accept."

Stalin's Demands Kept Russia Out of War as Ally of Nazis

Collier's Article Reveals that Secret German Files, Captured in Berlin, Show That German-Russian Negotiations Broke Down Due To Russian Demands; Hitler Then Attacked Russia.

Russia probably would have entered World War II on the side of Germany, Italy and Japan if Hitler had agreed to the demands of the Soviet Union, Frank Gervasi, Washington correspondent of Collier's, reveals in a signed article in the current issue of the national weekly. The article gives the contents of secret files captured in the Reich chancellery.

Secretary of State Byrnes, in his prolonged diplomatic negotiations with Russia, "could not help but be influenced by the knowledge of the Soviets' willingness, as recently as 1939, to make an alliance with the nazis in order to achieve what they consider to be their destiny," Gervasi declares.

"The details of those negotiations and of the agreements reached between Hitler and Stalin are known now, with the capture in Berlin of the secret files of the Reich chancellery. They tell an ugly story and there's little in them to inspire Anglo-American confidence in the objectives of Russian diplomacy."

The captured secret files reveal that the Soviet Union's demands on Germany as her payment for entry into the war, included: the withdrawal of German troops from Finland, since Finland was in the Soviet "sphere"; the recognition by Germany of Russia's "vital interest" in Bulgaria, and the recognition of the Soviets' interests in Hungary and Yugoslavia, and finally, Russian control of the strategically important Dardanelles.

The Nazi-Russian negotiations were still taking place in Berlin late November, 1940, just six months before Hitler broke the German-Russian non-aggression pact by attacking the Soviet Union, Gervasi reports. Hitler had told the Russians that Great Britain was then "substantially defeated," but after Germany refused to accede to Stalin's demands and the negotiations deteriorated, Hitler began to propagandize against the Russians in the Balkans and Turkey.

The article reveals that Hitler was irritated by several questions asked by the Russians during the course of the negotiations. First, Russia wanted to know why Germany, without consulting Russia, had given Transylvania to Hungary; second, Russia wanted to know if the German-Russian pact was aimed against Russia, and third, Hitler was told that Russia would not "be satisfied with any paper guarantees" regarding the control of the Dardanelles.

Teen Talk

Dear Judy:

Went to the National Needlecraft Bazaar fashion show at which awards were announced for the sewing contest. There were 15,000 entries and what do you think? Two of the eight finalists were teenagers!

One of the teenagers, Jo Ann King, 15, of Oklahoma and Liberal, Kan., high school, submitted a blue balloon cloth afternoon frock with detachable peplum. She was thrilled about winning a prize and her trip to N. Y. She is going to stop off at Washington, D. C. before going back to the 2,000-acre ranch where she lives. Jo Ann loves to rumble and her favorite glamour-boy is Bing. And that goes for the other teen-agers.

Another teen-ager, Alice Marie Baker of Columbus, Ohio, she's mad about Crosby. Alice won a prize for a tailored black and white checked suit. She just graduated from Upper Arlington H.S. and plans to study Home Ec at Ohio State university.

By the bye, remember I wrote you about getting summer jobs. Well, Olga Havas of Jersey City, N. J., writes that she hasn't been able to locate the Farm Labor office. If you or any of the kids have any difficulty finding in touch with 'em or can't find 'em in the phone book, just seek out the county agricultural agency which should be located in the county court house, postoffice or other federal building.

Incidentally, Olga really wanted a farm job but she says at one farm they wanted 16-year-old girls and she is only 15; another said she'd have to weigh at least 125 pounds and she tips the scales at only 111 pounds. If you have any suggestions to offer Olga, let me know.

The high schoolers at Forest Hills, L. I., have a new idea for listening to their favorite juke. They exercise to Louis Prima's recordings.

Remember Anne Francis, who used to be Kathy Cameron on radio's "When A Girl Marries"? Well, she signed a seven-year movie contract and is on her way to Hollywood. Even at 15 she looks like a movie star, with great big blue eyes and long blonde wavy hair.

The new Jimmy Durante album is swift. It's got all the Durante songs like "Inka Dinka Do," "Umbrage," etc.—just the thing to pep up a dull party.

Hear that Tommy Tucker is planning to wax an album of Civil War ballads. Tommy decided to make the set during a recent visit to Virginia where he found old song books dating back to 1860.

More People Working in United States Than at Anytime in American History

WASHINGTON—(P)—The census bureau says more people—55,320,000—have jobs now than at any time in American history.

The figure is 570,000 higher than the previous peak of 54,750,000 reached in July, 1943, in the middle of the war.

The census bureau figure of 55,320,000 is for May, the latest total available. It includes 450,000 men who had jobs but were on strike.

After the war ended last summer John W. Snyder, reconversion director, estimated that perhaps 8,000,000 people would be unemployed by this time in 1946.

The census bureau says only about 2,310,000 people are unemployed now.

It does not agree with other figures on present unemployment—or unemployment for May—obtained from the security board and the veterans administration.

tioned in Seoul, Korea with the 21st Regiment of the Seventh Division. He is enrolled in the university here, and was one of six students admitted from a large group.

Ensign Jeff Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, is home on leave until June 21. He recently received his commission at New Orleans, where he was a V-12 student at Tulane university.

Here's what those two agencies show for May:

A total of 3,092,000 people were getting unemployment pay. Of that number 1,365,000 were getting civilian unemployment pay, the remaining 1,727,000 were war veterans drawing unemployment pay from the government.

(In April the total was 3,100,500. Of whom 1,600,000 were civilians and 1,500,500 veterans.)

The following figures will show how employment has risen to its present total of 55,320,000:

That figure is 1,050,000 higher than the 54,270,000 employed in July, 1945, just before Japan quit.

It is 4,070,000 higher than the 51,250,000 employed in September, 1945, the lowest employment month since the war ended.

How have these people—almost entirely veterans, since everyone else was working during the war—found jobs?

About 1,820,000 women who worked during the war have quit and gone back into their homes.

So have a number of old people (figures not available) who came out of retirement to help in war jobs have retired again.

The number of people with jobs spurted in May over April, but this was almost entirely due spring jobs opening up on farms.

In April 8,100,000 worked on farms. This number jumped almost 700,000 to 8,800,000 in May.

But in the same two months non-farm jobs remained about the same in number—46,500,000 in April, 46,440,000 in May.

Yet, there has been a decrease in the total number of farm workers from the war years while more non-farm jobs have opened up.

In that peak month of July, 1943, 9,700,000 people working on farms, and 45,050,000 in non-farm jobs.

But in May, 1946, the people working on farms numbered only 8,800,000 while those in non-farm jobs rose to 46,440,000.

The job score by sexes breaks down this way:

In July, 1943: About 36,670,000 males and 18,080,000 females.

In May, 1946: About 39,060,000 males and 16,220,000 females.

Connally Asks To Be 'Paired' in New Vote

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Connally (D-Texas) has asked that he be "paired" against the confirmation of General Mark Clark for permanent rank of major general.

The senator cited his desire from Paris where he is attending the peace conference.

SPREADING OUT

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—The American Legion instituted its first all-woman post last night, but the ladies took the oath in civies.

"We thought about wearing our uniforms," said Margaret M. Schaffer, post chairman, "but for the sake of those who aren't the same size as they use to be, we decided on dresses."

Why should we not make as much effort to win the peace as to win the war? Why should there not be militant peace, not for a few weeks, months, years, but always?—Adm. Ernest J. King.

Vets Can Buy Wider Variety Surplus Goods

A revised set-aside list of surplus property reserved exclusively for sale to veterans includes a variety of trucks, passenger buses, house type trailers, tractors, construction, mining and excavating machinery and agricultural equipment. Also included are medical, surgical, dental and veterinary apparatus, equipment and instruments, including purely medical and X-ray, physiotherapy, laboratory and miscellaneous hospital equipment. Among the trucks set aside are dump trucks, panel deliveries, tractor trucks and pick-up vehicles. These may be purchased by veterans either for their personal or business use, declared A. G. Elmendorf, regional director of the Dallas WAA offices.

While no new commodity categories have been added, the new list considerably expands veterans' buying opportunities in some classes of goods, such as medical, surgical and dental equipment and instruments.

Certain types of veterinary equipment have been added to this category. The new list also details the types of trucks, trailers, etc., that are available.

Because applications already on file for passenger cars, station wagons and typewriters far exceed present or foreseeable supplies, no more applications for these items are being accepted. All of such items in stock or that may be declared surplus will continue to go to veterans exclusively, however.

Veterans are limited generally to one unit of a line-item, but in case of motor vehicles the WAA regional director may increase the limit to a veteran purchasing for use in his own small business, professional or agricultural enterprise, according to his demonstrated need and the available supply. No such sales will be made to any veteran dealer who has not established satisfactory to the certifying officer his legitimate veteran small business dealer status.

Army Specialists Report on Year's Research Into Hitler's Life, Health

A year after Adolf Hitler's supposed death, American army medical investigators are still collecting information on his life. They are under orders to debunk myths, expose frauds and assemble historically valuable material. Here is a summary of their findings to date.

THE M. E. COYLE TROPHY, to be given for the first-place winner in the Pampa Soap Box Derby to be held here next month, is shown in likeness above. This award, which is gold-plated and stands 18 inches, will bear the name of the winner. The plate at the bottom will say: "The M. E. Coyle Awarded to City Champion Pampa Soap Box Derby, 1946. The winner of this trophy, who will soon realize that he was indeed fortunate, will then go to Akron, O., free of charge, where he will get a Bulova watch at a huge banquet for winning here at Pampa, and will have the chance to compete for a 4-year college education.

he became fustier in 1933 his sex appetite dwindled for a man of his age.

His love-making with Eva Braun, the Bavarian Fraulein who allegedly became his bride during the battle of Berlin, was sporadic and meager. He shared the same bedroom but used separate beds. There is no available evidence that Eva was ever pregnant.

U. S. army intelligence, after sifting a mass of interrogation reports, decided that Hitler showed no physical indications of abnormality or pathology, and secondary sex characteristics were normally developed.

Dr. Theo Morell, the fuhrer's personal physician for nine years, avoided suggesting to Hitler that his male vigor was in need of stimulation, but he did try something for "fatigue." This was "orchekrin," a combination of hormones extracted from young bulls.

Dr. Morell injected 2.2 cubic centimeters of this supposed youth-elixir into Hitler's arm muscles. The effect was definitely unpleasant. "Orchekrin" was abandoned.

Three years later Dr. Morell came across an extract of male secretions named "prostakrinum," and on the chance it might reduce Hitler's fits of depression, administer twice as large a dosage as had been tried with "Orchekrin." But war news was too bad for "prostakrinum" to have had much chance of success. It was only taken once.

Dr. Morell, now a prisoner, insists that Hitler always shunned morphine or hypnosis, regardless of his vast intake of other things.

Dr. Morell, who prospered as a venereal specialist to actors and army interrogators in official reports as "a money-crazed quack who believed in his own quackery."

Indigestion haunted Hitler's waking hours and ruined his sleep. He tried Luizym tablets. He took shots of glyconorm with its metabolic ferments and vitamins. He swallowed enflut pills, a combination of pancreas extract and charcoal; and, in-tel, which was billed as containing vitamins A and D.

Because of a persistent catharrhal inflammation, he took ultraeceptil tablets. He absorbed quantities of omnadin, a protein and gall mixture to be a specific against colds.

He relied on cardiazol to increase his circulation.

He received septoid intravenously because his doctor believed it might check arterio-sclerosis.

Daily, with hardly a pause, Hitler's system was flushed with such things as aminobenzosulfonamido, chinin, amikopyrine, barbiturate, phenyldimethylpyrrolon, and para oxyphenylethanolmethylamin.

Women Are Deadly With Dual-Praise Tricks Trim Silhouette
By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Said Grace Moore sweetly, after having had to skip a scheduled concert: "The audience was simply marvelous, accepting my apologies and listening instead to Marjorie Lawrence."

The news magazine that reported the incident termed her statement a "prima-donna tribute."

Why "prima donna," gentlemen? That's just feminine. It's in a class with these commonplace feminine compliments: "She's so young acting. Meaning, of course, 'Why doesn't she act her age?'"

"My dear, you're looking simply marvelous." Meaning: You've been gaining weight.

"She's so efficient." Efficient, you know, is the feminine word for "bossy."
"She take such wonderful care of her self." Meaning: "She may look young, but don't let that fool you. She is just well preserved."
"You have to hand it to her." This proceeds a polite stab in the back, such as: "You have to hand it to her; she goes out after what she wants."
LETHAL TRIBUTE
"She's frightfully intelligent" is compliment women reserve for another woman when they are talking to a man. If that doesn't make him lose interest in her, nothing will.

"We simply must get together sometime," when said by one woman to another, is recognized by both parties as a nice, lady-like brush-off.
"I wish I could get by with that kind of hair-do," means simply: "You've got your nerve to try it—at your age."
"I'm simply dying to meet her," neatly puts the object of your insatiable curiosity in the freak class.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcetrane (formerly called Barcel Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds—and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Pictured above is the beautiful new 1946 Hudson Commodore Six four-door sedan, distributed in Pampa by the McWilliams Motor company, 417 South Cuyler, J. C.

McWilliams (pictured) invites Pampans to come to the company's display room and inspect this attractive car. The Hudson is built with both six and eight-cylinder engines. The firm is also Pampa distributor for the Willys "Jeep" and White trucks.

McWilliams Is Authorized Dealer for Hudson, Willys 'Jeep', White Trucks

Pampa now has an authorized dealer for three famous names in the history of American transportation—Hudson cars and pickups, White trucks and the famous Willys
"Jeep", all of them distributed exclusively by the McWilliams Motor company, 417 S. Cuyler.

The quality of the Hudson car has been well-known for over 30 years. The famous Hudson "Super Six" of the '20s created a sensation that has never subsided and today the Hudson still maintains that traditional standard of fine manufacturing, plus a new kind of beauty designed by craftsmen of the highest skill.

In the famous White trucks are impounded all the stamina and long wear of years experience in truck making. A White will fit any job, any time and at a low upkeep cost.

Finally, there's the famous "Jeep" developed and engineered for war with the basic idea of conversion to peace-time use.

Powered by Willys engine, the Jeep, besides being a pleasant run-about, is ideal for farm and industrial work because of its powertakeoff system, maneuverability, light weight and economy of operation.

Hudson cars, White trucks and "Jeeps" will become increasingly available as industry swings into full-time production. They're worth waiting for.

Until new cars and trucks are available to everyone, owners of the McWilliams Motor company urge motorists to keep their cars and trucks in good repair by bringing them to the large, well-equipped repair shop. Here, experienced mechanics are ready to serve you at all times.

In connection with the motor company are the Dixie Tire shop and the Pampa Safety Lane.

The tire shop specializes in high-quality tire repair, recapping, vulcanizing and stocks a complete line of General tires. The Pampa Safety Lane features the famous Bear wheel alignment and also expert adjusting on brakes.

'No Wholesale' Yet at Purian

Until such time as the flour and sugar shortage eases, the Purian bakery can accept no wholesale orders whatsoever, J. H. Tucker, owner and manager, has reminded his friends.

Pampa's oldest established bakery, the establishment has been here 12 years, during which time Mr. Tucker has constantly strived to improve the quality of his pastries and breads and has tried to serve all the people's needs, despite trying war years.

At the present time, the bakery retails fine-quality pies, cakes, cookies, rye breads, french bread and 100 percent whole wheat bread, all products fresh at the bakery's display room.

Mr. Tucker recently installed a new oven and now has a complete baking department equipped with the finest in high speed equipment.

In addition, Tucker, stated that he has a full staff of experienced, courteous employees who strive to produce the finest pastries in the Panhandle area and will again go back to making bread and other bakery goods as soon as shortages disappear.

Mr. Tucker urges all his wholesale customers to bear with him until the time he can serve them again.

"They have been patient with us during the last few years and we sincerely thank them for their cooperation and hope the day will come soon when we can resume our highest standard of service to retail dealers."

The bakery is located at 529 S.

PAMPA Business News...

Plains Creamery Is Serving Pampa Area With Greatest Stock of Protected Dairy Products

Confidence in the growth of Pampa and a sincere desire to serve the city with a sufficient supply of protected dairy products has made the Plains Creamery Inc., one of the Panhandle's finest establishments of its kind.

Despite an ever-increasing demand, Plains has capably served this city since April, 1942 when it acquired the holdings of the Pampa creamery.

C. E. McDowell, local manager and a stockholder in the firm, which is headed by J. Lindsey Nunn, came here soon after the plant was purchased and has continually strived to improve the facilities and give better service to its customers.

Included among the products supplied fresh daily to your favorite grocery, drugist or cafe are Grade
A pasteurized or homogenized milk, butter, ice cream and cottage cheese.
As conditions will permit, more products will be added to make the establishment as complete in its service as possible.

Forseeing a great increase in volume, the firm has only recently installed a new 1,000-gallon stainless steel storage tank and has also purchased all equipment to a high standard of efficiency.

The truck is fully lined with stainless steel and is insulated with cork, making it, in reality, a giant thermos bottle built so as to fully protect dairy products from foreign matter.

In addition, the firm is planning for future expansion by remodeling and enlarging its office space so that all office work can be done more quickly and efficiently.

Besides supplying Pampa with dairy products, the local firm also serves the city of Borger with the same, high-quality products. Another plant is in Amarillo, giving over half of the entire population of the North Plains the advantages of sanitary facilities and daily delivery service.

Always remember, Plains Creamery products can be found at your favorite grocery, drugist or cafe.

The local plant is located at 219
E. Atchison. The telephone number is 2204.

Palmitier Serves Pampa Industries

Besides being in a great agricultural section where the most modern methods of farming with machines are used, Pampa is becoming more and more an industrial city, with oil, natural gas, carbon black, metal works and other industries increasing a great deal in the everyday life of its residents.

To this age of machinery, the firm of Palmitier and his son, Dewey, the firm has dedicated its purpose of keeping those machines running.

Whether it's on-the-spot repair or a pick-up and delivery repair job, Palmitier is equipped to do it.

Owned and operated by Frank Palmitier and his son, Dewey, the firm maintains a policy of first-class repair and overhaul jobs on gasoline, gas, diesel and other types of engines, automobile engine overhaul, motorcycle repair, pumping unit repair and many other types.

If the owner wishes, the engine will be brought to the shop, repaired, and delivered back to its original location ready to start again.

Or, if the owner wishes, the engine will be brought to the shop, repaired, and delivered back to its original location ready to start again.

Pampa's 24-hour cafe, THE K C WAFFLE HOUSE, 108 West Foster, renders the community a useful purpose in being "always ready to serve you," day or night. . . it is also rumored that the steaks served there are really good.

"There is NOTHING too big for us to move," stated J. D. Wright, Sr., of the firm of J. D. Wright and Son, 119 South Starkweather. . . certainly this seems to be the case because some of the recent jobs handled are so immense they almost defy belief—but the fact remains that anyone who has a real big, mean job of moving can get fixed up quickly by calling 788.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
Politics are getting hot, but up in Grayson county they have decided to take it straight.
Political rallies have been approved, but such things as box suppers, auctions, pie sales, and other frills have been voted down by 24 candidates for office.
They got together and not only voted down the box suppers, but worked up a sensible schedule whereby rallies would be sort of rationed.

In the past, one candidate complained, badly-timed rallies and meetings resulted in candidates "mostly talking to each other."
This sounds vaguely like a joke we've heard, but one of those usually reliable and authoritative sources says it's true and provides names, dates, places and witnesses to prove it.
A certain Texas editor, the story goes, likes his liquor. Now and then he takes one too many. At such times he becomes extremely solemn and dignified although, like others, befuddled.

One day while in his cups he was standing on a sidewalk on the main street looking more like a deacon pondering fate than a real deacon does, pondering fate.
A stranger walked up and asked him how to get to the postoffice.
"You go north," said the editor, pointing north, "about four blocks. Then you turn left two blocks . . . no that's wrong.
"You go south," he said, turning around and pointing south, "about three blocks and then turn right . . . no, that's wrong, too."
A baffled expression spread over his dignified features.
"Stranger, I'm sorry," he said after a pause. "You have to start from some other place. You just can't make it from here."
(For the information of those who like their stories factually complete, the postoffice was just around the corner, one block down and three blocks to the right).

Politics, but lightly:
Mac Coker, candidate for railroad commissioner of Texas, was lucky enough to be able to perform a good deed. But his luck stopped right there, because it didn't get him any votes.
He found a purse containing $720. It had been left in a coffee shop in Sweetwater. Coker promptly found the owner, one W. A. Norris, and returned it to him.
Norris was duly grateful, and said when he got home—in Charlotte, North Carolina—he'd tell people how nice Texans were.

Uncle Joe, the good-natured but shiftless no-good drunkard the rest of the family mentions only in whispers and never in polite society, probably doesn't drink like that because he wants to.
Chances are he's an alcoholic. And, says Alcoholics Anonymous, an alcoholic is suffering from a disease—a real, honest-to-goodness disease.
This fast-growing organization is doing more for alcoholics than prohibition or medicine ever did. That sounds like a broad statement but medical science admits it.
Members (they always refer to themselves as "members") jokingly say their club is the most exclusive in the world. No one but a reformed drunkard can belong.
And, although it costs nothing to belong, it costs plenty to join. One member estimated it had cost him at least $50,000—money he had lost because of his drinking.
There are 19 clubs scattered over Texas, and many more are contemplated. The first was organized in Houston just five years ago.
Next were the clubs in Fort Worth and Dallas. Older in the country is the parent chapter in Akron, Ohio—eleven years old. Membership totals around 27,000.
Other chapters in Texas are located in Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Coleman, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Kerrville, Laredo, Longview, Nacogdoches, San Juan, San Antonio, Schulenberg, Waco, Big Spring and Taylor. The Big Spring and Taylor chapters held their first meetings last week.
Alkies never brag that they're on the wagon, or have quit for life. They realize they are just one drink away from being a drunkard again. They realize they no longer have the privilege of deciding whether they can take a social drink. They know, from bitter experience, that they can't touch the stuff.
After hitting bottom like most of them have, and then sobering up through Alcoholics Anonymous, they seem to take on a new life. In fact, they celebrate "birthdays," dating their new lives from the day they quit drinking—permanently.
At each birthday the chapter gives a birthday party, with cake and coffee. Alkies drink a lot of coffee. They don't crusade. They don't go to an alcoholic and ask him to give up. The first step—and an important one—is for the alcoholic to go to them and ask for help.
Then they give—and give. They devote much of their time to helping others.

So if you can convince Uncle Joe to drop around and see a member—well, chances are he can be put right. The national percentage of recoveries is about 75 percent. In Dallas, only 15 out of over 200 members have slipped.
Jo Ed Wintfree, candidate for lieutenant governor, is due for a lot of baby kissing. He is the proud grandfather of eight-pound Jessie Francis Wintfree, born Monday in Houston.
But Wintfree isn't so happy about another little matter. It even has state democratic chairman Harry Seay of Dallas embarrassed.
Wintfree's name is misspelled on the official democratic primary ballot. It's spelled "Winnfree." Seay had to telegraph the state's 254 county chairmen directing them to correct it.
Then take district clerk Pearl Smith of Dallas. She can be in two places at once, which is helpful during a campaign.
Her sister, Mrs. J. H. Sayre of Miami, Fla., is an identical twin.

For one thing, it would cost $500. Then there's a lumber shortage. So, instead, a truck will be provided, and talks can be made from it.
Concrete and cement are not synonymous—cement is just one of the ingredients of concrete.
Down in Waco, candidates for all offices may thunder and shout and play their guitars all they want to, but the county isn't going to provide them with a bunting-covered wooden platform to perform on this year.
